Brooklyn Girl Going 6,000 Miles to Marry

and Be a Missionary.

New York, June 28.—Among the passengers on the steamship Lucania of the Cunard Line, which sails tomorrow, will be Miss Louise M. Stead, and Miss Mary E. Banta, of Brooklyn. They are graduates of the Missionary Training Institute in Waverly avenue, near Myrtle avenue, and their destination is Garraway, Liberia. There they will be attached to the Methodist Episcopal Mission of which the Rev. David E.
Carson is in charge.

There is a romance connected with Miss Stead's departure, for while she went to enter the missionary field, she will become a bride immediately after she lands in Liberia, the Rev. Mr. Carson having won her heart. Therefore, in completing this journey of about 6, 000 miles, she will be his assistant more senses than one.

Miss Stead is the stepdaughter of the Rev. Robert Wodehouse, now a missionary in Matabeleland with his wife.
The missionary bride has been a medical student at the training institute for more than two years, and it was there that she first met Mr. Carson.

He went to the Garraway Mission about a year ago, but before his departure secured her promise to become his wife. Miss Stead's home is with Mrs. Emily Healy, at 364 Gates avenue, where a reception in her honor was held a few evenings ago.

LORDS WILL TRY

EARL RUSSELL

Who Was Recently Committed to Answer
the Charge of Bigamy.

The Coal Tax Bill Adopted by the British House—New Cure for Drunkenness—The King's Appointments.

London, June 28.—At a special meeting of the House of Lords today a committee was appointed to answer
the procedure to bring Earl Russell, recently committed for trial at the Old Bailey, on the charge of bigamy, to a speedy trial by his peers. The committee includes the lord chancellor,
Lord Halsbury, the lord privy seal,
Lord Salisbury, and twelve other peers.

THE COAL TAX ADOPTED.

After a prolonged debate and considerable disorder, the House of Commons in committee, at 2 o'clock this morning, adopted the coal tax by a majority of 68.

A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasury, informed a deputation of Unionist members that the government had decided to drop the education bill owing to the congested state of public business, and that he would introduce the measure next year.

HONORED BY KING EDWARD.

King Edward has conferred on the Sultan of Morocco the order of Knight
Grand Cross of the Bath, and his majesty has made the special Moorish ebl, a Knight of the Grand Cross of St. Michael and St. George.

King Edward will not be seen at any sporting event until the regatta at Cowes. Though he is restricted by official usage from attendance at the horse racing, he has taken a deep interest in the racing of the season, beginnings of which he has already won over £30,000 since the season began.
He was a big winner as the result of backing Mr. Whitney's horse Volody-ovski for the Derby. He was so interested in the result of that race that he had a private wire run from Epsom Downs to Marlborough House.

DE GIERS CALLED FROM PEKIN.

St. Petersburg, June 28.—M. De Giers, Russian minister at Pekin,
has been appointed minister of Russia
at Munich, Bavaria.

THE POPE IS ALL RIGHT.

Rome, June 28.—The report published in Paris that the Pope is seriously ill, and that his convalescence is physician does not leave the pontiff bedside, is entirely unfounded. His holiness is in good health, and yesterday received in audience the Austrian ambassador to the Vatican, and a number of other persons.

ROW IN SPANISH CHAMBER.

Madrid, June 28.—The discussion of the religious conflicts in Spain led to such a tumult in the chamber of deputies last night that the sitting had to be adjourned. Senator Silveira had attacked upon the government for not preventing creed conflicts, but his remarks were drowned in a storm of Republican hisses and protests. The minister of the Interior, Senator Moret, promised to protect Catholic religious freedom, and the sitting was ended by not a political character as they were

3,000 BOERS

ARE INVADING
CAPE COLONY!

Small Garrison Hold Enemy at Bay Twelve Hours.

The Burghers Got Away Before British Reinforcements Reached the Scene.

Cape Town, June 28.—Boer invaders, under Malan and Smit, about 3,000 strong, attacked Richmond early Tuesday morning. The town was defended by a detachment of the North Stafforshire militia, under Capt. Hawkeshaw, and the town guard. Three sangars outside the town were captured by the Boers, the garrison being distributed principally at Jail Fort and Flagstaff Hill Fort. Owing to the capture of the sangars, Flagstaff Hill Fort was exposed to a heavy fire. Three times during the day Commandant Malan sent messengers demanding the surrender of the town, and each time the demand was refused.

BOERS ENTER THE TOWN.

The Boers took advantage of the opportunity during cessation of hostilities to better their positions, and on the last

BATTLE BETWEEN ANTS

An Army of Reds Defeat a Force of Blacks—
The Little Fellows Damage Brick Pavements by Burrowing.

Omaha, Neb., June 27.—A curious menace to brick-paving has come to light in Council Bluffs, Iowa. Numerous ants began burrowing to the sand beneath the bricks and removed so much of it to another quarter that the city engineer was called in to repair damages. One street was made unfit for travel for several blocks.

