SHOWS HIS FAITH IN THIS CITY Mr. Homfray of England Gives Times Optimistic Interview

HAS BOUGHT HEAVILY Sum of $200,000 Represented in His Transactions in St. John Property - Will Bring Recent Capital Here in May-Recent Purchases

The situation in St. John is now at least twenty-five per cent and probably fifty per cent better than I thought it could be by this time, Mr. Homfray said...

Mr. Homfray looks forward to interesting developments in the real estate market when the pressure of increasing business forces the business district to expand and to spread into what is now residential or lower grade business districts.

Mr. Homfray has spread them over the whole city and the surrounding district with purchases in the city proper, East St. John, West St. John, Lancaster, and the Manawagonish district, as well as some farm property outside the city.

Another great barrier which Mr. Homfray has found in the way of greater activity in real estate in St. John is the system of transfers of titles. At present every transfer requires a search of the title back in many cases, to the founding of the city.

Mr. Homfray has completed in the last day or two several important deals on the west side, including the purchase of the W. E. Seely property of eight lots, which lie in Lowell street with the corner lot at City Line, the Hassan property, and the George Clark property, which consists of about four acres between the Shore Line and Fort DuRoi, and will be remembered as the old Neill estate. The prices have not been disclosed.

Mr. Homfray's parting words were: "I regard St. John as one of the best places in Canada for real estate investment if the properties are carefully selected by some one who understands the situation."

MONTREAL TRAIN, ON WAY HERE WAS IN ACCIDENT Several Cars Derailed in Maine -- No One Seriously Hurt--Passengers Will Be Late Reaching Here

The C. P. R. Atlantic express bound from Montreal to St. John was derailed at 5:15 o'clock this morning at Clear Station 6.5 miles west of Brownville Junction. Fortunately the train was running slowly at the time of the accident and the damage was not as bad as it would otherwise have been.

The derailment occurred while the train was passing over a switch. The locomotive, baggage and mail cars passed over safely but the rest of the train jumped the tracks and auxiliary trains were sent out from Brownville and Magalloway to clear the tracks and make necessary repairs.

A physical examination of the train from Brownville and reported that no serious injuries had been received by any of the passengers or train crew.

A new train was made up with the portion of the express that remained on the tracks and additional passenger cars and the passengers were transferred to it. This train got away about ten o'clock and was expected to reach St. John this evening.

Chatham, N. B., Dec. 7.—The Fredericton train was not derailed, as reported running six hours and thirty minutes late which would make it due at St. John about half past six o'clock this evening.

THE BASEBALL MEETING LIKELY TO BE POSTPONED

Outlook in St. John for Next Season - Welcome Back For Favorites of 1912 - May Be New Grand Stand

Although a meeting of the executive of the New Brunswick and Maine Baseball League was held for next Monday night at Fredericton, it is said to be likely that it will be postponed on account of the illness of D. B. Donald, one of the officers of the organization, and the departure of the St. John team.

The St. John manager has not been inactive, and has been arranging for signing several of last season's players who intimated a willingness to come to St. John next season. It would not be surprising to see McEwen, Winslow, O'Brien, Dutton, Pinkerton and one or two of the other players back in Marston uniforms. In all probability the team will be under the same management as formerly.

The make-up of the league has not yet been decided upon, and will not be until after the meeting of the executive. It is understood that Donald is desirous of entering a team, although nothing definite has yet been decided.

A new franchise was offered to Woodstock and Honiton will drop out, and that St. Stephen and St. John will continue and put in one team. There has been considerable talk in regard to extending the league to other parts of the province.

Lawson and Leonard are expected to be in one team. There has been considerable talk in regard to extending the league to other parts of the province.

GREW WEALTHY ON TIPS New York Hotel Porter's Wages Only $1 a Day But He Left $11,000

New York, Dec. 7.—An illustration of how New York hotel employes can become rich in time, if they are careful, is shown in the case of a porter in a hotel in New York City. The man, who is now a millionaire, started as a porter in a hotel in New York City.

As a porter in a big uptown hotel, he received wages of only a dollar a day, but he saved his money and invested it in stocks and bonds. He was able to accumulate a fortune of $11,000.

THEFT OF CROWN JEWELS Arrest of One Shackleton Attributed to Evidence of 1907 - Member Declares That Was a "Fishing Committee" - Sensation is Deferred

London, Dec. 7.—A curious incident took place in the House of Commons last night. An Irish Nationalist member, Mr. Grinnell, called attention to the circumstances attending the theft of the crown jewels at Dublin Castle in 1907 to which public interest has again been attracted by the arrest of Mr. Shackleton, once an official at the castle.

He said his proposition was that the police charged with collecting the evidence, collected other evidence of a criminal nature which was not reported to the committee. He said that the committee was a "fishing committee" and that the evidence was not reported to the committee.

ENGINEERS ON A BIG STRIKE Reduction of One For Drunkenness While On Duty Makes Trouble in England

London, Dec. 7.—A great strike has been declared by the railway engineers of the North Eastern Railway Company because one of the engineers, owing to a drunkenness charge, was reduced to running a pilot engine. He has been promised that if his future conduct was good he would be reinstated in his old position, but the union demanded immediate reinstatement, and as this was not done the company the men were called out.

Three thousand have already quit work. Business was brisk on the Prince William street curb this morning. At noon Auctioneer T. T. Lantam offered the estate of Tapley Bros, tugboat owners and lumber exporters, coal, rope, gas, oil, lumber, office furniture and the strike interest in several booming properties along the St. John river. The auction created quite a lot of interest and there was some sharp bidding.

Six months ago the child was born, but the girl says that before her wedding she promised McCullough that she would not have a child. She says that McCullough would have nothing to do with the child and threatened to leave the girl unless she abandoned it. MR. FARMER IN MONCTON A. R. Farmer, of Toronto, secretary of the Tax Reform League of Eastern Canada, who has been, during the past few days, touring the maritime provinces, addressing meetings in the interests of the league, will visit Moncton on Sunday, and address a public meeting to be held in the First Baptist church. His subject will be: "Some Phases of Social and Moral Reform."

ASTONISHED THE CONGREGATION During the course of a sermon in an Ayrshire church the other Sunday some amusement was created by a prominent potato-grower, who is a regular attendant. He was having "forty winks." Apparently dreaming of his crops and work, he was astonished the congregation as well as the occupier of the pulpit by shouting out: "Gather up the sma's; gather up the sma's!"

HOUSES OF CHILDHOOD

Paris Method of Education Set Out By Directress of the Montessori System

(London Standard).

"I owe a great deal to England. For two years I was a student visiting different parts of your country, and later I was on the staff of the Regatta High School. I got to know your English system of education very intimately. In one respect it is far superior to ours in France. You allow girls more time for sport and for living their own lives—and this is of great importance in any method of training."

The speaker was Madame Pujol-Segalas, the Directress of the Montessori "Houses of Childhood" in Paris, who is now on a visit to England, and was good enough to give her views on education to a representative of "Woman's Platform."

Deformed By False Education

"We take them when they are three years old. I should like them earlier, even at two years, if we could manage it, for children soon tend to get deformed, thwarted by false education. But we hold mothers' meetings, and we get to know all about the children before they come to us."

Buy Now or Repent Later

By J. R. HAMILTON

Former Advertising Manager of Wanamaker's, Philadelphia

SOME people are so slow that their own shadow keeps stepping on their heels.

Some men wear their clothes so long that the fringe on their trousers looks like a new style, while other men wait until all the good stocks in town are badly broken, and then wonder why they always look like a comic supplement.

The time to buy your clothes this winter is now. Now, while the stocks are high and the prices are low. You can get more value out of a dollar today than you can at any other time of the year.

You can go into any shoe store that is advertising in The Telegraph and Times today and get extra good values for your money. You can go into any hat store advertising here and get the same thing. You can get better values in suits and overcoats and haberdashery and underwear through these papers right now than you have been offered at any other time this year.

And that isn't all. The best of it is that you can get a maximum amount of pleasure out of these things right now because now is the time when you need them most.

Another thing. People are giving useful gifts more and more each year. They are finding that a Christmas is a poor Christmas which leaves only a littered floor and a stomachache the day after.

So now is the time to choose your useful gifts for men and boys as well as your necessities.

