

CAUSE OF EXPLOSION STILL A MYSTERY.

Machinery In Glazing Mill May Have Become Overheated From Friction.

Indiana State Militia in Control--Condition of the Injured.

Fontanet, Ind., Oct. 16.—The residents of this village of 1,000 persons when they awoke this morning encountered a much different situation than they had been accustomed in the past.

will immediately begin an investigation of the cause of the disaster. Systematic searches for bodies among the debris in the powder mills were begun this morning.

MALONEY FAILS TO FIND ELOPERS

Philadelphia Millionaire Cannot Get Any Trace of Runaway Daughter in London.

MISS HELEN EUGENIE MALONEY, WHO ELOPED WITH SAMUEL CLARKSON.

Miss Maloney, daughter of Martin Maloney, a Standard Oil millionaire, eloped recently with a young Englishman named Samuel Clarkson.

London, Oct. 16.—Martin Maloney, the father of the eloping American girl, spent another anxious day at the Hotel Cecil without news of his daughter.

DUNDON'S PEOPLE.

Drowned Man's Mother Lives on St. Matthew's Avenue.

The police have discovered the mother of William Dundon, whom they were seeking to deliver a message of the drowning of Dundon to.

CASSIE CHADWICK.

Six Prominent Woodstock Men Fall Bearers at Funeral.

Woodstock, Ont., Oct. 16.—(Special).—Six prominent men of Woodstock lowered the body of Mrs. Cassie Chadwick into its last resting place in the Episcopal Cemetery this afternoon at half past two.

GOING TO WINNIPEG.

Rev. Edgar E. Shields Accepts a Pastorate There.

Rev. Edgar E. Shields, who is at present residing with his mother at 91 Jackson street west, this city, has received an accepted a call to Nassau Street Baptist Church, Winnipeg, and will leave for that city about the beginning of next month to enter upon the duties of pastor.

NOT WORTH NICKEL.

That Million Dollar Estate Will Never Pay Anything.

Mrs. Fraser, 109 Wilton avenue, Toronto, one of the claimants of the million dollar estate in Wilmington, Del., to which Miles Springer, of Thorold, and his sister, Mrs. Ferguson, both formerly of this city, were yesterday said to have fallen heir to, laughs at the idea of any of the "heirs" ever receiving one cent.

ARE TROUBLING THE NIAGARA FRUIT SECTION.

Influx of Penniless Immigrants Who Seem to be Unsited to the Work.

Beamsville, Oct. 16.—Perhaps during this past summer, more than any other, the influx has been the greater, have the people of the peninsula wrestled with the immigration question, and particularly that of the penniless immigrants.

The condition of one large family that came into the Beamsville district not long ago was pitiable in the extreme. For quite a long time they occupied a deserted shack near the railroad, cooking whatever they could pick up in a large iron pot suspended over a fire in the open.

SYNOD COMMITTEE.

Money all Invested and Interest Paid Promptly.

The Standing Committee of the Synod Niagara met yesterday afternoon at the Synod office. There were 26 members of the committee present.

INVENTOR DEAD.

Once Wealthy, and Was Crank on Flying Machines.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—David Redfield Proctor, 81 years old, a cousin of United States Senator Redfield Proctor, of Vermont, was found dead yesterday in a cheap lodging house in South Clark street.

MULLEN-LAZIER.

The marriage of Dr. Huerner Mullen and Miss Elizabeth Lazier, daughter of Mr. S. F. Lazier, K. C., took place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Centenary church.

Another Kick.

The Hamilton football team, known as the Tigers, were going to beat the Monarchs in their clash by claws, but the event did not eventuate according to schedule.

A Satisfactory Store.

Many are the pleasing comments heard this season relative to the superb assortments of newest autumn and winter goods carried by The Right House.

New Arrivals.

Farde dates, new table figs, new table raisins new cooking raisins, new orange lemon and citron peel, Caminbert cheese, new French peas, beans, macidoines, Boston head lettuce, grape fruit, pineapples, cycle pears, Long Point ducks, pigeons, Long Island Sound oysters, cicoes, haddie, etc. Bain & Adams, 89 and 91 King street east.

English Shag Tobacco.

W. D. & H. O. Wills, of Bristol, are the manufacturers of the celebrated superfine English shag tobacco. It is sold in this city for 20 cents a tin at peace's cigar store, 107 king street east.

SAFETY DEPOSIT BOXES.

To rent at $2 a year and upwards, for the storing of deeds, bonds, stocks, wills, silver and other valuables, at the TRADERS BANK OF CANADA.

The Man In Overalls

The Police Commissioners must have been looking for a sharp man when they picked George Sharp for a policeman.

Can you tell me how it is that the ladies always serve coffee at tea meetings? Beattie Nesbitt now asks Whitney what he is going to do about it. And Whitney doesn't know.

After all, it seems to be pretty hard to give anything away in this city. Even the Platt Park is going begging.

The Japs are still flocking into Vancouver just as if they had never heard of the Canadian Club meeting.

Perhaps George Hope could get the Parks Board to take over the Coal Oil Inlet and make a lagoon with gondolas out of it.

Yes, Maude, the York Loan depositors are to be pitied.

To be sure, the Board of Works could raise a little money on a chattel mortgage, if it had the chattels.

Toronto may as well know it now as any other time that Hamilton will rather die in the last ditch than allow the Queen's Own to capture it on Thanksgiving Day and carry the Mayor away into captivity.

Taft will have to tell the Mikado another funny story by way of apology for the latest San Francisco Jap outrage.

Britain may not have many railway accidents, but when she does have one it's usually a corker.

Now would be a good time for Sir Wilfrid to bring on his elections. The farmers are all smiles.

Have the Japs been agitating for the exclusion of the white man from Japan? Or do they view with alarm the white peril? Then, again, there may be no white peril.

The night schools for young men and young women are now open. Are you going?

Still, after considering all the arguments advanced as to the amount of Beattie Nesbitt's salary, I should suppose he ought to know how much he is getting for that sinecure.

I shouldn't like to be the alderman who has to go down to Toronto this year to ask permission to borrow money to pay the overdraft.

Now that the Parks Board has been reconstituted, I should imagine that the Dundurn bears will get a holiday now and again.

Common sense should teach young fellows that they are only bringing trouble upon themselves by interfering with the police in the discharge of their duty.

Possibly the Com. Club will pass a vote of censure on the Mayor for that Parks Board appointment.

I was talking to a Beach resident this morning. He said there were as yet no signs of the Ferris wheel or the loop de loop at the Lakeside Park. All was as still as death, except for what the wild waves were saying every once in a while.

I would like to form a motor-bus company to run a line of cars up the Jolley Cut. I see good money in it in the good old summer time. It would make a great belt line around by the reservoir. None but principals dealt with.

SAW IT IN THE TIMES?

Well, you may be assured that it is all right. If it was news, it's trustworthy. If it was comment, it's fair. If it presented a policy, it is for the public good. If it was literature, it is clean. If it was sentiment, it is elevating. It is the paper of the family. Father and mother read it. Sons and daughters read it. Everybody reads it. That's why it is so effective as an advertisement medium. See the point? Is your ad in it?

CHURCH MEETINGS.

Methodists and Baptists Hold Conventions in Woodstock.

Woodstock, Ont., Oct. 16.—(Special)—The meeting of the Board of Management of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church this morning was devoted to the reception of very satisfactory reports from various of the conferences represented, showing evidences of growth and development.

The following Hamilton ladies are in attendance: Miss J. Cartmell, Mrs. G. Fraser, Mrs. James Harrison, Mrs. W. E. Ross, Mrs. E. S. Strachan and Miss Margaret Kessey, Dundas.

Quality. When you talk quality in rubber goods you must have the goods to back up your assertions. We have a reputation of handling the best rubber goods in the city, and also the largest assortment to choose from, so come with the crowd, and buy your rubber goods from Parke & Parke, druggists.

SEES GOVERNOR.

Boston, Mass., Oct. (Special).—The members of the Ontario Labor Commission here, investigating labor conditions, called on Governor Guild today.

THINK THE REQUEST MEANS NEW TRACKS.

H. & D. Cars Are to be Taken Off James Street, Anyway.

Aldermen More Skeptical Than Ever of the Hydro-Electric Scheme.

Some of the Board of Works aldermen think they see, in the Hamilton Street Railway's proposal to have the James street work, between King and Main street, laid over until the spring, a plan to reopen negotiations with next year's Council for a settlement of all the disputes with the city.

The Fire and Water sub-committee appointed to confer with the township people on the question of a water supply for Barton people living adjacent to the city, had a long talk this morning, but was unable to reach a settlement.

A sub-committee from the Board of Works will look into the question of extra lights for the southwest end of the city. It appears as if there would be some difficulty getting either the American Street Lighting & Supply Co. or the Cataract to install the necessary lights.

More murmurings of the doubt among the aldermen and city officials of the possibility of the Hydro-Electric Power scheme ever being carried to a successful issue were heard in the City Hall today.

Chairman Quinn and Dr. Roberts, Medical Health Officer, will likely attend the annual convention of the sanitary officials of the State of New York, held at Buffalo this week.

MINISTER WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT SUNFIELD CASE.

Chief Justice Falconbridge Had An Anonymous Letter About Mrs. Radzyk's Testimony.

Chief Justice Falconbridge this morning received an anonymous letter from Thessalon, but as it was from "A minister of the church" and concerned a life or death question, he gave it his attention. The letter was as follows: Oct. 15th, 1907.

made to answer "yes" or "no" to the charge of killing her husband? I don't want a reply, but naturally every true man wants another man to get justice. Faithfully yours, A Minister of the Church.

LIBERAL LEADER HERE SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 2.

Hon. A. G. M'Kay Will Give An Address in the Local Club Quarters.

Hon. A. G. MacKay, leader of the Opposition in the Provincial Parliament, will be in Hamilton on Saturday, November 2, and will give an address in the Liberal Club quarters on the evening of that day.

party in the Ontario House, and will have something of moment to say about the platform and prospects of the party.

BROKE HER SKULL.

Aged Foreigner at Beamsville Had a Bad Fall.

An aged woman employed by the Preserving Company at Beamsville, a Polish, fell down two flights of stairs in the company's large boarding house there this morning. When picked up she was unconscious, and was thought to be dead.

—Mr. James McIlroy and sister, Mrs. Ellen Ouyon, of Gilroy, California, are in the city, visiting relatives and renewing old acquaintances, after an absence of 35 years.

THE USURPER

CHAPTER XXXI. At last Sylvia drew herself out of Neville's arms and the two stood and gazed at each other. Their faces were crimsoned. He had not actually seen her yet; in that first rush they had scarcely looked at each other. And now—well, he had been picturing to himself the Sylvia he remembered, the slim girl with girlish front and face and ways and tricks of speech. That was the Sylvia he had left and he had expected to see. And, instead, here before him was a lovely, an exquisitely lovely woman, superbly dressed, her shoulders and arms gleaming like marble. Could this princess be his wild lass of the woods, his little Syl?

LIGHTING PLANT ESTIMATES.

Last night Mr. Sothman, one of the Hydro-Electric Commission's engineers, gave the Board of works some more estimates of the cost of providing an electric light distribution system for the city.

The former estimate furnished by the commission's engineers placed the cost of such a system at about $120,000, a figure which was regarded as too low by at least half.

