A Committee of the T. I. L. Town Council and Other Citizens Will Supervise Cultivation of Vacant Lots

At a largely attended meeting Monday night called by the Mayor at the request of the Town Improvement League, money was subscribed by members of the T. I. L., the Town Council, and others, to take hold of several acres of vacant land and cultivate it for the good of some of the poorer people of the town.

About 60 people were present including half a dozen ladies. The speakers were: President Jas. M. Troy, Rev. S. J. MacArthur, Secretary H. H. Stuart, E. A. McCurdy, Ex-Mayor G. G. Stohart and D. W. Stohart, of the T. I. L.; Mayor Morrissey and Aldermen B. Ritchie and D. P. Doyle, of the Council; F. C. McGrath, M. L. A., and Messrs. J. D. Creaghan, George Stables and other citizens.

It was arranged that Ex-Ald. Jas. Tolson, Ald. J. E. Kingston, and Rev. Father Dixon would give some three acres each to whoever would cultivate it and that smaller patches were owned by W. A. Park, Mrs. John W. Miller and others. Rev. Mr. MacArthur had already assigned parcels to the T. I. L.

A sub-committee were given charge of the work, both of cultivating and distributing lots. Mayor Morrissey, Messrs. E. A. McCurdy, J. M. Troy, Geo. Stables, Edward Hickey, G. G. Stohart and Aldermen D. P. Doyle, D. Ritchie, Chas. Sargeant and J. P. Kingston.

Scarcity of fertilizer in Fredericton was mentioned by Dr. F. C. McGrath, M. L. A.

The meeting came to order at 8:30. Mayor Morrissey in the chair. He explained that the meeting was called at the request of some members of the T. I. L.

Mayor Morrissey said that at the second meeting of the new council, resolutions were read from the T. I. L. and presented by their Committee, one of which resolutions dealt with Vacant Lots. A wrong impression that the Council was opposed to the T. I. L. in this matter—had got abroad. The resolution had been referred back to the T. I. L. for definite information as to the lots especially interested themselves during the past two years in public matters. But the President of the T. I. L. had told him that the League thought that the required information could be got better at a public meeting. So he (the Mayor) had gladly called this meeting. This matter was being considered by all public bodies, as a great scarcity of food was likely. Newcastle would be much better off if the vacant lots were cultivated. Both Dominion and Provincial governments had been lax in the matter of providing seed. Let the governments give free seed—the people have to pay for everything, anyway. He would be pleased to hear any gentleman's opinion. A little company might be formed and some men hired to cultivate, and the products sold at cost to the most needy. This should lower the cost of living and thus please his friend, Mr. H. H. Stuart, who was greatly interested in reducing the cost of living.

J. M. Troy said that the last Council to whom the Dominion government had sent a request to take steps re cultivating vacant lots in February last, were blame-worthy for doing nothing in the matter. They had referred it to the T. I. L. and that body had insisted that the council was not a competent body to deal with it. On being referred back to the council, the latter had taken no action. Then, as the question was urgent, the T. I. L. had asked the new council to take action.

Such a vital question, continued Mr. Troy, should draw a better attendance but he was pleased to see such a large number present. Agriculture is now a vital question the world over. Lloyd George says it is as important to raise food as to have soldiers to fight. All over Britain the great parks are being broken up for planting, the work being largely done by women and girls whose fathers, husbands and brothers are at the front fighting to save their homes from destruction. While the Dominion Government has not done as much as it ought to have done, yet it has sent out an appeal to all public bodies. He thought there was a by-law in Newcastle, as in most towns, preventing hogs being kept within certain limits. But many towns are laying aside this prohibition, during the present crisis.

He understood that Rev. Father Dixon, Rev. Mr. MacArthur and other citizens were offering free use of land. If the citizens were willing, they could be united effort do much work. Half a dozen could till a piece of land together. A pig could be employed to work it and potatoes could be raised for $1 a barrel.

The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the possibility of...

Rev. Mr. MacArthur reminded the audience that Germany had already destroyed a million bushels of wheat. Mr. Saunders of the U. S. A. thinks he has an invention that will remedy the submarine menace but that remains to be seen. But, supposing the submarine menace is remedied, the food situation will still be intense for a long time. Prices were seen to be going up last year, but few dreamed that they would go as high as they are now. If wheat goes to $4 a bushel flour will be $20 a barrel. The situation is exceedingly serious. It is not a question now of getting enough money to buy food, but to get the food at all. It is the duty of all to grow all they can this year, and provide a surplus. The land of Britain, much of which was stolen years ago from the people, is being restored to the people. This majestic lawn, carefully built up for centuries, are being turned into gardens. There was a great movement to build ships. Supposing we shall not be able to overcome the submarine menace, we shall have to provide for the food destroyed as well as to feed the people. This meeting was desirable because the time is so short. No hand should be left waste. The Adams School lot is available. New Glasgow merchants have agreed to finance the farmers with fertilizer, to be repaid with produce in the fall at market prices.

J. D. Creaghan said that this was the first time he had attended the T. I. L. meeting, and he was very much pleased to see so many present and so much interest. This was a vital question—a most serious question for Newcastle and the Empire. He intended to plant some of his farm this year, and he had a piece of land which anyone could have for nothing. It would accommodate three or four.

Geo. Stables said he was cultivating all his land. He got up at 5 o'clock and worked in his field, and then after store hours and until dark. If everyone would raise all he could it would greatly help. It was hard to get assistance. Many do not know how to farm. And where can men get manure? Artificial fertilizer was not sufficient. Intensive cultivation was needed. Let the working men dig their lots after hours. It would do them good. It was a great pity that daylight saving had not been adopted.

H. H. Stuart said that the large attendance at the hearty interest in, and the information already gleaned at this meeting had justified its being called. All that was needed to get down to business now was, to request the governments to guarantee a supply of fertilizer as cheaply as possible; and to appoint a committee to take the names of the people willing to give lots and of those who wanted lots and to apportion lots to the latter and supervise the work. He recommended that this be done.

J. D. Creaghan said that Mr. Stuart should get a list of the men who would cultivate these lands voluntarily. He had touched only the fringe of the question. There was not sufficient fertilizer for the crops. And the kernel of the whole business is labor. He had tried to get a man lately and had suggested $2 a day wages. The man said he could not afford to work for less than $2.50, and he had given him $2.50. A man can't afford to work for less than that at present prices. We have to pay $5 to $6 for shoes now that used to cost $3. If Mr. Stuart would appeal to the governments to make things cheaper he (Creaghan) would be much pleased.

Ald. Ritchie said he was farming his own land this year. No man could make a barrel of money and pay workmen at $2.50 a day and pay the high prices for seed. But it was everybody's duty to till the soil. It was not a question of making a living now, but of existing. Probably not a stick of lumber would be shipped by water this year, and the mills probably would run only half time. Mill-owners would pay as much as possible, but they were not in business merely for their health—they had to live as well as other people. Everyone should dig in.

Rev. S. J. MacArthur said that it should be understood that stable manure was not needed for potatoes—artificial fertilizer is sufficient. You can't grow anything without fertilizer. Can it be had?

Mr. Troy's suggestion about letting people keep pigs was a good one. The pig, if given a chance, was a very clean animal. We are facing a meat famine. No calves should be killed. Henry MacLennan volunteered to take the Adams School lot.

Electric Light Wire Kills Chatham Man

Death by electrocution at his home in Chatham about 5 o'clock this (Thursday) morning was the tragic fate which met Andrew H. Marquis, a lifelong and highly respected citizen of that town.

The fatality occurred at a fire, of unknown origin, which broke out in the barn at the rear of the Marquis home, Duke street, opposite the Canada House at the hour above mentioned. In their efforts to combat the blaze, the firemen found it necessary to pull down an electric light wire running from the house to the barn. The wire was left lying on the ground while the firemen continued their work, although it is stated that every precaution was taken to warn everybody present that the wire was "alive" and dangerous. It is supposed that Mr. Marquis in the excitement of the moment forgot the danger against which warning had been given. In any event he stumbled across the fatal line and was almost instantaneously killed.

A young man named Cable, an employee of the electric light station and a member of the fire department, who had assisted in pulling down the wire, also came into contact with it at the same time, but escaped with a severe shock which rendered his removal to the Hotel Dieu necessary. At noon it was stated that he would recover.

The barn was badly damaged, but not destroyed by the fire. The late Mr. Marquis, who was fifty years of age, was born in Chatham, resided there all his life, and for many years had carried on a successful general merchandising business. He served one term as Alderman. He is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Mary McLaughlin, a sister of Mrs. McLaughlin, one son, "Mac," who enlisted for overseas service with the Nova Scotia Battalion several months ago, and is now in England, three brothers—Hugh, of Campbellton; Thos. of Toronto; and Geo. of Shippagan, and two sisters—Mrs. C. Dickson, of Napan, and Mrs. Thompson, of Toronto.

The deceased was a Presbyterian, a Mason and an Oddfellow. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon under Masonic auspices, and interment will be made in Riverside cemetery, Chatham.

More "Clean-Up" Days are Needed

Newcastle's seemingly incurable sanitary was again illustrated yesterday by the town's poor observance of "Clean-Up Day" for which event a public holiday had been declared by Mayor Morrissey. Very few of the stores observed the holiday by closing, and the business of cleaning up the town received comparatively little attention. In the business section Mayor Morrissey and a coterie of his friends made a creditable effort which changed the appearance of the streets which come most to the attention of the populace and of visitors, and a few isolated spots in other parts of the town were also cleaned up. Generally speaking "clean-up day" was not the unqualified success, resulting in a marked improvement of the town's appearance, which the event might have been, and with a proper spirit of co-operation among the citizens, could easily have been. The fact that the town is still very much in need of being cleaned up is not a circumstance conducive to the favorable opinion of outsiders, nor calculated to increase a spirit of civic pride among the citizens of Newcastle.

