NEW MIRAMICHI BRIDGE TO BE BUILT AT NEWCASTLE

A new Member Each for Gloucester, Westmorland and Moncton--Miramichi Bay Railway Incorporated--House Prorogues.

Fredericton, April 19.—Hon. John Morrissey, Chief Commissioner for Public Works, introduced a bill in the House before adjournment was made early this morning to provide that the government shall borrow $300,000 for permanent bridges and works of a permanent character. It is proposed to construct or commence construction of the following bridges this year: Fillmore Mill, Yvonne in Albert County; Pokok bankment and pipe culvert, Doherty brook, Lane's Creek, Beauséjour mouth in Carleton county; Haines, Smithtown, Tins, in Kings county; James Jardine, Graham Pt., Molus River mouth, in Kent county; Levesque (Xavier) embankment and pipe culvert, Murchie, in county of Madawaska; Newcastle, in Northumberland county; Cole's Island, Bumpce Chase, Hunter's Ferry, Fulling Mill, Tupper, in Queens county; Marquet, in Westmorland; Grand Falls, in Victoria county; McKenzie Hollow, Durham Bridge retaining wall, Stoneridge in York county.

Hon. Mr. Fleming introduced a bill to amend the act to establish a board of public utility commissioners. He explained that the bill provided for the enforcement of penalties under the act.

Hon. Mr. Grimmer introduced a bill to regulate theatres and cinematographs. He explained that the bill was for the purpose of regulating moving picture shows and followed along the lines of the system in vogue in Ontario, Quebec and other provinces, and was introduced to protect the morals of children. Under the provisions of the act no child under the age of fifteen shall be allowed to attend in any picture show unless accompanied by parent or responsible person, while there is also a provision to control moving picture machines which if not properly conducted would cause loss of life.

Hon. Mr. G. Linnar introduced a bill to amend the act respecting protection of woods from fire.

Hon. Mr. McLeod introduced a bill to further amend the New Brunswick election act of 1908. He explained that the bill provided new boundaries for some of the electoral subdivisions and also provided that Westmorland county should have four representatives outside the City of Moncton, and that Gloucester county should have two representatives.

Hon. Mr. G. Linnar introduced a bill to amend the act respecting protection of woods from fire.

was changed so that the dates would be from arch 25 to May 15, the length of the season remaining the same as before.

The closed period for beaver was extended to 1915.

Fredericton, April 2.—The corporation committee met this morning and agreed to bills incorporating the North Shore Navigating Company, and the Miramichi Valley Railway Company, and to amend the act incorporating the Imperial Dry Dock Company with amendments.

The bill to further amend the N. B. Electric Act was considered and adopted with amendments. One gives a meeting city two members.

RAILWAY ON THE MIRAMICHI
The bill to incorporate the Miramichi Valley Railway Company was agreed to with amendments, and the title of the Company was changed to the Miramichi Bay Shore Railway Company.

At three o'clock His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, came to the chamber and assented to the bills passed during the session and then returned to the House.

HOW THE GREAT WRECK HAPPENED

Survivor of the Titanic Tells the Story--Disaster Charged to Carelessness of Company and Crew--The Women Saved--Men Died Like Heroes--1,635 Dead, and only 705 Survivors.

New York, April 23.—Steamship Carpathia came into New York tonight with first news direct from the great White Star line Titanic. The great liner went down with her band playing, taking with her to death all but 745 of her human cargo of 2,340 souls. To this awful death list, six persons were added. One died in a lifeboat, and five subsequently succumbed on the Carpathia. The total death list, as brought to port tonight by the Carpathia is 1,601 and 739 survive.

CANADIANS LOST

The Canadians lost are: Charles M. Hays, Montreal; Thornton Davidson, Montreal; Guigley Baxter, Montreal; J. Hudson Allison, Montreal; Mrs. Hays's daughter, Montreal; H. Markland Molson, Montreal; Vivien Payne, Montreal; J. L. Levy, Montreal; Dr. Pain, Hamilton; Hugh Ross, Toronto and Winnipeg; Mark Fortune, Winnipeg.

The Canadians saved are: Mrs. C. M. Hays, Montreal; Mrs. Thornton Davidson, Montreal; Mrs. Hays's daughter, Montreal; Master Allison, Montreal; Mrs. Dr. Douglas, Montreal; Mrs. James Baxter, Montreal; Miss Alice Bowerman, Montreal; Mrs. J. G. Hogabin, Toronto; Major Arthur Peuchen, Toronto; Miss Alice Fortune, Winnipeg; Mrs. Mark Fortune, Winnipeg.

Practically all the women, except those who refused to leave their husbands, were saved.

HOW IT HAPPENED

New York, April 19.—The mystery which has shrouded the last hours of the famous Canadian who went down to their doom with the ill-fated liner Titanic, was penetrated last night when Major Arthur Peuchen of the Queen's Own Rifles of Toronto, president of the Standard Chemical Company, told of his own miraculous escape from the sea. Major Peuchen alone of ten Canadian men on the Titanic was returned to tell of the last hours of his friends who perished with the ship. It was only his training as a sailor and soldier and his own physical agility which singled him out as commander of the sixth life boat to leave the ship and thus save his life.

Before leaving the fast sinking Titanic Major Peuchen spoke briefly with the late C. M. Hays, general manager of the Grand Trunk Railroad. "Good-bye Peuchen, I feel that the ship will last another eight hours and by that time we shall have assistance" were the last words of the great railway magnate.

One of the most cherished objects which Major Peuchen bore with him from the wreck is a small piece of coarse paper on which is scrawled the major's sea commission. This paper stood between death and its victim, and to it Major Peuchen owes his life. It reads:

"Major Arthur Peuchen was ordered into boat by me owing to the fact that I required seamen, such as he proved to be, as well as a brave man."

(Signed) D. J. B. LYNCH, 2nd Officer late Titanic.

This is Major Peuchen's instruction for taking over the sixth life boat instead of remaining on board to go to his fate with nine other Canadians who were his associates. The major told his story last night on his arrival at the Waldorf Hotel surrounded by his two children, his wife and his brother-in-law, Thompson of Orillia, Ont. Major Peuchen said:

"It was Sunday evening, a starry night and calm. There was an exceptional bill of fare on for evening dinner. We were all in evening dress and the ladies wore many a jewel. Music went on as usual. I dined with Mrs. Markland Molson, Mr. and Mrs. Allison and their little girl. E. ything was exceptional bright."

"Then I went to the smoking room and met Mr. Beattie, partner of Hugo Ross of Winnipeg, formerly of Toronto. I also met Mr. McCarthy of the Union Bank of Vancouver, and a financial man from Toronto. The talk was unusually bright. This was about seven o'clock. Then I said going to bed, I am going to turn in."

"I had just reached my berth when I heard a dull thud. It was no like a collision and I did not think it serious. That's extraordinary I thought and went up to see. I ran upstairs and on my way met a friend who laughingly said that we had struck an iceberg and we went upon deck."

ICEBERG SEVENTY FEET OUT OF WATER

"There we found that we had struck at one o'clock about seventy-five feet from the point and had scraped along the starboard side. The berg must either have shifted the keel or ripped open the side, for we began to take in water along the whole length of the boat. The bulkheads were, therefore, no use. I went on deck and saw the ice falling on us. The berg was about seventy feet high. Our steamer itself was seven decks high and the berg was even with the upper deck."

"As the berg passed the port holes it alarmed the women in the berths. The passengers came on deck one by one, some in pyjamas, some in evening gowns. They were not yet much alarmed. I went inside and spoke to my friend Molson. Hugo Ross was sick in bed. Then I got in touch with Charles M. Hays and Thornton Davidson, a son-in-law of Mr. Hays. The three of us, Mr. Hays, Mr. Molson and Mr. Davidson, went up to see the ice."

"I then for the first time saw she was listing. This was about fifteen minutes after the strike, she is listing, I said. Then I noticed that all the people were taking to life boats and for the first time it looked serious. I wouldn't believe it, however, knowing that the Titanic was such a safe boat. Finally I realized the seriousness of the thing. I went inside, threw off my dress suit, put on my warmest clothes and my steward, a very nice fellow, helped me put on my life preserver. I never saw him again."

