ALL THE BIG DRIVES NOW IN SAFE WATER

Gregory's and Cushing's Logs Reach Corporation Limits

A Most Successful Season—Mrs. William Walker is Dead at Fredericton.

FREDERICTON, N. B., June 3.—John Kilburn, representing Murray and Gregory, reached the city this morning. He reports that the Ferris drive consisting of some eight million feet, reached the corporation limits last night, and is now in safe waters. W. J. Noble, representing Messrs. Cushing, has also got his lumber in. This consists of about ten millions. All the big drives are now safely landed and the season has been one of the most successful on record.

The death occurred here suddenly last night of Mrs. Walker, widow of the late William Walker, at the age of 75. She deceased leaves three sons, ex-Alderman Joseph Walker, Harry Walker and William Walker, of the firm of Walker and Anderson, tailors, and one daughter, the wife of George H. V. Belyea, barrister, St. John.

MME. NORDICA EARNED $128,000 LAST SEASON

Last Year the Most Successful in History of Singer's American Engagements

LONDON, June 2.—Mr. R. E. Johnson, of New York, manager of Mme. Nordica, Yvonne, Jean, Gertrude, and other notable stars, is in London completing plans for the next American season. Mme. Nordica, through the interests of Mme. Nordica throughout her American visit, as he has done for four years already. The great singer opened at the Metropolitan Opera House on October 4. Last season was the most successful she ever had and Mme. Nordica earned more than $128,000. Yvonne had a guarantee four years ago of $50,000 for the season and Mr. Johnson estimates that she will earn at least $200,000. America is the magnet today, drawing the best of the world's talent in every line.

KEENE'S COLT PICKED TO WIN BROOKLYN HANDICAP

Colt, the Winner Last Year, is a Strong Favorite in Today's Race—Six Will Start

NEW YORK, June 3.—From an eligible list of 16 horses only six have been named over night to start in the twenty-third renewal of the Brooklyn Handicap which will be run today at Gravesend and which is the best of the thoroughbred races for the season. It will be the smallest field that ever faced the barrier in this classic event.

Top weight for the mile and a quarter journey has been assigned to James R. Keene's commando colt Celt, which has yet to take the dust from any horse save his own unbeaten stable mate and brother in blood Colin though the handicapper has been partial to him only by one pound for Celt will be asked to pick up 127 pounds as against 138 allotted Sam C. Hildreth's well tried Placid colt, King James, Frank Gill, Bestigouche, High Private and Berkeley are the other entrants. By reason of the fact that last year Celt romped home a winner of the Brooklyn in the record time for the race of 2:04 1/2 and in so doing defeated a manifestly better lot of horses than will compete with him today, he will in all probability be established a prime favorite in the betting. Though there will not be those lacking who will pin their faith to the other entrants, especially to the Hildreth horses King James and Bestigouche, the first named of which has earned the plaudits of the multitudes and rich stakes for his owner from the Atlantic to the Pacific and across the border in Canada. It is not improbable that Hildreth also will start the grand old campaigner, Montgomery, which made a show of the field in the second race at Belmont Park yesterday. Montgomery would be asked to carry 132 pounds. The Brooklyn Handicap is the fourth race on the card and the horses will go to the post about 6 o'clock in the afternoon. The value of the stake is but $5,000, $20,000 less than last year. The entries, the weights they will carry and the probable jockeys follow:—

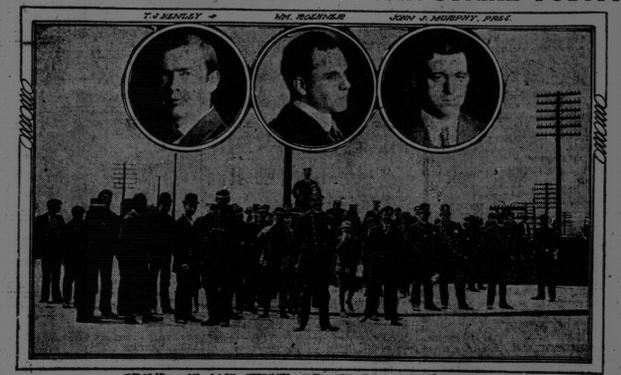

STIFF SENTENCES FOR FREDERICTON SOLDIERS

Nine Months for Woods, Eight Months for O'Leary—Dynamite Being Used in Search for Todd Brewer's Body.

FREDERICTON, N. B., June 3.—Bugler Woods and Private O'Leary, of the I. C. R., tried by court martial some months ago on several charges, received their sentence today, the finding being returned from Ottawa. The former gets nine months and the latter eight months in the county jail with hard labor. The body of Todd Brewer has not yet been recovered. Dynamite is being used today, but so far without any result.

Most of the low water wharves along the river are now under water and are being used by the steamers. They are all expected to be accessible in a short time as the water is falling steadily. This is expected to stimulate the business of the river steamers which as usual has not been large since the first rush at the opening of navigation.

MUCH DISORDER, BUT NOT VERY SERIOUS, IN THE PHILADELPHIA CAR STRIKE TODAY

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—Conditions outwardly were peaceful this morning in Philadelphia following last night's riotous outbreak in certain sections when the Philadelphia T. Company put into effect its order to run cars after nightfall a thing that has not been attempted since the strike of its motormen and conductors began last Saturday. All those injured in last night's riotous rioting will recover. About 400 are under treatment in hospitals. As illustrating the ugly feeling engendered by last night's rioting there were more minor disturbances this morning probably than at any time since the strike began. Four hundred additional sub policemen were sworn in this morning. Timothy O'Leary, assistant chief of police, declared today that if necessary to preserve order 10,000 extra men will be enrolled for police duty. PITTSFIELD, Mass., June 3.—The

ALF LYNCH IS BACK; NOT WELL PLEASSED

Thinks Decision in Montreal Was Not Fair

And Will Begin Training Now for His Fifth Bout With Dufresne, of Lewiston.