A big warm overcoat, a nice, new suit, or some pretty shirts and ties have come to be a rather handsome decoration on a Christmas tree.

And if this is also your idea of Christmas, the time to get these things is now when the stocks are high, when the prices are low, and when the choice is generous.

Right now there ought to be as many women as men shopping in every men's store in the City.

Turn to your advertising. The Telegraph and Times are full of it. Use your judgment, make your choice, and go after what you have decided on right away.

The right time to do the right thing is now. (Copyrighted)

THE ST. JOHN BOOM

Sussex Record—Each week brings its quota of investors from the west, all anxious to investigate the much talked of boom in the east. The men count, in some instances for thousands of miles, and the best indication of their opinions of St John and its future is to be found in the land purchases they are making. Tens of thousands of dollars have been invested in St. John real estate during the past ten years by men who are not residents of that city. They have noted the wonderful improvement in the general tone of public confidence in St. John and they have noted the encouraging signs in the way of the establishment of industries in the city. The great terminal works being established by the Dominion government and the Canadian Pacific Railway have not escaped their notice and the result is the encouraging activity in the transfer of real property in exchange for real money. Some of these days in the near future these advances in real estate prices will extend beyond the borders of St. John and the whole province will take on new life. Much that is hoped for lies in store for New Brunswick during the next few years.

INQUEST CONTINUED.

The inquest into the death of John Nagle, who was killed at Blue Rock several weeks ago, was continued by Coroner Berryman last night. John Anderson, a forman, was called for re-examination, and said that he had not seen Tubbs, a former witness, on the trestle at the time of the accident. Thomas Cunningham, Charles Berry and James Albertson were all recalled.

Mr. Woodman, chief clerk, was called and said that Tubbs was in the employ of the Metcalf Company at the time of the accident. Tubbs was recalled and gave the names of several workmen who saw him on the trestle at the time. The inquest was then adjourned until Friday night next at 7.30 o'clock.

He hoped that in time the same harmony would be found in Canada, and that people of all religions would take concerted action in the matter.

USE AUTOMOBILE IN THEFT EXPEDITION

Chicago Bandits Go From Shop to Shop Robbing—Shoot Man Who Resists

Chicago, Dec. 7.—Charles A. Sherman, a delicatessen storekeeper, was shot and probably fatally wounded by one of three automobile bandits last night, after a determined resistance in which he disarmed one of the robbers. The motor car thieves are believed to have been the same that robbed three other stores before Sherman was attacked.

One of the robbers stayed at the wheel while the other two entered Sherman's store. One of the men pointed a revolver at Sherman and ordered him to open his cash register. Sherman refused and knocked the weapon from the man's hand to the floor. Then, seizing a bread knife, he ran around the counter toward the men. Before he could reach them, however, the robber with the revolver stepped forward and shot Sherman, through the right breast.

TAX REFORM

Those who are interested in tax reform in St. John should acquaint themselves with what is being done in Nova Scotia. The Halifax Chronicle says that Mr. A. E. Farmer, in his address in that city, highly commended a measure which he brought before the Nova Scotia legislature this winter, and which, if adopted, will give greater liberty to the municipalities in matters of taxation. The Chronicle says that Mr. Farmer was heard by a large and interested audience, and that he keenly criticized some of the methods of raising taxes in that city, especially the headtax and the personal property tax. With regard to the latter an Ontario government commission, after an investigation, had reported that it was the most difficult method by which to raise taxes, and one of the greatest incentives to falsehood, and it had been largely abolished in that province. Hon. G. E. Faulkner, in moving a vote of thanks to Mr. Farmer, spoke in support of the principles of tax reform as laid down by Mr. John McKeen, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, in accepting the motion, argued strongly in favor of a better system of valuation than is now adopted in Halifax. It will thus be seen that in the sister province as well as in New Brunswick there is a decided movement in the direction of tax reform, and Mr. Farmer's visit at this time is very opportune.

THE NAVAL POLICY

The chorus of approval of the Borden naval programme which comes from the Conservative press had been well rehearsed. It is merely a part of the flag-waving campaign by which the party hopes to hold power in Canada. If the people can be kept in a semi-hysterical mood, watching for imaginary foes and singing the National Anthem, the Tory leaders can go on dividing the spoils. The situation is not a happy one for the people, and the same who now cheer so loudly are the same who made an alliance with the nationalists a year ago. Mr. Borden's audacious sentences of today cannot hide the fact that he has never yet denounce the real opponents of British connection in this country, and that he belied their support as a stepping stone to power. The subject of Tory joy at the announcement of this naval policy was all planned in advance. As a bit of stage play he had his script, but the country must now settle down and analyze the policy, and ask what it really means. The analysis will show that Mr. Borden has made another error, but has utterly failed to prove a naval policy worthy of this great and rapidly growing Dominion. The true naval policy is that set forth by Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

CITY FARMERS' CLUBS

Reference was made in the Times yesterday to the success of the Farmers' club in Ontario. There is in America a movement for the organization of business men into similar clubs. One of these has just been organized in Bangor, and the Commercial says: "In accordance with the movement which has been among business men in many of the cities of the country, a number of Bangor men who are interested in business and its allied subjects such as shipping, merchandising and market gardening have organized the Bangor Farmers' club. This new organization is the outcome of the recent Penobscot Bay Fruit show, which was held under the direction of the Bangor Chamber of Commerce. The club is formed along lines similar to those employed in the organization of the well known and successful Portland Farmers' club. Its membership is composed of business men, and its purpose is to assist in bringing about and forwarding future shows of an agricultural nature, such as the recently held, for this section." The last mentioned particular of this new club proposes to do work similar to that done by our exhibition association, confining itself to the agricultural area.

BOY REPUBLIC

The Canadian Club of Montreal recently held a very interesting address by Dr. G. G. B. founder of the Junior Republic in York state. Youthful delinquents of sexes are there cared for on the island, and the young people practically run the institution themselves. They attend their town meeting, and girls as well as boys have the privilege of voting and holding office. The young people are educated and encouraged to take an active part in the conduct of the institution, and the plan works out well. It is in the neighborhood of DeWitt, and is called the Ford Republic, and is a boys' community on a farm to which delinquents are sent, and where they are given such wide liberty that the law-breaker when he arrives is at what he finds. If, however, he is to take some liberties, he is to be great amassment that the persons to take him aside and tell what will happen if he does it again boys who went there as delinquents himself, but are now law abiding of the Ford Republic, with a few of their own choosing from among their own number, and with a code of laws which must be observed by every member to the institution. They have, however, a court of their own, to which they are summoned, and where each is a successful trial and judgment.

nonced. These boys are taught discipline, and unemotionally their character is moulded along right lines. The boys who go out from such a place are better qualified for citizenship in the state, and an effort is made to keep in touch with every graduate, and to give him advice and assistance along the road to independence and success. Each boy in the Ford Republic must learn to do some book-keeping. They have a regular currency in which each member is paid for his work, and if he fails to do enough work to earn the $3.25 in regular currency which pays his board, he is deprived of certain privileges until he secures the amount, and the judge of the citizens' court takes care that the balance is paid. There is a system of fines, and the boy who becomes a "dodger" is placed under the sheriff's care, and finds himself in so uncomfortable a position that he is invariably glad to settle down to business. The boys who work well and have a surplus every week are able to exchange that surplus for United States currency, and have it deposited to their credit. It would not of course be in any case a large amount, but it encourages thrift and a wholesome competition among the boys. These republics are not state institutions, but have behind them men who are willing to contribute to a work of so much value to the state, for these boys turn out much more satisfactorily than boys who are sent to the state industrial school.

LIBERALS ARE PLEASED OVER THE OUTLOOK

Naval Policy Means Defeat Of Borden at Next Election

BUSINESS OF COMMONS

Bill For Increase of Pay For Northwest Mounted Police—Debate on Matter of I.C.R. Dismissals—Bay Steamer Service and New Law

Ottawa, Dec. 6.—The Liberals will give the Borden naval policy a searching criticism. There was a fully attended caucus of Liberal members and senators this morning. The caucus was called to consider the naval announcement made yesterday.

