PURITY FLOUR

Don't simply buy flour from the dollar and cent side of it. Buy high-quality flour. That means PURITY FLOUR. The first little extra cost is more than made up by the extra number of loaves of bread it makes—by the superiority of the bread and pastry in sweetness of flavor and nourishing qualities. Buying Purity Flour is a safe investment. You get large returns, not only on account of Purity's ability to produce more, but because Purity contains the greater nutriment and the vim of a strong hard wheat flour. Food made from Purity Flour gives the consumer health, snap and force, which cannot be gained from the use of the weaker soft wheat flour.

"MORE BREAD AND BETTER BREAD"

You can buy as little as a 7 pound cotton bag or in 14, 24, 49, and 98

Purity may cost a little more than some flours but you'll find its more than worth the difference. To be a

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

"He tried to do too much."
I overheard those words on a trolley car today and it suddenly came over me what a very common epithet they would be if we used them whenever we had reason to.

An epitaph not only for people, but also for business failures and very many other things.
For instance—surely somewhere in your memory is a Christmas—like as not the December 25th just passed—over whose unhappy memory might well be written "I tried to do too much."

You tried to give more presents than you really and honestly had time and strength and finances for.

You were flurried and fussed and hurried about getting them done up and off in time.

You went in town the day before Christmas to get some ornaments for the tree which had been over-looked until then. Oh yes, you might easily have gotten something that would have done at the little corner store, but it wouldn't have been just what you had set your heart on, so you went in town and wore yourself out, body and mind and soul by contending with that wearying, confusing crowd of last minute shoppers.

And Christmas Eve you sat up until nearly midnight to finish that sofa pillow that had so much more work on it than you realized.

And Christmas morning you had to get up early because you were going to have all the relatives and have a very elaborate dinner.

And as an absolutely inevitable consequence of all this, on the day when

Peace and Good Will should have reigned in your heart, you were cross and tired and hardly able to keep from bursting into tears. You didn't somehow take much pleasure in the gifts you received and it seemed to you that no one really liked what you gave.

All because you tried to do too much.
And surely there is some vacation holiday in your life that was spoiled in this way. You wanted to have just so many new gowns. You wanted to do just so much shopping. You wanted to have everything just so spic and span. You had a dozen little last things that simply had to be done, and so you went away tired and nervous and incapable of receiving the benefit from your vacation that you should have gotten.

All because—you tried to do too much.

Again and again in business life I meet men and women—especially the latter, whose moods and manners are confused, who rush from one thing to another without giving any one due attention, who follow up no subject thoroughly, who end in failure or with but half the success that might have been theirs because—they try to do too much.

This is an inane expression for this method of dissipating our powers which I like for its forcefulness.
It is "Biting off more than one can chew."

I think this insane inclination to "bite off more than one can chew" is a disease of this generation—especially with the women.

To have the clearness of mind; to estimate one's ability and the strength of mind to live within it—surely these are capacities worth the having.

Are they yours?
Ruth Cameron

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

THE ONE REMEDY for women's peculiar ailments good enough that its makers are not afraid to print on its outside wrapper its every ingredient. No Secrets—No Deception.
THE ONE REMEDY for women which contains no alcohol and no habit-forming drugs. Made from native medicinal forest roots of well established curative value.

Fads and Fashions.

The knitted toque is very popular.

Ermine is very popular this winter.

Yokes are both square and round.

Any freakish decoration on a veil is in bad style.

The novelty striped chevrons are meeting with favor.

Borders of fur occasionally outline the large sweeping hats.

Fondures promise to be as popular as they were last season.

Many new muffs are made of corduroy edged with strips of fur.

It is rather remarkable how universal is the use of chiffon cloth.

The skirts are a trifle wider, so that one may now walk with ease.

Linen are shown in many new weaves and a host of new colorings.

All evening gowns are longer. Round-length models touch the ground.

Full Mall poplin is a finely ribbed thin silk offered for the one-piece frock.

On many of the black velvet models there is either a touch of cerise or of coral.

We see smart tailor-mades of sergo.

broadcloth and velvet for mid-season wear.

The white blouse except in the more expensive form is not very much set this winter.

