

Montreal's Welcome

Duke and Duchess of Cornwall Start On Tour Through Canada.

Crowds Meet the Royal Train at Stations Along the Line.

Magnificent Welcome By the People of the Commercial Metropolis.

Montreal, Sept. 18.—The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall journeyed from Quebec to Montreal today, and were greeted with another affectionate demonstration from the people of Canada. They departed from Quebec at 9:30 o'clock in the morning, and the last sound that fell upon their ears was a cheer from the people banked around the C. P. R. depot.

They had spent the night aboard the royal yacht Ophir and came ashore shortly after 9 o'clock. The narrow streets in the lower town were jammed with a crowd that extended from the wharf to the depot, and the appearance of the young Duke and Duchess was a sight that inspired the people to wild enthusiasm. The sumptuous special train provided especially for their long journey to the Pacific Coast was in waiting and as soon as they were aboard it went speeding down the north shore of the St. Lawrence on the run to Montreal.

The special train was in charge of Lt. Col. Sheppard, of the Dominion police, and W. R. Baker, of the C. P. R., who will make the entire trip with the party and President G. O. Shaughnessy, who will accompany them to the Pacific coast. The party also included the Duke's private secretary, Lord Minto, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and the members of the Dominion cabinet, and almost in company the two sped westward along the route.

The people came for miles to about a cheer, or wave a flag at the festal train. The royal train made but one stop of any length during the day, and that at Three Rivers. There a crowd of 2,000 persons gathered about the flag decked depot, and the city council presented themselves at the door of the special car Ophir.

The Duke and Duchess appeared for the first time, and as the train sped through the city they waved their hands at the crowd. The day was perfect and the ride down the valley of the St. Lawrence was greatly enjoyed by all.

The welcome at Montreal which was reached at 3 o'clock was an ovation. Thousands of visitors had crowded into the city to reinforce the rest, and they all seemed to be massed in the neighborhood of the Place Visar station, and the streets designated for the course of the royal train. The Duke and Duchess were met at the depot by the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Minto, and other members of the royal party.

The Duke in reply referred to his own two previous visits to the city, and that of his father, King Edward, in kind reception of his thanks for the kind reception given to the Duke and Duchess. The Duke then addressed the people at the visit of the Duke and Duchess, and the Duke and Duchess were met at the depot by the Duke of Devonshire, Lord Minto, and other members of the royal party.

Mourning In Canton

Body of Dead President Awaiting Burial at His Old Home.

Funeral Services Today Will Be of a Very Simple Character.

Thousands of People Flocking to the Town For the Ceremonies.

Canton, Ohio, Sept. 18.—Tenderly and reverently those who had known Wm. McKinley best today received his body into their keeping. He left them two weeks ago this very day in full strength and a glorious manhood and the coffin brought him back dead. The whole town was in deep black. The only house in all this sorrow-stricken city, strange as it may seem, without a touch of mourning drapery, was the old familiar McKinley cottage, on North Market street, to which so many distinguished men in the country have made pilgrimages in the days that are gone.

The blinds were drawn but there was no outward token of the blow that had robbed it of its most precious possession. There was not even a bow of crepe upon the door when the stricken widow was carried by the railroad to her late home in the city. The hot houses of the country seem to have been emptied of their most precious possession. The funeral services will take place tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. at the first M. E. church of which the martyred President was a communicant.

Thos. Gifford Is Elected

Opposition Candidate Defeats Provincial Secretary By Fifty Two.

Result Came As Surprise As Mr. Brown Was Thought a Winner.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Westminster, Sept. 18.—The hotly contested election between Hon. J. C. Brown and Mr. Thos. Gifford ended tonight in the return of the opposition candidate by a majority of 52 over his opponent. Both sides had worked well for their men, and although in the past few days it looked as if the government candidate would be returned, today the tide turned.

The result of the election was as follows: Gifford, 563; Brown, 511. The majority for Gifford was 52. There was not a great deal of interest manifested in the New Westminster election by Victorians, as the election of Mr. Brown was generally conceded by the opponents of the government, who had little hopes of defeating Mr. Brown.

The result was a surprise to both sides, although supporters of the government who had been in New Westminster during the early part of the week said upon their return that they had seen a very close race, and sometimes received yesterday afternoon said there was a possibility of Mr. Brown being defeated. The first bullet was fired by the Colonist and immediately given to the public, gave Gifford 161 and Brown 138.

The Duke At Quebec

His First Review of Canadian Troops on Plains of Abraham.

In Spite of Rain Spectacle an Impressive and Successful One.

The Duchess Views Scene From Covered Stand—Festivities in Evening.

Quebec, Sept. 17.—The ceremonies of the last day's stay of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall in the ancient capital of Canada included a review of the troops mobilized for their reception, a dinner on the Royal yacht Ophir and an illumination of the harbor and city. Rain fell almost incessantly during the day and the crowds that gathered early in the morning were speedily dispersed and driven indoors.

THE NEW WESTMINSTER ELECTION

The defeat of Mr. Brown in New Westminster was wholly unexpected by the Colonist until late yesterday afternoon, when advices were received indicating that the most to be expected was a very narrow majority for the Provincial Secretary

It is useless to disguise the importance of the verdict of New Westminster. Mr. Dunsmuir must take into very serious consideration the new condition which has been created

FEDERAL CO-OPERATION

Outside of a small minority of the population, the people of British Columbia are not greatly concerned as to the fortunes of either party in federal politics. When an election occurs they must of necessity align themselves upon one side or the other, but as a rule they do not greatly care which side is in the ascendant

The very excellent statement of the case for the province laid before the federal authorities by Mr. Dunsmuir last winter makes it unnecessary for any one to array the facts that must be relied upon to secure the co-operation of the Dominion in the advancement of British Columbia, but experience shows that in dealing with politicians it is necessary to have something more, at times at least, than a meritorious case what we mean. When subjects affecting the East are up for discussion, they are dealt with as is proper in the case of live questions, upon the right handling of which important political interests depend

