French Officials Insist Passive Resistance Must Be Ended

POLICE HOT TRAIL OF BANDITS

BELGIUM TO AID FRENCH FORCE PLAN

London Informed France Will Insist on Demands From Germany.

BRITISH GLOOMY

Britain May Have to Force Her Own Policy in the Ruhr.

(By Canadian Press)

Paris, July 27.—The French reply to the British reparations note will be delivered in London tomorrow or Sunday. It accepts some of the British suggestions and asks for further light on others. It maintains the principle of the Franco-Belgian declaration to the effect that passive resistance must cease before negotiations with Germany are undertaken.

British Settlement

London, July 27.—The recent tendency in many quarters here to take a sanguine view of the progress of negotiations in the reparations situation is disappearing under the influence of the latest reports from Paris which indicate that France and Belgium virtually are immovable on the essential points of their policy in which they differ from Great Britain.

The situation is reviewed gloomily by the Times in an editorial today saying that the British Government has attempted to be conciliatory and good-will "to bring the whole problem into that region of economic calculation in which common sense may have some chance," but that the purpose behind this attempt "is being frittered away amid the shallow conventions of diplomatic delays."

Pessimistic Prospects

The prospect of negotiations dragging on until autumn is seen by the Times, which adds that in the meantime the symptoms in Germany are disquieting and it regards "the crazy movements" of the Reichstag as a sequence than indications of growing disorder in Germany.

"The complications that Germany's passive resistance may bring down as a consequence of the intolerable economic strain, but it adds—"Is there any guarantee that this moment may not coincide with the moment of general collapse?"

"Are the negotiations to drag on until this moment arrives?" continues the editorial. "Are slow diplomatic exchanges simply to postpone any new form of action until Germany plunges into complete disorder? If so how will Allies cope with the problem? Will there be any solution? Will not Europe then be in an entirely different condition from anything conceived in the hour of victory?"

The Liberal press suggests that if the Franco-Belgian reply is along the lines forecast from Paris and Brussels, the time will have come for Great Britain to follow her own policy toward Germany and either send her own answer to Berlin or submit the whole question to the League of Nations.

Believe Crown Prince Is Planning Escape

London, July 27.—That the former German Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm is believed to be planning his escape from Wieringen is asserted by the Antwerp correspondent of the Daily Mail. There is some anxiety throughout Belgium, the correspondent says, owing to confidential information regarding the comings and goings of various agents between Germany and Wieringen. Arrivals at Doorn in the past month included Prince Eitel, former minister Von Hefferich, and it is reported that Hugo Stinnes, too, has been among the secret visitors.

The correspondent asserts that the former German Emperor also would have no difficulty in escaping, if he so wished. "Twice lately he has motored to the coast at Scheveningen. The writer suggests, however, that the activities concern the prince rather than the Kaiser."

Five Times a Hero, Taken as Forger

New York, July 27.—Decorated five times for bravery in the world war, Frank G. Nelson has been arrested for cashing a forged check for $100. He was taken to the station house after a tussle which began when he pulled a pistol from his trunk and turned it on detectives who had trailed him.

Nelson, it was alleged, cashed a check at the Plaza Hotel two weeks ago on which had been forged the name of Frederick Conger, Williamstown, Mass.

Officers of the Hotel Men's Association said he had been sought for three years and that he had cashed several thousand dollars worth of forged checks at eastern hotels.

LOOK TO RUSSIA FOR BIG MARKET

British Premier Critical of France—Belgian Occupation of Ruhr.

(Canadian Press Cable)

Glasgow, July 27.—Premier Baldwin, speaking before the Conservative Club on the reparations problem last night, likened the effect of the Franco-Belgian occupation of the Ruhr on international trade to inserting the blade of a open knife into the works of a watch. The people, he declared, were learning now at a gigantic price the elements of economics and foreign exchange.

"It is not so much that we have suffered through confusion in central Europe," he continued, "as that we are beginning to suffer. Until some form of financial stability is obtained in Germany there will be no reparations to anyone."

The premier also expressed the opinion that, though it was looking far into the future, "in Russia we have one of the largest potential markets in the world."

HAY CUT LESS THAN LAST YEAR

Expect Short Crop in Many Districts—Smaller Potato Acreage.

(Special to The Times.)

Fredericton, July 27.—The semi-monthly crop report of the Provincial Department of Agriculture for the fortnight ending July 28th, places an estimate of the total hay crop at close to a million tons, Westmorland, Albert and Kings and the commercial hay producing sections of the St. John river valley have an average crop. The prospect is that a larger acreage will be cut in these sections on account of the dryness of the natural hay meadows.

The upper St. John river counties, the north shore counties, the Miramichi and Nashwaq valley districts will cut considerably less hay than last year. A condition bordering upon a complete failure of the crop exists along the Carleton coast.

A preliminary estimate of the acreage of potatoes is 85,000 acres, which is 20,000 acres less than last year. The potato beetle is exceptionally plentiful. Cut worms have done much damage to potatoes and grainfields in the counties of Carleton and York.