Lieut. Col. Mersereau Going to the Front

In a very interesting letter to a Newcastle friend, Lieut.-Col. Geo. W. Mersereau, former O. S. of the 132nd Battalion, which was broken up in England, conveys the intelligence that he will go to the front in charge of another unit. Following are excerpts from the letter:

"Capt. Duncan and Major Jones are going with me, the former as quartermaster and the latter as Adjutant and Allan Troy as Sergt Major, if my choice is approved."

"The more I see of other battalions the better I am satisfied with the officers and men of the 132nd, and the more I regret that circumstances made it necessary to break up so good a Battalion. I am firmly convinced that no better one ever came from Canada. More than half of our men are at the front and have been in some hot corners. We get great praise for them from their officers for their courage, steadiness and other soldierly qualities. Our officers are in demand also. Four of them left for the front yesterday, and two more are slated to go soon. If merit counts the officers of the 132nd will all get employment before long, as there is not a really poor one in the bunch."

"It is pretty generally thought here that the war will be practically over before the end of this year, but some think it will last a year or two longer. It is better to be prepared for several years of it yet, and then if the Germans sue for peace unexpectedly all the better."

Another Name On Honor Roll

The roll of Newcastle's illustrious dead on the field of honor was further lengthened on Tuesday morning, when Private John MacDonald of the Wireless Garrison received the sad message that his second son, Pte. Willard MacDonald had sacrificed his all in defence of home and country. The official telegram gives the date of the casualty as April 9th—the same as that, on which many other Canadian heroes fell. Young MacDonald was about twenty years of age and before answering the call to arms was employed as fireman on the steamer "Dorothy N." Besides his parents, Pte. MacDonald leaves three brothers, Pte. Charles, who was a member of the same regiment, in France, Keith and Emery at home.

"I have seen Lord Beaverbrook several times and find him little changed from the Max Aitken of olden times. The last time he made me promise to make him a visit before my return to Canada."

Harry Lauder Turns the Picture Round For the Women: What Home will Be Like After the War If the Girls Continue To Wear the Trousers.

"You never miss the water till the well runs dry." "The kiddies never miss the mother till the shells run short." The first is a very old saying; the second is a brand new one. But I might take either or both as the text of my-it would not do to call it a sermon.

As a loyal Presbyterian, I have the greatest respect for Bishops. Some English Churchmen love to be rude to their bishops. Perhaps they have the right. Certainly, I have neither the right nor the wish.

But they tell me a bishop has just now been saying that the women who are earning high wages in munition factories will never go back to rock a cradle in a third-floor back. And that does not seem to me to be common sense.

It after the war, women are going to do the work formerly done by men, I should like to know (1) What will the men be doing? and (2) What will the home be doing?

I am a married man, and I should never venture to say that there was anything a woman (within the limits of her strength) could not do-if she set her mind and her hand to it. But if you study the lamentable history of John Barleycorn you will understand there are certain things no man can do.

Scottish minstrelsy assures us that John Barleycorn swore by the light of the moon and the green leaves on the tree (the probably swore by other things the poet did not like to mention), that he could do more work in a day than his wife could do in three. Much to his surprise and alarm his good wife took up the challenge.

"I know the sad sequel. She went out and did his work-like a man. He stayed at home and did her work like a well, he just did not do it. When she came home the floor was not swept, the breakfast things were not cleared away, the beds were not made, two of the hairs were not yet washed, the kitchen fire was almost out, and the kettle gave no signs of boiling.

Mrs. Barleycorn smiled and said, "Man Jock, you look tired. Have a lie down while I get the tea ready." You may think the test was unfair, but Jock, as his surname implies, had a weakness for strong waters. But I doubt that most of us would fall to scratch the test. And if you hark back in the history of the household you will observe that, to have got as far as they were, with a house full of bairns, the presence of Mrs. Barleycorn about the house was essential.

Speaking of women and high wages reminds me of a Scots farmer. It's not the farmer I spoke of last week, but an entirely different person. But this farmer also was ill. He was very ill indeed. One day a friend called him sitting up the last of him and found him lying up in the garden smoking his pipe and throwing bits of dirt at the chickens. "I'm right glad to see you looking so well, Sandy, man," says the friend. "You doctor must be a clever dell." "He is," says Sandy, getting a good shot home on the rooster. "And what did he prescribe? asks his friend. "He prescribed a glass of whisky three times a day for six weeks," says Sandy. "But I don't mind telling you, Wullie, that I'm just three weeks ahead with my medicine."

If Men Stayed at Home If the women went out to work wholesale, no doubt the men would have to stay at home to look after the household. Such a man-a man who would be content with such a lot-I should describe as a-what's the name of the beast?-yell see him in the Zoo! Oh, ay, it's a sloth. There he is hanging on, fat and lazy. You think he's just going to drop off. But his claws grip tight.

But let us suppose such a horrid revolution to have taken place! Here is a love-scene, new style. A tender, dainty man discovered seated on a mossy bank. He seems to have been weeping. Suddenly his eyes brighten. He hears a noise like the tramp of elephants, but he knows it is only the firm foot-tread of his beloved. She appears round a bend in the road smoking a briar. He trips lightly up to her and throws himself into her arms. "Darling," he cries, "hold me tight in your great strong arms!" She does so.

Then she holds him at arms' length, and in a deep, husky voice that trembles with emotion she murmurs, "Little man! little man! How beautiful you are, little man!" They sit on the mossy bank, and she toys with his silken tresses. He takes one of her rough hands in his. "How strong and firm your great hand is!" he says. "How firm are the muscles of your great strong arm! Will you always work for me, and keep your little lad safe from harm?" "By-I will."

She swears an oath that makes him shudder. But he knows it proves her love. And so on, and so forth. And when they are married Jenny will come home proudly with her week's money. I wonder will she keep that two shillings back for-oh, well, for sundries I know I always did-but, for heaven's sake, don't tell Mrs. Lauder.

And Jock will have a nice cup of tea ready, and a pair of slippers warmed, and after tea Jenny will say, "Jock, lad, get on your bonnet, and I'll take you to the pictures. And when Jenny is safe and snoring Jock will go through the pockets of her trousers on the hunt for that two bob.

Sometimes Jenny will be for taking a holiday alone, and leaving Jock at home with the children. (Children! now what am I to say about the bairns? I'll just say nothing.) Then Jock will inquire sweetly what for his woman wants to be alone on a holiday, and Jenny will look down her nose.

Often Jock, his head bent over his sewing will ask who Jenny meets when she's down the street, and what sometimes makes her late home from work, and Jenny will unconsciously pass the back of her hand across her mouth.

No, your grace, if you please, we'd rather not. The men who come back from the war have other designs. And to have all the young fellows who are growing up. Every one of them has had a soldier father, or a soldier brother, cousin or friend. Fighting is in our blood today; and the man of tomorrow will lift his head more proudly than ever as the husband and protector of the wife.

Getting His Own Back Of course, there are some women who want their share and ours as well. Ye mind you tale of the farmer who loved to show folk round the farm and say to them: "These are my horses, my cows, my pigs," till the wife was tired of his eternal my. So one day, when a big party of friends and relatives had been round, he said to him: "Steenie Steenie! You'll just mind your tongue with you my this and this my that. I'd give ye to know it's our horses, and our cows, and our pigs."

Steenie laughs, and says her a buss. Well, the next morning he was up before her, and turning the bedroom upside down looking for something. "What was it ye were looking for, Steenie?" asks the wife, sleepily. "What was I looking for?" says

"I DON'T SUFFER ANY MORE"

"Feel Like a New Person," says Mrs. Hamilton.

New Castle, Ind.-"From the time I was eleven years old until I was seventeen I suffered each month so I had to be in bed. I had headache, backache and such pains I would tramp double every month. I did not know what it was to be easy a minute. My health was all run down and the doctors did not do me any good. A neighbor told my mother about Lydia E. Finkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it, and now I feel like a new person. I don't suffer any more and I am regular every month." -Mrs. HAZEL HAMILTON, 822 South 15th St.

When a remedy has lived for forty years, steadily growing in popularity and influence, and thousands upon thousands of women declare they owe their health to it, is it not reasonable to believe that it is an article of great merit?

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Finkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Stenle. "Why, wife, I canna mind what the hell I've done with OUR trousers." HARRY LAUDER.

NEWS OF THE WORLD IN BRIEF

MORE FREEDOM FOR RUSSIA The Russian provisional government has granted freedom of association and meeting.

TOTAL CANADIAN ENLISTMENTS 412,437 In the fortnight ending May 1, enlistments in Canada numbered 2,804, as compared with 3,329 in the preceding two weeks, bringing the total to April 30, 1917, 412,437.

BUILD A SHIP EVERY 10 DAYS One wooden ship of 3,000 gross tons each with a cargo carrying capacity of 5,000 tons, will be produced every ten days from the new shipyard in New York. Each vessel will be 290 feet long, 46 feet beam and have a draft of 17 feet.

FRNCH TO FARM BY MACHINERY Great agricultural reforms are about to be begun in France, whereby the abandoned and uncultivated lands will be put into cultivation by the extensive use of motor agricultural machinery, with a view to making up for the present deficiency of labor.

A GOOD EXAMPLE The Great Northern Paper Co. of Milwaukee and Madison, Wis., are planning to raise 25,000 bushels of potatoes this year. Its employees consume 23,000 bushels each year and the company has been raising but from 15,000 to 18,000. The other farm products of the corporation will also be increased. The company raises nearly 2,000 hogs yearly.

MORE WAGES FOR N. S. MINERS The Royal Commission appointed to investigate conditions among the colliery workers at Glace Bay have reached a settlement in the wage question. An advance of ten cents a day is to be made to mine workers whose wages are $2.50 a day and under, and in addition a 12 1/2 per cent raise is to be made all round. This means that a total increase of 36 per cent. to what are termed non-producers or 41 per cent. to producers has been granted all employees since May, 1916.

