

PORRIDGE POISONING CASE CLAIMS A SECOND VICTIM

CORONER'S JURY RETURN VERDICT ON DEATH OF JOHN FORTUNE

MACK SING'S EVIDENCE

Cyrus Winters Passes Away at Victoria Hospital. Arrested Chinaman Gives His Version of Circumstances Attending the Tragedy. Evidence of Dr. Charlton Regarding Porridge as Medium of Arsenic Poisoning.

Morning and evening yesterday, Dr. Seymour and his jury resumed their inquiry with reference to the death of John Fortune. At the earlier session came the news that another victim of poisoning, Cyrus Winters, had passed away. Mack Sing in the custody of a city policeman, gave his version of the circumstances which led to Thursday's tragedy. He spoke rapidly in Chinese, Paul Francombe being interpreter, and had a ready explanation at every emergency.

Dr. Thomson said that at seven o'clock on Thursday morning he was called by telephone to go to Beach & Hunter's stable, as some men were sick. He went immediately and found four men vomiting and complaining of pain in the stomach. He washed out the stomachs of Fortune and Shaki, and called Dr. Meek. Upon visiting Mrs. Steele they enquired as to the probable cause of the trouble. Steele told them of a porridge he had served the sick man and said the meal had been supplied by a neighboring Chinaman named Mack. He showed them the receipt for the porridge, and advised him to lay it aside and keep it safe. Steele went on to say that the Chinaman had borrowed on the previous day a small tin of rolled oats from Dr. Meek and returned it the evening before. Dr. Meek and witness went to the restaurant known as the B. C. where they met the Chinaman Mack, who showed them the bag from which the meal was taken. The girl waitress, Miss Hulsmith, saw him take the meal from the bag, but she denied this. After they returned to the stables and further attended the men, witness was called to the Case warehouse where he found another man similarly affected. From the symptoms of

VERDICT OF CORONER'S JURY

We, your jury, empanelled to enquire into the cause of the death of John Fortune, do hereby find that the said John Fortune came to his death from arsenic poisoning, the arsenic being taken in porridge eaten by him on Thursday, August 8th, in the Capital restaurant, conducted by W. J. Steele, and that the porridge was made from meal delivered to the said W. J. Steele by Mack Sing of the British Columbia restaurant.

Fortune's sickness he held that the cause of death was acute arsenical poisoning. Miss Hulsmith, who worked for three weeks in the Chinese (British Columbia) restaurant, said porridge was served there on Thursday morning to ten or twelve boarders, none of whom were ill in consequence. She did not know who cooked the porridge; it was always ready before she arrived. During the four days prior to the tragedy no new bag of meal was purchased for the restaurant and there was plenty of meal for the porridge that morning. She did not know Mack had borrowed from the restaurant morning nor that he had returned any. She generally left at half past eight and came again at six in the morning. Charlie Mack was at the restaurant until breakfast, but left before anyone spoke of the poisoning. He had gone before Dr. Thomson came. Charlie had not spoken that morning, although his English was good.

Charlie "Too Cranky" Mrs. Sayce who worked as dishwasher for Steele at the "Capital" restaurant, recognized the presence of Mack Sing, and said she knew Charlie, by whom she was employed some time ago. Her statements regarding the meal were slightly variant in their respective accounts of the conversation on Wednesday evening according to her account. Mack asked Steele, "Are you still cooking?" and Steele replied that he was. The Chinaman said he had five at supper and fifteen at dinner. It was not good business. He was going away as soon as the month was over because Charlie was too cranky. The witness mentioned that Charlie was very agreeable to Mr. and Mrs. Meek, but Mack seldom said anything. In reply to a juror, Mrs. Sayce said she did not know that the prisoner had been arrested.

EAST BOUND SOO-SPOKANE FLYER WRECKED AT MACLEOD

ENGINEER MURGATROYD LOSES LIFE IN HEROIC ATTEMPT TO SAVE TRAIN. BODY FOUND IN ENGINE CAB WITH SKULL CRUSHED. TWO FIREMEN KILLED. LOCOMOTIVE LEAVES TRACK AND PLUNGES INTO DITCH. BAGGAGE CAR BURNT.

MacLEOD, Alta., Aug. 13.—Three are now dead as the result of the disaster to the eastbound Soo-Spokane flyer yesterday morning. Engineer Murgatroyd and his two firemen were killed when the engine jumped the track and several of the passengers are suffering from minor injuries. The locomotive, after leaving the ditch must alone have been sufficient to stun the unfortunate men in the cab. But to add to the horror the boiler burst and the escaping steam finished the deadly work. The fire consumed the baggage car and would have spread to the rest of the train but for the heroic efforts of the conductor and several of the passengers. Doctors and auxiliary men rushed to the scene in a few seconds and found the scared passengers shaken and except for a few bruises and scratches uninjured. To the memory of brave Ben Murgatroyd of Cranbrook, the engineer of the flyer, may all honor be given. He was found in the cab of his engine with his skull crushed and his left leg caught under the upturned engine. He cannot tell his own story, but the fact that he was the man who set the air-brake was closed and the steam shut off speaks more eloquently than can be expressed in words of the heroic attempt he made to save the train. Had it not been for his quick action the entire train would have been wrecked and many lives lost. Ben could undoubtedly have saved his own life by jumping, but duty was paramount and he has gone to meet his Maker, while dozens of people can thank him that they are alive. He leaves a wife and a family of small children. Hosts of friends mourn with them, as Ben was a favorite with all who knew him. His wife came up from Lethbridge this morning and was with her husband during his last moments. Probably the saddest and at least most terrible sight was the fate of Fireman Berney, formerly of New York, but lately of Lethbridge. In fact portions of the body that were recovered could have been placed in a small box. The address of Berney's family is unknown at present by the railroad company.

C. P. R. Yardman Killed

WINNIPEG, Aug. 13.—John Watson, aged 30, a yard man at the Canadian Pacific Railway, was killed yesterday afternoon about four o'clock while coupling cars in the west yards. In some manner he was unable to get between the cars, and was so badly injured that he died.

The cause is said to be that the work was carried on too close to the surface and the dampness of the ground caused by the recent wet weather.

Conference Agrees That All Men Should be Taken Back to Work

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 13.—The boilermakers of the Southern Pacific were jubilant today with the probable happy ending of the threatened general strike on the Harriman lines. At a conference today between a committee of the boilermakers and Patrick Sheehan, general superintendent of the motive power, it was agreed that all the men should be taken back, including discharged boilermakers and helpers. The conference today followed the resignation yesterday of Foreman Carter, of the local shops, whose removal was demanded because of alleged discrimination against the union men, and on whose account five hundred men from El Paso, Texas, were out on strike. It is expected that the agreement will be ratified by both sides, and the men will return to work tomorrow, all over the district. Carter resigned after the boilermakers gave the Company 24 hours to accede to their demands.