All other crops, particularly corn and sorghum, for which no figures are making satisfactory progress.

Taking the cartridges from the pocket the constable inserted one and Mrs. Black proceeded to click the revolver, the loaded chamber getting up closer to the firing point. When it was handed back, Black, who was not aware of the fact that it had been pulled to the firing point, snapped it again. 2 POLICEMEN SHOT DEAD BY MAN IN TAXI

Double Murder in a New York Street Last Evening.

WOMAN IN CASE

(Canadian Press.)
New York, July 27.—Two policemen were shot and killed last night by the occupants of a taxicab at Sixty-fourth street and Second avenue, a short distance from the new society colony established by leaders of New York's "Four Hundred."

One of the policemen, Charles Reynolds, was wounded. The other was Frank Romanelli.

Hearing a woman's screams, another patrolman ran up to the taxicab, but his comrades told him they needed no assistance. As he was walking away he heard two shots and saw his brother officers fall. He rushed back, but was not in time to prevent the taxi driving off.

Witnesses of the shooting declared the man in the cab fired both shots. Drawing his revolver as soon as the cab stopped and giving the policemen no chance to reach for their weapons, the murderer, according to eyewitnesses, then pointed his pistol at the driver, shouting "Go on, or I'll give you."

The cab disappeared along Second avenue. Detectives who were immediately placed on the case have not yet had a chance to locate the man and woman in the taxicab who were being chased.

Dr. Wiley Says Flivver Is Ruining Health of Country

Washington, July 27.—Dr. Harvey Wiley, pure food expert and former chief of the bureau of chemistry, believes that Henry Ford has provided himself a menace to the country through the manufacture of automobiles.

"The automobile," said Dr. Wiley, "has created a race of pot-bellied bankers, bootlegger bands and burglars. By the introduction of the automobile into our method of living, an easy means of escape has been provided lawbreakers all over the country."

"The automobile has encouraged the activities of bank burglars, it has aided in the escapes of the bootleggers and other violators of the prohibition law; it has produced more fat and pudgy men and women who have ruined their health through lack of exercise than any other agency."

"Instead of being a public benefactor, in my judgment, Henry Ford has provided himself to be a menace to the country."

CARLOAD OF POLICE ARE DESPATCHED

Toronto Detectives Aroused by Story Told by a Laborer.

WOUNDED BETTER

Men Vanished as City Police Arrive to Make a Capture.

(Toronto, July 27.—The Toronto detective department was aroused to a pitch of excitement yesterday by a story told by a Toronto laborer, Alex Scherewich, that he had accidentally run across a party of men in the bush on the northeast fringe of the city Wednesday afternoon who impressed him as being the principals in the Tuesday morning bank robbery.

When on his way to Lessard, a Toronto suburb, on Wednesday afternoon he stepped into a clump of bushes at the roadside and walked into the midst of five or six men. One was dressing another man's wounds.

After hearing the story the chief despatched a carload of officers to the scene armed with rifles. Led by Scherewich they found the spot but the men sought had vanished. The grass was well trampled down, showing clearly the tracks of the men. A considerable time when Scherewich appeared, $84,000 in bills taken.

It has been ascertained that at least $84,000 in bills were obtained by the six gunmen who held up bank messengers on Tuesday morning in Toronto. The bills went of the bank of Nova Scotia and the Sterling Bank of Canada. In addition about $84,000 in checks and drafts were taken.

"Getting along quite well," was the report last night regarding the condition of James Harris and Walter S. Duck, two of the bank messengers wounded in Tuesday's battle.

A soft nose bullet was removed from Harris' back yesterday and this operation will, it is believed, start the patient on the road to recovery.

"Doing very nicely," was also the report relating to David Campbell, the third messenger wounded.

Information was laid this morning by Miss Frances P. Comment on P. E. I. Election Results

Charlottetown, P. E. I., July 27.—Owing to the large majority in practically every poll, revised returns from the elections do not change the general result of twenty-six Conservatives and four Liberals, three in Prince County and one in Kings.

The Guardian (Conservative), commenting on the result says: "The Bell Government was defeated not, as its supporters claimed, because it increased taxation, not because it had improved the roads, not because it had improved our educational system. They were defeated because they had assured the public that there was no need of increasing the taxes and afterwards increased them; because they adopted a road policy which they had denounced as an 'infernal scheme' and because by that road policy they incurred a heavy political debt. In short, the Bell Government was defeated because it deliberately and officially deceived the people."

