NO MATRON FOR SICK WOMEN

Mrs. Thomas Wrong Makes Serious Charges Against Smallpox Hospital.

Kept in Ignorance of Son's Serious Illness Until His Death—One Nurse for 26 Men.

Detroit, Oct. 29.—A story of conditions in the small-pox hospital has been laid before the Protective Agency for Women and Children by Mrs. Thomas Wrong, of 1695 Scotten avenue, in which she charges that there is only one person in attendance to care for 26 or more patients, a man who is on duty night and day, and that although there are women patients there is no matron. The patients have to care for each other or receive no attention at all worthy of the name, and they are visited not often than once a day by the health officer or his assistants.

Mrs. Wrong was a music teacher in Chatham, Ont., but came to Detroit recently because her sons had obtained employment here. Early last month her son, Charles Randolph Wrong, became ill, and on Sept. 3 she called in Dr. Sampson, of Windsor, who pronounced the case small-pox and notified Dr. Kiefer as health officer. Dr. Kiefer called and said the boy must go to the detention hospital.

HUSTLED IN A HACK.
Mrs. Wrong complains that her son was removed in a very uncomfortable manner. A rickety hack was driven to the door, the driver would not aid her to get her son down stairs, or wait until she had made him comfortable in the hack. The boy was very ill and should have been removed in an ambulance. The driver volunteered the information that Dr. Ames knew more about small-pox than any other physician in the city. She learned afterward that although there were 26 patients in the hospital there was only one attendant, a man, and that the patients were to look after each other, cooking, cleaning and giving each other the daily sponging required. There were three women patients in the hospital, and they were forced to care for each other, there being no matron. The one man in charge was on duty night and day. Health Officer Kiefer was supposed to call once a day, and once he took Dr. Ames to see Charles Wrong.

Mrs. Wrong, having been vaccinated when her son was found ill, found it very difficult to get out for a time, and tried to keep her son's condition by telephone. She says she was kept in ignorance of the serious nature of his case until the day before he died. Calling one night after having found it impossible to learn of his condition by telephone, she found the one man attendant playing cards with two policemen, too busy to answer the telephone at his elbow. One of the three young women patients at the hospital read the Bible and sang to Charles on several occasions during his illness. Mrs. Wrong expected Dr. Kiefer to see to it that Charles' body was sent to the crematory and the ashes preserved so that she could send them to Chatham for interment. When she called at the crematory she found that the remains had been brought there as those of an unknown person, and the man in charge was complaining because he had not been provided with a rubber suit for his own protection while handling the body.

WOMAN PATIENT COOKED.
Miss Alberta Ball, the girl who sang to Charles in his last illness, is now at Fletcher, Ont., her home. She says that there were two other girls there when she was at the hospital. She had been working at a private house, became ill, and was removed by the physician in an old hack, she knew not where, until she arrived. There were two other girls there. She says: "The old man in charge said to me, 'I must give you a sponge bath.' I said, 'Not on your life.' He said, 'Well, perhaps some of the other girls will help you.'"

CHILD IMMIGRATION.
Toronto, Oct. 29.—The objections made to the class of child immigration coming to Canada from England has stirred up the organizations there and the Catholic societies have sent out two men to investigate the situation here. These delegates arrived today, and had an interview with the superintendent of neglected children. They are A. C. Thomas, manager of the Berry Home, Liverpool, and Rev. E. Baynes, of the Crusade of Rescue, London.

The schooner William Case is in port with a cargo of coal for the Gas Co.

TARTE'S SUCCESSOR

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier, accompanied by his secretary, returned to the city to-night. He had nothing to say for publication. There may be a cabinet meeting to-morrow. Sir Wilfrid will probably see the Governor-General to-morrow and submit Mr. Brodeur's name for approval as Minister of Public Works. The new Minister is in the city and will attend the first meeting of the council. In fact his presence will be necessary as there is barely a quorum of ministers in the city.

COAL STRIKE COMMISSION

Start out on Their Duties This Morning—Now at Scranton.

Will Make a Tour of Inspection of the Mines and Homes in Anthracite Region.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 29.—The anthracite coal strike commissioners, who will make an inspection of the mines and the homes of the mine workers, arrived here to-night. Commissioner T. H. Watkins, whose home is in this city, came here early in the day and arranged some of the details for the first day's tour of the upper regions. The commission's headquarters are at the Hotel Jersey, where the party occupies fourteen rooms.

To-morrow will be spent in the region north of this city. At 9.15 a.m. the party will leave via the Delaware & Hudson Railway for Forest City. This mining town is in Susquehanna county, and is the upper edge of the hard coal fields, 22 miles from here. The operators will be represented by Mine Manager Bryden, of the New York, Ontario & Western Co.; Supt. Rose, of the Delaware & Hudson; General Manager Thorne, of the Temple Iron Co.; and General Manager Mag of the Erie Co. District President Nichols, of the miners' union, will be the principal representative of the miners. President Mitchell will not come to this city unless sent for. The train will travel slowly so that the commissioners can get a good idea of the country. At Forest City the party will be lowered into one of the Erie Co.'s mines, and it is expected that the entire morning will be spent underground. As a precaution against accident, a superintendent, fire boss or a practical miner, will accompany each member of the party through the workings. A coal breaker will be visited at Carbondale also. The commissioners will also stop at the coal mines of the anthracite region, for the purpose of visiting other colonies, and to look at the homes of the mine workers.

On Friday the commission will spend the day visiting colonies in and about the city of Scranton. Saturday the commission will go to Wilkesbarre for further investigations. It is possible, though, that a session of the commission will be held on Monday in Wilkesbarre to receive the statement of President Mitchell on behalf of the mine workers, to which the operators have agreed to make answer within three days. It is almost certain that no testimony will be taken in this city this week. Twenty-five accounts were brought here to-day from New York by the Erie Company. They will use the company's clerks in this city in arranging data for presentation to the commission.