It is understood that a high note of patriotism and imperialism was struck, the members believing that the empire could be strengthened by the creation of an effective Canadian naval force. After the caucus the following statement was given out by Sir Wilfrid Laurier: "The caucus was most enthusiastic and absolutely unanimous and proud that the memorandum of the admiralty clearly established what they always considered that there is no emergency. In this they find a full justification of the principle of a Canadian naval policy which can be expanded to the full extent of the figures suggested in the memorandum and this they consider the true imperial policy."

As calm follows storm, so routine followed the naval announcement. Parliament today concerned itself with intimate domestic details. The members were too preoccupied to pay much attention to ordinary routine and left that to a corporal's guard on each side while the bulk of the members talked navy in the corridors. Both Liberal and Conservative members were strangely elated. The Conservatives feel that the prime minister declared on Thursday which will keep them in power as long as they have the strength to wave a flag.

Liberals See Borden's Finish

The Liberals are as pleased as possible with the situation and declare that the government's naval announcement has struck a blow at proper empire development which will spell the death of the Borden government in the next election. The lines on which the attack is to follow will be given by Sir Wilfrid Laurier Tuesday.

When the house met in the afternoon Mr. Middlebrooke, chairman-elect of the public accounts committee, moved for the right to extend the operations of his investigations back beyond the year 1911-12, to which it is restricted by the existing rule of the house. At Premier Borden's request the motion stood over for further discussion.

Premier Borden introduced his motion proceeding the government bill to increase the pay of the men of the Northwest Mounted Police by 25 cents per day, and make provision for the treatment of scouts and detectives in connection to the force.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier spoke briefly. He viewed with hearty approval the proposal to increase the pay of the men. "The Northwest Mounted Police," he said, "is a splendid body of men which deserves well of our country." He asked if it was the intention to increase the number of the police and suggested that the premier submit to the house the full enrollment of those who were to be added to the force.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane's bill to enable former employees of the Intercolonial and Prince Edward Island railways, who had been dismissed on the grounds of political partisanship, to draw out their contributions to the provident fund, opened up a vigorous debate on the question of insurable.

Messrs. MacDonald, Sinclair and Chisholm (Antigonish) led the attack and severely arraigned the conduct and course of H. P. Duchesne, the executioner appointed by the government to "try" the accused and dismiss the men. Mr. MacDonald charged that Duchesne had gone so far as to use letters which had been stolen from the houses of those concerned, a charge which met with no defence from the government benches.

Wireless Equipment on Canadian Steamers. A resolution providing that passenger ships shall have wireless, was passed after some discussion and a bill introduced which will probably be considerably amended on its second reading.

The bill provides that vessels of Canadian register licensed to carry fifty or more passengers and making voyages of 200 miles or more, shall carry wireless equipment under penalty of $5,000 for the vessel and $100 for the master.

Mr. Pardee asked why the minimum was fixed at fifty passengers. He thought that the safety of fewer passengers might be considered.

Mr. Hazen said that it was worth consideration and if desirable a change could be made on the second reading.

Mr. Pardee wanted to know if the bill

DOMAIN IS SAFE

Staunch Schooner Makes Port at Quaco—Out in Big Storm

The schooner Domain, Captain Stewart, owned by the Robinson-Wright Lumber Company, which left the head of the bay on Monday with a cargo of deals for St. John, is safe at Quaco. There have been some fears for the safety of the vessel and her crew, as she was out in the storm which wrecked both the Sumner and the Rowena. After a hard battle with wind and sea, the staunch little schooner made port in safety yesterday, taking shelter in Quaco harbor. The weather has moderated, and it is expected that she will continue her voyage on the next tide. Several other schooners also found it necessary to put into Quaco for shelter during the storm.

THE CATHARINE IS AT BANGOR WITH SALT

The British schooner Catharine, Captain W. A. Wilkie of St. John, which arrived in Bangor Wednesday night with a cargo of salt from Turk's Island for J. N. Towle & Co., commenced discharging Friday morning at the Maine Central wharf. Captain Wilkie reported a very rough passage, encountering three storms, one of which was particularly in the northern edge of the Gulf stream blew the vessel nearly 200 miles off its course. The deck of the schooner was awash for two days, but with sail shortened to a minimum she rigging, only suffering delay from being carried out of her course. On Nov. 12 another severe blow was encountered and before Bangor town could be reached she had ridden through the worst of it; and again off Cape Cod on Nov. 27 she ran into the northeaster that prevailed all along the coast.

The Catharine left Turk's Island Nov. 12 and considering the storms made excellent time to Bangor. The vessel was 16 days in loading, it being necessary many times to leave her anchorage at Salt City, which is on the outer coast with no breakwaters to prevent being blown upon the ledges. Captain Wilkie is one of the youngest masters in the West Indies trade, but is a fearless navigator and storms are a matter of course with him.

TO WELCOME PAPAL DELEGATE

Arrangements are now being made to accord to the Apostolic Delegate, Monsignor Stagni, a hearty reception by the Catholic people of the city on his arrival here at noon on Monday next for the consecration of His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc. It is planned to present to him an address on behalf of the clergy and laity.

Owing to the inconvenience in the hour of arriving, it is not possible to have a procession in honor of the visit of the apostolic delegate, but he will be escorted to the Palace from the depot after being welcomed by Very Rev. W. F. Chapman, V. G., at the train.

At the Palace he will robe and will then enter the Cathedral where the presentation of the address will be made, and afterwards there will be benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

ROWENA LOCATED

Schooner is Ashore Above Cape Spencer—Stadium to go to Her Assistance

The schooner Rowena, which filled with water while being towed from Alma to St. John with a cargo of deals yesterday and was abandoned by her tow boat, was located this morning. She drifted ashore about eight miles above Cape Spencer, and is now fast on the rocks. Her position is difficult to access, owing to the nature of the coast line, but fortunately she went ashore at high tide and it is only the highest tides that can batter her.

The schooner was located by one of a party sent along the shore to look for her and the discovery was reported this morning to the owners here. The steamer Stadium will be sent out this afternoon to see what can be done. No report has been received as to the condition of her bottom, but it is thought that she will float. If this is the case and she keeps calm it is expected that she will be pulled off tonight or tomorrow and brought to St. John.

The three-masted schooner, Besse C. Beach, Captain McKrague, from St. John for Philadelphia, ran ashore about two miles west of the Neptune Life Saving Station, New Hampshire, yesterday. She had a cargo of laths. The crew were all saved.

DEATH SEPARATES LIFE COMPANIONS OF FIFTY-FOUR YEARS

Robert Barbour Passed Away Today—Golden Wedding Four Years Ago

The death of Robert Barbour at his home, 156 Sydney street, this morning about half-past five, removed one of St. John's best known citizens, and caused great amongst a large number of friends. He had been in failing health since last February, but during the mild weather in the summer months had been out of the house several times, the last occasion being about a fortnight ago. Death was due to pleurisy. The funeral will be conducted on Monday next at 2.30 p.m. from his late home, service beginning at that hour.

Mr. Barbour was one of the best known men in the painting and decorating business in the city and enjoyed the esteem and confidence of a great number of friends. Many of the best houses in the city had been decorated under his capable direction, both in the interior and exterior work. His son, Charles R., has been associated with him in his business, and will succeed him in that regard.

Four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Barbour were the recipients of hearty congratulations on their golden wedding anniversary, and Sunday last marked the fifty-fourth anniversary of their married life. They were married at the home of the bride, who was a daughter of the late Captain Thomas Blissett, a successful shipbuilder and master of several sailing vessels, by the late Rev. I. E. Bill, B.D., and had spent the bulk of their lives in wedded life in happiness and prosperity.

Besides his wife, Mr. Barbour is survived by four daughters, two sons, twenty-one grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren. The daughters are:—Mrs. A. G. Staples, Mrs. E. H. Davis, Mrs. Wm. Cross, and Miss Alice M. Barbour, at home, while Charles R. of this city, and Dr. Frederick W. Barbour, of Fredericton, are the sons.

FOUR ASSESSORS INSTEAD OF FIVE

A change is to be made in the number of members composing the civic board of assessors. A resolution introduced by Mayor Frink was adopted by the commissioners this morning providing that for 1913 the number of assessors shall be four instead of five, as in the past.

The resignation of John H. Vanwart from the board this year left them with only four members. No mention of any change in the present membership of the board was made.