The Patriot (Liberal), is saying today: "The former leader of the Conservatives in 1920 stated when speaking on the Liberal government's tax act, 'The Government has done the right thing, the result will be the annihilation of Nemesis is on their trail.' In this instance he proved a true prophet. The Government did do right and did their duty faithfully and well, and all but four of its supporters have been politically annihilated for the time being. Every member of the cabinet including the Premier has suffered defeat. In this notable election, history has repeated itself with respect to the Liberal party. In 1879, forty-four years ago, a Liberal government headed by the present Sir Louis Davies, attempted to raise sufficient money to adequately carry on the public services, and did its full duty it was crushed out of office. The Progressives failed badly, every man being badly defeated and their influence as a political party for the time being has been considerably discounted. The result indicates that long term government is a thing of the past here. In 1912 Conservatives swept the country 28 to 4, in 1915 they were almost defeated, 17 to 13, and in 1919 the Liberals had the overwhelming majority of 24 to 6. A sound and sane government in the present time will have among his supporters two defeated federal candidates, J. A. McNeill, former commissioner of public works and J. H. Myers, the second district of Prince which gave the Liberal party a majority in 1912, when they had only two seats out of 30, will likely again furnish a leader in the person of A. C. Saunders, K. C. This district has been Liberal practically since Confederation."

THE LIFE OF A HOME

A healthy, happy, contented wife is the life and joy of the home and the greatest inspiration a man can have, yet how many homes in America are troubled by the ill-health and sufferings of the wife and mother. It may be backache, headache, the tortuous displacement of some other ailment, regular to her sex, which makes her irritable, despondent, and her whole life a burden to her husband. In this condition should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs to restore her to health and happiness. For statistics prove that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it.

The kitten then attempted to get in another window but all the rest were locked. Its journey along its lofty path was ended rather abruptly with a fall to the sidewalk which broke the little animal's hip. At this occurrence the citizen remarked on the attitude of the two men who would deliberately act as they had done. He was greeted with laughing cries of "Have another drink and others of that nature. The S. P. C. was notified and promised to look into the matter."

NEW DAM SITE ON ROCK FOUNDATION

Abandon Location Where Washout at Musquash Took Place.

"As good as could be expected" was the reply of S. R. Weston, acting chief engineer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, to the enquiry as to the progress of the work at Musquash on the dam site which was washed out by the flood of last spring.

The Log Falls Dam was being moved up the stream a short distance, and when it was completed the present dam would be abandoned. This action had been taken because of the flood some distance to one side of its former channel. An excellent foundation was available, he said, with out any excavation, as the wash of water had scoured the earth away down to solid rock.

CASE OVER POST HOLE

Thomas Stephen, head-contractor on the civic distribution system, was charged in the Police Court this morning with leaving a dangerous excavation in Exmouth street not protected by covering or fence, on July 25. He pleaded not guilty. Sergeant Spinyne said the excavation, which was a post hole, was partly in the street and partly in the sidewalk. To Mr. Stephen he said there had been no men working there at the time. Post holes also had been open on Sunday. Policeman Laird corroborated the evidence of Sergeant Spinyne.

Tokio Is Rocked By 64 Earthquakes Within Two Weeks

Dr. Omori, Authority on Upheavals, Assures Residents No Real Danger

Tokio, June 27.—(A. P. by Mail)—Tokio had a surfeit of earthquakes during June. Between the second and fourth of the month, sixty-four were recorded on the seismograph, many of them of sufficient force to waken the hardened citizens of the capital and send them scurrying under their desks, which are considered the safest places when mother earth decides to readjust herself. Most of these shocks originated in Kashima Bay, which is in the earthquake zone and fortunately did no damage. Dr. Fusakichi Omori, authority on earthquakes and volcanoes, has assured the people that, despite the recent restlessness of the earth, which will continue for some time, Tokio is a region comparatively free from danger. The shape and formation of Japan, according to Dr. Omori, make it peculiarly susceptible to underground disturbances. The volcanic zone lies along the inner Japan Sea side of the island, with an offshoot at right angles in the direction of Mount Fuji. The earthquake zone lies along the outer, Pacific slope of Japan—the border of the Pacific on all sides being the scene of greatest earthquakes. The superstitions believe that Japan rests on a huge fish and earthquakes are caused by this fish becoming restless.

The party will arrive in the city early on Wednesday morning and leave at once by automobile for Salmon River, where they will inspect the re-forestation area of the Pejepeck Lumber Co. and return to the city about five o'clock in the evening. At the dinner there will be some information about this port in its relation to lumber placed before the members of the association, and this is now being prepared by the secretary of the Board of Trade. It is hoped to have Hon. C. W. Robinson, Minister of Lands and Mines, and some of the prominent lumber men of the North Shore present at the dinner. Monday, July 27.—Delegates to the British Empire Forestry Conference were in Montreal yesterday, where they visited the forests products laboratory at McGill University, afterwards going on to St. Anne's to MacDonald College. They are on today to the Maritime Provinces, visiting on the way the Laurentide Paper Company at Grand Mere. They will arrive at Campbellton on July 30, Chatham July 31, St. John August 1, Fredericton August 2, and come back to Quebec and Montreal August 3 and 4. There are only about 9,000 full blooded Indians in the world.

GOLDEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Keith observe Anniversary; Also Her Birthday.

