SCHOOLS RE-OPENED HERE TUESDAY

177 Permits Issued to New Pupils in The Three School Buildings

Including all grades 177 permits have already been issued this season to new pupils in Campbellton's public schools. The schools re-opened on Tuesday morning for the fall term with a full attendance. The list of permits are divided as follows: The Grammar School 63; Roseberry Street School 54; and the Academy 57.

The local Board of School Trustees have temporarily solved the problem of lack of room to accommodate pupils of leaving ten rooms in the Academy building including the use of corridors, dressing rooms and playgrounds at a rental of $425 per classroom per annum, or a total yearly rental of $4,250. The Academy building is now under the control of the School Board. The renting of these additional rooms has necessitated the employment of a few extra teachers. However the arrangement will at least temporarily solve the problem of obtaining sufficient room for the steady increasing number of school children here.

The Campbellton schools teaching staff is now comprised of thirty-two teachers. In addition to these two more will be engaged on the staff for the new rooms in the Academy building.

AMERICAN FLIERS ON HOME STRETCH

Hop off from Hawkes Bay, Nfld. Bound for Pictou, Nova Scotia

Pictou, N. S., Sept. 3.—The American airmen hopped off from Hawkes Bay, Nfld. bound for this port at 11:15 eastern standard time today and squared away on the home stretch of their world encircling tour.

Weather reports off the coast of Cape Breton along which the fliers will wing their way were that while there was considerable fog off shore and it has been raining all morning the sun was breaking through the clouds and the indications were for ideal flying weather.

At eleven o'clock the Barry was advised the aviators were awaiting weather reports from one destroyer station. The remaining stations had reported favorable conditions.

Plans Quick Trip Home
Hawkes Bay, Nfld., Sept. 3.—Coming down out of the north with the worst stages of their long journey behind them the United States army world fliers are planning to close the remaining gaps between them and "home" in quick order.

With good flying weather 12,000 miles and his companions are expected to get away to-day for Pictou harbor, N. S., 400 miles in the north-west.

At Pictou the aviators will find awaiting them the United States H. H. Ogden, whose plane the Barry is expected to land.

The aviators are expected to land at Pictou and from there to proceed to other places, christened the Boston II, in which they hope to accompany their comrades to the Pacific Coast, thus completing the first aerial journey around the world.

PREMIER VENIOT FAVORS HYDRO

Says Grand Falls Must be Developed—Demand Will be Amplified

St. John, Sept. 3.—In speaking to a newspaper reporter to-day Premier Veniot said:

"I was never more in earnest about anything than I am in regard to the Grand Falls development. It has got to go through provided matters progress favorably. In regard to the survey," the Premier replied, when he was told that some people doubted that the Grand Falls would be developed.

The cost is justified, according to the Premier, and he had no hesitation in regard to the market, feeling sure that there would be more demand for electrical energy than the initial development would produce.

The field survey is going forward very nicely, the Premier said, and it is hoped to have the survey sufficiently advanced and the results in shape for an application to the International Joint Waterways Commission in December or before, if possible.

SMUGGLED LIQUOR INTO RIMOUSKI CO.

Quebec Liquor Commission Inspectors Busy Trying to Discover Source

Quebec, Sept. 4.—Mysterious sources of liquor supply, which has been utilized by some parties in the course of the electoral campaign in Rimouski are now the subject of investigation, according to information reaching the Telegraph, and sensational developments may arise if the rumors about are confirmed.

Inspectors of the Quebec Liquor Commission are investigating how liquor could be available at the rate of $6 per gallon, as is reported two weeks' stay of the fleet in this part to an end.

Suspicion is directed towards St. Pierre Miqelon where for some time there has been a liquor leak through Tomicaucou county until a few months ago when a clean-up was made. In the present instance it is thought that schooners carrying other merchandise brought large quantities of liquor from St. Pierre and Miqelon and are likely to be made within a few days.

LOCAL MARKET IS ADVISED

Campbellton Would Greatly Benefit by Such an Institution Here

That a public market building similar to that found in other large towns and cities is sorely needed in Campbellton was the opinion expressed by a local butcher in conversation with the Graphic yesterday.

The advantages of a public market building are certain, and they are such that every consumer would benefit greatly if Campbellton had such a place where farmers from the surrounding districts could bring their produce and sell it. Butchers could be occupied by local butchers while others from neighboring districts could arrange for regular supply and bring their produce to market days. Rentals derived from the building and the booths would contribute considerably towards the upkeep.

Under the present system large numbers of farmers bring quantities of eggs, butter, vegetables and other farm produce to town. If the market appears good they often ask high prices as they know that when their time is accounted for the proceeds of their trip will not show any too large a margin of profit.

As the day wears on they are often obliged to cut prices practically in two in order to get rid of their load. In this way the consumer is not really given a square deal. Prices of produce fluctuate almost uncontrollably, although making honest efforts to meet the demands of the market, local butchers are often unable to give satisfaction and both dealers and consumers suffer as a result, financially and otherwise.

The advantages of the proposed market building are really too obvious to use space to enumerate. Growing towns everywhere are provided with such a facility, Campbellton as a progressive commercial centre rapidly reaching the status of a city should not be unduly backward in this respect. What is really needed is the selection of a few leaders who will take the initiative in this direction. Good should eventually result from sustained effort in such a progressive measure.