ALF Lynch, of Quebec, the well known boxer, has returned to the city following the instruction of Hazen Campbell, of Lewiston, Maine, whom Lynch is not at all pleased with his recent defeat at the hands of Max Dufresne, of Lewiston, Maine, whom they fought at Sohier Park, Montreal. He claims that the last that could have been given to him was a draw. Lynch had only ten days training and then gave the Maine boy a twenty minute performance. A ringside spectator of the fight says that there is no doubt the referee, Alf Bennett, is responsible for Dufresne getting the decision, and that the bout should have been declared a draw. On actual boxing points Lynch deserved a draw.

It was the fourth meeting between the two men. Twice the decision has been a draw. Once, at the Shamrock Club house a couple of years ago, Lynch won on a foul.

Lynch and Dufresne, who are now on even terms, have signed articles for another fight to take place in Montreal, and it will be one well worth seeing. This time there will be no weight giving. Both men are of weight 120 pounds at the ring-side, and the winner is to receive the big end of the percentage. Lynch will start in active training next week and the training quarters will be on Manawagonish Island. Hazen Campbell will look after the Quebec lad and is confident that at the next meeting the Winthrop checkers will be able to hand a defeat to the Lewiston lad in the proper manner. A match here between Lynch and some good man from the States would be greeted by the lovers of boxing.

DECREASE SHOWN IN GIFTS TO MISSIONS

Resolution of Appreciation to be Tended Mrs. Morton—Several Papers Read This Morning.

The fifth session of the St. John Presbytery commenced at 9:30 o'clock this morning with Mr. L. A. McLean in the chair. After the minutes of yesterday afternoon's session had been read and approved, Mrs. McLean, general secretary of the young people's work, reported showing the encouraging and discouraging sides of the work. She could not give an exact standing as all the reports were not in. The amount raised for foreign missions was $638.52; home missions, $175.55, and entertainment fund, $12, making a total of $826.62. There was shown to be a decrease of $125.42 for foreign missions, and $39.99 for home missions, the total decrease being $165.41. Mrs. A. W. Thompson, of Trinidad, gave an interesting address on Mission Band work. She advocated helping children by setting them to work to earn the pennies, and gave an illustration of the methods and results. The mother, she said, must take the lead now, if it is expected to have sturdy Christian parents to train the future generations. Mrs. Thompson gave an illustration of the native dress by gawking a child, the daughter of Mrs. Morton, the missionary. She also showed photographs illustrating the dress of the natives. Mrs. Ross made a motion that the St. John Presbytery express its appreciation of the splendid work that Mrs. Morton has been permitted to do in the past forty years and of the great assistance she has been to the auxiliary. Foremost among the good work was the establishment twenty years ago of a night school and girls' training home, all these without help from the church, she was ably assisted by Mrs. Thompson. The motion was seconded by Mrs. J. H. Thompson, of St. John, and presented to Mrs. Thompson, of Trinidad, to give to Mrs. Morton.

Mrs. R. C. Cruikshank read a paper on the "Needs and Problems of Mission Band Work." A paper on the "Encouragements and Weak Points of Mission Band Work" written by Mrs. Sutherland, of Nashua, was read by Mrs. Sterling and a lengthy discussion led by Mrs. Galbraith, of Lewiston, followed. Mrs. Craig of Sussex, gave a report of the work done by the mission band in connection with the Sussex church. The meeting adjourned at 12:30 o'clock to meet again at 2:30 this afternoon, when the programme is as follows:— Devotional exercises led by Mrs. Robertson. Minutes of previous meeting. Discussion of proposed revision of constitution. Address, Dr. Kate McMillan. Address, Mrs. McRae or Mrs. Thompson. Questions. Report of nominating committee. Report of committee on resolutions and courteous credentials. Place of next meeting. Hymn 591. "God be with you till we meet again."

FLEET OF AIRSHIPS ALONG THE COAST

This is the Proposal of U. S. War Department

But Plans as Yet are Very Indefinite—Will Work Along With the Coast Artillery.

NEW YORK, June 2.—According to a Washington special to the Tribune the Atlantic Coast from Maine to Florida will soon be protected from foreign invasion by a squadron of dirigible balloons if Congress can be brought to see the necessity and value of such defenses. This was learned at the War Department today where it was found that General James Allen, chief of the Signal Corps, has been ordered to formulate the plans for such defenses and that Major George C. Squier is engaged in the preliminary drawings. It has been decided that besides the protection furnished to the coast by the coast artillery, the war balloons are necessary for purposes of observation. It is the belief of General Allen that recent tests have demonstrated, even to the most conservative members of Congress, that the balloon and the aeroplane are to play a great part in the armament of every progressive nation and the war department has determined that unless the United States begins its development along these lines it is in danger of falling far behind the powers. Thus far little actual work on the preliminary plans has been done but the subject has been discussed at great length by the department aeronautic experts and a tentative agreement has been reached as to the lines along which the work will be taken up. These tentative plans contemplate ellipses of 250 miles each along the coast, at the ends of which two houses will be placed out of the range of attacking guns and will be constructed with due regard to the zones of action and bounded by the coast artillery. It is the purpose of the signal artillery corps and to this end numerous conferences have been held between the heads of the two defensive branches. At each of the stations situated at the end of an ellipse one dirigible balloon will be placed. There will be three balloon houses near each station in case a concentration might be necessary. These houses are also advisable because it is an axiom in the signal corps that there is little danger to a balloon while it is in the air. The danger arises when a landing is made or when the dirigible is at anchor. It is contemplated that the balloons will be much larger than those now in use by the Signal Corps and that they will be capable of performing the onerous duties to be imposed on them in their defence work besides being able to make longer flights.

SACKVILLE TO HAVE DOMINION DAY RACES

Three Classes Arranged, With Purses of $150

Death of Miss Lucy Bowers—Mrs. W. G. Matthews Addresses Sunday School Convention at Midgic.

