GERMANY RELEASES AMERICAN SEAMEN OF YARROWDALE

Diplomatic Break Between U. S. and Austria is Looked For at Berlin

CONTRABAND IS PLENTIFUL ON FREDERICK VIII

One Hun Aboard Had Hundreds of Pairs of Cotton Pyjamas
SUCH BELONGINGS May be Confiscated by Customs Officials From Owners
STRICT GUARD KEPT Over the Steamer While Search is Carried on

By Courier Leased Wire.
Halifax, N.S., Feb. 22.—Examination of the baggage of the German party on board the Scandinavian-American Steamer Frederick VIII has revealed that each and every member of it has plentifully stocked himself or herself with goods which are scarce in the Fatherland, to which they are sailing. The most favored line of goods among them, however, is cotton, and it was reported to-day that one secretary of the German embassy in Washington alone has several hundred suits of pyjamas. In view of the close association between cotton and explosive it is thought that the customs officials here will relieve the Germans of some of their excess cotton goods and make an allowance for them.

Have Money.
The Germans too are all well supplied with money, most of it in gold. This is also contraband, and it is understood here that it will be exchanged for them into some form of currency less useful to the Fatherland.

Rigid Guard.
The rigidity with which the operations upon the Frederick VIII have been conducted have not been relaxed since the line has passed. In addition to keeping a close watch upon the passengers and crew of the vessel the guards placed over them are themselves under the surveillance of secret service men. One guard found this out when, after he had broken the rule forbidding him to converse with anybody connected with the ship he was taken off his post, searched and before being released, given a good lecture.

Most of the customs officials, who have been engaged in going over the ship, have been retained on the ship to offset the barest possibility of communication being established between the boat and the shore.

OVER 1000 LIVES LOST

News of Disaster in Dresden Arsenal is Confined; the Worst of the War

London, Feb. 22.—The explosion in an ammunition factory in Dresden, during the Christmas holidays was the greatest disaster of the kind which has occurred anywhere since the war began, according to a Central News despatch from Christiania, quoting a Dresden despatch to The Aftenposten. More than 1,000 persons were killed out of 30,000 employed in the wrecked factories. Emperor William visited the scene on the following day.

A Paris despatch, dated January 27, said that, according to a letter taken from a German soldier and written from Dresden, the Dresden arsenal had been blown up and 1,000 women and young girls killed. The letter was dated, December 30.

Mr. Campbell Sweeney, formerly superintendent of the Bank of Montreal in that Province, has just returned to Vancouver after an absence of two years in England.

Breach of Relations With Austria-Hungary is Inevitable, is the Attitude of Berlin

By Courier Leased Wire.
Berne, via Paris, Feb. 22.—Austria's reply to the United States defining her position in the submarine war is known in Berlin, according to the Frankfurter Zeitung, which predicts that a breach of relations between Washington and Vienna is inevitable. The paper's Berlin correspondent says:

"The memorandum, which President Wilson has sent to the Vienna Government leaves no doubt that the breach of relations between the United States and Germany will soon be followed with a breach with Austria-Hungary. President Wilson wishes to be clearly told whether the Austro-Hungarian Government has withdrawn its earlier declaration regarding the conduct of submarine warfare. Really one ought to think that the explanation given by Austria-Hungary at the beginning of the unrestricted submarine warfare, to the effect that from February 1, all ocean traffic in the blocked zones will be prevented with all means, should not be capable of misconception. But in his dealings with the Central Powers, President Wilson is always painfully exact.

"It is true that we have not heard that he ever sent cautions, let alone warnings, to the Entente for torpedoing Austrian or German ships without warning, but when Germany or Austria do the same thing President Wilson raises his voice in the name of humanity and civilization. The Austro-Hungarian Government will answer President Wilson's memorandum and what this answer will be is known. Mr. Wilson will be most vividly with the wonderful achievement of the navy in keeping the ocean pathways comparatively secure against the most deadly menace ever devised."

WIDE PLOT FORMED BY GERMANS

Is Under Investigation in U. S.; Conspiracy Said to be Extensive
PASSPORTS SECURED By Aliens Who Had No Right to Them

By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, Feb. 22.—Evidence pointing to wide ramifications of an alleged German spy plot in this country, will be laid before the federal grand jury called to meet here to-morrow. It is understood that the department of Justice, is particularly desirous of investigating methods used to get American passports by aliens not entitled to them.

Violated Neutrality
The first cases to come before the jury will be those of Albert Sanley and Karl Wunzberg, accused of violating the neutrality laws in sending men abroad to obtain British war secrets for Germany. The federal officials, it was learned to-day, are searching for other persons involved in this alleged conspiracy.

Three Under Arrest
Three men are now under arrest, one in England and two in Holland, will be brought here as witnesses in this investigation.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.
By Courier Leased Wire.
Washington, Feb. 22.—President Wilson participated in George Washington's birthday exercises here to-day at which frequent reference was made to the present international situation. "It is much less of an adventure to write history than to try to enact it," said the President in presenting a gold medal to a schoolboy for writing an essay on history. The president pledged allegiance anew to the American flag, and with the remainder of an audience, including members of the cabinet, diplomats and congressmen, he saluted at salute while the pledging allegiance was repeated.

DAYLIGHT SAVING
By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Feb. 22.—The introduction of the daylight saving scheme was to-day unanimously recommended by the committee appointed by the British parliament to consider the subject. The government is being urged to bring the scheme into effect in April instead of in May.

GRAIN SUPPLY IN GERMANY IS VERY SHORT

Distribution of Flour is Assumed by the Authorities in Larger Cities
FARMERS WITHHOLD Foodstuffs, a Practice Which is Protested Against

By Courier Leased Wire.
Amsterdam, via London, Feb. 22.—The Vorwaerts, the German Socialist organ, a copy of which has been received here, says the German minister of interior has issued a proclamation stating that, owing to the complete stoppage of the potato supply due to frost, the distribution of flour in many towns has become necessary, and that consequently the small available stocks of cereals have become greatly strained.

The Vorwaerts adds that as the final exhaustion of the stock of potatoes will go up some time before the new harvest, the cereals stocks will again be greatly drawn upon. It therefore requests all rural authorities to take extreme measures to prevent farmers from withholding food stuffs.

QUIET JOURNEY
By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Feb. 22.—Sir Robert L. Borden, the Canadian premier, who arrived in London to-day, told his interviewers that his voyage was uneventful except for the taking of necessary precautions. The premier said the journey across the Atlantic under war conditions, impressed him most vividly with the wonderful achievement of the navy in keeping the ocean pathways comparatively secure against the most deadly menace ever devised."

American Sailors Held in Detention are Released—Austria's View of the Demands of the U. S.

Amsterdam, via London, Feb. 22.—A despatch received here from Berlin, says that the American sailors, who were taken to Germany on the Steamer Yarrowdale, have been released. The Americans were released, the despatch says, after the German government had been informed officially that German ships in America had not been confiscated, and that their crews had not been interned.

Another Note
Vienna, via London, Feb. 22.—The newspapers this morning publish the full text of the American aide memoire. It was accompanied by an official statement that the United States Government requested information concerning the Austro-Hungarian Government's attitude as to assurances given in its notes dealing with the sinking of the steamers Ancona and Persia. It is stated that the communication will be examined in the light of international law and then answered.

The newspapers generally refrain from commenting on the American communication, but those who do comment do so in the mildest sense. The Neue Presse, which disregarded the injunction sent out yesterday by the government to temperately, had its editorial comment completely suppressed yesterday, half of the first page of the newspaper being blank. This measure is considered remarkable, as the government has no right to suppress articles directed against the country itself or dealing with military matters of importance.

SWITZERLAND IS AGAINST FINAL BREAK

Hopes That Crisis Between Germany and U. S. Will Go no Further
MANY ADVANTAGES Now Enjoyed by the Swiss Would Then be Lost

By Courier Leased Wire.
Berne, via Paris, Feb. 22.—The Bund, in a leading editorial, admonishes that portion of the Swiss press which has been criticizing Dr. Paul Ritter, Swiss minister to Washington, for his action in unofficially offering to reopen negotiations between Germany and the United States. The Bund admits that Mr. Ritter's action was not authorized by the foreign department, and thinks he may have construed his duties a little too liberally, but it asks whether it is not in the interests of the Swiss to prevent a final and irrevocable breach between Germany and America. Such a breach, it contends, would mean the destruction of many ideal and material advantages enjoyed by Switzerland.

ANOTHER SUNK.
By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Feb. 22.—The British Steamer Persius has been sunk. Lloyd's shipping agency announced to-day. Four men of the crew are missing. Two British Steamers Persius are listed. The larger is a vessel of 6,728 tons gross, built in 1909 at Belfast, and owned by the Ocean Steamship Company of Liverpool. She was last reported sailing from Dakar, West Africa, on January 18, en route from Liverpool to Yokohama, which would place her far outside any of the barred zones. The smaller vessel is a 155 ton trawler owned in Grimsby.