Moncton, Sept. 3.—Harry Somers, aged thirty-one, of Moncton, while working on the C. N. R. section one mile east of Calhoun's Mills, was struck by the Springhill train and instantly killed this morning.

NETTING TROUT IN MADAWASKA

Party Also had Rifle in Possession—Double Prosecution Probable

Fredericton, Sept. 3.—Word was received by Fisheries Inspector H. E. Harrison yesterday that a party in Madawaska County had been arrested by fishery guardians for fishing trout with a net. Trout-fishing with nets is strictly against the Federal law and is punishable by heavy penalty. The party was seized and in their tent was found a rifle. This was also confiscated. The party is also liable to the charge of carrying a fire arm in the forests of New Brunswick out of season. The case will probably come before the courts next week. Overseer J. A. D. Robertson left the city today to assist the provincial authorities at Grand Falls in investigating the case. It is not known how severely they will be dealt with. This is not the first case of illegal trout fishing in Madawaska County.

TEACHERS RETURN FROM WESTERN TRIP

Delighted with the Grandeur of the Canadian Mountain Scenery

Montreal, Sept. 2.—"Nothing but good can follow as a result of the tour across Canada just completed by two hundred teachers from all parts of Ontario, Quebec and the Eastern Provinces," said Isaac Gammell, B. A., rector of the High School of Montreal, when discussing the trip.

"Like too many easterners," said Mr. Gammell, "many of them knew of the west only what they had read and the most they could do in that direction would give but a poor idea of what lay between Winnipeg and Victoria. I was ashamed," he said, "to find Banff Lake, Louise Glacier Field and the Yoho Valley crowded with tourists from all parts of the world except Canada, and those visitors from abroad all told the same story, that in all their world travels nothing was superior to, and very little equalled the grandeur of Canadian mountain scenery."

The Canadian Teachers' Federation left for the west via Canadian Pacific special train on August 4th, many of them are returning via the Pacific Valley and British Columbia Lake route, while others are returning via Banff and are making a stop over at the Devil's Gap Bungalow Camp, Kenora, Ontario.

Mr. Gammell said that the experience of the trip was a revelation of the grandeur of the Canadian mountains and the movement southwest from Canada has been made greater because of the country's greater development similar to that held in Washington.

French sources were authority for the statement today that France would oppose such a tax proposal if a basis for the reduction of armaments could not be found through the League of Nations, which has studied the subject for four years, for if the League fails it is impossible for a hastily summoned special conference to succeed. Premier MacDonald of England is now enroute here, and disarmament is one of the questions uppermost in his mind.

League delegates were advised today that a Turkish delegation would arrive here next week. He will sit with the League Council during the hearing of the Mosul dispute with England and will also present Turkey's formal application for membership in the League, rendering the admission of Turkey a possible burden for the meeting of the Assembly.

HAPPY PROVINCE IS NEW BRUNSWICK

Sir Douglas Hazen's Remarks at St. John Exhibition an Inspiration

Sir Douglas Hazen said in the course of his inspiring address at the opening of the exhibition that man for man and acre he did not know of any people more fortunately placed than those of the province of New Brunswick. In that estimate he took into account all our advantages and the absence of the extreme destitution which is found in so many other places by the side, it may be, of vast wealth, but yet existent and causing severe human suffering.

That Sir Douglas is justified in his estimate must be apparent to all who are familiar with conditions in this province and who read the news of the day from other countries. The comparison, or contrast, is not however, a reason for content with our present lot. Every man and every woman knows that conditions should be greatly improved, to remove a few of the people a little farther from the bread line and make for very many others the task of meeting financial obligations less formidable.

It is nevertheless well to make the comparison, because the spirit of pessimism has been abroad among those who do not pause to consider what we have come through in the last decade, or the burdens the war imposed.

The first essential to improved conditions is faith in ourselves, and a clear grasp of the world-wide conditions which affect so many millions of people in Europe, whose prosperity is necessarily bound up to some extent with our own. The skies are now clearer in Europe and that means a better demand for the products of this country, to materialize when conditions overseas have become more stabilized.

Let the people of New Brunswick, however, not minimize their present blessings and advantages. We have no problem associated with alien immigrants. Our people are of good racial stock, intelligent, industrious, with few exceptions, native to the soil, and capable of doing good work in all fields of human activity. We must not be able to keep all of them at home, and that is so unfortunate that every effort should be directed toward building up our own province, in order that the export of brain and brawn may be reduced to the minimum. A movement of population there will always be, and the movement southwest from Canada has been made greater because of the country's greater development similar to that held in Washington.

French sources were authority for the statement today that France would oppose such a tax proposal if a basis for the reduction of armaments could not be found through the League of Nations, which has studied the subject for four years, for if the League fails it is impossible for a hastily summoned special conference to succeed. MACKENZIE KING ON BYE ELECTIONS

Premier Looks for Like Triumphs in New Brunswick and British Columbia

"The results in the by-elections are the clearest possible endorsement of the government's fiscal policy, which at the recent session of parliament received, on the Budget, the largest recorded majority since Confederation. Our policy of developing Canada's natural resources on the basis of her rural industrial development and means of solving the problems with which our country has been confronted since the Great War, has received the wholehearted support of the electors of Montreal and Rimouski, with the one industrial, and other a rural constituency.