SACKVILLE, N. B., June 2.—At a meeting of the special committee of the Sackville and Westmorland Agricultural Society held last evening, it was decided to hold a race meet on July 1st. There will be three classes, each with a purse of $150. Three minute class, 2:30 class, 2:19 class. All the races will be in mile heats, best three in five to harness. Purses will be divided into four monies. Entries close June 15th. Miss Lucy Bowers passed away early Wednesday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bowers, after an illness extending over several months. Death was due to tuberculosis. Deceased who was about twenty years of age, is survived by her parents, two sisters and three brothers. The sisters are Mrs. Warren Richardson, Sydney, and Mr. Percy Atkinson, Amherst. Her brothers are all resident in Sackville. The funeral will be held this afternoon. The parish Sunday school convention met in the Baptist church at Midgic yesterday. Both sessions were addressed by Mrs. W. C. Matthews, of St. John, elementary superintendent for the province. In the afternoon Mrs. Matthews gave an inspiring address on the cradle roll, while in the evening she pointed out the value of teaching supplemental lessons in the Sunday school. A vote of thanks to Mrs. Matthews was moved by Rev. E. L. Stouves and seconded by Albert Wheaton.

FIFTEEN HANGED FOR MASSACRES IN ASIA MINOR

Nine Mussulmans and Six Armenians Pay Extreme Penalty in Athens.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 2.—A telegram from Adana today announces the hanging of fifteen persons who took part in the recent massacres, nine Mussulmans and six Armenians. Nevertheless, according to news which has reached the Armenian patriarch here, the persecution of Armenians continues.

The Constantinople press announces that a fresh outbreak occurred in the environs of Konia. Eight hundred Mussulmans invaded two Armenian villages, but, thanks to the intervention of troops, order has been almost established. It has been learned that the Levant Herald announces that an attempt was made to blow up the house of the Governor of Lebanon at Beirut with dynamite. No one was hurt. Some disquieting symptoms are visible in Macedonia, where the appearance of a number of armed bands is causing considerable anxiety to the government.

Prince Bur Han Eddine returned to his palace last night, as no proof of his participation in the reactionary conspiracy could be found. The statements of German papers that proof had been found in Yildiz Kiosk that the French, Russian and Italian Ambassadors had been in the pay of Abdul Hamid are much commented on here. Two special embassies, headed by Tzovik Pacha and Marshall Moukter Ghaz Pacha, charged with the mission of announcing the new Sultan's succession, have left Constantinople. Tzovik Pacha will proceed to Vienna, Berlin and St. Petersburg, Moukter acha going to Rome, Paris and London.

VOLCANIC DISTURBANCE

MELTS SNOW ON MOUNTAIN

GRAND ICE SLOPE, COV., June 2.—An immense snow bank sixty feet deep lying on the slope of Mount Elliott, a 13,000 foot peak in southwestern Colorado, has melted within the past 48 hours and an immense column of steam is rising from the spot. The cloud of steam is visible for miles. It is believed that the phenomenon is caused by a volcanic disturbance. A mine located near the basin and worked several years ago was abandoned because of the intense heat encountered in lower levels. The deep snow on the mountain side prevents close investigation.

The Master Painters held a most interesting meeting in their rooms, Market Building, last night to entertain Mr. J. E. H. of London. Mr. H. is an expert color maker and demonstrated the process of color and paint making in a most interesting and practical manner. During the evening several speeches, songs and other amusements were indulged in, affording much pleasure to the large assembly.

About 10.30 on Saturday night the wife and children of Hugh Judge retired, leaving the lamp burning for the husband, who was to return on the train. For some reason the lamp exploded and scattered the oil through the room. The fire department was promptly summoned, but nothing could be done to save the furniture, which was insured for $200. The building which was badly gutted, was owned by P. H. Hise, and was insured for $500. Woodstock Free.

Another of Halifax's best known citizens, in the person of Thos. J. Munn, died at his home, 187 Lockman St. The deceased had been sick for some time, and his demise was not unexpected. For a number of years the deceased was an examining officer of H. M. S. Customs, and previous to that he conducted a cooperage shop on De Wolf's wharf. The deceased is survived by his wife, four sons—William, of the D. A. Mr. W. R. Montgomery, former head of the Hamilton Bank of New York, who is in the city at present, in connection with the case is brought to trial he will be able to clear himself of the charges preferred against him. It might be mentioned that many of the newspaper reports concerning Mr. Montgomery's case have been gross exaggerations. While it may be that he is guilty of a technical offence, it is believed, it will be shown that Mr. Montgomery acted in good faith and in the best interests of the institution of which he was the head. Nevertheless, Mr. Montgomery feels keenly the situation he has been thrust into, but is hopeful of shortly emerging from his trying position unscathed.

I was so bad that the next morning would make me jump and my heart would thump so you could hear it plainly and I could not lie on my left side at night. I saw a few testimonials of others and decided to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and to my great joy and surprise they completely cured me and it only took six boxes to do it. I have a neighbor, Mrs. Rickett, and I induced her to try them and they effected a cure. I can endorse them for anyone afflicted as I was."

A REMARKABLE CONFESSION

Man Admits Murdering His Sweetheart 100 Years Ago.

LONDON, June 1.—Whether it is owing to their unrelaxed consumption of yogurt, a kind of sour milk, or to their innate vitality, the fact remains that the Roumanians and Bulgarians are among the longest-lived people in Europe. The Bucharest newspapers, Adevarul and Minerva, recount the following: In the commune of Darmanesti, District of Bucac, there died the other day a certain Simion Stancu, aged 125. The old man, though very weak physically, preserved his mental acuity until the last, and a few days before his death sent for a priest and the local magistrate, and told them that he could not die in peace without having unburdened himself of a crime which he had committed 100 years ago.

ROY TO SUE GLACIA GALLA

French Detectives Have Been Seeking Divorce Evidence in This Country.

BOSTON, June 2.—Through the activity of three French detectives who have been making inquiries in the vicinity of her home town, it has been brought to light that a new move in the Glacia Galla case is contemplated. It is declared that a suit is soon to be brought in the courts of France which for sensational features will totally eclipse the action in which the famous New Hampshire beauty charged her husband, Paul E. Roy, of Paris, with the murder of her brother, George Carlin.

Headed by Primaux, one of the leaders from the French capital, these detectives have been collecting evidence and have been shadowing Glacia Galla since she left her home in Newington last summer shortly after the indictment of her husband for murder by a Portsmouth jury. The detectives have examined the court records of Rockingham county and also the hotel registers in Portsmouth, Dover, Newington and Concord, N. H., as well as in Haverhill, Lowell, Boston, Salem, Worcester and New York.

College Pitcher Goes to National League—Leads Championships.

