Heroic Girl Rescues Man From Snake

Pries It Loose From Unconsious Attendant and Empties Vial of Smelling Salts Into Its Mouth Until Its Pressure Relaxes.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

GUELPH. June 10.-An act of conspicuous heroism was performed yesterday at the exhibition park by one of the lady performers of the Washburn carnival, and an exciting occurrence was shorn of fatal termination by the cool headedness and bravery of the young woman in question.

A man named Harry Thomas employed as assistant in the snake exhibit. entered the "pit" or enclosure, occupied by "Edward the Great," a gigantic South American python, which recently arrived, and which has not yet become accustomed to his surroundings. 'Edward' weighs over 800 pounds, and measures 34 inches in circumference at his thickest point, and this added to the naturally intractable disposition of a serpent fresh from his native wilds, makes the big snake a dangerous opponent if not carefully approached. Thomas, who is an octoroon, was engaged in sweeping out the snake den, when without the slightest warning he found himself enveloped in the great serpent's clammy coils.

BECAME UNCONSCIOUS.

Thomas was able to give one shout for assistance before the constricting ordy tightened about his throat, and he lapsed into unconsciousness, wrapped from neck to ankles in the scaly monster's ever tightening folds.

Marguerite Still, eashier of the show, was in the ticket booth outside, and was the only one who heard the choking scream of the unfortunate Thomas. With rare presence of mind she dashed into the snake enclosure, where Thomas lay inert in the coils of the great serpent, and seizing a small iron bar, partially pried the tropical destroyer from his victim, then hurriedly taking from her reticule vial of smelling salts, she poured the entire contents into the open, hissing mouth of the snake.

Choking under the powerful fumes the huge snake relaxed his pressure, and several employees rallying to Miss Still's call for help, succeeded in freeing Thomas from the coils, which in a moment more would have crushed out his life.

Dr. Grant came forward to the platform, and when the tremendous outburst of applause which greeted him had subsided, said: "I resigned my position as chairman of the Home Mission Board because the work was too much for me. During the afternoon the aducation committee submitted a recommendation that in view of the fact that sufficient attention was not being paid to social problems, and that the application of Christianity in dealing with conditions in the cities was desirable, a professor be apopinted to visit the various Presbyterian colleges in rotation to give lec tures on this subject.

Rev. Dr. Pringle objected to this. He declared that he had "had enough of hese peripatetic, so-called professors.' In any case, a matter of that kind, involving considerable expense, should be referred to the presbyteries before any action was taken.

It was decided to refer the matter to the presbyteries, and also to the senates of the colleges.

WOODSTOCK, June 10.—That the church union question is by no means

The statement expresses satisfaction at the result of the vote, and points out that the resolution submitted by the union committee, and adopted, did not express any opinion as to the ultimate outcome. It declares the resolution to be more moderate than that adopted at the last meeting of the assembly, drawing the conclusion that the real strength of the non-union party is much greater than the vote in the assembly would indicate prima facie. One paragraph in the statement read: "There is now no possible doubt that the Presbyterian Church in Canada will continue. Our organization to that end is being out the Dominion and is meeting with hearty support."

Suddenly, from an upper window of the house in Bow, where Miss Pankhurst resided, appeared the surpliced figure of the Rev. Mr. Wills, with Sylvia by his side, looking ill and careworn. The clergyman addressed the waiting crowd, adjured the people to keep order, and offered a prayer, invoking divine protection for the militant leader

London's Social World Gives a Historical Pageant—Canada's Costume Gold and White.

[Canadian Press.]

LONDON, June 10 .- The ball and pageant in Albert Hall tonight commemorating the centenary of Anglo-American peace, provided the most brilliant spectacle seen here for a long time. Many of the notable people of the London social world were present, together with a large number of American and colonial visitors.

There was a marvelous display of historical costumes, and the music had been especially written or adapted for the fete.