It is not our intention today to endeavor to point out in what way a change can be brought about in this regard. Perhaps we could not do so, if we tried. But we may say, and we do say it most earnestly, that every reasonable effort ought to be put forth to bring about co-operation between the federal and provincial governments in the advancement of the province

ROOSEVELT'S PROMISE

When he was sworn in, President Roosevelt said that he proposed to adhere entirely and absolutely to President McKinley's policy. There is a striking similarity between this declaration and that of King Edward, when assuming the functions of royalty. It was a very natural declaration. Perhaps the country did not look for it, but it was pleasing nevertheless, for it illustrated how a touch of nature makes the whole world kin

President Roosevelt has nearly three and a half years of official life behind him, and they are likely to be important years in the history of the nation. The administration of the affairs of the Philippines, Puerto Rico and Cuba will call for a high order of statesmanship, and to the work President McKinley could bring to bear the powers of a mind sobered by long experience, and able fully to appreciate the wisdom of hastening slowly

One can hardly read the articles published in the majority of the provincial papers during the last two weeks or the reports of the speeches delivered during the New Westminster campaign without a feeling of anxiety as to the immediate future of the province. Personalities, and these of a very objectionable kind, have formed almost the sole topic of discussion. Language has been employed by speakers towards each other and statements have been made in print, which, except in a political campaign, would be resented with a blow, and would terminate anything like friendly relations between the parties

FINLAND

Russia appears to have undertaken the systematic oppression of Finland. Every provision of the constitution of the ancient duchy is being violated, and the most hurtful change in the drafting of 7,200 men annually to serve in the army. This is directly in violation of the compact under which Russia acquired Finland, for by that the Czar's government bound itself never to require the people of Finland to serve in the army out of their own country. Now they are being taken to all parts of the empire. This new military order will practically crush out the life of the duchy, for it means that out of a population of less than two millions 30,000 young men must be serving under arms all the time. What would we think in Canada if one hundred thousand of our young men were compelled to serve under arms all the time? It is not necessary to answer such a question. Russia has anticipated that this oppressive regulation will lead to a decrease of population of the country and so a decrease has been issued forbidding the emigration of young men eligible for service in the army. Whether this will be openly resented by the Finns remains to be seen. There was a time when the independent spirit of the north would resist such oppression at all cost, but of late it seems to have been humbled. No voice has been raised in Europe in protest against the violation of national faith

The World has an article saying that an explanation is needed about the anti-Japanese legislation recently discussed. Unfortunately for the interests of clearness our contemporary was so exceedingly anxious to get a slap at the Colonist that it neglected to say what it wishes to have explained or who it thinks should make the explanation. It is a good thing when a newspaper wants information for it to say exactly what it requires, and when it wants to get a shot at a contemporary to confine itself to the shot. It is bad policy to mix the babies up. Pending further elucidation of its proposition we desire to extend to the World an assurance of our distinguished consideration

The indications of the success of the Exhibition to be held in this city next month are being gratifying. All the available space has been spoken for and we are likely to have a fine show and a fine gathering of people

WELCOME TO CANADA

Yesterday the Duke and Duchess of York and Cornwall landed in Quebec. They received a very hearty welcome, which was expressive of the sentiments of the people from one end of the Dominion to the other

It would be fulsome to say that in this welcome personal considerations have very much influence. Canadians have a kindly feeling for the Heir Apparent, because all accounts agree in representing him as a man of excellent qualities. For the Duchess there is a strong sentiment of regard because of the womanly attributes, which she has displayed during the years in which she has occupied a place so near the throne. But it is not anything of this nature that has called forth the demonstrations at Quebec and will resemble demonstrations at the Pacific and the Atlantic to the Pacific and the Atlantic to the Pacific

Democratic Canada would never trouble herself simply to do homage to royalty. The welcome is not to a future ruler. It is to the representative of a system, which has been venerated to the Canadian heart by the life and reign of the great Queen and is being made stronger by the consummate fact of the present King

While what has just been said is true, it is also true that the Duke is cordially welcomed as the son of his father. The King is exceedingly popular in Canada. His attitude towards public affairs during his long period of heirship was so wholly admirable, and the manner in which he discharged his public duties was in such excellent taste, that he has always enjoyed the esteem of Canadians. This was greatly enhanced by the truly regal manner in which he assumed the sovereignty on the death of the Queen. Any one sent to Canada, directly as the representative of a very cordial welcome, and a special hearty one will be extended to his son and heir

That the stay of the Duke and Duchess in Canada may be happy is the prayer of every Canadian. They are our guests. They have come for an imperial purpose. The visit is not one of idle curiosity. It has not been undertaken simply to evoke expressions of loyalty. It is intended as a recognition of Imperial Unity, and it is this sentiment that will lend enthusiasm to their cheers which will greet the royal party everywhere

PROVINCIAL POLITICS

No one can hardly read the articles published in the majority of the provincial papers during the last two weeks or the reports of the speeches delivered during the New Westminster campaign without a feeling of anxiety as to the immediate future of the province. Personalities, and these of a very objectionable kind, have formed almost the sole topic of discussion. Language has been employed by speakers towards each other and statements have been made in print, which, except in a political campaign, would be resented with a blow, and would terminate anything like friendly relations between the parties. Hitherto in this province no distinction has been made between expenditures on account of capital and those on account of revenue, and the consequence is that, when a loan has been floated, the proceeds have gone into the ordinary revenue, and the manner in which the money has been expended did not specially appear from the public accounts. While this plan has some things to recommend it, it is open to serious objections, and one of them is that the House and the public have no means of satisfying themselves as to the purposes to which the proceeds of loans have been applied. Our position as to future loans may be stated as follows: If it is found advisable to borrow money to pay overdraft now existing, let it be done, and let the understanding be that hereafter no more money shall be borrowed to pay overdrafts, but that the government, when asking the House for authority to borrow money, shall specially state for what purpose the borrowed money is to be expended, and let the proceeds of the loan be placed in a separate fund, and be used solely for the specific purposes for which it has been borrowed. For all other public expenditures, let the money be taken out of the current revenue only; from which it would follow that the public would know from year to year just what revenue would be needed, and, if an increase of taxation or some new kind of tax were proposed, would understand exactly what the reason for it was. We submit that until some change along the foregoing lines is made, the financial condition of the province will remain unsatisfactory