NEW YORK, June 2.—John Heydler, acting president of the National League, handed down his decision today regarding the protested Brooklyn-Pittsburg game of May 15, which was won by Pittsburg, 4 to 6. Brooklyn entered a protest that one of the runs scored should not count, a player being on his way to third when Pitcher Motley threw into the crowd. The Brooklyn club contended that Miller, who made the tally, had not passed second when the wild throw was made, but the testimony of the umpires and certain spectators was of an opposite trend and the home team's protest is disallowed.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT.

CAN BE TIED UPON ROSSMAN; TIGER FIRST SACKER CAN'T THROW

CLAUDE ROSSMAN, first baseman of the Detroit team, is through with major league baseball, because Hugh Jennings (traded Catcher Ira Thomas, the boy with the gleaming food grinder, to the Athletics. Sounds funny, doesn't it. Thomas was with the Tigers last year and had every chance to learn the strength and weakness of the team which has twice won the American League pennant, so when he was handed over to Connie Mack he naturally told that wise old owl all he knew about the champions, but didn't exactly friendly toward the champs. He told Mack the decisive weakness of the Tigers was Rossman's inability to throw, something the wisest had not discovered.

Some Remarks Heard at the HAPPY HALF HOUR Last Night

"I read of how good your singers were and thought it the usual reports, but when I saw them advertised to sing from La Traviata I thought they must be extra good or extra bad, so I came down to hear them. They are simply splendid, and the public are not yet aware of how good they are. No doubt they are as skeptical as I was." "Young man, if you charged 50c admission, no doubt the public would wake up to the fact that you have the two best singers heard here in years." Better try it. proved themselves delightful entertainers at the Provincial Hospital last evening. The band kindly volunteered to render a programme for the benefit of the patients. There were a number of selections of popular airs rendered and the patients were in high glee over the music. In addition a number of the members were heard in songs and readings. Messrs. McAndrews, McQuade and Treacren were applauded loudly in their singing.

FOR THE SAKE OF THE 'ID

(Continued) The Sparrow turned to us with a muffled curse. "Am I all the time begging the sergeant to send me to her," he said. "Oh, 'id' 'd' gone quick enough if 'd' 'a' had the coin to pay for it."

"What's the girl's name?" asked the Scratcher. "I don't know," answered the Sparrow. "And that's where you come in. You see, just then I heard some 'one come' along the hall to the other door and rather than take a chance on makin' a get-away I hopped into the bed and makes out I'm a drunk hobo. It was the guard's wife or house-keeper or something, and the holler she made was a peach. The fellow in the other room drug me out of the bed and turns on the burglar alarm and a cop comes and takes me with his nightstick, and over I goes to the Island."

GREAT "JONES" COMEDY AT THE STAR.

The Star is getting the pictures the people talk about. It is another of those famous Jones comedies of the Biograph Co., pictures that are so full of human nature, so true to everyday life that you are compelled to laugh long and loud over them. This one is called "Mr. Jones and the Lady Hook Agent." The others are a French Duet, Monte Buys a Motor, and two extra ones, "The Girl" and "The Good Show. Orchestra tonight and Frank Austin's new song. This popular stage farce will be given Saturday, and on Monday A. L. Weston, the Montreal boy, makes his bow. He is one of the finest balladists in the business.

GREAT CROWD LAST NIGHT.

The Princess Theatre was crowded at every performance last night. A popular actor who has taken up his residence in this city attended the show last night, and after the vaudeville was over he came to the manager and congratulated him on the very fine programme. He said the whole show was fine but that Dolly Burton and her dogs were the best that he had ever seen. When compliments like that come from such a source, the show must certainly be good. The vaudeville acts are Dolly Burton and her trained dogs; Yopper, the man who impersonates everybody but copies no one, and last but by no means least is Jules and Marion, a pair of the cleverest acrobats seen here in many a day. There are also four first class pictures and the Princess' own orchestra.

THE BERNIS SCORE A BIG HIT

Another large audience was present at Happy Hat Hour last evening and witnessed an excellent programme. Signor Stasano and Louise Berlin sang that beautiful duet from the third act of Verdi's famous opera, La Traviata, which opera is founded on the story of Camille. The applause which they received and the many highly favorable comments which were passed on their singing by a large number of our prominent music lovers, many of whom were present for the first time, was a sure sign of approval. To those who have not yet heard these singers we would say do so at once. You will be surprised as hundreds of others have been that two such artists can be heard for such a small price of admission. The Arpa Ladies' Orchestra rendered a splendid programme of music, and it rapidly gaining in favor. A few days they will introduce some novelties. The pictures comprise a strong drama, showing some delightful scenery of Sardinia, a transformation colored picture, and a splendid comedy. Since show today. The Bernis appear at 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, 8.30 and 9.45 in the evening. The Ladies' Orchestra appears both afternoon and evening, so that those who attend the afternoon show see the same performance as is given in the evening.

WANTED FOUR HUNDRED AND SEVENTY-SIX MILLIONS To Sooth His Feelings Which Were Outraged by Alleged Libel Four Years Ago.

BOSTON, Mass., June 3.—Dealing with a wide range of subjects from city politics in 1905 to the burning of witches in Salem, former Judge Henry S. Dewey opened his case in the superior court today in his own behalf in an effort to obtain damages to the amount of seventy-six million dollars from officials of the Good Government Association, who, he claimed, libeled him in the majority campaign four years ago.

PROMISING CLUE TO MISSING LINK Oldest Human Remains Found Near Heidelberg.

Other Evidence That the Remains Are Not Those of Any Anthropoid Ape or Gorilla. BERLIN, June 3.—Herr Schoenbeck, the German anthropologist, has apparently discovered a more promising clue to the missing link connecting man with the highest anthropoid race than Dr. Dubois in Java. Of the discoveries of the latter, Herr Schoenbeck declared that the cap of the skull was that of an ape, while the more recent finds were human, they were of the quarry at Mauer, about ten miles south of Heidelberg. He has now made an interesting discovery.

TO SET BRITISH FLAG ON UNKNOWN ISLAND

VICTORIA, B. C., June 3.—To look for islands believed to exist and plant the British flag on each, is the business on which the exploring steamer Nimrod, which took Lieut. Shackleton's expedition to the Antarctic, has sailed from Sydney according to a despatch received by the steamer Makara. Lieut. Shackleton says the present route is to the continent of Antarctica by a search in the sub-Arctic for several islands, the existence of which is doubtful.

