A BIT NEARER SECRETIVENESS

Labor Board Chairman and Strike Leaders Confer

President Harding Intervenes with a Proclamation—New Appeals for Troops—Fore- man Tarred and Feathered.

(Canadian Press)

Chicago, July 12.—Settlement of the rail strike seemed a step nearer today when it was disclosed that secret conferences have been held between B. W. Hooper, chairman of the U. S. Railroad Labor Board and leaders of the striking shop crafts.

President Harding's intervention in the strike through a proclamation calling for protection of transportation and the mails was accepted as bearing much significance and expectant eyes were turned toward Washington and the labor in anticipation of further developments.

A telephone call from Washington for W. L. McMenimen, one of the three labor members of the board, was said by the Chicago Tribune to have come from the president. The telephone operator, the Tribune said, called the newspaper in an effort to locate Mr. McMenimen.

New appeals for troops were made to the governors of Mississippi, Tennessee and Texas, while Governor Boyle of Nevada was asked by the Union Pacific for state intervention in the strike at Las Vegas.

Disorders occurred at Chicago, Milwaukee, Sayre, Orrville, Demmon, and at Roadhouse, Ill.

At Algiers, La., four negroes working in the shops of the Southern Pacific were fired upon by a crowd of whites, thirteen of whom were arrested for violating the federal injunction. The prisoners denied they were strikers.

The situation at Bloomington, Ill., remained tense with troops holding the yards and shops. Frequent shootings and the general lawless attitude of strikers and large crowds of sympathizers kept national guardsmen on constant vigilance. Meanwhile city and county authorities were attempting to re-establish civil government.

B. M. Jewell, President of the Shopmen's Union, commenting on President Harding's proclamation, said that the end of the strike was to call a conference of railroad executives and shopcraft leaders. Tarred and Feathered.

Roadhouse, Ill., July 12.—Bert Dickson, night roundhouse foreman of the Chicago and Alton Railroad here, was taken from his home by a mob and driven two miles from the city in an automobile, and given a coat of tar and feathers. Dickson walked back to Roadhouse and went to Chicago.

Dickson is said to be a relative of W. G. Bierd, president of the Chicago and Alton.

Sayre, Pa., July 12.—Leaders of the striking Lehigh Valley Railroad shopmen yesterday formed a "peace committee" to prevent possible outbreaks. The action was taken after a worker named Van Gorder had been chased from the entrance of the shops to his home by a crowd of men, and the stoning of another worker's home.

Keene, N. H., July 12.—Notices were posted last night at the Boston and Maine shops here announcing an indefinite shut down.

The Harding Proclamation.
Washington, July 12.—President Harding, in a proclamation issued at the White House late last night, directed "all persons to refrain from all interference with the lawful efforts to maintain interstate transportation and the carrying of the U. S. mails."

The peaceful settlement of controversies between shopcraft employees and carriers, it was stated, "in accordance with law and due respect for the established agencies for such settlement is essential to the security and well being of our people."

The president took the position that men willing to maintain the operation of railroads in order to transport mail have the "same indisputable right to work that others have to decline to work."

REACH CRITICAL STAGE AT HAGUE

Ultimatum to Russian Delegation on the Restitution of Private Property.

The Hague, July 12.—Continuation of the conference on Russian affairs depends upon the answer of the Soviet delegates to a virtual ultimatum which is to be handed to them either today or tomorrow by the representatives of the powers.

The ultimatum, taking the form of a list of questions, was unofficially communicated, brings up for final disposal the problem of restitution of private property in Russia. The Russians are asked to state categorically to what extent and under what practical conditions they will return the seized property to its former owners.

If the Soviet will not admit the principle of restitution, the French and Belgian delegates are convinced that further prolongation of the negotiations is useless.

M. Krassin is working with his conference in an endeavor to alter their stand sufficiently to save the conference.

LATER.
The Hague, July 12.—The morning session of the conference on Russian affairs, which was devoted to the consideration of the private property question, broke up amid considerable confusion, many of the delegates declaring that Russian replies meant that the collapse of the Hague conference was inevitable.