"I took three changes and a pearl pin. There was $200.000 worth of stocks and bonds, all my jewelry and presents for my daughter Jessie and family in Toronto, but I did not take them. When I got outside all the people lined up with life preservers. I accompanied my wife and two children to the life boat."

FAREWELLS OF HUSBANDS AND WIVES

"Prior to this I went in to warn Mr. Ross, who was ill in bed. I met Mr. Beattie and he went in and warned Mr. Ross. On the top deck, as I mounted, all the boats were swung out ready for action. Just at that moment a mob of stokers swarmed up to the decks. The first officer, a big burly fellow, drove them back with a fury. Then I found they were short-handed and I assisted. I helped cut off all the coals on the first life boat and to take out the sails. Then I assisted in putting the ladies in the boat and officers stood nearby. We filed the first boat and lowered it. The women kissed their husbands good bye, the husbands assisted their wives to the boats and then stood back like any other men."

"I saw no evidence of cowardice, but an Italian was then discovered concealed in the boat with a broken arm."

"We then lowered the second boat. When the wife refused to go without the husband, the wife had to stand by. The same rule prevailed with a mother and daughter. An officer on the starboard side was lenient and there it was that many men got in. The officer on the port side was very severe, and would allow none but women and children to enter the boats."

BOATS NOT ALL FILLED

"The boats were not filled to capacity. One boat had only twenty-three in it, but its capacity was sixty. The officer replied to my query over this condition that the boat chains would not hold the heavy load of a full boat. The capacity of sixty could be had when the life boats were in the water."

"Every woman who cared to go was taken off. There was no necessity for any woman being left behind. Finally we came to the sixth boat. The quartermaster let the boat down part way. Then he said 'We have only one seaman in the boat, we want three or four more seamen.' I then went forward and said, 'I am a yachtsman and can handle a boat with any man.'

SIXTH CHILD GONE

Whole Family of P. E. I. Children Now Wiped Out.—Bodies Will be Taken up.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., April 21.—Another chapter in the McGee tragedy was added yesterday by the death of the sixth and last child, Johnny, aged ten years. He took ill last Tuesday with the same symptoms of poisoning as had carried off his brothers and sisters, on the previous Friday, and Saturday. Dr. Fraser was called on Thursday. He reported the case to the Attorney General who ordered the boy to be brought to the hospital in Charlottetown in order that his condition might be closely observed and in the hope that it might give some evidence on the mystery. Johnny was taken to Montague Friday night by his grandfather, Thomas Cassidy, to be taken here next morning, but he died at 4 a. m. Saturday. An inquest was begun at Cassidy's last evening, searching evidence will be kept up and the bodies of the children who died last January, will be exhumed and carefully examined. The air is full of rumors and the strange suspicious theory, that the Osh caused the death of the five children last week is now well exploded, as Johnny had eaten no fish for about a week. The contents of the stomachs of some of the children who died on Saturday week last, showed no traces of mineral poisoning.

ELOPEMENT FROM DALHOUSIE

By A. Lennox and Miss Opal LaLois Make Runway Match—Are On Trip to West.

Word of the elopement from Dalhousie of two young people, both well-known on the North shore came as a great surprise Sunday night. The young lady in question is Miss Opal LaLois, daughter of Mr. C. H. LaLois, the local member of the legislature from the county of Restigouche, and the groom is Mr. Roy A. Lennox, a well-known commercial man.

Owing to the difference in their religious beliefs, and the opposition of both of their families to the match, the young people determined to marry first and let the world know afterward. Miss LaLois is said to have gone to Campbellton on Saturday afternoon from Dalhousie, and Mr. Lennox arrived there in the early evening. They procured a license and were married that evening, leaving on the maritime express on a trip to the west.

THE DISASTER A THEME OF LOCAL PULPITS

The Titanic disaster was mentioned in the local pulpits Sunday, the pastors impressing upon the flocks the necessity of being always prepared for death but also of taking every precaution to preserve their own safety.

There's a GOOD Job! I Used Amatite ROOFING

"NOW I have the best roof in this township. One that will last—one that's water-proof—one that will resist the hardest storms—and I didn't have a bit of trouble laying it."

That's about what every Amatite contractor says. Its superiority over all other ready roofing is apparent to anyone who uses it. Amatite does away with all roofing troubles and unnecessary expense because it is made with a red mineral surface that needs no painting. It is durable, fire retardant, practical, economical. Don't buy any other roofing till you look up Amatite. Write to nearest office for samples.

Everjet Elastic Paint
Save money by using this black paint wherever the color is objectionable. Elastic, heat proof, durable. Use it for "rubber" roofings and all exposed iron and wood.

LEGENDS OF MAVOOSHEN.

Adown the sunny inlet,
Across the Bay we float,
Where many an idle fisher
Sits singing in his boat;
Or, anchored in some quiet cove,
We speed the hours along
With legends of the Tarantines,
With story and with song.

Where once Modockawando
By council fires ablaze,
With French Castine and D'Iberville,
Charged warfare's treacherous ways

We look to see the wigwag smoke
Rise from the misty vale,
Or dusky maidens' stony eyes
Flash through the moonlight pale.

Here, leapt in languous leapers,
How blissful to recline,
To drink from fragrant chalice
Rare draughts of life's sweet wine;
To watch, across the golden glow
Of sunset waves afar,
Some home-bound ship come sailing in
To greet the evening star.

And in the long rare twilight,
When day, with blushes sweet,
Still lingers to hide behind the hills,
Departs with lingering feet,
How sweet the sleepy chirp of birds
From nests in tree and bower,
While sentinel stars with silent tread
Match on from north to hour.

Then down the opening pathway
Of Summers yet to come,
When tinting toilers leave behind
The city's maddening hum,
May weary feet find out the way
By roset's pilgrims pressed,
Where shores like these spread wide
their arms
Of welcome and of rest.

ZAM-BUK IN THE HOME

Read How Useful It Proved in These Widely Different Cases.

Zam-Buk's strongest point is its effectiveness in all kinds of skin diseases and injuries. Just note how excellent these persons proved it in widely different directions.

SORE HEEL—Mrs. C. A. Campbell of Powassan, Ont., writes: "One of my heels was very badly blistered by a pair of new shoes, and the poisonous dye from my stocking got into it, and made a bad sore. For a week I could not put on a shoe, and suffered great pain. I applied Zam-Buk, and in a few days it drew the poison out and healed the wound."

BAD CUT—Mrs. J. Virgint, of Onondaga, Ont., writes: "Zam-Buk healed a bad cut which I sustained. I was hurrying across my yard one day when I slipped and fell heavily, my knee striking a sharp stone. At the moment I did not realize how badly I was hurt, but I found I had a bad cut about two inches long, very jagged and very deep. We bathed the cut and applied Zam-Buk. This stopped the smarting very quickly, and in a few days it had healed the wound completely. For cuts and bruises Zam-Buk is a splendid remedy."

ECZEMA CURED—Mrs. Antoine Arsenault of Maxianville, P. E. I., writes: "I can highly recommend Zam-Buk to any person suffering from eczema. I had this disease and was under doctors' treatment for two years, without any good result. I then tried Zam-Buk and in the end it cured me."

Zam-Buk is just as good for piles, blood-poison, festering sores, pimples, eruptions, cuts, burns, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box all druggists and stores, or post free for price from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Try Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

Kent-Northumberland District Division.

The twenty-sixth quarterly meeting of Kent-Northumberland District, Division, 5, of T., which met in Chatham on the 15th instant, was attended by the following delegates:

Harcourt, No. 438—R. H. Stavert, D. W. P.; Miss Bella Lankey

Newcastle, No. 47—Walter C. Day, Mrs. H. S. Leard

Caledonia, No. 126, Douglas-town—Harold C. Stothart, D. W. P.; Granam McKnight, David Bass, Wm. Bransfield, Miss Emma Morrison, Miss Helen Gray

Northumberland, No. 37, Chatham—R. Alvin Wall, D. I. S.; George Stothart, Guy Tait, Sterling Wood, Miss Sarahara Gray

Visitors—Geo. Cassie, Howard Russell, David Gulliver and Frank Johnston, of Caledonia Division, and Robert Betts and John Fallon of Northumberland.

