CAPTURE MEN AND GUNS

Ontario and Maritime Units Are Singled Out for Praise.

[Special Cable to The Advertiser.]

London, England, Sept. 18.—The Canadians have again distinguished themselves in fierce fighting north of the Somme River. This is made evident by stories of wounded officers arriving here from the fighting in France.

While it is indicated that nearly the entire Canadian line was under fire during the capture of important German works on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, some battalions from Ontario and the Maritime Provinces were specially thanked by the war secretary, Lloyd George, and the commander-in-chief, Sir Douglas Heig, for their gallant work.

Some battalions advanced in support of the British motor machine gun "land cruisers" and were in the thickest of bayonet fighting, capturing German machine guns and prisoners by the dozens with great sacrifices by individual Canadian officers and men, but on the whole comparatively small losses, considering the magnitude of the work done.

The Conservatives have five seats, and three are still uncertain. The Conservatives hold Cowichan, Nelson, South Okanagan, Slocan and Similkameen. It is not expected the soldiers' vote will change these results materially.

FOE'S BATTALIONS ALMOST WIPED OUT BY FRENCH

German's Lose Units Entirely in Devastating Bombardment —1,200 Prisoners and Ten Machine Guns Are One Day's Booty.

[Canadian Press.]

Paris, Sept. 18.—Noon.—The Germans lost heavily in several counter-attacks north and south of the Somme last night, the war office announced today. The French maintained the ground recently won, and made further progress near Clery and Berny, and on the eastern edge of Deniecourt.

The French took 1,200 prisoners and ten machine guns, the statement says. The town of Deniecourt is now completely encircled by the French.

Prisoners report that enormous losses have been sustained by some of the German formations. The statement says two battalions were almost annihilated by the French artillery.

THE OFFICIAL REPORT.

The text of the statement follows:

"To the north of the river Somme we have occupied a trench to the east of Clery and repulsed the counter-attacks of the enemy at this point. To the south of the river the enemy last night delivered several counter attacks against our trenches located to the east of Berny and to the south of Deniecourt. In this latter region the Germans delivered no fewer than three violent attacks. Each one was repulsed with heavy losses for the enemy.

"To the east of Berny, as well as immediately to the east of Deniecourt, we have made further progress. The latter point is completely encircled.

1,200 Prisoners Counted.

"The number of prisoners counted up to the present time reached 1,200. Also ten machine guns of the enemy are now in our hands.

"According to information obtained from some of these prisoners, the losses inflicted during the fighting of yesterday in the vicinity of Berny upon the tenth division of German reserves and upon the one hundred and twentieth reserve regiment were enormous. Two battalions of the 38th regiment, 11th division, were almost annihiliated by our artillery.

"There has been nothing of importance to report from the remainder of the front.

Aviators' Deadly Work.

"Flight - Adjutant Tarascon has brought down his fifth enemy machine. This aeroplane fell near Deniecourt. The same day Flight-Lieut. Huerteaux brought down his seventh German aeroplane.

"French air squadrons have conducted various bombardments. Twelve shells have been thrown down on the railroad station at Nantillois, and 33 missiles thrown down at Villers-Carborel and Horghy, from an altitude of 800 yards, caused serious damage."

FURTHER BRITISH GAINS.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 18.—1:15 p.m.—In small operations on the Somme front last night the British gained further ground, the war office announced today.

"The general situation continues unchanged," the announcement says. "South of the Ancre we improved our position north of Martinpuich. East of Courcelette a minor attack made last night upon elements of enemy trenches was entirely successful. Our line has been advanced appreciably at this point."

"West of Mouquet farm the enemy entered one of our trenches under cover of heavy shelling, but was counter-attacked immediately and driven out with loss.

"South of Thiepval we have taken a further portion of the enemy trench system. The enemy have shelled several parts of our line at intervals during the night.

"On the rest of the front there were no developments of importance."

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 18, 2:42 p.m.—A further advance for the Serbians on the western end of the Macedonian front is reported in a dispatch sent out today under a Saloniki date by the Exchange Telegraph Company. It says the first and second line trenches of the Bulgarians at Kaimakcalan have been taken by the Serbians, who have crossed the Broda River. Heavy fighting continues on the further bank of the river.

The Serbians are reported to have taken four field guns and eight machine guns, bringing up to 36 the number of guns captured. A large number of prisoners, the exact number of which are unknown, also are said to have fallen into the hands of the Serbians.

The dispatch also reports that the French troops on the Allied left wing have captured the station at Florina. Heavy fighting continues.

BULGARS REPORT REPULSE.

Sofia, Sep. 18, via London, 1:25 p.m. —An attack made by Entente forces in the Struma Valey, on the Macedonian front, was repulsed by the Bulgarians, it was anounced officially today. The statement follows:

TANNER DROWNS IN LIME BATH

Quebec Man Meets Horrible Death as Result of Fall.

[Canadian Press.]

Quebec, Sept. 18.—Elizear Poulin, a tanner, was drowned at 9 today, at the tannery of Pouliot & Bros., Arago street, when he fell into a lime bath where leather was cured. His body was partly burned by the lime, though removed from the bath a few seconds after the fatality.

LONDON'S BOOZE BILL FOR WEEK OVER $250,000

Tremendous Sum Represented in Last-Minute Purchases.

$75,000 BY ONE FIRM

Business of Filling Preparedness Orders Bulked Large.

BARS AVERAGED $150

Sales Over Them Heavy to Quench Thirts of Londoners and Visitors.

More than a quarter of a million dollars' worth of booze was purchased in the liquor stores and over the hotel bars of the city last week.

This many sound like a fairy tale, but nevertheless the books of the liquor dealers and the cash register slips of the hotel bars bear out the facts, it is claimed. The "wet goods" represent the purchases of several thousand customers not in the city alone but for miles around.

During fair week hundreds of cases were taken home by those who had came into London and incidentally went back prepared for the provincial drought which commenced today.

Big Wholesale Sales.

Perhaps the largest sales for the week were made by John Garvey & Sons, wholesalers, whose shipments were in large quantities and to many outside localities. It is estimated that this firm did a business of about $75,000 from Monday morning until Saturday noon.

E. B. Smith, Ed. Shea and P. J. Watt, it is estimated, each sold about $50,000 worth of beverages for the week, and Hockin Bros. about $25,000, making a grand total of a quarter of a million, without including any of the receipts from the twenty-two hotel bars.

"Tanks" On Caterpillar Wheels Move With Great Speed

London, Sept. 18.—According to the Telegraph there is not much mystery about the construction of the "Tanks," used the first time in Friday's fighting. They are an improvement on the well known caterpillars used by both sides. England has improved the speed and mobility of such machines, at the same time rendering them bullet-proof.

ELDEST SON OF ASQUITH KILLED

Lieut. Raymond Asquith Gives Life on September 15, While Serving With Grenadier Guards—A Famous Young Counsel.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 18.—Lieut. Raymond Asquith, son of Premier Asquith, was killed in action on September 15, it was announced today.

Raymond Asquith, who was in his 38th year, was a graduate of Oxford, president of the Oxford Union, and prominent as a member of the bar, to which he was admitted in 1904.

He acted as junior counsel for Great Britain in the North Atlantic fisheries arbitration at The Hague in 1907. He was made a second lieutenant in a County of London regiment in 1914, and lieutenant of the Grenadier Guards in 1915.

Raymond Asquith was the eldest son of the premier. Two brothers, Lieut. Arthur Asquith of the Royal Naval Reserve, and Lieut. Hérbert Asquith, were wounded in action at the Dardanelles in June, 1915.

SIR THOMAS TAIT TO MAKE REPORT ON NATION'S MEN

Appointed Director-General of National Service for the Dominion.

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—Sir Thomas Tait of Montreal has been appointed director-general of national service. He will create an organization to report upon the men in Canada available for military service overseas, and the numbers and classes of men who should be retained in Canada to preserve agricultural and industrial stability.

The requirements of the Canadian munitions industry will be considered.

Sir Thomas Tait has been head of the recruiting organization in the province of Quebec, where 16,000 men have been raised since war began from a population of 317,000.

STRIKE CROWDS SHOWER TRAINS WITH MISSILES

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Sept. 18.—Repeated attacks from roof tops were made on passing elevated trains during the early hours today by persons armed with stones and bottles. These missiles crashed through car windows and several passengers were injured. This violence took place in the Upper East Side. In the Bronx a policeman was hurt while dispersing a crowd of strike sympathizers, who were throwing bricks. Other attacks on trains were made on the Lower West Side.

Normal service on subway and elevated lines was being operated today, according to police reports.

BRITISH RAID ON ENEMY AERODROMES

Successful Results Reported After Many Bombs Are Dropped.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 18.—A raid by British naval aeroplanes on German aerodromes at St. Denis and Westrehem is reported in an official statement issued by the war office. The statement says:

"Yesterday afternoon a squadron of our naval aeroplanes carried out a further attack on enemy aerodromes at St. Denis and Westrehem. A large number of bombs were dropped with successful results. One of our machines was obliged to make a forced landing in Holland and the pilot has been interned."

2,000 OFFICERS IN CANADA AWAITING COMMISSIONS

Training Schools Have Turned Out Many Subalterns.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Sept. 18.—Canada is long on officers. It is estimated that there are now about two thousand more officers in the Dominion holding certificates than there are commissions for them.

The majority of the surplusage consists of subalterns, although there is a fair sprinkling of captains and majors and a few colonels.

When war began trained officers were scarce, and training schools were opened in leading centres and classes were conducted energetically. The results have exceeded expectations, and today there are more officers than places.

The operations of war, however, are steadily making demands upon the force of officers without posts. They are slowly getting appointments.

ONE KIDNAPPING CASE

Woman Who Informed Is Now Believed To Be Held In Canada.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Confession has been made by two members of the alleged syndicate of blackmailers, eight of whom are under arest here, that operations of the swindlers netted them $1,000,000 during the last year, federal officials announced today.

The confessions, it was said, disclosed that the alleged band numbers sixty persons, a third of them women. A dispute over the division of spoils, it was said, led to the confessions. Arrest of a score or more members of the syndicate is expected within a week.

The men who confessed are "Dick" Barrett and Edward G. Thompson, according to Hinton G. Clabaugh, head of the Chicago bureau of the federal department of justice. Both are at liberty, and will become witnesses for the Government.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Eight members of an alleged blackmail gang, charged with using the beauty of their women members and the fascinating powers of their male confederates to muict wealthy men and women out of more than $250,000, are in custody of federal authorities here today, and will be taken to Philadelphia for trial. They are also alleged to have won nearly a million in fake racing operations.

The band, including five men and three women, were arrested shortly before midnight Saturday night in a raid by department of justice officials on a fashionable south side apartment hotel.

Used Charms of Women.

They are accused of fleecing men and women of social prominence in Chicago, Baltimore, New York and Philadelphia through organized efforts. Their scheme, according to Hinton G. Clabaugh of the department of justice, was to compromise their victims and then blackmail them. Impersonation of department of justice officials is another charge against the men. The men are said to have used the charms of their women confederates to win attention from rich men, and then to have threatened their victims with prosecution under the Mann act.

Director at Large.

Those arrested gave the names of Henry Russell, Edward Donahue, Helen Evers, Mrs. Frances Allen, Mrs. Edward Donahue, James Christian, Frank Crocker, and George Bland. George Irwin, alleged director of the group, is still at large.

The chief charge against the band is the alleged kidnapping of Mrs. Regina H. Clifford, of Philadelphia, one of their alleged victims, and wanted as a Government witness. She was spirited away to Canada, it is charged, at the time she was wanted to testify against the band.

"Got" Big Politicians.

Clabaugh said there were fifteen known victims of the gang, and that the amount obtained from these victims will reach probably $250,000. Forty thousand dollars was obtained from one person, and $35,000 from another, he said.

The authorities refused to reveal the names of the victims. Some, it was said, are men prominent in political life, who were victimized while at the Republican convention here last June.

An International Aspect.

Operations of the syndicate, which now seems to be of international scope, were not confined to blackmail of wealthy men and women according to information developed today. Among the effects in the office of "Doc" Edward Donahue, one of the men caught in the Saturday night raid, was stationery of the United Turf Exchange, with headquarters in New York, and offices all over the world. There were also cypher codes for deciphering messages received by wire, telling what horses to bet on, how much to

Halicz Subjected to Tremendous Pressure After Weeks of Inactivity—Left Flank of Von Bothmer Cannot Stand Irresistable Onslaught

[Canadian Press.]

Petrograd, Sept. 18—Via London, 4:35 p.m.—News of a new series of battles in the general neighborhood of Halicz, in Galicia, ends an almost unprecedented period of quiet extending on all the Russian fronts except that in Asia-Minor, where the Turks, without marked success, are steadily repeating their efforts to launch an offensive against the left flank of the Russian Caucasian army.

AGAIN MOVES ON LEMBERG.

Thus, after weeks of suspended activity, Gen. Brussiloff has energetically resumed his campaign against Lemberg. Halicz, which obstructs his path to that city from the southeast, is again subjected to the most violent pressure by the Russians, who are throwing the most weight of their attack north of Halicz, on the Narayuvka River, where they are attempting to cut the railway from Halicz along the Narayuvka to Podvysoke.

It is believed by Russian officials here that the left flank of the army of the German general, Count von Bothmer, will soon be obliged to give way before the fiereeness of the Russian onslaught, leaving the way to Halicz open from the north.

RUSSIAN CAVALRY'S GREAT CHARGE.

It is noteworthy that in the first of the present series of battles, in which the number of German prisoners taken argues defeat for the entire German division, all three arms of the Russian forces contributed almost equally to the result. Russian cavalry particularly distinguished itself by executing a brilliant, irresistible charge reminiscent of old-time warfare.

ITALIANS NOW LESS THAN 13 MILES FROM TRIESTE

Gen. Cadorna's Men Capture Whole Series of Austrian Positions and Enemy is Driven Back to Valley.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Sept. 18.—A news agency dispatch from Rome published here today says:

"The Italians have broken the Austrian third line in the region of Monfalcone, after three days of fierce fighting.

"On the whole front from Gorizia south to the sea, the new Italian drive on Trieste is proceeding satisfactorily. A whole series of Austrian positions from Oppacchiasela southward through Pietra Rossa have been carried and the Austrians driven back to trench positions in the valleys.

"Advanced Italian lines are now less than thirteen miles from Trieste.

"Heavy rainstorms have interfered with the progress of the offensive, preventing aerial observation and thus impeding the artillery attack. But despite these obstacles General Cadorna's men drove the enemy down the eastern slopes of Hills 144 and 208 and several other dominant positions holding up the Italian advance along the Vallone."

ENEMY IN AFRICA EVERYWHERE LOSES BEFORE BRITISHERS

Dislodged From Hills With Loss of Men and Guns.

DRIVEN FROM PORTS

Germans Routed Wherever Contact Is Established and End Is Near.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 18—4:20 p.m.—An official statement issued by the British war department today regarding military operations in German East Africa says:

"The enemy has been dislodged from the Uluguru Hills with the loss of many men, quantities of stores and most, if not all, of his artillery and gun ammunition depots which constantly are being discovered and destroyed.

"On Friday British forces, which had fought their way since Aug 28 through and to the east and west of the central mountainous area, effected a junction near Kissaki, at the southern end of the hills, the remnants of the enemy's troops having retired to the southeast.

"West of the Uluguru Hills, Lieut. Col. Vandeventer's columns are approaching the great Rumna river on the road to Mahenge, driving a strong enemy detachment southward before them.

"Lindi and Mikindani, the last remaining ports in the German colony, have been occupied by naval forces, royal marines and African troops. Small German forces retired inland in each case."

ASK EXCHANGE OF CIVILIAN PRISONERS IN TWO COUNTRIES

Germans Anxious To Hear the Reply of Britain.

WANT ALL RELEASED

British Office So Far Only Willing To Release Those Unfit.

[Canadian Press.]

Berlin, Sept. 18—By Wireless to Sayville.—The present state of the negotiations between the German and British governments regarding the exchange of civil prisoners interned in the two countries is dealt with in an article in the semi-official Nord Deutsche Allgemine Zeitung today.

The British Government in June, says the newspaper, suggested that Germany release British subjects interned at Ruhleben for an equal number of Germans interned in England.

Difficulty in Selection.

The German Government replied that on general grounds it would not decline, the article continues, but added that the release of equal numbers of interned civil prisoners in the two countries was hardly feasible because of the difficulties that would be created by the selections of individuals made.

"The German Government, therefore," says the Overseas Agency in summarizing the statement, "suggested that all interned civil prisoners interned in both countries be released and allowed to depart. This the British Government declined, but suggested that all male civil prisoners over 45 years old be released.

Release All Civilians.

"The German Government then made the counter suggestion that all civil prisoners in both countries be released under a pledge that after their return they would not take up military service. It added that in case of a declination it made the proposal that all

ILL-HEALTH FORCES LIEUT.-COL. COLES TO RETIRE FROM STAFF

Overwork in France Responsible for His Leaving.

RETAINS HIS CONNECTION

Chief A. S. C. Officer Will Be Available To Act in Advisory Capacity.

Lieut.-Col. W. G. Coles, ex-city controller, officer commanding No. 16 Company Army Service Corps, chief Army Service Corps officer in No. 1 military district and late commander of a divisional train in France, left his post on the local headquarters staff today and will in future devote his attention to his private business. Though leaving the C. E. F., Lieut.-Col. Coles is still on the active militia list and his services are at all times available for C. E. F. work, he having placed them at the disposal of the department.

Ill health, brought on by overwork at the front, was the cause of Lieut.-Col. Coles' retirement from the front line, and is again responsible for his retirement from the headquarters staff

Organized No. 16 A. S. C.

Lieut.-Col. Coles is one of the old officers of the 7th Regiment Fusiliers. Leaving the infantry he organized and commanded No. 16 A. S. C. with the rank of major. When war was declared he offered his services and that of his company. No. 16 has been one of the most active recruiting agencies in the district, and in the first year of the war sent overseas sufficient men to fill three full A. S. C. companies.

For some time Lieut.-Col. Coles was purchasing horses and supplies in Western Ontario, and then left for Valcartier with a detachment of his old command. Going to England he was given an important appointment in the A. S. C., and was sent to France as commander of a divisional supply train. His services there won for him promotion to the rank of colonel, and he was one of the officers drafted from the service forces to return to Canada to take over instructional duties here in connection with further A. S. C. drafts.

Public Reception and Dinner.

On his arrival in London he was accorded a public reception and a dinner. His services in France and his experience in A. S. C. work were recognized by the militia department here, and he was made chief A. S. C. officer of the district. When the big camp was established here this spring, Col. Coles handled a very difficult situation with an undermanned staff most efficiently, and won general approbation from the department and his superiors here for the manner in which the Army Service Corps work of the district and camp was conducted.

The transfer of the troops to Camp Borden reduced the volume of A. S. C. work here, and as Col. Coles' health had not improved, as was hoped for, permission was granted for his retirement. It is not expected that any officer will be appointed to the vacancy caused by Lieut.-Col. Coles' retirement.

While Col. Coles will devote most of his time to his business interests, his connection with No. 16 Company of the C. A. S. C. will be continued, and the colonel will, ex-officio, act as a supervisor, in an advisory capacity, of the district.

In Public Life.

Col. Coles' militia service has not been his only public enterprise. He is an ex-alderman and an ex-city controller, and was a member of the board of control when war broke out, and he left with the C. E. F. He is regarded as the "father" of the federal square scheme, and has been prominent in municipal affairs for some time past.

SURE OF EMPLOYMENT WHEN WAR IS OVER

Railway Workers Will Be in Great Demand Everywhere.

"After the war, what— —" That is the question a man often asks the recruiting officer when pressed to enlist. It is a natural one, too, for a thinking man to ask, what is to become of him after he returns home from the war. He may have some stake in Canada that he feels not justified in abandoning; he may have a wife and family who will be looked after and supported while he is in the army, but what is to become of himself and his after the war?

The experience he has gained in the war will perhaps be of little use to him and he will have been out of touch with his trade for some time, and may have to practically learn one anew. That may be true of some branches of the expeditionary force, and, of course, does not affect her young men in many instances, but the 239th Overseas Railway Construction Battalion offers a complete answer to such a question. Here is a battalion raised for the one purpose, railway construction and operation. Railway engineers and trainmen, bridgemen, tracklayers, teamsters and laborers, every man enlisted will be working at his own trade all the time and under the most competent instructors, for the officers are all construction egineers and the N. C. O's. will be selected from their knowledge of their work.

Hence, when the war is over, every man of the 239th Battalion will be a more useful citizen and more competent man in his trade, up to the minute in the latest improvements, thanks to what he will learn in the battalion. He will be sure of a job and a better one than he left, and, if married, more able to provide better for his wife and children than before, for railway construction after the war will be going on everywhere and skilled men in great demand. Not only in Canada, but in Europe and Siberia. The great railway systems of Western Russia and Poland have been paralyzed, destroyed, and the same is true of Eastern France. Russia is developing the Siberian lines and has already employed Canadian engineers and construction men. Canada's railroad-builders are reported as the best in the world and after the war a man who has served under Lieut.-Col. J. W. Stewart will have a reference that will carry him anywhere. Information can be obtained about the 239th Railway Construction Corps at the recruiting depot, fair grounds, or at 237 Dundas street, London.

WESTERN "U" MAN DRESSES WOUNDS OF THOUSAND IN WEEK

Lieut. Laird of Blenheim Knows French Theatre.

FIGHTING DIFFERENT NOW

Day of Deep Dugouts Is Past —Likes New Style Better.

Lieut. A. F. Laird, R. A. M. C., a Blenheim graduate of the Western University Medical School in this city, and who since the beginning of the year has been serving overseas as a medical officer of the Royal Army Medical Corps, gives an indication of the work of medical officers in the front line, in a letter to his mother, Mrs. Arch. Laird of Blenheim, when he says that in six days and nights working with only one short night's sleep, he dressed the wounds of 1,000 wounded British "Tommies."

Lieut. Laird.

The letter was written when the doctor was at a rest camp near the sea coast. It refers to his brother, Trooper Harry Laird of the 4th Canadian Mounted Rifles, who was wounded and taken prisoner June 22. Since that time Trooper Laird has been in hospital at Aachen, Germany.

The doctor's letter follows:

France, Aug. 22, 1916.

Dear Mother,—We are out for a rest now, almost back to the sea coast, and expect to be here for at least two weeks. The last inferno we were in was very fatal. Four medical officers were killed and two wounded out of twelve in the division. I was very lucky and had many narrow shaves; was struck on the side of the face with a piece of shrapnel, and had my steel helmet hit many times, but here I am as big as life. There are no deep dugouts for us now; all that appears to be past and gone. However, I like this kind of warfare much better than the old style of trench warfare. I have not heard from Harry but the once, but I suppose he is all right, and I don't think he was badly wounded; would much rather have him where he is than still in it. I was six days and nights with only one short night's sleep weeged in, and dressed about a thousand wounded, nearly all out in the open, with shells bursting around constantly, not to say anything of bullets; so you see it is some strain for medical officers up there.

We haven't been getting any mail now for some time. I suppose the call for supplies, etc., is so great that there is no room for mail, and quite rightly, too, I think, for the amount of mail sent over here every day must be enormous when you consider that there are about two million or more troops here.

There is some talk of 72 hours' leave to Paris, which would be quite acceptable, I think, as I have had no leave of any kind since being in the army, and we are theoretically supposed to get it every three months; but, of course, just as I was about due all leave stopped. However, at the end of my year I may get six weeks' furlough home, which would be better.

Well, enough for this time. Will write again soon. Love to all.

"MAGNIFICENT CAMP" COVERED WITH DUST

Ministerial Visitor Praises Borden, But Tells of Its Drawbacks.

"All is changed now at Camp Borden. It will soon be a magnificent camp," said Rev. J. H. Boyd, in the course of his sermon Sunday evening in Adelaide Street Baptist Church, when he told his congregation something of his experiences in the military camps during the summer.

Concrete roads were being laid, he said, Hughes street and Logie avenue being completed, and a huge semi-circular road to the railroad station almost so.

He saw Camp Borden under favorable conditions, there being no sand storms, and several showers of rain during his two weeks' stay. On one or two occasions though, he stated, when only a slight wind had been blowing, everything was covered with a fine black dust. Trenches, which were built as part of the training, had to be banked up with lumber because the sand would not retain its positions but filled up the holes as soon as they were dug.

Mr. Boyd was greatly pleased with the work the Y. M. C. A. was doing among the soldiers. Meetings were held every night, and the Y. M. C. A. tent was practically the centre of the camp after parade hours. That good use was made of the writing accommodation provided by the association was shown by the fact that on one day during his stay at Valcartier 7,000 letters were posted.

FEW ATTEND SERVICES

Many of the Men in Camp Away on Leave.

The attendance at military services dropped again on Sunday. Only the 160th Bruce Battalion held a service. The men were addressed by Lieut. Aiken of the battalion. The band was in attendance. The 153rd Battalion had arranged for a service, but it was prevented by rain.