The tunic skirt, for tailor-mades, is in high favor, and of these there is a infinite variety.

Perhaps one of the newest ideas in suits or wraps is the combination of velvet and ratine.

Large mounts of aigrettes are extremely modish and share honors with the ostrich plumes.

A toque of ermine, with a jewel and a black osprey, makes a most fascinating headpiece.

Every evening dress one sees this year seems to be trimmed somewhere with a bow or two.

Long coats of ratine have huge collars of fur, usually of opossum. Sall or collars are still worn.

Here and there one sees a skirt with a yoke, but the tunic is, next to the plain skirt, the favourite.

One-piece frocks take precedence in new styles, and long coats are made to match when not used for walking.

The zed mesh purse, which is so dear to the heart of women, has been almost supplanted by the black velvet bag.

Stripes, for tailored frocks, are in fashion, but the rough chevrons—high weight for spring—are generally preferred.

A carefully arranged bow of marrow fur is possibly the latest expression of fur trimming. Flat bows of fur are seen also.

The accepted hat of the winter is large, nay, enormous, framing the face completely no matter what angle the head is turned.

The brimless hat that eclipsed the brow has now a rival. It is the brim turned straight up from the face or the side of the head.

Buttons are in decided favor as trimming. Not only are they used on blouses, skirts and wraps, but they are exploited on hats.

The simplest means of finishing off the high waistline is to employ a draped or folded girle with a buckle or butterfly bow in the back.

On some of the loveliest evening gowns a cord outlines the high waist. This is of gold, silver, copper or of silk with tasselled ends.

Classic simplicity will mark the majority of the new evening gowns, the extremely short waist line being one of its chief characteristics.

This winter bead and sequin embroidery has reached the height of popularity. There is scarcely a gown or blouse that escapes its presence.

Jackets are lined with contrasting colors. The linings usually match the collars and cuffs of velvet, and on many new suits these are of bright hues.

Cut ostrich feathers are now being made into bands for trimming hats and dresses. These come in all colors and are adapted for street and house wear.

The raised waist-line is becoming such an important issue that it looks as though the normal waist-line was soon to lose the prestige it gained last spring.

Installation and Election of Officers.

Of St. Peter's Lodge, S. U. F., No. 2, Seilly Cove.

The annual installation and election of officers of St. Peter's Lodge, S. U. F., took place in their hall on the night of January 7th, 1911, when all the accounts were read, which proved the Lodge to be in a very flourishing condition, although its financial statement showed that the Lodge has had considerable expense the past year more than previous years; but its numerical statement proved the Lodge to be increasing considerably, which demonstrates that the S. U. F. is progressing rapidly at Seilly Cove.

Those who were elected to office are as follows: Bro. Alfred Vergo, W.M.; Bro. Fred. M. French, C.O.; Bro. Nicholas Green, S.O.; Bro. Wm. Piercey, Q.M.; Bro. Alfred Parrott, Aaron, L.O.; Bro. Marcus Parrott, Chaplain (re-elected); Bro. Edgar Tackey, Rec. Secretary (re-elected); Bro. Heber Green, Fin. Secretary (re-elected); Bro. Robert Hiseock of Jacob, P.M.; Purser; Bros. Jas. Pinhorn (chief), Gilbert Balsom, Reginald Piercey, Herbert Spicer, Ernest Walker and Frederick George, were elected as Relief Committee.

We wish the officers of St. Peter's Lodge, S. U. F., now installed every success in their undertaking, and may they each prove themselves to be worthy of the office to which they have been installed.

S.U.F. Parade at Seilly Cove.

The annual parade of the S. U. F., Seilly Cove, took place on Thursday, January 5th, a goodly number being present and a perfect day was realized. The Society started from their hall at 10.45 a.m. and proceeded to the Anglican Church, where the Rev. F. Smart (Rector) preached a most touching and eloquent sermon. Every one present listened very attentively and enjoyed the service immensely. The service being over, the Society then started to parade around our busy little village, and one could not help but listen to the beautiful music which their band rendered while parading along; and we congratulate the S. U. F. band and Bandmaster Alison Kelland (son of the late bandmaster, Mr. Augustus Kelland) for the magnificent music which they gave that day.