SASKATCHEWAN MUNICIPAL CONVENTION TAKE UP MANY SUBJECTS OF INTEREST

Municipal Experts Discuss Government Guarantee of Municipal Bonds—Motion to Abolish Income Tax Falls to Find a Second—Premier Scott Sends Address to Convention on the Growth of Interest in Public Affairs—A Speech by Francis Dagger.

From Wednesday's Morning Leader A message from the Premier and an address by the government telephone expert marked the business of the annual convention of the union of Saskatchewan Municipalities. The city hall was the rendezvous and yesterday morning the first session took place there. Not many delegates were present in several letters of apology for absence the writers explained that events at home or other prior engagements kept them away. There were present: P. McAra, Jr., (president), mayor J. W. Smith, W. S. Ball, W. D. Cowan, W. P. Gillespie, L. L. Kramer, L. T. McDonald, F. X. Kusch, W. A. Thomson, and city clerk J. Kelso Hunter, Regina; councillor J. H. Sissons, town clerk W. H. Stewart, Rouleau; mayor R. S. Cook, Alderman G. Baker, Prince Albert; mayor J. A. Gregory, North Battleford; alderman H. Bradbrook and town clerk R. H. Lock, Yorkton.

Mayoral Address of Welcome.

After the registration of delegates, Mayor Smith delivered the address of welcome. He enlarged upon the importance of the convention to the future of the province. He said that the convention had set itself to do, in the formative period of a young province. The foundations were being laid, and the future of the province would depend somewhat upon the work of the gathering and of similar gatherings in the future met to discuss civic problems. He was pleased to welcome to the city such a representative body of men, for although owing to the lateness of the train the members were not large, they were elected by the votes of the people and had come up against the practical side of civic politics and civic government. The mayor expressed regret that the city hall was not yet ready for use, but he hoped that next year, as the city invited it to do, the building would be in such a condition as would enable them to entertain the delegates much better than on the present occasion. It was fitting that the meeting should be held at the seat of government, since they had to do with legislation regarding civic problems. Because they could be in touch with the government, and that account deal more satisfactorily with the questions which came before them, as well as for other reasons, he extended a hearty invitation to them to meet here again next year.

Those who had not visited the city for two or three years, the mayor continued, could best appreciate the strides the city had made. By their own hands they had built up the buildings which were in course of erection, such as the city and fire halls and the post office. The schools, too, were an evidence of Regina's growth. Last year one was erected at a cost of $85,000, and this year they had to put up another at nearly as great expense. Our public works are the most up-to-date in the Dominion. We have five miles of water system and an electric light plant of our own. Therefore we welcome you to no mean city after all.

Remarks on Municipal Finance.

Mayor Cook, replying, voiced the appreciation of the visiting municipalities at the welcome given them. They were gathered in the city for mutual protection and advancement. They were face to face with the question of financing this great country. It required money for development of this country which was not required to develop other countries, and the eastern financiers did not understand the situation. They must try to dispel that wrong impression. They must impress upon the financiers of the world, and the bondholders of the world, that the bonds of the municipality should have some kind of a guarantee by the government up to a certain percentage of the amount. This would place them on a par with other securities, and they would be able to place them before the financiers of the world, and the money they required to meet the development going on. If anything should happen to check the development of the whole country, and be a check to the whole country, therefore united action was needed on this question.

The Year's Work

The president presented a summary of the work done since the inaugural convention. He remarked that owing to the provincial government having appointed a commission to go into the whole question of municipal government the work of the executive was somewhat limited. He said that the report of the commission had been printed, and an opportunity afforded to study the different recommendations contained. Whatever assistance possible was rendered possible was rendered by the secretary, Mr. Hunter, and the members of the committee at the sittings of this commission at Regina.

The executive had been of some assistance to the Canadian Union of Municipalities in connection with the Bell Telephone Co., and they had also joined in protest with the same union in connection with the bill presented at Ottawa for railway privileges, because the bill threatened the principle adopted by the Union at its last convention, that all municipalities should have full control of their streets and roads. This joint action resulted in a satisfactory explanation of the bill, and the assurance of the Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and the Minister of Railways, that in this particular municipalities would be protected.

The executive had dealt with the following matters, which were left to them to deal with: The Canadian Municipal Journal, the Canadian Executive Board. His own name appears as 2nd vice-president, along with that of ex-Mayor White, who was elected as 1st vice-president. He asked the approval of the Convention of the nomination of ex-Mayor White as their delegate to attend the annual convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities to be held at the Twin Cities of Port William and Port Arthur on the 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th and 29th inst.

In view of the fact that the Provincial and Dominion governments appeared to have overlooked the resolution asking that all measures effecting the rights and privileges of municipalities be introduced to the secretary of this Union before being dealt with, it might be considered advisable to affirm the attitude of the union on this particular question.

In closing, the president announced that the year had not gone past altogether barren of results to the municipalities of the Province. He acknowledged the receipt of a work entitled "Public Utilities in Canada," by J. G. Harvey, mayor of Dauphin, and which he thought to be of great value to the municipalities of Canada by The Canadian Municipal Journal and the Western Municipal News.

Financial Statement

The statement of accounts showed the receipts of $168, the expenditure of $19,25, and a balance in hand of $148.75. The annual subscriptions included $16 from Regina, $12 from Moose Jaw and $10 each from Yorkton, Saskatoon, Qu'Appelle, Wilton, Carleton Place, Prince Albert, Maple Creek, Estevan, South Qu'Appelle, Indian Head, Moomin and Lumsden. The total receipts of the society, Mr. Kelso Hunter, who submitted the statement pointed out that though only sixteen municipalities had joined the Union, that is nearly double the number of municipalities represented at the inaugural convention of last year. The roll of membership was sure to increase as the towns and villages in the Province increased, and as the objects of the association became better known throughout the Province.

Copies of all the resolutions passed by the convention last year, which affected both the Dominion and Provincial governments, were forwarded to them and duly acknowledged. No copies of bills affecting municipalities were received by the secretary from either of the governments as requested in the second resolution, passed last year, notwithstanding that the bills were introduced both in the Provincial Legislative Assembly and in the House of Commons, which affected the interests of municipalities as affected by legislation introduced into the Dominion Parliament.

Mr. S. Spencer Page, clerk of the Legislative Assembly, explained later in the day that the omission to forward copies of measures was unintentional.

In reply to a question by the mayor of Regina, the president stated that the date of the convention was settled by arrangement with members of the executive. There was no intention that it should conflict with fairs in two of the most important cities of the Province. The president, added, with reference to the appointment of the executive, that he thought it would be wise to confine the offices to men active in municipal life.

The Government and Municipal Finance

In an ensuing discussion, Mr. Stinson suggested that the government should be memorialized to come to the assistance of municipalities, and make it easier for them to borrow money. He believed that they could not obtain a loan at less than 7 per cent. The town he came from was not incorporated until last March, and it ought to be able to raise money without difficulty.

Other matters having been touched upon the meeting was adjourned.

