Montreal's Blind Pool Operator Has Been Located

Warrant Has Been Issued and He Will be Speedily Returned to Face His Dupes.

Special to The Standard.
Montreal, Oct. 30.—Charles D. Shelton, the blind pool operator, has been located after three weeks' chase. He is now under surveillance by officers in the employ of the provincial authorities. He is in the island of Bermuda. The warrant for his apprehension has been prepared by Judge Choquette and an officer will be sent to Bermuda to arrange about the return of the fugitive. He will be brought back to Montreal to stand trial. As Bermuda is a British possession he will be brought back under the fugitive offenders act which is somewhat similar to the procedure necessary in extradition from a foreign country. He is charged with theft.

Since his departure from Montreal various detective agencies have endeavored to locate him. Until the fact was assured the authorities were uncommunicative. On Saturday Crown Prosecutor LaFortune stated that there was no longer any doubt that the man had been found. He stated that an officer armed with a warrant would proceed at once to bring back the much wanted man. The capture had been made by the Pinkerton detective agency. The Crown prosecutor who has also been active in the search, announced that the man was located, and that instructions were now being prepared by the attorney general.

No details have been overlooked to prevent any escape through technicality and the authorities are well assured that he will soon be back in Montreal in the company of an officer.

FOUND NO DEMAND FOR RECIPROcity

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy Back From Western Trip Found No Great Sentiment Leaning Toward U. S. Trade.

Montreal, Que., Oct. 30.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, who has returned from a tour of inspection of the C. P. R. as far as the Pacific coast, whether he was accompanied by R. B. Angus, C. M. Hosmer and Thos. Skinner said tonight he was able to find very little reciprocity sentiment in the west. The extent of the grain growers' movement appeared to be confined to reciprocity in agricultural implements. The attitude of the C. P. R., he said, had been to stimulate interprovincial trade with lines from east to west, but if a change were made in the fiscal policy it would lead to the building of lines north and south.

Sir Thomas Shaughnessy declared it was erroneous to suppose that the United States alone was providing all the new settlers of the west. More were coming from Great Britain and the continent than from south of the line.

HONORS OF THE AIR NOW PASS TO BRITISH HANDS

ROOSEVELT UNDER FIRE

Democrats In New York Use Case Of Foreman Miller As Vehicle To Attack Ex-President's Labor Record.

New York, Oct. 30.—Secretary John Mason, of the Democratic state committee, made a public statement attacking Col. Roosevelt's labor record. The statement says in part: "The Democratic state committee has been looking up Col. Roosevelt's labor record. One of the most striking incidents in which the former president clashed with union labor was recalled yesterday. When the bookbinders' union demanded that William A. Miller be removed from his position as assistant foreman of the government printing office at Washington, after having been reinstated by order of the president, the latter laid down the following rule: 'There is no objection to the decision of the government printing office constituting themselves into a body if they so desire, but no rules or regulations of that union can be permitted to ride over the laws of the United States which it is my duty to enforce.' Miller had been expelled from the union and appealed to the civil service commission, which sustained him. When the public printer did not reinstate Miller, President Roosevelt finally ordered that Mr. Miller be reinstated.

On the same day Col. Roosevelt had written to the secretary of commerce approving the decision of the civil service commission that no person should be discriminated against on account of the non-membership in a union organization. The action of President Roosevelt brought on a strike in labor circles and there was talk of a strike, but Secretary Cortelyou stepped into the breach and shifted the responsibility to the government printing office. President Roosevelt to Public Printer Palmer. The officers of the bookbinders' union attempted to secure an interview with the civil service commission and ask leave to take a copy of the charter against Miller, but the commission referred everything to Public Printer Palmer and added that any person who went out on strike would be forced to take a new examination before being taken back. This threat sufficed to prevent a strike.

A conference was held at the White House on Sept. 30, 1907, was attended by Saml. Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; James Duncan, first vice-president of the United Mine Workers; James O'Connell, president of the Machinists' Union; and Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation. But President Roosevelt received no word of Miller's dismissal on either charge of being unfit or a non-union man."

Grahame-White, English Aviator, Wins Famous Gordon Bennett Trophy

LeBlanc of French Team Was Plucky Contestant but Accident Defeated Him.

Belmont Park, N. Y., Oct. 29.—Claude Grahame-White, flying for the Royal Aero Club of the United Kingdom, lifted the Gordon-Bennett international speed trophy from the custody of America today. In the fastest lap ever covered for the trophy of 100 kilometers, 62.14 miles, around a five kilometer course, his average speed was a fraction better than 61 miles an hour and his fastest lap was 2 minutes, 55.77 seconds, but the captain of the French team, Alfred LeBlanc, flying in a similar machine, an 100 horsepower Bleriot monoplane, was making each lap on an average of 20 seconds faster than Grahame-White and would have won the cup if he had not met with a disastrous accident in his last lap when he had the race seemingly well in hand.

His first lap was a new world's record in itself for five kilometers, 2 minutes, 45.33 seconds, but he subsequently exceeded it with a lap done in 2 minutes, 44.22 seconds.

LeBlanc in Accident.
LeBlanc was running before the wind under full power at an estimated speed of 80 miles an hour when the feed pipe from his gasoline tank was struck by a bolt of lightning. He ceased jarring of the engine and he suddenly found himself with nothing but momentum to carry him. LeBlanc was helpless and panic-stricken. He tried to lift his plane so that the last few drops of gasoline might filter down into the engine and lend him strength enough to make a landing. His steering was gone and he drifted sideways, still flying at tremendous speed, and dashed head foremost into a telegraph pole.

But he broke it in two places which had been a toothache. One fragment fell over backwards on the planes. The chassis and steel shield which enclose the motor were completely crumpled, but the steel shell of the motor itself withstood the shock. Had LeBlanc hit the pole in any other manner, it is difficult to see how he could possibly have escaped death.

His accident was accepted on every hand with the greatest regret. Grahame-White, the winner admitted, LeBlanc had the race and would have established a world's record even better than his own, except for his mishap.

Sample Of How Laurier's Lieutenants Are Attempting To Bolster Up Their Lost Cause In Quebec.

Special to The Standard.
Montreal, Oct. 30.—Mr. Gladu, M. P. for Yamaska, in a speech in the course of which he attacked the Liberal candidate who had been defeated by the Conservative Sir Wilfrid Laurier as he would not be able to survive such a blow. These words were interpreted as a threat made to the free and intelligent electors to stave off defeat for the government.

KILLED WHILE HUNTING DEER

Jury At Tay Falls Decide That Accidental Discharge Of Gun Was Responsible For John McNaughton's Death.

Special to The Standard.
Fredericton, Oct. 30.—Dr. B. M. Mullin, of St. Mary's, has returned from Tay Falls where he conducted a coroner's inquest into the death of John McNaughton, who was found dead in the woods with the top of his head blown off and his rifle lying on the ground nearby.

The jury, which D. J. Griffiths was foreman, brought in a verdict that McNaughton was killed by the accidental discharge of his rifle. The evidence of several witnesses established that the deceased was hunting a deer from his home and started out with his rifle to shoot it, and that he evidently slipped on a big log over which he was climbing while carrying his rifle which was cocked.

The steamer Victoria met with an accident at Gagetown on Saturday as en route from St. John. Several bars of the paddle wheel were broken and the Victoria arrived here several hours late.

Thanksgiving Day will be quietly observed here as a holiday, the only attraction being the football game between the U. N. B. and Algonquin teams. There are Thanksgiving festival services at St. Ann's parish church and other local churches today.

James Tennant, one of the old Scotch residents of the city, and for twenty-seven years treasurer of St. Andrew's Society, is critically ill at his home on the Woodstock Road.

STANDARD GIRLS HOME TOMORROW

They Will Sail From Bosc This Morning On The Last Stage Of Their Enjoyable Journey.

The Standard's party of ten young ladies will leave this morning on the steamer Calvia Austin on their homeward journey having enjoyed a trip that they will remember as the most enjoyable of their lives. They reached New York on Thursday evening after a rather rough passage from Bermuda and although feeling somewhat upset on account of the weather, they at once started in to enjoy the return stop of the big city. They spent most of the day Friday in visiting some of the stores and in the evening went to Daly's theatre in a party. Afterwards they enjoyed a dinner party at Sherry's.

Saturday was spent about the city and with friends, and the girls sailed from New York on Saturday afternoon on the Fall River steamer Commonwealth for Boston where they arrived about nine o'clock on Sunday morning. There the majority of the girls had friends to meet them, and the day was spent very pleasantly. The party will reach St. John tomorrow afternoon.

It appears that the visit to Bermuda was in every sense thoroughly enjoyed. While the only reports yet received, have been in the form of brief telegrams to The Standard it is learned that the girls were guests at a big ball at the Hamilton hotel in Hamilton, Bermuda and reports say that the St. John contingent made a great hit with the mosquitoes and the Bermudians. The girls were deeply impressed with the unique scenery of the islands and describe as wonderful the crystal cave and the coral reefs, the coral formation being found beneath the earth and water.

The steamer Bermudian on which the girls made the trip both ways was crowded with tourists and the party had an extremely pleasant time. They were in charge of a member of the staff of Thos. Cook and Son, David Davidson, and formed part of a group of 27 for whom Mr. Davidson was escort. There will be letters in today's mail from some of the girls descriptive of their trip.