In regard to railway construction, it may be taken for granted that no government, which does not make provision for this, can hope to have a permanent tenure of office. Not only do the people demand railways, but the country needs them, and it is also very clear that most of the railways must be in the nature of development projects, that is to say, business must be created for them. It is not now in sight. For this reason government assistance seems inevitable so far as all the larger projects go. There seems to be very great difficulties in the way of government ownership. One of them is that federal aid may be properly asked for our trunk lines, and this aid is never granted without federal control. A railway owned by the province and controlled by the federal authorities would present too complicated a condition of things to be properly entered into. We look forward to the time when all railways, telegraph lines and telephone lines will be owned by the public, just as the highways and the post office are owned by the public, but owing to the political constitution of the Dominion, the application of the principle of government ownership must apparently be limited, so far at least as railways and telegraphs go, to the federal government. Under any circumstances the adoption of this policy is yet in the future, and what we desire is something for the present. Laying aside, then, for the time being the question of government ownership, we submit that in extending provincial assistance to railways care must be exercised to see that this assistance is not construction is what is chiefly meant. There is no doubt as to the absolute necessity of bringing into effect some plan under which the building of railways which was expressive of the sentiments of the people from one end of the Dominion to the other

The settlement of our agricultural lands ought to form a salient feature in the policy of any government. This, as we have pointed out in a former article, will call for the co-operation of the federal government. Other matters need consideration. Among them are the laws relating to taxation, those relating to prospecting and mining, the cost of education, the fisheries and others. Into the discussion of these the space which this article has already covered forbids us to enter. They may form the subject of other articles. We have not attempted to deal exhaustively with the whole subject of provincial politics, but only to show that there are other and far more important matters, calling for the attention of the electors, than the poor personalities with which the public have been entertained during the last few weeks

A TOKEN OF EMPIRE

It was only eighty-seven men in khaki marching through the street to the music of the British Grenadiers, but it was a sight that no one ever saw before. These soldiers of the Empire are on their way home. They have fought the battles of their country in India, and China and are returning to the shores of Britain for a well-earned rest. But the significant thing about it is that on their return they are encircling the globe, and we believe they constitute the first armed force that has ever done so. These men went to service from England towards the East and with their faces still turned Eastward they will return out of the West, and except when they have been on foreign soil engaged in actual warfare, they have been all the while on British territory. It is also significant that the time of their arrival in Canada coincides with the visit of the Heir Apparent, who is also concluding his Imperial tour by a visit to Canada

These eighty-seven men in Khaki were greeted as their steamer touched the approach to the wharf with the strains of "Home, Sweet Home." To men who have gone through what they have this familiar air must have awakened some emotion. Though three thousand miles of ocean have yet to be crossed before the shores of their native Islands will rise above the horizon, this is Home. It was eminently fitting that such a greeting should await them at the westernmost outpost of the Empire

A GRACEFUL ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We printed on Sunday the expression of sympathy sent to the Washington government, through Consul Smith, by Premier Dunsmuir, on behalf of the government and people of British Columbia. The following reply which the Consul has received will further deepen the feelings of the people towards their neighbors in the great national benevolence through which they are passing. Department of State, Washington, D.C., Sept. 17, 1901. Abraham E. Smith, United States Consul, Victoria B.C. The affecting expressions of sympathy you convey on behalf of Lieutenant-Governor Sir Henri Joly, Premier Dunsmuir, and people of British Columbia are deeply touching to the people and government of the United States, and "voice the deep feeling of brotherliness that naturally inspires the two countries. I beg you to make fitting acknowledgment

ANARCHISTS

The San Francisco Argonaut thinks that visitation would be a good punishment for anarchists and a gain for science. It says that anarchists are paranoiacs. It is very likely. We did not know what a paranoiac was until we read the Argonaut, which defines it as "a mild form of mania whose dominant symptom is intense egotism." We take leave to doubt the mildness of the type of mania that leads a man to think himself justified in killing another without provocation. Perhaps the Argonauts kind of visitation may be open to some objection, but not out of consideration for anarchists. They are not entitled to the slightest fragment of consideration. There is no more a place for them in the community that there is for a mad dog. There is a disposition nowadays to be deceived by the name of Liberty. Hence we permit us to preach the vile doctrines of anarchy. Suppose we reverse the picture. Let it be supposed that a Governor-General of Canada or a President of the United States were such a despot at heart that he arrogated to himself the right to sentence to death of his own mere motion any person against whom he might conceive a dislike or who might be in his opinion a menace to his welfare. Suppose this despot should circulate periodicals defending the exercise of this abominable doctrine, and should hold meetings to propagate it. Do you suppose that the community would tolerate him and his teachings for twenty-four hours? You know it would not. Liberty is impossible when one man or a coterie of men have the power to impose their will upon the majority, and this is what a permanent burden upon the public. The object in granting aid ought to be two-fold—to promote the immediate construction of lines which would otherwise be deferred, and to lighten the capitalization of the roads, and such assistance should carry with it an obligation on the part of the company to return something to the province. We are also of the opinion that, so far as is possible, the great natural wealth of the province should be used to secure railway construction in preference to borrowing money for that purpose

