I cannot but regard the formula from which Dr. Channing's Sarsaparilla is prepared, as one of the best possible combinations fire caused by explosions in mines. The interesting experiment of a 'Sunday science school" has been made in Edinburgh with very satisfactory results. Ninety-two pupils were enrolled, with an average attendance from November to July of sixty. The pupils were mostly of the artisan class, and youths who, owing to late business hours, could not avail themselves of evening classes.

It is well known that the the business of their husbands, and many Sahara was at one time much more of them seem to be the main stay of their families. The new fashion, therefore, is to have supposed that cities had been not so disastrous as it might be in other buried under its sands so recently as countries. A correspondent of the London Times asked a lady for the secret of success in the share market. "It is the simplest thing in the world," said she; "all you have to do is to buy." In fact, France has been so steadily prosperous since the war with Prussia that every one who has bought and held shares a little while has made money. The lady, however, was less than half right, for it is easier to buy shares than it is to keep them. When they begin to decline then fortunes are lost by speculators who have bought largely on credit, and have not the money to pay the sums demanded by their brokers in order to save their stock; so that there is no more certainty in this

Worth its Weight in Gold.

TORONTO, ONT., June 2, 1880.

H. R. Syrwens, Eac., Boston, Mass.

Sir:—Having been peruanded by a friend of mine to try Vesetins for Kidney Disease, with which I had been troubled for four years, I consented and have given it a fair trial, and am happy to say that I am relieved to such an extent that I can attend to my work with ease and comfort, which I was deprived of for over three years. The best medical men of Toronto have given my case up as hopeless. I have tried every kind of medicine I ever heard of, but with no avail whatever. Any person who may be afflicted with the same terrible disease I would certainly advise to try Vegetins, for I assure you (as many can testify) that it is undoubtedly the best medicine on record for the Kidney Disease. I am able to work at my trade as gilder and earn a living for my wife, two children and myself, through Vegetins, which I consider is worth its weight in gold Hoping that those who may give Vegetins a trial may receive the same benefit that I have, I remain, TORONTO, ONT., June 2, 1890. I remain, Yours respectfully, CHAS. COOKE, 106 John St.

After much delay, we are at length inormed as to the results of the census of Canada, which was taken in April last .-The population of the Dominion is not ascertained to be 4,350,933, an increase of 865,172 over the figures of 1871. Of this aggregate, however, 317,290 is due to additions of new territory, Prince Edward Island, British Columbia and the Northwest having come into Confederation since the last census was taken. The net increase in the four original Provinces of the Dominion is, therefore, 547,882. The following table shows at a glance the com parative population of the four old Pro vinces of the Dominion now and in 1871 1881. 1871. Ontario......1,913,460 1,620,851 for the four original Provinces of the Dominion in ten years. The largest increase is shown by Ontario which has aed 292,609 to her population, an increas of over 15 per cent. Quebec comes next with 166,953 more than in 1871; an increase of 14 per cent. Nova Scotia has added 52,785 to her population, or over 134 per cent, while New Brunswick only shows a gain of 35,535 or 121 per cent. These figures are sufficient to show that there will be no readjustment of electoral districts in favor of increased representation for New Brunswick, and that the only province that will have increased representation will be Ontario.

Prince Edward Island during the decade has increased from 94,021 to 107,781 or 14½ per cent while Manitoba has grown from 12,586 to 49,509. British Columbia and the Northwest are estimated at 160.

Hon. Mr. Blake's N. B. Meetings

having represented the Toronto Globe's corespondent as not being satisfied with the general effect and success of the Blake meetings in New Brunswick, that gentleman-Mr. Houston-addressed the follow ing letter to the St. John Sun:-

SIR: I have just seen in your issue of yesterday a reference to myself which I would not have ventured to notice had contains the fisheries statement for the year 1880, from which we glean the following particulars:

The expenditure for the several Provinces, and services in connexion with the fisheries, was as follows:

Ontario $17,304
Quebec 19,173
Nova Scotia 17,503
New Brunswick 17,804
P. E. Island 7,108
British Columbia 1,399
Manitoba 199
The total expenditure for the Dominion on account of fisheries for the year, was $86,162. The statistics are put together three drunken men at the whole of these meetings put together. How much of the absence of antagonistic interruption is due to the unexceptionable tone of Mr. Blake's speeches and how much to the mental attitude and spirit of toleration of the listeners I cannot tell, but certainly addresses so intensely polemical were never more quietly listened to or less frequently interrupted by the unreasoning fanatics who are seldom all absent from political gatherings. Let me add that I have not yet noticed an "absence of ethusiasm" at any of these meetings. There are ways and ways of expressing enthusiasm, and one can see at a glance that those who crowd to hear Mr. Blake, and who listen with manifest interest to and thorough apprecia-

FURNITURE EMPORIUM

The Golden Ball Boot and Shoe Store is the oldest established in Miramichi. It is now fifteen years ince we commenced business exclusively in the above line, and we can now point with pleasure, to hosts of patrons, who have invariably, purchased from us, during that length of time. The reason is plain. We buy entirely from the best manufacturers, consequently our goods give satisfaction. We might purchase cheap, shoddy goods (that are only meant to sell and not to wear) but by pursuing that policy, it would be impossible to retain our customers. The best goods are the cheapest in the end.

We have full lines of Infant's, Children's Misses', Youth's, Boy's Women's and Men's Boots Shoes, Slippers. etc.,

Trunks, Valises, and Hand Bags, Sole Leather and Shoe Findings.

Seven years ago we opened our FURNITURE EMPORIUM, and have witnessed a steadily increasing business. We keep in stock all varieties of BEDROOM, KITCHEN AND PARLOR FURNITURE, LOUNGES, SOFAS, HALL STANDS, WHATNOTS, WARDROBES, BOUQUETTABLES, SIDEBOARDS, EXTENSION TABLES, SPRING BEDS, IRON BEADSTEADS, STRETCHERS, ETC. And And after dinner they all retired to our Adelaide was like all other brides ; pack their trunks. she supposed that when she got married, she was going to step right into Paradise. Dear knows what girls are thinking about, to make such a mistake as that. But there-we're all mortal! If we wasn't, some of us would be angels, and some of us t'other thing-and I take it, that isn't the Lord's intentions at

"Yes, as I was saying, Adeline she was a young huosekeeper,—and, of plain enough, that she was just ready course, it was very kind for all her to burst out crying. husband's relations to come and visit her just as she was putting up her curtains and putting down her carpets. Uncle Peter Poole, too, on Adeline's own side, came on from Wisconsin, with his wife and the two boys. Said he shouldn't have thought of such a think if Adeline hadn't been housekeeping. And I don't suppose he would; for Uncle Peter Poole was one of your economical sort, and hotels do | you never saw such a looking place. If cost a deal of money. And old Miss a whirlwind of old coats and packing-Caroline Carter with her mother—they paper, spectacle cases and rusty haircanne; and Amariah Hazeldean came; pins had blown through all the rooms, and finally, Adeline and her husband, they couldn't have looked worse than they slept on a mattress on the kitchen the Carters and Uncle Peter Poole's floor, and I stayed o' nights at Miss folks and Amariah Hazeldean had left Delford's, the milliner, two doors down it, up stairs. But the fire was burning the block. It was pretty hard, as you may believe, and Adeline said she didn't the girl, was back, smiling and courtesy. know how in the world she was going to stand it. But John Henry said it table set for three, and John Henry was our duty to be hospitable, and, after all, the relations couldn't stay forever. But after a little while it is a said Adeline looking to forever. But after a little while it did said Adeline, looking timidly up in his begin to appear as if some of 'em intended it!

"And there were other disagreeables. Uncle Peter couldn't eat salt-rising bread, and old Mrs. Carter said that yeast in any shape was poison to her. Amariah Hazeldean couldn't drink green tea, and Caroline Carter disliked black tea. Mrs. Poole said fried meat wasn't fit to eat, and John Henry's father, a nice old gentleman, only rather disposed to be fidgety, he liked his bit of bacon and liver fried in the pan with plenty of butter. Aunt Poole wanted minos pies, and Caroline Carter said people might as well swallow so much poison. Amariah liked dinner at noon and John Henry's father preferred two o'clock, and John Henry himself had to have it at six on account of his business. And between 'em all, I did think TIN. Adeline would have gone crazy, especially after the girl went away. but I can't stand twenty; no, nor no living soul couldn't!' And I didn't blame the poor creature !

