HELD FOR MURDER.

Later developments in Boston yesterday in regard to the murder of Miss Morton have led to the belief that Mason, and not a negro, was the murderer. Her watch was pawned by a negro, but the owner of the pawn shop says the same watch was offered between 11 and 11.30 o'clock Saturday night by a white man. The watch of Miss Agnes McPhee, of Somerville, another victim of "Jack the Sluggish," was pawned at the same shop, and the description of the man appeared to tally with that of Mason. He has, therefore, been formally charged with the murder of Miss Morton.

DUEL WITH PISTOLS.

GRANDIN, MO., Nov. 6.—Joseph Farrow and Marion Dun engaged in a duel with pistols on the street here today, as the result of which both men were killed. Eleven shots were exchanged, each man being hit four times. The immediate cause of the duel was a difference over election matters, but bad blood had existed between them for several years.

UNCLE SAM'S TROUBLES.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Manila newspapers received at the war department state that the Ladrones are making more trouble than ever before in the Philippines. To remedy the evils the constabulary is to be increased to such an extent that the lawless bands may be hunted down.

STEAMER LABELLED.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—George T. Jenkins of Jonesport, Me., owner of the schooner, Charlie Buck, today, filed a libel against the United Fruit steamer Admiral Sampson, for $11,055 damages sustained in a collision off Boston light on Nov. 4, in which four members of the schooner's crew were drowned.

PONY HURDLE RECORD.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 6.—At the horse show tonight the pony Kreuger, owned by G. H. Sands of Mendon, Mich., broke the world's hurdle record by jumping five feet nine inches. The broken record was also held by this pony.

A GIFT FROM ALASKA.

United States Citizens There Make Roosevelt a Present.

A party of citizens from Alaska called upon President Roosevelt last week, by appointment, and presented a magnificent moose head, one of the finest specimens in the Cook's later region, to him. The antlers measure 54 inches from tip to tip. The mounting bore this inscription: "To Theodore Roosevelt, from the citizens of Valdez, Alaska, in token of their esteem and in recognition of his friendship, on his 44th birthday, October 27, 1902."

The president expressed his appreciation of the present, and announced his intention of having it placed conspicuously in the state dining room of the White House. The party invited the president to visit Alaska on a hunting trip, assuring him that if he would, he could shoot a polar bear. The party showed the president fine specimens of gold, copper, cinnabar and other mineral products of Alaska, and dwelt upon the conditions, resources and necessities of the territory. It was pointed out to him that while there are 65,000 American citizens in Alaska, they have no government, no representation in congress, and are subjected to regulations entirely inapplicable to their condition. The president was urged to recommend to congress the particular desirability of legislation for protecting and promoting the interests of Alaska.

A HAPPY THOUGHT.

"Your majesty," advised the head physician to the cannibal king, "had best abandon your meat diet for a few weeks."

"What shall I do?" mused the king, a hungry look spreading over his countenance.

"Ah," he smiles as a happy thought strikes him, "those last missionaries who came to the island said they were vegetarians."—Baltimore American.

DISENCHANTED.

"How did you enjoy your visit to the Bermudas, Uncle Ned?"
"I was a good deal disappointed. The onions didn't come up to my expectations. Why, gosh, I've eat better Bermuda onions right here!"—Chicago Chicago Tribune.

THE U. S. ELECTIONS.

Comments of Republican Papers on the Result of the Contest.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Commenting on the results of the election throughout the country, the Post says:

"We consider the net result, which is of the nature of a check and warning to the Republicans, as wholesome. It shows that the Spanish war is over. Nor will unthinking cries about our 'unparalleled prosperity' longer suffice. The party has had notice that in order to retain the confidence of the country it must address itself to the questions of social justice and class favoritism which are pressing for solution. For the Democrats, the encouragement of the elections lies in the fact that the abandonment of dead issues and the enlistment under better leadership obviously means a restoration of the old party morale and hopefulness. There cannot be the slightest doubt that one consequence of Tuesday's voting is the renomination of Pres. Roosevelt. As case stands, no politician in his own party will venture to lift a hand or show a head against his choice as nominee in 1904. In the east the Republicans lost congressmen; in the west, where their lines were most threatened on the issues of tariff revision and the trusts, they more than held their own. It was the prestige that Roosevelt has won there which saved them."

The Evening Sun says: "Prosperity is still potent and the people are satisfied with Republican policies. If amendment to the tariff is expedient, it will be done by its friends, with due regard to business interests. Nothing but disregard for the public interests or foolish blundering will put the Republican party on the defensive and render the issue in 1904 doubtful."

The Mail and Express:

"Glorious news indeed is it that comes from the whole country, but especially so is that which comes from the great states of the west, whose eyes and thoughts are on the future and where an empire of new national strength and greatness is building with marvellous strides; glorious news it is, we say, that those states have emphasized anew their loyalty to Republican principles, holding to them unflinchingly as the hope and mainstay of their own and the nation's prosperity. The cities may awake, but the great rural districts of the country where men think before they vote, remain solidly entrenched in the Republican column."

The Commercial Advertiser says:

"There was a great dumping of demagogues yesterday. Three of the worst of them—Bryan, Hill and Tom Johnson—were upset with great violence and hope is expressed universally that it is the end of all of them. Bryan went down with his socialistic trust issue, for whatever else he settled, there can be no doubt that this kind of anti-trust rant has no hold upon the people. As for Hill, the press of his own party in this state declared that his management of the business for him for all time, Tom Johnson disappears from view in a collapsed circus tent, with 10,000 Republican majority piled on top of it. He has conducted the first and the last opera-bouffe or vaudeville campaign ever seen in the state of Ohio."

GREAT CATHOLIC CELEBRATION.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 7.—A six days' celebration of the fiftyth anniversary of the consecration of St. John's Roman Catholic Cathedral began in that church today. Pontifical mass of thanksgiving was celebrated by Bishop I. P. Rosemann, and a sermon was preached by Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia. A dozen prominent prelates and priests, all of the visiting priests number two hundred.

AGAINST THE STRIKERS.

PARIS, Nov. 7.—The government arbitrators announced their decision today against increasing the wages of the striking miners in the Department du Nord. The grounds of the decision are similar to those in the Pas de Calais arbitration, namely, that the Calais miners are proportionate to the selling price of coal. The large companies in the Nord have agreed to establish pensions for a term of five years.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—Eastern States and Northern New York—Fair and cool tonight; Saturday—Fair, with warm weather in western portion; light north winds becoming variable.

TORONTO, Nov. 7.—Maritime—Fresh west to northwest winds; a few scattered showers today, mostly fair; Saturday—Moderate winds; fair and a little cooler.

THE COAL COMMISSION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 7.—Colonel D. Wright, recorder of the anthracite coal strike commission, received a telegram today saying that it is understood that the large part of the individual operators in the Lackawanna and Wyoming coal regions have agreed to become parties before the commission and accept its decision. There are about 70 of these operators working smaller mines in the anthracite region.

THE DEUTCHSLAND.

SOUTHAMPTON, Nov. 7.—The Hamburg-American line steamer Deutchsland, which has been under repair here by the sale of 4,000 bales at 24-25 cents per pound. About three-quarters of the sales were taken for shipment to London.

THE PRICE OF HOPS.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 7.—Records have been broken in the hop market here by the sale of 4,000 bales at 24-25 cents per pound. About three-quarters of the sales were taken for shipment to London.

FROM JERUSALEM

Miss Florence Ben-Oliel Tells of Conditions in Palestine.

Historic Spots Double Up—Two Graves Where Moses Lies and Two Tombs Where Lazarus is Buried.

(Toronto Star.)

