Western wheat has what the bakers call strength. It makes a big loaf of bread-but the bread is spongy and lacks flavor. Ontario wheat, blended with spring wheat, makes the ideal bread and pastry flour. The bakers of Toronto and London—the experts at the agricultural colleges-and thousands of homes in Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces-have proved that "Beaver" Flour is superior to any Western wheat flour, and is equally good for Bread and Pastry. Try it. WOMEN TAKE NOTICE!

A man cannot understand the torture and suffering many womes endured uncomplainingly. If the majority of men suffered as much pain and endured with patience the weakening sicknesses that most women do, they would ask for immediate sympathy and look for a quick cure.

Many women have been saved from a life of misery and suffering by turning to the right remedy—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy which is safe to take because containing no narcotics, alcohol of injurious ingredients. It is an alterative extract of roots, made with pure glycerin, and first given to the public by that famous specialist in the diseases of women—Dr. R. V. Pierce, of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N, Y.

MRS. LIZZIE M. HESSHRIMER, of Lincoln, Neb., 529 "C" St., says: "I send a testimonial with much pleasure so that some suffering woman may know the true worth of your remedies. I was a great sufferer from female troubles but after taking one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which a friend advised me to take, I found myself very much improved. After taking three more bottles, and using two boxes of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets, I found myself on the road to recovery." I was in poor health for five years but now I am cured.

"I hope all women suffering from female weakness will give Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Zam-Buk is "something different" in the way of balms. It contains powerful healing herbalessences, which, as soon as applied to skin diseases, kill off the germs and end the painful smarting. Other essences contained in Zam-Buk so stimulate the cells that new healthy tissue is speedily formed. Mr. Willis Pike, of Bell Island, spent a few days of this week in town among old friends who are always glad to welcome him.

A very enjoyable sociable and dance was held by the K. E. Brigade in the Masonic and British Halls on New Year's night. "One of the most enjoyable I ever attended," was the expression of a person who has attended a large number of such gatherings. The proceeds amounted to $40.00, which goes to the Band Fund of the Brigade.

Miss Cody asks us to say that her music pupils will begin their work again on Tuesday next, after their Christmas holidays.

From letters received this morning from Summerland, British Columbia, we are very pleased indeed to hear that Mrs. R. S. Munn, who is residing with her son, Mr. A. G. Munn, there, is enjoying excellent health, and frequently walks half a mile to visit Mrs. A. G. Munn's sister. Mrs. Munn's many friends here and at St. John's will, we are sure, be delighted to hear of this lady's well being. A little snow had made its appearance there, and Mr. Munn's boys, Masters Blanchard, Russell and Alec, pressed cheese box into service making a first rate toboggan, and were no doubt thus reminded of their Newfoundland home.

Mrs. W. H. Ellis, of Plymouth, also writes us that both the Captain and herself are well and sends the season's compliments to all old friends. the street car. There are several pat-

FEET

BY H. L. RANN.

The feet are the two uneasy attachments the human body which most peo ple would be glad to substitute for some thing else. Nearly everybody is afflicted with more or less feet, which throb in

stepped upon in Tell them through the Telegram, she terms of feet, ranging from he low, rakish chorus girl type to the square, virulent model of the field hand, some of which are more virulent than others. The society foot is a special design, and has very little work to do except when climbing in and out of a

> The male foot is the largest specinien in existence and is subject to prolonged nervous spells, caused by a tight lacing. No man ever buys a shoe wihin hree lass of his natural size, and this causes the feet to utter loud protests in the form of shopting pains. If it were not for the pride of man there wouldn't be a shoe sold in this country smaller than a No. 10 on an E last.

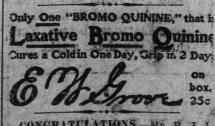

Feet are useful things to have when they are not enraged about semething. The presence of the coy blemish known as the corn, however. will throw them into a violent passion nd cause the owner to shift hurriedly from one position to another, in search of peace. The corn is a small, unobtrusive object which is constantly coming in contact with the leg of a/chair or being tramped upon by the affectionate feet of childhood. The small boy can locate his mother's pet corn at the first shot, on an average of six times a day. The gout is a robust foot disease which grows in Lun'non and other parts of the British empire, and is harder to get rid of than a houseful of eager relatives. The gout is con fined mainly to the upper classes, who have it with great frequency and enthusiasm.

The feet are also subject to the opular ailment known as the foot and mouth disease. This disorder is more prevalent during a political ampaign than at any other time, and can only be cured by an adverse majority at the polls.

Nearly Drowned.