No decision as to this, however, had been taken up to three o'clock this afternoon.

Maxim Litvinoff of the Russian delegation said on leaving the conference chamber that further meetings were unlikely as the non-Russians insisted upon the Russians making promises with regard to property compensation and giving guarantees which were impossible until the Russians knew what credits and loans they would be granted. He added that the peace pact would hold for one month after the last meeting.

M. Litvinoff declared that Sir Philip Lloyd-Greame of Great Britain, M. Alphand of France and other of the non-Russian representatives had insisted upon beginning work just where the Geneva conference began, and had made progress impossible by thrusting over old stalling and demanding replies from the Russians which they could not possibly make until the other powers told them what would be done financially by those powers toward Russian restitution.

"We can't say how long it will take to restore Russia until we know what our resources will be," Litvinoff insisted.

In the conference session today the president, after hearing the Russian explanation concerning the restitution of confiscated foreign property, announced that no useful purpose would be served in continuing the discussions. Sir Philip Lloyd-Greame of Great Britain said he would consult his colleagues as to whether any good could be served by a further meeting of the sub-commission on property.

IRISH REPUBLIC PROCLAIMED AT CORK IS REPORT

London, July 12.—A rumor that an Irish Republic has been formally proclaimed at Cork is printed by several of this morning's newspapers, under Belfast dispatch. It is not confirmed from any other source.

WALKER STEPS OUT PAST WILLIAMS

Chicago Tries to Get Back Running Races and Will Have Test Betting Case— British Golfers in U. S.— Late Sport News.

(Canadian Press)

New York, July 12.—The New York Yankees were separated from the leading Browns by only a half game today as a result of their 2 to 1 victory over the Polo Grounds yesterday. It was a hurling duel between Bush and Shocker, with the St. Louis finger having the edge. Two flukes, a home run by Ward, which bounced off Williams' glove into the left field bleachers, and a muff of Ruth's high fly, followed by a wild throw, gave the Yankees their winning margin.

Willey Walker of the Athletics is the new American League home run leader, displacing Ken Williams as a result of cracking out a circuit blow in each game a double, a homer and a triple in Boston Braves' victory last night over the Detroit, 4 to 2 and 9 to 8. Walker has 21 homers and Williams 20.

Faines held the Phillies to two hits, one a scorching homer, in St. Louis won its eighth straight, 8 to 0, but the fast going Cardinals were unable to gain on the Giants, who stopped the Chicago Cubs winning streak, 4 to 0.

The Reds outdug Brooklyn from fourth place in the National League, beating the Dodgers' ace, Reuther, 4 to 4, while the Boston Braves checked their losing streak by trimming Pittsburgh, 10 to 4.

Earl Smith's pinch hit in the seventh inning, a scorching homer, sent the Senators to beat Chicago, 8 to 2.

Guy Morton of Cleveland shut out the Red Sox, 2 to 0, with four hits.

Test Track Case.

Chicago, July 12.—Reversal of running races in Chicago, including the annual American Derby, hinges on the official outcome of a race at the historic Hawthorne today, which has been planned by followers of two events at the bookmaker, although no money will change hands. The plan is to have the bookmaker arrested just after he records the race, and the race is to be run at the Illinois Jockey Club, a new organization composed of prominent merchants and manufacturers, and a law firm has been engaged to handle the bookmaker's case when it is called in court.

Racing was stopped in Chicago, organizers of the new club said, because bets were accepted on the races conducted on other tracks. They contended that they will allow no foreign books and the decision will not apply.

The Golfers.

As the result of the delay the programme will be moved back one day, which means that it will be necessary to occupy the entire week. In addition to the regular card of four races today, the 2:18 trot and 2:46 pace on Monday, which were stopped by rains after one heat had been run, are on the programme. Today's regular card consists of the 2:18 trot and 2:46 pace, the 2:12 trot, the Sherwood stake for three year old trotters and the 2:18 pace.

At Wimbledon.