The settlement of our agricultural lands ought to form a salient feature in the policy of any government. This, as we have pointed out in a former article, will call for the co-operation of the federal government. Other matters need consideration. MULTIPLICATION OF PARTIES

We spoke yesterday of the disposition of the people of British Columbia at the present time to form political parties. We question whether much good can come from such a course, for there can be very little advantage to the country in any group of voters drawing a line of demarcation between themselves and the remainder of the electorate. Experience has shown that something more is necessary to create a party than a name and a set of academic resolutions. A leader and issue alone can make a political party, and we are not sure that the leader is not the more important. It has certainly been so in Canada, for undoubtedly the leadership of Sir John Macdonald meant more to the Conservative Party than any particular set of principles, just as the leadership of Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the strength of the Liberal Party today. No hard and fast rule can be laid down in these matters, for the development of issues and the advancement of individuals to positions of leadership usually are so closely identified that one is at a loss sometimes to decide whether the issue made the man or the man the issue. We sympathize with those people, who feel it to be their duty to form new political parties, but we question the value of such a proceeding

The government of a province is a practical matter, and like all practical matters must be managed in harmony with things as they are, not with any set of ideal conditions which we would like to see existing. The history of Canada records the rise and fall of many parties based upon what we have called academic resolutions. You cannot carry on the affairs of a province on such declarations any more than you can run a business on the maxims in Poor Richard's Almanac. One weakness in the formation of parties is that the declaration of principles usually covers too much ground and is so general in its terms that effect cannot be given to it at an election. We had some illustrations of this in recent British Columbia politics. Both the Conservatives and the Liberals met in convention at New Westminster and adopted platforms, which proved absolutely useless as soon as an attempt was made to apply them in a campaign. Mr. Joseph Martin signified his entry into the premiership by promulgating a platform. It was a great tactical blunder. It is the easiest thing in the world to sit down in a room and with a few people around you get up a fine looking political platform; it is the most difficult thing in the world to get the great mass of the people to pay the least attention to the platform after it has been formed. There are several reasons for this, and one of them is the fact that it is absolutely useless when seeking to lead public opinion to get too far ahead of it, and worse still to get off in a direction to which public attention is not directed. For the great body of the electorate must always be reckoned with, and they will not trouble themselves about fine-spun theories of government. They have their minds upon their business and what they ask of political leaders is something that will make the conditions under which business is done stable and progressive. One thing is about all an electorate will think of at a time, and that thing must be specific and at least apparently practical. The National Policy carried Canada. It ran through the constituencies like wild-fire. No one was quite sure what it meant. Its author was careful not to commit himself closely to a definition. He told the people of Canada that he was going to give them the home market for themselves and by a progressive policy of railway construction build up a great Dominion from Ocean to Ocean. How he was going to do it he did not say. Probably he did not know himself, but the magic term survived the leader who gave it to the people as a watchword, and held his party together, in spite of unwise leadership, for years after his death. So sound was the principle underlying it that the Liberal Party, though disregarding the name, continue to give effect to it even now. We are building up a Canadian nation and Sir John spoke the word that gave public opinion in Canada the trend that made such a course possible

OILING ROADS

How to keep earth roads in repair is a very serious proposition, and it is one that the people of Victoria must take very shortly into their consideration. We cannot afford to have block pavements all over town, for the expense would be more than the taxpayers and property owners directly concerned would care to pay. Many of our residential streets are in pretty fair condition, but some of them are exceedingly unpleasant during the summer by reason of the dust and from the fact that the surface is broken up during the dry season. Our macadamized roads are to a great extent a failure, we mean now those within the city. In California the use of oil on dirt and macadamized roads is being tried with very great success. We quote an extract from the Engineering Record, which states some facts which might be worth investigation by our municipal authorities: An investigation in oil roads in Southern California has recently been made by a committee of the board of supervisors of Sacramento county. At one place they found the work done by contracts at the rate of $1 per barrel of oil in place. The plant used included two storage tanks, together holding 550 barrels, two smaller heating tanks, an oil-burning boiler and pump for forcing heated oil into a sprinkling wagon, and small accessories. One man runs the plant exclusive of sprinkler. The oil is heated to 150 degrees Fahr. for the first application and to 230 degrees or more for the second, and may be transported for ten miles in the steel tank of the sprinkling wagon without detrimental loss of heat. In other districts, where the oil is applied cold the cost is about two thirds as much, but the result is not so good. In one county a public health plant has been built which supplies three districts, and another is under construction. The use of oil is widespread in southern California, both in towns and in the country, and meets little opposition. Particular mention is made of the good condition of a dirt road over which 3 to 7-ton loads are hauled to a beet sugar plant; this road was graded last spring, and sprinkled twice with about 200 barrels of oil per mile at each application. This is about twice the quantity generally used. The committee recommends oiling existing macadam roads and then covering them with sand or decomposed granite

An Easy Win For the Navy

Sailors Defeat the Civilians in a Cricket Match at Esquimalt. Bowling of the Navy Men Was Too Much For the Victorians.

In yesterday afternoon's return cricket match at the Canteen grounds, the Navy turned the tables upon Mr. Drake's eleven, and won easily, with a score of 134 to 57, on the first innings.

The features of the game were the splendid batting of Le Fanu and the bowling of Barracough and Greenstock.

With the score 95 for five wickets, Butcher joined Le Fanu, but when only one run had been added, the partnership was broken up by Le Fanu being caught by W. York of B. Schwengers' bowling.

Greenstock arrived, and made a stand, but Butcher, fast bowler, was bowled from B. Schwengers, before he could score.

This was the beginning of a remarkable change, for B. Schwengers took the next three wickets with three successive balls, making the score 113 for 9 wickets.