Mrs. Williams had charge of the costuming of the Indians, and when the representatives of the various tribes led off in the great procession had been made to attain historical and artistic accuracy in their highly-decorative dress. *

The Virginian settlers wore Elizabethan costume, which contrasted with the sober but equally picturesque dress of the Pilgrims of the days of Cromwell. The Dutch of New York State followed in their quaint garb, and the Louisiana French followed with powdered hair and panniers and color scheme embracing the different shades of heliotrope. The group representing the signatories of the Treaty of Ghent appeared in the sober small clothes of the Georgian period.

The registry act says that the annexed district shall be included in East Middlesex.

The Liberals claim that the next election between John Laidlaw and John Mc-Farlan should be decided by the farmers of East Middlesex and not by the citizens of London.

The Conservatives, staring defeat in the face if the die is cast by the farmers, are trying to have the annexed districts vote in East Middlesex. Morally the thing is rotten. Politically, it is just the kind of a move that might be expected from the

ALARMING.

IF a great plague had swept through I this province and robbed it of thousands of the flower of its people, it would be regarded with horror and lamentation, and every remedial agency would be brought into action.

There is a great deathless scourge which has robbed this province of thousands of the flower of its people, yet there is no remedial agency at work to stay its inroads so far as the Ontario Goverament is concerned.

might annually be visited with some dread monster of disease, which would slav its thousands, and feel the effect no more than it feels the effect of the present great movement away from the farms of Ontario

For more than two years The Advertiser has been preaching a doctrine, the text of which has been "Stay in Ontario." The future must show whether it has been a voice crying in the wilderness, or whether there is some grave underlying state of affairs which the superficial treatment of publicity cannot reach. At last the movement has made men think. No one can say that the outpouring of farmers has not been made known yet.

There has been a tendency since the last census was over to say that the disease had been checked. With depression in the west, it was hard to believe that the farmers would continue to leave Ontario. It was not thought likely that they would leave their snug farms for the cities in these times of financial slackness. Yet the figures for the period since 1911 show that the exodus is still alarming, in fact, is almost as great as during the ten years before. Startling as the information may be, the reports of the bureau of industry of the Ontario Government show that up to 1913 the following decreases in the assessed population occurred in the following counties:

Bruce	1,974
Grey	2,210
Huron	1,729
Kent	678
Lennox	571
Middlesex	1,364
Ontario	809
Oxford	634
Peel	356
Perth	896
Peterboro	248
Wellington	959

The decrease in Middlesex does not include the incorporation of about three thousand five hundred people in the city of London who were in 1911 assessed in London Township.

Unless there is some broad and intelligent movement for the correction of these conditions where does the future of Ontario lie?

The Liberal Opposition has moved in the Legislature for the appointment of a commission to inquire into the condition of agricultural and rural life in the province, to investigate the rural depopulation, scarcity of farm labor, decrease in the production of food stuffs, the decline in the strength and vitality of the rural school and rural church.

But what did the Seven Sleepers care! A fig for progress! Who cares about depopulation? Fill up the cities! Let the farmers go hang! In short, this has been the attitude of the Government toward this stupendous problem.

THE REVERSION TO LIBERALISM. THE closing days of the session of A Parliament have some features gratifying to the Liberals. And not least is the reversion by the Government to the policy of the preceding administration in two or three important particulars, thereby tacitly acknowledging that the Liberal olicy was right, and that the virulent

In the first place, Col. Hughes, in finally assing the military estimates through the House, frankly admitted that the methods of his predecessors in the letting of contracts could not be improved. He confessed to an endeavor to utilize the patronage of his department for party purposes by letting contracts to political riends. But he found so much trouble in trying to carry out this method of doing business that he gave it up, and returned to the conditions existing under a Liberal Minister of Militia. There is one thing to be said for the Colonel. With all his military vagaries and recklessness he has a frankness of speech at times that is as refreshing as it is disconcert-