PURE NEGLIGENCE

Christian Science Demonstrator Held as Accessory to Boy's Death.

Port Hope, Ont., Oct. 29.—The inquest to enquire into the cause of death of Harold Leslie Long, a boy who died on Sunday from diphtheria, while receiving Christian Science treatment, was held last night in the Town Hall before Coroner Corbett. The jury, after being out over an hour, brought in the following verdict:—
"That Harold Leslie Long came to his death at the home of his parents, in the town of Port Hope, from diphtheria, on October 26, 1902, and we find that the parents neglected to call in medical attendance until the child was practically at death's door. We also find Robert Horsey, Christian Science demonstrator, accessory to the child's death, inasmuch as he undertook to treat (for which he received a remuneration) a dangerous and contagious disease, which he admitted that he was totally ignorant of. The teaching of the sect known as Christian Scientists, as brought out in the inquest, is a danger to the public generally, and this jury would strongly urge that the Legislature enact a law which would make it a criminal offence for the demonstrator of this belief to attend or treat a case which is not being attended by a duly qualified medical practitioner."

A BANK SAFE BLOWN OPEN

Robbers First Secure Town Marshal, Then Dynamite the Bank.

Wrecking the Interior of Bank, and Make Away With Some $3,000 or $4,000.

Gardiner, Ill., Oct. 29.—Six men blew open the vault of a bank here early this morning and stole several thousand dollars. They seized Town Marshal Edmondson at the engine house, tied him with ropes and took him to the bank and set him in a chair.

The vault was blown open with dynamite, and the interior of the bank was wrecked.

The robbers are supposed to have secured between three and four thousand dollars, although the exact amount is not known.

After leaving the bank they took the marshal to the school house and put a rope around his neck, and tied him to a chair. The chair was placed at the head of a stairway, so that if he struggled to release himself he would fall down stairs and hang himself. The robbers took a train, which left at 4.40 for Chicago.

INVITATION

Chamberlain Asked to Take in Antipodes on his Approaching Tour.

London, Oct. 29.—Friends of Mr. Chamberlain are much gratified by the announcement that the Australian Government is inviting him to extend his South African tour to Australia.

It is suggested that Canada should officially support the invitation with an addendum that Mr. Chamberlain shall return to England via Vancouver. It is understood that such an invitation would stand no chance of being considered unless strict limitations were placed on the number of Canadian engagements.

OLD FRIENDS

Our Forged Cheque Swindlers Bob up Sincerely at Pontiac and do Business.

Pontiac, Mich., Oct. 29.—Two Pontiac business places were victimized by the young man who has exhibited his cleverness in several towns in Michigan by forging checks. The name used here was George Berry. Berry arranged to purchase a sewing machine at the Singer agency and tendered Manager Harry Hall Freer a check for $15 on the Standard Vehicle Co. in payment for the $5 installment required on the machine. He received $7 in change. When the manager attempted to deliver the machine he was unable to locate Berry at the address given. Later the check was presented at a bank for payment and was at once declared a forgery. John King, proprietor of a meat market, sold the forger thirty cents worth of meat and cashed a $12 check similar to that accepted by Freer. A warrant is out for Berry and the officers hope to land him.

RELIGIOUS DOUBT

Albert Booker, of Chatham township, and Mrs. Mary Hyatt, of the same place, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony the other day. Mr. Booker experienced a little difficulty in having his license filled out and got along quite well until he was asked to what religious denomination he belonged.

"Er—er—yassar. O yassar," responded he, satisfied that he was getting along famously.

"But what is your religious denomination?" again queried A. H. Von-Gurten, who happened to be the issuer of the license.

"What zat? What did you say? Say it again."

"Oh, sure, sure. I'm just a common laborer," getting quite agitated. "You don't understand what I mean," repeated A. H. "I mean at what church do you worship?"

"Ah, now I see understand. Let me see. Ya-as, I believe I was a Latter Day Saint for a short time once."

Everything proceeded auspiciously until he was asked what his wife's religious denomination was.

"Say, Mister, was that the same question you asked me a while ago? W-e-e-l, she's just nuffin," he blurted. In the meantime Mr. Von had to take thinks quite seriously.

LIKES CANADIANS

Rome, Oct. 29.—The Pope to-day received Archbishop Bruchesi, of Montreal, in private audience. The Pontiff showed great interest in Canada, and spoke in flattering terms of Premier Laurier.

His Holiness said, "If the Canadians love me, I have a special affection for them, of which I have given proof during the whole of my pontificate, the last being the sending of an apostolic delegate to strengthen the bonds between Canada and the papacy."

The Archbishop presented the Pope with a diocesan offering of $5,000, and introduced to him several citizens of Montreal.

The Pope discussed with Archbishop Bruchesi the recent pleasant interview he had with the Canadian Premier. His Holiness spoke of Canada in terms both warm and complimentary.

STRONG NERVE

A Man Cuts a Cancer From his Own Mouth—Stood Before a Mirror.

New York, Oct. 29.—With a growth underneath his tongue that two of the most eminent surgeons in New York had diagnosed as cancer, which would certainly produce death within eight months unless immediately operated on, Andrew Murray stood before a mirror in his office, and with a knife he had used in performing operations on dumb brutes, cut away the affected parts of the tongue with his own steady hand.

Murray is the superintendent of the advertisement department for a big dry goods house. Among his accomplishments he numbers a thorough knowledge of veterinary surgery. When his disease was pronounced by Drs. George R. Fowler and A. Warner Shepard to be cancer, Murray had ideas of his own, and declared his trouble was merely a fibrous growth under his tongue.

He agreed to undergo an operation, to be performed by Dr. Fowler on Oct. 21, but he failed to appear at the time appointed, and instead became his own surgeon. Tightly holding his tongue between his teeth, Murray cut away its diseased parts. He then wrapped his neck in camphorated flannel, and has not lost a day from his business since, although the operation was exceedingly painful when performed without the use of anaesthetics.