CUT HEAD TAX DOWN TO $5

A resolution, moved by Mayor Frink, to reduce the tax on non-resident laborers from $2.50 to $5 was adopted by the city commissioners this morning and will come before the common council on Monday afternoon. This makes the tax the same amount as the poll tax and puts the non-residents on the same basis as local workers, except that the outsiders have to pay in advance whether they are going to stay a year or only a few weeks.

The mayor also recommended the payment of the usual city accounts.

DREDGE CARLETON SLIPS TO PROVIDE PLACE FOR SCHOONERS

The city commissioners are grappling with the problem which has arisen through the congestion of traffic in the harbor. There is now more demand for wharf room than can be found and the situation will be worse as the winter season advances. The commissioner of harbors was authorized to write to the minister of marine asking that a government dredge be employed to dig the Nelson and Wellington slips in West St. John to provide berths for the schooners which are now hampered by lack of accommodation.

The condition of the wharf at Reed's Point was also discussed. It is probable that further expenditures will be required to strengthen the wharf.

WARM UNDERWEAR

December 7th, 1912.

Just as no one medicine will do for all ailments, so no one weight of underwear will do for all people. Some are comfortable in A-Cotton in the "bitterest" weather! Some prefer admixtures of Cotton and Wool; others want the warmth of All-Wool; and then there are the different weights to be considered; all-wool, for example, may be quite light in weight, and by degrees to the thick, heavy weight all-wool; and so with cotton, and also with the weights of cotton-and-wool.

The Oak Hall Underwear Stocks meet all requirements. Standard grades are carried, from best makers at home and abroad; as well as special lines to meet particular needs.

NEW BUILDINGS IN THE NORTH END

This Year Has Seen Many and Next Year Promises More

NEW RECTORY PROGRESSES

Personal and General News of The Busy Northern Section of the City—Main Street Roadway Conditions

This has been a great year for building throughout the North End. A large number of new dwelling houses have been erected, and others are yet springing up. There is one street in particular, Clarendon, where this is noticeable. This is practically a new street, or at least it has been fitted recently with sewerage connections. Here several fine new three-story houses have been erected, and it is said that others are to be built on the lower extension, beginning in the spring.

A few new houses have been built in Adelaide street and Main street, while Douglas avenue has seen several dwellings put up as well. Building operations in the spring, it is generally thought at present, will be given a fresh impetus and many streets will see additions of new dwelling houses.

The handsome new brick rectory being erected for the pastor of St. Luke's church, Rev. R. P. McKinn, on the lot adjoining the church in Main street, is nearing completion of the exterior. It is a very pretty structure, self-contained, and of a style somewhat different from the ordinary run of dwellings along the street. The architect is now engaged in putting the finishing touches to the roof, and with this completed, the fitting of the interior will be proceeded with and carried through part of the winter months.

Friends of Ralph McCormick, of North End, will be pleased to learn that he is making improvement today. He has been ill for about two or three weeks at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. P. Griffith, Main street, and for some time it was thought that his recovery was doubtful. He showed a change for the better yesterday and is now believed to be on the road to recovery. That this is so will give much pleasure to a wide circle of friends, by whom he is very much liked.

New Freeman.—The immigration chaplain of Canada, Father Caspary, of Montreal, was a visitor to Halifax, the guest of the Archbishop, recently.

He was there to make the necessary arrangements for a port chaplain to look after the immigrants that arrive in Halifax in the winter months. Father Caspary arrived in the city on Friday and was the guest of the Holy Family Fathers. He was present at a meeting of the immigration committee, held in St. Peter's rectory, on Friday afternoon.

Dwellers and other citizens throughout North End during the last few days have been vigorously complaining about the condition of the streets. Those having stores are particularly strong in their protests against the mud and dirt lying in the roadway and tracked in to their stores on the spattered against their windows by the passing teams. The worst section in this respect is to be found on the lower end of the street from below Fort Howe to the entrance of Paradise row, and here in places the mud is soft and very thick. This is but natural, however, in view of the fact that there has been considerable sewerage construction in progress in this section, and the pavement is practically a minus factor at the present time. With a few days of cold weather or even a fall of snow, conditions would be greatly improved for the tendency would be rather to dry up the refuse and mud, or cover it so that it would not be so objectionable.

In the rooms of St. Peter's Y. M. A., Douglas avenue, tomorrow afternoon, High Curtin will deliver a lecture on "Home Rule and its Meaning." An invitation to attend has been extended to the members of the C. M. P. A. 422 and the working lads of the parish, and it is expected that there will be a very large gathering.

Regret was expressed by a large number of friends about North End last evening and today when it became known that Francis E. Biddiscombe had died as the result of the injuries which he had sustained in his fall from the house of George McArthur at Riverside. He was sixty-five years of age, and is survived by his wife, three sons and three daughters, for whom hearty sympathy is felt.

The services of the Forty Hours' Devotion in St. Peter's church will be brought to a close tomorrow evening, when there will be the recitation of the Rosary, a sermon on "The Real Presence" and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. There will be veneration throughout the day. There will also be a procession about the church, in which the priests, altar boys and little children from the Sunday school will participate. Solemn High Mass was sung at nine o'clock this morning, and there was a large attendance. The services last evening also were well attended.

The case against Herbert Reed, charged with giving liquor to James McKay, an interdict, came up for hearing in the police court yesterday afternoon. Reed pleaded not guilty and the matter was adjourned until Monday morning.

MAP OF GREATEST RAILWAY SYSTEM EVER ORGANIZED AND WHICH MUST BE DISSOLVED; ITS FOUNDER AND MAN WHO FOUGHT MERGER

The "Harriman lines" must dissolve, according to the decision of the United States supreme court. Within three months the Southern Pacific and the Union Pacific, combined by that railroad wizard Edward H. Harriman, must cease to be operated as a separate and competing railroad. The Union Pacific will be allotted to one or the other after negotiations between the government attorneys and those representing the railroads. Frank B. Kellogg made the principal argument for the government in the suit to dissolve the big railroad merger. In the accompanying map the dashes represent the mileage to be retained by the Union Pacific, which will probably be allotted to the Union Pacific.

Great Map of the Heavens Nearly Completed DICKENS CENTENARY EXHIBITION IN LONDON HAS BEEN MOST SUCCESSFUL—SHOPPING IN METROPOLIS AND PARIS—STATUS OF LIBERTY FOR THE PHILIPPINES

(Times Special Correspondence) Paris, Nov. 28.—A pitiful tale was told to the magistrates who recently inquired into the conditions under which little Spanish boys were employed in a glass factory at St. Denis. A complaint had been lodged by the Spanish embassy and the syndical committee, and when the head of the police visited the place he found scores of boys, many under the legal age of thirteen, employed in labor altogether unskilled and much too severe for their strength. The managers of the works declared that the children were brought to them by contractors, and they had to do what they were of the legal age. They never receive more than 40 cents a day and they cannot tell, but it is clear that they are very badly looked after. They are packed then up in their barracks, pay the journey from Spain to Paris, and then become their complete masters. They often tried to make observations to these men, but they will not listen, and say that they can do as they please.

(Times Special Correspondence) London, Nov. 28.—Arthur Bourchier's belief in "The Hove" has not been justified by events. H. S. Sheldon's play was presented by him at the Garrick on Thursday afternoon and fell hopelessly flat. He had rather better luck with Stanley Hoaghton's new comedietta "Pippie," whereas Bourchier sustained the part of a better. But even that is hardly to be described as a masterpiece. Bourchier confided to me that the idea had been developed by himself and his wife, Violet Vanbrugh, Hoaghton being responsible for little more than the dialogue. That, he seems able to turn out with marvelous swiftness. The other day he said that he had written the entire first act of "Hindle Wakes" in a single night, and the whole of the piece in three weeks. In this respect he resembles Louis N. Parker, who thinks nothing of doing an act in one day. Of course, every writer has his own particular method of working. That adopted by the two playwrights mentioned contrasts curiously with, for instance, Hadon-Chambes. It is just upon eleven months since I travelled with him from London to Paris, whence he was going on the Riviera to obtain quiet for the writing of a comedy he had promised Charles Frohman. The weeks have lengthened into weeks, the weeks into months, and still the manuscript lies un- finished. Chambers tells me, however, that the first two acts, at any rate, are ready for delivery and that he is hard at work upon the third.

