DRAWING TO A CLOSE.

To one who has been in the habit of studying the Parliamentary "signs of the times," there are numerous indications that this eventful session is drawing to a close. Quite a number of members have close. Quite a number of members have close. Quite a number of members have produced by the merely singled out one tied of their stationery and reports, and trunks are being prepared for travel. Another indication is such notices as the following:

"FOUND.—In Com. Room 24, 3 Gold Seals; Also in Room 30, a Cane, in Room 12, an Umbrella, a Meerchaum Pipe and a Pair of Rubbers."

The strongest indications, however, are to be found in the House itself. After 11 o'clock, on most evenings, the Chamber resembles very much a school-room when the master has gone out. If a member be speaking and happen to emphasize his words with a blow upon his desk, a score of members will immediately respond with a chorus of blows upon their desks; or should he strike one hand against another, the action is immediately repeated by a number of facetious M. P.s. to the Pair of Rubbers."

One likes to receive his Mail regularly, but he doesn't care to get it in that particular way, nor have it "all in his eye,"—and everybody knows how hard the Globe hits. Reports, too, are presented in a most unparliamentary fashion. They come without the aid of a page, and doubtcome without the aid of a page, and doubtless make a stronger impression than the compiler thereof ever dreamed of. Just

MR. MITCHELL'S LITTE BILLS have, by dint of pertinacious perseverance, been passed through their principal stages. Quite a lengthy discussion grew out of the Pilotage Bill, as its provisions had to reconcile, as far as possible, the rival claims of two great interests. Registrars are to be appointed, and exemption from registration may be given by the Governor General for sufficient reasons. The privileges and conveniences which this bill provides, will, if it be successful, prove a great boon to ship-builders and ship-owners. The only question is, will the Imperial authorities sanction an act which seems to conflict with Imperial legislation? The Ontario election law provides that when a mem ber of a controverted election committee absents himself from a meeting of tha committee, he shall be brought by the Sergeant-at-Arms to the bar of the House, to show cause why he neglected his dut y. Sir John A. Macdonald! The people in the galleries looked the picture of astonishment. No doubt many of them fancied that the Premier was to be put upon his trial for selling the Pacific Railway to those terrible Americans, or for some other of the terrible crimes he is always being charged with, and always being proved innocent of. They were soon undeceived, however, by the spontaneous burst of laughter and cheers which came from both sides of the House. Sir John tried to look frightened and culprit like, but it wasn't a success. He looked in every move and muscle the leader; and as he looked round the House and smiled upon the Sergeant-at-arms, the expression on his face said, "Gentlement of the company of the spontaneous burst of laughter and cheers which came from both sides of the House and smiled upon the Sergeant-at-arms, the expression on his face said, "Gentlement of the company of the Manager."

After quiet had been restored, Dr. Tupper read a statement from Sir John's medical adviser certifying that he was too unwell to attend the Efection Committee, and moved that he be discharged from custody. The motion was of course carried, and the Premier bowed his way to his seat, running the gauntlet of a perfect volley of laughter and cheers.

principal objection was to those clauses in the bill which left, in a measure, unchanged, the pilotage system of Quebec, where all matters are in the hands of a corporation which owns all the boats, the pilots taking their turn on duty and receiving share and share alike. The Montreal men advocated the "competition" system, and offered strenuous opposition to the bill. Mr. Mitchell expressed himself personally in favor of competition; but the Quebec representatives, to a man, opposed such a Radical change in their system, contending that the pilots would be ruined, and in order to carry the good and necessary provisions of the bill the objectionable clause had to be retained.

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD, nothing has ever been offered which can compare with this Extract of Sarsaparilla. It is tound a great promoter of health, when taken in the spring, to expel the humors that rankle in the system at this season of the year. Many complaints have their origin in the spring, and in the causes above mentioned, for which no better remedy has ever been devised. By its use multitudes can spare themselves from the endurance of foil eruptions and ulcerous sores, through which the system strives to rid itself of corruptions, if not assisted to do this through the natural channels of the body by an alterative medicine. Cleanse out the vitiated blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in pimples, eruptions, or sores; cleanse it when you find its obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse if whonever it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Even where no particular disorder is felt, people enjoy better health, and live longer, or cleansing the blood. Keep the blood healthy, and all is well; but with this pabulum of fife disordered, there can be no lasting heaih. HOME TESTIMONY. St. John, N. B., March 26, 1873. Sr. John, N. B., March 26, 1873.

Messes, R. C. Margeson & Co.—Gentlemen:
I have been afflicted with gravel and stone upwards of a year and a half-tried everything I could hear of for its relief, without avail; saw your advertisement of CALCULIFUGE in the stalifax papers—took three bottles according to directions, and in the short space of four weeks amentirely cured. I willingly add my testimony to 1: value, at dheartly recommend it to all afflicted as I have been.

Suicide has its fashions like everything else. A year ago Paris-green was the favorite means of extermination when one became a pest to one's self. Perhaps it is on account of a strict druggist's law that an unfortunate man was lately obliged to put an end to himself by swallowing a piece of his shirt. People are all obliged because of the dearth of unemployed seamstresses, to swallow many short-comings in the matter of clothing, but it never entered the head of mortal before to look at a shirt in the light of a mortal weapon. Perhaps the man fancied between the strict of the province of New Brunswick.

To Mrs. Waterbury.—Dear Madam,—I desire to add my testimony to your already Celebrated Dinner Pills. During my whole life time, until about six years ago, I was severely afflicted with Indigestion, Biliousness and all their attendant evils. I had tried many medicines, and got but temporary relief. At the time above mentioned, I was advised to try your Pils: I did so for three months, according to directions: since that time I have had no occasion to take any medicine, and have enjoyed good health.

I am yours, &c.,