Yesterday was a red letter day in the life of Mrs. C. I. Keith, 55 Wright street, when she had the privilege of celebrating her birthday and herself and her husband their fiftieth wedding anniversary on the same day. In the evening relatives and friends gathered to shower upon the bride and groom of fifty years ago the congratulations so highly merited by such a record.

On July 26, 1873, Mr. and Mrs. Keith were married at New Canaan, Queens county. For thirty years Mr. Keith conducted a general business at Havelock, coming to St. John in the fall of 1901. Since that time he has been engaged in the lumber business and has established a reputation for fair and upright dealing that has won for him the respect and esteem of a wide circle of business acquaintances and personal friends. Mrs. Keith was married on her twenty-first birthday. Last evening the five daughters, the only children, gathered at their parents' home and presented to them a purse of gold. The occasion was a very happy one and many friends were glad of the opportunity to send flowers. The daughters all reside in the city. They are Miss Nellie Keith, at home.

Whether would you die of heat or cold? You can figure on this problem next winter.—Manitoba Free Press.

PRISONER PUTS UP FIGHT AND MAKES ESCAPE GOOD

At Jacquet River Station recently an exciting contest took place between a constable named Doucette and a big prisoner he was taking to the county jail at Dalhousie. On the way to the train he put up a fight, but the constable overcame his resistance and seemed to quiet down. Just as he was boarding the train ahead of the constable, however, he swung around and delivered a powerful blow to the constable's jaw. He then leaped across the platform and started for the main road. Men standing by gave chase, but as each man caught up with the flying ex-prisoner the latter delivered another wallop that sent the pursuer into the ditch. He is still at large.

FINDS STUDENTS IN U.S. LETS PROFESSOR DO WORK

New York, July 27.—American professors work too hard and American students don't work hard enough, said Professor Raoul Blanchard of the University of Grenoble, France. Professor Blanchard is lecturing this summer at Columbia University. The very fact, he continued, that professors give a dozen or more lectures a week makes it unnecessary for their pupils to do such research work as would make them independently and thoroughly conversant with course subjects. All they have to do is to go to lectures, he said. Professor Blanchard teaches geography at Grenoble.

Daniel had a kind of religion that would bear transportation; it stood the journey from Jerusalem to Babylon, and was fasted a good amount at a record.—Moody.

The Bell government was swept out of power in Prince Edward Island yesterday, and it was thus demonstrated that there is a certain element of uncertainty about elections, as about these days.

ALL ARE AFFECTED

In its mid-month review of business conditions the Columbia Trust Company, New York, points out how impossible it is for any nation to remain isolated and yet be successful. It says: "Recessions in production, prices, security markets and jobbing activity have marked the mid-year. The drastic slump in stock values, which set a warning prophecy, has been followed in the present month by renewed uncertainty and liquidation. The failures of certain private banking firms in New York and the house cleaning still continuing in the Consolidated Exchange membership contributed not a little to intensify the feeling of uneasiness caused by the situation in Europe. The truth, stressed many months ago, that international trade economy no nation can profitably remain isolated or aloof, is now clear to anyone who can see and think. The direct and practical interest of the United States in the grave problems at stake in the Ruhr situation needs no elaboration here."

BRITISH STABILITY

There was some talk during and after the war about New York replacing London as the world's financial centre, but to those who study such matters such talk has been dispelled by events. The Wall Street Journal, which has been fair to Great Britain in a discriminating way for some years past, has recently been publishing a series of articles written by a special commissioner who has been examining conditions in the United Kingdom, and he has found much that impresses him favorably, although he is not blind to the difficulties of the reconstruction period.

THE SAME GENTLEMAN

(Hamilton Herald.) Messrs. Livingston and MacLachlan, who declare loudly that Canadian citizens will not submit to "foreign domination at the hands of the U. M. The Story of the Old Mechanics' Institute

It Played An Important Part in St. John Life For More Than Seventy Years.

People of the older generation in St. John have pleasant memories of the old Mechanics' Institute, of which, however, no trace now remains. It was called the Mechanics Institute because three-fourths of its board of directors were mechanics, and its chief purpose was to advance the educational interests of the people. The following story of the institute is given in a publication issued in 1877: "This institution was formed in 1850. It is under the direction of a president, two vice-presidents, a treasurer, a corresponding secretary, a recording secretary and a board of directors, many of whom are mechanics. These are all elected annually, from among the members, whose number now amounts to nearly four hundred. Prosperity has attended this institution since its first establishment. In 1860 it was reorganized and the name of the building for the use of its members. This building contains a large room in which the Geneser Museum is deposited, a library room, a news room and other rooms, well equipped and adapted to particular objects. "The news room is constantly supplied with the latest papers, both domestic and foreign, and the best magazines and reviews of the Mother Country and the United States. The library contains now upwards of three thousand volumes, and every year receives additions of new works of sterling worth. "The museum, which, by the liberality of the late Geneser, both in shares from Dr. Geneser, is now the property of the institute, contains a large collection of minerals, a great variety of zoological specimens, and many Chinese, Indian and other curiosities. It also contains a number of additions from sea captains and others, who get into their possession foreign articles of an attractive description. "The hall, which in its original state accommodated some 200 people, has been lately so enlarged that accommodation can be given to seven hundred more. The hall is exceedingly useful, and appears to be the most complete of its kind in the city. "The institute is a popular means of conveying information and stimulating thought and study, spoke for its platform. In later years the late Sir George Fañin made in the institute the first speech in his tour of the Empire in the interests of imperial federation. The writer has vivid recollection of addresses there by Oscar Wilde, Max O'Reil, Justin McCarthy, Sir Thomas Graham Zamonde, and other men who were famous on two continents more than thirty years ago. Still later the old institute served as a theatre and moving picture house, and finally a few years ago fell a prey to the fire. The present article will stir pleasant recollections in the minds of the older citizens, although few remember the Mechanics Institute in its most palmy days.