This morning Miss Florence Ben-Oliel of Jerusalem, who is a guest at 171 Carleton street, told the Star about Jerusalem, her home. Miss Ben-Oliel is a native of that far-away spot, and throws much light on its history. Today the Jews run the business of Jerusalem, and it doesn't do to go shopping in that most ancient capital on Saturday. They do not farm out in Palestine just the way they do in Ontario. Here John Brown buys his farm and fences it in from Bill Smith. But out there the villages own the farm lands adjoining, and each spring the farmers meet and toss up and draw lots to find out just what property they can have. And Isaac Smith might pick a fertile acre this season, but next he might draw a barren rock.

When a farmer grows a crop he can't cut it until an emissary of the Turkish government comes along and taxes it. The grain may ripen and the crop fall to earth and sprout, but no sickle must touch it until the Turkish officer has cast his eye over it and fixed the tax.

"Hurry up," pleads the farmer. "Bukara," answers the official. Bukara means, "Oh, tomorrow." It is a great word in Palestine.

From all over the world the Jews have swarmed into Jerusalem, full of faith that they were fulfilling Scripture in their return. But this was stopped years ago. The Turkish government issued edict No. 9,501, and that ended it, and the Jews have as much trouble to enter Jerusalem now as the Chinamen do to get into the United States.

AN AMERICAN IN PALESTINE.

Miss Ben-Oliel relates the incident of an American farmer. The chap was a great reader, and believed in prophecy, and he decided that Palestine was, according to prophecy, just ripe for a boom. He bought a farm. But in six months he came to Miss Ben-Oliel's father and confessed that he was not a prophet.

The Turk is a great fatalist, and a poor farmer. A man can cut down a tree if he wants to, but if he plants one he is taxed.

If a mine is located the Turk says, "Allah, Allah! There is but one God, and Mohammed is his prophet." Then he refuses to dig, claiming that if the gold is to be discovered it will be discovered.

"Give me a ticket to Jerusalem, please." All aboard, and off you go from Joppa, a little different from the time when Jonah took his trip. This was impossible some years ago, but now the train steams into the Holy City daily.

INDUSTRIES OF PALESTINE.

There are no relic factories now in Palestine. This is a dead industry in Palestine, for Italy makes the relics today. But Jerusalem turns out a fine line of olive desks and pulpits, while Bethlehem is the headquarters for the Eastern mother-of-pearl industry.

Go to Palestine and Jerusalem, and you will find every sacred site labelled and guarded. They have even got a Moses' tomb somewhere this side Jordan, and thousands go yearly to worship there.

"But," says Miss Ben-Oliel, "you go to a Turk and say, 'Why, Moses died over Jordan,' and he will say, 'Oh, yes, we have a Moses' grave over there, too.'"

This duality of graves is merely a matter of convenience. There is also a splendid choice of famous spots in Palestine. There are two Calvaries, two or three Lazarus' tombs, and any amount of spots where Rachael was buried.

The Doukhor is not one, two, three with the fakir of the East. Miss Ben-Oliel says he runs to long and matted hair. The longer the hair and the more matted it becomes, the more holy the people believe him to be. Should he become as shaggy as a door mat he is at once an object of great reverence. He eats no meat and to show that he isn't particular, he slashes himself and lets in the daylight with a knife. This moves him to be very holy. The residents of Palestine, some 120,000 in number, are largely vegetarians.

THEY ARE HAPPY.

The Manitoba Farmers Will Have $500,000 From This Year's Wheat.

"Thirty millions of dollars to be divided among the comparatively few farmers of Manitoba alone is a considerable sum of money for them to have to spend, and I expect there will be quite a number of people up there this year who will take advantage of the Christmas excursions for a trip to Ontario, and to visit the old homesteads."

Mr. Hartney estimates that the Manitoba farmers will easily realize that amount on this year's wheat crop alone, outside of what will be coming to them from other crops. There is a very large acreage, for instance, of flax. This will make a considerable increase to the income of the farmers this season over former seasons. Many of the farmers, it is pointed out, are already well-to-do men, and will not need to market all their crops this fall. They have in many instances built granaries of their own, and are thus able to hold on to their crops. In this way they are not only serving their own interests, but helping the railways, which could not be expected to provide granaries for all the crop.

"The farmers have to help the railways in this way," says Mr. Hartney. Reports so far received by Mr. Hartney from those of the harvesters who have returned to their homes in Ontario indicate that they are well satisfied this year with the results of their trip to the western wheat fields. Wages are high, and the difficulties as to transportation to points where the men were wanted was obviated this year by the new arrangements made by the railways.

LONDON.

Visit of the Emperor of Germany and the King of Portugal.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Continental rumor-mongers are still bent upon imparting diplomatic significance to the approaching visits of the German emperor and the King of Portugal, cales the London correspondent of the Tribune. One point on which the amateur diplomats lay much stress is the fact that the Portuguese minister in London is an intimate friend of the royal family and is in a position to facilitate the transfer of the East African possession of Portugal to England and Germany. This intimacy does not imply a willingness on the part of the Lisbon minister to court unpopularity by proposing the alienation of a large section of their colonial possessions. Lisbon's main window looks out upon Madrid, and Portugal, in selling her East African possessions would be rivaling the decline in colonial possession on the part of Spain.

The two Royal visits will involve entertainment on a large scale at Sandringham and Windsor. There will be a series of state functions at Windsor for the King of Portugal, with a state banquet in St. George's, and possibly a chapter meeting of the Order of the Garter, which did not come on last June. The royal entertainment will not end with the departure of the two visiting sovereigns, but will be continued for several months, all the ambassadors, ministers of the crown and leaders of smart society being invited in turn to parties at Sandringham and Windsor.

EDGE TOOL COMBINE.

To Have $30,000,000 Capital and Take in One Canadian Factory.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A consolidation of the leading manufacturers in this country of axes and certain lines of edge tools is in prospect, according to the Journal of Commerce. A meeting of the various parties interested has been held in this city, but nothing official was given out. The new company will be known as the Continental Axe and Tool Co., and will have a stock capital of about $30,000,000. The following cities are included in the combination: New York, Alexandria, Leadstone, Pa.; Warren, Pa.; Ridge-way, Pa.; Cattaraugus, N. Y.; Gas City and Philadelphia; Pittsburgh, Pa.; Wheeling, W. Va.; Cohoes, N. Y.; Cleveland, O.; Wisconsin; Louisville, Ky.; Huntsville, Oakland, Me.; Auburn, N. Y.; Jonesboro, Ind.; Evansville and St. Catharines, Ont.

HE DIED POOR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A private despatch received here announces the death, says a Herald despatch from the City of Mexico, of General Manuel Lixando Barrillas, former president of Guatemala, and a colonel in the Guatemalan army, as the result of asphyxiation by gas in the vicinity of Santa Maria, where General Barrillas owned a large coffee plantation.

SPANISH DIGNITY INFRINGED.

MADRID, Nov. 7.—The trial of Sabino Adana, a lawyer of the autonomist party in the Basque provinces, charged with having sent a congratulatory cablegram to President Roosevelt last spring on the granting of Cuban independence, began at Bilbao today. The public prosecutor took the ground that Adana's telegram to the president infringed the integrity and dignity of Spain, and he demanded that a sentence of eight years' imprisonment be imposed on the prisoner.

THE DEATH ROLL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Jennette Norris, the widow of Frank Norris, the novelist, who died of appendicitis in this city recently, has filed a petition for administration, stating that the estate consists of $1,000 cash and royalties in several of her husband's books.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 7.—Miss Anna Mhler, a former prima donna in Europe and for fifteen years a vocal teacher in Chicago, is dead here from apoplexy. Her maiden name was Anna Bernard. She was born in Boston fifty-two years ago, and took special study in music in Italy at the age of 17.

