ESTIMATED COST OF WARD SAID TO BE TOO HIGH

Ladies of the General Hospital are Having Troubles of Their Own

The Plans For New Addition Were not Thrown Open for Competition

There will be a meeting of the Ladies' Association of the Public General Hospital during next week, probably Monday afternoon. The meeting is to be held for the purpose of considering what is best to do in connection with reducing the estimated cost of the new Maternity Ward to be added to the institution.

There is considerable discontent felt over the amount of money which is proposed to be spent on the new addition, and it is expected that steps will be taken to remedy this feature before any plans for the work are accepted. Recently a meeting of the Hospital Board was held, at which plans prepared by A. M. Piper, a local architect, were submitted. It seems that there was neglect on the part of some persons to see that the plans for the work were opened to competition, as is the rule invariably followed when the building of public institutions is contemplated.

According to plans recently submitted, the estimates for the work and material in connection with building the new Maternity Ward would cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 or $11,000, while the ladies of the Association had hoped that the building could be erected at a cost of about $7,000 at the very most.

It is not yet too late to rectify the matter, and at the next meeting it is hoped that some explanation will be forthcoming as to why there was no competition asked for. The funds for the erection of the Maternity Ward were contributed by the public, and in the event of a public institution being erected with public funds, it is certainly only fair that the public should know how their money is being spent. Further, the interests of the contributors should be protected by seeing to it that the most possible addition is erected at the least possible cost. To do this, it is obvious that competition must be asked for.

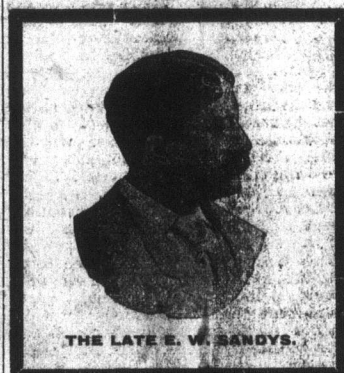

There has been considerable inquiry made lately as to what the Hospital Board were doing about the matter, and it will do much to relieve the present rather complicated state of affairs, if at the next meeting of the Board the plans for the erection of the new building are thrown open to competition, as they should be.

THE FUNERAL TO-MORROW

The Remains of Late Edwin William Sandys Arrive in the City

A SKETCH OF HIS LIFE

The news of Mr. Sandys' death, which arrived last Thursday, was quite unexpected by his friends here, although it was known that he had been for some weeks laid up with a severe rheumatic attack. The deceased had been living with relatives in 132nd street, New York, (since the severance of his editorial connection with Outing Magazine, with which he had been connected during many years), and had devoted himself to special writing, and the several volumes recently published by Macmillan, which have been so popular with sportsmen, young and old.

THE LATE E. W. SANDYS.

Mr. Sandys began writing in Chatham, took his first editorial position with the "Canada Sportsman," in Toronto, and then, went to Montreal as special correspondent for the G. E. L., where his sportsmanlike qualities and skill in many athletic accomplishments soon won him fame and popularity. During his efforts the young man was met by could not resist, and he took up his abode in New York, where he became speedily known and appreciated, both for his able work with the pen and pencil, and his many ingratiating qualities of mind and person. He won the American pool championship at the Harlem Club, some years ago.

Mr. Sandys was born on June 9, 1860, on a morning of notable weather, a sudden heavy fall of snow occurring on that day. He was educated at the Chatham Grammar School, and several of his old classmates will perform the sad duty of bearing his remains to the grave. Of unusual height and splendid carriage he was one of the handsomest young men who ever grew up in this city; a thorough sportsman, loving nature in all her moods and knowing her intimately. Birds and their ways, animals and their habits, were many lives, in accidents by water, but always was averse to public acknowledgment. He bade farewell to earth at an age which, to a man of his physique, was the prime of life, and leaves a sorrowing mother, two sisters and a host of friends to mourn his decease. His remains were forwarded by the Wabash train on Friday night, after a funeral service at his cousin, Miss Steers' home in New York, and his funeral takes place to-morrow from his mother's residence on Stanley Avenue, (his birthplace, 46 years ago), to the family burying plot in Maple Leaf Cemetery.

"A proper man—moulded on generous lines. As though the Maker took some pride in making. A noble soul, released from straightened bonds. Fled freely forth, with no prolonged tarrying—Oh, thou he loved, and sought and knew the best. Kind Mother Nature, take him to thy breast."

DIED—At 235 West 132nd street, New York, on the morning of October 24, 1906, Edwin William Sandys, second son of the late Ven. Archdeacon Sandys, Chatham, aged 46 years.

On account of the delay of the train bearing the remains in arriving this afternoon, the funeral of the late Ed. Sandys has been postponed till to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock.

Births, Marriages and Deaths DIED.

SANDYS—On Oct. 24, at 235 West 132 Street, New York, the home of his cousin, Miss Steers, Edwin William Sandys, second son of the late Ven. Archdeacon Sandys, aged 46.

CAPT. DAVIDSON MAY ERECT SUGAR FACTORY IN CHATHAM

Oliver Bailey who Represents one of the Davidson Sugar Factories, Speaks.

Mr. Davidson Has Said That Chatham Is the Only Place for His New Sugar Branch

There has been considerable talk lately about Capt. Davidson erecting a sugar factory in or near to this city. With the object of finding out what there was to the rumors, Oliver Bailey, who is representing the Mt. Vernon factory for Mr. Davidson in this district.

Mr. Bailey was found at the Garfield House.

"Want chances do I think there are of Capt. Davidson locating a factory in this city?" he replied to the reporter's query. "Why from the general indications I should say that there is every chance in the world. It would certainly pay him to locate here, and everything looks as though he intended to."

"I have already bought up 125,000 tons of beet for the Davidson factory in this section, and it is pretty sure guessing that these beets are going to be turned into sugar on this side of the line. The fact is, in order to manufacture them, a Canadian factory do you think it is a possibility that he will erect it in Chatham?"

"I can only answer you by what I heard Mr. Davidson say himself, and that was that Chatham was the only place for a new factory," replied Mr. Bailey.

Borden Answers Aylesworth on the School Question

Kincardine, Oct. 27.—R. L. Borden was the chief speaker at a great conservative rally in the opera house last night. The speaker was met by a large and the utmost enthusiasm was evinced. Mr. Borden was given a splendid reception.

Col. Hugh Clark, M. P. for North Bruce, also spoke. Mr. Loomer, B. C. was chairman, and also on the platform were Mayor Temple and Rev. Mr. Ryan and Miles.

Col. Clark spoke of the record of the Government as one of a series of financially interrupted broken promises. They had promised economy, but they only instance outstanding of economy was that of Hon. Clifford Sifton, who had been out of his small salary as Minister of the Interior, had been able to save a million dollars. (Laughter.)

Bribery, fraud and retail had been experienced. Whenever there was an election on the Government was discovered that there was a fish hatchery at Wabash.

The hatchery was a good thing, but its introduction at this time was vulgar and unwelcome.

Hon. Mr. Borden's appearance at this point in the company of the anti-conservative, inspecting what he called many years ago previously when he was a cheap and nasty politician.

Mr. Borden dealt with the problem of the school question, and the candidate which had alarmed the conservative. He had charged the Government to place a finger upon one of the things which had been conducive to the present prosperity. Had Sir Lomewrought about the power of the school in Great Britain, in Germany or the United States?

The School Question.