The parade being over, each member began to feel the want of food, but on entering the hall we found that the ladies there had refreshments laid out in a very satisfactory manner, and everyone enjoyed the evening "snug-up." The hall was kept open and refreshments served all night until 2.30 a.m., and a good little sum was realized, which will go towards the funds of the Lodge. We heartily thank the ladies who assisted in helping to supply the necessities of that day and night for their kindness, wishing them a very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Thanking you for valuable proc. Mr. Editor, "A FISH."

Thanks From John E. Redmond.

Not long since Mr. James Murphy of this city sent forward to John E. Redmond, the famous leader of the Irish Parliamentary Party, a poem on Home Rule for Ireland. By the mail which came in the Durango yesterday Mr. Murphy had a letter from the celebrated Irishman cordially thanking him for the expression of his patriotic sentiments as embodied in his poem, regarding this as an evidence that the Irish race in Newfoundland are in sympathy with the people of the Old Land in the plucky fight they are putting up for the blessing of self government.

A Public Dispensary.

Editor Evening Telegram.
"Dear Sir,—Now that the matter of a clean and healthy city is the topic of the day, I think a suggestion would be in order. If the Government and City Council would meet and have a chat over the idea, they would be doing a public benefit.
I wish to suggest that a public dispensary with a doctor in attendance be opened in each end of the city, the doctor having stated hours each day when any person could call and have his or her sickness attended to. This might be the means of preventing an epidemic.
Take the present spreading of typhus fever. If the public dispensary was in the city, people when they felt unwell could visit the doctor at the dispensary and have their sickness in the early stages attended to. The doctor would certainly send them to the Hospital at once, and to-day you wouldn't have this disease spreading.
In other cities a Dispensary is worked to advantage, and men, women and children go and have their illness attended to at once. It could be worked in St. John's with the same success.
At present many a sick person thinks twice of going to the doctor, as he can ill afford to pay. In case of a contagious disease, prompt action would protect the public. Under the present rules and regulations if a poor person needs the district doctor he has to lose his day to go through the ordinary red tape, and perhaps the patient may be dead before the doctor arrives, and no fault of the doctor.
I firmly believe if the Government and City Council would act on this suggestion some good would come out of it. Thanking you, Mr. Editor,
I remain,
Jan. 19th, '11.

TO the women in every town in Newfoundland, but particularly to the Women of St. John's, our January Whitewear Sale comes one of the most, if not the most, important selling event in the whole business year.

It brings to your door the daintiest of most exquisite lingerie. It brings it as fresh, as white, as refined and as dainty as machinery ever made for Newfoundland womanhood. It brings it, this year, at prices less by a considerable margin than even our own best prices of previous sales, and it brings a bigger selection—bigger by hundreds of garments than we ever had involved in a white sale before.

There is good reason for our more extensive purchases—our Tremendously Increased Business. And there is this reason besides for the still lower prices—we bought from Manufacturers direct—at lowest prices—and, we forget all profits during sale times. Many of the lines represent a saving of from 25 to 40 per cent. You'll do well to make your selections early.

Underskirts, Nighdresses, Camisoles, Corset Covers, Knickers, Blouses, Aprons, Etc.

OUR GREATEST SALE OF EMBROIDERIES!

Imported Direct from St. Gall, Switzerland, at a saving of from 20 to 40 per cent.

This is without doubt one of the biggest plums of the sale. When we tell you there are over 35,000 yards in the assortment, a tremendous stock to buy even at the commencement of a season, much less at this time of the year, you'll have some idea of what this sale means. But when you can get values such as this line represents, we have no hesitation in buying them at any time of the year. They are all perfect goods; no faults of any kind; they are perfect in every thread and pattern.

Insertions, Embroidery, Beadings, Camisole Embroidery, All-Over Embroidery.

It will be well worth your while to buy plentifully of these Embroideries, even if you have to lay them away for a season; "they'll eat no bread," and the saving will be equal to double and treble the usual bank interest.

Public Dispensary.