ALL TEETH IN POSITION.

The remains discovered are of the utmost interest, being a lower jaw well preserved, with all the teeth in position. The jaw is of a size and shape that strikingly resembles a gorilla, the front part being as large as that of an adult and the teeth of the same size and shape as those of a gorilla. The general body of the jaw is much shorter than that of a gorilla, and the teeth are of a size and shape that are not characteristic of any human remains hitherto discovered.

CHARLOTTE COUNTY BECOMING A FAVORITE STAMPING GROUND FOR SURVIVING PARTIES.

Charlotte County is becoming a favorite stamping ground for surviving parties. In addition to the C. P. R. engineering parties who are ever with them, there have been a topographical surveying party from Ottawa in this neighborhood, two boundary survey parties, and now another party of engineers from Ottawa is working from the river backward along the Shore Line. Some day, perhaps, we will know what all these engineering parties are doing. But at present they are as silent as the claims that infest the sea shore.—Deacon.

OVER THE FENCE Neighbor Says Something

The front yard fence is a famous council place on pleasant days. Maybe to chat with some one along the street, or for friendly gossip with next door neighbor. Sometimes it is only small talk, but other times neighbor has something really good to offer. An old resident of Bland, Texas, got some mighty good advice this way once. He says: "Drinking coffee left me nearly dead with dyspepsia, kidney disease and bowel trouble, with constant pains in my stomach, back and side, and so weak I could scarcely walk. One day I was chatting with one of my neighbors about my trouble and he told her I believed coffee hurt me. Neighbor said she knew lots of people to whom coffee was poison and she pleaded with me to quit it and give Postum a trial. I did not take her advice right away, but tried a change of climate, which did not do me any good. Then I dropped coffee and took up Postum. My improvement began immediately and I got better every day I used Postum. My bowels became regular and in two weeks all my pains were gone. Now I am well and strong and can eat anything I want to without distress. All of this is due to my having quit coffee, and to the use of Postum regularly. My son, who was troubled with indigestion, thought that if Postum helped me so, it might help him, too, and he is now well and strong again. We like Postum as well as we ever liked the coffee and use it altogether in my family in place of coffee and all keep well." "There's a Reason!" Read "The Road to Wellville" in 1908. Ever read the above letter? A real one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

TROUBLE AT WINDSOR. United States Immigration Officers Blamed—Citizens of Windsor Affected.

WINDSOR, June 3.—Within the past week or ten days a considerable amount of hard feeling has been engendered by what the victims term the "pernicious activity" of the United States immigration officers, who are stationed at the ferry dock here. Citizens of the United States as well as Canadians who have returned from the Detroit River crossing (service has been stopped by American officers and subjected to a cross-questioning examination, sometimes of the most embarrassing character. The officers make many mistakes, and several times residents of the city who have been crossing the river daily for years have been held up and charged with trying to enter the United States in such a manner as to evade the imposition of the usual hard tax. These mistakes of judgment have undeniably created bitterness in the minds of those who are improperly stopped. As an illustration of what this system of espionage means, what occurred at the Windsor ferry dock this evening may be cited. Miss Hawkins, aged 24, daughter of a respected English family residing on Godouca street, attempted to pass through the ticket office and board the ferry boat for Detroit. She was accompanied by a gentleman. After they had paid their fares the two were stopped by the United States immigration officer on

A coachman in whose care you can trust your blooded horse will offer his services, if you use a "help wanted" ad. duty, who demanded the young lady's name, address, where she was going, and for what purpose, and also when she intended returning to Windsor. Miss Hawkins at first indignantly refused to give any information whatever, but finally, discovering that he intended prohibiting her crossing the river, told the officer what he wanted to know, and was after some delay, allowed to pass. It is a fact generally known that the American authorities are by courtesy and for their own convenience, permitted to place their inspectors on the Canadian side, but individuals destined for United States ports choose to exit their rights in the matter they need answer to questions of the United States officers until they have boarded the ferry boats and are within American jurisdiction, or in other words until the boat has crossed the line between the two countries. Some of the citizens of the United States threaten to bring the facts before the Secretary of State at Washington.

THE REAL BRITISH EMPIRE

(New York World.) The success of the South African Convention planning a national union has inspired British journalists to hope that Newfoundland will soon catch the contagion and join Canada, thus "tying up" into four groups the chief self-governing colonies. These groups, Canada, South Africa, New Zealand and Australia, form with the Mother Country the real British Empire. It is idle to reckon India and other native communities in which English families cannot permanently live in the same category. Unless human justice is a vain dream, these people all must one day become self-governing. They are now, though a source of trade advantage, a serious military weakness to Britain. "The men of the Four New Nations" is a fine phrase in Kipling's poetry, but even supposing them to be more closely joined to the home land, of which there is no present prospect, how much of a nation do they make? Omitting the uncivilized blacks of South Africa, and using convenient round figures, the present population is approximately: Britain 44,000,000 South Africa 1,200,000 Canada and N. F. 6,000,000 Australia 4,000,000 New Zealand 1,000,000 Total 56,200,000 The real British, as Imperialists see it, is a scattered group of loosely tied communities of 56,000,000 white inhabitants in spite of the prosperity of Canada, the white empire as a whole is growing very slowly. Great Britain grew in ten years, from 1891 to 1901, by only 2,871,000 souls. Germany grew in the five years 1900-1905 "on 56,387,000 to 59,641,000—an increment of more than four millions—and is now more than 64,000,000, a compact nation, growing in wealth and commerce as well as in population much more rapidly than Great Britain. The United States without its island possessions, has now about 88,000,000 people.

MR. CARNEGIE'S EFFORT.