WAR PENALTIES Punishment of Death is Meted Out For Some Offences, Among Them Cowardice

(London Telegraph) When a soldier proceeds on active service he has to mind his "p's" and "q's," for offences which in peace time would be lightly punished, may in the field render him liable to death. In time of peace, if Tommy Atkins, being on sentry duty, sleeps or is drunk on his post, or quits it without being properly relieved, he will probably get off with a short dose of imprisonment, or perhaps of "detention" only. On active service the penalty for these offences is death. If he would not usually be enforced nowadays, except for a repeated offence, or where, owing to the prevalence of misbehavior among soldiers, it is necessary to "make an example," but still, the liability to death is there. In the maximum penalty for desertion is two years' imprisonment with or without hard labor, but in practice a first offence will get a short term of imprisonment. On active service the deserter takes the risk of death if recaptured, and if the offence is committed actually in the face of the enemy he will probably be shot.

Similarly, acts of insubordination which in the ordinary way would be comparatively venial offences become punishable by death if committed by a soldier in the face of the enemy. In the case of a soldier in the ordinary way who is guilty of insubordination he will be sentenced to imprisonment, or to a term of years, or to a term of years with or without hard labor, but in practice a first offence will get a short term of imprisonment. On active service the deserter takes the risk of death if recaptured, and if the offence is committed actually in the face of the enemy he will probably be shot.

Further, it is virtually certain that Dan Polart will not have sufficiently recovered from his accident in time to fulfil his pledge to appear on Boxing Day at the theatre. In the circumstances it seems likely that a return to the old order of things will be made, and that George Graven will relinquish his part in "Princess Caprice" and take service once more under Collins' well-known management. This, I fear, will serve none other than Robert Courtine. The latter realizes probably more thoroughly than anybody else that Graven is mainly responsible for the success of "Princess Caprice" and that his own name is a liability. He will, therefore, be glad to get rid of the actor, and to have the part taken by a younger man. I am glad to have interestingly good news of Mrs. Patrick Campbell and Lena Ashwell, who have been equally unfortunate in the matter of health. Even now there is very little chance, I think, of their leaving hospital, and they resume stage work, for at least a year. On the other hand, there is every likelihood that Lena Ashwell will not return to the stage in the course of six or eight weeks.

(Times Special Correspondence) Dublin, Nov. 28.—Who is the best known Irishman in Ireland? No doubt some people out of every ten would answer John Redmond, but if the frequency of mention in the newspapers is to be made the test the award would have to be given to His Honor Judge John Walker Craig, recorder of Belfast. This is hardly a day when his court is sitting that Judge Craig does not furnish "copy," and he has been doing this since 1897, when he became county court judge of Monaghan and Fermanagh. Before that he was known to fame as one of the wisest and ablest lawyers at the Irish bar, so it is a safe statement that by name at least he is known to every Irish newspaper reader. He has been getting even more than his share of publicity recently. A few weeks ago he declared that he was quite able to try the Orange rioters at Harland & Wolff's shipyard instead of sending them to Derry. When the jury acquitted them, after being plainly told by him to convict, Judge Craig told the jury in a very forcible and well-chosen words what he thought of them. Since then, although he is a strong Unionist himself, he has not been exactly popular in Orange circles in Belfast.

(Times Special Correspondence) London, Nov. 28.—The astronomer boys announced at the Author's Club on Monday that the great map of the heavens is almost completed. This colossal chart has been a quarter of a century in the making, and some twenty observatories around the globe have been co-operating. Each observatory has taken 2,000 photographs of the stellar zone allotted to it, and the complete set of plates will contain every star in the firmament down to the seventh magnitude. This will give the amateur stargazer who remembers the date originally published 100,000,000 stars to play with. On the Greenwich plates alone, which cover a square of four minutes, containing 180,000 recorded with six minutes' exposure and barely 300 visible to the naked eye. There will be 20,000 plates in all, so that if each complete copy were an 8x10 inch photograph it would be a big loss on the transaction.

(Times Special Correspondence) London, Nov. 28.—The astronomer boys announced at the Author's Club on Monday that the great map of the heavens is almost completed. This colossal chart has been a quarter of a century in the making, and some twenty observatories around the globe have been co-operating. Each observatory has taken 2,000 photographs of the stellar zone allotted to it, and the complete set of plates will contain every star in the firmament down to the seventh magnitude. This will give the amateur stargazer who remembers the date originally published 100,000,000 stars to play with. On the Greenwich plates alone, which cover a square of four minutes, containing 180,000 recorded with six minutes' exposure and barely 300 visible to the naked eye. There will be 20,000 plates in all, so that if each complete copy were an 8x10 inch photograph it would be a big loss on the transaction.

RULE FORTY-SEVEN A Complete Story of Life in a Great London Store

(London Answers)

Little Mr. Turton bustled to and fro in the silk department of Manley's great store.

"Come, come, Miss Blake! Can't you find something to do? Suppose Mr. Manley himself came in and found you idling in business hours! It is not business—not business!"

"He darted away across the floor, bowed obsequiously to a customer, led her to the right counter, and saw that she was properly served."

"Now, Mr. Harrop," he said to the first salesman, "we must push business today! It is most important that we should beat the record for this month last year!"

"It is always most important," said Harrop to his chief assistant, "and I can't let the department go back. Mr. Manley has no patience with a department that gets behind!"

"I hope Mrs. Turton is better today," said the salesman kindly.

"I've every hope that the new doctor will do her good. It's a long business, but she said to me herself this morning that after eighteen months in bed, she must take a turn soon. Very kind of you to inquire, Harrop! Mrs. Turton will be so pleased when I tell her. Oh, dear me—dear me! Here are Miss Sanders' shelves undated again! I shall have to fine her, Miss Sanders, if you please!"

"A girl stepped forward. 'Do look at these shelves—neglected again! Suppose Mr. Manley comes in, and saw them! What would you do?'"

"The girl shrugged her shoulders indifferently. 'He would probably discharge you on the spot!'"

"I don't know," said the girl, "but I have been discharged from Manley's Store's! Can you very sorry, Miss Sanders, but you know Rule 18. I can do nothing else but fine you a shilling. Please don't pain me by making me fine you again!"

"I won't forget again," said Harrop, said the girl smilingly to the cashier little Miss Sanders.

"That's right! I wish I could merit the fine, but conscientiously—"

"He shook his head. 'Conscientiously' was his word. His staff knew him as 'conscientious' Turton, and recalled joyfully the occasion when in a rash of business he had forgotten to put away goods after serving a customer, and had promptly fined himself half-a-crown for his error."

"The title of business set in steadily. Mr. Turton perambulated the department, being as it were, everywhere. Mr. Manley himself strode in, and gazed grimly at the proceedings."

"Mr. Turton dashed to the rescue of all girls who seemed nervous with customers under the great man's eye. A shrill voice, clearly lady demanded something which she insisted she had been supplied with before, and denounced loudly the girl who said they had never stocked the pattern."

"Mr. Turton leaped into the gulf, took over the awkward customer himself, convinced her that she had bought the old pattern somewhere else, and led her, a comparatively amiable woman, to the lift."

"Mr. Manley made a sign to him as he returned."

"Mr. Turton hurried across to him tremblingly, and said: 'Don't waste too much time on these old cats!' remarked Mr. Manley. 'If possible, it is better to satisfy them. It hurts me if the department misses sales.'"

"Mr. Manley nodded. And as the occasion was seldom when he did not express vigorously his discontent with what he saw in the department, he turned away with an air of pride, like some subaltern who has been commended by his superior on the battlefield."

"Everybody felt happier when Mr. Manley moved away to worry another department. There was a flow of good business. The returns were undoubtedly going up. None of the staff violated any of the five business rules. Mr. Turton gaily calculated that, as things were going so well, he might take his full hour for dinner that day. Then, by eating his dinner in five minutes, he might get to the department, and spend ten minutes with his wife."

"It would be a treat for the invalid, and he might venture for once to be away from the premises. Cheerful in the prospect, he bustled round the department, and then, turning round a corner suddenly, he beheld, though himself young, Frank Manley kissing his daughter."