"We may look for like triumphs in the forthcoming bye-elections in New Brunswick and British Columbia, since our policy is one for the good of the whole of Canada and not framed in the interests of any privileged section or class. It is worthy of notice that, during the past three weeks the government has made it a point of holding meetings throughout rural and urban Ontario in which our policy has been fully explained in order that there could be no doubt as to the scope and understanding of the recent budget, which was being made the object of attack by the Tory party both in St. Antoine division, Montreal and Rimouski, and what was the occasion of the by-election in the former constituency. It is apparent that the people of Canada have confidence in the present administration and are as ready as we members of the House of Commons, to support politics."

NEW PLAN OF TAX ON GAS IS GOOD

Users Would Pay On Gasoline Consumption of Cars Instead of Weight

St. John Sept. 3.—Premier Veniot in an interview said—

"There has been considerable talk among local automobile owners in favor of substituting a tax on gasoline bought at filling stations for the present yearly license tax on automobiles."

The argument is this: The more a car is driven and the heavier it is, the greater is the damage done to the highways. Likewise, gasoline consumption increased with the mileage and weight of a car, and this would result in a corresponding increase in the tax paid the government. Further, American cars coming into the Province and using the roads would contribute to the provincial road fund with every gallon of gasoline purchased, while they now go free.

Questioned about a tax on gasoline, the Premier replied that he had given the subject some consideration, but pointed out that fishermen and farmers would have to be exempted. He did not think it wise to impose any heavy burden on anyone but pleasure cars tourists' cars and trucks might be taxed."

FRANCE TO OPPOSE ARMS CONFERENCE

Maintains Basis for Disarmament Must Come from League

Geneva, Sept. 3.—France will oppose the suggestion that it be advanced by England that a new international disarmament conference similar to that held in Washington be called.

In view of the highly satisfactory report submitted, it was decided by the committee to immediately commence campaign activities as a part of the general organization work. A POOR ALIBI

Sir: The radio comes in useful after all. I returned home the other morning, about 8 a.m. from a little game of cards, and was just getting along the hall to my room, when I had the bad luck to cough, and my wife called out from her room. "Is that you, Abbe?" Quick as a thought I started to murmur in a low voice: "This station OKCA broadcasts you have just heard the name of the Prebde, by Rachmaniroff, and played by Miss Shannon. Well, yes, that's right. Which if I say so myself, was darned cute of me. The only thing wrong was that my wife knew something I didn't, that Sunny was completely dismantled his set that evening.

The short and simple cuss words of he poor make poverty less annoying, when applied to the rich.

It is especially annoying to be arrested for speeding after you have got by several hundred times.

WILL ADVERTISE MARITIME PROVINCES

The installation of a radio broadcasting plant at Moncton in connection with the Canadian National Railways is an event of considerable interest not only to employees of the railway but to the public generally. Aside from the entertainment that may be afforded, there should be much information broadcast that will prove beneficial to the Maritime Provinces.

Many instructive addresses pertaining to the resources and development of the country are being broadcast from the C. N. R. stations, already constructed. The messages are picked up hundreds of miles away, a great deal of information regarding Canada thus being made available for people in the United States.

With the new station at Moncton completed, those who arrange the program will doubtless give serious attention to the dissemination of facts regarding the Maritime Provinces. Thousands of people in the New England States for instance will be able to listen in stories of tourist attractions and opportunities for industrial development in the Atlantic Region. And the Maritime view-point on various public issues can be broadcast.

Now that many observers are em-

TWO LIBERALS ARE ELECTED

Rimouski and St. Antoine Return Supporters for Gov.

Montreal, Sept. 2.—Two Liberal candidates were returned in the federal by-elections held today in the Quebec Province constituencies of Rimouski and the St. Antoine division of Montreal. In the former Major General Sir Eugene Fisot, late deputy Minister of Defence, was elected over his Conservative opponent, Elzear Sasseville, advocate of Rimouski, by a majority which late returns placed around 1,900.

In the latter, Alderman W. J. Hushion was returned by a majority of approximately 1,000 over Mr. Conservative standard bearer, W. M. Birks, of Montreal.

HUMORIST WRITES ROAD SIGNS

"Bugs" Baer, a well-known newspaper humorist, has written and published a series of "road signs," probably merely intended to entertain. But many of them might be erected with benefit to the safety of traffic.

"Don't run up your mileage with kids," contains a lot of real caution in tabloid form, "Don't do your thinking with brakes," will strike a responsive chord in every man who has had near-nervous prostration at the sight of the reckless driver stopping in a hurry. "There are three grades of eggs, but only one grade of crossing and that's dangerous," ought to be posted in the hats of all those who try to "beat the train" across its right of way.

"The glass in your windshield is the same stuff they put in hospital windows. Which will you look through?" is a very pertinent query, and "Fifteen miles an hour may be a chill, but fifty is fever," is not too medicinal to be understood.

To towns troubled with too much speeding by tourists, Mr. Baer suggests "Speed limit in this town fifteen miles an hour. One day for every fifteen over that!" or "We have seven hotels and one jail, take your pick!"

"Don't try to scare locomotives with your horns," "Mrs. Smith, you save may be your last one," are good things to have without the accident.

Mr. Baer intended to be funny, and succeeded; he may not have intended to be helpful, but many can take his cleverness seriously with benefit to themselves and the general public.