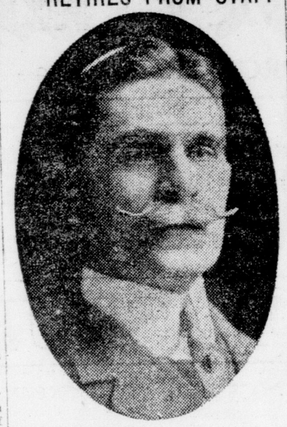

The majority of the men of the 111th South Waterloo Battalion are absent on leave, so it was deemed advisable to hold no service. One company of the 160th Battalion with casualties and details of the 153rd Battalion, who are at the Cove ranges taking a musketry course, attended a special service at 9 a.m. at St. James Anglican Church, South London. They were addressed by Very Rev. Dean Davis.

AFTER TWO YEARS IN ACTIVE C. E. F. SERVICE RETIRES FROM STAFF

LIEUT.-COL. W. G. COLES.

161ST BATTALION WINS PRAISE FOR CONDUCT OF MEN

Commander Congratulated by G. T. R. General Agent.

ACTIONS BRING RESPECT

Manner in Which Members Have Acted at Camp Borden Brings Commendation.

During its training in London, when it was quartered at Hillcrest Camp, the 161st (Huron) County Battalion won an enviable reputation for itself. This reputation has been sustained during its training at Camp Borden. As an indication of the way outsiders regard the boys from Huron County, the following copy of a letter from R. W. Thom, general agent of the Grand Trunk at Camp Borden, speaks for itself. It was sent to Lieut.-Col. H. B. Combe, officer commanding:

Lieut.-Col. Combe,
O. C. 161st Battalion,
Camp Borden, Ont.

Dear Sir,—I feel constrained to say a word of praise regarding the conduct of your battalion, while they have been on our trains for week-end leave or otherwise. I think I can safely say without danger of being suspected of undue flattery that the 161st Battalion has conducted itself at all times in such a manner that it could not be considered otherwise than highly creditable.

They have respect for their officers, for their battalion, and for themselves, and this has taught others to respect them. I am sure that such conduct will bring its own reward. The way in which they got on and off trains puts them in a class by themselves. Yours truly,

R. W. THOM,
General Agent.

BACK HOME AFTER 18 MONTHS' SERVICE ON BATTLE FRONTS

Corp. G. Thompson.

Corp. Gordon ("Gos") Thompson, son of Dr. Ainley Thompson, Elmwood avenue, South London, who returned to London on Friday afternoon, after 18 months' service in France with Mechanical Transport. Corp. Thompson was one of the first London boys to enlist, and has passed through some of the most exciting phases of the great war.

KILTIES OFF TODAY TO STRATFORD AND STRATHROY FAIRS

Canadian Borderers Are Securing Recruits All Over the District.

The pipe and drum band of the Canadian Scottish Borderers left this morning for Stratford, where they will attend the fair, and make a strong appeal to the young men of Perth to enlist in the only kilted battalion now recruiting in Canada.

Another recruiting squad also left today to attend the fair at Strathroy.

On Saturday the kilties went to St. Thomas and spent the entire day in making a forceful appeal to men in the streets.

Returning to London for Sunday they went to St. Andrew's Church in a body in the morning, and in the afternoon attended the mass meeting held in the Centennial Methodist Church. Everywhere they went citizens commented upon the fine type of men that are being attracted to the Borderers Battalion.

Last evening in the First Presbyterian Church Drummer Irvine sang a solo most acceptably.

One of the finest compliments the recruiting squad received here came at the close of the fair, when one of the women at the dining hall where the men ate said the kilties were the most gentlemanly lot of men she had ever seen together.

"If I had a son I should like him to go with your battalion," she said. "He couldn't be in better company."

OFFICER OF 99TH RETURNS "GASSED"

WINDSOR, Sept. 17.—Major D. J. Cheyne, son of Tax Collector Cheyne, who went overseas as one of the company commanders of the 99th Battalion, has returned home, suffering from the effects of being gassed.

He arrived on Friday, and looked quite well, but was confined to his bed on Saturday, being taken ill in the morning. In speaking with some friends he stated that he expected to go back within two months provided he made sufficient recovery.

He is the first officer of the 99th Essex Battalion to return to Windsor. The battalion was broken up after it reached England, some being sent to the 1st Battalion, 1st Brigade, some to the 18th Battalion, and the rest to other units.

COLD WAVE STRIKES CAMP BORDEN AND MEN STAY IN TENTS

Sunday Is Marked by Absence of Visitors.

GREATCOATS IN DEMAND

Perths and Lambtons Face Each Other in Trenches Today.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CAMP BORDEN, Sept. 17. — Jack Frost paid his first official visit to the camp today, and the temperature dropped down with a sudden bump. Greatcoats were donned, and other essentials to warmth.

Men returning from pass shivered as they streamed from the trains, and when they saw the muffled figures of the station guard realized that it had grown decidedly colder. The extra blanket which was issued the other day came in handy tonight.

The usual religious services were held in the various lines, but the afternoon crowd of visitors did not materialize. Their absence was distinctly noticeable, as the men kept to their tents, being content to read or write. The camp seemed bare and lifeless today in comparison to some of the preceding Sundays.

Second Brigade Treks.

The second brigade, under Col. J. A. Currie, will start on a two-day route march Tuesday morning, marching under service conditions, and they will trek as far as Barrie, where they will put on an exhibition of bayonet fighting and physical drill in the afternoon. At night they will bivouac near the town, weather permitting, and will return to camp Wednesday.

110th and 149th in Trenches.

The 110th Perth and the 149th Lambton Battalions will enter the trenches tomorrow morning, and it is understood that there will be a lively time around "no man's land" during the night, as these battalions are very jealous of each other, and great rivals.

The 161st Huron Battalion will be inspected in musketry tomorrow morning by Lieut.-Col. J. S. Campbell, attached to the general staff, and this will complete the inspection in this branch of the eighth brigade.

ELGIN OFFICERS BEING "WARNED" FOR FRANCE

Four More From 91st Transferred at First of Month.

Writing under date of Sept. 1 from an English training camp, a former member of the editorial staff of The Advertiser sends the following news of the warning of four more officers of the 91st (Elgin) Battalion for duty in France. Many Londoners went as officers and men of the 91st, which was the second county battalion from military district No. 1 to reach England. The 99th (Essex) county unit was the first. The letter follows:

Four men of the old 91st (Elgin) Battalion officers, now with training units at West Sandling, have been warned for overseas service. They are Lieuts. Charles F. Stevenson, G. F. Marr, M. McLaughlin, all of the 12th Reserve Battalion, and J. R. Geddes of the 36th Reserve Battalion. They have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness for departure for France next Monday.

First "Sub" of Unit.

Lieut. Stevenson, who was the first subaltern to be taken on the strength of the 91st Overseas Battalion, was machine gun officer in the county unit but he is going over in the capacity of a platoon commander. Lieut. Stevenson previous to enlisting was privvate secretary to the superintendent of the Elgin division of the M. C. R., with headquarters in St. Thomas, where he resided. He has been warned for the 4th Battalion.

Lieut. George Marr is a London boy for the past three years, although he was born in Scotland. He was one of the senior subalterns in the 91st, and was regarded as a very efficient officer in "A" Company. He also goes to the 4th Battalion.

Lieut. McLaughlin was one of the color bearers of the regiment, and was an officer in the 25th (Elgin) Militia Regiment previous to the outbreak of the war. He was a member of the "Elgins," 70th Overseas Battalion, C. E. F., at the time when that company was transferred to St. Thomas as a nucleus for the 91st Battalion. He will go with the 4th Battalion.

Lieut. Geddes, previous to joining the 91st, was a supernumerary in the 71st Battalion, which trained in London for some time. His home is in Port Credit, Ont. He has been assigned to the 1st Battalion.

Six Gone From Elgins.

With the departure of these officers six of the original 91st officers will have been warned for service in France, Lieut. Dudley Parsons of Sarnia, formerly of "C" Company, left Sunday to join the 18th Battalion. Lieut. A. R. Jones of "B" Company, was to have accompanied him, but has been unable to go across, pending an operation.

It is expected that other officers of the unit will be warned in the near future.

Edward Fidlar of the Royal Army Medical Corps, written from Bombay, India, stating that he has been detained there owing to illness, on his way to Mesopotamia. Capt. Fidlar is a member of the staff of the Institute of Public Health, and has a large circle of friends in London.

TWO HIGHGATE MEN ARE WAR VETERANS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

HIGHGATE, Sept. 17.—Word has been received here of the death of two Highgate heroes, Ptes. Geo. Carson and Henry Mills.

Carson came from Franklinville, N. Y., and was employed with the British-Canadian Canners here. He was among the first from Highgate to enlist with the 33rd Battalion at Chatham.

Mills was an English lad, and enlisted from here a year ago.

LIEUT. HARRIS WALSH HOME ON FURLOUGH

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BRANTFORD, Sept. 17.—Lieut. Harris Walsh of the 36th Battalion slipped quietly into the city over the week-end home on a five weeks' furlough.

Walsh, who was a well-known newspaperman and baseball player, left here with the 36th Battalion.

While training in England he fell over a cliff and broke his shoulder. He was later wounded in France.

Chapeaux d'Automne

It is a great pleasure to announce millinery of such smart distinction. In this special group are hats of marked refinement and elegance, that are more than reasonable in price.

At this time, the opening of the millinery tall seasons, Mrs. Westermann's reflections of what the New York shops are showing in approved millinery fashions will be most interesting to our customers.

The Fashion Mirror

The outstanding style in millinery is quite naturally French. The Napoleonic Hat is decidedly in vogue, and it is indeed very becoming to most women. Panne velvet is a favorite material, the greys combined with white, and all black lead in favor.

There are far too many beautiful shapes to settle down to hard and fast rules as to the kind of hat one shall wear, and we women are more than ever deciding in favor of what is becoming as being correct.

Velvets are most shown, and usually in the darker colors, touched with a bit of brilliant color in cord, ornaments, or ribbons. Kurzman favors brown velvets with dull gold ornaments.

Tan effects in draped toques, rather tailored, are good, while the larger sailor shapes are worn more for the dressy effects. Fur trimmings are just as much a necessity to the stylish woman as they were last season.

In spite of their commonness, long veils continue their popularity.

Taking a birdseye view of the shops, it would seem that height is a tendency of the new millinery. Ostrich is shown on some of the latest importations. Beret Hats and Draped Hats are considered smart.

Altogether one will have a wide variety from which to select, and there will be no cause to complain of not finding a becoming hat.

ONLY WOMAN OFFICER IS WITH 242ND UNIT

Former London Girl Acts as Recruiter for Forestry Battalion.

The 242nd Forestry Battalion, which is campaigning in London for recruits, is probably the only battalion raised in the Dominion to which a woman belongs as an official member, authorized by the department. Miss Winnifred Evans, a former Londoner, has been added to the strength of the battalion as a lieutenant, and is doing much of the recruiting for the unit.

She was in London during fair week, and did much to aid recruiting for all the units by the singing of patriotic songs. She formerly was attached to the 238th Forestry Battalion, but when it went overseas she was transferred to the 242nd. All summer she has been touring Ontario, singing at recruiting meetings. Dressed as Nurse Cavell and singing "Remember Nurse Cavell," she has aroused the patriotic fervor of Toronto, Montreal, Ottawa and many of the smaller towns closer to London.

The strain upon her voice has been great, as often the meetings were held in the open air. She will, therefore, be off duty for a few weeks, but will take up the work again later in the fall. She is not the only member of the family serving the Empire. A brother is in France with the 2nd Field Ambulance.

The 242nd Battalion, for which she is recruiting chiefly, is commanded by Col. J. B. White, formerly manager of the Riordan Pulp and Paper Company. The work of the battalion, although it does not comprise actual warfare, is yet most necessary. The men will work in the forests of England and Southern France to keep the troops at the front supplied with suitable material for defences.

Recruits should apply to Capt. W. B. Hagerman of Markham, who will be in charge of the recruiting for London and St. Catharines, or to Capt. Irvine, at the recruiting office at the armories.

GALT WILL HONOR SOLDIERS ON LEAVING

GALT, Sept. 17.—Arrangements are now complete for a good-bye celebration to the 111th South Waterloo Battalion on its return to London on Monday night.

The city council has already honored the local members of the unit. It is understood ladies of the city will make presentations to the soldiers Monday evening of comforts.

HAS BEEN IN HEAVY ACTION AT HILL 60

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TILLSONBURG, Sept. 17. — Miss Leita Belore has received a letter from her brother, Pte. Harold Belore, who left here with the 71st Battalion, and who was transferred to the 15th Highlanders of the first Canadian division. He was sent to France early in June, and states that he had spent nearly three months in the trenches, when he was ordered back to his own unit, as there had been a mistake in the draft. He had been engaged in all the heavy fighting at Hill 60, and states that during the heavy bombardment, which lasted for three days, men were killed on all sides of him, and others driven crazy from the noise of the guns and bursting shells.

PHYSICAL DEFECT BARS A VETERAN

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, Sept. 17.—After serving seventeen years in the British army, and successfully coming through the South African campaign unscathed, a medical defect has prevented Wm. Henry Ebbert of Dover Centre from enlisting in the ranks of the 186th Battalion. Mr. Ebbert applied at the local recruiting office Friday.

The Kent Battalion still needs a large number of men to complete the number required for overseas strength. Sergt. Tom Stevenson is on the job all the time at the armories, and will be pleased at any time to attest any intending recruit.

THREE MORE RECRUITS SIGN IN ST. THOMAS

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 17. — Three young men enlisted here on Saturday for overseas service. They are: Clarence Hugon, 18 years of age, St. Louis, Mo., for the mounted rifles, Hamilton; Walter Lorne Robbins, 216 Centre street, St. Thomas, 18 years of age, 241st Kilties, and Thomas Orval Helgrieve, Winnipeg, Man., also 18 years old, for the mounted rifles.

TILLSONBURG RED CROSS HAD SUCCESSFUL YEAR

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TILLSONBURG, Sept. 17.—The annual meeting of Tillsonburg Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society was held in the basement of the public library on Friday evening, and was largely attended. The secretary's report showed that $1,000 additional in cash contributions had been received this year, and to further aid the worthy cause another collection of waste paper, etc., will take place in October. V. A. Sinclair, M. P. P., was again chosen president of the association. The meeting was somewhat hampered, owing to the failure of hydro from 8:10 till 9:15 p.m.

The shoe factory, which has been working overtime on important orders, had to shut down. The management of the White Star Theatre is seriously considering installing a private plant, as the frequent failures of hydro have become aggravating to the institution.

The Women's Institute, under the direction of Mrs. Joslyn, packed a box of clothing, quilts, etc., that had been donated by the citizens of the town, and which will be forwarded to the fire sufferers of Northern Ontario at once.

TWO DROWNED.

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Sept. 16. — Dr. Harriston and Miss Hillman, while crossing the river here last night, after attending a political meeting, were drowned. The finding of Miss Hillman's body on the shore was the first evidence of the double tragedy.

SUNDAY CLAIMS THAT HE MADE ONTARIO "DRY"

Tells Detroit Congregations He Was Instrumental Here and in B. C.

LONDONERS HEAR HIM

Many Cross Border to See the Famous Evangelist in Action.

FLAYS FORCES OF EVIL

Redhot Shot Delivered in Characteristic Manner to 50,000 Hearers.

Many Londoners went to Detroit over the week-end to hear the famous "Billy" Sunday. Those who did saw the ex-baseball star in all his war-paint and batting .1000 against the forces of evil.

The Sunday tabernacle was crowded yesterday and more than 50,000 heard the evangelist at his best. The usual gymnastic trimmings of his services were introduced and at the end of each of the three services—morning, afternoon and night—his collar was wringing wet with perspiration and his coat had been dispensed with unceremoniously long before he attained the climax of his addresses.

Made Ontario Dry.

In the afternoon the evangelist touched on the prohibition question of Ontario, and laid claim to be instrumental not only in making this province dry, but British Columbia as well, not to mention the states of Iowa, West Virginia and Colorado.

In the evening the famous "Ten Commandments'" sermon was delivered with the usual "hell fire and brimstone" features so much a part of the typical Sunday campaign.

In part he said:

"We're making money by the buckets full in this country, but we're going to hell in carload lots, freight prepaid. It's a good thing to have money, and the things it can buy, but it's also a good thing to sit down once in a while and think of the things we might lose which money can't buy.

Whisky Many a Man's God.

"Whisky is many a man's god. He thinks more of a whisky bottle, a keg of beer or a case of wine than he does about God. There are men here tonight if they would die you would not need to preach their funeral sermon. Put them in their coffin, carry them in here, buy a pack of cards and a faro bank and some red and white and blue chips, put them in the coffin, and they will tell the story of their lives. That's all they have lived for, the dirty, black-legged gamblers! That is the story of your life, you blackleg.

"There are others where a bag of gold or a bundle of bills put in their coffin with their mortgages, stocks and bonds, would be the sermon. There are others who need no funeral sermon. Put their carcass in the coffin and lead in the girls whose lives are broken and whose honors have been torn to shreds, and let them stand here and calm down their tears. That is the story of a good-for-nothing libertine's life. He has just lived to gratify his lust and passion. There are some women here tonight if they would die they would not need to preach their funeral sermon. Put you in a coffin, go to your home, get your jewels and your clothes and bring them in here, put them on your coffin. With some people God is put in the background for pleasure.

Why Theatre Is Condemned.

"Thou shalt not commit adultery. For every twelve marriages in the United States there is one divorce. Cincinnati led all the cities in 1912. There were 4,216 marriages and 1,184 divorces. Remarrying is sought by 95 out of 100 divorced persons, and in nearly every case the man marries the woman who was named as co-respondent or the woman marries the man in the case.

"You want to know why I condemn the theatre. Well, I'll tell you one reason. Fifty years ago plays and popular songs upheld the wife and the marriage vow. Today the songs they love to hear and the plays they love to see scoff at the wife and marriage. 'I Love My Wife, But Oh, You Kid'—the dirty, filthy stuff. It isn't the grownups who patronize these places so much as the sissified, little, empty-headed kids with their skirts to their shoetops who go there and snicker.

"'Thou shalt not kill.' Somebody says: 'We are all right there, Bill, we haven't murdered anybody.' But listen! doesn't say anything about that. There are other ways of killing besides sticking a dagger in somebody's heart, shooting their brains out, pounding their head to a pulp with a club or an axe. There are other ways of killing. There is many a husband who is killing his wife because she has found he is false to his vows and his promises. Many a husband is killing his wife by neglect. He is showing more love for some other woman than for the woman who left a great deal better home than he ever gave her. Many a man is killing his wife with cruelty.

Many Ways of Killing.

"'Thou shalt not kill.' There are other ways of killing. How am I going to describe it? Language fails me. I mean the woman who reddens her hands with the blood of her unborn offspring to defeat the ends of conception, so as to relieve her from the cares of motherhood, so that she can flirt in godless whisky, wine, champagne, card playing, Sabbath-breaking society. I mean that sort of a wretch and I mean, too, the miserable, good-for-nothing, old, black-hearted mal-practitioner who will disgrace his manhood and the high calling of the medical profession. M. D. they call them. D. M. they ought to call them—damnable murderers. They ought to string from the end of a rope, the same as any other red-handed murderer. 'Thou shalt not kill.' You are weighed and found wanting. God looks into your life and finds that you are doing things you should not do.

Let God Measure You.

"'Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house, nor his man servant, nor his maid servant,' so if your neighbor has a girl that is a good cook don't go nosing around and ask how much they pay her a week and then offer her 25 or 50 cents more to get her. Many a man would like to have his neighbor's wife. You let her alone. Keep your eyes for your own. Keep your love for your own. I have just been trying to show you the standard that God gives to everybody.

"Stand up and let God measure you and see how far short you come of being what God's requirements are."

Sunday morning's service was devoted by Billy Sunday to a scathing denunciation of all sects that held religious views different from his own and in this respect his audience, usually enthusiastic, was noticeably unresponsive, for there were many present belonging to modern religious sects, such as New Thought and Christian Science, who took exception to his remarks, though there was no open demonstration. His text for the morning sermon was from II Timothy, 11-15: "Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

Condemns Trial Marriages.

Touching upon the subject of trial marriage, he said:

"You know a man has printed a book, and they buy it up so fast they can't turn it off the press fast enough, in which he advocates that marriage should not be a life contract, but on the instalment plan, like you buy furniture.

"They see a girl that is pretty good-looking and they'll go up and say: 'Sissie, let's make up and try it for six months, and if we like one another at the end of that time the same as we do now we will continue; if we don't we will split up and call it off.'

"Thank God that such an infamous, God-forsaken, hell-born doctrine will never exist as long as man preaches God's word and woman will hear it."

CITY BREVITIES

SALVATION ARMY SALE. — There will be a sale tonight in the Salvation Army Citadel, Clarence street, in the interest of the harvest festival fund. Refreshments will be served.

RECOVERS FROM LOCKJAW.—Joseph Ditalmo, 6-year-old victim of lockjaw, caused by a wound made by a rusty nail, has now recovered completely and left St. Joseph's Hospital.

EXCHANGE OF PULPITS.—Rev. G. F. Assiter of the Christian Church, this city, conducted services yesterday in the Christian Church, St. Thomas, owing to the illness of the pastor. Rev. George A. MacKenzie and Mrs. MacKenzie of the Christian Workers' Church took the services in the morning and evening in the local Christian Church.

PRUNES GOING UP.—Prunes, the much-maligned, much-eaten boarding-house dish, are slated for an increase before long, as are all dried fruits. Just what effect the increase is to have on the consumption of the dried staple diet of the alleged funny column and comic strips remains to be seen. Grocers are predicting at least a two-cent per pound boost.

NAME WANTED.—Some time ago a man from Regina happened to be in the utilities commission offices, and when going out the door was slammed on a little boy's fingers, injuring them. The youngster was looked after, but the Regina gentleman has been thinking about the boy, and has written Secretary Ellwood for the name and address of the youngster. Mr. Ellwood does not know it, but he wishes that the parents would communicate with him at once.

AT ALMA MATER CONFERENCE.—Among London Presbyterian ministers who are to be in Toronto this week during the annual conference of Knox College, their Alma Mater, are Rev. D. C. MacGregor of St. Andrew's Church, Rev. W. R. McIntosh of King Street Presbyterian Church, and Rev. W. J. Knox of the First Presbyterian Church. Mr. McIntosh and Mr. Knox went down this morning to attend a meeting of the general assembly committee on Sunday school and young people's work, and Mr. MacGregor is going down chiefly for a meeting of the home mission board of the church.

GIRLS IN GILDED (?) CAGES ENTERTAINING

Two "fair maidens" who have been connected with a show during the fair were arrested at Queen's Park Saturday by Detectives Down and Egelton on information furnished by the Toronto police.

The telegram from the Toronto department did not state the offence with which they are charged. An officer returned them to Toronto.

Whatever the offence may be the girls were not the least bit downhearted, and apparently did not mind their incarceration at the police station at all.

They furnished a program of vocal selections for the benefit of those attending the police court session.

Singing in a high soprano the one opened the "bill" with "I am just a bird in a gilded cage." She was correct on the "cage" all right but the "gilding" has yet to be completed, as anyone familiar with the cells at police court will testify.

"Silver Threads Among the Gold," sang the other damsel in a contralto voice that had even the reporters in police court humming the refrain.

The last number on the program was a duet sang with unusual vigor with particular emphasis on one little word. "No one knows how dry we are," they sang, and then the sergeant told a station "cop" to put the "kibosh" on the comedy and the music ceased.

DISMANTLING FORMER ARTILLERY CAMP HERE

"Broughdale" Camp To Be No More After Tomorrow.

Broughdale Artillery Camp will be dismantled tomorrow. The horses will be removed to Queen's Park and the tents will be taken down and removed to the ordance stores. The camp guard which has been located at the camp since the 63rd and 64th Batteries were transferred to Petawawa will be discontinued. The stables will be left standing in the meantime, but it is expected will also be removed in time.

The horses at Queen's Park will be under the charge of Lieut. Dan. Stewart, P. V. O. A detail of fifteen men from each of the 153rd and 160th Battalions have been instructed to report to Queen's Park, where they will be attached to the C. A. V. C. for rations and discipline.

FORMER WINDSOR MAN MEMBER OF PARLIAMENT

George Hanes Made a Great Run on Liberal Ticket.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINDSOR, Sept. 17.—George S. Hanes, son of Charles Hanes, Chatham street, and former city engineer in Windsor, was elected for North Vancouver by 350 majority.

He ran as a Liberal candidate, and will be a supporter of the new Liberal Government, the Conservatives under Premier Bowser being defeated by a majority of about fifteen. At the last provincial election the Conservatives, under Sir Richard McBride, made a clean sweep, there being 40 Conservatives elected, two Socialists and no Liberals.

PROHIBITION FIGHT IS NOT WON YET, DECLARES PASTOR

Dominion Legislation Must Be Secured to Save Province.

ACT CAN BE ENFORCED

Passing of Saloon Brings Prosperity, Says Rev. MacGregor.

There was a large attendance at the Centennial Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon, when Rev. D. C. MacGregor, of St. Andrew's Church, addressed a men's mass meeting on the subject of "Prohibition."

"The fight is not won by any means," he stated. "Something wholesome must be substituted for the evil which we have driven out, or in a short time it will return seven-fold.