The Sugar Beet.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:
Farmers throughout the western peninsula are greatly discouraged by the ravages of that destructive pest, the Hessian fly; many acres of wheat being ruined by its encroachments, while the greater portion of the remainder is seriously damaged. No satisfactory remedy for the extermination of the fly has as yet been introduced. In the meantime, as the progressive farmer is anxious to procure some more profitable crop, upon which dependence can be placed, I would suggest utilizing a portion of the acreage now devoted to wheat to the cultivation of the sugar beet. I have made an exhaustive study of this new departure in Canadian agriculture, having consulted the best authorities available, and instituted inquiries among friends in Michigan engaged in the growing of sugar beets, and the unanimous expression of confidence in the enterprise exhibited by every person from whom I obtained information; the splendid results obtained by them from their crops, and the increased acreage they intend to devote to the beets, encourage me in predicting that immense possibilities await the Canadian farmer in this connection. The present appearance of the beets sown in this section is magnificent, indicating an abundant harvest. The industry, though but in its infancy in Michigan (three years established), has made phenomenal progress, and cultivators of the beet have realized handsome profits from their enterprise. The Canadian farmer cannot do better than give the projected industries their co-operation and assistance by contracting for acreage, as it has been successfully demonstrated that our soil and climate are unsurpassed for the profitable reduction of the beets, and there is far more profit in this crop than in any other with which the land could be seeded. The establishment of these industries would be of incalculable benefit to the community at large, employing a great many hands, and manufacturing their own sugar, of which articles we now import immense quantities. COMFORT FOR POOR SLEEPERS

The Mystery of Sleep—Insomnia a Warning of Overwork or Approaching Nervous Collapse Which Is Not To Be Lightly Disregarded.

Robbery of Sleep One of the Worst of Crimes—Dr. Chase's Nerve Food by Building Up Blood and Nerves Restores Restful Sleep.

"Sleep is the vacation of the soul; it is the mind gone into the playground of dreams; it is the relaxation of muscles and the solace of the nerves; it is the hush of repose; it is a calming of the pulse; it is a breathing much slower but much deeper; it is a temporary oblivion of all caring cares; it is a doctor recognized by all schools of medicine. Lack of sleep puts patients on the rack of torture or in the mad-house, or in the grave."

Insomnia is a disease of our country and of our age. Where there is one man or woman with strong, healthy nerves there are a dozen whose nervous systems are overwrought and unstrung. In vain they toss in beds of misery, longing for nature's great restorer, restful sleep. In hours of temptation they resist the opiate and narcotics, which produce temporary unconsciousness at an enormous expense to the human system.

In all occupations and professions there are times when a special draft is made upon nervous energy. Mothers, too, deprived of sleep and worn out by caring for their children and watching them through periods of sickness and disease, are left physical wrecks. Especially in the springtime do we all need to require an unusual allowance of sleep to overcome the weakening and debilitating effects of winter and the trying changes of temperature.

Sleeplessness is a warning that the nervous force of the body is being exhausted more rapidly than it is being replaced. The nerves are being depleted. The nights do not repair the waste of the day. Some unusual effort must be made to overcome this state of affairs, or collapse is certain. Scientists have pointed out some elements of nature as being that the farmers will give this matter their careful consideration. I confidently leave it with them.

HALF-A-DOZEN CASES OF DROWNING!

Mother and Daughter Lose Their Lives While Fishing—Fatalities at Markdale and Other Points.

Ironwood, Mich., June 23.—Mrs. Caroline Connelly, of Ironwood, and her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Hobbs, of Mercer, were drowned Tuesday in the lake at Markdale, Ont., June 27.—This morning Mrs. Duff, one of the oldest citizens of Markdale, was found drowned in the cistern at her home. Deceased was subject to spells of fainting, and it is supposed that while dipping some water one of these fits came on and she fell in.

Peterboro, Ont., June 27.—A second fatal drowning accident occurred here this afternoon. Wilfred Trew, the 8-year-old son of Solomon Trew, while in bathing near the C. P. R. spur line with his companions, got beyond his depth, and was drowned in the sight of other little fellows.

Montreal, June 27.—Yesterday morning J. G. Moulton, who had been working on the roadway for Mr. Casey, contractor, drove his team into the river, and horses and driver were carried over the dam and the falls. Moulton's body was recovered half a mile down the river. His mother and brother live in Almonte.

Arnprior, Ont., June 27.—Wilbur Duncan, aged 7, son of James Duncan, of this town, was drowned this morning in the Madawaska while playing on a broom stick.

Recuporative Effect.
Considered with reference to its recuperative effect, there is not so much in the ordinary vacation as there is in a single bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. The latter costs $2, the former—well, that depends: how much did your cost last year?

Hood's Sarsaparilla refreshes the tired blood, sharpens the dulled appetite, restores the lost courage.

POLICEMEN'S TROUBLES.
Montreal, Que., June 27.—Ex-City Policeman Dieudonne Plouffe was sentenced to three years in penitentiary for robbing a man of a gold watch some weeks ago. Plouffe was suspected of being a thief, and a plan was arranged to make sure of his guilt.

Ottawa, Ont., June 28.—Detective Flanagan, who was reduced to the ranks, and who afterwards put in his resignation, at a meeting of the police commissioners withdrew his resignation, so that he now stands suspended. Mr. Dowlin, counsel for Flanagan, says that he intends placing in the hands of the commissioners a charge against the chief of police and other officers.

peculiarly suited to the needs of an exhausted nervous system. Through the medium of the blood and nervous system these restoratives carry new life and vital energy to every nerve cell in the human body.

While these elements of nature are combined in various proportions, it is now generally conceded by physicians that the prescriptions used by Dr. Chase with such marvelous success in his immense practice is the one which gives most general satisfaction. This preparation is now known as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and has come to have an enormous sale in every part of this continent, where nervous disorders and sleeplessness are so prevalent.