Taking up the school question, Mr. Borden said he had not been taught by the master. Hon. Aylesworth had, however, taken it up, and to repeat the fact that he was not a Conservative. He held that it was not justice or wisdom to force upon the millions of the great West a tax of millions that had been entered into many years ago previously when the population was only about 500. He said that the solution of the matter was the free school. He was not opposed to a separate school.

The funeral of the late Sandys will take place at 2 P. M. to-morrow from his mother's residence, Stanley Ave.

CHATHAM GIRL IN ACCIDENT

Miss McCallum Of This City Goes Through A Very Thrilling Experience

AN AUTO WAS WRECKED

Ingersoll, Oct. 27.—Mr. and Mrs. George Walker and family had a narrow escape from serious if not fatal injuries on Wednesday night, as a result of their automobile being ditched. They were making a run to the country, when, in attempting to pass a horse and buggy, the machine slipped and they were carried into the ditch. The auto was completely overturned and one of the children was thrown through a wire fence. For a couple of minutes the wheels of the auto revolved in the air. Mr. Walker had his foot slightly injured, but aside from this nothing serious resulted.

When the accident happened Mr. Walker had just tooted the horn of the machine, and probably on account of a misunderstanding he was not given as much right of way as was necessary and when the machine was found to be nearly into the ditch it was too late to check its progress.

After about three hours' strenuous work the auto was removed from the ditch.

Miss McCallum, of this city, was an occupant of the rig mentioned above. The auto referred to tried to pass. Miss McCallum fortunately was not injured, but she has no desire to pass through a similar experience.

Seats for their presentation at the Prince Opera House went on a to-day and are being taken up quickly. A large audience is assured.

NIAGARA POWER.

The finance committee of the Windsor Council is in correspondence with the hydro-electric commission of the Government in regard to bringing Niagara power to Windsor.

Two schemes are being considered, one to secure just enough power to meet the demands of the city, the other to secure power for Windsor, Walkerville and Sandwich, making Windsor a distributing centre.

Not much thought has been given to Niagara power, as it would assume that Windsor was too far away to get it at a reasonable cost, but it would appear from the data already obtained that it can be supplied there at about one-half its present cost, which is 45 per horsepower.

It is believed that Niagara power there would be the cause of an industrial boom, as many American manufacturers bringing goods across the river would establish branch factories there.

If Niagara power can be profitably transferred to Windsor, there should be something ahead for Chatham. It has evidently been figured out that electric power from Niagara Falls can be delivered at Windsor, cheaply enough to warrant its general use. If this is the case, Chatham, being nearer to Niagara than Windsor, would be able to secure the power even cheaper than it would be sold at Windsor.

The matter is at least worth considering. With Natural Gas and Electric Power delivered at our doors, this city would be able to stand alone among the cities of the province as a desirable location for industries. There is room for some figuring on the part of the Chatham aldermen.

EXPOSED FOOD.

The following from the Montreal Gazette, has a local bearing. Especially as at this season of the year there is a great deal of fruit exposed on the principal streets here: "By a new regulation of the Provincial Board of Health, where food is publicly exposed for advertising purposes, it is required that it shall be protected against dust and dirt, and must be elevated at least two feet from the ground. It is not necessary to say anything in commendation of such a provision. It is in a way a cause for wonder that it should be necessary. The custom of leaving fruit and vegetables exposed on the sidewalk is attended with incidents that are disgusting and calculated to repel purchasers. Street dust, also, carries with it so many germs that what it falls on in quantity may readily be made the means of conveying disease into the human system. Those vendors who have been in the habit of sunning either from thoughtlessness or carelessness would do well to make a note of the new order."

It is too bad how Sir Wilfrid is always being misunderstood. Here are the British papers pitching into him for saying all Canadians are Home Rulers, when the Toronto Globe can prove that when he spoke the premier did not use capital letters on those fateful words.—Ottawa Citizen.

The trouble between the Babine Indians of British Columbia and the fisheries authorities over the removal of weirs set to catch salmon on the Babine river will be ventilated before the Minister of Marine and Fisheries shortly. Chief George, of the tribe interested, is going to Ottawa to make an appeal on behalf of his people.

The St. Thomas Journal, compelled by the logic of events to recognize the existence of corruption in the late Hymen election in London, makes the guarded admission:

It is to be regretted that there is an element in London guilty of such work as would appear to have been employed to elect Mr. Hymen. Surely the Minister of Public Works won't visit his sore displeasure upon an organ that has been forced much against its will to make this concession to the public demand for decency and purity in elections.—Ottawa Citizen.

From The Planet files from Aug. 31, 1865, to Sept. 7, 1865.

"Getting Better—The man James Gore, who was thrown from the Iron-aden a few days ago and, it was feared, sustained fatal injuries, is, we are informed, recovering rapidly. It has since been ascertained that his jaw was broken by the fall."

"The quantity of oil shipped from Bothwell station during the week ending August 12, was 580 barrels; the quantity shipped during the week ending August 19, was 745 barrels, with six carloads awaiting shipment."

Mr. Donald McInnes, of Hamilton, and Mr. Charles Hunt, of London, directors of the G. W. R., paid a visit to Bothwell. The G. W. R. was considering the matter of erecting a commodious passenger station at Bothwell, according to current report.

The regular meeting of the Town Council took place. Those present were Mayor Stephenson, and Councillors Forsyth, Dolsen, Evans, Smith, Holmes and McDonald. A communication was read from Wm. J. Taylor complaining that the bridge tender was not properly attending to his duty at swinging the bridge.

The London Times editorially expatiated on the advantages, if not necessity, of a free trade policy between Canada and the United States.

A herd of six caribou imported from Canada by a wealthy New Yorker were taxed by the United customs officer at Marquette, Mich., who held that they were not entitled, as claimed, to free entry as "wild animals intended for exhibition in zoological collections for scientific and educational purposes, and not for sale or profit." The New York Zoological Society took up the case, claiming that as the animals were imported for breeding purposes with the object of perpetuating the species they should be admitted free of duty. The treasury department at Washington, however, upheld the decision of the collector of customs at Marquette, and the duty had to be paid.

FOUR DEAD IN FIRE

FOUR DEAD IN FIRE.

Many Others Missing as Result of Fire at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 26.—Four persons are known to be dead, eight others are missing, two are fatally injured and fifty are suffering from burns as the result of a fire which destroyed the Chamber of Commerce building in Kansas City early yesterday.

A single body has been recovered from the ruins, that of D. R. Young. It is known that Charles A. Lynch, a laborer, and the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sparks, are dead, but their bodies have not been recovered. J. F. Ebraham, wagon maker, died at a hospital yesterday.

It is thought that the total dead will be about ten.

Saves Daughter From Death. Kingston, Oct. 26.—The Lakeview Hotel, at Portsmouth, was burned yesterday morning, due to gas in the kitchen igniting. Nothing was saved. The loss is $4,000; partly insured. A five-year-old daughter of W. B. Westlake, proprietor, was carried out by her father or after she was overcome by smoke and had fallen to the floor.

Guests Barely Escape. River Du Loup Wharf, Que., Oct. 26.—Fire broke out at about one o'clock yesterday morning in the Sanatorium Hotel, at River Du Loup Wharf, owned by J. B. E. Frenette, and quickly spread to the Hotel Venise, owned and occupied by Mrs. Puzze.

The Hotel Venise and G. N. W. Telegraph office, which was therein, were completely destroyed. The stables and outhouses were also reduced to ashes. The inmates of the Hotel Venise had barely time to escape in their night clothes. The fire is said to have been caused by the explosion of a lamp in the Sanatorium.