OIL PAINTINGS NOT WANTED.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—So stagnant has the market for paintings become, says the London correspondent of the Tribune, that many artists of good reputation despair of ever again making a living by their work. The demand for water colors, however, is constant, but purchasers for oils cannot be found. The new exhibitions of water colors have just been opened here.

POPE RECEIVED CUBANS.

ROME, Nov. 7.—The pope today received Archbishop Chipelle (the delegate in Cuba and Porto Rico and Archbishop of New Orleans) in private audience. Archbishop Chipelle presented the pontiff with fifteen young Cubans who are studying here for the priesthood. His holiness cordially gave each of them his hand to kiss, and dismissed with an apostolic benediction for Cuba and Porto Rico.

KILLED BY INDIANS.

TUCON, Ariz., Nov. 7.—J. E. Sullivan, superintendent of a mine at La-meza, and half a dozen miners, have been killed at San Marial by Yaquis Indians, who are reported to have taken the warpath and are beyond the control of the small Mexican force.

THE X-RAY IN DENTISTRY.

The X-ray is being used in dentistry with considerable success. It sometimes happens that the permanent, or "second," teeth are not properly cut. The mouth is thus disfigured by the loss of the first set of teeth and the non-appearance of the second teeth. With the X-ray the dentist can determine whether the second tooth is in the gum, and, if so, why it has not appeared. The obstruction is removed, a passage opened and the tooth works gradually down to its place.

BUT THEY'RE OLDER

(St. Andrews Beacon.)

The boys of 1902 in St. John should feel highly flattered at the amount of attention they are receiving from press and public. It looks to us as if this boy business was being overdone. The boys of St. John are no worse now than they were twenty-five or fifty years ago. The parents may be, however. We should suggest that the Evangelical Alliance try a round with the men and give the boys a rest.

SLUMP IN CODFISH MARKET

ST. JOHN'S, N. F., Nov. 5.—Owing to the congested condition of the dried fish market in Europe and Brazil, the price of dried codfish has dropped from 15 to 20 per cent. in the local market, and some grades of codfish are virtually unsaleable. This situation results in serious loss to Newfoundland fishermen and a general shrinkage in the value of this season's catch.

THE FISHERIES CASE.

Attorney General Pugsley Wants Reference to Supreme Court.

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—Hon. Wm. Pugsley, attorney general of New Brunswick, was in the city today and had interviews with the minister of railways, Hon. A. G. Blair, and the minister of marine and fisheries, Hon. James Buchanan. He talked over with the latter the whole question of the fisheries, and expects that a meeting of the adjourned conference will take place shortly at Quebec.

In regard to property interest in the fisheries within the three mile limit, Mr. Pugsley told the minister that, while he was satisfied that the provinces were entitled to the same, he would make no objection to the submission of a test case to the supreme court. It is, therefore, likely this point will be decided by a decision from the highest Canadian court.

JOHN IMRIE DEAD.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOVEMBER 7, 1902.

NO TIME TO LOSE.

The Star referred a few days ago to the importance of an early decision as to the amount of work to be done in extending the west side harbor facilities next year. The subject is one that should not be neglected by the citizens and their representatives. If wharves are to be built timber must be secured, and the winter season is the time for that work. It has been stated that Hon. Mr. Blair and Sir Thomas Shaughnessy may shortly visit the city and confer on questions of mutual interest. The city has been compelled to wait a long time for the fulfilment of government promises, and is waiting yet. It is not yet known who the new minister of public works will be, but of those mentioned in connection with that office not one knows personally anything about the requirements here. Mr. Tarte knew and promised to do something, but that is ancient history. It will probably be necessary for the city council and board of trade to begin all over again, and once more impress upon the government the urgent need of action. There should be no delay. St. John knows by experience that it must fight for its own hand. Colonel Tucker is probably the most useless representative that any constituency ever had, and Mr. Blair stands in the position of a man who began by fighting the C. P. R. and ends by giving their steamers a berth at the pier that was to have given the Grand Trunk a vigorous I. C. R. competition. "Since they have to look after the interests which should be guarded by their representatives, the citizens should lose no time in appealing to the government to take the necessary steps this fall for the further equipment of this national port."

Canada is now reaping the fruits of Mr. Sifton's reckless policy of filling up the country with all sorts of people that other countries were glad to be rid of. Not only is there a fanatical horde wandering about the northwest, but the story of their doings is injuring Canada in the mother country, from which the really desirable class of immigrants comes. A London cable of yesterday says: "The account of the Doukhobor movements is doing harm here. An English lady called at the Canadian government office yesterday. She was alarmed lest her son should be killed by the homicidal maniacs of the northwest."

"The settlement of the Transvaal depends entirely upon the Boer people now, not upon the British government," said Mr. W. J. Jooste, Boer delegate to Canada, to a reporter in Winnipeg. "I am quite certain that the British government will do all in its power and is quite capable of carrying out its promises to the people; and these promises cover all that is needed to bring back a measure of prosperity to the country."

In June last there was a street car strike in Toronto, and it was necessary to call out the militia. Cavalry was sent up from Niagara to aid the local militia to guard property. The militia department has now sent in its bill to the city. The bill for the transportation of 611 men and 571 horses to and from Niagara camp was $3,892. This is in addition to $1,972, the price of the assistance of the local militiamen paid in August.

In view of the repeated complaints made on the part of the public as to the lack of interest in our newspaper, the editor begs the disinterested to be kind enough to call on him about one o'clock for a personal interview.—Gazette, Samar, Russia.

The objection to any such offer as the above being made by the St. John Telegraph is that traffic on Canterbury and King street would be blocked for several hours each day by a procession of indignant liberals.

Regarding the Mulock surplus the St. Andrews Beacon, liberal, says: "Nevertheless, we cannot help but think that this surplus has been obtained very largely at the expense of the postmasters of the country. There is scarcely a rural postmaster in Canada who receives anything like a respectable remuneration for his services."

Hard coal declined three dollars in Boston yesterday, and is now selling at $9 a ton.

GOLF CHAMPION HONORED.

Reception for Miss Mabel G. Thomson Closes St. John's Golf Season.

The golf season, the most successful in the history of the St. John Golf Club, was formally closed last evening from five to seven by a reception given at the residence of J. H. Thomson, Queen's square, by Mrs. J. H. Thomson, president of the ladies' club, and the ladies' committee in honor of Miss Mabel G. Thomson, whose prowess brought to St. John the lady's golf championship of Canada.

The guests, who were all members of the golf club, were about 200 in number. They were received by Mrs. Thomson, assisted by Mrs. C. J. Coster and Miss Mabel Thomson. The rooms were richly decorated with plants and flowers, white and yellow chrysanthemums prevailing. Those who ministered to the creature comforts of the guests in the dining room were Mrs. McLeod, Mrs. Buxby, Mrs. E. A. Smith, Mrs. Stetson, Mrs. J. F. Robertson, and Misses McLaren, Lou Parks, Madeline Barker, Muriel Thomson, Gladys McLaughlan and Constance Smith. Throughout, by its pleasure, its brilliancy, its display of beautiful gowns and its savor of club good-fellowship the reception was one to date time from.

During the evening the prizes won in the local golf matches were distributed. The Riley cup, won by Miss Mabel Thomson, was presented her by Mrs. J. H. Thomson. The cup is a handsome trophy of heavy silver, lavishly decorated with miniature golf accessories and a dozen balls, appended, upon which the winners of each year's contest are to have their names engraved. This is the second time Miss Thomson has won it.