In other words (Mr. Baer once more), "Accident insurance is a good thing to have without the accident."

pleading the need of increased publicity in the interests of the Maritime Provinces, the possibilities of seeing local Maritime advantages through the radio should not be overlooked.—Moncton Transcript.

THE DOG'S EXPRESSIVE TAIL

David Lee Wharton

In his long and intimate association with man the dog, though lacking human speech, has evolved a method of expressing himself. By the tail he tells us what he is thinking. This highly important member is quite sufficient as a means of communication. It speaks the language of the heart more eloquently than words.

As a barometer there is none more accurate; with it, its owner registers every known emotion. With it he responds intelligently to every advance, friendly or otherwise. There are none so dull as to be unable to read its message.

There is also the violent wag of friendly greeting when advancing to welcome a guest of the household, and the more informal wagging which greets the friends of the children. Then there is the tentative wig-wag at the extreme end as some strange dog approaches with apparently friendly overtures.

There is also the violent wag of welcome for members of the family when one expects momentarily to see it wag loose from its moorings. There is the apologetic wag, which comes into play when a reprimand is administered, and other movements, especially single, etc., too numerous to mention.

It is also useful in a dog's joyful occasions with what joyful abandon it is willing to wag. In moments of dejection how ungraciously it hangs at half mast, in times of error disappearing entirely, only to reappear happily at the first word or caress. And how it will wag at the first sign of danger to a loved one.

Then there is the gentle, almost imperceptible motion which is reserved for the best beloved, how tenderly, albeit mutely, he speaks as in owner sits, his head on the knee.

When the Scottish editors visited the Maritime Provinces recently they remarked on the lack of knowledge in Scotland of this portion of Canada. This same condition exists elsewhere unfortunately. DROWNED AT CHATHAM

Roland McG. Roberts was drowned while bathing in the Miramichi river at Chatham Friday. He lost his life when he was attempting to take a little girl named Francis out and saved the child from drowning, but was unable to help Mr. Roberts. The body was recovered one hour and thirty minutes after the accident occurred.

LARGE CROWDS ATTEND RACES

Labor Day Events Interesting But Track Heavy Owing To Recent Rains

Despite the unfavorable weather the horse races on the local speedway on Labor day were attended by what appeared almost a record crowd. The track owing to the recent rains was not in very good condition and the races, although interesting were not as good as they would have been had weather conditions on and immediately previous to the holiday been more favorable. In spite of the heavy track however, some good time was made by the winning horses.

An Accident

The local speedway was the scene of an unfortunate occurrence shortly before the races were scheduled to begin. Mr. Henry Co., or who was the victim of an accident in which his right leg was broken and badly shattered was unable to drive as a result of his injuries. Mr. Cormier was, at the time going over the track with a split-log drag, which, somehow, became stuck in soft ground on the worse section of the track. As the boy assisting him was unable to lift the drag Mr. Cormier went in between the front and rear scrapers to assist him. The horses started immediately the drag was lifted and Cormier's right leg became caught in the rear scraper, and his leg broken was badly shattered before the horses were finally stopped. On being taken to the Hotel Dieu Hospital it was impossible to set the injured member owing to the swollen condition of the unfortunate man's foot. Mr. Cormier's injuries will confine him to the hospital for some time but he is reported to day as resting comfortably.

SOLDIERS' MEMORIAL HOSPITAL FAIR IS SCHEDULED THIS YEAR FOR OCTOBER FIRST

To Last Three Days—Various Committees Now At Work—Outlook Indicates Better Event Than in Former Years—More Farm Produce Exhibits Expected—Other Attractions Not Yet Announced.

Although still one month away preparations are already well advanced for the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital Fair. Originated by the splendid organization, the S. M. Hospital Aid, this fair has become an annual event and because of its wide appeal, one of no little importance.

Better Than Ever

If the plans of those directly connected with the organization of the year's event turn out as is hoped, this season's fair should eclipse those of all previous seasons.

Numerous committees have been at work for the past few weeks and their efforts are meeting with a fairly hearty response. A great quantity of fancy work, household articles and novelties of various description are being collected and it is likely that these booths will present a more attractive array than in past years.

As a result of the good yield of fall crops throughout the north shore it is also likely that the exhibits in farm produce of one kind and another will also exceed those of last year and that a much larger number of farmers and producers throughout Restigouche and the Gaspé territory will complete for prizes in this department of the Fair. Two years ago the exhibits of farm produce here were really remarkable and aroused much enthusiastic comment, but it is expected by many, that the exhibition of articles in this line will this year establish a new record of excellence. All those desiring to contribute for awards in this department of the S. M. H. Fair should get into communication with the Fair Secretary and make arrangements for the display of whatever exhibits they wish to exhibit. Apart from this co-operation which will help greatly to make the fair a success, it should not be forgotten that this is a splendid opportunity for farmers and gardeners to boost the products of their own community. This will do much to promote a friendly rivalry between different sections of the county.

DECREASE IN EXCISE REVENUE

Period of Five Months to End of August Shows Considerable Decrease

Ottawa, Sept. 3.—Canadian customs and excise revenue during the five months to the end of August were $26,000,000 less than in the corresponding period last year. The collections during the five months were $99,855,414, compared with $125,857,740 in the previous year. Excise taxes showed the largest reduction being $17,459,968 less than last year.