Wimbledon, July 12.—Miss Ryan and Randolph Lycett, of Great Britain will meet Miss Suzanne Lenglen, the French women's singles tennis champion, and Pat O'Hara Wood, of Australia, in the final round of the mixed doubles in the international grass court championships, both pairs having won today's matches in the semi-final round. The weather is fine.

The finals in the men's doubles will be fought out by Gerald Patterson and O'Hara Wood against J. O. Anderson and Lycett, after which Miss Lenglen and Miss Ryan will defend their title as women's doubles champions against Miss Kathleen McKane and her sister, Mrs. F. Stocks.

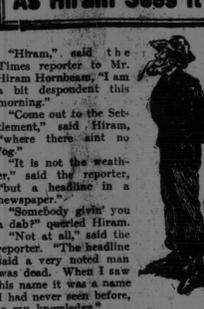

ACCIDENT CASES.

It was reported from the hospital this afternoon that Policeman Walter McNeil, who was injured in a runaway on Dock street yesterday, had suffered a badly sprained ankle. An X-ray was taken and it was reported that he would probably be able to return to work this afternoon. Edmund McLaughlin, of City Line, who was injured at Courtenay Bay on Monday, was reported to be improving this afternoon.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hecker, "I am a bit despondent this morning."

"Come out to the Settlement," said Hiram, "where there ain't no fog."

"It is not the weather," said the reporter, "but a headline in a newspaper."

"Somebody gives you a job?" queried Hiram.

"Not at all," said the reporter. "The headline said a very noted man was dead. When I saw his name it was a name I had never seen before, to my knowledge."

"You can't be expected to know everybody," said Hiram.

"It is not that," said the reporter, "but the thought struck me that there may be a great host of people who have never heard of me—and know nothing about my splendid career."

"That had to be too bad," said Hiram dryly. "They're missing a lot—ain't they? You ought to lay awake nights feeling sorry for them. Can't you get some radio feller to broadcast what a wonder you are?"

"But if they didn't believe it?" queried the reporter.

"The sun," said Hiram, "wouldn't fall out of the sky—even if they didn't. You'd just have to put up with it—yes, sir. This world is check fall o' folks like you—that thinks more about themselves than anything else. That's the reason other folks think so little of them. As for headlines—I often wonder how you fellows that writes 'em kin keep from laughing your heads off—By Hen!"

DULL SKY OVER BELFAST ON 12TH.

Heavy Rain Mars Celebration of Orangemen

A Holiday in the Six Counties— Resolutions Relative to Conditions in Ireland— Observance in Several Cities of Canada.

(Canadian Press Cable)

Belfast, July 12.—Leadens skies and a heavy rain in the early morning threatened to mar the spectacular features of Belfast's celebration of the Battle of the Boyne anniversary today. The entire city was taking a holiday. In fact, there was cessation of work practically throughout the six county area.

At all the demonstrations in the provinces, resolutions will be put condemning all unlawful acts of violence, deploring the anarchy prevailing in the greater part of Ireland, and demanding that adequate steps be taken immediately to restore peace and security and calling upon the northern government to adopt without delay all possible means to insure the safety and integrity of the six counties against all aggression.

In the Carrick hill area there were signs of unrest, which is considered ominous on the view of the celebration. Unrest, which is considered ominous on the view of the celebration, was the scene of an attempt to kill a girl yesterday.

Toronto, July 12.—The day opened cloudy here with indications of rain in Toronto, but it did not materialize. Reports from other centers indicate plans for enthusiastic celebrations.

Hull, Que., July 12.—While the capital city is making no general observance of the "glorious twelfth" several provincial towns are celebrating with the usual parade of Orangemen. Toronto is in gala attire to greet hundreds who traveled to the hub on special trains, from Halifax and Springfield, Junction, N.S. Members of the Royal Orange Lodge celebrated on last Sunday with a special church parade and service in Dartmouth.

Moncton, N. B., July 12.—About 200 local Orangemen accompanied by the City Silver Band left this morning by special train for Cape Tormentine where the county lodges will celebrate. Orangemen from towns en route are also going to Cape Tormentine for the day.

Woodstock and Elsewhere.