"It came as a tremendous shock to the little man. He moved away to his tiny office at the end of the department, and pretended to be looking over invoices. His own daughter—Rule 9! The terrible rule ran through his mind. It stated definitely that any employee finding in business hours would be instantly dismissed. Poor Mabel! She would have to leave Manley's. To Mr. Turton it seemed as if she were being cast out of paradise. But her salary would cease. And that forty pounds a year had been so helpful in paying the terrible doctor's bills. How could she—his own daughter—dare to violate such an important rule!"

HARSH TREATMENT FOR LITTLE BOYS

(Continued from page 10) intended to remedy the situation created by the decision of the court of cassation that an employer of labor cannot be proceeded for not deducting from the wages of his employes the amount of their contributions under the compulsory old-age insurance act.

The penalty consists in imposing upon the employer the obligation to make an additional payment to the pension fund amounting to 3 per cent. of the compulsory contribution, which ought to have been paid. This penalty will be inflicted in cases where, after neglect to affix the stamps in the course of the year, the employer's or the employe's contributions have again not been paid in the course of the following year.

A farmer of the "Mill," whence come the good red wine, was distressed by the low standard of productivity which his hens seemed to have imposed on themselves. He thought the whole question on an evening over a bottle of excellent vintage, and came to a conclusion. "Here am I," he said to himself, "drinking my three litres of wine daily, and feeling all the better and more vigorous for them. Now, a merciful man is merciful to his hens, yet I expect these unhappy creatures to produce their diurnal egg on nothing more invigorating than water. From henceforward they shall have just a trifle of wine with their meals."

Thus, said the mellow chicken farmer to himself. Next morning the new regime began with a dozen of his best prolific charges. They took to it very kindly. Square.

AWFUL NERVOUSNESS AND PARALYSIS CURED BY "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

The Miracle Worker, That Cures When Doctors Fail—Now Used in Thousands of Homes in Every Section of Our Great Country

Two Men, From Widely Different Parts of Canada, Tell How They Found Health And Happiness by Taking These Wonderful Fruit Juice Tablets

Walkerton, Ont., May 9th, 1911. I have been in Walkerton in business for a good many years and many of my business know that my health, for long periods, was precarious. My trouble was extreme nervousness, brought on by indigestion or dyspepsia, from which I suffered in its most severe form. It was so bad that I could not sleep before about four in the morning. I noticed in the Toronto "World" one of your published testimonials of how someone had used "Fruit-a-tives" for similar trouble, and asked Mr. Hunter, my druggist, his opinion on the matter and he advised their use. I immediately procured several boxes and I am pleased to say that I now enjoy splendid health and could not possibly feel better. I can eat with every degree of satisfaction, and sleep without an effort, which pleasure I was denied before I was fortunate enough to use "Fruit-a-tives." I strongly advise anyone suffering from like complaints to commence using "Fruit-a-tives" immediately. Don't stop at a few doses—but continue using "Fruit-a-tives" until a cure is accomplished.

MR. ALEX. MCCARTER

Bristol, N. B., July 25th, 1911. I am unable to say enough in favor of "Fruit-a-tives," as it saved my life and restored me to health, when I had given up all hope and when the doctors had failed to do anything more for me. I had a stroke of Paralysis in March, 1910, and this left me unable to walk or help myself, and the constipation of the bowels was terrible. Nothing did me any good, and I was wretched in every way. Finally, I took "Fruit-a-tives" for the constipation, and it not only cured me of that trouble but gradually this fruit medicine toned up the nerves and actually cured the paralysis. Under the use of "Fruit-a-tives," I grew stronger and stronger until all the pain and weakness left my system. I am now well again and attend my store every day and all day. I reverently say "Thank God" for "Fruit-a-tives."

MR. ALVA PHILLIPS

These two cases show the wonderful powers of "Fruit-a-tives" in restoring a shattered nervous system to health and vigor—in entirely curing obstinate Constipation—and in completely relieving Indigestion and Dyspepsia. What other one medicine in the whole world has ever done so much? "Fruit-a-tives" cures. It is the only medicine in the world actually made from fruit with the addition of valuable tonic. It is pleasant to take and will always give the most gratifying results when taken regularly. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. During the last ten years Lincoln County has spent the enormous sum of $111,500 on one road. This is the road running from Queenstown to Grimsby, a distance of about twenty-five miles. A road superintendent is employed on it all the time, and it is conceded to be one of the best stretches of road in the world.

STAFFORD HOUSE Unable to Work for 14 Months

SIR WILLIAM LEVER NEW OWNER But One Larger Residence in London—Facile Writers Have Done Honor to Its Beauty—300 Paintings Include Some of The Finest

(London Post). It is announced by Messrs. Knight, Frank, and Rutley that on behalf of the Duke of Sutherland they have sold Stafford House to Sir William H. Lever.

Mr. Henry Black

What a helpless mass of flesh and bone the human body is, once the nerves become exhausted. Extreme weakness comes over you and you lose control of the limbs. The next step is paralysis. You will be fortunate if, like Mr. Black, you get the building-up process in action before it is forever too late. By forming new, rich blood Dr. Chase's Nerve Food carries new vigor and energy to every organ and every member of the human body. Mr. Henry Black, 81 St. Catherine street east, Montreal, Que., writes: "The wonderful results I obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food constrain me to write this letter in order that others who suffer from nervous exhaustion and weakness may use this medicine with equal satisfactory results. As the result of overwork I became completely exhausted, and was unable to work for fourteen months. As I am the father of a family, these were sad days for me, but after I had used six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I had improved so greatly that I continued the treatment until I was completely restored to health and strength. I now work twelve to fifteen hours a day, and keep in excellent health." Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, all dealers or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Stafford House, which is said to have been planned by the Duke of Devonshire, with the assistance of Benjamin Wyatt, stands at the extreme southwest corner of the Victoria Park, in the East End. Magnificent interior Stafford House, which is said to have been planned by the Duke of Devonshire, with the assistance of Benjamin Wyatt, stands at the extreme southwest corner of the Victoria Park, in the East End. The house is a quadrilateral in shape and not particularly imposing in design. It has a central hall front with a projecting portico of eight Corinthian columns that support an entablature bearing the name of the Duke of Devonshire. The south and west fronts each display six pillars, whereas the east side is plain. The magnificent staircase has, in consequence of the time the house became the property of the Duke of Sutherland, who called in Wyatt and Barry to assist in the construction and decoration.

Next to Dorchester House it is the largest in London, and has often been described in elegant terms. Dr. Waagen, when searching for the art treasures of England, found, as he said, that "in extent, grandeur of proportion, solidity of material, and beauty of situation" he excelled every mansion in London, while the hall has been compared to a setting for a picture by Paolo Veronese. Ely thought it the "most magnificent room in any palace or mansion in England." Samuel Rogers called it a fairy palace, and Lord Beaconsfield in "Lothair" declared that it was not unworthy of Veronese, where the wonders of Palladio are seen on every hand.

The vast hall, the immense mirrored dome that is the custom to open upon on the visit of royal guests or when a bride was leaving, the superb staircase leading to the splendid gallery, the white marble floor, the walls of imitation Giallo Antico, and other decorations formed an ensemble of the most beautiful. On the festive nights the scene recalled a painting by Veronese or Guard, with the clear light from the chandeliers, the rich jewels, beautifying the hues of costly robes, made more effective by the black dresses of the men, which contrasted with Waagen "as if a flight of feathers had alighted among birds of brilliant feathers and more delicate."

It was on such an occasion, says Lord Ronald Gower in his fine work on Stafford House, published by Messrs. G. Bell & Co., that Queen Victoria said to his mother, the Duchess of Sutherland, "I have come from my own room in my palace." Lami, the French artist, painted a picture of the grand staircase, crowded with guests, the stately hall, the chandeliers, and the boat and horses escorting the Queen and Prince Consort. The cause of charity and freedom have ever found noble support at Stafford House, and many illustrious people have been entertained within its walls. So rich jewels, beautifying the hues of costly robes, made more effective by the black dresses of the men, which contrasted with Waagen "as if a flight of feathers had alighted among birds of brilliant feathers and more delicate."