CELEBRATE AUDUBON'S BIRTHDAY Six hundred and fifty thousand American boys and girls paid a tribute on Saturday, May 5th, to the memory of John James Audubon, the famous naturalist, in observance of the 137th anniversary of his birth. The boys and girls are members of Audubon societies, which have as their particular object the protection of bird life in America. The governors of a number of States designated the day as Bird Day and it is hoped that by another year the celebration will have become nation-wide in its scope. In many States the public schools arranged for special exercises for Saturday to teach the scholars the value of bird protection.

RADCLIFFE'S OPINION OF HIMSELF In 1912 Radcliffe, previously the official hangman of Canada, was converted under evangelistic influences. The son of an English clergyman, he officiated during his term of office at 132 hangings. Craved by the vision of the souls he had hurried into eternity, Radcliffe declared, "I will go to hell sure, and to terrible punishment, for I am two hundred times a murderer, but I won't kill another man. I believe the Almighty will visit the Christian nations with dire calamity if they don't stop taking the lives of their fellows, no matter how heinous the crime. Murderers should be allowed to live as long as possible and work out their salvation on behalf of the State."

PARLIAMENTARY REPRESENTATION The Senate at the present time contains 87 members, 24 from Ontario, 24 from Quebec, 10 from Nova Scotia, 10 from New Brunswick, 4 from Prince Edward Island, 4 from British Columbia, 3 from Manitoba, 4 from Saskatchewan, and 4 from Alberta. The House of Commons at present contains 221 members, Ontario having 86 and Quebec 65. By the Redistribution Act of 1914, the membership of the next House will be 234, the number from each province as follows:—Ontario 82, Quebec 65, Nova Scotia 16, New Brunswick 11, Manitoba 15, Saskatchewan 16, Alberta 12, British Columbia 13, Prince Edward Island 3, and Yukon Territory 1.

THIS MACHINE WRITES WHEN IT IS SPOKEN TO

Phonoscope Reproduces in Print Whatever is Said to It.

Conceive an ordinary machine resembling the machines in common office use—full of the customary cog wheels and crooked levers and variegated springs. It might be an adding machine, so far as one can judge by external appearances, or a dictophone or a new fangled cash register. But—speak to it!

It becomes alive. It hears you. It vibrates with action. Somewhere inside typewriter bars go "clickety-click-click." At the top of the machine a sheet of paper twirls from a roller. The machine has written down what you have spoken!

If you said "cat," it wrote down "cat." If you said "Dear Sir: Your favor of recent date received and—" as though you were starting out an ordinary warm business letter, it wrote that same thing down.

This is the machine which John B. Flowers, of Brooklyn, N. K., has been working on for over a year, and which is described in the "Popular Science Monthly." So far he has succeeded only in getting the various parts to operate—in itself no mean achievement.

It embodies some principles, notably that of the selenium cell and accompanying vibrating-mirror mechanism, which will be used in the ultimate speech-recording machine itself. But in this latter case of the type-writer a whole collection of selenium cells will be necessary—one for each key on the machine.

After determining the real nature of speech sounds and getting, at the true sound wave shapes and overtones, Mr. Flowers devised his phonoscope, which is interesting, mainly as a forerunner of the actual voice-operated typewriter.

Unlike most projected inventions of the kind, this machine was not conceived as an idle dream. It is based upon sound technical reasoning and researches as well as on experimentation, back of which were the resources of a great typewriter company.

Unfortunately, the machine doesn't think, however much it may appear to approach that desirable attribute. One reason is that at present the machine is brainless. But even if it had a brain, that organ would be of no use in controlling parts completely separated.

An odd feature about the machine is that it spells words as they sound. HOW TO LIVE MORE CHEAPLY

The London Times gives the result of a "discovery" contented promoted by a public trustee in which a price of $25 was offered for the best suggestion in domestic economy and house-wifery. The suggestions were written out or sent into the headquarters of the National Economy Exhibition at Knightsbridge, London.

Some of the most practical "discoveries"—not perhaps in every case entirely new—are the following, several bearing men's signatures: To Pipe Smokers—When you think your pipe is finished, press down the contents of the bowl and light up again. Most people knock out their pipes before the tobacco is finished.

Never throw away an old umbrella cover; the black silk is useful for hat linings, covering buttons, facings, etc., as it is hard wearing. To save sugar when cooking acid fruits such as gooseberries, add a pinch of carbonate of soda, which neutralizes the acidity. The young shoots of bracken should be boiled and served as asparagus. Pay for all you buy when you buy it.

When laying the table do not cut bread for each person until seated. A quick and economical method of cleaning windows and glass is: Moisten a sheet of newspaper in water, clean the window or glass with it; polish with a dry sheet of newspaper. The ink used in printing acts on the glass, removes stains and makes and produces a brilliant gloss almost instantaneously. Cut—fill. That railroad should give away and not burn the grass on the banks of the railway line. Some 290 or 300 tons of good hay is now annually wasted on British railway lines.

In Germany early in the war they were teaching people how to sole boots with old motor tires as being so much cheaper than leather. It might be well to do the same. A small amount of moist brown sugar put in with currants, raisins or sultanas keeps them perfectly fresh for a long time. Put hard, green, unripe plums (before the wasps get them) in a box of green stinging nettles. In a few days the plums will be ripe and luscious. The nettles can be renewed every other day and the plums kept in a cool place while ripening. Mattresses for children can be made of strong unbleached calico filled with pine shavings or oat fyttes; these are cheap, clean and more healthful than cheap woolen flock mattresses. The exhibition is a field for propaganda work of the London County Council elementary teachers.

AN INVESTMENT

When you purchase a Series 18 Studebaker FOUR or SIX you buy a car made in Canada by a permanent Canadian institution. There's a uniform price range that is the same to every purchaser. And every Studebaker owner is assured of always being able to obtain the necessary parts and replacements at lowest possible cost.

People who buy cars as an investment buy cars with a name back of them—like the name Studebaker. They buy them with a clear view of the ultimate return. Almost any car runs good and looks good, and is good, in its fresh new paint and shining metal work when it is new; but consider it six months from now—a year from now, or two years from now—on this basis the Canada-built Studebaker is a sounder investment than any other car.

But come in and see the new Series 18 Studebaker cars—let us show you just why Studebaker leads the world in the production of fine cars at a medium price.

New Brunswick to Aid in Increased Production

Conference in Fredericton Last Week to Discuss Ways and Means was Very Successful

The Increased Production Conference held in Fredericton, Friday, was a success, both in numbers and enthusiasm. W. B. Snowball, of Chatham, presided, and Lt. Gov. Wood, Premier Foster and Hon. J. F. Tweedale, minister of Agriculture, were among the speakers.

All the speakers emphasized the great food shortage and the absolute necessity of more cultivation and larger crops this year to avert starvation.

Prof. Cummings of the N. S. Agricultural College, spoke of the law in N. S. against slaughter of cattle in war time, and how that government were assisting small farmers.

Co-operation of Scholars

Dr. W. S. Carter stated that the co-operation of pupils of increased production was approved by the Board of education. The approval of the local Board of all pupils in good standing from May 1st, 1917, who with the consent of their parents, shall volunteer to aid in the work of increased production, shall be allowed their standing for the present school year without further attendance at school. Upon the certificate of the local committee that their work on the above behalf has been satisfactory. The local committee shall consist of three members each, shall be organized by the inspector of schools for these special districts in one or more of the most popular or central place in each county, and consist of the chairman or some member of the school board designated by him or appointed by the board, the secretary of the Board of Trade, the Women's Institute or by the Agricultural Society. The inspectors of schools shall appoint the territory to be under control of each local committee, which shall organize itself into a bureau to receive applications from volunteer pupils or from all parties desiring their services, and which has distributed the available labor according to the direction of the Women's Institute or by the Agricultural Society at liberty to change from one place to another without the consent of the chairman. Failing to comply with resolution will entail forfeiture of certificate which their year's standing depends. Any conditions or difficulties arising in the matter shall be dealt with by local committee, any two of which the chairman being one shall be a quorum. A sum of money will be granted by the Provincial Government in the aid of clerical work of each local committee.

Mr. Sharp's Resolution

Mr. F. E. Sharp then made the following resolution, which was carried: In order to further stimulate the production within the province of high grade seed oats, wheat, potatoes and possibly other crops to provide for the seed needs of next year, this convention recommends that a large prize list for field crops be offered for the current year and that a vigorous campaign be undertaken to give publicity to these competitions.

Also, in order to encourage the increase of all crops and the improvement of live stock, a general competition for Increased Farm Production with substantial money prizes be announced.

Also that National Service Diplomas be awarded to those entering this competition who, in the opinion of the judges, make a substantial addition to food production.

Resolved, that the Education Department co-operate in increased food production:

(1) By mobilizing the pupils of the schools who, with the consent of their parents and the local school boards shall volunteer for the same under such regulations as may be determined.

(2) That the School Inspectors shall be released from their regular duties to co-operate in the work.

(3) That the Household Science teachers of the province be engaged during the summer vacation, under direction, to give instruction in the various centres regarding canning and economical use of food.

National Service Sunday

Following was adopted, on motion of Rev. Dr. Borden of Mt. Allison University:

Recognizing that this war has raised the question of production from the ordinary business plane of supply and demand to the high moral plane of national duty, this convention would recommend that Sunday, May 13th, be declared National Service Sunday for the province of New Brunswick and that a point message dealing with food production be sent to every clergyman of the province signed by the Honorable the Minister of Agriculture and the director of National Service for the province and that each clergyman be requested to read this message and to deliver a sermon or address at one of the church services on that Sunday upon the subject of National Service with special reference to food production.

Vacant Lot Cultivation

Following passed, on motion of C. M. Legor:

Whereas, at the present time the need exists for a greater amount of food production and that every class of people and portion of the province should lend their energies to accomplish so desirable a purpose. Therefore be it resolved, that owners of vacant lots in cities and towns and commercial and industrial workers there be earnestly requested to co-operate in their respective communities in the highest degree possible in the cultivation of the greatest amount possible.