The Tweedie cup was given to Miss Mabel Thomson by Geo. McAvity. Senator Elliott presented to Miss Grace Skinner the ladies' handicap cup, given by Messrs. Thorne, Hazen, Stetson and McAvity.

Miss M. G. Thomson's cup was presented by the donor to Miss Tina McLaren. The McAvity and Stetson cup was handed to Mrs. C. J. Coster by J. DeW. Spurr.

The club championship cup was awarded to Rev. D. J. Fraser; the Thorne cup to E. F. Jones and the club handicap cup to J. U. Thomas.

One feature of the evening was the singing by E. A. Smith of a song written and composed by himself. It was named "Far and Sure" and had to do with local golfers and golfing, notably Miss Thomson's victory.

Speeches were made by several of the prominent club members and the following congratulatory address was read to Miss Thomson by C. J. Coster: To Mabel G. Thomson:

"The members of the St. John Golf Club take this opportunity of expressing to you their sincere and hearty congratulations on your recent triumph at the links of the Toronto Golf Club. Your splendid achievement is one which not only does honor to yourself, but reflects credit on the club of which you are a member."

To have among its members one who in open competition with the flower of the golfing world has carried away the proud distinction of being the champion lady golfer of Canada is an honor of which any club has just reason to be proud, and it is the wish of the members of the club that your knowledge and proficiency in the ancient and royal game have been acquired upon your own links without the adventitious aid of a professional coach, an advantage which was enjoyed by your competitors. We believe your victory will increase the great interest always taken in golf, and cannot fail to promote the welfare of the game, which you are so distinguished a member.

Great thought your triumphs have been in the past, and you are to be in the future, and that during the next season you may not only be a member of the club, but honor not only of your own club, but of Canada as well, in friendly competition with the champions of Great Britain and the United States.

If such an event takes place, you may rest assured that you will be followed not only by the best wishes, but also by the hopes of your friends of the St. John Golf Club.

Dated Nov. 6, 1902.
Signed on behalf of club.

NOVEMBER COSMOPOLITAN.

It is said that the world cannot expect to see a great general officer again in a century. This country has to live outgrown that rule, for certainly the great "captains of industry" have all the qualities of generalship, and the roll of their names goes up into the seventies. Five of them are described in the November Cosmopolitan—James R. Keen, the masterful strategist of Wall Street; Robert Hoe, who has advanced the art of printing as far as Gutenberg himself did in his day; Winfield Scott Stratton, the carpenter who appropriated the riches of the Colorado mountains; Tom Johnson, the singular compound of idealism and business, and Ferdinand William Roebing, who can pegs the continent by five different routes without ever losing sight of the wires by which he has bound the most distant communities together.

THE COMING DOG SHOW.

Entry blanks, etc., for the dog show are now ready for distribution, and persons who intend showing their dogs should procure the blanks from the superintendent, T. McCullough, 142 King street east. Quite a number of intending exhibitors were disappointed last year by having their entries refused on the last day. This year the entries will open on the 19th instant, and entries will close on the 17th. This leaves but one clear day before the show opens, barely time to have the benches in position and to arrange the many little matters connected with such an exhibition. There is always a lot of little things to be done at the last minute, and the superintendent asks exhibitors to consider this and to make their entries early, so that there will be no disappointment. The diplomas for the prize winners, the handseams ever awarded here, are now ordered and will be in the link on the opening day. Exhibitors this year will require five admission tickets, but will go in free while the show is in progress.

METHODIST CHURCHES.

Decide to Continue Glad Tidings Hall Mission, With Rev. Mr. Deinstadt as Superintendent.

At Centenary school room last evening there was a meeting of the official boards of the several Methodist churches in the city and vicinity to take further steps in connection with the mission on Brussels street. Despite the fact that conflicting notices were given as to the gathering, there was a good attendance of clergymen and laymen. Rev. Dr. Sprague presided and among those present were: Revs. Dr. Wilson, G. M. Campbell and T. J. Deinstadt, R. M. Smith, Geo. J. Jenkins, Geo. A. Henderson, R. T. Hayes, R. Goodrich, Wm. Kingston, C. H. Hutchings, J. L. Thorne, John Hannah and R. Evans.

After prayer by Rev. Dr. Wilson, the chairman said the secretary, Rev. Mr. Kirby, was unable to be present. Geo. A. Henderson was then chosen to perform the duties of secretary. The report of the sub-committee named at the former meeting was read. They stated that in view of their failure to secure a superintendent for the mission to carry on a general scheme of mission work, which was the intention of the former meeting, that they would suggest the advisability of continuing the mission in Glad Tidings hall, Brussels street, so efficiently carried on by Rev. Mr. Deinstadt under his supervision. They recommended the work to the sympathy and support of all churches and all interested in such work.

Rev. Dr. Sprague made an explanation with respect to the report, when the meeting took place two weeks ago. It was not known that the Evangelical Alliance was going to take the question up. The committee did not think it desirable to take action till after the alliance had come to some decision. The report spoke for itself. The committee was unable to get the name of anybody whom they felt like recommending for the mission work which it was proposed to undertake, and in addition to that it seemed probable work of that kind would be carried on throughout the city under the Evangelical Alliance. With the help of the churches, it was expected good results would accrue.

The report was considered carefully. Rev. Mr. Campbell showing the men suggested for the superintendency of the mission. C. H. Hutchings, Geo. J. Jenkins and Rev. Mr. Deinstadt spoke in favor of the report, the latter intimating that it would be satisfactory to him.

Rev. Mr. Campbell explained that the intention was to have the mission under the control of a committee named by the official boards so that it would not be a part of any circuit, but belong to the united Methodists of St. John, under the superintendency of Mr. Deinstadt. If this were carried out it might be well to think of providing Mr. Deinstadt with an assistant to help him with his church work. There was a feeling that it would be advisable to have Mr. Deinstadt engage in mission work in the city entirely.

The report was adopted. Rev. Mr. Deinstadt thought the committee should look to individuals rather than congregations as congregations.

A report was then read from a committee recommending that the mission be attached to any circuit but that it be managed by a board of directors, who shall have full power.

A motion to appoint such a board passed, but no action was taken to name the same. The meeting decided that it should be made up of the pastors and two laymen to be elected by the official boards of the various churches.

Pending the selection of this board the pastors will control the mission. Rev. Mr. Deinstadt announced that he would probably open the mission on Wednesday evening next.

A BRITISH ADMIRAL.

SYDNEY, C. B., Nov. 6.—Vice-Admiral Sir Archibald Douglas, who arrived in Sydney last night, accompanied by Lieut. Arnold Foster, visited the Marconi towers this morning and was shown through the plant of the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. this afternoon. Admiral Douglas and Lieut. Foster are here to watch the experiments in wireless telegraphy at Table Head.

In an interview Marconi refuses either to affirm or deny the report that messages had been received on board the Carlo Alberto since she entered Sydney harbor. From other sources, however, confirmation of the report is obtained. The officers of the ship state that the first message, one of congratulation, was received as the cruiser entered Sydney harbor, and that on Monday Marconi's secretary, who came in from Table Head, received several messages from Poldhu on the Carlo Alberto as she lay in the harbor. At present it is impossible to obtain access to the message book of the cruiser, but Marconi promises to give out a statement in a few days.

To the Lungs.

Do you go to Chicago to reach Quebec? No. There's a better and more direct way. Then why try to reach your lungs by way of your stomach? Don't. Better go straight to the lungs at once. Just light the vaporizer and breathe in the healing, soothing vapors of Cresolene. The medicine goes exactly to the right place. Your lungs quickly heal and your cough disappears. For whooping-cough it's simply perfect.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. The Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a lifetime, and a bottle of Cresolene complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25 cents and 50 cents. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. Vapo-Cresolene Co., 180 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

HON. DR. PUGSLEY

Talks About Party Lines in the Coming Elections.