We can all remember the virulent abuse oured on the Laurier Naval Act, which we were assured would be repealed as soon as the Conservatives came into power. We all remember the ridicule poured on what was termed the Liberal "tin-pot navy." After three years meditation Mr. Borden still has his opponents' naval act in force, though he tried to minimize its effectiveness by almost dismantling the training ships, Rainbow and Niobe, discharging most of the men and allowing the others to desert. Now the Government asks for a million dollars to provide a naval volunteer force under the terms of the Laurier Naval Act, and will utilize the two "tin-pot" ships in training the recruits who are to be assigned for service in a Canadian navy, "as soon as we have one," the minister said. We can remember how, with a change of Government, a new system of construction was adopted for the National Transcontinental Railway, and grades increased in the interest of "economy" socalled. And the report of the biased com-Government indorsed this degrading of machine gang that runs the Conservative the road by showing how much money had been needlessly expended by the Liberals in the effort to secure a highclass road. Now the Government comes to the House and asks for a million dollars for the purpose of correcting some other means he should tear off the mask of its own construction, and getting rid represents East Middlesex at Toronto, its own official, Mr. Leonard. The Acting and admit that he is in the Legislature, Minister of Railways, in response to not by the will of the farmers, but by the questioning by the Liberals, admitted will of a trainload of voters dumped in that it was the intention of the Government to revert to the policy of construction adopted by its predecessor and condemned by its own commissioner. He further admitted that there would be time and money lost in correcting the blunders

When the Tories were in opposition they condemned everything the Liberals had done. When they came into power, in order to be consistent, they had to reverse all the Liberal plans and methods. But after a few years' experience they are compelled, by force of circumstances, to acknowledge they were wrong, and are reverting to the despised policies of their Economically, the Province of Ontario predecessors. They have taken quite a few steps in the Liberal direction. there is one step we do not expect them to take. They will do nothing to enlarge the facilities for trade, to increase our markets, and to help the common people to live. They do not mind the humiliation involved in reversing their course, and tacitly admitting they were wrong, if it will be to the advantage of the party. But rebellion against the master interests that helped to place them in power and to keep them there is something not permissible, for it might be fatal. However, let us be thankful for what they have been compelled to do in a Liberal line, and try to submit as best we may to the evils whose rectification they are forbidden to undertake.

of the average Ontario citizen. The above statement makes it plain that the Spectator believes that a majority of the men who now go into bar-rooms would consort in "blind pigs" and dives, and break the law of the land to secure liquor. The Advertiser does not believe that ten men in a thousand who now frequent bars would enter a "blind pig" or break the law to secure liquor after the bars were closed. The average man who drinks may be an enemy to himself, and a fool to drink, but it is hard to believe, as the Conservative press charges, that he would cause the country to blossom with iniquitous dens, and that the Government would be unable to enforce the

EMPEROR WILLIAM'S GREAT APPEAL FOR TEMPERANCE

An address of the German Emperor William II, to the naval cadets. Translated from "Die Enthalsama German Monthly, published in Hamburg, Germany:

"One more short admonition I will give you before you go, a question with regard to my people, which lies very close to my heart. It is the question of alcohol, and of drinking.

"I know very well that drinking for pleasure is an old inheritance of the Germans. We must, however, in this respect, by continual self-discipline, free ourselves from this evil "I can assure you that during my reign of twenty-two years, I have had the experience that ninetenths of the crimes which have been brought before me for sentence can be traced to alcohol. In former times it was considered a mark of ability, could drink large quantities of liquor without any visible evil effects. I, as a young officer, have had the opportunity to see examples of that without taking part in the experiment myself. Those are the views of

As you, yourself, will observe during the course of your service on board, the service in my navy exacts a discipline, the severity of which cannot be surpassed anywhere.

"The question for you is to be able to endure this severe discipline in times of peace without exhaustion, in order to be in first class condition in times of necessity. The next war and the next naval battle demand of

There's a "punch" to Mr. Rowell's policy that is going to knock out John Barleycorn in the quickest time on record.