Totally Destroyed. Canora, Sask., Oct. 26.—The new Imperial Hotel was burned down at four o'clock yesterday morning. The cause is unknown. The loss is $12,000, with no insurance.

"We regret deeply to have to announce the unexpected demise of Benjamin F. Barfoot, Esq., for fifteen years—and until a few days ago—the efficient and respected postmaster of the town. His illness was of short duration—about two days we are told. The deceased was born in London, England, and emigrated to Canada in 1836, since which period he has either lived in Chatham or its immediate vicinity. His age was 58 years. Mr. Barfoot was a painstaking and accommodating official, and an enterprising and highly esteemed citizen. Thus one by one the old landmarks of this section of Canada are being removed. His death occurred about four o'clock this (Wednesday) afternoon, the thirtieth day of August, at his residence on Fifth street."

WHEN THINGS ARE COMFORTABLE.

When the price of stocks goes tumbling
And from Wall street comes a cry
From the lambs who have been slaughtered
And whose cash is more than shy
You can smile and say you wonder
If the weather will be fair,
If you were not in the market
When the price went in the air.

It is easy to be jolly,
In philosophy to dip,
When you hear about a shipwreck
If you do not own a ship.
You can carry loads of trouble
Without feeling mad or sore
If you haven't any money
Of the gentleman next door.

Oh, you do not mind the weather,
Though it is a rainy day,
If you have a good umbrella
And a mackintosh as well.
Furber boots on your toes
And good mittens on your mitts,
Then you do not care a cookie
If the blamed thing never quits.

You can stand it very nicely
In the wild financial crash,
When the banker skips to Europe
And his old bank goes to smash;
With complacency unshaken
The performance you can see
If you haven't any money
In the bank that used to be.

Doesn't Burn It That Way.
"I thought you said that man is deeply in debt. Why, he has money to burn."
"He is in debt."
"Then why doesn't he pay up?"
"Then he wouldn't have money to burn."

Couldn't.
"There, you pay your money and you take your choice."
"No, I don't."
"Why?"
"Because it isn't here."

Couldn't Drown Him.
"I feel safe to go out on the lake with Charley."
"Is he a good sailor?"
"No, but father says he was born to be hanged."

"He is the champion watermelon eater of the state."
"Does he get any medal for that?"
"No; just the stomach ache."

The Modern Anthem.
It is hurry, hurry, hurry,
In the morning, noon and night;
Human atoms dart and scurry
Up and down in rapid flight.

Hurry lest some get the better
Of you in the daily grind;
Hurry lest some other fretter
Find that he has changed his mind.

This might leave you badly stranded
At the ebbing of the tide
Just when you had thought you'd landed High and dry your prize beside.

So it's hurry, hurry, hurry,
Night and morning and at noon;
Human atoms dart and scurry,
Resting not 'neath sun or moon.

Progressive Platform of Dr. Weldon, Conservative Candidate in Queen's-Sheburne—Text of His Manifesto.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 26.—Dr. Weldon, Conservative candidate in Queen's and Sheburne, has issued a manifesto as follows:

"Gentlemen,—Having accepted the nomination of the Liberal-Conservative of your constituency as candidate for the election to be held on Oct. 31, I beg leave to ask the support of all who are in sympathy with the views herein set forth, and who believe that, in the event of victory we will do our best to keep our word.

"I regret that the Government has allowed so few days to hear the candidates and their friends discuss the momentous issues which are before us. It will be impossible for me in the short time allowed to meet personally any considerable part of the electors, but we shall hold as many meetings and see as many of the electors as possible.

"If elected I will use my influence in Parliament to secure clean elections and thereby lessen the influence of unscrupulous corporations; lighten the burdens of the common people; check the shameful waste of the people's money; drive out of the public service the many thieves whom the Laurier Government has allowed to fatten at our expense; help our fishermen to secure better markets; bring into the western provinces immigrants where needed; amend the life insurance laws and ensure safer policies and lower premiums; and secure the repeal of the Indemnity Act of 1905."

The Art of Adjusting a Hat—Dressing Hints—Pompador Silks.

In putting on a hat or taking one off it should never be grasped by the front or back brim so that all the weight is suspended from a single point, for this is likely to make the brim sag. Instead the headgear should be lifted with the finger tips placed on either side of a hat and as lightly as possible to hold it firmly.

When making a coat and skirt of a whole dress the bodice should not be cut out first. The skirt takes the long lengths and there is usually more or less left from the widths to help in cutting out the fronts of the bodice and even sometimes the whole back may be secured out of the waste widths.

Paris is sending over quantities of pompador silks and is insisting upon their being used for Louis coats and slips under mouseline and chiffon evening frocks.

BLACK FELT TOQUE.

They are elaborately trimmed with jet and handsome black ostrich plumes and ostrys.

White felts hats are made up with brown velvet and wings, and another stunning combination is a stiff white felt simply swathed with plaid silk.

Black materials are especially attractive this season. In the thin fabric stripes figure as a smart design. In crpe or chiffon they show alternate lines of satin and velvet.

The newest thing in separate coats are the woolen plaid ulsters made with full capuchin hoods. This hood is lined with satin matching the ground work of the plaid. The fronts are loose and double breasted, fastened with large metal buttons. The back has a center bias seam so curved as to suggest an empire waist line. The skirt is full and of three-quarter length. The sleeves are full leg of mutton affairs.

The toque illustrated is of black felt. A smart jet buckle holds the folds in place, and an elegant green ostrich plume is the only other trimming.

NOT READY FOR TRIAL.

Inquiry into the Ontario Bank Affair Won't Go on To-Day.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—General Manager Charles McGill and President G. R. R. Cockburn will appear in the Police Court this morning, but the trial will not be proceeded with. The curator has not yet been able to complete the necessary statements. Crown Attorney Corley notified the out-of-town witnesses they would not be required until later.

ONE OF THE SADDEST STORIES.

First it was a cold, neglected, and cough and asthma developed. Nothing was done and consumption followed. Watch the little cold, keep it from growing by using Catarrhose. Nothing simpler than inhaling the germ-killing vapor of this grand remedy. Colds and catarrh flee as before fire. Every trace of throat and bronchial trouble yields immediately. Catarrhose is scientific and absolutely guaranteed for preventing and curing catarrh and kindred ills. Two sizes, 25c. and $1 at all dealers.

Police Fire on Strikers.

Newcastle, Pa., Oct. 26.—Three strikers were wounded, two perhaps fatally, in a riot yesterday afternoon, following a strike of trestlemen at the four local Carnegie Co. steel furnaces. While a body of strikers attempted to stop operations at the Red Jacket furnace by stoning the workers and the Carnegie police, the officers fired a volley from their revolvers and three of the strikers fell, the others running to cover. The wounded are foreigners.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

SELECT YOUR MEDICINE WITH CARE.

In debility and weakness medicine should be mild and far reaching. Many pills and purgatives are too harsh, are drastic instead of curative. Excessive action is always followed by depression, and knowing this, Dr. Hamilton devised his pills of Mandrake & Butternut so as to mildly increase liver and kidney activity, flush out the elementary canal, tone and regulate the bowels. Thus do Dr. Hamilton's Pills eliminate poisons from the body, restore clearness to the skin, bring strength and that sweet restorer of health—sleep. Best medicine on earth, 25c. per box at all dealers.

GIANT MAGNETS.

The Operation of Lifting Monster Loads With Them.

The peculiar properties of an electric current often lead one to fancy that it may perchance be endowed with the spirit of intelligence, so mysterious are its inner workings.

