

VERY SPIRITED DEBATE TAKES PLACE IN HOUSE

When Supplementary Estimates of $1,700,000 for Naval Purposes Were Introduced.

OPPOSITION WOULD BURY THE NAVY

Turning Back to England the Gift of Warships Intended for Use Here.

Ottawa, Ont., June 27.—An introduction by the Minister of Marine of supplementary estimates of $1,700,000 for naval expenditure during the coming year precipitated a spirited debate which lasted four hours in the House of Commons last night without a vote being reached. William Duff (Lunenburg) was the principal opponent. There were three good reasons, he said, why the estimate should not pass. First, Canada could not afford to spend money on a navy; secondly, what they proposed to do would be insufficient for defensive purposes; and, thirdly, public opinion was solidly against the idea. He spoke of the country's huge debt and obligations to returned men and their dependents, and declared that Canada, today, was a poor nation through the heavy burden of taxation they would have to face for the next generation. He bitterly condemned the Government for accepting a gift of submarines "after what those things did during the late war." This "gift" should have been rejected with scorn. He suggested that England's gift of war craft be declined on the ground that Canada could not afford an ambitious navy policy. He proposed that naval dockyards and establishments at Halifax and Esquimaux be turned over to Great Britain.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, J. J. Dennis and Ernest Lapointe opposed the appropriation, their objections coinciding with those of the leader of the Opposition, who moved that the entire new vote be rejected, the House only adopting the original naval estimates of $300,000, which was being asked for along with this one. Hon. T. A. Crerar spoke briefly in support of Mr. Mackenzie King's amendment.

Consistent With Dignity.

Hon. C. C. Balfour said he hoped that Canada would adopt a policy more consistent with her dignity than the Imperial Conference of 1912. Meanwhile Canada was committed by the Laurier Naval Bill of 1910 to the defence of her own shore, and the interim policy of the Government, based on the acceptance of a gift of war craft from Great Britain, required the appropriation of the sum now submitted to the House.

J. E. Armstrong (Lambton) supported the Government. The debate continued vigorously until midnight, when Ernest Lapointe was about to speak in support of the Opposition amendment, when Hon. W. S. Fielding remarked it was Sunday morning, and the debate was adjourned.

During the afternoon the Premier tabled the correspondence relating to the resignation of Hon. James Mackenzie King, last March, from the Board of Commerce. The House finally concurred in the Senate amendment to the Civil Service Act, abolishing a number of holidays, hitherto observed in the service, because they are holy days of the Roman Catholic Church.

The amendment to the Franchise Act was carried in, granting the same salary and Superannuation allowance as that of a Supreme Court Judge to Chief Electoral Officers charged with the administration of the Franchise Act.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King gave notice of an amendment to the Act providing that election advertisements in any form appearing in a newspaper, shall disclose the name of the person or organization paying for it, and this amendment will be carried on third reading. The House reported from committee, subject to the amount of $1,294,300.66, were adopted by the House in committee. An Act to validate excess borrowings under the Demobilization Act was given final reading.

ONE THOUSAND BRITISH TROOPS LAND AT MURERNA

Constantinople, June 27.—One thousand British troops disembarked at Mudernea, on the Sea of Marmara Friday morning and occupied the town for four hours. They then evacuated. The Nationalists resisted and six Turks were killed. Two British were wounded.

INCREASE POWER AT AROOSTOOK FALLS

Electric Energy at This Famous Plant Increased by Many New Additions to Plant.

Special to The Standard
Aroostook, N. B., June 26.—The question of increasing electric power in New Brunswick is one of the most absorbing topics in the province, and the matter of harnessing the Falls at Grand Falls is receiving the special attention of the Provincial Government. It will therefore be of interest to Standard readers to note the great increase of power at Aroostook Falls, situated about 3 miles above Aroostook Jct., on the Presque Isle branch of the C. P. R., which is owned by the Maine and New Brunswick Power Co.

This important extension of the power plant consists of the installation of one more complete unit, consisting of headworks, and a concrete lined tunnel, water wheel, generator, and housing over same, increasing the capacity of electric plant approximately 2400 horse power.

The work was commenced in July 1919, and is now virtually completed. During the summer of 1919 a crew of 35 men were employed who worked in day and night shifts, the principal work being the construction of a concrete lined tunnel from the canal to the turbine, this tunnel which is 10' diameter and 120' in length, was driven through solid rock and was rather unusual in design, in that it was driven at an angle of 30 degrees from the horizontal, having two vertical bends and one horizontal bend, finally connecting to its special designed headworks, which in turn connects with the main power canal.

No delays to operating plant occurred owing to blasting operations, the foundations were put down at 20 feet below the level, and were blasted out of solid rock. A change from previous installations was made in connection with the penstocks which carry the water.

The principal hindrance to carrying on operations was on account of the unprecedented weather conditions during last winter, there being 6 feet of snow and a temperature varying from 20 to 47 below zero. During operations the crew of 35 men were housed and fed at the falls.

At the time the generator was unloaded from its railway truck, it took two days' work to clear the snow and unlash.

The engineer in charge of the installation was Mr. R. Allingham of the Foundation Co., Ltd., Bank of Ottawa Building, Montreal. Mr. Allingham is a Woodstock boy and was educated at McGill College, Montreal.

M. joined with members of Victoria Lodge of Milltown this afternoon in attendance at service in St. James' Presbyterian church in Milltown in commemoration of St. Johns Day. The attendance was large and an admirable address was delivered by Worshipful Brother Rev. A. J. W. Back. Appropriate music was furnished by the choir.

SUGAR TRAFFIC CONTINUES AT THE BORDER

Increased Vigilance on the Part of the Officials, However, Has Reduced the Volume.

CUSTOMS OFFICER RUN DOWN SAT.

When He Ordered Auto Truck Driver, Under Suspicion, to Hold up.

Special to The Standard
St. Stephen, N. B., June 27.—The traffic in sugar continues, but in diminishing volume due to increased vigilance on the part of Government officials. Following instructions from Ottawa, orders have been issued that no sugar is to be transported in town between six and six a. m. under any pretext, and that all sugar in transit during these hours shall be confiscated, together with the carrying vehicles, but there are still some venturesome operators willing to take a chance. There is still a large stock of sugar stored in barns about town which the profiteers are feverishly anxious to get transferred to the United States side of the river before the tariff is lifted in the price of the stuff. The traffic has been so bold in their operations, and so boastful of their former success, that unwelcome publicity has been directed towards them, and they find present operations very difficult. Then, too, there has developed among a considerable number of citizens an inclination to organize seizing parties of their own, consisting of one or two members in their seclusion and to find it any more necessary to give account of their spoils than do the inspectors operating in the cause of prohibition throughout the province.

Pinching Profiteers

Bags of sugar have been disappearing in lots of from one to fifteen from the caches established by the original profiteers, who then find it unprofitable to press enquiries as to who the ultimate profiteers may be, and it has a disquieting effect upon those who are holding sugar stocks and wondering just how soon their newly ordered luxury cars will arrive.

High Handed Work

A high handed piece of work in the sugar traffic occurred at the Milltown bridge Saturday morning, the morning which more is quite likely to be heard of.

At two o'clock, and after the street lights were shut off, an auto truck was seen crossing the Calais side, and Patrick Caughlin, a crippled customs officer, and the only one then on duty, stepped into the street and waved for the driver to stop. The order was disregarded and the tracks of the car, discernible next morning, showed that the car had been in a tight race to catch the officer. Mr. Caughlin was dragged some distance before the car was stopped and, subsequently medical examination showed that the aged and feeble officer had sustained numerous cuts and bruises. The car might have kept right on and the old gentleman allowed to suffer any fate, had not his son, Harry Caughlin, who was a voluntary guardian of the safety of his father, mounted to the rear of the car and engaged the driver in a fight that resulted in the driver, St. Stephen man, since being confined to his bed with a severe scalp wound said to have been inflicted with a monkey wrench.

There are, of course, conflicting reports concerning the affair, but it is quite likely that some part of the truth will be revealed when the affair reaches the courts. But it is evident that if the law is to be recognized and its majesty safeguarded, the officers must be given greater authority than they apparently now possess.

GOVT TAKES OVER CARAQUET RAILWAY

Great Demonstration at Caraquet When Glad Tidings Became Known.

Special to The Standard
Bathurst, N. B., June 26.—Gloucester is rejoicing over the taking over of the Caraquet and Gulf Shore Railway by the Government. General Superintendent L. S. Brown, Freight Agent W. F. Tompkins and Capt. R. H. Martineau, Passenger Agent F. W. Robertson with auditors went over the railway, Thursday, taking possession for the Canadian National Railways. They returned to Bathurst Friday night. The officials were warmly greeted all along the line, particularly at Caraquet where a number of leading citizens with thirty automobiles took the party over Caraquet returning to the Chateau Albert where a large meeting was held, speeches of welcome were made and the needs of the public in the way of railway transportation were placed before the officials by Messrs. S. V. B. Young, D. H. Landry, L. Arthur Cyr, John Moutarr, B. C. Mullins and others.

Superintendent Brown repudiated the people for the enthusiastic welcome given them, assuring them that every effort would be made to improve the road, as soon as possible, and give the business interest and people generally relief from the intolerable conditions he found existing. The other members of the party assured

IRISH JOURNAL SCORES BRITISH METHODS THERE

Calls Director General, Hindenburg Macready—Greenwood is Named Ludendorff.

AMERICA OBSERVING STRICT NEUTRALITY

British Sea Power Aiding in Campaign—Belligerents Demand Armistice.

Dublin, June 25.—Employing the language of war communique, the Freeman's Journal, Irish nationalist newspaper, has today scathing attack on British methods in Ireland. The article said:

"The campaign of General Hindenburg Macready for the reconquest of Ireland is being developed 'according to plan.' 'Yesterday the front was advanced in the West Cork salient and the British three cordons round districts believed to be held in strength by the flying squadron of the 11th Hussars, military descendants, it may be presumed, of the Yeomany of '88, has penetrated into County Wicklow and is entrenched in the Powercourt Demense.

"In County Dublin, Loughlinstown Workhouse, which commands the main line of communications between Dublin and Bray, has been occupied by British troops, and patrols are being pushed out as far as the bridgehead at Little Bray.

"British sea-power is co-operating in the campaign, and a Press Association despatch announces that a naval detachment with three 7-inch guns has arrived in Skibbereen.

"The command of the English Press for the evacuation, with compensation, of loyalists from the war zone has not yet been met; and the refugees are understood to be unwilling to re-emigrate to Belgium and set out on a forced march for Carsonia.

"General Ludendorff Greenwood has withdrawn from the Viceregal Lodge camp to the 'Chief Secretary-Lodge camp and is reported to be studying psychology and busy preparing a peace offensive for simultaneous operation with the mail fist campaign.

"Lord French is in Ypres, and is decorating that battered rest camp with the M. C. In the meantime the Viceregal Lodge camp is deserted, having been reduced to a mere listening-post in No Man's Land.

"Gallier-General Lord Birkenhead, though he is in the legal not the military line, has appointed himself, under the Great Seal O. C. Megaphones, and passionately harangued the House of Lords yesterday on the evacuation of troops, more troops, and still more troops. General Winston Churchill is reported to be unable to make up his mind whether to apply for the position of Eye-Witness on the Irish front or that of O. C. Cinemas.

"America observing a strict and vigilant neutrality, meantime the psychology of the British people imperatively demands immediate attention. Pro-Irishism and pro-common sense have broken out amongst the English dock workers, who yesterday in conference at Drake's Plymouth, passed resolutions supporting Ireland's claim for self-determination, demanding that the armed forces of the Crown be not imported into Ireland, and calling for the evacuation of the military. They also call for an immediate armistice with the organized revolutionary forces in this country.

GREAT ADVANTAGES TO MARITIME PROVINCES

Must Accrue from the Big Steel Merger—Fresh Capital Will Develop Great Iron and Coal Deposits.

Montreal, June 27.—W. D. Ross, Vice President of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company, was in town today, en route to Toronto from New Glasgow where he attended the special meeting of the Scotia shareholders last Friday. Mr. Ross stated that the gathering at New Glasgow was "entirely harmonious."

"I found the Scotia shareholders," said Mr. Ross, "alert to the immense advantages which the big consolidation means to the Maritime Provinces and to the Dominion as a whole. We have unrivalled possibilities in our combined iron and coal deposits which, without fresh capital we cannot develop as we should. Now that Colonel Morden and his English group of associates have allied themselves with us, and we have brought the two great iron and steel industries of Nova Scotia together, linking them up with a splendid shipping connection, we will have at our disposal the necessary resources to develop our holdings."

Mr. Ross added that he had seen a cable from the London Advisory Committee of the Dominion Steel Corporation stating that the overseas organization was in perfect accord with recent developments on this side of the Atlantic, and announcing that orders for many thousands of tons of iron ore had already been placed by the English associates at singularly attractive prices, while the demand for Canadian coal was particularly urgent at highly remunerative rates.