Each and every sufferer from nervous and physical exhaustion, thin, watery, and impure blood, and the demon insomnia, can begin the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with positive assurance that the regular use of this famous food will ever use, and instead of tearing down the tissues and deadening the nerves, it cures by filling every cell with new life, vigor and vitality. As a spring tonic and invigorator it is marvelous in its action, instilling into weak, worn, tired human bodies the strength, elasticity and buoyancy of perfect health; so gets a box, 6 boxes for $3.50, at all dealers, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, by Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

THE HEALTH OFFICERS OF ONTARIO

Sanitary Arrangements in the Schools Criticised.

More Attention to the Subject Recommended—Another Warning Against Kissing—Officers Elected.

The executive health officers of Ontario concluded their annual convention at Brantford Wednesday afternoon. The forenoon was largely occupied with the subject of the spread of diseases through schools, by reason of bad ventilation, lack of cleanliness, and other breaches of sanitary laws. A resolution was passed favoring a more rigid inspection of schools, with a view to this end, a systematic education of pupils and teachers, one of the means to obtaining which would be a proposed medical bulletin. In the afternoon the association honored Dr. E. E. Kitchen, of St. George, who has done excellent work on the provincial board of health, by electing him president.

NESTS OF DISEASE.
Dr. John Herald, of Kingston, read a paper on "Schools and Their Influence in Promoting or Retarding Tuberculosis." He criticised the school system as making no provision for different treatment of pupils of different constitutions, or dispositions. The teachers were not given sufficient discretionary power in assigning work to the pupils, and were forced by the foolish parents to send the weak child along beyond his strength. The schools must bear some of the responsibility for the spread of the bacilli, Dr. Herald spoke of the impure air and bad ventilation in the majority of school-rooms. There were regulations to prevent this, but they were rarely carried out. Our schools were centers from which this disease had spread abroad. In almost every school there were to be found children already tainted with tuberculosis. From these, considering the tendency to life of bacilli and the presence of more or less dust and dirt and the absence of sunlight, it was easy for them to spread.

"The system of intellectual hot-house forcing in vogue in many of our schools," Dr. Herald continued, "the impure air and the lack of ventilation found in many of our schools, the dust and want of sunlight so characteristic of many of our schools, the presence of children already suffering from tuberculosis in many of our schools, the presumable impregnation of the air in many of our schools, with the bacilli of tuberculosis, the very high death rate of our children from tuberculosis, contracted at or about school age, these all point to our schools as the probable source of that disease, which is yearly carrying off so many of our people. This proof is not positive, but it is so strongly presumptive, that it becomes almost, if not quite, positive."

Dr. Herald concluded by urging the education of the public, the teachers and the trustees to the dangers they faced, the enforcement of the regulations of the educational department, and suggested the appointment of sanitary inspectors who were specially fitted for the work.

BAD WELL WATER.
Dr. H. G. Roberts, of New Germany, gave a paper on "Inspection of Rural Schools and Rural Districts as Regards Dangers from Polluted Well Water." He said that in Waterloo township, where he lives, they had a regular system of inspection of the houses and wells. They had, further, a "well-cleaning day," a day set apart in each year, just as Arbor Day, when every resident was urged to clean out his wells. The result had been quite satisfactory, and typhoid fever had been notably lessened. He thought it might well be adopted throughout the whole province. He also suggested that the provincial board of health issue a bulletin, say quarterly, for the information on health topics of the scholars and the public generally.

CONDEMNING KISSING.
Dr. Riddell, of Bayham, considered the habit of ladies kissing one another, a very fruitful source of spreading disease.

On motion of Dr. Bray, of Chatham, seconded by Dr. McAlpin, of Petrolia, the following resolution was passed: "That in view of the facts set forth in the various papers, both of the direct dangers from children and teachers infected with tuberculosis being present in schools; further, from the presence of accumulations of infected dust and dirt in schools, and absence of sufficient good ventilation and sunlight, and, further, from the debilitating effects of over mental work: This association would urge that education of the people and trustees and health boards be systematically prosecuted by public health lectures and by conventions of trustees, inspectors and teachers; and that a public health journal be published monthly, dealing carefully and systematically with the prevention of spread of and care of infectious and contagious diseases, and, further, that systematic inspection should be carried out by inspectors specially fitted for the work, either by government or county health officers duly appointed."

WANTS COUNTY INSPECTORS.
Dr. L. H. Mitchell, of Delaware, presented a carefully prepared paper on health organization in rural districts, in which he strongly urged the appointment of county health officers, instead of leaving the work to township officers, who were generally inadequately paid for their labor.

INSPECTION OF MILK.
Dr. D. Duntun, of Paris, in a paper on "Inspection of Municipal Milk Supplies," contended strongly for regular inspection of cattle, which furnished the most general article of diet in use.

Mr. D. Forsyth, M.A., Berlin, read a paper on "Medical Inspection of Schools and the Prevention of Spread of Contagious Diseases." Prof. J. A. Amyot, of Toronto, on "Value of Examinations of Throat Swabs as a Test of Freedom from Diphtheria"; Mr. W. Mahon Davis, C. E., Berlin, on "Modern Systems of Sewage Disposal," while papers were also contributed by Dr. F. G. E. Pearson, Brantford, on "Typhoid Outbreaks in Brantford"; Dr. Thomas McFarlane, of Ottawa, on "Moss Purification of Closets."

FOR CONSUMPTIVE SANITARIA.
The report of the secretary-treasurer, Dr. Bryce, called attention to the work of fighting consumption, now being prosecuted, and suggested that a committee of the association be formed, consisting of one member from each county, who will endeavor, through local committees, to have bylaws for the establishment of country sanatoria submitted to the people. The general committees were instructed to name the members of the committee suggested by Dr. Bryce.