A most curious use of electricity is the adoption of lifting magnets in machine shop and mill practice. An electro magnet in its simplest form consists of a piece of soft iron wound with a large number of turns of insulated copper wire. When an electric current passes through the windings of wire the electric forces are converted into magnetic forces and the coil of wire and core of soft iron assume all the characteristics of a common steel magnet.

The operation of lifting magnets is quite simple. The magnet is attached to the crane hook, and the ends of the wire forming the coil are connected directly with the dynamo. The crane is then swung so that the magnet is suspended directly over the metal to be removed. The magnet is then lowered until it comes in contact with the object, the current is turned on, the hoist is raised and the mass of metal to be moved clings to the magnet.

When the load reaches the desired point it may be dropped without first lowering the magnet or it may be lowered, the current shut off and the material deposited gently. The crane operator needs no help to load or unload, and the work can be done in half the time with a saving of from three to four men.

No Sleep For The Kidneys.

Old people are especially liable to kidney and bladder irritation. The organs are weakened by age. This starts up inflammation—blood is not properly purified as it goes to the kidneys—and the bladder is unable to retain the urine properly. There is a constant desire to urinate day and night—and sound, restful sleep is unknown.

Don't Be Touchy.

There are some people always looking out for slights. They cannot pay a visit, they cannot receive a friend, they cannot carry on the intercourse of the family without suspecting some offense is designed. They are terribly touchy. If they meet an acquaintance in the street who happens to be preoccupied with business they attribute his abstraction to some motive personal to themselves and take umbrage accordingly. They lay on others the fault of their irritability. A fit of indigestion makes them see impertinences in everybody they come in contact with. Innocent persons who never dreamed of giving offense are astonished to find some unfortunate word or some momentary tactlessness mistaken for insult. Of course, such a mental condition is due to too much thinking about self and to an exaggerated self esteem, even though unconscious. The best remedy is to persistently put thoughts of self out of mind. Find something more absorbing and more elevating to think about if you are one of the touchy ones and you'll soon lose the habit.

Secretary Macaulay Suggests That British System Be Introduced

INSURANCE COMMISSION

Montreal, Oct. 26.—The examination of the Sun Life was concluded yesterday afternoon here by the insurance commission. To-day the last company to figure in the proceedings in Montreal, the Royal Victoria, will come up.

Dominion Counsel Shepley said that to-day would finish the work of the commission in this city.

The commission next to conclude necessary preliminaries before making up their report to Parliament.

The last session of the Sun Life examination was interesting, as showing the actual methods of that company, which differ materially from those of other companies in Canada. It was marked by a vigorous protest from T. B. Macaulay, secretary of the commission, against the form issued by the commission to ascertain profit and loss to insurance companies.

Witness insisted that loading was not the only item to be charged against the expense of new business, but that lapse gains and other natural sources should be shown. Mr. Macaulay was one of the few witnesses yet heard by the commission to say that he was in favor of strict legislation against rebating. The law was necessary, he said, by exposures of the prevalence of the evil, as everybody will now ask for rebate.

He also protested against the law requiring insurance companies to keep up a very high standard of reserve, and suggested something more like the British system, where companies are left more or less to their own initiative.

Mr. Shepley questioned the Sun Life secretary as to salaries in the company. For president and secretary $1,000 increase each year since 1902. Next year the president will be getting $20,000 and the secretary $15,000. At the conclusion of the examination by Mr. Shepley, A.M. Geary of Toronto, junior counsel for Ontario, took the stand and made several technical points in the evidence.

Deferred Policies. The interests of policyholders in connection with deferred policies was the matter under discussion in the morning.

It was in 1896 that policies deferring for stock began to be shown. Mr. Macaulay said that there was nothing wrong, or immoral or objectionable in the system. He maintained that though never have been so but for the fact that the companies have this system of insurance. The popularizing features of the scheme were that investments for the future were made far more permanent. The mortality, after five years, was marvellously low. Yet there were cases of deceit. People had been squeezed through by the help of the doctors. In the earlier years the death rate was abnormally low. The feature in favor of deferred dividends was of persons hanging on to their policies. It made insurance more permanent.

Mr. Macaulay, in answer to the query that he appealed to the speculative interest, said he would not call it speculative.

A MANAGER RESIGNS

P. Marshall Ostrom Writes to the Insurance Commission and Retires From the Field.

Winnipeg, Oct. 26.—Announcement was made here that P. Marshall Ostrom, of Toronto managing director of the Monarch Life Insurance Co. had resigned. His resignation is the direct outcome of insurance investigations. Mr. Ostrom has sent the following communication to the insurance commission, which holds all stock that had been issued to him by Acting Vice-President Dr. Graham, which action caused so much comment before the commission:

"I desire to advise you that since testifying before your commission I have arranged with the executive of the Monarch Life Insurance Co. to resign. My resignation is the direct outcome of insurance investigations. Mr. Ostrom has sent the following communication to the insurance commission, which holds all stock that had been issued to him by Acting Vice-President Dr. Graham, which action caused so much comment before the commission:

O'MEARA ARRESTED.

Was in Company With Tom Lewis—Perjury Charge Against Him.

Toronto, Oct. 26.—John O'Meara, who is wanted in Toronto in connection with the bribery investigation, was arrested in London yesterday afternoon by Detective Wallace of Brantford.

Wallace was walking alone on the street when he saw O'Meara with Tom Lewis. He knew him, as he arrested him in Brantford for impersonating a voter at the Hey-Henry election some years ago. Wallace positively identified O'Meara.

The prisoner was taken to the police station and handed over to Detective Burnham. He will be brought to Toronto this morning by Detective Newton.

Major Beattie will come to Toronto to identify O'Meara in the police court. Another man, Joseph Pigott, who saw the prisoner in the police station in Brantford, will also be asked to identify him.

The charge is perjury, and Mr. DuVernet will assist in the prosecution. It will be remembered that on Monday O'Meara, who had been arrested in London on Saturday as a material witness, swore positively that he was not the O'Meara who took part in the Brantford election. He protested in strong language against the treatment accorded "an innocent man," and so stoutly did he deny all accusations that the crown let him go, apologizing for having made a mistake.

LORD ELGIN CONSIDERS.

Representation Concerning Labor Immigration to Canada.

London, Oct. 26.—W. L. Mackenzie King had a lengthy interview with Lord Elgin as to the possibility of introducing legislation on the subject of false representation to induce or deter immigration to Canada.

It has been the subject of a conference between the Home and Colonial Offices. It is understood the matter is being further considered by the Cabinet, and Mr. King is to have another interview with Lord Elgin, when it is expected the intentions of the Government will be made known.

Mr. King had an interview with Hon. John Burns and Hon. Sydney Buxton. The latter, who was the author of the fair wages resolution in the Commons, asked Mr. King to forward to him consideration copies of the regulations and fair wages schedules as adopted by the Canadian Government.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from nervous exhaustion, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they are all alike to themselves and to the doctor, and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, prescribe and administer to them, for which he is paid, a host of pills and powders. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort in the most straggled misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by a scientific and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless, and its effects in any condition of the system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs directly involved in particular. For overworked teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequalled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

INTERNATIONAL S. S. LESSON FOR TO-MORROW.

Jesus Anointed in Bethany.—Matt. 26, 6-16. Read John 12, 1-11.