"The consolidation of the companies embraced in the British Empire Steel Corporation," concluded Mr. Ross, "while of prime importance to the Dominion, is a development of Imperial and even world-wide interest which cannot but reflect to the profit and trade importance of the Dominion."

"The town looks in many respects as though it might have gone back to the time of Pope-King. The old streets are quiet and dark as they were then; the ruins and the arches are only lighted by the moon; and demolition and reconstruction has been completely stopped for financial reasons.

CAPITALS OF EUROPE ARE VERY SEDATE

Present a Panorama of Much Cleaning up and Refurbishing, of Keen Optimism Versus Deep Pessimism.

CONSTANTINOPLE ONLY ONE NEAR LIKE PRE-WAR

Vienna is Saddest Sight of All—Paris Opening up a Little.

London, June 26.—A bird's-eye view of Europe's capitals presents a panorama of much cleaning up and refurbishing against much delapidation, of sobriety born of grief, abandonment and revelry born of long nerve strain, of keen optimism versus deep pessimism—of grand contrasts.

London is probably hardest at work, and in soberest mind. Rows and rows of houses are being done up, repaired, and clad in festive coats of white or cream in honor of the first peace summer.

The British capital is alarmingly respectable these days; like a woman with a very, very gay and raffish past, who wants to settle down and be known by all "the best people." And, like this woman, outliving the most straitlaced in her street!

London night life is tamed; the tiger has degenerated into the tabby, it is of the same "family," but entirely "safer." Now, you can take your baby girl to the most flamboyantly named restaurant that ever put a tub of laurel outside its Soho door.

Paris, the city of the boulevardier and the cocotte, whose cafes have been closing at 10 p. m., has now sanctioned 1 a. m. closing.

No dances have been given there after 10 o'clock. There have been no after-theatre suppers. There even has been great difficulty in getting permission to entertain a few friends in one's own house after midnight.

At 11 o'clock the streets have looked as at three in the morning, and in the whole of the city the few houses being redecorated after five years' neglect are those purchased lately by the many Americans who seemingly intend to settle in France.

Rome is ochered as though tired. Unrest, rage of exchange, limitations and prohibitions of all kinds are more severe than in war-time; the lack of coal, and therefore the necessity of economizing in electric light, have given to the city an old-world look.

The town looks in many respects as though it might have gone back to the time of Pope-King. The old streets are quiet and dark as they were then; the ruins and the arches are only lighted by the moon; and demolition and reconstruction has been completely stopped for financial reasons.

TYPHOID FEVER AT ST. STEPHEN

Citizens Worried Lest There be an Outbreak of Disease Originating from Contaminated Ice.

Special to The Standard.
St. Stephen, N. B., June 27.—Two prominent citizens, Wm. Carson, manager of the St. Croix Soap Factory, and Ira Brown, proprietor of a garage on King Street, are patients in Chipman Memorial hospital on observation with what is feared to be typhoid fever. It is some years since there has been a case of typhoid having its origin in St. Stephen, and it is surmised that, if these cases prove to be typhoid, they have had their origin in the use of ice for drinking purposes.

The drinking water of the town is taken from sparkling springs and it is known to be without contamination, but the supply of ice for this season was taken from the river whose waters were long since condemned for nonseptic purposes.

HINDENBURG WAS ALWAYS LOYAL TO THE KAISER

Ludendorff One of Main Movers in Attempt to Oust William and Put Crown Prince on Throne.

FELT EMPEROR WAS MENACE TO COUNTRY

Documents Relating to Conspiracy Have Just Been Made Public by Investigators.

BY VIGGO TOEPFER. (Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic News Service.)

Berlin, June 26.—Interesting sidelights on the conspiracy at the German Grand Headquarters to remove the Kaiser during the war and seat the crown prince in his place are contained in the report of the official commission (Parlamentarische Untersuchungskommission) which is looking into the inner history of the events of the last years of the war.

While the report leaves no doubt of Von Hindenburg's touching loyalty to the man who a few years before the war had snubbed him and sent him into practical exile, there was a very influential clique who worked feverishly to get the Kaiser out of the way if it could be done without any danger to themselves, and chief among these was the Crown Prince.

Hindenburg seems never to have suspected any of his fellow officers of disloyalty, and personally he carried his loyalty so far that when William had fled into Holland he even refused to become a candidate for the first Presidency of the German republic unless such a step was sanctioned by "melner Kaiser."

Ludendorff and his political confidants, Colonel Bauer, however, are shown in a different light by the report. As early as January, 1918, it is shown, Colonel Bauer tried to persuade Ludendorff that it was an urgent matter to remove the Kaiser if possible by inducing him to abdicate in favor of the Crown Prince, but it was necessary to deposit him as the czar was deposed.

He insisted that the Kaiser was a great danger to the safety of the country, and maintained that the only way to put new heart and courage into the German people was by placing the Crown Prince on the throne. He asked Ludendorff that the prince was more than willing to step into his father's shoes.

Ludendorff, it appears, was too wary to take the risk and while anxious to remove William from the throne, he continued his efforts to bolster up the monarch's waning popularity, at the same time using every means to strengthen William's belief that he was as beloved by his people as ever. That he took advantage of Hindenburg's genuine and sincere loyalty is proved by a telegram published for the first time in the report, sent by the Secretary of Legation Von Lepner, now candidate for the Assembly of the German Peoples Party, but at that time a scheming political wire-puller, to the German Foreign Office. The telegram reads:

"I am informed in the strictest confidence that the greater part of these were manufactured by Field Marshal Hindenburg and General Ludendorff for the purpose of demonstrating to the world at large how unanimously the German people endorse the action of their Kaiser. His Majesty has expressed himself as highly pleased with these assurances of loyalty. In my opinion it would please His Majesty very much if all these telegrams were given the widest possible publicity through the press."

U. S. COCKTAIL KING IN LONDON

Master of 200 Kinds Will Show Britishers How to Quench Thirst.

London, June 26.—A new general has appeared to lead the "wet" fray. He is a master of "brilliantness" and expert in the use of liquid fire. His supply of munitions is said to be adequate for a prolonged campaign.

"Boys, step up and meet Harry Craddock, the Cocktail King, late of the Hoffman House, New York, who more recently chief performer at the Holland House. What'll you have?"

Craddock hasn't started operations yet. He's waiting for the completion of his new stores. But, meanwhile, he's perfectly willing to propheet what's going to be on the programme when the present armistice is declared.

"I can make 200 cocktails, all different," he began. "I invented 100 of them myself, and when I get going I will have the stuff ready to make to different brands, most of them from London. This town is different years behind the times in the art of mixing 'em. All they know over here are the Manhattan, Bronx and Martini."

Will Teach London

Craddock expects to have the time of his life teaching Londoners what's what in the cocktail world and, incidentally, reminding American "wet" men that their country was once the land of the free. He even anticipates adding to his 100 inventions.

"How do I construct a cocktail?" he continued. "Well, I sit down quiet like and start experimenting. But I never swallow anything. I just let the mixtures rest on my palate and then spit them out. Swallow, and the cocktail composer is lost."

Some liquors, like colors, won't mix; some are brandy and crown. Then you must know the weights of various cordials and always put the heaviest in first.

Explains Science

"My greatest trouble here will be working with this stuff they hand out. It will take some careful figuring to work out the new proportions for my old drinks."

"I've got a few new ideas for the Brits. For instance, I'm going to make Gin Daisies, served in silver mugs, a long drink with shaped ice decorated with mint. Just the thing for a hot day. Then there will be flip and punches, I've got five and ten gallon punch bowls, and if duffers ask me to make a good iced punch naming the boss I'll do the best."

"Well, it's time I got to work on my 101st variety. Come and see me when I start business, and I'll give you something that'll do you a lot of good. So long!"

Visit of Supt. Woodman of C. P. R. Revives Gossip as to Terminal Needs There.

Special to The Standard. Fredericton, N. B., June 26.—General Superintendent J. M. Woodman, of the C. P. R., is expected in Fredericton soon to look over the situation here respecting station accommodations.

While no other important construction work is being carried on in the East by the C. P. R. at the present time, with the exception of what is urgent, it is understood that the C. P. R. is about ready to reach a definite decision as to further arrangements for Fredericton, having due regard for the increasing importance of this city as a railway centre.

As between entering into a Union Station arrangement and erecting a new C. P. R. Station here, Mr. Woodman, naturally, will make no recommendations until he has carefully inspected the whole layout, been advised of the C. P. R. plans and looked over possible sites personally. Strange things have happened than for the C. P. R. to erect a new station of their own here, and this they will proceed to do, no doubt, unless suggestions in connection with a Union Station arrangement and operation prove satisfactory.

Meanwhile all likelihood of Scully's Grove or any other Regent street property being the site of a Union Station has disappeared, and it is believed the probable location is on University Avenue.

Playgrounds Opened Saturday

City's Supervised Grounds Were Taken Possession of by Hundreds of Happy Youngsters—List of Supervisors for Season.

The city's supervised playgrounds opened Saturday, and the kiddies immediately took possession, fully determined to make the best of rings and swings and heaps of sand, during the long summer vacation.

In some of the playgrounds they were only able to use the sand hill, because the equipment had not yet been installed, and in others only partially so. A mere half day in June seems as nothing to the lad or lass who has made plans with the children for a pleasuring visit through July and August, and so the majority were quite willing to wait till Monday for a swing.

The supervisors were all on hand and made plans with the children for the holding of races and favorite games on Monday, when it is expected to have all the playgrounds in full swing.

The supervisors of the different playgrounds are: Contonick, Miss Trentowsky and Miss R. McDade; Allison, Miss E. Colwell and Miss A. Woodrow; Alexandra, Miss K. Monday and J. Walsh; West Side, Miss E. Higgins and Miss Olive Harding; Aberdeen, Miss B. Fleet and Miss B. Mooney.

Gratton left on Wednesday by automobile for Hudson Falls, New York, where they expect to spend three weeks.

Miss Winnifred Smith is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen C. Grant.

Messrs. Frank Monaghan and James Thompson of Milltown, spent Sunday in town.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Phelan arrived from Montreal on Friday and will, as is their usual custom, spend the summer months here.

Mrs. James Spisany of Calais, is a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. James Irvin.

Mrs. McLaughlin of Woodland, Me., is visiting her brother, Samuel McLaughlin.

Professor Meyer and Ralph Meyer of New York, are guests at Dorwin, Lake Utopia.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Andrews and daughter, arrived here from Springfield, Mass., on Tuesday and are guests of her aunt, Mrs. James S. McKay.

Harold D. Baldwin has recovered from his recent illness and returned from Fredericton, where he has been attending Normal School.

Mrs. J. O. Baldwin and her children have arrived from the West and are visiting the Judge's old home here.

Mr. George McCormick and daughter, Mattie of St. Stephen, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McVicar.

Mr. Harold Day, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Spear, returned to St. John on Tuesday.

Mr. Walter Lawford of Fredericton, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Jamieson.

Mr. Robt. Smith left on Wednesday for Chipman, his home.

Mrs. (Judge) J. O. Baldwin, Miss Laura Meating, Messrs. George and Nicholas Meating motored to St. Stephen in their new car on Wednesday.

MISS BUTLER TO SAIL FOR ENGLAND

New York, June 25.—(By Canadian Press)—Miss A. Butler, the English typist who crossed the Atlantic to wed Captain R. Kitchen, Sydney, C. B., but fell in love with Captain Paul Mellor, recently was transferred from Ellis Island this afternoon to the steamship Caronia which sails tomorrow. She and Captain Mellor—unless she changes her mind again—will be married in Manchester, England.

DEMOCRATS READY FOR STORMY TIME

Bryan's Forces Lined up to Give Battle to the Wets—Position of White House Not Known.

San Francisco, June 27.—Issues rather than men furnish the battle ground for the Democratic national convention opening here tomorrow. Candidates cannot be considered until prohibition, the league of nations and the Irish question have been fought out on the floor.

Conests over these planks in the party platform seem inevitable and the convention is all set for a stormy time.

The big fight is over Wm. Jennings Bryan's determination to have "a platform no wet can run on." On this the administration forces appear so far to be pursuing a hands-off policy. As yet nobody knows why to expect from the White House.

On the league of nations issue the administration forces appear so far to be pursuing a hands-off policy. As yet nobody knows why to expect from the White House.

Both wets and dries today launched their planks on the prohibition issue. For the drys Bryan made his proposal of a "drastic and unreasonable law for enforcement of the Volstead act" with no increase in the alcoholic content of beverages.

From the wet camp alternative planks, drafted by Postmaster General Burleson, were issued. One declares for "individual liberty" and modification of the Volstead law to remove its "drastic and unreasonable features," and the other asks for amendment permitting beverages "in fact intoxicating."

ALCOHOL IN EGGS

Johnstown, Pa., June 26.—James Fagan, garden expert and poultryman on a moderate scale, declares that by pure accident he has discovered the secret of producing eggs that exhilarate as well as nourish.

Recently a dozen of Fagan's hens got their first feed of raisin meal and their next day they laid "pick-handle" eggs, their owners declares. A friend of Fagan used a few pounds of raisin meal to make a little "medicine" for his stomach's sake. After the raisins fermented he ran off the liquid for final treatment and threw the raisins into an alley where Fagan's hens feasted on them.