The public wharf opposite the cross Road, was very near the scene of a drowning fatality on Tuesday night last. Mr. Wm. Mercer, formerly of Bay Roberts, but now residing in St. John's, arrived here by train Tuesday night, on a visit to his brother, Simon. He left the station and went out the Cross Road and continued on until he walked over the head of the public wharf. His screams for help attracted the attention of Mr Geo. Jardine, who quickly responded to the call. Mr. Jardine found the men at the head and on the west side of the wharf. Leaning over he gripped him by the coat and held, him while he shouted for help. Mr. Pic-cott, Gus Dawe and John Snow, of Coley's Point, responded, and while some assisted Mr. Jardine in keeping the man above water, others procured a boat, and after a little while they had him on the wharf. He was then taken to Capt. Jno. Parsons' store, and Drs. Cron and Afkinson sent for. Restoratives were administered and shortly after Mr. Mercer was driven to the home of his brother. He is now feeling alright again. Mr. Mer-cer was in the water some time and was becoming exhausted when assistance arrived.—The Guardian.

Police Attacked

Prisoner Rescued — Batons Freely Used.

At 7.30 last evening a drunk passing down New Gower Street, at the foot of Barter's Hill, on being ordered to go home by Officer Day, hit the latter a stunning blow in the face and cut him about the mouth. The officer with Const. Brown grappled with the man who not long since was released from prison, and a crowd gathered. As the officers were in ying to manacle the prisoner some or those present attacked them. Day was seized by the legs and an attempt was made to drag him clear of the prisoner but he held on and both were pulled across New Gower Street. Brown was separated from his brother officer and eventually the prisoner was taken eventually the prisoner was taken from the police and ran up Stephen Street. Officers Nugent and Bussey now arrived and recaptured the pris-oner with Day but again the crowd closed in and the men had to use heir batons on the heads of some of those present to get a chance to seize the prisoner. After a struggle he was handcuffed and taken to the station. The man repeatedly butted and kicked Day on the way to the lock up. The Week of Prayer

The Week of Prayer for 1913 began last evening in Gower St. Church, where the first service was held; and we are pleased to say that it was very largely attended, both by the laity and clergymen, and was very helpful and inspiring in every way.

The Rev. Dr. Rogers, the esteemed Pastor of the Church, conducted the service and read the lessons, and he was surrounded in the pulpit by the city clergymen, among whom were the Rev. Mr. Sutherland, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, who offered the opening prayer; the Rev. Dr. Fenwick, and the Rev. Mr. Thomas, the newly-appointed Pastor of the Congregational Church, who delivered the address of the evening. The subject was the usual one for the first service in the week of prayer, namely, "Thanksgiving and Hamiliation," and it was also Mr. Thomas's first time since his arrival, to unite with our city ministers in these services, and he was accorded a hearty welcome by the leader on be-Lodge a fine oil painting of Bro. The latest report says the chief Plenipotentiary, Rechad Pasha, has offered to have the fortifications of Adrianople demolished on condition that the city is allowed to remain Turkish Territory. The trouble is that with the sea closed against them, the Turks can put up no adequate defence. The condition of the roads and the inefficiency of the railway has caused such a congestion in Turkey in Asia, Syria and Arabia, that these lines of communication are almost useless, and they cannot use the sea for transportation of troops from the chief ports of Asia Minor, and the Le-vant because the Greeks have the Turkish fleet bottled up in the Dardan-

We wonder whether the Government will be as prompt in remitting the fine inflicted on the Fishermen's Union man yesterday at Catalina as they were in releasing Bishop from the Penitentiary for kicking Sir Robert There's no doubt about it, The Evening Telegram has made good, and is making good at present. This is based on no vain boast of what we are going to do in the future. It is a fact, founded on the sworn statement of the Proprietor. The average daily issue of the People's Paper for the year closed on December was 5,104. So much for the past. Now for the present. The average circulation for the first three days of this year was absurd, as Sir Edward Morris would put it, to hold that he did not forget the law in his excitement, and he should be entitled to as much consideration for his state of excitement as Bishop was by the Hon. Donald Morison and his colleagues, and to at least as much forbearance as a poor un-educated fisherman for forgetting the law, as the Governor, the Prime Minister and his colleagues extended to the legally well-educated and ex-perienced Attorney General. What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the Coaker and Lloyd are political "gun men," according to the Hon. P. T. McGrath. Thanks, for the acknowledgement. As we showed yesterday. Sir Edward Morris was squealing at Bonne Bay because the Editor of the Telegram had hurt him. But Sir Edward is not the only politician whom our political gun has hit and hit badly. There is the Hon. Donald Morison. Both have been hit and hurt by the political guns of Coaker and Lloyd. What the fishermen think of both of them now was demonstrated by the condemnatory resolutions passed at Bonavista. McGrath. too, has a gun, but it kicked and hit the gunman, and led to the burning of him in effigy by three thousand fishermen. Morris is making good for an early exit from power. The people are tired of him. They want Sir Robert Bond back to power, and what they want they will insist on having. By the way, our queries on having. By the way, our queries remain unanswered. Why is Morris increasing the membership of the Legislative Council, and why is he putting in three fish buyers. The fishermen would dearly like to know.