B., July 12.—The most pretentious celebration of the "glorious twelfth" in the central portion of New Brunswick today is being held at Woodstock in connection with the annual summer carnival there, while on the Upper St. John Valley the principal celebration is at East Florenceville. At Kinslear a new hall built by Thomas Logan, named after the late A. Duncan Grant, at one time N.B. grand master, is being dedicated by H. T. Brewer of Fredericton, deputy grand master, and some other grand lodge officers, including Grand Chaplain Rev. Dan Jones. Past Grand Master David Hipwell of St. John and C. D. Richards, M. L. A., of Fredericton.

Planes are also being held at Stanley Burt's Corner and elsewhere in York county, while the Sunbury county lodges are joining with the Q. B. A. at a picnic at Fredericton Junction.

OBSERVANCE OF JULY 12 HERE

Picnic at Grand Bay and Celebration at Lorneville—Nothing in City.

In spite of the poor weather prospects this morning there was a good turnout of the Orangemen on the nine o'clock and noon trains for Grand Bay where Willis Lodge, No. 7, of Fairville, is holding a picnic in honor of the "Glorious Twelfth." More than 100 were on the morning train and above 100 on the noon, while a still greater number are expected this evening. The lodge members wore their regalia. A good programme of sports has been prepared for the afternoon and evening and the Fairville band is in attendance.

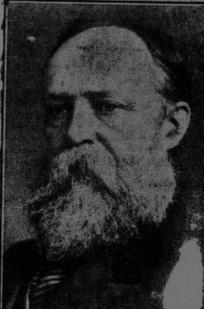

There was no city celebration of the day but many of the members of the local lodges are attending the picnic at Grand Bay.

The lodges at Lorneville, Mount Purple, Coronation and the "Prentice Boys," turned out in good numbers for a parade from the Mount Purple hall through the village to the hotel of R. W. Dean where dinner was served and the members of the lodge marched to the hall. Speeches by several prominent men are the feature of the afternoon at the Mount Purple hall.

WHO KNOWS OF A WOMAN OR GIRL MISSING?

Mayor McLellan Asks Information in Connection with Trifts Murder—Phases of the Case.

Mayor McLellan said this morning that he would like to have any information that he may have regarding any female member of the family or female boarder being absent or missing since the night of the Trifts murder.

"Nothing new" was the report from detective headquarters today regarding the Trifts murder case. The detectives were working on several clues and sitting along that road some little time ago and the tread of the tires was examined closely. Though there were several distinctive marks none of them could positively be identified as having been those of the murderer car. The clay in some places resembled to some extent that on the wheels of the Trifts car, but was slightly different in some degrees. Several persons residing in that vicinity were interviewed and some information obtained from them.

With regard to the tires, the combination was rather unusual and one that might easily be traced if the impressions obtained from them. The right rear wheel was shod with a K. & S. supreme cord tire, and the three other wheels with Goodyear all-weather diamond tread tires. So much time has elapsed since the murder and so much rain has fallen that the chances of detecting tracks made by these tires are very slight.

F. M. Weston, fingerprint expert of Halifax, said last evening that positively no full print of the essential part of any of the murderer's fingers could be secured from any of the smudges left on the side of the motor car. There had been fingerprints there, but time had obliterated some of them, and others of them on the leather cushions were absorbed to such an extent that they were valueless. Several of the prints had been made by a bloody hand. One of the impressions made on the glass in the rear of the car he thought had been made by a woman's hand. He expressed regret that so many had handled the car, which hindered him from getting the full scope needed for his work.

FIND BRITISH DEBT TO THE U. S.

Governments Reported to be in Negotiation

Overtures Said to be Accompanied by an Invitation to Conference in Washington —Mission May Be Sent to U. S. Capital.

(Canadian Press Cable)

London, July 12.—The question of finding the British war debt to the U. S., reported to be under consideration by the British government, is given prominent notice by the newspapers this morning.

Overtures for the funding of the debt were made by the U. S. government some time ago, according to the Times, these being accompanied by an invitation to a conference in Washington.

The Daily Mail asserts that important communications are now passing on the whole subject between the two governments, adding that a British mission will leave soon for the U. S. to discuss the question, and while there also talk over the possibility of an international economic conference in Washington.