Evening Telegram.
Sir—Now that the matter of a and healthy city is the topic of day, I think a suggestion would order. If the Government and Council would meet and have a over the idea, they would be do- public benefit.
I wish to suggest that a public nary with a doctor in attend- be opened in each end of the doctor having stated hours day when any person could call ve his or her sickness attend- . This might be the means of enting an epidemic.
ke the present spreading of ty- fever. If the public Dispensary in the city, people when they unwell could visit the doctor at Dispensary and have their sick- in the early stages attended to, doctor would certainly send them to Hospital at once, and to-day wouldn't have this disease iding.
Other cities a Dispensary is ed to advantage, and men, women children go and have their ill- attended to at once. It could be in St. John's with the same ss.
Present many a sick person is twice of going to the doctor, as a ill afford to pay. In case of a sious disease, prompt action protect the public. Under the rules and regulations of a person needs the district doctor to lose his day to go through ordinary red tape, and perhaps patient may be dead before the arrives, and no fault of the mly believe if the Government y Council would act on this sion some good would come out. Thanking you, Mr. Editor,
I remain,
P. F. COLLINS.

Inspector O'Brien, who emphatically denied the report, saw Serjeant Noseworthy who informed him that Mr. Bastow was his authority for the report. He told him that the money was in a box in Mr. Cheeks' bedroom and was in a box with a false bottom.

Ulcers and Sores

Cannot Resist Zam-Buk's Healing Power.
An illustration of the way in which Zam-Buk cures even the most serious and chronic cases of ulcers, eruptions and sores, is provided by Mr. R. H. Barker, of Gloucester, Ont. He says: "I would not have believed that any remedy could cure so quickly, and at the same time so effectively, as Zam-Buk cured me."

"My face began to be covered with a kind of rash, which itched and irritated. This rash then turned to sores, which discharged freely and began to spread. I first tried one thing and then another, but nothing seemed to do me any good, and the eruption got worse and worse, until my face was just covered with running sores. Apart from the pain (which was very bad), my face was such a terrible sight that I was not fit to go out. This was my state when some one advised me to try Zam-Buk. I got a supply, and marvellous as it may sound, within little under a month every sore on my face was healed. It was so amazing that I have told the facts to several persons, and I have no objection to your stating my experience for the benefit of other sufferers."

Zam-Buk is purely herbal in composition, and is the ideal balm for babies and young children, for whose tender skin coarse ointments are so dangerous. Zam-Buk is a sure cure for cold sores, chapped hands, frost bite, blood-poison, varicose sores, piles, scalp sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises and skin diseases generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld., upon receipt of price.

F. Brebn, 10.	T. Winter, 14

Special Evening Telegram.
DUBLIN, Jan. 19.—The Independent says that the Government is about to appoint a committee to investigate Irish finances, with a view to establishing Home Rule. It will also appoint a Committee of the Cabinet to frame a Home Rule Measure.

Lord Courtney has written a letter to the Freeman's Journal saying that the time has come to prepare for Home Rule. Although a Liberal, Lord Courtney has been a Unionist, so far as Irish matters are concerned, and heretofore has opposed Home Rule.
Special to Evening Telegram.
HARBIN, Jan. 19.—The epidemic of bubonic plague threatens to become an international danger, unless foreign control is introduced, because of the ignorance of the Chinese authorities. The Government remains cooped up in the centre of the city, and his residence is guarded by troops. The extent of the plague is being concealed, whilst the rivers are polluted through the bodies of the victims being thrown in them. Mukden is seriously invaded by the disease and the bodies of the victims litter the streets.

