Launch of the Nile.—This vessel was launched from Ply month Dock-yard on the 4th July. in the presence of an immense concourse of spectators. The Nile is a line ship of 92 guns, nearly all mounted on two denks, thus differing in construction with all in our navy, except the Rodney, now in the Mediternaen, and the London, now building at Chatham. She is certainly a superb ship, and is constructed on the principle of Sir Robert Seppings; she was laid down in 1827; she has a round stern on the improved principle of T. Roberts, Sag, late builder at this dock-yard, which unites all the auvantages of the round with the handsome appearance of the square stern. The following are her dimensions:—

Nuiss Printed Calicoes.—But few persons except those immediately concerned in the transactions, can form any idea of the extent to which this busines, is conducted in Manchester. The goods, however, are mainly, if not entirely, for export. By the warehousing act, it is well known, that any foreign produce or manufacture may be warehoused in London, &c., without paying duty, if again reshipped. The Swiss are now thus warehousing their prints. A short time ago an agent offered, by pattern of course, one thousand pieces to one of the Manchester export firms, and whot sole every piece offered. Great indeed must be the confidence in these foreigners, when such heavy transactions can be thus silently, satisfactorily, and efficiently conducted without the goods even seeing the light.

The Yankees outdone in Tricks.—The Massachusetts "Striped Pig" stratagen, is excelled by an invention of the lovers of liquor and the largest liberty in Mississippi, for defeating the "restraining law" of that state. The statute prohibits the sale of "the ardent," in any quality less than one gallon; so the Mirsissipian when thirsty, which in that warm country is pretty often, buys a gallon and a gill or pint over, according to the degree of thirstiness; then sells the gallon back to the dealer, and drinks the surplus.—Buffalo Journal.

MORE SYMPATHY!

The Kingston Chronicle of the 31st July, publishes the following information respecting the capture of seven ruffians, who were well armed, and whose intentions were to rob the Cobourg Bank, and murder certain individuals in that town. The Chronicle states that the gentlemen at Cobourg, in a letter to a friend in Kingston. Kingston.

Cobourg, July 30, 1839.—As we have got through with our hunt last night, (of which I intimated to you yesterday.) I must give you a slight description of it. Yesterday morning we received information on oath, that Lett, the murderer of Usher, Samuel Hart, editor we received information on onth, that Lett, the murderer of Usher, Samuel Hart, editor of the Lestwion Telegraph, and several others were in our neighbourhood, and were armed to the teeth with pistols and bowie knives, and were to rob the bank office and murder certain individuals in the town, and make the best of their way out of the country. About 40 of simmediately entered into a secret mode of proceeding, and about 11 o'clock last night, surrounded two reformer's houses near this, normanded two reformer's houses near this, both named Ash—father and son, and secured Hut and three Yankees, besides the two Ash's, and their sen-in-lew, named Miles Luke, but to our great mortification lost Lett, having, as is supposed, made his escape through the darkness of the night. The number of pistols and bowie knives found for so few persons to make use of, is almost incredible. We are to have more work to night. We must have walked eight or ten miles last night, before finishing our labour of imprisoning the scamps, the jail being so far away, and where they were taken being in an opposite direction. ght or ten miles last night, before hissing ir labour of imprisoning the scamps, the jail ing so far away, and where they were taken ing in an opposite direction.

being in an opposite direction.

We have sent expresses to the Trent, with descriptions of two of the gang, to be left along the road from this, but I doubt if we get them. One belt that we got had four jointles, two bowie knives, &c., which we imagine must have been Lett's. This is a description of him a—He is about twenty-eight years of age, sim built, sandy hair and whiskers, very ted face, very large hands, and round white fingers, light olide eyes, remarkably penetrating. Dree: :--black tur hat, with broad brian and him decomp, him could straight holy, with yelhigh crown, blue coat straight body, with velvet collar, a hole in the left lapelle of the coat, which showed the lining, dark mixed pentaloons, lace boots, dark colored vest with light spots, and figured metal buttons, common cotton shirt. Height about five feet eleven inches, and a little freckled.

"The gang are understood to have left Osepany with another schooner, and party under command of one Anderson, who is gone on a similar expedition to the Niagara frontier, and of whom we pray God a like good a count may be given. The names of prisoners secured are Samuel P. Hart, Peter Wilkins (a most villair ous looking fellow, supposed to have been a Captain in the Prescott gang), Henry Wilson, William Baker (a scoundrel, who, upon his own statement, was concerned in the robbery of Mr. Taylor on the Niagara frontier, and is thought also to have had a share in the murder of poor Captain Usher,) the two Ashes and Luke. As aforesaid, two of the party escaped, and one of these unfortunately is no other than the notorious Lett, the avowed murderer of Mr. Usher, whom the Rochester papers, lately,—no doubt with the best possible intention,—represented to be on his way to Texas. He boasted of the murder himself to the person who gave the information, adding that one object of his joining the present expedition was in hope of finding here also Mr. McCormack, who has his joining the present expedition was in h of finding here also Mr. M'Cormack, who of finding here also Mr. M*Cormack, who has lately resigned the Collectorship of this Port, and who was wounded at the Caroline affair. This gentleman he avowed his determination to shoot, even if he had to do it in the day time! The wretch however is most accurately described, (see below) and it is hoped he will yet be apprehended. Lett passed in the gang by the name of Walker, but doubt has again changed it, and in the description given of him below, no particular attention should be paid to the dress or colour of his hair, as he had the means of dying the one, and doubtless would change the other—indeed the coat he wore has since been recognized on the doubtless would change the other-indeed the coat he wore has since been recognized on the person of one of the other prisoners. Let this be remembered. The other man who escaped was called Kenedy, and a description of him is also given below. From the evidence on the examination of the prisoners it seems their intention was in the first place to rob and murder a wealthy farmer named Maurice Jaynes, who lives on the back road about four miles from Cobourg, and was supposed to have a quantity of specie in his house; then to enter Cobourg, murder the two wessrs. Boulton, R. Henry, Esqr., and other loyal individuals, plunder the Bank, &c., and secure a retreat, cif msupported, as it cannot be questioned they expected to be, by friends in the town) by relzing a schooner which lay at the wharf. All this was to have been enacted on Sunday night last, but at the instigation of the informant it was put off ill Monday, and happily frustrated altogether. To make sure work of it they poisoned the dogs of Messrs. Henry and G.Boulton, one of which is since dead, and the others not expected to recover. The villains have all been fully committed for trial, and it remains to be seen what course the Government will take in their dissention. SUSPECTED BURKING. - The Philadelphia Suspected Burking.—The Philadelphia (U. S.) North American says that a child of five years of age was seen to enter a back building of the Bowery Theatre a few days since, at about noon, and that the mother on going to the theatre was told that her child was not there. The police went to the place and found the child dead in a large pine box. The immates of the house were then conveyed to the station house. It is surmised that the child had been killed for the purpose of being sold to the doctors.