Father Guertin, of St. Joseph's College, stated that he was heartily in record with the movement. He himself was a farmer, albeit he had not the time to devote entirely to this pursuit, but nevertheless he intended to do what he could to help the increased production movement along. He exhorted his hearers to turn to the Creator and to remember the Great Giver of all things.

Utilize Vacant Ground

At the personal request of the chairman, Mr. A. G. Dixon, of Northumberland County, gave a short address, and said that what most impressed him was that the fact that there were many vacant farms left unworked because the owners were away from them. He suggested that the Government adopt an act forcing the production of the soil in the cases, particularly, of abandoned farms, and thus materially increase production and cope with the food problem.

Elimination of Waste

Mrs. Lawlor, of the St. John House wive's League, spoke on the elimination of waste, and stated that while it was often said the women were responsible for the waste and extravagance she considered that it was unfair. Men were equally as great wasters as women and as an example she gave the barracks kitchens, where, she said, enough food was thrown away every day to feed forty families. Mrs. Lawlor further caused some amusement by saying that the business men and dry goods men were to blame a great deal for the extravagance, because they imported many frills and burlesques which the women would never think of buying were they not on sale. In conclusion, Mrs. Lawlor stated that she thought the Government should compel the farmers to sell a certain percentage of their products on the home market at a fixed price before they were permitted to sell the goods on the outside market at higher prices.

Women's Institute Work

Miss Winter, the head of the Women's Institute, stated that there were now 85 branches well organized throughout the province. The speaker told of the demonstration and lectures on canning and other domestic matters that had been held, and urged the elimination of waste to be taught by these institutes by means of addresses and lectures by experts. Miss Winter further stated that all the institutes would be visited this summer and probably many more formed. She advocated economy in the utilization of foodstuffs and promoted the co-operation of the women's organizations.

At the Women's Institute convention this fall there will be an exhibit of New Brunswick-grown canned fruits and vegetables, and prizes awarded for best quality.

Mrs. Gray, of Florenceville, advocated the working of the vacant farm lots by prisoners of war and interned men. She further suggested that a junior branch be organized for the boys to teach them how they could help and benefit their country.

Equalize Taxation

Premier Foster said he would like to hear from the farmers and get their views. Did they need more capital? What could be done to assist them?

Mr. Foster's challenge was met immediately by Mr. Porter, of Andover, who rose and stated that the first thing to be done was to equalize the taxation and distribute it more evenly. As regards capital, Mr. Porter stated the farmers would appreciate any practical help that the Government could give them.

The Progress of the War

Starting on April 9th by an attack on the German positions on Vimy Ridge, the British offensive has daily gained momentum until now Gen. Haig's forces, having driven the Germans eastward, seriously threaten the towns of Lens, Donal and Cambrai. The Canadian casualties on that front from April 9th to May 9th, inclusive, were 13,084. Many brave lads of the 132nd Battalion were among the fallen. Simultaneously with the British successes, the French army further east made equal gains, materially lessening the part of France still held by the enemy.

The total number of Germans alone killed since the beginning of the war is now stated to be 1,300,000.

The German Socialists, who before the war numbered a full third of the men of the nation, are credited with working strenuously for an honorable peace, but so far, have not been able to make appreciable headway.

The Russians appear to have been retiring on the Armenian front for several days, and the Turks announced that the Russians evacuated Mush on April 30th. Mush is a city in Turkish Armenia 83 miles south-south-east of Erzerum and 40 miles west of Lake Van.

Nothing of importance from the Russian western front has been reported for several weeks. The enemy are evidently holding their men in leash pending the outcome of the negotiations with the pacifist elements of Russia for either a general or a separate peace. The Russian government, which mainly represents the Parliament, declare stoutly that they will not make a separate peace, but a part of the Russian people—how large and influential a part we do not know—appear to be anxious for immediate cessation of hostilities in order to hasten the final settlement of grievances at home.

The United States have adopted conscription and are making preparations to actively enter the conflict. Meanwhile they have loaned vast sums of money to the Allies, and are shipping food to them as fast as possible.

The menace of the German submarine increases in gravity. Fifty-five large British vessels and 23 Norwegian vessels, besides some of other nations, destroyed in one week, tends to aggravate the British food problem, and cast a shadow of compulsory rationing over the Island kingdom.

Beyond policing the Pacific, Japan continues to take no active part in the war.

There was another revolution in Petrograd on May 3rd and 4th, caused by distrust of the government's war policy on the part of the workmen and because of its specific action in such ailments. It ensures the nutrition and recalcification of the organism owing to the phosphates it contains and its antiseptic action, due to the cresote it contains, is well marked.

It was settled apparently, on the 4th, to the satisfaction of the revolutionists. In addressing a vast number of workmen and soldiers, May 4th, Prince Tseretelli, one of their leaders, announced "now that the question has been settled here, our aims—war without annexations, expropriations or contributions—also must be realized abroad. We must know the attitude of the democracy of our allies. If a similar movement takes in the foreign democracies this will bring peace nearer, and we shall struggle until our views are also the avowed aims of the democracies with whom we are allied.

"The situation yesterday was most serious for the whole country. We do not yet know what the government meant. Conflict seemed unavoidable, but the government realized that it must respect our determination. By this acknowledgment the government has shown that it deserves the trust of the democracy.

"The conflict is now settled, and we must go on quietly with our work."

Such news would indicate that the workmen and soldiers of the capital are determined to establish a Socialist republic in Russia. To what extent they can control the soldiers at the front and the people of the provinces remains to be seen.

CANADIAN PATRIOTIC FUND

Total contributions to Patriotic Fund up to December 31st last, amounted to $18,243,932, while the amount expended for relief totalled $12,661,086.

The number of families in receipt of relief was given as 51,874, and the number of individuals 144,825.

Ontario, which contributed $8,624,060, received from the fund $4,758,000.

The province of Quebec contributed $4,099,000 and received $1,994,000.

British Columbia contributed $1,354,000 and received $1,837,000.

Alberta contributed $1,064,000 and received $1,785,000.

Saskatchewan contributed $925,000 and received $960,000.

Nova Scotia contributed $728,000 and received $612,000.

The Crisis!

Untold sacrifices are being made in defence of the world's liberty, assailed by the Hun, who declares he fights for "existence." Let us not forget that other crisis in which the fate of the dread Liquor Traffic, subdued just now by the necessities of war, is also fighting for existence.

Prohibition must be impregnable fortified now by means of proper enforcement in readiness for the struggle to come when Prohibition must be finally ratified or lost by the votes of the people in many provinces, including New Brunswick.

Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick have adopted Prohibition during the war. Prince Edward Island has enjoyed its benefits since 1901. The great majority of districts in Quebec are "dry." That is the situation to-day, but remember, the crisis comes after the war.

The total value of foodstuffs destroyed by the liquor traffic in 1916 was approximately $4,244,000.22. Add to this the immense waste of transportation facilities, clogged and hindered by carrying the gram to destruction, and again conveying the product of the breweries and distilleries to make precious men less efficient in this solemn hour!

Ontario's Splendid Record

Since September 16, 1916, Ontario has enjoyed good enforcement of Prohibition in all but a few districts. Not the most daring anti-prohibitionist hopes for a return of the curse of the traffic in Ontario. Here are some figures showing results in Ontario's largest cities for the last three months of 1915 and 1916:

	ARRESTS FOR DRUNKENNESS
	Under License 1915	Under Prohibition 1916
Toronto	2,908	953
Ottawa	286	234
Hamilton	498	61
London	367	144
Brantford	152	16

Note.—It will be noted that Ottawa has not much reduction in arrests for drunkenness. It is perhaps strange that it should show any reduction in the drunkenness record, inasmuch as it is separated only by the river from the license city of Hull.—PIONEER, Toronto.

Whether your district be under the new Provincial Prohibitory Law, or under the Canada Temperance Act, help us to arouse the full force of public opinion for vigilant enforcement of province-wide Prohibition.

THURSDAY MAY 10th, 1917

Loggieville, May 8—J. Gregory Layton of Newcastle, is spending some time in town, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. S. J. Simpson.

Mrs. McDonald of Chatham is visiting friends here.

Miss Nellie Dickson of Chatham spent Sunday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Loggie.

Deputy Sheriff Irving of Newcastle was in town one day last week.

Congratulations are being extended to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnstone, a son having arrived at their home the week just ended.

The annual convention of the Methodist and Presbyterian Sunday Schools of the Parish of Chatham was held here on Tuesday last week.

with Rev. W. A. Ross, General Secretary of the N. B. & P. E. I. S. S. Association in attendance. Delegates were represented from the several schools which the parish takes in.

The Convention opened at 2.30. After the devotional exercises, led by the pastor of Knox church, the regular order of business was taken up.

All the reports given were encouraging, and show a marked development in the work of the Sunday School. Rev. Mr. Ross had with him an International Standard Sunday School test, and the schools reported all presented a good showing.

Mr. Ross, in his very fine address, urged upon his hearers the need of Teacher Training, which would afford an opportunity for Sunday School workers to better fit themselves for their work.

During this session an excellently prepared paper entitled "Making the most of our opportunities as a Sunday and as Sunday School Teachers" was read by Mrs. Galloway of Central Napan.

The round table conference led by the Field Secretary, proved most helpful to interested ones. The evening session opened at 7.30, and was largely attended.

Splendid addresses bearing on the work of the Sunday School were given by Rev. E. W. Wyllie of St. Andrew's church, Chatham, and Rev. J. J. Pinkerton of the St. Luke's church, Chatham.

During the evening a duet was sung by Mrs. Clark and Miss Florence Harvey. The visitors to the Convention were entertained in the homes of the congregation.

On Thursday evening of last week, Miss Laura Cox entertained the Swastika Club at the "Terminal."