MORE RESTRICTIONS ON LIQUOR SALE PROPOSED

Birmingham, England, Considering Adoption of Changes in Effect in Liverpool

Birmingham, Eng., Dec. 7.—The Birmingham justices have taken under consideration proposals by the licensing committee for the amendment of the licensing laws. These proposals, among other amendments, that the opening hour of licensed premises be changed from 6 a. m. to 8.30. No woman or person under sixteen should be served with intoxicating liquor for consumption either on or off the premises, before noon. The closing hour of licensed premises on week-days be changed from eleven to ten p. m.

The licensing authority be empowered to make orders with regard to special premises and in given localities for opening earlier than 8.30 a. m. and closing either earlier or later than ten p. m. The hours of opening on Sunday be between 12.30 and 2 p. m., and 6.30 and 10 p. m. The basis of the license duty be the quantity of intoxicating liquor sold. Grocers' licenses should be abolished, and the sale of beer in flagons should be prohibited. Clubs be put on the same footing as licensed premises as to police supervision, and as to the hours during which intoxicating liquors may be supplied.

Mr. Bosley, in moving the recommendations, pointed out that the proposals were brought forward originally in Liverpool, and he had found that of seventy-seven benches which had considered the matter twenty-three either took no action or disagreed with the report, and the rest were in favor of all or most of the Liverpool proposals. At Liverpool as a result of the ten o'clock closing, the conduct of the public in the streets in working-class areas had been much improved. The statistics in Birmingham showed that last year one-third of the total arrests for drunken and disorderly offenses occurred after eleven p. m. It was often said that people could not be made sober by act of parliament. He was convinced that that popular statement was wrong. Before Birmingham was extended the public houses in the newly added districts closed at ten p. m. There was then a complaint, and many persons regretted that the hour was enlarged to eleven o'clock.

Excessive drinking by women, he continued, was common in Birmingham, and he was to stop it was to forbid women being served in the morning. It was decided to take the recommendations as a whole, and the first was approved by 35 votes to 28, the second was approved by 30 votes to 27. Further consideration of the recommendations was postponed.

SCHOOLS DEBATE SUFFRAGE. In Texas the State League of School Debating Societies has designated suffrage as this year's subject, and the entrance as being debated in the schools of Texas. On the subject of suffrage issued by the extension department of the State University at Austin is devoted to the subject. It gives argument on both sides, with a bibliography and references.

DARING FEATS OF MEN WHO WRITE ABOUT WARS

Newspaper Heroes of the Battlefield Recalled by Tribute to Melton Prior

(London T.R. Bits)

The splendid tribute which Field-Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood paid a few weeks ago to the late Melton Prior, when he unveiled a memorial to the famous artist-correspondent of the Illustrated London News...

Mr. Le Sage of The Telegraph. It is a fact not generally known that Mr. Le Sage, the managing editor of the "Daily Telegraph," proved himself, during the Franco-Prussian War, a very enterprising correspondent.

But the "Daily Telegraph" has never had a more wonderful correspondent than Ben Burleigh, the veteran newspaper man who is now at the front.

First of His Class. The first of the artist-correspondents of the Victorian era was William Simpson, who in 1858 placed his services at the disposal of the Illustrated London News...

Based on the Times. It is an interesting fact that the first correspondent sent out by a newspaper in this country to describe a war was Henry Crabbe Robinson.

Not only, however, was Robinson a writer of the first class, but he was also a man of the first class in every sense of the word.

"Archie" Forbes. The most famous "Daily News" correspondent was undoubtedly Archibald Forbes, who, after an education at Aberdeen University, had an adventurous career as a private in the Royal Dragoons.

Large Increase in Number of Passengers on the Various Lines a Feature

Says the Montreal Gazette.—The feature of the navigation season of 1912 has been the increase in the passenger trade throughout the world.

The C. P. R. was represented by fifty-two arrivals, bringing 46,100 passengers. It was the most successful season for the company since 1907.

FROM CAPETOWN TO CAIRO

Rhodesian Settler Makes Journey Afoot on a Wager

(London Standard)

Emil Lund, a Rhodesian settler of 36, has just completed a walk from Capetown to Cairo, a distance of nearly 5,000 miles.

He started from Capetown and walked all alone, right through the Cape Province and the Transvaal to Rhodesia. There he continued through the Congo State, the Sudan, and the Nubian desert.

He had no porters, carrying all his own provisions, weighing 70 pounds. This alone is no mean task in a tropical and wild country.

This Dear Old Lady

was a nurse to the sick and wounded during the Civil War. Twenty-three years ago at a time when her doctor thought she could not recover from her illness and when he thought other medicines would be useless he advised her to take Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey.

Look at her photograph. What a pleasing picture of health and content she makes now, in her advancing years—her hair alert, eyes bright and memory clear.

At the expiration of ten months my cold disappeared and I gained in weight steadily, and today I weigh 160 pounds. My memory is no very good that I can remember things that happened far back as the battle of Hampton Roads, between the Monitor and Merrimack, on March 9, 1862.

I went to Canton, China, as a missionary nurse, in 1875 to 1880, and can recall many of the Siamois events, such as famine and plague, during this period in China.

I was in the city of London, in 1885, and can recall many of the Siamois events, such as famine and plague, during this period in China.

FORTUNES WON AND LOST AT MONTE CARLO

(London T.R. Bits)

It seems scarcely possible to believe when standing on the promenade at Monte Carlo, overlooking the harbor, which is generally crowded with fashionable yachts, and the deep blue Mediterranean beyond, that less than fifty years ago this world-famous town was completely unknown to the public.

As is well known, of course, Monte Carlo is the capital of the little principality of Monaco, which, though under French protection, is the property of the Prince of Monaco.

But the chief attraction of Monte Carlo is, of course, its Casino, which is famous throughout all the world for its roulette tables. This magnificent building is as white and clean as indeed are nearly all the buildings in Monte Carlo.

Had Weak AND Buzzy Spells. Those feelings of weakness, those dizzy spells and "all gone" sinking sensations, which come over some people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded.

They indicate an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered state of the nerves.

One dizzy spell may pass off, but the next may be more serious.

Those who are wise will start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, before their case becomes hopeless.

Mrs. A. E. Martell, Rockdale, N.E., writes:—"I was troubled for a long time with my heart, had weak and dizzy spells, could not sleep, and would have to sit up the greater part of the night. At last I got a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and they did me so much good I got another, and after taking it I could sleep as well as before I was taken sick. They are the best medicine I ever heard of for heart or nerve trouble."

PROGRESS OF MEDICINE

At a recent surgeon's convention, ham-mocks were put in patients' hands to hold their stomachs up, wounds were sewed, with sewing machines, and dogs' legs were cut off and fixed on again with perfect ease and accuracy.

BREAKS A GOLD IN A FEW HOURS—PAPE'S

First dose Pape's Cold Compound relieves all gripe misery. After the very first dose of Pape's Cold Compound you distinctly feel the cold breaking and all the disagreeable gripe symptoms leaving.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken will cure Gripe or break up, without a cold, either in the head, chest, stomach or limbs.

It promptly ends the most miserable headache, lumbago, lead and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharge, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

ONTARIO WOMAN'S FORTUNE

Freed From That Weak, Languid, Always Tired Feeling, by Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Thessalon, Ont.—"I cannot speak too highly of your medicine. When my appetite is poor and I feel weak, languid, always tired feeling, I get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and it builds me up, gives me strength, and restores me to perfect health again. It is truly a blessing to women, and I cannot speak highly enough of it. I take pleasure in recommending it to others."