Returns for August alone show a decrease in all classes of customs and excise revenue, with the exception of excise duties which are up over August last year by $5,944.

Customs duties in August were $2,106,199 less than August 1923, excise taxes $3,966,651 lower and sundry collections $12,044 lower. The net decrease in customs and excise revenue in August, compared with August last year was $6,984,924.

TWO SENTENCED AT DALHOUSIE

Criminal Cases Completed—Court Adjourned Until September 16th for Civil Cases

In the four cases on the criminal docket in the Restigouche Circuit Court two of the defendants were sentenced by Chief Justice McKeown on Saturday morning last. George Cooke of Jacques River, convicted of assaulting and obstructing an officer in the person of Prohibition inspector C. B. Gray was sentenced to four months in the county jail. In the case of Donald M. Silas, who was found guilty of publishing a defamatory libel, a sentence of nine months was imposed. This sentence also included a fine of $100.

Following the resumption of the court on Saturday morning the jury was addressed by the Attorney General Byrne for the Crown and Colin MacKenzie for the defence. In the Silas case the evidence having been complete, yesterday afternoon. The charge was laid as the result of what was termed "a dirty rotten libel" in connection with an ineffective clerk employed in Campbellton.

With the conclusion of these cases the criminal business of the court has been completed for the present term. The court was adjourned until September 16th, when three civil cases will be taken up.

Three names were before the convention, W. B. Snowball, a son of the late Hon. J. B. Snowball, a former Lieutenant-Governor of the province, Charles J. Morris, M. L. A., a son of the late Hon. John Morris, M. P., whose death made the election necessary, and Dr. E. C. McGrath of Newcastle. MARS HAS SAME SEASONS AS EARTH

Is a Habitable Planet, According to Professor of Mathematics

Captain T. J. J. See, professor of mathematics, United States Navy, and Government Astronomer at Marquette Island in a statement made recently said that the astronomical research has proved beyond doubt that Mars is a habitable planet and, therefore, is inhabited by vegetable and animal life of some kind. All other details are speculative, according to his statement. It follows:

"The observation of astronomers since 1638 show that Mars rotates in 24 hours, 37 minutes and 22.57 seconds; that the obliquity of Mars' ecliptic is about 28 degrees so that the seasons in our neighboring planet are about the same as here, though the year is nearly twice as long—68 days.

"Mars has polar caps of ice and snow which melt with the advent of the martian summer and build up again with the return of the martian winter. We can see this very distinctly in the several large telescopes I have used during the last thirty years. And, wonderful to relate, we can see the clouds floating in the atmosphere of Mars. The clouds were distinctly photographed in 1907, 1916, 1920 and will no doubt be seen again this year when Mars is unusually near the earth.

Inhabited by Animal Life

"If Mars has seasons, day and night, clouds, ice and snow, and a sunlight as favorable as in the plateau of Tibet the planet certainly is habitable. Therefore, it is inhabited by vegetable and animal life of some kind, but we cannot define the kind of life that exists on Mars.

"Mars and Venus are both inhabited besides our earth and if we do not admit that such worlds are inhabited, we are compelled to hold that the life upon earth is an accident and a mistake existing in violation of the general laws of nature. A philosopher cannot hold such views; therefore, we believe life to be a general phenomenon of nature, existing wherever worlds are habitable.

"The chemical elements in Mars are the same as upon the earth; the electrical, atomic and molecular forces are similar in all respects; all physical conditions are the same; therefore Mars and Venus are habitable like the earth and therefore, also inhabited like our own globe. The canals of Mars most likely are vegetation banks along water courses."

PRICES IN THE LOCAL MARKET

Beef More Plentiful This Fall—Market Flooded With Lots of Good Vegetables

As further testimony to the good crop of vegetables on the North Shore the local market is at present literally flooded with fine vegetables of nearly every kind. Besides the large quantities of garden truck on display at the local stores, many farmers appear in town each day with large loads of fresh vegetables which are sold from house to house.

Carrots are now selling at 10 cts. per bunch, turnips at 2 1/2 cts. per pound; beets at 5 cts.; cabbage at 5 cts. each, and corn on the cob at 30 cts. per dozen. New potatoes of fine quality are retailing at 30 cts. per bushel.

Local butchers report that there seems to be an abundance of fresh beef available in the general district this fall. It is, too, of a fairly good quality.

Chicken is now retailing at 40 cts. per lb. Incidentally this commodity appears more plentiful than last fall. No turkey or geese have yet appeared on the local stands. It is thought that turkey will be about the same as last year both in price and quantity.

SERIOUS FIRE AT BATHURST, AUG. 26.

Loss Estimated at $40,000—Insurance About $20,000.

A planing mill, formerly used by the Northern Woodworks, Ltd., but more recently turned into a warehouse for the George Eddy Company Bathurst last Tuesday, together with was completely destroyed by fire at a considerable quantity of hard wood flooring and other material. The loss placed at about $40,000 with insurance covering only half that amount. The origin of the fire has, but an electrical storm may have not been discovered but it is thought to have been the cause.

WORK TO BE RESUMED

Work on the C. N. R. radio broadcasting station at Miramichi was resumed in a short time. Operations are held up by the necessity to redeign the plans for the steel towers.