"Well, but to go on with my story, The last straw that broke the camel's back was-pigs' feet! It don't sound exactly logical, I know," said Aunt Betsey, scratching the bridge of her nose, thoughtfully, with her knittingneedle, "but it's gospel truth, all the same. It was of a Monday, and the washerwoman she was busy in the kit chen, and me and Adeline we were in the dairy-room, cutting up the chickens to make a nice pot-pie for dinner, for John Henry was partial to pot-pie and said that Adeline's crust beat all creation for lightness and sweetness, though Uncle Peter Poole said that people might as well commit suicide as to eat boiled dough; when in comes old Mrs. Carter, smiling all over-she had a set of false teeth that didn't fit over well, and they did give her an awful wolfish look, when she was goodnatured!

"My dear,' says Mrs. Carter, 'what have you got for dinner?" "Adeline looked scared. 'Chicken pot-pie, Aunt Carter,' said she. Never mind the chicken pot-pie said Mrs. Carter, looking as if she was all teeth. 'I was just going past a market, and I bought you a dozen pigs

"' Pigs' feet !' said Adeline, and she looked at 'em as if they were so many pigs' tails. " I'm dreadful fond of pigs' feet," said old Mrs. Carter, 'Give 'em a good boil, because if pigs' feet aint tender they aint nothing.' "She had hardly got out of the room, for she was very stout, and walked like a waddling duck, when in came old Uncle Peter Poole by the basement door, with a brown paper parcel under his arm. " Niece,' said he, I've a pleasant surprise for you-pigs' feet. I like 'em boiled down and then sliced off and fried with a sprinkle of powdered sage. "Adeline looked at me.

"Aunt Betsey,' said she, ' what am I to do?" "'Do just as you was going to do," said I. 'Go on with the pot-pie.'

"Just then the door-bell rang, and in came a package with Amariah Hazeldean's name written in the corner .-'With compliments!' and if you'll be lieve me, it was half a dozen pigs' feet " Is everybody crazy? says Adeline. "She hadn't fairly got through saying it, before in walks old Miss Caroline with a basket.

" 'I hope you won't think I'm taking a liberty, Cousin Adeline,' said she triumphantly, 'but I was down to a wholesale grocer's, this morning, to get some cocoa for ma, (ma finds that she cannot drink tea nor coffee, so if you won't mind making the cocos, we shall be so much obliged), and I saw the loveliest pigs' feet there, so white and fresh, my dear! And if you'll just put 'em in a pickle, we can enjoy 'em for a relish.' "Adeline stood a minute, looking first at Caroline Carter and her basket, and then at the piles of pigs' feet on the table. And then she put down her knife, and untied the white housekeeping apron that she always wore in the " Bless me, Adeline,' said I, 'what are you going to do?' "'I'm going home to ma,' said Adeline, with a little hysterical gurgle

"'And who'll cook the pigs' feet?' said old Miss Caroline Carter, bristling up like a setting hen. "'I don't know,' said Adeline, 'and I don't care! One thing I do know, I won't submit to this imposition any onger! I'm going home to ma.' "So she did. And I gathered up all the pigs' feet and put 'em in the biggest

A. J. LOGGIE & Co. MECHANICAL ORGUINETTE

An Automatic Reed Organ.

"THE ORGUINETTE may now be called a celebrated instrument. In tone it is akin to the abinet Organ, but the organ must be n anipulated by an artist in order to produce music; the ORGUINETTE is on the other hand entirely mechanical in its action, and at trifling expense it can be made of furnish an unlimited supply of all kinds of music."— Toronto Globe.

"THE ORGUINETTE is indeed a musical wonder. It is a miniature reed organ, with as strong and melodious a tone as the Cabinet Size. It surpasses the Cabinet Organ, for the reason that the moramus in music can play it as well as the most accomplished professor. The Organisher organ and accurate in its mechanism, and consequently not liable to get out of order."—Montreal azette. "THE ORGUINETTE is the most perfect automatic musical instrument yet invented, it ertoire is unlimited, the tone is remarkably good."—Montreal Star.