Our Lord was an honored guest in the home of one Simon who had been healed of leprosy. Mary and Martha, whose brother, Lazarus, Jesus had raised from the dead, were both there with their brother. Martha was as busy as ever with her work, serving—John 12, 2—while Mary's heart overflowing with love was planning a surprise. She had with her an alabaster cruet of very precious, fragrant ointment, which she suddenly broke and poured its contents over the head and feet of her beloved Lord, who called back from death her beloved brother, and who, by the grace of God, was himself about to taste death for every man. Simon's house, once full of leprosy, was now filled with the rich perfume of a loving heart could devise. Judas, the treasurer and embezzler, protected in holy horror at wasting $45 to $50 worth of this precious fluid on the person of Jesus Christ, the Son of the Living God, who was about to pour out his precious blood for the sins of the world. The covetousness of Judas was so cloaked with pretended love of the poor, that the judgment of our Lord's disciples condemned Mary's act of love and worship as waste. There is more here than all appreciate, and that is to be appreciated, and Mary had the appreciation of Jesus Christ, who told the company that wherever the gospel was preached in the whole world, this fragrant act of a loving woman would be also spoken of as a memorial of her.

Contrast the two characters—Mary filled with the love of Christ, Judas filled with the love of money. Which love abounds most in the world, and which has our affection? Do you best how cold and feeble is our love to Him, whom we know more about than any guest at Simon's feast knew.

Disappointed, money-binded Judas hounded away at our Lord's rebuke, to betray and sell Him much cheaper than the price of Mary's precious ointment. Mary's act of worship and adoration brings out the traitor's heart.

Talk on Mammoth Cave Given to The Modelites

Rev. A. H. MacGillivray Gives a very Instructive Talk to the Model Class - The Weekly Literary Evening - Good Program

The weekly meeting of the Model School Literary Society was held Friday afternoon. A most interesting and profitable time was spent. After usual routine of business was over the Rev. A. H. MacGillivray gave a most instructive talk on the "Mammoth Cave of Kentucky." During the afternoon solos were rendered by Miss E. D. Carter and Mr. J. D. McAlpine, both modelites.

Rev. Mr. MacGillivray told how this cave was a huge and wonderful work of nature and man, for he has literally honey-combed it through with avenues. From the rock it appeared as if it had been the bed of a river thousands of years ago, with here and there streams of water dropping from the dome. It was discovered about 100 years ago by a hunter who was tracking a wounded bear, and followed it into the opening of the cave, thus beginning its exploration. It contains as many avenues as there are streets in Chatham, and are much more intricate. The party to which the speaker was attached left the Plantation House on the top of the mound at one p. m. and returned at six p. m. The opening of the cave, which was about 200 yards from the summit, was 30 feet high by 40 feet wide. The current of wind at the entrance was so strong as to make it difficult to keep the torches lit. The temperature was about 50 degrees. It would be impossible for a stranger, when he gets any distance inside, to retrace his steps without the aid of a guide. The first dome was called "Gratto." The first avenue was about three-quarters of a mile long with a dome, the arch of which was 60 feet high, and yet 600 feet below the ground. Here they were directly under the Plantation House, from which they started. Then they came to the "Andrian Avenue," so named on account of the large number of bats, etc., there; where they saw numerous water pipes, and found that from here water was supplied for the manufacture of gun powder, which was used during the war of 1812. They next came to a flat rock platform, where once Booth, the actor, gave an address. From this it got its name Booth's Amphitheatre. Within the next dome were three stone figures representing a minister, bride and groom. This was called the "Bridal Altar." Here twelve couples had been married. It is said that in one case the mother of a young lady objected to her daughter's betrothal, so the dutiful daughter promised she would not marry any man who stood above ground; but they eloped and were married in the cave at the "Bridal Altar," so fulfilling her own desire and also keeping her promise. The party next descended through a narrow passage and a very steep slope to a level 60 feet below. This was called the "Hill of Difficulty." In another dome below lay the Ganta Coffin stone, 45 feet long, 12 feet wide and 18 feet high, raised on a pedestal, and although a stream of water supposed to weigh a ton was continuously dropping on it, it appeared totally unaffected by it. Next came the Star Chamber, a huge auditorium covering more ground than does the Central school, Harrison Hall and the First Presbyterian church together. From this Emerson got his inspiration for his "Fiducians." All torches were extinguished, leaving them in complete darkness. The guide lit a torch again behind a rock, causing a magnificent scene. It looked like the sky dotted with thousands of brilliant stars, and by moving the light, giving an effect of clouds, suns and sunsets. Next they entered a winding road from the Star Chamber to the next opening. This passage was only about 18 inches wide and 5 feet high, and led into a dome called "Great Relief." They next walked half a mile to what is known as River Hall, through a symmetrical passage way which led to the "Echo River," which takes its rise no one knows where, and flows no one knows whither. This symmetrical passage way did not give back a distinct echo, but a melodious prolongation of sound, from ten to thirty minutes after the original impulse. The tunnel has a certain ring note of its own, which when firmly struck excites harmonies with tones of incredible depth and sweetness, the lowest of them reminding one of the profound undertone heard in the tremendous music of Niagara. The guide struck the stillness was like the ringing of myriads of tiny silver bells. Then it was as if all the chimes of all the cathedrals had conspired to raise a tempest of sweet sounds, which died away to a whisper, followed by noises of an angry multitude, mingled with unearthly shrieks. Again came back like gentle memories, the alarming bells, the chiming cathedral bells, until River Hall resounded again with that wondrous matchless harmony.

MARY AND HER LAMB

No. 6

Said Mary to her little Lamb:
"The autumn days are bright,
Yet I am feeling very blue—
I'm sure I'm just a fright."

P. S.—"Surething!" rejoined the lamb with that smiling complacency which always characterized him. He gave his green tail a shake. It was dyed with Ecipice dyes—2 packages for 50c at Radley's.
"What you need, Mary, is a bottle of Radley's Female Tonic. It costs only 50c and will do you 50c worth of good."

THE ELKS' BALL.

To say that Thursday night's At Home was the most successful entertainment which the local Elk Club have been so gracious as to afford us, would seem rather a large remark; but they were so ably assisted by the clearing weather, the jolly comfort of their spacious rooms, the music and the good humor of the unusually large number of guests themselves that no other result could be expected. Half-past eight discovered the reception rooms the centre of laughter, chatter, and the all important program filling in merry progress. On ascending to the ball room the floor was found to be in condition to satisfy the most exacting foot, and in combination with the splendid music, supplied by Finzel's popular orchestra, well nigh irresistible. The opening dances gave opportunity to display the beauty of the dresses, many of which were worn for the first time. Among the more elaborate were noticed an exquisite creation of white lace, in which Mrs. Montgomery looked lovely; Miss McKay, a guest with Mrs. Mills, in a graceful frock of white embroidered net, a beautiful white lace robe graced by Mrs. Jas. Fleming, Mrs. G. W. Sulman in a handsome black silk velvet princess gown, relieved by white lace and pink roses, Mrs. Currie, of Windsor, in heliotrope satin, a charming frock of white acordion pleated chiffon in which Miss Meta Wilson looked very sweet; the Misses Queenie Taylor, Jessie Wilson and Mary Shannon, three of this season's young debutantes, in white satin, yellow silk and white chiffon, Miss Jessie Gemmill in pink duchesse satin, Miss McLeod, Georgetown, in white satin strapped net, Miss Alice Greening in pale green crepe de chene with insertions of white lace, Mrs. J. W.

Wilson in a becoming pale yellow silk, Miss Stephenson in white.