Premier Scott's Encouraging Message

To the delegates' great regret an attack of asthma prevented the Premier from attending the after-noon session, but in his absence a short paper written by him, expressing the government's approval of the objects of the Union, was read by the Attorney General. It was as follows: Gentlemen: Nothing is further from my intention than to attempt any discussion of methods of taxation, its advantages or durability of particular kinds of street paving, whether government of cities and towns by commission or by the more usual method of elected council, is the better plan, or projects for beautifying cities—before a body of men, such as this, is convened to discuss questions of civic administration by hard practice, and who would not be further enlightened by studying the subject in connection with the actual work which I could say.

My single purpose in agreeing to come before you at all was because I could not resist the invitation to come, and to show by words the fact that the government of this new province appreciates your organization and the work which you are doing in hand with you for the good of the province.

We view your organization—the fact that you are so widely scattered over the great area of an immense province, men with business and many cares of their own show what you are doing, we view your organization as evidence of a growing public spirit which is not only admirable in itself but which is a satisfactory assurance that in a public sense Saskatchewan is going to make the most of her splendid opportunities.

It is only the development and maintenance of healthy and active public spirit in the province that can produce and equip a sufficient number of the right kind of men to do the work of government in the towns and villages, and in the rural municipalities. Only three years ago the country now comprised in Alberta was represented at Ottawa by only six men—four in the Commons and two in the Senate. In 1904 fourteen men had to be found for this purpose—ten in the Commons and four in the Senate. Within a couple of years from now the population longest, and according to the Redistribution Act passed at Ottawa this year, no less than 29 men will be found in the Commons and seven from Saskatchewan and seven from Alberta respectively, and in the Senate six from Saskatchewan and one from Alberta. An increase within five years from six to practically five times six is striking evidence of this country's rapid growth.

If legislatures grew at the same rate each of these new provinces might expect its legislature to consist of 75 or 80 members, because the Territorial House five years ago held thirty-five members. The area in question has two houses with total membership of 50, in comparison with the one house of 25 members three years ago and within another three years an addition of at least ten members will be advisable. There were three members of the executive of the Territories three years ago. The same are now eight executive members, and even this number finds its time taken to maintain even a speaking acquaintance with the local districts in which the work lies, and with conditions that they ought to be intimately conversant with, so extraordinarily rapid is the present growth of our municipalities.

To recapitulate: Whereas, five years ago our parliamentary and legislative representatives all had been based on the present number 68, these will within a short couple of years necessarily number at least one hundred. The mere statement of these facts shows very clearly how exceedingly important is the establishment of at all events the rudiments of public spirit, because when the required men are found and installed only the beginning has been made. The British system of government requires a certain amount of active public sentiment. The moment there develops a lack of hearty community of sympathy and alert co-operation amongst the great public and the representative bodies, that moment our system begins to fail.

There is the most substantial reason, therefore, why any organization such as the Saskatchewan Municipal Union, which signifies the growth of public spirit, should be looked upon with favor by everyone concerned in any capacity with public affairs, and the Government of Saskatchewan is especially pleased at this juncture when it is itself confronted with the heavy task of helping to frame a general system of public spirit, because when the special requirements of existing conditions in the province, to have the invaluable assistance and co-operation of the municipalities which have been giving and can continue to give.

From the list of your officers we obtained a well qualified member for the commission we appointed to report, especially upon the urban end of the municipal problem, and I may assure you that the government with a high degree of confidence look to your present and future deliberations for a great deal of inspiration to aid in the work which you have before you to confront the government and legislature. I have briefly outlined a phase in relation to government and legislature regarding which the Municipal Union, if it fulfills its possibilities, cannot fail to be of immense public value. I make no reference to more immediate objects for which you have organized, that is to say, to the discussion and solution of the many details of problems of town and city government which are already demanding attention and which in our rapidly growing towns and cities will be constantly arising.

Mr. Lamont went on to say that he thought the Province was very fortunate, at the time when the government was endeavoring to solve the telephone problem, and ascertain the advantages and disadvantages of various systems, in having the advice of an expert, Mr. Dagge, in being able to write him to consult with and obtain the opinion of men connected with municipal government in several cities and towns of the Province, for by this means he would gain more accurate knowledge of local conditions than perhaps, he could obtain in any other way.

The president thanked Mr. Lamont for his presence and Mr. Scott for his message.

The Taxation of Banks

Messrs. Cooke and Gregory submitted:—"That the Provincial government be requested to provide in the new Municipal Act, the proposed assessment by the municipality of all bank, loan and financial institutions." Mr. Cook explained that the object of the motion was to ask the government to establish beyond a doubt the right of municipalities to assess banks in the same way as they assessed other business concerns.

Mr. Smith said that under the charter Regina had power to assess corporations of that kind, but the provisions of the last session of the Legislature left doubt as to the extent of its scope. He did not think the local Legislature had the power to make away a source of income from the municipality. In any case the situation should be cleared.

Government Inspection Wanted

Messrs. Cooke and Baker submitted the resolution following: "That the Provincial government be requested to have a right of inspection made from time to time of slaughter houses in order to protect the public health." Mr. Ball thought the motion was all right so far as it went, but it ought to include dairies.

With this addition the resolution was carried. Another proposal came from Prince Albert: "That the Provincial government be asked to appoint an official auditor, whose duty it shall be to inspect a uniform system of bookkeeping, and make a yearly inspection of the books of all towns and cities." The mover of the resolution remarked that the system it outlined worked well in Ontario. The public would gain confidence, and the effect on municipal bookkeeping would be favorably.

Mr. Smith held that the adoption of these proposals would give confidence to the taxpayers, and would not find fault with local auditors, but he was satisfied that some of the audits of the city accounts might have been more satisfactory if they had been. He strongly favored the appointment of an official auditor or auditors to do the work of the present auditors, saying introduced would more than compensate the various municipalities for the expense of such an office.

The president questioned whether any city in the Province had a better system of bookkeeping than the city of Regina, and whether the requirements of the act were being uniformly with other places in the matter of account keeping in its books. The resolution was carried.

Single Tax Discussed

That the government be asked to legislate for a uniform system of assessment to provide for the assessment of real estate at its actual value, and improvements at not more than 60 per cent. was the resolution introduced by Messrs. Cooke and Baker. The mover explained that it was desired to strengthen the hands of the government so as to get as near the real value of the land as possible. The convention approved the proposal.

Moving a resolution in favor of the abolition of income tax, Mr. Kelso Hunter said he thought the tax was unsatisfactory, because by it one only got at the income of the man whose interest on bonds, debentures or mortgages were the only way to tax the lawyer, the doctor, and other men whose incomes were not fixed and compelling the production of their books. He did not think that was a very satisfactory way of doing business. If it were possible he would like to have no assessment upon anything but real estate and improvements.

Smith, while believing on grounds of sentiment and theory that the single tax would be the best, held that it was impracticable as applied to cities in the Province at the present time. They could not raise enough money by means of it to pay for the expenses of the city. On the theoretical question of the incidence of such a tax he held that improvements should pay a certain amount, but not much as land values. So long as there was a business tax there should be an income tax.