"We have driven the liquor forces into their fourth line trenches; they have retreated into territory into which we cannot attack them. For although we have forbidden the manufacture of intoxicating liquors in Ontario, they can still be obtained from Quebec. Our next step must be to get Dominion legislation in the matter. It is not right that one province should be allowed to contaminate another.

"It is a fight which will have to be fought to the last ditch."

Can Be Enforced.

Speaking on the new act from the viewpoint of whether it could be enforced, he stated that it was his opinion that it could. "We will need a good police magistrate and efficient officers, and I think we have them. If the new license inspector does his duty he will be backed up. He will have public opinion behind him."

He related some of his personal experiences in American cities where prohibition had been passed. In all of them he stated it had been successfully enforced and had brought prosperity.

His decision to fight the evil had been made during a visit to the old country. The awful conditions which he saw there, caused by intoxicating liquor, had made him resolve to fight to the last against Canada ever being so enthralled. It was a lasting disgrace to England, he claimed, that she had retained liquor when every one of her allies had dispensed with it at the beginning of the war.

Russia's Action.

Russia cut off an annual revenue of $900,000,000 when she forbade the sale of vodka. Now, however, over 25,000 savings banks were in operation. Another result was that Russia was enabled to properly organize and equip her people for the fight against the Hun.

France had realized that a country which permitted the sale of intoxicants was a house divided against itself, and forbade the sale of absinthe at the beginning of the war. Prohibition, he stated, was the first law passed by Rumania on her entry into the struggle.

"The fight is no longer a local one," he said. "It is no longer confined to one country or nation, but is world-wide." Liquor was almost completely banished from Canada, although the fight had seemed hopeless in some localities.

"The devil got in a bad kick last week, but he always does his worst work when he is being driven out. Now, however, he is out, and he is going to stay out."

LADIES NEARLY DROWN IN ATTEMPTING RESCUE

Infant Adrift: They Pursue and Their Boat Upsets.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

CHATHAM, Sept. 16.—Mrs. Johnson and Miss Watson of Erie Beach had a narrow escape yesterday in endeavoring to rescue the two-year-old daughter of Mrs. Johnson, who, in some manner, got adrift in a boat on the lake.

The boat in which the rescue party set out was upset and the ladies were in the water for some time before a boat was secured to go to their rescue. Fortunately, both of the women were able to hang on to the upturned craft until help arrived and they were taken ashore.

Aside from a rather chilly and unexpected dip the women escaped, none the worse for the exciting experience.

fought a stubborn battle south of Lerine throughout Saturday. There was lively artillery fighting. Night attacks made by the enemy were repulsed.

"In the Moglenica Valey and on the right bank of the Vardar calm prevails. On the left bank of the Vardar there was violent cannonading. A weak attack by the enemy west of Doldjeli was beaten back by our fire. We captured three machine guns and took several dozen prisoners.

"On the Belasludtza front calm prevails. In the Struma Valley, after strong artillery preparation, the enemy attempted an infantry attack along the front of the village of Kolomarian, Osman Kamila and Djamawhale, but was counter-attacked and thrown back on the right bank of the Struma.

"On the Aegean coast the enemy's cruisers are active."

ADMIT CAPTURE OF POSITION.

Sofia, Sept. 18, via London.—"Our advance in Dobrudja continues," says an official anouncement issued here today. "The enemy ocupied a fortified advanced position near Kobadin. Our troops are in immediate contact with him. Our cavalry occupied the railway station at Adjenlar. Sixteen wagons of food were captured.

"A brigade of the enemy yesterday attempted a counter-attack against our column on the extreme left, toward the village of Pulutche, but was repulsed with great losses, and left in our hands several dozen prisoners, as well as eight caissons, one gun, four machine guns and other material.

"From the number of killed and wounded and the large quantity of war material lying about on the terrain, it appears the enemy sustained enormous losses during the fighting on September 12, 13 and 14.

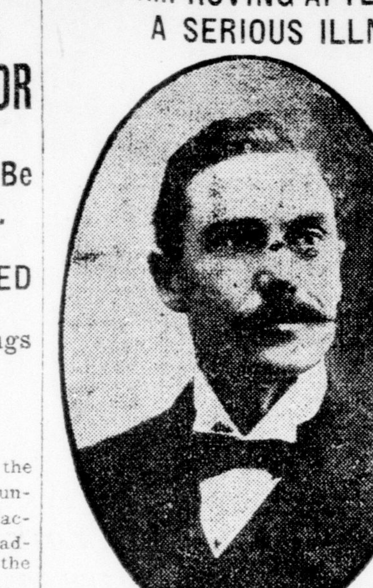

"On the Danube, toward Bekia, there was weak artillery firing on both sides. We sank a barge in port at Turn-Severin.

"On the Black Sea coast the day was calm."

PRAISES HOTELMEN; WANTS THEM IN CHURCH

Pastor of First Congregational Says They Are All "Good Fellows."

Dawn of the prohibition era in Ontario was referred to by Rev. J. B. Silcox, D.D., pastor of the First Congregational Church, in the course of his sermon Sunday night on "Is Life Worth Living?"

In part, Dr. Silcox said:

"We are glad that these men engaged in the selling of liquor are out of the business. They will be glad, too, for we are all guilty alike that the traffic has existed for so long. We, the people of the nation, were willing all these years to allow the traffic to continue, but we are glad today that much of the misery and sorrow caused by the use of the liquor will be blotted out—and please God—we hope for all time.

"We need hotels. The man who provides food and shelter to the traveling public is doing a great service for mankind, and our hotelmen are good men. They are genial, optimistic, hail fellows, who can make one welcome—and sympathetic. We shall see these hotelmen taking their place in other positions—where their executive and business ability will be of great service to the community.

Hotelmen as Deacons.

"I hope to see them as deacons and officers in a short time, for they will bring to the office all the optimistic, glad, hearty skill which has made them a success in business up to now. Their families will be accorded their rightful place in the community and we will be helped by them. I hope to have some of these men come to help me here in this church.

"In my dealing with these men—so far, I have found them first-class—honorable men to deal with. Men who play fair. They, themselves, will be glad to be out of a business that brought shame and ruin to countless homes.

"Saturday evening I went into two or three barrooms between five and seven o'clock—and it was a pitiful sight. Old men lined up—and some lying down—drinking and getting all the liquor they could get, while the men behind the counters were working as hard as possible to supply the demands.

Were Helplessly Drunk.

"Young men by the score—and to me the saddest sight—young men lined up, waiting their turn to be supplied. Some of these, too, already helpless. We thank God that is over now. We hope and pray that the people will work and pray that this abominable traffic will never return.

"In Arizona's early days, gambling was commonplace. Later on, when people had progressed, they banished it forever—for, said they: 'We have come to see a better way and we do not need gambling to better our civilization, so we'll not have gambling!' Let us, too, in Ontario—in Canada—see a better way, and may we work earnestly to banish this monster forever.

"I sincerely trust each will do his part to keep our country free from all that degrades."

TECHNICAL SCHOOL CLASSES IN FULL SWING THIS WEEK

Day Students Urged To Be In Their Places as Result.

According to an official announcement made by the London Technical School, all students of the day classes should be in their places this week. Now that the summer vacation and the Western Fair holidays are over, the regular year's work will start. The day classes provide a thorough English education for both boys and girls. Half the students' time is devoted to the regular academic studies taught by qualified high school teachers. In addition the boys receive practical shop instruction in machine shop practice, cabinetmaking, electrical work, mechanical drawing, and the girls receive special training in domestic arts, including domestic cooking, home economics, millinery, embroidery and art. There are no fees for students attending full time day classes.

There is room for a few girls and boys in the day classes, and students will be admitted this week, but as the accommodation is limited, students will be admitted in the order in which application is made.

The evening classes open October 1. Registration for them will be held the last week of this month.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DIED VERY SUDDENLY.

Frank Adams, manager of The Advertiser, received a telegram Sunday stating that his brother-in-law, G. Frank King of New Yord, died very suddenly Saturday evening. He was a well-known traveler, and besides his wife leaves one son and one daughter. Mr. Adams left for New York on Sunday to attend the funeral.

CONTROLLERS DELAY ACTION ON PURCHASE OF MACGREGOR WELLS

Lay Over Question for Week's Consideration.

OBJECT TO REQUEST

Whole Scheme Must Be Gone Into Before Giving Approval.

The board of control took a few minutes to consider the Macgregor wells proposition today, but delayed action for a week, in order to get more information on the wells.

"I do not see why this thing was sent to us," said Controller J. M. Moore. "The utilities commission should have the wells reported upon and recommend to us. We have simply to althorize, at its request, the issuing of debentures."

"We must buy the property," explained Mayor Stevenson.

"Is the city council going to commit itself to this scheme?" asked Controller White. "The water situation should be taken up in its broadest sense, and a scheme that will solve the problem furnished us. We want to know how much water we can get, its purity, and its sources."

Resolution Means Approval.

"If we pass the resolution sent to us by the commission, we give our approval to the wells," said Controller Moore. "The arbitrators simply set the price on the wells. We accept the property the moment arbitrators are appointed. We should have a report from the commission, as to the purity of the water, the quantity, whether or not it will give sufficient revenue to pay for the expense undertaken, and all other information."

"There seems to be some doubt as to the purity of the water," Controller White explained. "The Provincial Board of Health should tell us whether or not it is pure. Until we have that information, why deal with it?"

"I would suggest that this information be given us," added Controller Moore.

Must Have Water.

"We must have water, and we must have plenty of it," declared Controller Rose. "We should not be left in the position that we were this summer. We want all the information we can get on this scheme, and all other schemes."

Controller Moore then suggested that action be deferred for a week at least, until something more could be learned about the wells, and the powers of the board of control.

It is stated that before the property can be arbitrated for, the money must be either voted by the people, or an issue of debentures authorized by the board of control and city council, to be sanctioned later by the Legislature.

It is expected that the board of control will deal more minutely with the problem on Monday next.

FAIR ATTENDANCE EXCEED 150,000, DIRECTOR EXPECTS

Office Staff Is Now Busy Preparing Statements.

SENDING PRIZE MONEY

More Accommodation Must Be Provided for Exhibitors Next Year.

If 125,000 people attended the Western Fair in 1915, in the neighborhood of 150,000 or 160,000 must have been in attendance this year. This statement made to The Advertiser by a member of the board was based on the fact that each day during the past week showed a marked increase in attendance over the corresponding day of last year.

The biggest and best Western Fair in recent history so far as the general public is concerned. Friday night, when those in attendance turned their backs on Queen's Park's, they bade good-bye to the Western Fair of 1916.

All the livestock has now been removed, and most of the other exhibitors had their possessions on Saturday and Sunday.

Secretary A. M. Hunt declares that in all the years of his experience with the fair he had never seen exhibits removed in such good order as on Saturday. The secret of this lay in the fact that men were again put on the gates in the morning and no one allowed to enter but exhibitors, those removing exhibits or others who had definite business which necessitated their entry. The result was that there was no interference with exhibits, and each got away his or her own intact.

First thing Saturday morning, the military horses were again quartered in the stock buildings in the stalls from which prize animals had only a few hours before been removed.

Back to Town.

The office staff moved down town again Saturday, and prize money checks will be held there for winners until next Friday, after which date they will be mailed.

The immediate work that lies before the staff is the making up of pay sheets and settling with the exhibition help, also forwarding of the proceeds of the cheese and butter with score cards to the exhibitors.

The fair board has been gratified by the attitude of the exhibitors who, without exception, have expressed themselves as satisfied, and stated that they have done good business. The determination of the fair board at all times has been to fulfil all its promises, even to the least. So far as possible this rule has been adhered to religiously and in this way the confidence of exhibitors has been gained.

Must Be Enlarged.

The process building has been a most popular one, and it is evident that it will be necessary to enlarge it another year. Some arrangement must also be made to provide more accommodation for automobile exhibitors.

Apropos automobiles, the big problem which the Western Fair Board must solve for another year is of parking the automobiles of visitors.

The roads leading to the city were lined with autos on the big days of the fair this week. The heavy draught horse judging ring was changed to make room for the motor cars, and some days during the past week as many as 500 or 600 were parked in this space in the grounds. In addition, all the parking space available was taken up in streets adjoining the grounds.

Not a single objection was registered against the "World at Home" shows, an indication that they gave satisfaction, and were free from objectionable features. Moreover, it is estimated the midway of this year did a bigger business than any previous midway.

Spoiled the Evening.

"The Light That Failed," otherwise hydro, marred the closing night, and, in the flare of torches, booths and shows immediately began to undergo the dismantling process, with the result that when hydro again deigned to shine, the fair had lost much of its attraction for the people who still remained for the wind-up. The failure of light also interfered for a considerable time with the grandstand performance.

The fair board is making a new arrangement with the military authorities whereby the buildings to be used by the military will be dismantled by the board's own men, who will store the exhibition property in the main building.

GROCERS EXPECTING SUGAR TO KEEP DOWN

Figure that 40-Cent Decrease Will Be Last for Some Time.

The statement made in last week's issue of the Canadian Grocer, that following the drop of 40 cents per 100 pounds in the price of sugar, made on September 6, a steadiness has been given the market in view of the slightly higher prices of raw sugar, is confirmed by local wholesale grocers. Sugar is now wholesaling in London at $7.50 per 100-pound sack.

Local wholesalers expect sugar to remain at this price for some time at least. They, however, make the reservation that in view of past experiences it is almost impossible to definitely say how long it will remain. The fact that the season for marketing sugar beets is approaching will, it is believed, prevent any further increases for some little time.

Prior to September 6 sugar sold here for $7.90 per 100 pounds, and the present decrease of 40 cents is regarded as the best drop since the declaration of war.

OTHER DENOMINATIONS VOTED ON UNION

This Is Claim Made by Protesting Calgary Presbyterians.

Calgary, Sept. 18.—At a representative meeting of the members of the Presbyterian Church who are opposed to union with the Methodist and Congregational churches, held here, resolutions were passed favoring the continuation of the Presbyterian Church of Canada "in the interests of the religious life of Canada and in the wider fields of missionary effort."

Rev. Alex. Esler of Grace Church and T. Humphries of Calgary were appointed delegates to the conference to be held at Toronto October 17 to formulate plans for this purpose.

Dr. McQueen of Edmonton declared that the vote in favor of union in Alberta had been improperly secured by improper methods, and that in many churches, Methodists, Baptists and other persons not members of the Presbyterian body had been allowed to vote.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

"Blessed Are the Pure in Heart."

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Your paper quite recently contained letters from correspondents, denouncing certain plays shown in "the movies," which they consider demoralizing; others have written on the immodesty as exhibited in women's attire.

Do not the evils, which the writers appear to find in the above, spring from the same source?

"Immodesty" and "immorality" is not a question which long skirts and high necks will solve; it is a quality of mind which has to be striven for, and attained through the exercise of the faculties of the soul, working through the mind.

Why does your correspondent advise "low necks" only in the company of "highly moral people"? And if "low necks" are permissible, why not short skirts?

Again, who is to set the standard or judge these highly moral people?

Why have a double set of morals? What is wrong at one time, is surely wrong at another.

"Truth" does not vacillate, only "expediency" wastes time, changing its morals to suit occasions.

The hundreds of women athletes, arrayed in gymnasium costume, walking in the greatest procession the world has ever seen, for the sake of equality, and demanding "Votes for Women," were not considered "immodest."

Does your correspondent consider that the millions of men and women in bathing costume, or the thousands of women in England, now working on farms and in stables, where short skirts are an imperative necessity, come under that category?

Costume is largely a matter of fashion, climate and religion.

A Mahommedan woman, possessing only one garment, has been known to fling it over her face, at the approach of strangers, to the utter disregard of her limbs, and considers us depraved for being so shameless, in exhibiting our faces to the common gaze.

It is always the unusual that frightens us!

"The movies" produce plays, showing immorality in all its hideousness, with its consequent evil results, and the lesson, "That the wages of sin is death," is clearly shown.

The play repels us! It is calculated to make the younger members of society shun an environment producing such ugly results—but unfortunately it is condemned as "immoral."

On the other side, we have plays illustrating "the smart set," exhibiting their inane, atavistic monkey tricks. No intelligence, no morality, no deep lesson of life is to be deduced from their antics. Just a few silly, frivolous apings and prancings, a capacity for drinking champagne, and smoking cigarettes, of spending as much money as possible, and of doing no work, but they do show wonderful facilities for living on the backs of the workers!

Our girls and boys, just budding into maturity, who are not very well balanced, are attracted by the apparent glitter and show, and fall easy victims to the suggestiveness and insidiousness displayed, but no one condemns—because it is "light."

That very lightness is more likely to start them off on the wrong track than a correct presentation of evil.

The "puritanical" mind, handed down to us from our ancestors with its contempt of the body and its functions, and its suppression of natural joys and simple pleasures, is largely responsible for the crude definitions of morality some people still hold.

When we are taught from the cradle that the body is a sacred channel through which the stream of life flows in perpetuating humanity, and are impressed with the necessity of keeping our souls pure, we shall be able to look on slime, and, seeing it in the right perspective, we shall drop it, as we have dropped countless other evils on our way up.

Men who openly jeer and laugh at women's sometimes extravagant style of dress do not advertise either their modesty or purity, but they do affirm that they are sadly deficient in culture, and that their manners need mending.

"Immodesty" and "immorality" exists in the mind. To the pure all things are pure!

BREAD PRICE ADVANCES IN 15 ONTARIO TOWNS; OTHERS TO TAKE ACTION

One and Half Pound Loaf Goes Up One Cent, Due to Advance in Price of Flour.

The price of bread will be advanced in fifteen Ontario cities and towns today, with the probability that other places will take the same action within a week.

The one and a half pound unwrapped loaf will be advanced from 7 cents to 8 cents retail. The twelve-ounce loaf, or wrapped bread of either standard wheats, is not affected.

The places where the increase is effective are: London, Sarnia, Windsor, St. Thomas, Tillsonburg, Ingersoll, Toronto, Chatham, Niagara Falls, St. Catharines, Welland, Thorold, Clinton, Seaforth and Strathroy.

Action is taken by the bakers because of the rise in the price of flour, which has gone up $3.40 a barrel, or over 80 per cent, since last year.

Dr. D. C. Tennent of Toronto, who has been spending his holidays with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Tennent, 275 King street, returned home yesterday.

ANTI-UNIONISTS PROSECUTING VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN AGAINST CONSUMMATION OF "UNION"

Notices Sent Out for Big Meeting in Toronto in October—No Opposition to Campaign, Says Local Member of Church Union Committee.

An aggressive campaign has been inaugurated by anti-unionists of the Presbyterian Church of Canada to prevent, if possible, the consummation of church union which carried by a large majority at the last meeting of the General Assembly held in Winnipeg in June.

To this end notice has been sent out that

It is proposed to meet in the city of Toronto for at least three days, beginning on the 17th of October next. Representatives from all parts of the church are to be present. Questions will be discussed relating to the present crisis, as well as questions touching the worth and the perpetuity of Presbyterian doctrine and order, while it is expected that a permanent organization may be created for the purpose of protecting the interests of the church all over the Dominion.

"Arrangements have been made for the usual convention rates on all railway and steamship lines. Entertainment will also be provided for all delegates for the time they may be in Toronto on the business of the convocation."

Those desiring to be guests at the convention are asked to send their names to the secretary of the central executive committee, Rev. J. W. McNamara, 804 Kent Building, Yonge and Richmond streets, Toronto.

Extensive organization has been effected with John Penman of Paris, Ont., the widely-known manufacturer, as president of the general committee, and Col. Murray McLaren, M. D., C. M. G., of St. John, N. B., as vice-president.

Rev. R. G. Macbeth, M. A. of Vancouver, B. C., formerly of Paris, Ont., who has actively opposed church union from the beginning of the movement, is chairman of the central committee, and Rev. T. Wardlaw Taylor, M. A., Ph. D., Toronto, the secretary. C. S. McDonald and H. E. Irwin, K. C., of Toronto, are joint conveners of the finance committee.

The following is the call which has been issued to members and adherents of the Presbyterian Church in Canada to attend the Toronto convention:

"The existence of our church is threatened. At the recent assembly held in Winnipeg, it was decided by a majority vote, to proceed with the union between the Methodist and Congregational and Presbyterian Churches of the Dominion. In face of a growing opposition—and in despite of widespread doubts as to the wisdom of the step—the final vote was taken and the church committed to the proposal.

There is a strong and ever-widening desire on the part of a large number of the members of the church to maintain, in the meantime, the continuity and the identity of the church of our fathers. This call is to a convocation which shall organize the opinion and the intention of the church for this end.

"It is not possible to overestimate the gravity of the situation. The high court of the church has precipitated a crisis such as Presbyterianism nowhere has ever had to face before. We are encountering new experiences, inasmuch as it is our own brethren who are seeking to wrest our beloved church from us. All that we ask for—all that we have asked for—is that, in accordance with the oft-repeated assertions even of those who stand opposed to us in this hour, the church should not go forward to this union unless and until it is accepted with 'practical unanimity.' We need guidance for the coming days. Will you not join us, not only in the convocation, but now and every day, in asking that the Great King and head of the church may, even yet, intervene to save us from the breach with our brethren which the unwarranted action of the general assembly has so unexpectedly thrust upon us?

REV. A. ROBERTSON, D. D.,
Chairman of Central Executive, Toronto.

JOHN PENMAN,
President of General Committee.

Presbyterianism in London and the London Presbytery has a representative on the church union committee appointed by the General Assembly in Rev. D. C. MacGregor, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The task which confronts this committee, with President Falconer, of Toronto University as chairman, is that of working out the details towards the consummation of union.

Asked today if any steps had been taken by the committee to oppose the campaign of the anti-unionists, Rev. Mr. MacGregor replied, "No steps have been taken. This is a free country and they have a perfect right to do as they please in the matter. The General Assembly by a large majority voted for church union and the church will go forward. Nevertheless, it would be a most serious thing if a serious division should occur at this time."

CHILD GETS SICK, CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

Look at Tongue! Then Give Fruit Laxative for Stomach, Bowels.

"California Syrup of Figs" Can't Harm Children, and They Love It.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is ofttimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

CONTROVERSAL SIDE OF MEETING FADING

Auditor's Appointment and Water Scheme Not Up Before Council.

The council will meet in regular session this evening, but there does not seem to be much of a controversial nature on the program. The appointment of a city auditor was to have come up in the form of a bylaw, but as matters are somewhat uncertain, it is expected that the question will be laid over until the next session.

The water problem will not be discussed, as there is no report ready for the aldermen.

BLOODIEST BATTLE EVER WAGED BY ITALIANS

Germans Say Assaults Can Only Be Compared to Western Fighting.

[Canadian Press.]

Amsterdam, Sept. 18.—Via London, 1:55 p.m.—A telegram printed by the Cologne Gazette today says the Italians attack against the Austro-Hungarian positions near Gorizia, on the plateau of Koman, which have been proceeding for two days, are not to be compared with any battle, however bloody, of the Italian war up to the present, but only with the great fighting in the west or the last Russian offensive.

The correspondent [illegible] Italians are adopting tactics [illegible] Gen. Brusiloff, and adds [illegible] subjecting the short front [illegible] Wippach and the sea to continuous assaults by thick infantry masses.

FIRST OF JANUARY BEFORE REPORT OUT

Secretary of Fair Board Says Figures Not Now Available.

After the first real sleep in a whole week, the members of the Western Fair office staff are back on duty again today, and hard at work straightening out pay-sheets and making a start on the mammoth accumulation of business which is always the aftermath of the exhibition. Checks are being given out to prize-winners who are constantly calling at the office. The paying up of all the fair help is the next important duty to be met.

"How many attended the fair this year, and how much money was taken in at the gates?" was asked Secretary A. M. Hunt.

"Ask me something easy," he replied, adding: "I'll probably be able to give you those figures about the 1st of January, after we get all the business straightened out which absolutely must receive first attention."

RUN ON CHICAGO BANK CONTINUES

Panic Strikes Depositors After Failure of Private Institutions.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Police were called today to handle a crowd of depositors, which continued the run on the state bank of Schiff and Company, despite the asurance of its officials that the institution is solvent.

The run started yesterday because of alarm spread by the collapse of three private banks last week. Officials of the Schiff Bank said that $50,000 was paid out yesterday and that the demand of every depositor would be met. The bank has resources of $1,000,000, according to an audit Saturday.

The private bank of W. Ginsberg & Sons, which closed on Saturday, did not open its doors today. Depositors clamored for their savings.

The other Allies, possibly excepting Japan, have produced practically no merchant ships since the beginning of the war.

GARCIA'S METHOD.

Mesdames Viardot-Garcia and Malibran, the wonderful daughters of Manuel Garcia, who was perhaps the greatest vocal teacher of all time, literally "learned in suffering what they taught in song."

The discipline of the Garcia home was extremely severe. It was said that he used to beat his daughters till they screamed.

The neighbors, however, did not confuse the method with madness, and on such occasions they quaintly said: "It is only Monsieur Garcia teaching his girls to sing."

All Greece Crying for War With the Bulgars

First Soldiers From Kavala Return Demanding That Greece Enter Conflict — Anti-Venizelos Press To Demand Nation's Participation.

(Canadian Press.)

