CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of "The Outlook"

Dear Sir:-

In the issue of November 26th of "The Morning Chronicle" a report was given of a meeting in Windsor by Appo Krip Co. Ltd. Mr. Frank Ruggles questioned me as to why, after deciding to go to Middleton on account of the superior advantages which were offered by the Company by this Town, had they re-considered their decision?

He was reported to have said "it was because they could not get a clear title to the land."

Mr. Ruggles must have known that the land which the Directors of "The Appo Krip Co. Ltd." had selected, was already bought and paid for by the Town, in accordance with their agreements. The title is absolutely clear and a properly executed Deed of the same conveying it to "The Appo Krip Co. Ltd." now lies in our Town Office, to be delivered to the Company, on satisfactory assurance being given that the Company will locate here.

The subsequent explanation in Friday's issue (Nov. 27th) partially tells the truth.

I wish it to be distinctly understood that the Town Council of Middleton has absolutely limited its agreement in its dealings with "Appo Krip Co. Ltd."

"The Chronicle" was asked to print a short explanation, but for reasons, best known to itself, have not done so. Will you kindly give space for this.

Respectfully yours,

J. A. SPONAGLE, Mayor

OBITUARY

Rupert W. Killam

On November 4th, the community was shocked when it learned that one of its most respected citizens, Mr. Rupert W. Killam, had sustained very serious injuries in an accident, and that there was very little hope held out for his recovery. It seems that Mr. Killam was leading a cow from the barn to the field, and that while he was in the act of lowering the cow, the cow in her haste, to get over tripped over the bars and fell upon them, knocking Mr. Killam down in such a way that the bars sustaining the weight of the cow rested upon one of his legs. The injury caused the bursting of an artery, and there was grave danger of immediate death at any moment. However, it was decided after a few days to amputate the leg. This was done at the Kings Memorial Hospital on the morning following the accident. Then began a fight for life which lasted for two full weeks. But from the first it appeared to be a losing fight, and Mr. Killam sank gradually away to rest on Tuesday morning, Nov. 24th.

Mr. Rupert W. Killam was born in Somerset over 77 years ago, and spent all of his life in his native community. He was a life-long member of the Berwick Baptist Church, which appointed him a deacon many years ago. He was for years the teacher of the Adult Bible Class, and possessed a wonderful knowledge of the Bible. He was a good singer and for many years was a leader of the choir.

Mr. Killam was twice married. His first wife was Miss Margaret Borden, of Canning, who passed away many years ago. Of this union the following children survive: George, Killam, of Lynn, Mass.; Rev. Harry B. Killam, of Somerville, Mass.; and Mrs. Harding Killam of Weston. His second wife, who was Miss Abbie North, of Middleton, with her daughter, Mrs. Guy Zwicker, at their home in Somerset, survive him.

As already intimated, Mr. Killam was a very highly respected citizen, and his death is a serious loss to the community. As a Christian, he might be described as a stern Puritan, whilst possessing a kindly heart and generous nature, proving himself one of the best of neighbors and staunchest of friends. All of his good characteristics he would, however, ascribe entirely to the influence of the Saviour he honestly sought to serve. While he would describe himself simply as "a sinner saved by Grace."

Final arrangements for the funeral await the arrival of his son, George, from Lynn, Mass. - Berwick Register.

Three Day Poultry Show Held at Lawrencetown

PEOPLE SPEND HALF MILLION ON EGG IMPORTS

Lawrencetown, Dec. 1.—Speaking at the opening of the Annapolis County poultry show here today, Dr. M. Cummins, secretary of the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, declared that Nova Scotia produced only two-thirds of the eggs consumed and sold in the province. He estimated the annual value of the poultry products in Nova Scotia at $12,500,000. Dr. Cummins declared that 1,500,000 dozen eggs worth over half a million dollars, was imported into Nova Scotia every year and in the course of his remarks strongly advocated further development in the way of cold storage plants to stimulate production.

"No accurate figures are obtainable respecting the total importation of eggs into Nova Scotia," said Dr. Cummins. "There are six large firms engaged in this business. The largest of these firms, I am advised, imported last year 40 cars containing on the average 300 crates of 30 dozen eggs, or in all 360,000 dozen. Assuming that the other firms did an equally big business, the total importation into Nova Scotia would be 2,160,000 dozen. However, I think I am within the mark when I would place the importation at about 1,500,000 dozen. This calculation is right, it would appear that Nova Scotia produces about 4,000,000 dozen eggs and imports about 1,500,000 dozen. This means that Nova Scotia produces only about two-thirds of the eggs that are consumed or sold in the Province.