Of Interest to Tax Shirkers

A majority of those who voted with reference to the following resolution approved it:—"That the time for distress of taxes should be extended beyond the 30th of December in each year. (In this country most of the taxes are payable and paid (if not fall.) That the time for distress for taxes be extended for a year and for three months beyond the 30th of December in the year they become one for distress of mittee of this convention be appointed to interview the Hon. Premier and the Provincial Treasurer regarding the question of placing municipal bonds, up to a certain percentage of their assessment, on a better financial standing and report to this convention." Mr. Cook said it seemed that the time had arrived when the government had got to assist in the development of the country. There was practically no demand for city bonds except at very great sacrifices, and the cities were not in a position to make that sacrifice, because it crippled them. Nor should they be expected to do so, for with a reasonable guarantee, no difficulty would be experienced in getting cheap money.

Chicago Markets Weak
CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—Heavy realizing sales caused a slump of more than two cents in the price of wheat today on the exchange. At the close September was off 2 1/2 cents.

The wheat market today was completely in the hands of the bears, who pounded it vigorously. Commission houses also disposed of enormous lots for discouraged longs.

The conditions in this country favor the bear side of the market, the weather in the northwest being favorable for the crop in the southwest showing a constant decrease. The severe breaking prices in Wall Street also had a depressing effect on the market.

The close was weak and at the lowest point of the day. September opened a shade to 1/2 cent and declined to 87 1/2 at 88 cents, where it closed.

Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 200,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,120,000 bushels, against 1,230,000 bushels on the same day last year.

Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 493 cars, against 407 cars last week and 442 cars a year ago.

Crops Doing Well
HEWARD, Sask., Aug. 7.—The crops are doing splendidly, although much later than last year. The very heavy growth of straw is going to delay the ripening period. There was no frost last week.

Chicago Markets Strong
CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—An improved demand for American wheat by exporters had a strengthening effect today on the local wheat market. The September delivery closed at a net gain of 1/2 cent.

The wheat market was strong nearly all day and trading was active. New York, Kansas City and St. Louis reported that wheat sold there for export. The belief that wheat is now an export basis formed the chief reason for the prevailing bullish sentiment; other factors contributing to the firmness were the higher prices for cash wheat in the southwest, the strength of the prevailing crop at Minneapolis and reports of damage in Canada by hail.

The market closed lower to 1/2 at 88 1/2—higher at 88 3/4, advanced to 89 1/2 and closed at 88 3/4 at 89 1/2. The clearance of wheat to the flour was equal to 374,700 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,057,000 bushels, against 1,020,000 bushels the same day last year.

Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 453 cars, against 397 cars last week and 496 a year ago.

Markets Erratic
WINNIPEG, Aug. 8.—Nervous and extremely erratic was the wheat market this morning. The market opened in sympathy with the American slump yesterday, better news from France and Russia, and larger Argentine shipments.

All the American markets, however, opened higher and advanced quite rapidly with a good volume of trading until one o'clock, when just shortly after the announcement that British consuls had dropped to the low point in two years; wheat slumped suddenly; Minneapolis from 96 A. 94 7-8 and almost immediately reached point it closed.

Trading during the last fifteen minutes of the morning must have been enormous in both Minneapolis and Chicago.

Other options fluctuated almost as rapidly, but Minneapolis spot was decidedly the most sensational. It looked to outsiders as if the bulls and bears had met in mortal combat, and the bears came out badly scared, but victorious.

Coarse grains were much affected, and largely recovered the ground lost yesterday. In Winnipeg the market was not so excited or nervous. There was nothing new in the situation. Cables were unsatisfactory and little export business was done.

A Mature Appearance
INDIAN HEAD, Aug. 8.—The hot days are having an excellent effect upon the wheat fields, which are rapidly assuming a mature appearance.

Cutting in Fourteen Days
ESTEVAN, Aug. 7.—Grain is looking splendid, the warm days and cool nights helping it along wonderfully. The official report commences in about fourteen days.

From Saturday's Morning Leader
Telegraphers Strike Upsets Market
CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—The Government crop report offset the strike of telegraphers and caused a strong close today and caused a strong close to what had been up to that time a weak market.

The official report regarding the condition of spring sown wheat was made public fifteen minutes before the close of the market and showed a condition of wheat compared with $2.70 on July 1st.

Prices Advance
Immediately after the appearance of the report, prices advanced sharply, and the closing quotations were the highest point of the day.

During the greater part of the session the market was weak because of the strike of the telegraph operators, and lower prices at Liverpool. Local longs sold freely, and there was also heavy selling by the commission houses.

Much of the usual statistics was missing on account of the wires, and this had a tendency to restrict trading. The market closed at 88 3/8 to 88 3/4, and then advanced to 88 3/4. The close was at 88 1/2 and 3/4.

Three Northern and primary receipts were not available because of the strike. Minneapolis and Chicago receipts 470 cars against 332 last week, and 620 cars a year ago.

Market Strong in Tone
WINNIPEG, Aug. 9.—The American markets opened practically at last Thursday's close, but on lower cables and some heavy selling there was a decline. Chicago was 1-1/4 and 1-1/2, and Minneapolis 1-1/2 below Thursday's close.

Then came the government report on the condition of spring wheat; this was 79.6, as against 87.2 last month, and 79.6 last year. The white wheat market reacted with a bound and in about five minutes the lost ground had not only been regained, but Chicago September was closed at 1-8 and 1-4 higher than Thursday, and Minneapolis September was 1-2 higher, December 1-2 and May 3-8 higher.

The close was at the high point in every case, and the market was very strong in tone. The Winnipeg market did not show any such marked fluctuations, but closed a fraction higher for October, and 3-4 cents lower for December, than it was on May.

Export enquiry was rather dull, as Winnipeg prices were reported out of line. A fair amount of trading was done. Receipts were again heavy. Cars inspected 149, last year 70.

Chief Warehouse Commissioner's Report
OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 9.—The chief warehouse commissioner of Canada, C. C. Castle, has forwarded to the department of agriculture a report as to the crop outlook in the three western provinces.

The Manitoba report to a large extent confirms the unfavorable reports which have appeared in the press recently, and intimates that, according to present prospects western farmers will realize two dollars an acre more than they did last year.

In his report, he says: "I am pleased to be able to advise that from all parts of Manitoba, Alberta, and Saskatchewan reports, as to the crop conditions are most favorable. In fact, the crops which looked poor before, have recovered wonderfully, and should the present favorable weather conditions continue it looks as if harvesting in the three provinces will be general toward the end of the present month.

The Manitoba wheat crop will average from fourteen to sixteen bushels (some districts will go over twenty). The Alberta and Saskatchewan crops will be even heavier.

In my opinion if the present prices hold, and the weather conditions continue normal, the farmers of this country will realize two dollars an acre more than they did last year. That is to say taking the average of the whole crop.