Mr. Sothman put the cost of operation of this 500 arc lamp system at $25,517 a year, made up as follows:

Fixed charges $18,247

Power 3,470

Renewals 1,600

Wages 1,900

Oil and waste 500

A good many people will be inclined to see in the allowance of $1,600 for wages an evidence of the insufficiency of the estimate.

It would hardly pay the salary of a capable electrical engineer for the system, to say nothing of the management and the wages which must be paid for its operation.

The power cost estimate seems to be inadequate also, representing a transformed and distributed current of only 231 horse-power at $12.

The fixed charges on capital, assuming his estimate to be near the mark, are low, but might be realized, could the securities be sold to advantage.

Renewals are merely guessed at, and the chances are that the progress of the science and the accidents of operation would largely increase them.

To some of Mr. Sothman's items from 25 to 50 per cent. may be safely added, without unduly loading the estimate.

Wages may be trebled or quadrupled. Nothing is allowed for management. No provision is made for damages.

The entire estimate looks like a promoter's proposition, the promoter having no risks to run.

The Board of Works will hold a meeting at an early date to consider the figures. Meanwhile it might be well to go into the work in detail and ascertain whether the various portions of the contract are likely to be undertaken as contracts by practical contractors without largely exceeding the estimates; and whether proper operating cost allowances have been provided for.

As it stands at present it will bear a great deal of elucidation. It is not as if it were an undertaking by a responsible contractor to do a given work for a given price.

LICENSE LAW ABUSES.

The Ottawa Free Press says: "We here in Ottawa have been convinced from the developments of the past few days that the claim of the Whiteites that the license law is being administered without fear or political favour is pure moonshine."

It cites the case of Mr. Vincent as significant of what happens to a commissioner who is unsopitiated enough to accept Whitney's platform promises of honest license law enforcement as a direction to the administration of the Act, and says he "has learned what Messrs. Flavelle, Davidson and Murray learned in Toronto, namely, that the commissioner who endeavors to administer the law without regard for the political consequences has to be disciplined, or, if unwilling to be placed under the ban of party contumely, must in self-respect resign his position."

In Hamilton nobody is deluded by the Premier's cheap talk. People have taken his size. Mr. Henry New's experience as a license commissioner was enlightening. Mr. New got the idea that the Premier wanted a square deal, and, relying upon his support, he proceeded to try to give it. He was not long on the commission, however, till his position was made very uncomfortable, and not proving amenable enough to the influences which the Government intended the Commissioners to be subservient to he was cast into outer darkness and another was put in his place.

At Hensall the other day, Mr. M. Y. McLean illustrated by specific instances how the license law was enforced in South Huron where a proper administration was promised by Mr. Harry Eiber, M. P. P., and other Conservative speakers. The commission thought that in the village of Khiva there was no need of a hotel and therefore it decided to cut the license off. Mr. Barney Cunningham went to see Harry Eiber, the member, and after an interview that is said to have been somewhat sulphurous the license commission saw new light on the matter, and as a result, the license was not cut off. There is no danger that the license will be cut off. Mr. Cunningham is an active conservative worker.

In Exeter, Whitney's commission decided that there was not enough population in the town for so many hotels, and it was decided to cut off a certain hotel, owned by a Liberal, of course. The hotel then passed into the hands of a staunch Conservative and then immediately the commission saw a new light. It was suddenly found that the population had increased greatly, and there was sufficient to support the extra hotel.

That sort of thing is going on all over the Province. A hint of the rascality that is kept from the public was given in Commissioner Starr's report in which the deals in $1,000 cheques and notes were condemned. If an inspector or commissioner resists the evil influences which are brought to bear on him, and tries to do his duty, he is made to walk the plank. Rottenness rules. Never in the history of the Province has the license system been so partisan or so corruptly administered. And those responsible for that state of things are the men who pledged themselves to secure honesty, efficiency and purity in the administration of the license act; yet they were hardly well seated in office before they were making personal appeals in the interest of notorious violators of the law.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Whiskey prices have gone up in London, and in the face of a water shortage, too.

Dr. Amyot, of the Provincial Health Department, still tells Toronto people to boil the water.

Londoners have chosen Major Beattie as their candidate for the by-election, thus turning down Wm. Gray hard.

Hanna is, it is rumored, on the trail of the big moose. At least, he is carefully keeping out of Dr. Beattie Nesbitt's reach.

Those Vancouverites who call themselves the Asiatic Exclusion League probably have their headquarters in some Tooley Street tailor shop.

Somebody who said the Street Railway Company had not moved to obey the Board's order to repair its cars and tracks must have been fibbing recklessly.

Hon. Dr. Pyno has been tugging the Sault Ste. Marie people with the technical school feather. What is he going to do for Hamilton? Does Hon. Mr. Hendrie know?

"Goggin" who is Goggin? We are told that he is an "educationist of note" and that he is to prepare new school readers. Do you know Goggin? Ever hear of Goggin?

Nova Scotia is true to Fielding. The reception they gave him last night was a hearty one, and Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. Mr. Pugsley and Sir Frederick Borden were warmly greeted.

The first Philippine Assembly is meeting this week, and the caucus has decided that it shall not be opened with prayer. The vote is regarded as a sort of test of church and state power, and was carried by a majority of one.

Dr. Sheard, Toronto's Medical Health Officer, wants the Legislature to do away with the bread label and make it compulsory to have a standard weight for bread. He must be sighing for the days of the four pound loaf.

Now Germany will seek to get the Canadian sardine removed, and is willing to treat Canada as an equal commercial. That is better. Canada wants to be neighborly, but she will take no kicks and cuffs.

We hope now that there is an armed truce in the aldermanic "war" with the street railway, and the Parks Board is once more complete and ready for business, that there will be a conference on Oct. 17, and that Mr. Vincent will be present.

Mr. W. D. Platt's generous offer to the city, and that it will be thankfully accepted. That acquisition would fit in well with the scheme to buy the face of the mountain and preserve it for the city. No more neglect, please. The time for action has arrived.

Rev. Mr. Farmer, of Brantford, in his sermon on Sunday last, said that city was the most drunken he ever found in any of his travels. Some years ago a Hamilton clergyman said Hamilton held a similar unenviable position. At the time we objected to the statement, believing it not to be true. Bad as Brantford may be, we hope the language of the reverend gentleman was exaggerated, to say the least. We have our own bottle brigade.

The other day before he went moose-hunting Hon. Mr. Hanna fired his parting shot at Dr. Beattie Nesbitt: "A handful of rich men want to secure the whole organization (electric power) and then make it a political game. They have evidently secured Dr. Beattie Nesbitt as a sort of advance agent, and his first notice was the speech at Gravenhurst." Will Doc Nesbitt allow "Rockefeller's boy" to tread on the tail of his coat with impunity?

The United States Government has engaged a Greek with the celestial-sounding name of Alcibiades Seraphie, to help to break up the padrone system in the States, whereby young Greeks are brought there under what is said to be practical slavery. His reports, it is said, reveal a startling state of affairs in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, New Orleans and other cities. This sort of slavery, it has been asserted, also exists in Canada. Is that at all probable?

Chicago women are having quite a trying time of it just now. The clergymen have been denouncing them from the pulpit for their alleged drinking habits, and now the discovery has been made public that the cigarette habit is growing in popularity among them. This is said to be vouchered for by tobacco dealers, beauty doctors, hair dressers and certain physicians. The doctors say that they know their lady patients smoke by the condition of their hearts when they come seeking advice. The Anti-cigarette Ladies' Leagues have spent most of their time up to now chasing after boy victims. But if this story from Chicago is true, they will have to begin a campaign for the reformation of their own sex.

Prince Albert City has rejected Hon. A. E. Turgeon, Attorney-General of the Saskatchewan, by a majority on the face of the returns.

A judicial decision may deprive Hon. F. W. G. Haultain of the full political effect of the Prince Albert victory in the lifetime of the present Legislature. Put the vote in Prince Albert proves that the cause of Provincial rights still lives.—Toronto Telegram.

Perhaps the Telegram might be prevailed on to wait till it knows what is the result of the vote before proceeding with its cant. About 300 votes were challenged, many more by the Tories than by the Grits. Until these votes are disposed of and those eligible are taken into the count it will not be known who has a majority. The Telegram is suspiciously precipitate.

Speaking of the difficulty with the C. P. R. Telegraph Co. as to press service, the Winnipeg Free Press says: "The incident is closed. But closed incident though it is, it stands as a convincing proof of the necessity of a tribunal charged by the people of Canada with the duty of adjudicating upon such matters. With the Railway Commission vested with the function, the recent trouble between the newspapers and the corporation in question, which is chartered as a common carrier, could have been adjusted speedily and without friction or heat. With the principle of public regulation in operation, the matter would have been set to rights equitably, the balance being held justly between the newspapers and the public service corporation in question." And that is coming in question." And that is coming in question. The regulatory powers of the Government must be extended to all those franchise-holding companies that serve the public. And nobody needs fear being wronged by such a move.

ABOUT INSURANCE.

Commission Broke the Ontario Insurance Law.

Toronto, Oct. 16.—It is claimed by Toronto insurance men that the Ontario Government has violated its own laws by placing $2,000,000 of insurance with American and English companies. The amount in question covers the property of the Temiskaming & Northern Ontario Railway, and the rate obtained is about 43 cents on the dollar. Lloyd's, of England, get about 40 per cent. of the total. The remaining 3 per cent. goes to American companies, and Ontario agents are wroth against what they claim is a policy of Ontario for the Americans.

The firm currently mentioned as getting the American end of the business is Johnston & Higgins, of New York. It is admitted that the rate is a cheap one, but it is asserted that at least a portion of the insurance could have been placed as cheaply with Ontario companies which have to keep a deposit with the Ontario Government, but which apparently do not get that Government's business.

DETROIT UNITED. Passing of Dividend Causes Slump in Montreal Market.

Montreal, Oct. 15.—The passing of the Detroit United dividend aroused a storm of indignation to-day and was responsible for a heavy slump on the Stock Market. It was regarded as the worst blow to Canadian security holders that this market has perhaps ever experienced since the inauguration of the Stock Exchange.

To-day excitement was intense on the local Stock Market. It seemed that everybody was selling Detroit United, and the tape showed that the downward course did not stop until 29 3/4 had been bid. To say that the latest policy of the directors was a surprise is to put it very mildly indeed, as the last statement of the current year's earnings showed nearly a quarter of a million dollars in excess of the 5 per cent. dividend obligation, and this was for the period ending August 31, there still being another four months before the fiscal year is completed.

It is pointed out that since yesterday the "paper" loss of Detroit United has amounted to $3,700,000, yesterday's capital having a market value of $7,500,000, this compared with a par value of $12,500,000.

Detroit United stock was listed in 1901. It sold as high as $2 in that year and 97 in 1902. In 1903 it sold down as low as 55.

Maurice Loewy, director of the Paris Observatory and the dozen of astronomers, died suddenly on Tuesday, while conferring with the Minister of Public Instruction. He was 94 years old.

Ottawa Journal: These days are big with trouble for the corporation which deliberately sets out to irritate the people and the means of redress in the hands of the people are growing every day.

Patronage in Toronto. (Toronto News.) The Whitney Government has reaped the full consequences of its surrender to the patronage element in the administration of the license system in Toronto.

Is It a Gold Brick? (Toronto Globe.) Will an offer of Niagara power in a 10,000 horsepower block at $1.75 per horsepower per annum enable Toronto to compete on even terms with the Electric Light Co. for a market totalling at the present time some 15,000 horsepower used for both light and power? Mr. J. J.