Wilson was stumped before he could score, Tomlin was bowled, and Barracough being clean bowled, and Moore, after making 7, was caught and bowled by B. Schwengers.

Greenstock was bowled after contributing 10 runs, and was not out with a score of 12. The innings closed for 134 runs.

Mr. Drake's eleven, needing 135 runs to win, did not appear to have a very formidable task before them, but Le Fanu and Greenstock shattered their hopes by sending wicket after wicket to the ground.

Barracough and Greenstock attempted to send the first ball he received out of the grounds, and failing to get a good hold of it, was caught by W. York of B. Schwengers' bowling.

Greenstock was bowled after contributing 10 runs, and was not out with a score of 12. The innings closed for 134 runs.

Mr. Drake's eleven followed on, and batted better, but they were not to improve when Sergeant went out leg-before, and Le Fanu took a ball into Greenstock's hands, after making 7, and Major Wynne was bowled by Greenstock, when he had 3 to his credit.

Greenstock made a short stand, the next wicket fell rapidly, Mr. Justice Irving being clean bowled by Greenstock, before he could score.

RUGBY CLUB. Intermediates to Meet on Friday Evening Next to Organize.

A meeting of the Victoria Intermediate Rugby club will be held next Friday evening in the Philharmonic hall, Fort street, for the purpose of organizing for the season. All those interested in the prospects for rugby football this season are very bright. Vancouver has two clubs, while Nanaimo has three, so that if a strong intermediate club is formed here, there should be no lack of interesting matches.

Next Friday's meeting is called for 8 p.m.

DURNAN AT WINNIPEG. Toronto Oarsman to Row Towns Next Week.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 14.—(Special.)—Eddie Durnan, the crack Toronto oarsman, arrived today to prepare for his race with Totous. The race will probably take place on Saturday next.

JUNIOR LACROSSE. Fernwoods Defeated by James Bays by Seven Goals to Three.

The junior match between the Fernwoods and the James Bays, which preceded the Victoria-Nanaimo game at the Chalmers grounds yesterday afternoon, was an interesting contest, for although the score which seems to indicate a one-sided game, this was far from being the case. Both teams struggled well for the first half, but the James Bays with a score of seven goals to three, for the Bays, F. Oullin scored three goals, and Houghton and Edmunds were responsible for the other three. Dwyer and Kelly scored the goals secured by the Fernwoods.

SPORTING NOTE. In connection with the fall fair in Nanaimo, a bench show will be held under the authority of the Pacific Coast Kennel League.

Victoria Wins From Nanaimo

Players From Coal City Beaten by Eight Goals to Three. Victoria Was More Than a Match For the Visiting Players.

The lacrosse match between Victoria and Nanaimo yesterday, which resulted in a victory for Victoria by a score of eight goals to three, was not very interesting. Despite the fact that the local team was playing a much worse game than ordinarily, the visitors were not match for them, and the game being one-sided, and somewhat ragged, the interest waned. However, the match was good from an unpeasant feature; there was no slugging, no fighting, and if a player was fouled, he was easily seen that the stick was not laid on his head with intent. It was a clean, but none too interesting game, in fact, it was as lady-like as any game of lacrosse that has been played in this city.

Players were not passing well, nor were they shooting well, and although they had opportunities galore, they shot wide, and their passing being not up to the average, their chances were not taken.

George Snider, who played the home practice, has evidently not been in practice for some time, for he was a weak point on the home. F. Smith, H. W. Brown, C. Tice, J. McDonnell and H. Jesse were playing well individually, but their team work, shooting and passing, will have to improve before next season. The victory is to be credited to the Victoria players, who worked at inside home. F. Oullin played splendidly, coolly and prettily, as he always does, and G. Milne was up to his eyes in the game, and was doing well on the defence, but S. Lormer was not up to the mark on goal. For Nanaimo, H. W. Brown, H. Tice, and Macdonald played a good lacrosse game, and fought hard in an up-bill game. The team was, however, far too weak to match the local twelve.

It was nine minutes before the first goal was scored—nine minutes of the first goal, Smith scored with a shot from about 25 yards out. A minute later Tice Snider and McDonnell ran up and passing to F. Smith, he scored again. For the remainder of the twenty minutes, although Nanaimo was hard pressed, there was no more scoring, although G. Tice hit the post. In the second twenty minutes the play was poor. After thirteen minutes Nanaimo scored, Steele doing the trick. Two minutes later Tice scored, getting a tap on the head, as he shot. At half time the score stood three to one. These minutes after play was resumed, the play was very rough, and much scrapping and ragged play around the visitor's goal, and a minute and a half later the same player scored again. Tice's shot was a fine one, and after completing her voyage to the goal, the dock at Koovala to be overhauled and repaired. Capt. Dixon, who returned a few days ago from a visit to Glasgow, went on in command of the Tacoma, and Capt. Alven, who had her command of the steamer Garonne on her trip to Nome. The Tacoma has about six saloon passengers and a number of crew members, and freight, make up of flour, cottons, hardware, machinery and miscellaneous freight.

Steamer Tosa Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha line, will sail for the Orient on Tuesday, taking a heavy cargo of freight to Japanese and Chinese ports, and on Wednesday the Katakura Maru is expected to arrive from the Far East. The R. M. S. Empress of India is expected on Tuesday.

ISLANDER INQUIRY. G. A. S. Potts Goes to Seattle to Secure Witnesses.