BRAND FLATS SOCIAL PARTY

French Premier Lashes His Opponents With Stinging Inclusive Oratory—Most Interesting Session Since Dreyfus

Paris, Oct. 30.—Amidst an impressive hush, which contrasted strangely with yesterday's unprecedented passion and tumult, in the chamber of deputies, Premier Briand, today, in a long inclusive phrase and accomplished oratory, flayed the Socialists for their violence in forbidding him the right of speech. The premier assured the chamber that he was not a dictator but a man of law and order.

Since the days of the Boulanger and Dreyfus affairs no such interest has been displayed in a session of the French parliament. Vast crowds besieged the doors at an early hour and unable to secure entry, assembled in the square, the streets and on the Pont de la Concorde, and waited for hours in the rain to learn the outcome.

Carried away by his passion yesterday the premier defending the attitude of the government in suppressing the railway strike exclaimed, "Had the actual laws of the country not been sufficient I would not have hesitated to resort even to illegal measures for the purpose of preserving the fatherland."

Following M. Reynaud, who justified the premier's words by the axiom that a great national crisis would justify the neglect of legal scruples, M. Briand mounted the tribune, all eyes falling over the house. He declared that his remarks of yesterday had been entirely misunderstood because the socialistic fury and disorder had not permitted him to complete his statements. What he had tried to say was that in grave hours of national peril exceptional measures were justified. Nevertheless, the government was determined to keep within the limit of legality. It had been many years since the government endured such troublous hours, but the nation had emerged from this threatened revolt, cleaner, grander and better.

A resolution introduced by the socialists impeaching M. Briand for his "dictatorial crushing down of wage earners" was rejected by an overwhelming majority after which the chamber voted confidence in the government to safeguard the interests of the working classes and preserve the vital interests of the nation. A scrutiny of the vote shows that 100 radicals, who ordinarily supported the government, joined with the socialists.

The more conservative newspapers, commenting upon M. Briand's reference to illegal measures, drew the principle that desperate cases require desperate measures and adopt a parallel between the present case and the Fashoda affair and the crisis preceding the Algeciras conference which established precedents for the employment of exceptional measures. The Temps, characterizes yesterday's sensation as a "shameful orgy of violence" goes so far as to suggest that President Fallieres should call the chamber and if similar anarchy persists, subsequent to the sensation, bands of royalists and anti-parliamentarians held demonstrations in front of the chamber and in the boulevards. The police dispersed the crowds and made a score of arrests.

Donaldson Liner Reached the Clyde Ten Days Overdue

Sailed from St. John on Oct. 2--Ran Into Fierce Gale, Lost Deckload and Almost Turned Over.

Special to The Standard.
Montreal, Oct. 20.—Word has been received here that the steamship Indrani of the Donaldson Line, well known in the Canadian trade and a frequent visitor to Montreal and St. John, has reached Rothsay Dock in the Clyde ten days overdue from St. John, N. B. after the most exciting voyage in her history.

The Indrani loaded 1,000 standards of deals at St. John and, when about one and a half days steaming from the Irish coast, ran into a fierce equinoctial gale.

So great was the Indrani's list that she sank to within a few inches of the portholes on the bridge deck. The man at the wheel had to be lashed to his post, so fierce was the gale and for four days Captain Young and his crew of 35 men had to exercise unceasing vigilance, expecting every moment that the Indrani would turn turtle. She finally crept into the Clyde when her owners were beginning to have the liveliest fears as to her safety.

The Donaldson Line steamship Indrani sailed from this port on Sunday, Oct. 2nd, for Glasgow, with 3,214,255 feet of spruce deals shipped by J. E. Moore and Company, Robert Reford Co., are the agents of the Donaldson Line here.

HALIFAX MAN MAY DIE FROM HIS INJURIES

Special to The Standard.
Halifax, N. S., Oct. 30.—Wm. McLellan, of the Wanderers' Football team, is in the Victoria General Hospital in a critical condition, as a result of the injuries sustained in the Dalhousie-Wanderers game Saturday afternoon. McLellan was one of the Wanderers' half backs and up to the hour of his accident he had played a star game.

The accident occurred in the second half. McLellan received a pass and had commenced to run when he slipped and fell to the ground, striking the back of his head a terrific blow. His condition was so serious that an ambulance was summoned and he was taken to Victoria General Hospital. He now lies at the point of death with his spine badly injured, causing almost complete paralysis of the body.

McLellan is a son of Post Office Inspector McLellan, formerly editor of "The Morning Chronicle." He was a graduate of Dalhousie Law School and was a very promising lawyer of this city.

Because of the accident the Wanderers-Acadia football game which was scheduled for tomorrow has been cancelled. The Dalhousie-Glace Bay game has also been called off.

GREAT GROWTH OF THE Y.M.C.A.

HOW CANADIAN TRADE GROWS

Special to The Standard.
Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 30.—During October the customs collections totalled $5,812,284, which is a betterment of $75,847 over same month last year. During the first seven months of the fiscal year ending with October, the collections have totalled $41,372,127, which is $7,354,323 more than for the same period in 1909.

John Penman, of Paris, Ont.; E. G. Eberhart, of South Bend, Ind.; President J. C. Acherson, of Louisville, Ky.; John W. Ross, of Montreal; and James A. Dummitt, of Seattle; Secretary George T. Coxhead, of St. Louis; Assistant Secretaries, T. D. Patton, of Winnipeg; W. A. Lloyd, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Harry Ballantine, of Calgary. The report was formally adopted.

E. R. Wood, the newly-elected president, at once assigned to each member of the association upon such an admirable assembly of representatives. He was sure that great good would flow from the convention, and that its influence would mean a mighty impetus to the association movement in Canada.

Rev. Dr. J. A. Macdonald spoke on "The Timeliness of the Association to Meet the Needs of Canada." He protested against the admission into Canada of diseased and lazy immigrants.

DRESSMAKING--No. 4

MEASURING, CUTTING AND PRESSING.

For Coat Measurements, use those of waist. Alter coat pattern same as waist.

For Skirt, measure length down from centre front and centre back to the floor, also length at direct side from waistband to floor. Around hips, take measurements loosely five inches below waist line, holding the tape evenly balanced.

To Lengthen skirt pattern, slash each gore six inches below the hip the necessary length.

To Shorten, put fold over same place, forming the difference in length. Either of these changes will not alter the shape of the skirt.

To Cut, Examine materials, Cloths, woolsens and velvets have nap or grain. Stroke them lengthwise to find nap.

In using single width of goods which have a right and a wrong side, place the two ends of material face to face to avoid cutting parts a second time. If materials are too narrow for widths of skirt gores, waists or coat fronts, piece by matching threads of material. Place thread lengthwise in all materials.

First cut the skirt. Pieces which fall off can be used for small parts of coat or waist. Use tailor's tacks for all heavy materials, and do not forget to notch. Pin seams of heavy goods before basting, and baste with press material on wrong side, using padded board. Have sponge rag of muslin, dampen and spread it on the wrong side of the cloth when pressing. Use sleeve board to press rough parts of garments and sleeves. If you find pressing too difficult, take it to a tailor.

No. 4. This is the fourth of a series of articles on "How to Make Complete Outfit for $25."

By Cynthia Grey.

A tailor-made suit is the backbone of your wardrobe, and don't wear anything but a plain tailored suit, for few people look well in a dressy suit. A dark suit is the favorite, and is becoming to the majority. Serge is the model I have chosen will give splendid general service, may be worn on "better" occasions, and will be especially appropriate for visiting, with your pretty silk blouse. The coat is the new hip length, semi-fitting and has the regulation fashionable thirty-two inch length and a two-piece sleeve. The skirt shows straight, slender lines and has four gores, another one of fashion's mandates.

Five and one-half yards of material are needed. Don't buy loosely woven stuffs; they sag readily. Serge is one of the most reliable materials. It comes in wide widths, is loose in appearance, but firm in texture. See that your material will stand a considerable amount of wear and tear. Fancy worsted effects, broken diagonals and basket weaves in one or two shades are also popular. You can get a good quality of any woven cloth, fifty-four inches wide, at 75 cents per yard. We will use a blue serge for making our suit. Buy it already "shrunken." If it is not "shrunken," it will shrink and spot readily.

Next select the linings for the coat. Get a pretty striped "satinette." It comes thirty-six inches wide, at 37 1/2 cents per yard. It wears well and has fast color.

Other materials required are one-fourth yard of bias velvet for a collar, or one-half yard of "moire antique" if you prefer it. Velvet is the only material sold on the bias. Also four large and eight small buttons, at 25 cents and 12 cents per dozen, respectively; a yard of soft finished "shrunken" silk; two yards of silk and binding for seams to skirt.

Your suit will cost you:— 5 1/2 yards of 54-inch material at 75 cents $4.12 3 1/2 yards of 36-inch lining, at 37 1/2 cents 1.31 3/4 yard of 18-inch velvet, at $175 $125 1 yard of 24-inch canvas18 Buttons, patterns and findings63 Total $6.50

Buy coat pattern by bust measure and skirt pattern by waist measure. After alterations in both patterns have been made take your skirt, doubling material and folding it lengthwise, and mark the waist, neck, and armholes with tailor's tacks, and cut material. Then fasten muslin pattern to cloth, and mark outline of each section of pattern, bust and waist line, with tailor's chalk. Then mark with tailor's tacks, and cut material, allowing one-half inch all the way around. Remove pattern and three-quarter inch over chalk marks. To do this, you loosely baste through materials, using double thread. When finished, cut threads between the two pieces of material which leave markings on both pieces. Have thread markings meet in making.