The D. W. P. spoke of the growing temperance sentiment in the Dominion and this province generally and in Kent and Northumberland counties in particular, and felt sure that the day of complete prohibition was not far off. New divisions had been organized during the quarter at Doaktown, Whitneyville and New Jersey. The meeting recently held in Newcastle had given evidence of awakening temperance sentiment there.

The reports of the D. W. P. and D. S. were handed over to the committee on the state of the Order, who reported as follows:

"We have examined the District Scribes reports along with the various reports of the different divisions and we find that in most cases these reports have been carefully prepared and show that within the district progress is being made in the temperance work.

"We regret a number of Divisions have failed to report.

"We note that the membership in Kent Co. has not grown during the quarter, while in Northumberland county there has been a marked increase. This we feel has been largely due to the efforts put forth by the G. W. P. Rev. R. H. Stavert.

"We would recommend that the District Scribe's suggestion re the establishing of a District Division for each of the two counties be submitted to the various Divisions in the counties by the Scribe and that he be asked to have a report ready for next meeting.

"We recommend also that the banner be awarded to Douglas-town Division and that the Scribe communicate with Grandville re the matter.

"Submitted in L. P. and F.

"Emma Morrison
"A. E. Leard
"Bella Lankey
"Sterling Wood
"George Stothart."

The report was received and adopted.

It was decided to hold next meeting at Burnt church, if agreeable to that Division.

A vote of thanks was tendered the D. W. P. for the work he had done in the district.

Adjourned.

[The report of Richibucto Division, delayed, shows a member on March 31st of 60, a gain of 3 during quarter. This marks a gain of 56 in Northumberland and a loss of 9 in Kent—total gain 47.]

A public meeting in the evening was addressed by Rev. George Wood (chairman), Geo. Stothart, Rev. J. M. McLean and Rev. R. H. Stavert. There were recitations by Miss Ethel Dwyer and Mr. Sterling Wood, a solo by Berval Watling, and stereopticon views. Collection $2.26.

Manitoba Catholics Are Better Pleased

The Provincial Government's New School Law Relieves Them of the Double Tax.

Montreal, April 16.—The Manitoba Roman Catholics are well pleased with the changes the school laws is the statement of C. P. Beaubien, K. C., who was one of the Eastern delegates to the Roblin banquet at Winnipeg and who is enthusiastic over the reception accorded the Quebec contingent. Yesterday he received a letter signed by Messrs. Jos. Bernier, M. L. A., Aimé St. Germain, M. L. A., and Albert Préfontaine, M. L. A., the three French Canadian members of the Legislature of Manitoba, which says: "We ask you to take back to your province of Quebec the assurance that our situation in Manitoba has become very much improved, for at last we are relieved of the double tax which bore so heavily upon us."

Why He Was Late.

"What made you so late?"
"I met Smithson."
"Well, that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper."
"I know, but I asked him how he was feeling, and he insisted on telling me about his stomach trouble."
"Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?"
"Sure, that is what he needs." Sold by all dealers.

Did you ever hear any one say they could not get good coffee except in the States?

I have heard it, scores of times, and it's one of the reasons that made me decide to go into the Coffee business.

Of the Americans who visit us in summer, hundreds take home a supply of Red Rose Tea because they have never used such good tea before. I determined to put up a coffee that would make for itself just as good a reputation. It has not been easy, but I am sure I have succeeded.

Estabrooks' Red Rose Coffee, put up in sealed tins is—well, it's good coffee. You and your American friends will say so.

A good combination is Estabrooks' Coffee for breakfast and Red Rose Tea for other meals.

THE JUSTIFICATION OF CANADA

Anyone who follows the trend of political events can clearly see the wisdom of Canada's choice in the matter of Reciprocity with the United States.

Already we have negotiations well advanced along the lines making for closer trade relations with the overseas colonies of Britain, and these more intimate commercial connections must of necessity tend to strengthen and consolidate the bonds of Imperial unity and so assist in the grand scheme of an over-world Empire under the protecting flag of the motherland.

Within the last two weeks plans have been formulated at Ottawa, and a basis for better and more lasting trade intercourse with the British West Indian Islands has been practically agreed upon by the Commissioners from these Islands, and the Canadian Government, and these preliminaries have only to be submitted by the Commissioners to their several Governments and receive the ratification of their legislative bodies to become part and parcel of an agreement on their side which it is confidently expected will largely increase the volume of trade between Canada and those out-post Sentinels of the Empire.

The extent of this trade as it is now carried on is considerable, reaching in 1911 the total of fifteen millions of dollars, while with the Islands which are not included in the arrangement referred to our trade in 1911 reached over the two and one half million mark. It is very easy to understand that with better arrangement as regards the carrying trade—better customs facilities—increased interest in both countries—and the additional stimulus of British trade among British subjects, the increase in our commercial dealings will be very marked and the development of this enlarged field will be most encouraging. For a long time the United States has been coquetting with our West Indian fellow-subjects with a view to immediate development in their commercial intercourse, and as a matter of course with the hope of an ultimate absorption of these valuable tropical possessions of the Crown in the political anatomy of our neighbor to the South; but our friends of the Islands are still true to their allegiance and the blandishments of Uncle Sam have so far resulted only in a somewhat increasing material display but with no sentiment. I advance in keeping with the amorous proposals of our republican friends. The refusal of Canada to accept the Reciprocity scheme has resulted in the United States turning their attention to other markets, and while they are averse to the abrogation of the terms of the "Canadian Reciprocity Act" which they passed before the measure was submitted to the Dominion electorate and are as yet keeping the measure on their statute books, we observe that they are reaching out for closer reciprocal arrangements with Germany as well as with the Argentine Republic and other South American Governments. During the Reciprocity Campaign in Canada the Liberal newspapers, notably the "Globe" of Toronto, made a strong appeal to the electorate for confirmation of the scheme by asserting that as soon as it (Reciprocity) would be agreed to by Canada we should have Newfoundland knocking at our doors for admission as a participant in our advancing prosperity; but, alas! for the pretensions of our great Liberal thunderer, this statement was at once promptly denied by a telegram over the official signature of Sir Ed. Morris, the premier of Newfoundland.

But what now about the "ancient colony"? With the conditions as outlined above, which must be taken to show improved conditions for our Dominion, can it be considered as Utopian to forecast negotiations by which the scruples and timidity of Newfoundland may be overcome and the realization of our Imperial dreams effected, by which a consolidated Canada which will include all the British possessions on this side of the Atlantic, may come into being, a Canada presenting such a solidarity as the world has not yet seen, which will constitute a bulwark and buttress to the Empire and which will continue in perpetuity down the ages of the future?

And with the Spirit of prophecy still upon us will our readers pardon us for suggesting a Canada which may in the coming days be the seat of Government for our glorious Imperial Empire; when the old land, feeling, as it has already, the trammels and restrictions of environment may conclude to exchange for the free expansive continent of our American Canada—a land in the centre of her world-wide possessions—the glory-laden and historical birth place of Imperial Britain? This change may not be effected in this or the next generation, but who is there so bold as to say it will never occur?

MEMORIAL SERVICE

At St. Andrews (Anglican) a most impressive memorial service was held Sunday, April 21st. The service opened with Hymn 331 in the Canadian Hymnal, first lines: Eternal Father Strong to Save. The usual evening service with the lessons from the burial service and Psalms from the same and collects suitable to the occasion. Then followed Hymns 300 and 18 with a very affecting address by the Rector, after which the Hymn 592 of the Resurrection morning, the Benediction concluding with the Dead March. Mrs. Chas. Sargent presided at the organ.

He told me to go below and get into the lifeboat from the lower deck. But I said I would jump for it. Taking hold of a halcyon I swung out into space. Luckily I caught my feet against the block and lowered myself to the boat, a distance of four and a half decks, probably sixty feet down a rope into the darkness. I tell you it required nerve.

"Did you land on any one?" asked Major Peuchen's daughter Jessie.

"I didn't, I ran forward into the boat and ordered the seaman to put the plug into the boat. They had neglected to do this. He came back and said, 'This boat is going to founder' referring to the Titanic.