PRODUCTION IS STRESSED AS GREAT NEED

Lawrencetown, Dec. 2.—The official opening of the Annapolis County Poultry and Pet Stock Association took place at the Demonstration Building, last evening at 8 o'clock with an encouraging attendance. Dr. J. B. Hall, Lawrencetown, presided and stressed the responsibility of the association and all parents, to the boys and girls, and pointed out the opportunity of interesting them in the raising of poultry, lambs, and dairy and beef cattle. He would like to see a Poultry Club formed in every school section. He then introduced Dr. M. Cummins, Principal of the Nova Scotia School of Agriculture, Truro, who gave one of the best addresses of his life, presenting his facts in a convincing manner. H. T. McKenzie, M. P., of Bridgewater stated that the Provincial Government desired to help in every way every effort toward the improvement of agricultural conditions in the Province as all governments must see that agriculture is fundamental to the success of every other industry but the Government could not do everything. The farmers must co-operate with the Legislature. He thought that much more could be accomplished by the farmers themselves making the province self supporting so far as agriculture products were concerned.

For instance, one merchant in Bridgewater had informed him that he had imported last year 300 dozen of eggs from the United States and 200 tons of beans from Ontario. By a little more effort it would be possible to keep this money in the Maritime Provinces. O. P. Goucher, M. P., of Middleton, stressed the need and wisdom of mixed farming and believed that the Annapolis County Poultry Association was helping to solve a very important problem along that line. He referred to the recent Maritime Rights Convention held at Charlottetown, but he believed that there were self inflicted Maritime wrongs, and that in certain ways, Maritime people were not so much sinners against, as the sinning for this reason that they were not raising agricultural products to meet their own needs.

Both New Brunswick and Nova Scotia he said, were large importers of butter, eggs, cheese and other agricultural products, and of which could be raised in these Provinces. The people need to use the very gift of God and complain of their state. Quoting from the Scriptures, Mr. Goucher declared, "He that provideth not for his own household is worse than an infidel."

On Wednesday evening, two addresses were given. The first by Professor W. S. Blair of the Government Experimental Farm, Kentville, his subject being "Community Improvement." Professor Blair emphasized the need in every community of social development, educational equipment, and religious adjustment.

Dealing more especially with the rural community and the farmers' problems, he showed how failure could be turned into success by bridging the river of failure with the plank of Marketing, Efficient Help, Suitable Live Stock, Crop and Seed Selection, Good Business Management, Manning and Fertilizing, Judicious Liming, Proper Drainage and Tillage, and Natural Fertility.

Professor Landry of the Nova Scotia School of Agriculture, Truro, followed, dealing with the subject of raising a "Community Improvement." Professor Blair emphasized the need in every community of social development, educational equipment, and religious adjustment.

DR. M. CUMMINGS' ADDRESS AT OPENING OF POULTRY SHOW, LAWRENCETOWN, ON DECEMBER 1st

Three years ago, a young man in the employ of the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture in Cape Breton purchased some 300 day old chicks. Shortly after the purchase was made, he received a new appointment which necessitated a change in his place of residence. Not knowing what to do with the chicks, he approached his father and asked him to take them over. His father did so under protest. However, a cheap poultry house was erected and the chicks were placed in charge of a younger brother. This stock was sold at a profit of approximately $300 this year. The father was primarily interested in dairy cattle and sheep and regarded poultry as little else than a necessary nuisance. The son who was under way, however, had a different venture says that his father now takes at least as much interest in poultry as he does in his other branches of his farm business. This flock of poultry is properly housed and properly fed but the results have justified the whole venture.

There are an increasing number of men in various parts of the province who are raising poultry as a sideline along similar lines to the above man and who are not only adding to the farm revenue but are even making a profit. It is not only adding to the farm revenue but are even making a profit. It is not only adding to the farm revenue but are even making a profit.

Some of the more accurate systems of arriving at these figures has been developed since that time. Post cards are usually sent to the farmer and they are asked to give information respecting the amount of crop and the number of birds. On the basis of this information, it was estimated that there were 606,241 egg producing hens that laid an average of 70 eggs each, making a total of 42,434,770 eggs. This is an estimate of the total number of eggs produced in Nova Scotia in the summer of 1925. It is estimated that there were 1,500,000 dozen eggs produced in Nova Scotia in the summer of 1925. for a much larger home production. The more fact that Nova Scotia imports eggs or other products which might be produced within the province is not of itself sufficient evidence to justify a campaign for increased production. There are times of the year when eggs are imported into Nova Scotia at a lower cost than farmers can afford to produce them. The only way in which this situation can be changed is to make provision for the cold storage of surplus eggs produced in Nova Scotia at the time when production costs are at their lowest. This is in the late spring and early summer months.

There has been for years a surplus production at this time, as a result of which markets have been decidedly off and farmers have been discouraged in increasing their production. A cold storage plant could largely absorb this surplus production and so give a decided stimulus to the production of eggs in the province. There are now large cold storage plants at St. John, N. B., and North Sydney. The St. John plant is being used to an increasing extent along the lines suggested above. The North Sydney plant has hardly gotten under way. Halifax, with its big outlet for sales through ocean going boats, seems the natural place for a further development along this line. Personally we hope that agitation for a number of years will take more definite form and that not only the poultry business but other branches of farm production in the Province of Nova Scotia will be materially stimulated by such development.