The range of prices for October delivery is about 21 cents higher than this time last year, that is to say, nineteen bushels per acre, of last year's crop at the price prevailing early in September, would realize $12.49 per acre, whereas fifteen bushels at today's price would realize $13.91 per acre, and when it is considered that the harvesting cost will be reduced in the neighborhood of two dollars an acre, the farmers' financial position today compares with last year is decidedly better.

It is usually the case, certain alarmists are predicting blue ruin, and failure of the north-west crops, but the farmers of this country, who have more at stake than anybody else are not bothering their heads very much over such reports.

The way we look upon the matter here, is that a frost is possible, but highly improbable, except perhaps in cases where wheat was sown after the beginning of June."

Telegraph Strike Upsets Business.
CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Lack of telegraph facilities due to the telegraph strike, tended to paralyze the business on the board of trade today, and caused weakness in the grain and provision pits.

At the close, wheat for September delivery, was down 1-1/2. Oats showed a loss of 5-8 to 3-4.

Little Harm at Strassburg
STRASSBURG, Sask., Aug. 10.—The storm which passed through the western and northern parts of this district yesterday was chiefly rain and wind. Small pellets of hail whitened the ground in some parts but with the exception of one or two cases practically no damage was done. In these cases the damage was slight, but further reports may come in.

Heavy Hail Damage
CARSON, Sask., Aug. 10.—During the disastrous hail and wind storm that passed over the Eyebrow Hills, and Tuxford districts, on Thursday night, fully three thousand acres were blanketed with hail. Barley and wheat were entirely lost. O. Hutchinson's losses amount to one thousand acres of crop.

Barley Cutting Soon
DAVIDSON, Sask., Aug. 10.—Little damage was done in this district by the recent storm. W. Leonard, six miles south of this place reports that sufficient harm was done on his place to warrant an examination. There was no wind accompanying the hail, and the hail only lasted a few minutes, but very soon now and everything else is looking fine—frost is the only thing we are afraid of now.

All Markets Upset by Strike
WINNIPEG, Aug. 12.—The grain markets were seriously affected by the telegraphers strike, and there is no doubt that the market has made the most of the opportunity to force prices down. It was pre-eminently a good market for the greenhorn to the experienced trader, and for the latter a good market for the greenhorn to the experienced trader.

It was difficult to get any accurate information, but there was evidence that the drop is not quite so sharp, or so rapid, September dropped 2 1/2; October 2 1/2; December 2 3/8; and May 1-4.

In Chicago September dropped 3 1/2; December 3 1/4; May 3 1/4; in 2 3/4. Before the close the drop resembled a panic rather than any ordinary decline.

The Winnipeg market sympathized with the American markets to a great extent, but the drop is not quite so sharp, or so rapid, September dropped 2 1/2; October 2 1/2; December 2 3/8; and May 1-4.

Markets Weak All Day
CHICAGO, Ills., Aug. 12.—Wheat prices of the local exchange broke more than three cents a bushel today because of the heavy selling based upon the spread of the telegraphers' strike.

At the close, wheat for September delivery was down 3 1/2 to 5-8 cents. Oats showed a loss of 1 1/4 to 1 3/8. The wheat market was weak all day, and a decline of nearly one cent per bushel was recorded on the opening transaction.

Throughout the entire session the market was subjected by free selling by long, and the principal demand came from shorts.

The weakening influence in the opening hours lower prices for wheat at Liverpool, and on the Minneapolis carb, and extremely favorable weather for the new crop.

An announcement of the spread of the strike at New York was the signal for a fresh raid on the market during the latter part of the day.

Closing Prices
The market closed weak and low, to the lowest point in 1-8 lower, to 7-8 to 1 cent, lower to 83 3/4, sold off to 83 1/2 and closed at 83 5/8. The amount of passage increased 700,000 bushels.

Clearances and primary receipts were not available because of the strike. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 640 cars against 553 cars last week and 723 cars a year ago.

Foreign Market Prices
Foreign Markets—Liverpool, wheat opened 3-4 lower, and closed with a loss of 1-8 to 1-4 lower. Partly, wheat closed 1-4 and 3-4 lower. Antwerp, wheat closed unchanged. Number of cars inspected 153.

DIOCESAN LIMITS MAY BE CHANGED

APPROACHING PROVINCIAL SYNOD WILL CONSIDER MANY IMPORTANT QUESTIONS

From Tuesday's Morning Leader
The Provincial Synod of Rupert's Land which opens in Regina tomorrow promises in many respects to be one of the most important ecclesiastical gatherings ever held in the west, important matters closely affecting the various dioceses comprising within the synod will be brought forward for discussion.

While the diocesan synods meet annually, the Provincial Synod meets triennially, and the first Provincial Synod held in this city for ten years, will be held here on August 19th and 20th.

The Provincial Synod of Rupert's Land is made up of representatives, clerical and lay, from the nine dioceses comprising it, viz: Kewatin, Saskatchewan, Calgary, McKenzie River, Athabasca, and Moosejaw.

The opening services of the synod will be held in St. Paul's church at 10 a. m. on Wednesday morning, the Rev. the Bishop of Saskatchewan being the preacher, and the first session for business will take place at St. Paul's school house on the afternoon of the same day at 2 p. m.

On the following morning, the 15th, a special service and celebration of the Holy Communion will be held at 7 a. m.

Reorganization of Diocesan Boundaries
The first matter down for consideration in the agenda paper is the application of the Bishop of Qu'Appelle to the appointment of an assistant bishop under section IX of the constitution of the Provincial Synod.

This question was first brought up at Calgary two years ago, when it was decided to postpone action in the matter until the present motion by the Ven. Archbishop Lloyd calling for the "reorganization of diocesan boundaries in the ecclesiastical Province of Rupert's Land" was first Synod.

The following is the text in full of Archbishop Lloyd's motion:

2. And whereas the city of Edmonton is a sufficient Indian population to warrant the continuance of a bishopric for that sphere alone;

3. And whereas the Bishop of Qu'Appelle has already made application to the Provincial Synod for the appointment of a coadjutor bishop in view of the large size of that diocese;

4. And whereas the southern part of the Diocese of Athabasca will be a sufficient Indian population to warrant the continuance of a bishopric for that sphere alone;

5. And whereas the Bishop of Qu'Appelle has already made application to the Provincial Synod for the appointment of a coadjutor bishop in view of the large size of that diocese;

Reorganization of Diocesan Boundaries
The first matter down for consideration in the agenda paper is the application of the Bishop of Qu'Appelle to the appointment of an assistant bishop under section IX of the constitution of the Provincial Synod.

This question was first brought up at Calgary two years ago, when it was decided to postpone action in the matter until the present motion by the Ven. Archbishop Lloyd calling for the "reorganization of diocesan boundaries in the ecclesiastical Province of Rupert's Land" was first Synod.