"We rowed away like good fellows. At last I saw there was no hope. The decks were disappearing tier by tier into the sea as the lights on each deck went out. The Titanic was doomed. Just before I left the deck boys was the last man I saw. He came up and said, 'Peuchen, goodbye, this boat is good for eight hours yet. By that time we shall have help and the boats will be able to land and come back for more passengers. I have it from one of the best seamen on this ship that she cannot sink. I am with Mr. Crosby at Milwaukee, a boat builder, who says she cannot sink.' Then as we left we let off the first rockets. Elsewhere every thing was quiet.

"The steerage was nowhere in evidence. It was rumored that they were locked in and under control, but I don't know. I knew the boat was doomed. When I got down on the level I saw her serious position. She was sinking bow first. Then we began to row, without compass, without light, but with a little food and water. Our sailor in charge had also got some brandy and was incapable.

"Some boats had no provisions. Number 13 was said to have no food or water on board.

"After we had rowed three quarters of an hour towards a certain light, which this fool of ours thought was a vessel, he wanted to know if we thought it was a buoy. Then he called it a fishing smack, but it proved to be the Northern Lights. He was the most stupid man I ever saw. He kept calling out this and that and making incoherent remarks.

"Then we heard an awful sound and a loud report boomed over the sea like an explosion. It was said that the tremendous weight of the Titanic going down by the nose caused an air pressure in the centre amidships and she broke in two and foundered.

"The steamer was the gladdest sight our eyes ever met. Wind was coming up and it, oh, so cold. Two of us had to row and we got another man from the boat which the sailors had tied to us. I rowed from four o'clock until eight, when we made that side of the steamer. We were the last to get alongside. The steamer was sixty-five miles away when she got the message. She immediately turned around and put on double strokes and made for us.

"Then, as the sun came up, we could see that she was a big steamer with ladders down ready for us to mount. I climbed up on deck and dropped there exhausted. They took off my life preserver and put a blanket around me. I took a big back coffee and a brandy. They were kindness itself. Nothing could exceed the attention paid us by crew and passengers.

VAIN SEARCH FOR HIS FRIENDS

"Then came the sad part of it all. I had ten personal friends, Canadians, on the Titanic. Began the search for them and I saw Mrs. Hays, the Allison's nurse and baby. I went to look for Hugo Ross, Mr. Hays, Mr. Davidson and Mr. Molson, and I was the only Canadian man on that boat. I kept on going around the deck, but could not find them. One of the most ghastly things of all was to see one of the collapsible boats come in with a number of corpses. The boat, overweighed with passengers, sank below the water level and one by one, as the victims exhausted, sank into the water they were doomed and their corpses floated away. It was a ghastly sight. The boats arrived with the dead and living. Some of the boats we took aboard and some we let go with the bodies still in them.

"We then started to steam away, and another vessel had come up an hour or so before we left. She was the Californian and she cruised around to seek the survivors in hope that some were still alive.

"There were a number of French men and Americans saved. But only four Englishmen, a number of Japanese and Europeans were towed away in the life boats. They, too, were saved.

ACCIDENT SHOULD NOT HAVE OCCURRED

Major Peuchen ventured a criticism of the Titanic's management. He considered that the accident was inexcusable. "If ordinary caution or good seamanship had been used," he stated, "the accident would not have occurred. The Titanic was a good boat, luxuriously fitted up, and I have never seen anything like her.

"When I got on at Southampton I was pleased with her. But when I heard that her captain was Captain Smith my heart rose in my mouth. 'Surely we are not going to have tea man,' he said.

"An hour after sailing we got into a needless tangle with several other boats. We had a scratch crew on the Titanic who knew nothing about the business. The weather changed suddenly, thirty degrees on Sunday, from six to half past eleven o'clock. The owners said that they had received wireless messages telling of icebergs. Ismay also is said to have drawn to Miss Rorer on a message regarding the icebergs.

"We will slow down, then," said she.

"No, I guess not," Ismay is reported to have said.

NO SEARCHLIGHT AND HIGH SPEED

"At seven o'clock on the night of the accident the captain went to a dinner in full dress and stayed until nine or ten-thirty, and I am at a loss to understand why a captain with 3,000 souls in his care and in a ship approaching icebergs, should die in a restaurant in that way. It was a calm night and we could have seen icebergs on all sides if we had had a searchlight. We did not have a searchlight, but if we had it would have averted the accident. We still ran at a rate of about twenty-five miles an hour at an exceedingly high rate of speed. We did not even slow up and they did not put on any additional watches. I asked the officers afterwards as to the reason for the omission, but they would not answer.

CAPTAIN DIES LIKE A HERO

New York, April 20.—Taking refuge on the bridge of the ill-fated Titanic, two little children remained by the side of Captain Smith until that portion of the big ship had been swept by water. Survivors of the crew who went down with the Titanic, but were saved by clinging to an overturned lifeboat, to-day told of their gallant commander's effort to save the life of one of the children. He met a sailor's death, and the little girl who had entrusted her life to his care, died with him. He held the little girl under one arm, as he jumped into the sea, and endeavored to reach the nearest lifeboat with the child. I took the other child into my arms as I was swept from the bridge deck. Then I plunged into the cold water. I was compelled to release my hold on the child, and I am satisfied that the same thing happened to Captain Smith.

"I had gone to the bridge deck to assist in lowering a collapsible boat. The water was then coming over the bridge, and we were unable to launch the boat properly. It was overturned, and was used as a life-raft, some thirty or more of us, mostly women, clinging to it. Captain Smith took me as though he was trying to keep back the tears as he thought of the doomed ship. He turned to the men lowering the boat and shouted, 'Well, boys, it's every man for himself!'

"He then took one of the children standing by him, on the bridge and jumped into the sea. He endeavored to reach the overturned boat, but did not succeed. That was the last I saw of Captain Smith.

THE ENQUIRY

New York, April 19.—The official government enquiry into the wreck of the Titanic began this afternoon at the Waldorf-Astoria.

The first witness was J. Bruce Ismay, the president of the International Mercantile Marine.

Mr. Ismay was severely interrogated by the members of the investigating committee.

Though obviously ill he answered every question succinctly. First he told how he came to be on the coast. He said he always accompanied his company's liners on their maiden voyage. He said that he had not in any way interfered with the Captain on the voyage.

To an interviewer Mr. Ismay said: "I have searched my mind with deepest care, I have thought long over each single incident that I could recall. I am sure that I did nothing that I should not have done. My conscience is clear, and I have not seen a lenient judge of my acts.

"I tell you that if I thought that in the slightest way I had done anything wrong, I would never have another happy moment. I took the chance to escape when it came to me. I did not seek it. Every woman and child had been cared for before I left the boat. And more, all the men within reach had been taken care of before I took my turn, and why should I take my turn? There are only two classes of a ship, the crew and the passengers. I was a passenger. It is true I am president of the company, but I did not consider myself any different from the rest of the passengers. I took no other man's place.

Signor Macconi gave evidence that the regulations prescribed two wireless operators on ships like the Titanic and Olympic, but only one on such as the Carpathia.

When asked ought it, not to be incumbent on ships to have an operator always at the key he said:

"Yes, but shipowners don't like to carry two operators when they can get along with one. Smaller boatowners do not like the expense of two operators."

Chas. Herbert Lightholder, second officer, who went down with the ship, but, after being in the water an hour and a half, reached one of the lifeboats, testified as to superintending the getting of the people into the lifeboats on one side of the ship. The people were orderly and quiet. All the women were attended to first. After the ship went down many men were picked up out of the water. He had seen no women or children left on board the Titanic. There had been 20 lifeboats, four collapsible. One boat had stuck in its tackle and had never been launched.

OPERATORS MERE BOYS

H. T. Cottam, operator of the Carpathia, add second operator Bride of the Titanic were examined. They are aged 23 and 22 respectively.

The enquiry was adjourned till the 22nd at Washington. Cottam testified that he had not slept more than eight or ten hours between Sunday night when the Titanic called for help and Thursday night when the vessel docked here with its load of un-cared men and hysterical women.

Bride's story was one that core out virtually all that Cottam had established, except that his was one of nervous strain, worry and high keyed suspense.

Bride was closely questioned as to the first call for aid sent out by the Titanic. He said the first vessel to answer was the Frankfurt of the North German Lloyd line. The operator on the Frankfurt, according to the witness, apparently considered the call more or less trivial, for half an hour after the imperative appeal of the sea, he called the Titanic to inquire specifically just what was wrong.