When Dr. Shepard was informed of Murray's act, he said:—"He may live more than eight months, but such cases are fatal in the end. It may ease his days to think he is not going to die."

The Style of a "Dorothy Dodd"

Luxury in Walking.

Never mind what old fashioned people tell you—Style and Comfort can live together in a pair of shoes. The "Dorothy Dodd" proves it. They are the utmost height of style. They are shoes of a genuine distinction. The highest praise you can give a shoe is to say "It has the style of a 'Dorothy Dodd'."

Yet the "Dorothy Dodd" is the most comfortable shoe ever made. You long to walk for the pleasure of walking. It holds the foot firmly around the instep and supports the unsupported arch. You escape the "slouchy" gait which comes with some shoes. It gives a new poise to your body in walking. Your carriage is more light and graceful. Just try one pair.

They Cost $3.75.

Don't forget to ask us about the $4,000.00 in prizes. You have a chance at this money if you buy a pair.

Sold Exclusively by us

MR. TARTE AT THE SOO.

Mr. Tarte, who spoke at the Soo the other night, is reported as follows:
 "After alluding in a jocular manner to the fact that his colleagues had thrown him out of the Cabinet for his recent utterances on the tariff question, Mr. Tarte caused a small sensation by asking the Americans if they would mind his giving them a piece of his mind. Cries of 'No, no.' Mr. Tarte said he was going to strike from the shoulder and proceeded at once to do so. He said that the Americans had treated Canada unfairly. Canada had tried to negotiate a tariff, but our neighbors would not be friendly. We are closing up an epoch of apathy and indifference, and before long we may bring you to time by putting up our fence. That, I think, would have a good result. We are not as big as you, but you cannot swallow us in one mouthful. National pride is running high in Canada, and we are going to protect ourselves, and in doing so we will bring you to time. We have a country full of natural resources. We have iron, gold, lumber and magnificent fisheries. You want our iron and gold and lumber, don't you? You are joint owners with us in the great waterways, but we are sole owners of the St. Lawrence route. Our waterway from Chicago to Liverpool is 500 miles shorter than your route, and I think you will use our waterway when it is completed, although I don't care whether you do or not. There is a strong national sentiment on this subject."
 This sizes up the situation pretty well. Mr. Tarte may not be in the confidence of the Liberal Government, but he certainly is in the confidence of the Canadian people. The ex-Minister of Public Works is still a solid friend of the Dominion.—London News, Independent.

STRONG BUT TRUE.

The London News is an independent newspaper which has hitherto favored the Ross Government, but apparently the revelations of the rascality of the Grit machine in South Oxford have been too much for even the London News. The London News quotes an editorial article from the Mail and Empire on the South Oxford scandal and refers to it as follows:
 "This is strong talk, and it is from a strong Tory paper. However, the facts of the South Oxford case go to prove that the assertions of the Mail and Empire and the Woodstock Times are correct. Why is it that such dirt as the above persistently crops up on the Liberal side? Is it possible that the accusations of the Conservative party are thoroughly and absolutely true? Hitherto people of independent thought have chosen to believe that for the most part the statements of a portion of the Tory press were but the echo of unprincipled election methods—that molehills were magnified into mountains. But when dirt crops up on the Liberal side so regularly what are we to conclude but that the cries of the Tories should be listened to, and that the Government that tolerates such despicable political methods should be turned out? The language of Judge Street is not to be mistaken. His Honor made statements which are very plain. We do not expect that it is possible for the Ontario Government to keep in check all of its supporters who have crooked inclinations any more than do the Tories, but such deals as that brought to light in South Oxford speak of organized methods, and of countenance by those in authority. Cannot the Ross Government rid itself of the barnacles that are dragging it into the mire? Or is the Government satisfied with such methods, and prepared to stand or fall by such abuses? Which is it? If the first, the Government is impotent and unfit to legislate for the people; if the latter, then we may remark that a little of such Tammany Hall methods go a long way in Canada.

Better defeat in decency for the Ross Government, than the holding of power by such crying outrages as those brought to light in South Oxford.

GENERAL BOOTH.

General Booth is undoubtedly one of the world's grand old men, points out the Woodstock Express. Criticise the man and his methods as one may, there is still something in his remarkable personality, something in his wonderful work, something in his undoubted achievements that must command respect. The man may be described as an autocrat, his ways may be condemned as an affront to aesthetic religion, but his work and its results speak for themselves. That fulfillment has not always followed on promise may be admitted in his case as in the case of most men. To accomplish even a little we must attempt much, and no one can be said to have failed who has even a small measure of success to show for his labors. General Booth has attempted much and has done much, a great deal more than many people in this country properly understand. To appreciate the work he has done, one must know something about England, and particularly about London. If you do not like to accept General Booth's own statement, read the excellent tribute from the pen of the late Sir Walter Besant, the novelist, who knew London so well. One may not accept the "Army" lists of souls saved and lives reformed; but it is impossible to overlook the changed and improved conditions in the lives of so many of the lowly, which the General and his fellow-workers have been able to bring about. A tree is known by its fruit, and the Salvation Army in England, at least, has brought fruit worthy of acceptance. If some of the methods are condemned as objectionable, the very good answer is that they are necessary. Something out of the ordinary was needed to reach the army of the submerged. That much experience showed. The church with its solemn ceremonies and cultured discourses did not penetrate the depths. The churches sang and preached and prayed, and the people still grovelled in sin and wretchedness. Something must be done to attract these people if they were to be saved, and so the drum and the cornet and the concertina and the blaring uniform were adopted. These succeeded where culture failed, and the results have more than justified the methods. Will the work endure? Who knows? One of the saddest pages in all history is that which records the efforts of the Jesuits among the Indians in North America. Greater zeal, stronger purpose, more genuine self-denial the world has hardly seen than was displayed by the Jesuits in their efforts to plant the cross among the redmen of this continent; yet what was left to show for it all? Little else than a list of Jesuit martyrs. On the other hand, Mormonism, founded as some say on fraud, and as others say on innocent self-deception, and propagated, as some people argue, by means far from holy, continues to flourish and spread and wax strong, even amid the most unfriendly surroundings. The history of religious movements teaches one to be careful in foretelling results; but whatever the history of the future may have to say of the Salvation Army, General Booth will be known to posterity, as an extraordinary man who attempted great things, and accomplished in his own time, at least, a good deal.