WELSH COAL COMING IN

(Ottawa Journal.) While American anthracite coal is selling in Ottawa around $16 a ton, the finest Welsh hard coal is being delivered on cars at the docks in Toronto at $12.13 a ton. A Toronto company is importing this coal on ocean boats coming over to proceed to the head of the lakes for grain and the expense of transshipment at Montreal is avoided. Most of the coal brought in has been purchased by the National Railway and is to be used for heating station houses and coaches. The coal is known as Pochontas, and is described by the Toronto importer as superior to American anthracite, worth from $2 to $3 more a ton in heating power and low in sulphur. Adding from $2 to $3 a ton for dealers' profit and handling costs, it could be retailed at as low as a lower price than that being charged here for American anthracite.

TEACHERS WILL MARRY

(The Australasian.) Marriages are made in heaven—though heaven isn't always made in marriages. Even heaven itself—not mention the parties to its celestial contracts—will not in future, however, be permitted to conduct its design in defiance of the Minister of Education in New South Wales. That gentleman complains that some of his teachers, after being given a four years' course in the training college, and getting degrees in arts and science, have "gone and got married" without the slightest regard to their agreement to give service in exchange for their training. The department makes them bachelors, and heaven makes them brides, so the department has nothing to show for all its enterprise but broken contracts and lumps of wedding cake. So in future the Minister says that he will by his hand break even unto the limit of heart-break, and if any gentleman wants a bride from his department he must pay for her perfections.

THE SENATE

(L'Evenement.) "The Upper House of Canada, because of one of its votes recently, has been blamed by a certain section of the Anglo-Canadian press and treated with a want of respect which is not soothing. We do not think the votes of the Senate are all equally good, but we do highly appreciate the moderating influence exercised by that important body of the Federal parliament. We also value the opinion of the Senators even when we may differ from them. That is our attitude in the present instance. Criticism is being directed against the Senate because a majority of its members has prevented the expenditure of upwards of twenty million dollars on new branch lines on the national railway system. It was submitted that this action was justified on the ground of economy. However, true economy does not always lie in refusing to undertake any expenditure, but in spending money in a proper way, and if the vote of the Senate is not pleasing to everybody, that is no reason why so much animosity should be displayed in the instance by a section of the Anglo-Canadian press. If the Senate, as at present constituted, is not satisfactory to everybody, we can only suggest that it be made more representative of all classes of the community. This body could be rendered stronger perhaps, but it would not well serve the general welfare of the country to reduce its authority or suppress it completely, as the radicals of certain provinces of Canada desire."

POPE MARKS 4TH CENTENARY OF ST. THOMAS AQUINAS

Encyclical Letter Commemorates Canonization in 1333; Cites Virtues. London, July 8.—(By mail)—The Pope has published an Encyclical Letter commemorating the sixth centenary of the Canonization of St. Thomas Aquinas on July 18, 1333, writes the home correspondent of The London Times. In it he draws attention to his Apostolic Letter of last year, in which he stated that St. Thomas died supreme in the studies of the seminaries and the universities. The Pope dwells particularly upon the virtues that make St. Thomas resemble the angels, his admirable purity, and his aloofness from the earthly goods and honors of this world.

French Woman Faces Death Penalty For Shooting Her Husband, Egyptian Prince

PRINCE AND PRINCESS ALI KAMEL-FAHMY BEY

London, July 27.—A verdict of murder has been returned against the beautiful Princess Ali Kamel-Fahmy Bey, a Frenchwoman, accused of shooting to death her royal Egyptian husband in their luxurious suite at the Savoy Hotel, London.

The prince was found across the threshold of his room, with a bullet wound in his body. The princess, in a state of violent hysteria was taken to prison and locked up, where she had to be given a course of treatment before she became calm enough to answer questions.

Detectives who inspected the suite which they had occupied found that both the prince and princess slept with a revolver under their pillows. Witnesses testified that the pair, who were very much devoted to each other, nevertheless quarreled about every trifling matter. When their disagreements became so violent as to bring them to blows, friends always intervened, and in most cases the storms passed as suddenly as they had come.

