Ballenas, New York for Montreal, Hits Seal Island

A message was received by the Marine Department in this city at noon today announcing that the steamer Ballenas was ashore this morning on the north side of Cape Sable, Seal Island, at the extreme eastern tip of the Bay of Fundy. The message stated that the crew were safe, but that the vessel was filling rapidly with water. The members of the crew launched a boat and were landed at Race Point, on the island.

The captain of the vessel sent word for assistance, and the Canadian Government steamer Dollard, in command of the Yarmouth, was ordered to the scene. She was expected to reach the straggled craft this afternoon.

Word was also received by the Marine Department that the firm of Hugh Cann & Sons, of Yarmouth, had sent a tug to assist the stricken craft.

Seal Island is about 20 miles south of Yarmouth in a direct line, but for vessels is about 25 miles. It is near the southern extremity of Nova Scotia.

BELIEVED PATROL VESSEL
The shipping registry lists the Ballenas as a tugboat owned by the United States Shipping Board. The Ballenas was built at El Elizabethport, N. J., in 1919, by the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation. It registers 427 tons gross and 203 tons net. Her engines are of the three cycle triple expansion type.

WAS OUT OF COURSE
A little before 3 o'clock this afternoon a radio message from the Ballenas was received here. It stated that the steamer was bound from New York for Montreal. The Ballenas struck a rock close to the Seal Island shore a little before 9 o'clock this morning during a dense fog.

The vessel was out of her course by many miles. The Ballenas carries a crew of 20 men. All but two had landed on the island by noon time. The captain and one man remained on the vessel, but were in no danger as the sea was smooth.

The Ballenas was purchased from the United States Shipping Board by Hedgeman Transportation Company of New York some time ago.

UNDERWRITERS
SPRINKLER PLAN

Approve Principle But Ask
That They Pass On Details

ATTITUDE IS NOT
LIKED AT COUNCIL

Sand Point Matter Goes to Harbor Commissioner
and City Engineer

The Board of Fire Underwriters notified the City Council yesterday that they approved of the specification for sprinkler system in the West Side sheds, prepared by the city engineer, in principle and as a preliminary to be followed by detailed plans of the various bidders to be approved by them.

Commissioner Bullock said this looked as though the underwriters were trying to put a crimp in the work and let some certain contractor get the job. The Mayor asked if this was to be understood as tantamount to the Board of Fire Underwriters usurping the function of the council and awarding the contract, and members of the council said it looked like that.

The letter of the underwriters was referred to the commissioner of harbors and the city engineer.

OFFER TO DO JOB

A communication from Byrne and McGough, offered to install the sprinkler system on a cost plus basis of 7 1/2 per cent above the cost of material and labor. They said local labor would be employed, with the exception of one man, and all material would be bought from local firms.

They guaranteed that the cost under this plan would not exceed $70,000. The communication was referred to the commissioner of harbors and the city engineer. Charles Moore, 175 Wright street, that the street was in a bad condition and asking that repairs be made, was ordered filed in motion of Commissioner Frink.

Mrs. Emma G. Brown, Guilford street, West Side, requested that the retaining wall in front of her premises was falling down and asked that repairs be made. The letter was referred to the commissioner of public works for a report.

On motion of Commissioner Harding the taxi by-law, governing the operation of motor taxis in the city, having received the approval of the lieutenant-governor-in-council, was passed and ordered as from this date. The commissioner of finance and public affairs reported payments for June, last, amounting to $148,317.93.

REPORTS ADOPTED

The report of the committee of the whole, recommending that the bill of J. A. Lively, Ltd., of $208.46 for timber be paid; that the approval of James Lewis and Sons, of $318 for rods and plates, be accepted, and that the city advance to the Electric Power Commission the sum of $29,418, to pay the just account of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, was adopted.

LANCASTER BOARD
BILL WILL BE PAID

Provincial Cabinet Will Meet in Saint John on July

FREDERICTON, July 6.—The session of the provincial government was finished this evening and the members left for their homes with the exception of those who remained for departmental business.

Premier Baxter after the session announced that an order in council authorizing the payment of the Lancaster highway account in accordance with the terms of the recommendation of the public accounts committee had been passed. The amount is in the vicinity of $105,000.

This matter before the public accounts committee during the session of the legislature and attracted considerable attention. At the time it was alleged that there was much looseness in the way the business had been carried on and the former minister of public works, Hon. P. J. Veniot, and the former chief highway engineer, B. M. Hill, did not agree with the Lancaster Highway Board as to the share of the cost for which the province assumed responsibility.