Mrs. William Russell of Newcastle, is in town, visiting her relatives here.

Miss Bertha Dunbar has gone to New Glasgow for a while.

Sympathy is extended to David Russell of this place in the death of his sister, Mrs. Saul Knight of Maine. The remains of the deceased were brought to Loggieville, and from here were taken to Bartibogue for interment.

Several more cases of fever have been reported during the last few days. One or more of the household of Mrs. Lowe are among the sufferers. Those afflicted with the disease—10 or 12 persons—are all residents in the same locality. The outbreak is a matter that needs immediate investigation, to prevent the further spread of the dread malady.

Mrs. Robert Loggie numbers with those on the sick list at present.

Floyd Crowley's many friends are glad to see him out again, after his illness of several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. William Potter and family who have been residing at the Loggie farm at the Rockheads for a number of months, have returned to Richibucto. William McLean and family of Jardineville have arrived in town to take up farm work on the place recently vacated by Mr. Potter.

SUNNY CORNER

Sunny Corner, May 8—Miss Rose Toser spent the week-end in Whiteville.

Mrs. Robert Holmes and her daughter, Mrs. Stanley Mullin were visitors here Thursday.

The Misses May and Villa Nowlan are visiting relatives and friends in Trout Brook.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hogan are expecting over a new baby boy, Michael Benedict.

Mrs. Stewart, Boom Road, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. William Nolan.

Miss B. Hyland has gone to Derby for a few weeks.

Obituary

ELROY MULLIN The death of Elroy Mullin, the 48 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Asar Mullin of Exmore, occurred at his parents home on Friday after a short illness of pneumonia. Deceased is survived by his parents, three brothers and two sisters. The funeral took place on Sunday.

MISS JANE HENDERSON The death of Miss Jane Henderson of Blissfield, for many years an inmate of the Municipal home, occurred on Monday. Deceased was 80 years of age. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon, interment in St. Paul's churchyard. Chatham Head, Rev. W. J. Bate of Newcastle officiating.

GERTRUDE F. HOGAN Much sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hogan in the death of their little daughter, Gertrude F. Hogan, aged eleven months, which occurred on Sunday evening. The deceased was a victim of bronchopneumonia. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon at two o'clock to St. Mary's cemetery.

HAROLD STANLEY CLOUSTON Harold Stanley, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Clouston of Lower Derby, who died on Wednesday, was buried on Friday afternoon in St. Peter's Anglican cemetery at Millers Point. Rev. W. J. Bate of Newcastle conducting services. Deceased was 3 and a half months old and died of pneumonia.

MISS SOPHIE MCKNIGHT The death of Miss Sophie McKnight occurred at the residence of her nephew, A. N. McKay, Chatham, Sunday morning. Deceased was 94 years of age and was the last member of a family of eleven and had been a resident of Chatham for the past thirty years. The remains were taken to Halifax for interment.

ALEX. CAMPBELL The death of Alexander Campbell, an aged and respected resident of Blackville, occurred very suddenly at his home there on Wednesday morning last. Deceased was formerly a well known lumber operator, and is survived by a widow and three sons and three daughters. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock and was largely attended.

MISS JANET STOTHART The death occurred at Ferryville on Monday of Janet Stothart, daughter of John Stothart, after an illness of three years. Deceased was 58 years of age, and is survived by her aged father, Miss May, Ellis and James, Ferryville, Miss Belle, Chatham, William of New Hampshire, Mrs. Chas. Harlow of Boston and Fred of the Forestry Battalion, at present in Scotland. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon, interment at St. Mark's cemetery, Douglstown.

JOHN TEMPLETON The death of Mr. John Templeton a well known and widely respected resident of Chatham, occurred Wednesday morning at the ripe old age of 77 years.

Mr. Templeton was a veteran of the Crimean War and came to Chatham to reside many years ago. He was up to the time of retiring from active business a member of the W. S. Loggie Co., grocery department staff and had been active in musical circles being at one time a member of the old Chatham band and a good bag piper as well. He further was leader of St. Andrew's choir for years, and was a member of the Highland Society up to his death.

ALL CHATHAM VACANT LOTS TO BE FARMED Many Chatham citizens attended Town Council meeting Monday evening to hear Director of Agricultural Education R. P. Steeves speak on school gardens, and the cultivation of vacant lots. The result of the talk is that all vacant lots will be utilized for the production of garden stuff.

R. A. Snowball and A. E. Taylor donated an acre of land each to be cultivated by the school children of the town.

Mr. Steeves went fully into the work that had been carried on in a practical way among the schools throughout the province, during the past four years. Besides work that is being done in school gardens, Moncton, this year, has given ten acres of land for cultivation, and has already been taken up by the children and adults. Every girl, boy and man who assists in cultivating land is a "real soldier," and different towns are providing them with distinguishing badges and buttons in recognition of their good work in helping to increase the production of the soil.

Mr. Steeves paid a high tribute to the Chatham school garden he had inspected last year; it was a pleasant surprise to him. The work could be carried on on a larger scale. The government supplied some seed potatoes but had not yet given free fertilizer. As to the vacant lot scheme, the government does not give assistance—that is a matter for the town authorities.

Rev. Father Rosch said all available land at the College was to be cultivated, and he would like to have Mr. Steeves address the college boys. Mr. Steeves said he would be pleased to do so.

Mayor Snowball also addressed the meeting and the following committee were selected a committee to take charge of the vacant lot cultivation under the school children: R. A. Snowball, M. F. Hale, Geo. Watt, P. Archer, G. Stead, C. P. Hickey, Principal G. H. Harrison.

Mr. J. D. Creaghan attended the meeting of the Returned Soldiers' and Commission in Moncton last week.

Newcastle Falls Into Line

(Continued from page 1) Mr. Ritchie said that from what Ald. Ritchie said, the situation would soon be serious. The T. I. L. had foreseen the evil time coming and so had called on the old council, and then on the new, to take action. Without great effort, we should soon be drifting towards starvation. He advised working men to work for whatever they could get. Let them cultivate all the land, and let the women all raise chickens. The men at the front expect us to help them.

Rev. S. Grey Rev. Mr. Grey called for definite action on the question discussed. Lots of land was offered but there were no applicants. The Town Council could handle the matter best.

Mayor Morrissey—The Ex-Mayor says there is no money available. J. D. Creaghan—Why does the government not take the matter in hand? Rev. Mr. Grey—Unless someone takes it in hand, nothing will be done.

Mayor Morrissey His Worship said that when members of the T. I. L. had waited on him Friday night, he had thought the matter out and heartily agreed with them. The T. I. L. are an organization taking deep interest in town affairs. He would propose that each of the 26 members subscribe $5 apiece and each Alderman $5. He himself would give $10. He would undertake to guarantee that the Town Council would advance the other $70 to make up $250. With this money a field could be cultivated and the products sold at cost to some 24 families named by the clergymen of the town. The patriotism of the T. I. L. ought to be worth $5. His own was worth $10. Suppose we raise 150 barrels, at a cost of $1 a barrel. What a help to the 24 families!

H. H. Stuart Mr. Stuart said he considered Mayor Morrissey's proposition a fair one, and would pay $5 and, if necessary, $10, into the fund. He felt sure all other members of the T. I. L. would be willing to do the same. He urged all present to join the T. I. L. which body the Mayor praised so highly. Its 26 members should be increased to 250.

E. A. McCurdy Mr. McCurdy said Mayor Morrissey's plan was a good one, but he thought it could be improved on. Five dollars would not go far. He would be glad to double the Mayor's subscription and make it $20, if necessary. But for greater efficiency, he favored a private corporation. In the fall let the produce be sold, the shareholders repaid, and the surplus be paid to the Red Cross or Patriotic Fund. Several thousand dollars might be made, so that the next year larger operations could be carried on. A private corporation could likely get better results from labor than the town could. With effective organization good results could be obtained.

Dr. C. McGrath Dr. McGrath, M. L. A., agreed that the question was of vast importance. We had been accustomed in the past to live in ease and luxury. The war has so revolutionized things that we must now produce not only soldiers but capable laborers. He would do his best to see that the Government does its best to provide seed for the farmers. The Government has been slow in this, but the old government took nearly six weeks before giving up its authority to the new one. If the government is to give seed it would be interested in how it was used. If town is to act as an agent in farming for the people His Worship must be careful lest he increase the price of living by his efforts. He thought the government would furnish seed.

Mr. Creaghan—Has the government planned to provide fertilizer? It is their duty to secure it at wholesale price and distribute it without making any profit. He hoped Dr. McGrath would interest himself in this and do so.

Dr. McGrath replied that he did not think the late government had provided any fertilizer, and the new government was unable to secure any.

G. G. Stothart Ex-Mayor Stothart said that the Agricultural Society had secured one carload of fertilizer and one of lime. Seed oats, wheat and barley could be got on six weeks' notice. He found it hard to get wheat. The last few days he had had 60 orders for seed wheat. The town by cultivating vacant lots could do much to overcome the shortage of food. He would like to see each alderman handle three acres of the vacant lots and give the profits to the Red Cross. It would increase production and help the Red Cross.

Ald. Ritchie moved, seconded by Ald. Kingston, that Mayor Morrissey's suggestion re utilizing vacant lots be acted upon.

Rev. Mr. Gray approved of Mr. McCurdy's proposal. It was moved in amendment by Mr. McCurdy, seconded by Rev. Mr. Gray. That the matter of cultivating vacant lots be handled by a private corporation, the profits to be used for Patriotic purposes.

Rev. Mr. MacArthur wanted the motion clearly understood. He was perfectly willing to subscribe. When a man wishes to cultivate a lot himself, he should be allowed to do so. Mr. Troy—And get some assistance also.

Ald. Ritchie said he favored appointment of a joint committee of the Town Council and T. I. L.

His Worship again asked for a fund of some $250 to be raised now by contribution of T. I. L. Town Council and citizens. He would like to see Mr. McCurdy—What can be accomplished with $250?