Athens, Sept. 16, via London, Sept. 18, delayed.—The first boatload of Greek soldiers from Kavala arrived here today. The men marched through the streets cheering King Constantine and crying, "Down with the Bulgars." The demand for war is growing rapidly among the people. Even the anti-Venizelos press plans an active pro-war campaign, which will be opened tomorrow.

"A VERY BENEVOLENT NEUTRALITY."

Athens, Sept. 16, midnight, via London, Sept. 18, 5:05 a.m., delayed.—Nikolas Kalageropoulos, the new premier, made the following declarations today:

"The new ministry will follow a benevolent, a very benevolent, neutrality toward the Entente. It will decide its attitude in other respects after examining the situation and studying the diplomatic documents."

Premier Kalageropoulos indignantly repudiated any suggestion that he is pro-German in his sympathies. The cabinet was sworn in at noon.

CALLS OUT THE GUARD.

Athens, Saturday, Sept. 16—Via London, Sept. 18.—There was much excitement at the British legation today when a Greek officer, who applied for permission to go to Andros, feeling that he had not received the consideration due his rank, called out the Greek guard.

CABINET ASSUMES POWER.

Athens, Sept. 17—Via London, Sept. 18. — Premier Kalageropoulous announced today that the new ministry had assumed full responsibility before the country for its acts. The Cabinet evidently accepts the note presented by the Entente powers last June in the same spirit as the previous Cabinet.

The note referred to said that the Entente powers did not require Greece to abandon neutrality, but demanded demobilization of the Greek army, the formation of a non-political Government and the holding of general elections after demobilization had restored the electoral body to normal conditions.

GREECE BUYS SUGAR.

New York, Sept. 18.—The Greek Government has purchased here a cargo of $700,000 worth of refined sugar, now loading for shipment next week, it was learned here today. The cargo is said to be the largest ever sent on one vessel from this country to Greece.

BILLY SUNDAY SPECIAL FOR MINISTERIAL ALLIANCE

Local Divines Figuring on Running One to Detroit to Hear Famous Evangelist There.

The London Ministerial Alliance will take up the question of running a special excursion to Detroit for the purpose of hearing Billy Sunday, the famous evangelist, who is conducting a revival campaign there at the present time. The question will also be taken up by the alliance of securing accommodation in the way of seating for the London contingent that will attend.

This was decided upon at the meeting of the alliance held this forenoon in the Y. M. C. A. Rev. H. H. Bingham introduced the subject of arranging an excursion and accommodation, and his subsequent motion to this effect was heartily indorsed. The executive will deal with arrangements.

WOMEN WORKERS IN OVERALLS

London, Sept 10.—(Correspondence).—The wholesale withdrawal of men from the commercial and industrial ranks has resulted in a huge substitution of female labor for the purpose of maintaining the industrial output of the country. Many hundreds of women are training to become milkers and dairy hands. In Scotland and Northumberland this sort of work is being regularly undertaken by women, while in Devonshire and other counties milking is being done even by young girls before they go to school.

Women are at the lathe, in overalls and cap, in the powder shed, working 12-hour shifts on the motor 'buses or fashioning metal, timber and leather, carting, driving and distributing. Before the war it used to be said that every Jack had his trade. The same can now be said of every Jill.

Women in trousers are becoming more and more numerous. They are donning them in greater numbers every day, in order to cope with work where the skirt is found to be a hindrance. They do not dislike the change, and it cannot be said to detract in any way from their native grace or carriage.

Napoleon, it seems, was a great believer in arraying women in masculine attire in time of war. "Dress does not make the man," says the proverb; but Napoleon found that it made the woman, and that putting her into trousers made a world of difference to her work and strength.

Reliable English opinion is inclined to encourage women to adopt masculine attire for what, after all, ought to be man's work, convinced that so dressed woman will give as good an account of herself as her absent mate.

Many thousands of women and girls are serving the nation as munition workers. The ministry of munitions considers every case thoroughly, placing the workers not only according to industrial fitness and home locality, but also with thought for the lives women have previously led and are likely to lead after the war. Many of the women engaged in munition work are art students, musicians, embroidresses—girls who had been engaged in the fine arts and hope to be again. Once drafted into a factory, the workers are specially looked after by the ministry as to hours, accommodation and rate of payment. The wages are $5 a week as a minimum, and fit workers are soon able to earn $15 to $20 a week by piece work.

The ministry of munitions has established nearly 70 free training centres throughout the country, and at these centres learners are prepared for the lighter varieties of munition work. In the newly-organized air department, in the various Government offices, in banks, insurance offices and commercial establishments, thousands of young women are now struggling with stacks of official books, ledgers and official documents.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

FUNERAL OF MRS. COLERICK.

The funeral of Mrs. Henry Colerick, who died on Friday, was held this morning from the family residence, 57 St. George street.

The services were conducted at the house at 10 o'clock by Rev. Canon Tucker. Six sons acted as pallbearers. The seventh Samuel is in France. Interment was made at Woodland Cemetery.

Stanislau, like Brody, is one of the gateways through which the Russian armies in Galicia expect to march rapidly toward Lemberg. This railroad centre is described in the National Geographic Society's war geography bulletin as follows:

"Railways radiate from Stanislau in five directions, making it one of the most important strategic cities of Southeastern Galicia. This fact has made it an important trading centre and manufacturing town, one of the most important industries before the war being the construction of rolling stock for the railroads.

"The great trunk line passing through Stanislau is that which runs from Berlin to Bucharest. Before the war it was possible to leave Berlin at 7:30 one evening, and, passing through Breslau, Cracow, Przemysl, Lemberg, Stanislau and Czernowitz, reach the Rumanian capital the following evening at 10:45. On this line Stanislau is 87 miles southeast of Lemberg and 78 miles northwest of Czernowitz. Kolomea lies between Stanislau and Czernowitz, 35 miles from the former.

"An extremely important line to the Russians is the road from the Russo-Galician frontier town of Husiatyn, due east of Stanislau. This line continues through Stanislau in a northwesterly direction, via Dolina to Stryj, a fortified town of 25,000 inhabitants, situated on the Stryj River, 42 miles south of Lemberg.

"The fifth spoke in the Stanislau railroad wheel is a line to the south, passing through Delatyn, 36 miles distant. This road, bending westward, affords direct communication in peace times between Stanislau and the Hungarian capital, Buda-Pest, the distance being about 375 miles.

"Stanislau nestles between two forks of the Bystrica River, one of the important southern tributaries of the Dniester, which flows ten miles to the north.

"The land in the vicinity of Stanislau is extremely fertile and before the war the town, which had a population of 33,000, was an agricultural centre. Among its industries in addition to its railroad shops were dyeing, milling and tile-making."

MUSK RATS.

[Lloyd Roberts.]

When the mists move down from the barren hill,
To roll where the waters are black and chill,
When the moonlight gleams on the lily-pads,
And even the winds are still,

The musk rats slip from the clammy bank,
Where the tangled reeds are long and dank,
Where the dew lies white on the iris bed,
And the rushes stand in rank.

Their black heads furrow the stagnant stream,
While the water breaks in a silver gleam,
Till it joins the reeds where the night lies hid,
And the purple herons dream.

Through the mist and the moon's mysterious light
They hear the honking geese take flight,
Threshing up from the arrow-heads,
As the lonely East grows light.

POSITIONS ASSURED.

"Dearest," said the sentimental bridegroom after the wedding ceremony, "do you think that I'll prove to be a satisfactory mate?"

"Oh, I guess you'll do all right," responded the practical bride, "and now, look me over and tell me what do you think of your captain?"

QUITE SAFE.

Well-Meaning Golfer—Er—do you think it quite safe to bring that child across the links?

Matilda Jane—Oh, it's all right, sir. I shouldn't think of bringin' 'im if he wasn't as deaf as a post, poor little chap!"

A Chicago judge advocates better fathers. There's a bird that has taken a lot of work on himself.

AUDITOR DEMANDS FULL CONTROL, OR WILL REFUSE JOB

Informs Board He Must Have Full Responsibility.

$3,600 IS THE MINIMUM

Joint Meeting Called to Explain Situation to Newly-Appointed Official.

W. M. Dunlop, Ottawa, recently appointed city auditor, informed the board of control today that he would not accept the position unless he was given the full responsibility and control, with a minimum salary of $3,600. All assistance must be provided for. His work was to include the various boards, including the utilities commission.

"I cannot entertain the proposition unless all work is under my control," he declared.

The controllers thought that this was nothing but right, and it was decided to call a special meeting of the finance committee and the board of control for 7 o'clock this evening in order to draft a letter, explaining the whole situation to Mr. Dunlop. Every effort will be made to retain his services.

LONDON'S BOOZE

Estimated Hotel Average.

It is estimated that each hotel bar did on an average of $150 a day, a total of $3,300 a day in the sixteen hotels, or a weekly total of $19,800.

The stocks left in the hotel bars (and they are small) have been taken to the liquor store of E. B. Smith and stored there to await instructions from the Ontario License Commission as to its disposition. In the meantime they are in Government storage.

A tour of the hotels by an Advertiser reporter this morning showed all the bars opened and selling "soft goods" with the exception of two. These opened this afternoon, not having completed their arrangements for the change to the new order before.

Stocks But Light.

All the bars are stocked with the lighter drinks, but not heavily by any means, as the new venture is an experiment, and all the hotel proprietors intend to feel their way for a few weeks at least.

One hotel proprietor said that he felt sure that the new scheme would not pay. He intended, he said, to raise his rates just as soon as he was convinced of that fact.

Others said that a fair trial would be made of the new scheme, and if it was found to be profitable at all, the rates would remain unchanged, and things go on as usual.

The majority of the hotelmen were non-committal on what action they would take, and said they would let the problem work out its own solution.

Change Well Made.

License Inspector J. E. Keenleyside stated today that the change from "wet" to "dry" conditions had been effected without the slightest disarrangement, and that conditions to the present were very satisfactory. At the drug stores alcohol and liquor were not obtainable, none of the druggists having to the present taken out licenses to sell liquor on doctors' prescriptions.

The only liquors handled in the drug stores are for manufacturing purposes, such as the filling of recipes and the making of tinctures, etc.

The bar-rooms presented a comparatively tame appearance today, compared with that of last week.

LAST IN MONTREAL

Steamer Dangorse and Two Others Sunk by Submarine.

[Canadian Press.]

Marseilles, France, Sept. 18.—The British steamers Llangorse, Butetown and Swedish Prince have been sunk by submarines. The crew of the vessels were saved and arrived here today.

The British steamer Llangorse, of 3,841 tons, was last reported as arriving at Montreal on August 12.

CERTAINLY.

Elderly Spinster—Policeman, arrest that man! He just walked up to me and whispered that I was the most beautiful woman he ever saw.

Policeman—Very well, ma'am. What shall I charge him with—insanity?"

TRUE TO NAME.

Master Walter, on returning from school, found his mamma seated talking to a very portly lady. "Walter," said his mother, "this is your great aunt."

"Yes," said Walter, looking at her ample proportions. "She looks it."

DID SOME GOOD.

"You don't make very good music with that instrument," said the innocent bystander to the man behind the bass drum as the band ceased to play.

"No," admitted the drum-pounder, "but I drown a heap of bad."

Vienna, Sept. 10. — (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The Russian offensive against the Austro-Hungarian troops is being conducted, according to Austrian officers returned from the front, with tactics that hardly have a precedent in the history of the wars of the world.

These tactics are, briefly to annihilate the Austrians by forcing Russian soldiers in their own artilery fire, drawing the Austrians from their bomb and shell-proof shelters into hand-to-hand combat, and then mowing down both Austrians and Russians by a withering drumfire. Great Russian losses, it is claimed, are due to this method of warfare.

The Russian method of attack in the Bukowina and Volhynia, the Austrians say, consists of artillery preparation lasting from 24 to 48 hours. Then come the first Russian infantry troops, in from six to fourteen rows, driven forward by Russian machine guns and by Cossacks armed with the dreaded "Nagaikas" or lead-tipped whips.

As they advance, the Russian artillery fire abates somewhat, but between it and the Austrian fire from 40 to 50 per cent of the first troops sometimes reach the trenches. Their arrival naturally forces the Austrians to abandon their shelters, and as soon as they do so the Russian drumfire begins again.

In both the Bukowina and the Volhynia offensives it is estimated that the Russians use up about two million shells every 24 hours—shells of Russian, Japanese and American make, and thrown from every calibre of gun, including naval pieces apparently dismounted from warships.

PURSUIT OF VILLA LEADS AGAIN INTO ROCKY FASTNESS

Doubt Expressed That Rebel Will Be Taken.

HE DIRECTED BATTLE

Hand-to-Hand Fighting at Chihuahua Caused Heavy Losses.

[Canadian Press.]

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 18.—Two columns of Government cavalry under Gen. Matias Ramos and Col. Jose Marrero, today were pursuing Villa and his main band, which Saturday made the Hidalgo Day attack on Chihuahua City, into the rugged Santa Clara canyon district to the northeast according to reports to Gen. Francisco Gonzales, commandant in Juarez. The bandits are well mounted, and apparently were leading the de facto forces over the jagged rocks into the canyon. Persons familiar with the country pointed out that should Villa reach one of his lairs in the district, the Government troops may have the greatest difficulty in finding him.

Villa Lost Many.

Today's reports indicated that Villa's force numbered approximately 1,500, and was opposed by the garrison of about seven thousand. The Villa casualties also were said to be considerably larger than was first indicated. From the number of dead and wounded picked up by the pursuing forces, it was estimated the losses probably were about 250.

Villa himself directed the attack, according to the dispatches, but did not enter the town, remaining across the Rio Churiscar to the northwest with a few hundred of his reorganized band. When his followers had fallen back to this point, it was asserted, he directed the retreat.

Hand-To-Hand Fighting.

Much damage was done to the penitentiary and the municipal and federal palaces, which the bandits succeeded in capturing before the surprised members of the garrison, who had been participating in an Independence Day celebration rallied. Rifles were useless in the hand-to-hand street fighting, which followed, the reports said. Pistols and bare fists were used, as the two commands struggled through the early morning hours in the rain. When finally the artillery fire, which Gen. Trevino directed from Santa Rosa, a fortified hill to the west of the city, had forced the Villistas to retire, they left the streets behind them cobbled with their dead. Search today was being made among the bodies in an attempt to identify prominent outlaw leaders, an especial effort being made to find trace of Jose Inez Salazar, known as "the perpetual revolutionist" who was held in the penitentiary on a charge of treason and released in the attack.

ASK EXCHANGE

German civil prisoners interned in the British Empire, inclusive of colonies and all British subjects interned in Germany who were above 45 years of age, be released.

"The British answer to these proposals is still lacking, but the Nord Deutsche Allgemine Zeitung expresses the hope it will be possible to obtain in this way the release and return of all or a considerable part of the interned Germans."

Capt. Anderson, at one time senior ordnance officer of No. 1 military district, and his wife, are the only Londoners known to be interned in Germany. They would likely be classed as civilians, as Capt. Anderson had retired some time ago.

BLACKMAIL GANG

bet, what races and positions to play.

A Mythical Plunger.

Fake newspaper clippings detailing the wonderful cleanups made by a young eastern plunger in pool rooms, apparently had been used to lure victims.

According to department of justice officials here today, the "United Turf Exchange" must have been an exclusive affair. The rules stated that members using the club rooms in the evening must appear in full dress.

It was said today that the organization had worked as a whole since the first of the year, and it is believed to have cleaned up in that time $1,000,000.

The eight members of the syndicate will have a preliminary hearing before the United States commissioner tomorrow.

MISSING WOMAN FOUND.

Philadelphia, Sept. 18.—An agent of the department of justice will leave here tonight for Chicago to appear against members of an alleged blackmailing syndicate arrested in that city Saturday night. With him will go Mrs. Regina Clipper, formerly of this city, but now residing in New Jersey, who is expected to also appear against some of those under arrest.

Mrs. Clipper was a victim of the alleged blackmailing syndicate, according to the federal authorities, having paid over to the syndicate a sum of money said to be less than $1,500. Some of the alleged blackmailers were arrested and when Mrs. Clipper was about to appear against them they succeeded in getting her into Canada. Government agents here said today that the alleged blackmailers had laid themselves open to a charge of obstructing justice rather than one of kidnapping. It was the opinion of the agents that Mrs. Clipper may have voluntarily gone to Canada to avoid being a witness and possibly get her money back.

SUB GOT SHIP ON WHICH AMERICANS RODE

One of Survivors of Kelvinia, Lost on September 2, Tells the Story.

New York, Sept. 18.—A torpedo sank the British ship Kelvinia, carrying 28 Americans, according to G. W. Dillard of Richmond, Va., one of the Americans, who arrived here today on the Cunard liner Tuscania.

Dispatches from England left in doubt as to whether the Kelvinia, bound from Newport News, Va., to Glasgow, was torpedoed or sunk by a mine on September 2.

HINDENBURG IS BACK FROM WEST FRONT DEEPLY IMPRESSED

Regards Resistance of German Troops Unshakable.

THEN COMES BIG BLOW

Berlin Admits Loss of Three Positions to the British.

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—A German war correspondent at the general headquarters on the eastern front telegraphs that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, chief of staff, has just returned from his inspection of the western front, having been profoundly impressed by the unshakable resistance of the German troops.

Heavy fighting is continuing on the Somme front, the war office announced today, but further British attacks have been repulsed by the German artillery with heavy losses to the attacking forces. German assaults north of Ovillers resulted in successes, says the statement, which follows:

"On the front of Archduke Albrecht of Wurttemberg and on the northern wing of the front of Crown Prince Rupprecht lively fighting activity continues.

"The fighting on the Somme is taking its course. North of the river all attacks have been sanguinarily repulsed, partly by our curtain of fire. Fighting is still proceeding around small British positions near Courcelette, near Fiers and west of Lesboeufs. North of Ovillers we gained some advantage in attacks.

"South of the Somme no very definite attacks developed, but the artillery fire continued without interruption."

Admits British Gains.

The text of the German official statement issued Saturday reporting operations in France admits the loss of ground to the British. It says:

"Duke Albrecht of Wurttemberg: As has repeatedly happened during the past few days Westende was again bombarded yesterday from the sea without result.

"On the Ypres salient and on the northern parts of the front of Crown Prince Rupprecht, the enemy developed a lively fire and patrol activity.

"The battle on the Somme was especially fierce yesterday. A strong assault by about 20 Anglo-French divisions (400,000 officers and men), was directed against our front between the Ancre and the Somme after the artillery had reached its highest intensity.

"Following upon hot fighting we were forced back through the villages of Courcelette, Martinpuich and Fiers. Combles was held against strong British attacks.

"Fighting to the south of the Somme in which attacks were repulsed with sanguinary loss, in some instances after hand-to-hand fighting, was reported.

"South of the Somme front Barleux to Deniecourt, French attacks also were repulsed. Fighting still continues for possession of some sapheads.

"Six enemy aeroplanes were shot down, including one by Lieut. Wintgens and two by Capt. Boelke. The latter now has put 26 aeroplanes out of action.

Crown Prince William: Apart from fruitless French hand grenade attacks, fighting activity to the east of the Meuse was kept within moderate bounds.

DAIRYMAN IS KILLED WHEN CAR TURNS TURTLE

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—While motoring along the Coldsprings road from Clarkson to Erindale last night with two companions, Harry Price, aged 36, of Price & Sons, who run a big dairy farm at Erindale, was instantly killed by the overturning of the car.

He was negotiating a sharp turn in the road when the headlights went out, and the car turned turtle down an embankment. George Price, brother of the victim, and Vincent Hector were thrown clear but Harry Price, who was driving, was caught under the car and was dead when taken out shortly afterwards.

CONSTANTINE'S CONFIDANT CHALLENGED TO A DUEL

Former Secretary to King Accuses Him of Bringing Disaster.

ATHENS, Friday, Sept. 15.—Via London, Sept. 16.—George Streit, King Constantine's most intimate counsellor, who lately has been acting as the sovereign's personal agent in endeavoring to form a cabinet, was challenged to a duel today by George Melas, formerly the king's private secretary. M. Melas, who lost his position on account of his sympathies for former Premier Venizelos, in an open letter to M. Streit, charges him with being responsible for the "disastrous results of the Germanophile policy of Greece."

M. Streit was foreign minister at the outbreak of the war.

RUMANIANS OCCUPY FOUR MORE TOWNS IN TRANSYLVANIA

LONDON, Sept. 17.—An official statement from general headquarters at Bucharest issued today says regarding operations in Transylvania:

"On the north and northwestern fronts we continued to advance. After fighting we have occupied Homorov, Almas, Kochalom and Fogaras, taking prisoner ten officers and nine hundred men, and capturing much material.

A German war office communication says:

"In Transylvania, the Rumanians are advancing against the Kokel sector on both sides of and above Szekelyud-Barhely."

ONLY 800 GREEKS GAVE UP TO THE BULGARIANS

LONDON, Sept. 17.—An Athens dispatch to the Radio Agency describes an extraordinary scene in the barracks of the Greek troops at Kavala after the Bulgarians had summoned the city to surrender.

Gen. Hadjopoulos, commanding the 4th Army Corps, called the officers together and explained that the garrison could do one of two things—surrender to the Bulgarians or to the Franco-British troops. A violent debate took place, which ended in the majority deciding to give themselves up to the Entente Allies. The commander of the allied troops, replying to an inquiry as to whether he would accept them as prisoners of war, said he could not so treat troops who were not enemies. Whereupon, Gen. Hadjopoulos endeavored to take the corps to the Bulgarian side, but only 7 officers and 800 men followed him to Drama.

Col. Christodoulos with his officers and men went over to the Allies, taking ship to Saloniki, where they landed.

The Bulgarians, according to the dispatch, looted Kavala, plundering the arsenal and throwing the breach blocks of the guns into the sea.

TO INTEREST EVERY COUNTY IN GOOD ROADS WORK

Public Works Department Undertakes Campaign Throughout Province.

TORONTO, Sept. 17.—A plan to link up during the coming winter every county in the Province to a Province-wide good roads movement, construction of roads to be undertaken jointly by the counties and the Provincial Government at the conclusion of the war, was announced at the department of public works yesterday.

Its purpose is to provide Ontario with good roads from one end af the Province to the other and to supply employment for labor of every class after the war, including returned soldiers. One hundred thousand pieces of literature have been printed, which will be distributed in every farmhouse in counties of the Province not already committed to the good roads movement.

NEW ARMORED CARS IS THE ONE THEME IN BRITISH ARMY

Latest Wonder Makes Men Forget Their Own Work.

THE BUTT OF ALL JOKES

Trenches Filled With Dead After Unique Monster Has Passed.

[BY FREDERICK PALMER.]

BRITISH FRONT IN FRANCE, Sept. 16.—Via London, 3:15 p.m.—The work of the new armored cars, in cooperation with British infantry, in their charges in yesterday's successful attack, is the one theme of the talk throughout the army today.

"The idea was so good when it was offered," said a staff officer, "that we had some built, and the way they have gone over the German trenches and have enfiladed them with machine gun fire, is some return for the surprise the Germans gave us with their gas attacks in the first battle of Ypres."

Evidently the British were able to keep the building of these cars entirely secret, and the first that the Germans knew of their existence was when in the misty dawn yesterday morning they came trundling across shell craters and over tree stumps, cutting down many small trees on their way toward the German trenches or to the second line, and even to the third line. The return to earth of ichthyosaurs or dinosaurs spouting bullets from their nostrils could not have been more amazing.

Hard to Describe.

"Tanks' is the slang word that the army has applied to the strange creations of machinery, but they look less like tanks than anything else in the world. It is hard to say what they look like. They have been compared both to armadillos and measuring-worms, and to many other weird, creeping or crawling objects of natural history. A man-of-war's turret crossing fields, in and out of gullies, and through fences, would present a spectacle resembling their progress.

During the days preceding the attack, as they moved up to the front, and the soldiers gazed at them, the risibilities of all ranks were tickled. All sorts of questions were propounded. Would the thing stand when it was hitched? And what was it fed? Which was its head, and which its tail? At all events, it was a steel-jointed incarnation of military secrecy.

Tanks the One Topic.

Last night wounded men back from the line forgot their pain, and what part their battalion played during the battle, in telling what the "tanks" did. Notes were compared between the actions of "our" and "your" tank. Cooperating with the infantry according to prearrangements, the grotesque creatures played the part set for them under the control of their invisible crews, which were their brains.

British artillerymen had very little chance. A staff officer spoke of one having stopped to "browse" at the edge of the wood before continuing to advance. These "tanks" have brought a new element into the grim, monotonous business of war in trenches. It was the "tanks'" day and the "tank" made good. According to reports, trenchfuls of dead were left in their wake.

The tanks have added an element of hunger to fighting, which put the army, through all its ranks, into a festive mood.

PROMINENT MEN DEAD

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Sir Cavendish Boyle, who was governor of Newfoundland, 1901-1904, died here today.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Seth Low, aged 66, publicist and former mayor of New York, died late today at his summer home at Bedford Hills, N. Y., after a long illness.

DISGRACED OFFICER WINS BACK HONOR FIGHTING IN RANKS

Col. John Ford Elkington Persists in Fighting—Covers Self With Glory, Gains French Cross and Medal, and Reinstatement by King.