Preservation of the Honor of the Nation Calls America to War, Declares Ex-President Taft

By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, Feb. 22.—"War and the preservation of the honor of the nation or a craven peace at the alternatives, which face the United States if Germany holds to her decree of ruthless submarine warfare and sinks American vessels," former President Taft declared in an address here last night.

Worse Than War
"There are worse things than war," said Mr. Taft. "The occasion has arisen when the issue is between the honor, dignity and self-defense of the nation and a craven yielding to opportunism. We are devoid of offence in this war. We have attempted to guard the rights of neutrals, while the rights of neutrals have been disregarded by both belligerents. But Great Britain has wronged us only in acts that may be compensated with damages. Germany has violated our rights by the destruction of innocent citizens, whose only offence was that they were lawfully pursuing their lawful occupations on the high seas.

Must Resist
We have the right of the high seas on lawful business and we must maintain that right. But if those rights are to be invaded again under a declaration of a ruthless character, it is our duty to resist the invasion for it is exactly of the same nature as if our country were invaded.

DUFFERIN RIFLES TO FORM BAND

Military Music Will Not be Lacking in the City During Coming Summer
THE RE-ORGANIZATION Of the Regiment is Continuing With Success

In connection with the 33rd Battalion, Dufferin Rifles, a special effort is to be made to raise a brass and bugle band.

During the coming summer Brantford is likely to be without a military band unless this is done, as the 21st will assuredly be away. Bandmen of all kinds are being urged to join the Battalion band, and if this idea is realized, as no doubt it will be, Brantford citizens will be in a position to enjoy concerts this summer.

The enlistment of volunteers for home service in the re-organized regiment was continued in full force last evening, when a large number of recruits were accepted for the Dufferin Rifles. The officers of the regiment are particularly well satisfied with the class of men who are joining, as they include the best citizens of the city. Among last night's volunteers were Messrs E. R. Read and A. J. Harley, well known baristers of the city. No time is to be lost in getting down to actual drilling, and the confidence of all in the venture has been sustained and more than justified in the ready stream of recruits.

THREE DISTRICT MEN IN CASUALTY LISTS
Wounded
Corp Fred Thomson, Guelph.
Pte. John Robinson, North Kopeel.
Seriously Ill
Gunner T. V. Weldon, Stratford.
But three Western Ontario names figure in to-day's casualty list. No district soldiers are reported killed. Guelph, Feb. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Thomson, 123 Elizabeth street received a message from Ottawa this morning stating that their son, Corp. Fred Thomson has been severely wounded in the left thigh. Before enlisting with the 34th Battalion he was employed at the Taylor-Forbes factory, and was well known, having played football on the T. F. team for two years prior to the war. His brother is a member of the 34th Battalion Band, which is still in England. The wounded man is 35 years of age.

ABATEMENT OF COLD WEATHER SAVES AUSTRIA FROM FAMINE

All Classes Strive to Better Economic Conditions of the Empire During Intense Cold; Emperor Worked With People

By Courier Leased Wire.
Vienna, Feb. 22, via London.—The intense cold water has passed, and a thaw has set in which has solved the fuel difficulty of Vienna, and incidentally greatly facilitated the importation of food stuffs. The flour mills, which were shut down owing to frozen rivers, are again in operation.

Emperor Worked
Emperor Charles has been a tireless worker in the campaign to relieve economic conditions, and the imperial taxes are still hauling coal for the populace. The sight of the blooded stock, heretofore only harassed to state coaches, hauling heavy coal trucks, is one of the curious wartime incidents in the Austrian capital. The emperor recently banished wheat bread from the officers' mess at all army headquarters, and had both wheat bread and flour removed from a special train which was taking his brother, Archduke Maximilian, to Constantinople. In issuing this latter order, the emperor remarked that if the common soldiers, the people and himself were contented with black bread, the party on the train should be also. Some official circles in Vienna and elsewhere throughout the empire have not yet recovered from the shock caused by the energetic methods of Emperor Francis Joseph's young successor. Red tape has been cut right and left, and official heads continue to fall in the general cleanup, which is still going on. It is a sad time for certain army officers who have been enjoying staff sinecures. In one instance the emperor sent a batch of seventy to the front, and replaced them by invalid officers. While the official classes were at first inclined to offer passive resistance to the Emperor, they have now resigned themselves to the inevitable.

CONFIDENCE OF ENGLISH PEOPLE IN GOVERNMENT

Is Demonstrated by Success of Latest War Loan, Says Swiss Journal
EUROPE ASTONISHED To Learn That Britain Is as Strong Financially as Militarily

PRISONERS OF WAR In Germany Are Employed as Farm Laborers

By Courier Leased Wire.
Geneva, via Paris, Feb. 22.—The great success of the British war loan has astonished Europe, says The Lausanne Gazette. "This prodigious loan," says the paper, "shows, to employ a sporting phrase, the British in splendid form. The German press has lately been publishing articles showing that England was in a financial quagmire and prepared to quit the fight, whereas the success of the loan proves that the English people are as strong financially as militarily. There is the truth which the nation that began the war is now realizing."

The Geneva Tribune says: "Since the world existed such a huge sum has not been offered any government in one operation. It can really be said that the resources of the British Government are unlimited. The loan is also a proof that the English people have every confidence in their government being able to dominate the submarine danger."

Prisoners Employed
Amsterdam, via London, Feb. 22.—Germany is employing 750,000 war prisoners as farm laborers, according to a Berlin despatch to The Rheinische Westfaelische Zeitung, which quotes General Groener, head of the army feeding department. General Groener's statement was made before the reichstag committee which is co-operating in carrying out the provisions of the national civil service law. He stated that additional war prisoners would be put to work in the agricultural districts and that in occupied territories the garrisons would do spring sowing and harvest work.

EMBARGO OF G.T.R. LIFTED

General Freight Situation Cleared Up, it is Declared

Montreal, Feb. 22.—The following statement was issued from the president's office of the Grand Trunk system: "The Grand Trunk has taken out of the Niagara frontier terminals during the last 48 hours 1,577 cars of freight, approximately 50 per cent of these cars being loaded with coal for Canadian centres. The Grand Trunk has also delivered to its connections on the Niagara frontier during the past two days 854 cars for United States districts, with a steady increase in the interchange of freight at all junction points on the system."

According to J. E. Dairymple, traffic vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway system, the general freight situation has been cleared up to such an extent that the company is now in a position to lift part of the embargo put into effect on certain classes of merchandise in order to facilitate the movement of more important freight. Coming into effect tomorrow, the embargo will be lifted on live stock, dairy traffic and perishable freight from Western and United States points, and all territories not otherwise covered by embargo of other railways. This applies also to feed corn from America to Canadian points, including seeds of all description, fertilizers for farm use, and less than carload traffic to and from all points. "This situation," said Mr. Dairymple, "is well in hand, and it looks as though in the next ten days, unless interrupted by storms, all embargoes pertaining to the Grand Trunk will be removed."

SUBMARINE CAMPAIGN OF THE HUNS FALLS
FLAT IN ITS AIM TO STARVE GREAT BRITAIN

Sir Edward Carson Gives Official Statement as First Sea Lord of the Admiralty—Government Policy of Silence Bewilders the Foe

FROM CARSON'S SPEECH.
The British patrols have engaged in 40 encounters with U-boats in 18 days. Many subs were sunk.
Baron Fisher has returned to active service as chairman of the inventions board.
A board has been named to arrange programs of building merchant and battleships.
A total of 400,000 more men is asked for the navy.
The ships lost during the first 18 days of February totalled
134, but 16 more than for the same period of December.
From February 1 to 18 12,919 ships arrived or departed from English ports. The estimated number of ships in the "danger zone" at any one time was 3,000.
Not one British sailor had refused to sail because of the danger.
Of armed ships 78 per cent. escaped subs, while but 24 per cent. of unarmed ships escaped.

London, Feb. 22.—Sir Edward Carson, making his debut as first lord of the admiralty in the Community House, had an inspiring story to tell of the silent accomplishment of the British navy and it was still more welcome because of the unexpected and interesting revelations as to the extent to which the navy is countering the submarine campaign. The sacrifices which the nation is asked voluntarily to bear in the shape of self-rationing and the daily rise in food prices, makes the submarine danger the most absorbing question of the moment, and Sir Edward's statement was listened to by an expectant House with intense satisfaction. Admiral Baron Fisher, whom Sir Edward announced had returned to service as chairman of the inventions board; Admiral Sir John R. Jellicoe, first sea lord; Admiral Lord Bevezford and other naval experts were in the galleries. The public and press have been the same time and place there will be offered for sale the farm, consisting of 50 acres more or less, owned and occupied by the late Henry Morris Shellard. Buildings—A large barn, cattle stable, separate horse stable, room to stable 8 horses, hay shed and implement shed, drive shed, chicken house, frame house, 9 rooms. All buildings in good condition. Well watered. Terms of sale, cash, 7 months on approved security with 6 per cent. added. Further conditions and particulars of the sale of the above real estate will be made known at the time of sale.