Dear Sir,-In a recent issue of the Plaindealer, a letter appeared, signed 'Resident,' deploring the want of a doctor on the Cape Shore, and condemning the want of a bridge over the Placentia Gut. The writer, sure, could only express a self opinion on those two very important subjects, esto assist in the support and upkeen

I sincerely regret to say that the people of St. Bride's, Branch and the Cape Shore have not the advantage structure over the treacherous wa of a physician, resident in that por- ters and sweeping tides of the evertion of the District, owing to some reasons. One is that for a doctor to fic over this neck of water and the to see how he was going to live, and safely over and also the risk of getple that could induce a doctor to reside here. Up to the present no such arrangement has been made. There centia proper, Neil McKendrick and Dr. Lynch. Dr. McKendrick has lived at Placentia for the past thirty years, and always attended calls on the Cape Shore while he enjoyed good health. I can safely say he devoted the best part of his life to the prople of Placentia, Placentia Bay and the Cape Shore. His highest charge was small indeed. Dr. McKendrick is a man of sterling reputation and excellence, kind and charitable. The people love and esteem him as a doctor and a gentleman. Dr. Lynch replaces at present, the above-named does not charge anything extra for calls on the Cape Shore, but paying twelve dollars for here from Placentia Mary's, to St. Bride's, combined with the doctor's charge, makes the sum a lit- er yet failed. We now hope to ge tle smart. Still the inconvenience of the rough, mountainous road is to be trade on this line will pay back in by a doctor, and in many instances the saving of two lives, is to be thought of and compared with the expenditure of only a few mortal dolgays on time and often at the risk ver this road from Placentia to St.

Another uncalled-for remark was gainst the bridge across Placentia tunate consumer may find that the lut. How absurd! What a preposerous idea! A short time ago a pe ition was signed by clergy, doctors, nagistrates, officials and numerous voters to be presented to the Goverfor in Council after the meeting of he Legislature in 1913, for the pressag necessity there is for such fatal Gut. Look at the immense trafmany tons of luggage to be brought to know the sources from which he could draw the money for his support and expenses. I would like to see the safely landed on the following beautiful waltzs will be played: "The Druid's Prayer," "The to know the sources from which he ting thousands of dollars' worth of

There are yet several at cattle waiting to be sold at St. Bride's and Branch, but owing to the lateness of the season and the delay and trouble of crossing the Gut, the trade is stopped. Even admitting an improvement in the ferry system, afer all it'is only changed or improved from the Surrogate's time from a punt to a frail wooden gasolene boat, scarcely sufficient to take passengers with safety.

The getting a bridge across the Gut and having the train and station in the town of Placentia, will be railway, built on the Cape Shore, to bring this prosperous fishing coast physician, who is, I regret to say, in in touch with many settlements, rich a delicate state of health. After by a doctor and in many instances all, it's only a matter of a few thousand dollars granted from the mil lions now taken in for revenue.

A Sad Auniversary.

This is the 31st anniversary of the loss of the S. S. Lion, Capt. Fowler, with all hands and a number of passengers. The ship left here early on Twelfth Night with splendid weather prevailing and a bright moon in a cloudless sky. She was bound to Trinity and after some time was followed by the Ranger. The first known of the disaster was when the body of a lady passenger was found body of a lady passenger was found floating in the water with a deal of wrckage. CONSTANTINOPLE, To-day.

All information that can be obtained from official quarters concurs in saying that the Porté has said the last word in reply to the Allies' ultimatum regarding Adrianople and the Islands of the Aegean Sea. The Porte thinks their demands excessive. It is said that Rechad Pasha at the London Conference on Sunday, made a private offer to the Allies of the concession of the rivers Moritzu and Turka as Turkey's northern boundary, and southward, Kirk Killisseh. The Christian villages around the latter would also be ceded to the Allies. Furthermore Rechad offered to have the Turkish fortifications of Adrianople demolished, Adrianople, however, to remain within the Ottoman Empire. The Porte would rather renew war than abandon it. It would be sheer territorial gluttony for the allies to ask

The Late Whitelaw Reid.

When Whitelaw Reid died, American journalism lost one of the most forceful figures it has ever known, and the American nation one of its most distinguished citizens. His career stands as a monument not only to great personal abilities, but also to the towering opportunities offered by the profession of which he was member for nearly half a century.