The government considered the matter of additions at the Jordan Sanitarium and decided to get further information on the matter. The next meeting of the government is to be held at Saint John on the 19th.

OF ALBERT CO.

Council to Send Notice of Affair to Bondsmen of Former Secretary

HOPWELL HILL, July 6.—The report of the special audit of the Albert county accounts carried on by the accounting firm of Belyea and MacInerney was presented today by F. L. Belyea and showed a detailed examination of the books covering a period of some 25 years. The report showed that through a misconception of accounts and faulty bookkeeping there was a difference in favor of the county at the close of the late secretary's term of office of $3,128.34.

Mr. Belyea, in presenting the report of the special audit, gave a particularly clear explanation of the work carried on, which showed the difference of $3,128.34 in the county's favor when the present secretary took office, and gave a new account of parishes' balances as established by their audit. These balances are as follows: Alms, $30.05 credit; Coverdale, $37.55 credit; Elgin, $850.90 debit; Harvey, $2,119.27 debit; Hillsboro, $745.16; Hopewell, $2,654.31 debit.

Tax arrears were found as follows: Alms, $194.90; Coverdale, $518.22; Elgin, $1,293.10; Harvey, $2,173.71; Hillsboro, $1,793.16; Hopewell, $3,185.48. The report gave the following statement of assets and liabilities:

ALL day long we are in almost constant contact with germ-laden things—things which others have touched. Wherever there is dirt, dust or grime, there is danger of infection. Lifebuoy, the ultra-refined antiseptic soap, the most widely used soap in the world, is your sure safeguard. It's bland, creamy lather opens and purifies the pores and lets them breathe, keeping the skin satiny-smooth and healthy, and free from infection. Until you have used Lifebuoy for bathing, you will never know how wonderfully invigorating a bath can be.

ELECTION ISSUES

The political prophets appear to be unanimous in their opinion that the federal elections will be held in the month of September.

It is practically conceded that the two main issues will be the vote of censure of the late Liberal administration as a result of the customs equity, which, it is to be expected, the Conservatives will capitalize, and the question of the constitutionality of the Governor-General's action in refusing dissolution to Mr. King and later granting it to Mr. Meighen, which evidently the Liberals intend to exploit in an attempt to drown the noise of the Conservative barrage.

Each party must have something new to talk about and these two matters are the only things of any importance which as yet appear on the political horizon.

As for the other issue, that of the constitutionality of the Governor-General's action, it is unfortunate that such a question should be dragged into Canadian politics.

Odds and Ends

Priceless Things (Mrs. R. N. Matheson in Calgary Herald) Such priceless things to me have come— The rose that blooms; the dawn that's lent For one brief hour, then is gone— Yet made life seem a sacrament.

THE SPRINKLER

When discussing in Council the installation of the sprinkler system in the West Side sheds, Commissioner Bullock, with reference to the approval in principle by the Board of Fire Underwriters of the city engineer's specification, is reported to have said that it looked as though the Underwriters were trying to "put a crimp on the work and to see that some certain contractor got the job."

These comments would seem to have arisen through the Underwriters' proviso that approval is given to the principle only and as a preliminary to be followed by "detailed plans of the various bidders to be approved by them."

Just Fun

TURPENTINE—"But won't the trolley cars bother you in your new flat?" Babbling Brook—"Oh, dear, no. The landlord says not after the first few nights, and you know we can spend the first few nights at my aunt's."

IN NEW YORK, it cost $21,000 to polish the cupholders in one building last year. The advice to aim high isn't always so good.

A YOUNG country minister, noted for his lollity, was dining at a farmhouse one Sunday, and when his plate of roast chicken was passed to him he remarked, "Well, here comes that chicken enters the ministry." "Hope it does better than it did in lay work," answered grudgingly farmer.

Timely Views On World Topics

EUROPE HAVING CHANGE OF HEART SEIPPEL BELIEVES. By DR. IGNATZ SEIPPEL, Ex-Chancellor of Austria, Priest, and now U. S. Visitor. THE people of Europe have learned since the war that they have one great problem and one duty before them. Not only the people of Austria but of all Europe; not only the people of Europe but of the whole world must understand each other, and stand together to prevent another such calamity as the last one.

The Condition of Austria.