The new poultry feed worked wonders, it is said, in that it had been contemplating the leisure of watching, instead of egg-hatching changed their tactics, cackled with renewed vigor, and resumed laying.

While none of the hens lay more than an egg a day every bird in the flock produces an egg containing 4 percent alcohol, says Fagan.

Chatham

Chatham, N. B., June 24.—The chief attraction being arranged for the approaching holiday, Dominion Day, is a big labor demonstration by the Miramichi, in which there is no membership of over 2700 men. The celebration is under the auspices of the Chatham Branch, I. L. A., and several other locals on the river will cooperate in making the proposed demonstration the largest affair of this kind ever held on the North Shore.

Mr. and Mrs. Fleming Johnston of after an absence of six years, Boston, are visiting the Miramichi. Mrs. S. A. Cameron and two children of Winnipeg, are visiting Chatham relatives.

Miss Mary Williston and Mrs. Bernard Williston of Bay du Vin, visited Mrs. P. M. Jack this week. Mrs. Jack and daughter, Alvina, only recently arrived from Scotland, after an absence of over a year.

Miss Sadie A. Tibbleau of Chatham and Miss Winnifred McKenzie of Douglastown, were among the recent graduates at the Boston City Hospital.

Mrs. D. A. Harquail of Campbellton, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cripps.

Miss Edna McDougall of Truro, is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. B. Gillespie.

JUDGE ROBSON CONTROVERSY IS INTERESTING

Sir Robert Tables All Correspondence in Connection With Resignation of Chairman of Commerce Board.

Also Replies to Mr. Murdoch With the Cards All Exposed Commissioner Murdoch Appears With a Losing Hand.

Three days later Mr. Murdoch wrote to Sir Robert forwarding a memorandum in which he outlined the sections of the Board of Commerce Act, "which were changed in effect by the revision of the Civil Service Act, which was made effective November 10, 1919." In his letter Mr. Murdoch calls attention to changes proposed in the annual report of the Board of Commerce, "to ensure prompt and satisfactory employment of various expert assistants that the Board may need for a short time occasionally without the ability or delay of going to the Civil Service Commission."

Then comes Mr. Murdoch's letter of June 24 in which he resigns his appointment, and Sir Robert's reply cited above.

Robson Correspondence

Robson's correspondence over the resignation of Judge Robson, as Chairman of the Board of Commerce, opens with a letter from Judge Robson to Sir George Foster on February 23, 1920, and closes with a letter from J. B. Hugg to Sir George on March 7, 1920. The first letter has already been published. In it, Judge Robson tenders his resignation, and expresses the view that he is in sympathy with the Act (the Combines and Fair Price Act) and it is his duty to inform you thereof.

"We restrain and discourage the citizen who supplies food and clothing," Judge Robson adds, "but leave free to profiteer, as he pleases, the man who deals in non-essentials or luxuries."

A letter from Sir George Foster follows, in which Judge Robson is informed that his resignation has been accepted and promising that suggestions made will have government consideration. This is a long letter from Judge Robson to Sir George Foster, in which Judge Robson replies to the accusations made against him in respect to the Crescent Creamery Company. The letter was written from Winnipeg on March 1, 1920, and is as follows:

"My dear Sir George: I am glad to hear of your return to St. John for your letters of 25th and 26th ulto. During the conversations with the other commissioners, immediately preceding my retirement, mention was made of several matters. These are an indication to me of the statements made, or likely to be made, to you in my absence.

The Creamery Case.

"There are certain circumstances in relation to the Crescent Creamery Company case here, which are pressed into service against me. I did not sit in that case because, as then stated, my life was here and I was substantially interested in the cause. This is a matter I felt to be of a serious nature. When I was in the Public Utilities Commission, I had an amendment passed declaring I should not be disqualified because of the fact that I was a consumer. This merely shows that the point really weighed do in my judicial position here in the past, where the element of interest was not present, I had administered the law fearlessly and regardless of friend or foe. The law reports show that.

"Much was made of the fact that there was found by Commissioner Murdoch on the desk in my private office, a letter sent to me by the solicitor of the Crescent Creamery Company, enclosing a copy of his draft factum in the stated case pending before the Supreme Court. The sending of the letter was more thoughtless impudence than I could have shown much a surprise to me as to anyone else. I had never suggested such a thing, and, in fact, had previously expressly forbidden that the factum be shown to me. I deny emphatically the imputation that I advised in the case. At this point let me say that my experience has been that, until tribunals of this nature have been supported in their jurisdiction by judgments of our Supreme Courts, they are not apt to receive the desired respect from the classes affected. It was particularly so in the case of radical enactments such as that administered by the Board of Commerce.

Judicial Viewpoint.

"As a lawyer, who had had to study these jurisdictional questions, I had doubt as to the validity of certain material provisions, and I felt that, until these were cleared away, our board was at a disadvantage. I was not the first to raise the question. It has been mooted, I find, long before it occurred to me. I was proceeding judicially, and I acknowledge that I hesitated at making orders limiting prices by restricting profits (practically to a certain extent expropriating) until it was certain that we were in all points justified in so doing. It was this consideration that I took alone that led to the suggestion of getting the legal question disposed of.

"To proceed to another matter, I wish to add unqualifiedly, that in no instance was there any undue imposition of my will upon the other members of the board.

Tariff Enquiry.

"The proposed tariff inquiry was suggested by the Hon. Mr. Wetmore. In fact there was no suggestion of any question, except, perhaps, the fact that the government had indicated that it was considering a tariff inquiry.

"I have the honor to be, Sir, your obedient servant, W. J. Wetmore, 91 Prince William Street, St. John, N. B. New Brunswick Representative"

"To proceed to another matter, I wish to add unqualifiedly, that in no instance was there at any time any imposition of my will upon the other members of the board.

Tariff Enquiry.

"The proposed tariff inquiry was suggested by me and met with approval. In fact there was no suggestion of any question, except, perhaps, the fact that the government had indicated its purpose of appointing a Tariff Commission. My view was that that fact did not absolve us from the duty of going into the matter under our own procedure. I had no political purpose to serve. My view was that an effective way of reducing the cost of clothing of all kinds would likely be found to be by means of tariff reduction. That may be deferred till exchange is rectified, but, subject to that, I believe my theory correct. It was in this connection that the textile inquiries were issued and that the difficulty in obtaining expert help herein referred to became acute.

"Another point. There was never hesitation on the part of any one at proceeding to hold public hearings and cost exposures. Had we sat still and proceeded by the silent questionnaire method, there would have been an outcry at once. When the acts were introduced, publicly was stated to one of the objects of the public hearing, that was allowed by our investigations, was undoubtedly, beneficial and from what I heard on all hands, gave great satisfaction to the consuming public. Any suggestion that I was responsible for inquiring into costs and profits of milkmen, bakers and small retailers, contrary to the wishes of the majority of the board is absolutely unfounded.

"I had in view that appointment of a local officer in every municipality of any size (at the expense of the municipality after the pattern of the English system) would be advantageous to the people of other parts of the Kingdom, and the Government will hesitate to employ all the forces at its disposal to attain this."

to restrain and forbid publication thereof. These letters were not invited and were not expected by Judge Robson, and publication will place him in a false light and be misleading to all who read them."

When Sir Robert ordered the correspondence relative to the resignation of Judge Robson "in accordance with an order placed before the House by the member for Montserrat (Hon. R. Lemieux) and for Pontiac (P. S. Cahill), Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King inquired if all the correspondence was there; Sir Robert replied that it was.

"I take the position that every member of the Board should consider the effect of the acts upon every element of the community. The Board represented no class. I represented no class. The Acts, while capable of good, are capable, also, of injury to certain vital interests of Canada. It was the duty of the Board to see that harm was avoided if possible. I never went further than that. I have expressed the view that profit restriction, applied to agriculture and livestock and dairy industries is liable to retard production at a time when the country urgently needs it. I have, also, latterly strongly felt the discrimination applied by the Act against certain classes of dealers. To this extent I frankly acknowledge being disinclined to apply the Act rigidly. I have thought the system should in this connection at least, be withdrawn or modified.

"These are hurriedly some expressions which I feel should be in your hands.

"I have no intention of entering into personal controversy.

"I did not take the position because I wanted it, but because of the strong demand of some who thought I should do some public service. I was not connected with any interest and there was certainly no understandings.

"Unless more personalities are to be included in it, I will be glad to assist by contributing my views, purely in the public interest.

"It is in your discretion to make this letter an official one if you see fit.

"I am sincerely yours,
(Signed) H. A. ROBSON.

Early Complaints.

On March 3 Mr. Murdock wrote to Sir George Foster, submitting the Hugg letter in regard to the factum of the Crescent Creamery Company and an unsigned document addressed to the "Canadian Daily Newspaper Association" in which the statement is made "I am directed by the board of commerce to inform you that the board does not consider that its functions extend to the duty of seeing that specific compliance with its orders is made by the various newspaper companies affected."

Also accompanying Mr. Murdock's letter, is a long memorandum headed "Judge Robson's resignation as chairman of the board of commerce" in which Mr. Murdock sets forth his case.

The correspondence closed with a message from Judge Robson to Sir George Foster sent from Edmonton on March 6, and one from Mr. Hugg to Sir George, sent from Winnipeg the day following. Judge Robson protests against the divulgence in any manner of personal letters sent "to me and of any confidential conversations with Cabinet Ministers or others."

Mr. Hugg's communication reads "I most respectfully, but firmly, protest against the publication to you, or by you, of my private letters addressed to Judge Robson personally which letters miscarried into unauthorized hands and were illegally copied. ### GOV'T WILL NOT STAND FOR IRISH REPUBLIC

Viscount French Tells Belfast Audience Utmost Political Freedom Will be Given Country.

Belfast, June 27.—Viscount French, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, was here for the unveiling of war and Titanic memorials, speaking at a luncheon yesterday, said.

"It cannot be too clearly shown that the Government never will, under any circumstances, listen to any proposal, either for the establishment of an Irish Republic or the exercise of Ulster. We desire, above all things, to give the country the utmost measure of political freedom, and hope, sometimes against hope, that a peaceable reconciliation will eventually be effected, but, having said so much, I would be wanting in my duty if I did not repeat what I have said before, that we are determined the Irish people shall enjoy the same protection as the people of other parts of the Kingdom, and the Government will not hesitate to employ all the forces at its disposal to attain this."

DIRECTORS OF DOM. STEEL MEET TODAY

To Hear Report of Special Committee on Terms Applicable to Smaller Companies in Merger Plans.

Montreal, June 27.—(By Canadian Press)—Directors of the Dominion Steel Corporation meet here tomorrow afternoon to receive the report of the special committee which have been studying the terms upon which the smaller constituent companies are to enter the British Empire Steel consolidation. It is stated that the committee have reached a decision as to the recommendation to be made to the shareholders, and as to the special meeting to be held probably at Sydney, N. S., within the next fortnight.

Another development in the meeting tomorrow will be the re-election of Hector Melnes, C., to the directorate of the Dominion Steel Corporation, the number of directors of the enterprise having been increased at the last meeting from fifteen to nineteen.

STABLE BURNED AT HALIFAX

Several Valuable Horses Were Destroyed and Much Stable Equipment.

Halifax, N. S., June 27.—J. A. Leaman & Co.'s stables on South street were destroyed by fire tonight. Three horses were burned to death, among them being the brood mare Jessie Lambert. Eight horses on the ground floor were saved. All the sleighs and gear on the upper floor were destroyed. The fire, which started on one of the upper floors, spread with great rapidity, and the building was practically doomed before the arrival of the fire-fighting apparatus.

The fire was a spectacular one, and sparks were carried all over the neighborhood, but no other buildings caught.

On the top floor there resided two families, Beaton and Clattenburg. They got out safely, but lost their effects.

The horses and wagons are owned by R. H. Edwards. His race horses, which were quartered in the same stables during the winter, are now in Moncton. The property loss is estimated at $10,000.

ranging in age from 11 years to five weeks. The family occupied the third floor of the building and so rapidly did the fire spread that all escape for them was cut off.

Every road offers enemies to tire life. But the greatest enemy of all is neglect, or lack of knowledge on the part of the tire user.

prevent them growing. If they are already large, see your Goodyear Service Station Dealer about a Goodyear Reliner or a vulcanized repair.

To enable the motorist to get the last possible mile out of his tires, we have established over 1,500 Goodyear Service Stations in Canada. To supplement their work we have produced Goodyear Tire Savers.

And when you talk to the Goodyear Service Station Dealer about fabric breaks, let him tell you of the other Goodyear Tire Savers and of the other things he will gladly do to help you cut down tire-cost-per-mile.

Inside breaks may be accidentally caused by hitting stones, ruts or bumps while driving at high speed. If such breaks be neglected a blowout may result.

His basis of doing business with us is a basis of winning friends by giving service. He, and the thousands of other Goodyear Service Stations, have helped in this way to build up the largest tire business in the world.