Born a poor boy in an obscure town in Ohio, he used his personal capacities as the power, and journalism as the fulcrum, by which he made his way to the very top of contemporary

A newspaper editor at twenty-one one of the founders of the Republican party and earliest supporters of Lincoln, a widely known war correspondent at twenty-five, managing editor of the New York Tribune at thirty successor of Greeley as its editor and proprietor, all his life one of the conspicuous leaders of a great party, candidate for Vice-Presidency of the United States in 1892, minister of this nation to France for four years, twice its representative on important special mssions to England, peace commissioner for the negotiation of the treaty with Spain, and finally, as a crown to his great career, holder for seven years of the highest place in the diplomatic service of his country. Whitelaw Reid's was a life crowded with achievements and honors, with opportunites proffered and availed of. with great and honorable ambitions honestly pursued and so completely satisfied that life left him almost nothing for which to wish.

His is a record worthy of the bes of the sons of the "Republic Which Is Opportunity." Yet he started with nothing. Efficiency, a fine mind, capacity for hard work, grit, self denial and doggedness were the steps by which he climbed above the multitude, and journalism was the ladder which he chose for his ascension. He was the personal friend of the King of England, who broke all diplomatic precedents by himself notifying the President of the United States of the death of the American Ambassador In his messages to England's King and to Mrs. Reid, President Taft truly said that Mr. Reid's death ended one of the most notable careers' of the long line of great men who have represented America in England, referred to the friendly hospitality by which he had made thousands of his countrymen feel at home in London, and ended by expressing the hopethat the thought of the great name Mr. Reid left behind him would in time mitigate the grief of those who mourned his death.

To have made his way by the journalistic ladder to a place where he ranked with such distinguished predecessors as the poet James Russell Lowell, the statesman Thomas F. Bayard, the scolarly jurist Joseph Choate and the great historian John Lothrop Motley, was an achievemen for the poor boy from Ohio that makes Reid never wavered in his constancy to the higest principles.

He fought for freedom from French oppression, and after a long and sussained fight, in which he took the leading part, succeeded in obtaining such a settlement of the harrassing and embarrassing French Shore Question that has resulted in putting rest the French Shore difficulties. Th fishermen who live on that shore and those who go there to follow their calling have good cause to bless the name of Bond for what he did for them in that matter, and they are no likely to forget it. Bond rescued the country from the calamity which the Bank Crash had ast upon it. Here is what Morris nimself said about Bond at that time, When Mr. Bond left here, tw months ago, a dark cloud hung over Newfoundland, and few could be found to believe in the ultimate success of his mission; but to-night they know that that mission had been crowned with success; that by the uccessful raising of a loan on advantageous terms for the Colony, he as removed that dark cloud, or, ast, given it a silver lining. He had onverted despair into hope, and efted that hope all over the land. We will close with the testimon Edward Morris upon the bene fits the fishermen have derived from Bond's Development Policy: "It would be news to this country, to some of them at least, that notwith-standing that the country has advanced during the last ten years, and notwithstanding that the Government has been able to reduce taxation annually to the extent of $250,000, and increase public services to the extent of about $300,000, including grants houses, &c., &c., that the people have lived better, and have been able to out away in ten years in the Savings Banks of this country something like ve millions of money, not to talk of ne amount that they have put away their own homes. What ught about this prosperity? The sheries have not been appreciable creasing in productiveness, although he fishermen have been getting good prices, there was not any more fish aught now than there was forty years ago, when there was perhaps one-third less than the population that we have to-day. How was it, then that the people of the country could live better, have more comforts and save more money with one-third more of population, if it were not for the new industries which have been started as the result of the Development Policy of the Government."

The fishermen are now out for a change. They have done with Morris. They are determined on a programme for fishermen and they are calling on Sir Robert Bond, as the most sympathetic statesman, to use his great capacity and his experience to lead a fight to knock out the Morris gang and to carry out a programme he is cars ago, when there was perhaps

The schr. British Empire, Capt. H. Bennett, from Burin, laden with fish for G. C. Fearn and others, arrived in port this morning. The vessel left Burin some time ago and in the recent storms sheltered at Renews and Ferryland on the Southern Shore. Two of the three men of a crew on board rowed to Fort Amherst tug John Green took her in tow and brought her to port. The vessel is leaking considerably and the pumps are kept going on her.

Driven to Sea.

Capt. Kennedy of the Jean reports that Sunday morning in the storm, about 12 miles to the eastward of Gape spear, he saw a schooner of about 60 tons and deeply laden, laying "hull o" and making very bad weather. Seas continually went over her and she was driven to sea. Her sails were all closely furled, but the jib, women vote the crooks will - leave which was badly torn, hung over the their perches, there'll be no drink lee bow.