LONDON, Sept. 17. — All England is ringing with the story of Lieut.-Col. John Ford Elkington—one of the strangest romances of this strange world war. It is the ever-appealing, human story of another man who "came back."

Dismissed by court-martial from the army he had served for nearly thirty years, just as his regiment was going into action in France in the closing months of 1914, this English officer, disgraced at a time of life when the chances of fate weigh heavily against a man for suddenly lost honor, found refuge in that queerest of all military organizations, the Foreign Legion of France.

Lost in the mazes of the western battle fields, a mere legionnaire in the ranks, Colonel Elkington, late of the Royal Warwickshires, was all but forgotten. None of his old friends, his old fellow-officers, none of the men who had seen him win the Queen's Medal for valor in South Africa, none of these knew that Elkington was out there "Somewhere in France" recklessly winning his way back.

Covers Self With Glory.

But now Elkington is back in England. Pinned on his breast are two of the coveted honors of France—the Military Medal and the Military Cross, but the most valued possession of all is a bit of paper which wipes out the errors of the past—a proclamation from the Official London Gazette announcing that the King has graciously approved the reinstatement of John Ford Elkington to the rank of lieutenant-colonel with his previous seniority in consequence of his gallant conduct while serving in the ranks of the Foreign Legion of the French army. "Not only has Colonel Elkington been restored to the army, but he has been reappointed in his old regiment, the Royal Warwickshires, in which his father served before him.

A General Court-Martial.

In this same London Gazette at the end of October, 1914, had appeared the crushing announcement that Elkington had been cashiered by sentence by general court-martial. What his error was did not appear at the time, and has not been alluded to in his return in the hour of honor. It was court-martial at the front, at a time when the first rush of war was engulfing Europe, and little time could be wasted upon an incident of this sort. The charge, it is now stated, did not reflect in any way upon the officer's personal courage.

But with fallen fortunes he passed quietly out of the army and enlisted in the legion—that corps where thousands of brave but broken men have found a shelter, and now and then an opportunity to make themselves whole again.

ITALIAN OFFENSIVE IS SPREADING OUT; TAKE 1,800 OF FOE

Austrians Driven Back on Brenta River.

GAIN MADE ON CARSO

Enemy Entrenchments Captured, Together With 800 Prisoners.

ROME, Sept. 17.—Via London.—The Italians are pressing their offensive in the Isonzo district, with Triest as their objective. The war office today reports that further entrenchments on a wide front have been stormed and captured by Italian infantry, who took some 800 additional prisoners. Yesterday the capture of important positions and 1,000 prisoners was announced.

The statement reads:

"In the fighting which occurred on Friday in the Suagana Valley between the Coalba and Maorava valleys severe losses were inflicted on the enemy. After being driven back on the right bank of Brenta the enemy bombarded our positions with some violence on the left bank east of Macho, and launched three successive attacks which were repulsed.

Teutons Waste Bullets.

"In the upper Degano Valley, at Tagliamento, the artillery was very active. The enemy fired more than 2,000 rounds of ammunition in the neighborhood of Volayapas alone without any result.

"In the Isonzo the artillery was especially lively in the Plezzo area, where our infantry made several raids on enemy positions on Rombef Javorcek and Monte Nero.

"On the Carso, after repulsing several night counter-attacks, our troops continued yesterday to press their attacks on powerful enemy lines. After an extremely violent artillery duel our infantry stormed and captured further entrenchments on a wide front, taking about 800 prisoners, including 20 officers.

"Last night an enemy aeroplane squadron dropped twelve bombs on Mestre. No one was killed, and the damage was slight. During an aerial engagement in the Caporetto Basin, an enemy aeroplane was brought down. One of the aviators was killed and the others were captured."

SERBS ARE HELPING THE RUMANIANS IN DOBRUDJA CAMPAIGN

Slay 5,000 Bulgarians in Three Hours' Battle.

ALLIES ARE FALLING BACK

Taking Up a Strong Position, Says Bucharest Dispatch to London.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—"The Bulgarians lost 5,000 men in three hours of fighting in the first clash between the Serbians and Bulgarians in Eastern Dobrudja," says Reuter's Odessa correspondent.

"The fighting was very bitter. It was mostly hand-to-hand and no prisoners were taken by either side. The Bulgars, aided by Germans, made eighteen attacks, all of which were repulsed with great losses. German cavalry also came into the action, trying to take the Serbs by an attack in the rear. The Serbian rear line received them with the bayonet and most of the cavalry was exterminated."

A dispatch to the Times from Rumanian headquarters dated Sunday, says that in Dobrudja the Russo-Rumanian forces are falling back and taking up a strong position on a line extending from Rasovo to Tuzla.

An official Rumanian statement issued today says: "In Dobrudja there have been engagements with advanced detachments of the enemy."

Official German communications, after recording what they call a decided victory by Field Marshal von Mackensen over the Russo-Rumanian force, say pursuit is continuing. Another Berlin communication issued tonight says:

"German seaplanes Saturday successfully attacked the railway works and enemy columns in Northern Dobrudja. An enemy seaplane squadron on the sea off Tuzla, was bombarded. One of the seaplanes was hit. All of our seaplanes returned safely."

ALLIED TROOPS CAPTURE A RIDGE ON SERB BORDER

Bulgars Admit Being Driven Beyond Lake Ostrovo.

FLEET BOMBARDS KAVALA

Barracks Set on Fire by the Warships of Entente Powers.

SOFIA, Saturday, Sept. 16.—Via London, Sept. 17.—The occupation of the Nidje ridge on the Serbian frontier, north of Lake Ostrovo, by Entente troops, is announced in today's official war office statement, which reports also the repulse of hostile forces in the Moglena region. The statement announces that the pursuit of the defeated Russians and Rumanians in Dobrudja is continuing.

Bombardment of Kavala by the Entente fleet set on fire the barracks in one part of the town, but caused no loss of life, adds the statement, which reads as follows:

"After bitter fighting in the region of Lake Ostrovo the enemy occupied Nidge Planina. On the Moglena plain we repulsed with great loss to the enemy hostile attacks at Bahovo Hill and on Kovil height. In the Vardar valley there was reciprocal artillery operation of small intensity on the Belaschitza plain We drove off an Italian infantry post northwest of Palmisch, capturing a small party.

"We occupied the town of Kavala on September 12. In accordance with the agreement between the supreme army command and the commander of the fourth Greek army corps, that the Greek corps should be transported to Germany ,their transportation was begun on the 15th. Yesterday an enemy fleet shelled the port of Kavala, and the outlying districts of the town, where the barracks, in the western part, were set on fire. There was no loss of life.

BRITISH RAIDS ARE SUCCESSFUL.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Successful raids by patrols in the region of the Struma, northeast of Saloniki, are reported in today's war office statement, on operations along the Macedonian front, which follows:

"On the Struma front our patrols successfully raided enemy lines at Nechori and north of the Seres road, last night.

"On the Doiran front more than 150 Germans were killed by our bombers during the operations of September 13, and in the enemy counter-attacks our machine guns inflicted heavy casualties."

GAINS FOR ALLIES ON ENTIRE FRONT.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—3:27 p.m.—French and Russian troops advancing rapidly on the western end of the Entente Macedonian front have arrived in front of Florina, close to the Serbian border, south of Monastir, the French war office announced in this afternoon's official statement.

Further east the Serbians are advancing on both sides of Lake Ostrovo, defeating the Bulgarians in engagements near Kajmackalan and continuing to throw troops across the River Brod, where the Bulgarians are resisting them on the right bank of the river. The statement reads:

"On the Struma front British reconnoitering parties fought several successful engagements on the left bank of the river and made some prisoners.

"From the Beles Mountains to the Vardar there has been further lively cannonading by both sides.

"East of the Cerna, Serbian troops have reached the immediate outskirts of Vetrenik and Kajmackalan, after a series of obstinate engagements, which all ended to their advantage.

"West of Lake Ostrovo the Serbians continued to cross the River Brod. Their artillery opened a violent fire against the Bulgarian army, entrenched on the right bank of the Brod.

Belgians Capture German Fortress In East Africa

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Belgian forces operating in German East Africa have captured Tabora, the principal German fortress in the territory, according to a Belgian official communication received here. The statement follows:

"As the result of severe fighting between September 1 and 11, the brigades of Gens. Moliton and Olsen, belonging to the army of Gen. Tombeur, entered Tabora. Tabora, which was fortified powerfully, was the principal citadel in German East Africa, commanding the railway from Lake Tanganyika to the Indian Ocean."

RUSH FOR BOOZE IN DETROIT WHEN WINDSOR DRIES

Ferries Crowded With Intoxicated Men.

SOME BARRED A RETURN

Immigration Men Refuse To Let Drunks in Dry Province.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

WINDSOR, Sept. 17—Although Windsor went "dry," theoretically at least, at 7 o'clock last night, its citizens declined to remain so.

Immediately following the closing of the bars, there was a rush to the ferry boats and scores of men who ordinarily are classed as well-behaved citizens, began to develop a thirst far beyond the normal.

As a result late boats from Detroit to Windsor were crowded with intoxicated men.

A sad ending, however, was in store for many of the worst cases, who were informed by the local immigration officials that Ontario was a dry province and they could not enter it in their drunken conditions.

They were turned back to Detroit, where immigration authorities there handed the most aggravated cases to the police.

Tonight there was more drinking by Windsorites in Detroit and more rejections when they tried to get back home.

Unprecedented Scenes.

Amid wild scenes unprecedented in the history of border cities, the passing of saloons was observed by the citizens of Windsor and Walkerville with mingled feelings.

Crowds paraded down-town sections, keeping the police busy, although the officers made few arrests. Chief of Police Wills having given instructions to his men to deal leniently with celebrators. Less than ten men were arrested.

All day brewery wagons were busily engaged drawing heavy loads of "wet" goods to the cellars of thirsty citizens. One man, prominent in social circles, placed an order with a brewery for 100 cases of beer, but by persuasion of the brewery's management was induced to cut it down to 24 cases.

TILLSONBURG HOTELS TO BE IMPROVED

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TILLSONBURG, Sept. 17.—The last day under the liquor licenses saw many joyful people who were apparently celebrating the passing of "king booze" in a befitting manners. The hotels and liquor stores were swamped, and their stock of intoxicating liquors were completely wiped out at 3:15 Saturday afternoon, and cellar room has been at a premium among private residences in the last rush. The Royal Hotel has been sold by Mr. Bright to C. B. Moulton, former proprietor, who will make extensive repairs before opening. The Arlington and Imperial will open Monday morning under the new licenses, and at the present time the Imperial is undergoing extensive improvements. None of the local drugstores will handle liquor.

SEVERAL ARRESTS ARE RECORDED IN BRANTFORD

[Special to The Advertiser.]

BRANTFORD, Sept. 17.—Nine arrests followed the entrance of prohibition in Brantford last evening.

A tremendous trade was enjoyed by the local bars and liquor stores, all being sold out before the hour of closing.

Drunks were numerous on the streets, including women.

Every available rig, including children's wagons, were used to carry supplies to homes.

WINDUP IS QUIET IN CITY OF STRATFORD

[Special to The Advertiser.]

STRATFORD, Sept. 17. — With comparatively little drunkenness and no disturbances to speak of, the new temperance act became effective here Saturday evening.

The suitcase brigade was in evidence throughout the day, as usual, and right up to the closing hour the bars were well filled. But at the stroke of 11, or in some cases a few minutes before, business came to a standstill.

The hotels were fairly well cleand out of stock, and in a few cases some of this was handed out free. One liquor store had sold out by 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

Only two drunks were arrested during the entire day.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 17.—St. Thomas bade farewell to Bacchus and the flowing bowl on Saturday unostentatiously, indeed. Of course, the regular Saturday bar business was perhaps augmented slightly by the curious, who expected to see the occasion marked by revelry or otherwise. Most of the hotels sold out of everything, with the exception of a few rare liquors, such as creme de menthe, Rhine wines, champagne, etc.

The liquor stores did their Christmas trade during August and September this season, and did a tremendous business. One large retail and wholesale dealer with a bonded warehouse had nothing to offer at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and turned hundreds of customers away.

Brandy seemed to be the most desired article during the last call, people evidently wishing to prepare for 'pains under the pina." However, a great number waited too long, and were unable to secure any. Preparedness seemed to be the slogan, and nearly everybody put in a bottle of something for an emergency.

All Hotels Licensed.

On Saturday the Grand Central Hotel and the Queen's Hotel took out the necessary standard license to operate their places under the new prohibition law.

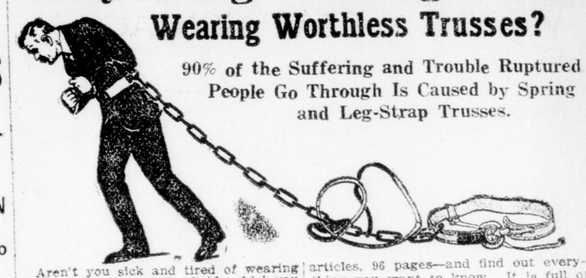

This makes all the hotels in the city applying for the new license.

LADY IN DEREHAM ATTACKED BY DOG

INGERSOLL, Sept. 17.—In Dereham Township on Friday Mrs. Kay McKay was attacked by the family dog, which had been tied up, but released itself by chewing the rope.

She fought the animal desperately, but was bitten and her clothes torn. Finally she grasped the strap around the neck, and carried the animal to an outbuilding, where it is being confined to see if rabies develop.

Why Drag Through Life Wearing Worthless Trusses?

90% of the Suffering and Trouble Ruptured People Go Through Is Caused by Spring and Leg-Strap Trusses.

Aren't you sick and tired of wearing trusses you can't make hold, which you can't feel safe in, or which hurt so they scarcely give you a minute's peace?

Don't you know that such contraptions will sooner or later let your rupture get the best of you?

Don't you know they are almost sure to cripple you up, so you won't be able to keep at work, won't be able to make a living?

Aren't you afraid they'll gradually let you get so bad that sooner or later you'll have to face a dangerous operation?

Aren't you willing to make a sixty-day test—without having to risk a cent—and see for yourself what a relief it is to get rid of such misery-causing makeshifts?

No More Belts, Leg-Straps or Springs.

We have found a way to hold any man's rupture without harmful pressure, without any belts or spring around your waist, without having to wear leg-straps.

It is our guaranteed rupture holder.

It is as big an improvement over elastic and spring trusses and so-called "appliances" as the modern locomotive is over the first steam engine ever built.

60-Days' Trial to Prove It.

We have so much faith in it—have seen what it has done for so many others—that we are willing to make one especially for your case and send it to you for sixty days' trial. Willing to give you plenty of time to see for yourself just how good it is.

If it doesn't keep your rupture from coming out or from bothering you in any way, then you can send it back and it won't cost you a single penny.

It is the only thing we know of for rupture that you can get on long enough trial to make sure; because the only thing good enough to stand a long and thorough test.

All About It in Free Book.

Don't send any money. Just write for our free book—cloth bound, 20 separate articles, 96 pages—and find out everything you want to know. It is full of facts never before put in print.

It shows just why operation is nearly always a gamble with death and why those who manage to live through it often have to keep on wearing a truss.

It exposes the fakes and humbugs—puts you on guard against being fooled and against throwing money away.

And it tells all about our guaranteed rupture holder—the famous Cluthe. Shows how simple it is. Why, it needs no belt or leg-straps. How it instantly and automatically protects you against every strain, so your rupture can't be forced out. How it provides the only way ever discovered for overcoming the weakness which is the real cause of rupture. How it has brought complete cure in thousands of cases that seemed almost hopeless. How it is waterproof and will hold in the bath. How you can get it on 60 days' trial, and how little it costs if you keep it.

Explains the care and attention we give you and why, because of our long experience and thorough knowledge of rupture, we are successful in cases that would utterly baffle your local truss fitters.

Write for the book today. That will take only a minute. But it may free you from trouble and worry for the rest of your life.

RAILWAY IN PALESTINE RAIDED BY BRITISH

Successful Attacks Made by Aviators Under Hazardous Conditions.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—British aviators have attacked enemy positions in Palestine with success. An official statement says:

"Between August 25 and 29 a series of attacks and reconnaissances upon the enemy's railway communications in Palestine was carried out by a British seaplane squadron under somewhat hazardous conditions, due to the fact that the railway runs for the most part behind a range of mountains difficult for seaplanes to surmount.

"Bombs were dropped on Afulch Junction, where considerable damage was done to the rolling stock and stores in the vicinity. A railway engine and fourteen carriages were set afire and destroyed. The railway stations at Tulkerm and Ardana and an enemy camp four miles to the northwest were successfully bombarded and severely damaged.

"On the 16th seaplanes bombarded the railway station at Home, 45 miles inland."

HAIG.

PREPARATION is a great thing, but what is preparation without the man to carry it through to achievement? We get very few close-range studies of Sir Douglas Haig; only in the mass of results do we see something of the man who took over command of the army in the field a few brief months ago, and who, since he first showed that his genius was for moving fast forward, has carried on the British army to the greatest triumphs of their kind in the history of the war. He has fought well with iron, but also superbly with men. His blunders seem to have been nil. At times he may have rested on his results, but always reserves were ready and men were pouring into the places most weakened. Now plans have been fast in the making. A picture of the man, however imperfect an impression it may give, shows a craving for action, but also a parodoxical stolidity. His men have fastened an affection, a confidence, upon him that is wonderful to behold. Haig would plunge his horse at any ditch, but first he would know his horse and measure his ditch. He has made a great personal history since the early days of August, and today the British people, watching the hosts of freedom sweep away the Huns over miles of their "impregnable" front, know that there are at least two geniuses of the field uncovered by the war—Sir Douglas Haig and the new Tommy Atkins. They seem to have spiritualized the task at hand; they move at the enemy as Lloyd George and Kitchener moved at the terrors of disorganization. Haig and his men have crowned the labors of the empire's other great leaders over the seas and at home.

THOMAS MARTINDALE.

His body is being brought out over the trail to Skagway for shipment to his home.

TO THOSE who knew him or had read the books of the late Thomas Martindale the above sentence from the dispatches describing his death in the northern wilds would seem to be a fitting epitaph. No man loved the great outdoors more, and his unbounded energy and strength are shown by a glance at his age when he died. He was 71 years of age when the end came up near Alaska, and so tenacious was his hold on life that he was planning his grand coup of sportsmanship, a trip into the heart of Africa, at the time of his death. That the Grim Reaper came upon him suddenly in his "happy hunting grounds" was in a sense appropriate and perhaps as he would have wished.

As a young Canadian lad who fought his way single-handed to unusual business honors, Mr. Martindale forms a striking and at the same time a simple study. His motto was to work hard, to live clean and to keep up to the times. He was kind-hearted, and took a great delight in serving others by aiding them from his experience and philosophy. In Philadelphia, where his business is probably the first of its kind, he brought his personality to bear upon thousands, and by preaching good living and nature study he formed what might be styled a Martindale "cult." He was gifted in many ways, with shrewdness, humor, warmth of heart and a passion for wholesome, strenuous living. He never forgot his old friends in London and loved the city as his home. He hoped to see the community advance by a more united spirit, and when he met Londoners abroad he did all in his power to reveal to them those things which were best for a city to possess. He lived a life of action, full of interest for himself and those he met. London may well be proud of the words "He was born in London, Ont.," for he did his native city great honor from whatever standpoint his career is considered.

PRO-GERMAN TRICKS.

LLOYD GEORGE made no mistake when he said to the Associated Press:

"There appears to be a deliberate campaign, set on foot in the United States by German agents, to throw doubt on the good faith of his majesty's government in regard to the use of information obtained through the censorship.

"There, German agents, with those underground methods of working with which we are familiar, appear now to have resurrected my statement in the House of Commons on August 8, although that statement was fully explained by Lord Robert Cecil, minister of war trade, on August 9, and most explicit assurances on the same subject were given by him in a later interview on August 25."

All this talk about Britain learning trade secrets from examination of American mail and using them for her own commercial advantage is purely a species of pro-German propaganda, started and kept alive by enemy agents with a view to causing trouble between London and Washington.

Lloyd George and Lord Robert Cecil have explicitly explained just what was the purpose of such examination and what were its results, and official Washington has no reason to pretend that doubt still exists. Such pretence is German-inspired and quite unworthy of the authorities in a country which should be, and presumably is, friendly to Britain.

For any inconvenience or loss sustained by Americans, grasping and dishonest merchants of the United States are to blame, not the British. Had they been willing to act honorably and keep their word, no losses would have been incurred.

What have they done? They have obtained from Britain concessions enabling them to trade, to a limited extent, with both Germany and other neutrals. On the excuse that certain German goods were purchased prior to the outbreak of the war, Americans have been permitted to get them brought safely through the Allied blockade and landed in the United States. But they saw in this a way to make more money and commenced to swear that goods had been purchased before August, 1914, which, in truth, were bought much later. Then Britain had to put a spoke in their wheel and wails fill the air in America.

Selling goods to Germany and sending them, by agreement, via neutral countries, is another of the unlawful acts of which they have been guilty. Caught in the act on several occasions and the goods confiscated, they again howl in agony.

If President Wilson and Secretary Lansing must send notes, they should address them to these unscrupulous, greedy residents of their own country, not to the Allies. Not only are these trying to swindle Britain, but they are trying their utmost to foment trouble between Britain and the United States. Are they doing this in the name of American liberty? Are they patriots? They are not, but simply, as Lloyd George says, German agents endeavoring to make a catspaw of the American Government. How far they succeed depends upon the common sense of that Government.

LIBERALS IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

A REPLY in the affirmative may be given a subscriber who asks, "Was British Columbia ever Liberal before?" The coast province had a Liberal government with a fairly strong majority from 1898 until 1902. For the last two years the famous "Joe" Martin was premier, and at the end of that time Col. Edward Prior, a Conservative himself, headed a non-party government. This combination fell before Richard McBride (now Sir) in June, 1903, although an election was not held until October, when the Conservatives were returned with 22 seats, as against 17 for the Liberals and two for the Socialists. In 1907 the McBride Government increased its majority, the showing being as follows: Conservatives, 26; Liberals, 13; Socialists, 3. Again in 1909 an appeal on the railway policy brought the Liberals only one seat, and in 1912 not one Liberal was elected.

A free and easy development of the country as undertaken by the gracious, able and tactful Sir Richard kept his Government in power. The people believed in him, Liberal as well as Conservative, and until it was seen what a jobbery had been practised in the name of progress, he was impregnable. It was not that there were no Liberals in British Columbia, as some Tory contemporaries now aver in the hope of still holding the credit of victory for their party, but that McBride was careful to play up to the Liberals. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier, as premier, made his western tour, Sir Richard accompanied him wherever he went in British Columbia, and, in general terms, was not slow to praise the Liberal chief. It was a masterly political move. The Advertiser has personal knowledge of staunch Liberals who voted Conservative because of the adroit Richard's display of size and generosity. In fact, it is probable that government defeat would have been less severe had McBride remained. The people liked him and believed him more sinned against by a crowd of political leeches than sinning himself. He was one of the dramatic and forceful figures of Canadian public life a few years ago, a combination of Laurier and Macdonald, and one who threw his shadow over the path of Borden. Today, with even his self-created position gone or going, it looks like oblivion for him. But one cannot withhold a word of admiration for the good qualities of the man who through some innate goodness for so long held a great majority of the people to his side. Many Liberals of the province stood by him for a period of years.

The Twins

By Fanny Gray.

Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Silas Stone sat eating his solitary supper, which the hired girl had set before him. His wife, Mary, had driven over to the next town to stay a day or two and help settle up the affairs of a cousin who had died the week before, leaving twin babies, six months old. Her husband had always been a shiftless man, and seemed, of course, less resourceful in his hour of grief than ever before. So Mary, being the nearest relative, had taken charge of affairs, and was to stay until she had found a person willing to do the housekeeping for the widower and take charge of the babies.

Silas was not enjoying his supper. He and Mary were very fond of each other, and seldom had cause to be separated, and he missed her. They had been married ten years and had no children, which was a great disappointment to both of them. Now that it seemed likely that they would always have to be denied the joys of parenthood they seldom spoke of it. It was their household tragedy, for both had wanted a family.

So, as Simon rose from the table, and took his pipe out on the steps while supper was being cleared away, he was thinking a little bitterly of the unkind fate that had bestowed twins upon a couple who couldn't provide, and then took away the mother.

He wondered how Mary was making out, and he pictured her playing mother to the babies. How he wished he dared propose to her that they adopt a child! He secretly had wanted it for some time, but Mary—well, he fancied Mary wouldn't care much about any child that wasn't her own. Many a time he had tried to talk about it with her, but somehow the words stuck in his throat. Now, as he sat alone, he summoned his courage and told himself that when she came home he would ask her—very gently, of course, not insistently.

How little we sometimes know of the thoughts and visions of those nearest and dearest to us! While Silas was sitting smoking his lonely pipe that summer evening, Mary was rocking the twins to sleep, one against each arm, looking and feeling very motherly and happy. As the chair swayed back and forth, and she sang softly a little lullaby, she was thinking of her own childlessness, and the rift it was making in her life.