There is a big demand for all the fresh eggs that can be produced in these high priced markets. The average farm flock will not be conducted in quite as intense a way as the commercial flock, also in cases where there are boys or girls or women on the farm who will take full charge of the flock, there is every reason why the farm flock should be maintained about practically the same lines as the commercial flock. However, even the farm flock which is looked after by the farmer himself will generally prove more profitable if methods adopted by the commercial flock men are more or less followed. Last year through the Connecticut Agricultural College, which established the first basic laying contest in America, there was conducted the Connecticut egg laying contest. The contest flocks were divided into three classes as above. Records were kept for 8 months, from November 1st to June 31st, during which period the average production per hen for the various flocks was: Backyard flocks 96.7, farm flocks 95.4, commercial flocks 97.8. Commercial flocks did the best in gross numbers and it is reported that more eggs were produced in these flocks during the high priced months than in any other flocks.

There are, in practically every country, three types of poultry flocks: (1) Back yard flocks; (2) Commercial flocks; (3) Commercial flocks. Just how many of each of these kind of flocks there are in Annapolis I do not know. It is, however, a matter of real commercial interest to know that there is a past 12 years there have been built up in various parts of Nova Scotia approximately 50 commercial flocks. By a commercial flock I mean a flock of birds which are raised for the purpose of producing eggs. Such flocks are mainly in the hands of the major interests, and produce as large a percentage of the eggs as possible during the high priced months of the year. There is a very satisfactory to know that a large percentage of these men are doing fairly well and that there appears to be every possibility of their further increasing their flock. It seems practically certain that there will always be a demand for all the fresh eggs that can be produced in these high priced markets.

"Canada has the greatest opportunity of any community on the face of the earth," stated St. Lee Strachy, editor and proprietor of the London Spectator, in the course of a recent address before the Canadian Club. He stressed the advantages the country enjoyed in her large wheat area, electrical energy, wood pulp and mineral assets.

Between 20,000 and 25,000 men are expected to work in the forests of the Province of Quebec during the coming winter, according to the chief forester of the province. It is anticipated there will be a good season in the pulp and paper products, but that the output of lumber will not be so heavy owing to the low price prevalent for sawn lumber.

Cordial relations between the ports of Quebec and Liverpool were emphasized recently by the exchange of cables by the respective Chief Magistrates of the two cities. The occasion was the Civic Week Celebration at Liverpool when the Lord Mayor, Thomas Dowd, sent Mayor Joseph Sanson, of Quebec, greetings to which the latter responded.

A record for October weddings was established at the Windsor Station, Montreal, early in that month, when twenty couples invaded the Concourse on their way to Boston, Quebec, Ottawa and Toronto. Two of the bridegrooms were bounced following time-honored custom. It is used to be the fashion to subject brides to this usage, but since the advent of short skirts the practice has been frowned upon.

Establishing what is easily a world record for movement of wheat, grain poured into Fort William and Port Arthur elevators to the rate of nearly thirty bushels a second for the whole of the 24 hours of October 5, from Canadian Pacific Railway cars. In all, 1,704 cars were unloaded during the day and each carries an average load of 1,500 bushels, representing a total of 2,556,000 bushels.

Driving into stationary trains on level crossings seems to be a favorite sport on the part of a number of motorists judging by reports coming in recently from different sections. The latest is from Galt, where an automobile, in broad daylight, ran into a freight train consisting of 18 loaded and 15 empty cars standing in plain view on a crossing. Fortunately no one was hurt, but the instance is another of gross carelessness on the part of motorists.

The Grand Challenge Cup, emblematic of the First Aid championship of the entire system of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was won by the Weston Shops team, of Winnipeg, champions of the West, against McAdam, N.B., team, champions of the East and last year's winners, after a searching test of the two teams conducted at the Place Viger Hotel, Montreal, recently. The margin between the two teams was so narrow as to be in doubt to the last moment. Weston took 507 points out of a possible 672 and McAdam had 499.

Tourist traffic development throughout Canada has reached such proportions as to equal the value of a fairly good wheat crop, and such development has only just begun, is the opinion of Colonel Phil Moore, of Yoho Valley, B.C., interviewed recently. He thought that an estimate of three hundred million dollars spent by tourists annually in Canada was not too high. Growth of interest in the Canadian Rockies was very noticeable and although the majority of tourists there were Americans, yet Canadians, too, were beginning to discover them, said the Colonel.