The tops of the sleeves have no gathers this season. If sleeve when finished is fuller than the armhole after allowing one inch for easing, shrink fullness away by placing little puckers without creasing, and press with hot iron, on wrong side. If it is too narrow, stretch and draw material gently until necessary width.

In pressing seams of coat, see that the garment lies flat on table, or it is apt to show creases. The coat as directed on envelope, and exercise care in basting, keep it easy, holding loosely in fitting it to garment to prevent drawing of it. Tack lining of sleeve in several places as your coat is finished down from top. Fold inverted flaps in exact line of perforations, and see that those in back come in proper place. When sewing up darts on the inside portions, remember instructions given in underwear lesson. Skirt should fit closely across the hips. When stitching permanent seams, allow so sew them one way, otherwise waist line is apt to sag. Press seams from waist line down, and when permanently stitched bind them with tape which comes for that purpose.

You can finish the bottom of the skirt with braid by slipstitching it to inside of hem, permitting it to extend three-sixteenths of an inch beyond material.

A pretty finish for the waistband of your skirt is an attached belt. To make it, cut strip 2 1/2 inches wide on the straight of the goods, allow 2 inches beyond your waist measure and face with a lining, and you have finished as smart a suit as you could wish to have.

The fifth article to be published tomorrow will describe methods for making over last winter's garments.

MOTT'S Cash Store

For Groceries, Fruit, Confectionary and Hot Drinks, also a few baskets of Green Tomatoes, the last of the season, at 37 WATERLOO STREET, near Gen.

To aid you in making this garment, let me give you a few bits of advice. We no longer use stiff canvas, but depend on the constructive lines of the shape.

Catsitch your canvas pieces and collar to coat before the first fitting. After fitting, tape edges which form lapel and catsitch canvas and cloth by invisible stitches—which do not show through on the right side—to have coat retain its shape.

In cutting lining cloth and velvet for collar carefully mark perforations where collar turns and stitching lining, cloth and canvas, as illustrated. In facing fronts, see that they do not pucker.

If you have a hollow about armhole, cut a circular piece of cotton wadding the shape of the space (see illustration) and add as many thicknesses as required, to fill hollow.

Modish Wall Paper Just now there is a fashion for soft, quiet tones in wall papers. Back grounds are generally subdued. The contrast in color is obtained from the furnishings, table covers, rugs, curtains, cheery open fires, flowers, shaded lamps.

At one shop a popular paper is a grayish moire, with a deep border of mulberry velvet.

For libraries, dining rooms and studies there is shown a deep wainscoting of wide splints in dim greens and browns.

Old gold Japanese cloth is frequently used with this splint decoration.

TURTLE TAKING AS A FINE ART

How the Big Soup Providers are Landed in the Caribbean Sea -- Monster Turtles the Most Sought After.

While The Hague court of arbitration was settling the fisheries dispute between Great Britain and the United States a case not dissimilar was pending between Nicaragua and the British nation. It is true that in the case in which the Central American republic and the island of Jamaica were at variance no such vital points were at issue as the respective rights touching the Newfoundland banks and adjoining waters, but the matter was important enough to take to court, and the men engaged in the turtle catching business of the Antilles are glad that at last there will be adopted some measures whereby they can determine their individual rights.

The epicure who finds equal pleasure in enjoying his "tortue claire verte," ordinarily called clear green turtle soup, at his hotel in St. John, the cafe of the Paris boulevard, or the restaurant of London, may give little attention to the fact that what he is consuming with such relish is a result of an industry of large proportions.

A Fine Art.

In the West Indies especially, the business of catching turtles for the world market has been elevated to a fine art and now nets its fishermen good incomes.

line monies come near the shore for the purpose of depositing their eggs that the propitious time is at hand for catching them. The catches vary according to the season, but the argument may result in some restrictive measures being instituted regarding conservation. Three of the islands of the group are called the Tortugas from the fact that when Columbus discovered them on his way to the western continent he here noticed great numbers of the monsters and made note of this.

A number of schooners are engaged in the turtle trade after being fitted out with harpoons and other requisites for the marine chase, the men remain away from home for weeks. The Grand Cayman Islands are monopolized except for temporary structures. Securing their cargoes the schooners strike for home and at Kingston, Jamaica, arrangements have been made for receiving the catch.

A Delicacy of Class.

The Atlantic turtle is the species favored by the celebrated chefs. The art of preparing the delicacy is often an individual one and not for the public's information. It is a part of the trade of cooking for discriminating palates. "Tortue claire verte" may mean something excellent when well prepared. If not cooked with care the turtle is not fully appreciated.

At the docks at Kingston, or rather a short distance from shore, crawls are prepared to receive the turtles on their arrival. The crawls are placed preceding shipment. No turtle is to the island has seen all there is to see without a visit to the crawls the best time for which purpose is when the turtle schooner is at the dock. Apart from the table value of the turtles, the revenue from the shell is considerable. Many of the articles that grace the tables of the Atlantic part of the armor of the turtles are secured, the largest specimens possible, because they lend themselves best to commercial purposes. For this reason fishermen aim to catch the monsters in preference to those of lesser size.

To the natives of Jamaica, most of whom are of African descent, the arrival of the turtle schooner is the great event of the week. The boys derive great fun from watching the movements of the monster specimens that, the moment they gain their feet, so to speak, are off for their native element. For this reason they are turned on their backs until the rescovers are ready to receive them.

To Keep Needles

A soda mint bottle, with a little screw top, makes an excellent holder for needles to keep in the workbag. It is especially good for damp climates as the needles will not rust. It can be made of any material, but the material of which the bag is made (preferably silk, as this will work up better), and a workbag given for a present is doubly acceptable if some little thing as this is added to give a distinctive touch.

Small Dining Tables

For the simple reason that vegetable dishes are not placed on them nowadays small dining tables are by no means unsatisfactory. Present-day custom also decrees that the roast must be handled by the maid and not placed as in other days, before the head of the household. A few flowers and a dish of fruit are upon the table, where an empty dish may also be used, but the vegetable dishes are kept from sight of the diners, says the Brockton Enterprise. Although the tables are much smaller, they are more ornate. Candlesticks are often placed on the table at the corners, four of them being used. Serving tables aside from the main table are attractive and can be bought in all kinds of wood.

Women's Chocolates

What a woman should demand of a man in courtship, or after it, is, first, respect for her, as she is a woman; and next to that, to be respected by him above all other women. But let her stand upon her female character as upon a foundation, and let the attentions incident to individual preference be so many pretty additions as fanciful as you please—to that main structure. Let her first lesson be—with sweet Susan Winstanley—to reverence her sex.

SAINT JOHN, MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 31, 1910

A BOOMERANG ARGUMENT.

Congressman Eugene Foss, Democratic candidate for Governor of Massachusetts, is devoting considerable time in his campaign to advocating reciprocity with Canada. Canada, he tells his hearers, has illimitable resources; Canada will progress faster in the quarter century ahead than will the United States. And finally he warns the people of that rich manufacturing state that if reciprocity is not accomplished, if some arrangements are not made whereby American goods can be sold freely in this ever growing market of Canada, then Americans will have to spend three hundred million dollars in building factories in Canada to capture their share of the trade, which with reciprocity could be handled from the United States.

From the point of view of the people of the United States, says the Ottawa Journal, the argument of Mr. Foss is excellent and convincing. If they can capture a large share of the commerce of Canada by means of a trade agreement, and without digging up a whole lot of capital to send to Canada, then they certainly would be foolish not to try. But what about the Canadian side of it? Is not the argument of Mr. Foss about the most convincing that could be offered to Canadians against a reciprocity agreement with the United States? "Here," he says in effect, "if we cannot get Canada to let our goods in free or almost free, we will have to go to Canada with our hundreds of millions, we will have to develop water powers for our factories, erect vast works, employ thousands of Canadians and pay an enormous weekly salary list to the workmen of that country. But by a simple agreement we can keep this money in the United States, keep the factories here, pay the wages to Americans, and simply send the manufactured goods to Canada, and have the Canadians send us back the money for them."

That the argument offered by Mr. Foss is a practical one, is shown by the fact that the process of factory building in Canada has already begun. Many of the largest American producers have built factories in Canada for the Canadian trade. Just a week ago another big Canadian factory to manufacture an American product was announced. And in this connection it is reasonable to suppose that once reciprocity really was a fact many of these factories, if not all of them, would close down permanently with all the loss in wages, etc., that such would involve for Canada. It is a principle of trade that as a rule it pays to concentrate the manufacture of an article in the one plant. That is, manufacturers prefer one big plant from which shipments can be made to the entire world, rather than smaller and more widely scattered manufactures. In smaller plants there is waste, and also there is the expense of administration. Canada, in case reciprocity becomes a fact, may fairly expect the majority of plants engaged in the manufacture of some American utility, to close their doors and withdraw their business to the United States.

The arguments of Mr. Foss, convincing as they are to American ears, are a boomerang which takes an entirely different direction when applied on the Canadian side of the line. Mr. Foss himself states the Canadian argument against agreeing to a reciprocity treaty as well as any Canadian could.