Apparently the steamer Islander disaster is to be more thoroughly investigated than was at first supposed, says the Seattle Post-Intelligencer. George A. Stewart Potts, a Victoria attorney, who is looking after the interests of a number of the survivors and relatives, was in Seattle yesterday interviewing several persons who were on the Islander at the time of the accident, and arranging to have them attend at Victoria on the 25th of this month, when the inquiry will be resumed. Mr. Potts declined to be interviewed, but stated that owing to the general feeling in Victoria that the inquiry was being conducted in an unfair manner, he would include some important evidence, and the Dominion government, which resulted in the appointment of Mr. E. V. Bodwell, K. C., to attend the sittings of the inquiry on behalf of the department of justice. The result will probably be that the inquiry will be continued by Mr. Bodwell, and it is predicted that some new and important evidence will be introduced.

From Skagway

Brings a Number of Klondikers, But Little Treasure From North. Queen City For West Coast—Tacoma Sails For the Orient.

Steamer Amur returned from the North early this morning. She brought 65 passengers, but few of those who arrived brought gold. Passengers state that the Amur skagwayed two hours and a half after leaving Skagway. One left the Lynn canal port at 9 p.m. and touched at 11:30 p.m., getting off without a cent. The Amur was a very cold and serious danger port, for although Dawson arrivals on the steamer state that in coming out over the White Pass railway, a train in which they were riding, ran off the track between a tunnel and trestle, and one of the cars was suspended from the bank. A report was brought that the Stewart river is not turning out as rich as was expected. The Klondike creeks are panning out well. There is much talk again about alleged irregularities in the places regarding the recording of claims papers.

Steamer Cottage City sails north at 9 a.m. today, carrying an average number of passengers, and the Humboldt sailed north yesterday afternoon. The Hating also sailed north yesterday from Vancouver, leaving that port for the North at 8 a.m.

QUEEN CITY SAILS. Takes More Mining Machinery for West Coast Mines.

Steamer Queen City sailed for Aoussett and way ports last night. She took up a good sized cargo including a deck load of mining machinery for the West Coast mines. Included among her freight were the fittings and machinery for an aerial tramway at Hayes' Mines, and a Gold concentrator and machinery for the Eagle mine. The Queen City is a general freight. Among the passengers were the following: W. Lormer, W. Bishop, H. E. Newton, J. Hermyuk, J. H. Hall, J. H. Barron, J. H. Barron, Mrs. V. R. Pearson, Miss J. Sanderson, Mrs. O. Weir, Miss Sirdman, B. H. Woods, B. G. Taylor, M. Galtz and J. Thomson.

KVAREVEN ARRIVES. The Collier Returns from Douglas Island—Other Steamers Due.

Steamer Kvarven returned yesterday afternoon from Douglas Island, after discharging a cargo of coal from Lady Smith at the place. The Kvarven brought no further news regarding the Islander disaster, no other bodies having been found. The Kvarven will leave tomorrow for Portland to load lumber for China.

The Salfordia, which is now out eight days from Muiron, is expected to reach here on Monday. The steamer Victoria, which is expected to arrive from Noyo to Guaymas, will be on the day en route to Lady Smith to load coal. The Victoria is now 23 days from the Southern port.

THE SAILING SHIPS. Red Rock Had Uneventful Trip—Matterhorn Arrives.

The British ship Red Rock, which arrived on Friday night from Liverpool, had an uneventful voyage. She was delayed by head winds in coming north after rounding the Horn, and while on the coast of South America she was overtaken by a storm which was uneventful. No vessels being sighted close enough to distinguish any signal. The Red Rock has a cargo of general merchandise of all sorts and kinds and naval stores. Included in her cargo is the new organ being brought out for St. Saviour's church, and the members of the congregation of the Victoria West church have thereupon expressed their interest in the trip of the Red Rock. This vessel was secured by R. P. Brown, to whom she is consigned, after the disaster of the steamer Hill, which was lost during a hurricane in the English channel.

The board after a few minutes' deliberation directed the secretary to write Mr. Brown to the effect that the board believed he had misread the charter, at least the facts on which his charges were based, and had entirely misunderstood the spirit in which his charges had been reprimanded by the board, and also to write to Mr. St. Clair to a similar effect cautioning him at the same time against the use of expressions which might be open to offensive misinterpretation.

FOR THE ORIENT. Tacoma Sails Yesterday for Far East—Tosa Maru Sails Tuesday.

Steamer Tacoma sailed for the Orient yesterday afternoon from the Victoria wharf, and will not return until January next, for she is to continue her voyage to Port Arthur this time, and after completing her voyage to the Victoria wharf, she is to be overhauled and repaired. Capt. Dixon, who returned a few days ago from a visit to Glasgow, went on in command of the Tacoma, and Capt. Alven, who had her command of the steamer Garonne on her trip to Nome. YACHTING EXPERIENCES. Uncertainty of the Wind Causes Much Trouble for Amateurs.

On Sunday afternoon two yachtsmen took advantage of the favorable breeze and went for a cruise in a well-known local yacht. All went well until the local breeze died for home. Thus suddenly the topsail carried away and knocked one of the yachtsmen overboard. He managed to scramble aboard before the yacht could leave his astern, and the topsail was hoisted and set. After travelling about a mile the wind began to drop and when the yachtsmen decided to return, they found that their oars had been lost overboard, probably during the excitement when one of the pair got a ducking. The wind failed to blow, and the amateur sailors, despondent, returned to the harbor, unless some means of locomotion was provided, fished out a broom from the cabin and used it as a paddle. The work was hard and the progress slow, but when nearly three hours had elapsed from the time the topsail carried away, the unlucky yachtsmen secured the sloop for the night. One of them was very cold, and both were of the opinion that yachting is not always a pleasant experience. It is not, not very likely to go for a cruise again when the wind is light and uncertain.

ROOSEVELT SWORN IN. Reaches Buffalo and Takes Oath of Office.

Buffalo, Sept. 14.—President Roosevelt arrived in Buffalo at 140 and took the oath of office at Ansley Wilcox's residence. The wretch Czolgosz now stands accused of murder. It was with malice aforethought and as such was murder in the first degree, and the law of New York is death in the electric chair. The President's body will be taken to Washington this morning. The shipmaster will be in state to receive the corpse which will be laid in state in Canton, Ohio, on Thursday.