Mr. Phillips said he was a fool, Bride testified, referring to the chief operator on the Titanic who lost his life and told him to keep out. Bride declared Phillips meant that the Frankfurt should not keep its wireless going. It should leave the trackless realm of the air free for the Titanic's call. No effort was made to re-establish communication with the Frankfurt, although Phillips felt certain that the vessel was much larger than the Carpathia, with which the communication had been established. This, Bride said, Phillips judged by reason of the greater power of the hertzian waves.

Bride said that probably the Frankfurt's operator could not be reached on that Philip, his superior, had used his own judgement.

1635 LOST

New York, April 20.—The number of survivors is fixed at 705 by the report of Captain Roston of the Carpathia. The White Star line officials believe that the death list total approximately 1635.

MEETING OF C. O. F.

Mr. McLeod Mill, organizer of the C. O. F., has been working in the town for a few days in the interest of Court Loyalist, No. 821. He was successful in writing up seven applications. A special meeting was called by order of chief Ranger on the evening of 22nd, Bro. Mills was present at the meeting and put the Degree Team on after which he was appointed to take the chair and he conducted the initiation which was a success and every one seemed to enjoy it very much. After the initiation Bro. Mills addressed the meeting giving the facts and figures of the order since it was instituted in the City of London, Ont., 1874 which was very interesting to all present. There were then rousing speeches made by some of the members, whose names are as follows: Bros. W. E. Macdonald, A. Brooks, J. A. Mullin, J. M. Lewis, J. Stab, Chas. Crampmond, Thos. Cassidy, Arthur Petrie, C. Niven, Allan Macdonald, John Troy, H. R. Moody and Chief Ranger A. H. MacKay. The first visit that Bro. Mills made us we had only a membership of 17, and now we have a membership of over 81 and the Court is in a bustling condition. We are sorry that Bro. Mills could not make us a longer visit as he always does good work for our Court. He is going to visit Chatham Court for a few days. We wish him every success and trust that he will be able to visit us some time in the near future and add a number more to our Court. Bro. Mills is always welcome among us.

NEWCASTLE INVENTOR ENCOURAGED IN N. S.

One of W. n. H. Russell's inventions is to Be Tested In New Glasgow Cars and Steel Mill.

Wm. H. Russell, the Newcastle inventor, who has for years been working on mechanical improvements of various kinds which he has patented in many countries, returned on Saturday night from New Glasgow, N. S., where he has succeeded in interesting capital in one of his contrivances—a combination of thrust and roller bearing—twelve of which will be made in New Glasgow by the Canada Tool and Specialty Co. for test on cars and in the steel mill there.

Concerning Mr. Russell's visit to New Glasgow the "Evening News" of that town says in its issue of the 16th inst.:

"According to Mr. Francis W. Stevens, managing Director of the Universal Chimney Cleaner Co. Ltd. of St. John, New Glasgow has the opportunity of establishing a large industry, giving, it is claimed, work to thousands of mechanics.

"The establishment of just such an industry, of course, depends upon the securing of the capital to make it go, and it is with the intention to interest New Glasgow capitalists in this industry that Mr. Stevens accompanied by Mr. T. V. Williams and William H. Russell are in New Glasgow today. Mr. Stevens has already been able to interest a few of our capitalists who will meet this evening to talk matters over.

"The Universal Chimney Cleaner Co. Ltd. of St. John, besides being the manufacturer of a patented chimney cleaner, hold a number of patents which are being sought by the industries of a number of Canadian towns. Being to the success with which the chimney cleaner has met, the company of which Mr. Stevens is the managing director, find that they cannot manufacture the articles of which they hold the patents and are prepared to arrange with the industries in New Glasgow, to take the patents over.

"A short time ago Mr. Stevens was in New Glasgow and he brought with him a patent on a door lock. This lock was shown to Dr. Wright, and the doctor's first thought was 'why not let us manufacture this lock—we can do it.' The thought was formed in words and Mr. Stevens said he had no objection, and 'now the matter is left entirely in the hands of New Glasgow capitalists.

"While the patent lock appeals to the New Glasgow capitalists the company represented by Mr. Stevens has another valuable patent in a thrust and roller bearing, which is the only combination of thrust and roller bearing in the world. This thrust bearing has been patented in sixteen countries. The patents on this invention have just been issued to the inventor, William H. Russell of Newcastle, New Brunswick, who is accompanying Mr. Stevens to New Glasgow.

"This thrust bearing it is claimed, is the only one which has stood the test of over ten tons. This bearing has stood the test in steel rolling mills of England, of over one hundred tons. It will be given a test in New Glasgow by the electric Company and the Steel Works.

"The object of the meeting tonight is to interest the local capitalists to St. John. If sufficient capital is subscribed in the St. John company these patents, it is probable, will be turned over to a company in New Glasgow, and it is thought would be amalgamated with the Canada Tool and Specialty Company Limited. This would mean, in order to meet the output which necessity would demand on these articles, the Canada Tool and Specialty Company would have to greatly enlarge its present plant, and a large industry would be assured for New Glasgow. It is quite possible again that the lock may be taken over by the Canada Tool Company and a new company will be formed to manufacture the thrust bearings.

"The invention of the thrust bearing, about which the C. P. R. are now asking for particulars, relates to improvements in thrust bearing, and the main object is to provide a simple and inexpensive bearing which will reduce all friction to a minimum, and in which the end thrust will be taken up more effectively than heretofore.

To accomplish this result the inventor has provided a series of cylindrical rollers held at their ends between a pair of rings. A second set of rings and larger than the first and concentric therewith are provided and a series of frustoconical rollers are secured between each pair of rings, preferably by means of double cone pivots. A sleeve surrounds the cylindrical roller and carries a pair of adjustable rollers, engaging said frustoconical rollers, while a second pair of thrust rollers is carried by the shaft or axle on which the bearing is mounted.

"In the invention it had been the endeavor to eliminate some of the difficulties of construction that have heretofore been experienced in bearing of this type, and in lieu of housing the pivot balls at the outer ends of the frusto-conical thrust rollers, in pockets directly formed in the pocket ring, which necessitates the said ring being made in segments to enable the pockets to be machined, there has been formed the pockets in separate bearing blocks, which may be inserted into radially arranged openings in the pocket ring from the outer periphery thereof.

"There are many other features to the bearing which has so impressed those in need of roller bearings that the patent seemed to be a splendid one, and one which most surely has a successful future in store for it."

Mr. Russell, having failed to interest sufficient Newcastle capital in his enterprise, is more sanguine of success with Nova Scotian money men.

REV. MR McARTHUR

GOES TO CHARLOTTETOWN

Rev. S. J. McArthur, who has been ill several weeks with an abscess in the forehead, went to Charlottetown Hospital Monday to undergo another operation. The pulpit of St. James will be occupied in his absence by Rev. Mr. Ross next Sunday, and by Rev. Willard MacDonald. It is sincerely hoped that Rev. Mr. McArthur will come home completely cured.

AFTERMATH OF THE NEWCASTLE ELECTION

Messrs. Belyea and Morrissy and Some of the Successful Aldermanic Candidates Address the Citizens From the Band Stand, on Election Night.

On Tuesday evening, 16th inst., the victorious candidates in the civic election were serenaded from the band stand by the Newcastle Concert Band.

Mayor-elect Belyea thanked the ratepayers for the handsome vote given him, and said he would do his utmost in advancing the interests of the town; and hoped that the default tax lists would not be nearly as large next year. He asked all citizens to work in harmony with the new board, and try to accomplish something in the way of establishing new industries in the town.

Mr. Morrissy, the defeated Mayor-elect candidate, said that one of the reasons why he had gone into the contest was because the default taxes were not collected and he considered it a shame to prosecute the working men for non-payment of taxes, and allow those who live in fine residences to be defaulters each year. He believed in using all alike. The default list would be small if a proper system of collection was in vogue. He asked all to co-operate with the mayor-elect and the new council and work together for the betterment of Newcastle.

Ald. Doyle thanked the electors for returning him a third time, with such a handsome majority.

Ald. Falconer urged co-operation with the Board of Trade to bring new industries into the town. He had not been elected to enforce the Scott Act alone but to see that both that Act and all other laws were enforced.