There are probably hundreds of thousands, perhaps millions of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over 30 years ago by a woman to relieve women's suffering. If you are sick and need such a medicine, why don't you try it?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (consultant) Lynn, Mass. Year letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

CASCARETS TONIGHT! IF BILIOUS, CONSTIPATED, HEADACHY AND SICK

Turn the screws out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, constipation, the sick, sour stomach and foul gases—turn them out tonight with Cascarets. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery that is caused by lazy liver, clogged bowels or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress—wake up, eat and feel fine. Let Cascarets cleanse and sweeten your stomach; remove the sour, indigestible and fermenting food that is making gas; take the excess bile from your liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and constipation poisons from the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—10-cent box keeps your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular and you feel cheerful and buoyant for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

IRON AND STONE ARE EATEN UP BY LONDON AIR

Six Thousand Tons of Soot Estimated Hanging Over The Metropolis

HAS RUINOUS EFFECT
Iron Girders That Have Become Like Putty — On Operating Table They Know Londoner by His Lungs Being Black

(Times' Special Correspondence)
London, Nov. 26.—It is no wonder that so many Canadians who come to London to live break down in health," said an English engineer to the writer, "for they come, mostly, from cities where the air is comparatively wholesome to the most destructive atmosphere in the whole world—an atmosphere under whose influence stone disintegrates, and that even eats up iron."
"It is because of the atmosphere of London," he went on, "that the new front of Buckingham Palace is to be Portland stone, instead of the Caen variety, as it is at present. The latter, we have found, crumbles away so quickly under the London air that it is almost always in the hands of restorers and painters whereas Portland stone is less susceptible to the atmosphere and accordingly is almost always chosen nowadays for any new public building."
"The properties of the London air are really amazing," continued the expert. "It is a blend of smoke and soot—there are 6,000 tons of soot hanging over London every day—which contains lots of sulphur, and this sulphur, when it meets certain substances, forms sulphuric acid—or vitriol."
"It was the vitriol in the atmosphere that brought the big roof of Charing Cross station down with a crash a few years ago. The smoke from the locomotive had eaten away the iron, which was not sufficiently painted. Some years ago, too, before the London underground railway was electrified, it was a favorite pastime at Gower street station for passengers to go and poke umbrellas into certain iron girders which at one point was almost as soft as putty."
"In such cases, paint is the engineer's great stand-by. In some ways it is more powerful than iron. Many London buildings, in fact, may be said to be practically held together by paint, especially railway stations. Since the Charing Cross disaster, all the big London termini are in the painters' hands practically all the time. Since the Forth Bridge was finished, the painters have never stopped working on it. But for a skin of paint, the vitriol in the engine-smoke might rot the bridge."
"It is the substance, too, that has made Cleopatra's Needle, on the embankment, show greater signs of age since it came to London forty years ago than it did after 2,000 years in the clear air of Egypt. Probably the difference in the turn of the tide stands in Central Park, New York, in a corresponding time, is so slight as to be hardly noticeable."
"Of course, one would say that every building of any age here was of the greyest granite obtainable, yet, when one of them is cleaned, as a few have been lately, it proves that they originally were almost white, and the transformation is a bit startling. In a dressing room they always can tell whether a patient is a Londoner or a countryman, for, whereas the lungs of the latter are the natural color, pink, those of the former are jet black."
"The London soot covers one's face with smudges, and, if you leave any white material in front of an open window for an hour or so, when you come back you will find it littered with 'blacks,' as they are locally termed. The soot kills vegetables, unless it is washed most carefully. In the garden inside the Bank of England, the leaves are washed every week with soap and water."

REMARKABLE LIBEL SUIT IN ENGLAND
It Arises Out of Investments in the "Last Chance" Gold Mine in Klondike
London, Dec. 7.—An unusual libel suit before Mr. Justice Darling in the high court of justice grew out of a Yukon mining venture which turned out to be a failure. Baron Graves used his relative, Lord Galloway, because of certain accusations which the latter contended were privileged.
The story as told in court showed that since 1891 Lord Graves had invested from $200,000 to $250,000 in the "Last Chance" gold mine, on the advice of a "Captain" Cole, who was on the spot. Captain Fyers, a nephew of Lord Galloway, became interested in the mine, and offered to raise some $50,000 which was needed for "new machinery." He put up $10,000 himself and $45,000 on a note which was guaranteed by Baron Graves, who eventually had to pay the note, plus interest. This, it was stated, seriously embarrassed Lord Graves financially, and he was compelled to raise the money on the family estates. He assigned his claim on Captain Fyers to his son Clarence, as security for the money raised on the estates. The son Clarence pressed this claim, and Captain Fyers was forced into bankruptcy in 1911.
At that time Captain Fyers made countercharges about fraudulent representations having been made about the mine, whereupon his uncle, Lord Galloway, took the matter up and wrote a letter to Clarence, the son of Baron Graves, to the effect that his father in 1902 had recommended the mine to Captain Fyers when he (Baron Graves) had known since the previous August that it was a "dicky concern." Lord Galloway added that if the action was pressed the plaintiff, Clarence, would never receive a cent, and a public scandal would result from the revelations.
As a sequel to the suit and the correspondence, Baron Graves and Lord Galloway, who had been very friendly for forty years, and were trustees of each other's marriage settlement, each retired from his trusteeship.
Baron Graves testified that "Captain" Cole first offered him a share in the ownership of the mine for $10,000. Then Cole called from the Klondike that the mine was "very rich," and that he wanted $20,000. Lord Graves paid this sum in the expectation of getting $30,000 back in a few months. In expectation of this sum he took an expensive country house in Scotland, but he got only $7,500 back from his investment, and his financial troubles followed.

The Turkish Standard (London Tit-Bits).
The sacred standard of the Prophet is guarded in the hall of the "Noble Vestment," thus is styled the dress worn by the Prophet. In the same hall in which the tunic hangs are also preserved the other venerated relics of the empire—the sacred teeth, the holy beard, the sacred stirrup, the abse and the bow of Mohammed, and the arms and armor of the first Caliph.
In war a magnificent tent is erected for receiving the sacred standard, which is attached by silver rings to a lance of ebony. This custom brings to recollection the little tent in which was deposited the Eagle of the Roman Legions, as related by Dionysius Cassius. At the end of every campaign the sacred piece of green silk which forms the standard is replaced with great solemnity in a richly-ornamented chest.
Down to the present epoch this standard has always been a real talisman to the Turks, and has served to rally the defenders of Islamism and to inflame their courage in battle against the Christians. This sacred banner is, however, never displayed except in time of war as a last extremity. It is the signal for instantly exerting every effort to save the empire. Every Christian is prohibited from stopping before, or even casting a profane look on, this sacred pledge of safety.

WOMAN JURY'S VERDICT
A young and pretty woman sued one of the hand-picked men in Seattle for breach of promise recently.
The plaintiff's counsel-in-chief was a woman's lawyer, famed locally for the perceptive quality of her eloquence. There were seven women on the jury.
The plaintiff asked for damages of $27,000, and received but $1,200, which sum, in the opinion of the jury, was a correct expression in terms of dollars and cents of the value of the young man's affections, and a sufficient balm to heal the young woman's heart.
What's the answer?
Did the feminine majority on the jury have so small an opinion of the worth of a handsome man's affections? Or was it lack of sympathy for the fair plaintiff?
The plaintiff was Miss Ethel Peterson. The defendant was Ross L. Philippi. Mrs. Leona W. Brown was counsel-in-chief for Miss Peterson.

DON'T PULL OUT THE GRAY HAIRS

A Few Applications of a Simple Remedy Will Bring Back the Natural Color

"Pull out one gray hair and a dozen will take its place" is an old saying which is, to a great extent, true, if no steps are taken to stop the cause. When gray hairs appear it is a sign that Nature needs assistance. It is Nature's call for help. Gray hair, dull, lifeless hair, or hair that is falling out, is not necessarily a sign of advancing age, for there are thousands of elderly people with perfect heads of hair without a single streak of gray.
When gray hairs come, or when the hair seems to be falling or dead, some good, reliable hair-restoring treatment should be resorted to at once. Specialists say that one of the best preparations to use is the old-fashioned "sage tea" which our grandparents used. The best preparation of this kind is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of domestic sage and sulphur, scientifically compounded with later discovered hair-tonics and stimulants, the whole mixture being carefully balanced and tested by experts.
Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is clean and wholesome and perfectly harmless. It refreshes dry, parched hair, removes dandruff and gradually restores faded or gray hair to its natural color.
Don't delay another minute. Start using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur at once and see what a difference a few days' treatment will make in your hair.
This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

To take the milder out of linen take soap and rub it well; then scrape some fine chalk, and rub it also on the linen. Lay it on the grass. As it dries wet it a little with water, and it will come out in twice doing. Fresh, ripe fruit without sugar is very wholesome, especially if eaten in the early part of the day. So much sugar is often added to stewed fruit as to make it undesirable for some children, especially those subject to skin trouble.