Politically, Austria is perfectly stable. There are no more surprise coups, no more sudden overturns of government. In Parliament and Christian Socialists and Pan-Germans command 82 out of a total of 165 seats, just one short of a majority over all other parties. The same political situation exists in the provincial governments of the republic.

POEMS I LOVE

Le Gallienne's Version of The Rubaiyat. O listen, love, how all the builders sing! O sap! O song! O green world blossoming! White as the hand of Moses blooms the thorn, Sweet as the breath of Jesus comes the Spring.

And love with rose-leaves all the ruin hides. Beneath the grass, out in the sun and rain, Lifts a daisied head to hear him sing. The sacred slumber of the happy dead. Ah! tread upon it lightly, lest you wake The sacred slumber of the happy dead.

Wine is the tender friend of suicides, You drown so softly in its gentle tide; You know not you are dying, yet you die; And flower-like ladies tread again to flowers.

Queer Quirks of Nature

FISHES HAVE ENEMIES BESIDES THE HAWKS. By ARTHUR N. PACK. FISHES have enemies besides the obvious ones like the fish hawk and the angler, and of these none is more deadly and insidious than the fungus disease which sometimes attacks and eventually kills them.

It manifests itself by tiny white specks on the head or body or sometimes on the tail or fins, and rapidly extends over the entire surface and penetrates the tissues. The remedy most readily applied by the aquarist is a solution of salt water which often arrests and overcomes the disease.

Handling fish with dry hands has just one tendency to cause the removal of some of the slime, and so renders the fish liable to the attack of the fungus.

In most states fish below a certain size cannot be legally caught, and if an angler by mistake they must be returned to the water. In such cases, wetting the hands before touching the fish will improve its chances for survival after being released.

DEADLY FUNGUS. wedding, and I have a little surprise for you!" "Yes?" said his silver-haired wife. He took her hand in his. "You see this engagement ring I gave you 70 years ago?" "Yes," said the expectant old lady. "Well, I paid the final installment on it today, and I am proud to announce that it is now altogether yours!"

A YOUNG MAN of Cleveland who had failed to pay his laundry bill, endeavored to turn the Chinese aside from inquiry by an attack upon his manner of speech. "Why do you say Filday, John?" he asked. The Very Idea!

By Edith Wharton

HARMLESS I've heard a particular friend of mine relate of his stunts as a child. The story he tells me is always in line with the things that are terribly wild.

As years rolled along and he still had his say, he turned to his business career. "I knocked all the obstacles out of my way." Yep, that's what he forced me to hear.

But, say, all his chatter is taken in fun. I've often imagined, some how. He talks of the things that he wishes he'd done. His mind's merely living them now.

SEZ THE WIFE: "I THOUGHT you said you were down to the office last night." "Matter of fact, the gay lotharios are staying a heap later these days than they did when girls really did go on buggy rides. Or, I should say, these nights."

As soon as people grow out of that age themselves, they delight in arguing that a young man caller should go home earlier.

Maybe it's because parents aren't home to send the young man home. Anyway, if I had to take sides in the argument, I believe I'd have to be in favor of young men bidding the fond goodbyes earlier— in the morning.

If it weren't for the palms in classy restaurants waiters wouldn't make near as much money.

SHE—"Wonder why so-and-so never minds her own business." HE—"She hasn't any of either."

ONCE THERE WAS A YOUNG MAN WHO SPENT PRACTICALLY ALL OF HIS EVENINGS OVER AT HIS BEST GIRL'S HOUSE PERIOD ONE NIGHT COMMA HOW- EVER COMMA HE FAILED TO BRING SHOW UP AND THE GIRL EX- PLAINED THAT IT WAS RAIN- ING TOO HARD OUTSIDE FOR HER LOVER TO VENTURE FORTH PERIOD THEREUPON THE GIRL'S FATHER RE- MARKED THAT SHE HAD A FINE FAIR WEATHER SWEETIE COMMA BUT A POOR RAIN BEA PERIOD.

If You Never Invite Yourself for a Visit, if You Never Make a Free Roadhouse of Your Friends' Country Homes, if You Can Fall in With the Food and the Plans of Your Hostess, You'll be One of Those Rare Birds, a Truly Welcome Guest.

HERE are a few don'ts for the summer visitor: Don't be a self-invited guest. Chief among the social pests upon whom we would like to see some peculiarly potent and fatal insecticide are those who write us that they are pining for a breath of sea air, or longing to rest and relax in the country, and would like to come and spend a few days with us.

