A CARD．
To the Members of the Domin－ iov Phitatelic association．

L＇Ifies and Gentlemen ：

At the request of many friends， I live decided to once more stand nヶa candidate for President of our Aswociation．

This election forms a crisis in tin，history of the D．P．A．，and it is for the members to decide wh．ther henceforth its affairs shall li．controlled，as in the past，ly a clique of politicians，or in a straightforward and business－like manner．

The various inues of the cam－ ，hign will no doubt be thoroughly threshed out，between now and Duminion Day ；therefore it is not my intention to comment on the various contentions at the present time．

No member who has the interests of the D．P．A．at heart can remain would ask friends everwhere to take as active a pait is circhan－ stances will permit．It is not a question of personai pupularity that enters into the dicmusion，lut a plain question of retins for uilu－ management and corruption，or supporting the cause of ereditable and honest managemment of the Association＇s affairs．

Asking the support of all honest members in my effort，tw put duwn jobhery and the misu… power of the Toronto clique，

Yours sincercly．

OUR OMNIUM GATHERUM．

＂The P．S．of A．po＇itical pot is boiling，and the candidates are looming up．The address of Pres． Carstarphen in the current Pennsy is somewhat melancholy．Exchange Supt．Ruehlman，who spent so many dollar：to get his office，has heen remosed because he has failed to furnich a bond：complaints neutral to this campaign，and I arminst him and the former Supt． have been made, and agrinst members for substitution on Exchange Books. G. D. Mekeel has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Only about one-fourth of the membership have paid their dues for 1897, resignations seem to come in faster than applications and the Society is in debt to its treasurer some $$ 250$." -Columbian Philatelist.

In connection with the above, we might say that it is now dawning on the philatelic public that the $P$. S . of A. once looked upon as a monumental success, is in reality a monumental failure. While haveing a large amount of reluctant faith in the efficacy of gall, the present instance will somewhat shake that belief. The apotheosis of gall as exemplified in the person of Mr. C. W. Kissinger, we fear is soon to end in disrepute. Thus time has acted the part of iconoclast. The P. S. of A. could never stand the leveling process of old father time, who is pretty accurate in sifting the gold from the dross.

One, H. M. Porter, of Philadelphis, was arrested a short time ago for being an all-round stamp thief, and the following, from a newspaper report is so rich, we cannot let it pass:-" When arrested, the prisoner admitted that he bought a number of stamps, and at present his collection numbered 4,110." He added, "Nearly Everybody in the Stamp Collection Business is a Beat, and I am of them."

There were no collectors present when he shot off his mouth to the above affect, and up to the time of going to press he has not heen lynched.

THE TIN GODS.

- In the two numbers of this paper immedi.tely preceding this, there has heen an article on philatelic advertising, the writer using the nom-du-plume of "Ram's Horn." When the MSS. of this was submitted to us, the writer requested that his name be nol mentioned, and as some of the points were expressed in $\dot{n}$ pungent manner similar to that used in discussing religious matters in the ecclesiastical pmper called "Ram's Horn," we accordingly could think of no betles nom-du-plume, and so used that. Several philatelic papers are evidently under the impression that this article was copied from that church paper. We have carefuliy looked over "Ram's Horu," and we find that it never had an article on advertising during the whole course of its existence. One light and sore-headed youth who essays to conduct a philntelic rag down in Halifax, whose paper stands alone in Canadian philatelic journalism as a distributor of tilth and personal ahuse, and whom we will not acknowlerge by menlioning his name, or the name of his Police-Gazette magazine, says in reference to this article: "ndapted be imagine from a well-known periodical," (wherever he. uneartheil this specimen of medieval English, or whether he is unable to-spell "we". is the thougnt that is still hothering us, and this gentleman-we have to call him this, as ir is customary to reply to the attacks of onls such), who, forsooth, fain would be a philatelic politician, and who expresses his idea in this wonder of grammatical construction. "We appreciate the relaxation for the Scoll's catalogue Philatelic Era will be laid aside for the pleasures of a red-hot campaign." In his usunl uncalled for and bull-in-t:ne-chinashop morle of criticism, says:- "Also a poem (?) entitle.l, "My stamps.' The poent in question was a parody written by Mr. W. H. Thurston, the ellitor of one of the leading newspaprers in Central Ontario, a minn recognizal by the world as an anthority on the leading questions of the day, and who knows more about poetry and literature in general, in one minute, than his would-be critic could have pounded into his head, supposing he lived until a dozen eternities after the end of the world, and the instrument used was a Suez Ganal pile driver. If we cared, we might say a good many things about this individunl and his enngrammatical mispelled and mis-printed sheet, who is either too stingy to purchase AS ©. for his paper or too egotistical to have ant other person write therein. In future we shail make no reference to this person whatever, or to his weighty " magazine," upon which he has been unable to induce the postal authorities to grant secont-chass mailing rates, but in closihg would advise him to cominue printing lus p.pper if it amuses him and keeps him out of other mischief, antil the first day of January, I898, but to tet no person see any of the copies meintime, and on litst day of the New Yiar whila it is yet dark, lei hum repair himself to that portion of the Bay of Funily which has never been fathomed, and silently consign his effurts lu the deep. It will be unnecessary to attach any weight to them -to make them sink-there will be enough mud in them to bear them down a ${ }^{-1}$ thousand fathoms deep." By carefully following these instructions it is hardly likely any person will ever discover his mental infirmities."