LIVE AND LET LIVE.

The Globe: "The Standard intimates that the milk dispute has taught St. John a wholesome and salutary lesson. What is more, The Standard appears to rejoice thereat."

To some extent The Globe is right. The role of a candid friend is not infrequently a thankless one to play, and at times it has unfortunate results for those who play it; but after all it is a test of real friendship. St. John has no more earnest friend nor one who is prepared to do more to advance her interests than The Standard, and it is for that reason that we write thus.

It is, we imagine, fairly common knowledge that there exists throughout the province a good deal of feeling regarding St. John, that being an important commercial centre, the chief water port of the Dominion, she thinks she is the whole province, and that what she wants she must have, no matter what others may think or say. It is unfortunate that such a feeling should exist, but that it does exist cannot be denied. One meets with it in conversation all over the province, the provincial press voices it also; and, although we may not be thanked for saying so, we fear that St. John is not altogether blameless that conditions are as they are.

Some years ago the Provincial Legislative Buildings were burned down. Immediately there was a loud outcry from St. John that they must be removed from Fredericton and established here. The fact that Fredericton had been the seat of government from the time of the foundation of the province mattered not at all; St. John wanted the Legislative Buildings, and that was enough. A few months ago King's College was destroyed by fire. Hardly had the flames been got under control than a movement was set on foot to have the College brought here instead of rebuilding at Windsor. Some people, not satisfied with this suggestion, wanted King's united with the U. N. B. and both those institutions brought to St. John. The fact that to carry out these proposals would be robbing other places of their schools is not mentioned. Now we have just had the milk trouble. St. John works on Daylight time, and wanted to compel others who did not do so to fall in with her wishes, and there are some people in the city who seem surprised that these others would not do it. We could give several other instances in which St. John wished to profit at the expense of others, but these will do as illustrations.

The citizens of St. John are proud of their city, and very justly so. They have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars, millions in fact, in its development, and they are prepared to spend more millions still in the same cause. This is a natural and very laudable disposition to have, and one that should be encouraged. But in the effort to build up St. John there is no need to want to tear down any other place, or make any other place "knuckle under" to our wishes. If we cannot get along except at the expense of others in the province, we had better remain as we are. But we can get along without interfering with others; we can live and let others live also. In most matters, other than those relating to railway and harbor facilities, which are matters of national importance, we are independent, we do not need to consult anyone else's feelings; but whenever anything that we want to do comes into conflict with any outside interests, we ought to, and should, pay respect to those interests, and not want all our own way.

Until we realize this condition of affairs and govern ourselves accordingly, it will be idle to expect any diminution in the feeling of irritation—not to call it antagonism—that other portions of the province feel at, or to our city; and if the little trouble there has just been with the Kings County milk producers has in any way helped to bring home to our citizens that, however important the interests of the city may be in their estimation, other people and places have their own interests also, which they are just as jealous of as we are of ours, the lesson will not have been in vain. When we recognize this, and live up to it, a better understanding will be arrived at between the city and the remainder of the province, to the mutual advantage of both. Then we all—including The Globe—can rejoice.

A WHEAT BOARD.

For some time a considerable amount of uncertainty has existed as to what were the intentions of the Government regarding the continuation of the Wheat Board. This uncertainty has been at rest by the introduction of a resolution in the Commons for the appointment of a Board, though the legislation proposed to be founded upon it will be permissive in character. It says the Government "may" appoint the Board; and the explanation of the legislation given to the caucus would seem to indicate that it will not be appointed, or at all events, not be called upon to take action, unless all other agencies fail.

Newspaper reports indicate that there was some opposition to the legislation manifested in the caucus; but the Government seems to have convinced some of those who were most strongly opposed to it that the appointment of the new Board is simply to provide against a contingency. There was a distinct understanding that the Board would not operate unless Great Britain, France, Italy and the United States should begin dealing with wheat in their natural capacity. Under the Lever law the United States can reorganize a Board at a moment's notice and if this is done and affects the market, Canada will also take steps.

The proposed legislation regarding the Wheat Board provides for a Board of twelve members, with extensive powers. It may take delivery of wheat in Canada at any point and pay by way of advance to those delivering the same such price per bushel as shall be set out in a schedule to be approved by the Governor-in-Council, and issue participation certificates therefor. It shall sell such wheat in Canada to millers at prices to be governed by the world's price then obtaining, having regard to cost of handling, transport and storage. It may store and transport wheat with a view to marketing or sell it in excess of domestic requirements to purchasers abroad providing sufficient is retained for seed in Canada in 1922. It shall also fix the maximum prices or margins of profit and standards of quality for flour and other wheat products, purchase flour from millers at prices fixed by the Board for sale in Canada or abroad; deliver to millers or purchasers abroad wheat stored in elevators, ships or cars; move grain through elevators, cars or boats; control by license or otherwise the export and sale of flour out of Canada; and allocate cars and tonnage.

The Board has power to take deliveries of wheat when and by such organizations and may pay such commissions as it sees fit. As soon as it has received payment in full for all wheat delivered and deducted expenses the balance shall be delivered on participation certificates. The Board shall have supreme power over transportation facilities for handling grain; and may demand any information necessary for the conducting of its operations. There shall not be power to deal in wheat futures on any grain exchange or elsewhere while the Act is in force except with the written permission of the Board.

It is understood that the Grain Exchange will be advised not to contemplate opening until some definite advice as to the future is received from overseas.

It is said the grain men held a meeting with a sub-committee of the Cabinet after the caucus was held trying to secure from the Government such safeguards as would enable them to go ahead and make contracts. The banks are willing to advance money to finance the grain trade, but apparently want the Government to guarantee them, which it is not inclined to do.

SLAVES OF FASHION.

Men are apt to sneer at woman's dress. In some respects, however, there is no doubt that she sets him an example which he ought to be glad to follow. It is man, not woman, who is dressed these summer months in a manner that is dictated not by common sense or the principles of health and hygiene, but purely by custom and fashion.

Has man no will or power to break away and make himself more comfortable and better in health? The woman wears short sleeves and nothing round her neck. The man struts away in office or chambers or counting-house or counting-room in a collar which clinches his neck and in sleeves of shirt and coat which reach, if they do not cover, the wrist.

A physician declares that in hot weather there is nothing more needful than to have the wrists and the neck bare. Above all, there should be nothing tight round the neck. Any thing of this kind compresses the large veins carrying back the blood from the head and tends to increase that congestion in the face and brain which arises so easily in a warm temperature. If man desired approval he could set about getting it in no more likely manner than by enclosing his neck in a tight, firm collar and wearing this while he employed the utmost energies of his intellectual capacity.

Yet this is the very thing he does when as lawyer, or doctor, or business man he sets out on his professional occupation. A few independent spirits wear low, soft, loosely fitting collars, but they are apt to be regarded as cranks. The day will come when we shall think them over-dressed. In that millennium we shall all work in short sleeves and no collars in the summer months.

The common use of luxuries makes them a necessity and the demand for luxuries affects their price through the complement of demand which is supply. The discussion on the new taxes reveals how soon we forget to recognize the things that are really luxuries.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

Bolshevik Progress.
 (London Advertiser).
 The Russian Soviet Government reports a stupendous deficit. And some people say the Bolsheviks are not civilized.

Faith Not Always Needed.
 (Medicine).
 A patient who had sent for the doctor remarked that "he had not the slightest faith in modern medical science."

"That doesn't matter in the least," replied the doctor. "You see, a mule has no faith in the veterinary surgeon and yet the vet. cures him all the same."

Some Humanitarianism.
 (Hamilton Herald).
 The Montreal humanitarian, Mr. Innes, who publicly protests against the use of poison gas with which to fight the grasshopper pest out west because it would be too painful for the poor hoppers, could be even more absurd if he tried. He might start a campaign against serum because of the pain it gives to the diphtheria, typhoid, typhus, and other germs. He could probably get the Ottawa Citizen to back him up.

Ontario, Quebec and Divorce.
 (Edmonton Journal).
 The attempt to change the general Canadian divorce law has met much the same fate as in other years. An Ottawa despatch states that the bill which was introduced with this object in view as good as dead so far as this session is concerned. Fortunately, thanks to the decision of the Privy Council, we are no longer directly concerned in this part of the Dominion with what Parliament does. Divorces can now be obtained in the Prairie Provinces, though not in Ontario and Quebec, without having to go to the expense of putting a bill through Parliament and of having a committee of venerable Senators pass judgment on the case.

The fact that society in this part of the Dominion shows any disposition to go to pieces because a simple and inexpensive means of obtaining divorce has been substituted for a method of which only the well-to-do could take advantage.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL.
PROHIBITION AS THEY HAVE IT IN THE UNITED STATES.
 To the Editor of The Standard:
 Sir,—I notice in the prohibition advertisement in your paper today a strong exhortation to the people to come out and vote against the sale of beer and wines "and then we shall have real prohibition similar to that now enjoyed in the United States." Well, Mr. Editor, I can only say that the sort of prohibition they now have in the United States will suit me to a T. I have just returned from that country, having spent the last month in New York, Boston and other places in the New England States, and go where I would, I never found any trouble in getting all the liquor I wanted. It is sold openly, of course; but it is known well enough where it can be procured, and there is not enough public support behind the prohibition movement, to get these supplies of supply suppressed. The Volstead Act has created such an upheaval in public opinion that there is absolutely no doubt in the minds of the great majority of the people that it will be very considerably amended, and some think, repealed, in the near future.

The truth of the matter is that the American people realize now that they have allowed matters to go a little too far, they let the prohibition people have their own way for lack of sufficient energy to make any attempt to check their fanatical notions. People see now that if they had put up any kind of a fight for light wines and beers they would have got them, because there are thousands of people who did not want hard liquor, but there was no organized movement in favor of beer and wines that they could support.

If our own people don't look out, it will be the same here. Most people in our own province would like to see spirits barred, who nevertheless would be glad to have the other softer liquors, but unless they get a move on in the next few days, and do some more missionary work than at present seems to be under way, we'll find after the 10th, prox., that the kind of prohibition we have is infinitely worse than they have it in the United States.

Yours truly,
 CARLETON.

A BIT OF VERSE

THE LITTLE CHURCH BACK HOME.

When the big pipe organ's swellin' and the city choir sings,
 And you almost hear the swishing of the living angels' wings,
 And the congregation's musin' in the piousness of their strain,
 Sort of 'heavenly, listless, waitin' for the preacher to begin,
 In that holy hush it happens that I clean forget the place,
 And again I'm muck and lowly fore to the throne of savin' grace;
 The throne that wasn't nestlin' 'neath spire or dome,
 But the sinners sought their Saviour in that little church back home.

When we had protracted meetings 'twould have done you good to hear
 The congregation singing with a blend of voices clear,
 How the "Rock of Ages" towered like a shelterin' sort of wall,
 And our souls soared up to glory since the "Rock" was cleft for all,
 Every face was wreathed with sweetness and we always had a smile,
 For the stranger, saint, or sinner in the pew across the aisle,
 For a diamond's often gathered from the commonest of loam,
 And we didn't mind the settlin' in the little church back home.

The city choir's voices rise in cadence so sweet,
 As they sing about the river where the sainted ones shall meet,
 And the preacher's voice is pleadin' as he asks us, soft and low,
 To treat all men as brothers in this weary vale of woe,
 This city church is handsome and the congregation's large,
 The preacher's doing noble with his heavenly-sought sermons,
 The choir's swellin' anthems soar to heaven through the dome,
 But my old heart is sighin' for the little church back home.

PROHIBITION AS THEY HAVE IT IN THE UNITED STATES.