All normal means of communication are still open. The postoffice, the telegraph and the telephone are functioning as usual, and you may be very sure that any of your relatives or friends pine for your society and desire a visit from you they would have no difficulty in communicating the fact to you.

DON'T surprise even your nearest and dearest by dropping in upon them without warning. A surprise is always a boomerang that annihilates the perpetrator by insuring her a frosty welcome.

Nobody in the world loves anybody else enough to want to have all of their plans and arrangements upset by the sudden descent upon them of an unexpected guest.

THERE are a thousand domestic contingencies that make us loathe the sight of the person who comes at an inopportune moment, when we would be glad to see on some auspicious occasion. No amount of affection enables us to greet Aunt Sally or Cousin Sue with anything but a sickly smile when they pop in on us when the cook has just left in a huff, or the baby has the measles, or the house is jammed to the roof.

Don't forget when you are asked to pay a visit that an invitation is non-transferable, and is intended only for the use of the individual to whom it is issued. It does not include the other members of your family, and it most particularly doesn't include your children. Neither does it include your pet pooch.

POSSIBLY there are good Samaritans who are heroic enough to invite a mother with children, or a woman with her pets, to pay them a visit. But creatures of this high, heroic mold, martyrs craving suffering, are as scarce as hen's teeth, and are not to be taken for granted. Most people would rather have a spell of sickness than a week-end visit from a mother with children, or a woman who talks baby talk to a Pookiesie, so don't take along your encumbrances unless it is so stated in the bond.

Don't, when you are making a motor trip, arrange your schedule so to spend the night, or arrive at luncheon, with friends. Of course, this materially lightens the cost of your outing by saving the hotel bills, but it is rough on your involuntary hosts. If you could even dimly apprehend what the Joneses are thinking when they see you drive up to their door just at dusk with a car full of people, half of whom they have probably never seen before, you would push on to the next town if it took your last gallon of gasoline, for they are despising you as you deserve for the cheap gratifier that you are.

IF YOU will observe, you will see that the first year that people own a country place they are wildly enthusiastic about it. The second year they are non-committal, and the third year it is for sale. The reason for this decline and fall in love for the great free spaces is because every one who lives along a motor road is forced to keep a free roadhouse. There is no other way in which you can cater yourself to your friends as by passing them by, unless they have specifically invited you to park in their guestroom at a certain specified time.

Don't visit at all, if you are a food faddist, or are on a diet. If you have to have your cereals cooked in some peculiar way, or some special bread that is unobtainable at the village bakery, or you can't eat fish or meat or vegetables that haven't been steamed for nine hours and forty-five seconds, then, for pity's sake, stay at home where you can humor your stomach, or go to a hotel where you can pay for the trouble you cause.

SERVANTS are never so temperamental anywhere else as they are in the country. Food is far more difficult to get than it is in the city, where there is a butcher shop and a fancy grocery around every corner, so don't make the poor, overworked housekeeper's lot any harder by forcing her to cater to your dietetic whims.

Don't visit unless you are adaptable and able and willing to fall in with all the plans your hostess has made for your entertainment. She is spending time and money and effort trying to give you pleasure, so whether you enjoy things or not, give a lifelike imitation of having the time of your life.

NO OTHER people on earth are so exasperating as are those guests who accept an invitation to the seashore, yet refuse to go in the water, or to fish, or even to eat fish, or who come to visit you in the mountains and will neither walk nor look at a view; who will not play cards in a bridge den's house, or picnic with one who loves getting back to nature, and whose sole function is to wet-blanket every occasion and take all of the pep out of it.

All of us know the idiosyncrasies of our friends, and about what will be expected of us when we go to their houses. It is only decent to play their game their way when we are eating their bread.

DON'T blame your hostess if it rains, or the weather is too hot or too cold. She can't do a thing about it, and she feels worse about it than you do. Don't criticize her friends, or tell her how to raise her children or manage her house. She didn't call you in as an efficiency expert.

Don't flirt with your hostess' husband or her son or her brother. It isn't playing the game. During a visit is a closed season for affairs with the male members of a household.

DON'T stay too long. Don't wear out your welcome. When your hostess begs you to prolong your visit, she is merely acting up to the properties. Don't take her seriously. She is keeping her fingers crossed for fear you will take her at her word.