Decision By Trustees. Conclusion of Enquiry Into the Charges Against Physical Instructor. Mr. St. Clair Cautioned to Be More Careful of His Language.

A meeting of the board of school trustees was held yesterday afternoon at the city hall to consider the charges against the physical instructor, Mr. St. Clair, made in a letter written to the board by Mr. P. R. Brown. Mr. St. Clair was asked what he had to say and commenced reading from a long prepared speech, which he read in a very loud and somewhat noisy manner. The trustees were not listening to a word of what he had to say, and he was asked to stop. Mr. St. Clair then read a portion of the letter, and the trustees asked for the time to be asked to keep to the point at issue. As the board had no other business, the meeting was adjourned until the next meeting. Mr. St. Clair's presentation of the letter to the board was not without effect, for the trustees were asked to keep to the point at issue, and he was allowed to proceed in his case, one of the trustees said that he had seen the word "sneak" in his case, one of the trustees said that he had seen the word "sneak" in his case, one of the trustees said that he had seen the word "sneak" in his case.

ISLANDER BOATS SOLD. All Lifeboats of the Lost Steamer Purchased by the C. P. N. Co.

The four steel and two wooden lifeboats belonging to the steamer Islander, which were brought down from Juneau together with the cars and five lifeboats, were sold yesterday morning on the wharf across James Bay, where the Islander was wrecked. The steel lifeboats were sold for $100 each, and the wooden lifeboats for $50 each. The sale was conducted by Mr. H. M. St. Clair.

LONDON BRIDGE. Details of the Great Improvement Scheme.

From London Leader. London bridge will very soon be banded up, so to speak, with a view to the extension of its limits and its general improvement. The history of this important improvement deserves brief mention. So far back as 20 years ago a scheme for the enlargement of the bridge was devised, but it was not until the year 1890 that the scheme was carried out. Since then a variety of other proposals have been made, but the result has been the construction of the Tower Bridge, opened 30th June, 1894.

WOMAN'S EXHIBIT. It is hoped that the Women's department at the coming agricultural exhibition will be made as successful as the present one. It is evident that there are many people busily employed, and it would be a great help, if those having articles to enter would send them in early, so that they may be ready for the exhibition. The following special prizes were by mistake omitted from the list already published: Wedded cake, value $25, presented by J. C. Darling, Esq. Silk umbrella, value $5, presented by Messrs. Sea & Gowen. Dress, value $5, presented by C. C. Buswell, Esq. Goods, value $10, presented by E. Matinotti, Esq. Chair, value $5, presented by L. E. Wallen, Esq. Dry goods, value $5, presented by Messrs. Westcott Bros.

CARNIVAL AT PORTLAND. It Opens To-day and Will Last a Month. The business men of Portland have subscribed $15,000 to guarantee the expenses of a carnival to be held in the Exposition Building from September 18 to October 18. A notable exhibit of all the industries of the Pacific Northwest will be made in the big Exposition Building, and athletic exercises, a horse show and a military tournament will be held on McNomah Field adjoining. Two full military bands have been engaged, and there will be many fine features in the amusement line. The carnival is in charge of a committee comprising 28 representative business men, of which Gen. Owen Sumner is president, J. M. Fleischer vice-president, J. A. Steinbach treasurer, and J. D. Mann secretary.

ART EXHIBITION. The "At Home" given by Mrs. Martineau's students in the studio over Sommer Art Store, attracted many visitors yesterday, who were well pleased with the efforts displayed. The exhibition will be open this afternoon from 3 to 6 p.m., and on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 7.30 to 9 p.m., and will be continued during the week.

FOR SALE. A C. W. Dwyer returned by the North Pacific yesterday from the Sound. Capt. E. H. Beecher came over from the Sound on the North Pacific yesterday. P. H. Blashfield has returned from a trip to the Sound.

Cargo Ships Discharging

Red Rock Will Begin to Unload at Outer Wharf Today. Alex. Black at Esquimalt—Empress Due From the Orient Today.

British ship Red Rock came around to the Outer wharf yesterday afternoon, and this morning she will commence discharging cargo. The ship Alex. Black, which arrived on Sunday in tow of the tug Lorne, will come to the Outer wharf also in a couple of days. She had an uneventful passage, and getting a good start around the Horn, made a safe passage up through the Pacific. The Alex. Black, which, like the Red Rock, brings a cargo of general merchandise and naval stores, the latter part of her cargo being landed at Esquimalt, brings a passenger, G. Constable, an Englishman who has been so pleased with his voyage out that he wants to return with the ship when she loads grain at Tacoma for England. It is not expected that there will be any trouble to secure labor to discharge the cargo, although it is not likely that the longshoremen will be employed, as they are not yet ready for the higher wage demanded on the arrival of the larger vessels. On the Fraser, according to Mainland news, the longshoremen are also out with a demand for 40 cents per day, and the longshoremen are also out with a demand for 40 cents per day, and the longshoremen are also out with a demand for 40 cents per day.

MOVEMENTS OF TROOPS. The C. P. R. M. S. Empress of India, which is due today, will land a detachment of B. Battery, R. H. A., consisting of a warrant officer and several men, who formed part of the British field force in China during the recent troubles. The detachment will be met at the landing place of the Yosemite by a detachment band, which will escort it through the city on the way to the barracks at Work Point, where the men will rest till Saturday next, when they will proceed East en route for Liverpool.

A draft of 20 men for company 48 R. E. will leave Esquimalt about the end of October, and Esquimalt to engage in submarine work. The company is in command of Lieutenant, the Honorable F. G. Hood, R. E.