OFFICERS ELECTED.
The election of officers for the year resulted in the following being unanimously chosen: President, Dr. E. E. Kitchen, St. George; vice-president, Mr. Thomas McFarlane, Ottawa; executive committee, Dr. F. G. E. Pearson, Brantford; Dr. Hoare, Walkerville; Dr. D. Duntun, Paris; Dr. John Herald, Kingston; Dr. W. J. Arnot, Berlin.

THE WEATHER TODAY—Very warm; thunderstorms.

There must be something most attractive about this store. Once we thought closing Saturday nights when other stores were open meant losing all our evening trade. At first we did lose it; but since the public became accustomed to the change they have made it their business to buy here before 5 p.m. Yes, there must be something wonderfully attractive about this store.

"Brave to a Fault."

'After the many ignorant and untruthful, often malignant criticisms of the British soldier in South Africa, emanating from American sources, the candid but wholly fair report of Capt. Stephen L. H. Slocum, Eighth United States Cavalry, is refreshing. Capt. Slocum, who was the United States military attaché with the British forces, joined Gen. Buller just before Colenso. Of the British troops he says: "If ever a nation exemplified the phrase, 'Brave to a fault,' it is the British." As to their battle tactics, he writes: "The reluctance of the soldier to trench himself, and the indifference of the officers to enforce this most necessary and vital precaution was strikingly shown upon all occasions. They would pile a little parapet of stones, visible for a long distance, and consequently a target for the enemy's guns and a source of death in itself when struck by a shell, but they would rarely ever dig a trench."

"I never could understand this serious fault. The infantry never make rushes in their attacks, but march erect and calmly forward. I have seen mounted men under a hot rifle fire at short range, halted, waiting for orders to advance, sitting erect on their horses, a perfect target, while lying over on their horses' necks, they would have had some protection, as I had. They have not the individuality and resources of our men, but for indomitable courage, uncomplicated fortitude and implicit obedience, they are beyond criticism. The artillery has shown itself during the war, in my opinion, to be the best branch of the combatant service. The field and horse artillery guns were not of the most modern type, and were often outgunned by the enemy's; nevertheless, the gunners, both officers and men, have demonstrated that they are as good as the most critical commander could desire. The naval guns, worked by sailors, have been one of the most important factors of the war."

Western University—Successful Medical Students.

In the recent examinations set by the Ontario Medical Council, no less than twenty candidates from the Western University wrote—four in the final clinics, seven in the intermediate and nine in the primary. It must be a source of gratification to the medical faculty of this highly efficient institution that every one of these twenty candidates was successful in passing the examination, and that the second year scholarship man of the university, Mr. J. Armstrong, defeated all competitors, he being the only one to take honors. When it is known that the percentage of successful students in the Ontario Council averages from year to year about 45, the unusual achievement of the London college becomes apparent. The efficiency of this department of the Western University was never greater than at present. During the past session the new anatomical and pathological building offered excellent facilities for thorough study, and the clinics in surgery and medicine at Victoria Hospital were better and larger than ever before. The moral and material profits accruing from the presence of such an institution in our midst cannot be over-rated. Some of the most successful surgeons and physicians in America acknowledge the Western University as their alma mater; and this institution has done much by its admirable work, to establish a name for London as an educational center. In a material sense the medical department is also of great benefit to the city, for its students spend about $30,000 every year. The capable faculty and lecturers are to be congratulated on the growing success and prosperity of the college.

Getting at the Cause of Cancer.

When medical science finds out beyond question the causes of cancer, the right remedy will not be long behind. The Popular Science Monthly rejoices that to an American is due the discovery of the probable cause of cancer. Dr. Harvey R. Gaylord, working in New York State Pathological Laboratory at Buffalo, has been able to cultivate the organisms that cause cancer, and to produce cancer by injecting them into healthy animals. "These organisms are not bacteria or yeast cells, but protozoa. There has long been a difference of opinion as to whether cancer is due to alterations in nutrition, or to a parasite. Now that the latter has been proved, cancer must be regarded as a preventable disease, and it remains to discover the method of its propagation." It must, of course, be remembered that Dr. Gaylord's discovery, like all others, rests on a long line of careful researches carried on in many countries. There are innumerable names connected with the development of the germ theory of disease, but the forerunners of Gaylord, who expected ally deserve mention in connection with cancer, are Scheuerlin, Kubasoff, Russell, Sanfelice and Plimmer.

Nature's Turkish Bath.

Re the hot weather: That is what you were praying for a month ago. A month ago you were exclaiming "Will it never be warm!" The hot summer is nature's Turkish bath, to expel the poisons of the winter.

Hygienically, if it is regarded rightly, and not overdone, hot weather is a healthy interjection between long spells of cold and tepid temperatures. It's all right. It's just what is needed.

It may do no harm in hot weather to eat a little less of animal food, and a little more of fruit and vegetables; to omit alcoholic drinks; and carry an umbrella; also to make a bargain with yourself to indulge in surcease from worry till the first day of September.

"Forget the hot weather," says one wise authority; those who cannot get out of themselves might revolve in their minds some such thought as this:

It's cool up there where the stars are, Where Venus and Neptune and Mars are;

Though it's hot down here about half of the year, It's cool up there where the stars are.

Death of a Senator.

Senator Villeneuve, of Montreal, died yesterday. He was 64 years old. For many years he had been prominent in business, financial and political circles. He was a Conservative in politics.

Crowding in Trolleys.