WHERE THE GOOD GOODS COME FROM

The Mayor—Six acres can be cultivated at least. Mr. McCurdy said that to start in with $250 would be merely to play with the matter. But he was willing to do anything to help. He was going to cultivate his Nova Scotia farm and would also help here in whatever plan was decided upon.

Mr. Troy said that the Mayor's proposition was good. He would, as President of the T. I. L. subscribe the same as the Mayor—$10. Mr. Stuart's suggestion was a good one—that more citizens should join the League and help in its work. Come in and join! Supplement the fund as much as possible. There should be a committee to handle the money. The Town Council had enough to do as it is, and so had the T. I. L. in its attempt to look after the moral welfare of the town. If Ald. Ritchie would move that a committee be appointed to carry out the Mayor's suggestion, he would second it.

Ald. Ritchie moved that the meeting appoint a committee of 10 to take in hand the supervision of the cultivation of vacant lots and the spending of the contributions of the T. I. L. Town Council and other citizens made for that purpose. This was seconded by Mr. Troy and carried unanimously.

The following committee were appointed—Mayor Morrissey, J. M. Troy, E. A. McCurdy, Geo. Stables, Ald. Doyle, Edward Hickey, G. G. Stothart, Ald. Ritchie, Ald. Sargeant, Ald. Kingston.

Ald. Doyle Ald. Doyle said that if five or six idle men would take the land offered by Mr. Falconer, it would overcome the labor difficulty. The committee would help them get seed, and next fall the workmen would have cheap food for themselves.

Mr. Troy said the committee would take note of this. The Mayor announced the selection of Mr. Troy as Treasurer of the committee.

The committee were, by motion, empowered to receive contributions. Mr. Stuart wished to have it thoroughly understood that this committee should have power to apportion lots, as far as they would go, to all who applied for them, and to act generally as an information bureau and intermediary between those who were willing to give lots and those who wanted lots.

Mr. Troy said that such was the meaning of the motion passed and as such would the committee regard it. Adjourned sine die.

Director Steeves Addresses Schools

R. P. Steeves, M. A., Director of Agricultural Education, addressed Doaktown School Tuesday afternoon, and the pupils of Newcastle yesterday forenoon.

He addressed the people of Nordin on Tuesday night, when some 40, including 25 ratepayers and a large number of ladies, were present. Principal Stuart of Doaktown presided, and the speakers besides Director Steeves were the Chairman, Mr. Hedman, and Chairman of School Trustees Mr. Geoffrey DeWolfe.

Nordin District, like Doaktown, Chatham Head and many other places, will continue its school garden work this spring.

At all three places Mr. Steeves urged the vital importance of agricultural work as a school subject and the urgent necessity this year of cultivating every foot of vacant ground. The children could raise from five to ten bushels of produce each, which would greatly relieve the food situation. Agricultural education tends to build up a community by stopping in a great measure emigration from it to the city. The conditions in rural N. B. schools was not satisfactory, but agricultural education and school garden work would improve it wherever carried on faithfully. It should encourage pupils to stay longer at school and then remain in the neighborhood and improve it.

Mr. Steeves cited Denmark as an example of what a country, purely agricultural, may become. It was very little more than half the size of N. B., but while N. B. had 351,000 people, Denmark supports nearly 3,000,000, and at the same time exports $125,000,000 worth a year of the three items—eggs, butter and bacon—articles N. B. has to import. Denmark is naturally poorer land than that of N. B. The difference lies in the Danish rural schools. In Denmark the pupils are taught agricultural science and thoroughly instructed in the capabilities of their own county. He appealed to all to cooperate with the educational authorities in using our school system to the best advantage, and closed with an appeal to all to raise as much as possible this year, pupils using all available home plots.

PTE. J. ARCHIE MILLS
Very deep regret was felt by his numerous friends at the sad news received May 2nd of the death in action on April 9th, the battle fields of France of J. Archie Mills of Hardwicke Village. Deceased was the eldest son of the late John A. Mills of Hardwicke and was 23 years of age. Wooden Ships Brought Fame And Money in Olden Days

Sketch of Public Men who Built Wooden Vessels in Maritime Provinces

(Lucian in Vancouver News-Advertiser.)

The revival of wooden shipbuilding recalls to mind a great number of Canadian public men who were shipbuilders in the early days. The first four ministers of marine and fisheries in Canada were shipbuilders and ship owners. Hon. Peter Mitchell, one of the fathers of Confederation, built ships at or near Newcastle in his own county of Northumberland. New Brunswick. The next was Sir Albert Smith, a former premier of the province, who, though a lawyer by profession, built and owned a good many ships, and accumulated thereby a substantial fortune. The third was Hon. J. C. Pope, of Prince Edward Island, who was a practical shipbuilder, like his father. Then came the Hon. A. W. McLelan, afterwards Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, who, with a partner, built a number of ships at Great Village, in his own county of Colchester.

Among other shipbuilders who were in public life one could mention Hon.

John Lafury, Senator Yeo, Capt. Welsh, Lieut.-Governor and Senator Howland, and Hon. William Strong, of Prince Edward Island; Mr. Moffatt, of Restigonche, N. B.; Hon. Robert Young, of Gloucester; John A. Covert, of Sunbury, and Mr. Murchie, of Charlotte; Hon. Josiah Wood, now Lieutenant-governor of New Brunswick, formerly member for Westmorland; Galus Turner, of Albert County; the Troop family, of St. John, and George F. Baird, of Queens County.

From Nova Scotia one might mention such men as James W. Carmichael and the McGregors, of Pictou. One of these latter was lately governor of Nova Scotia, and Mr. Carmichael, who was one of the chief builders in Eastern Nova Scotia, represented Pictou several terms. The Hon. Edward Kenny, at one time Lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia, and his son Thomas, were among the largest ship owners in the province, and had an interest in ships built in many shipyards. Senator Northrup, of Halifax, built and owned ships. The Kaulbachs, father and son, of Lunenburg, were large ship owners, and both were representatives of the county. For some 50 years Lunenburg was seldom without a shipbuilder in public life. Capt. Coffin, of Shelburne might be mentioned in this connection. He sailed his own ships before he became receiver-general in the Mackenzie ministry. The Killams of two or three generations; the Lovitts and Bakers and J. R. Kinney, of Yarmouth, were among the noted and opulent shipbuilders and owners, and represented the county either in the legislature, in parliament or in the senate. Hon. Colin Campbell, of Digby; Mr. Pickup, of Annapolis; Mr. Jones, of Yarmouth, belong in this class. In Kings County, Nova Scotia, the Woodworths; and in Hants County, J. B. North, Senator Churchill, the Bennett Smith family, the O'Briens of Noel, and the Putnams and Arthur Cochran, of Maitland, may be counted among public men who were shipbuilders. This is only a partial list in three provinces, and it might be carried back for two or three generations.

Shippbuilding on this continent began in Nova Scotia. The first shipyard on the hemisphere was established at Port Royal (Annapolis). In 1609 by Pontgrave, associate of Champlain and De Monts. He built in that year and the year after a barque and shallop. The town of Yarmouth is a modest port and the population forty years ago was less than it is now. But in 1876 no less than 103,000 tons of shipping was registered at Yarmouth. In 1871 the tonnage was 90,000 tons, and even then it was boasted that Yarmouth owned more shipping than London had in the reign of Charles II or all Great Britain when America was discovered.

We have spoken of Lunenburg, where there was much shipbuilding a hundred years ago, and from that on to recent years. Fishing schooners, and vessels for the West India trade were Lunenburg specialties. One Peter Young built in that county 63 vessels and Joseph Young 81 vessels. Of Joseph's output 11 were square-rigged and 70 were schooners.

One Zwicker of Mahone Bay, who was incidentally a politician, had built in his own shipyard 143 vessels. Joseph Wenzel built eight, his son 25 and his grandson 32, the whole 65 being the product of 89 years' activity.

In the neighboring county of Queens Snow Parke, had built 46 vessels before 1826. Liverpool, in this county, was in the war of 1812 a great privateering port. Twenty or thirty prizes might be seen in that harbor at once, and a good many Liverpool vessels fell a prey to Scotch England privateers. In this adventurous atmosphere flourished Enos Collins, for many years a member of the Nova Scotia council. His grandfather in New England his father in New England and Nova Scotia, and he himself were shipbuilders and ship owners. Enos was also a captain. He was fond of running blockades, of loading ships and sending them in groups with cargoes to places that were only reached through peril of port and the population forty years ago was less than it is now. But in 1876 no less than 103,000 tons of shipping was registered at Yarmouth. In 1871 the tonnage was 90,000 tons, and even then it was boasted that Yarmouth owned more shipping than London had in the reign of Charles II or all Great Britain when America was discovered.

We have spoken of Lunenburg, where there was much shipbuilding a hundred years ago, and from that on to recent years. Fishing schooners, and vessels for the West India trade were Lunenburg specialties. One Peter Young built in that county 63 vessels and Joseph Young 81 vessels. Of Joseph's output 11 were square-rigged and 70 were schooners.

One Zwicker of Mahone Bay, who was incidentally a politician, had built in his own shipyard 143 vessels. Joseph Wenzel built eight, his son 25 and his grandson 32, the whole 65 being the product of 89 years' activity.

In the neighboring county of Queens Snow Parke, had built 46 vessels before 1826. Liverpool, in this county, was in the war of 1812 a great privateering port. Twenty or thirty prizes might be seen in that harbor at once, and a good many Liverpool vessels fell a prey to Scotch England privateers. In this adventurous atmosphere flourished Enos Collins, for many years a member of the Nova Scotia council. His grandfather in New England his father in New England and Nova Scotia, and he himself were shipbuilders and ship owners. Enos was also a captain. He was fond of running blockades, of loading ships and sending them in groups with cargoes to places that were only reached through peril of the enemy, and selling of several hundred per cent. profit. A true life of Enos Collins would be more exciting than fiction. A great many of the vessels of his large fleet were captured from the enemy.