Marie Marguerite Fahmy, as she is called in the indictment, is 32 years old, and her husband was a year or two younger.

OFFICERS FIGHT DUEL FOR GIRL WHO LOOKS ON; ONE KILLED AND SURVIVOR AND GIRL BOTH TRIED FOR MURDER

Moscow Court Gives Man 18 Months and Lets Woman go Free. White Nose, Once Primitive Guffaw, Now Beauty's Aid.

Moscow, July 27.—A revolver duel between two Red Army officers, fought at dawn in the centre of the city, ended before the Supreme Military Tribunal of two persons who are accused of murder.

They are Terent, the victor in the encounter, a popular officer of artillery, and Nina Mochevili, a beautiful young dramatic student, who witnessed the affray, and for whom both men were prepared to die.

At the first shot from Terent's pistol his old friend and fellow-officer, Dyokonoff, fell mortally wounded. Nina Mochevili rushed forward and gripped the dying man in her arms, while Terent ran to seek an ambulance.

Intense interest was aroused in the trial, since all three figures in the tragedy were prominently known, and it was the first duel of the kind that had occurred for many years.

Terent was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment, and the girl was discharged, notwithstanding the prosecution's demand for the extreme penalty on the ground of the increasing tendency in Russia to resort to the duel for the settlement of disputes.

CHICAGO PROVIDES CIVIC GRAND OPERA

2,200 Citizen Guarantors Pay Deficit on Venture First Year. (Associated Press Dispatch.) Chicago, July 27.—Chicago has gone into the Grand Opera business, and after a year's operation, the financial report shows that the city is making a success of it.

Backed by a regiment of guarantors, who are to be found in all walks of business, commercial, industrial and social life, as well as by the general public, the Chicago Civic Opera Company has become almost as truly civic as a public library or a public park.

There are 2,200 guarantors who stepped to the front when Harold F. McCormack and Mrs. Edith Rockefeller contributed their holdings to the then Civic Opera Association.

Mr. Insull says: "Grand opera in Chicago has thus passed into a stage of civic grand opera, supported by representative people as would be met by the tax collector gathering money for city government."

There is evident in Italy at the present time a sympathy towards Canadian land settlement, according to reports. It is stated that there are many Italian immigrants, schooled to agriculture in that country, who would like to emigrate to Canada, especially since the quota of their nationalities has been reached for the year in the United States.

Another gratifying trend is that of Scandinavian immigrants, than whom there are no better farmers in Canada. The Canadian Pacific Railway has been active in Scandinavia in urging Canada's claim, and as a result, some very desirable parties of experienced agriculturists from the territories have been personally conducted by officials of the company and are settled on Canadian farm lands.

The scheme evolved by Canadian Railways to provide farm help for Canadian agriculturists from outside sources has been eagerly taken up by them and the opportunity seized by immigrants who appreciated the benefits of going to assured employment. Through the functioning of the new Project, many new citizens will be added to Canada's population before the end of the year, placed where they are most urgently needed, can most effectively work out their own destinies and are most expeditiously assimilated.

After the despond in which all immigration matters have sunk for the past few years, and the general lassitude of regard towards the question of additional population, the present situation is gratifying and encouraging. There is concrete evidence that, due to the efforts of agencies whose discouragement have not succeeded in killing belief in Canada, but that faith in the Dominion, in its future and its present opportunity, is everywhere as sound as ever.

Murderer Haunted to Cell
By Gold Teeth of His Victim

U. S. Agent Lured to Grave and Slain by Moon-
shiner.

Birmingham, Ala., July 27.—The sardonic grin of gold teeth in a dead man's jaw has haunted Monroe Hill, a farmer near here, into a murderer's cell. Hill dug a grave for his living quarry, lured him to it and shot him to death above the opened earth. Then he covered the body, stamped down the mound and walked away. And out of that grave there came a golden, ghostly smile — gold grinning teeth that leered at Hill through the days and into his aching dreams at night.

Years of walking with a spectre was the life that Monroe Hill led in Walker County, close to Birmingham. In 1919 Hill, his sons, Edward and Harold, according to the confession made by another son, Clyde, held a conference. They talked together in an isolated spot — talked in short phrases, the darkness of the night covering the nodding of heads which was more expressive than the jerky, difficult words.

The three men talked of Earl Truitt, a deputy sheriff of Walker County.

"He's a double-crossin'—"
"He's a low-down, measly skunk an'—"
These opinions came without emphasis—as if the men had ruminated hard upon Truitt's treachery, his false promise to protect Hill "and his boys" from the law which forbids the making of moonshine whiskey. Under Truitt's promise they had built a still, in the secret recesses of their farm they had manufactured liquor, and then Truitt had "welched." The still was seized, and "Roe Hill and his boys thought it over."