And now we are informed that British royalty, nobility and famous personages have been forced to contribute to the militants' fund. Wonder how much they got from Harry Lauder!

you sound nerves. They will decide the victory now; the health of the nervous system is jeopardized in youth, and in later years ruined, by the consumption of alcohol. You will have the opportunity later to see the training ships and the working of modern artillery on ships, and from that you will be able to form an idea of the conditions in a naval battle. You, while on them, will see many scenes of terrible slaughter. The decisive test will be firm nerves and cool heads. That nation which consumes the least alcohol; that nation wins! And, gentlemen, you are to be that nation! You are to be an example to the military and naval forces. With humanity example is more effective than precept. Consequently, without curtailing your camaraderie, I expect of you, while attending the naval-school or while on board the training ship, to note that the consumption of alcohol does not belong to your privileges, and te take steps among yourselves to enforce this regulation. There is being organized in my navy, or already organized, the Good Templar Lodges and The Blue Cross Society. Several officers and several hundred men have joined. I hope you will do all in your power to induce the men in the naval service to join. I need only point to the excellent example of the English navy, of which 20,000 men and officers have already joined. It is a question of the future of our navy and of our people. If you educate men in service to refrain from alcohol I will have healthy and intelligent subjects "This is the great question of the future. If you, however, stand for the principles of temperance, my people will be morally preserved. That is a work in which I entreat you to vention that Sir James Whitney's work and policy on the temperance question were far short of requirements. Z. A. Hall, of Hespeler, said he did not believe in abolishing the bar by legislation. Both were candidates for the nomination, and Mr. Hall got it.

According to a newspaper with something like Tory leanings, Sir Wilfrid Laurier is responsible for the defeat of the Farmers' Bank bill in the Senate. This is indeed a tribute to Sir Wilfrid! Fourteen Liberal senators voted in favor of the bill and eleven Tory senators voted against it. The bill required some of those Tory votes to pass it; so if Sir Wilfrid caused the defeat of the bill he must have controlled the Tory senators. The reasoning of the Tory paper would be humorous if it weren't silly.

The effort to stampede the London conference in the interests of the Hanna party was not a credit to the small minority at the Sarria convention. It was not a question of Rowell versus Hanna: it was a question of morality versus immorality. No one can doubt for a monaval service act was to be enforced. It | ment if Mr. Hanna stood for the abolishing of the bar, and if Mr. Rowell stood for the liquor interests, that the delegates would have indorsed Mr. Hanna as enthusiastically as they indorsed Mr. Rowell, and it is improbable that the opposition would have been so bitter. ## CAMPAIGN COMMENT

A PERTINENT QUESTION. [Brantford Expositor.]

The Whitney Government claims eredit for passing an eight-hour day for miners, but this measure was not thought of or made law until Mr. Rowell had introduced a bill on the subject. By the way, why did the Conservative members leave the chamber and break up a quorum when Mr Studholme was advocating his eighthour day for all toilers?

> WHITNEY LAGS BEHIND . [Toronto Star.]

Mr. Rowell's address to the electors of Ontario contains a wealth of fruitful new ideas for the good of the province and its people. His message is in strong contrast with the Government's attitude towards all progressive proposals, which is one of: "go away, and don't disturb us!"

> DOMESTIC SQUABBLES. [Brantford Expositor.]

Reaume, McNaught, Peck, Galna! No less than four Conservative mempers of the recent legislature have failed to carry their party conventions, and will probably not be memers of the next house. The Whitney family does not appear to be a very happy one just now.

MR. STUDHOLME NOMINATED. [Hamilton Times.]

The Independent Labor party of the ity of Hamilton nominated Mr. Allan Studholme as its candidate for legisthe nomination was accepted by that gentleman. Mr. Studholme, at the last election, was elected for four years, but the Tories, by bringing on the elections just now has cut his erm down to two and a half years. As a matter of fact, the only thing that keeps the Tories from opposing Studholme is the circumstance that they cannot get a man to oppose him.

WHERE REFORM IS NEEDED.