HISTORY IN MARBLE

A little volume just issued by the London County Council on the outdoor memorials in the metropolis shows what a varied collection of monuments the citizens possess, and how great a proportion of national history is written in marble and stone in the London streets. The book is strictly limited to objects which are of a "memorial" character. These statues such as those of Physical Energy, in Kensington Gardens; Diana, in Hyde Park; the Hercules Wrestlers, in Victoria Embankment Gardens; and tablets such as that of the Boy and Panyer in Panyer Alley, marking what is alleged to be the highest ground in the city, and that of the sun-dial in Waterloo Park, recording the fact that it is level with the top of the dome of St. Paul's, are not included. According to this little volume, the memorials of Queen Victoria number 24. Among them are five statues. There are 11 drinking fountains in London commemorating Queen Victoria, as well as two clock towers and three cattle troughs.

At the present moment the finishing touches are being put to the Paul's Cross in St. Paul's Churchyard. This is described in the book as a memorial of the old preaching cross, near the same site. It consists of a tall Doric column, the base of which is on a raised and enclosed platform, and the top of which supports a short pedestal surmounted by the statue of St. Paul. The memorial is almost entirely of Portland stone, the statue being of bronze. It is being provided out of funds left by the late Mr. H. C. Richards, K. C.

It is curious that the only memorial of John Bright is to be found in Victoria Park. It consists of a drinking fountain of polished grey granite. Free water thus commemorates cheap bread! On the other hand, Bright's comrade in arms—Richard Cobden—has a statue of Sicilian marble in High Street, Camden Town; while a tablet of encaustic ware at No. 23 Suffolk Street, Pall-mall, commemorates the place of his death. Many and various are the memorials mentioned in the book. One consists of a stone slab on Mile-End Waste, with inscription in lead letters: "Here William Booth commenced the work of the Salvation Army, July, 1865, Laid 9th July, 1910."

In Trinity Square, Southwark, is a stone statue, the origin of which is stated to be quite unknown. It is usually said to represent Alfred the Great. At

COUPLE WED AFTER LONG SEPARATION

Sweethearts at School, but Filial Duty and Other Obstacles Prevented Early Marriage—Making Up for it

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 29.—A thirty-five-year romance was ended when George A. Noe, of Marengo, Ohio, and Winifred Brown, of Moreland, Kan., were married here at the home of the bride's nephew, E. E. Shore.

Sweethearts in youth, the two had been separated by the sense of duty that kept Miss Noe by her parents' side until the marriage of her sister to another girl. When freedom came to each the interrupted courtship was resumed and culminated in their marriage. The bride is fifty-three and her husband fifty-six.

Miss Noe was a leader of the young people of College Springs, Iowa, when the romance began. Mr. Brown attended school with her and they "kept company" for several years. At last he proposed, but was refused because the parents of Miss Noe were aged and she was needed to care for them.

Brown married another girl of the same age and they moved to Kansas. He prospered and owns a farm of more than a thousand acres. Four children were born and all are now men and women. Miss Noe remained in College Springs until her parents died, five years ago, and then went to Ohio to live with her brother.

Three years ago the late wife of Mr. Brown died and a year later he wrote a letter to his youthful sweetheart and correspondence followed. The couple met at the shore home for the first time in twenty-four years.

MASONIC--A. & A. RITE

The supreme council at its annual session in Montreal chose its office bearers for the next three years as follows:

- Hon. J. M. Gibson, Ontario, Sov. Gd. Com.
- W. H. Thorne, New Brunswick, Lt. Gd. Com.
- W. H. Ballard, Ontario, Ill. Sec. General.
- H. A. Mackay, Ontario, Ill. Treas. General.
- Ben. Allen, Ontario, Gd. Chancellor.
- E. B. Buttsworth, Ontario, G. M. C.
- Chas. W. Hagar, Quebec, Gd. Marshal.
- D. F. MacWatt, Ontario, Gd. Std. Bearer.
- W. G. Eakins, Ontario, Capt. of Guards.

Messrs. Gibson and Thorne begin a third term. The provincial deputies of the supreme council are: Hon. Wm. Gibson, Ontario; C. W. Hagar, Quebec; John D. Chipman, New Brunswick; Alex. Stephen, Nova Scotia; Dr. Darrah, P. E. Island; J. E. B. Gault, British Columbia. A special deputy has been appointed for Alberta, C. A. Braithwaite, S. P. R. S.

The officers were installed by Hon. James D. Richardson, the Sov. G. Com. of the southern jurisdiction of the United States. The supreme council resolved to hold its annual session next year at Winnipeg.

DROWNING AT HOPEWELL CAPE

A sad accident happened Friday evening at Hopewell Cape, Albert county, resulting in the death by drowning of Capt. Warren Dixon, the well known pilot and former ship builder. Capt. Dixon was launching his boat at the government pier and in some manner fell into the water. He was alone at the time, but his cries for help were heard by those on the schooner Wilfrid C., who hastened to his rescue. Unfortunately they were not able to reach him in time to save his life. He was carried half a mile down the beach and was found in the woods near his home yesterday afternoon, when the body was recovered. Capt. Dixon was about 60 years of age, and was a prominent figure in the district. His sudden death occasioned much regret. He is survived by his wife and sister of Daniel W. Stewart, and six children. Capt. A. E. Dixon, of the Wilfrid C., is a brother.

FOUND DEAD IN THE WOODS

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 29.—John McNaughton, of Tay Mills, four miles from St. John's, was found in the woods not far from home yesterday afternoon, with the top of his head blown off, and his rifle lying on the ground nearby. The discovery was made by his eldest son, a boy about fourteen years of age, who was one of a searching party who were out looking for the man. How he met death is a complete mystery, as he was quite alone in the woods. Early on Friday morning Mr. McNaughton left his home, saying he was going out to shoot a deer. He told his wife that if he did not return at noon to send out his lurch. His wife sent out the lurch as directed, but the child was unable to find him.

Dr. B. M. Mullin, of St. Mary's, was notified, and will conduct an investigation. The late Mr. McNaughton was about forty years old, and besides his wife, formerly Miss McKinnon, of Tay Creek, he is survived by four children. Robert McNaughton, St. Mary's father of deceased, and one brother, Robert McNaughton, Jr., of Royal Road, also survive.

AMERICAN PLANTATION BURNED BY TRIBESMEN

Serious outbreak on Mindanao Island in the Philippines.

Manila, Oct. 29.—Two hundred rebellious tribesmen today raided the plantation of Capt. Eugene Barton, in the sub-province of Bukidnon, province of Abusan, on the northern coast of Mindanao Island. They burned the buildings with their contents and killed the stock. Capt. Barton was absent from home. His wife and son were rescued from the raiders by friendly natives. Troops have started in pursuit of the outlaws. The raid follows the outbreak of lawlessness among the Manocnos in Davao, the sub-province of Mindanao Island.

WINNIEPPEG TELEGRAM

Indirectly, we have done something for Britain. The Niobe was destined for the British naval scrap heap, when our government jumped in and saved her from destruction, at a figure of something around a million dollars. That was something of a contribution to Britain. Rest assured the balance of the navy will be quite as up-to-date as the Niobe.

CLOSING STOCK LETTER.

Furnished by J. C. Mackintosh and Co., direct private wires.

New York, Oct. 29.—The market showed further weakness today on a continuation of bear manipulation and a fair volume of liquidation. There was no further influential news but the speculative community appeared to be more convinced that the large banking interests were holding the market in check, if they were not even inclined to discount possible unfavorable surprises at the forthcoming election. There were stories current to the effect that the prolonged advance had been traced to two or three large speculators and these had sold out and were now working for lower prices upon which to recover their stocks. This received no really serious credence but it instilled the extremes to which the rumor mongers have been reduced. As a matter of fact there seems nothing in the present situation to warrant any wide movement of prices in either direction. The reaction has been normal and wholesome and might extend some further without doing serious harm. On the other hand the business prospect is not particularly inspiring and while a favorable issue of the elections could quickly change the outlook, the conservative interests are inclined to discourage active speculation for the rise until some of these uncertainties have been dispated.

Shoe Tip

Before putting on patent leather shoes always rub the surface of the hand, thus softening the shoe and rendering it less liable to crack. Many patent leather boots "crack" all over the first time they are worn when this precaution might prevent the accident. Another method is the gradual warming of the shoe, and it must always be remembered that shiny shoes are never kept in cold places.

Willie May Do It This Way Soon

Perhaps you are even trying to think of something new—some fresh stunts to try at the party tonight. But, whatever you decide, don't overlook the good old games of long ago. The chief charm of this mystic night depends upon the amount of delight and jollity with which the evening is passed. The games our grandfathers and grandmothers played on hallowe'en are still the best, for they bring the flavor of many years. They have stood the test of many "funny times."

Games. Naming chestnuts is a popular method of fortune telling on this mystic night. Roast three nuts before the fire, one of which is named for a woman (or man) guest, the other two for men (or women). If they separate so will those for whom they are named. Those jumping toward the fire go to a warmer climate. From the fire, to a colder climate. If two men (or women) jump toward each other it means rivalry. String a raisin in the middle of a thread a yard long. Two persons will each take an end of the string in the mouth, and the one who reaches the raisin first will be the first wedded. Take three dishes, one containing clear water, one soapy water, and one empty. Glindford a guest and lead him to the table. With the left forefinger he tries to dip into one of the dishes. If he succeeds in touching the clear water he will marry one who is young and handsome. If the soapy water, a widow. If the empty dish, he is doomed to remain single. Tie a wedding ring to a silk cord and suspend over a goblet. Repeat alphabet slowly and whenever ring strikes the goblet begin again. In this way spell out the name of your future mate. In the game of Fate all the guests take part. Three "Fates" are chosen, one of whom whispers to each individual in turn the name of his future sweetheart. The second Fate follows, whispering to each guest the name of the place where he will meet his sweetheart. Thus, "you will meet at church," or "down by the corner," or some absurd place. The third Fate then reveals the future as: "You will marry on the Fourth of July," or "you will never wed," etc. Each guest must remember what is said by each of the Fates, then each in turn repeats aloud what has been said. For example: "My future sweetheart's name is—Jim. I shall meet him—in December on a boat trip. We will marry—never."