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—Hon. William Pugsley, attorney-general of New Brunswick, who was here today on his way home from Toronto, was asked if the general election in his province was to take place shortly. "Well," replied Mr. Pugsley, "one thing is certain if the information which comes to us from all over the province be correct, that when the government does appeal to the people it will be returned by a very handsome majority."

"What about party lines?"
"In some localities the opposition will get a few labor votes and in other places the government will get conservative votes, but the contest will be fought out largely between the liberals on one side and the conservatives on the other. In other words it will be a fight between the two parties. The government and their supporters are liberals. That being the case it will be an issue between the two parties."

PILGRIM DOUKHOBORS.

SHOAL LAKE, Man., Nov. 6.—About 150 Doukhobor pilgrims came into Shoal Lake Wednesday afternoon, chanting mournful hymns, and followed in the rear by a detachment of mounted police. About an hour later a train arrived from Yorkton with about eight hundred old men, women and children, families of the marching army. W. C. Speers, colonization agent, and a few police accompanied the train. As the train pulled into the station the Doukhobors who had already arrived here made a rush for the platform to try and induce their women and children to proceed no further, but were frustrated in a quiet and firm manner by the officers. Speers tried to induce them to proceed with their families to Swan River on the train, offering free transportation and all they could eat. He further stated that if they were bound to continue on their way and persisted in propagating their religious ideas they could pick out twelve of their people to travel around to preach the gospel as representatives of the whole. They were determined and stubborn and would not consent to the proposition. As the train pulled out, however, 18 of the younger men boarded the train and returned with their families. This morning two of them deserted the ranks and went back to Yorkton. The remainder of them formed up and proceeded eastward on their march.

THREE IRISH DELEGATES.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Nov. 6.—A warm reception was tendered the Irish envoys, John Dillon, Michael Davitt and Joseph Devlin, in this city to-night when they paid a visit here as the guests of the local branch of the United Irish League.

They reached the city at 6 o'clock and were driven to St. Mary's parsonage residence, where they were entertained by the Augustinian priests. At 8 o'clock a large parade of Irish organizations escorted the envoys to the state armory, where a public reception was held. A gathering of about 2,000 people were present.

Mr. Davitt, owing to another engagement, was unable to deliver a lengthy address, but in a few words told the object of their mission and spoke in the highest terms of the enthusiastic reception tendered him and his colleagues in this city.

Mr. Dillon, the next speaker, for over an hour explained in forcible and unequivocal terms the work which the United Irish League was doing at home and in this country through its local branches. Mr. Devlin exhorted the people to give their financial and moral support to a cause which is bound to be successful if properly managed.

REV. S. B. HILLOCK INDUCTED.
The presbytery of St. John met in the Presbyterian church, St. George, on the evening of Wednesday, Nov. 5, for the induction of the Rev. S. B. Hillock into the charge of St. George, Pennfield and Boabec.

There were present Rev. Dr. Morrison, moderator; Rev. James Burgess, clerk pro tem, and Rev. Messrs. Robertson and Buchanan, of Milltown, together with Elders Robert Dodds and Hector McKenzie, of St. George, and His Honor Judge Stevens, of St. Stephen. The clerk made the usual proclamation, whereupon, after a sermon by the moderator, the pastor elect publicly took upon him the vows of the church. The induction was then formally effected and the minister was addressed upon the office and duties of the ministry by Rev. James Burgess and the address to the congregation was delivered by the Rev. Mr. Robertson.

BIG EAGLE ATTACKS WOMAN.

Young Schoolma'am Saved From Injury by Bicycle Chain.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Nov. 4.—Attacked by an eagle while riding near the Connecticut State line, Miss Annie Cassidy owes her escape from serious injury and perhaps death, to her bicycle. As it is, she was bruised and shocked, but no serious results are feared.

Miss Cassidy is a young and pretty school teacher in Sheffield, and as the school building is some distance from her boarding place, she uses her wheel to and fro.

While on a lonely road through the mountains, she heard the swish of wings and the next instant a large eagle swooped upon her.

Miss Cassidy was thrown from her wheel, but the eagle was unable to follow up its attack, as its talons were caught in the still revolving rear wheel of the bicycle and it was unable to reach its victim.

In its struggle to free itself the eagle's head and neck were caught in the chain and the huge bird slowly strangled to death, while Miss Cassidy, overcome by surprise and fright, and unable to rise, watched its struggles.

This is the first instance in this country where an eagle has attacked a person.

Eagles are plentiful along the Tacoma range and have frequently carried off lambs.

SERIOUS PROBLEM.

The man at the desk looked up. A small boy stood in the doorway. "Are you the man that answers the questions in the newspapers?" asked the boy.

"Yes, What can I do for you?"

"Why, it's this way. I found a pocketbook the other day. It had 30 cents in it. I took it to the newspaper office to advertise it, 'cause I thought that was the honest thing, and they told me it would cost 30 cents. Now, if I take the money out of the pocketbook to pay for the advertising there won't be any left for the man that owns it, and I don't think it's my place to advertise it and pay for it myself. Do you?"

"Is the pocketbook itself worth anything?"

"It's no good on earth. Look at it!"

"I see it isn't," said the man at the desk. "What's bothering you, my son, is that you want to know whether it would be right, under the circumstances, for you to keep the pocketbook and the money. Is that it?"

"Well, I want to do the square thing."

"I see. It resolves itself into a matter of conscience. Why don't you go and ask your pastor?"

"I did," said the boy, "and he sent me to you."—Chicago Tribune.

HARVARD CANADIAN CLUB.

The Canadian Club of Harvard met for its first time in the year 1902-3 on Monday evening, October 21. As is customary with all such clubs, it assembled in the Union, the great club house and centre of Harvard student life. The reunion of old friends and clubmen was naturally characterized by warm cordiality and a contagious spirit of aggressive pride in the fact that Canadians are Canadians. The meeting early came to order for business and the following officers were installed for the year:

President.—Andrew K. Dysart, Co. C, 1st Regt., N. B.

Vice-President.—W. A. McLean, Toronto, Ont.

Secretary.—Henry N. Stetson, St. John, N. B.

Treasurer.—H. H. Harrison, St. John, N. B.

The business consists largely of considering plans for the entertainment of Canadians and the means of extending the influence of the club. The club, it may be remembered, was founded in 1880 with the aim to provide a centre of social intercourse for Canadians.

UNIVERSITY NEEDS FUNDS.

(Fredericton Herald.)

The report of the University Senate meeting called attention to the financial needs of the university, and clearly indicates that the grant toward the institution will have to be increased by some means if it is to continue fulfilling its present mission of furnishing a liberal education to the youth of this province.

It appears that while the cost of maintaining the institution has necessarily increased, its revenue is somewhat diminished by reason of receiving lower rates on its investments, and the senate finds itself face to face with the difficult problem of trying to make both ends meet without the necessary funds.

NOISY FISH.

Many fish can produce musical sounds. The red gurnard has earned the name of soacock from the crowing noise which it makes, while another species is called the piper. Others, notably two species of ophidiid, have sound producing apparatus, consisting of small movable bones, which can be made to produce a sharp rattle. The curious "drumming" made by the Mediterranean fish known as the mangle can be heard from a depth of thirty fathoms.

CARDINAL GIBBONS ON SUNDAY.

Preaches on the Increasing Lack of Its Observance by Americans.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 2.—In his sermon on the American Sunday at the cathedral today Cardinal Gibbons said: "It has been the boast of our country that in no nation of the world was the Christian Sabbath better respected than in the United States, but a close observer cannot fail to note the dangerous inroads that have been made on the Lord's Day in this country during the last thirty years."