[Ottawa Free Press.] One of the many telling points in Mr. Rowell's opening campaign address at Toronto was his reference to agriculture, which under the Whitney Government has been shamefully It would almost appear neglected. that Sir James regards the farmers and their interests with contempt. This is a matter with regard to which jokes are strangely out of place and yet the minister and deputy minister of agriculture are little better than jokes. Mr. Duff regards the coninued depopulation of the country side with complacency, while his deputy lacks the personal experience which alone can render work in the department efficient.

How the farmers must regret the days of the Hon. John Dryden when agriculture in Ontario occupied the position it ought to fill and when Ontario set an example that other provinces were only too glad to follow. If Mr. Rowell has his way, those palmy days will geturn. This station sustained a severe loss by fire in March, almost the entire village, including church, school, missionaries' house, and many village homes, being wiped out. The need of relief is great, and seven large bales have been packed and stand labelled ready for shipment to Montreal, from whence they will be conveyed by boat to their destination. One of the large bundles contained a mber of vards of rag carpet; others were full of neatly packed underwear, dresses, men's apparel, and many articles calculated to be of use to the missionaries. ## DUNLAP GETS ANOTHER TRIAL

George Duniap, the former London shortstop, is being given another trial in the American League by the Cleveland club. Despite the Cleveland club's announcement a few days ago that Duniap was being sent to Omaha, of the Western League, he played shortstop for the Naps yesterday, and made a fairly good showing. He failed to get a hit, but he accepted two chances in the field without an error.

If Dunian can gain more confidence in himself, he should stay with the Naps. His hitting is his only weakness, and all he needs to remedy this is more confidence in his ability as a batter. He takes a nice swing at the ball, and drives it hard when he connects.

Dorbeck or Morse for Erle.

Manager Gygli announced last evening that either Dorbeck or Morse would work for Erle. Dorbeck is the probable selection. The Erle manager is a tall, quiet, unassuming fellow, who apparently knows baseball, and is experienced enough to be a manager. He has confidence in his players, and has succeeded in instilling the necessary life and winning spirit into them, which was lacking when Honeck mussedup Reidy's grounder. Honeck recovered the ball in time to easily catch Whitty at the plate. Frank Long led off with a nice single in the ninth, but was caught a minute later, ten feet off first base as aresult of silp-ping in trying to get back to the bag. Heine Steiger pitched great ball and he deserved to win. Helne is having hard luck despite his good pitching, the breaks all going against him. In the last two appearances he has pitched winning ball but the team has not been getting any runs for him.

Here's tobacco that's got real redblooded man punch, but it can't bite your tongue and it can't parch your throat. That's thrown into the discard by a patented process owned exclusively by the manufacturers. You stick a pin here-no other tobacco can be like Prince Albert; nor has P. A. any "near" relatives ! Follow the thought?

Just put it right up to yourself for a test-out. Try a tin of Prince Albert and get tipped off from the home plate as to how close to case cards this talk is.

You get wise to that P. A. flavor and fragrance. Because it's just one of those little things in life that smooth out ruffles and wrinkles in the day's work and send you along right cheerful like.

LONDON LACROSSE TEAM OPENS AT ST. MARYS FRIDA

Management Has Whipped Together One of the Best Lacrosse Teams That Ever Represented This City.

The London lacrosse team put in its final workout in preparation for the game Friday night in St. Marys at Queen's Park last evening, a large number of players turning out. The team will likely be picked this evening.

The game at St. Mary's will be the opening one in the district, and the locals are confident of pulling out a win. London has the strongest lacrosse team it has ever had this year, and local fans will be treated to some exhibitions of the great Canadian national pastime before the season is over. The management has been working quietly away, whipping a team into shape, and the results promise to be surprising.