CHARGES OF PLAGIARISM.

Two interesting charges of plagiarism are just now to the front in the United States, one in the newspapers, the other in the courts and newspapers both. The "allegators" apparently do not believe in the asseveration that great minds run in the same groove (or words to that effect). John W. Slayton, Socialist leader after the gubernatorial chair of Pennsylvania, declares that Divine Right Baer is a plagiarist. Mr. Slayton says Baer copied the words of King George III. when he wrote his celebrated letter.

King George III.—"The rights and interests of the American colonies will be looked after and cared for, not by the agitators and rebels, but by the kind Christian gentlemen whom I, as the direct representative of God, have appointed to look after my lands in the western world."
 President Baer—"The rights and interests of the laboring man will be looked after and cared for, not by agitators, but by Christian men to whom I, in His infinite wisdom, has given the control of the property interests of the country."

Now the question is, did King George communicate by telepathy from the unknown country, or palace, or whatever state it is—one has got to die to find out—or was a spiritualistic medium in the vicinity, and was the spirit of the late lamented King guiding Baer's? Suppose Baer did go and dig up the history of over a hundred and twenty-five years ago to find out just how to express himself, in keeping with his convictions, what about it? Can such a busy man as Mr. Baer be expected to be thinking

Jim Dumps said: "Doctor, I'm worn out; I need a rest without a doubt, And yet I can't afford the time." Said Doc: "A nickel and a dime Will stock you up again with vim. Eat 'Force'." He did. He's "Sunny Jim."

THE T. H. TAYLOR CO. Limited, Flour and Woolen Mills

something new for every emergency! And then think of the trouble Mr. Slayton must have taken to find out that it was King George III. that Baer was copying. What does he gain—what does anybody gain by it? Seeing that King George is not here to claim copyright, no action can be taken.

The other case of alleged plagiarism, and which has been dragged before the courts, is a musical affair. A New York musical paper said Victor Herbert had used some of the same notes as Beethoven did. Victor sued the paper for $50,000 damages, and just now the judges and lawyers are trying to get specific evidence that Herbert used the notes as alleged. Seeing that all music is composed of five tones and two semitones, how can a man be expected to write a whole opera, and not use the same notes somebody else used? If Herbert happened to string a few notes together in the same order as Beethoven did, what's the odds? Beethoven had no perpetual patent on motives and measures and melodies and texts and notes and keys and themes anyway, and if a man turns up to-day with a think-tank somewhat similar, what right has a newspaper critic to charge him with copying the dead man's notes? Walter Damrosch comes to the rescue of Herbert, while Angus Vianosi and Buzzi Pecci are giving evidence against him. The case is very complicated. Were the judge a good judge of music it would be an easy matter one would think, to arrive at a conclusion. Get an orchestra to play the disputed music in court and the thing could easily be decided. Judges, however, are seldom educated in classical music, and some of them can hardly tell "John Brown's" from "Old Black Joe" or "Hail Columbia." Hence the case is surrounded with difficulties, and the world will be kept in a state of anxiety until it is known whether Victor Herbert stole a stove or two from Beethoven and has to go "way back and be seated, or whether that musical paper will have to put up fifty thousand plunks to assuage "the wrath of the man who wrote "The Fortune Teller," "The Singing Girl," "The Hobo's Eye," and "The Wizard of the Nile," at which so many thousands of people have laughed time and again.

Vianosi was much disturbed in giving his evidence because Lawyer Palmer was not a musician. "You are not a musician at all," said the Signor. "What a peety eet ees zat I talk wiz a man who nevair knew the Nix," he exclaimed, to the unmusical lawyer. Buzzi Pecci and Damrosch defended Herbert; but the end is not yet.

RIDDLE OF THE UNIVERSE.

"They are sending animals through the mail now." Is that so? "Yes; to-day I got a letter with a seal on it."

UNIMPEACHABLE.

If you were to see the unequalled volume of unimpeachable testimony in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla, you would uphold yourself for so long delaying to take this effective alternative and tonic medicine for that blood disease from which you are suffering. It eradicates scrofula and all other humors and cures all their inward and outward effects.

We judge ourselves by what we feel capable of doing, while others judge us by what we have done.

Theatrical

A Trip to Coontown, as taken in by theatre goes at the Grand last evening, was all it was cracked up to be, and probably a little more. The singing of "Wen you come home, Bill" midday of old southern airs, as sung by Miss Laura Walker, Miss Walker has a magnificent voice, clear as a bell, and of good power, besides, being well controlled. She had to respond to many encores.

Sam Lucas played the old man, Silas Green, well, and W. Demout as Willie Wayside, did well. His singing of "Won't you come home, Bill" midday, took the house by storm, and his encores were five in number.

Miss Cassie Brown, the lady baritone had to respond to several encores. Her voice is a phenomenal one of good range.

The next attraction at the Grand is "When We were Twenty-one," which was so well received here some time ago.

LYCEUM COURSE NO. 1.
The Samois Grand Concert Co. will fill the program on Tuesday evening, Nov. 4th, for the first number of the Lyceum Course.

The company consists of all artists such as Miss Sibyl Samois, concert, oratorio and operatic soprano; Miss Helen Marie Barr, harpist; Mr. Edwin M. Shonert, America's greatest pianist, and Mr. George Deane, one of Boston's favorite tenors. The Grand should be well filled for the opening number of the course, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 4th, and course book holders should feel grateful at having such a grand number on their list of attractions.