Captain the Honorable H. H. S. Adair, late Royal Fusiliers, recently at Dunceans, has been ordered home to serve with the 4th Battalion, Royal Garrison Regiment, now being organized.

That tired, languid feeling and dull headache, which are the result of the Carter's Little Liver Pills before they get to you, and you will find relief. They never fail to do good.

Survey is Completed

Cable Steamer Britannia Makes Soundings to Where Egeria Completed Her Work. Laying of Long Cable Will be Commenced in January Next.

The survey for the Pacific cable to connect Victoria with the Antipodes has been completed. Some time ago H. M. survey ship Egeria made soundings between Victoria and Panning Island, which are the first stations to be made, and now the cable steamer Britannia, which arrived at Honolulu on September 3rd, has surveyed the waters between Panning Island and Australia. The Britannia left Auckland several months ago and made soundings over a zig-zag course to Suva, where she arrived on July 25. During the trip between Panning Island and Suva, the weather was encountered, but the soundings were made continuously.

At Suva a site for the landing of the cable was selected and the stations at Ucheklesses length West Coast of the Britannia. He left that vessel at Honolulu and took passage to San Francisco en route here and thence to England. The Britannia will leave at Honolulu for ten days and then proceed to London via Singapore and the Suez Canal.

Survey is Completed

Cable Steamer Britannia Makes Soundings to Where Egeria Completed Her Work. Laying of Long Cable Will be Commenced in January Next.

The survey for the Pacific cable to connect Victoria with the Antipodes has been completed. Some time ago H. M. survey ship Egeria made soundings between Victoria and Panning Island, which are the first stations to be made, and now the cable steamer Britannia, which arrived at Honolulu on September 3rd, has surveyed the waters between Panning Island and Australia.

THEY SAW A SEA-SERPENT—Tale of Eighteen Officers and Men of a Chinese Steamer.

Again the sea serpent story. The last time that the report that a sea serpent had been seen was published for Victoria readers the evening paper told of a three-stranded serpent of a sea serpent alleged to have been brought by the N. P. steamer, Genogee, a sea serpent due to the imagination of the purser and others of the steamer, and an all too credulous reporter...

The Kobe Herald says: "An authentic account of a sea serpent is available in a Russian Asiatic paper. It is no longer possible to deny the existence of such a monster. The huge serpent was seen near Chuk Chao Island of the coast of South China by a Chinese merchant launch Lung-tsing, and the following 'official report' which bears the signature of Mr. V. Kuster, 2nd officer, the 1st engineer, 1st and 2nd mates, and 14 seamen, as well as the officer in charge of the launch, appears in the Hongkong Daily Press: 'On Sunday, the 18th August, 1901, at 11.20 a.m., the Chinese customs cruiser launch Lung-tsing was steaming at half speed heading for Boddam Cove, Mungo Island, in Lat. N. 22 deg. 5 min. 30 sec. and Long. E. 113 deg. 45 min. 30 sec., at about ten cables length from the Chuk Chao Island, I sighted a dark object on the surface of the water one point on the starboard bow, and another point on the port bow, at a distance of about 10 feet from the rig and 30 feet from the launch—where stood the crew of the rig were scared and prepared to jump overboard. Mr. Kuster still in bow of rig prepared to strike with a long pole, but before he could do so the monster suddenly dived and made off. Its action in swimming was like that of an ordinary water snake. The water being very shallow it could be plainly seen a few feet down. It dived very quickly and made considerable disturbance of the water.'

SUSPENDED OVER A GULCH.

Narrow Escape From Death of Passengers on Northern Railway Train.

Particulars of the accident which occurred on the Northern Railway on Saturday morning 10th to passenger train No. 2, while on her way from White Horse to Skagway.

The train was suspended over a gulch of the tunnel on the White Pass, about two miles north of Skagway. That no lives were lost appears to be due to the quick action of Engineer McKenzie.

By this time every member of the train was on hand, and the passengers were being taken to the hospital, assisted by the occupants of the derailed car from the train.

State Services Held For Dead President of the United States.

Many People Injured in Crush to See Remains at the Capitol.

Washington, Sept. 17.—Today was the occasion on which the nation was to pay its last tribute of respect and admiration at the bier of the dead President.

Other nations had ordered their diplomatic and military representatives to be present.

Ex-President Cleveland was here to take part in the ceremony, and like President Roosevelt, paid his tribute first in private at the White House and later at the public services in the rotunda of the Capitol.

The King of Great Britain was represented by Mr. Gerard Lowther, charge of the British embassy in Washington. Mr. Lowther had specially commissioned to participate in the services as his personal representative, Capt. Louis Bailey, of the Royal Navy, represented the emperors from other parts of the world, assisted the occupants of the derailed car from the train.

In five minutes every one of the thirty three passengers was on hand, and the passengers were being taken to the hospital, assisted by the occupants of the derailed car from the train.

WILSON'S LAST STAND.

From London Letter.

Completed the gigantic memorial, illustrative of the massacre by the Matabele, of Major Alan Wilson and his ill-fated patrol, upon which he has been engaged for the last five years, and the fourth and final panel is now being cast in bronze.

The memorial, which is being executed at the request of Mr. Cecil Rhodes, will be placed on the sides of a huge natural boulder amid the ruins of Zimbabwe, the sun-drenched site of the town of the pre-historic gold workers of South Africa, and close to the spot near the Shangani river where the major and his big party were shot down by the warriors of Lobengula whilst in the act of singing "God Save the Queen."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. Examination shows a remarkable decrease in the quality of the blood. Iron and such other restoratives as are admirably combined in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are demanded by the system. The regular and persistent use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cannot fail to benefit any girl or young woman suffering from chlorosis, feminine irregularities, or weaknesses resulting from poor blood and exhausted nerves. It reconstructs wasted tissue, gives color to the cheeks, and new vitality to every organ of the body.