Wright, Manager of the Electric Light Co., does not mince words in discussing the matter. He says the purchase of power at a flat rate per year for the sort of business done by his company, and that must be done by a civic plant, would be an absurdity and an unpardonable extravagance. The company buys its power from the Electrical Development Co. on a meter basis, paying $35 per horsepower per year on the maximum hourly flow of current. The actual power curves of the company work out at a flat rate of $8.75, he says, as compared with a flat rate of $17.75, the Commission's figures. Mr. Wright adds that "the average payment received by the Toronto Electric Light Company from their customers for power is $16 per horsepower per year. How, then, can the municipality pay the Hydro-Electric Commission $17.75, and add to that the losses in transmission and the heavy costs in transmission and operation?" He states that it can easily be demonstrated to a commission of experts that a civic plant taking power at the Commission's price starts with a handicap of $9 per horsepower per year. That is a very grave statement and one that Mr. Whitney cannot afford to ignore. It is equivalent to saying that the Commission's offer is a gold brick not meant to be taken seriously, and that if taken seriously would greatly handicap the municipality in a competitive fight.

ECZEMA COVERED HANDS 11 YEARS

Cracked and Bleeding in Many Places—Became so Bad that Nail Came Off Finger—Tried Many Remedies and Consulted Three Doctors, but Got No Relief—Now Cured and Is Very PROUD OF HAVING TRIED CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I had eczema on my hands for about eleven years. The hands cracked open in many places and bled. One of my fingers was so bad that the nail came off. I had often heard of cures by Cuticura Remedies, but had no confidence in them as I had tried so many remedies, and they all had failed to cure me. I had seen three doctors, but got no relief. Finally my husband said that we would try the Cuticura Remedies, so we got a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment, and two bottles of Cuticura Resolvent Pills. Of course I keep Cuticura Soap all the time for my hands, but the one cure came from using in all two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent, and now I would do without Cuticura Soap, Mrs. Eliza A. Wiley, R. F. P. 2, Liscomb, Iowa, Oct. 18, 1906."

ITCHING PIMPLES Resulted from Poisoning. Cured by Two Sets of Cuticura Remedies.

"My husband got a blood disease from wearing woolen underwear. He was all full of pimples, and he had an awful itching. He took a good many so-called blood remedies, and nothing did him good. Then we saw in a newspaper about Cuticura Remedies, and they cured him after using in all two sets of Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent, and now I would do without Cuticura Soap, Mrs. Harner, 1050 Banners St., Reading, Pa., Jan. 25, 1906."

NEW IDEAS FOR THE CEMETERY.

Secretary Rutherford Makes Several Suggestions in Report.

Would Like to See Memorial Sunday Observed Here.

Would Have General Fund Established for Improvements.

Secretary Fred H. Rutherford, who during the summer spent several days in the east inspecting the cemeteries at Washington, Philadelphia, Providence, R. I., Boston and New York, and other places, has prepared an interesting report for the Board of Managers of Hamilton Cemetery in which he makes several suggestions of new ideas that might be profitably adopted here. The report says in part:

"It was learned that in a few cases was the same attention given to individual lots, as is the case with Hamilton Cemetery, and weekly cutting of the grass was the exception rather than the rule."

"It was also more apparent that the division of a cemetery into sections is the only proper way by the most systematic work and the best results being obtained by the few who have adopted this plan."

"It was the general opinion that no board can afford to give any attention to lots whose owners are able but unwilling to pay for the work, and we were also advised that charges for rough care could at the time of interest be legally collected."

"The principal objects we had in view on this trip was to secure ideas regarding road construction and the sprinkling of roads; the systems of piping water supply; the plans in use for providing perpetual care funds and the selection of shrubs with the general ideas regarding the planting of these, as well as the beds of flowering plants throughout the grounds."

"In most instances we found the macadam mor tellord macadam road in use, which, with a few dressing of tar, as seen in Fairmount Park, makes an almost perfect dustless road. We feel satisfied, however, that the roads built by your Board this spring, will, considering the cheapness of construction, make the best kind of surface by next year."

"In view of the fact that probably next year will see the installation of a water system in the new sections of Hamilton cemetery, a great deal of information was secured, which could be of help in the work, and it was learned that common black iron pipe when coated with tar, outlasted galvanized or any other kind."

"As to Perpetual Care funds we are more than ever convinced of the absolute necessity of a sinking or General fund, in addition to the regular Care funds, this to be invested separately and managed in a special compound until needed, when there will be provision for care of the roads, boulevards, trees, etc., which are not covered by the regular Perpetual Care fund. In justice to the cemetery in the future and in justice to lot owners this provision should be made in the near future."

"A most careful study was made of plants and shrubs suitable to our climate and an effort will be made to prepare a list for next year's planting, which should considerably improve the appearance of the cemetery. Shrubs selected with due consideration to the seasons in which they flower cannot, we believe, be too freely planted, and with the unavoidable crowding of monuments which is being experienced here, the new cemetery which is planned and is being started, should be planted in a way that will not degenerate into a stone yard by the planting of wherever possible, of sprigs and low branched trees to break the unbeautiful lines of head stones."

"For the office the card index system, we believe, to be the proper method and would suggest the consideration of the adopting of this at an early date."

"Some cemeteries supply for the use of lot owners waterings cans, 3 of which are left at each hydrant, and as it has worked successfully we believe a trial might be given to this in the new cemetery, since it would do away with the private cans of all descriptions to be found about the grounds."

"Again we found Flower and Memorial Sunday to be a successful institution, and we hope this year will be taken in this respect next year. We were impressed with the necessity of preparing attractive booklets to replace the book of rules at present in use, and would suggest that a most careful revision be made of the rules and regulations, and to present to each lot owner with a copy of these regulations in tabloid form, easily understood."

"The idea in force in the new cemetery regarding the marking of the boundaries of lots with marble posts we found decidedly the correct way, and this work should be extended next spring."

"Your system of laying water pipes, in some cases, on top of the ground, while not attempted by any other cemetery, yet commended itself to many, and we believe will be tried by some."

"The curbing device in use here seemed to be the only satisfactory one in operation."

"Many cemeteries refuse permission to lot owners to plant flowers in their lots, claiming that these beds are neglected in a few years, leaving the flowers on the lot, besides which the flowers prevent the proper care of the ground. No cemetery, however, seems to have tried the plan adopted by your board of confining the plants to the border of the monument, which location, we believe, removes almost entirely the objectionable features, besides adding materially to the appearance of the lot and monument."

"Many cemeteries look with disfavor upon the use of lowering devices at funerals, and some who use them only to allow the casket to be lowered till the top of the casket is level with the ground until the service is completed. In view of this feeling it would be well should your board consider the owning of the paraphernalia, such as tents, matting, etc., as is the usual custom, to consider the use of lowering devices, for the safety of which your board would then be responsible."

"On the whole, as stated at the outset, it was found that the conduct of affairs and the system in force here, compared favorably with that of any of the important cemeteries, and while the lack of funds, and the presence of so many encines in the older portion of the grounds prevent your board from carrying out in a day the needed improvements and so bringing the grounds back to their natural condition, devoid of terraces and other artificialities, yet there is every prospect of eventually reapproaching the pleasing contour which has been persistently marred by the efforts of individuals for fifty years prior to the control of the board.

The board failed to get a quorum at the meeting called last evening, and no business was transacted.

The financial statement for last month showed receipts of $19,014.50, less $7,589.20 for the perpetual care fund, leaving $11,425.30. The expenditure amounted to $12,100.69.

TAFT AT MANILLA.

Tells Filipinos They Are Not Fit for Self Government.

Manilla, Oct. 16.—Secretary Taft formally opened the Philippine Assembly, in the National Theatre, at 11.15 this morning, in the presence of a large crowd of people. In his opening address Mr. Taft reiterated his former statements regarding the Philippine Islands, declaring that his views announced two years ago regarding the independence of the Philippine people were unchanged. He did not believe that they would be fitted to govern themselves for at least a generation, but he added that the matter was entirely in the hands of Congress. The Secretary denied emphatically that the United States had any intention of disposing of the islands, said he had absolute confidence in the Filipinos, denied that he was disappointed at their inability to legislate conservatively, and asserted his belief that at least their responsibility and acknowledged the necessity of supporting the United States Government.

QUEEN VICTORIA.

King Edward Publishes Some of Her Letters.

London, Oct. 16.—The London papers this morning publish elaborate extracts from the "Letters of Queen Victoria," which make their appearance to-day by authority of King Edward. These letters form an interesting autobiography which, without revealing any important political matters not already known, present a deeply absorbing picture of the Queen's life and character from her own hands. Editorially the newspapers express their grateful thanks to the King for this selection from nearly six hundred volumes at Windsor, in which the Queen's letters and papers are classified and indexed.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR.

Condition Slightly More Favorable—Daughter's Visit.

Vienna, Oct. 16.—The condition of Emperor Francis Joseph this morning was regarded by his physicians as slightly more favorable. Though virtually the same symptoms continue, the fever has somewhat abated and the spirits of the patient are brighter. The youngest daughter of the Emperor, Archduchess Maria Valeria, wife of Archduke Franz Salvatore of Tuscany, will visit His Majesty to-day.

The projected visits at the end of October and the beginning of November of the Prince of Wales and the King of Denmark to the Austrian Emperor have been postponed.

AWARDED $7,000 DAMAGES.

Miss Isabella Lewis, of this city, daughter of Mr. J. Bradley Lewis, Maria street, has just been awarded a verdict of $7,000 against the Detroit Street Railway. While visiting in Detroit Miss Lewis was a passenger on one of the company's cars. She gave instructions to get off at the certain street, but the car was started before she could alight, and she was thrown to the ground and received severe injuries. An operation and a long sickness, from which she is only now fully recovering, were the result.

AN EARTHQUAKE.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 16.—An earthquake of great proportions, in a direction and at a distance not yet identified, began to record itself about 9 a. m., to-day, the seismograph at the State Museum. At 10.15 a. m. the movement was still in progress undiminished.

JUMPED THE TRACK.

Cincinnati, Oct. 16.—A Mount Auburn Zoo electric street car jumped the track at the brow of the Mount Auburn hill, above the city, this morning, and one person is reported killed and at least twenty-five injured.

ART WORKS SOLD.

London, Oct. 16.—Another of Great Britain's cherished art collections, that known as the Ashburnton collection, is about to be dispersed, and it is possible that some of the best examples therein will find their way to America and the continent. According to a reliable report this collection has been bought by a syndicate of London art dealers.

KOCH RETURNS.

Berlin, Oct. 16.—Prof. Robt. Koch, who went to Uganda in Africa to study the sleeping disease there, has returned to Germany. His hospital and his laboratory in Uganda have been taken over by the German South African colonial authorities.

Beck Swears To 'Globe'.

At Chatham Hon. Mr. Beck spoke of the danger of local natural gas supplies falling into the hands of the Standard Oil Co. Is this another slap at "Rockefeller's boy," the hon. gentleman's colleague?

The stables of Maple Cliff Farm, Ottawa, were burned, with six valuable horses and a large amount of other property. Loss $10,000.

At the annual meeting of the Central Vermont Railroad yesterday Mr. Charles M. Hays was re-elected President.

At Queen's Convocation to-day the honorary degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon Rev. Prof. Ballantyne, of Knox College, Toronto.

The new location for the Indians on St. Peter's Reserve, near Selkirk, has been selected at Sister River, Lake Winnipeg.

KILLED BY BLOW.