Refreshments. These need not be elaborate. They may be served on a long table and the table covered with crisp paper. A huge pumpkin, hollowed out and surrounded by autumn leaves, serves for a centerpiece, and is filled with shining apples. Plates of doughnuts, pickles, sandwiches tied with gay ribbons, and popcorn balls add further decoration. Serve individual pumpkin pies with sweet cider or coffee. As a fitting climax, as guests are still seated at the table, place before each one a saucer in which a handful of salt is freshly saturated with alcohol. Let each in turn light his saucer and tell the beginning of a ghost story as long as the alcohol burns and so longer. Then his neighbor takes up the thread of the story, and so on until the last guest adds the finishing touch. The lights must all be out except a jack-o'-lantern or two, and the weird light from the alcohol will add to the ghastly glow.

OBITUARY Charles A. Peck, K. C. Charles A. Peck, K. C., of Albert, N. B., one of the most prominent men of that section and one of the best known men in New Brunswick, died about eight a. m. on Saturday at his home, Hopewell Hill. About a year ago he was stricken with paralysis and has been gradually sinking since then. Mr. Peck, who was seventy years of age, was one of the oldest and best known lawyers in the province, an influential man in politics and one who has held many offices of trust. He filled an important place in the life of the community in which he lived and enjoyed the goodwill and respect of all.

Mr. Peck was a son of Elisha Peck, Jr., and was born on August 12, 1840, at the old Peck homestead on Hopewell Hill, where he always resided. His grandfather was Elisha Peck, sr., one of the earliest Loyalist settlers, who secured from the British government an extensive grant of land in the county. The deceased received his early education at the Grammar School of Albert county and afterwards studied in the Baptist institution at Fredericton, N. B. He studied law in Dorchester, N. B., under the late Sir Albert J. Smith for five years and was admitted as an attorney in 1861 and as a barrister in 1863. He was for five years a partner of the late Hon. Elias Dodsford, their office being located in Moncton. From 1867 to 1870 Mr. Peck represented Albert county in the New Brunswick Legislature. For several years thereafter he was associated with local railway companies in a legal capacity or as an officer. He was the first president of the Albert Southern Railway Company and was subsequently one of the directors. For a number of terms he was a trustee of the grammar schools of Albert county. Mr. Peck was actively interested in the militia, and was captain of the Albert Militia Company when it was first organized. In 1892 he was appointed Queen's Counsel. In 1894, still retaining his residence at Hopewell Hill, he opened a law office in local affairs, but he continued the practice of his profession until his last illness. He was an influential member of the Local Board, A. O. F., of Albert. Mr. Peck married Miss Amelia Nichols, of St. John, N. B., the first president of the Bank of New Brunswick. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Harry B., Charles A., and a daughter, Miss (Clara) living at home. The deceased was a large family. The surviving member is Judson N. Peck, of Hopewell Hill.

James P. Owens. Many will regret to learn of the death of James P. Owens, which occurred Friday evening at his residence, 238 Union street. Mr. Owens, who was 45 years old, was well known throughout the city. He was a preventive officer in the customs service. He had been in failing health for some time. Besides his wife and daughter he is survived by four brothers—Charles A., manager of the Federal Life Insurance Co.; Edmond, of Macaulay Bros. and Co.; John, of Boston; and Arthur, employed in the C. P. R. offices; also five sisters—Mrs. C. P. Moriarty, of Somerville, Mass.; and Misses Mary, Gertrude, Stella and Bertha at home.

James Good. Woodstock, Oct. 29.—James Good died at his home in Jacksonville on Friday in the 74th year of his age, after a lengthy illness. Mr. Good was one of the best known farmers in Carleton county and was president of the Carleton Co. Agricultural Society for a number of years. Until a few years ago he was in the cheese manufacturing business. Deceased was a member of the Baptist church and is survived by a widow who was a Miss Schurman, of F. E. Island, and four children, Frank A. Good, of Trenton; J. Allan Good, of Jacksonville; Mrs. Isaac Slipp, of Jacksonville; and Mrs. Charles Comben, of Woodstock.

James E. O'Donnell. News has been received of the death at Butte, Montana, on the 24th inst., of James E. O'Donnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick O'Donnell, Peterborough, Queens county, N. B. Deceased went west 27 years ago. Death resulted from blood poisoning. Mr. O'Donnell, who was about 50 years of age, leaves a widow and two children, and four sisters, Mrs. D. Boyce and Mrs. D. Flanagan, of St. John, and Sister Martha, of St. Joseph, Emmitsburg, Maryland, and one at home. Two brothers, Tom and Terrence, of Fairville, and one at home, and one brother at Butte, Montana.

Investors We can offer those desiring to invest $200 and upwards an opportunity for a safe and sure investment with good profits and quick returns. Write, wire or telephone (at our expense) and Mr. J. C. Shark (now in St. John) will call and see you, furnishing full information.

THE FRUIT SHOW OPENS TONIGHT

Splendid Examples of What This Province Can Do in Line of Fruit Growing—Programme for Opening.

The greatest fruit show ever held in New Brunswick will be opened this evening in St. Andrew's Rink on Charlotte street. Premier Hazen and Dr. Landry, commissioner of agriculture, will be among the speakers who will take part in the opening ceremonies.

The fixtures put up for the accommodation of the fruit exhibits take up nearly all the available space in the big rink. A large stand for preserved fruits has been erected in the centre of the rink, and around it are tables upon which will be exhibited the four finest varieties of fruit grown in the province. Other tables upon which apples and other fruits will be exhibited in plates are arranged in tiers around the rink. At the far end a space for apple barrels has been reserved, and on the sides fixtures have been put up for holding fruit in boxes.

Overhead the hall is gay with flags, bunting and paper lanterns, and the western wall is hung with pictures of fruit farms, trees and caterpillars—a collection of views showing various aspects of the fruit raising business.

The principal feature of the fair will probably be the exhibits of fruits which have been gathered together by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, with the object of showing farmers attending the Fruit Growers' convention and the public generally something of what New Brunswick is capable of in the way of fruit raising. At the same time the government exhibit will be only a smaller portion of the fair, as the private exhibits will be numerous and varied, and a revelation to many people.

Today the exhibitors will be busy arranging their displays of fruit, and it is hoped that everything will be in readiness for the formal opening this evening. Most of the experts who will address the Fruit Growers' convention are expected to arrive in town today. Some of them will probably be called upon to take part in the opening exercises. In addition to the delegates to the Fruit Growers' convention, which will be the largest ever held in the province, many farmers who have as yet given little attention to fruit raising, will, it is expected, visit the show, in order to see for themselves whether the opinions which have been freely expressed by the Provincial Horticulturist in regard to the fruit raising possibilities of the province are justified.

The fruit show is being put on by the Provincial Department of Agriculture as an object lesson to farmers of what they may do in the matter of raising fruits, and also as a means of advertising the possibilities of the province. It is believed it will not only have the effect of waking up the farmers, but will prove a profitable advertisement. The officials of the department of agriculture intend to have a series of photos of the various exhibits taken and sent to England for distribution among the immigration agencies, and at the offices of the fruit dealers associations. These photos it is hoped, will have the effect of extending the markets for New Brunswick apples, as well as of attracting people here with the object of starting fruit farms.

ALD. JONES' FRIENDS WERE OUT IN FORCE

Representative of Sydney Ward Captured Popularity Contest at Every Day Club Fair—Closed Saturday Night

The Every Day Club fair was closed on Saturday evening, after a most successful week. Despite the bad weather of the closing night, there was a large number in attendance and the night was the most successful of the week. Late in the evening R. L. Sheppard acted as auctioneer and sold the articles on the fancy goods and candy tables which had not otherwise been disposed of. In this way a large sum was realized.

The contest for the most popular alderman was won by Alderman Jones, who had 936 votes in his credit and plenty more in reserve if they were needed. The standing of the other contestants was as follows: Ald. Russell 221; Ald. Wignone 116; Ald. Potts 49; Ald. Sprout 45; Ald. Hayes 40; Ald. McGoldrick 28; Ald. Smith 15. There was a seating vote for four or five other members of the council.

The prize on the bolo table on Saturday night was won by C. Nichols and the door prize by ticket No. 437. The winners in the various drawings will be announced later. The members of the club are naturally pleased with the success of the fair and are grateful to all who aided in its success.

A meeting of the club members will be held in the hall this evening, when all are requested to be present.