She reflected that undoubtedly Silas didn't care so much, "being a man," and that he didn't appreciate how she longed for a little baby to love and do for. It seemed to her she just couldn't go on any longer without one. "If he only would be willing for me to take one and keep it!" she thought. "But, then, I suppose he couldn't enjoy having a child around that wasn't his own. I can't blame him."

As she rocked and sang and looked at the sleeping babies, an idea popped into her head, so daring that it almost made her heart stop beating. Suppose they were to adopt the twins! Poor little things! They were good stock and related to them, and it would be a mercy now the mother was gone. But twins! Silas would never consent.

Mary's idea took root, however, and grew rapidly. The next day she discontinued her efforts to find a housekeeper and waited for Silas, who was to drive over in the afternoon and see if she was ready to go home. When he came, she somewhat timidly suggested that, as she had been unable to find a responsible person, they should take the babies home with them for a week or so, while she looked around at her leisure.

Silas, somewhat astonished and admiring her for her self-sacrifice, agreed to the proposition, only cautioning her not to fatigue herself. And his interest in the twins grew every minute. He watched Mary tie on the tiny caps and pin the blankets around them, and on the way home he found himself more than once peering over into their little faces.

As the days passed Mary seemed very busy in her home, and Silas observed that she was not exerting herself to find the much-talked-of housekeeper. He was secretly delighted, for the babies were winding themselves around his heart. Often and often he watched Mary as she tended them, and the same thoughts that were in her mind grew up in his. He would like to keep the twins! But what would Mary think?

One evening, after the babies had been put to bed, Silas and Mary were sitting on their porch, a little busybody of a neighbor ran in for a chat. Naturally, the conversation turned on the wonderful twins, their virtues and shortcomings, their looks and dispositions, and so on. Finally, the visitor, who was nothing if not frank, suddenly chirped up: "S'pose you know everybody says you're going to adopt those young ones. I told my husband I just didn't believe it, and when I came over here I was goin' to ask you outright. It ain't so, is it?"

There was silence for a moment, then Mary spoke, rather tremblingly at first. "Yes, we've about decided. I have wanted for a long time to take a child, and this seems a special opportunity, being relatives and all—if the father is willing, and I guess he ain't likely to object. Yes, it's about decided. Folks are right, for once."

She glanced timidly at her husband, but she could scarcely see his face in the gathering darkness. What would he say or do? Had she risked too much? Her heart seemed to stand still. At last he spoke.

"Sure, we're going to keep them. We intended that, right along, after their mother died. But things like that can't be decided offhand. You couldn't hire Mary here to give 'em up, and as for me—well, Mary and I think alike on most subjects. And, as it happens, there ain't a mite of difference in our opinion in this matter."

The gossipy neighbor hurried away to spread the news, and the husband and wife sat alone on the porch. After a little, Silas rose and went around to Mary's chair and took her hand gently in his. She lifted her face to his, and he kissed her. Caresses had not been as frequent as usual with them of late. They had been thinking the same thoughts, and desiring the same thing, and had not known it till now.

Meantime, the neighbor, having stopped in at the next house, was saying: "Well, it's good it's twins. They can each have one to fuss over."

Firewater was not so plentiful on Saturday evening as the fires were in the souls of men Sunday morning.

THE LAURIER POLICY VINDICATED.

[Halifax Chronicle.]

Replying to an address presented to him by Hon. George E. Foster, on behalf of the Empire Parliamentary Association in England the other day, expressing the appreciation of the members of that association for the opportunities afforded them of seeing Great Britain's preparations for war, after speaking of the British army, Mr. Balfour said:

"The navy was, no doubt, of all the preparations for war, that which was in the most satisfactory condition. But the navy, when we started, was really quite inadequately supplied with the smaller lighter craft whose necessity has been made increasingly manifest all through this war, and, as I think I stated to some of you when you were kind enough to visit me at the admiralty, the growth in our navy which has gone on, and which at this moment is still going on, is something of which I do not believe the general public has the slightest conception."

The "smaller lighter craft" were just what Sir Wilfrid Laurier proposed that this Dominion should supply. "Smaller lighter craft" would have been ready at the outbreak of the war, had not Sir Robert Borden gone back on his adherence to that policy to please his Nationalist friends of Quebec, and made the whole naval question one of party politics. Upon Sir Robert then must fall the blame for Canada's failure in this regard.

INSPECTOR SENTENCED.

LONDON, Sept. 16. — Lucien Asseling, an inspector of the army clothing department, was today sentenced to five years' penal servitude. His conviction was on the charge of accepting bribes from contractors to pass their goods, and also of obtaining $1,400 under false pretences by instigating another man, in the name of a fictitious firm, to make a tender for a supply of razors and knives, less than half of which were alleged to have been delivered to the Government.

THE BATTERY "O. PIP."

The Observation Post (always referred to as the "O. Pip") of the field artillery is usually placed as close to the Hun as possible.

Cramped in a crumbling dug-out
Adjoining "No Man's Land,"
And chilled to the bone I squat at a 'phone
That sits on a sandbag stand.
My ticker points to midnight—
I've two more hours to do,
And keeping awake would wrest the cake
From the torture Tantalus knew.

'Tis here the "eyes" of the battery
Detect the Hun at work;
And targets fair we 'phone to where
Our eighteen-pounders lurk.
Then shoals of high-explosive
Frustrate the plans of Fritz,
Who runs to ground as we promptly pound
His parapet to bits.

When Tommy in the trenches
Is suffering special "hell"
From "whizz-bang" mine, and five-point-nine,
"Turnip" and tear-shell;
He calls for retaliation,
And our waiting gunners know,
When we pass that through, the devil's due
Is more than a quid pro quo.

It's up to us—the peeping
At Fritz through a periscope;
Likewise to go a-creeping,
And out in the darkness grope
For the "break" where a bursting "Johnson"
Has cut the telephone wire,
Whilst the peeved O. C. of the Infantry
Bawls for our battery fire.

Cramped in a crumbling dug-out,
Too near to "No Man's Land,"
To be without a lingering doubt
As to how our "home" would stand
A "coal-box" split upon it,
Or a "liquid fire" rain:
Hello! hello!! Gee whiz!! Hello!!!
The line is "out" again.

Ride a BRANTFORD BICYCLE!

Women:

We say it deliberately, women—office women—in speaking of Queen Victoria, Clara Barton, would you say ladies—No—You'd say women.

We are also acting according to precedent (as the lawyers have it) in addressing you thusly.

HE made man, looked at him, shook HIS head, and—made woman.

Isn't it a fact, Miss Stenographer, that you come out of the office afternoon and in the evening feeling listless, dull and sometimes even dizzy? Sitting for hours at a desk with nerves under constant tension, scanning columns of figures or writing out notes is tiring.

How differently you'd feel after riding a mile or so on a bicycle, with a breeze fanning away that stuffy office smell.

We are frank to admit that bicycle riding can be overdone. So can any other recreation.

with handlebars permitting an erect position, chain and dress guards, to prevent skirts being torn or bespattered—a comfortable, hygienic saddle, and, best of all—a chance to have someone to look after the oiling and adjusting of your wheel, the inflation of the tires.

Doesn't all this sound enticing? We hope it does, as we have such bicycles for sale.

London Advertiser COOK-BOOK

Recipes Supplied By Cynthia Grey's Readers.

"Traveler B."

Biscuits—Here is a recipe I always find reliable for biscuits; 2 cups sour milk, 1 cup sour cream, 1 teaspoon each of soda and baking powder, pinch of salt. Flour enough to roll out rather soft. Don't understand why baking powder and soda should both be used, but this is just as I got it.

For "Myrtle."

Grape Wine—Crush the grapes and let them stand for one week. Drain off the juice, strain, add 1 quart of water and 3 pounds best white sugar to each gallon; put in a barrel or cask with a thin piece of muslin tacked over the bung-hole. Let stand until fermentation stops. Put in a cask and seal securely, let stand six months; then bottle and seal, and keep in a cold place.

"Myrtle."

Mustard Pickles—Half cup flour, ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons mustard, red peppers and celery seed to taste. Peel and slice cucumbers and onions the night before, place into strong salt and water, strain in the morning; put vinegar on stove and let come to a boiling heat, mix mustard, flour, and sugar in a bowl with cold vinegar to a paste, then add cucumbers and onions, keep stirring until all gets heated; put in jars.

"Modern Priscilla."

Creamed Salmon—Three cups milk, 3 large teaspoons cornstarch, ¼ cup butter, pepper and salt. Put in a bakedish a layer of fish, then a layer of the sauce (which has been previously cooked) until a can of salmon has been used. Roll some soda biscuits, put on top, brown in oven.

"Sussex Girl."

Raised Pork Pies—Put 2½ pounds of flour on the pasteboard, and set on the fire in a saucepan, ¾ pint of water and ½ pound good lard. When the water boils, make a hole in the middle of the flour, pour in the water and lard by degrees, gently incorporating the flour with a spoon, and when it is well mixed, knead it with your hands till it becomes stiff; dredge a little flour to prevent it sticking to the board, or you cannot make it look smooth.

Roll the dough with your hands—the rolling pin must not be used—to about the thickness of a quart pot; leave a little for the cover, and cut the remainder into six circular discs. Take each of these pieces in succession: put one hand in the middle, and keep other close on the outside, till you have worked it either into an oval or round shape, or you can shape it over a tin or jar. Have your pork cut in small pieces, well seasoned with salt and pepper and a pinch of sage if you care for it, and put in your pies as you make each one, roll the covers the size you want them, wet them around the edge and press the paste together with finger and thumb, then bake 1½ to 2 hours. While it is cooking, boil the odd pieces and bones of the pork, and put the gravy from them into the pie when cooked.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Still Spunky.

Dear Miss Grey,—"Old 'Spunk' again," I can hear you say, but I've got to bother someone, and you always get it, don't you? Well, I am not a boy, but most everybody takes me for one, and I wish I was.

I am sending a recitation to "Evelyn on the Farm," and one to "Patriotic." Poor "Patriotic," I believe she thinks she is never going to get hers. Will she please send me the recitation she said she would exchange? I will exchange recitations with anybody and everybody. I think there are some waiting at the Mail-Box aren't there, Miss Grey? By by, SPUNK.

Ans.—"Evelyn" will soon send her address, I presume, when pieces will be forwarded. Pieces on hand for you, "Spunk," have been mailed.

She Couldn't Eat.

Dear Miss Grey,—Isn't this war terrible, causing the death of many of our good boys? I think we should be more anxious to help and hear from those at the front than scrapping about the money part of it. For my part, if my husband was at the war, I don't believe I could sleep or eat; in fact, I don't know what I would do, for he is very dear to me.

Where are a few of our old friends—"Star That Guides," "B. D." and "C. A.," and I must not forget "Mrs. Homebird." Tell the lady that sent in the orange pie recipe that it was certainly immense. I will send some help next time. ROSEBUD NO. I.

Ans.—Fancy that I remember the writing, but not absolutely sure. Anyway, welcome back. If you send envelope and stamps, shall send you some coupons and orange wrappers.

Can She Get Them?

Dear Miss Grey,—I wonder if I could get "The Inventor's Wife" and "How Socrees set the Old Blue Hen"? I do not know if "Socrees" is spelled right or not—am not German—as I never saw the word.

Have some good recitations I will exchange for these, such as "An Elopement Spoiled," "The Minister's Call," or "Counting Eggs." Would like to make these exchanges before the end of the month. ALWAYS GLAD TO HELP.

Ans.—Can someone exchange, as per above request?

A Soldier's Mother.

Dear Miss Grey,—In some previous letters to your page, silk cigarette coupons were requested, and to try to help someone, I am inclosing a few soldier, flag, and animal and flower series.

I am waiting anxiously for the dill pickle recipe to be printed. Won't someone please hurry?

Might I ask one or two questions? I have the walls and ceiling of one room painted, and I wish to have it papered. What must be done to make the paper stick to the walls?

Have you heard from "Aunt Nannie" lately? We surely can sympathize with her in the loss of her only boy. We have our only son in the same battalion. He has been wounded, and at present is being treated in a hospital in England. Many of the "Fighting Eighteenth" are with "Aunt Nannie's" boy now, but we know they have not died in vain.

This has been my first appearance, but I hope it won't be the last one. A SOLDIER'S MOTHER.

Ans.—I hope not, too, for your letter is so interesting. Re the painted walls, the paper will stick just fine to a painted surface, I am told by one who knows, and you need make no effort to remove the paint. The dust may, of course, be wiped down with a damp cloth. Thank you for the flags.

"Annie Marie's" Dime.

Dear Miss Grey,—Someone asked for the address of this crochet book. Here it is: Collingbourne's Mills, Elgin, Illinois, U. S. A. I have the book, so know this is correct.

1. Could you please tell me what a lavalliere is—so many people get one for a present? ANNIE MARIE.

Ans.—It's just awfully good of you to come again when evidently two other letters went astray. But, "Annie Marie," there's a mystery somewhere. I received your dime all right (the second one), and, as I supposed, acknowledged it in answering your letter. But now when I look up our fyle copies, I do not seem to find when your letter was published. It appears to have slipped into oblivion! Anyhow I have your dime credited on my list, and "Aunt Nannie" has it before this.

Re your query, a lavalliere is really just a chain (usually of gold) with pendant attached. The styles vary; sometimes the pendant is composed of tiny pearls, each set to form the centre of a blossom in a golden spray; or three fine chains with large, unset stones, such as amethyst, hanging in pendant form. The name is that of its inventor, Lavalliere, a Paris jeweler.

We have quite a number of readers from your district.

"One From Old Lake Erie's Shore"—Flags have been sent as you desired.

"Will Be Fourteen"—But why do you hate it, child? And what do you propose to do with yourself if you leave school? Without proper education, you are but poorly equipped to enter many of the remunerative avenues now open to young women. If you have any ambition along business lines (and few girls have not), I would certainly urge you to begin the fall term right away, and study ever so hard to make this year count. What does it matter that you are older than the others? Or that they are more clever at learning?—(which I doubt)—determine to do your best anyway; win their respect, and accomplish your high school entrance before another year elapses. Try, now!

"Red Cap"—1. The lady precedes in ascending a stairway. 2. Can scarcely describe a color here. Ask at a store for samples of Saxe-blue silk. 3. Writing looks rather youthful.

"A. E. I. O. U." sends recitations 'or "Ruby" and "Patriotic." Will each forward postage for same?

"News From Home."

Dear Cynthia,—I saw where "Sweet Sixteen" wanted some information regarding making "News From Home" scrapbooks. As I have been doing this work, I thought that maybe what I have found out would help her. In making a scrapbook, I get a large sheet of ordinary brown wrapping paper (heavy) and fold it into eight. This will give you a double sheet of about 10x15 inches. I always cut mine down to 10x13 inches, as this is a little more convenient size. The brown paper can be obtained at the newspaper or lithographing offices, and you could have your sheets cut into the desired size. Of course, one would have to take a quantity in this case. I sew my sheets together with string or strong cord, and you are ready to begin pasting.

For the cover get some sort of a pretty magazine cover, or a colored advertisement would do. I find a picture with a lot of red in same shows up the best. Then get your clippings ready. One very important item is: War news absolutely prohibited.

You might put in, however, an item about someone winning the V. C., or some funny incident. Arrange all your clippings on a page. You will find you can get a lot of clippings on a page by doing a whole page at one time. You will also find that your clippings will run about four printed columns to a page; also leave a slight space, about one-quarter of an inch, between each column; also about the same between each separate clipping. Sometimes, with a clipping that may be the whole length of the newspaper, it will be necessary to cut same in two to make it fit. Also have one or two pictures of some sort for each page—a photo, a funny picture, an advertisement, etc. After you have pasted all your solid reading matter in, you will find little odd spaces left, which can be filled in with jokes. Have two or three jokes or a funny poem for each page.

Regarding what to clip out of the newspaper, if you know to whom your book is going, you can make your "News from home" news about your own home town; what is going on; personal items, weddings, meetings, civic and military matters, etc. If, however, your book is not going to anyone in particular, then make it more general. In this case, use items about what concerns Canada mostly, such as prohibition, recruiting, London fair, etc. Sometimes you can get a short story or a funny article out of the newspapers or magazines, that can be used (of course some will likely take a whole page). Then, too, I have secured some excellent views out of a Muskoka folder; also a Georgian Bay folder. These are coming in finely as they are very pretty views of Canadian scenery. Picture postcards can also be used, and always try to have something colored for each page, as it brightens it up so much.

To give you an idea of what I am using for my book I am making just now, I am going to use a funny article, poems, etc., relating to prohibition, also the drawing showing the "midway" on page 12 of The Advertiser (supplement, and all the good "write-ups" I can get of the Western Fair. I am also going to try the experiment of waxing some maple leaves that have turned and pasting them on the cover (that is, just before my book is posted). I am also giving Miss Grey a list of magazines that are good for jokes and funny pictures—to be had on application for same. Any further help desired, let me know.

Sorry to make my letter so long, but would like to say, if you use what magazines, newspapers, etc., you have at hand, you can make a scrapbook which won't cost you more than ten cents. Some of mine, by pro-rating the the actual money spent, cost only three cents. (How's this for wartime economy?) BUSINESS GIRL.

Ans.—You're a brick, B. G. I enjoy your letters, for they are always so practical, and always based on personal experience. Making a "news from home" book sounds simply fascinating, as you describe it, and many of "our girls" may be encouraged to try it just by reading your most helpful letter.

Old Spinner's Song.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am still reading your page sometimes, and saw the other day where "Someone's Grandmother" asked for the song, "Wildwood Flowers," so I got up early this morning to copy it for her. I am also a grandmother, and this was one of my favorites in the days gone by. I might make an attempt to copy the music also if it is desired. A note addressed "Box 223, Strathroy," would find me. I am also inclosing a few Sweetheart coupons for the cabinet or wherever else they will be useful. Wishing you and the page all success, OLD SPINNER.

Ans.—The old song is just a dear one, and I am ever so glad to publish it. That other grandmother will be pleased to see it in print, I know.

Tobacco in the Trenches.

Dear Miss Grey,—Upon reading the letters on your page, I came across one with no pen-name, but the person was asking for the address of a crochet book. I looked over my clippings, and find that it is "Collingbournes' Mills, Elgin, Ill., U.S.A.

I am inclosing some cigarette flags of different kinds, and if they are of any use, distribute them; if not, W.P.B. will be all right.

Just a few words before I close, since someone has started a discussion on tobacco-chewing. Well, for my part it is disgusting, but, Miss Grey and readers, did any of you know that chewing tobacco is very acceptable to a great many of our dear boys who are in the front lines in France? I heard a returned soldier's opinion on the subject, and since then each box to my dear brother, who is with the noted Princess Pats, contains one or two plugs. Now, he never was addicted to the habit while in Canada, nor have I asked him in any of my letters if he uses it now, but no doubt some other poor fellows are glad of it. This returned soldier claims that by chewing the tobacco a great many germs are killed that otherwise would enter the body and prove fatal. So you see in that case it does the boys a sight more good than tobacco is supposed to do harm to the system. DUTCH.

Ans.—As you see, I did not use the blue pencil a bit. Your letter is too interesting for that. Obliged for the flags and the address you send.

Our Boston Friend.

My Dear Miss Grey.—If you have space on your page kindly print this pickle recipe for the benefit of the many housewives. The pickles when correctly made are sweet and quite as delicious as the much-advertised "57" varieties. Am inclosing a few wrappers and coupons. I hope "Y.S.M." gets her cabinet. She is very courageous to tackle a proposition like that.

I was under the impression "T. Atkins" was a girl. I wonder what kind of stories he would enjoy? Is "T.A." still in invalid?

With that long recipe I had better ring off. BOSTONIAN.

Ans.—Your recipe is certainly timely, for these are the days of pickling and preserving.

"T. Atkins" is a girl, so your first impression was right. Yes, still an invalid, and likely to be so until Christmas, alas.

"Reader."—It was "Aunt Nannie" who sent the bead information, but in some way her signature was omitted in publishing. Three or four requests for orange wraps have reached me, so yours will come in handy.

Daily Bible Question Club

By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.
(All Rights Reserved.)

The six daily studies for this week constitute the International S. S. Lesson for next Sunday. Read the Bible Story on which this study is based, as you ponder the following questions:

Review—"The Things Which Are Not Seen." Reading lesson, II. Cor., iv., 1—v., 4.

Golden Text—We look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen; for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal. II. Cor., iv., 18.

The questions for this week may be used as an original lesson, or as a review of the twelve preceding weekly lessons. The date and title of each lesson, where found, Golden Text and one question from each lesson follow:

July 2—Paul at Thessalonica and Berea. Acts, xvii., 1-15. Golden Text: "Him did God exalt with his right hand to be a Prince and a Savior." Acts, v., 31.

1. Verse 3—Did Paul mean to say that it was necessary for the Jews to have put Jesus to death, and if not, what did he mean?

July 9—The Thessalonian Christians. I. Thess., i., ii., 17-20; iv., 13-18.

Golden Text—"If we believe that Jesus died and rose again, even so them also that are fallen asleep in Jesus will God bring with him." I. Thess., iv., 14.

2. Chap. i., 1-4—The language in Paul's Salutation is glowing with love; should all Christians feel the same ardor for their brethren, and would it be wise, or not, and why, to express it in letters and in personal conversation? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club).

The American League pennant race today finds the three leading teams in shifted positions once more. Detroit was still at the head of the percentage column, but Boston had displaced Chicago for second place.

SNELGROVE RINK WINS SALAD BOWLS

Makes Highest Score at the Rowing Club Saturday.

SKIP SHANNON SECOND

Another Tournament Will Be Held There This Evening.

W. J. Snelgrove's rink captured first prize and W. Shannon's rink second prize at the London Rowing and Bowling Club's Saturday afternoon tournament. Fourteen rinks took part in the play.

Probably a feature of the affair was the number of clergymen present, no less than four being distributed among different rinks. Bowling is quite a favorite sport with London ministers, and many of them are becoming crack bowlers.

Both winning rinks won all three games, but the Snelgrove four made the highest scores. Each member of this rink carried off a china salad bowl as his share of the spoils. The Shannon rink won china cups and saucers for his efforts.

The Rowing Club will hold a tournament this evening, to which all city bowlers and any others are cordially invited. The draw will be made at 7:30 sharp, and those desiring to play must either telephone their names in early or be at the greens at that time in order to be drawn.

CAMP BORDEN SOLDIERS WILL ENTER 9 RUGBY TEAMS

Stars of the Gridiron In Many Battalions Are Resurrecting Their Moleskins.

CAMP BORDEN, Sept. 17.—Rugby football promises to flourish in the camp this fall, and already heroes of many gridiron struggle are resurrecting their moleskins. A meeting held yesterday for securing data brought the information that nine teams would be entered in the intermediate series, with a good representation of the Western Ontario men. The men of the Western University who are now in camp may get together again, and there are a number of others from Woodstock, Guelph, Sarnia, Windsor and other points who will be back in the game. The 205th Hamilton Tigers and the 180th Sportsmen battalions have had practices already, and will compete in the senior series. A third team may be developed by amalgamating the forces of army medical corps, army dental corps and the army service corps, who could produce a very strong aggregation, with such men as Frank Knight, late of Varsity and Argonauts, with the "Dents," and "Pat" Patterson, the heavy brigade of the Argonaut line, with the service men.

FAMOUS SPORTSMEN IN TOLL OF SOMME

British Oarsmen, Cricketers, Swimmers and Rugby Players Give Lives.

London, Sept. 18.—The cream of British sportsmen continue to appear in the casualties returning from the advance on the western front, the latest casualty list containing the names of many well-known public men who have made their mark in every branch of sport.

Capt. J. Vivian Byrne-Johnson, who has been killed in action, was secretary of the Cambridge University Athletic Club and was a fine long-distance runner.

G. F. Marsden-Smedley, killed, was captain of both the cricket and football elevens at Harrow.

The death in action of Lieut. Frederick Godfrey ends the career of a conspicuous athlete on the football and cricket fields as well as on the track. He established new figures for the army in both the 100 yards sprint and long jump. He was the only member of the bearer party drawn from the Grenadier Guards which bore King Edward to his tomb, who was spared to go into action.

W. M. B. Nanson, who saw service in Gallipoli with the Manchester Regiment, has been missing since June, 1915. He was a famous rugby footballer, having represented England in the international games against South Africa, France and Wales.

Several prominent oarsmen are reported killed, among them Capt. T. H. Irving, Lieut. W. Stobart, and Lieut. W. B. Todd Naylor. All three competed in the last Henley regatta.

Capt. Irving, who rowed in the Selwyn College eight in the Thames challenge cup, was killed while searching for his brother, Lieut. W. R. Irving, who was wounded, and who rowed in the same eight.

James Flood and James Richardson, two well-known Heywood footballers, also have made the big sacrifice, while William Walker of Middleton, famous in the swimming world, has died of wounds.

Lieut. T. Harry Watson, one of the best-known amateur fast bowlers in Lancashire, also has fallen in action.

FIRST FOUGHT GREAT BATTLE WITH HIMSELF

Rumanian King Was Born a German and a Hohenzollern.

SCENE AT HIS COUNCIL

Announced Immediate Mobilization and Attack Upon Austria-Hungary.