H. THOMAS, YEGGMAN, STRIKES AND KILLS ANOTHER PRISONER.

He and His Pals Are Now on Trial—Tell the Truth Till Yeggmans Are Removed.

Bath, Oct. 16.—Edward Dann, of Mansfield, Pa., was killed in the Steubenville county jail Saturday night after an argument with the yeggmans who were convicted to-day in Hornell, Harry Thomas struck Dann back of the ear, and Dann succumbed in a few minutes. The fact was not known until to-day that Dann received an injury while in the jail. The story was given out that he died from heart failure and this was generally believed. When, however, the yeggmans, who shot up Hornell last summer after robbing one place after another from their cells, and started for the Court House the other prisoners told the facts about the quarrel which resulted in Dann's death.

Edward Dann and his brother George were arrested Saturday charged with being drunk. While they were associating with the other prisoners Edward Dann entered into a heated discussion with the pals of Thomas. The latter without warning struck Dann below the ear. Dann dropped to the floor. He never regained consciousness.

The prisoners were in such terror of Thomas and his companions that they feared for their own lives and they knew no knowledge was safe in the hands of the yeggmans were at a safe distance and declared that the powerful blow of the desperado had sent Dann to eternity.

PATTERSON-KELLY.

Pretty Wedding in St. Mary's Cathedral Yesterday.

A pretty wedding took place at St. Mary's Cathedral yesterday morning, the contracting parties being Mr. A. J. Patterson, of Erie, Pa., and Miss Gertrude Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly, of Wall street. The bride was beautifully gowned in white silk and was attended by Miss Catharine Patterson, sister of the groom. Mr. W. J. Kelly was the best man, and Messrs. Addie Burke and Frank D. Lacy (Erie) were the ushers. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father John Lehner, who celebrated high mass. Mr. J. L. Cherrier presided at the organ, and Mr. Matthew O'Brien sang while the couple were signing the register.

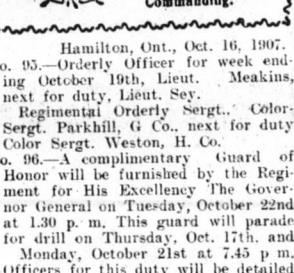

The bride received many beautiful presents. The happy couple left in the evening for a honeymoon trip to Rochester, Albany and New York prior to taking up their residence in Erie.

THE TURBINE ENGINE.

"One can think of few things harder to describe than the turbine engine, although in principle it is simplicity itself. A child's pinwheel is the idea one can start with, with the pin representing the shaft. But in order to get a more economical use of steam than by blowing a jet against a pinwheel design in the open air, let it be enclosed in a large pipe or cylinder. Then by getting the greater power or purchase from the steam against these blades it is necessary to get them as far from the shaft as possible, and there are a great number of these blades, very small and fixed on the outside of a cylinder, in the centre of which cylinder is the shaft. This cylinder with its blades sticking out all over its surface is tightly encased in another fixed cylinder, leaving just room for the blades to revolve. Then as the steam is blown through between the inner and outer cylinders the numerous blades take up this power and quickly start the inner cylinder and its shaft revolving with extreme rapidity. Again, to get still better results from the jets of steam, rows of blades are shooting when he is at a distance and in hot pursuit. Often gun-shyness disappears the very day he makes his first point and becomes deeply interested in the business. In the midst of this new delight, he disregards and forgets other matters. Sometimes the fear is too strong, and a regular treatment must be undertaken. Oftener the owner will have a short shooting season and does not care to take chances on a quick cure. His dog must be ready for business when the season opens. So, it is necessary to know the systems which have been successful in dealing with this trouble. Once before I told about the man who put his bird dog to chasing cats. When the cat was tired, he would clap his hands and "stick" the dog into excited attack. At this psychological moment he would fire blanks from a small pistol. Two or three treatments usually succeeded.—From "Gun-Shy and Blinking Dogs," by Joseph A. Graham, in the Outing Magazine for October.

LONDON'S BISHOP.

Fully 2,000 Persons Hear Him Talk From Wall Street Soap-box.

New York, Oct. 15.—The Right Rev. Arthur Foley Winnington-Ingram, Lord Bishop of London, spoke to a large assemblage of Wall street men from the steps of the old Custom House at noon to-day. Fully 2,000 persons were present, including financiers, brokers from the Stock Exchange, bank clerks, lawyers and longshoremen.

When the Bishop arrived there was a loud cheer from the assembled multitude, women shook their handkerchiefs, and the Bishop, who was in a great good humor, was helped to the top of a soap box, which answered as a pulpit. He was greeted by the Rev. William Wilkinson, who is known as the Wall Street evangelist.

Before the Bishop commenced his address Mr. Wilkinson handed him a large morocco-bound prayer book of the Church of England, in commemoration of the Bishop's coming to speak to Wall Street men. The Bishop in the course of his talk suddenly asked: "What would his Christian do in Wall Street? What are your men doing, Maker? What are your merchants and financiers doing in the cause of religion? What are you doing in your homes to further the cause of Jesus? I ask these questions of you because I feel that I am talking to a body of men and women of intelligence whose aim it is to do the service of the Master."

MAN CONVERTED

Returns to Prison to Finish His Long Sentence.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—A man walked up to the doors of the Indiana State prison at Michigan City this afternoon. "What do you want?" asked the guard. "I have come back to serve out my sentence," answered the man. "I escaped from this prison more than a year ago and since that time, glory be to God, I have brought thousands of sinners to the feet of Jesus Christ. He was Allen J. Lawrence, a well-known man of La Porte, Ind., who was sent to State's prison in July, 1906, for two to fourteen years, charged with having attacked a young woman. "After I escaped from prison I became converted. I held meetings all over Nebraska and Kansas, where I converted hundreds and even thousands."

"You will serve out your sentence, with the extra time for the escape," said the warden. "Lawrence may continue his campaign of converting souls, even here, but shorten his sentence," was the parting statement of the warden. Agreed to get still better results from the jets of steam, rows of blades are placed on the inside of the enclosing or fixed cylinder in such a way that the rows of blades on the moving cylinder just fit in or dovetail together, these fixed blades serving to reverse the direction of the steam before it strikes the next row of movable blades. The blades that are furthest from the intake of high pressure steam are much larger, so as to take up better the rapidly expanding vapor, and this process is carried through various steps until a full vacuum is reached. As the blades of small blades, both in the movable and fixed rows, are curved.—From Yachting.

FINANCE MINISTER.

SPLENDID DEMONSTRATION TO HON. W. S. FIELDING AT HALIFAX.

Mile Long Procession—The Minister Speaks on New French Treaty—Provincial Subsidies—Mr. Borden's Attitude Criticized.

Halifax, Oct. 15.—Royal honors were accorded to Hon. W. S. Fielding by the Liberals of Nova Scotia last night at the greatest political demonstration in the history of the Province. Eight thousand people packed like sardines in the Empire Rink, where Mr. R. L. Borden opened his present tour with an audience which his organ said numbered eighteen hundred, cheered Mr. Fielding and Sir Wilfrid Laurier to the echo; such a scene of enthusiasm had never been seen in this city since the political gatherings.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. Pugsley, and Sir Frederick Borden spoke briefly. The Premier scored Mr. Borden and Mr. Foster for their attitude on the Japanese question. Mr. Fielding on rising was greeted with rapt attention and applause, and it was some time before he could speak. He said in part: There are sound diplomatic reasons which prevent for the present the publication of the terms of that treaty. But there is no reason why I should not explain the circumstances under which that treaty was negotiated and the general line upon which we deemed it necessary to act. At the last session of the Canadian Parliament we introduced a new feature into our tariff policy. We provided three tariff columns—first, the British preferential tariff; second, the intermediate tariff; and third, a general tariff. The British preferential tariff was to apply to the mother country and to some other portions of the empire. The general tariff was to apply to countries with which we have no particular commercial arrangement. The intermediate tariff was designed to be the instrument for negotiating with such foreign countries as we might wish to deal with in the interests of an extension of Canadian trade.

There was, however, a further reason which was entitled to some weight. Our chief competitor in foreign markets must always be the enterprising country to the south of us—the American Republic. Our American friends already have a treaty with France, and it was within our knowledge that they were seeking a much broader one. It seemed desirable, therefore, that we should open our negotiations with the French authorities, with a view to obtaining, as far as possible, favorable consideration in the French markets for the produce of Canada. In entering upon these negotiations, there were several principles which we endeavored to keep in view. In the first place we desired to retain for the industries of Canada whatever advantage was accorded to them by the tariff policy of that session. In the next place we desired, as far as might be possible, to retain for British industry the advantages accorded to it by the difference of rates under the preferential and intermediate tariffs. I think it will be found that we have adhered pretty closely to these governing principles, and that, while securing reasonable concessions from our French friends, we have given them only fair and reasonable concessions in return.

"Never before has the fiscal freedom of Canada so fully recognized as it has been in the recent negotiations. A Canadian agent, it is true, had a part, as I pointed out, in the treaty of 1903; but that treaty, of the very modest one, covering very little ground, and, therefore, did not command much attention. The present treaty is one which is much broader in every way, and must take a place among the important treaties of His Majesty. In time past commercial limitations and duties which hampered Canada was not as free as she should be in negotiations touching her relations with foreign powers. I shall not stop to consider how far this criticism has been justified. But whatever may have been thought and said of past international negotiations, it is able to say that no Canadian can find the slightest fault with the attitude of the British Government in connection with the recent negotiations. On the contrary, we have every reason to feel grateful that His Majesty's Government has recognized so fully and so frankly the right of Canada to determine for herself her commercial relations.

"Of course, the making of a treaty with a foreign power is and must be an imperial matter. It is the sovereign power in every country which makes treaties, and the sovereign power of Canada, as we are all proud to acknowledge, is His Majesty King Edward.

Mr. Fielding then went on to deal with the provincial subsidies, and said: "Just now unfortunately an effort has been made to give the question a partisan turn in the hope—a vain hope, I am confident—that it may be used to serve the political ends of the Conservative leader. The leader of the Opposition in this, as in some other things, is manifesting a willingness to trim his sails to catch a very little party breeze that arises. With the foolish hope of capturing some votes in British Columbia, he is ready to break up the good understanding that has been reached by the representatives of all the other Provinces in the Dominion. Mr. Borden is now for political purposes committing himself to the very scheme which Mr. Whitney, Mr. Foy, Mr. Matheson, Mr. Robin and Mr. Colin Campbell positively and emphatically refused to accept at the provincial conference. Mr. Borden's attitude in raising this question as he has done in the Province of British Columbia is neither fair nor statesmanlike nor patriotic. (Cheers.) If it has any effect whatever it can only be a mischievous one. His efforts will, I believe, not mislead the people of British Columbia, who, in the face of the facts as I have stated them, must see that no injustice has been done their Province. His proposal is a breach of faith with Ontario, a breach of faith with Quebec, a breach of faith with Nova Scotia, a breach of faith with New Brunswick, a breach of faith with Prince Edward Island, a breach of faith with Manitoba, a breach of faith with Saskatchewan, a breach of faith with Alberta. The duly authorized representatives of every one of these Provinces, irrespective of party, have condemned the movement to which Mr. Borden has now committed himself. That movement, I believe, will not mislead the people of British Columbia, and it will be resented, as it should, by the electors of every other Province in the Dominion. (Cheers.)

THE HORROR AT FONTANET

EXPLOSION KILLS BETWEEN SEVENTY AND EIGHTY.