Ald. Stuart thanked the electors for returning him a second time, with an increased vote over that of last year. The fact that his vote had increased, while that of his five colleagues of last Council who figured in this year's contest, and all of whom had opposed his efforts to secure the abolition of property qualifications for Mayor and Aldermen, and such a change in the system of taxation as would reduce the burden on improvements, etc., and transfer to land values three had been defeated, one elected by a reduced vote and one given a larger vote than last year, seemed to plainly indicate that the advocacy of such measures had been satisfactory to the electorate. He would continue to stand by the platform upon which he had been twice elected—to do all in his power to secure equality of opportunity for all citizens, regardless of sex, nationality, creed and social condition. People should not be punished by extra taxes every time they built a new fence or painted their front gate, while vacant land escaped so large a share of its just taxation. As to qualifications for holding office, if any were needed let it be an educational requirement only. Among others, he relied upon the Mayor-elect and Ald. Doyle, who had in 1908 unsuccessfully endeavored to obtain reduction in taxes on improvements, to assist him in his campaign for better conditions. He would do all he could to further the wellbeing of the town and would oppose no movement any other Alderman might make in the same direction.

Ald. Miller was the last speaker. He regretted the defeat of Ex-Alderman Morrissy, as he felt sure that the latter, being in close touch with the provincial government, would have been able, in the matter of a new bridge across the Miramichi at this point and in other matters, to do more for the town than Mr. Belyea.

Ald. Miller also thanked the electors on behalf of Ald. McGrath, who was unable to be present because of a severe call out of town.

TRUSERS FROM OLD COATS

The Chinese never waste anything. A chopman puts up parcels with his paper and string used by Europeans. Servants collect and sell match-boxes and things which seem to us to be useless. In the country you will see a boy up in a tree beating down a single leaf with a stick for fuel. Women, when too old for any other work, collect dry grass for the same purpose. A man collects his fowls and then beats old, damp mats or matting; cock-roaches and other vermin jump on it and the fowls have a meal that costs nothing. You give a coolie an old coat that you are ashamed to wear, and he will probably get a tailor to transform it for thirty or fifty cents into two pairs of excellent trousers for himself.

One has only to watch their story-tellers in the streets to see that the Chinese are natural orators. They are also very clever conjurers. Rich Chinese are very charitable. They distribute rice and take care of exceptional distress; they subscribe to hospitals and to asylums for the blind, for the old, for lepers, and for orphans they even support associations for supplying free coffins to the poor.

THAT WONDERFUL DOG

One evening at a tavern the topic was about dogs. "Oh!" said Juby, "I had a dog and was taking a near cut across some fields when I missed the animal, and on going back I found him staring at a notice-board bearing the words, 'All dogs found here will be shot.' And come he would not."

"Yes, yes, that's good, but what about Johnson's retriever? One night his house caught fire, all was confusion; old Johnson and his wife flew for the children and bundled them out sharp.

"Alas! one was left behind, but up jumped the dog, rushed in, and soon reappeared with the child, depositing it on the lawn. All were out now, but in rushed the dog again. What he was after no one knew. Presently the noble animal reappeared, scorched and burnt, with what do you think?"

"Give it up," came from the listeners.

"Why, with the fire-pole wrapped up in a damp towel, gentlemen."

A DIFFICULT LANGUAGE

Chinese Language Has 10,880 Characters Separate Meaning, and Accent.

The difficulties of making up a font of Chinese type, says the American Consul at Shanghai, although considerable, are not relatively so great as one might imagine, for while Kang Hsi's dictionary the standard and most comprehensive work of its kind in the language, contains some 40,890 characters it has been found that for all practicable purposes a font need contain about 7,000. Of course, with a font of this size the Chinese printer, in the course of setting up a book will frequently find that he lacks a dozen or so unusual characters, a difficulty which he readily meets by having these missing symbols hand cut on blank type by skilled engravers, who, thanks to the old wood-block system are to be found in practically every town in China. Although practically all Chinese newspapers and books on modern topics are now printed from movable metal type, books pertaining to old China, such as the Confucian classics and their commentaries, are still produced by the time-honored method of printing from wooden blocks. Among the reasons why the Chinese prefers his books of this nature printed in the old way are his naturally strong conservatism, the peculiar charm and artistic softness of the pages printed from blocks, which the modern books from metal presses do not have, and the fact that the new style volumes lack, that peculiar odour imparted in the older method by the lampblack table ink, with which they are printed, an odour which, although extremely disagreeable to occidental nostrils, is inseparably associated in the Chinese mind with good literature.

OBITUARY

MRS. THOMAS NORTON

The death of Mrs. Thomas Norton occurred at her home in Seville, N. B., on Tuesday morning, April 9th, after an illness of eight days. Death was due to pneumonia. Deceased was 68 years of age. She leaves a husband and four daughters—Mrs. Richard Allison and Mrs. Burton Johnston of Trout Brook, Mrs. Ernest Russell of Newcastle, and Miss Rhoda at home; and two sons—George in Michigan and Stephen at home, to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother. She also leaves one brother, Mr. George Peabody, and thirteen grandchildren. The funeral took place on Thursday, 11th instant at 2 p. m., the funeral service being conducted by Rev. H. Harrison, and the remains were followed to their last resting place by a large number of people. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Herbert Fair, Wm. Hosford, Jeremiah O'Shea, George E. Wm. Waye, and Albert McCoombs. The family has the sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

Mrs. J. N. WATHEN

On the evening of April 6, Alice McKechnie, beloved wife of J. Neales, Wathen, Harcourt, N. B., passed away suddenly at the age of 57 years. The apparent cause of death was heart failure following an attack of indigestion. Mrs. Wathen was the eldest daughter of Alexander McKechnie of Grayby, P. Q., and is survived by one brother J. H. McKechnie of the Consolidated Rubber Co., of Montreal and one sister, Mrs. W. R. Horner, of Grayby.

The family of Mrs. Wathen consisted of five, all of whom survive her. A sorrowing husband and they are now called upon to mourn the loss of a kind and loving wife and mother. There are in the family four sisters viz.—Aetha, of the Provincial Normal School staff; Ethel, of Montreal, and Margaret and Jennie at home, and one brother James who is now in attendance at McGill medical college, Montreal. The deceased was widely and favorably known. To her home all comers received a hearty welcome and none needing sympathy or help were ever turned away unkindly. Her kind words, her bright smiles and her gentle manner will live long in the memory of those who had the pleasure of knowing her. Her life has been an inspiration and a benediction to many, and of her now it may be truly said "she being dead yet speaketh."

The funeral which was a large one was held on the 9th inst. The services were conducted by Rev. R. H. Stewart, assisted by Rev. H. H. Creed. The pall bearers were—H. Wathen, W. G. Cameron, Thos. Ingram, S. M. Dunn, W. F. Buckley, Wm. Hetherington.

Mr. Wathen and daughter Aetha and son James McK., left on the Maritime express that evening with the remains. Interment was at Grayby, P. Q.

To the sorrowing husband and family we extend our sincerest sympathy.

A NEWSPAPER ELINDER

A year or two ago, I g Ben (the well-known Westminster parliament clock) was fitted with new hands. A proprietor in the London office of a Manchester paper saw his chance and wrote: "A well-known character, who has lived in Westminster all his life, and is familiarly known to many Londoners as 'Ben,' underwent a serious operation this morning. As Westminster Hospital was too full to allow of him having a bed, the operation was carried out by two doctors in the open air, and in the presence of a large crowd. Both of Ben's hands were taken off—successfully and rapidly. A new pair will be provided 'or him.' The sub-editor in Manchester read through the paragraph, and added the headlines: 'Operation in the Open Air. Big London Crowd Watches Man's Hands Taken Off.' And so it duly appeared in next morning's paper."

Entertaining Up To Date

A new form of entertaining, started by Mrs. Roginald C. Vanderbilt, is being taken up by Newport hostesses. It is a dinner and dance, with the dancing between the courses. As soon as one course is finished the orchestra strikes up, and the guests give their places and begin to dance. The dance finished, another course is served. Eating and dancing go on in this way until the dinner is finished. By the time coffee is served the dinner-dance has lasted two hours.