FEARS NOT HINDENBURG

Stirring Reply to Fears Expressed by Rabid Pro-German.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 18.—The Daily Chronicle's Bucharest correspondent, describing the meeting of the crown council held before Rumania's entry into the war, writes:

"The council was held in the Cotrocheni Palace, some distance outside the town, the private residence of the king and queen, not at the old place in the centre of the city, the hour of the meeting being changed repeatedly.

"The king by his manly and stirring words won more for himself than perhaps he had done since he came, a German and a Hohenzollern, to this country.

A Call for Liberation.

"'Gentlemen,' he said to those assembled, who included the leaders of the Opposition parties and former ministers of note, 'I have not called you here to ask your opinion,—but to tell you my decision in a matter of importance. I have decided upon mobilization of the army on the side of the Allies, and an immediate attack upon Austria-Hungary. The moment has come to liberate our brothers in Transylvania from the Hungarian yoke.'

"He concluded by saying: 'Remember, I have first had to win a preliminary victory over myself. May Rumania's victory over her enemies be as lasting and complete.'

"To the old Conservative party this declaration came like a spell. They had believed they had been called to hear Premier Briatino resign the helm of state to M. Maioresco, the former prime minister. M. Marghiloman ventured, among other objections, to an advance into Hungary, to suggest to them that they might be opposed to troops under Gen. von Hindenburg.

Never Feared a Hinderberg.

"A Rumanian never feared a von Hindenburg," was King Ferdinand's reply.

With each and every one of those assembled the King shook hands. Only to M. Marghiloman, the rabid pro-German and leading member of the Conservative party, did he put out both his hands with the palms upward and half-closed, an old Rumanian sign of condolence.

The correspondent, describing the first air raid on Bucharest, makes the announcement that the German airship was destroyed. He says:

"Though orders were for all to retire to the cellars, everybody crowded the streets to see the fun. A parsifal and an aeroplane, coming from the direction of the Danube, had been signalled, and their route to the capital heralded by the sound of anti-aeroplane and machine guns. On they came, but only to be caught up very quickly by the searchlights. Shells flashed round the airship. She hesitated, turned, and pausing, once more moved off riverwards, many who watched declaring her nose dipped.

Parsifal Is Wrecked.

"Now, this is true, though for certain reasons the Government is silent on the matter. The parsifal, which had been seen by a large number of people, is lying a mangled, shapeless mass outside Bucharest with a cordon of troops around it. It is of aluminum. Of the fate of its crew accounts differ. Some state that all were killed and horribly mutilated, others say only three were dead, and the rest, injured, are in the hospital. They are Germans in German uniforms, and the craft came from Sofia."

FRENCH POPULATION IN GERMAN BONDAGE TO GET MORE FOOD

But Despite Increase No Normal Meals Are Given.

ENOUGH TO KEEP ALIVE

Relief Commission Increases Grants to Sufferers by $2,600,000.

[Canadian Press.]

London, Sept. 18.—The commission for relief in Belgium anounces that arrangements have been completed with all the interested governments for the augmentation during the coming year of the relief to be provided to the 2,200,000 civil poplation in the occupied provinces of the Northern France. The steady exhaustion of food reserves and the diminishing vitality of the population has necessitated a considerable increase in the ration hitherto provided, especially for the industrial populations in the Lille and Valenciennes districts.

Grant Almost Doubled.

The Allied Governments have facilitated financial arrangements by which the monthly resources of the commission, exclusively for the French population, are to be increased from $3,400,000 a month to $6,000,000 a month. This sum will be used to provide increased imports from overseas and from Holland.

The German general staff has undertaken, in order to prevent speculation and to secure rigid distribution of the harvest in the north of France, to requisition the entire cereal and potato crop, and to guarantee to the relief commission, for the use of the civil population, a minimum supply of 200 grammes of flour and 400 grammes of potatoes per capita per diem from the harvest.

The combined native and imported supplies will provide a ration equal to about three-quarters of normal human consumption, but yet sufficient to maintain the population in health.

Many Millions To Feed.

Negotiations are not yet completed as to the food supply and finance for the two other political divisions occupied by the German army which the commission looks after; that is, first, the two Flanders, with a population of 1,700,000 people, which is under the German general staff and with regard to which, like Northern France, the commission deals directly with the general staff, and second, the remaining part of Belgium, which is under Gen. von Bissing, comprising 5,760,000 people.

In these areas also, because of the steady depletion of the native food supplies and the increase in the number of the destitute, the importations must be largely increased. With all the resources which the Belgians and the Belgian Government can bring to bear, a considerable part of the cost of the support of the destitute population must depend on public charity from abroad.

Health Is Failing.

This load has lately been increased by the necessity, on account of failing health conditions, of giving a supplementary ration to all school children, which makes an added drain on the resources of the commission of one million dollars a month.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS TO TWO CONCERNS IN RAILWAY CITY

Dehydration Plant Is Entirely Destroyed.

INCENDIARY IS BLAMED

Canadian Woodenware Company Is Also Total Loss.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 17.—Fire which broke out a few minutes after 10 o'clock Saturday night at the St. Thomas dehydration plant, adjoining the St. Thomas Packing Company, on the gravel road, destroyed the entire plant, as well as the buildings and contents of the Canadian Woodenware Company, to the west of the dehydration building.

The flames leaped across the street and consumed the fence around the southern part of the St. Thomas Cemetery, also shade trees and hedges in the cemetery. The firemen were engaged all night battling the roaring flames, which were fanned by a southwest wind. Probably this fact alone, however, enabled the firemen to save the large plant of the packing company and the cold storage plant, situated just east of the burning buildings.

It was between 8 and 9 o'clock Sunday morning when the brigade returned to the fire hall, the flames having burned themselves out.

The loss will run into the neighborhood of $50,000.

The destroyed dehydration plant was not in operation, it being between seasons. Preparations were being made to commence operations about October 1, when the company expected to resume work on huge war orders for the British Government. Last season the plant manufactured soup ingredients for the Allied armies almost entirely.

Thinks it Incendiary.

George Doolittle, manager of the concern, stated today that the company's loss would be $40,000, while only $15,000 insurance was carried. Mr. Doolittle was emphatic in his belief that the fire was of incendiary origin.

The Canadian Woodenware Company devoted nearly its entire attention to the manufacturing of washboards. A. J. Voege, manager of this concern, states that his loss will be approximately $10,000 on machinery, and stock which was insured for $2,500.

Neither plant may be rebuilt.

Clarksburg, W. Va.—"I am writing to tell you the good your medicine has always done me and I hope my letter may be the means of helping some other suffering woman. When I was 16 years old I caught cold and had suppression for two months. I got so weak I could scarcely drag myself up the stairs. I went to two doctors, then my mother got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it. I never had any more trouble and got strong fast. Then I took it again before my little girl was born and it helped me a good deal and I give the Compound the credit for it. Then this spring I felt very badly again, but I took the Compound and have been well all summer. I cannot be grateful enough for your medicine."—Mrs. Harold M. Smith, 470 Water street, Clarksburg, W. MOVING BRITISH FORTS THROW GERMANS INTO CONFUSION; LOSSES ARE ENORMOUS; THOSE LEFT ALIVE CAN ONLY SURRENDER

[BY FREDERICK PALMER.]

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE, Sept. 16.—Via London, September 17.—With ceaseless shell fire from unprecedented concentrations of guns the battle raged furiously all day, with the British making good their advance of yesterday, while the Germans were rushing up reserves from other parts of the western front.

The demoralization of their infantry yesterday by the use of the new armored motor cars, called "tanks," was freely confessed by prisoners with whom the correspondent of the Canadian Press talked today.

"There was no standing against that sort of thing," said one German officer. "Of course we surrendered—those of us who were alive. We fired at a tank with our rifles. Our machine guns turned loose on it. But the bullets were only blue sparks on the armor. We thought the British slow and stupid, despite their courage and stubbornness, and they gave us a surprise like this."

Germans Amazed.

A column of German prisoners passing a tank rejoicing in the nick-name of "Creme de Menthe," which had returned from battle and was resting from its labors, spread out their hands and shook their heads as they looked at it, exclaiming in a chorus, "Mein Gott in Himmel, it is under control. It won't break out and commence firing again? Will we ever forget our first sight of the thing as it came at us out of the morning mist? It isn't war using a piece of machinery like that; it is butchery."

To this a British officer replied: "No, it is quite peaceable and tame now. It has just been fed. As for it not being war, it is quite in keeping with the Hague convention, which the gas attack at Ypres was not."

In such an action as that of yesterday the correspondent, though he has freedom on the field and is informed of the plan of attack the night before, and although he disregards sleep, he finds it difficult to get a full report of the results so that he can send a dispatch the same night.

Most Dramatic Day of All.

But moving about the lines from headquarters of the different units of command up to the point where the wounded and the prisoners are being brought in a fresh orgy of struggle, hearing innumerable accounts as vivid as the red spots on white bandages and piecing bits of information together before sitting down to write his cable, there seems no question but that yesterday was the most dramatic day in the history of the British army in France.

The Germans themselves were massing at many points, it appears, with a view to making attacks to recover some high ground they lost. The British anticipated the German attack with their own onslaughts introduced by their new hell machines, whose secret they had been keeping up their sleeves for such an occasion as this.

Enemy's Losses Immense.

The accounts by both the wounded British soldiers and the prisoners taken from all parts of the line agree that the German losses were immense. As a rule the forces in the front line trenches supporting patrols in the shell craters in the Somme battle are in some numbers, with a plentiful supply of machine guns. This means a smaller force exposed to artillery concentration in case of attack. With the machine guns silenced and the front trench taken, then the reserves expect, under cover of the artillery fire of their side, to retake it. Thus the Germans intended to attack. They had massed large numbers of men in the front trenches. These were not only caught by the surprise of the sudden blast of the early morning concert of the British guns preceding the charge of the British infantry, but were raked by machine gun fire from the "tanks." As the Germans were in new trenches, which they had built as best they could under the continual shell fire, and as they had no dugouts and could find no shelter they were subjected to the murderous enfilade from the tank cars.

Germans In Confusion.

Despite German discipline and the bravery and racial hate, which the Germans put into their fights against the British, at many points mob confusion prevailed among those in the front lines. Some attempted to surrender, though surrender seemed impossible against these walking forts. Others fired desperately and hopelessly before being mowed down, and others were paralyzed by the apparition which had no precedent in warfare. Trenches were filled with German dead, and those in flight fell like grain before a reaper where the tank cars could direct sprays of lead in their path.

Before the attack the British plan, as a staff officer explained to the correspondent of the Canadian Press, was not to take either Martinpuich or Courcelette yesterday, but so successful was the early morning advance that the command was given to push on, and by nightfall both places were in the possession of the British. These two villages are on the left or hinge of the movement, which has its right on the bank of the canal opposite Peronne. The Germans were congested here in a narrow area in order to hold the salient, and prevent the British from widening their battle line by breaking through more frontage on the old first line fortifications from Thiepval northward, "but the larger the German numbers the more casualties it meant," said the officer.

With demoralization on their front line, the Germans threw forward all the reserves they had, and summoned a division from Lille by train, while, according to reports from prisoners and observations from aeroplanes, every motor vehicle they had was bringing up men and machine guns and horse artillery was summoned from right and left to reinforce the already enormous concentration of guns.

Today the Germans are gathering their forces, and attempted counter-attacks. At some points they broke through the new British lines, and while the British were resisting at thse points they were attacking at others.

Men Refuse to Halt.

Under a pounding of the most terrific shell fire that modern artillery can produce, the stubborn wrestle for position continues, with the British in possession of more ground tonight than they had planned. The only difficulty in many instances has been to restrain the eager battalions and "tanks" from attempting to go too far. The commander of one famous regiment, finding his men rushing beyond the objective set for them, leaped upon a hillock, and, standing up facing the enemy's fire, sounded a bugle call to halt his men in vain. They went on and took their second objective, an hour ahead of scheduled time. One officer explained: "We wanted to have the job over at once. We were stirred."

In one case where there was no tank car to silence the machine guns, and it fell to the duty of a certain battalion to maintain the line on its right and left, 70 men went forward. All were mown down, and another platoon of 70 were mown down, but the third section, charging over the dead, took the German strong point and thus prevented any break in the line of advance.

As for the new cars, stories of their progress continue to be told. One car, which took on board a German colonel, who surrendered to it, kept him along with it throughout the fight. Another ambled in on a German battery of field guns, and with its machine guns killed the German gunners, who were not able to flee from the grotesque caller. One car, which went through the main street of Flers, had placarded on its sides: "Extra! Full Account of the Great Hun Victory."

RUSSIAN TROOPS ARE NOW CLOSING IN UPON HALICZ

Force Teutons From Positions Southeast of Brzezany.

CAPTURE 3,174 PRISONERS

Berlin Reports Series of Attacks Over Thirteen Miles of Territory.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 17.—Via London.—Russian troops have resumed their closing in movement on the Galician town of Halicz, southeast of Lemberg, on the Dniester.

The war office announced today that the Teutons had been dislodged from positions southeast of Brzezany, on the Zlota Lipa, northeast of Halicz, and that the Russians were attacking along the Podvysoke-Halicz railway line, where more than 3,000 Germans were taken prisoner and twenty machine guns captured. The text of the statement follows:

"In the region south of Brzezany, on the right bank of the Zlota Lipa, stubborn fighting is taking place. Our troops, having dislodged the enemy, captured part of his positions, and took prisoner fourteen officers and 537 Turkish men. In the region of the River Anraiuvka, and the railway line from Podvksok to Halicz, fighting continues. The enemy here has already suffered great losses in killed and wounded, and left in our hands about 3,174 prisoners. The prisoners are exclusively Germans, and include 24 officers. We captured twenty machine guns and two trench guns. Our Crimean cavalry squadrons attacked two enemy batteries, and having sabred the attendant gunners, threw three guns into the ditch and captured four limbers. The latter, however, they did not succeed in carrying away, as an approaching German battalion opened a fierce machine gun and rifle fire on our cavalry.

"In the wooded Carpathians snow fell in some places, and water has frozen."

ACTIVITY EXTENDS OVER LONG FRONT.

BERLIN, Sept. 17.—Via London.—Heavy offensive operations by the Russians have been in progress along large sections of the front in Russia and Galicia, the war office announced today, the Teutonic forces holding their ground all along the line, except in one sector, where troops of Archduke Charles Francis, resisting the Russian advance toward Halicz, were forced back a short distance.

The Russians suffered extremely heavy losses in their attacks, particularly in assaults delivered along a front of nearly thirteen miles, in the vicinity of Zaturze, west of Vladimir-Volynski, which failed completely. Attacks between the Sereth and the Stripa, north of Zborow, also broke down, and a Russian attempt to advance north of Stanislau was frustrated. Storming attacks against Teutonic positions in the Carpathians were fruitless.

The text of the statement follows:

"Front of Prince Leopold of Bavaria: Along the whole front south of Pinsk an increase in Russian firing activity is apparent.

Attacks West of Lutsk.

"West of Lutsk the enemy made attacks during the morning, afternoon and evening along a 20-kilometre line from Zaturze, on the Turia, to Pastomyty, on troops under the chief command of Gen. Terstcanzky, under Gen. von der Marwitz, advancing in dense waves. The thrust completely failed, with the most severe losses. Reports state that at certain places the losses were fearful.

"On the front of Gen. von Boehm-Ermolli, between the Sereth and the Stripa, north of Zborow, most vigorous attacks on the German lines under Gen. von Eben broke down.

"Front of Prince Charles Frederick: Both on and east of Majarowka the enemy brought up a strong force to the attack, and made several vain attempts upon our lines. Finally he pressed back the front a short distance.

"North of Stanislau a Russian patrol attack was repulsed after a brief hand-to-hand fight.

"In the Carpathians the enemy vainly threw storming columns against our positions on both sides of Ludova. Here, and on the frontier heights west of Schipoth, and southwest of Dorna Watra, he was most sanguinarily repulsed."

BRITISH ADVANCE FURTHER ON A FRONT OF SIX MILES; CAPTURE DANUBE TRENCH

Increase Gains to a Depth of From One to Two Miles—Take Strong Position Near Thiepval and Moquet Farm Under Fire For Weeks.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Since Friday the British have advanced along a front of six miles to a depth of from one to two miles.

Seventeen hundred additional prisoners were taken Saturday. The total number captured in the last two days is more than 4,000.

Saturday night gains were made on a front of more than a mile and a half. In this was included the strongly-fortified Danube trench, about a mile long, which has been a barrier to the British advance at Thiepval. Additional territory on a thousand-yard front near Courcelette was captured.

At Mouquet farm the British finally took the fortification for which the opposing armies have been contending for weeks.

Quantities of war material and numerous additional prisoners were captured.

Today powerful counter-attacks were launched by the Germans against the newly-acquired British positions. The British artillery fire, says the official statement from general headquarters, caught the attacking forces and dispersed them with heavy losses.

All Attacks Repulsed.

"South of the Ancre the enemy made several heavy counter-attacks on our new positions, all of which were repulsed.

"Particularly, enemy forces attacking from the direction of Les Boeufs and north of Flers, were caught by our artillery barrage, suffering heavy casualties.

"Between Flers and Martinpuich an enemy brigade advancing to attack in the direction of Highwood was met by two of our battalions in the open. Hand-to-hand fighting ensued, in which we were completely successful, the enemy being dispersed and thrown back with heavy losses.

"North of Mouquet farm we also improved our positions. Our artillery was active during the day. Another conflagration in the enemy's ammunition dump at Grandecourt broke out as the result of our fire.

"The number of prisoners taken today south of the Ancre is 6 officers and 243 men.

"Our air service successfully continued its attack upon the enemy communications. Another enemy machine was destroyed. Two of our machines are missing."

Further Gains Made.

The text of the statement this afternoon follows:

"South of the Ancre our troops achieved further successes. Last evening, in the vicinity of Courcelette, we extended our gains on a front of about 1,000 yards. In the neighborhood of Thiepval we obtained a considerable success yesterday evening by capturing the hostile trench known as the Danube trench, on a front of about a mile. Here the enemy abandoned considerable quantities of rifles and equipment. We also captured the strongly-defended work at Mouquet farm, possession of which had been hotly contested for some weeks past.

"The number of prisoners is increasing.

"A number of successful enterprises were also carried out by us last night on other parts of the British front."

Saturday night's statement follows:

"Today (Saturday), south of the Ancre, we continued our attack in certain localities, and further progress has been made. Since yesterday we advanced to a depth of from one to two miles on a front of six miles.

"The number of prisoners taken today is over 1,700, of whom 51 are officers. The total number of prisoners captured in the fighting of the last two days is over 4,000, of whom 116 are officers.

"Up to the present six guns and over fifty machine guns are reported to have been taken or destroyed, and a considerable quantity of war material has been captured.

"Further reports on the aerial fighting on September 15 bring the total of German machines destroyed to fifteen. Another hostile kite balloon was brought down in flames this afternoon.

"Two more of our machines are missing, making altogether six."

FRENCH COMPLETE CAPTURE OF TWO SOMME VILLAGES

Take All Ground Between Vermandovillers and Berny.

SECURE 700 PRISONERS

Strongly Organized System of Trenches Taken After Desperate Fight.

PARIS, Sept. 17. — The French have captured all the ground between Vermandovillers and Deniecourt on the one side, and Deniecourt and Berny on the other, in the Somme region, according to the official statement issued tonight. Seven hundred unwounded prisoners were captured.

The communication says:

"North of the Somme our artillery actively bombarded German organizations throughout the day.

"South of the Somme we attacked at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon at several points, and gained important successes. The villages of Vermandovillers and Berny, of which we held only a part, were conquered in a brilliant assault. Some isolated points are still holding out.

"All the ground between Vermandovillers and Deniecourt, on the one side, and between Deniecourt and Berny on the other, which was defended by several strongly-organized systems of trenches, has fallen into our hands after a desperate fight. The struggle still continues around Deniecourt. Between Berny and Barleux we captured a number of guns. All counter-attacks attempted by the enemy during the evening broke down under our artillery fire, with heavy German losses.

"Up to the present seven hundred unwounded prisoners, fifteen of them officers, have been counted.

PRINCE ALBERT IS HOME AFTER AN OPERATION

King's Second Son Suffered From Abdominal Abscess.

LONDON, Sept. 17. — Prince Albert, second son of King George, has been invalided home on account of an abdominal abscess, says an official communication issued today. The communication adds that the prince, who has undergone an operation, is doing well, but it will be some time before he is able to return to any duty.

Prince Albert, while serving as a midshipman on board the battleship Collingwood, at the outbreak of the war, was stricken with appendicitis, and operated on. The prince is 22 years old.

NEW GREEK PREMIER FRIEND OF VENIZELOS, ADMIRER OF GERMANY

LONDON, Sept. 17.—A Reuter dispatch from Athens says:

"The new Greek cabinet was sworn in before M. Kalogeropoulos and the ministers of the Entente powers. Its fate depends upon its policy, which, if it is a continuance of the so-called benevolent neutrality, will give it a short life."

The new premier declares that the new government will observe the most benevolent neutrality towards the Entente.

"He repudiates allegations that he is Germanophile," adds the dispatch, "although he confesses that he is an admirer of Germany."

M. Kalogeropoules is considered one of the most clever lawyers in Greece. He lived for a long time in France and has close relations with Great Britain. He is friendly to former Premier Venizelos, although he is not an active partisan of the Venizelist policy. The new cabinet is considered here to be favorable toward Greece's participation in the war.

AVIATORS DROP 830 SHELLS ON FOE'S POSITIONS

German Factories, Blast Furnaces, Railways Bombed.

AIR DUELS NUMEROUS

Nine Enemy Machines Brought Down in Day and Six Damaged.

PARIS, Sept. 17.—The French artillery has been active along the Somme front, the war office announced this afternoon. Numerous air raids have been carried out by French aviators, says the official statement, which follows:

"Yesterday an enemy aeroplane was brought down within our lines at Belloy. It is confirmed that the enemy machine which was attacked by Warrant Officer Lennoir, came crashing to the ground north of Douaumont, being the eighth to be brought down by this pilot. It is also confirmed that Warrant Officer Dorme defeated his tenth enemy machine, which fell near Brie on September 15. On Friday night two of our machines dropped fifteen bombs of 120 millimetres each on the air shed at Hatzheim. Last night 230 bombs were dropped on the railway station at Abbecourt. On the same night our bombarding squadron carried out the following operations: 72 bombs of 120 millimetres were dropped on the railway stations at Roisel, Epehy and Athies and on the railway line between St. Quentin and Ham."

Blast Furnaces Shelled.

"During Friday night one of our air bombarding squadrons carried out the following operations," says another official statement: "Sixty shells of 120 millimetre and six of 200 millimetres were thrown on the blast furnaces at Utkingen (Usingen), 30 shells of 150 millimetres on the blast furnaces at Rombae and 30 others on factories in the Mandelingen district. The same night two of our machines dropped fourteen shells on the railroad track south of Metz and on the station at Binsdorf. The stations at Spinscourt and Longuyon also received 60 projectiles.

"Last evening a German aeroplane dropped several bombs on Rheims. Two civilians, including a child, were killed, and another was wounded.

German Machines Brought Down.

"According to fresh information in addition to the nine German aviators brought down Friday on the French front, six other enemy machines were damaged in encounters with our pilots, and were compelled to descend within their own lines. Two of the aviators were killed.

"On Thursday night one of our squadrons dropped 106 bombs of large calibre at Pont-Faverger and Bethenivile. A large fire was caused at Pont-Faverger. Each of the aeroplanes made two trips. On the same night the railway station at Conflans-Jarny was bombarded with 174 bombs of 120 millimetres. A large number of the bombs found their mark."

OSTEND BOMBED.

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The following was given out officially here yesterday.

"In the early hours of Friday a squadron of naval aeroplanes successfully bombarded the enemy's heavy batteries near Ostend (on the Belgian coast). All returned safely.

WEEKLY PAPERS ARE RAISING PRICES IN ST. CLAIR DISTRICT

High Cost of Production Has Made This Necessary.

COMMENCE DECEMBER 1

Pressmen Were Taken for Ride Through Peach Section.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

FOREST, Sept. 17.—Compelled by higher costs of production to secure increased revenue, the St. Clair District Press Association, at a meeting held here Friday, decided to advance the prices of the weekly newspapers of the counties of Middlesex and Lambton, from $1.00 to $1.50 per annum, commencing December 1.

This action is in line with the movement throughout Canada for a minimum rate of $1.50 for rural weeklies. Over 100 rural weeklies and semi-weeklies have already adopted the $1.50 rate or higher. It was reported to the meeting that in Bruce, Perth and Huron, and other Ontario counties where the new rate has already been put into effect, the public has received it in a most reasonable manner, evidently understanding that the increase is fully justified.

Held a Banquet.

Following the meeting a banquet was tendered the visitors by the Forest council and board of trade at the Roche House, after which the party took a trip through the peach district adjacent to Forest. Each visitor was presented with a large basket of the luscious fruit.

The pressmen were honored by the presence of Peter McArthur, the distinguished lecturer, writer and agriculturalist, who addressed the gathering at lunch.