Nickel's Big Holiday Show Starts at 10 A. M. Today. Today the Nickel will be opened at 10 in the morning, as is the usual holiday custom in this popular theatre. This will allow hundreds of people the opportunity of taking in the attractions in other playhouses later in the day. The bill for Thanksgiving Day is especially fine. There will be a fine Biograph Indian drama—said to be the finest yet—entitled "The Broken Doll," a story with strong emotional qualities, mixed with adventure and scenic grandeur. The comedy number on the bill is the most laughable in a long while. It is "The Sanitarium," a Selig scream that should cause untold merriment. Of an educational quality, "A Trip to Corsica in an Automobile" will be of special interest and also on this reel will be a French society comedy "The Birthday Present." Mr. Floyd Baxter will sing Malloy's "Love's Old Sweet Song," and Miss Nevin will sing "You're Mine in June Time, Jennie, Dear." Doors open at 10 a. m., 1 p. m. and 6.30 p. m.

Fairville Court Cases. In the Fairville court Saturday morning, George Coleman was fined $5 and costs by Justice Masses for creating a disturbance and interfering with passengers at Fairville station. Wallace Stevens was remanded on a charge of aggravated assault on Policeman Robert Lawson, of Fairville. The assault was committed last August, and the warrant was sworn out at once, but Stevens was successful in evading the police until nabbed by Policeman Lucas yesterday.

At Chubb's Corner. T. T. Lantlam at Chubb's Corner on Saturday sold the leasehold lot with building materials and concrete basement on Metcalf street. Charles McCosnell became the owner at $100.

JOHNSTON L.O.L. FAIR OPENED SATURDAY

Energetic Committees in Charge of Various Games and Attractions -- Saturday Night's Prize Winners.

Johnston, L. O. L. fair was opened on Saturday evening in the Orange Hall, Germain street. There was a good attendance considering the weather. The fair will continue this afternoon and evening and Tuesday evening. The following are the committees in charge of the various tables and games:

Fancy work table—Mrs. William Simpson. Apron table—Mrs. Charles Marshall. Candy table—Mrs. Jas. Sullivan. Refreshments—Mrs. M. A. McLeod. Shooting gallery—Alfred Bentley. Bean board—Jas. Sullivan. Nine pins table—Oscar Grant. The following were the prize winners in the various events on Saturday evening: Nine Pins table—Ladies' prize, Mrs. O. Grant; Bean board—Mrs. John Howe; Shooting gallery—James Sullivan. Ticket No. 509 won the door prize, John London.

There will be a door prize each evening. Drawing No. 1 that was to have taken place on Saturday evening will be drawn on Monday evening at 9.30 when all tickets must be in.

Sugar Refinery Plans Filed. After a period of anxious waiting, the plans of the Durant sugar refinery were filed on Saturday morning with the city clerk by P. R. Taylor, Mr. Durant's legal adviser. The plans were filed within six weeks of the expiration of the time allowed by the legislation authorizing the transfer of the site. The plans make an impressive looking display. Four large blueprints are filed with details of the proposed plant, which is composed of a group of four or five large buildings. Altogether the plant shown is depicted on a very large scale and if erected will make an imposing addition to the manufacturing plants of the city. Neither Mr. Taylor nor the mayor has received any word as to when the work of reproducing the plans in brick and stone will be commenced.

A New Policeman. A successor to Chas. W. Hughes, as a member of the police force, was sworn in Saturday morning. Wm. W. Anderson being the choice of Chief Clark for the position. Policeman Hughes will start his duties on Tuesday as chief of police of Campbellton, while his successor went on duty for the first time Saturday evening. The new man is a native of this city. He stands six feet one inch in height, weighs 195 pounds, is 30 years of age, and aside from his fine physical appearance, combs to the force well recommended. He has been formerly employed at "long-shore work" and for a time was in the employ of the St. John Street Railway.

At Chubb's Corner. T. T. Lantlam at Chubb's Corner on Saturday sold the leasehold lot with building materials and concrete basement on Metcalf street. Charles McCosnell became the owner at $100.

A FLORAL PATH ACROSS CANADA

C. P. R.'s Flower Scheme, Now Sixteen Years Old, Has Resulted in a Chain of Beautiful Gardens.

The inauguration of the flower scheme by the Canadian Pacific Railway company, sixteen years ago, has resulted in there now being over 1500 gardens on the whole system. Railway stations, round houses, divisional offices, section houses, watchmen's gates, and interlocking points, are adorned with flowers, which the men take care of in their spare time. These employees are naturally amateurs, but their taste and example have spread to the communities across the continent with astonishingly beneficial results. Enthusiasm and success this year have been greater than ever, showing the good use there has been made of the thousands of packages of seeds, plants and shrubs which were distributed early in the spring. A number of prizes were awarded all over the system for the best gardens, and the winners names will be announced shortly.

Now the company is sending out over half a million bulbs for all planting and early bloom in the spring of 1911. The company purchases now all varieties of flowers procurable and the markets of the world are sought for seeds and bulbs. Travellers over the C. P. R. are delighted with the green lawns, brightened by flowers, which greet their eyes, and it is a common occurrence for some flower lover from Europe or the United States to drift into the company's offices with a carefully pressed flower plucked in some station garden, to ask the name and how to cultivate it.

REVISORS LISTS ARE LARGEST ON RECORD

More Persons Entitled to Vote Next Year Than Ever Before. An evidence of St. John's growth is seen in the fact that the voters' lists for next year, which have just been passed by the revisors, contain more names than ever before in the history of the city. Last year there were 11,013 names on the list, and it was a record. This year there are 11,557, an increase of 144 names. The lists first made up contained 10,987 names, but these were for conditions at the first of last year. All who came of age since were entitled to have their names added. The Liberal party, evidently in anticipation of an election next year, submitted 75 names, of which the revisors accepted 45 and rejected 30. The figures, as completed, for the different wards are:

Table with columns: Preliminary, Suffrage, Added, Final. Rows: Ward, Guy, Brooks, Sidney, Dukes, Queens, Kings, Wellington, Prince, Victoria, Dufferin, Lansdowne, Lorne, Stanley, Non-resident. Totals: 10,987, 41, 211, 11,557.

WILL BE A BIG DAY AT Y. M. C. A.

Cross Country Runs, Gymnastic Entertainment and Halloween Social Should Make Attractive Programme.

Today promises to be a big one in Y. M. C. A. circles.

At 9:30 o'clock this morning the Harriers and Seniors will run in a body to Sandy Point and will race from there to the mountain in Rockwood Park and then to the association building. For the first two Harriers finishing, silver medals will be presented and a bronze medal will be given to the senior finishing first who is not a Harrier.

The boys' cross-country run promises to be an interesting event. They will run from the association building to the log cabin in Rockwood Park and back, taking any route that they wish. A bronze medal will be given to the first boy under 16 years of age finishing, and a bronze medal to the first boy finishing who is between 16 and 18 years of age.

At 1:15 o'clock tonight the big gym entertainment commences. Harrison's orchestra will be present, also the Trinity boys' quartette. The Harrier tumbling troupe will perform and there will be many other interesting events.

After the gym entertainment there will be a Halloween social for the seniors and their lady and gentleman friends. Thirteen booths have been erected and refreshments will be served. The social will take place between 10 and 12 o'clock.

CROWDS VISITED THE TEMPLE FAIR

Temple Hall, North End, Handsomely Decorated for Annual Bazaar, Which Opened on Saturday Evening.

The Temple Fair opened in the Temple building, Main street, Saturday night, and notwithstanding the heavy rainstorm, the building was well filled. The chair was taken at 8:30 o'clock and His Worship Mayor Frink was introduced. In a few well chosen remarks he reviewed the work done by similar institutions and spoke of the efforts put forth by the young men of Alexandra Temple in the erection of their fine new building. At the conclusion of his remarks he officially declared the fair to be open. He then reviewed the booths and intimated that the fair was one of the best ever held in the city.

The foundation on which the fair is built is the representation of all the provinces in Canada. Each booth represents a province and that of Ottawa is the capital of the Dominion, is in the centre of the building. Over the top of each booth is a finely painted coat of arms of the respective province. Over the gallery is the city coat of arms and above each is the national flag.

THIS A SCHOOL TEACHER PUG

KID HENRY.

Allentown, Pa., Oct. 28.—When Eddie Pulichs told his mother he intended teaching school after he graduated, the man was well pleased. She admitted teaching was an admirable career for her son.

So Eddie began teaching the young idea, but something, perhaps the old Dutch pugnacity, kept gnawing away at him. As yet Eddie passed up the rod and answered the call in his blood.

Despite parental storms Eddie went to Philadelphia and made good as a preliminary and semi-finalist in the six round bouts. He has been climbing steadily and is booked toward the chief events class.

In order not to offend the family he took the name of "Kid Henry" when he began fighting, and under this moniker he is well known to the fight fans of the Pennsylvania metropolis.

A door prize is given each night and that of Saturday night was a half barrel of flour and was won by Mrs. S. Hamm. This prize was donated by the Canadian Cereal Company.

Sioux City Club Won Western Pennant With .300 Average

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 30.—What do you think of a class A team with batting average better than .300? Some hitting, isn't it? You have seldom heard of a team in company as fast as a class A batting consistently enough to shove the team average up to the point which batters consider select, even when entered by individuals.

But Sioux City, winner of the pennant in the Western league, turned the trick. Led by "Babe" Towne, ex-White Sox, eight of the regulars have batted better than .300. Slack work has kept the team in front for the best part of the season.

Three former big leaguers have been important cogs in the Sioux City machine. Behind the bat Towne has been the class of the league. Fred Stem, last year with the Boston Nationals, has played a great game, and Lee Quillen an old Comiskeyite, has done well at bat and at third.