British Newspapers See No Chance of His Succeeding. LONDON, June 2.—The Daily Mail published the New York Times interview with Andrew Carnegie proposing an international conference with the object of checking the increase of armaments. Editorially it says: "The doctrine Mr. Carnegie preaches is attractive, and we would wish to be the last to discourage any efforts to translate it into action, but the obstacles to the realization of his dream increase rather than diminish as they are approached. We see in monstrous growth suspicion and in naval activity disastrous results. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman's offer to negotiate with Germany for the limitation of naval construction at the peace conference at The Hague set the seal of the refusal of Germany. These failures were more than discouraging; they were dangerous, inasmuch as they brought in train new suspensions and new ambitions. While official international attempts failed, it is likely success will still be possible. The American Republic enjoys many privileges, but do the States possess a zero? The fact that the teaching of experience is against him, Mr. Carnegie means well, but we know what happened to our late amiable prime minister's equally well meaning attempt to obtain the limitation of armaments."

VICTOR HUGO'S BODY

Still Rests Ingloriously in Pantheon. PARIS, June 2.—Twenty-four years ago, after all Paris had passed before the bier of Victor Hugo as he lay in state beneath the Arch of Triumph, they carried the body to the Pantheon, mourning the fate of the man who had carried the body to the Pantheon. The inscription of the Pantheon reads: "Gustave Simon has just announced a discourse on the Pantheon denouncing that Hugo's coffin be brought out and placed under the dome or removed to Pere Lachaise. Attention having been brought to the matter, a movement has been inaugurated to place the poet's body under the dome in the spot marked by the memorial Rodin is now executing. Plans have already been made to remove the coffin of Rousseau and Voltaire and place them under their monuments, being made respectively by the sculptors Paul Bartholome and Victor Segoffin, and destined to be erected under the dome."

COMMON DEFENCE MUST GO HAND IN HAND WITH COMMON COUNSEL

England Should Seek and Act Upon the Advice of Her Daughters Across the Sea, Declares Sir Robert Perks Before Canadian Club—Advises Canada Not to Rush Into Vast Expenditures for Military Equipment—Refers to Hysteria at Home

In an address as eloquent and illuminating as has been heard in St. John for some time, Sir Robert Perks appeared before the Canadian Club last night at the luncheon tendered him at Keith's Theatre. He dismissed the purely local issues with which his visit to this city is chiefly concerned and striking a fuller and more significant note, confined himself wholly to the great imperial questions of the day. There was little that he touched upon that he did not illumine, and he said nothing that was not listened to with absorbing interest by the large concourse of citizens present.

Chiefly of the Bonds Sir Robert spoke chiefly of the bonds that unite a united Empire. He referred to the potentiality of a perfected system of communication and declaring, with Kipling, that Canada's greatest need was men, impressively urged the supreme importance of a systematic policy of immigration.

Remarks of the speaker were frequently punctuated with applause and upon resuming his seat he was greeted with a perfect storm of cheers. The president in introducing the guest of the evening referred to the brilliancy of his achievements and remarked the satisfaction it gave the Canadian Club to have with its distinguished Englishman. In closing he ventured the hope that Sir Robert would be identified with the future construction of St. John's dry dock.

PROLONGED CHEERS. Sir Robert Perks was received with prolonged cheers upon rising. Said he in part: "I feel it a very great honor and regard with no little sense of responsibility the privilege of addressing the men who go to make the genius of St. John."

"You would not have me, I think, however, refer to this wonderful city as touching its fitness for the purposes of a dry dock, the more especially when those of you conversant with the enormous possibilities of the thing have desisted in its working out. "Sir, it surprised me very much to hear this afternoon of the many eminent men who have addressed you. I cannot attempt to speak with the wisdom of eloquence of them, but I find it is not without your province to become acquainted with the large imperial questions of the day, however much you refer to that admirable idea of excluding politics from your discussion.

"Gentlemen, I admit that there are politicians today who have uttered unparaphrased phrases concerning the relations of Great Britain to her dominions across the seas. But I need only remind you that wherever it has been contended that these little Englishmen have had to abandon their smaller views.

"Now, gentlemen, we were reminded last night that sentiment is one of the strongest bonds of Empire and it is not necessary for me to refer to the national flag that leads the forces in the field and in the devotion to country that inspires the men of the strongest links that bind the Greater England. But there are other bonds to which we must also pay little attention. May I speak for a moment of these?

FREE COMMUNICATION. "In the first place there is the importance of free communication. You have been doing something of late to improve your plans of rapid transportation and I think that you are open to congratulation in that you have been able to induce some of the greatest steamship lines of the world to include Canadian ports in their schedule. "It would be useless to develop your ports were you not to offer greater facilities in the construction of your great transatlantic liners, so that freight may be carried expeditiously to its destination. "I do not know whether or not you attach much importance to the air-roads route. I can assure you, however, that when the project reaches the basis of practical agreement between the sister dominions it will receive the enthusiastic support of the Liberal party in the House of Commons. But not only do we have to watch the progress of quick transportation on sea and land, we have to follow it in the air.

JUDGE FORBES' REMARK. Judge Forbes interrupted at this juncture with a reference to the British preference in favor of the fifteen gages brought into Canada. "I do not believe," he said, "that if someone were to construct a fence twenty feet high extending a man to jump over it the lowering of the structure by two feet would not especially inspire him to any very great added effort."

Continuing, Sir Robert said: "Between these two limits, the position we demand and the position you demand there is a boundless domain which can only be successfully explored by our diplomats. There is, in fact, one way that we may take in the inspiration of the Empire. It is to bring into Canada Englishmen, good people and sound mental capital. As soon as we talk organized immigration we are up against the trades unionists and the well-to-do farmers of England. But despite this, gentlemen, it is the men of this class that are leaving England. I do not believe the charge to be true that no Englishmen need apply in Canada.

"If he is prepared to do the work of a man he is welcome to take it. If he is here simply because his people do not want him at home I am surprised that Canada turns him down. But if you want to fill your country to the best advantage you must enter into a systematic policy of immigration. Your country has been marvellously boomed, so marvellously boomed that you yourselves, I know, are almost beginning to believe the very exaggerated of the good of you that is being advertised."

Continuing, Sir Robert protested against the practices of lesser immigration officials in obtaining men to undertake the trip. Proceeding, he said: "You want organized immigration and direct communication with the authorities in England so as you may secure the best we have to offer."

AIRSHIP GHOST, WAITERS, SPIES

Three Things Causing Some Englishmen to Worry.