"Look at the railroad lines in this country. Not only are the passengers carried on Sundays, which I believe is unavoidable, but freight trains are in full operation. This traffic involves the employment of thousands of conductors, firemen and engineers, as well as freight handlers, on the Lord's Day. Then observe our system of electric cars. These lines are in full blast on Sundays, and the conductors and motormen have to serve the same number of hours on that day as on week days."

"Let us view the average business man of America in our day. He is in a state of habitual feverish activity. He rushes through life at full steam. The one aim of his existence is to become rich. Money making is not the means, but the end of his life. He increases his wealth not so much for the love of it as from the fascination attached to the accumulation of a fortune."

"On Sunday mornings, as he is debarraged from the conventionalities of life in going to his place of business, he seizes the morning paper and devours its contents of twenty or thirty pages, its news of stocks and bonds, or pleasures and amusements, of crime and scandal until his whole being is saturated with this unhealthy diet. Like animals gorged with food he spends the morning in a comatose condition."

There is no class of people on the face of the earth that is more in need of the repose and spiritual refreshment of the Christian Sabbath than the citizens of the United States. Now, the best antidote for relieving this spiritual fever and for removing the dust which adheres to the soul from daily contact with the world will be found in the refreshing and invigorating bath of religious meditation."

TALE OF TWO DOGS.

(Nebraska State Journal.)

Bill Dorgan used to own a pup, in which all breeds were well mixed up; a hump-eyed, yellow sort of cur, with fleas and sandbars in its fur. It was a scrapper in its way and licked some dogs most every day; and it, in course of time, did reach the verdict that it was a peach.

It used to loaf around the town and show its teeth and wear a frown, and every now and then 'twould wail: "Why won't some dog step on my tail, or bite my ear, or bark or growl, or look me in the face and howl? Are all the dogs devoid of snap? I'm simply spilling for a scrap."

One day a bull dog came to town; it was a sort of brindle brown, with bandy legs and sawed-off tail, and bandy legs and sawed-off tail and teeth dogs most every day; and it, in course of time, did reach the verdict that it was a peach. The mongrel, with upstanding wool, jumped then upon the vagrant bull; and then there came a cloud of dust, a crack as though some bone had burst, a shriek, a moan, a sickening thud, a gentle rain of fur and blood; and then the bulldog took his way, and nodded to the dogs "Good day." The mongrel had been scattered round so all the chunks were gone; but Bill Dorgan scraped up what he could and planted them out in the wood.

GENERAL NOTES OF INTEREST.

Lake Morar in Inverness shire is the deepest fresh water lake in the United Kingdom. A recent survey shows that the greatest depth is 1,007 feet. For seven miles the bottom of the lake is 600 feet below the level of the sea from which it is separated by a narrow strip of land, and the deepest part is 972 feet below sea level.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

What May be Done With the Golden Pumpkin.

Stewed Pumpkin.

Peel and remove the seeds from a pumpkin; parboil it; drain well and wipe on a cloth; then cut into small pieces. Put three ounces of butter in a saucepan and when melted put in the pumpkin; season to taste with salt and pepper and a little grated nutmeg and toss over the fire until quite soft. Butter a baking dish and turn in the mixture; sprinkle generously with grated Parmesan cheese and a few fine bread crumbs. Place in a brick oven and brown on top. Serve very hot.

Baked Pumpkin.

Cut the pumpkin into quarter inch slices and pare off the rind, put a layer in the bottom of a baking dish, then sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and dot with bits of butter; repeat this until the pan is full. Have the top well covered with sugar. Bake in a moderate oven until the sugar on top becomes like a thick syrup.

Pumpkin Fritters.

Use long, oval but not large pumpkins for this. Cut them in long, square fingers, place them in a dish, sprinkle with salt and let them stand for ten minutes, shaking the dish once or twice during the time. Drain the pieces, wipe on a cloth and rub them over quickly with flour. Put some fresh beef drippings in a frying pan or use vegetable oil, and when hot put in the pumpkin, a few pieces at a time, and fry a nice brown. When done, dust with salt and serve on a hot dish garnished with parsley.

Pumpkin Pudding.

Pare half of a large pumpkin and cut into slices; boil until quite soft; drain off all the water and beat until fine; add a pint of milk, one-third of a cup of sugar; grate peel of a small lemon; two ounces of currants, washed and picked, and three well beaten eggs. Whip the whole together a few minutes and then turn into a dish lined with good rich paste and bake in a moderate oven.

Pumpkin Pie.

For three pies take a quart of rich milk, three eggs, three large tablespoons of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt and ginger, cinnamon and nutmeg to taste, but not destroy the golden color. Then stir in enough finely sieved, stewed pumpkin to make a thin mixture or batter. Turn into dishes lined with a good rich paste and bake in a moderate oven until the custard is set.

Pumpkin Prepared for Winter Use.

Cook and sift it as for pies and add to it as much sugar as there is pumpkin. Put it in jars, making a layer of pumpkin and a layer of sugar. This is better than the dried pumpkin. Another way is to cut it in slices or cubes and boil it tender, then boiling hot into glass jars and seal.

A NEW SUBSTITUTE FOR COAL.

A St. Louis man claims to have hit upon a substitute for anthracite coal, which will render sections contiguous to bituminous coal fields forever independent of strikes and similar disturbances in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and the hard coal regions. Tests conducted scientifically and under all varieties of conditions have demonstrated it is claimed, that briquettes manufactured from soft coal slack, first subjected to a cleaning process, then molded into briquettes by the use of a patent binder under high pressure, have all the good qualities of hard coal. Briquettes are manufactured from slack, or, rather, the refuse which comes from bituminous coal mines, and can be produced at about $7.50 a ton. Scientists have been trying for years to discover a process by which this product could be made.

HIS UNKIND FLING.

(Brooklyn Eagle.)

"I saw him holding your hand," said her small brother, whereat all the other members of the family looked up.

"Yes," she replied calmly; "he has been studying palmistry."

"Oh!" said the small brother.

"He was reading the story of my life," he persisted defiantly.

"But I'm not a book," she said, "if he had read the small brother, then he remarked, 'You must be pretty old, sis.'"

"What do you mean?" she demanded.

"It was a long story."

"Don't be absurd, Tommy."

NEW LIFEBOAT LAUNCHED.

(Halifax Record, Thursday.)

A new life boat, invented by James Mitchell of Manitoba, was tested in Dartmouth yesterday afternoon. The inventor came to Halifax to have the first boat built and engaged Mosher, Short & Conrod, of Dartmouth, to build the craft.

At the launching yesterday at Douglass wharf there was a large crowd present. Among those present were Capt. Schenck, of cable steamer, McKay-Bennett, Capt. Wood and Jonathan Parsons, marine and fisheries agent. The test was made under the direction of Capt. Bloomfield Douglas, B. N., and Lieut. Montague, R. N., H. M. S. Arcturion.

The test was a success, and all present were impressed with the usefulness of the boat.

JOHN STEWART DEAD.

Of the Old Time Firm of R. A. & J. Stewart.

Dr. Charles Holden has received word of the death of his brother-in-law, John Stewart, formerly one of the best known lumber operators in this province, which occurred at his home in Ottawa on Wednesday. Mr. Stewart was in his fifty-eighth year and had been in poor health since June.

He was an Englishman by birth and came to St. John in 1868, entering the firm of Guy Stewart & Co., which afterwards became R. A. & J. Stewart. This firm was one of the largest lumber shipping concerns in the country, with branch offices in different parts of New Brunswick, in the United States and in England. Their office in St. John was in the Magee block on Water street and afterwards in the Troop building on Prince William street. About twelve years ago Mr. Stewart left St. John and went to England, where he lived for some years, returning later to Ottawa, where he resided until the time of his death. He was married to Miss S. J. Holden, daughter of Charles Holden.