Beauty devotees are enthusiastic over the beautifying qualities of mercolized wax. Nothing discovered within recent years accomplishes so much, so quickly, without harm, at such small expense. The principal reason for its wonderful merit is that it works in harmony with physiological laws. Instead of hiding comphysiological laws. Instead of Inding com-plexion defects, it removes them. It actu-ally takes off the aged, faded, sallow freckled or blotchy cuticle, gently, gradu-ally, causing no inconvenience. It is Na-ture's way of renewing complexions. When the natural process is retarded because of deficient circulation or nerve physiological laws. tone, mercolized wax comes to the rescue and hastens the skin shedding. The new complexion which appears is a natural one, youthful, healthy, exquisitely beautiful. If you've never tried mercolized wax, get an ounce of it at the drug store, wax, get an ight like cold cream, washing it off in the morning.

Another natural beautifying treatment—for wrinkled skin—is to bathe the face in a lotton made by dissolving an ounce of saxolite in a half-pint witch hazel. This is remarkably and instantaneously effective .- Advt.

Prominent Member of St. Andrew's Church Passes Away Wednesday Afternoon.

The death of Mrs. Alexander Fraser, wife of Alexander Fraser, 232 Central avenue, occurred Wednesday afternoon. Although Mrs. Fraser had been ill for some time, having undergone an operation in St. Joseph's Hospital last January, it was not thought that her condition was as serious as it really was, her death coming suddenly. Mrs. Fraser was an active member of St. Andrew's Church, having served on some of the executives of the various church organizations. Mr. Brace Fraser. one of Mrs. Fras-

City Will Take This Measure to Relieve Empress Sufferers.

While it is hardly likely that London will make a civic grant to the fund now being raised through Canada and the British Empire for the relief of sufferers in the Empress of Ireland disaster, it was intimated at the city hall vesterday that the city would make an appropriation to any of the families of the twenty-one Londoners lost, who were in need of monetary assistance. Toronto gave $25,000 to the Empress disaster fund, while other of the large municipalities contributed by civic grants and private donations.

Residents to Circulate Petitions for Improved Car Schedule.

Agitation for a better car service into the city on the Ridout line is being launched by residents of Stanley street. It is probable that within a few days a petition will be sent broadcast for the residents of the neighborhood to sign, asking the council to demand a better service for that part of South London, Since the installation of the double bound cars are held at Wortley road while cars on the Normal and Springbank come down the York street hill to Stanley street. The new double track on York street has eliminated this difficulty, and residents now feel that steps should be taken to provide a more adequate service to handle traffic the

"With the present routing of cars and the uncertain schedule on the Ridout line, residents of this part of South London are no better off than formerly," said a South Londoner, last night. "To take a Normal car and go sight seeing around South London, is alright for an afternoon's entertainment. It is poor business for the man who is in a hurry.

"The schedule on the Ridout line is uncertain that one can almost walk to the city frim Stanley street in the interval that elapses between cars. Several residents of this street, and Becher street as well, are considering drawing up a petition to ask for a remedying of the present service con-

MANY BUSH FIRES IN THE GREAT NORTHLAND

40 Serious Damage Yet, But Fires Are Alarming the Residents.

[Canadian Press.] Haileybury, Ont.. June 11.-An exceptionally warm spell coupled with a high wind has fanned scores of bush fires into flame again in the north, and, while no serious damage has been done to date, the fires are alarming. On Tuesday the Haileybury fire department was called upon to fight two fires in separate sections, which threatened outlying buildings. In New Liskeard yesterday the fire department fought for eight hours to save Kennedy's lumber yard and the T. & N. O. station, two hundred men with the engine and hose being stationed there the better part of the night. From all points in the district smoke and flames may easily be seen.

A Charter From the Public

publishers of daily newspapers were to cease issuing their papers during the summer months, saying-"It's too hot in July and August to publish papers, and, anyway, people don't read papers in summer"—what a cry of protest would go up all over the land!

The public would say to the publishers:-

"We must have the news and you must give it to us. You are our servants in this matter-our news gatherers and scatterers. We are ready to pay you for this service. You have no right or liberty to take it upon yourselves to cease publishing your papers at your pleasure or convenience."

Think of it! The Daily Newspaper exists by the mandate of the people. It alone, among all publications, may not continue or cease at its pleasure, for it holds its charter from the people whose servant it is.