Over Five Hundred Were Injured, and All the Buildings in the Town Were Demolished—One Building Which Blew Up Contained 40,000 Kegs of Powder.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 15.—Between sixty and eighty persons were killed, more than 500 injured and the entire town of Fontanet, twelve miles from this city, destroyed by the explosion of the Dupont Powder Mills to-day. Hundreds were maimed, many of them women and children, a number being killed, and the stricken people is being rushed by special trains from surrounding cities and Governor Hanly has ordered supplies. Owing to the inadequacy of arrangements for caring for the injured at Fontanet they are being taken to hospitals in other cities, giving temporary relief to the sufferers.

Fontanet is a mining town of 1,500 people, and the Dupont Mills, comprising seven buildings, were situated near the edge of the town. These seven structures were blown to atoms, and it is believed that of the 75 or 80 employees none escaped death or injury. Some of the victims' bodies were found in the wreckage, which caught fire immediately after the first explosion.

There were four separate explosions, the first at 9.15 a. m., two more soon afterward and the fourth at 10.45. Explosions were in the glassing mill. The other mills nearby were blown up next. The magazine, in which it is estimated many thousands of kegs of powder were stored, was the last to go.

As soon as the first explosion occurred a creekside caught fire and the flames communicated to a train on a side track near by. At 10.45 the heat of the fire caused the magazine to explode. This building was nearly 1,000 people were left practically homeless. One farmhouse, three-quarters of a mile away was blown to pieces.

None of the residents were killed in their homes when the first explosion came the people rushed from their homes towards the mills, apparently believing the danger to be over. Among the number were many women and children. Relatives of the mill employees, and they were seen rushing about in the wreckage. Many of them were hurled to the ground by the force of the second explosion and piled in a struggling mass. Some were terribly bruised by being hurled against trees, fences and houses and against each other, and many in the crowd that started to the scene escaped injury.

It is impossible to get an accurate list of the dead, but the total believed to be between 70 and 80 persons. As many more are fatally injured. One man died on the relief train as it was coming to this city and many of the injured are known to be fatally hurt. Many bodies were cremated in the fire that followed.

Superintendent Movshan, who was sitting in his office at the time, was instantly killed. His home, containing his wife and two sisters, was blown to atoms.

Following the fourth explosion those who were not injured set about the rescuing of the injured at the mills, but only a small number were found. Some bodies were burned beyond recognition, while other bodies were terribly mangled. The rescuers worked faithfully despite the scorching heat from the burning buildings, which might have caused another explosion at any moment.

Near the powder mills was a small frame school building, with 53 pupils in attendance. The explosion threw the four walls outward, allowing the rescuers to creep up the side, and teachers and children. Every child was injured, but none seriously. One of the children, whose name is English, has not been found, and it is barely possible that his body may be in the wreck. Miss Bishop, the teacher, was severely injured and suffered a fracture of the skull, which will probably result fatally.

The new Christian Church is a complete wreck, not a timber standing. The four-room school building at Fontanet, taught by Prof. Schaubpaugh, was also blown up. The school was filled with parents and pupils to witness the presentation of prizes to the teachers. Archbishop Sweetnam presided, and in introducing Earl Grey he spoke of the deep interest he had shown in all that pertained to the well-being of the country.

Earl Grey said among other things: The British Public School boy was of a pretty narrow-minded, often a little conceited, sometimes well satisfied with himself, and often was lacking in intellectual interest. But in almost every instance the English Public School boy was a gentleman, with common sense and good humor. The word gentleman had only one meaning, and that was a gentleman. The finest gentleman he had ever known was a working miner in England, whose gentleness, absolute fairness, instinctive horror of anything underhand or mean or anything that got him down, and whose character was a character which enabled him to rise to the position of Cabinet Minister. Love of fair play—that was the way which every boy could contribute to the Canadian sun. He had been shocked somewhat at the conspicuous disregard for fair play in sports, and he urged the boys of Trinity School to give no countenance to those who did not play the game fair. If the sports of Canada were not quite straight or fair they might be certain that there was something rotten in the character of Canada.

A LONDON CROOK.

Man Who Robbed Visitor at Dresden Fair Treated as Boarder.

Chatham, Ont., Oct. 15.—Detectives who have been working in this vicinity for some time have discovered that the man who robbed Ted. Edmunds, of Blenheim, of $250 at Dresden, is a man named O'Brien, a crook from London. O'Brien recently returned from the Northwest, where he has been working the pick-pocket game on the railways, and turned his attention to working the agricultural fairs in this district. He was traced to the border.

A HAMILTON BOY

REPLIES TO ATTACK OF MR. BORDEN, AT SASKATOON.

J. A. Aikin, Editor of Phoenix, Steps Into Political Limelight—Former Toronto Reporter and a Hamilton Boy.

Saskatoon, Sask., Oct. 15.—Mr. Borden's meeting at the rink here last night was attended by about 2,000 persons. Mr. Borden was suffering from a severe cold, but made an hour's speech, in which he adverted in caustic terms to an editorial in the Phoenix, the local Liberal paper. At the conclusion, Mr. J. A. Aikin, editor of the Phoenix, asked permission to reply, and made a speech of some length, in which he argued that Sir Wilfrid Laurier had contributed to the country's prosperity by settling the Manitoba school question, and had put the tariff on a revenue basis.

He controverted Mr. Borden's argument regarding the restoration of public domain to the Provinces to involve the abandonment of free homesteads, adding that the Liberal party do not regard the land settlement as permanent, but as the best arrangement in the interim. When the homesteads are exhausted, give the land to the Provinces, he said. He urged that the Liberal party should defend the act of the abandonment of free homesteads, adding that the Liberal party do not regard the land settlement as permanent, but as the best arrangement in the interim. When the homesteads are exhausted, give the land to the Provinces, he said. He urged that the Liberal party should defend the act of the abandonment of free homesteads, adding that the Liberal party do not regard the land settlement as permanent, but as the best arrangement in the interim.

Mr. Borden replied, criticizing the Laurier preferential trade and saying that Canada did not want reciprocal protection. The free homestead argument, he said, meant that the people of Saskatchewan were not honest nor wise enough to administer such a policy. He urged that higher, however, and thought they could be trusted to manage their lands.

Mr. Bergeron, following, criticized Mr. Aikin severely. Mr. J. A. Aikin is a graduate of Queen's University, and until two years ago was a reporter on a Toronto morning daily. He studied law for the ministry. He is a Hamiltonian.

Indigestion Ruins Complexion.

The Sallow, Pale, Tired Woman Usually Has Stomach Trouble.

The good looks of every woman depend largely upon the proper working of her stomach and other internal organs. If your stomach is strong and digestion is good, the cheeks blush with color, eyes dance and sparkle, breath will be pure and your hair smooth and glossy. Get the stomach toned up with Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they increase the secretion of the gastric juices, promote vigorous digestion, increase the supply of blood and thereby invigorate the entire system.

POISONED HIS FOOD.

Cowardly Attempt to Kill Norman Walker, a Rancher.

North Battleford, Oct. 15.—Norman Walker, a homesteader living near Radisson, is the victim of some desperate enemy, who seeks his life by poisoning. Two attempts have already been made by secreting strychnine in his food during his absence from the place, the poison being placed in the tea kettle, in condensed milk, and also in his potatoes prepared to warm up. All were unsuccessful, as Walker noticed the peculiar flavor in each case. However, enough poison was taken into his system to cause his temporary collapse.

Charged With Stealing From Sydney, C. B. Postoffice.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Oct. 15.—Jas. Macdonald, aged 30, a native of Summerside, and formerly employed in The Journal office, was arrested at the home of his stepfather, J. Williams, at Summerside, this afternoon, on a charge of robbing the Sydney postoffice of $3,400. When arrested the officers found on him $2,950 in cash, a gold watch, diamond ring and other jewelry. He will be taken to Sydney to-morrow.

SALARY INCREASES AT LONDON.

London, Oct. 16.—No. 1 committee of the Board of Education recommends an all-round raise of salaries. The increase to the Public School teachers amounts to round numbers to $7,500, about 35 per cent. The 33 kindergartners being affected. The increases to the Collegiate staff and board officials will bring the total increase up to the neighborhood of $12,500—24 per cent. of the total taxation of the city, which is about $500,000. DOMINANT NOTE AT CHICAGO PRESS CLUB LUNCHEON.

Cy. Warman, the Magazine Writer, Guest of Honor—H. R. Charlton, of Grand Trunk, Presented With Jeweled Pin.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—This was a distinctly Canadian day at the Chicago Press Club. Two hundred members entertained Cy. Warman at luncheon, and at the same time presented Mr. H. R. Charlton, of the Grand Trunk Railway system, with a beautiful jewel-studded pin and a paid membership to the club. President John Flynn presided, with Forest Criss, of the Saturday Evening Post, as toastmaster. The dominant note in all the speeches was Canada and the new development, with which Mr. Warman has been identified. All the speakers were agreed that Mr. Warman's work in the magazines and newspapers had been a considerable factor in the introduction of the twentieth century Canada to the reading public of the United States. At the guest table besides Mr. Flynn, Mr. Criss, the guest of honor, and Mr. Charlton, were Mr. S. E. Kiser (the poet), Herbert Vanderhook, Judge John G. Bradwell and Charles Eugene Banks.

PLAYED CARDS.

PETERBORO CITIZENS OF PROMINENCE ARRESTED.

Caught in Midst of Merry Game of Poker, and Police Court Proceedings Follow—Proprietor Fined $100.

Peterboro, Oct. 15.—Seven prominent citizens, among whom were two doctors and an insurance agent, pleaded guilty to frequenting a common gaming house in the early morning of Monday, Oct. 7. This house, it is said, was the National Hotel. To-day Police Magistrate Dumble handed down his decision in the prosecution of J. Regan, manager of the hotel, holding that no such house has been kept.

It was shown at the trial of the manager for keeping, and of the proprietor, James A. Lawson, for selling liquor during prohibited hours, that the seven men had assembled in a room of the hotel about midnight on Sunday, Oct. 6. They had engaged in a game of poker and had further, for their refreshment, 14 bottles of beer.

Suddenly the License Inspector, accompanied by two policemen, entered. They found the seven players about the table, upon which were the cards, chips and $113 in cash, also the 14 bottles. The property was confiscated and the players arrested. The latter were bailed out to appear Monday morning, when, at a special session of the Police Court, they pleaded guilty to "frequenting," to avoid publicity. Each paid a fine of $60 and the money taken in the raid was returned.

The prosecution of the proprietor and manager followed. James Haven, K. O. of Toronto, defended both cases. He argued that as there had been but one sitting it could not be said that the place was "kept," and it was further shown that no rake-off was taken. The proprietor was fined $100 for selling during prohibited hours.

INFANT IN FLOWER POT.

Strange Discovery in Garden at Woodstock.

Stratford, Ont., Oct. 15.—Wrapped in a plain black shawl, with no mark upon it to assist in identification, a child, about two months old, was found early this morning in a large sewer tile which is used as a flower pot in front of the residence of Mr. Thos. Burr, 112 Shakespeare street. The baby was exposed to the winter air all night, but was still alive this morning. No trace of the parents can be found.

THAT'S ALL THE GOLD THERE IS LEFT IN THE RAND.