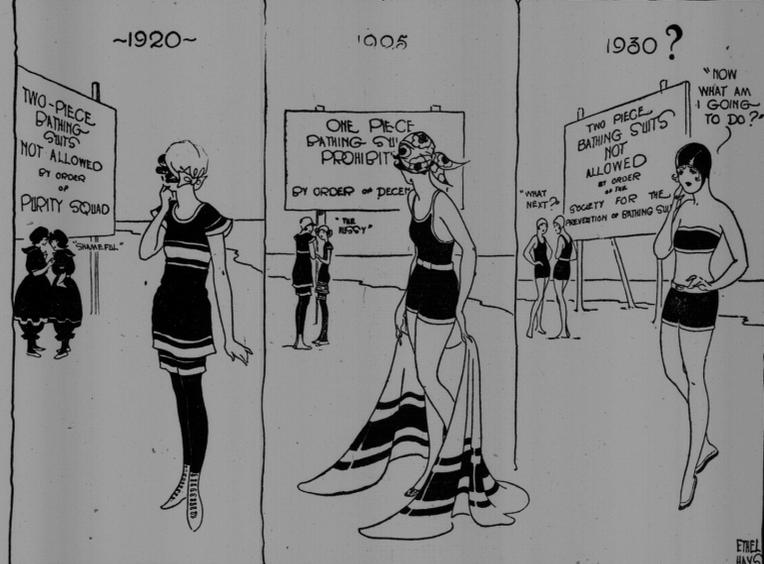

Don't fail to read Proverbs' twenty-fifth chapter, verse seventeen, every night when you read your chapter in your Bible. DOROTHY DIX

THIS SMART BATHING SUIT IS DEVELOPED IN SEA GREEN TAFETA.

By Marie Belmont

This is the effective tone, unrelieved by a contrasting note, and the material is taffeta. The model is made with an elongated neckline and short full skirt, revealing green taffeta panties beneath with turned-up cuffs. The high collar is finished by a bow at the back, with a matching larger bow at the back of the waistline.

The comparative stiffness of taffeta, which does away with the clinging quality, makes this material one of the most favored for bathing suits that really are to be used for bathing.

BUCHAREST, July 7.—The Rumanian steamer Dacia has sent a radio call for help from the Black Sea, reporting a terrific hurricane there. The Dacia's message reports that it is in danger of foundering if help does not reach it shortly, and that the Russian and Turkish steamers Lenin and Ahmed, carrying cattle, have been lost and their entire crews drowned.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

IT IS often said that few film stars are truly beautiful. Personality and acting ability count for more than good looks before the camera. Without make-up and unusual clothes they look even as you and I and many of the most popular are not a whit more attractive in appearance than the girl next door or the boy across the street.

Honestly we didn't mean to repeat the worn out adage that there's an exception to every rule, but in speaking of Corinne Griffith, what else can we do? Corinne is always pointed out as one of the few beauty contest winners who have made good in movies and now a pulchritude expert has hailed her as the most beautiful woman in the United States.

Corinne's been a success almost from the time she entered the contest, and her most recent production. She plays the part of a grand duchess at the time of the Bolshevik uprising and the fall of the Romanoffs.

The movies have another Danish importation. She is Dodi Rosine, who has been signed by First National for a role in "Delicatessen." She is known for her character interpretation of the Danish and American stage.

SEE-SAWING ON BROADWAY

MANHATTAN'S oldest, and perhaps most famous, "fop house" is located on the Bowery, not far from Heer street.

Here, for 20 cents a day, a man may obtain shelter. In past years, when the clinging quality, makes this material one of the most favored for bathing suits that really are to be used for bathing.

THE tides of four-pursed men ebb and flow with the seasons. Winter finds the place the scene of a rush, but with the warm weather the men flow out, hither and yon, to the "occupational jobs."

AND yet, though the summer days call them into the out-of-doors; to farms and road gangs and summer resorts and railroad camps, they are back in Manhattan with the first sting of frost.

What is the lure that brings men back to 30-cent rooms and meager rations and benches in Ewing Green?

AND yet they do come back, as one can learn from a chat with a manager who has been on the job more than a quarter of a century.

And one learns, too, that all recent the use of the word "derelict" in connection with their fraternity. They are "poor men," yes, but their reputations have been colored by a few "drunkards."

What talks these dear looking places hold!

In one, I am told, there lives a man who each day for 10 years has called at the desk for a letter that has not yet come.

He never passes the desk without making inquiry, and each time the clerk shakes his head the man resignedly shrugs his shoulders and ambles on.