Every Picture Tells a Real Story

Col. Churchill
Col. Winston Spencer Churchill, formerly first lord of the admiralty, who followed Sir Edward Grey as speaker, said:

"The present submarine danger arose from new efforts and new devices adopted by the Germans since August, 1914. Our sole anxiety arises from the activity, not of ships of the German fleet which existed before from those beginning of the war, but from those which have been constructed since. Serious as the danger is, it should not be exaggerated. Although Admiral Jellicoe has been called to deal with the submarine menace in place of Baron Fisher, as the largest amount of damage was not possible before the Jutland battle, when we took the measure of the German fleet—I still am of the opinion that means should be found to employ Baron Fisher's fertile genius."

Col. Churchill said he agreed that merchant shipbuilding should virtually monopolize Great Britain's construction. The chief object of the grand fleet was an offensive, but the submarine warfare had largely thrown the British fleet on a defensive attitude.

The former first lord of the admiralty said he believed the submarine menace would be overcome and urged the admiralty to discover some methods for maintaining a naval offensive against Great Britain's enemy.

Although there were good grounds for believing the submarine campaign would not exercise a decisive influence on the fortunes of war, Col. Churchill said, Great Britain could not afford to assume that it was an evil which could not continue to increase indefinitely, nor while it continued was justification entitling it to claim the title was on her side. He considered it remarkable that Great Britain at last had reached a high degree of stringency in her blockade without losing the good-will of neutrals.

The entry of the United States into the war, Col. Churchill added, would derange decisively the fearful equipoise between conflicting nations which now existed. The present relations between the United States and Germany, he declared, showed consideration for neutral rights and humanity would not go wholly unrequited, and it was justification of the foreign policy of Viscount Grey, former secretary for foreign affairs.

THE SITUATION
 Gen. Haig reports three more successful raids on the Somme front. Neither of the operations was of very large scope, but they prove of importance as further demonstrations of the fact that the British continue to manifest an alert ability to both the enemy. One of Hindenburg's orders has fallen into British hands in which the admits that the Verdun operations "resulted in serious and regrettable reverses." He also complains of the "low morale" exhibited by the German troops there, and speaks of "incapable officers."

Outside of the Somme no fighting of any prominence at all has been recorded. Sir Edward Carson, when he introduced his navy estimates in the British House yesterday was commendably frank. This in fact is a quality which he has always manifested during his public career. The First Lord of the Admiralty did not seek in any way to minimize the submarine menace, but the facts and figures which he gave cannot be classed as otherwise than assuring. He showed the large number of vessels which continue to ply in the danger zone, and the comparatively small per centage of loss, although that is still high, and related that as far as he knew, not one sailor had refused to take ship because of the menace. Certainly an incident characteristic of British character. Sir Edward also told in clear terms of the steps inaugurated to check the subs and it is not too much to hope that the watchfulness and alertness of the British navy will in the end triumph in this, as in other respects.

NEW BRUNSWICK
 They have a Provincial bye-election in New Brunswick on Saturday next.

The six constituencies which have four seats each are Charlotte, Gloucester, Northumberland, St. John City, Westmorland and York. The three which have three each are Carlton, Kent and Kings. The seven which have two each are Albert, Madawaska, Queens, Restigouche, St. John County, Sunbury and Victoria. Moncton City has one member.

The last general election took place June 20 and 24, 1912. Upon the dissolution of the last (last) Legislature, the parties stood: Ministerial (Conservative), 33; Opposition (Liberal), 12; Government majority 20. There are two more seats now, and the parties stand: Conservative, 46; Liberal, 2.

THE BRANT SANATORIUM.
 The annual report of the above demonstrates that the public are commencing to more fully realize the benefits to be derived, but still not enough so. The location and the equipment could not be better and a visit at any time serves to abundantly exemplify the fact that everything is kept in the most cleanly condition and that the endeavor to woo patients back to health once more is made under the most pleasant surroundings. Tuberculosis is still one of the organic diseases which continues to stand at the top of the mortality list. In the Province of Ontario for the last recorded year the number of deaths from this cause ranked at 89 per 100,000 of population. That rural districts are prone to the trouble to an equal extent with cities is demonstrated by the fact that in each instance the rate of mortality was exactly the same.

That the menace is preventable in the earlier stages has been abundantly demonstrated; that it is communicable is equally certain. In these two facts rests the whole story of the vital need of Sanatoriums. The people of Brantford and Brant County are indeed fortunate in the possession of an up-to-date institution and they should take full advantage of it.

Miss Bowen has demonstrated herself to be a most efficient matron and there is an executive which guarantees efficient all-round administration. Those who fail to take advantage of the chance afforded to save the life of some dear one, or to prevent others from coming within range of individual dissemination, can be classed as not only short-sighted but something which warrants an even harsher term than that.

THE MILITIA ACT.
 The Courier has already given extracts from the Militia Act in order to show that all the male inhabitants of the country of the age of eighteen years up to sixty are liable to service under the measure for the defence of Canada, "and also beyond Canada" if it is deemed that said defence warrants.

The enactment is also very wide sweeping in other respects. The Governor-in-Council can make all regulations necessary for the enrolment of persons, liable to service and the order in which various classes can be summoned. He can in each military district appoint an officer called the "District Officer Commanding" who shall have control of said district. He can make regulations whereby any railway, trolley system, ship firm, or other institution for conveyance, must convey members of the Militia to, or from any point designated. He is either authorized to take control of either, or all of them if he deems it to be expedient. He can convene courts of enquiry at any time in connection with the purposes of the act and no sentence of any court martial can be carried into effect without his approval. He can order land to be used for rifle ranges, enforce assemblage for drill and in fact do anything which is deemed desirable in the interests of the realm.

It will thus be seen that if the act should be invoked, as those at a public meeting in Brantford have requested in the hope that other communities throughout the Dominion will follow their example, the day of the slacker and the shirker would deservedly come to an end.

It has been demonstrated that patriotic appeals are not sufficient to reach that kind and the result has been that many families have given two, three, four, five and even more of their men kind, while other families remain absolutely unrepresented on the firing line. It is as much their war as that of those who have gone, and their interests are just as vitally at stake. Without any doubt, it is time for the "hang backs" to be brought into line.

NOTES AND COMMENT.
 Bring on the Militia Act.

The submarine menace will ultimately get in the Zeppelin class. It is the German sub, which has put the U in extreme frightfulness.

Canadian officials are still examining the belongings of Bernstorff and his gang at Halifax. They are having a searching visit to Canada without even leaving the ship.

Hartley Dewart is still seeking to make political capital out of the Nickel question. About all that he has shown is his one desire to attempt to make political capital without regard to the facts.

Kingston City Council is talking of placing a tax on cats and calculates that $1,000 worth of revenue can be raised in this way. It is now up to the male residents of the tribe there to commence to sound the Tom, Tom.

Russia is opening an office in Ottawa to purchase supplies in Canada instead of via New York as heretofore. The possibilities of increased trade with that country after the war should be excellent.

FIRE ABOARD.

New York, Feb. 22.—The Ward Line Steamship Monterey, which sailed last night for Havana, but was forced to turn back by a fire in her hold discovered when she was fourteen miles beyond the Scotland lightship returned to her dock here to-day. Her captain reported that the fire was out. The extent of the damage, it was said by officials of the line "could not be estimated until the cargo was removed from the afterhold, where the fire occurred."

PARIS PATRIOTIC CAMPAIGN WINS

Total of Over $20,000, the Figure Set, is Already Collected

MORE STILL TO COME
 Patriotic Supper Was Scene of Genial Merriment

Complaints of non-delivery of The Courier in Paris, should be telephoned to Norman Flahiff, phone 15, who has been appointed The Courier Agent.

(From Our Own Correspondent)
 Paris, Feb. 22.—Paris citizens once more have demonstrated in no uncertain manner their generosity and patriotism in support of the Nickel Campaign. The amount that was to be raised for the support of the wives and dependents of the soldiers who were listed from Paris in the Nickel Campaign, was raised last evening over $20,000 had been subscribed, with the Shell Works and one of two heard from, as also a number of citizens that the canvassers had been able to call on. There is always a falling off in subscriptions extending over a period of time, so that a clear $20,000 or more will be donated to the fund.