To the Editor of The Standard:
 Sir,—I notice in the prohibition advertisement in your paper today a strong exhortation to the people to come out and vote against the sale of beer and wines "and then we shall have real prohibition similar to that now enjoyed in the United States." Turkish Women Are Gaining Freedom
 No Longer the Shy Veiled Creatures They Once Were—Education Has Made Great Difference.
 Constantinople, June 24.—Turkish women are no longer the shy veiled creatures who passed their time in the seclusion of the harem and were never seen by foreign men. They still cling to the veil. But the streets in Constantinople and other large Turkish cities are filled with women who have their veils thrown back from their faces. They are highly ornamental and becoming. Most Turkish women don't want to abandon them in favor of hats. But there are many sorts of veils and the smart, black silk veils which some of the women wear are very fetching when draped artistically over their hair.
 In the railway and street cars there are special seats for women but the flimsy curtains which are supposed to screen them from the gaze of men are usually drawn back and it is not uncommon to see men standing in the compartments for women. Only very old men, however, are rash enough to sit down in the same seat with a Turkish woman. Turkish women seldom go to a theater where there are men. Special matinees and evening performances are arranged for women only.
 The war has done much to break down the barrier between Turkish men and women. The women were needed so badly as nurses and relief workers that the government had to avail itself of their services. And now it is regarded as quite proper for men and women to be associated in all sorts of charitable and educational works. Consequently many women who were formerly forced to content themselves with seclusion in a home where fancy work and French novels were the only diversions are devoting their time to hospitals, orphanages and other philanthropic institutions.
 Women who have been educated abroad or in the foreign schools in Turkey are the leaders in this movement for greater freedom for their sex. Their broad experience in war work has interested many women in politics and they have openly played a great part in the nationalist movement. In the Constantinople American Woman's College the Turkish girls take great interest in basketball and other athletic games and the effect upon women who have come under foreign

Condemnation of Liquor License
 Rev. Dr. Hutchinson in Main Street Baptist Church Last Evening Preached a Strong Sermon in Favor of Prohibition.
 Speaking to a large congregation in the Main street Baptist church last evening, the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Hutchinson delivered a stirring condemnation of the liquor license. He pointed out the fallacies of the arguments used by those who would abolish Prohibition, and made a strong appeal to women possessed of the vote, to vote for the continuance of Prohibition, and urged that in doing so, they vote against light wines and beer. Before delivering his sermon he invited any anti-prohibitionist who desired to do so, to come forward and advance his reasons for abolishing prohibition, and volunteered to confute the arguments advanced.
 Dr. Hutchinson took for his text: Isaiah 1: 15-16, "Your hands are full of blood. Wash you, make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; learn to do well."
 As a preface to his sermon Dr. Hutchinson referred to one he preached the preceding Sunday in which he had shown liquor to be the enemy of the individual, the home, the church and the state. This being so he contended, it would be impossible to re-license it, without being involved in national sin and guilt. The last great war proved the liquor business, to quote the words of the premier of the British Isles, Lloyd George, "The worst of all the enemies Great Britain had to fight." "If prohibition was a good thing during the war, it should be just as good, now that the war is over," said Dr. Hutchinson.
 He asked if those who had their eyes opened to the fact that liquor was the worst of enemies, would deliberately close them and willingly become victims of the same enemy once more. He maintained that such would not be the case, if the voice of God was hearkened to.
 As a nation our hands had become filled with the blood of liquor victims, would the system which had been a curse wherever it went, be renewed? It was the desire of some and they advanced the reasons that if the license was not renewed the state would be deprived of a fruitful source of revenue. That the liquor revenues had enriched the treasuries of the Dominion and Provincial Governments by thousands of dollars, was not disputed; but for every dollar so received, the nation had been obliged to spend ten more in the administration of justice and in the upkeep of prisons and penitentiaries. Such being the case, it was questionable if the name applied to the money collected by the governments from the liquor trade could be called revenue.
 Another argument used by anti-prohibitionists was that prohibition did not prohibit. They contended that more liquor is sold under Prohibition than was the case before. If such was the case, why did they insist on its repeal. License had cost considerable, so why should opposers of Prohibition, who claimed that more liquor was sold at the present time, desire the return of the license? Those who argued in such a manner were capable of any trickery or dishonesty. They knew that Prohibition did prohibit, and were therefore anxious for its repeal. Though men were to be seen on the street in an intoxicated condition, their numbers were much less than in license days.
 Another argument of the anti-prohibitionists was that Prohibition prohibited all kinds of substitutes for liquor, such as wood alcohol and lemon extract, because they were unable to get good pure liquor.
 It might be asked what drove the poor wretches to resort to the use of such vile poisons, and the answer was, liquor sold under license. In the light of the fact could such a system be returned to. This particular argument of the anti-prohibitionists, the doctor maintained, was one of the strongest reasons for refusing to return to license. While such arguments were used in an appeal for the return to license, the real reasons of those so anxious for its return were kept in concealment. They could be divided into three classes. First, the class who made money out of it, and were willing to become rich at the cost of the poverty, misery and suffering of others. The second class, was composed of the slaves of intoxicating liquor. Their will power had become destroyed, and they were determined to have alcohol regardless of the cost, even though it meant life itself.
 Third class was composed of those who claimed they were strong enough to take it or leave it alone. They saw no reason why they should be deprived of their personal liberty, and thought they should be allowed to drink moderately if they wished. The very fact that they wanted liquor and were determined to get it, proved the fallacy of their claim of being able to leave liquor alone.
 The sermon closed with a strong appeal to all wives, mothers and sisters, possessing the vote to cast their ballots in favor of Prohibition and influence is making the old life of seclusion and inactivity unattractive to younger Turkish women.

June Brides
 Ellison-Barter
 A very pretty wedding took place on June 23rd at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baxter, Midlands, Kings Co., when their eldest daughter, Dora May, was united in marriage to Francis Norman Ellison, also of Midlands, by Rev. Mr. Sears of Norton. As the bridal party entered the parlor, which was handsomely decorated with potted plants, the wedding march was played by Mrs. Medley Pearson, cousin of the bride. The bride, who looked charming in a gown of white silk, was given away by her father and was unattended. After the ceremony a bounteous repast was served, the guests numbering about forty. The bride received a large number of handsome gifts, that of the bridegroom being a pair of gold. The happy couple left Thursday on an extended trip to Banor and points in Maine. On their return they will reside in Midlands.
 McIntosh-Simpson
 The marriage of Miss Ellen McIntosh, daughter of William McIntosh of Newton Range, Scotland, to John Simpson of East St. John was solemnized at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Knox Presbyterian Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Moorehouse Legate, pastor of the church. The bride was attended by Miss Dorothy Cunningham, and was given away by her brother-in-law, Hugh Melkie. The groom was supported by Murray McLary, Stirling. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of the wedding march played by the organist, Miss Wilson. Ruth Stubbs and Alice Goodwin, flower girls were daintily gowned in white with lace hats and carried baskets of daisies and forget-me-nots.
 After the wedding the party returned to the home of Mrs. E. Stirling, where a dainty wedding supper was served. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson left immediately after for a wedding tour of New Brunswick by automobile. On their return they will reside at East St. John. The groom's gift to the bride was a sunburst of pearls, to the bridesmaid a pearl pendant, to the groomsmen gold cuff links, to the flower girls bracelets. The bride received a number of gifts from her home, including a substantial check from her father. Among the other gifts received was a set of dishes from Major Murray of Toronto, also a leather set was received from Major Grant. A dinner set was received from the East St. John Athletic Club of which the groom is president. Mr. Simpson served for four years under Major Grant and Murray with the 15th Battalion of 48th Highlanders.
 Steeves-Haines
 Moncton, June 27.—An interesting wedding event took place at the home of Conductor and Mrs. David Haines, Church street, Saturday morning, when their daughter, Miss Margaret Elizabeth, was united in marriage to David Steeves, a well known C. N. R. trainman. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Siam in the presence of a few friends. After a wedding trip to American cities Mr. and Mrs. Steeves will reside in Moncton.

Thousands of men, women and children are already eating PURITY ICE CREAM and once you eat a plate of this truly wonderful food confection you will agree with all the folks who are enjoying PURITY ICE CREAM every day, that PURITY is without question the finest, most delicious Ice Cream made in New Brunswick.
 Why, even all the other Ice Cream manufacturers are shaking their heads and saying: "Yes, Purity is the best quality Ice Cream produced today, but they can't keep it up and make money."
 Well, we're just going to fool these wise birds—we will keep up this superior quality as long as we stay in business, and that's going to be a long time.
 We've spent $50,000 for a plant on Stanley street, and are investing $5,000 in advertising and we're smart enough to know that with this tremendous investment we've got to keep up our quality to make good.
 We also know that no matter how much advertising we do we can't fool the public.
 Advertising is a mighty force which works two ways—it will establish a product of quality and help its sales, or it will kill a product of no quality. QUALITY only has made PURITY ICE CREAM the Premier Ice Cream of Canada.

TEACH THE CHILDREN TO LOOK UP FACTS

We Do Not Really Help Them When We Do Their Thinking for Them.

SHOW VALUE OF BOOKS OF REFERENCE

The Information Obtained Will be of More Lasting Value Than if Given Verbally.

By Prudence Bradish.

A little boy in my hearing some years ago asked his father how glass was made. I happened to know that the father knew a good deal about industries of all sorts and I fully expected to be an incidental beneficiary of an illuminating explanation. Not at all. "Why do you ask me?" the father said.

"I thought you'd know." "I'm not a glass maker, and I never made any." The little boy's eyes involuntarily wandered toward the bookcase; he anticipated what his father was going to say. I guessed, and guessed rightly, that this was not the first occasion of a conversation of this sort.

"You see, my boy," the father continued, "I might think I know about the making of glass, and give you some very wrong information. Even then I would tell you the best I know how, if it weren't that a person who knows how glass is made is right here in this house, patiently waiting for you to ask him about it."

"How interesting!" I caught myself saying aloud. "I never met a glass maker." "How about spelling?" I asked.

"Exactly the same. They used to come and ask me how to spell this, that or the other word, but they seldom do it now—unless for some reason the dictionary is not accessible. I tell them that I often misspell myself, and that they must not depend upon me or anybody else, but must go to the book in which the correct spelling is kept for their particular use."

"I would be easier to tell them," I remarked. "Exactly and that is why, I suppose, so many parents do it. But I want them to get acquainted with the authoritative sources of information. Thus early in life they are trying to get over their fear of books of reference. And there is the more important, underlying matter of getting them to do things of this sort for themselves. Their mother and I have introduced them not only to the dictionary and the encyclopedia but to the historical atlas, the geographical gazetteer, encyclopedias of biography, and so on. They use them, too. And we find that they naturally turn from these books to the individual volumes in which subjects are further developed, with illustrations that help them to understand more completely."

I will testify further that during my visit with this family I was constantly impressed by the extent of the general intelligence exhibited by the children. But I suspect they did not get it all out of books of reference. The manner in which that father and mother dealt with this particular thing was only one indication of a thoughtful, intelligent, purposeful attitude about their children which was reflected in everything they did with regard to them.

LOCATING. Passers-by were surprised to find a quaintly dressed but charming lady strolling in a West End square, London, recently. Her clothes were at least twenty years behind the present fashions, and people stood, and stared, wondering if they were dreaming or were subject to an optical illusion. Then from a home nearby came a gentleman quite as behind the times where his wardrobe was concerned—suddenly one of the passers-by said, "It's for a film," and both Miss Violet Hopson and Mr. Stewart Rome of the Hepworth Company were recognized.

The scene being made was a re-take for an incident in the new Broadway super-production, "Her Son."

Commissioner Booth-Hellberg, sister of General Brewster Booth and the commander of the Salvation Army in Norway, is very ill, and underwent an operation.

Mary of Rumania Says a Successful Queen Must Smile and Keep Interested in Others.

Bucharest, June 25.—"How to be a successful queen?" said Queen Mary of Rumania repeating the question of the correspondent. "Why, it is something of a trade to be a queen, and the chief implements of the trade are courage and courtesy. Smile when your head is aching, smile when you are ready to drop from fatigue and worry, smile when all is going wrong, smile at good news and at bad news. Always keep yourself interested in others. No matter how great may be the strain on your patience when talking or listening to a bore, make him or her think that you think the conversation is vital. Never think of your personal troubles but those of your country. I don't even own up when I know that I don't know a thing, but I always go out and find out all about this unknown subject."

Ask anybody, peasant or politician, who rules Rumania, and they will look at you with eyes wide open in surprise and say: "Why, the Queen of course."

Queen Mary is the scene-shifter, the siren hand, the power behind the throne of King Ferdinand every minute. Since she came out from England, nearly 25 years ago, she has been learning this trade of being queen, and now she has been at it for more than five years, in place of Carmen Sylva, and she has made it her business to know her country and her people.

She aspires to be queen in every sense, and she is quite as willing to take the duties of the job as well as its pleasures. As for its pleasures, she gets all the fun she can out of it, if there were any place available.

"Should the Queen get a touch of internationalism and go on strike some day, that would be a hard day for Rumania," she said laughingly.

Just after she entered the Queen heard a dying soldier calling for his wife. Without a word the Queen walked over to the bed of the typhus victim, saying "Here I am," and knelt and embraced the man, who died in her arms happy.

The Queen is a practical queen. In the same city of Jassy, this fact was discovered and when the mayor wanted to get the snow cleaned off the streets, he timidly applied to the Queen, and she led the gang of snowshovelers. After this whenever medicines and instruments were needed in the hospitals, or extra nurses, the Queen was called upon.

Once there was a bread famine. The Queen got her own private motor cars scouring the country for flour and then she organized the bakeries of the city. She did the same when there was a wood and coal famine. "As a child I was taught to live for others," said the Queen in one part of the conversation with The Associated Press correspondent. "So whatever I do I do naturally, without effort. As a little girl I was told that this was part of the trade."

A GOOD WORD FOR THE MOVIES

(Vancouver Province.) A member of the Canadian Parliament recently thanked God that there were no moving picture houses in his constituency. This suggests the answer which Samuel Johnson sent to the printer of his dictionary: "Tell Dr. Johnson," said the printer, "that this is the last proof and I thank God for it." "Tell your master," was the reply, "that Dr. Johnson is pleased to learn that he has grace enough to thank God for something."