Duel Up To Date

A contest in the air between rival aviators for a girl's hand was the feature of a one-day aviation meet arranged for at Lima, Ohio. Two of the aviators, Jack Bachelor and Bert Chambers, had been laying siege to the heart of Miss Dorothy Dale of Lima, Ohio. Miss Dale refused to choose between them, and in a recent meet in that city made a trip into the clouds with both. She promised to make her decision, and intimated that she would accept the one who made the highest altitude record during the day.

Which is the Most Susceptible of Metals, Easily Catches Cold, and Then Crumbles.

A curious illustration of the susceptibility of metal to heat and so provided by the effect which winter has upon tin. As a matter of fact, unless tin is kept above 18 deg. Centigrade it falls a victim to a strange illness which has been described as "influenza." In other words, the metal catches a very severe cold, the symptoms of which are decay, loss of lustre, and crumbling of the surface to grey powder. This change is not a chemical one, for the grey powder is still tin and the extraordinary fact is that it can be brought back by careful warming to its originally healthy condition.

The purer the tin the more susceptible it is to cold, and consequently decay, apparently, and, in fact, it may be made proof against the disease by alloying it with other metals. The disease is a cause of considerable annoyance and disrepairment to the collectors of coins who possess valuable tin specimens in their cabinets.

Even tin buttons have been known to crumble in this way and organ-pipes made of tin have been found to decay after a severe winter.

The rod is even infectious, for, during the open and to ride through a healthy tin, in contact with healthy, lustrous tin, soon spoils it, and reduces it to its own unhealthy state.

MOTOR-CYCLISTS AMAZING FEAT.

A striking illustration of the capacity and durability of the motor-cycle is furnished by the record recently set up by Mr. Harry Long, the well-known Yorkshire cycling champion, who has just completed a journey of 40,000 miles on a motor-cycle in ten months. To accomplish his ride he went round the whole of the coast-line of Great Britain, in addition to other mileage; and, carrying no headlight, he had necessarily to ride only between dawn and dusk.

What makes the trip all the more noteworthy is the fact that prior to setting out on his journey, which he anticipated would occupy twelve months, Mr. Long had only a week's tuition in looking after his mount. He had only ten punctures during his ride, but had the unpardonable experience of having to sleep twice in the open and to ride through a ten-days' downpour of rain while in Scotland.

Once, in the North of Scotland, Mr. Long almost had his attempt brought to a sudden end. Riding along a road which he had a difficulty of several hundred feet, he experienced a dreadful skid, and was thrown right off the saddle. Fortunately he fell on a ledge and was enabled to scramble back, remount his machine, which had simply fallen on the road and was uninjured, and continue his journey.

POLITICAL POLITENESS

An incident in the life of Lord Beaconsfield affords an apt illustration of the charm which the spirit of chivalry infuses into everyday life, says the author of "How to be Happy Though Civil."

Gladstone was attacking in the House of Commons the Administration of Disraeli, as he was then. He had begun a sentence, "The right honourable gentleman and his satellites," when some interruption threw him out; he came to a stop, and seemed on the point of breaking down. Disraeli leaned across the table and repeated the word "satellites," whereupon his adversary at once recollected himself and resumed his invective.

And Gladstone could be equally urbane. On the same evening after Lord Randolph Churchill had made a fiery attack on him, Lord Randolph and his wife were at the same dinner-party with Gladstone. "The first person," says Lady Randolph Churchill, "I met when I went in was Mr. Gladstone, who at once came up and said: 'I hope Lord Randolph is not too tired after his magnificent efforts.'"

TURN ABOUT

For her he had vowed he would go through the fiery furnace; for her he would willingly brave the fury of demons; for her he would, in short, have done anything. For these reasons, and also because his socks wanted darned badly, he had taken the plunge and married her. He was worth at least $50 a week to his employer, but he only got $5.20 and the first week of their wedded life, full of resolutions, of noble self-sacrifice, he had given her $5, and kept the twenty cents to pay for taxicabs and cigars and theatre suppers.

The next week there was a slump in self-sacrifice. He gave her the twenty cents and kept the golden symbol of shining hope for himself.

"Theophanes," she remarked, icily, "will you kindly inform me how you think I'm going to manage for a week or two?"

"Blessed if I know!" he replied. "I had a pretty rough time myself last week. It's your turn this."

The Risk Limited

There's an old yarn about a fat and a lean duelist. The fat one complained that he offered a much larger mark to his antagonist's bullet, whereupon the lean man proposed challenging him on the fat one's body and no shot outside the chalk line would be counted. We were reminded of this story by the following notice which an accident insurance company has placed in the elevators of several office buildings: "This elevator is limited to fourteen persons. All over that number riding on this car do so at their own risk."

A Wonderful Watch

A Geneva watch-making firm has just completed a wonderful watch, the only one of its kind in the world. A pearl, which weighs forty-five grains and has a diameter of about half an inch, contains all the works. It took an employe of the firm fifteen months to hollow out the pearl and to fit in the wheels. The watch, which is guaranteed to keep good time and may be worn as a ring on the finger, is for sale for $4,000.

Two Men

Ons cold day I chanced to meet Old John Jones upon the street. "John," says I, "How do you do," "O," says he "I'm mighty blue, Nothin' much in life for me, I'm as bad as I can be, Gettin' weaker every day, Not much time for me to stay In this shadowed vale of tears With its pain and doubt and fears. No, Sir, Bill, to tell you true Sure, I'm feeling mighty blue, Little further down the street Suddenly I chanced to meet Hiram Hicks all lame and bent From a nasty accident. "Hi," says I, "how do you do?" "Fine as a fiddle—same to you." And he laughed until a crick Stove him up all rheumatic. But he straightened out and said: "Might be worse—for I ain't dead! Down the street went old John Jones Filling up the air with groans, Hand' on out on a frowd gloom With his eyes fixed on a tomb. Hiram Hicks stumped on his way Carolling a round-lay. That made every fella wing; "This old world's the happy thing."

TERRIBLE HEADACHES

Trenton Merchant Driven To Despair By The Pain.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" CURED HIM

Trenton, Ont. Jan. 29th, 1909. "I was a dreadful sufferer for many years from Stomach and Liver Trouble—but my greatest suffering was from violent headaches. They were so distressing that I almost had to give up my business. I went to Toronto, consulted specialists and wore glasses, but nothing did me any good and the headaches became intolerable. I was then induced to try "Fruit-a-tives" and from the beginning, I was better, and in a short time I was quite well again—no more headaches—and I threw my glasses away. "Fruit-a-tives" not only cured my headaches, but completely cured me of all indigestion, and restored me to perfect health again." W. J. McCOMB. "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest cure for headaches in the world and is the only medicine made of fruit juices. "Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Headaches, Indigestion and all Stomach and Bowel Troubles. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

IMPORTANT BILLS IN LOCAL LEGISLATURE

To Amend Liquor License Act and to Aid in the Settlement of Farm Lands in the Province.—Budget Debate Ended.—No Prohibition Bill.

Fredericton, April 15.—The House of Assembly met at 3 o'clock.

Hon. Mr. Maxwell, in lieu of Provincial Prohibition asked for by the Temperance people, introduced a bill to further amend the Liquor License Act. Under the first and third sections, provision was made for the inspection of liquor under the Dominion Pure Food Law, and also that any inspector or commissioner may procure a sample of liquors for inspection and have them analyzed by a competent analyst. It also provided that deal notes will be included under the head of interdicts. The act is further amended to provide that no person selling liquors upon trust or credit shall have any remedy at law.

Section 9 fixes the penalty of drunkenness in St. John at $2. Provision is also made that persons may be detained until they become sober in lieu of the option of a fine. The term of detention cannot exceed 24 days.

The bill also provides for the enforcement of the act in parishes where prohibition has been introduced on order of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

A section will be added providing a heavy penalty for automobiles carrying liquor into any place where its sale is prohibited.

Hon. Mr. McLeod introduced a bill relating to the election of mayor and aldermen in Fredericton, to provide for a secret ballot.

Hon. Mr. Flemming introduced a bill to encourage settlement of farm lands. There has been great advertising in the past of the possibilities of the western country and he did not think New Brunswick regretted what she had given to the west. The bill provides for the appointment of three commissioners to constitute a farm settlement board, and the board is authorized to purchase and hold within the province real estate suitable for farming purposes. To improve the same and to erect houses and buildings thereon whenever necessary, to buy and sell personal property and to employ agents and workmen when necessary in carrying on its work.