It wasn't the still so much. A little copper and glass. Stills are commonplace things, easy to make. It was the treachery, the violation of the code, the breaking of faith, the lost illusions of a man's word of honor—the tie that holds the world together.

Roe Hill sent word to Truitt to come and talk a few matters over and the unsuspecting deputy came walking upon a black night, to the mouth of his own grave. There wasn't much talk wasted. Truitt heard a half-dozen words, and then he tumbled, a heap of a deputy sheriff, into his shallow grave.

The Hills faded away from the place. Days passed and went into months and years, but Earl Truitt never came forth and the people of Walker County wondered, talked, shook their heads and forgot him.

But "Roe Hill didn't forget. He knew a spot where dead leaves fell upon a covered hole, where weeds grew too slowly and an ivy vine crawled from a tree trunk across the ground and over a grave. He knew the face that had been in that grave, every lineament of that face—the face of a "liar whose mouth had gold teeth in it."

Several years later a wave of excitement passed over Walker County. The word gold was spoken. Gold in Walker County. Prospectors were hunting, walking through fields, in the hills, in far isolated places where dead leaves fell and ivy vines crawled from tree trunks.

Roe Hill heard of them, but his first impression was vague and he thought no more of it than to shrug and think what fools men are. But people talked, growing excited. The prospectors were walking about with a divining rod, a strip of white hazel that would sense the gold in the earth and bend its tip to the precious stuff.

He heard that a face suddenly leered at "Roe Hill, a pair of bony lips grinned, and gold teeth shone mockingly. He took a sudden interest in the prospectors. He wanted to know where they were, where they planned to go with that "divining" rod that smells gold.

Empty Grave Told Secret.
Hill saw the yellow mouth of Earl Truitt calling from the earth. He couldn't sleep, his food stunk, his throat. Even his taciturn speech stopped—he ceased talking.

One night he put a pair of pincers into his pocket. He took a spade and started off alone. He slipped, like a desperate animal, through the shadows to the grave of Earl Truitt. He dug up the body, tore out the gold teeth with the pincers, and he excited, dug another grave for the skeleton of the deputy sheriff. And then Roe Hill again hurried away and left the first grave gaping to the eyes of the first passerby.

Word of the grave came to county officials. They investigated and "Roe Hill was arrested. To gain a fair trial he was removed to Tusculoo County where one jury disagreed and a second found him guilty. Appeals were taken. The sentence of life imprisonment was affirmed and "Roe Hill is in prison."

But the specks of gold that might have caught the divining rod of prospectors are no longer in the earth of Walker County. "There is very little gold in Walker County and none at all in the jaws of the dead man under the ivy vines."

"COONEYTES" BAPTIZED IN SEA AND ELDERS DANCE
London, July 4.—(By Mail)—About a score of people, mainly middle-aged women, but including one woman of seventy and a man of eighty-three were publicly baptized in Belfast Lough as members of a sect called the "Cooneytes," according to an item in "The London Daily Mail."

The candidates each put on a black robe and, after making a profession of faith, was baptized by an elder standing in the sea in the presence of a crowd of spectators. Each baptism the other elders gathered at the edge of the water, singing a song of triumph, and dancing.

The "Cooneytes," otherwise known as the "Tramp Preachers," take their name from Edward Cooney, one of their early leaders, the son of a Ferranagh merchant. They renounce all worldly possessions, go about in the poorest of clothing, and rely on the charitable for food and shelter.

100 SOUTHPAW GOLFERS ENTER SIDEWHEEL SERIES
Chicago, July 27.—The country's left-handed golfers are to have their day at the Midwestern links here, beginning August 2, in the club's fourteenth annual open southpaw tournament, the only event scheduled annually for sidewheelers on the greens.

Nearly a hundred entries have been received for the thirty-six hole competition. John P. Humphreys, Columbus Park, Chicago, a member of the University of Illinois golf team, is the title holder.

Kerosene was first used for lighting purposes in 1826.

Wed 40 Years, Kill Each Other in Duel Behind Closed Doors

Use Ax, Pistols and Stiletto. Daughter's Screams Bring Police.

New York, July 27.—With revolvers, an ax, and a stiletto, an Italian and his wife fought a grim duel to the death in a dimly lit and locked bedroom of their apartment at 435 East Fourteenth street. They had been married forty years.

They were Anthony Giordano, sixty-three years old, and Theresa Giordano, sixty-one. The sound of the struggle aroused the neighborhood, and their excited, dug another grave for the skeleton of the deputy sheriff. And then Roe Hill again hurried away and left the first grave gaping to the eyes of the first passerby.

"COONEYTES" BAPTIZED IN SEA AND ELDERS DANCE
London, July 4.—(By Mail)—About a score of people, mainly middle-aged women, but including one woman of seventy and a man of eighty-three were publicly baptized in Belfast Lough as members of a sect called the "Cooneytes," according to an item in "The London Daily Mail."