A Boston writer has called attention to the way Bostonians put an end to the summer nuisance of stand-up passengers in open street cars. The individual Bostonian, he says, having had some protection, as I had. They have not the individuality and resources of our men, but for indomitable courage, uncomplicated fortitude and implicit obedience, they are beyond criticism. The artillery has shown itself during the war, in my opinion, to be the best branch of the combatant service. The field and horse artillery guns were not of the most modern type, and were often outgunned by the enemy's; nevertheless, the gunners, both officers and men, have demonstrated that they are as good as the most critical commander could desire. The naval guns, worked by sailors, have been one of the most important factors of the war."

If some New Yorker physically qualified to withstand a possible assault, comments the New York World, should assert his right to keep his feet well in front of him on an open car, and having provoked arrest, should carry the case to the highest court, it might result in a ruling that would end the nuisance forever. It would seem to be good common sense that sufficient space in front for two feet goes with every seat. And it is an old maxim that good sense is usually good law. That is true. One of the greatest discomforts of summer is the difficulty of enjoying a quiet trolley ride without being jostled and squeezed into perspiring irritability. Street railway conductors should be instructed to allow no stand-up passengers on cars. An increase in the number of cars in service would obviate such a necessity.

City Noises Should Be Reduced.

A Brooklyn householder, after his nervous system had been well-nigh shattered, succeeded recently in getting legal protection from a nuisance created by the beating of rugs on the roof of a neighboring building. It was not the dust he objected to, but the noise. In his complaint he said that the nervous tension caused by the daily beating was unbearable, and the court held that he was well within his rights in demanding that it be stopped.

"If the decision goes to this extent it is easy to see that it may have momentous consequences," says the Louisville Courier-Journal in commenting on the case. "The task of discrimination among different kinds of noise, and especially among those noises that pass for music, is made very difficult by the wide differences in taste. There are those who dote upon the sound of a bagpipe; to others it is incitement to homicide."

Undoubtedly certain noises, such as the incessant clanging of street car gongs, are extremely wearing on the nerves, and to that extent are injurious to health. That being the case, noise in the city should be reduced to the minimum. The efforts of inventors have for a long time been directed at the problem of abating the smoke nuisance in large cities, and it would seem as if the noise nuisance is equally deserving of attention. If one should picture the ideal city, it would be devoid of both noise and smoke. It is possible that half the nervous ailments to which city dwellers are heir, and from which country dwellers are exempt, are due to the constant and depressing noises of the town. Blessings will be showered upon the head of the man who invents a noiseless street car.

The 45th Highlanders are going to the Pan-American. The right kind of leg-gear for this weather!

The Ottawa Commonwealth says Mr. R. L. Borden was chosen Opposition leader because Ontario had no man ready. What do Mr. W. F. Maclean and Mr. Clark Wallace think of that?

The Toronto Star thinks that factories should start work at 4 a.m. in summer and quit at 3 p.m., instead of 6. They do that sort of thing in the East. But perhaps sleep in the cool hours is still more important.

The Safe Ocean.

The wreck of the Lusitania emphasizes the ordinary safety of the average passenger ocean steamship; so few lives are lost compared with the number of trips and passengers. Statistics show the individual is a little safer from mishap at sea than at home on land. Proportionately, also, more people are killed in wagons and buggies than on railway trains.

Mr. A. R. Creelman, K. C., leaves Toronto next week for Montreal, where he will assume the position of Chief Counsel for the Canadian Pacific Railway. In his chosen field, he is one of the greatest lawyers of the Dominion.

The First Congregational (Unitarian) Church, of West Bridgewater, near Boston, celebrated three notable events on Sunday last: First, the 25th anniversary of the founding of the church; second, the centennial anniversary of the erection of its present edifice; and third, the 20th anniversary of the ordination of its present pastor, the Rev. Edward B. Magliathlin. This ancient church was for more than 150 years Unitarian, and just when it became Unitarian no one can tell. The address delivered on the occasion was by the Rev. Allan Hudson, on "Our Common Heritage From Pilgrim Sires." "The Pilgrim Fathers" was sung. Other addresses followed, including the greetings from the local churches, an address on "The Makers of History" and "The Forward Look," concluding appropriately with the singing of the hymn, "The House That Our Fathers Built to God."

Seeing the Sights.

[Boston Herald.] The fact that the American team is winning the big prizes in the Scotch clay pigeon shoot at Glasgow, proves that our people when abroad know how to see the sights.

Definition of Sin.

[Springfield Republican.] Mrs. Eddy's definition of sin should not be overlooked. It is "a nonentity that annihilates its own embodiment." That reminds you of O. W. Holmes' line about it being "a sin to sit and grin." But grin you must.

New Drink in Kansas.

[Canadian Freeman.] They have a new drink in Kansas that is composed of hard cider, alcohol and water. It is said that one glass makes a man ready for a frolic, two for a fight, three for an undertaker.

Up Against the Bedposts.

[Canadian Freeman.] All the political prophets have not died with Sir Charles Tupper. There are but few Conservatives in the country who do not predict that the Ontario elections will go their way—and it is ever thus with them. The Conservatives always win up to the day the ballots are counted, then their heads strike the bedposts and they wake up.

One Hundred Miles an Hour.

[Springfield Republican.] The terrifying possibilities of the automobile are forcibly illustrated by the fact that the new English cars entered for the great long distance races in France are geared and engineered for a speed of 100 miles an hour. The attainment of that velocity requires only a question of nerve. When a thing like that is let loose on the highways it is time for the rest of us to take to the woods.

"CANADA FOR EVER!"

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Makes a Patriotic Speech at Montreal.