The following is the text in full of Archbishop Lloyd's motion:

2. And whereas the city of Edmonton is a sufficient Indian population to warrant the continuance of a bishopric for that sphere alone;

3. And whereas the Bishop of Qu'Appelle has already made application to the Provincial Synod for the appointment of a coadjutor bishop in view of the large size of that diocese;

4. And whereas the southern part of the Diocese of Athabasca will be a sufficient Indian population to warrant the continuance of a bishopric for that sphere alone;

5. And whereas the Bishop of Qu'Appelle has already made application to the Provincial Synod for the appointment of a coadjutor bishop in view of the large size of that diocese;

EVERY PROSPECT OF EVIL-DOERS BEING BROUGHT TO JUSTICE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—The swan of the grand prosecution will grind in nearly every department of justice. The Supreme court will listen to arguments on the applications of the various indicted officials praying for writs of prohibition restraining the Supreme court from trying their cases. In Judge Lawler's department the grand jury will begin the trial of Louis Glass, vice president and general manager of the Pacific States Telephone Co., will begin. The men indicted in the Park Site deal will be called upon to make their plea before Superior Judge-Dunne. The grand jury will listen to further evidence of the Pacific States Telephone bribery, and incidentally act upon the accusation filed at the district attorney's office by Michael Casey, chairman of the committee of election frauds, charging that the Behm and the grand jury of the labor party is engaged in "Criminal Colonizing." In addition to listening to arguments in the application for writs of prohibition, the Supreme court will probably hear arguments on the majority question.

INQUEST OPENED ON JOHN FORTUNE

JURY VIEW REMAINS AND ADJOURNS PENDING DR. CHARLTON'S INVESTIGATIONS

From Monday's Morning Leader

Some o'clock this morning Dr. Seymour opens at the city hall the adjourned inquest on the circumstances of the death of John Fortune. The inquest was postponed from Saturday evening, when a jury consisting of Wm. Hindson, (foreman), J. F. Bole, William H. Adams, J. W. Stewart, J. E. McCarthy and Simpkins, met at the undertaking room of Speers, Marshall & Boyd to view the body. The grand opportunity has been thus afforded Dr. Charlton to make an examination of the remains and with the results of his investigation will probably be given today.

Early on Saturday the Chinaman who was arrested and released, not the much wanted Charlie Mack, but a well-known laundryman named Sam Sing, who would rent the Chinaman on suspicion. After his discharge Sam held a sort of formal reception of sympathizers, and the mark of handcuffs on his wrists; though his arrival at Qu'Appelle soon after the next morning had been expected was bound to excite suspicion. Sam stated that he recently returned to Regina after a trip to the Kootenai in Indian Head when the police took him in custody. No other arrest is reported, but the police are confident that the fugitive will be taken. Men have been specially assigned to pursue the search, and the district received notification of the Chinaman's escape. In their visits to various Chinese places of resort, the information of value, though some people versed in Oriental ways have surmised that the missing man might be hiding locally. Though the report that he was seen on Thursday afternoon, walking eastward along the railway, conflicts with this theory, it fits in with the conjecture that he may have boarded a freight train some point along the line.

Latest news of the patients' condition gives ground for hope that the first death from poisoning will also be the last. The number detained at the Victoria hospital remains the same. E. O. Shaki having been admitted on Saturday afternoon. Stewart discharged. Dr. Meek attends the new comer. The improvement in Winter's condition is sustained by the fact that he is able to eat a better state. If the present rate of improvement continues for two or three days, at least will be fit for discharge.

owner was the owner of the restaurant. Charlie told her he was the boss, and she always a business and a pig tail circling his hair, solemnly grasped the saucer and fell upon his knees. At his second attempt to break the saucer, a number of pieces were shivered off, and the witness, still kneeling, gravely nodded when the interpreter assured him that if he swerved from the truth his soul would be cracked in like fashion. Mr. Bigelow proceeded to examine him through the interpreter. For the most part he replied without hesitation and volubly.

Do you know Charlie Mack? Yes, he was my master. Was he not your partner? No, I am his hired man. Did not you sign the lease for the restaurant? I did not. Have you ever called yourself Mack Cook? I have no other name than Mack Sing.

Do you know J. S. Donohue, the owner of the place you were in? I have only been working for Charlie one month. I do not know anyone in town.

Did you ever know a man named Mack Cook? I do not know any body of that name.

Where did you come from? I was working for Charlie McCusker at $25 a month. Charlie Mack offered me $45 a month, and that is why I left McCusker to join him. I began work with Mack on the 23rd of June (English reckoning).

Do you know Mr. Steele? I know him by sight.

Had Steele started his restaurant when you joined Charlie? Two weeks after I came there Steele opened.

What were your duties at Charlie's place? I was to go there both as waiter and cook. We divided the work between us as occasion might require.

Charlie Did the Cooking

Who cooked the breakfast last Wednesday? I lit the fire and Charlie did the cooking.

All of it? Yes, when I was preparing the table, I could never make good porridge. Charlie always made the porridge.

Who bought the meal? I did not buy it. Charlie always did the buying.

How long before Thursday last was any buying done for the restaurant? I could not say.

Do you remember telling Dr. Charlton that the chief of police was there, that it was two weeks since any porridge was bought?

What I meant to say was, not that the porridge was bought two weeks ago, but that the amount of porridge would last two weeks. There were the bills.

You did not show Dr. Thomson or the chief of police cannot read English. I could only say, "You can search the bill files and see for yourself." Do you know where the oatmeal was bought? I do not know.

Did you tell Dr. Thomson it was bought at the Star grocery? I did not say so.

You are the man who borrowed the oatmeal on Wednesday morning? Yes.

The Meal Returned

You are the man who returned it on Wednesday night? On the evening of Wednesday Charlie gave me some oatmeal, and I told him to take it back. This I did.

Did you or Charlie buy any groceries on Wednesday? I did not go out to buy any. Whether Charlie did I do not know. I did not see any come in.

Did you have breakfast on Thursday morning out of the same bag, or was more meal bought? Some porridge was made. I do not know with what meal, since Charlie always cooked it.

You would have known if any new meal had come in before Thursday morning, would you not? I do not know whether any meal had come in. Charlie did all the buying.

Did not see any new meal about Thursday? I did not see any new meal about Thursday. I did not see any new meal about Thursday. I did not see any new meal about Thursday.

WANTED STEELE TO LEASE RESTAURANT

The Attorney General's representative asked Steele a few questions. In reply to one of them he stated that the two men in the stable were Fortune and Skali. Witness believed the latter was a Swede. Witness stated that he was the only porridge who slept in the house. Mrs. Sayce left about an hour after the meal was returned. Charlie always showed a friendly interest in the case, spoke, and witness was rather touched that the latter came to borrow his coat. Witness was asked whether he would rent the Chinaman, but after Mack arrived Charlie said his partner would not agree to get rid of the business.