We contess to a certain amount of diffidence in placing the above hefore our readers. It is taken trom an allered philatelic paper published by a decayed stamp dealer of Toronto. The paper may be known to a few of our renders, and although bearing the date of March, it was Mny 3rd, 9.30 a. m., when it reached our sanctuin.

It is certainly a misfortune to Canadiarn philate!ic journalism that such matter as this should find its way into print. It has been our constant nim to keep our little magazine free from all objectionable matter, and it is "more in sorrow than in anger" that we wish to say a few words in reply to this uncaller for attack.

Our young friend who butchered the English language to the effect as quoted, has built up a mighty structure of aluse on the slight foundation of a typographical error, hut on exanining his remarks, it will be seen that he is himself a spelling reformer of a most pronounced type. Under his ingenious quill, nom-lle-plume become "norn-du-plume," and this is no printer's error, as it occurs twice. "Mispelled" and " mis-printed," are also fruits of his vivid imagination. And still our youthful critic prates of errors in spelling and printing, and paws up the ground in his censorship. He should get his thair cut.

When we use the exclamation point in mentioning the piece of loggeral which appearel in his paper, this editorial genius froths at the mouth, and tells us that its author is, in fact, an intellectual giant. Our own opinion is that any man who could write the rot referred to is perilously near being. a drivelling idiot, and should mend his ways while there is yor time. In this connection, the extreme richness of our friend's language is wortly of note. The easy man-

exchanges Pleash note.

We wish to exchange with ever!/ stamp paper published, and we would call attention to the mailin! directions - which appear above. One copy! is to be addressed to the Halifac Philutelic Publishing Co, Halifax, N. S., and the other to Mr. J. R. Fiudlay, Halifax, N. S. Whene the above directions are olserved, we shall send. two copies in exchanye each month

In re the Mekeel failure, our e.c. the Post Office asks:-"What will become of the poor stockholders?"

This is an ency one. They will contimue to holl the stock, and though no dividends will be forthcoming, they are at least free from the haunting dread of assessments. May this fact chear their lot in the hour ef ndversity !

Ph. Heinsberger is at it aguin, and a fow more suckers will te accommodnted. It is lut three Years since the fast expose, lut. people (especially pulinishers) seem as gullable as ever. He runs under another 'name, but we know him by his ads. and his writings.

OUR friend Starmaman of the Philatelic Adrocate, in a letter asking for figures to enable him to offer a combination rate with the Advocate, says:-"I presume the remaining numbers of the H. P. M. will be 'consigned to that part' of the Bay of Fundy which has never heen fathomed.' Give us your rates and we will risk the unfathoned depths." Which goes to show that the ravings of Walter Patrick Mc(filligain McMahon don't cut much ice.

So far, the candidates in the field for D. P. A. honors are James H. Peckham, for Exchange Superintendent; R. (x. Widdicowbe, for Auction Manager; and Findlay I.

Weaver, for Librarian. Good men, all three,- may they get there with both feet.
"Philateli; " a philatelic novel, we believe, is ont, hat have not yet seen a cupy. We are led to believe that its author, Mr. Watts, has succeeded in blending together love, stamps and matrimony, in an harmonious manner, and extend congratulations on his achicvement of this difficult feat.

Our thanks are due Mr. W. R. Arlams, 7 Ann St., Toronto, for a copy of his lately issued Catalogue of Canadian Revenues. It is got up in handy pocket form, and is a most valuable work. It will no doubt I come the standard. Mr. Armms wishes us to say that he will send a copy of the catalogue to any reader of the Halifax Philatelic Magazine sunding eight cents. We recommend our readers to talke adravantage of this generous offer.

One little organ in Toronto the other day, called this a "Police Gazette IIagazine." We are sorry that the phin truth expressed in a plain manner should have displeased the editorial genius of our contemporary. Truth, you know is often unpleasant. The organ which applied to us the unparliamentiry term above quoted, is published ly a gents' furnishing virtuoso. who divides his time between selling goods below cost and editing an alleged stamp paper. His paper is dry enough, bat we think the regular dry goods business would be more profitable to him in the long run. He may have brains enough to mark down a shirt from $$ 1.25$ to 49 cents, but his mental capacity seems inadequate to running a stamp puper.

> Special Announcement.

We beg to advise the publication of two special numbers of the Halifax Pallatelio Magazine. Our next number, fune, will be a sPECIAL POLITICAL NUMBER.
and will be devoted to the D. P. A., . S. of P., and P. S. of A. campaigns. Both sides will be presented.