Montreal, June 27.—"Canada first, Canada for ever, nothing but Canada," were the words with which Sir Wilfrid Laurier concluded a brief but eloquent address during the St. Jean Baptiste entertainment in the Monument National. Having compared the state of the country and of his race at the present day, and during the troublesome winter of 1894, when the St. Jean Baptiste Association was founded, as a measure of protection, he continued: "We have no longer to fight for our rights, since we possess them in all their fullness. But we have duties to fulfill. Canada is no longer a colony, but a nation. It is a country of concord, of harmony of peace. It is a land blessed by those who live in it, and envied by those who do not. It is a country where different races meet and struggle and work in a fruitful rivalry, a country where the races have realized that thing unique in the world, fraternity without absorption, union without fusion.

"France and England, it is true, fought for a long time on the American continent, but in the struggle which ended in our defeat our race experienced no humiliation, since the resolution and tenacity of the English were crowned with success never perhaps did French valor shine with greater brilliancy. Our race has continued to show its worth. For every English statesman in our country we have been able to set up one of our own. By the side of Baldwin we placed Lafontaine, by the side of MacDonald, Cartier, by the side of Mackenzie, Dorian.

"Yes, I love my country because it resembles no other. I love my country because it is the only one in the world which calls for the noblest resolutions, the strongest, the most generous qualities of man. I love my country above all because it is unique in the world, because it is founded on respect for rights, on pride of origin, on harmony and concord between the races who inhabit it. Our pride refuses to follow longer the beaten paths. Henceforth we must march along other roads and towards other horizons. Let us have in view only the present and the future of our country. Let us keep in our heart this thought: 'Canada first, Canada for ever; Nothing but Canada.'"

The Junians, Carson, McKee Co. THE REMAINING DAYS

of our Big Dissolution Sale will every one of them be made memorable by the variety, seasonableness and great value of bargains given. Will those who, on account of the great rush during the last few days, failed to get the prompt service necessary to comfort, accept our apology? We trust, however, the worthiness of the bargain secured will in a measure atone for the delay and discomfort experienced.

Seeing the Sights.

[Boston Herald.] The fact that the American team is winning the big prizes in the Scotch clay pigeon shoot at Glasgow, proves that our people when abroad know how to see the sights.

Definition of Sin.

[Springfield Republican.] Mrs. Eddy's definition of sin should not be overlooked. It is "a nonentity that annihilates its own embodiment." That reminds you of O. W. Holmes' line about it being "a sin to sit and grin." But grin you must.

New Drink in Kansas.

[Canadian Freeman.] They have a new drink in Kansas that is composed of hard cider, alcohol and water. It is said that one glass makes a man ready for a frolic, two for a fight, three for an undertaker.

Up Against the Bedposts.

[Canadian Freeman.] All the political prophets have not died with Sir Charles Tupper. There are but few Conservatives in the country who do not predict that the Ontario elections will go their way—and it is ever thus with them. The Conservatives always win up to the day the ballots are counted, then their heads strike the bedposts and they wake up.

"CANADA FOR EVER!"

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Makes a Patriotic Speech at Montreal.

Montreal, June 27.—"Canada first, Canada for ever, nothing but Canada," were the words with which Sir Wilfrid Laurier concluded a brief but eloquent address during the St. Jean Baptiste entertainment in the Monument National. Having compared the state of the country and of his race at the present day, and during the troublesome winter of 1894, when the St. Jean Baptiste Association was founded, as a measure of protection, he continued: "We have no longer to fight for our rights, since we possess them in all their fullness. But we have duties to fulfill. Canada is no longer a colony, but a nation. It is a country of concord, of harmony of peace. It is a land blessed by those who live in it, and envied by those who do not. It is a country where different races meet and struggle and work in a fruitful rivalry, a country where the races have realized that thing unique in the world, fraternity without absorption, union without fusion.

"France and England, it is true, fought for a long time on the American continent, but in the struggle which ended in our defeat our race experienced no humiliation, since the resolution and tenacity of the English were crowned with success never perhaps did French valor shine with greater brilliancy. Our race has continued to show its worth. For every English statesman in our country we have been able to set up one of our own. By the side of Baldwin we placed Lafontaine, by the side of MacDonald, Cartier, by the side of Mackenzie, Dorian.

FIGHTING FIRE ON BOARD SHIP.

Two Brave Men Save a British Transport From Destruction.

New Orleans, La., June 27.—The British mule transport Monterey, from Cape Town, has arrived in port after a terrible experience with fire at sea. Twelve days out from St. Vincent, flames were discovered in the after-hold, and gained such headway that the heat prevented the usual means of extinguishing fire on shipboard. Flames and clouds of smoke poured out from the hold, and when the officers and crew were about to abandon the ship, First Officer Reid and Fourth Officer Harrison volunteered a daring plan. They proposed to tie wire cables around their bodies and have their companions lower them down the side of the ship, until they were abreast the port opening into the burning section. It was a desperate expedient, but after a short consultation it was adopted. As the fire was near the water line, Reid and Harrison were lowered down until they were submerged in the sea nearly up to their waists. Hanging thus half-buried in the waves, with the ship under headway, the men battered in the port, a hose was then lowered to them, and for several hours they swung outward and inward, pouring a stream into the blazing hold. In this way they finally succeeded in checking the flames. The vessel was badly damaged.