BURIED TODAY.

The funeral of the late John F. Ashe took place at half-past eight o'clock this morning from his mother's residence on Sydney street. The body was taken to the Cathedral, where a requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. Meahan. Interment was in the old Catholic cemetery. Among the mourners were quite a number of members of No. 1 Salvage Corps, with which company Mr. Ashe had been connected. The pallbearers were John L. Carleton, T. P. Regan, Michael Ward, John Keefe, John O'Regan and Miles E. Agar.

This afternoon at two o'clock the funeral of the late Charles P. Tower took place from the residence of his brother, 22 Dock street. The body was interred in Fernhill.

WEDDING BELLS.

Ernest Meserena, of Fredericton Junction, and Miss Maggie Moore, of Ruslagomish, were united in marriage at the Free Baptist parsonage, Fredericton, Wednesday afternoon by Rev. F. C. Hartley.

Wednesday evening at Central Kingsclear Rev. F. C. Hartley performed the ceremony uniting in marriage Isaac Lloyd, who lately returned from the west, and Miss Alice Maud Porter. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's brother in the presence of a number of friends.

SPECIAL NOTICE

TO ADVERTISERS!

Copy for Saturday's Issues of the STAR must be sent in by Three-Thirty O'clock Friday Afternoons, otherwise it is absolutely impossible to ensure a change for that issue, as the paper goes to press earlier on Saturdays than on other days of the week.

LOCAL NEWS.

The S. S. Aorangi left Brisbane, Australia, on Thursday.

A bunch of keys found on Broad street, near St. James' church, can be got by the owner at the Star office.

The annual meeting of the St. Mark's Boys' Association will be held this evening in the schoolhouse. Election of officers and other business.

The death occurred early yesterday morning of Wallace A., the six years' old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood White of Marysville.

Handford Price, of Lower Butternut Ridge, Kings County, has lost two children with diphtheria. One was buried on Sunday and the other on Wednesday.

Rev. H. H. Cosman, formerly superintendent of the Seamen's Mission here, is in the city of his way home to Yarmouth County, from a visit up the St. John river.

Bert Robertson of St. John, N. B., is now in Bay of Islands on annual visit to the Arms, securing a cargo of berring for his firm—Bay of Islands, Nfld., Star, Nov. 5.

W. F. Humphrey, M. P. P., has it is said, intimated his willingness to contribute $500 to the Moncton Hospital Building fund whenever called upon.—Moncton Transcript.

On November 28th, the I. O. F. courts in Moncton hold a joint session in the Y. M. C. A. hall and a degree team from St. John will participate in initiating candidates.

Messrs. Noble and Whipple, the young men who were injured last Saturday, are reported, from the hospital, to be doing well. Mr. Whipple has been able to get up and walk around, but his companion is not so fortunate.

The High School and Fredericton High School football teams will play tomorrow afternoon on the Shamrock grounds. An arrangement may be made by which a united team from Rothesay and the High School will go to Fredericton next Saturday.

WHEN YOU SEE the stack of ladies' vests put on sale for Saturday at F. R. Patterson's, corner Charlotte and Duke streets, you would think we were in the wholesale business, but we are not, even if we are selling vests at wholesale prices for one day. Attend this great sale and save money. See ad. on page 4 of tonight's issue.

WEST SIDE WORK.

It is expected that the C. P. R. work on west side improvements will be finished for the season next week. The new warehouse on North Rodney wharf has been practically completed and the additional section of the yard at Bay Shore the second section of the yard is now about finished. The tracks which have been laid this year will provide accommodation for fully five hundred more cars than last year.

The diamonds on Union street, at the foot of St. John street, Carleton, are being taken up and in the future trains on the Shore Line and C. P. R. will shunt on each other's tracks. This will enable two switch engines to work at this place at the one time and the handling of cars will be greatly facilitated.

THE VACANT APPRAISERSHIP.

No appointment has as yet been made to the vacant appraisership. It is understood that the camp is pretty well divided over the matter, and the longer the appointment is withheld the greater becomes the division. So far as can be learned the two over which the dispute arises are James Daley and William Robertson. At the same time the supporters of the other candidates are not inactive and the result may be that some one of the others may get the job.

ONE OF THE INJURED.

Frank Mullins of the Dufferin hotel staff, who is now on his vacation, was injured by the bomb explosion in New York election night. Mr. Mullins was in the crowd watching the returns when the accident happened. The injuries he received were fortunately very slight.

INFORMATION WANTED.

I should like to know the address of her whose maiden name was Henrietta Deuch, and who formerly lived in the vicinity of Cornwallis, N. S., and afterwards went to Boston, and is now supposed to be in or near St. John. Apply to Carl W. Harvey, Victoria Hotel, city.

HARRISS CHORUS.

Robert Allen has been appointed secretary of the Harriass Musical Association, and is now securing the required singers for the chorus. A committee of management has been appointed, the names of which will be announced in a few days. It is believed that there will be no difficulty in securing the voices necessary.

THE FRUIT TRADE.

A. L. Goodwin is now receiving 800 kegs of Almeria grapes of the best quality. This is the time for the merchants to lay in their supplies for the Christmas trade as the New York and Liverpool markets are advancing. Mr. Goodwin is also landing today a carload of Jamaica oranges in boxes, and received yesterday 500 boxes of dates, the first of the season.

STEVENS-CRAWFORD CASE.

The I. C. R. Officer Says He Will Carry It to a Higher Court.

Magistrate Ritchie delivered judgment this morning in the charge preferred by Officer Isaac Stevens of the I. C. R. against Officer Robert Crawford of the city police. In his remarks the magistrate said that he felt somewhat sorry that this matter had ever come before him. Both parties held positions in which they had to perform duties to the public, and he regretted that such being the case the affair was not settled out of court. As the trial had progressed he had wished that a settlement could have been made, but this was not done.

Reviewing the case, his honor said that Crawford's actions had been, to his mind, the natural outcome of excitement. Crawford had gone to the station to assist his brother in sending some men to the woods. Two of these men were late, and Crawford was naturally anxious to get them on board the train. He found the gate closed against him, and like any other person, became excited. His attempt to get through the gate was natural, his speaking to Officer Stevens as he did was also natural, but his subsequent action in following Stevens and catching hold of him was going a little too far. This was not justifiable, even under excitement, and therein Crawford had done wrong.

The magistrate had heard that Crawford admitted his fault and was prepared to apologize. He suggested that the affair be settled in this way without going any further.

Officer Crawford said that he was sorry he had acted as he did. If he had given offence he regretted it, and he wished to state that he had no intention of in any way hurting Officer Stevens.

The latter declined to accept this apology, which he described as a half-hearted one, and announced that the case had already gone so far that his reputation was at stake.

Under these circumstances the magistrate felt compelled to render a decision. He reviewed the evidence, finding that the weight of credibility rested with Officer Stevens. The assault had been a minor one, and he did not feel disposed to make Crawford pay heavily for it. He found Crawford technically guilty of assault, but under power given him by statute he would impose no penalty.

Officer Stevens has announced his intention of carrying the matter to a higher court.

THE BEEF MARKET.

A Tale of the Lean Kine and of the Fatted Calf.

Some few months ago, when the weather was warm, the cows and the steers living down on the farm went round with that sad, hungry look in their eyes and showed scarce enough gumption to shake off the flies. Their bones were protruding, their haunches were thin, their entire composition was framework and skin. But beef was way up and the farmers felt sad, when they thought of the profits that they might have had, if the cattle had only piled on some more weight in the earlier spring. Now the season was late and the grass crop was making a very thin carpet on the face of the earth but the steers went to market and brought nine cents a pound. The farmers said that was a very good price, but when they got fat in the fall of the year, with lots of good feed we'll make heaps of money, which most of us need.