The reading room of the Y.M.C.A. has been fitted up as headquarters for the campaign, where reports were brought in throughout the day. As the amounts were handed the finance committee, the fact was shown on the face of a dial, suspended outside on one of the windows, which created considerable enthusiasm, as the hands moved around towards the objective of $25,000. In this room the Ladies' Auxiliaries of the Y. M. C. A. had prepared a sumptuous supper for the canvassers and committees. After a simple dinner had been eaten, Mayor Robinson called upon the team captains for a report of the canvass so far as made, with the following result:

No. 1, J. V. Hinkley, $720.00; No. 2, J. R. Inkster, $1,210.50; No. 3, Dr. Lovett, $1,105.00; No. 4, G. W. Featherstone, $766.40; No. 5, G. H. Carroll, $605.00; No. 6, E. Pitts, $245.25; No. 7, A. Fisher, $1,001.11; No. 8, D. T. Hall, (Shell Works) canvass not finished; No. 9, J. K. Martin (Winsey Mill) $500.75; No. 10, C. M. Heddlie, (Needle Works, Peckham, Yvels, Peckham's Mills, on the Plats and Alabastine Co.) canvass unfinished, $3,773.00; No. 11, Preferred Committee, $10,155.00; Total to date, $20,933.20.

The report was received with enthusiastic cheers by all present. Among those present were the following workers: Mayor C. E. Robinson, J. H. Fisher, Thomas Evans, Chas. Wells, Fred Blackhurst, Fred Evans, John A. Thompson, Murray Taylor, J. K. Martin, E. Pitts, A. J. Philbrick, L. W. Hillier, Henry Yelverton, Henry Rehder, John P. McCannoo, Dan McTavish, James Smiley, G. Long, T. C. Munn, C. W. Lawton, Chas. McCausland, G. W. Featherstone, Austin Stanton, Harold Fisher, W. W. Patterson, Wm. Hurst, Bernard Brown, W. D. Daniel, John Garson, T. M. Aver, Dr. Logie, A. E. Finemore, H. A. Crooks, Franklin Snook, Isaac Steyer, Thomas Maiter, John A. Blake, D. T. Hall, G. H. Carroll, C. M. Heddlie, John M. Patterson, George Lee, John Harold, W. T. Thompson.

After the returns were all in some of the canvassers gave some humorous accounts of their experiences, and with one or two exceptions the purse strings of the citizens had been found open and cheerfully waiting for the visitors. During the evening, Mr. H. Long put up by auction a daintily wrapped up parcel, stating that it contained a "gavel" which he desired the purchaser to present to the worthy mayor to assist him in keeping order at meetings. The first bid was Mr. J. K. Martin at 25c.; Mr. C. M. Heddlie raised the price to 55c., and the "gavel" was knocked down to him. Mr. Fisher was asked to make the presentation, which he ably did. Mayor Robertson thanked the donor, and upon unwrapping the parcel found it to contain a carpenter's mallet. In accepting the present, he feltingly assured the gathering that he would always keep it among his "most cherished possessions."

The teams will finish the canvass tomorrow, when the campaign will close with a supper to all the workers.

On Tuesday evening the annual carnival under the auspices of the Paris Citizens' Band was held in the Palace rink. There was a good attendance, quite a number coming from Brantford and surrounding district. The costumes were both striking and pretty. The prizes were awarded as follows: Charles G. Galt, lady, Miss Minnie Kempthorne; characteristic gentleman, Mr. William Kempthorne; patriotic, Miss E. Steep; comic, Mr. Robt. Stewart; best couple, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kendrick; best girl and boy under 14 years of age, Lucy Hambleton and Percy Brydges. The judges were Messrs. George Shannon, James Sinclair and Harold A. Gardner.

The band rendered excellent music during the evening. Mr. R. H. Turnbull was at St. Thomas yesterday attending the funeral of his brother-in-law, the late

NICKLE ISSUE

ONCE MORE
 Member for Sudbury Replies to Mr. Hartley Dewart

Toronto, Feb. 22.—With a final struggle over the nickel issue following a six hour debate, in which Hartley Dewart, K.C., and Charles McCrae, of Sudbury, were the chief performers, the debate on the speech from the Throne was wound up last night. The final day was entirely different to preceding days. Instead of the rambling discussion that featured the mid stage of the debate, the argument became warm and pointed, the Liberal member winding up with an amendment calling for the re-issuing in Ontario of all nickel mined in the province. His amendment was not voted upon for the simple reason that Mr. McCrae, in winding up his address, nullified it by another amendment, limiting the announcement of the government that legislation would be brought in this session based upon the report submitted to the House by the Nickel Commission. Mr. McCrae's amendment was carried by a vote of 59 to 25.

There were two features to the debate. The Sudbury member gave the House some hitherto unknown facts about the origin of the "nickel campaign." He directly charged that the agitation against the international Nickel Company and the demand for the prohibition of export originated in an organized effort on the part of men who were interested in undeveloped nickel lands to discredit the international Nickel Company and destroy its business by playing upon patriotism. Mr. McCrae backed his charge up by naming a number of the Sudbury board of trade as one who plotted to this end, but whose plotting was shown up before his own fellow-citizens and who was charged of misrepresentation to his fellow-members of the board of trade and to the British board of trade, to whom he sent a letter, charging the Canada Copper Company with sending money to Germany, via South America. Mr. McCrae was also able to call to his assistance an editorial in the Globe, frankly speaking of an attempt made to enlist support in a plot to discredit the Nickel Company under the cloak of patriotism.

Bomb Not Loaded.
 Hartley Dewart exploded what looked like a charge when he stated that the government had sold over two hundred acres of nickel lands in the Sudbury district to the Canadian Copper Company, as recently as last December, for $3 an acre. The House took it seriously until after adjournment, at 6 o'clock, when Hon. Mr. Ferguson, after looking into the matter, informed the House that the land in question had been staked by a private prospector who, after performing the statutory duties, became entitled to patents. This prospector had sold an interest in the company and had directed that the patents be made out to the company.

Allan Studholme, the labor member, was the last speaker. His address covered woman suffrage, child labor and temperance issue. The East Hamilton member also discussed some of the problems incidental to the war. He spoke of the difficult position in which A. R. men found themselves. If they wore their buttons, to prove their patriotism and loyalty to serve, they were often discriminated against by employers who figured that if they were not physically fit to get in the army they were not physically the proper material to make good workmen.

Obituary

Mrs. E. J. Young
 The death occurred in Goderich this morning of a former well known resident of this city, Sadie Young, wife of Mr. Edward J. Young. The deceased, who was in her thirtieth year, is survived by her husband, her mother, Mrs. Young, of this city, and four sisters, Mrs. Campbell Ford of Dunnville, and Mrs. R. Steadman, Mrs. A. Turnbull and Mrs. J. Lewis, all of this city. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon from the residence of her mother, Mrs. Young, Edgerton St.

GIRLS! MOISTEN A CLOTH AND DRAW IT THROUGH HAIR

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse," if you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed. Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance. Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.

Save your hair. Keep it looking charming and beautiful. You will say this was the best 25 cents you ever spent.

CLUBS' MEATLESS DAY
 By Courier Leased Wire.
 New York, Feb. 22.—A news agency from London published here to-day says: Half a dozen or more of London's clubs led the way to-day to one meatless day week. The day adopted was Friday. Meals in all these clubs will be purely vegetarian on Fridays hereafter.

A number of other clubs were expected to follow suit. The plan is one of many expedients suggested by the food controller Lord Devonport, to reduce the maximum weekly meat consumption to four and a half pounds per person. Unless this limit is generally adopted throughout England, it is admitted that compulsory rationing will be resorted to. Several London clubs were among the first to curtail the number of courses per meal as suggested in one of the first requests of the Government for general economy.

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK

RIOTS IN PIRAEUS.
 By Courier Leased Wire.
 London, Feb. 22.—An Athens despatch to Reuters says that food riots among workmen at Piraeus has led to the closing of all shops and the custom house. The rioting started at a meeting for the distribution of a fund raised by public subscription for relief of the unemployed. The mob looted a number of grocer and butcher shops and a large number of arrests were made before order was restored.

CAPTAINS CONFERENCE.
 By Courier Leased Wire.
 Paris, Feb. 22.—A delegation of merchant ship captains from the chief ports of France, will shortly arrive in Paris to consult with the authorities as to the best means of dealing with the submarine menace.

A DANGEROUS HABIT

Considerable apprehension has been expressed throughout the city at the practice of small children sleigh-riding on the Bell Memorial site on the West street zone. The monument is erected on an elevation, and the children, coasting down, ride directly onto the road, where they are in danger from passing vehicles coming in either direction, as on account of the bend there, nothing can be seen ahead. Several narrow escapes from serious injury in this way have been noted during the past few days, and it is desired to issue a warning against the continuance of the practice.