The candidates each put on a black robe and, after making a profession of faith, was baptized by an elder standing in the sea in the presence of a crowd of spectators. Each baptism the other elders gathered at the edge of the water, singing a song of triumph, and dancing.

The "Cooneytes," otherwise known as the "Tramp Preachers," take their name from Edward Cooney, one of their early leaders, the son of a Ferranagh merchant. They renounce all worldly possessions, go about in the poorest of clothing, and rely on the charitable for food and shelter.

100 SOUTHPAW GOLFERS ENTER SIDEWHEEL SERIES
Chicago, July 27.—The country's left-handed golfers are to have their day at the Midwestern links here, beginning August 2, in the club's fourteenth annual open southpaw tournament, the only event scheduled annually for sidewheelers on the greens.

Nearly a hundred entries have been received for the thirty-six hole competition. John P. Humphreys, Columbus Park, Chicago, a member of the University of Illinois golf team, is the title holder.

Kerosene was first used for lighting purposes in 1826.

The Sugary Refinery team handed the league leaders a surprise and a beating last night in the South End League fixture. MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

In the presence of 15,000 pilgrims the corner-stone of the new basilica at Ste. Anne de Beauce was laid yesterday morning. After nearly four hours' debate the Alumni Association of King's College meeting in Halifax last night, by a vote of fifteen to nine rejected the proposed scheme of federation with Dalhousie University. One of the main reasons given was the fact that the members did not think that present business conditions made likely the success of a drive for $400,000, the amount which the college would have to raise in two years under the scheme.

SAD NEWS COMES TO ST. JOHN HOME

Body of William Latimer's Son is Found in Texas.

Badly Decomposed, is Telegram Statement—Wire Asks for Details.

To receive word that the body of his son had been found, badly decomposed, was the sad and shocking news which came this morning to William Latimer, a C. N. R. brakeman, who resides at 101 Gilbert's Lane. The telegram came from Hoxie, Texas, to L. R. Ross, local superintendent, and he conveyed the distressing message to the father. The telegram merely stated that the body of the young man had been found badly decomposed and identification had been made by means of a C. N. R. service card which was found in the pocket of his overalls, with his name, William R. Latimer.

The young man left here about a year ago and had been working in Los Angeles, Cal. Some time ago he wrote to his father and asked him to procure a service card from the C. N. R., as he had been employed on that railroad for two seasons. The card was forwarded to him in care of the Hotel Capital, and since that time nothing had been heard about his movements.

The news came as a great blow to his father, relatives and friends. A telegram was immediately sent to Hoxie asking for full details. Pending receipt Mr. Latimer was unable to say whether or not the body would be brought here for burial. At the age of seventeen years the young man enlisted with the First Division Ammunition Column, and was sent overseas at the outbreak of the Fourth Siege Battery. He was in active service during the war and escaped without an injury. Companions say that he was one of the most daring in these Canadian units and was well liked by his comrades in arms as well as his superior officers.

He was in his twenty-seventh year, and besides his father, is survived by two sisters, Miss Hazel Latimer, R. N., and Mrs. Guy Nichols, both of this city. The deep sympathy of a wide circle of friends will go out to the members of the bereaved family.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "have you a spare steer or heifer about the place?"

"I got some out in the back pasture," said Hiram.

"I would like to borrow one for a day or two," said the reporter.

"What in time could you do with one?" demanded Hiram.

"Take it down to the boulevard on Queen Street and let it eat down the grass," said the reporter.

"Some of it is a foot high," said the reporter.

"Hain't it never been cut?" queried Hiram.

"Don't that beat all," said Hiram. "What you want is a sheep—it'll nip the grass closer. But hold on—maybe it hain't ort to be cut. Mebbe it's an object lesson. Over in Germain street they show how grass in a backyard that way to show how it ortn't to be kept. Mebbe they're gonto live pictures took for some feller to show that's lectur' on backyards. You better find out."

"Ah," said the reporter. "I did not think of that. You may be right."

"Well," said Hiram, "I'd make sure—if I was you—yes, sir."

Union and Prince Edward Streets Illuminated Through Ornamental System—Daytime Trial Satisfactory; Will Attract Many This Evening.

The first hydro lights in St. John were seen this morning when the preliminary test of the Union street section of the ornamental street lighting was made. A short time before noon the switch was closed at the sub-station and the "juice" started on its way to the lights in Prince Edward and Union streets. Those who were there at the time were surprised and pleased when the lights were seen in the handsome lantern type lights as it was not expected there would be a test until tomorrow. It was impossible to judge in daytime what showing the new lamps would make, but it was demonstrated to the satisfaction of the engineers of the Civic Power Commission that everything was O. K. and they would be able to give the citizens the new lights for the streets tonight and let them see some actual results for the money expended on the distribution system.

The delay in turning on the juice had led to a certain amount of scepticism as to when the lights would be on, but as the streets before August 1, but he has engineer that he would have light on the streets before August 1, but he has made good on his prediction and no doubt many will visit that section tonight to see the new system in operation.