Strange Clear-shaped Clipper of the Clouds Reported From Numerous Localities in Britain.

LONDON, June 2.—Half the population of East Anglia these days is keeping late hours and watching for a mysterious airship which appears and disappears like a ghostly apparition.

On Tuesday, March 23, a Peterborough policeman reported that at 6.10 a. m. an airship passed over the city, leaving a long and narrow and powerful light. He heard the whirr of its machinery as it sped rapidly out of sight.

As neither the government nor any individual in England possessed an airship of this description the popular comment upon the policeman's story was "Nightmare while asleep on duty."

But after a few days that airship became a regular scare-ship and as familiar to the natives of the eastern counties as the sea serpent is to the ancient mariner.

Search for facts has led to the discovery of more than one native of East Anglia who could put to shame Jules Verne and H. G. Wells in their wildest flights of aerial imagining. One yokel, recalling the policy of the newspapers, was enlighteningly narrated to a reporter a wonderful story of a misty night of armored aeroplanes, every one of them bearing the German flag, tearing noisily through space in the dead of night like a flock of vultures ready to pounce upon their defenceless prey. The story was cheap at a dollar.

But whatever tricks imagination is playing in the affair there seems to be a certain amount of evidence which cannot be lightly ignored. From many towns some descriptions of this clipper of the clouds which agree on certain vital points.

ONE MAN WHO SAW IT.

All tell of a strange clear-shaped craft with brilliant headlights whirling above in the darkness and traveling very swiftly. Here is the account of one man who has seen it, and it is set off at a snail's pace toward the south.

The skipper of a Lowestoft trawler also states that while at sea on Saturday night an airship showed lights passed over his vessel. He showed a flare, which was answered by a flash from the airship.

A MESSAGE FROM MARSH.

There are many people who are quite convinced that a wonderful dirigible, manned by Germans, nightly spies upon the military defenses in East Anglia. There are many other conjectures regarding the identity of the airship, and it is curious that nobody has yet hit upon the bright idea that it may be a messenger from Mars.

Both the War Office and the Aeronautical Society have made extensive enquiries without being able to throw any light on the matter. The Admiralty has given orders to the coast-guard on the eastern coast to keep a vigilant lookout and report at once any sign of the ghostly aerial intruder. In addition to the excursions and alarms produced by alleged German spies sailing over England in airships, the old story is being revived of London's danger of being suddenly seized in the dead of night by thousands of German waiters, who, of course, have all been through their military training. The spy mania is particularly rampant just now and questions are going to be asked in Parliament about it.

Sir John Barlow, member for Frome, Somerset, has put on the notice paper in the House of Commons the question, which as a peer he is allowed to ask, whether he has any information showing that there are 60,000 trained German soldiers in England or that there is a collar within a quarter of a mile of Charing Cross 2,000 stands of Mauser rifles and 1,500,000 Mauser cartridges, that is, 150 rounds per rifle? Sir John Barlow asserts that these allegations formed the subject of discussion when the German labor leaders visited Bristol and Bath not long ago. The collar, he says, is heated in winter so as to prevent the metal materials from rusting in the open.

And now William Le Quex sends another cold shudder down the Englishman's back by declaring that he has documentary evidence showing that the German secret service is displaying unusual activity in England at the present time.

KNOWN AS 'FIXED POSTS.'

"Over five thousand secret German agents," he says, "are at this moment working in our midst. To each agent—known as a 'fixed post'—is allotted the task of discovering some secret, or noting in a certain district every detail which may be of advantage to the invader when he lands.

"This fixed agent is in turn controlled by a travelling agent, who visits him regularly, elicits the work, collects his reports and makes monthly payments, the usual stipend varying from £10 to £20 a month, according to the social position of the spy and the work in which he or she may be engaged.

"The spies themselves are not only ways German. They are often Belgians, Swiss, or Frenchmen employed in various trades and professions, and each being known in the Bureau of Secret Police by a number only, their monthly information being docketed under that particular number. Every six months an 'inspection' is held, and monetary rewards made to those whose success has been most noteworthy.

"The whole brigade of spies in England is controlled by a well known member of the German Secret Police in London, from whom the travelling agents take their orders, and in turn transmit them to the 'fixed posts,' who are scattered up and down the country."

In fact, people here are beginning to get accustomed to the notion that they will wake up one fine morning and find the Bank of England occupied by a body of "Pickelhauben."

MR. EVANS IS NOW A BAPTIST MINISTER

A. S. Evans was ordained a Baptist minister at St. Andrew's Baptist church, N. B., last evening at 7.30 o'clock.

In the afternoon the council met to examine Mr. Evans in reference to his views on doctrine and other essential matters. His examination was highly satisfactory and the council decided unanimously to proceed with the ordination services.

At 7.30 p. m. Rev. E. B. Buchanan of St. George's, and the Rev. C. Stirling of Oak Bay opened the service with the customary exercises. Rev. David Hutchinson of Main Street Baptist church, St. John, preached a most excellent ordination sermon, which was listened to with great attention by the large congregation present. After the sermon ordination prayer was offered by Rev. C. W. Townsend. Immediately following the Rev. F. B. Bishop of Parville delivered the charge to the newly ordained pastor. The Rev. A. F. Brown of Grand Manan extended the hand of welcome into the Baptist ministry, and Rev. E. M. Fletcher of the Charlotte street church, Charlottetown, gave the charge to the church.

"Onward, Christian Soldiers" was sung as the closing hymn. The benediction was pronounced by the newly ordained minister.

The Rev. Mr. Evans enters the ministry with brightest prospects, and he gives promise of a very brilliant career as a minister of the Gospel.

GOT TO THE ROOT OF HIS TROUBLE

And Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured W. Wright's Backache.

HE HAD SUFFERED FOR SEVERAL YEARS, BUT THE OLD RELIABLE KIDNEY REMEDY GAVE HIM QUICK RELIEF.

KELVINGTON, Sask., June 2.—(Special).—"Yes, Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me of Backache, and I have recommended them to others who have like troubles. These are the words of William Wright, a farmer well known here. 'I believe I inherited my trouble,' he says, 'from my father. At times for several years it was very severe. I also suffered from Lumbago, and in the morning I had a little cast in my mouth and was troubled with dizziness and my skin was dry and harsh and there was a sediment in my urine.'