FREE RENT

Canvassing is being continued by Sergt. George Tutt of the 215th battalion and his assistants in connection with the newly inaugurated scheme of providing rent free homes for the families of the married men enlisting in the 215th during the present month. To date an approximate total has been received equivalent to $1,000 per year in rent, the sum being made up by cash subscriptions and the granting of the free use of buildings by the owners. By the end of the present month it is expected to bring the total up into the neighborhood of $1,500, when an apportionment of the rent will be made among the married men who have enlisted during the course of the system.

GAS COMMITTEE.

The gas committee of the city council met in the City Hall this afternoon for the purpose of looking into the gas situation.

FINANCE MEETING

The first meeting of the finance committee of the semi-centennial celebration organization will be held on Monday evening next. The meeting promises to be an important one.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT.

The following is a financial statement of "The Messiah" Concert held for the benefit of the Red Cross, on February 1st: Expenditure, Printing and Advertising, $25.42; the four soloists, $38.00; total $63.42. Receipts:—Money paid for admission, $86.75; balance in hand for Red Cross, $23.33.

PRESENTATION.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hutton, 49 Huron street, was last evening the scene of a most enjoyable social gathering held in honor of Mr. Jack Hutton, who has enlisted in the Divisional Signalers, and who leaves for Toronto to-day. He was presented by his friends with a wrist watch and a club bag.

FOR RED CROSS.

The Bell View Red Cross Society are the proud recipients of the large sum of $116.00 from the Bell View Dramatic Club, being the proceeds of two splendid concerts held on February 7th and 8th in aid of Red Cross work. Last November over $50.00 was raised by the same club, which is composed of the senior pupils of Bell View school. The teachers and principal, Mr. R. R. Jarvis, rendered valuable assistance. Too much praise cannot be given by the Society for this interest and co-operation in the good work being done.

NEW BRANTFORD COMPANY

The Canadian Oil Fields Limited, composed principally of Brantford and Toronto men, have opened up commodious offices in the Heyd Block, George street. The company control valuable oil and gas lands in Brant and Grey counties, the samples of oil from the latter fields, just as taken from the earth, being as clear as the best refined lubricating oil it is possible to purchase. The find, it is claimed, being without a parallel anywhere on the globe. It is stated the organization of this company and the development of its properties have an important bearing on Brantford's natural gas supply in the near future.

THE BANTAMS

Sergeant Benning has accomplished considerable since his arrival here in the fore part of the week to take charge of the Bantam recruiting depot on Dalhousie street. He has secured three men for the Home Guards, for which his unit will obtain three small men in exchange; had two willing recruits rejected, and has had one passed. The successful volunteer was Victor Martin, 85 Barton St., west, Hamilton, a single man aged 19 years, who was a laborer prior to his enlistment. Private Cheadle, who was formerly associated with L. C. Fotheringham while engaged in recruiting here, left for Toronto yesterday morning, but is expected to return to-morrow. All the Brantford members of the battalion will be in the city on weekend leave, arriving here on Friday night, and leaving on Monday morning.

POLICE COURT.

The charges of conversion faced Clarence Stover, a local electrician, in the police court this morning, the complainants being Mrs. S. F. Passmore, and Mrs. Mulligan. Stover had agreed to do some electrical work for them, but on account of illness was prevented from fulfilling the contract mutually agreed upon. He was remanded until a week from to-day. Ryerson School Forms Art League

That Art Leagues, in connection with city schools, are good things, is becoming more and more evident, judging by the splendid attendance at a meeting held in Ryerson school, Wednesday afternoon, for the purpose of organizing a similar league in connection with that school.

Mr. McIntyre, the popular principal of the school, presided at the meeting, and after a few remarks on the aims of the meeting, called upon Mrs. Buck, president of the Dufferin School Art League, to give a talk on the aims and value of such an organization, which she did in a very capable manner.

Mrs. Marquis, president of the Victoria Art League, and Miss Colter, who first introduced the idea into the city, also addressed the meeting along the same lines, and all were very much appreciated. The organization was then duly formed, the following officers being elected.

President, Mrs. F. E. Morrison.
1st Vice-President, Mrs. J. Wilde.
2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Book.
Secretary-Treas., Miss Robertson.
Executive committee—Mrs. G. P. Buck, Mrs. J. A. Marquis, Miss Colter, Honorary members: Mesdames Campbell, Lunenfeld, Patterson, Greenwood, Amos, Robertson, Codd, Craig, Doyle, Jones and Wilde; Miss Leinster, Revs. D. L. Campbell, E. C. Jennings and Wray Smith and the teachers of the school.

Plans were then arranged for a bazaar, to be held shortly, in the school. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered the visiting ladies for their kindness in coming and rendering such valuable assistance in organizing the society. The meeting then adjourned.

BURGLAR HUNT IN LOCAL BANK

Policemen Searched the Building for Mysterious Figure Seen There But Found Nothing

'Twas in the dead of the night, yea, even almost at the witching midnight hour when churchyards yawl, and mortals who are not yet in the arms of Morpheus do the same, and graves give up their dead, that Constable Pickel, Boles and Kingerley, of the police force, were summoned in haste to the edifice of a prominent local bank by two of the zealous employees of the institution, fearing for its safety and well-being. Their fears were founded upon the perverse inclination of a certain electric light in the building to shed its accustomed illumination, together with a glimpse of a mysterious and shadowy figure within the bank. The clerks had left the bank, according to their story, early in the evening, leaving a light burning in the building, and on their return they found it extinguished. Though pondering upon the mysterious incident, they continued their labors within the house of wealth until a late hour, when they repaired for a luncheon to an adjoining cafe, and upon their return, lo, the light had faded once more. Glancing within, however, they beheld a shadowy figure like unto that of a malefactor lurking in the darkness, and straightforward summoned unto the scene the representatives of the law, who, accompanied by the clerks, conducted a thorough and extensive search of the bank building, but failed to discover aught in the way of a midnight marauder.

Player Owes Big Debt to Baseball Scribe

Advertising and Publicity Which the Game Derives From the Newspapers is of No Small Importance

(St. Louis Sporting News)

While we are not one of those who believe that the threats of war are going to seriously affect baseball this season, still there was something of a disturbing note in that announcement of one of the great press associations the other day that because of the rush of war news it would cut down its daily grind of sporting news despatches, and the fact that on one night it failed to carry one single sporting item on its wires. The average newspaper reader, absorbed for the moment in the dispute with Germany, may have overlooked the absence of bits of live dope on the sport page, but the sporting editors did not and it set them to thinking. Suppose the thing continues and the managing editor, pressed for space and handicapped by the high cost of paper, should "boil down" the baseball news to a few paragraphs each day?

It would not be long until the fan would notice it then, no doubt, but he would accommodate himself to the new condition and turn his attention to other news. Who then would be the great sufferer? The club owner, of course, through the declining interest in the game that the lack of publicity would mean. And the ball player would notice it, and complain—not so much because it meant less fans at the gate, but because Mr. Player would miss his daily boost, upon which he feeds and which he loves no less than his "hits. And in time he would miss something else.

The two great factors that determine the salary of the major league ball player are ability and publicity. He must have the goods. His goods must be extensively exploited. The player himself seldom wants to admit that he needs writers and pictures of himself in various poses in the newspapers in order to get "the" money, yet the fact is without the newspaper help he would be working for a great deal less. It does not always follow that if a player is star he gets star money. Many a near star is made to look like a wonder in print. Many a real star is often passed over. Just refresh your memory a bit and you will see the truth of this.

Scribes Are More Than Fair.

Pre-season dope tends to boost every player considerably and what is written about him then and during the season itself helps to determine his monetary return from the ball club. Newspapers are remarkably charitable to ball players. They are the players' real boosters. If the newspapers paid less attention to baseball, salaries would not soar so high. We do not say that the press overdoes things. We merely suggest that baseball writers exert a tremendous and often unappreciated influence in the player's salary question, though the player himself does not feel that way.

He usually argues that the club would be broke without him and that in pay he is entitled to all he can get, or something to that effect. Newspapers in catering to the demands of the hungry fans are often forced to make the player look an exalted being and it does not take him long to acquire that notion of himself. Writings and pictures make him look a wizard and so the baseball club has to come across so not to offend public opinion as represented in paragraphs and cuts.

It will be generally admitted that much of the success of baseball is due to the close and fatherly, though not altogether unselfish, attention the press pays to the game. Yet you seldom hear a word that much of the popularity of the individual ball player is due directly to the prominence he gets from the same source. Baseball clubs do not always, as a rule, take it for granted that they earn all the fine puffs they get, though they would be disappointed just the same if their game was not constantly and extravagantly boomed.

Yet frequently the ball clubs do indicate that they depend on the baseball writers for great support. Ball players usually feel that anything nice printed about them is the whole truth, and nothing but the truth and that the tributes they draw are no more than they deserve. They seldom indicate that they depend to any extent on writups, not them!