OXFORD PARK

The new addition to London is located on Oxford street, and has a frontage of over 9,000 feet on Oxford street, and on the five new streets we are constructing through the property. This tract contains more than 1,000,000 square feet of the best building land in London—high, dry and level as a house floor, with a beautiful view of the city. It is one and one-third miles from Market Square, and within three minutes' walk of the junction of Oxford street and Wharfedale road, where the London West electric cars can be taken every twelve minutes to all parts of the city. The property was purchased by Dodge & Draper of William F. Peters for spot cash, and the title was examined by Francis Love, Esq., and pronounced perfect. Every lot is a level lawn—not one cent to be spent for grading and filling—and our prices are all the way from one-sixth to one-half the regular prices asked for house lots in this section of the city.

A STEERING HEART.

CHAPTER XLVI.
The "Hilton" party, as Mr. and Mrs.
Hilton, with Shirley and Madame, were designated, remained in Florence until the first of January, and Shirley, during that time, had become fairly launched upon the topmost altitude of society.
She enjoyed it thoroughly, when the ice was once broken; not so much the gay round of pleasures as the delightful intercourse with cultivated people, who served to draw her out and develop her own brilliant powers and finer qualities in the social world which, until now, she had hardly known that she possessed.
It chanced that Florence was unusually gay that season, and that some of the very choicest American literary artists and statesmen were sojourning there;
thus Shirley's debut was attended by the most charming circumstances, and seeing only the bright side of it, she told herself that fashionable society was not so shallow and purely-gilded as she had heretofore imagined it to be.

The party finally, with deep regret, bade adieu to this beautiful gem for their Arrived in New York, and Shirley, with their departure was profoundly impressed by those whom they left behind;
and their passing the twentieth of January,
and so they were obliged to turn their backs toward the city which they had loved so dearly.

Mrs. Hilton had obtained a promise from Madame Marton and Shirley that they would be their guests for another month after their arrival in New York.
"I want the privilege of introducing you to the society of Gotham," she had told her fair protegee, "and in respect to respect in Florence has been so delightful that I am sighing for fresh laurels elsewhere."

"You are very kind, Mrs. Hilton," Shirley had replied, "and have made the winter exceedingly pleasant for me. I am not sure that too much of this kind of life will be good for me."

"Well, one thing is certain, and that is that you are eminently fitted for it," responded Mrs. Hilton, with a smiling glance at the sweet girl, "and I am glad that I may be able to help you to become too much absorbed in it. I am afraid that I might grow selfish and worldly, and lose sight of the aim and object which I have in view, and so attain in life—that of making the most of myself, mentally, morally and spiritually, and of becoming the most useful to others in the same way." There was a far-away, wistful look in her beautiful eyes as she spoke.

She was thinking of something that Lord Wallace had written in his last letter to her.

"So you are to return some time next month," he wrote. "Such being the case,
I cannot deny myself the pleasure of remaining in New York until that time, to meet you and bid you adieu at home;
otherwise I should now be back at Ivy hurst, for my course of study here is completed, and as the most of my future life will be devoted to the study of the interests of suffering humanity, I love my profession, and—if I must live alone, I will make the most of my life."

How supremely noble he seemed in this devoting himself and all that he possessed to the divine science of healing, for the sake of the good that he might do to fill the long years that perchance may be before me with something of comfort in ministering to the suffering and to confront one upon every hand."

Every word of this portion of the young surgeon's letter had been read by Shirley,
and she had been struck by the nobleness of his spirit and the depth of his sympathetic heart.

Wingham, Ont., June 28.—Yesterday 6,000 people filled the grand stand and swarm- ed over the grass lawns of the Wingham Turf Club to see the same little gelding Harold H., owned by J. E. SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. HARRY BEATON.

Well-Known Business Man Succumbs to Paralysis.

Mr. Harry Beaton died last night at the family residence, Park avenue. He had been ill only about 24 hours, having been in fairly good health until Wednesday morning, when he suffered a paralytic stroke. Two years ago he was stricken with paralysis, but recovered from it and had almost regained his former health. His unexpected death will be sincerely regretted by many friends, whose esteem he had gained in many years of business and social life. Mr. Beaton was a successful hatter and furrier for a long period, but for the past two years or more he had lived in retirement. He was an ardent supporter of athletic sports, and was especially devoted to curling. The surviving family are a widow and one son, the latter being a student in the office of Moore & Henry, architects.

SERGEANTS' MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.
 Five hundred people patronized the moonlight excursion at Port Stanley given last night under the auspices of the sergeants of the Seventh Regiment. The two hours' ride on the moonlit lake was a delightful one. The band of the regiment accompanied the excursionists, and added in no small degree to the good time spent.

WANTS COUNTY HEALTH OFFICERS.
 At the Ontario Health Officers' Convention just concluded at Brantford, Dr. F. H. Mitchell, of Delaware, presented a carefully-prepared paper on health organization in rural districts in which he strongly urged the appointment of county health officers, instead of leaving the work to township officers, who were generally inadequately paid for their labor.

BOY MAY STAY IN JAIL.
 Constable McCarthy, of Stratford, has written Detective Northgreaves to the effect that James Wilson, of Stratford, will make no effort to get his 15-year-old son, Lawrence, out of jail here, where the boy is confined on a charge of vagrancy. Young Wilson followed the circus until Monday, when he decided to leave it. He was found by Detective Northgreaves outside the city limits, sleeping on two boards, after an imaginative milkman had mistaken him for a corpse. The clerk of Wilson says he has no money to get the boy out of jail, and if the latter has got into trouble, the father says he must take the consequences.