"No treatment I could find gave me any permanent relief till finally believing that my kidneys were the root of my trouble, I determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Four boxes cured me."

Mr. Wright went at his trouble sensibly. He examined his symptoms, and they showed him that Kidney Disease was his trouble. Do as much for yourself, and if your symptoms point to diseased or diseased kidneys the cure is easy. Dodd's Kidney Pills will do it. They never fail."

GRAFT GALORE IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, June 2.—The relations of the police and disorderly houses was the principal topic before the royal civic commission today. On the stand Chief Campbell told that a system of medical inspection had been inaugurated by the police on the suggestion of Judge Dupuis, but had been discontinued after a few weeks, as Archbishop Brochu objected.

An ex-constable named Groleau also told of having paid Notre-Dame, a partner of A. B. Froulx, $10 for appointment for the police force. The appointment was not made and he had got his money back. Subsequently he had been appointed through the efforts of Judge Choquette, whom he knew.

The airship came from the direction of Newport, took a curve over the docks, and passed over the wharves toward Weston, being clearly in view for a minute or two. It could, it is stated, have been seen longer, but the lights on board were suddenly extinguished.

Notwithstanding the many people who are ready to swear that there is no doubt of this airship's reality, the public at large are inclined to scoff and regard it all as a fragment of the imagination. Even tangible evidence has not dispelled this scepticism.

The discovery has been made of what is declared to be an important clue in airship "finder or hunter," such as is used by aeronauts to lessen the shock of a descent to earth, has been found on the cliffs at Clacton, Essex, opposite the residence of a Mr. Free, a man of wealth and position, who has never been known to indulge in pipe dreams. This curiously shaped contrivance was found by Mrs. Free, the morning after her husband had seen the airship passing swiftly by night over Clacton. Painted on it are the words, "Moller Fabrik, Bremen."

This is where we exclaim, "Ha, ha!" for at last we have got to go to Germany, a result of which was inevitable all along. Although the firm of Moller in Bremen denies all knowledge of the lost airship "finder or hunter," the put of the scent. There is other evidence pointing to Germany as the owner of this strange aircraft.

HAS BEEN MOBILIZED. It is pointed out, moreover, that the German fleet has been conducting manoeuvres in the North Sea and that an airship of the Gross or Parsavel type, being portable, could be carried in sections aboard warships. A British correspondent, in attempting to probe the affair, has elicited some astonishing facts.

He learns on "authority which has generally proved to be reliable," that the German navy has been carrying out experiments at sea with small airships and that these experiments have revealed the possibility of using aeroplanes as airship stations, "which mean that airships can ascend from them and land upon them after an aerial voyage."

The idea that the scare ship is German is supported by the fact that it has been seen coming from the direction of the North Sea. Moreover, it has even been seen at sea.

The master of the steamer St. Olaf, on arrival at Christiania, reported that at night, when the vessel was only a short distance from the English coast, a large airship carrying five searchlights suddenly appeared, and hovering over the vessel, reflected all its lights on the steamer's bridge. The airship was within half a mile, but gave no answer to the challenge.

Owing to the blinding glare of the searchlights it was difficult to distinguish any details.

Suddenly the airship swung off after another steamer, a mile or so away, on which also the searchlights were directed. This would seem to indicate that it was seeking for its floating harbor. It afterwards made off at a snail's pace toward the south.

The skipper of a Lowestoft trawler also states that while at sea on Saturday night an airship showed lights passed over his vessel. He showed a flare, which was answered by a flash from the airship.

There are many people who are quite convinced that a wonderful dirigible, manned by Germans, nightly spies upon the military defenses in East Anglia. Sir John Barlow, member for Frome, Somerset, has put on the notice paper in the House of Commons the question, which as a peer he is allowed to ask, whether he has any information showing that there are 60,000 trained German soldiers in England or that there is a collar within a quarter of a mile of Charing Cross 2,000 stands of Mauser rifles and 1,500,000 Mauser cartridges, that is, 150 rounds per rifle? Sir John Barlow asserts that these allegations formed the subject of discussion when the German labor leaders visited Bristol and Bath not long ago. The collar, he says, is heated in winter so as to prevent the metal materials from rusting in the open.

And now William Le Quex sends another cold shudder down the Englishman's back by declaring that he has documentary evidence showing that the German secret service is displaying unusual activity in England at the present time.

"Over five thousand secret German agents," he says, "are at this moment working in our midst. To each agent—known as a 'fixed post'—is allotted the task of discovering some secret, or noting in a certain district every detail which may be of advantage to the invader when he lands.

"This fixed agent is in turn controlled by a travelling agent, who visits him regularly, elicits the work, collects his reports and makes monthly payments, the usual stipend varying from £10 to £20 a month, according to the social position of the spy and the work in which he or she may be engaged.

"The spies themselves are not only ways German. They are often Belgians, Swiss, or Frenchmen employed in various trades and professions, and each being known in the Bureau of Secret Police by a number only, their monthly information being docketed under that particular number. Every six months an 'inspection' is held, and monetary rewards made to those whose success has been most noteworthy.

"The whole brigade of spies in England is controlled by a well known member of the German Secret Police in London, from whom the travelling agents take their orders, and in turn transmit them to the 'fixed posts,' who are scattered up and down the country."

In fact, people here are beginning to get accustomed to the notion that they will wake up one fine morning and find the Bank of England occupied by a body of "Pickelhauben."

GEORGE ROBERTSON TALKS WITH SIR ROBERT PERKS

Matters of Great Importance Regarding the Dry Dock Discussed But There Was Nothing for Publication.

A conference was held this morning between Sir Robert Perks and George Robertson at which the St. John dry dock proposition was discussed.

The conference was a lengthy one, and at its conclusion Mr. Robertson seemed to be in a fairly cheerful frame of mind. He would not say, however, whether he thought the chance of having a dry dock erected here had been naturally advanced as the result of the interview.

He stated that matters of very great importance in connection with the dock had been discussed, but that at present nothing could be said as to the outcome.

Sir Robert Perks in response to the Star's question, said that there was nothing at all that could be made public regarding his conference with Mr. Robertson.