London, Oct. 15.—As a result of investigations recently made in South Africa, J. B. Robinson, Chairman of the Robinson South African Banking Company and owner of gold mines in South Africa, figures that there is a million million pounds worth of gold that can yet be taken out of the Rand. Moreover, he is convinced that there are immense deposits of gold, gems and minerals as yet untapped in the Transvaal. Assuming the accuracy of Mr. Robinson's estimate, the gold in the Rand will not be exhausted at the present rate of output until the year 1,907.

GLADYS' WEDDING.

Vanderbilt Family to be Present—Is There a Hitch? Newport, R. I., Oct. 16.—Private despatches received here from abroad brought the news that Mr. and Mrs. W. K. They will arrive in time for many of the entertainments that will continue to be given for Miss Gladys Vanderbilt and her fiancée, Count Laszio Szechenyi, and will attend the wedding, which society now generally understands will take place in New York on Dec. 4. Reports of family dissensions because of the match find no official confirmation here.

New Gaelic Psalmody.

It will be remembered that the General Assembly of the Woe Frees, held last May, agreed to publish a Gaelic Psalmody for the use of their Highland congregations. To prevent, as far as possible, people playing the tunes on an instrument the intended psalmody is to be printed in single score. To render it still difficult to amateurs they should use the tenor and alto clefs and figured basses. It is the intention of the committee in charge to include in the collection the "six long Gaelic tunes" familiar to past generations of Highlanders.

WHAT CITY MUST EXPEND

To Purchase Equipment and Install Municipal Lighting Plant.

Chief Engineer Sothman Submits Plans and Estimates.

Lowest Figure For Arc Lamps He Estimates $49,70.

Chief Engineer Sothman, of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission last night submitted to the Board of Works estimates and plans showing what it would cost Hamilton to install a municipal lighting plant. The total capital cost of a complete arc lighting system of five hundred magnetite lamps, including underground system of four-duct conduit and wooden poles, in the underground district described below, is estimated at $175,000, which, less $27,148, estimated as the cost of installing the conduit system, would make the expenditure for installing the lighting system alone, $147,852.

The underground system is for this district: King street, from Sanford avenue to Queen street.

York street, from James to Queen streets.

James street, from Stuart to Hunter.

East of James street, from Hunter to Bore and west of King street, from Main to Merrick streets.

Mr. Sothman explains in his report that a two-duct system could be installed for $165,780, but would not answer if required for anything but arc lighting. He estimates it would cost $49.0 per lamp per year under this system and $51.63 under the four-duct system.

The following information from the report will be found of interest:

"In the first estimate provision is made for the supply of the arc lighting system only, four-duct conduit being used in the central portions of the city and on the principal streets, with junction boxes at the intersection of the street. The estimate includes the complete installation of all conduits, junction boxes, valves, connections to outlets and poles, with necessary duct and iron or fibre pipe cases, from junction box to manhole. Capital cost of conduit, junction boxes, and necessary pipe boxes at poles, $49,000. Capital cost of cable installed, (lead covered, paper insulated) $7,570. Total capital cost, $56,570.

There are a number of streets on which the conduit could be installed at some later date and by leaving these out for the present, the capital cost would be reduced by about $2,000, thus leaving the present total capital cost, for four duct conduit, at $54,570.

Total capital cost of complete arc lighting system of five hundred magnetite lamps including underground system of four duct conduit and wooden poles for arc lamps in underground district, $175,000.

Total Annual Cost	Per Lamp
Fixed charges	$18,247
Power	3,470
Renewals	1,500
Wages	1,800
Oil and Waste	500

Total $25,517 $51.63

Alternative:
A two-duct conduit could be installed for about $9,800 less than a four-duct conduit, but would not answer if the conduit was required for anything except arc lighting. The total capital cost of complete arc lighting system of five hundred magnetite lamps including underground system of two duct conduit and wooden poles for arc lamps in underground district, $165,780, or a total annual cost of $24,852 or $49.70 per lamp per year.

The poles and irons for hanging arc lamps in the underground district were estimated at a cost of $27,148. The estimate includes engineering and contingencies, together with interest during construction and also a charge of four per cent. on investment and a sinking fund of 1.8 per cent.

"With the installation of four-duct conduits in existing streets and eight conduits in the inner district the cost of installing the conduit system would be increased to $80,541.

With four, six and eight duct conduits the cost would be $84,009.

With four, eight, twelve and sixteen, it would be $107,743.

With four, eight, twelve and sixteen duct conduits the cost would be $110,695.

The second, third and fourth and fifth estimates for underground conduits in district submitted show the cost of installing conduit for the placing of wires for light and underground. The estimates, together with third estimates for conduit would carry only the primary lines and the fourth and fifth estimates are large enough to carry both primary and secondary distribution.

Mr. Sothman said the plant could be installed within a year. Mayor Stewart favors an underground system.

It was agreed that copies of the reports and maps should be sent to each of the aldermen and a special meeting will be held next week to take the matter up. Mr. Sothman's intention is to make a definite announcement would be made in the meantime about the Government's power policy.

IS BRANTFORD SO BAD?

Mayor Bowly Takes Issue With Rev. S. J. Farmer.

Brantford, Oct. 15.—Mayor Bowly is out with a reply to Rev. S. J. Farmer, who on Sunday declared he had seen more drunkenness in Brantford than elsewhere in his travels. The Mayor characterizes this statement as notoriously false, and holds that Brantford has little profanity and less than the ordinary amount of drunkenness.

Rev. Dr. Riley, the Baptist evangelist, here some time ago, declared he had travelled the continent, and had yet to visit a city in which could be seen more drunkenness than Brantford.

Speaking at Colborne street Methodist Church recently, Rev. W. B. Caswell, the pastor, who has toured Britain, asserted that there was more profanity in Brantford than in any other city he had ever met with in his experience.

In his sermon on Sunday Rev. Mr. Farmer referred only incidentally to profanity, but took firm ground against drunkenness, and stands by it.

TROUBLE LEAVES US.

SAYS MANY HERE CAN BE MADE HAPPY AGAIN.

There is so much Rheumatism here now that the following advice by an eminent authority will be highly appreciated by those who suffer.

Get from any good pharmacy one-half ounce Fluid Extract Banchilion, one ounce Compound Kargon, three ounces of Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla. Shake these well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime; also, drink plenty of good water.

It is claimed that there are few victims of this dread and tortuous disease who will fail to find ready relief in this simple home-made mixture, and in most cases a permanent cure is the result.

This simple recipe is said to strengthen and cleanse the eliminative tissues of the kidneys so that they can filter and strain from the blood and system the poisons, acids and waste matter, which cause not only Rheumatism, but numerous other diseases. Every man or woman here who feels that their kidneys are not healthy and active, or who suffers from any urinary trouble whatever, should not hesitate to make up this mixture, as it is certain to do much good, and may save you from much misery and suffering after a while.

THE "WIFE AID."

ALMOST FIFTY AFFINITY SEEKERS APPLY FOR FARITAL PLACE

Matthews to Take His Time — No Snap Judgment, He Says, in Choosing From Varied Candidates.

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Women affinity seekers made a sort of Mecca out of N. H. Matthews' flat, 1,305 North Halsted street, yesterday. Cupid awoke to the realization, if he didn't already know it, that "advertising pays."

After a strenuous day's work receiving callers and looking up a few candidates living in the immediate vicinity of his home, Mr. Matthews looked cheerful at night. He believed there was hope—even for a man with four small children.

In a modest sort of way Mr. Matthews said he objected seriously to the amount of notoriety that has followed the appearance of his "Wife Wanted" sign in the window of his flat, but acknowledged that on account of it he has a "much larger variety to choose from."

"But I have the names and addresses of all of them," he was explaining, when 11-year-old Iva spoke up:

"Why, I counted them, papa; there were almost fifty."

"Did you make a choice? Did you pick the one you would prefer for a mamma?" the child was asked.

"Well, I don't believe I liked any of them, but, of course, if papa should select one, I am sure we would all be satisfied," Iva continued. "I did like the nice, fat woman who said she lived in Seminary avenue. She has two little nieces just about my size. Some of the callers couldn't hardly talk English. One woman thought we were German, and asked me if I didn't like sauerkraut. I didn't like her. She was too slim."

Mr. Matthews was asked if he made a choice.

"No, indeed," he replied. "This is too serious a matter to jump at hastily. I have certain ideals that I expect to be fulfilled by the woman I choose to be my wife, and one can't ascertain the qualities of a woman on first sight. I advertised for a wife with the intention of getting acquainted with women who were matrimonially inclined. I am handicapped both by my age and the fact that I have four small children, but despite that I think there are lots of estimable women looking for a good home willing to consider my proposition."

"To each of the women who called today I talked in a practical manner. Without any hesitancy I asked if they were matrimonially disposed, and without exception they told me that they were. I didn't mean by that I was willing to marry any one of them or that any of them found in me the man they would like to make their husband. Those things to resolve themselves."

Mr. Matthews was absent from home until late. In the meantime Mr. Matthews' oldest daughter, Mabel, who is a school teacher, was in charge of the four small children.

"I was greatly shocked to learn the amount of notoriety papa stirred up by putting that sign in the window," she said. "I don't care to say a thing about it. These women have been calling all day. Surely they are nice, respectable women, but nevertheless, I don't approve of the method papa took."

Mr. Matthews said she would remain at home a few days this week and put the home in order.

"It is a pity that papa can't find a housekeeper," she ventured. "Perhaps I will give up my school and come back to take care of things. I was surprised to find the housekeeper we had last week gone."

"I was surprised to find the 'candidate' who went on probation for four days, and suddenly departed, was Mrs. Mary Fisher, housekeeper for a family at 3,244 Wabash avenue, seventh flat."

"I read Mr. Matthews' advertisement in a newspaper," said Mrs. Fisher, who is an elderly, robust appearing woman.

"It said four children, but to my surprise when I got there I found there were seven, four small ones, the grown daughter and two big boys. I felt sorry for Mabel, the oldest girl; she had more than her hands full. So I stayed four days, until a week ago last Saturday, got things pretty well cleaned up, and left."

"Mr. Matthews said the big boys intended to go west."

Mr. Matthews' confidence that the "net proceeds" of the day was the selection of a housekeeper, who perhaps will begin work to-day.

"I have been deluged with letters and matrimonial papers since this matter became public," he said: "I called this evening on several of the women who were surprisingly refined and well educated. Some showed me their bank books to prove they had means. I pay no attention to the matrimonial papers. I think they are all fakes."

An embarrassing situation confronted Mr. Matthews last night when he returned from making several calls. Four women, one accompanied by a pretty 14-year-old daughter, were awaiting his arrival in the parlor. While waiting for Mr. Matthews the women showed a pretense of good will towards one another and amused themselves playing with the children.

THREE HATS IN ONE.

WONDERFUL CREATION OF NEW YORK MILLINER.

Madame Simply Sheds the Top Layer of Her Headgear and a Second Dainty Hat is the Result—Remove This and There is a Third.

New York, Oct. 15.—It has seemed to the ordinary man who has viewed the weird and wonderful millinery concoctions adorning the heads of his woman-kind that one such piece of headgear is quite enough for one woman to wear—at least at one time.

But he has much to learn. The fashion decree that he ever dreamed of. A new hat has made its appearance, beside which the "mushroom" of the summer months and the much-discussed "honey-moon" hat are the hat of the future.

The new hat—or, perhaps it should be plural—is called the "three in one." It is the invention of Madame Kennedy of West Thirty-ninth street, and bids fair to rival any of the millinery that has made its appearance on New York streets in a long time.

The "three in one" is really three separate hats, so worn that when all three are on the head at the same time the effect of only one hat is given.