He gave up his adventurous life and settled down at middle age or a little after, in Halifax. There he established the first bank in Nova Scotia and lived in peace and prosperity to the age of 97 or so. His estate was probably the largest ever gained by one man in Nova Scotia. He established himself in a country house several miles from the city, where he farmed some rocky and refractory soil. He was not fond of society, though his daughters were popular in fashionable circles of Halifax. A partisan officer was attracted by one of them, and rode out to see her at home. Throwing his bridle rein to a man who was working in the garden he went in to the spacious residence. The lady and he afterwards went out to find her father and make introductions. Hon. E. Collins was obeying the colonel's orders and still holding the horse. Nevertheless, General Laurier, as he was afterward, was to take to marry Miss Collins, and became a member of the Canadian and Imperial Houses of Commons.

Strenuous Work Soon Tells On You

Business Men and Breadwinners
the Victims of Nervous Exhaustion.

When worry is added to overwork men soon become the victims of nervous exhaustion—neurasthenia—the doctor calls it. Some have no reserve strength in their systems to bear the strain; others overtax what strength they have. If you find that you are nervous and not sure of yourself, that you sleep badly, and wake up tired and aching, your nerves are out of order. Other signs are inability to take proper interest in your work; your appetite is feeble; your back feels weak, and you are greatly depressed in spirits. One or more of these signs mean that you should take prompt steps to stop mischief by nourishing the nerves with the food they thrive on, namely the rich, red blood made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills have cured thousands of cases of nervous disorders, including nervous prostrations, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance and partial paralysis. Here is an example. Mr. P. H. Callan, a well known business man in Coleman, P. E. I., says: "I owe my present health, if not life itself, to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had always been an active man, and when I began to run down in health paid little attention to it as I thought it only a temporary weakness. As time passed, however, I found myself growing worse, and consulted a doctor, who said that I was not only badly run down, but that my nervous system was badly shattered. I lost flesh, my appetite was poor, I slept badly and notwithstanding the doctor's treatment grew so weak that I had to leave my business and was confined to the house. Time went on and I was steadily growing weaker, and my friends were all greatly alarmed for my condition. In this condition I was strongly recommended to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the doctor's medicine was not helping me I decided to do so. By the time I had used three boxes I could tell that they were helping me. When I had taken eight boxes of the pills I felt able to attend to my business again, and people were surprised to see me out. I continued the use of the pills until I had taken twelve boxes by which time I was feeling as well as ever I did, and was being congratulated by all my friends on my full restoration to health. I feel now that if I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the outset I would not only have saved much money spent in doctor's bills, but would have had renewed health sooner. I cannot speak too highly of this medicine, and would recommend it to every man who feels weak, nervous or run down."

APRIL FOOL'S DAY AND ITS ORIGIN

How April Fool's Day came to be no one really knows. But the best guess is that which credits the day to France, which took the lead over all Christendom in commencing the New Year on Jan. 1 instead of March 25. Before the change was made the New Year merrymaking culminated on the octave of the feast, viz., April 1, when visits were paid and gifts bestowed. With the adoption of the reformed calendar in 1564, New Year's Day was carried back to January 1, and only pretended gifts and mock ceremonial visits were made on April 1, with the view of making fools of those who had forgotten the change of date. The custom once started was kept up after its origin had been forgotten.

HOW "BOUND FEET" BEGAN

According to Chinese history, the custom of small feet among the females of China originated several centuries back, when a large body of women rose against the Government, and tried to overthrow it. To prevent the recurrence of such an event the use of wooden shoes so small as to disable them from making any effective use of their feet was enforced on all female infants.

AUSTRALIAN TROOPSHIP SUNK

The Greenock Steamer Ballarat, 500 feet long, 82 feet beam and 27 feet deep, 11,200 tons, carrying troops from Australia to England, was recently sunk by a German submarine. The soldiers were rescued by British torpedo boat destroyers and trawlers. The behavior of the troops on board the Ballarat was splendid, according to the report made by the commanders on board, and recalls the heroism displayed by the soldiers at the time of the sinking of the British troopship Birkenhead off the African coast in 1852.

Would Nationalize Most Railways

Proposal to Add G. T. P. Grand Trunk and C. N. P. to the Government Railways

Immediate nationalization of the Grand Trunk, G. T. P. and Canadian Northern and their amalgamations with the National Transcontinental into one great publicly owned system, operated by an independent board of five commissioners on a strictly business and economic basis, free from the danger of all political interference, is the recommendation of Sir Henry Drayton and W. M. Acworth in the majority report of the royal commission appointed last July to inquire into the general problem of transportation in Canada. This report was presented to parliament last week. Accompanying it was a minority report by the third commissioner, A. H. Smith, president of the New York Central. The American railroad expert is opposed to government ownership and operation, believing that best results can be achieved by continuing private enterprises with the re-organization and better co-ordination of the work of the G. T. P., G. T. National Transcontinental and Canadian Northern.

Both commissioners agree that the Canada Pacific is now giving good service and should not be interfered with. Both commissioners also agree that present conditions are economically bad, that there is wasteful duplication of lines, lack of co-ordinated transportation economy and heavy deficits to be met on behalf of Canada for years to come, unless some scheme of radical reorganization is promptly carried out.

A Board of Five

The scheme devised, in the majority report, for overcoming the object as to political interference, is the operation of the new system by a board of five trustees, three being expert railway men, the fourth of a man of the fifth one who specially possesses business and financial experience and the confidence of the railway employees.

This board is to be originally appointed by parliament, but it is to be non-political, permanent and self-perpetuating. The tenure of office is to be substantially the same as that of judges of the supreme court. The trustees are to be appointed for a fixed period of seven years, and vacancies are to be filled in the case of the railway members, by the Governor General in council, on the nomination of a majority of the remaining trustees.

In regard to the Intercolonial, they believe that its absorption in a new system would be in the interests of the Maritime Provinces generally and in the interests of the tax payer who has a right to demand efficient and economical expenditure of his money.

Commissioner Smith differs from the other commissioners in regard to the feasibility of eliminating political interference in the management of a government owned and operated system. He declares that it is impracticable for any parliament to bind itself to a given policy of non-interference with a government board, and he believes the scheme proposed by Sir Henry Drayton and Mr. Acworth contains many elements of danger. The plan of Sir Henry Drayton and Mr. Acworth to nationalize the G. T., Canadian Northern and G. T. P., would, he claims, add about $1,000,000,000 to the direct debt of Canada. "Judging from the experience Canada has had," he adds, "with its government railways it is fair to assume that the annual interest charge of about $40,000,000 would remain a permanent burden."

TWO DESERTERS CAPTURED HERE
Leonard Pever, the "Returned Soldier" of the 20th Ottawa Cavalry Battalion will be granted the D. C. M. This D. C. M. is no medal but means District Court Martial. In reality it is not a question of granting he gets it. Three times has Pever deserted, and as many times has been recaptured. Certainly an expensive soldier, for the guards have journeyed all the way between Montreal and Amherst to lay hands upon him. His latest escapade caused the most excitement, for he held up the Sergeant of the Guard with a revolver, and forced him to open the barracks door while he and two comrades made their getaway. Brooks, the other deserter was also captured, but "Bill" Richards is still at large. The two men were captured at Newcastle by members of the 20th Battalion last week.

NORTH SHORE MAN INVOLVED
Hopewell Hill, May 2—What promise to be an interesting case at law between local parties, which arises out of the failure of a North Shore man to pay for hay sold and shipped to the latter some time ago, is now in its initial stage here, and unless some settlement is arranged soon, which, it is understood is not likely, it will come before the county court next month. Several different farmers sold hay to the North Shore man, who was a former resident of Albert, and while some got their pay, the last shippers, who sent several car loads, have not been paid and it seems are unable to get any satisfaction. The suit referred to, is to decide whether a local shipper, who sent along with his own lot of hay, some ten tons belonging to a neighbor, is responsible to the latter for this amount of hay. The whole lot was billed to the North Shore dealer in the one name and the other man claims he considered he was selling to the shipper and will hold him responsible, the suit to recover the selling price of the ten tons, $110, already having been begun. The first man contends that he did not buy, and merely told the neighbor there was vacant room in the cars ordered and that he might as well use it while the hay was all billed in his name, he expected the other man to take full responsibility for his share of the shipment. If the case comes to trial, which seems likely, it will be watched with considerable interest. The failure of the North Shore man in question to meet his bills here, has hit some Hopewell and Harvey men pretty heavily, a good many hundred dollars being involved.

Lieut. T. C. Creaghan Now a Flying Officer

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Creaghan, that their son, Lieut. T. Cyril Creaghan, has been gazetted a Lieutenant in the Royal Flying Corps. Lieut. Creaghan joined the 55th Battalion on its formation in 1915 and proceeded to England with that unit. Later he went to France to join a fighting unit in the trenches and has been carrying on for several months. A brother, Gerald Creaghan, who crossed with the C. P. R. Construction Corps, was also promoted to an officers' position with the flying corps and has already appeared in the casualty list. Five members of Mr. Creaghan's family have joined the colors.

Northumberland Heroes Tell of Capture of Vimy

The following letter has been received from Pte. H. Fenton S. O'Donnell, of Carrolls Crossing. Although his family were never notified Pte. O'Donnell's name has appeared in the casualty list as having been killed in action, and his family are overjoyed at the news of his safety in England: Northampton War Hospital, Duston, Northampton, Eng. April 18, 1917.

Dear Brother:
Just a few lines to let you know that I am still alive, although I am not very well, as my wounds bother me quite a lot, yet. I am still lying on my back as I can't sit up on account of the wounds in my hip. I will try and give you a little idea of how things went through the big scrap on Vimy Ridge, where the Canadians done good work.