Is this your BIRTHDAY?

JULY 7.—You are inclined to be domineering, and not always as considerate of other people as you might be, although in large things you are kindly and sympathetic. You are ambitious and capable, and held in high esteem. You can make your home life very happy. Cultivate usefulness and generosity, and never listen to gossip.

Your birth-stone is the ruby, which means contentment.

Oh Henry!

The Dollar Quality 10¢

Oh Henry! shattered more traditions than bobbed hair and short skirts. It proved that fancy boxes and gold labels have nothing to do with quality—and that 10¢ buys as fine candy as a dollar bill.

Nine million bars a month—this is Oh Henry's record—and made on sheer goodness and flavour which have never been equalled in the form of a candy bar.

Milk chocolate, smooth as satin—Caramel, made of whole milk—crispy, crunchy Spanish nuts—with a Butter Cream center that fairly melts in the mouth.

This is Oh Henry! for 10¢—the best candy you ever tasted. Try it. Order a few bars at your grocery, drug or candy store.

Mail 10¢ (stamps or silver) for a copy of the Oh Henry! Book of Recipes. Try several of them for cakes, salads, summer dainties. After that, you will keep Oh Henry! in the pantry like chocolate.

Revival of Buying Oil Shares Features Wall Street Opening

MONTREAL, July 7.—Trading on the local Stock Exchange during the first half hour this morning was confined mostly to Brazilian, over 1,000 shares of this issue changing hands. This stock opened with an overnight gain of three-quarters to 98¢, and sold steadily at that level. Dominion Bridge began the day at 101½. Mackay, at 132, was the strong spot of this period, being up one point at 132. Other changes included Breweries, up one-quarter at 61½; Atlantic Sugar, off one at 25, and Belgio preferred up one-quarter at 95½. Smelters did not make its appearance on the board during the early trading.
NEW YORK, July 7.—Revival of buying activity in the oil shares featured the opening of the stock market today with prices generally following an upward course. A brisk demand developed for Marland, Standard Oil of California, Union Oil of California, Phillips Petroleum, Lago and Pan American Western, in response to reports of expanding consumption. Motor and Independent Steel shares were firm, but United States Steel eased off fractionally.

This Texas gas well had been burning for 13 days when this picture was taken, 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas being destroyed. The fire resisted all efforts to check it, and the flames were visible at night at Amarillo, Texas, 50 miles away.

Morning Stock Letter

NEW YORK, July 7.—Stocks softened somewhat yesterday after a strong opening. The closing was considerably lower than the opening. A number of the leading industrials. Since the market closed strong last Friday, however, and the first hour brought a number of advances yesterday there were a good many profits that could be taken. Realizing is usually heavy on a day following a holiday, if stocks were strong. Generally speaking, there was nothing new in the situation to affect prices. So far as we can see there is no change in the character of the market. We believe the good stocks are going to continue to advance and that on any reactions they can be bought. It is likely that more profit taking will be in evidence today and it may be a decline of a point or so in the leading issues we believe they can be bought.
Last week Steel advanced to new high territory and yesterday General Motors did the same thing. We do not think the advance in either of the other matters Overland, we believe, will be a feature. We expect highest prices also for the truck stocks. Radio Corporation has been hanging back lately and we believe it is a buy at the present prices. The same thing applies to Wright Aero. Stocks may come into favor now and then for a very short period of time, but have no particular carry-over. A good many of them, though, are able to hold at slightly higher levels each day, such as Houston, Phillips, Shell, Union, Texas Co., and they are likely to work slowly upward.

TERRIS MUST FIGHT OR BE SUSPENDED
Injury to Hand—Favorable Comment on McGuire's Showing
NEW YORK, July 7.—Sid Terris had his hand examined by the State Athletic Commission physician, Dr. Perry Lichtenstein, last week. Terris called his manager, Dan Caplin, and pleaded that a broken left hand would prevent his going through with the scheduled bout against Phil McGraw at the Polo Grounds on July 9, when the benefit show for the Foot Clinics of New York will be held.
Dr. Lichtenstein found that the fracture of Terris' hand was an old one and a chronic condition which would never improve nor never interfere with his boxing ability. The commission then decreed that Terris must go on against McGraw or be indefinitely suspended.
The atmosphere of the Garden was filled with opinion pro and con as to the prospects of the Dempsey-Wills bout being held in New Jersey or Chicago. Tex Rickard said nothing except that he expected to decide upon the place within the next ten days. It was announced that Rickard had received a telegram from Dempsey from Colorado Springs saying that the heavyweight champion had started training.
Mike McGuire's showing in his bout with Risio Thursday was the subject of considerable favorable comment. McGuire's name was not linked with that of any other boxer for a match in the near future, but it is expected that something will develop along these lines shortly.