Other, entirely different in style, materials and colors, is revealed, which, in its turn, can be removed from either of its predecessors and meant for wear on different occasions from either of the others.

So it happens, when Madame goes out in the evening wearing a dark velvet hat with staid plumes and what seems to be choux of ribbon and a few flowers for a bandeau trimming, she need not return home to change to a dainty lingerie affair for the reception later in the day.

The top layer can be sent home by messenger.

Then, still later, if business or other matters keeps mildly downtown she has only to unpin her lingerie hat, lift off the second layer and she is ready for any evening affair.

Madame Kennedy's hats were made originally for Miss Helen Hale, who will use them in a little French song in a Broadway show. Since her invention has proven such a success, however, Madame Kennedy believes that the style will become, if not permanent, at least a decided fad.

DARK DEEDS.

KEEWATIN INDIANS STRANGLE AND BURN SICK FRIENDS.

Dreadful Story Told by Police Commissioner Perry—Indians Did Not Pretend that the Victims Were Possessed of Evil Spirits—They Were Just Old and Useless.

Winnipeg, Oct. 15.—The arrival of Commissioner A. Bowen Perry, R. N. W. M. P., and his party in Winnipeg last night from Norway House disclosed a terrible story of wholesale strangling and burning in the region of Keewatin district, just above the northeast corner of the Province of Manitoba. The Commissioner held his court in the Council chamber of the H. B. Company's fort at Norway House on Monday, Oct. 7. Two Pesquon chiefs of the Sucker band of Saulteaux Indians were to have been tried, but Chief Jack strangled and cleverly throttled himself to death a few days before the arrival of the Commissioner at Norway House. His brother, Joseph Fiddler, was tried, and participation in several devilish murders was proved against him, particularly that of his kinswoman, Mrs. Thomas Fiddler, and a man named Menevawac, whom he helped to strangle twelve days after he strangled the little squaw.

Two brothers named Eyelids and Angus Rae gave most sensational evidence, and specifically described five strangulations and burnings in which they had participated. The bodies in two instances were quietly buried by these Raes, but in the other three they were thrown on a huge fire. In one instance the strangulation was not complete, and was not intended to be, for the victim was bound with leather thongs and placed on a platform over the fire, and his bonds burst with the heat, and the poor fellow, all in flames, ran howling through the woods. He was despatched with shotguns by his friends.

Joseph Fiddler was sentenced to be hanged on Jan. 7 next, and the police will again make a long trip to Sandy Lake and fetch back the Rae and Meekis families, implicated in these tragedies. Angus Rae has been detained at the fort, and will likely be arraigned as soon as the police return from their 800-mile walk with the other prisoners and witnesses. Eyelids was sent back to the far north with this detachment to tell the news of what is to happen to strangers.

Four of the principal culprits have been accounted for—namely, Chief Jack, strangled by his own hand; Joseph Pesquon, sentenced to death; David Meekis, strangled and burned by his brothers, the Raes, and Angus Rae, the murderer of Menevawac, now at Norway House, charged with murder also.

The superstition that the victims were possessed of evil spirits was not played up very strongly by the Indians giving evidence. Their principal object in committing these crimes, it appears, was to get rid of sick and useless friends, and it is thought that the executioners were paid for the job by the interested parties, such, for instance, as the squaw of Menevawac. The practice of this method of thugbery is apparently confined to the Crane and Sucker bands, resident at Little Trout, Sandy and Red Deer lakes in the district of Keewatin.

The execution of the sentence on Joseph Pesquon will take place at the Mounted Police barracks on the Norway House Island of the Nelson River. The inquest on the body of the suicide chief was held by Commissioner Perry and a verdict was returned accordingly on Oct. 8.

ASKED TO RESIGN.

PROPOSAL TO TEST PUBLIC FEELING IN VANCOUVER.

Asiatic Exclusion League Asks for Resignation of Messrs. Macpherson, M. P., Tatlow, Bowser, Macgowan, Gorden and McGuire, M. P.'s.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 15.—The following resolution was passed at a meeting of the Asiatic Exclusion League last evening: "Be it resolved, that to enable the people of Vancouver to express their attitude in a constitutional manner as to the advisability of excluding Orientals from British Columbia and the Dominion of Canada, Mr. R. G. Macpherson is hereby requested to resign his seat in the House of Commons and Hon. A. G. Tatlow, Hon. V. J. Bowser and Messrs. A. H. B. MacGowan, J. Gorden and J. E. McGuire be asked to resign their seats in the Legislature of British Columbia."

The meeting also resolved that only municipal candidates sympathizing with the league be supported for the coming election.

MR. ASSELIN STILL MISSING.

Prevost Liberal Case Postponed Till Next Term.

Quebec, Oct. 15.—Mr. Asselin did not appear before the Criminal Court this morning. The officers of the court did not succeed in executing the Bench warrant. Justice Blanechet then postponed the case to the first day of the next term. He said at the same time that it would be better for both parties that the case would never come again before the court. On a question of that kind it was impossible to expect a verdict from any jury in one way or another.

BABY FOUND IN SEWER TILE.

Passer-by Heard Its Cry and Went to the Rescue.

Stratford, Oct. 15.—An infant wrapped in a plain black shawl, with no mark to lead to identification, was found in a large sewer tile on Shakespear street last night. The child, which was about two months old, was alive when found, and was removed to the hospital, where it is being cared for. The child's cries attracted the attention of a passer-by, otherwise it would have perished.

SOME REASONS WHY

the confidence of the Canadian public in was never so great as at present—

- Because the Company's record has been clean throughout the 37 years it has been in operation.
- Because its plans of insurance are up-to-date and just what the insuring public requires.
- Because its policy-holders are eminently well satisfied with the results realized under their policies.
- Because the general public is beginning to find out the good things the Company has in store for its policy-holders.
- Because, being purely mutual, its policy-holders are more than customers—they are co-partners in the Company—sharing equitably in all its benefits.

REFUSED TO PUBLISH ORDER.

NEWFOUNDLAND PREMIER DEFIED IMPERIAL AUTHORITIES.

It was Finally Promulgated—Blue Book Issued Containing Year's Correspondence on Newfoundland Fisheries Dispute.

London, Oct. 15.—A Blue Book has been issued giving the correspondence in the Newfoundland fisheries dispute from October 13th, 1906, to September 28th of this year. In his dispatches, Sir William MacGregor, Governor of the Colony, stated that his Ministers regretted that their proposals for a compromise had not been accepted, and that while they could not consent to override the constitution of the colony or to suspend its laws, they were anxious to aid the Imperial Government, and would grant the fishermen of the treaty coast the right to sell to Americans provided that the question of the right of the Americans to fish on any part of the coast between Cape Ray and the Quirron Islands were referred to the Hague Tribunal.

To this Lord Elgin assented, provided that the modus vivendi were accepted, and stated that no arrangement would be agreed to by the United States unless the right to employ colonial fishermen were allowed.

Finally an order of Council was passed barring the penalization of American fishermen who should ship colonial, and the colonial Government was ordered to publish the order before the arrival of the American fleet, unless the Government had by that time accepted the modus vivendi.

On September 22nd the Government reported that Premier Bond had refused to publish the order, and Lord Elgin in reply ordered its immediate promulgation, adding that the colonial Government would not be supported in any attempt to service of process of American vessels. Finally, on September 24th, the order was published in the Royal Gazette.

WOMAN FOOLS ROBBED.

Plucky Action of Mrs. Snobble, Near Rosthern.

Rosthern, Sask., Oct. 15.—A German lady, Mrs. Snobble, while driving to her home, twelve miles northwest of this town, was attacked by a man who demanded her money. He beat her with a wrench and cut her face with a knife. Pretending to get her purse from among the groceries in the bottom of the wagon, the woman caught the man off his guard, threw him bodily on the road and then whipped up the horses and escaped. The man is described as short, stockily-built, and clean-shaven and spoke German. The woman sold her farm produce in town that morning and had some money on her person.

A QUEER PARTNERSHIP.

Walter Northrop, Toronto, Charged With Forgery.

St. Catharines, Ont., Oct. 15.—Walter Northrop, Toronto, is in the Toronto jail on a charge of forgery. Ten days ago he registered at the Village Inn, Grimsby, as W. J. L. McKay, Orangeville, and when leaving gave Proprietor Kennedy a cheque on the Bank of Hamilton, Orangeville, for $40, signing Mr. McKay's name. Northrope claims that he and Mr. McKay, who is the County Crown Attorney of Dufferin County, are partners in a patent apple peeler, and he was detecting infringement of a patent, signing Mr. McKay's name, because the guilty ones would recognize his signature. Reeve Mitchell and William Allan, J. P., remanded the prisoner till Thursday.

At a meeting of the Provincial Cabinet to be held on Friday, the power question will be taken up.

W. G. Wallace, Toronto; Secretary-Treasurer, James A. Macfadden, Toronto. Executive—T. H. Brunton, Newmarket; Alex. Yule, Harriston; J. W. Corcoran, Queen City; W. D. McIntosh, Caledonia; C. W. Cartwright, Hamilton; W. C. Matthews, Toronto.

Committee on Complaints and Appeals—D. Carlyle, Alex. Congalton, W. J. Dick.

Committee on the Annual—Jas. Hedley, W. C. Chisholm and the Secretary. Auditors—Geo. R. Hargraff and G. G. Edkins.

The proposed amendment of A. M. Cunningham, to allow first and second Tankard players to compete in the District Cup competition, was defeated, after a lengthy discussion.

A motion by the Rev. W. G. Wallace was put, reading as follows: "When the umpire in a Tankard or District Cup competition receives a request from any club secretary that the draw be made and announced before the date of play, the umpire shall be at liberty to do so, should he deem best, but he shall do this only after securing the consent of the secretary of the clubs eligible to compete." This was adopted.

MAINSHEET UNLUCKY.

Accident to the Noted Stallion at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 16.—An accident prevented the world's stallion record from being beaten yesterday, when Mainsheet, having trotted three-quarters of a mile in 1:43 1/2, caught his hoof in his quarter boot, and went to his knees as he was trotting the last quarter of the mile. The accident occurred near the last eighth pole. Mainsheet had trotted the first eighth of the last quarter in 14 seconds, and was going strong when the accident occurred. Jack Leyburn, the chestnut gelding, owned by Edward and Joseph Madden, sons of J. E. Madden, won the Walnut Hall Farm Cup, valued at $500, and a $5,000 stake. Ed. Geers, who had won the stake three times before, drove the winner. The race proved easy for the winner, as he jogged home

BOUTS ARRANGED

Between Yankees and Old Country Boxers.

New York, Oct. 16.—Three interesting battles were arranged yesterday. Johnny Summers, the English lightweight, who made such a good showing against Tommy Murphy in their fight at Philadelphia, was coupled with the Philadelphia lightweight, Bert Keyes, for a 20-round session before the Edgewood A. C. of New Haven on Nov. 1. The principals in the other match were Pat O'Keefe, the Irish middleweight champion, and Sailor Burke, the Brooklyn middleweight. This pair were matched for a struggle at catch-weights, and bids for the fight will be received until Oct. 24.

Last night Charles Harvey made his third match of the day, when he arranged a battle at catch-weights between Owen Moran, of England, and Tommy O'Toole, of Philadelphia. This will be a six-round battle. Summers and O'Keefe are both managed by Charles Harvey, who intends to get them into action without delay in order to test their calibre. Summers arrived here last week and had little trouble getting a match, as he put up a wonderful fight when he met Murphy. O'Keefe is not well known here, but as soon as Sailor Burke heard that there was a new middleweight in sight, the nautical person lost no time in connecting with the visitor.