The season and down in the grass kept on growing and down in the windows was heard the soft lowing of satisfied cattle whose stomachs were filled and who anxiously waited their time to be killed. They knew they were fat. From their eyes there was gone that sad, hungry look which had been there so long. Their tails had become rigid, they tossed up their horns and ate bushels and bushels of substantial corn, saying, "Now we are fleshy and our owners will be the happiest mortals on earth because we are heavy and big and will fetch a good price. Now isn't that lovely, now isn't that nice?"

The steers went to market and stood on the scales, pride shone in their optics, they wagged their tails. They weighed fully twice as much as in the spring and thought what a good price their new weight would bring. But the joy left their eyes, their tails fell to the ground when the butcher man offered just four cents a pound.

MISS MAGILTON'S CONCERT.

Tickets for Miss Magilton's concert at the York Theatre on Thursday evening, the 13th inst., are now on sale at Miss Gray's bookstore, King street. Of Miss Magilton's singing a well-known Boston critic recently said: "I have heard Miss Josephine Magilton sing both in public and private recital. She possesses a pure contralto (a very rare voice of extraordinary proportions), rich, full, sympathetic and of unusual range. Such flexibility is rarely found in a voice of such power. With further experience she will easily become one of America's leading concert, oratorio and operatic contraltos." Miss Magilton will be assisted by J. A. Kelly, St. John's favorite tenor, and George D. Williams, the distinguished impersonator.

CARLETON FREEMASONS.

Carleton Union Lodge, F. & A. M., held a banner night at their regular meeting last evening. There were four candidates for the third degree, which was exceptionally well conferred by W. M. Alban F. Emery and a competent staff of officers. The number of visiting brethren was very large, taking to its utmost the seating capacity of the lodge room. At the close of the ceremonies a lunch was served in the refreshment room, which was much appreciated by the visiting brethren.

LUMBER OPERATIONS.

Lumbering operations back of Westfield will be quite extensive this winter. J. & L. B. Knight have had a gang of about sixty men in the woods for some six weeks, and now Frank Reed of Gagetown, who has lately purchased part of the Buchanan property, is about to send a smaller gang in. Mr. Reed some time ago purchased the O'Donnell property, and will lumber on both of these stretches.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

LETTER FROM AN IMMIGRANT.
To the Editor of the Star:

Sir,—I notice a communication regarding your local government's immigration scheme of two years ago, and the way in which it was handled in the old country and here by the government agents. The awkward predicament of many would-be settlers was not overdrawn at all. Lack of information was very conspicuous, and there really appeared to be no one whose duty it was to look after people who were induced to come here and settle. Just now it seems impossible to get such particulars of vacant lands, or farms for sale, as would be necessary and right in order to induce one's relations and friends to immigrate. But, as you intend having a new government soon, no doubt a much better condition of affairs will obtain, for certainly the way business has been and is done is a disgrace to the new country that poses as so much ahead, so much more enterprising, than "old-fashioned England."

Yours truly,

A SETTLER THAT SETTLED.

SUNDAY GAMBLING.

To the Editor of the Star:
Sir,—Some time ago a great many good resolutions were made to stop this Sunday gambling, but without much success, as the gambling still goes on. I think the officers ought to look after these places a bit sharper, and not let young men sit and play cards all day Sunday and leave their family in need while they keep these places up. I hope there will be something done without further delay.

CITIZEN.

POLICE COURT.

A Lad of Fifteen Who Cannot Read Or Write His Own Name.

William Marshall, a fifteen year old boy was arrested last evening by Officer Perry for singing and shouting on Mill street. The boy turned on the fountains of grief and cried systematically and vociferously when arrested. But this failed to soften the stony heart of the brass buttoned officer of the law and Marshall was lodged in the North End station. He was afterwards released upon promise of appearing in court today. This morning Officer Perry was positive that Marshall had been shouting and gave the very words used by the boy. Marshall denied everything. He had been going to a party and was waiting for a chum named Gillespie. He was unable to explain why he tried to run away when the police chased them. The boy stated that he could not read nor even write his own name. The magistrate referred to this fact as one point in which an improvement is necessary. Marshall was remanded until the chum of whom he spoke could be sent for. William Goldsworthy, being drunk on Carmarthen street was fined four dollars.

Stanley A. Williams was reported for building a bow window on a house on Main street. The matter was postponed until building Inspector Mahar could be heard from.

A PLEASING SURPRISE.

A large number of the members of St. George Division, S. of T., called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGorman, on Charlotte street, last evening, and gave them somewhat of a surprise. Malcolm N. White, on behalf of the members present, presented Mr. and Mrs. McGorman with a handsome sideboard as a small token of their esteem. The evening was spent in dancing and the usual games. Refreshments were served and the young people returned home in the small hours, after spending a very pleasant evening.

PERSONAL.

Emmerson Bigelow, who has been employed in the I. C. R. audit office, Moncton, for the past two or three years, has resigned and gone to his home in Canby, N. S.

Ernest Abbot, son of Mr. Abbot, of the D. A. R., who has been in the employ for some time of the Western Union Telegraph Company, Halifax, has taken a position in Montreal.

Clinton A. Killam of St. John will represent the International Correspondence Schools of Scranton, Pa., in Fredericton.

Mrs. Anson Bliss, of Compton, Que., is in town, and will spend the winter here with her daughter, Mrs. R. B. Reid, Leinster street.

SENT OVER THE BORDER.

Charles Meron, the stranger who has been giving the police and almshouse authorities so much trouble lately, was today furnished with a ticket to the United States, and left the city. Mero, who is suffering from an old injury, has been arrested here several times and has failed to give a satisfactory account of himself. He belongs to some part of the United States, and has friends there. To these friends he has been sent, in the hope that they will keep him.

A RISKY JUMP.

Darkey Prime, of the schooner Alfred, lying at South wharf, had an exciting experience this morning, from which he was fortunate enough to come off alive. He was walking along the coping of the wharf, the tide was well out and the schooner was lying in the beds there. His feet slipped on the wet coping and down to the stock of the schooner Alfred, a drop of about twenty-five feet. The only injury he apparently received was to one of his ankles.

SCHOONER ASHORE.

Word was received here last night that the three masted schooner Harry Knowlton, 278 tons, Capt. Stewart, had gone ashore at Victoria, P. E. I. The schooner is owned in Eastport and is bound from Chatham to Miramichi. The full extent of the damage is not known, and the only advice received is that of the accident. Allan Gregory left on the noon train to look after the schooner.

THE CIGARETTE EVIL.

(Fredericton Herald.)

A local dealer in smoker's requisites is responsible for the statement that one million of one brand of cigarettes are sold in Fredericton annually, and he thinks that the demand for several other well known brands is equally as great. The dealer referred to personally sold one hundred thousand of one brand last year, and is confident that his total estimate is not outside the mark. Under the law cigarettes cannot be sold to boys under sixteen, though they generally manage to get what they want in some way.

DEATH OF WILFRID FREEZE.

BUTTERNUT RIDGE.—Nov.

Wilfrid H. Freeze, who has been sick a long time with Bright's disease, died last evening. He leaves a wife, six sons and three daughters. One son is in the west, one a station master at Berlin, Mass., and one is a dentist who will sail for Cape Town, South Africa, in a week or two, to work at his profession. Deceased was well and favorably known, and his death will be heard with regret. Deceased was an undertaker for a number of years.