TO START WORK AT GRAND FALLS BEFORE AUGUST

Formal Opening in Fortnight or Three Weeks, Says Premier

RATE OF STUMPAGE NOT CONSIDERED
Government to Hold Meeting in Saint John This Month
"The formal opening of the development work at Grand Falls will take place within a fortnight or three weeks, and not in August as I unintentionally remarked to the Fredericton press at noon yesterday," said Premier Baxter, who arrived in the city from Fredericton last night, the Provincial government having completed its business yesterday afternoon. Premier Baxter further said last night that the name of the firm awarded the contract for construction work in connection with the development of Grand Falls would be announced at New York before the end of this week.
The contract for the supply of power to Fraser Companies, Limited, by the Saint John River Power Company, this latter being the subsidiary company which will develop Grand Falls, was signed last night at Edmundton, Premier Baxter said.

STUMPAGE MATTER

The stumpage rate which is fixed before August 1 every year has not been considered yet by the Provincial Government, according to Premier Baxter when questioned on the matter today. There will be a special meeting of the government here the latter part of July but the Premier said it was hardly likely the stumpage would be considered at this meeting. Reports that the Government intended raising the stumpage from $2.50 per thousand to $3 as well as introduce the Quebec scale were premature.
July 19 is said to be the Government meeting date.

MAN WHO CORNERED COTTON MART DEAD

NEW YORK, July 7.—Financial, sporting and publishing circles today mourned the death of Edward Russell Thomas, majority owner of the Morning Telegraph.
Mr. Thomas, who was 82 years old, died late yesterday afternoon after a three days illness.
A picturesque figure in Wall Street and on Broadway, Mr. Thomas had a career also as an automobile and horse racing enthusiast and publisher. Born to wealth, he lost his fortune in the panic of 1907, but immediately began to work his way back to his former position. Among the cups credited to him was a two million dollars corner in the cotton market.

Weddings

King-King.
The marriage of Miss Elizabeth C. King, daughter of Rev. J. K. and the late Mrs. King, and Robert J. King, of New Haven, Conn., was quietly celebrated at the home of the bride's brother, Le Roi King, and Mrs. King, 79 Orange street, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. J. K. King, the bride's father, performed the ceremony. The drawing room was profusely decorated for the occasion with yellow and pink carnations, and ferns. The bride wore a beautiful French gown of wood-blower georgette, embroidered in orchid and blue, with hat, shoes and gloves to match, and carried a shower bouquet of orchid sweet peas, lily of the valley and sweetheart roses. As the bride and groom entered the drawing room for their wedding trip to the Venetian Love Song.
After the ceremony a reception was held at which only immediate relatives and friends were present. The bride's table was centered with a wedding cake and had for decoration clusters of sweetheart roses in crystal vases. Mr. and Mrs. King later left by motor for their wedding trip to the seashore on the coast of Maine. They are expected to be absent about a month.
The bride traveled in a tan ensemble costume, trimmed with metallic embroidery, and tan hat. The bridegroom is a graduate of the M. I. T. and is assistant director of the department of laboratory control, United States Rubber Company, in New Haven. Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding was Mrs. James McMillan, Campbellton, a sister of the bride.

Denyer-Till

In Saint Andrew's United Church at 3 o'clock this afternoon Miss Dorothy Grace Till, R. N., daughter of the late Charles H. Till was united in marriage to Ernest James Denyer of this city. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Martin L. Denyer, of Highland Park, New Jersey. The music during the ceremony and wedding march was played by Mrs. Denyer-Till.

The bridegroom, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Denyer, Lansdowne avenue, is one of North End's popular and well known merchants. The bride, who is a graduate of the 1924 class of the General Public Hospital, this city, and who has been professionally engaged in and near New York City, was the recipient of many beautiful and handsome gifts.