COLORADO BEETLE HIBERNATES IN WINTER

The Colorado beetle is the most persistent insect. It starts to hibernate in August, September or early October, and turns up ready for business in the Spring. In Ottawa, as told by the Entomological Branch in Bulletin 52 of the Dominion Department of Agriculture on "The Colorado Potato Beetle in Canada", tests have been made as to length of life of the creature and under what circumstances it will retain vitality. In wintering cage tests with beetles in New Brunswick several lots were forced into hibernation at an early date, by confining them in wire cages on the soil with only enough food for one day. All had burrowed within three days after the food had gone. From three lots put in the cages August 26th and September 5th, 295 beetles out of 600 emerged the following spring. Out of 200 put in September 14th, 42 emerged and out of 3,320 put in the cages on September 13th and later, only 360 emerged in the spring. This would seem to indicate as the bulletin says, that the earlier the pests hibernate in the fall the better they survive. The beetles commonly go into the soil immediately below the place where they last fed. In a damp, cold clay loam they have been found within 2 inches of the surface and none at all below 6 inches, while in a loose sandy soil only a few hundred feet away none were found at less than 14 inches and some at 17 inches. In a dense gravel-loam soil only an occasional beetle was turned out when the plough was cutting 5 inches deep, but a number could be found by digging 3 inches more in the bottom of the furrow.—Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

The laws of England with regard to artificial aids to beauty and woman's wiles are not so strict now as they were in the reign of Charles II in the year 1670 this curious Act of Parliament was passed:—"That all women, of whatever age, rank, profession or degree, whether virgins, maids or widows, that shall, from after the passing of this Act, impose upon and betray into matrimony any of His Majesty's male subjects, by accents, patches, cosmetics, washes, artificial teeth, false hair, Spanish wool, iron stays, hoops, high-heeled shoes or bolstered hips, shall incur the penalty of the law now in force against witchcraft, sorcery and such like misdemeanors, and that the marriage, upon conviction, shall stand null and void."

(Note—Wouldn't there be "something doing" these days if such an Act was put in force. There would be some busy court rooms and many of the "weaker sex" would be rather worried.—Ed.)

THE REAL OLD-FASHIONED CHRISTMAS

"A real old-fashioned Christmas" is a phrase to conjure with! Snow and stars and carols—"God rest you merry gentlemen, let nothing you dismay; Holly and mistletoe and trees all fragrant and sparkling. Lumpy stockings by the fireplace and sundry other pleasures. Children, Santa Claus, Joyous Services, Dinner—and finest poultry in Christendom.

Let's—oh, let's make this a real old-fashioned Christmas! A blessed day of "Peace on earth, good-will toward men." A day of giving as we have never given before, bringing joy to friends near and far. Let's make the Yuletide season merry with participation until our houses ring once more with young voices. Let's fill our parlors with Christmas goodies. And let us remember those less fortunate than ourselves, so that they, too, may have a "real, old-fashioned Christmas."

The Christmas Spirit

The stores already have put in great resources at the service of the Christmas season. Christmas magic has touched every store, creating an atmosphere as merry as Santa Claus and as bright as the star atop of a tree.

Never have gifts been so lovely, so desirable, and so helpful in solving problems of "what to give." For weeks past Christmas stocks have been pouring in, drawn from over the seven seas. Now they are brought to light for the throngs of Christmas shoppers. Gifts by the thousands—something for every member of the family, for friends at home and far away.

For Christmas Parties

All the luscious goodies to help in entertaining during the festive season. Spices to dress the fowl, raisins and other deliciousness for the pudding. Useful, Pratts' and other. High time that the pantry shelves were groaning with such things, that the family may keep "open house" in the old-fashioned way, from Christmas to New Year's.

For the Children

Especially are the stores catering to the children—you might call them the children's stores. For what would Christmas be after all, without the kiddies. Under Santa Claus' influence, the children's imaginations are fairly lands of toys—places rich beyond imagination in the things children long for. There are dolls for little daughter, and well-dolls' clothes, tiny trunks, houses and dishes. Games, trains, mechanical soldiers, rattles and picture books for the littlest nursery folk. Everything to gladden the heart of a child, in our stores, wonderful toylands. To the best of hearts—this—the very spirit of Christmas!

Delights For All

Not only the little folk, look forward to the Christmas season; and the stores have all put in extra stocks from handkerchiefs, ties, diaries, linens, accessories, clothes, wearables of all kinds, useful articles for the home, and myriad articles too numerous to mention, which could be categorized as the "gifts that last" or the "gifts necessary," all of which are in the stores, and will help you to make the Christmas season joyous for your family and friends.

At Your Service

Never in all the year our stores, famed for service, so entirely at the command of the hundreds of thousands of the gay, bustling preparation for Christmas. They place themselves wholeheartedly at the service of Christmas shoppers—and invite you all to make full use of the cordial and smiling hospitality of the stores. All join in the general desire: "To make this a real, old-fashioned Christmas."

Shop With The Outlook Advertiser, and you will make no mistake. Read the ads, carefully—then go shopping!