The match between Burke and O'Keefe calls for six or ten rounds, and the two fighters are husky enough to make it interesting all the way. Until some club, however, shows a desire to have this fight on its schedule, speculation as to the outcome would be more or less unprofitable.

O'LEARY'S LONG WALK.

Veteran Ped. is to Do 1,000 Miles in 1000 Hours.

New York, Oct. 16.—Dan O'Leary, the veteran pedestrian, has entered the home stretch in his 1,000-mile walk. On next Saturday he will have accomplished his task of walking 1,000 miles in 1,000 hours.

He began his long journey on Sept. 8, and undertook to walk one mile in every one of the hours every day. So far he has averaged a mile in 11 minutes. His sleeping, eating, in fact everything, must be apportioned, minute by minute, to the remaining minutes of the hour. Despite these hardships he is still going, and confident he will finish on schedule time.

O'Leary is the holder of many professional walking records. He has completed all over the world and counted fast pedestrians in many countries. His first big walk was in May, 1873, at Chicago, when he walked 500 miles in 153 hours. In 1876 he walked 500 miles in this city in 143 hours and 17 minutes. In 1878 he won the go-as-you-please walking championship in this city, walking 403 in 142 hours. He walked 156 2-7 miles in San Francisco in 1889 in 142 hours.

The veteran believes in much exercise and properly cooked food. In a recent interview he said that nearly all unhappiness comes from a violation of the rules governing life's mainstays.

"I'd rather have a son of mine marry a divorcee of the devil than a bad cook," he said.

He is Mr. Blake's opinion that the whole question of betting on the white and foreign population should be reconsidered. The church is responsible for 3,000 Eskimos, and Mr. Blake thinks that two men should be sent to live among them, at a cost of $5,500.

"PLUNGER" YEAGER IS BROKE AGAIN.

New York, Oct. 16.—Joe Yeager is broke again. The youngest and nervous gambler that the raccoons have seen in the last twenty years left the Belmont Park course on Friday owing the bookmakers a sum reported to be from $50,000 to $100,000, and has not shown up to make good his losses. In the language of the track, he has "gone overboard."

The blow that caused the Beau Brummel player to overbet himself came in the fifth race, when Chulita, the 3 to 5 favorite, was beaten a length and a half by Wavercrest. Up to this particular event Yeager was over $400,000 loser, and he stood a tap on this occasion for even. No one has ever been known in the racing game to win with distressed money, and the rule was never better exemplified than when Miller, using the whip on Chulita, could not withstand the rush of Wavercrest and caused the heus of cards to tumble over Yeager.

TIGERS WILL BE STRONGER ON SATURDAY.

Hamilton's Back Division Will Be Hard to Beat—Arrangements for Game With Argos.

It is a certainty that the Hamilton Tigers will be very much stronger in their game with the Toronto Argonauts here next Saturday than they were in the game with Montreal. There was a full turn-out last night, and the way the boys turned in and worked showed the determination they have made to win Saturday's game. Gordon Southam, the star half-back of "Varsity" for the past two years, was out last night, and will surely be on the line on Saturday at centre half. This will strengthen the team immensely, and the practice last night showed that the boys felt one of the danger spots had been capably filled. Charlie Martin, the hero of many a hard fought gridiron battle, was also out, and showed that he had lost none of his old-time skill in kicking and following up. The Beavers' second team is out on Saturday, before the big Argonaut game. This will afford the players an opportunity to see a big game. The Beavers handily defeated Grimsby and Winona football teams last Saturday and are in fine shape.

The Tiger Cubs had a fine work-out last night at the cricket grounds. Every player was out. Some old faces were seen on the line, which showed up immensely. Final practice will be held at the cricket grounds Thursday night at 7:30, to put the finishing touches on the game with Dundas on Saturday.

FREE KICKS.

Tammany Tigers will not countenance the suggestion to quit the O. R. F. U. for the "Big Four" intermediate series. Teddy Roosevelt, jun., who has been playing a strong game at left end for the Harvard second team, is out of the game with a badly injured knee.

Billy Morrison says Colledge, the new Peterboro' half back, is a wonder. He stands over six feet, is 19 years of age, and weighs 188 pounds. He kicked four drops from the field in Saturday's game, and fourteen points were scored on roughness from his punts.

"Diddy" O'Brien will be out at full-back for Ottawa in the remaining games of the season. Durocher will go to right half. Ottawa has an Australian player named Bonner, who is said to be a wonder. He is heavy and fast, and kicks with either foot.

CANNOT RULE INDIA.

Bombay Gazette Takes Issue With Mr. Goldwin Smith.

London, Oct. 15.—The Bombay Gazette says: "For Dr. Goldwin Smith to talk about the 'decrees of nations' that no race can forever rule a land wherein it cannot rear its children is the most unmitigated nonsense. Anything more preposterous than that the children of India can never rule the country couldn't be conceived. We greatly suspect that in Dr. Smith's gloomy prognostication of the end of British rule the wish is father to the thought."

ANGLICAN MISSIONS.

Church Has Nearly 200,000 Members in its Fourteen Dioceses.

Toronto, Oct. 16.—According to statistics prepared by Hon. S. H. Blake, K. C., for a meeting of the Executive Board of the Missionary Society of the Church of England in Canada, the number of members of the church in its 14 mission dioceses is, white 175,404, Indians 21,125, Eskimos 760, Chinese 41 and Japanese 10, or in all 197,340.

It is Mr. Blake's opinion that the whole question of betting on the white and foreign population should be reconsidered. The church is responsible for 3,000 Eskimos, and Mr. Blake thinks that two men should be sent to live among them, at a cost of $5,500.

MORE CLAIMANTS.

YORK LOAN PERMANENTS WANT ALL THEIR MONEY BACK.

Deny Regularity of Issue—Amount Involved Exceeds $300,000—Referee Adjoins Hearing for More Evidence.

Toronto, Oct. 16.—The claim of another class of York Loan shareholders to be treated as creditors, otherwise to get one hundred cents with interest for every dollar invested, was presented to Mr. Kappel, official referee, yesterday by Mr. W. N. Ferguson. This class holds permanent stock and consists of 205 holders of fully paid-up stock, representing $49,800, and 2,140 holders of an aggregate of $548,100, on which $242,252 has been paid.

Mr. Ferguson argued that these stockholders were actually creditors, because in the first place, the issuing of permanent stock was irregular, and in the second place, that the by-laws under which they had been issued had not been confirmed by a general meeting of shareholders.

Mr. W. M. Douglas, K. C., contended that the by-laws had all been confirmed by legislation.

Mr. Ferguson objected that, under the statute, proper notice to the shareholders of the passing of such by-laws should have been given, and that this was not done.

Mr. Douglas said that the directors were authorized to enact by-laws with or without the consent of the shareholders. The by-law in question was not necessarily invalid, because the shareholders had not been given notice.

Mr. C. D. Scott stated that the original by-laws provided that the directors should hold five shares of permanent stock.

Mr. Stewart Linn, former secretary-treasurer of the company, did not collect that any permanent stock had been issued prior to 1904, when the new by-law was passed.

Mr. Ferguson contended that under his charter the York Loan could only issue withdrawable stock, and that all subsequent by-laws were ultra vires, and therefore invalid. Under the circumstances permanent stockholders stood in the position of creditors.

Mr. Kappel pointed out that it was obvious that all subscribers to the company's stock were shareholders, but he adjourned further argument until Friday next, when he would ask for the production of evidence that permanent stock had actually been subscribed.

BLAMED DOCTOR.

HEAD OF THE PAN PHYSIOC INSTITUTE IS CENSURED.

Inquest into Death of Infant of Marion C. Gregg—Dr. Woodhouse Admitted That He Had Never Attended a Medical College.

Toronto, Oct. 16.—The infant child, Gregg, came to its death at the Toronto General Hospital on September 25th by premature birth caused by the unskillful treatment of the mother, Marion C. Gregg, of 1, Northmer Woodhouse.

This is the verdict which a coroner's jury, under Coroner J. Hamilton Cotton, returned in a case which is of unusual interest to the medical profession. The mother of the child had been undergoing an electrical treatment at the Pan Physioc Institute, 190 College Street, owned by Dr. A. M. Woodhouse, an electro-tactician.

The child was born unexpectedly on September 25th, shortly after treatment in Dr. Woodhouse's office, and died five days later in the general hospital.

In her evidence the mother swore that she was unaware of her real condition, and was being treated for general gynecology by Dr. Woodhouse.

The doctor was examined at very great length by County Crown Attorney Layton about his methods of business and treatments of diseases. Coroner Cotton was apparently dissatisfied at the answers to his questions and commenced to examine the witness as to his knowledge of diseases.

"You don't know right out. Don't hedge. Just admit you don't know what you are talking about," he admonished the witness once.

Dr. Woodhouse admitted that he did not know what the specified disease was, although he had a moment before said he would treat it with a high frequency current and the Senecae system.

"Then I say you are a fraud," resumed the coroner. "You would charge fifty cents or a dollar a time for treatments that you know can do no good. That is just what is the matter with you in this case. You treated this woman for something, you knew not what, with the result that she had a premature birth, and the child died. That child's death is on your head, sir."

Woodhouse was kept on the stand for two and a half hours and admitted that he had never attended a medical college, but after a six weeks' course of instruction under Dr. Gedder in Buffalo came to Toronto in 1903 and opened an office, styling himself "Professor Woodhouse." He stated also that certain forms of electricity would be dangerous to a female patient under certain conditions, as galvanic currents were destructive of tissue. In the Schaeffer treatment a current of 21 volts of galvanic electricity was used, which Dr. A. Jukes Johnson, who was a witness, said was a dangerous shock for the patient to have received.

DIVORCE CASES.

126 Mismatched Couples Ask Release at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Oct. 15.—A wave of divorce suits has struck Pittsburg. Today Common Pleas Courts Nos. 1, 2 and 3 started to hear the woes of 126 mismatched couples, all of whom are desirous to be freed of their matrimonial ties. Of the cases that are being heard, wives have brought the action in eighty-two of them, while forty-four husbands have made charges against their wives. Each of the 126 cases was scheduled for trial this morning.

Most of the women charged their husbands with cruelty and infidelity, while most of the men charged their wives with ungovernable tempers.

Mrs. Anna M. Hodge had the most peculiar grievance of any of the women. She said her husband would not give her anything to eat but sausages and rice pudding.

Beer* Is No Mere Stimulant

Beer is not the choice of the drunkard, because it cannot stimulate enough—not enough alcohol in malt beverages to class them as intoxicants. But there is just enough alcohol in beer (less than in sweet cider) to induce the digestive system to do its work more thoroughly and quicker. Most grown people—and women especially—find good beer good to drink with meals, because it not only has much food-value in itself, but renders all other foods easier to digest.

Your own doctor will probably tell you beer is good for you with your dinner and at bedtime.

*BEER is a term which covers lager, ale, porter, and stout and, in the practice of Ontario brewers, includes beverages made under most hygienic conditions, from Ontario barley (the best in the world) malt, hops, and pure water.

MRS. GEORGE HILLYARD. A noted tennis player of England, who recently was beaten unexpectedly by an inferior player. In a public statement she explains that she had lost her temper because the pieces made her play after she had eaten a heavy meal.