UNDERWRITERS SAY POSITION IS MISUNDERSTOOD

As Hiram Sees It

THE SETTLEMENT—We're gittin' fed up somethin' on thunder storms out here this summer. They come up an' go away an' come back agin as if they liked to keep us guessin'. The Hanner ain't never got used to 'em—an' the way she covers up her head when the fireworks begins at night makes me scart. She don't mind if it's like it was las' night afore we went to bed. The lightning was playin' almost every minute up to the north-east—an' they wasn't a clasp of thunder at all—it was so far off, it beat the exhibition fireworks all to pieces. Then along in the night the storm crep' up on us—an' along towards morning the big guns started an' the rain poured down on the roof—an' you'd think the lightning was a-burnin' tomatoes right close to the house. That was when Hanner took a long breath an' poked her head into 'em back as if it was a lightning conductor. Well, sir, this mornin' the sun was shinin' an' the robins singin'—an' the hull thing seemed like a nightmare. I mind a feller was killed by lightning once an' some folks said it was a judgment on him fer bein' a bad man. I could say if all the bad men had a judgment on 'em the lightning 'ud be givin' the papers a lot more noos—yes, sir, HIRAM.

GREAT VICTORY DEFEATED BY FINNISH YOUTH

C. Magnusson Receives Account of Race That Upset All Expectations

Charles Magnusson of this city has received from his home in the Adland Islands of the Scandinavian group, a newspaper which gives a full report of the defeat of the great Finnish runner Paavo Nurmi, by a youth named Frel Liewendahl, who appears to have been another surprise package like Johnnie Myles, the Sydney, N. S., lad who loved the colors of Stenroos, DeMar and the rest of New England this spring. Very meagre, if any, news of Nurmi's defeat seems to have reached this side of the water, so the paper received by Mr. Magnusson is interesting in translation.

The race occasion was a test on Nurmi's part to break the 1000 metre world's record held by a Swedish runner, Lundgren. It was also an attempt to equal the record of Mattias, the Greek, whose mark had been maintained for more than 10 years. So the eyes of athletic Europe were focussed on the wonderful Finn, who is also familiar to people on this side through his performances in the United States and because of his friendship with Thunberg and Stenroos, his speeding compatriots.

VICTOR IS SURPRISED

Liewendahl appears to have passed Nurmi during the last 100 metres of the race. Nobody was more surprised than the blond youth himself. He overtook his great adversary and left him in the rear with such little struggle that he thought the Finn was fooling him and would eventually put on one of his marvellous sprints and beat him to the tape. But Nurmi did not respond. He appeared to be in poor condition. The vast assembly was so stunned with surprise and disappointment at the fall of their idol that they forgot to give well-merited applause to the new running wonder that had sprung up amongst them.

In many ways the victory of Liewendahl and the circumstances surrounding it were identical with the unexpected victory of Johnnie Myles in Boston. The time was 2:32.11 for the winner and 2:32.2 for Nurmi, just one minute behind.

The general explanation given by sporting writers and friends of Nurmi was that the ex-champion was out of condition. So much so that he was suffering from a severe cold and had difficulty in breathing. In any case he lost his crown and the northern countries of Europe, where athletics is a fine art, the defeat of a national idol has far-reaching effects. Neither Liewendahl nor Nurmi was successful in breaking the record.

Ontario Tourists Say There Would be Great Rush of Visitors Here

Major and Mrs. H. B. Burgoyne and Major and Mrs. E. H. Lancaster, of St. Catharines, Ont., were in Saint John today on a tour of the Maritimes as part of an automobile journey of some four weeks including Ontario, Quebec, New England, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. MAKES QUICK HIT

New "Swap" Column in Times-Star Brings Results in Few Minutes

The "Swap" column, which made its first appearance on The Times-Star classified page yesterday, has met with immediate response. The advertiser who wished to swap a canoe received an enquiry thirty minutes after the paper was on the street. This example goes to show that there are great possibilities in swaps. Quite often an owner will tire of some article, or have no further use for it, and at the same time be open to make a swap for something needed. In today's "Swap" column an advertiser wishes to swap a complete camping outfit for a used car. Here is a great opportunity for a satisfactory swap. Look around and see what you have, then advertise it in the "Swap" column.

George J. Marr, school inspector for the Saint John district, has left for Toronto where he will take a special summer course. The department of education each year sends an inspector or member of the faculty of the Normal School to take such a course and this year Mr. Marr was chosen.

GOVERNOR DINGLEY SAILS

The Eastern Steamship Lines, Inc., steamer Governor Dingley sailed this morning for Eastport, Lubec and Boston. She has a fair sized passenger list and considerable freight. The Prince Arthur leaves Boston today for Saint John.