It is needless to say any more than is implied in the names of the artists, as they are well known to the music loving public of the world. The plan of the course opens at the Central drug store, Friday morning for the course book holders only. On Monday, the plan opens to others.

A superb company of artists will be seen at Grand Opera House on Monday, Nov. 3rd, in the great Knickerbocker, theatre, New York, success, "When we were Twenty-one," which is undoubtedly the greatest play of modern times. The story briefly told is as follows:—Dick Carew, a London barrister and his three comrades, the doctor, the soldier man and Waddles are bound together by the ties of life-long friendship. Together they guard rear and protect the life of the "Imp," the only son of a dead comrade. The "Imp" is just twenty-one, and as wild as young men of that age generally are. He has married a woman much older than himself, who proves to be an adventuresome of the worst type. Dick and his friends set about saving the Imp from the snare into which he has fallen and after many vicissitudes they succeed.

"When we were Twenty-one" is a love story, pure and simple and it is told in a straightforward, homely way. It is a story of how Dick Carew and his comrades rear and guide the only son of a deceased comrade; how they guard and save him from the pitfalls and snares that lie in the path of life at twenty-one. It is a story of hearts bound together by ties of friendship that nothing can break, and of how the comrades save their ward from the results of his foolish impetuosity. It also tells how a great self-sacrificing for the girl he loves and who, he thinks, loves his ward. This play is undoubtedly the greatest of modern times and will be presented by a superb company of artists at the Grand on Monday evening.

OUR NEIGHBOR'S CUCKOO CLOCK.

Our neighbor has a cuckoo clock, Who lives across the way; It "cuckoos" through the lonely night, And "cuckoos" through the day. It "cuckoos" loudly every hour, And then, O, finish luck! It opens the door upon the half And gives another "cuck."

A dozen meetings have been held. The landlord we have "seen"; He won't eject the "cuckoo" man Because it would be mean. We've pleaded and begged and made our threats. To still the cuckoo clock. But still across the court resounds That doleful cuckoo clock. Electric cars we do not mind. The fire goes on and on. The hawkers or the newsboys cry. We long ago forgot. And even the enter wauld at night No longer stir the block. We have no ills of any kind Except that cuckoo clock.

O, in the peaceful far away, Where naught but angels sing; Where music only can be played Upon a silver string. No cuckoo clocks may enter in. We humbly beg and pray; And if we find one waiting there We'll go the other way.

CALLS IT BLUFF.
The shad has a thousand bones And the oyster has none. But the oyster shells our pearls And the shad not one.

THE GOOD PANAMA.
He was a fool; he rocked the boat; The girl she got ashore. His Panama enveloped him, And he was seen no more!

A man has to make a name for himself. All a woman has to do is to get married.

HALF A MAN.

When a man is sick and can only work half the time he is practically half a man. It requires his whole physical energy to do half a man's work.

In general the weak run down condition which cuts the strength and energy in half is due to disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. You could not expect a half starved man to work more than half the time. The condition of the man with weak stomach is that of the half starved man. He is weak through lack of nutrition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the perfect nutrition of the body and so restores the strength.

"I had stomach trouble from birth," writes Mr. Willis Seaman of Washingtonville, O. "I was 27 years old as I grew up. At the age of 25 I was broken down with dyspepsia. My suffering was terrible. Could not eat a few certain things and was not able to work half the time. Every thing I tried only gave me temporary relief. My wife finally persuaded me to try Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I took six bottles of Golden Medical Discovery and two vials of Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I then felt so well that I stopped taking medicine. Several months have passed and I can do the hardest kind of work, can eat anything that is set before me and this is the first time I have ever been well."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation.

After a lengthy discussion it was decided to allow the council to go on with the work, although the ratepayers contended the council for their actions in not consulting the ratepayers before letting a contract.

IT IS DOUBTFUL

If Local Application Alone Ever Cured a Case of Catarrh.

Most remedies for the treatment of catarrh are in the form of sprays, inhalers, powders, washes of salves, all purely local applications and many of them often give temporary relief, but the reason none of them ever really cure chronic catarrh is because catarrh is not a local disease and it cannot be cured simply by treating the local symptoms.

Moreover the more serious forms of catarrh, like catarrh of the stomach and catarrh of the bronchial tubes, cannot be reached at all by local applications and the fact that neglected catarrh of the head very soon involves the bronchial tubes, stomach and liver, demonstrates that the disease is a blood disorder, a constitutional malady and not at all a local disease.

To really cure catarrh the system must be cleansed from catarrhal poison by an internal remedy which acts effectively upon the blood and liver. The success of a new catarrh remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, is because it drives out of the system, through natural channels, the catarrhal poison and the mucous lining of the nose, throat and trachea, are freed from the excessive mucus which collects and causes the hacking, spitting and gagging, because the excessive secretion is not furnished from healthy blood.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets contain many of the same valuable antiseptics used in sprays and inhalers, but instead of being applied to the inflamed membranes of the nose and throat, they are taken into the stomach and thus reach the blood, the real seat and cause of the disease.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, composed of Red Gum, Hydrastin, Bloodroot, and similar catarrh specifics, and so safe to use that little children suffering colds take them with the same beneficial results as adult persons, and No trace of cocaine or opiates, so common to catarrh medicines, can be found in Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

Mrs. Sheldon, Murray street, intends shortly to take a trip to the south. She will be accompanied by her daughter, Dorothy Sheldon, who is now at Gravenhurst undergoing treatment. The trip south will be taken for Miss Dorothy's health. Miss Sheldon's many friends will be sorry to lose her presence in Chatham this winter, but hope that when she returns to Chatham in the spring she will be restored to her usual good health.