Mr. McArthur drew a vividly realistic picture of the way in which the sorrows of the war are brought home to the country people. The rural press was doing more, he said, to mould public opinion than the daily press. The smaller weeklies give the intimate details of the sacrifice of the boys from the home town and touched the heart of the community as the big city papers cannot. The country editors must be alive to the need for live leadership and accept some responsibility for providing it.

W. P. McDonald, district representative of the department of agriculture, was another welcome visitor.

The pressmen present were Wm. Dawson, Parkhill Gazette; W. Bryant, Thedford Tribune; Thomas Harris, Watford Guide-Advocate; J. W. Kedwell, Ailsa Craig Banner; A. W. Lowery, Petrolea Advertiser; Errol Atkins, Courtright Outlook-Tribune; D. Sutherland, Glencoe Transcript; F. L. E. Evans and Ewart Evans, Strathroy Age; H. J. Pettypiece, Forest Free Press; G. E. McIntosh, Forest Standard; A. R. Alloway, assistant manager Canadian Press Association, Toronto.

GERMANY TO BUILD MANY FREIGHT BOATS

Standard 8,000-Ton Steamers Chosen Instead of Special Types.

Berlin, Sept. 17—Via London, Sept. 18.—Hamburg is emulating the example set by England. German shipping men have formed a million-mark shipbuilding company, which will immediately begin the construction of a series of 8,000 ton steamers for Germany's freight-carrying trade after the war. The Hamburg-American line is behind the new project, and Albert Ballin, director-general of that line, will be chairman of the directorate.

The plan is to abandon temporarily the custom of building huge special ships and concentrate on the construction of ten-knot boats—several at a time—which can be turned out faster and cheaper than steamers each requiring particular specifications.

SARNIA PROPRIETORS RAISE THEIR RATES

Say It Is Their Only Salvation Now.

SHOPS BUSY TO THE END

Photographer Is Forced to Refund for Lost Photo and Pay Costs.

The Advertiser Branch Office, Room 2 Yard Building, 217½ N. Christina street.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

SARNIA, Sept. 17.—John Barleycorn passed away here last evening at 7 o'clock, in the presence of friends and acquaintances, having gradually declined during the past week, until at 6:30 Saturday night the end was in sight.

Liquor shops in this city at night presented a barren appearance, being cleaned out, with the exception of the cash registers and a few other fixtures. Proprietors and clerks, after counting up, retired for a hard-earned rest.

All through Saturday, right up until the last tick of the clock, citizens could be seen toting home quantities of goods, to have it on hand in case of emergency or to wet a dry palate. Next week will find the license inspectors on the job.

HOTEL RATES BOOSTED.

SARNIA, Sept. 17. — Local hotel proprietors find it necessary to raise their rates with the advent of prohibition, and next week travelers will be forced to "dig deeper" in their money pockets to pay for accommodation. This step is necessary on account of the decreased revenue, and while no doubt many complaints will be registered, the hotel proprietors say it is their only salvation.

MUST MAKE RESTITUTION.

SARNIA, Sept. 17.—Lizzie Quinn, who was remanded from Thursday, appeared before the court Saturday morning on a charge of obtaining money on false pretenses, laid by H. Sanders, proprietor of the Northern Hotel. In reply to an advertisement in a newspaper, Miss Quinn obtained work at the Northern Hotel, and Mr. Sanders advanced her $4 to pay the cost of transportation. The defendant duly arrived and started work, but after being on the job about a day and a half, took leave without notifying Mr. Sanders or refunding the $4, and secured work on the steamer Noronic, on which she was arrested. She stated that it was not her intention to defraud, but was willing to refund the advance at first opportunity.

After hearing both sides the magistrate suspended sentence upon her paying the costs of the prosecution and making restitution to Mr. Sanders.

PHOTOGRAPHER IN COURT.

SARNIA, Sept. 17.—A. W. Moore, a photographer, who had been remanded from Thursday, came up for trial Saturday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses laid by Mrs. J. J. Evans. Moore secured an order from Mrs. Evans in june last to enlarge a portrait of her husband, who is at the front, and took payment in advance amounting to $2.75. Several weeks passed and the photograph was not delivered. Mrs. Evans made several trips to his place of business, but never could find anyone there. Finally she called on the chief of police, informed him of the circumstances, and awaited results.

Chief Forbes notified Moore that the lady wished to see him, and did not see Moore again until he was arrested. On being called to the witness box, Moore stated that he had called on Mrs. Evans, but found no one at home, and was on his way to make another call when he was arrested. He further stated that a fire had occurred at his studio, and had destroyed most of the work on hand, together with all his records.

On being questioned by the crown he gave some conflicting evidence, and his explanations were not satisfactory.

The court stated that in the past much trouble had occurred over such agencies, and while not wishing to press the charges, the circumstances surrounding this case were suspicious.

J. R. Logan appeared for the defence, and based his case on the inability of the defendant to make deliveries, due to the fire and to delays in receiving necessary supplies to complete the work.

The case was enlarged for a week on payment of costs, $4.50 and a refund to Mrs. Evans, $2.75. Bonds for $100 were taken for the defendant's appearance September 23, should any other claims be laid in the coming week.

COLLEGIATE LIT. MEETS.

SARNIA, Sept. 17.—The annual meeting of the literary society of the collegiate institute has been held, and the following officers elected: Honorary president, Ross Gray (now with the 63rd Battery); president, D. Bell; vice-president, M. Gibb; secretary, D. Stokes; treasurer, W. Paterson.

No definite plans for this season's entertainment have been announced yet, but it is expected that a play will be staged by this society. Last year's attempt, "Thomson of Varsity," having proved a decided success, another play would be well received by local enthusiasts.

Mrs. Mills has been identified with patriotic work since the outbreak of the war, and the recognition is a worthy one.

NEW FIELD MONSTER USED BY THE ARMY IS FULL OF TRICKS

Can Climb Walls and Go Through Dense Forests.

INVENTION OF TWO MEN

Germans Said To Be Rushing Troops to Front Where They Have Lost.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Credit for the new "traveling land forts" which have been used during the last few days on the British front, belongs to two men, Lieut.-Col. E. D. Swinton, of the intelligence department of the general staff, and Major Stern. Lieut.-Col. Swinton will be remembered as one of the officer eyewitnesses who wrote accounts of the early days around Ypres for British newspapers. Major Stern is a businessman who has been for some time in the employ of the Government.

The Daily Mail describes the new monsters as follows:

"These long, low, dust-colored tortoises have no resemblance to motor cars. They are, in fact, steel land ships of immense power and wonderful capacity. In practice they can climb walls, push through dense woods, cross trenches and manoeuvre in and out of craters. One of the most remarkable facts about them is the secrecy with which the making of their thousands of parts was veiled in the midland town of their birth. The army likes them, but it is not placing too much reliance of what is for the present only an experiment."

A dispatch from press headquarters in France says:

Are Demoralizing.

"The new mobile turrets have one valuable work. Without claiming too much for this latest addition to our war machinery it looks as though a good means of effectively dealing with the German machine guns has been found. Prisoners say that the spectacle of the machines creeping towards them and spitting fire as they came was one of the most emoralizing things of the campaign.

"Fresh troops will probably be hastened to this front. It is understood the Germans are rushing down reinforcements in motors from the front. But the British gunners, with the assistance of airmen, spotters, are giving them anything but a pleasant passage.

"The forces opposite the British troops are the first German army, supported, it is believed, by more than a thousand guns of all calibres."

FACES SERIOUS CHARGE

Fifteen-Year-Old Boy Accused of Attempting Murder.

MONTREAL, Sept. 17.—Fred Thomas, 15 years of age, 137 Cadieux street, this city, was arraigned Saturday on a charge of attempted murder, and admitted that he had shot Oscar St. Denis, aged 16, of 99 City Hall avenue, with intent to kill him. Fortunately a trouser button saved young St. Denis' life, the button deflecting the bullet so that it inflicted only a flesh wound that was treated in the Montreal General Hospital.

St. Denis was at Thomas' house upbraiding the latter for having lassooed a brother of St. Denis' when the shot was fired. Pending sentence at the juvenile court next Thursday the youthful would-be murderer is being detained in the reformatory.

GRAIN.

Winnipeg, Sept. 16.—Wheat closed 2⅝ off for October, 2c down for December and May. Oats were unchanged for October and ⅜c lower for December. Barley declined 1½c. Flax was ¼c up for October, ¾c lower for November and ½c lower for December.

Small local and professional trade sent prices lower today. Exports were out of the market. The price got the support of few exporters, and the business of the commission houses for the local crowd was all on the bear side, yet there was so little wheat offered that it was hard to break the price. The hedging was all done in the morning.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Decreasing stocks at Liverpool and diminishing northwestern receipts had a bullish effect on wheat today. Besides, world shipments were smaller, and the trade seemed more disposed than on Saturday to attach importance to Roumanian defeats near the Black Sea. On the other hand, Kansas City and Omaha reported many cars of wheat carried over from last week unsold.

Opening prices here, which ranged from ¼c decline to 1½c advance, were followed by material gains all around, and then something of a reaction.

WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 18—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Bullish operations of the past fortnight were resumed, though in more moderate degree, at the opening of today's trading, United States Steel again featuring the list on its further advance to the new record of 108⅜, with the usual extensive absorption of individual offerings. Rails, which strengthened last week's market, were again in demand at gains of substantial fractions to a point for Pennsylvania, Erie, Canadian Pacific and Union Pacific, Great Northern, Baltimore and Ohio, and Atchison. Gas shares, motors, the metal group and a few munitions were variably higher. Driggs-Seabury gaining 5 points.

Noon.—Trading broadened and became more active before the end of the first hour, with every indication of another million-share session. Heavy realizing, especially in rails, checked the advance with recessions ranging from liberal fractions to over a point in numerous leaders. Steel proved the conspicuous exception, making the new maximum of 108⅝ before it fell back over a point. Pressure was directed against coppers in part when Reading bounded forward with a gain of over 2 points. Further profit-taking was in evidence at midday. Bonds were firm.

LONDON STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, Sept. 18.—The excellent war news received since Friday created a cheerful atmosphere on the stock exchange, but there was more tone than business, as operators are holding off pending the settlement of the railway trouble and confirmation of loan rumors. Business consisted mainly of investment buying of Japanese bonds and oil and shipping shares, with the latter strong. American securities advanced well in sympathy with Wall Street. Union Pacific and Canadian Pacific were the most active issues. The closing was firm.

Money and discount rates were steady.

Closing prices were:

NEW YORK COTTON

[Reported By Thomson & McKinnon.]

An overbought market, lack of bull support, some selling by local longs, and hedge orders from the south, caused today's decline. The movement is enormous, and visible increasing, while the demand from spinners has let up. They seem to have bought all they need for the time being. Lack of speculative shorts in the market makes declines quick and decided. We look for further hedge selling Monday.

IMPROVEMENTS AT MEDICAL SCHOOL FACILITATE WORK

All Ready for the Reopening on October 2.

IMPORTANT ADVANCES

Latest Apparatus Installed, First-Class Library and Individual Instruction.

The medical department of the Western University will reopen on October 2. During the summer vacation the governors of the university made extensive improvements in the medical building, situated on the corner of Waterloo and York streets, in lieu of a new medical building, which had to be deferred pending the close of the war. These improvements will not only facilitate the work of the school, but will greatly add to the comfort and convenience of the students.

A modern steam heating plant has been installed, up-to-date electric fixtures have been added, and an improved plumbing system provided.

Splendid Library.

An important advance has been effected by the establishment of a first-class medical library, where all the leading medical and surgical journals will be kept on file. A competent librarian will be in charge.

A modern physical laboratory was equipped last year, and first-year students now receive excellent instruction in this important department, under the direction of Prof. E. F. Barker.

In the departments of anatomy, pharmacology and physiology further additions have been made to the apparatus already acquired, thus increasing the efficiency of these departments.

Laboratory Work.

Much of the work of the medical course is conducted in the large laboratories of the institute of public health, which is under the able administration of Dr. H. W. Hill. The instruction in tuberculosis at the institute is in charge of Dr. D. A. Craig.

A great advantage enjoyed by the medical students of the Western University is the large amount of individual instruction which they receive both in the laboratory and in the hospital. This is a matter of the utmost importance in the training of the student for the successful practice of medicine.

DIED.

BARLEYCORN — On Saturday evening, 7 o'clock, September 16, 1916, at his residence, province of Ontario, John Barleycorn, aged 100 and some odd years. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

The demise of the above named venerable gentleman, frequently referred to as King Booze, was not unexpected, in fact, he has been under sentence of death, passed by the Ontario Legislature a few months ago, when the Ontario temperance act was placed on the blue books of parliament and became effective on Saturday night at 7 o'clock.

Old John's finish in the city might be characterized as one grand bust and the death-bed scenes between 6:30 and 7 o'clock Saturday are without a parallel in the annals of the city.

Had Tough Time.

John has had during his long and somewhat checkered career many a hard row to hoe and has had several attacks of "temperancitis," but has weathered the gales successfully until the Ontario temperance act finally announced his doom.

The finish of the "martyr" was in a blaze of glory and when the final curtain fell at 7 o'clock the end meant rejoicings and joy for the "drys," lamentations and sorrow for the "wets," in all a strange conglomeration of human emotions.

Many scenes were enacted the last two hours preceding the expiration of the wet period, that is between 5 and 7 o'clock Saturday evening.

Drinkables of every shape, form and description flowed like a cataract and thousands of glasses of the sizzling stuff trickled down the throats of thirsty customers, bent on being in at the grand finish.

Hotels Crowded.

In fact, so great was the crush that at some of the hotels it was impossible to gain admittance to the bar.

As the minutes wore along between the hours of six and seven the throngs increased, the buying became more rapid and the whole scene resembled a picture which aroused various emotions in the minds of sober observers (they were few). One feature, and the outstanding one at that, was that with all the "jags," and their number will perhaps never be known, but few fights were staged. In fact the whole affair was a scramble to get as much as possible before the clock struck seven, and for the most part it was good-natured.

As the numbers in the hotels increased the supply diminished and several hotels were "cleaned" long before closing time. This meant that the crowd moved down on other emporiums which still had the goods in stock.

First to Close.

The first bar to close was at the Grigg House, whose doors were locked at 5 o'clock, the last drop of liquor having been finished. At 5:30 the bar at the C. P. R. hotel had nothing left but ice-water and the key was turned in the bar door and the crowd headed for the next place. At 6:15 a prominent citizen leaning on the Tecumseh bar proposed a toast to King George, the British Empire and her allies, and drank in one gulp the last drop in the Tecumseh bar.

At all the hotels along King street beer flowed like a river in springtime and the last hour was one grand test of capacity, with bartenders working at top speed and customers unloading the "schooners" as fast as the white-aproned gentry placed them on the bar.

As the clock showed ten minutes to seven one hotel proprietor announced that there were still four kegs of beer on tap and he proposed to get rid of it.

"We can't bother to take your money, we haven't got time to make the change, so the balance is on the house. Step up, it's as free as water, as free as the air you breathe," said the proprietor.

And did the crowd step up? Does a duck like water? You have two guesses as to what the crowd in the bar did.

It was thought that immediately after 7 o'clock some of the hotels would remain open and immediately swing to the sale of "soft goods" and 2½ per cent drinks.

All Bars Closed.

But there was nothing doing, and every hotel-bar closed on the stroke of seven. And when the "lid" went down it went down with a bang and was clamped.

Notwithstanding the fact that there were more intoxicated persons Saturday night than at any time within the memory of the oldest inhabitant, only twenty-four of these wound up at the police station.

This small percentage can be attributed to the fact that the policemen on this occasion observed more closely the "golden rule" idea and only arrested a man when they couldn't possibly avoid it. The fact of a man having what is called a "nice sociable jag" and the fact that he may have wavered in the breeze and made a crooked trail did not mean he was going to be "taken in" by the police.

Had all those that were "half-seas over" on Saturday night been arrested the armories or Queen's Park wouldn't have furnished standing-room for the bunch.

"We only brought in those who fell down and went to sleep in the road and any we could avoid we passed by," said a policeman in explaining his view of the situation.

There seemed to be a multiplicity of ways to getting "tight" on Saturday evening.

Various Methods.

Some got their "load" by drinking plain beer, others, whisky or gin, others mixed them right and left, and still others just grabbed what came their way and awaited the effect.

All seemed to have one end in view and that to get outside of as much of the "joy-juice" as possible, and some succeeded even beyond their most sanguine expectations.

Now that the city has "climbed on the water wagon" it remains to be seen what will be the result.

The temperance people announce the dawn of a brighter era, a period of prosperity and better conditions in all lines of business, because of the going into effect of the Ontario temperance act. They point to the experience of all other dry territories.

The "wets" on the other hand predict that the country will go to the dogs, men's liberties will be restricted and unsatisfactory conditions will arise because of the enforcement of the act. What will be the result no one positively knows. Time alone will answer the question, but in the meantime everyone is entitled to a guess on an opinion.

Not Yet Decided.

Whether Police Magistrate Judd will make drunkenness punishable by heavier fines and longer terms in jail has not yet been announced. Magistrate Jeffs of Hamilton makes the first announcement in the province and says that he will impose a fine of $20 and costs for everyone convicted of drunkenness after the act becomes effective.

AT THE LYRIC TODAY.

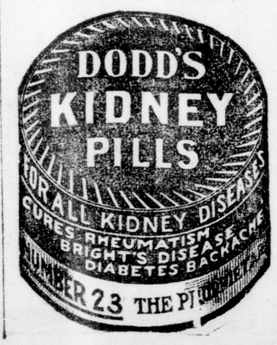

"The Man Behind the Curtain," at the Lyric Theatre today and tomorrow.

Unknowingly she married the son of a woman of whose murder she is accused. Though but a short time after the honeymoon, he casts her out of his house.

How she unearths the actual murderer, the real "man behind the curtain," trails him to his lair, and brings about a reversal of the play of forces, makes for high-tensioned dramatic action, full of suspense and thrills.

Replete with mystery and attention-holding interest, "The Man Behind the Curtain" is fashioned out of materials that make the photoplay public demand pictures like these.

Chic, dainty, dimpled-cheeked Lillian Walker plays the principal role.

THANKSGIVING IN CITY CHURCHES AT ABOLITION OF BAR

Great Benefits to Province Are Predicted by Pastors.

NATIONAL PROHIBITION

Decrease in Crime and Poverty and Increase in Labor Efficiency.

Reference to the passing of the bar in Ontario was made in the majority of the city churches yesterday, coupled with expressions of thankagiving and admonition in regard to the necessity for continuing vigilance, in order that the victory achieved by the temperance forces may be a permanent one.

Preaching from his own pulpit in the Centennial Methodist Church Sunday evening, Rev. H. T. Ferguson said: "Germany's most zealous militarist has not looked forward to the day of Germany's world empire more ardently than many of the highest minded and most public spirited citizens of this province have looked forward to the day which we are celebrating."

Great Possibilities.

The theme of Mr. Ferguson's sermon was "The Good Hotelkeeper," a continuation of his morning subject, "The Good Samaritan." The good hotelkeeper of the parable, said the preacher, was the man without whom the success of the good Samaritan's humane action, would have been almost impossible. Drawing a lesson from this, he emphasized the splendid possibilities for service to humanity lying before the hotelkeeper since the liquor traffic has been eliminated. It is a profession, he further stated, for the highest minded citizens. Christianity admonishes to hospitality, and hotelkeeping may be hospitality as a profession. The most humanity-loving people might be glad to devote their lives to making a home for the traveling public.

In Memoriam.

Rev. Byron Snell, the new pastor of the Hale Street Methodist Church, had chosen a striking title for his evening sermon yesterday, "General Booze: In Memoriam." The sermon preached on the subject was equally impressive.

After referring to "the demise of General Booze" as an occasion for widespread rejoicing, Mr. Snell gave a brief historical sketch of the temperance movement, showing how temperance legislation has been obtained from time to time. The Ontario temperance act which has just become effective he designated as "the climax of temperance legislation, resulting from overwhelming public sentiment demonstrated by the petitions produced by the Committee of One Hundred."

Great credit was given to Premier Hearst for his firm stand in the crisis, and to Newton W. Rowell for his unequalled service in placing the temperance issue to the forefront of public questions.

"A new era has dawned upon our provincial life," continued Mr. Snell. "An economic and social revolution will follow.

"The pressing need now is efficient enforcement of the law and a general line-up for a permanently dry Ontario.

"General Booze had an agonizing death, the throes of which were heard to the farthest limits of the province and beyond. May his disreputable ashes be buried fathoms deep by the avalanche of ballots on the day when electors vote him forever dead."

National Prohibition.

A general line-up for a permanently dry Ontario was also dwelt upon with much emphasis by Rev. J. D. Richardson of the Empress Avenue Methodist Church when he preached to his own congregation on the text, Psalm 94: 20, "Shall the throne of iniquity have fellowship with thee, which frameth mischief by a law?"

"Our ideal should be national prohibition," he declared, and in connection with this statement, referred to the steps already taken towards this goal, and the pressure which will be brought to bear upon the Dominion Government at the next session.

Concerning the text, he drew attention to its strikingly modern application to the licensed liquor traffic.

"The text referred to a legalized evil, an evil legalized by a king. Neither the nature of the evil nor the name of the king are known.

But the verse might have been written of the liquor traffic, upheld by the law of the land. There is this difference, however, between the condition of the days of old to which the writer referred, and the modern application. A king had legalized the evil commented upon. The law that upholds the liquor traffic has been made by the people.

People To Blame.

The charge of framing mischief by a law has lain at the doors of the nation itself.

"So far as Ontario is concerned," said Mr. Richardson, "7 o'clock Saturday evening marked the passing of the bar, the removal of the iniquity. The liquor traffic is no longer a legalized institution. Public opinion has banished the bar for two years at least. It can only be opened again by a referendum of the people. I sincerely hope the time will never come when the bar will be opened again in Ontario. We believe closing now means permanent closing, because people will see the good results and wish to maintain them. We are encouraged to prophesy this from the experiences in local option communities. Where local option has been tested, the people refuse to go back to the open bar. When local option has come, it has come to stay. I cannot believe that the pendulum will swing back again, as the liquor interests are hoping.

Not Too Advanced.

"I refute the statement sometimes heard in argument against prohibition at this time that the Government has gone in advance of public opinion in passing the law. Public opinion has rapidly crystallized against the bar throughout the Dominion of Canada and Newfoundland, with only the exception of a small area in Quebec, practically the whole of Canada is under prohibition. Our duty is (1) to help to enforce the law, and (2) to continue to educate the young people against the evil. Dominion prohibition must be our ideal."

Askin Street Church Rejoiced.

In Askin Street Methodist Church last evening the service was one of rejoicing for the passing of the bar. In his sermon, Rev. Dr. Dougall explained the steps leading up to the passing of the temperance act just brought into force, and also, most clearly, the law itself. Further, he gave suggestions in regard to what might be done in the way of helping to support the law.

The whole of the service was in keeping with the nature of the occasion, and appropriate music rendered. The music was especially enjoyable, the choir of this church, under the capable leadership of E. W. G. Quantz, having achieved a high degree of artistic merit.

The church is also fortunate in having four soloists of the talent and training of Miss Fetherston, soprano; Miss Fraser, contralto; Mr. Davis, tenor, and Mr. McCulloch, baritone. Miss Fraser and Mr. Davis have recently come from Toronto, where they were favorably known in musical circles.

Optimistic Picture.

Rev. A. J. Thomas of Dundas Centre Methodist Church, preaching on Sunday evening on "A Barless Ontario," drew a most optimistic picture of conditions which he believes will result from the prohibition measure in force.

He stated he felt justified in predicting a decrease in drunkenness, crime and poverty; a stimulating of the business of the province; an increase of efficiency in labor; greater power of industrial production; the safeguarding of physical health; added comfort of the home; the taking away from the youth of the land an open door of temptation into which many have passed to ruin, and lastly, the saving of many from suffering and sorrow.

Every new occasion brings its new duties. The new order in Ontario brings its new duties. Among these duties is a continued temperance campaign to secure the permanency of the law, not only for Ontario, but for the greater Canada.

The new order demands the directing of moral forces against other evils.

Brotherly Spirit.

The new order demands a spirit of brotherliness. The hotelkeeper through the liquor traffic has only gained money for his coffers by his business. On the other hand, he has lost the goodwill of a large section of society. He has to an extent been ostracized. Now that the liquor business has been taken from him, he is engaged in an occupation as honorable as any. It is the duty of every citizen to make him feel this. The same spirit must be shown towards the victim of the traffic. Many have helped him down. Many should stand ready to help him up and put new hope into his heart.

There must be social readjustment and a finding of something to take the place of the social life offered by the liquor traffic.

For the man who has been a victim, temptation has been taken from him and an opportunity is offered to him to develop himself and build up a strong moral character."

Good Results.

"A Dry Ontario; Will It Make Any Difference?" was the question Rev. W. J. Ashton undertook to answer in Wellington Street Methodist Church during his evening sermon.

Mr. Ashton had reason to believe that a dry Ontario would result in much benefit to the province, basing his prediction on the experience of prohibition legislation in Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan. In the course of his sermon he sketched the development of temperance sentiment and legislation in the past decade, and in conclusion warned that the fight is not yet entirely won and that vigilance is still required in order that the war with the liquor traffic may be brought to a conclusion which will mean permanent peace.