MAY APPEAR AT MURDER TRIAL

Say Michel Wanted for Killing Blaquiere Will Appear When Trial Begins

Rimouski, August 30. A sensation will be sprung at the trial of the five men held for the death of game warden Joseph Blaquiere, who was found shot last fall on the Matajama Club limits, if the sixth man wanted Emmanuel Michel shows up, as it is rumored that he will, among some of his former friends here.

In the meantime arrangements for the most important case ever held in this district, which has brought the arrest of five residents of the locality and has caused no end of gossip, are in progress and when the term to be presided over by Justice Seigny opens on the 8th of September everything will be in readiness for the trial.

Three of the accused, who are held in the Quebec Jail will be transferred to the Rimouski County Jail next week. The other two are out on bail here and the sixth one, Emmanuel Michel is still at large.

Chief Detective Rioux who has been directing the search for Michel was successful in tracing the man for some time but his whereabouts were lost after it was known he had become a lumberjack in some northern Ontario camp. Last spring the trial of the five men held was delayed until this fall so as to allow time to get Michel but the attempt failed.

A few days ago some people started the report at Ste. Florencia, where Michel was known, and in fact estimated, that he had written some one to the effect that he intended to show up when the trial opened and defend himself against the serious charge laid against him.

At the preliminary hearing the five men held made declarations tending to throw the blame on the missing man.

Blaquiere it will be remembered was found lying dead on the shore of the Matajama River, a few days after he had warned alleged pouchers that he would tolerate no further violation of the rights of club any longer.

QUIET HOLIDAY IN SHIRETOWN

No Sports of Any Kind Available—Picnics Abandoned Owing to Weather

On account of the inclemency of the weather Labor Day in Dalhousie, it was celebrated quietly in the shiretown. Our 400 mill men enjoyed the day at their homes. Unfortunately there is no Base Ball organization in Dalhousie, there being no ground available this year. Our Base Ball players however have shown their metal this summer in playing at outside points and made a splendid record. No doubt that the summer of 1925 will see the shiretown boys fully prepared for a big summer of outdoor sports. Those who intended going to the races in Campbellton were disappointed as it rained nearly all day. All plans for little picnics were abandoned. In the evening (fortunately it was picture night) the Opera House was crowded. The Rink Cabaret was also a great attraction as Mr. Trudelle the popular proprietor had made complete preparations, music of the best and refreshments galore.

With no regular plans for outdoor sports on Labor Day in Dalhousie, it makes the holiday a dull one for our large population of working men and this was felt this year, now that a precedent is established by the Banks, Stores and Mills closing all day. All plans for little picnics were abandoned. In the evening (fortunately it was picture night) the Opera House was crowded. The Rink Cabaret was also a great attraction as Mr. Trudelle the popular proprietor had made complete preparations, music of the best and refreshments galore.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

The Informal Novelty Dance which took place on Friday evening in the Rink, Dalhousie, was a great success. The chaperons were: Mrs. Montgomery, Mrs. Fleck, Mrs. Mott and Mrs. J. Scott. The committee in charge, Messrs. Charles Bernard, F. LaViolette, Eugene Gaudet and Leo Blanchard. The committee had nothing undone to make the dance a most enjoyable one. There was a large attendance of guests from Campbellton and other North Shore points. The novelties introduced made the party very interesting in addition to the decorations, which were on a lavish scale, and the music by the "Linnaea" Orchestra was of the best.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Duncan, Messrs. Asker, Charles Goss and D. F. Graham, Campbellton were among those who attended the funeral of the late Mr. James Duncan, on Aug. 27th.

Mrs. G. W. Merreveau and her daughter Mrs. H. F. McLeod, Fredericton, were visitors to Dalhousie on Friday.

Miss Mary Lawlor, Registrar at Newcastle, N. B., who spent a couple of days in Campbellton last week, is visiting Mrs. LaBillicois and her daughter Mrs. Colton.

Miss Lawlor spent several months in the shiretown when Mrs. Mott first took charge of the record office and rendered valuable service. Her appointment in Northumberland Co., to succeed her father is a popular one. Previous to being appointed Registrar, Miss Lawlor had made a successful course of training in the Roosevelt Hospital for Nurses in the City of New York. The unexpected death of her late father, changed her plans. While here Miss Lawlor spent a couple of days with Mrs. Mott and her Bungalow.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Marquis and children of Campbellton, were guests to Dalhousie on Sunday and Labor Day, guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Mackenzie.

Miss Phillips, who spent the months of July and August with her sister Mrs. J. C. Barberie, left last week for Dorchester, Mass. where she will reside with her sister Mrs. John Baldwin.

Rev. Father Keane, professor at the St. Thomas College, Chatham, N. B. has been spending a few days in Dalhousie, the guest of Rev. J. A. Hart, P. P. Father Keane preached two eloquent sermons on Sunday in English.

Mr. C. Fred Black and his daughter Miss E. Black, of St. Martins, N. B. have arrived in Dalhousie, to spend some time with Mr. Black's daughter, Mrs. E. Dean. Mrs. Black, who met with a slight accident in a fall, is expected here soon. She is the guest of a daughter in St. Martins.