 A telegram from Winnipeg, received yesterday, announces the death of Mrs. George B. Laing, which occurred on Wednesday night at the family residence in Hargrave street. The deceased had received a paralytic stroke in March last, but had recovered so far as to justify the expectation of restored health. Two weeks ago she was again stricken, with fatal results. Mrs. Laing was the youngest of five daughters of the late John Jennings, who was one of the early settlers in London. She was pre-deceased by three of her sisters—Mrs. A. G. Smyth, Mrs. John B. WILL DO MISSION WORK.
 Mr. Edward Humphrey, of Hamilton Road Methodist Church, leaves on Monday next for Calgary to do mission work there in connection with the Manitoba conference. Wednesday evening he was tendered a farewell by the congregation and presented with a sum of money. The pastor of the church, Rev. S. J. Alder, presided over the gathering on the church lawn, and following the presentation short addresses were made by Messrs. Geo. Samwell, E. Phoenix and Reg. Webb, who expressed regret at Mr. Humphrey's departure, but bidden him God-speed. Recitations were given by Miss Mossop and Miss Webb, and Mr. Ernest Phoenix sang "The Dream of Pauline." Mr. Humphrey has just returned from Ada College, Ohio, and expected to resume his studies there, but has been pressed to enter the mission field in the Northwest.

A SUCCESSOR APPOINTED.
 A few days ago The Advertiser announced that Mr. A. J. Brenton, local manager of the Gurney-Oxford branch store in this city, had received the appointment of Toronto manager of the Gurney-Tilden Company, of Hamilton. A successor has been appointed to Mr. Brenton, and the old saying of "Still in the family" is illustrated by Mr. F. G. Brenton, a brother, securing the position. No doubt the Gurney-Oxford Company had in view the capabilities of Mr. F. G. Brenton, believing that if one brother had made the business in this city a prosperous one, no reason existed why another member of the family should not be equally successful. Mr. F. G. Brenton is a well-known young business man, having for several years been with Mr. A. Westman, hardware merchant. The farmers in the surrounding country are well acquainted with him, and this added to his experience should naturally increase the sales of the well-known Gurney-Oxford stores. Mr. A. J. Brenton retires at the end of this week and will leave for Toronto about July 8.

A SHAM BATTLE ON THE HEIGHTS

The Affair Was a Lesson in Entrenchment Work.

The District Officer Commanding Criticized the Tactics Employed and Offered Suggestions.

A successfully arranged and instructive sham battle was fought on Carling's Heights yesterday afternoon. It was intended that it should be a practical lesson in the gentle art of making enemies' fire ineffective by a skillful use of trenches, to which end the officers had been instructing the men for several days.

The seat of the engagement was the brow of the hill, and to the 16th Battery and the 29th and 30th Regiments, under Col. Hegler, and made all their approaches on the hill by the way of Elizabeth street. The guns on both sides were very well covered, and did effective work. The sham battle also gave the members of the Army Medical Corps an opportunity to put their training into practical use. Numbers of men were appointed to act as wounded soldiers, who were quickly removed to the hospital, where their supposed injuries were dressed, and their places filled. Both Col. Hegler and Col. White used whatever tactics as to them seemed best.

The battle was viewed by Col. Peters, who subsequently addressed the officers. He considered that the attacking party was very well extended, and the men were brought up under a cover which was, unexpectedly, somewhat to the surprise of the defense. The trouble, however, was that they did not make use of the streets to the east, all coming by the way of Elizabeth street, and some of the officers marching their men coolly into the open instead of promptly taking cover, and crawling into the position they wished to occupy. The artillery on the attack left their horses in limber in the open, where they must of necessity have been enfiladed in a few minutes. There was a great defect, and again, the attacking party, who had good cover at a comparatively close range, were not satisfied, but advanced partly in the open under a sailing fire. The effect of all this was that the attacking force became too much bunched up and their attack was not effective. The first part of the attack was also spoiled by the men not opening fire on the defending force while they were entrenching themselves. The attacking party (two companies of the 30th Regiment, under Capt. Head), did their work splendidly. The artillery of the defending party also did excellent work, as they had no infantry opposed to them. The latter being all bunched up on the left of the attack, the artillery from their position could almost have enfiladed them. The defending forces had clearly the better part of the argument.

THEY STILL WANT TAR MACADAM.

Dundas Street Ratepayers Do Not Favor the Expensive Asphalt.

The members of the board of works and ratepayers on Dundas street, between Wellington and Waterloo met again yesterday, and the latter once more declared in favor of tar macadam as a permanent pavement for that block, basing their claim for it upon the belief that it is a good pavement and a cheap pavement, while asphalt is a costly pavement, and none too satisfactory. Mr. Warren, of the Barber Asphalt Company, of Buffalo, answered this last contention by saying that it was the city's own fault, because the asphalt was soaked with water so much.

The ratepayers wanted to know what share of the expense the city would pay, and found that the board were not inclined to increase the uncontrollable expenditure, except for a first-class pavement.

The city engineer reported that asphalt would cost $2.90 per square yard; brick, $2.65 and tar macadam, $2. each to have a ten-year guarantee. The citizens present put in figures from Warren Bros. at $1.60 per square yard, and from L. P. Marden & Co. at $1.25 and $1.40, the latter figure to include an under layer of St. Marys stone.

The matter was laid over for another week.

Engineer Graydon advised the granting of the street railway company's request to be allowed to lay double tracks on Railway street. Action was deferred.

There were no new tenders for the laying of cement curbs. A former tenderer put in a lower figure, but it was not considered proper to accept this and the contracts to the Marden and Silica-Barytic Companies were reaffirmed.
