RED DEER.

An Athlete Speaks Favorably of the "Great Lone Land."

RED DEER, ALBERTA, Sept. 4th, 1891.

To the Editor of Athens Reporter:

Sir,—Before leaving Athens I promised to give you a few lines on Red Deer. Well, to begin with, the town is situated on the south side of the river which bears the same name. This river takes its rise in or near the Rocky Mountains and is fed besides by numerous small streams and springs. We are about 94 miles north of Calgary, on the Calgary and Edmonton railway, and about half way between Calgary and Edmonton, in the centre of as fine an agricultural country as I have ever seen, and, judging from such information as I have been able to gather, one of the best mixed farming districts in the whole west. The railway was built about a year and has two hundred miles of line completed and operated by the C. P. R. They are now constructing the line southward from Calgary towards the international boundary and will reach McLeod before the winter sets in.

Shortly after leaving Calgary you leave the open prairie and enter into a rolling country dotted here and there with spruce and poplar, many small lakes and silvery streams of pure water running through it. The country is like one continuous park, stretching all along the line east and west farther than the eye can see. The person who has just crossed the treeless prairie where nothing but the level prairie to be seen for hundreds of miles struck with amazement at the beautiful scenery. If he is in search of land I am sure he will not return to the open prairie, especially when he sees the rich fields of grain here and the fat cattle that are let range through the parks and coolers themselves. One look at a field of grain will convince him of the richness of the soil. I believe there is no place in the whole North West so well adapted for mixed farming as the prairie grain which is so plentiful here is the great flesh and milk producer. Then the quantity and quality of the water makes it beyond question a great dairy country. Water can be had, which is just as fine and cooler than that of the East, at any spot by digging for it. I have not known of any well deeper than 18 feet; besides there are numerous springs. You can find roaming over the hills cattle that never receive any other food than the wild grass just as fat as the Eastern still fed cattle, if not fatter. The milk from these cows here is far richer than the milk of the East. The abundance of the pure water and the grass undoubtedly places this district in a superior position to the most favored dairy district of the East, and the first man who secures the field for a creamery is sure to reap a good harvest. There are already several parties thinking of going into this industry and putting in a factory in the town. The demand for creamery butter in British Columbia at a good paying figure is more than the Alberta can supply. The profits arising out of butter here is much more than the profits out of cheese in the Ontario farmer. I am advised on good authority that the farmer here has shipped all his season's butter from the milk of fifty cows to Japan, and in less than 60 days, after paying all shipping, insurance, interest, commissions, &c., he had to himself the handsome sum of 35 cents per pound for his butter. If this Japan trade can be cultivated, and there is no doubt that it can, the Alberta farmers have in this one article a product that no other place can successfully compete with him. It will be to them far better than the Liverpool cheese market is to their Ontario brethren.

The great crops of grain and roots grown here show that the country is as well adapted to growing grain and roots as anywhere in the Northwest, and better than in many places, while the climate is much milder than in Manitoba and generally far healthier.

There need not be any anxiety over the fuel question. The quantity of wood is sufficient for all the settlers for many years to come, and should they care to use coal, it can be brought in from Edmonton coal mines at a reasonable figure; but before many days coal will be dug up from here. The greatest coal banks yet found in the North West lies 20 miles east of here on the river banks. The seam which crops out of the bank measures 60 feet to the water's edge. Whether it goes deeper and how the water is not known. This place is about the nearest to it from the railway and prospects are that next year a line will be constructed into the country, when they will be operated.

The sportsman can find more game here than "Ye Editor" ever struck in your hunt north from Athens. Already we have been visited by several parties from British Columbia and other places. H. Y. Scott, & C. of Toronto, and several others started down the river yesterday intending to either land at Medicine Hat or Swift Current landing. He has been over a good deal of the country and is frank to admit that this is the finest district he has seen. An English gentleman with him, who has been over the world and who has given much of his time travelling through the North West, told me that in all his travels he had not such a fine country before. It reminded him very much of an immense English park.

Must now close by saying that I believe there are thousands of people in Ontario who have their farms and stock heavily mortgaged, others living on rented farms who can scarcely eke out an existence, and many others who are living from hand to mouth. To them I would say, come west here; you can get 160 acres of finer land ready for the plow, than in Ontario, for 10 cents an acre. They can easily sustain themselves and family and in a short time, with industry, they will be independent and have something to give their children other than their poverty and debts. Yours truly,

GEO. W. GREENE.