The plan, he explained, was to be available to our own people just the same as to those who come in from outside, the object being to be able to place people on properties of earning capacity on which they could commence at the very first. The present plan of settlement of crown lands was all right, but it did not go far enough and there would be a smaller percentage of failures if people could be put down on improved land in the province. Provision was also made in the bill for a board to sell to bona fide settlers properties at prices not exceeding the cost with the cost of improvements, the idea of profit being entirely eliminated. Payment of twenty-five per cent. of purchase money would be required as initial payment when possession was given to the purchaser and ten years would be given to pay the balance of the purchase money on installment with a low rate of 5 per cent. interest. It was also provided that if a settler was unfortunate the board could in special cases grant an extension of two more years for payment.

There was also provision that suitable sections of the Crown Lands could be granted to the board by the Surveyor General upon order of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council. It was not expected that action under this provision would be taken at the start but there were crown lands in the province suitable for settlement purposes in which it was felt even a small extension would be of benefit.

SMOKE SHAMROCK PLUG Finest Quality. (Image of a Shamrock Plug cigarette pack)

Morehouse, Glasier, Prescott, MacLellan, Perley, Cyr, Sheridan.—

The motion to go into supply carried by the same vote reversed, and the House went into committee of supply with Mr. Pinder in the chair.

After the first item of supply was passed the House adjourned at 3:50 a. m.

Fredericton, April 16.—The House met at three o'clock.

Hon. Dr. Landry introduced a bill to incorporate the North Shore Railway and Navigation Co., Ltd. He explained that the purpose of the bill was to enable the company to build a line of railway from a point on the Intercolonial Railway at or near Adamsville to a point on the Grand Trunk Pacific, at or near Snow Sho Lake, and also to build east from Adamsville to Richibucto head and to establish a ferry from West Point to Prince Edward Island, and to make provision for taking over the Beersville Railway, if it was desirable.

Mr. Baxter moved the following resolution: Whereas it would be in the interests of inter-provincial commerce to have uniformity of laws relating to property and civil rights in the Provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island;

Therefore resolved, That this House would heartily approve of the government endeavoring to obtain a conference with the representatives of the governments of Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island for the purpose of considering this resolution and taking steps towards its practical accomplishment.

Hon. Mr. Flemming said that if the House approved of the resolution, which he thought it should certainly do, it would be the duty of the government to take reasonable steps to carry out its purpose.

Mr. Baxter's motion was adopted.

The House went into committee on supply.

- Some of the items are: Dairy school $2900, Sheep raising 1000, Assistance to scholars attending agricultural school 500, Crop competition and seed fairs 1000 for each Agricultural Society holding such, Roller Mills 1000, Exhibitions 10,000.

Hon. J. P. Burchill wanted to know what would be done towards assisting the show which some of the agricultural societies of Northumberland county proposed to hold this fall at Capatun.

Hon. Dr. Landry said that last year Chatham had received a grant of $7,000 towards their tiennial exhibition, and it did not seem just right for the government to embark on the proposition of giving another grant for another show this year in Chatham under somewhat different conditions.

An amendment to the St. John River Hydro-electric Bill was proposed to providing that the company should pay the province $400 annually for the first twenty years, and further the sum of 25 cents per constant horsepower in the use of water power after the expiration of twenty years. The amount to be paid shall be fixed by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

The committee also decided to reduce the amount of the bond issue from $5,000,000 to $3,000,000.

The bill was agreed to with a amendment.

The House adjourned at 12:30 a. m. Fredericton, April 17.—The session of the Atlantic Vailley Railway was considered. The section authorizing the towns along the route of the railway to assist in its construction by granting bonuses was not entirely satisfactory to the committee and it was decided to allow it to stand over until tomorrow.

House met at 3 o'clock. Hon. Mr. LaBilios said he had letters from responsible men in the Kings County, telling of great dissatisfaction with the county, who it was said was to be a candidate on the government ticket, had told him he had refused to purchase furs valued at several thousand dollars for $35 because he knew it would be illegal for him to sell furs in his possession.

Fredericton, April 18.—House met at 3 o'clock.

On item of $17,000 for wharves, Mr. LaBilios inquired why the wharves had been increased by $5,000.

Hon. Mr. Morrissy said that there had been new wharves built in Kings, Northumberland and Queens counties.

Hon. Mr. Morrissy said he had been informed that the Dominion government had built wharves in Nova Scotia and that the government would purchase them the cost of building wharves in this province.

The House went into committee with Mr. Baxter in the chair and considered the bill to encourage settlement of farm lands.

The House remained in committee until 2 o'clock and agreed to several amendments including the bill to amend the Liquor License Act with amendments striking out the section providing a $2 fine for drunkenness in St. John City.

SPRING REMINDERS OF RHEUMATISM

Raw, Damp Weather Starts the Pain, but the Trouble Lies in the Blood.

Spring weather is bad for rheumatic sufferers. The changes from mild to cold, the raw, damp winds start the aches and twinges, or in the more extreme cases, the tortures of the trouble going. But it must be borne in mind that it is not the weather that causes rheumatism. The trouble is rooted in the blood—the changeable weather merely starts the pains. The only way to reach the trouble and to cure it is through the blood. The poisonous rheumatic acids must be driven out. Liniments and rubbing may give temporary relief, but cannot possibly cure the trouble. The sufferer is only wasting time and money with this kind of treatment and all the time the trouble is becoming more deeply rooted—harder to cure. There is just one speedy cure for rheumatism—Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They act directly on the impure, acid-tainted blood. They purify and strengthen it and thus root out the cause of the rheumatism. Here is strong proof of the above statements. Mrs. Robt. Luffman, Midland, Ont., says: "About three years ago my grandson, Robert Luffman, was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism. He became so bad he could only walk when someone helped him about. One arm he had to carry in a sling, and we felt sure he would be a cripple for life. The trouble also affected his heart. The doctor said his blood was turning to water and we had little hope for his recovery. The medicine the doctor gave him did not do more than soothe the pain a little, then he would be as bad as ever. On a former occasion Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had cured my daughter of rheumatism, and we finally decided to try them in Robert's case. After the use of three or four boxes there was a slight improvement and he continued taking the Pills until he had used 12 boxes when the trouble had completely disappeared, and he has not been afflicted with it since."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A GOOD REMEDY FOR LITTLE ONES
Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine a mother can give her little ones. They are absolutely safe, being guaranteed by a government analyst to contain no opiates or other harmful drugs. They cure constipation and indigestion, expel worms, make teething easy, in fact cure all the minor ills of little ones. Concerning them Mrs. Murray Marshall, Zephyr, Ont., says: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my children and always with the best of results. I can recommend them a good remedy for little ones to every mother." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HEAVY SNOWSTORM
APRIL 19TH.
A heavy snow storm set in Thursday night and lasted till nearly noon on Friday. More than eight inches of snow fell, and the weather was cold enough to prevent it melting before Sunday. This snowfall so late is very unusual for the Miramichi.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE AT LUCFOUCHE

On Thursday evening, April 18th, in the Buctouche Methodist church, a temperance lecture was given by Rev. R. H. Stavert, Grand Worthy Patriarch of the Sons of Temperance. Rev. Mr. Young presided, and opened the meeting by Scriptures reading and prayer. Mr. Stavert illustrated his lecture by means of a stereopticon. Among other views he showed many to illustrate the obnoxious and demoralizing effects of that terrible curse, cigarette smoking by the boys. Then followed an interesting talk by Mr. Stavert in which he portrayed the liquor traffic in its true colors. At the close, over twenty persons expressed their willingness to help support a division. However, the lack of a suitable meeting place prevents immediate organization. Mrs. R. A. Irving, Mr. Gordon Douglass and Mr. A. H. G. Mitchell were appointed as a committee to see about organizing as soon as possible.

Camp Sussex to Start June 18

Word has been received from Ottawa that the camp at Sussex will start on June 18th this year instead of at the last of the month as has previously been in the custom.
The new date is expected to be more suitable in some respects, but for some of the officers and soldiers it will hardly work out as well as the old date.