Then think of this:-

Have those other servants of the people—the merchants who supply them with their daily necessitiesany right to be silent with respect to the news they have for those who depend on them? Has not the public a right to demand that the news of the stores shall be published along with other news of value and interest? We put it up to the people of this community and to the merchants of this city that the store news of this community is necessary news and should appear regularly in the public press at all seasons of the year. Think of this, you merchants of this city.

The refusal of the Government to give a measure of tax reform was arrogant and wanton. Assuming there were difficulties in old Ontario, Mr. Rowell declared there were no difficulties in New Ontario to prevent the advanced ideas of other provinces being applied for its benefit. On this point, he declared that the lands of the T. and N. O. should be taxed and not held for speculative rises. If the road was a business proposition, why not treat it as such? ### CANADIANS UNITING ON HINDU PROBLEM

Dr. McKay, of Vancouver, Says Easterners Now Understand Situation.

Eastern Canadians are beginning to understand the opposition of the British Columbians to Oriental immigration, states Dr. John McKay, of Vancouver, president of the Associated Canadian Clubs. The churches are changing their attitude on the matter, says Dr. McKay, who believes that all Canadians will shortly unite on the ground that it is inimical to Canadian progress and welfare to admit the Orientals in any large numbers. Already there are 4,000 Hindus and bout 16,000 Japanese and Chinese in-British Columbia. Last year British Columbia received half of $2,000,000 collected by the Canadian Government as head taxes on Chinese admitted. The Hindu is much more unpopular than the Mongolians, because, as natives of a British country, they think they are entitled to special ights, and asert themselves accord-The Hindus appear unable to inderstand that Canada, as a selfgoverning country, makes her own immigration laws.

Feeling is very strong in Vancouver against admitting the 376 Hindus now on board ship in Vancouver harbor. Up to last March an act restricted Hindu immigration by requiring all immigrants to come directly from the land of their birth. No ships sailed direct from India, hence the Hindus were excluded. But this law was tested, and Chief Justice Hunter, of British Columbia, declared it unconstitutional. A new act was passed, prohibiting the immigration of artisans and laborers. This act is still in force, providing good ground for re-fusing the admission of the Hindus now in Vancouver harbor. Another restrictive-act requires each Oriental immigrant to have $200 in his possession. The result of admitting Hindus would be much more serious than excluding them. Their exclusion gives them ground for preaching sedition in India, but if they were admitted it would result in serious riots with the white laborers of Vancouver. Such riots have taken place in the Morally, the Hindus are not a bad lot, says Dr. McKay. Nearly all have served in the British army. But they are not as adaptable or as good workers as the Chinese and Japanese The orientalization of British Columbia would result in the diversion of western trade to the Orient instead of to Eastern Canada. The objection to the Hindu is on economic grounds, but there is already evident something of race feeling in the matter. The increased immigration of the Oriental, says Dr. McKay, would fan this smouldering race feeling into a serious blaze. The ultimate good feeling of the races depends on the present restriction of Oriental immigra-tion. Dr. McKay's proposal for restricting immigration is an arrangement with the Chinese and Indian governments to have them issue passports to emigrate to a limited number of their people only.

Auto Drivers Must Obey Police Directions-Large Demand for Copies.

The traffic bylaw passed by the city council Tuesday night caused quite a flurry in automobile circles yesterwere at least eleven new regulations under which owners and drivers of cars may be subject to arrest.

City Clerk Baker was deluged during the day with requests for copies of the bylaw, but as only a limited number had been printed, he could not meet the demand made upon him. The enforcement of the bylaw is now in the hands of the police department, and it is a distinct violation of the traffic law when the driver of a car does not come to a halt when signaled by a uniformed officer.

Keep These In Mind. Some of the most drastic regulations

1. No driver of any vehicle shall stop at or obstruct any street crossing.

2. No person shall drive a car after dusk without having a lighted lamp in the front in a conspicuous place. 3. All traffic at congested street in-tersections shall be under the supervision of policemen who shall cause cars to stop and proceed at his direction.