PIONEER'S DEATH

One of the oldest and most respected pioneers of Kent County passed suddenly away yesterday in the person of David Hyatt, of Baldoon. Mr. Hyatt for the past year has been living with his daughter, Mrs. Ab. McGregor, Murray street. Yesterday morning he complained of feeling ill but felt well enough to walk to the market. He was passing the Chatham Loan and Savings Company's office on his way home with a basket of grapes when he fell, striking his head on the curbstone. He was taken into the office and a physician was summoned. He, however, expired 15 minutes after the fall.

Deceased was 78 years of age and has lived in Kent County all of his life. He owned a large farm at Baldoon but about a year ago he moved into town and lived with his daughter, Mrs. McGregor. He had been ill for the last two months, but seemed to be gradually recovering.

Deceased had a family of eleven children, five of whom are living today. Those who are left to mourn his loss are George, of Buffalo, Charles, of New York; Mark, of British Columbia; Mrs. Harrington, of London, and Mrs. McGregor, of this city.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock from the residence of Mrs. McGregor to the Maple Leaf cemetery.

THE TRIAL OF GERALD SIFTON NEXT WEEK.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—R. C. Clute, K. C., has been retained as Crown counsel in the Sifton case, which opens in London next week. W. R. Riddell conducted the Crown's case at the last trial, but it is understood that this time he has placed a higher price on his services than the Attorney-General was prepared to pay. Hence the change of counsel.

The dock hands at the S. Hadley Co. docks went on strike yesterday morning. There were quite a number of the strikers, the most of them being colored.

The Ontario had come in and the fellows thought it would be a good chance for them to force the issue, so they struck for 30 cents an hour. They have been receiving 20 cents an hour.

The affair inconvenienced the firm a little but the strikers were told they were not wanted. Delivery of material was stopped and the teamsters and pillars unloaded the boat.

KRUGER MEMOIRS

London, Oct. 29.—It is understood that the Kruger memoirs, of which a first instalment of extracts has already been published in the Times, gives a narrative of the ex-president's career, but does not go deeply into political aspects or advise the Boers as to the best policy to be pursued after Mr. Kruger's death.

A striking feature of the memoirs is a revelation of the jealousies which existed before the war between inhabitants of the Transvaal and the Orange Free State, and the Cape Colony Boers, which prevented anything like a satisfactory mutual understanding. Mr. Kruger takes pains to smooth matters over and prevent the war, but the Boers' inborn antipathy to foreign interference proved to be too strong for him.

Mr. Kruger closes his memoirs with these words—"I am convinced that God will not forsake His people, even although it often appears so, and I acquiesce in the will of the Lord."

HOG CHOLERA.

Windsor, Oct. 29.—Dr. Orchard, the Dominion veterinary inspector, who has been in Kent county for several weeks fighting the hog cholera plague, reports that the extent and sweep of the disease are almost inconceivable. Out of 1,200 cases which came under his notice he found only 63 which could not be detected as being affected with the disease, as far as, at least, as the naked eye could discern. The department is putting forth every effort to stamp out the plague, and so far between 5,000 and 6,000 hogs have been killed.

COAL LADEN VESSEL WRECKED.

St. John, N. B., Oct. 29.—The barque Fredericka, 396 tons (Capt. Chas. Churchill) Parrsboro, for St. John, was wrecked at 4 o'clock this morning, 14 miles from Cape Spencer Light. The government steamer Lansdowne, rescued the crew, who are suffering severely. The Fredericka was owned by F. E. Sayre, of St. John. No insurance on vessel. The cargo of coal was insured.

VICTIM OF BROTHER'S RIFLE.

St. Catharines, Oct. 29.—Miss Muriel Benson, a young lady, highly connected, and who moved in the leading social circles of the city, was last night accidentally and fatally shot by her only brother, Carl, aged 14 years. The boy was examining a small Stevens rifle in the house, about 8 o'clock, when it was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering the rear portion of the young lady's head. Doctors Merritt and Greenwood were summoned, but the victim expired about five minutes after shooting. Deceased was the only surviving daughter of Mrs. William Benson, of Academy street, and had many relatives and friends in Toronto.

NO WELSH COAL.

Toronto, Oct. 29.—The city does not expect to receive any of the 5,000 tons of Welsh coal ordered Oct. 10th. The contract required delivery within 30 days and as the company has asked the city to take 500 tons more in order to fill the steamer Monterey's cargo, and also require 150 hours for loading it, will be impossible for delivery to be made within the contract time. The Board of Control will not extend the time.

FIRE RECORD.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 29.—The Garlock Packing Co., manufacturers of steam pipe packing, had its stock damaged to the extent of $800 by fire this morning. The building, which is owned by the Oddfellows' Society, was damaged $500. Both losses covered by insurance.

CHURCH WEDDING AT KINCARDINE.

Kincardine, Ont., Oct. 29.—This morning in the Church of England here Miss Fredoka Rapley, daughter of the late Jas. P. Rapley, was married to Leonard M. Degex, of the Bank of Commerce, White Horse, Yukon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Chas. Mies, rector of the parish, the church being prettily decorated for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Degex left on the afternoon train for New York, and on their return will take up residence in White Horse.

FOUND DYING.

Durham, Ont., Oct. 29.—This morning an unknown man, about sixty years of age, was found in a dying condition on the roadside near Vickers by Wm. Johnston, manager of McKee's mills, at Glenora. Immediately a conveyance was secured to bring him to Durham, but he died on the way without showing any signs of consciousness. His clothing was wet, as if he had fallen into the water, but as he had $95 in his pockets his exposure was not from necessity. Subsequently, the body was identified as that of W. O. Patterson, of Walkerton, who was lately up on trial for bigamy, and while out on bail he was supposed to have been somewhat demented. The body lies in the town hall awaiting the arrival of Coroner Gunn, who is out of town.

RIGHTS OF NAVAJO WOMAN

She Alone of All Indian Squaws Enjoys the Privilege of Divorce.