Martin O'Toole, who holds the league stillout record with 18, has led the pitchers. He won 22 games and lost 5. O'Toole goes to St. Paul next year. The brainy defense has been due largely to Geo. Andreas, whose work at second base has bordered on the sensational all season.

SOCIALISTS HAD A LARGE MEETING

H. H. Stuart of Newcastle the Speaker at Socialist Meeting Last Evening—The Growth of Socialism.

H. H. Stuart, of Newcastle, was the principal speaker at the socialist meeting last evening. Chairman Taylor said the editor of the Times had told them that socialists could not make converts by telling the truth. He supposed the editor knew how difficult it would be to make converts to the Liberal party if he told the truth.

Mr. Stuart said in part: The ancestors of most of the nations of the earth were cannibals. Nearly every tribe was at war with every other tribe, and the stronger tribes killed and ate the weaker. Gradually they learned that it was unprofitable to eat the vanquished, and they retained the captives as slaves. Chattel slavery was thus established.

The ruling classes of Rome in order to increase the number of slaves gouged the free men to revolt, then conquered them and reduced them to slavery.

Chattel slavery gave place to serfdom mainly because the masters found it to their interests to give the worker a stake in the soil.

The modern capitalist class abolished serfdom, because it was necessary to break the power of the lords of the soil in order to get workers for their factories.

Work or Starve. The slave had to be kept; the serf could not be put off the land; the modern laborer was free to work, if he could get a job and starve if he couldn't. Unlike the horse and cow he is not sure of his livelihood. He is not free to take the air, being liable to arrest for vagrancy.

Continuing the speaker said the periodic crises were due to the fact that the worker did not receive enough in wages to buy back what he produced. Hence every few years the capitalists had a surplus on hand, and had to stop production till they could work off the surplus on foreign markets.

BENDER SETS A NEW MARK

Mighty Chief in Holding Cubs to Three Hits in Opening Game Eclipsed All Previous Records.

In the first game of the world series Bender set a record that will stand for one year. It will be impossible for any pitcher in the National or the American league to break it.

Since the two leagues have been battling for championships there has never been a pitcher who went into the first game and allowed a team three hits.

That is the record that will stand for one year before it can be broken. As great as Mathewson was he never opened a world series and allowed the opposing team three hits.

Here are the records of the hits that have been made in the opening game of the world series since the two leagues started to play, for the championship.

In 1903 Pittsburgh made 12 hits, while Boston made six less. New York made 10 hits in 1905, Philadelphia made 4 less.

When the two Chicago teams came together in 1906 each got 4 hits. Chicago, on the opening day of 1907, made 10 hits, Detroit 1 less.

In 1908 Chicago made 10 hits to 8 for the Tigers. In 1909 Pittsburgh made 5 hits off the Detroit pitcher, while Detroit made 1 more off the Pittsburgh twirler.

ENGLISHMAN CLASSY SMOKE

YOUNG PIERCE.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 30.—About the classiest 115 pounds of smoke in the world today, from a ring standpoint, is Young Pierce, who holds the English bantamweight title. Pierce won the title in London, and the chances are he could beat Johnny Coulton if the latter would give him a chance.

Pierce is at his best at 116 pounds, but he can scale 115 if he has to. He fought Abe Attell twice, giving the champion featherweight six pounds. The first fight was a draw, and Attell won in 16 rounds when they met again. Pierce fought Owen Moran twice, losing in 18 rounds and scoring the limit. He had to grant the Englishman 12 pounds, and any time Moran is given 12 pounds it's a cinch he will come in front, because there aren't many men of his own weight living able to cope with the stocky little Englishman, let alone give him weight.

JUVENILE OPERA COMPANY TODAY

Liliputians at the Opera House Will Produce Pinafore This Afternoon and San Toy Tonight.

The Simpson Hoped Liliputian Opera company, composed of thirty clever children arrived in the city yesterday and will this afternoon open a short engagement in the Opera House. St. John has always taken kindly to the performances of talented children and as clever as the Pollard Opera company, here some years ago, set a new standard for this line of entertainment.

In the present company local theatre-goers will see a collection of children as clever as the Pollards, singing the best of the light opera productions. In every respect they present a perfect performance, and their work has been received with the utmost enthusiasm wherever they have appeared. The comedian in the party is said to be a close rival of the famous Teddy Mo-Namara, while an infant prima donna, who sings with wonderful sweetness, is another feature.

Despite the fact that the children are of tender ages, their school studies are not neglected, and a regularly qualified school teacher is an important member of the company. On days when there are no matinee performances the children study for a stipulated time every afternoon, but on matinee days the morning is their study time.

Their first appearance in this city will be this afternoon when they will produce the favorite opera Pinafore, Tonight the Japanese opera, San Toy, will be the bill. The company is booked for a week, and crowded houses are likely during their stay.

GOLF MATCH TODAY

This afternoon the president and vice-president of the Golf club will choose teams and will again battle for supremacy. After the match the losers will entertain the winners to a luncheon.

FREDERICTON GAME ENDED IN SQUABBLE

Close Hard Match Between St. John and Fredericton High School Teams Abandoned With Scores Tied.

Fredericton, Oct. 30.—St. John and Fredericton high school teams battled for the full time of their usual game at College Field on Saturday and started to play two ten minute periods of overtime when the crowds surged on the field during a long drawn out dispute and play was stopped with the score 3 to 3.

The game was marked by hard close playing with ill feeling between most of the members of the two teams evident about all the time. There was lots of rough work in which players of both teams appeared equally guilty, and during the overtime, when Deedes, a U. N. B. player, who was referee, ordered Walker of the Fredericton team off the field th local team rebelled.

Finally they decided they would play no more unless Walker was allowed to play, or else that Donnelly of the St. John team, who had been mixing it up with Walker, was put off too.

There was a general mix up, during the course of which Deedes was almost mobbed after he had struck at a reporter, who was standing with both hands in his pockets and had resented the official's discourteous reply to a question two newspapermen asked him.

Deedes' work as referee created dissatisfaction with the crowd. St. John players as well as Fredericton team were anxious to have finished the game as both felt they could win, and were standing up pluckily and giving and taking all they could in a game which was being bitterly contested.

St. John team had the best of the play in the first half and forced the Fredericton team to touch for safety and kick the ball over dead line as well as scoring, when Murphy caught the ball, after short kick by the Fredericton full back and bucked through the yellow and black team for a try. Capt. Donnelly, who played a hard game throughout, tried to kick the goal but failed to convert, half time arriving with score 3 to nought in favor of St. John.

In the second half the Fredericton team turned the tables and the play was in favor of the local team which lost several opportunities to win the game by poor tactics when near the St. John team's goal line in the closing minutes of the second half.

Walker was mostly responsible for the Fredericton team's only try, making a run of 50 yards or more after he had intercepted a pass. It was the prettiest play of the game, as he did not have a clean field but had to ward off several attempts to tackle and when the fullback got him he passed cleanly to Burns who dashed over St. John's line for a try. Capt. Brewster failed to kick the goal and the score was tied up, Fredericton, 3; St. John, 3.

In this half the St. John team touched for safety once and the ball was kicked over the goal line once, thus evening up for the Fredericton team's defence plays in the first half. What occurred in the overtime play is as follows: Fredericton St. John

THE WEATHER.

Maritime—Fresh southerly and southwesterly winds fair and milder. Toronto, Oct. 30.—A few showers have occurred today in the Gaspé peninsula and eastern districts of the Maritime Provinces, but elsewhere in Canada the weather has been fair. A disturbance which is centred far north of Lake Superior this evening, has been accompanied by moderate gales in the lake region. Winnipeg—30, 48. Port Arthur—30, 40. Parry Sound—26, 44. London, 14, 45. Toronto—25, 41. Ottawa—28, 40. Montreal—30, 36. Quebec—32, 40. Halifax—40, 44.

AROUND THE CITY

Low Rates. Attention of the travelling public is called to the Eastern Steamship Company's advertisement on page 6 of today's paper for their low rates to Boston and Portland.

Thanksgiving Service. A special Thanksgiving Service under the auspices of the Young People's Society of the Ludlow Street Baptist church will be held in the church hall this evening. A large attendance is expected.

Picked Poppy in Full Bloom. Robert Boyer, of Exmouth street, picked a beautiful perennial poppy in full bloom in his garden yesterday. This flower was the first to bloom in the early spring and it has now put forth its last bloom in the late fall, a very unusual occurrence.

Congregational Reunion. In connection with the anniversary services of Portland Methodist church, the annual reunion of the congregation will be held in the church this evening. There will be a programme of music and refreshments will be served.

Who Lost Pocketbooks? A pocket book found on Paradise Row by Stella Andrews and a pocket book found by Herbert Creighton on Main street Saturday were handed to the police. A sum of money found on Brussels street awaits an owner at the Central Police Station.

Sunday School Conference. A meeting of officers, teachers and workers of the Sunday schools will be held in St. David's Presbyterian church on Tuesday at 8 p. m. It will be under the auspices of the St. John County Association and take the form of a conference conducted by Rev. W. A. Ross, the lately appointed Sunday school field secretary.

City Rifle Club. St. John City Rifle Club held their regular weekly sports match Saturday afternoon on the local rifle range, the attendance being small. There was only a match in A class. The following were the winners and their scores:—R. A. C. Brown, 1st, 89 points; A. G. Staples, 2nd, 87 points. The club will hold their annual Thanksgiving Day match this afternoon, starting at 1.30 sharp. A large attendance is expected.