We are not criticising the player of the ball club in the attitude taken. We are musing on an interesting phase of human nature. The ball club looks for all the publicity it can get. It often manufactures publicity. It goes out after it. The ball player does not go after it in the same way, for the simple reason he expects it made for him. "What else can the papers say?" he queries. "I'm there." We are dwelling on this little side issue because it is overlooked in the grand discussion of ball players' salaries.

The player owes much of his financial success to the newspapers, but, of course, as we said before, he must have ability. "We play the game and the club bags the receipts," is the attitude often taken. Regardless of the real merit of that remark the player says nothing about any newspaper efforts that help him to get those receipts what they are. He made them, he infers.

All Plugging Their Own Game

The ball player is a friend of the baseball writer and the ball club is also his friend. There is no reason in the world why they should not all be friends. They are all plugging the same game. Baseball makes work for the scribe and the "work" so made pays the club and the player returns far greater than it does the scribe himself. Essentially, the club aims to assist for diplomatic reasons the baseball writer. What assistance does the baseball player get from the baseball writer? Ever think of that?

Who cuts into the baseball writer's profess? Who occasionally knocks him out of a job? Who tends to have his writups of Series and other features of baseball discounted? Not the ball club. The ball club does no newspaper work. The ball player does, though, and when he does he is off side. He is competing on the wrong side of the field. He is cutting into the writer's exclusive territory. He hogs things. All this is said in the abstract, just a little dilution on the general subject, a little bit of food for thought, as it were.

If the present agitation in baseball is to get everybody concerned to do some thinking on the subject, then the sum total of thought will help in the general understanding of the baseball system, which it must be admitted, is remarkably queer. We contend that publicity is a potent factor in the determination of ball players' salaries, but we have not noted the baseball frat giving anybody but the player credit for the popularity of baseball.

AMERICAN VESSEL WHICH DARED TO STEAM AWAY INTO GERMAN DANGER ZONE

The Orleans, which carries an American crew and put out to sea recently from New York to make the perilous trip through the barred zone to the English coast.

IT LOOKS LIKE HOT RACE IN THE AMERICAN LEAGUE THIS SEASON

"Red Sox Will Repeat," Says Jack Barry; "Watch the White Sox," Rowland; "The Early Stages Tell," Fielder Jones; "Confident of Yankees," Ruppert

Jack Barry, who has succeeded Bill Carrigan as manager of the world's champion Red Sox, is not a baseball prophet, but he is not a seer no reason why the Red Sox, under his leadership, cannot repeat last year's triumph. Barry will play first base, with Hobbiltz on first, Larry Gardner on third and Everett Scott at short field. He will carry a bunch of extra infielders—Gainer, Janvin, McNally, Thomas and Gill. Thomas played third base for the New Orleans team and made an excellent record. Gill was the second baseman of the champion Buffalo International league team and is said to be a comer. Barry will have half a dozen outfielders including the veterans Lewis, Hooper and Hendriksen, also Chick Shoen and Clarence Walker. In the absence of Carrigan, the backstopping will be looked after by Agnew, Cady, Thomas and Devine, who was taken from the New Haven club last fall. The pitching staff which is the mainstay of the world's champions, will comprise Babe Ruth, the big left-hander; Ernest Shore, Carl Mays, George Foster, Dutch Leonard, Vean Gregg, Wyckoff and Penneck. Foster "retired" last fall, but he recently decided to come back. "Smokey Joe" Wood has been sold to the St. Louis Browns.

"Watch White Sox"

"Watch the White Sox!" said Rowland when asked for his opinion of the American League race. "We will have a powerful ball club this season and we ought to profit by last year's mistakes. Poutier or Jack Ness will play first base, with Collins on second, Weaver on third and Terry at shortstop. Terry should improve wonderfully. We will have another promising infielder in Reiber, who has been taken from the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league. Jackson, Felsch, Leibold, Jack Collins, Eddie Murphy and Haas, who was secured from the Wilkesbarre club, will look after the outfield. Schalk, our regular catcher, will be relieved whenever it is necessary by Lapp and Mayer, who caught good ball for Milwaukee last year. We will have plenty of high-class pitching material. Cleotie, Faber, Russell, Scott, Williams, Wolfang and several young boxmen will go to the training camp. The Sox were beaten out of the pennant last year by a comparatively small margin. That is why I believe that, with our share of the breaks this time, we will land in first place."

Fielder Jones

"I'd like to get Maisei from the Yankees," said Fielder Jones, manager of the St. Louis Browns, "but I wouldn't trade Pratt for him. I need Pratt to keep my infield up to the notch. But I'd give Hank for Maisei in a minute. The story that I'd be willing to trade George Sisler to the Yankees is absurd on the face of it. Why, if I should let Sisler go, the Browns would lose all their popularity in St. Louis. Sisler is just as valuable to the Browns as Cobb is to the Detroit. I am not entirely satisfied with my team and if trades are possible I will make several. But you know how hard it is to pry a good player away from a rival club. The Browns played fast ball last summer, but they didn't get away to a flying start. For that reason they couldn't win a high position in the race. Our success this year, therefore, depends largely on what we can do in the early stages of the campaign."

Yankees Expect.

"The Yankees, in my opinion, are in the same class with the Red Sox, White Sox and Tigers," said Col. Ruppert of the Yankees. "Donovan will have a formidable pitching staff in Shawkey, Cullop, Mogridge, Shoaker, Fisher, Caldwell, Ehrlich, Russell and others. Caldwell will receive another chance to redeem himself and if he behaves properly his services will be extremely valuable. I believe that Cullop, Mogridge, Russell and Shoaker will show greater skill than last season. Behind the bat Donovan has three first-class men in Nunamaker, Walters and Alexander, also a promising colt named Shaw, who will receive a thorough trial at Macon.

Our infield has one weak spot, second base. Maisei and Geelson will be tried there and we hope that Maisei will display the necessary quality to become a regular in that position. Pipp, Peckinpaugh and Frank Baker are the other infielders. The fans know that these men can do, so further comment is out of order. High, Magee and Gilhooley, in the outfield, are fine players, too. Barring accidents, therefore, I feel confident that New York will cut a leading figure in the American league race this year, and if we should meet the Giants in the world's series next fall the fans will be richly rewarded for their loyal support."

Griffith Optimistic.

"We will be in the race all the way," said Clark Griffith, leader of the Washingtons. "Our pitchers will keep us up there from start to finish. You can't beat such a staff as we will open the season with. There is Walter Johnson to begin with. He is as skilful as ever. Then look at the other pitchers—Harper, one of the best left handers in the game; Shaw, Dumont, Yungling and a bunch of kids. The catchers are Henry, Ainsmith and Gharrity. Howard Shanks may prove a better man for first base than Joe Judge. Morgan or Felsch, a great young player, will be assigned to third base. Crane, from the Baltimore club, will succeed McBride at shortstop. I have Clyde Milan, Rise, Jamieson, Elmer Smith and several other men for the outfield. The Washington team's batting strength will show improvement. I hope, which means that, with our wonderful pitchers in shape, we will surely be heard from."

Cleveland Confident.

"The Cleveland need pitchers to be factors in this year's race," said President Dunn of the Indians. "If Guy Morton, our star, comes back with his pitching arm in good shape, keep your eyes on us, Manager Fohl will have some pretty good pitching material at that. Lambeth, Klep, Gr. Gaudy, Boshling, Kelsie, Laudermilk, O'Neil, Daly and Billings will look after the catching. Fohl will have three first basemen at the outset—Gandil, Guisto and Harlow, who comes from Chattanooga. Wambsganns will play second, Chapman will be the shortstop and either Turner or Evans will guard third base. We will have one of the best outfields in the league in Speaker, Graney and Roth. I look for a big baseball year, if there isn't war with Germany."

"Athletics no Longer Jokes."

"The fans cannot laugh at us much longer," declared Connie Mack, manager of the Athletic tailenders. "We have secured some really good players since last season. It is my plan to play McInnis, Grover and Bates on the bags, with Lawton Witt at shortstop, Strunk, Bodie and Thrasher will be the regular outfielders, unless changes are necessary. Behind the bat will be Schang, Pleinich, Meyer and Haley, while the pitchers will include Bush, Myers, Johnson, Nabors, Schauer, Noyes Hill and two or three others. The Athletics this year may surprise everybody."