Our July number will be a special convention nember, and will contain a fuil and complete report of the D P. A. Convention. Full election returns and descriptive articles.

No extra charge will be made to subscribers for these special numbers, and non-subscribers wishing to receive the same may either subscribe for one year, or send Ten Cents and the two specials will be sent.

Tae Halifax Peil. Pub. Co.
Halifax, N. S.
ner in which he refers to "a dozen eternities after the end of the world," is too good to pass unnoticed.

If the editor of this paper is " a light and sore-headed youth," and if this paper is a "philatelic rag," and a "Police-Gazette magazine," we are indeed sorry that it is so. But we cannot agree with our friend, and must express regret that he could not find gentlemanly language in which to express his opinions. We might say, however, that our paper differs from his in not being a house-organ, and in not being run by a horde of hungry politicians eager to suck the life blood out of the Association, of which, unfortunately, it is the official journal.

As to his assertion, that the postal authorities would not grant mailing privileges to our Magazine, were "we to speak unqualifyedly we would call it a falsehood, but will content ourselves with saying that it is quite in keeping with the rest of the tirade. As a matter of fact, second-class rates were granted this Magazine just ten days after applying for them. This, is in contrast with the long delay and hesitation that accompanied the granting of the rates to his paper, and had its editor and publisher not resorted to the dodge of advertising his stamps under another name, the rates would never have been granted.

We are told that we aspire to be politicians, and once more our friend is found talking through the back of his neck. The extract he makes from our Editorial is grossly garbled, and not worthy of a reply.

The latter portion of his remarks is obscure, and he seems to have been attacked with nervous prostration, caused by writing the first part of the tirade. He seems to be groping around in the intense darkness of his intellect, hunting for something to add to his remarks, but succeeds in only grinding out a jumbled-up mass of incoherrency:

In conclusion, we would point out that this filthy mass of abuse was caused solely and simply because we refused to accept his assertion that his paper was the best stamp paper in Cianada. We merely said we did not helieve it was the best, but we only said a part of what we really thought, and our opinion is now confirmed. Such a misrable little organ as this cannot live long; it.s editor is well known as a man whose every effort ends in ignominous failure, and the present venture will prove no exception to the rule. There is no room in Canada for a wretched little sheet that deals in abuse as its stock in trade, and to whom mud-slinging is so natural an art.
(Since writing the above, the little organ has shuffled off this mortal coil.)

ITERHRY NOTES.

Alvars on time, the Philatelic Aducate for May arrived in Haiifax on the 7th of the month, again establishing a record.

The International Philatelist has changed hands, having passed into the hands of a new publisher, who vies with Mr. Beardsley in being "estab. lished in 18S5." We trust 1905 will find him still establiahed.

Tue Home Worker, and the Evergreen State Philatelist, are two papers that one may always look for early in the month. They are always on time, and always interesting.

The new Detroit Philatelist makes a fine opening display. The well known Kessler, jr., is at the helm, with Mr. Randall. of the old Kuleidoscope, and Miss Swift as associates. Under such distinguished auspices, we expect much.
| The Ontarto Plilatelist was a wolcome visitor this month, for we had mourned it as departed. No Fedruary number was issued, and the number before us is dated March-April, and closes the first volume. Mr. Beatty will now doubtless take a "fresh hlot," and we hope to have the pleasure of seeing it regularly during the coming summar.

The Perforator is a new one to us. It'is a live paper published at Hartford, Conn., by H. A. Chapman, and is in its third number. Glad to see you, brother.

We learn with regret that no more numbers of the Canadian Pkilate7ic Magazine will be issued. This is to be. regretted, as it was by far the oldest staup paper in Canada.

Ontario Items.

No. 2 of the new Detruit Plilatelist presents a very fise appearance, and the articles it contains are well worth reading.

Mr. Wbldon has conseuted tu act as Auction Manager of tha II. P. A. for the present, which demoustrates his desire to run as much of the Society as possible Have another, Mr Weldon.

Joly 21 st aud $2 \because$ nd are the days un which the next Convention of the Dominion Philatelic Association will be held in Berlin. A big jubilee celebration and band tournament will be held at that time, and we trust a iarge number will be in attendance. If you are not a member, become oue ar once. Application blanks can be had from the Secretary, A. H. Adams, Whitby, Ont.

In a recent number of Meieel's Weekly, "Rea" (I E Weldon) in his Canadian Notes says: "It appears, that the vinit of Mesgra. Widdicombe and Beatty of St. Catharines, to Foronto, on Good Friday was for the purpose of securing recruits for the ticket that A. M. Muirhead, of Halifax, heads in a race for the Presidency of the D P. A." I might say right here that it was for no such reason we took the trip, but as a visit to Mr. Bailey, of that place. Dont be so quick to talk in the future, before you know, even if news is scarce.