But we observe that while Mr. Casgrain's constituency lies north of the St. Lawrence below Quebec, reaching pretty well down to the mouth of the river, his own postoffice address is in the City of Montreal. He dwells several hundreds of miles from most of his Charlevoix constituents, but not many yards from the theatrons. It is possible that his Montmorency electors, for instance, those living so near a Ste. Anne de Beaupre, may sometimes go to the movies in Quebec City. Young people farther down the river may cross over to Rimouski or Fraserville to see the pictures.

Mr. Casgrain may not be in sympathy with these desires. He never lived in the country. He was born, brought up and highly educated in Montreal. He is a member of an aristocratic family of professional people, married into one of the wealthiest families of his race, a member of one of the leading firms of corporation lawyers in Canada. He has the capacity and the opportunity of enjoying the best musical and dramatic productions rendered in Canada and so may fail to appreciate the simpler enjoyment which his rustic constituents would derive from the agonies and final felicity of the movie hero, the perils and conquests of the hero, the

DIFFICULTIES OF PEACE ARE INCREASING

Conference at Boulogne Reveals Trouble in Settling Matters to Satisfaction of All Concerned.

UNITED STATES IS DISTURBING FACTOR

Her Failure to Enter League and Assume Part of Financial Load Has Upset Things Somewhat.

By WITHE WILLIAMS.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co., Washington, June 27.—The Allied conference here has ended without breaking anything. However, it leaves much confusion, for which there is the excuse of a meeting in Brussels the first week of July and afterwards possibly, quite possibly, the long-heralded conference with the Germans at Spa which actually takes place.

Although Premier Millerand declares himself "satisfied," Etienne Benard, Minister of Finance, Premier Lloyd George and the others, and everyone is happy over the harmony that has prevailed, I have been given an official inside running-up from someone in the conference that will throw some light upon the difficulties still in the way of enforcing the peace, now just one year of age.

"The conference results in great inconvenience for France," is the honest fashion in which this personage begins discussion of the present status of the question of indemnities. Boulogne has upset the results, or at least the beginnings of results, of the Hthe conference held just a month ago.

"Concerning the liaison of German payments to France with French payments to the Allies, Great Britain has changed ground at Boulogne from the principles she admitted at Hthe. This is a result of American opposition. The idea was to make New York a clearing house for the entire operation—Paris to await payments from Germany, London to wait on Paris and New York to give a similar extension to London. It soon appeared that American financiers and even the government did not consider this operation possible. This changed the attitude of England toward France, and for France it was a severe blow.

Danger to French Finances. "That makes the French financial situation uneasy is the exterior dependence and also risks a further fall in exchange. It is, therefore, certain that at Brussels, France will make a determined effort to change this phase of the situation.

"Concerning Turkey there are only two solutions. One is to revise the treaty, which is a soft solution, the second is to execute the treaty which is a solution by force. France was for the first, England for the second, which was carried. Greece is to be the agent of execution and even the bottom Premier Venizelos has no illusions on the danger of his enterprise, but it is Constantinople which he sees, following his policy of years to reconstruct a greater Greece. Thus this great Cretan is ready to run great risks.

"But France considers it only a political adventure and did everything possible to dissuade Lloyd George from beginning an enterprise toward which the French Parliament is hostile. But the French interests were not sufficient for open opposition. "British concessions in Germany must counterbalance French concessions in the Orient. Concerning the disarmament clauses, the Germans still want 200,000 men, and the party in power, of which the industrial magnate, Hugo Stinnes, is chief, will strongly follow such a programme. However, the Allied refusal drawn up by Marshal Foch is a notification, not a request, and the recent elections in Germany have now brought England strongly in the support of the French viewpoint.

"Concerning Russia, M. Millerand maintained his position that there is to be no political recognition. "All the powers are to be admitted as auditors at the Spa conference, which is likely to be held the middle of July."

DIFFICULTIES OF PEACE ARE INCREASING

Conference at Boulogne Reveals Trouble in Settling Matters to Satisfaction of All Concerned.

UNITED STATES IS DISTURBING FACTOR

Her Failure to Enter League and Assume Part of Financial Load Has Upset Things Somewhat.

By WITHE WILLIAMS.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co., Washington, D. C.)—The Allied conference here has ended without breaking anything. However, it leaves much confusion for which there is the excuse of a meeting in Brussels the first week of July and afterwards possibly quite possibly, the long-heralded conference with the Germans at Spa will actually take place.

Although Premier Millerand declares himself "satisfied," likewise M. Marsal, Minister of Finance; Premier Lloyd George and the others, and everyone is happy over the harmony that has prevailed, I have been given an official inside summing-up from a personage in the conference that will throw some light upon the difficulties still in the way of enforcing the peace, now just one year ago.

"The conference results in great inconvenience for France," is the honest fashion in which this personage begins discussion of the present status of the question of indemnities. Boulogne has upset the results, or at least the beginnings of results, of the Hythe conference held just a month ago.

"Concerning the issue of German payments to France with French payments to the Allies, Great Britain has changed ground at Boulogne from the principles she admitted at Hythe. This is a result of American opposition. The idea was to make New York a clearing house for the entire operation—Paris, the French officials, Germany, London to wait on Paris and New York to give a similar extension to London. It soon appeared that American financiers and even the government did not consider this operation possible. This changed the attitude of England toward France, and for France it was a severe blow.

Danger to French Finances.

"That makes the French financial situation uneasy is the exterior debt. This diminishes France's political independence and also risks a further fall in exchange. It is, therefore, certain that at Brussels, France will make a determined effort to change this phase of the situation.

"Concerning Turkey there are only two solutions. One is to revise the treaty, which is a soft solution, the second is to execute the treaty which is a solution by force. France was for the first, England for the second, which was carried. Greece is to be the agent of execution. At the bottom Premier Venizelos has no illusions on the danger of his enterprise, but it is Constantinople which he sees, following his policy of years to reconstitute a greater Greece. Thus this great Greek is ready to run great risks.

"But France considers it only a political adventure and did everything possible to dissuade Lloyd George from beginning an enterprise toward which the French Parliament is hostile. But the French interests were not sufficient for open opposition.

"British concessions in Germany must constitute French concessions in the Orient. Concerning the disarmament clauses, the Germans still want 200,000 men, and the party in power, which the industrial magnate, Hugo Stimson, is chief, will strongly follow such a programme. However, the Allied refusal drawn up by Marshal Posh is a notification, not a request, and the recent elections in Germany have now brought England strongly to the support of the French viewpoint.

"Concerning Russia, M. Millerand maintained his position that there is to be no political recognition. All the powers are to be admitted as auditors at the Spa conference, which is likely to be held the middle of July."

Hunger Ruling Europe.

While the Allied statesmen in conference here talked as harmoniously in the Villa Belle, overlooking the English Channel, as they did a couple of months ago in the Villa Devathan, beside the Mediterranean, and issued communiqués concerning the united will of the Entente, there is one fact that has penetrated to close observers. True it was written on the walls of the Paris, London and San Remo conferences long ago, whenever, wherever the supreme council convened, but as it was unpopular it was thickly covered with "dazzle paint," as we once called the camouflage on ships at sea.

Briefly, the truth that has penetrated in a larger measure at Boulogne than elsewhere is this: Today the European situation is out of the hands of the chiefs of the European governments. It is now controlled by the needs of the people throughout Europe for food. So far as the present governments are concerned the situation must settle itself.

Central Empire Helpless.

Take first the subject of German reparations. No matter what the "rights" of the respective governments, and particularly the French Government, may be, the well-known French thesis of how Germany shall pay is down simply because it is not workable at the present hour. In Austria there is no longer any question of politics or strategy. It is merely a question of whether the residents of Vienna will kill each other next winter for food.

Take Turkey. A few of us tried to signal from San Remo that the treaty with Turkey, then being solemnly and "harmoniously" decided upon, would not work. At Boulogne it has been more evident that no extraneous force or group of powers now has the means of putting the forces in the field necessary to pacify Turkey or obliterate her nationality. Therefore, a solution of the Turkish question will have to be reached by negotiations with the Turkish Nationalists, who today represent the strongest force in the country. The Venizelos-Lloyd George pourparlers on the subject only represented cleverness on both sides. Lloyd George won the point of permitting Greece to take on the job of executing the treaty at the Greeks' own request, while Greece now is in a position to demand vast credits of munitions and supplies, for which she undoubtedly hopes to pay. On the other hand, she may not be able to carry her plans to success, in which case she will be far more likely to owe. Whether Great Britain will then be willing to rush to her defense remains a mystery.

Italy's Hostility Growing.

Finally consider Italy. Giolitti returned to power, despite what the Entente press may say, is sure proof that Italy is following her natural course—Paris, the French officials, Germany, London to wait on Paris and New York to give a similar extension to London. It soon appeared that American financiers and even the government did not consider this operation possible. This changed the attitude of England toward France, and for France it was a severe blow.

The Union of N. S. and N. B. Met at Hamford June 24th.

Hemford, N. S., June 24.—The seventy-third annual meeting of the Congregational Union of N. S. and N. B. was opened in the church here this morning. Rev. F. G. Purnell in the chair. Delegates were present from many points in both provinces and the sessions were well attended.

The following committees were appointed: Business—Rev. G. W. Ball, Rev. C. Tavenu, Messrs. A. E. Williams and Alex. Godfrey. Resolutions—Rev. J. W. Cox, Messrs. O. O. Davidson and A. M. Anthony. Finance—Messrs. A. M. Anthony, F. Pickard, O. O. Davidson, J. W. Flewelling. Minute Secretaries—Rev. E. J. Lazony and M. G. Dexter.

A hearty welcome was extended to the delegates by Mr. T. W. Johnson, on behalf of the Hemford church and people. Rev. Dr. Cox replied on behalf of the Union, and in the course of his remarks gave some interesting facts concerning the history of the Hemford church, which was organized in 1877. The present building, which has recently been renovated and the whole interior repaired, presents an attractive appearance, but is not large enough for the present needs, as evidenced by the fact that nearly 100 persons were forced to remain outside a recent Sunday service. It is planned to add an extension to the building in the near future.

Revs. F. J. Day, D.D., Jas. E. Lloyd and E. J. Lazenby were admitted as corresponding members of the Union. A vote of sympathy was extended to Rev. Dr. Gunn, Toronto, the general secretary of the denomination in Canada, who was unable to attend the meetings because of the illness of Mrs. Gunn.

Reports of the year's work were received. As a result of the Forward Movement an increase in the giving was reported. There were also reported several additions to pastors' salaries. The reports of the churches connected with the Union were generally of the optimistic tone. The treasurer, J. W. Flewelling, reported receipts for the year $999.24, with a balance on hand of $36.34. An invitation of the Yarmouth church to meet there next year was accepted.

Afternoon Exercises.

After devotional exercises officers for 1920 were elected as follows: Chairman, J. W. Flewelling, St. John. Secretary, Rev. E. J. Thompson, Keswick. Statistical Secretary, Rev. F. G. Purnell, Brooklin. Y. P. Secretary, Rev. C. Tavenu, Lower Selmah. Treasurer, J. W. Flewelling.

The chairman reported on his recent visit to the meetings of the Congregational Union of Canada at Guelph where much business importance concerning the denomination had been transacted. A paper written by Rev. Dr. Gunn of Toronto, entitled "Grandsons of the Pilgrim Fathers in Acadia" was read. As the 300th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth Rock will soon be observed by the International Congregational Council in Boston, this paper was written to show the many points of interest between our maritime churches and those established in the early days in New England. While we in Canada did not have the Pilgrim Fathers, we did have many of their grandsons and great grandsons, men who had much to do with the early settlement of these provinces.

Coming from many points in New England they settled in Cheбоque, Liverpool, Kingsport in Nova Scotia and Sheffield, N. B., and in these churches may still be found direct descendants of those who came out in the Mayflower. Many interesting stories of the early experiences of these churches were mentioned by the writer, who adds: "We feel that through our people in the maritime

CONGREGATIONAL UNION HOLD CONFERENCE

The Union of N. S. and N. B. Met at Hamford June 24th.

Hemford, N. S., June 24.—The seventy-third annual meeting of the Congregational Union of N. S. and N. B. was opened in the church here this morning. Rev. F. G. Purnell in the chair. Delegates were present from many points in both provinces and the sessions were well attended.

The following committees were appointed: Business—Rev. G. W. Ball, Rev. C. Tavenu, Messrs. A. E. Williams and Alex. Godfrey. Resolutions—Rev. J. W. Cox, Messrs. O. O. Davidson and A. M. Anthony. Finance—Messrs. A. M. Anthony, F. Pickard, O. O. Davidson, J. W. Flewelling. Minute Secretaries—Rev. E. J. Lazony and M. G. Dexter.

A hearty welcome was extended to the delegates by Mr. T. W. Johnson, on behalf of the Hemford church and people. Rev. Dr. Cox replied on behalf of the Union, and in the course of his remarks gave some interesting facts concerning the history of the Hemford church, which was organized in 1877. The present building, which has recently been renovated and the whole interior repaired, presents an attractive appearance, but is not large enough for the present needs, as evidenced by the fact that nearly 100 persons were forced to remain outside a recent Sunday service. It is planned to add an extension to the building in the near future.

Afternoon Exercises.