As had been predicted, there were many of our guests, of whom were, Miss Kate Campbell, of Woodstock, in pale green; Mrs. Drury, of Winnipeg, saffron silk and lace; Miss Currie, of Windsor, white frock; Mrs. W. E. Campbell, of Detroit, in white; Miss Geraldine Stephenson, of Winnipeg, in pale green; Miss Evelyn Jarvis, Galt, in white net; Miss Beatrice Wall, Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Neil Watson, of Mull, Mrs. Watson in pale blue silk on princess; Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, of Wallaceburg; Messrs. Williams, Toronto; Currie, Windsor; Shaw and McGrail, Wallaceburg. Others who were there—Mrs. Matchew Wilson, Mrs. Weatherpoon, Mrs. T. K. Mr. Beers in his new sphere is demonstrating the highest fame of actors art, the glare of the lime light, use of make-up, or the make up box do not enter into this, the proud of donation. All hatched methods are discarded, the art of relying solely on his mimetic powers, ability of differentiating the characters he impersonate and his superb skill in pantomime, all of which gives to his performances a realism that renders his characters at once visible and life-like. Herein lies the great charm of Mr. Beers' impersonations. Mr.

A COLORED HERO

Gave Life in Vain Effort to Save Aged
Captain of Skagit.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 27.—The steamer Salvor returned last evening from the scene of the Skagit wreck, reporting the barkentine rapidly breaking up,
and landing here the eight survivors of the disaster—E. Lankow, first mate;
J. Schiell, second mate; O. Kruger, Dan Dovan, H. Johnson, John Weston, T. Sullivan and T. Silose.

All had a hard fight for life and are badly cut and bruised. The colored cook, Fete, is admitted the hero of the occasion, giving his life in a vain attempt to save Capt. Rosewell, who was advanced in years. His body was recovered and brought by the Salvor for burial here.

LACK OF ENERGY

A Common Trouble Among Growing Boys—A New Blood Supply is Needed—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Actually Make
New Blood.

There are thousands of young men just approaching manhood who have no energy, who tire out at the least exertion, and who feel by the time they have done their day's work as though the day was a week long. In some of these cases there is a further sign of warning in the pimples and disgusting eruptions which break out on the face. These are certain signs that the blood is out of order, and unless it is promptly enriched a complete breakdown or perhaps consumption may be the result.

All these young men should take Dr.
Williams' Pink Pills. These pills actually make rich, red blood, clear the skin of pimples and eruptions, and bring health, strength and energy.

Here is a bit of proof. Adolphus Roland, St. Jerome, Que., is a young man of 29 years, who says: "For more than a year I suffered from general weakness, and I gradually grew so weak that I was forced to abandon my work as a clerk. My appetite failed me, I had occasional vi-dual headaches, and I began to suffer from indigestion. I was failing so rapidly that I began to fear that consumption was fastening itself upon me. Our family doctor treated me, but I did not gain under his care. I was in a very discouraged state when a friend from Montreal came to see me. He strongly advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so and inside of three weeks I began to feel better, my appetite began to improve and I accomed to have a feeling of new courage.

I continued the pills until I had taken ten boxes and I am now enjoying the best health I ever had.
My cure surprised many of my friends, who began to regard me as incurable, and I strongly advise other young men who are weak to follow my example and give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial."

There is no mystery about the cures Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make.
These pills actually make rich, red blood, which braces and strengthens every organ and every nerve in the body. That is why these pills cure all common ailments, like anaemia,
rheumatism, indigestion, neuralgia,
St. Vitus dance, headaches and backaches, and the special ailments of women and growing girls. You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

LAW OF CAUSE AND EFFECT
WORKS HERE.

NO WORTHY EFFORT WASTED

By Faith Sower of the Seed Sows His Future Harvest—So May Men and Women Who Work to Win Souls for Christ and Right Living—Reward of the Kindly Effort Is Sure and Certain.

Entered according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1906, by Frederick Diver, Toronto, at the Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 21.—In this sermon, using the familiar type of the seed sower, the preacher shows that no worthy effort at winning men and women from sin is ever wasted, but is rewarded by a spiritual harvest. The text is Ecclesiastes xii. 1, "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days."

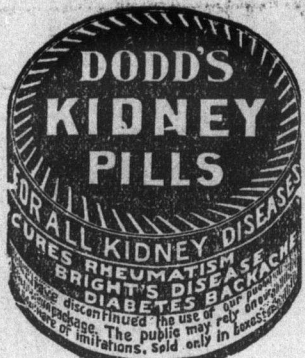

This text has been impressed on my mind ever since I journeyed around the world and came home by the land of the pharaohs. When I wandered amid the ancient ruins and stood under the shadows of its obelisks and pyramids and reflected that all these temples and palaces and monuments and tombs were the relics of the ancient race which was attracted by the fertility of the land lying along the banks of the river Nile, these words have had for me a complete fascination, for in the light of Egyptian lore I thought King Solomon was alluding to the custom with which the descendants of the ancient subjects of the Remeses are wont to sow their seed. That custom is very interesting to a traveler from this hemisphere. Egypt is a vast desert. From one end of the year to the other no rain falls on that parched soil. How, then, in the land cultivated? By the river Nile, which, when the spring freshets flow into it, rises above its banks and overflows the low lying lands on each side. Then, as the river Nile dries up again, most of the overflowing water is drawn back into the original channel and leaves the adjacent regions under a layer of thick mud, with here and there small shallow lakes and pools. Then the Egyptian farmer goes forth and scatters his seeds upon this water. The seeds sink into the mud. They take root. The next time the water comes, the lands alongside of the Nile are covered with luxuriant crops.

In light of this strange custom of Egyptian agriculture I used to say: "Ah, I know what King Solomon meant when he said, 'Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days.' He is practically saying: 'Pick out your richest grounds. Go up to the rich mud-covered fields by the Nile. Drop here and there the seed of God-given teaching. You will never find that those seeds will die. You harvests will soon yield their thirty, their sixty, their hundredfold. The ground is so rich that it is certain to bring forth a harvest.' Thus I would always picture the Christian in Egypt this injunction as casting his seed upon rich soil and then in a few months driving up to the gospel granaries with his wagons laden with the heavy golden sheaves which he had harvested for his Master."

That is a very beautiful vision which I had about the message of my text. There was only one trouble about it. The vision was not true. When I began to look up what the Bible scholars said about this theme I found they made no allusion to the river Nile and its vast muddy banks, with their mud filled with the sower's seeds. According to Thomas Scott, this text alludes to the Palestine farmer and not to the Egyptian. It pictures a Palestine farmer scattering the seed over his fields and coming to a swampy region. It is the poorest part of his farm. He has never cultivated it before, because, when he came to it, he always said: "What is the use of my planting there? I will never get any return for my labor. My seed will only rot and never bring me back any sheaves." But Solomon says: "O farmer, go to the most unpromising parts of the farm. Scatter your good seeds amid the swampy fells, where you and all good people are skeptical about getting any return. Your gospel seeds will never be uselessly thrown away. The harvests will come. Believe me, the harvests will come." Let me read to you his very words, "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days." Could we have more practical advice for Christian work?

Instead of seeking the richest fields, God is here telling us to sow in the most undesirable ones. Now, as I begin to run over some of the most unpromising regions for gospel seed planting, my mind in the first place naturally turns toward the child who is born of dissolute or degraded parents. "Oh," you say as you look at him, "there is no use wasting any thing upon that boy! He was born of a bad mother. His father was divorced from her on account of her flagrant sins. She is never at home. You might as well try to change a leopard's spots as to overcome the parental taint in his blood." Or you say, "What is the use? That boy's father is a drunkard and an infidel. He daily scoffs at the Bible. Any good seed we might sow in that child's heart would be rooted out in a night by the ridicule of his parent." Yes, Sunday school teacher, I know how discouraged you are over that boy. But do not despair. God is sowing your gospel seed in that child's heart whenever you have an opportunity. Christ will look after the result. The gospel harvests in that life will surely come. Do you not recall the divine promise given to us in Ecclesiastes, "Cast thy bread upon the waters?" That means "Cast thy seed in the unpromising fields, for thou shalt find it after many days."