The Navajo woman, who has made her tribe the most famous of all living Indian races by means of her great and excellent invention, the Navajo blanket, occupies a social position of great independence. Her property, rights are carefully respected. She owns much of the wealth of the tribe, and her children belong to her alone. A woman may have hundreds of sheep when she marries, and not one becomes the property of her husband. Descent is traced through the female line. It is a survival of the primitive matriarchate.

The Navajo woman has no permanent home. The progress of the tribe has been greatly impeded by its dark superstition that every death is caused by Chinde, the devil, and that evil spirits linger about the dead body. The house is never occupied again. The corpse is buried in the floor and the house pulled down over it, and a Navajo would freeze before he would make a fire upon the logs of one of these deserted dwellings. So the Navajo "hogan" is a poor, temporary affair, a mere circular hut of logs and stones, with a hole in the roof for the smoke and a blanket for the door. In the summer the Navajo woman loves to move into a brush wickiup, made of greasewood boughs. There she sets up her loom in the shadow of the rocks and lives in the open air all summer.

THE PICTURE, THE SONG, THE STORY

The artist throws his brush aside in grief, because his art will not illumine a canvas rare. With the picture of his heart.

With tears the singer's voice is dumb, The strains within her life. They haunt her brain with heavenly airs, But ah! she wanders mute.

The writer finds a glorious theme, He wins his him endless fame. Words only come so poor and crude. He bends his head in shame.

The artist paints a picture true Of a quiet mountain glen: It stirs the blood of the wanderer, Makes a man a child again.

The simple song the singer sang, Of patience under wrong. Taught captives in a foreign land How to endure the strong.

Among the little homely tales The writer sent abroad, Was one that touched a singer's heart And brought him home to God.

Our longings fixed on larger gifts: - We longed to see the world, to see Of quiet lines and little things That brimmed this life's measure.

—Lawrence Irwin.

FIRST BORN LONG LIVED.

Oldest Members of Families Tarry the Length of This Earth.

The first-born of parents have a much longer average of life than their brothers and sisters who come after them. This fact is demonstrated by statistics gathered by life insurance companies. Longevity is also said to be hereditary. Said an English insurance man the other day: "Some persons have harder constitutions than others, and they are apt to transmit them to their children."

A man, both of whose parents were long-lived has a promise of a good old age himself. This of course, is an old story. A much less familiar principle affecting the duration of life has been presented by Miss Mary Beeton, of Cambridge, and Professor Karl Pearson of London.

"A comparison was made between the lengths of the lives of two adult brothers or two adult sisters to ascertain if there was a perceptible difference between the older and the younger members of the pair."

The figures here given represent the average of over one thousand cases, and hence would seem to point to a general law. It may be added that the particular persons under investigation belonged to the Society of Friends. That organization placed its record at the disposal of Miss Beeton and Professor Pearson.

"It thus appears that the average of the elder brother was 58.56 years, the younger brother, 54.375; the elder sisters, 59.924, and the younger sisters, 55.667. There is a difference of over four years in favor of the older brother or sister. This does not signify that the older brother or sister will survive the younger. The mean interval between the births of all the pairs under consideration was about six and a half years. Hence the older brother or sister would ordinarily die first, though attaining a greater age."

"The first inquiry here mentioned was limited to pairs, the younger members of which had attained the age of 21. A second comparison was made that included minors with adults. It gave results closely resembling the other. The mean excess of life in 3,955 pairs was 4.6 years. But the intervals between the birth appear to exert some influence. Miss Beeton and Professor Pearson furnish a formula by which one's expectations can be computed, and add: "Thus a brother born ten years before another has probably seven years greater duration of life. A sister born ten years before another sister has probably about six years' greater duration of life."

and raises them to the highest class. Their ovens have the famous diffusive fire construction that keeps the heat absolutely uniform—the same at back, front and sides.

See the idea? Your cakes, pies and roasts can't possibly get overbaked on one side—for there's exactly the same degree of heat on all sides. This, added to the thermometer and the thorough ventilation, gives you supreme perfection for particular work. You'll find the price most reasonable.

WORLD OF SPORT

KIND WORDS FROM BURG.

Under the heading "Let us be fair" the Wallaceburg Herald-Record of yesterday has the following kind words to say editorially of The Planet and the conduct of this department:

LET US BE FAIR.

In speaking of the recent Chatham-Wallaceburg football game here The Chatham Planet says: "The Wallaceburg Herald-Record gave a fair report of the game." Thanks. And with our thanks we might say that if the example of giving fair and unbiased reports of sporting games was not set by The Planet it is one that it has at least faithfully followed during the entire season, no matter whether the games were played at home or abroad. Credit has been given where credit was due and the true cause of success or defeat given. In The Planet's estimation the opponents of the Chatham team, whether in lacrosse, football or baseball, were not things and rowdies, but gentlemen, and the equals of their opponents. We would recommend The Planet's course to the Blenheim Tribune and other papers of its ilk, whose biased, misleading, untruthful, and "we are gentlemen and our opponents rowdies" reports appeal but to the rowdy element, and do more injury to legitimate sport than all other causes combined. Here's our best respects to The Planet's sporting editor.

These kindly comments are sincerely appreciated and we can assure our Wallaceburg contemporary that The Planet will seek to continue worthy of them. It has been too often, in times past, a most regrettable feature of many papers that they failed to deal fairly in recording the various contests of the athletic arena, with a result that bitterness and unpleasantness have often been incurred—generally unwarranted and often difficult to dispell. We congratulate the Wallaceburg Herald-Record, not only on its own fair and unbiased reports, but on initiating the movement to encourage and foster the policy of fairness and sportsmanship—Sporting Editor The Planet.

BASEBALL

BANNON GOES TO COLUMBUS.
Toronto, Ont., Oct. 29.—"Jimmy" Bannon, who captained the Eastern League champions this season, and who has played with the Toronto club for the last three seasons, has signed with the Columbus club of the American Association to captain the team and play second base next year.