After devotional exercises officers for 1920 were elected as follows: Chairman, J. W. Flewelling, St. John. Secretary, Rev. E. J. Thompson, Keswick. Statistical Secretary, Rev. F. G. Purnell, Brooklin. Y. P. Secretary, Rev. C. Tavenu, Lower Selmah. Treasurer, J. W. Flewelling.

The chairman reported on his recent visit to the meetings of the Congregational Union of Canada at Guelph where much business importance concerning the denomination had been transacted. A paper written by Rev. Dr. Gunn of Toronto, entitled "Grandsons of the Pilgrim Fathers in Acadia" was read. As the 300th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth Rock will soon be observed by the International Congregational Council in Boston, this paper was written to show the many points of interest between our maritime churches and those established in the early days in New England. While we in Canada did not have the Pilgrim Fathers, we did have many of their grandsons and great grandsons, men who had much to do with the early settlement of these provinces.

Many interesting stories of the early experiences of these churches were mentioned by the writer, who adds: "We feel that through our people in the maritime provinces who are direct descendants of the Pilgrim Fathers and through their churches still living, we have a right to share in remembering them. So there will gather at Boston on June 30th, English delegates from the land from which the Pilgrims came; delegates from the Congregational churches of the United States to which the Pilgrims contributed so greatly; and also delegates from Canada, which through the great grandsons of the Pilgrim Fathers who founded its early Congregational settlements and churches, claim its right to bring its tribute of memory and praise."

Why Should He?

The "ecclesiastical" movement which has struck the pulpits, the parish houses and the community halls of thousands of churches on both sides of the Atlantic in line with Martin Luther's assertion, where he said that he didn't intend that the "devil should have all the good music."—London, Ont., Free Press.

A Disappointment.

"And if you are a good boy you will go to heaven," finished up the Presiding Elder.

"Aw, heck!" returned young Bearcat Johnson, of Rumput Ridge, Ark. "I thought you was going to say you'd give me a dime."

Miss Emily Davies, LL.D., the founder of Girton College, Cambridge, celebrated her 90th birthday April 22.

TRADE STAGNATE ON STOCK MARKET

Total Dealings Smallest Recorded on a Week-End in Many Years.

New York, June 27.—Trading on the stock exchange yesterday was dull to the point of stagnation. The total dealings of about 130,000 shares were almost the smallest, even for a week-end season, in many years. Except among the usual speculative favorites fluctuations held within the most contracted limits. A few specialties and investment funds held a firm to strong tone at the close.

Trading in bonds was on a par with the stagnation in the stock market. The only feature was the Anglo-French 5 1/2 which rose to within a small fraction of par. Total sales of bonds, par value, aggregated $4,775,000 in the old United States bonds an advance of quarter per cent. was made by the four on call during the week. The Clearing House statement was interesting for its recovery of last week's reserves, an actual deficit of that period being replaced by an increase of slightly more than $28,000,000.

Other noteworthy changes in the bank statement included a gain of about $23,700,000 in reserves of members at the federal reserve bank and a decrease of approximately six million in net deposits.

Weekly surveys of business by the mercantile agencies confirmed general advances of a further let-down in many lines of trade, due in part to political and crop uncertainties and in larger measure to freight congestion arising from labor disturbances.

MARKET SUMMARY

(By F. B. McCarty & Co.)

New York, June 26.—Clifford Thorpe, representing Western shippers before the I. C. C. in rate case, estimates freight increase asked by roads about $385,000,000 in excess of guaranteed reform. Rail executives' recommendations to I. C. C. for distribution of equipment loan fund to be forwarded to Washington, Monday.

Corn Futures declared 1-2 p. c. extra on common, same as three months ago, besides regular 1 p. c. and 1 1/4 p. c. on preferred.

Communists will be chafed some day sooner or later.

"In that case, why don't you kill or drive away the Communists?" they were asked.

"If we do that the Red Guard will come and burn down the whole village."

But why didn't you rise against the Bolsheviks and join the White armies when they advanced into Russia?"

"The leaders of the White armies were asked," was the rejoinder. "They hanged the peasants when they entered our villages without waiting to distinguish between us and the official Communists, and they took the Red prisoners and forced them to fight in their army when they ought to have let them go free, for all fighting is evil."

"Why, then, must be done to deliver you moujiks from the Bolsheviks?"

"Send an army," they replied, "which will be good to us and will not kill us or rob us of our cattle and food. We should like Joffre to command it, as we have heard he is a very good general."

Twenty interviews between simple peasants and exalted western statesmen in the historic salons of the Quai d'Orsay is a picturesque incident of European diplomacy that seems worth recording.

BIG CONTEST PENDING FOR SEA CONTROL

British Will Have to Fight Hard to Regain Superiority in Sea-Carrying Trade.

MERCHANT MARINE OF U. S. GROWING

Battle Should be Fought With Good Feeling Between Nations, But No Favors Shown.

London, June 25.—England, from her shipping and industrial interests down to less affected, the general public, is watching with anxious eyes the development of the American merchant marine. That threatened rivalry projects a new influence into the British economic organization which will make itself felt through the entire British industrial fabric, is recognized.

While conceding the openness of the seas to friendly rivalry, and noting warning from public leaders and leading newspapers punctuate the atmosphere almost daily. While maintaining good sportsmanship, Britain, they urge, must be alive to the gravity of the pending contest.

Archibald Hurd, maritime expert of the London Telegraph and a recognized authority, in a column article warns that "we must not abuse our minds of the idea that American competition will prove of little account." He says in part:

"This country, and particularly the manual workers by sea and by land, can make no greater mistake than to assume that it will be an easy matter for the leaders of the British shipping industry to re-establish the great sea-carrying trade which they were conducting when the war broke out.

"The situation at sea is undergoing a remarkable change. Germany has disappeared, and so has Austria-Hungary; France and Italy, at the end of this year may occupy as favorable positions as they did in 1914. On the other hand, the United States and Japan have greatly developed their mercantile marines, and are going to prove serious competitors during the years to come.

"By the end of this year American sea-going shipping will have reached a total of nearly 14,000,000 gross tons.

"The shipping movement in the United States has behind it a great volume of public opinion which is finding expression in American newspapers on political platforms, at the meetings of manufacturers and traders, and in Congress. We are confronted with what may be regarded as a national agitation, and it will be a mistake to assume that the Americans cannot build seaworthy ships, man them, or operate them successfully.

"We have no property either in the sea itself or in the use of the sea; and the mere fact that the Americans are making an effort to regain the position which they formerly occupied as sea-carriers need not weaken the political, commercial, and social ties between the two countries, so long as the inevitable contest is conducted on both sides with fairness and justice.

Rapidly Increasing Tonnage.

"We must disabuse our minds of the idea that American competition will prove of little account. Within the memory of men and women still living the serious rival of our own shipping. In 1920, 5,354,000 tons of shipping were under the American flag, and of this nearly one-half was engaged in foreign trade. At that time over two-thirds of the imports and exports of the United States were carried in American ships. There was more shipping under the American flag, including vessels on the Great Lakes and rivers, than there was under the British flag, and even in ocean-going tonnage the United States ran very close.

"In the knowledge of those facts, it is a mistake to assume that we have nothing to fear from American rivalry on the seas in the years that lie before us. Wages in this country, ashore and afloat, approximate much more closely than they did those paid on the other side of the Atlantic, and the Americans enjoy advantages in cheaper steel and cheaper coal. Whether these advantages will be counterbalanced eventually by higher wages which may be paid to American seamen as the result of the agitation now in progress in labor circles in the United States is a matter upon which no reliable forecast can be made.

"Americans Call for Preference. It is impossible to study the American Press without being struck by the character of the movement which is now in progress to prevail upon Congress to place American shipping upon a preferential basis so far as American trade is concerned. The decision to insist upon vessels belonging to the Shipping Board being classified by the American Bureau instead of by Lloyd's Register is only one of many incidents pointing in the same direction. The Commerce Committee of the Senate has urged that the whole weight of the United States must be exerted to establish a predominant American marine.

"What is happening is that an authority is being set up in the United States under the auspices of the Government, which will establish steamship lines to overseas markets for promoting American foreign trade and maintaining adequate postal services, for American letters are to be carried, apparently, in American ships, so as to encourage and evidently indirectly subsidize American shipping.

"It is also significant that while American shipping in reference both to coasting trade, railway rates, and other matters is to be placed on a preferential basis, it is proposed to enact that ships of foreign owners who are guilty of giving preferences or rebates or discriminating against Americans in violation of existing statutes shall be barred from American ports.

"It is probable that Sir Joseph Macleay, the Shipping Controller, had in mind events which are occurring beyond our borders when he addressed the Chamber of Shipping the other day. He remarked that 'generosity could be sometimes stretched too far, and when we saw a wall being built up against us, or even an indication being given that such a wall would be built up, the time had come for the Government to give very definite attention to the legislation of other countries.'

"Whatever action the Government may take with reference to the policy which is being adopted in the United States and elsewhere, we may congratulate ourselves that these matters will be discussed in the atmosphere of friendship which the struggle in a common cause created."

COL. HOUSE'S VISIT AROUSSES INTEREST

Initiative of Public Ledger in Obtaining His Services Warmly Praised in England

Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger Co.

London, June 24.—Colonel House's visit to England at this time in an unofficial capacity has aroused such great interest among leading men, both British and foreigners, that he is in constant conference. Since the publication in the Times of the announcement of his association with the Public Ledger he has been besieged by callers and invitations to both private and public functions. Because of his policy of declining invitations to public official dinners in his honor, he today declined to accept an invitation to a luncheon in his honor.

Colonel House's mission is greeted everywhere as a new departure in journalism and as a recognition of the press as a factor in public opinion. That a man of his experience should give the benefit of his vast personal acquaintance and knowledge of foreign affairs to the press is looked upon here as the best possible means of getting sound and accurate information to the people. Since Colonel House's arrival here there has been nothing but praise for the Public Ledger's initiative.

Callouses and tender soles

will usually be found to indicate trouble with the arch which runs across the ball of the foot. Points at the place where the finger points in the illustration above are also indicative of the same trouble.

When the cross-arch of the foot becomes weakened, one or more of the metatarsal heads (flat joints of the foot) is apt to become depressed below the others, throwing the whole structure of the arch out of balance and usually implying or suggesting some of the delicate nerve fibers. The result may be merely soreness or it may be pain of the most intense sort.

Dr. Scholl's Anterior Metatarsal Arch Supports

are scientifically designed to support this cross-arch naturally, and they are capable of such adjustment as will give extra support to any particular metatarsal head which may tend to depression. If you have trouble of this nature, or, indeed, any foot trouble, we recommend that you consult a graduate Podiatrist (foot specialist) in any shoe store selling the Dr. Scholl Appliances. His services are always free and he knows all about feet and their correction. Take advantage of this service.

IMPROVED SERVICE ON VALLEY RAILWAY

Passenger Trains to Run Daily Except Sunday After June 27th on Present Schedule.

Travellers and suburbanites along the Valley Railway will be glad to hear that with the Canadian National time changes effective June 27th the Passenger Trains No. 47 and 48 on the Valley Railway will run daily (except Sunday) between St. John and Centreville. There will also be a mixed train service tri-weekly between St. John and Fredericton, and between Fredericton and Centreville.

No. 47 Passenger Train will leave at 12:55 noon (Eastern time) and arrive at Fredericton at 4:30 p. m., leaving the capital at 5:00 p. m. and reaching Centreville at 9:00 p. m.

No. 48 will leave Centreville at 6:00 a. m. (except Sunday), arrive at Fredericton at 10:30 a. m., leave for St. John at 10:30, arriving here at 2:05 p. m.

No. 241, mixed train, will leave at 6:55 a. m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, arriving at Fredericton at 12:45 noon.

No. 242, mixed, will leave Fredericton at 7:00 a. m. and arrive in St. John at 12:55 noon on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

The passenger trains running every week day will be a great accommodation to people living along the St. John River and to the public generally. The inauguration of the daily service shows the desire of the Canadian National Railway to give adequate service and meet the wishes of the people.

The Through Sleeping Car service to Quebec will also be daily (except Sunday). The Buffet Sleeper will be attached to No. 47 train, and will carry passengers for Quebec, via McDeviney Junction and the Transcontinental Line. Returning, sleeper will leave Quebec on No. 502 Transcontinental train (except on Saturdays) and will go via McDeviney and Fredericton to St. John.

This through sleeping car service between St. John and Quebec is a comfortable and delightful medium of travel during the summer months.

LIGHTNING STRIKES W'LAND HOUSE

Moncton, June 25.—During a heavy electric storm in the eastern end of Westmorland, today, the house of W. M. Spence, merchant, of Port Elgin, was struck by lightning and was destroyed. Barn, shed and other out-buildings, including a garage, were also burned, with contents, including an automobile. Only a few papers were saved from Mr. Spence's residence. No one was injured.

Due from London.
Steamer Kanawha, Furness Line.