ARSENIC DETECTED

proof of the presence of arsenic in the porridge came from the analysis of the Department of Agriculture, Dr. Charlton. He stated that about 3 pounds of a quantity of porridge were brought to him by Dr. Meek for examination. The Marsh apparatus was employed for analytic purposes, and disclosed the presence of arsenic. The flame from a gas generated by a combination of prepared zinc, hydrochloric acid and water, which in the usual way until a portion of the porridge was introduced into the flask, when a piece of porcelain inserted for test purposes was discolored by the characteristic arsenic mirror. On Sunday the witness examined the body of John Fortune, which he described as that of a healthy adult, probably 27 or 28 years of age. The state of various organs was typical of arsenical poisoning. The witness had not examined the meal, but he intended to compare the state of that found in the bottom of that lying at the top of the sack.

Dr. Meek deposed to having been called by Dr. Thomson at 7.40 on Thursday morning to assist in the treatment of a number of men then suffering from symptoms of violent poisoning. Four of the men were at that time at a house on Smith street, and one was at Case's warehouse. They all suffered from identical symptoms of arsenical poisoning, and the food had been poisoned.

Mr. Haultain interposed to object to this statement, believing that such opinions were not published, and he did not think it fair that they should be repeated.

The witnesses having confirmed the coroner's note of their evidence the inquiry was adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning.

REGINA BUTCHER FINDS TEAM OF HORSES AT MILESTONE LOST LAST SPRING

MILESTONE, Sask., Aug. 12.—A rather complicated horse case developed here today, when Ehman, the Regina butcher, recognized hitched to a rig the team missing from his stable in that city since August last. The team branded X, and 10, are remarkable for their coloring, but though the R. N. W. M. P. have been keeping a lookout for them ever since they have not been located, until Mr. Ehman arrived from Regina today, and ran across them on the prairie. For about a year they have been in the possession of Jack Egan, a farmer, 18 miles south of here. He says that they were left with him August last by another man. He advertises them as stray in three issues of the Milestone Mail, but had no enquiries until today when he was accosted by their rightful owner. Egan bears a good character, and is well liked. Constable Bishop, R. N. W. M. P. is looking into the case.

46,000 Women Needed in Iowa

Iowa needs 46,000 more women. She hasn't enough schoolmarms, for one thing. About 162 schools are closed to close last year for lack of teachers.

And if every man in the state wanted to get married, there would have to be women to marry them. For, according to Director Davidson, of the State Census Bureau, there are 46,000 more men than women in Iowa. This is in marked contrast to New England, where there are only forty-eight males to every fifty females.

Out of the sixty-two counties whose census has been compiled, but two show a larger number of women than men. These are Floyd and Des Moines. That women have been seen in either county to induce them to bestow their presence more generously is not revealed by the hard, cold and sometimes cruel census cards. But the disproportion is not at all alarming in either county, as in Des Moines there are but ninety-six more females than males, and in Floyd but forty-two.

Appanoose, Sioux and Kosuth counties may prepare for an influx of spinners as soon as the facts become known. In Sioux county there are 1,329 more men than women. In Appanoose 1,234, and in Kosuth 693. The entire census taking bureau is marveled greatly at these figures.

Wright county is practically in the same class, with 900 more men than women. Marshall county has 800 more, and Harrison, Lyon and Crawford counties each have 700 more. Audubon, Buena Vista, Emmet, Clay, Hamilton, O'Brien and Pocahontas each has 600 more. Dallas, Crawford, Ida, Montgomery, Ringgold and Sac each have 500 surplus men. It is noteworthy that the rural districts show the greater disparity, and that in the cities the women outnumber the men. Thus it appears women dislike farm life.

STEELE'S STATEMENT

William John Steele, carpenter and restaurant keeper of Lorne street, stated that on Wednesday morning about 5.30 the Chinese Mack Sing came to his restaurant and said: "Give me some porridge, please." He then stepped in, saying, "I have a bag of porridge here, and I want you to take it away. The same evening, while witness worked at the restaurant, he saw Mack Sing with some meal. Mrs. Sayce held the sack and witness poured the meal into it. Mack remarked, "You good boy, how much business have you? I have seventeen," witness replied, and the witness remarked, "I have only got about fifteen for dinner, but that business no good. I soon go winnowing." Witness replied, "I have only got the sack, and the next morning used it to make porridge with about the same quantity of meal as the Chinaman brought. Witness served the orders with bacon and eggs, and when they had gone out witness noticed that most of the food had not been touched. He remarked, "I wonder what's the matter with the men that they don't eat their breakfast," the other boarders won't be in until about eight! She took some porridge, and having filled up a plate of it for witness, went to wash up. "For God's sake don't give them any more," "Why?" asked witness, "What's the matter?" The stabler replied, "All the men who have eaten it are sick." Witness rose and went to the stable, where he saw the men who had taken some of the porridge, and after having telephoned for a doctor, he had them taken back to the house. Mrs. Steele asked whether the men were very sick and added that she herself had vomited. The witness recollected that his wife had taken some of the porridge, and after having telephoned for a doctor, he had them taken back to the house. ## WHEN YOU FAIL TO GET THE 'HUNGRY FEELING'

It is time for you to consult an A.B.C. box of Salted Sodas—a biscuit that is the very life of wheat and with just a filmy coating of refined salt. Just eat one; it will give you an appetite. It will make you feel as though you should eat. Eat one biscuit and you will be hungry. Then, too, when you patronize A.B.C. Biscuits you are not only getting the best but also helping to build up the West. If your grocer does not sell them write for trial package and mention his name.

LADY LAURIE.

Lady Laurier, wife of the Premier of Canada, is described in the Ladies' Realm as "a stately, white-haired woman, endowed with all the alertness and natural grace of her French lineage." As her photographs indicate a decidedly stout lady, something may be allowed for the proverbial gush of the English journalist. But she undoubtedly possesses that white hair mentioned and has rather more than that degree of stateliness inevitable in all large bodies.

Though of French origin, Lady Laurier speaks English almost as well as her husband does. Educated at the Convent of the Good Shepherd in Montreal, she remains a strict Roman Catholic, but without bigotry or narrowness. She is proud of her French descent, although she has never lived the fact to aim at breaking down any approach to a barrier between the two races in Canada.

FEARFUL ACCIDENT DURING AUTO RACE

AUTOMOBILE COLLIDES WITH BRIDGE, KILLING TWO PERSONS.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 7.—A race between two big autos from Milwaukee to Okauchee, a distance of about 25 miles, with a supper and prize of $25 as stakes, ended in a frightful accident to one of the cars, which resulted in the death of two of its occupants and painful though not fatal injuries to two others. The machine which was with an accident collided with a bridge, which spans Elm Creek, near Brookfield Junction, about ten miles west of Milwaukee. The wrecked car is owned by Alderman Koerner, while Frank Mulken owns the other machine which reached the opposite end safely. Former Alderman Joseph Kurshbreer, of Milwaukee, was instantly killed. Those injured were: Horace Mulken, son of a former Milwaukee judge; "Paddy" Dorrell, a light promoter, and Geo. Fossa, chauffeur.

It is supposed that the steering gear of the auto became jammed, and at a cross road the car left the road and was overturned into the ditch.