And why should we not cast the gospel seed upon the child heart? Have you a right to say that any child cannot be led to Christ until you have tried to lead him there not only seven times, but seventy times seven? A child's heart seems to me like the desert of Arizona. Now, there are two kinds of desert. There is the desert of sand and rock, like that of Sahara. You might as well expect a dotted sieve to hold water as such a desert. You can pour rivers upon rivers into it and have shower after shower descend upon it, and those waters will almost instantly disappear. It would take centuries upon centuries of inundations to change the Sahara sands into the rich soil of a harvest field.

But such a desert as that is not to be compared to the Arizona desert. There the lands are rich beyond all human computation in all the elements that are essential to a happy vegetable life. You could grow wheat there. You could grow corn there. You could grow orchards there. You could grow the most exquisite of flowers there, if you only had water. Travelers will tell you that when the short rainy seasons come to the Arizona desert it will be literally covered with wild flowers, and the richest of grasses will spring up as if by magic. Thus I feel when I look off upon a great community, with its many children, there I do not find rocky hearts, stony hearts, flinty hearts, which cannot be touched by a Saviour's love. But, like the Arizona plains, I find rich soil just ready for the gospel sowers. Give the child a chance for God. Sow the gospel seed in the home where the parental life is not what it should be. Christ will look after the result. The harvest will surely come for his glory. Dare you deny that God's promises are true? "Cast thy bread upon the unpromising fields, and thou shalt find it after many days."

Let me open for a moment the door of your home. For whom are you chiefly living? I think your chief desire is for your children. You say to your wife: "No, Mary, I will not allow that. The children must not go." But after the supper is over your little daughter climbs up into your lap and begins to talk. The first thing you know you have not only consented for her to do what you said she might not do, but you have consented to let her take you along. "Oh, John," your wife says, "those babies can twist you about their little fingers. You have no mind of your own when they are about." Your answer: "Not at all; not at all. I always make them do what I feel is best." But tell me honestly—the children are not listening—do you not live for them? Do they not lead you anywhere they will by the string of love? Now, my friends, if your children have such an influence over you, your neighbor's children have just as much influence over him. Remember this fact—if you win a child of worldly parents to Christ, that child in all probability will lead the parents to Christ also. Oh, my brother, are not these gospel prizes worth striving for?

The easiest way to get Christ into a worldly home is to go there by the half open door of a child's heart. "Cast thy bread upon the child's heart, and thou shalt find it after many days." But another unpromising field for gospel seed planting is the besotted life of the man or woman who for years and years has been living the life of a degenerate or a social outcast. When you think of them you invariably say: "They are Ephraims wedded to their sins. Leave them alone. They have had their moral characters absolutely driven out of them. When the ear drum is gone there is no hope in going to a specialist. He will have nothing to work upon. The hearing, in that case, can never be restored. So is it with the degenerates. It is useless to cast pearls before the swine. Back into the ditch they will go. It is useless to read the Ten Commandments to a flock of human wolves. Only upon the carcasses of sin will they banquet. All that you can do is to leave them to gormandize at their corrupt and disgusting feasts."

Well, my brother, what you say may be true. Ephraim may be wedded to his sins. But, when you go forth to sow gospel seed and are tempted to leave Ephraim's land unsown, be very sure that it is really swamp land. Perhaps you may be making a mistake. Perhaps you are hastily passing judgment of condemnation upon men whom God has not yet given up as hopeless. What I do know is this: If you had lived in Christ's place many of the sinners and the outcasts with whom he talked you would never have spoken to for fear of defiling your garments. Many of the thieves and robbers and the libertines and the moral lepers whom he lifted out of their sins you would never have touched. You would have said, "It is useless to try to change them. They are degenerate. They are Ephraims wedded to their sins. Leave them alone." You had better be careful when you refuse to scatter the gospel seed in the shriveled heart of an outcast. Even there Christ will bless your sowing. Yes, he will bless you when you plead with a devil-possessed Mary, or with a libertine and a murderer like David, or with a hard-hearted tax collector like Zacchaeus, or with even an adulteress like the woman of Samaria. Your gospel seed planting will never go astray. No matter how unpromising the human field which you sow, those seeds will never be lost. "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days."

An impressive parable found among the Hindus is the following: Many years ago a thief was captured with stolen money in his hand and sentenced to die. The night before his execution he devised this novel plan for rescue: He called the jailer into his cell and said, "Go tell the king that I am come to him. I can tell him how to grow gold." The intelligence was carried to the king, and he said, "Let the culprit be brought before me." When the thief entered the royal presence he produced a piece of gold and said: "Your majesty, if this piece of gold be planted in the soil it will grow into a tree, every branch of which will be laden with gold, as an orchard with fruit. But this golden seed must be planted by a hand which has never been stained by a dishonest act. Of course I am a thief and cannot plant this seed. My hand is not clean, so I pass it to your majesty." The king looked at the gold a moment; then he said: "I would plant it if I could; but, alas, my hand is not clean. I will pass it to my prime minister." The prime minister's hand was not clean, so he passed it to the governor of the citadel. The governor's hand was not clean, and he passed it to the high priest. The high priest's hand was not clean, and he passed it on to another.

Thus the golden seed went from hand to hand. Then the thief said, "Your majesty, if no man's hand is clean, why should I alone die for the crime?" "You are right," said the king. "If you are to die, then I must die also." Then the conscience-stricken king pardoned the culprit because he and his officers were all sinners alike. Is the story a mere legend, a fable? I think not. We say certain men are degenerate and beyond the pale of gospel hope. Are they? Have we always been pure? Have we never sinned? Are we not sinning now? Oh, my Lord and my God, if thou canst save us, the chief of sinners, cannot thou save even the lowest and the vilest of our daily life? Yes, even the lowest and the vilest the Lord Jesus can save. "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days."

But the next unpromising field for gospel seed planting to which my mind turns naturally is the bitter hearts of the persons who for years and years have been identified with Christian works, whose labors were unappreciated by their contemporaries and who have been cast out or, rather, frozen out of the churches with which they were identified. Some of these men and women now are among the most bitter of all enemies of the churches. There are hundreds and thousands of men and women who despise the church of God because some Christian friend or some church has proved false to them. They despise the church of God, which they once loved, because some man or body of men has been unappreciative of their loyalty and self-sacrifice. Now, my friends, it is your duty and my duty to go after these delinquent church members. We must go after them. We must harness them up to the gospel chariot again and get them to pull. I know it will be hard to bring them back. I know it is an unpromising field for gospel seed planting, but if we go forth in the night spirit, with the right gospel seed, we can get a harvest even in this unpromising soil. Remember the words of my text, "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days."