Unionville Fair Notes.

The number of entries on the Secretary's book at 8 o'clock this morning was 1709, being 610 more than at any corresponding first morning of the fair in the past history of the society. In nearly every department there is a marked increase in the number of entries and the weather proves fine for the success of the exhibition, as far as the exhibits is concerned, is an assured fact.

The Unionville fair has always been noted as a purely agricultural exhibition, and not dependent on outside shows or attractions, and this year will be no exception to this rule, as the immense number of entries in all the classes abundantly testify. The horse of sport, however, will not be disappointed, as the committee on sports have arranged for a number of interesting events to fill in the time.

There will be a lively contest for the prize offered for the horses in the Green race. In the 3 minutes race the competitors will be unusually exciting as it is rumored that the parties who were so badly beaten by D. J. Worris' horse "Banner" at Gananoque will make a strong effort to beat him on his own ground. A glance at the entry book shows that all the finest carriage, roadster and general purpose teams and single horses are already entered to compete for the very liberal prize offered.

From the number of entries already made in the poultry class, the building will be far too small to accommodate all the exhibitors, and the birds are separate coops for 112 pair of fowls in the building.

The Massey, Harris Co.'y will have a large display of the implements of their manufacture, in charge of Berney & James, of Athens.

McNeil, of Lyn, will have a full line of his implements at the fair, including his now famous "Straddle Row Cultivator."

The entries in the carriage line shows that the building devoted to that class will be well filled to overflowing. The Bradford, Rogie's Corners, Brockville and Athens carriages will be on exhibition, and very likely a large display from Gananoque will be made. The entries in the horse line are also very full, and the display of the horse line is also very full, and the display of the horse line is also very full.

FRONT OF YONGE.

Received late for last week.

TUESDAY, Sept. 8.—The late census is being handled to advantage by the more intelligent people of Canada.

Mr. James Tennant of Caintown talks of giving up the business of blacksmithing and leading a retired life. Mr. Tennant is now in easy circumstances and can well afford to take comfort in his latter days.

Mr. Jacob Hingaboon who now lives advanced in his 80th year attended a thrashing machine last week at the barn of his son. The old gentleman took the most difficult position, the tail, and followed up continually for half a day. We will wager a year that Mr. Hingaboon is by all odds the smartest man for his years, in the United Counties of Leeds and Grenville.

Mrs. Duncan of Caintown is at present quite ill.

Mr. W. Andrews and W. Buell are finishing up the carpenter work on Mr. W. Torrence's new house.

The Warren boys of Escott have four new steam thrashing machines, which are constantly running.

A Mr. Nun of Manitoba sowed 105 bushels of wheat which looked fine till a hail storm swept across his field leveling the grain to the ground. It will not be cut, the storm was confined to a narrow strip.

ADDISON.

SATURDAY, Sept. 12.—Mr. Hiram Steward has erected a new picket fence in front of his family residence on King street, which makes a great improvement in the appearance of his place.

The partnership existing between the road contractor of Reynard Valley and Mr. John O'Connor has been dissolved, and after the fall fairs are over Mr. O'Connor will make his southern tour. He has promised to send reports of his travels to your correspondent.

Mr. Lorenzo Parish, of Wisconsin, is visiting his many friends in this section. Mr. Parish migrated to that country some thirty years ago and engaged in farming quite extensively. By careful industry he has amassed quite a fortune. He is connected with some of the leading families in this section and the village of Athens.

Our cheesemaker has been quite indisposed, but Dr. Dixon soon put him on his feet again.

Mrs. Glazier, of Fairfield, is visiting friends in this vicinity. She is a daughter of Mr. Wm. DuWolfe, of Toledo.

Mr. Daniel Wilton, of King St., met with quite an accident recently, having three teeth kicked out by a vicious horse.

Our King St. tea merchant is expected home in a few days.

Again it is our duty to chronicle the death of one of our old residents, Mr. James Langdon, who has resided in Carlton Place for some time. He was taken with Bright's disease. Hopes were entertained of his recovery, but he took a relapse from which he never recovered. His remains were brought by train to Bradford, where a large concourse of friends awaited it; from thence it was borne to the family cemetery at Silver Brook. Deceased was in his 83rd year. He leaves a wife and three children to mourn the loss of a kind father and loving husband. They have the sympathy of all in their hour of sorrow.