THE OPTIMIST

Little Talks on Life

Just a moment, my friend. Did you live better anyone? "It's no use. Everything seems to be against me?" Of course, you never said such a thing yourself! Of course not! But then, did you ever hear anyone else say that?

And after hearing it, did you ever take the trouble to look into the sayer's reasons for so speaking? If not, make it a point to do so the next time you are tripped up by this well-worn statement. You will be interested and instructed.

Did you ever see a man rowing a boat up stream? How hard he had to pull at the oars and strain, and how every time he lifted the shiny blades out of the water the current got in a little fine work.

Now, you've heard that good old graduation gag about the river of life. I suppose it's just as well to call it a river of life, or a sea, or a sea of any of the antique standbys. And you know, do you not, that the same natural laws, which apply to the Delta river or the Schuylkill apply to this stream on which you and I are adrift?

The river of life flows into the sea of eternity, or whatever that may be beyond the place where the boat you are in happens to capsize. And if your prow is pointed with the current, the river of life is as easy as a breeze and pleasant stream to navigate.

If necessity compels you to row up stream, the task is no trifling one, but there are many good things to be got in this direction which would not be had at all did you float down with the current.

Remember this when you have to strain at the oars. And remember, my friend that EVERYTHING is never against any one.

I suppose there isn't a soul alive who has not something to combat. Sometimes the very one you envy is the one who is fighting hardest. The battle is not fought out in the open, but it's a perpetual struggle, and those secret struggles are the meanest of all. You know!

The main point with the man who is struggling, however—and that means most any man you meet—is this—something is always with him, no matter how much may be against him.

And that something is the man himself.

Many persons do not know how to make use of the things they possess within.

They have hoped a little and simply because they had a few hopes happened to be blasted, they have deserted hope as a sham. They have believed a job, and melted because they have been disappointed a few times they have joined the doubters. They have been slightly charitable, but seeing a smaller return of gratitude than they had expected they have cut out the open heart and substituted for it a Harveyized steel affair with a time lock which is set for the day of judgment.

Let us hope they have given Gabriel the combination.

When a fellow tells you everything is against him, put it down in your little book that he himself is against everything. That's the only way such a state of affairs can ever come to pass.

Of course, if a man insists on taking the windward side of every circumstance that comes along, he's going to get hit hard, and have many of his possessions and maybe of his patience blown away. But he who accepts the place that comes along in the natural order of events and does the best he knows how to make it a pleasant and profitable place, even though he fail in the attempt, will never be reduced to the poverty of wanting to make such a remark as this.

Cheer up. Something is always WITH you.

GROUND TO PIECES BY SPECIAL TRAIN

BANKER'S SPECIAL RUNS DOWN CARRIAGE, GRINDING OCCUPANTS TO BITS.

ALLANBURST, N. J., Aug. 7.—Four employees of the Norwood House were killed tonight when their carriage was run down by a Pennsylvania passenger train known as "the bankers' special" at the Cortes avenue crossing here. As the excursion train drew out Edwards started his horses and the carriage was squarely on the rails when the flyer, its approach hidden by the opposite moving special, tore across the roadway. The horses, carriage and occupants were ground to bits.

Origin of Old Tavern Signs

For many centuries no other sign than the bush—a bunch of ivy or evergreens—hung over the door of town and country inns alike. The bush was very common in ancient Rome. Its popularity seems to have spread in all the provinces of the old Roman empire, and it has remained a distinctive sign in these islands and on the continent ever since.

But while the roadside hostleries were content with a bunch of foliage, the busy trade of the city, more distinctive signs became necessary in towns and cities, where taverns or inns were often close proximity.

Arms, badges and crests of the noble lord, whose residence was near the inn would usually be put up over the door to attract his numerous retainers or partisans. Thus at Lewis, the Three Pelicans took its name from the arms of the Pelham family.

In many cases, however, the innkeeper as well as the travellers, being unacquainted with the mysteries of heraldry, lion gules or lion azure, went by the name of Red Lion or Blue Lion while the two leopards argent in the arms of the De Witt family, were familiarly called the Cats. The numerous lions, bulls and dragons of all shades, as well as maples, crosses and crests, which have survived to the present day have all some heraldic origin.

The Royal Arms were, of course, a favorite sign when as they are now, and the crown is undoubtedly one of the oldest English signs. In 1297 a certain Walter Walters, who kept the Crown Inn at Cheshire, lost his life for having made the innocent cockney pun that he would make his son heir to the Crown.

The different kings and queens' heads which have adorned English inns for the last five centuries are too numerous to mention. Henry VIII and Queen Elizabeth have been by far the most popular figures of all royal modern signboards, the former being usually represented as a merry, bloated Bacchus and the personification of jollity and good cheer.

After royal heraldic signboards, none were more numerous in medieval England than those of a religious character. Besides the Annunciation of the Virgin Mary, church and church style inns, which are still to be met with in the country, there were many dedicated to the virgin saints and dignitaries of the church.

The Salutation was a very popular sign in the pre-Reformation times, representing the Annunciation of the Virgin Mary. Even now this sign is still to be seen, one of the best hotels in the Lake district, displaying it to this day. But it was almost universally changed soon after the Reformation for the Angel, the Virgin Mary being painted over and the Angel Gabriel left alone on the board.

Curiously enough, many other tavern signs of Catholic England retained their popularity during and after the Reformation. Such are the Cross Keys, a sign which is far from common now, and which is intended for the keys of St. Peter, the papal arms. The Pope's Arms and the Pope's Head also survived the Reformation, there were four Pope's Head taverns in London in 1036, the most famous of which was that in Cornhill, which dated back to the reign of Edward III, and was not definitely pulled down until the close of the eighteenth century.

The Cardinal's Hat was the sign of a London tavern situated in Lombard street in 1459. "This sign became common when the popularity of Cardinal Wolsey was at its height; but there are no such signs in England known to date back to the present time. Not so the signboards representing saints and martyrs.

St. George with or without a dragon is the most popular in England, and St. Patrick in Ireland, while the Scots are fond of raising St. Andrew to the dignity of a pub-house sign, the same being also true of the Welsh saint, David.

One of the oldest religious signboards of the kind of which is not commonly known, is the Catherine Wheel, sometimes denominated the Cat and Wheel, which was originally intended as a dedication to St. Catherine. This martyr was placed between the wheel armed with snakes, a device which was adopted in the Turner's Arms.

St. Martin, the patron of vintners, was often seen on signboards, as also Liberty, But Not License.

(The Wesleyan).

Many men from many lands are flocking into Canada. Some have left their native shores to escape oppression and to find liberty of conscience. Canada welcomes this many-languaged throng, but Canada is a land of law as well as a land of liberty. Here is liberty of speech and liberty of worship, but no license to permit pernicious personal practices to the injury of the community or state. For the peace and permanency of the state, as well as for the good of these incoming throngs they must be impressed with the sanctity of the wholesome laws which have been enacted for the protection and comfort of the individual, the family, and the whole body politic.