We left our bivouac at one o'clock Easter Sunday night for the trenches. It was mighty dark ploughing our way up the muddy communication trenches, but we got to the entrance of the big tunnel, where we were to stay till the bombardment was over at three in the morning so you can imagine how tired we were after walking nearly all night through mud. Well we went into the tunnel and sat down and we could hear the big shells bursting up above. We waited there until 5.30 when the barrage began to lift, and we started out of the tunnel and it was an awful looking sight. When we got up on top they exploded three times in front of us, just as we got over the top. It looked as if half the earth was going up in the air, and every few minutes a big shell would land in our line, then you could see pieces of men going one way and some the other. The machine guns boomed us quite a lot. Say you never heard bullets screaming around your head from a machine gun, did you. Well you never want to for they make a—of a whistling noise, but anyhow we kept pushing ahead, just move and taking the Germans prisoners. You know they shoot at you until you get so close, then they throw down their arms and stick their hands up, and howl for mercy, and there were some of them that day you know that didn't get any mercy. I never thought that I could shoot a man, but I know better since Easter Monday. It don't bother a fellow any more than shooting rabbits. Well we had gone about two miles and were down on the opposite slope of the Ridge when we stopped to dig in. There were six of us in an old German trench that our shells hadn't smashed, when old Fritz started in with his heavy guns. The first shell knocked us down, so we decided that we would dig in under the bank to get clear of the shrapnel, but we didn't get far before another big shell landed right in the trench amongst us. I never got such a rough handling in my life. It killed the other five and I got two pieces of shrapnel in my right leg.

three in my left hip and one in my left ankle. My shoes that papa sent me were cut to ribbons. I don't see how it was that both my legs weren't blown off. It buried me, but they were only a few minutes digging me out, so I am here in the hospital in England.

Your loving brother,
FENTON.

Writing to his mother, Mrs. W. F. Black, under date of April 20th, Pte. Everett Black, relates some experiences in the capture of Vimy Ridge. Pte. Black states that it was about five-thirty on the morning of April 9th that the order was given to fix bayonets and just shortly before day break they went over the parapets against a storm of German shells and had gone about three hundred yards when he felt a stinging sensation in the ankle and fell into a shell hole, where he laid for some three hours before the Chaplain came along and told him to have patience. Shortly after a member of another regiment was retiring with six German prisoners, whom he ordered to pick up Pte. Black and carry him to the hospital, where he was surprised to see Bert Irving, son of Deputy Sheriff Irving, who is an attendant there, as well as Dr. Cullis, formerly of Chatham. On the 19th Pte. Black was removed to the Queens Canadian Military Hospital at Shorncliffe, England.

Pte. Black does not take his wound very serious but states he believes that it fractured the ankle bone.

BIG INDUSTRY FOR GASPE CO.
The Great Eastern Pulp Company has just been organized for the purpose of erecting and operating extensive pulp and lumber mills at Madeleine River, Gaspe County, Que., not far from the New Brunswick border. An inexhaustible timber supply, a splendid water power, a deep water port and connection with two short railway lines projected and to be built very soon to connect with the Canadian Government railway system induced the promoters to locate in the county. Three hundred thousand acres of timberland have been transferred to the new corporation which will issue $600,000 bonds and the same amount in stock, both already largely subscribed. The majority of the directors are Canadians, although John Mullen of Bangor is president. Archibald Hay Cook, K. C., of Paspébiac, vice-president, and Fergus Murphy, K. C., of Quebec, secretary. One of the directors is Garret Schenk of New York, president of the Great Northern Paper Co. Hardie S. Ferguson of New York will be in charge of the construction work, contracts for which have already been let. The pulp mill will have a capacity of 30,000 tons of ground pulp wood annually and the annual output of the saw mills will be 19,000,000 feet of long lumber. The plant is expected to be ready for operation by November 1st.

GIVE YOUR WIFE ONE

THOUSANDS of wives and daughters run their own Ford cars. They use them for shopping, calling, attending the theatre, taking the children for a run in the country or to school.

The Ford is as easy to operate as a kitchen range, no knowledge of mechanical details being necessary. Inexpensive to operate. A woman can call around town all afternoon, or take a 25-mile spin in the country, at the minimum of cost for gasoline, oil, wear on tires, etc.

You couldn't give "her" a present she would appreciate more than this beautiful, modern car, with its stream-line effect, tapered hood and crown fenders.

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Alberta Blanche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Yye and wife of Allan Johnson, who departed this life May 8, 1916.

"'Tis sweet to think we'll meet again
Where parting is no more,
And that the one we love so well
Has only gone before."
Inserted by family.

PTE. WM. BORTON HURT
Mrs. Wm. Borton received a letter from her husband, Pte. W. W. Borton, on Monday, stating that he was at present in England suffering from injuries received in the capture of Vimy Ridge. Pte. Borton was bringing up ammunition when a large shell burst near him throwing him in the air, badly wrenching his back and injuring him internally, but he luckily escaped without any wounds.

NEW SPECIAL FEATURES
The Happy Hour have recently closed a contract with the Specialty Film Co. for the production of their special features in Newcastle. This company are the producers of the famous "Gold Rooster Plays," three of which have already been shown, and have been so highly commented upon that Mr. Richards has decided that they will be a regular feature at the Happy Hour every Wednesday evening. The Gold Rooster Play, entitled "Told at Twilight" which was shown on Wednesday of last week will be repeated by special request, it having received the highest comments of any picture yet shown in Newcastle, but it is impossible to secure a return date on this feature before July, as it has been already booked until that time.

Next Wednesday evening the feature will be "May Blossoms" featuring that popular star, Pearl White. This picture which is all hand colored, and was produced in America, but was sent to France where the work of hand-coloring was all done by wounded soldiers in the French hospitals. It is a picture the like of which has never before been produced, and it will be a long time before such art will be produced again. We are advised by the management that it will be impossible to secure a return date on this picture, so picture lovers will do well to attend on Wednesday next.

MOTHER'S DAY
Next Sunday, May 13th will be observed throughout the United States and Canada as Mother's Day.

RETURNED HOME
Pte. Fred Crawford of Blackville, who went overseas with the 132nd Battalion, but was declared medically unfit on the other side, returned home last week.

CAME THROUGH SAFE
Writing home to his mother, Pte. Wallace Travis states that both he and Pte. Earle Macdonald came through the big drive at Vimy Ridge without a scratch.

COMING NEXT MONDAY NIGHT
A social dance which promises to be a most enjoyable function, will be held in the town hall next Monday evening, May 14th. Music will be furnished by McEachern's Orchestra and refreshments will be served.

132nd OFFICERS HAVE GONE TO FRANCE
The first officers of the 132nd Battalion to go to France were Capt. Holmes, Lieut. Frank Lawler, W. L. Venlot and F. T. Mowatt, all of whom are with a well known Montreal unit.

SUMMER PASTOR FOR OAK POINT AND MILLBANK
Mr. Gilles, a theological student, will have charge of the Oak Point and Millbank Presbyterian churches this summer. He will preach at Oak Point next Sunday morning and at Millbank in the evening.

JOSEPH MUZZERALL
The death occurred at Chatham yesterday morning of Joseph Muzzerall, aged 42 years. The deceased is survived by his mother, six brothers, and one sister. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning to the Cathedral.

MACONIC VISIT
A degree team, of twelve members from Miramichi Lodge P. & A. M. Chapter, under the leadership of W. M. R. A. Lorie, paid a fraternal visit to Northumberland Lodge, Newcastle, Tuesday evening and exemplified degree work in a very efficient manner. The visiting members were banqueted at the close of the sessions.

PURCHASED LIGHTSHIP
The Dominion Pulp Company have purchased the Lightship from the Bathurst Lumber Co., who bought the vessel from the Dominion Government last fall. The purchasers will use the vessel as a barge for conveying coal, etc., from the Canada Dock to their mill on the north side of the river.

CARD OF THANKS
Mr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Doak and family of Doaktown, wish to extend to their relatives, friends and neighbors, also to the members of the Orange Lodge, their heartfelt thanks for the sympathy and many acts of kindness shown them in their very sad bereavement, the loss of a loving son and brother Gordon.

HON. JOHN MORRISSEY IMPROVING
Hon. John Morrissey, whose serious illness at the Hotel Dieu in Chatham has alarmed his friends throughout the county, was resting easier this (Thursday) morning, and the improvement in his condition is sufficient to warrant the sanguine expectation of his family that he will shortly be restored to health. Hon. Mr. Morrissey's illness, it is understood, is due to a severe attack of la grippe.

RECORD LUMBER PRICES
Record prices are being paid for spruce bark logs. It is reported that some companies are paying as high as $18 owing to shortage. This price is considered by some as being the highest price ever known, and is causing some discussion. The York and Sunbury mills report that the logs are not running very freely at Springhill and that the river is falling. Full crews are working, however, and a good start has been made.

GALLAGHER-ESTEY
A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Samuel's Church, Douglastown, on the 8th inst, when Nicholas Gallagher, organist of this church, was united in marriage to Miss Margaret Estey, daughter of Robert Estey, Esq., of Redbank. The bride, always a pretty young lady, looked charming in her beautiful wedding dress. The wedding gifts betokened the popularity of the young couple, who also have the best wishes of many friends for their future happiness. After a short honeymoon trip the happy couple will take up their residence in the old Gallagher homestead.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE
Newcastle Women's Institute held their regular monthly meeting last night in the Town Hall, Mrs. C. C. Hayward presiding. There were 15 members present. Roll call was answered with quotations of favorite mottoes.

It was decided to hold a "Rummage Sale" on June 8th, the object of which is to provide funds for Y. M. C. A. work at the front. Mrs. Hayward gave an interesting report of the Increased Production Convention held last week in Fredericton. Mrs. Shaw spoke on a new way of making butter. A very interesting discussion was carried on in methods of eliminating waste. Among other devices for saving, the decrease of the number of dogs and cats was urged.