There should be no "faction" in any town. The property of one individual and every improvement made enhances the value of all property in the corporation. Our town is simply one big family. When this is discarded there is little progress. When there is a united plan for anything, its accomplishment is made easy. "Any jealousy and hatred are things to be despised. Envy is a snare that gnaws at the heart and makes folk sour, disgruntled and unhappy; jealousy warps the intellect and makes us unfair in passing judgement. Hatred doesn't pay even from a sordid point of view."

WHERE HUNTED WILD GEESSE ARE SAFE

A Peep at Jack Miner's Sanctuary on Lake Erie

(By Arthur Mee)

Kingsville, Ontario, is the most southern town in Canada in Essex County, on the north shore of Lake Erie. Its population is 2,000, but during the migration season the town grows from 2,000 to 10,000 by sight-seers who motor to see the birds at Jack Miner's Sanctuary.

Jack Miner, the son of a poor English emigrant, was rich in the love of his brother, Ted. They were first-rate sports, and supplied the market as well as their homestead with game. When these two were grown men they took a friend goose-hunting. Jack was driving the game towards the others when a shot rang out and immediately afterwards a cry, "I've killed Ted." Jack had to master his great anguish, bury his brother in snow, and run twelve miles to a cabin for help. It took twenty-four hours in a raging storm, for Jack to carry the body of his brother to a lake and then paddle home in a rickety punt. Soon another black day came when his own little child died. Now all life became precious to Jack Miner, and the thought of taking it was abhorrent. He had always been a warm-hearted, blue-eyed fellow but now there gushed up in his heart a great well of pity. The hunter became the protector of the hunted.

Hard work had brought Jack into possession of a little tile factory and two hundred acres of unweeded land. He dug ponds and planted mulberries, Scotch firs, lilacs and scores of roses, turning all he possessed into a bird sanctuary. Birds of every sort flock to him. He feeds them through the winter, though he can ill afford it. So great in numbers has the flock increased that he has had to accept donations from his rich friends to help feed the poor starving birds. It now costs him nearly $8,000 per year to maintain the flock. Last year one good friend promised him $4,000 per year. Such gifts are very acceptable to Jack Miner, who feels it is the Government's place to provide food as it spends tens of thousands of dollars in game wardens' salaries. He challenges them to show any man as many birds as he can at any one time. The birds tell their friends and each year the number of guests at Safety Inn is greater than ever.

The understanding of the birds is learned to dread a gun, they show no fear if Jack Miner carries a gun, even if he fires close to them at one of their enemies, a snake, a water-turtle. They fly to him when they are wounded, and one is believed to have come five miles to meet Jack Miner. Once a whole family of wild geese came to the house, making a terrible noise, to tell him that a young one was choking near the pond.

Hundreds of people come each year to visit this bird sanctuary, and the Canadian government has forbidden any shooting within a mile of it. Wild swans, half killed by Niagara, are brought there.

Some years ago, in order to discover what became of his guests who did not return, Jack Miner started to wrap aluminum tags round a bird's leg, and the time he spent on the tags and a message from the Bible. When he hears from some trader that one of these tags has been brought in by a poor Eskimo, Jack Miner feels that his pet has not come to a bad end in feeding the hungry. Often these bird-home messages have had a strange significance for the finder. It was a young soldier, soon going to the front, who killed a bird carrying this verse: "For me to live is Christ, and to die is gain."

But Miner does not mind the tame birds which fall a victim to sportsmen who wait for them just over the mile limit. He is glad that the tame ones he is trying to save from extinction; and he does grudge the grub-diggers, which ignorant farmers kill as wheat eaters. To convert these people he decided to publish a book, which is full of wit and interest. Perhaps the most charming thing in it is his vindication of the wild geese.

Why do people say "stupid geese"? Geese are not surpassed by any other birds in intelligence, courage and fidelity.

The Canadian wild geese is a big, hardy fellow, with a black neck, head, tail, and feet. He flies about fifty miles an hour, lives as long as human beings, and is faithful to one mate. Jack Miner once had a widowed goose who mourned her mate for four years, until the sight of her miserable parents, as it seemed merciful to kill her. They are wonderful parents, and the gander will let no one, not even Jack Miner, come near the nest. "Jonathan" were part of a family of five. One day they were fired upon and one gander was brought down with a broken wing. Miner persuaded the men to give him the wounded bird, and he did what he could for it. Presently the remaining gander and gander returned and circled round and round as though they distrusted all men, even Jack Miner, now. But when the wounded gander called, they came down to him at once.

A little later the call of migration came, and the great flock of wild geese which had wintered with Jack Miner went north, the wounded bird's sister with them. But his brother stayed behind. It was a touching sight to see Jonathan making short flights, and returning when he saw that David's efforts to raise were in vain. All the neighbors were moved by his devotion, and no more geese were shot in the district, though the Government had not yet forbidden it.