Several actions were shown right on the front with miles of German prisoners rushing out of their trenches, crying "Kamerad" and holding up their hands. Vivid interest attaches to the pictures of various kinds of artillery from the 75's up to the 130 millimetre guns, and including trench mortars, and howitzers of all kinds. The huge shells and their effects when exploding were amply demonstrated. The vast stores of ammunition were suggested by the boards stacked up in various yards behind the front lines. General Joffre and the King of Montenegro were shown along with other prominent persons, and were

WAR WILL HELP ART IN AMERICA

Says E. A. Luther of New York, Who Thinks U. S. Too Independent

(Washington Post)

The European war has been a fortunate thing for American art, if it can be said that that conflict can produce any good fortune," says E. A. Luther, New York, at the Willard. "The people of America have been merely playing with art. The idea that we are unable in this country to develop our educational system by ourselves and without reference to educational systems elsewhere is certainly bad judgment. How grave this error is in industrial education one can scarcely realize until one comes to study in detail the industrial preparedness of our foreign competitors. Art education in foreign schools is a matter of serious concern. It is regarded economically as one of the most important things that the state can be interested in, for it touches industry.

"England, France, Germany, every great nation of Europe, encourages talent. Poverty is not permitted to veil genius. The boy of talent who cannot pay the school fees sees them cut in half or is allowed to have instruction free. Going further the art schools of Europe will even pay a youth of talent to attend school. Such latter instances are called scholarships in this country. Abroad they are known as "stipendia."

"We are sadly behind in this country in our industrial training. There are hundreds of boys and girls in the large cities of this country who have undeveloped talent. All they need is opportunity and encouragement, and unfortunately for us in the United States, neither is common."

TWELVE THOUSAND CAPTURED GERMANS

Endless Train of Huns Taken Prisoners by the French Will be Shown in the Great Film, "War as it Really Is."

"War as it Really Is," the seven reeler filmed under fire by Captain Donald C. Thompson, is to play at the Rex Theatre under the auspices of The Brantford Daily Courier for two days, starting Monday, Feb. 26. These motion pictures show the real truth about the trenches for the first time.

Commenting upon their appearance in Toronto, the critic of "Toronto World" of Jan. 2nd, 1917, under the heading "Fine War Pictures at the Regent—New and Thrilling Glimpses of the Fighting in and Around Verdun," wrote as follows:

"A Most interesting series of war pictures drew full houses to the Regent Theatre all day yesterday, and will continue during the week. The pictures are not duplicates of anything hitherto seen, and are genuine war scenes, all from Verdun and other parts of the French front, including views of 60,000 Russians at Verdun, and, what is not generally known, a regiment of Scottish Kilites. There were large contingents of the military among the civilian visitors yesterday, and there was only one opinion regarding the interest of the films. Perhaps the most impressive was the reply to a German statement frequently made that they had lost a few prisoners. An endless train of 12,000 marching along a country road stirred many comments.

Several actions were shown right on the front with miles of German prisoners rushing out of their trenches, crying "Kamerad" and holding up their hands. Vivid interest attaches to the pictures of various kinds of artillery from the 75's up to the 130 millimetre guns, and including trench mortars, and howitzers of all kinds. The huge shells and their effects when exploding were amply demonstrated. The vast stores of ammunition were suggested by the boards stacked up in various yards behind the front lines. General Joffre and the King of Montenegro were shown along with other prominent persons, and were applauded. Applause greeted the Russians, the Algerian troops and the Highlanders also. The searching of a German officer, a prisoner, and his sheepish expression formed a striking episode. Another phase of the war illustrated was the $7,000,000 worth of stores used every day. A view of these stores in partial distribution at one point gave an extraordinary impression of what an immense socialistic organization the army is. The pictures must be seen to be appreciated, and from the comprehensive views of Verdun down to the last engagement in the trenches, with great shells exploding right in the lines, there is unflinching interest and excitement.

LEHIGH VALLEY PRESIDENT.

By Courier Leased Wire.

Philadelphia, Feb. 21.—Edward E. Loomis, vice-president of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad, was today elected president of the Lehigh Valley Railway, succeeding E. B. Thomas, who was made chairman of the board of directors, and will also act as chairman of the executive and finance committees. E. S. Moore resigned as a director of the Lehigh Valley and Mr. Thomas was elected to succeed him.

CHINESE EGG CASE.

Montreal, Feb. 21.—The city attorney has advised the board of control to settle the famous fifty thousand dollar Chinese egg case. Recently a judgment for $500 and damages was awarded against the city after the case had been up and on for six years. The costs amount to $1,000.

BUY LOAD OF COAL.

Montreal, Feb. 21.—Mayor Martin had a scheme to buy a trainload of coal in Alberta to break the famine here. He has just received word that the cost of delivering the fuel here would bring it up to $18.50 a ton.

Nicholas Dodos, farmer, of the township of Hope, fell from a load of hay, and is totally paralyzed from his shoulders down.

FAMILY DOCTOR'S GOOD ADVICE

To Go On Taking "Fruit-a-tives" Because They Did Her Good

Rochester, P. Q., Jan. 14th, 1915.
 "I suffered for many years with terrible indigestion and constipation. I had frequent dizzy spells and became greatly run down. A neighbor advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'. I did so and to the surprise of my doctor, I began to improve, and he advised me to go on with 'Fruit-a-tives'.
 I consider that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives' and I want to say to those who suffer from indigestion, constipation or headaches—'try Fruit-a-tives' and you will get well'.

LENTEN RECIPES FOR HOUSEWIFE

Baked Lobster
 Put a lump of butter in a saucepan; add a couple of teaspoons of flour and cook for several minutes, stirring all the time; thin to a thick cream with milk; add to this sauce the jobbed lobster meat; take one good sized lobster or two small ones; pick out all the meat; chop it fine; add a pinch of cayenne and a little lemon juice; put this in small baking dishes, one for each person, and sprinkle with grated bread crumbs; bake a few moments till brown.

Baked Fish
 Make a dressing of bread crumbs, 2 tablespoonfuls of minced onion, some chopped parsley, a little butter, 1 tablespoonful of chopped suet, pepper and salt and a beaten egg; stuff the fish and sew securely; place in a pan with some hot water; lay pieces of pork on top with a little pepper and salt and bake, basting very often.

Oyster Toast
 Take 15 large oysters, chop them fine and add salt and pepper to taste, and if you choose a suspicion of mace or nutmeg; beat up the yolks of 2 eggs with a gill of cream; whisk this into the simmering oysters; when set pour the whole over slices of buttered toast. A very nice tea dish.

BURTCH

(From our own Correspondent)
 Miss Gladys Smith was the guest of Miss Isabell Chapin on Thursday last.

Mrs. Roy Simington and Master Lloyd were visiting at Mr. Aca Wheeler's on Thursday.

Rev. Mr. Vale conducted the afternoon service on Sunday. He preached a very interesting sermon, the text being "Who is on the Lord's Side?"

We are glad to report that Mr. Charles Eadie has returned home after his confinement in the Brantford general hospital, having undergone an operation.

Mr. and Mrs. James Minshall spent Sunday with the latter parents, Mrs. Minshall's parents having had their home burned during the past week.

Miss Margaret Ross spent the week-end with friends in Hamilton. Messrs. John and Gordon, and Miss Eva Campbell were the Sunday guests of Mr. Gilbert Bailey of Newport.

Mrs. John Campbell had the serious misfortune on Tuesday last to fall and break her arm.

A sleigh load of young people had a very enjoyable time at the skating rink on Tuesday evening.

We are sorry to report the illness of Mrs. John Will Eadie, and hope for her speedy recovery.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

DOOMED TO DIE ON THE HIGH SEAS BY HEARTLESS HUN RAIDERS
 These noble fellows were left on this frail raft by the submarine which destroyed the Ivernia. After sending the big boat to the bottom, the submersible steamed off, leaving the survivors to breast the elements on frail rafts and cackle-shell small boats. Over a hundred and fifty died from exposure.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFIES AND DARKENS HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! Here's an Old-time Recipe that Anybody Can Apply.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to garndmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

BILLY SUNDAY AND BILLY BRYAN

(From Life.)

It is funny, but Mr. Bryan is a national institution of considerable importance. He is the Billy Sunday of politics. Billy is full of heresies. Cardinal O'Connell says so. His ideas about the conduct of life are very primitive, and the world made over to suit him would be a shocking place. Moreover, he is a rather dreadful talker and a scandal to reverent spirits. Nevertheless, Billy seems really to have religion, and to have a remarkable power to impart it. He reaches the wills of men and makes them want to be good. That is very important. When it comes to the details of being good he is not a safe guide. He is ignorant, he is vulgar, his experience of life is narrow, and no doubt he has defects in grace and infirmities of behaviour. So in the details of conduct he is far from being a wise guide. But his power to make people want to be good is a great thing, because people who really want to be good can usually feel their own groping way along towards righteousness and discover by experiment whether this or that recommended line of conduct is profitable or not.