The party given last week for the younger set, by Miss Marjorie McEvoy, was a most enjoyable affair. All the invited guests met at Miss McEvoy's home first. They went to the Rink Cabaret, engaged for the occasion, to be a few nice dances were enjoyed, with splendid music, furnished by the "Linnaea Orchestra" of Campbellton. After a good time in the Rink, the party repaired to the home of Miss McEvoy, on Adelaide St., where music, singing and games, were much appreciated. Dainty refreshments were served. Miss McEvoy who is a favorite in town, proved herself to be a fine hostess.

Miss Joan Bebbington, Fredericton who has been visiting Mrs. Earle Simpson, during the holiday season, has returned to the celestial city. Mr. and Mrs. Earle Simpson, have gone to Fredericton, to be present at the wedding of a sister of Mrs. Simpson. Mrs. Simpson will probably spend a month at her old home at the capital.

Three of the Misses Berube, of Edmundston, N. B. relatives of Rev. J. A. Hart, are spending a few days at the Presbytery.

Miss Helen Elzinger has returned to Montreal, after spending an enjoyable vacation at her home here. Miss Elzinger is another Restigouche girl, who is making good, as she is able to move about and enjoyed the respect and esteem of all. During her long years of illness her sufferings were born with Christian fortitude. Stricken with infantile paralysis in early life, as stated she was up until a few years ago able to move about but during the past two years it was quite noticeable she was falling in health, though able to be up and about the house until a few days ago, when she was suddenly taken to her bed, and passed peacefully away on Saturday night at eight o'clock. She leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving daughter and sister her bereaved parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Furlong, two sisters, Bernadette and Frances, and two brothers, George and James, to whom the heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended in the loss of their beloved one.

The funeral services which were held on Monday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. at St. Joseph's Church, were largely attended. The floral offerings were many and most beautiful.

MANY DISAPPOINTED Owing to the rain Sunday and Monday many auto trips were spoiled that had been planned for the week end.

Our European Trip

A Brief Account of our Pleasant Experiences with The Canadian Weekly Newspaper Party on our Trip abroad By H. B. ANSLOW

Lille, June 24th, 1924. This morning we were again early on our way, and arrived at Lille about noon. Lille was right in the centre of things at various stages of the War. It was just behind the German lines, and was occupied by the Hun. The Kaiser made his headquarters when at Lille at the Hotel de Europe, where we were quartered during our brief stay.

On both sides of the courtyard were rooms used as offices, while the rooms above were used as sleeping quarters. Upon the stairs railing and walls were still to be seen the spurs, marks, and bayonet cuts of the German soldiers quartered there.

We spent the night, visiting Sanctuary Wood and Hill Sixty enroute. As our readers will easily recognize from the names mentioned this was one of the sectors in which the Canadian boys played such a great and heroic part during the war. As we went from village to village, now partially restored, and the inhabitants recognized us by the maple leaf pins we wore, we were frequently received with cheers, and the children gathered round and presented them to the ladies.

One of the first places we visited was a great mine crater made when the British forces mined a German position and blew it up taking the position. All along the roads, which, by the way, are repaired and in fine shape, with thousands of young trees planted along them, we could see the concrete dugouts, gun bases and pill boxes which formed one of the German lines. One of these dugouts we visited, but found it vile smelling and stuffy.

Here we had an opportunity of walking down some of the narrow crooked streets which lead from the ridge to the German lines. In some places we saw our Canadian boys driving the Hun back, fighting foot by foot not alone along the streets but from cellar to cellar under them.

The city is being rapidly rebuilt, and here we observed that in rebuilding the streets are being widened a few feet. At Ypres we were very warmly received by the natives, and on every hand we could hear "Canadian."

We visited Hill Sixty near Sanctuary Wood. This is a spot sacred to every Canadian, as in and around this hill and through Sanctuary Wood thousands of our brave boys fought and died. It is on Hill Sixty that grounds have been laid out for a Canadian war memorial.

Laid out in terraces, each step of which has been planted with roses and other flowers, it indeed presents a beautiful, but sad sight, and their were few dry eyes among our party. A large concrete base has been placed here, and upon which will be erected a large monument by the I. O. D. E. of Canada.

This was the very centre of heavy fighting and there are many cemeteries along the roads. In some of these the original wooden crosses are still marking the graves, but in many others the permanent marble slabs have been placed. All the British cemeteries are of standard design and all will be finished alike. They are enclosed by a brick wall.

At one end is an immense block of stone upon which is cut "Their names shall live forever." The rows of graves are neatly kept, and flowers are planted upon every grave. Our one regret was that we could not remain longer and hunt among the rows of crosses for the name of some brave boy whose mother would like to hear about. But with so large a party this was not possible, as it was essential that we all stick together.

With our party we had several young men who knew the section thoroughly, and as we drove along the various points of special interest were pointed out to us. At 9:30 we arrived back at Lille, and were taken immediately to our hotels, where we had our dinner.

Wednesday June 25th, 1924. This was another lovely day. The fine weather which has favored us since leaving Canada is continuing. At 8 o'clock we are again on our way, but this time in a different direction. Our ultimate destination is Arras, but we visited enroute La Bassée, Loos, Lens, Vimy Ridge, Neuville St. Vaast and La Tige. Here the general appearance of the country was much the same as that covered yesterday. At first we passed through country occupied by the Germans during most of the war, then gradually working down to Vimy Ridge and Arras.