For seven years the faithful bird stayed at his brother's side, championing him when danger seemed to threaten, and denying the strong migratory instinct for his sake. Then early one morning, Jonathan was found dead on the snow. A huge horned owl had attacked them, and while David had crept to shelter under the bushes, Jonathan had faced the owl in the darkness, and had his eyes struck out by its fearful talons. All day long people kept telephoning to know if it were true that old Jonathan was dead, and the whole place was glad to hear that the cannibal was caught when he returned to finish his meal next night.

It is sad to think that when a flock of wild geese come wearily over the seas from Scandinavia to England their welcome is death at the hands of some hunter hidden in the Suffolk fens. Jack Miner's love for the birds seem easier to understand than such a hunter's. Long may he enjoy his life, and soon may he see the realization of his great hope that every golf course may be dotted with geese, and no one a bird sanctuaries!

Health Broke Down

Could Not Get Sleep for Hours After Going to Bed

"It is not natural for me to sit down and write a letter in praise of a proprietary medicine as I had always been skeptical as to their virtues." Thus writes Mr. Arthur Seguin, Storhocks, Sask., who further says:—"But three years ago I opened a general store here in Storhocks and placed on my shelves a few lines of the best known proprietary medicines. Among these, naturally, were Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. As there were three of my customers who were obtaining good results from taking the pills, and as I was in need of a medicine I decided to try them myself. "I had been suffering from catarrh for years, and my inside work had completely broken down my health. I was coughing all day, suffered from indigestion, and could not sleep until three or four hours after retiring. I started the pills, not with any great confidence, but by the time I had finished the second box I marked much improvement. At the fourth box I felt quite recovered, but continued them for some further time. My cough has left me, the indigestion has disappeared and I now fall asleep almost as soon as I am in bed. In my store now I do not hesitate to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to any who are feeling run-down or without energy, as I think they are a blessing to mankind. "If others who may feel skeptical will give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial they will be convinced as was Mr. Seguin. You can get the pills at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

THE OLD-TIME CHRISTMAS

Old-timers caught in the holiday rush and gazing at the window displays, alluring panorama of the shop windows often fall into a reminiscent mood and relive the Christmases of long ago. "Who does not fondly recall the magic of Christmas in his childhood?"

Most of the presents were homemade. Perhaps grandma furnished mittens, knitted by old lamp after you had been tucked in bed—rich warm mittens with a long cord that extended up through coat sleeves and around the neck to prevent loss. Aunt Saphrona gave you a basket of Christmas cookies, shaped like animals and stars covered with delicate colored sugar.

Uncle Tom gave you a watch, and his generosity appalled you even if it was the old turp that he had discarded. You can imagine the reaction you would get if you tried giving a 1925-boy a second hand timepiece.

Most of the presents were useful, in the old days, including a rubber overcoat and a new pair of shoes. As for the "boughten" presents, they were limited to "The Erie Train Boy," by Alger; Henty's "With Clive in India"; a new testament; a sled; a pair of skates and that most wonderful of old-time toys, a tin monkey that climbed a string.

At that, Christmas of long ago represented proportionately as big an outlay as now, comparing the earnings in the two periods.

But the gift itself was secondary to the spirit of the giver. Somehow, every grown-up can't help believing the Christmas dinners of those days were superior. The Christmas eve entertainment at the church was an enjoyable as the modern movie; and the ride in a cutter over the deep snow beat the auto-trip of 1925. Christmas is always changing and (to adults) never for the better.

Vets' Column

Edited and controlled by the Middleton Branch of the G. W. V. A.

WHAT SOME OF THE OTHER BRANCHES ARE DOING

The Editor of this column has been unable to find much of local interest to publish in this column this issue, so has decided to republish a few notes taken from "The Veteran," showing what some of the other branches are doing. Possibly through the reading of their activities we may find something that we can duplicate, and help to keep up the good times we have enjoying of late. Following are the notes:—

Weyburn, Sask.—One of those real good times that the Weyburn Branch, G. W. V. A., have the knack of putting on at frequent intervals took place in their clubrooms in the Hotel Block on the evening of October 26th. A considerable portion of the male musical talent of the proper command and participated in a lengthy programme. Instrumental and vocal numbers were given by the members of the singing of french songs. Inspector C. H. King, Dr. P. J. S. Bird and Rev. Williams, of Arcola, delivered brief and proper addresses. The luncheon was served and plenty of smokes were available throughout the evening. President G. W. V. A. branch, acted with his usual efficiency as chairman of the proceedings.

Kingston, Ont.—The steady influx and ready display of German-made goods aroused the members of the Kingston Branch, G. W. V. A., to action at their regular meeting on October 19th. A strong resolution was passed recording the determination of the branch members to boycott German-made goods and calling upon the general public to do likewise. The resolution is to be forwarded to the proper command for action. Arrangements for the distribution of poppies on Armistice Day and for the proper commemoration of the occasion with the annual memorial service were reported upon and approved by the members. The president, Comrade Chas. Hicks, was in the chair, and there was a good attendance of members.