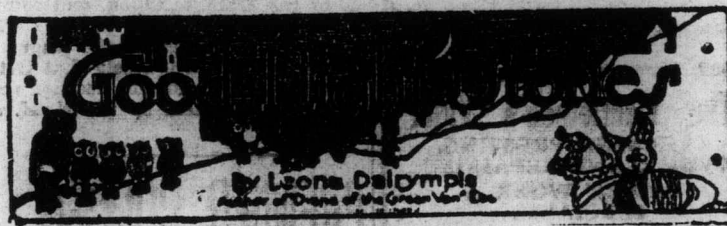

In like manner Mr. Bryan is weak on details, but a useful exhorter. He almost always heads right, but the route he recommends to folks to get where he wants them to go is almost always the wrong road. Now he shows a purpose to concentrate on a fight against rum. He wants national prohibition and the abolition of the saloon. He has often been useful in getting things done right, by threatening to do them wrong and getting enough voters with him to give bite to the scare.

EMBARGO REQUIRED.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 Chicago, Feb. 21.—President J. P. Griffin, of the Chicago Board of trade, today telegraphed to the Interstate Commerce Commission and to the presidents of eastern railroads insisting that unless an immediate embargo was placed on all products eastbound out of Chicago, except fuel and foodstuffs, the country will face the danger of anarchy and rioting.

MAYOR ACTS.

By Courier Leased Wire.
 New York, Feb. 21.—After Mayor Mitchell had been informed by East side housewives today that their children were "starving to death by hundreds" because of the high cost of food, he promised to place before the Board of estimate on Friday their plea that $1,000,000 be appropriated by the city to buy food for distribution at reasonable prices.

THE COBWEB CASTLE.

"We made a mistake," said the Owl to the Spider. "I mean when we put the thinking cap on."

"It is true," said the Spider who was a good spider, "that we thought all the thoughts out of the fairy thinking cap and had to put them back, but what are we to do now? I'd hate to be chased again by all the fairies and elves because we broke a rule and thought too many thoughts. And I'm afraid of that dreadful little old man with the green cap and the red beard who tends the cap."

"Well," said the Owl, "you want to build a cobweb castle, don't you?"

"I certainly do," said the Spider. "And you don't know how to go about it?"

"No," said the Spider. "Then," sneered the Owl, "you'll just have to put on the fairy thinking cap again."

"I'm afraid," said the Spider. "This time," said the Owl, "we can think a few thoughts instead of a great many. That's what the cap is for."

So they went to the thorn bush and found the thinking cap. It was gray and fuzzy and would grow or shrink to the size of any head.

Now this time the Owl and the Spider thought just enough thoughts—not enough to think the cap quite empty, but still enough to tell the Spider how to build his cobweb castle. And off he went.

He spun gray cobwebby walls. He spun gray towers and turrets. A wonderful castle! Why, it had fire, fly lanterns, a cobweb gate and hammocks of cobweb in every room. The Owl was delighted with his spider friend's work.

"But remember," said he, "you're to build a clock tower yet where I can sit and hoot out the hours for you. Don't forget."

And so the giant Spider went to work again and wove a cobweb clock tower. An old fairy clockmaker made him a clock and when the castle was done the Owl went there to live. Most any night you can hear him striking the hour. To-whit-to-woo! To-whit-to-woo! To-whit-to-woo!

I'd like to hear him strike the hours, wouldn't you?
 Tomorrow—The Spider King.

MARRIAGE MARKS A MAN, SAYS MOTHER-IN-LAW

New Jersey Woman Tells How She Discovered Her Son-in-Law Had Two Wives; He Bore the Brand

East Orange, N.J., Feb. 22.—Mrs. Ann Schofield just chuckled and chuckled yesterday when asked to explain her statement that "you can always tell a married man by his actions." Then she explained.

Mrs. Schofield is the East Orange mother-in-law who just naturally knew her daughter's husband had another wife stowed away somewhere.

She suspected that of Captain Selwyn Joyce of Boer war fame, from the first; and after he married daughter Dorothy, mother Schofield pooh-poohed his claim of bachelor and snuffed out his other marriage record in far off New Zealand.

Dorothy's marriage now stands annulled and wife number one is waiting to send her husband to jail, all due to Mother Schofield's eagle eye for benedicts.

"You can see it in their faces," she said yesterday. "It sticks out all over them."

"Marriage brands a man as plain as a hot iron on a cow's hip. I saw wife written on the sleek Mr. Joyce the first time I ever set eyes on him. He was too considerate around the house to be a 33-year-old bachelor."

"Like all average married men, he was an artistic liar in a small way about things wives like to be lied to about. As to his further accomplishments in this respect I say nothing, but that he could praise coffee that everybody knew was vile, in such a way that it tasted good."

"What old bachelor would take the trouble to do that, even if he could? Only a married man would do it."

"Like his brother benedicts, he knew how to praise his wife's taste, whether good or bad. If a married man says something about another woman, he doesn't neglect to say something a little nicer about his wife. That was Joyce."

"He had habits of cleanliness and care about the house that no bachelor of 33 ever had; he didn't throw his clothes on the floor, nor leave things cluttered up behind him. He showed in a thousand little ways that a wife wasn't new to him."

"Take tears, for instance. Tears break a newly and never-before-married man's heart. He gets all excited about them. But they rolled off that man's back like water off a duck."

"Some of his oily sweetness might have been explained if he had been living at home with women folks who had trained him a bit, but a man doesn't get polished up for domestic use as a soldier of fortune. He kept quiet about my suspicions until one day, he and Dorothy were fighting. He fought like a married

MISS' AND SMALL WOMAN'S DRESS.

By Anabel Worthington.

A design that answers every demand of fashion—from its one-piece cut to the button decoration at front, which indicates where the closing is made.

At the shoulder seams the fronts are gathered, giving a pretty line over the bust. The fullness of the skirt section is neatly drawn to the sides and back and held in place by arranging a belt across the back, its ends being tacked to the front sides, as pictured. In this way the long, slender silhouette is maintained, as the front of the frock shows.

A very attractive sleeve is made with a slight ruff just below the elbow, and from there it buttons to the wrist, finishing without a cuff, but with a fitted cuff effect. A pocket is inserted at either side and trimmed with a triangular tab for novelty. The collar and neck revers are of contrasting color goods. While the button decoration is all that is really necessary on this model, one who is partial to embroidery may add it, for it is a popular style note.

Serge, gabardine, wool faille, wool poplin, velveteen and broadcloth are among the most favored fabrics for this type of garment. By comparison with a ready-made, you will be convinced that the pattern of such a simple little frock will help to solve your dress problem.

The dress pattern No. 8,099 cuts in sizes fourteen to twenty years. To make in size sixteen requires four and a half yards thirty-six inch material, three-eighths yard twenty-seven inch contrasting goods. To obtain the pattern send ten cents to the office of this publication.

PREMIER BORDEN ARRIVES SAFELY

Sir Robert and Party Reach England for Imperial Conference

Ottawa, Feb. 22.—Sir Robert Borden and party have arrived safely in England, a cablegram to the Government announced yesterday.

In the premier's party were Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and naval affairs; Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works; L. C. Christie, confidential secretary to the premier; and Herbert Cole, private secretary to Sir George Perley, overseas minister of militia.

The Canadian ministers are in England to attend the imperial conference called by Premier Lloyd George.

Reference in a London press cable to a postponement of the conference is puzzling officials here, who have had no intimation of any such action. It is pointed out that no date has ever been set for the conference for the reason that it would depend upon the length of time that it would require for the overseas delegates to reach England.

It is assumed here that what is meant by postponement is a possible departure delaying the delegation's departure. Mid-March would be the earliest possible date now, as it requires three weeks to make the Australian trip.

U OF T. REPORT.

By Courier Leased Wire.
Toronto, Feb. 21.—The annual report of the University of Toronto submitted to the legislature by the provincial secretary shows a revenue for the past year of $358,870 and expenses of $912,359. With the accumulated deficit from the previous year, the balance is on the wrong side by over $79,000, which has been met by special grants of $80,000 by legislature. There was a heavy decline in the receipts from students' fees and this decline is expected to be still greater this year owing to the continued enlistment.

CHECK NOT HONORED.

By Courier Leased Wire.
Toronto, Feb. 21.—Eddie Oatman, who is in the city, declares that he caught in good faith with the 228th Battalion, and that contrary to report he was prepared to go overseas, but was turned down for "special circumstances." Oatman presented a cheque at a local bank for $175, which he received in part payment for his services but it was not honored, the check having been cancelled by wire. He is waiting at his treatment and intends proving his charges.

It cost $359,250.28 to run the municipal departments of Victoria during January, according to the report of the city controller issued last night. The largest item was $278,368.67 for debt service interest.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The February meeting of the Oak Hill Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. George Sheppard. There was a very good attendance despite the cold and storm. The President, Mrs. H. Jennings had charge of the meeting, which was opened by singing the Institute Ode. After the business for the day was transacted the Question Drawer conducted by the young girl members, passed a very interesting and helpful hour. Excellent music by Mrs. J. Lawrence was very much enjoyed. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostess. The meeting closed by singing "God Save the King." The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Williams, Burford Road.