How many men there are who have great heads but it takes us years to discover them, and when we do find them all the hair has flown from their craniums.
"Do you know," says Mrs. Tucker, "it is dangerous to find a smart man, after he has lost his feathers. He feels so proud that you are at last going to haul him into prominence, that he sleeps not in the night time, and is consequently a raving maniac during the day time. At night, he ponders on what he will do to make his people glad, and doesn't fall asleep till four in the morning. In the morning, he gets on the 'go' and reveals his plans to his supporters. Some smile and tell him he's a smart man and give him every encouragement. Others listen to his yarn and say nothing, and between them he finds it a hard job to discover the feelings of the majority."
"Well," says Tucker, "there's something in that. For my part, I think I'd prefer to get noticed and wise in life, for you're not half as sensible in your young days as when you get old and wrinkled."
"Well, what do you think of the Wrestling Match?" asks Delaney.
"Why, Tim, I'd like to hear your opinion on it. People are asking me what you think of it, and 'tis only fair and square that you give it to us."
"To me," said I, "wrestling matches should not be indulged in. I know perfectly well that if I am offered popularity I should say that I fairly adore it. But I have been to wrestling matches, and I have wrestled with life all my days. 'Tis one continual wrestle from morning to night. As for wrestling matches, what I've seen of 'em would never educate you. I paid to get in and got squeezed between two bigger men. I acted as a kind of a tender to keep them asunder when they got too excited, but that's about all the fun I ever got out of it, and that jumping up when all the rest of the gang jumped up, and sitting down when I was jerked down by the other two men using me as a prop to ease themselves down by degrees. The crowd at a wrestling match should tell the public if they intend to go crazy before the match comes off, then people who don't intend to get crazy will be able to stay away."

LONDON, Jan. 19.—Mrs. Asquith, wife of the British Premier, was a witness to-day in a slander case, which involved persons prominent in society. Mrs. West stated that her invitation to Court functions had been renewed after her case had been laid before King Edward.

Special to Evening Telegram.
DUBLIN, Jan. 19.—Redmond has been unanimously elected president of the United Irish League. O'Connor, Devlin and Daniel Boyle, Irish M.P.'s, were guests of honor at a banquet given at the Mansion House, as a compliment to the success of their mission in America and Canada in October last. During his speech Redmond said, "the veto power of the Lords would be abolished before the Coronation without the creation of peers. So long as the Liberals abided by their pledges on the veto and Home Rule questions the Irish party would support them without regard to minor issues, and did not object to Home Rule being so drafted as to fit in with the larger plan."

Obituary.

Death visited us on January 8th and claimed for its victim a venerable and respectable resident of Point Lance. In the person of John Careen, aged 72 years. He was a sober, industrious man, and led a model life always attending to the calls of his Church. A few weeks previous to his death he was attended by Rev. Father Fyffe. P. He leaves two daughters, one son, and a large number of relatives to mourn their sad loss.—R. I. P.

Placentia Notes.

Recently a club has been formed by the Star Hall members. It has been organized to distribute Catholic literature through the isolated parts of Placentia Bay. It consists of two men, Messrs. W. J. Walsh and James Bindon, and these men will collect papers and magazines and then forward them to those poor people who cannot subscribe to such papers. Mr. W. J. Walsh first thought of this great work, and it was he who first brought it before the members of the Star of the Sea Society. We must congratulate Mr. Walsh upon such good work, and we can assure him that he has the heartfelt support of Placentia. He also needs outside help to make his work a success. There are hundreds of Catholic papers, indeed I may say thousands, consigned to the flames, and thus are of no value to any one. Had those papers been collected and distributed to poor people who are unable to pay one cent towards subscribing to any paper, what a great thing it would be. Just picture to ourselves what beautiful reading and instructive lessons these people would glean from such papers. But seldom do we people think of such good work. No! We read our papers and say, "These papers are read; they are now no good; we will burn them." But when it is too late we see the difference. Those men will collect papers and they will forward same weekly, and will be glad to receive as many as possible.

A number of Placentia men who were at Bay of Islands engaged at the herring fishery, returned to their homes during the past week, some doing well while others have done very little.
Constable E. Whalen arrived from St. John's by Friday's train. He is now here on a visit to his parents and will return to the city on Wednesday. Constable P. Whalen, also in the city force, is a brother of the former.
On Monday, 16th, Mr. V. P. Parsons, the new R. C. teacher for the boys' school, was introduced to the pupils by Rev. V. F. Reardon. He spoke of the good work done by Mr. Parsons in Marytown and wished that he would continue to do the same in Placentia, and he will gain the high step that our teachers have gained.
Tuesday has been the coldest day for 1911. At 9 a.m. the thermometer registered 3 below zero.