FOOTBALL

SATURDAY'S STRUGGLE.
Secretary of the local club Percy Piggott has received word from Secretary Taylor of Wallaceburg club that their club will be here on Saturday in full force. They will drive and arrive in the city about three o'clock and the game will be called for 3:30 sharp.

The locals held a very good practice on Tecumseh Park last evening and everyone seemed to be rounding into good form for Saturday's game.

The match committee met after the game and, after much deliberation, selected the following team to represent the Maple City against Wallaceburg here on Saturday next:

Goal—Sowerby.
Backs—Courtney and Wilson.
Halves—Elliott, Piggott and Siscone.
Right wing—Anderson and Brackin.
Centre—Fetterley.
Spare—Angus.

TILBURY

Oct. 30.—Miss Effie Sloan has returned from Montpelier, Ohio, to spend her vacation at her home here.

On Monday, the 27th inst., to the wife of George Arnew, of this village, a daughter.

George Foster, brother of James Foster, conveyancer, returned yesterday from a two weeks' trip to Montana.

A very successful meeting was held at Valetta yesterday morning and in Anderson Hall here last night, under the auspices of Tilbury East Council, to consider the advisability of doing away with statute labor, and also to discuss the question of good roads. The meeting was addressed by Mr. Campbell of Toronto, commissioner of highways.

It is rumored that there is to be another bakery in town.

F. M. Scarff was in Chatham yesterday.

JACK THE HUGGER

A would-be "Jack the Hugger" appeared in the east end of the city Tuesday evening, but met with such a warm reception that he was glad to make good his escape.

A young lady was returning home about half past nine o'clock, having been up town shopping. When she was passing the Walberforce Institute on King street she was met by a man who seemed very familiar. Finding it impossible to get rid of him the young lady reached for her hat pin, but she was frustrated in this attempt, whereat she called loudly for help.

Seeing help coming, the man scampered off, but not before he was recognized by the young lady. It is understood that the young man intends to make this his last night adventure.

AT EVENTIDE

Charming Scene at Wedding Ceremony of Miss Malcolmson to Chas. E. Drewry.

A society and social event that has been looked forward to for some time in two Canadian cities was consummated last evening, when Miss Fanny Lavinia Malcolmson, only daughter of ex-Mayor Hugh Malcolmson, was united in marriage to Charles Edward Drewry, eldest son of E. L. Drewry, ex-M. P. of Winnipeg. This marriage has created a more than passing interest, owing to the prominence of the two families, both socially and commercially. Mr. Malcolmson has been a resident of Chatham for upwards of 40 years and no family holds a higher place in the community.

The wedding ceremony was performed in the spacious drawing room and was witnessed by about a hundred guests.

The bride descended the wide front staircase leaning on the arm of her father and attended by Miss Ada Ross, maid of honor. The bridal party advanced to the drawing room down an aisle made by six charming ribbon girls, daintily attired in white and carrying pink chrysanthemums.

In the wing of the drawing room, in a bower banked with ferns and palms, latticed over with trailing smilax vines and faced with daisies, the bride was met by the groom, Charles Edward Drewry, and his best man, T. Humber, Toronto. The wedding service of the Presbyterian Church was performed by the Rev. Dr. Battisby, pastor of St. Andrew's Church.

After the usual congratulations, the wedding dinner was served in the parlors, where small tables were arranged to accommodate all the guests.

The decorations at the tables were all white and green, and a pretty effect was given to these soft colors by the mellow light of candles, which replaced modern illuminations.

The bridal table was a work of art in taste and simplicity. The centerpiece was a large white bouquet of carnations and arranged at each place was a small vase of white roses, a reminder of the name by which the bride was popularly known.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Edward Drewry left on the 11 p. m. train for New York and other eastern points, amid showers of blessings, rice and good wishes. After the departure of the bride and groom, dancing was indulged in by the assembled guests. The music during the evening was furnished by the London Harpists.

The bride wore a wedding dress made of Louise silk, trimmed with Renaissance lace. Her attire was complete with bridal veil and orange blossoms. She carried a large shiver bouquet of white roses. Her traveling gown was made of brown velvet, cloth trimmed with brown velvet. Her hat was a brown toque trimmed with mink.

The maid of honor, Miss Ada Ross, wore a dress of white dotted silk organdie, trimmed with lace insertion over white silk. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Six girl friends of the bride were the ribbon girls. Their attire and beauty added to the brightness of the scene. They were: Miss Jessie Gemmill, daughter of Sheriff Gemmill; Miss Marion Fleming, daughter of Dr. Fleming; Miss Mabel Campbell, daughter of Archie Campbell, M. P. Toronto Junction; Miss Hattie Northwood, Miss Ethel Ball and Miss Anna Battisby.

The ushers were: James Fleming, Chas. Gunn, W. Stevens, Chatham; G. A. Malcolmson, Windsor; W. Drewry, Winnipeg; M. Henderson, St. Paul.

The presents were among the prettiest and most expensive that have ever been bestowed on a Maple City bride.

The groom's gift to the bride was a sun-burst of pearls and diamonds; to the maid of honor, a circlet of French gold maple leaves; to the ribbon girls a crescent of gold encircling a small daisy. The guests from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Drewry, Winnipeg; Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Allen, Windsor; John Dunnitt, Minneapolis; Miss Gibson, Windsor.

The consensus of opinion favors newspaper advertising above all other forms. In no other way can the merchant reach the people he wants to patronize his store so cheaply or so effectively. In the respectable newspaper there is nothing to offend good taste. The newspaper gets into the homes of the people, where all members of the family read the advertisements. The paper is purchased by the head of the house and the advertisements are a part of his purchase. The newspaper advertisement has a value that no other form of advertising possesses. —McKeesport (Pa.) Times.