Toronto.—The Toronto Western District Branch of the G. W. V. A., held their annual banquet in their splendid clubhouse, at the corner of Crawford and College streets, on the evening of October 22nd. Among the many guests were T. L. Church, Col. Reginald Gerry, Col. W. H. Hunter, W. McIsaac, Ald. B. Miller, W. Cassell and Alex Shields. The after-dinner address was propounded by T. L. Church, Col. Gerry, Col. Hunter and John Stevens, president of the Western Branch of the G. W. V. A., and were responded to by Ald. Miller and Alex McIsaac. During the evening Col. Reginald Gerry gave a very interesting address on the Great War.

Calgary.—Under the auspices of the Calgary Branch, G. W. V. A., a very successful masquerade dance was held on the evening of October 7th at the Memorial Hall. More than 200 couples, many of whom were in costume, enjoyed the evening of dancing. Mayor and Mrs. G. W. Webster, together with City Solicitor and Mrs. L. Brockington, were the judges, and after making their remarks, His Worship presented the prizes.

LOCAL NOTES

The Desk and Filing Cabinet was duly presented, as promised, on our last column, on Friday afternoon. The branch was slightly disappointed that more of the townspeople were not present as we like to see our efforts appreciated as every organization should be. However, we are glad to say that those who were in attendance showed their appreciation very plainly. Among the comrades present were: A. F. Borden, president; K. D. Cleveland, 1st Vice President; P. Power, Dr. J. A. Sponagie, Melbourne Nelly, Frank East. We were also pleased to see Rev. P. A. Walker, Mrs. Edw. Power, Mrs. Frank East and Mrs. J. A. Sponagie. His presentation was made by President A. F. Borden, who spoke in glowing terms of the great work of the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital, Middleton. He touched on the efficient work of the hospital and the duties of the hospital much easier and hope it will fill the long felt want of such an article.

Congratulations—The Branch wish to take this opportunity of congratulating one of their valued members, Col. C. E. Bent, C. M. G., D. S. O., with bar, of Lawrenceton, on his appointment as Secretary of the Nova Scotia Board of Censors. We will be very sorry to lose him from our meetings where he was always welcome and generally had some very interesting things to discuss; but we must not kick for we know that our loss will be the Board of Censors' gain. Col Bent has an excellent war record, where he served as commanding officer of the 15th Toronto Highlanders, with distinction and we feel he will distinguish himself in his new duties. We all join in wishing our comrade the best of luck.

Let us have your order for Christmas Stationery at an early date, so we can give it our best attention before the rush of that kind of work arrives.

$10 POTATOES ARE PREDICTED

Fifty Per Cent of Crop Still Held by Growers Declares Guy G. Porter.

"Ten dollar potatoes before spring," was the prediction made here recently by Guy G. Porter, of Andover, in speaking of the Cuban crop. The Province. He declared that the American supply of tubers was not near enough for the demand even if the present figures in the crop reports were not reduced—and he believed they would be—when the next report comes out in December 1st. He registered that what competition there was came from Nova Scotia. Prince Edward Island and said it was due to the lack of a Maritime association of shippers similar to the New Brunswick one. The Nova Scotia farmers and shippers had received an average $1 a barrel less on this account, than their need to have taken, he said.

Says Growers Have Half

The N. B. dealers had marketed or stored in their warehouses about one-half of the crop, he said, leaving only about 50 per cent still in the hands of the growers. In speaking of the Cuban controversy, he said that the ruling factor in the setting of prices this year had been the American market and not the Cuban one. There was a slackness at present in the American market due to the crop report of November 10th which gave an increase of 2,500,000 bushels in the number of potatoes over the previous estimate. The bureau had set figures reported up to October 15th, he said, and did not take into account the increase since that time and the time the report was received, Nov. 10th. He felt and he believed larger dealers in the United States felt, that there would be a substantial reduction in the final figures on December 1st.

Says Weather Started

The cold weather started about October 15th and the latter half of the month had been severe. As a result of this unseasonable weather, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Colorado and other northern states had had considerable portions of their crops frozen, Mr. Porter said.

On Competition

About the only competition that existed was inter-provincial. Mr. Porter said that Nova Scotia shippers were ready to organize, the United Fruit Companies of Kentville were willing to co-operate and were underselling the others $1 a barrel in the Cuban market, he said. As a result the Cuban market was buying the Nova Scotia crop. The mean that the Nova Scotia farmers had been getting $1 a barrel less than they could have received all season. He declared that a Maritime association would give the dealers a fair profit and would bring the producers more money.—Telegraph-Journal.