County Taxes. At the last meeting of the county council, J. King Kelley, the secretary, was directed to collect all taxes due the county. He has arranged to visit the parishes and consult with the boards of assessors on each case on default. Meetings will be held at Dean's hall, Musquash, 2nd Nov.; Masonic hall, St. Martins, 5th Nov.; court room, Fairville, for Lancaster, 12th Nov., and Lee Bros.' store, Little River, for Simonds, 15th Nov.

Prohibition Urged. A largely attended meeting in the interests of the temperance movement was held in the hall of the Granite Rock Division S. of T. last evening. W. D. Baskin presided and Rev. W. R. Robinson, pastor of the Ludlow street Baptist church was the speaker of the evening. He delivered an interesting address, exhorting his audience to take an active part in the campaign to establish a satisfactory prohibition law in the city and elsewhere.

Club Dinner to J. N. Harvey. A pleasant little dinner was held on Saturday evening in one of the private dining rooms of the Union Club, when the members of the executive of the Canadian Club entertained J. Newton Harvey to an informal dinner. Mr. Harvey has been a member of the executive and treasurer of the Canadian Club since its organization. At the conclusion of the dinner, H. A. Powell, in a graceful address, referred to the services which Mr. Harvey had rendered to the club and to the sorrow of the members in parting from him. Mr. Harvey made a feeling reply. Mr. Harvey will leave on Tuesday for his future home in Vancouver.

Rev. Dr. Flanders Home. Rev. Dr. Flanders, who was a delegate to the recent convention at Buffalo, in the interests of the Religious Forward Movement, returned home on Saturday. When interviewed he said the convention was a great success both in point of attendance and the importance of subjects discussed, and he thought the campaigns which would be started as a result of the conference would have a marked effect in quickening the religious life in many communities. However he did not think it would be fair to give a detailed account of his impressions of the convention until he had made a report to a meeting of the men who had sent him to Buffalo.

Sudden Death of I. C. R. Driver. Fred Whitney, a well known I. C. R. locomotive engineer, was stricken with paralysis while driving the Sussex Express Saturday afternoon, and died early Sunday morning. When the Sussex Express left the I. C. R. Depot here at 5.15 Saturday afternoon Mr. Whitney appeared to be in good health, but when the train reached Nauwigewauk he was seized with a paralytic stroke, and had to be removed from the engine. The train proceeded with the fireman in charge of the engine, and the unfortunate driver was taken to his home in Sussex, where despite the efforts of the doctors summoned to attend him he passed away yesterday morning. He was about 65 years of age. He had been in the I. C. R. service for a long time, and was one of the most popular men on the line. He leaves a wife and family.

FIREMEN CALLED TWICE YESTERDAY

Houses on Summer and Wright Streets Received the Attention of Department—Fowler House Damaged.

Yesterday afternoon about 2 o'clock fire was discovered between the floors in Herbert Brown's house at 86 Summer street. A still alarm was sent in to the chemical in the North End, and the firemen were working about an hour before the fire was extinguished. The fire was caused by a register, and considerable damage was done.

At 6.15 o'clock last evening fire was discovered in the rear of Josiah Fowler's house, at 103 Wright street, the building being occupied by the owner's son, Blanchard Fowler. The fire started in the upper section and had run through the floors and roof before it was discovered. An alarm was sent in from box 254 and the fire looked so bad at the start, that a second alarm was sent in. After an hour's work the fire was extinguished but much damage was done to the house by fire and water. The building is covered by insurance and Blanchard Fowler has $1,000 on his furniture with William Thomson & Co.

RALLY DAY IN THE LUDLOW ST. CHURCH

Special Services Held Yesterday Afternoon for Sunday School Children—Interesting Programme Rendered.

Yesterday was Rally Day for the young people of the Ludlow street Baptist church. Special services were held in the church morning and evening, and in the afternoon there were special exercises for the Sunday school children in the school room.

R. H. Parsons, superintendent of the Sunday school, presided over the afternoon ceremonies. After the opening exercises Rev. W. R. Robinson offered prayer, and then several choruses were rendered by the young people. The superintendent then asked a number of questions, and the scholars answered, giving some interesting definitions of the meaning of the rally day exercises. Short addresses were delivered by the pastor and the superintendent. Mr. Parsons, and a fine musical programme was carried out. Miss French and Miss Allan contributed solos; Miss Nettie Gregory also contributed a song and there were a number of choruses by the infant class. The Sunday school was crowded with children and their friends. At the evening service Mr. Robinson preached an interesting sermon upon the duty of parents to their children, and at the morning service he preached upon the relation of the church to the Sunday school, and the duties of each to the other. Solos by Miss Muriel Stewart and Miss Allan were features of the evening service, which was largely attended.

INTERESTING DAY IN WEST SIDE CHURCH

Carleton Methodist Church Observed its Anniversary Yesterday—Observances to Continue Until Wednesday.

The special services in connection with the anniversary of the Carleton Methodist church which were held yesterday were well attended. At the morning service Rev. Wilfrid Gaetz of the Queen Square Methodist church occupied the pulpit, preaching an interesting sermon, in which he referred to the historic development of Methodism in this and other countries. A very fine musical service was also carried out, a feature of which was a baritone solo by Mr. Osborne. At the evening service the pastor, Rev. J. Heaney, preached an interesting sermon, sketching the history of the church, and giving an account of the work it had tried to do on the West Side.

The musical part of the evening service was of a high character. The large choir sang several anthems in a very acceptable manner, and there were other fine features. The male quartette, consisting of Messrs. Long, Fowler, Osborne and Flewelling, sang a hymn, as did also a mixed quartette, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Murray and Mr. Fowler and Mr. Osborne, who were heard to effect in "The Twilight Now Falls," (Wrightson). J. T. Cruikshank contributed a solo. In connection with the celebration of the anniversary of the church a Halloween concert will be given in the school room this evening, for which an interesting programme has been arranged. On Tuesday evening a special service will be held in the church under the auspices of the Young People's League. On Wednesday evening there will be a congregational reunion, at which short addresses will be delivered and refreshments served.

PERSONAL Mrs. J. V. Roberts, who has been dangerously ill, was reported last night to be resting easier and somewhat improved. Prayer Beads Found. A string of prayer beads was found on Mill street yesterday, and the owner can receive it on application at the Central Police Station.

SATURDAY SAW SEVEN ARRESTS

Police Had Strenuous Time on Saturday Afternoon and Night—J. A. Segee in Trouble Again.

The police made seven arrests Saturday afternoon and night. Charles Diggs, the colored peddler, was arrested on a charge of breaking windows. John A. Segee of the North End, who claims to own property on the Millidgeville Road, which the Turnbull Real Estate Company also claim, is in trouble again.

Saturday afternoon he was arrested on a warrant charging him with assaulting Silas Alward and C. W. Adams. The prisoner put up a deposit of $40, and left the Central Station. The case will probably be heard tomorrow in the police court. John Allan was arrested Saturday afternoon on the charge of receiving money from A. M. Belding by false pretences. The prisoner got the money from Mr. Belding to purchase a ticket for a passage to Fredericton. It is claimed that he did not purchase the ticket but used the money for other purposes. Four drunks were also arrested.

PROMPT RESPONSE TO HIS APPEAL

Members of Centenary Congregation Quick to Respond to Request for Funds for New Kindergarten.

Yesterday morning Rev. Dr. Flanders, of Centenary Methodist church while giving out the notices for the week referred to the opening of the mission at the Alward Bridge and said that it would be a good scheme to open a kindergarten in connection with the mission, and try to reach the parents through the children. He expressed the hope that some of the members of the congregation would take up the suggestion and try to raise money to establish the kindergarten school. In connection with the mission Dr. Flanders received a telephone message to the effect that two members of his congregation had subscribed sufficient money to run a kindergarten school in connection with the mission for six months. The men who so promptly acted on the suggestion of Dr. Flanders are Joseph Allison and Ald J. A. Likely.

ASSIGNS CAUSES FOR APPLE CROP FAILURE

Dominion Fruit Inspector Says Setback to Nova Scotia Crop May Prove Valuable Lesson to Farmers.

Three causes for the failure of the Nova Scotia apple crop are given by G. H. Vroom, of Halifax, Dominion fruit inspector for the sister province. Speaking to The Standard last night he said they were (1) the excessive dryness last year when a heavy crop was borne, depleting the vitality of the trees; (2) the mild winter and early spring which forced the growth of the buds, and (3) the heavy frost on April 28 when the thermometer registered 12 degrees of frost. The fact that the frost is responsible for much of the damage, he pointed out, was shown by the fact that on the higher levels where it would be less felt, a crop almost up to the normal has been produced. From Torbrook to Falmouth the crop is good, but in Annapolis county and in the western end of Kings county the crop will not amount to one-eighth of the usual quantity. The outlook for next year is remarkably good however. On his trip Mr. Vroom believes, will not be an unmitigated disaster if it helps to convince the farmers of the advantage of mixed farming. There is too great a tendency on the part of the farmers, he says, to depend entirely on the apples. This is all right, perhaps, in a good year, but a poor crop leaves them in a very serious position. Apart from the practical insurance which would be gained against ruin by a bad apple year, such a course would greatly decrease the cost of living for the farmers. With the present cost of provisions he considers it ridiculous to see farmers buying beef, pork, eggs, butter, vegetables and similar goods which they could produce on their own farms with a little extra labor.