38 Hours in America.
(By W. R. Holt.)
America says that I have broken all records for rapid travelling, combined with the transaction of business, and when America admits that she has been beaten at her own "hustling" game it must be true.
I received my orders to go to America at eleven o'clock on Saturday morning, December 10. I left Euston at 12 o'clock the next day, and I re-entered the Daily Mail office at 3.29 on Friday morning, December 23. Within that period I had visited New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington—a total travelling distance of 7,000 miles. I am not the only man who has been to New York and back within twelve days, but I am certainly the only man who has been from London to Washington and back in a little less than 12 days—12 days 15 hours 39 minutes, to be precise, having "interviewed" the President of the United States in the meanwhile. I broke the record between New York and Washington; I broke the record between Pittsburgh and Paddington—covering the distance of 261 miles in 271 minutes—and I most certainly broke the record between Paddington and the offices of the Daily Mail. In that last trip all records went to smithereens.—Daily Mail.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia
In all its forms can be cured.
It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache. I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.
Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at—

THE FEEDERS of New England
The men who supply New England with food are the Wholesale Grocers.

Last Autumn 76 of them went on an excursion and after returning home sent us a testimonial that is very highly esteemed. Many of these famous firms have been selling our products for 12 to 15 years, but have not heretofore inspected the pure food works.

To The Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., Battie Creek, Michigan.	Greeting: We, the undersigned Wholesale Grocers of New England, desire to express our thanks and appreciation for the courtesy, hospitalities and entertainment offered to us during our recent brief visit to Battie Creek.
We were more than pleased and gratified at the methods, cleanliness and extent of your works, in the production of the food products—Postum Cereal, Post Toasties and Grape-Nuts. We need not speak of their world-wide reputation and health-giving qualities, for that is already established by their popularity.	"There's a Reason." We assure you of our hearty co-operation in your behalf and our best wishes for your continued success.

A few score of Wholesale Grocers from other sections have honored us with a visit and have written kind words which we treasure.
This space would not contain them all, so we thought best to speak only of New England in this announcement.
Generally we follow a testimonial with "Name sent by Postum Co."
In this case it is not necessary.

"There's a Reason."

38 Hours in America.
(By W. R. Holt.)
America says that I have broken all records for rapid travelling, combined with the transaction of business, and when America admits that she has been beaten at her own "hustling" game it must be true.
I received my orders to go to America at eleven o'clock on Saturday morning, December 10. I left Euston at 12 o'clock the next day, and I re-entered the Daily Mail office at 3.29 on Friday morning, December 23. Within that period I had visited New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia, Washington—a total travelling distance of 7,000 miles. I am not the only man who has been to New York and back within twelve days, but I am certainly the only man who has been from London to Washington and back in a little less than 12 days—12 days 15 hours 39 minutes, to be precise, having "interviewed" the President of the United States in the meanwhile. I broke the record between New York and Washington; I broke the record between Pittsburgh and Paddington—covering the distance of 261 miles in 271 minutes—and I most certainly broke the record between Paddington and the offices of the Daily Mail. In that last trip all records went to smithereens.—Daily Mail.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia
In all its forms can be cured.
It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache. I feel too tired to do anything. I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden.
Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Bottle of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at—
DR. F. STAFFORD & SON,
Duckworth Street and Theatre Hill.

Sixty-Six Days Run.

The schr. Nina L., Capt. Burke, arrived to Crosby & Co. yesterday afternoon from Messina via Gibraltar after the tedious run of 66 days. She had it very rough with head winds coming down the Mediterranean, and it took her forty-eight days to reach Gibraltar. She left there Christmas Eve, and despite some blows on the Atlantic she reached the coast after eighteen days, but then it became very stormy and she had to shelter at Bay Bulls. A time offered to come this way yesterday morning and she had a good run down the shore.

Enjoyable Dance.

Annie Carr, five year old, daughter of Thomas Carr, Pittsburg, and several companions, went out to play Sunday afternoon after a storm. They found electric wires blown down and thought it would be fun to tie one of the little girls in the wires and "play horse." Annie picked up one of the wires to tie around her companion, was hurled about fifteen feet and was carried unconscious to her home. The physician says she is crippled for life, but will live.

Card Tournament.

A very successful card tournament was held last night by the Central Amusement Club in the basement of the Star Hall. About 100 players took part. The prizes were won by J. McGrath, L. Drover and P. Chisholm.