Ultimatum to Letter Carriers.
(Toronto Globe.)
Hon. N. W. Rowell's ultimatum to the letter carriers, and to those of Toronto in particular, is calculated to precipitate the threatened strike rather than obviate it. Ours for the inconvenience and actual suffering that would be caused in that event would have to be shared with the strikers by the president of the Privy Council and his colleagues of the Government. The occasion does not appear to call for the drastic action that is threatened then we parties to the dispute, which may involve many more postal officials than those who deliver or sort letters. If the case were one involving the relations between a private firm and its employees there would be the choice of a board of conciliation before resort was made to the weapons of coercion. It would not hurt the Government to refer the present dispute to an impartial tribunal. Both sides directly interested are incapable of travelling any reasonable midway course looking to an agreement. Neither seems to have any thought of the trials and difficulties that the public, the third and greatest party that would be affected, would have to undergo.

AROUND THE CITY

ONLY ONE DRUNK.

The edict against lemon is meeting with results. One arrest only for drunkenness was made during the week-end.

AUTOMOBILE DAMAGED.

Two cars collided near the corner of Leinster and Sydney streets yesterday morning with the result that one was badly damaged and had to be towed to the repair shop.

EXAMINATIONS TO BEGIN

The University Matriculation Examinations will begin Tuesday, July 6, in the High School Building. There are over 40 students from St. John taking the papers. Inspector S. A. Worrell will start his new duties in this examination.

A SETTLEMENT

A settlement was arranged in the Kings county milk case Friday, which Terrence McDade had been arrested and allowed out on bail in the matter of the upsetting of forty cans of milk from a motor truck. It was rumored that the complainant, R. E. Baxter, was reimbursed for the loss of his milk.

C. P. R. REPORTS

The C. P. R. reports an increase for this summer in comparison with last year of both freight and passenger business. On Saturday, July 3, the C. P. R. will inaugurate increased service to Boston—an extra train out of Boston Saturday night and an extra train out of St. John Sunday night.

THE CITY SURVEY

Work has been commenced on the survey of the city to obtain data for the use of the board of assessors. One party is now engaged in the vicinity of Broad street. Another will be sent out today. The survey is under the direction of the city engineer and will be superintended by G. G. Murdoch. The two parties are under the supervision of D. R. Smith and J. I. Turnbull. The work will cost about $25,000.

VITAL STATISTICS

Seventeen deaths were reported in the city during the last week from the following causes: Premature birth, 3; senility, paralysis, convulsions, acute bronchitis, heart disease, mitral insufficiency, neural regeneration, acute myocarditis, cholera infantum, accident of birth, carcinoma of liver, carcinoma of gall bladder, malignant disease of oesophagus, accidentally drowned, one each. There were twenty four marriages and thirty births, fifteen boys and fifteen girls.

SATURDAY MARKET PRICES

The City Market Saturday was quiet, but prices were no lower than the previous week. Squash, strawberries and green peas and beans were the new arrivals. Squash was 15c per lb; strawberries, 35c to 40c a box; beans and peas, 30c a quart. The meats were a little higher if anything; veal was 20 and 25c; beef, 15 to 45c; mutton, 20 and 27c; pork, 45c and spring lamb, 45c and 60c, per lb. Potatoes sold for $1.30 per peck; spinach and lettuce, 8 to 10c per bunch; carrots, 15c; radish, 10c; and celery, 10c. Small onions brought 10c a bunch.

Joseph Thompson Was Badly Injured

While Repairing His Car on Douglas Avenue Early Yesterday Morning Was Struck by Another Car—Is Being Treated at General Public Hospital.

An accident occurred early Sunday morning on Douglas Avenue when Joseph Thompson, a resident of Grand Bay, was struck by an auto, thrown a considerable distance and knocked unconscious, sustaining severe injuries.

It appears that Mr. Thompson was driving in his car out the avenue on his way home. Engine trouble developed making it necessary that he get out of the car to fix the trouble. He was just stepping into the car again when it was struck by another automobile travelling at a very fast rate. Mr. Thompson was thrown about ten feet and knocked unconscious. He was picked up and carried into Dr. Roberts' house where his wounds were dressed temporarily. The injured man was taken to the hospital later on where it was found that he had sustained a severe scalp wound, had suffered a considerable shock and received a broken leg. A report from the hospital last night said that it is not thought that there are any internal injuries.

The Sussex Train Back To Old Time

Will Return to Atlantic Standard Tomorrow and City's Milk Supply Will Immediately Return to Normal Again.

The Sussex train will return to her old-time tomorrow and the city's milk supply will immediately return to normal. To the citizens of St. John the fact that the recent controversy has at last been settled will bring a sense of relief. Mother's face which of late has borne a worried look will again resume its wonted calm. Dad won't have to worry quite so much over the grocer's bill, and as for the youngsters, no more condensed goods for them.

The Standard was informed by C. N. R. officials last evening that they had been officially notified that the Sussex train would go back to her old schedule on standard time Tuesday, June 29th. A new summer schedule went into effect today on all Canadian National lines. With the exception of the Sussex the only change in trains running in and out of this city, is the night trip of the Hampton suburban, which will be at 11.30 on her last trip hereafter.

One of the producers from Apohaqui stated last evening that the Kings county Producers had received no word of the change from the railways and this morning's shipment would be as large as it might have been had they all been aware of the new schedule. He personally had informed the farmers in his immediate neighborhood and thought that at least 200 cans would come down this morning from Apohaqui. As the standard train to come down Saturday morning from all points along the line only numbered 272 it will be seen that the supply will be considerably augmented today.

Sunday's supply of milk which came down on Saturday's evening train was the smallest shipped in from Kings county since the blockade was first established, a fact which will make the new announcement doubly welcome.

The Board of Health's milk depot continued its good work Saturday and Sunday under the competent supervision of the Victorian Order of Nurses. Over sixty-five quarts were supplied on Saturday to some seventy applicants, while eighty-nine visitors were rationed on Sunday. While it certainly is a matter of congratulation that the service of the depot will no longer be required, many will be deeply grateful to the Victorian Nurses and the V. A. D.'s who assisted them for their good work in the hour of need.

Some of those who wished the status quo of the Sussex train continued, are predicting that now that the farmers have won their case, they will jump the price of milk some several cents a quart.

TRINITY CHURCH PICNIC ENJOYED

Trinity church Sunday school and congregation held their annual picnic at Grand Bay on Saturday. Extra cars were attached to the 9.15 train for Welford and a number of people went out on the 1.25 Suburban. Cricket, baseball, races and other sports were enjoyed and the refreshments which were served under the direction of Mrs. A. W. Golding were done full justice to. Horace Porter, superintendent of the Sunday school, and Rev. D. H. Lowth were in charge assisted by Steve Matthews and others.

Special meeting of Carleton Curling Club tonight at 9 o'clock. Full attendance of members requested. F. I. Belyea, President.

HOW TO ENJOY SWIMMING.

Ladies who enjoy their summer swimming should see the Bathing Suits on the third floor at F. A. Dykeman's. Suits that are designed for comfort, appearance, and free action, are shown in Navy Blue with Orange trimming at $2.60.

Ballantyne's famous all wool Jersey Swimming Suits in Navy Blue and Dark Grey with fancy stripes at $7.50. Children's Suits in all sizes, 75c to $1.25.

Ear Drum protectors, per box, 60c. F. A. Dykeman & Co., Charlotte St.

Walter Golding, manager of the Imperial Theatre, returned yesterday from Montreal, where he had been on a short business trip.

JUVENILE COURT HELD SATURDAY

Boy Charged With Theft of Eighty Dollars, and a Girl Pleaded Guilty to Stealing a Pocketbook Containing $10.25, Were Remanded

The youth of the city furnished the only two prisoners to appear before Magistrate Ritchie Saturday, one was a nine year old boy, the other a thirteen year old girl.

The boy was charged with the theft of $80, the property of Warren Ham, a boarder in the same house. After pleading guilty the lad was remanded.

The maid pleaded not guilty to the charge preferred against her, that of stealing a pocket book containing $10.25, the property of Miss Whelpley, 53 Hanover street. She was also remanded.

ON SUSPICION OF BREAKING

James McCann Was Arrested Saturday Night, Charged With Breaking Into Summer Homes at Loch Lomond.

Packing woollen goods on one of the hottest summer days we have had is not a pleasure one would think and yet Mrs. John Hay, Dorcas Secretary of the Anglican Women's Auxiliary pointed with pride to two large boxes of scarfs and caps at the Church of England rooms on Saturday afternoon. "Those boxes," she said to the reporter who happened in, "are full of the finest knitted things, scarfs and caps sent by the ladies of the Mission church, the Moncton Girls and the Sussex and Hampton Women's Auxiliary and they are going to the lepers at the hospital of the Resurrection of Hope to Miss H. Rid dell at Kunototo, Japan. It is a pleasure to pack such nice articles."

Do You Want Prohibition?

If So, Attend Meeting at Y. M. C. A. Tonight 8 O'clock Sharp, Called to Enroll Workers.

Talk is all right, so far as it goes, but it never will defeat the light wine and beer clause in the July 10th election; hard work can and will. All who are willing to help in the big fight July 10th election regardless of the vacation period, Saturday half holiday, etc., are wanted tonight in the Y. M. C. A., will address members of the L.O.A. on the following evenings: Monday, the 28th instant, in the Orange Hall, Germain street, and Tuesday, the 29th instant, in the Orange Hall, Simond street. Both meetings will open at 8 o'clock (daylight time). All Orangemen are particularly requested to be present.

FRANCIS KERR, County Master, St. John.

WANTED—Linotype operator; good wages. Apply Standard Office.

Visiting Preacher At Centenary Church

Rev. F. A. Fish, Grand Chaplain of L. O. L. of British North America, Addressed Large Congregation Last Evening.

The preacher at Centenary church last evening was Rev. F. A. Fish, for many years a minister in the Methodist denomination. Mr. Fish is Grand Chaplain of the Loyal Orange Lodge of British North America.

The subject of the sermon was announced as "Religion, Citizenship and Loyalty, or Protestantism and what it Means to Canada." The text was taken from Galatians 5: 1, "Stand fast in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage."

Religion, citizenship and loyalty, the preacher said, make up a trinity of requisites. Religion is not bigotry in any church, and for himself and his association they wished to arouse no feeling of antagonism to their fellow citizens of any church. "In his address he would have to explain the difference of ideals which exist between Protestantism and the Church of Rome. Religion is love, and if any government attempted to interfere with the rights of the Church of Rome the Orange Association would be the first to say, 'Hands off.' From King William the Third the Roman Catholic received equal rights which the Act of Toleration gave to every British subject. It is the charter of liberty and the Roman Catholic has just as much right to celebrate on July twelfth as those of the Protestant faith. Love is not bigotry but respecting the rights of another.

The preacher went on to quote the utterances of Rev. Dr. Phelan, as published in the Western Watchman of St. Louis, and the words of the Pope to an American delegation at Rome. The speech was published, said Mr. Fish in the Canadian Churchman and the New York Churchman. Mr. Fish quoted from the address delivered by Bishop Fallon in Boston, which he said was printed in the London, Ontario paper regarding the spread of the Church of Rome over the North American continent.

Mr. Fish made a feeling reference to the unhappy land of his birth, speaking of seeing the troops of the men of Ulster marshaled for war against that of Germany which had expected them to turn against the flag of their fathers, the flag of the British Empire. He told how the followers of Luther and of John Knox had fought and sacrificed for religious freedom, and spoke of the Pilgrim Fathers who left lands and wealth for freedom to worship God.

The history of France and her severance from the Vatican was referred to, also the ex-Kaiser's interview with the Pope at Rome.

He stated that the L. O. L. have recently raised a fund of $100,000 for their work, and urged all his hearers to support Protestant orphan homes wherever founded. The Roman Catholic church, he said, does a wonderful work for children, both in their own and for ours, and we must have homes of our own to look after our Protestant orphans. "Build a dozen, you will be able to fill them all," he said earnestly. In Ontario a large orphan's home is being built in which the children will be brought up in the Protestant faith and to be loyal to their country and to King George.

The sermon ended with an eloquent explanation of their three subjects and the necessity of standing firmly by all three, Loyalty to God, the universal Father of all; to the country for which the boys sacrificed; and to the king, both on earth, and above all to the Heavenly King who suffered death upon the Cross for mankind.

Three Fire Calls Saturday and Sunday

Two Slight Fires Saturday Evening, One on Hilyard Wharf, the Other on St. Davids Street—Alarm Yesterday Afternoon for Small Blaze.

The week-end rush made itself felt in the fire department, Saturday and Sunday, and the force responded to three calls within 24 hours.

At 8.50 Saturday evening, an alarm was rung in from Box 8 for a fire in the rear and upper part of No. 65 St. David street, an unoccupied house owned by Joseph Goldman. The chemical quenched the flames which did not do much damage. The fire was believed to have been caused by children who had been playing in the house.

At 4.50 yesterday afternoon an alarm was rung in from Box 8 for a fire in the warehouses of McCormack and Zatzman, North street, caused by the boiling over of a fish pot. There was considerable smoke but with some cutting and the use of the chemical the fire was checked before serious damage occurred.