In the morning we visited a large chemical plant near Lille, of which the Mayor of that city is one of the owners. Most of this plant, which covers 100 acres, was destroyed by the Germans. We proceeded to Perenchies at which is located a large textile mill owned by the same company whose chemical factory we previously visited. This little town, the home of two thousand workmen employed in the factory was within the second line of German defenses, and consequently was entirely destroyed.

The factory and entire town has been reconstructed and is a model town in every respect, neat brick houses are provided, while recreation fields, etc., and a community hall were built. We were taken to community hall where an employees' band of about fifty instruments greeted us and we were invited to a very fine banquet, the band supplying splendid music. When the band struck up "Maple Leaf" everyone on his feet, also so for "O Canada," "God Save the King," and the French National Anthem.

Addresses of welcome and suitable replies were made. The hall was tastefully decorated, including Canadian and British flags. We are again on the road driving through La Bassée and Loos in the coal mining district with Lens ahead and we are stopped again at one of the large coal mine offices. The company operates fourteen mines in all, employing twelve thousand men. We were greeted by music from another splendid band and entertained in the community hall to another banquet. The President of the company, M. P. Weiss, and the director, M. E. Bartholme, also spoke. Our directors made suitable replies. We are again on our way. We passed through Lens, now being rebuilt and arrive at Vimy Ridge. One can have no conception of the obstacles which had to be overcome by the Canadians in the taking of Vimy Ridge. Our guide explained the action as well as possible, showing the positions held by the Allies in the distance before the advance, and then pointing out the trenches and dugouts. From the ridge the Germans and finally taken by our brave boys. We followed the line of advance, trench by trench until we saw where the Hun had been forced off the ridge, and then down on the level country behind it. In the rush the Canadians forced the Germans back some distance, but were recalled all counter attacks.

In the trenches we took photos, and gathered many souvenirs in the shape of pieces of shrapnel, time fuses, pieces of telephone wire, and one of our party found a steel helmet. As we looked out over the country from the top of Vimy Ridge, our eyes filled with tears, as we thought of the thousands of brave boys who had died on its slopes. The only cemetery on the ridge is Seven Elms Cemetery which is completed and beautifully kept. From the ridge many villages are in sight. These are all new, as hardly a building was left standing in this vicinity. Here also at Vimy the fields are producing good crops. The ridge alone has not been touched, and is today much as the war left it. The entire ridge has been granted to the Canadian government, and in time a war memorial park will be laid out there. Of course the trenches are filling up, and everywhere poppies and other wild flowers are growing. Here also we met in with large road making machines and crews, which were putting the roads in first class shape. But time is passing and although many of us would like to linger, we are reminded that our train leaves Arras for Paris at 5:00, so we rejoin our charabans and are again on our way.

Arras too was the centre of heavy fighting, and a large portion of it is rebuilt and "business as usual" seems to be the rule. Our party arrived at Arras station in good time to take the train to Paris. But here some of us intended to leave the main party and if possible visit the graves of loved ones, which contained the graves of loved ones. Mrs. Anslow and I engaged a taxi to take us out the Arras-St. Pol road to the Ligny-St. Flochel British cemetery, where Mrs. Anslow's brother, Pte. James Corbett, who was killed in the last months of the war, is buried with six hundred Canadian comrades. This cemetery is about fifteen miles from Arras, and is beautifully situated. We were fortunate in finding the cemetery attendant, a young English soldier, who takes great pride in his work. We found that this cemetery was complete in every detail, the marble slabs all in place, the walks laid out and the grass trimmed until not a blade seemed out of place. Upon each grave were planted Blue-bells of Scotland, pansys and roses. It was a lovely sunny evening and as we stood on this hallowed spot, with the birds chirping in the nearby bushes and everything so quiet and peaceful, we thought of the brave boys; our loved ones and yours; lying in these beautiful cemeteries and thought of the loved ones at home, who would be so happy to know that these graves are being so beautifully kept and looked after. The British government, which is bearing the expense of this work is to be commended for the thoroughness with which it is being done. We took a number of photos of this cemetery for loved ones at home. Returning to Arras station shortly after seven o'clock we caught a through train to Paris at 7:15. As the evenings are long, and we passed through miles of devastated territory, so interested were we that we forgot to look for our evening meal, until near Rheims, when an English gentleman directed us to the buffet car. The railway embankment for miles seems to have been the chief line of defence of the French army. All along were concrete dugouts. The country on both sides was greatly battered, but is being reclaimed. Here we saw numerous villages of wooden houses, sent from America to house the refugees. These are being rapidly replaced by permanent brick structures. The country all about is being reclaimed for agricultural purposes. We arrived at Paris about 11 o'clock and took a taxi to the Lion Palace hotel, which was to be our headquarters for our stay in Paris.

FINDS SCALLOPS NEAR BATHURST

Bathurst, Aug. 26.—Roland Stevens, an expert scallop fisherman, from Tatouak, N. S., who was sent to Shippegan by the Department of Marine and Fisheries, to search for scallops around the shores of Gloucester county, completed his operation and left Thursday for his home. Mr. Stevens reports very valuable beds of these shellfish all along the shores of the county. The best he had ever found yet was in the vicinity of Bathurst and Petit Rocher. Provided markets can be found, the fishermen have a golden asset at their doors. Much credit is due John G. Robichaud, M. P., who in the course of last session at Ottawa, succeeded in interesting the Department of Marine and Fisheries in this matter.