WILMOT

Dec. 7.—Miss Dorothy Newcombe of Bloomington is visiting her aunt, Mrs. C. J. Young. Master Keil Kelly had his throat operation at Mr. Piney's, where he had a number of young people at their home last Tuesday evening. Rev. A. A. McLeod preached his farewell sermon in the Union Church last Sunday. Sincere regret was expressed when it became known that Mr. McLeod was leaving us to accept a call to E. P. Rev. Robert Miller gave an illustrated lecture in the Union Church on Monday evening. Pictures were of "Famous Madonna"—and "Life of Christ."

Miss Bernice Parker left with Mr. and Mrs. Wyatt to spend the winter in Charleston, South Carolina. We are sorry to hear that Mr. Burpee Harris has been, and still is seriously ill.

There are some people who are mighty careless about throwing old track into the alleyways. Such people should be taught a little civic pride by a most fine line it is impossible for the authorities to keep any town clean if people will persist in such practices.

The storekeeper who does not advertise and who does not promote his business might as well put up his meagre financial success. Never in the history of the commercial world has advertising occupied so dominant a place as it does to-day.

NO NEED FOR PANIC

These were the words that H. H. Hatfield gave The Observer recently in covering the present situation in the potato market. Mr. Hatfield returned Saturday on his trip to Boston, New York and Providence and he says the market at the present time in the United States is very well supplied. There will be a slump as usual in the market conditions over the holiday season, but after the New Year comes in Mr. Hatfield looks for a renewal of shipping activity. The embargo has been lifted from almost all centres and although the shipments have fallen off there is no need for the farmers to rush their potatoes to the market and thus spoil the chances for a raise in price. There is a shortage in the States as we all know and there is bound to be a rise in price as soon as the holiday season is over.

Really Decrease in November Report

New York, November 13.—Andrew Spada, head of Andrew Spada & Co., this week, commented rather severely on the manner in which the government is putting out its potato crop estimates. "The crop report issued this week," said Mr. Spada, "does not reflect the true conditions, unless the reader takes the time and trouble to dig into it and dissect it carefully. Take for example, this report as of November 1st, shows an increase in potato estimates of 2,284,000 bushels, when as a matter of fact, the last fall-potato growing states, in which we are now interested, show a decrease of 3,000,468 bushels. It is hardly proper, I think, that the summer potato crop should be included in this report without segregation of some kind. Taking all the potatoes that were grown in the country up to the present time, putting them in figures, there undoubtedly would be an increase. But we will take 13 of the November report as of December 1st. He registered that what competition there was came from Nova Scotia. Prince Edward Island and said it was due to the lack of a Maritime association of shippers similar to the New Brunswick one. The Nova Scotia farmers and shippers had received an average $1 a barrel less on this account, than their need to have taken, he said.

Dec 6—An event of considerable interest was the reception held at Mr. William Wood's on Saturday last for Mr. and Mrs. Wood's daughter, Olive, and her husband, Clifford Spurr. All report a pleasant time. The bride and groom were the recipients of several nice presents.

It is reported that a bull moose and a calf moose came out on Mr. Mail-meadow last Sabbath. We think the big moose must be a substantial one for the young moose whose mother was likely shot or died recently. "That deer shot by Lewis Merry weighed 265 lbs. Our aged neighbor, Ronald Merry, started out on Wednesday and made a friendly visit at Leonard C. Whitman's. The tax-gatherer, E. J. ... is making strenuous efforts to collect up the taxes without having to resort to law." We have two boss farmers here—the farms of Edwin C. Merry and son, Lewis, and that of Leonard C. Whitman and son, Reginald. These farms show what can be done if proper effort and good planning are used. On the farm of Mr. Merry and son we find a stock of 25 head and two large horses and several good pens, with lots of feed for all. There is a water for the stock supplied by a large pump, and a frost proof cement root cellar. This year they had 1500 bushels of vegetables besides potatoes. On the farm of Leonard Whitman and son, we find 17 head of cattle, besides several head that they have recently sold. A cement cellar covering the whole side of the barn and a root cellar. They have abundance of feed—more than they can use. We must say that we find one of the first named farm what a polite old lady called a gentleman ox, and if an ox can be a gentleman, he surely fills the bill.

There should be no faction in our Hills city, where there should be a mutual interest in the prosperity of our people. When we see indifference to the well being of our citizens, we see a town all wise men shun. Success and failure are each a part of life and often those who have made the hardest fight are vanquished in the race.

THE ADVICE OF "SANTA" IS WELL WORTH YOUR CONSIDERATION

Have you given your Christmas Advertising any serious thought yet? If not we earnestly advise you to do so at once. The time is drawing dangerously close. Many people do the bulk of their Christmas Shopping early and of course they will patronize the store where they are invited. Don't let the mail-order houses get away with all the cream when you have the splendid chance of displaying your wares and inviting your customers through your local paper (The Outlook). We are ever ready to give you a real service, but can not promise a "real good, showy advertisement" if it is brought in "at the last moment." Some of our wide-awake merchants are already on the job. Join the wise majority before it is too late.