But, lastly I think of one of the hardest of all fields in which to sow the gospel seed. That is the stony heart of the man who has stilled the pleadings of his conscience by accepting "a religion or a creed which will allow him to give free rein to his evil desires and not feel that he is doing wrong. And these liberal religions or false creeds are everywhere. There are so many of them that I cannot name them. At least one of them will satisfy almost any condition of sinful life and gratify every evil desire. Some of them will allow you to yield to all your desires and appetites. Some will let you live the most selfish of lives. There is no need of my going into details. I mean the creed which will allow a man to turn his back upon wife and children and start a social community where he can defy the domestic laws and where the laws of purity are so liberal, so utterly lax, that they will allow men to do almost anything they will. Now, my friends, we are to fight against the sins of these men and women who stifle the pleadings of conscience by false creeds? Simply by gospel seed planting. I know the stony hearts of these transgressors are unpromising for

"I write you to say I am cured of eczema, and can say that I owe it to the Cuticura Remedies, and I gladly recommend them to all suffering with any form of eczema. For four long months I suffered agony and an itching and burning feeling which affected my whole system, so as I could not sleep nights, and I did not care to go into public, as I would have no case. I lost flesh and was all run down. I tried everything I could think of and all everything that was advertised, but got no relief, until I was advised by a friend to try Cuticura, which I did, and can truthfully say I got immediate relief. I would gladly recommend Cuticura to any one suffering as I did with eczema, and can vouch for my statement by members and also intimate friends of my family. I trust that this testimonial may be of some benefit to persons suffering with any skin diseases." Chester A. Bailey, 250A Highland Avenue, Oct. 17, 1905. Somerville, Mass.

a rich harvest, but remember God's seeds can bring forth their hundredfold harvest even in places where you may think a gospel sower can never be gathered. But I cannot close without asking this one pertinent question: Is it not a fact, after all, my brother, that the reason you have not been a gospel sower in the unpromising fields of life is because you do not hold the good seed in a field and a sower if that sower has no seed to scatter? Friend, why art thy hands empty? Is it because thou hast not yet been consecrated to the service of Jesus Christ? Will thou receive seed for the work of his holy spirit? Will thou dig thy empty hands down into the hilt of God's promises and bring them up full, and then plant the seed in thy own stony heart, and then scatter them over the floor of these neighbors' hearts? May God help me as I now take a handful of his everlasting promises. May I lift these promises as gospel seeds and go up and down among my people and say: "Friend, this seed is for thee. This seed is for thee. Will thou receive these gospel seeds and plant them in thine own heart and here and now fit thyself as a gospel sower for Christ? Will thou, friend? Art thou ready now to be his sower? 'Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days.'"

Taffeta Silk is Making Smart Fall Waists—Dainty Swiss Matinee.

Soft taffeta silk in plain effects and checks is making charming shirt waists to be worn with coat and shirt suits. Plain silk waists are piped with check, and vice versa. For example, a green and white checked waist is given character by a yoke trimming in the form of a two inch bias band of the waist material edged with corded pipings of plain green silk set with small silk covered buttons.

A particularly smart matinee of the lingerie order is made of dotted swiss. The petticoat is simply finished, the three flounces having embroidered scalloped edges, under which are set little frills of narrow valenciennes lace. The sack hangs straight and slightly full from a little yoke and is finished with a scalloped border and lace frill. A dainty feature is an oddly shaped collar embroidered by hand in a simple design.

Some of the fall cloth walking suits have a suggestion of the Norfolk and pony jackets in their coats. But the new coat fits closer than the spring pony jacket.

Several narrow bias ruffles about two inches wide, with a hem stitched on the right side, trim many of the new velling skirts. They are arranged

In five or six rows around the bottom or in a graduated scallop pattern beginning six inches above the hem.

In some of the new checked materials there is an introduction of dots in a deeper color than the material. They give the checks a world of character. The blouse pictured is a fall design of the severe type. The material is soft finished taffeta in a gray brown tint. The bands are of checked silk and the buttons enameled affairs in gold and brown tones.

Wide Plaited Skirt in Vogue—Suppleness a Characteristic of Fabrics.

There is more than a hint as to what the fall fashions are to be—in fact, many women have already purchased their autumn suits. The wide plaited skirt to be seen on many costumes looks like an old friend, while the short jacket with long, rounded front was a favorite a few years ago.

Both smooth and rough materials are being used, but in either case suppleness is a characteristic very much emphasized, and duller rather more somber coloring is popular.

Some of the fall suits have waists to match the skirt, making a simple three piece affair, but what is more worn is a silk or cloth shirt waist in the dominating color of the suit.

White or colored mohair is very appropriate for a "dress up" costume to be taken to boarding school by the small student.

Skirts so far are either plaited or circular, although the latter cut will not be so popular on account of its bad habit of sagging. Many of the new skirts are trimmed with circular ruffles, which give the cutaway effect so well liked this fall.

Jackets in most instances are hip length, but few of them hang loose, as the pony jacket invariably does. They have, in a number of cases, tiny vests and also ruffled basque effects. The hat in the cut is designed for theater wear. The brim is composed of geranium flowers put as close together as possible. The leaves form the crown. Coral colored ribbon is arranged in loops at the back.

Supremacy in the art of piano making can only be obtained by a combination of age, experience, capital intelligently applied, ambition to produce something better than has been made, and that care of minute detail, guaranteeing permanent satisfaction to the performer. More than the allotted span of life has been devoted by The House of Nordheimer towards developing the Nordheimer Piano to its present high state of mechanical and artistic perfection.

Mr. R. Victor Carter, our travelling representative, will visit Chatham regularly in our interests and will be pleased to give intending piano purchasers the benefit of his musical knowledge by making personal selection of pianos for all who entrust their order to him. OUR WAY

When a man takes out his pocket-book and pays us $7.50, $9.00 $10 or $15 for his Fall and Winter Suit, we don't consider the transaction closed by any means.

The Salesman probably told him good points about the particular suit he bought, and we consider it our duty to see them carried out to the letter.

For this reason we want your co-operation and we want you to insist that your suit fills our representation of it, or bring it back and get your money.

Remember our way of doing business and we ask that you please remember, also, that you take no chances, whatever, with cheapness when you buy your clothes here.

HORSE VS. AUTO

The horse might laugh a good, hearty, horse laugh at his rival, the automobile, when two of his kind towed a crippled Maple City machine into town on a hay-rack this morning.

Whether the horse made use of the opportunity and laughed we are not in a position to say, but certain inquiries in the village, while the thing went by, and made inquiries as to how it all happened. A note was made of the fact, however, that the horses who had to draw the auto over the muddy roads this morning were not laughing much. But, then, perhaps they did all their laughing before they reached Chatham, for fear the city nags might take them for "rubes" who never knew of a horseless rig breaking down before.

The automobile which was towed into town this afternoon, broke down last night on near Stewart, and the occupants had to secure other means to reach home.

The machine was taken to the Motor Car Works in North Chatham for repairs.

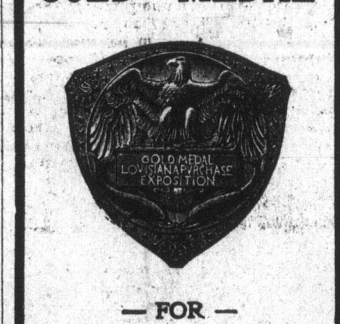

PROOF COMING

Toronto, Oct. 26.—Mr. E. A. DuVernet, Crown prosecutor in the conspiracy charges connected with the London bribery case, said today that, when the enquiry resumes next Wednesday, it will be to delve into a wider field than has heretofore been touched on.

"I am about through calling witnesses from London," said Mr. DuVernet, "and the line on which we are now working will affect a number of constituencies throughout the province. I expect Pritchett's story will be fully borne out by the evidence we will submit."

One of the best ways to judge a man's character is to find out the kind of fun he likes best.