The Morning Post's financial editor welcomes the evidence that the funding plan, which has been advocated for some time by the Post, is now receiving attention. "Unquestionably this matter plays an important part in the whole problem of international indebtedness," he says, "and it is very clear that America is looking to Great Britain to give a strong lead to recognition of these external obligations."

The writer, however, ridicules the report that repayment of the debt to America in a lump sum in the near future is contemplated, adding: "We must remember that, apart from the question of beginning the liquidation of our large debt to the U. S. in the autumn, we have smaller obligations to meet during the present year. It is understood that there is a liability of something like three million pounds due to Japan, while there is a large line of three-year British notes in America, which will mature on November 1, amounting to $20,000,000."

"It will readily be seen, therefore, that while it is generally believed the British government's stock of dollars in America is fairly large, there is every reason to maintain a strong position in that respect."

The French Position.

New York, July 12.—Bringing the message that France will pay her debts, and adding that "it is not dependent on Germany," Jean V. Parmentier, official representative of the French government, arrived yesterday on the S. S. La Savoie on his way to Washington, as an adviser to the inter-allied debt funding commission.

"If Great Britain and the U. S. press France for her payments to Germany then the franc will drop and create a situation so bad that I will not dare talk about it now."

SHAKE HANDS WITH AN OLD FRIEND

Joe McNamara, Here From Boston, Speaks of Sport Matters.

Joseph McNamara, physical instructor at Curtis Hall, Boston, and formerly engaged in a similar capacity at the Y. M. C. I., arrived in the city last night. He is here to assist in the big aquatic carnival on Lily Lake next Saturday afternoon, and will officiate as a judge of the diving competition as well as chief clerk of the course.

Prior to coming here Mr. McNamara conducted two big athletic meets in the U. S., on July 1 and 4 at one of which LeRoy Brown, captain of Dartmouth track team established a record of 6 feet 4 7/8 inches in a running high jump.

Speaking about the gold sculling race at Philadelphia for the gold challenge cup in which Hilton Belyea participated, Mr. McNamara said that prominent sport writers in the U. S. gave Hilton full credit for his game fight and great showing made against Hoover and Costello. He said they took into consideration that Hoover had a big advantage over Belyea as the lakes at Duluth were free from ice and ideal for training purposes long before they were open here.

Asked regarding his son, who made a great name for himself as an all-round athlete at Princeton University, Mr. McNamara said he was now a member of the Pirates as an outfielder. He had participated in several games and had evidently given entire satisfaction.

This afternoon Mr. McNamara held a conference with other officials who are to assist in the big aquatic carnival. Entries for the various events are to close this afternoon and Frank White, who is arranging for the meet, said that a large number have already been received and from indications it should be a grand success.

Mr. White and Mr. McNamara met the Boston train at noon today and they thought that Joe Moore might arrive. They expect that he will reach the city on the late train tonight or tomorrow at noon.

LOCAL NEWS. IN WALL STREET. New York, July 12.—(10.30)—Wall street's confidence in an early settlement of adverse domestic and foreign conditions was indicated in the further substantial advance of prices at the broad and active opening of today's stock exchange. Oil, motors, steels and ship-buildings led the advance with a former issue for rails and popular miscellaneous issues. Heavy buying of Studebaker, General Asphalt, Mexican and Pan-American Petroleum, Standard Oil of California, Sinclair, Gulf States Steel, Mercantile Marine Pfd., American Ice and International Paper lifted those shares one to two points in the first few transactions. New high prices for the current movement were made by Studebaker and Asphalt. Foreign exchanges were steady, and further inflow of reserves from interior sources pointed to the renewed ease of money rates.

AFRICAN CHIEFS ON A VISIT TO PARIS

Each of Picturesque Group of Sovereigns of French Colonies Has Two to Five Wives.

Paris, July 12.—Twenty-seven African chiefs, the sovereigns of various French colonies or protectorates in the Sudan, Senegal, Dahomey, Mauritania and the Ivory and Guinea coasts, arrived in Paris this week. The huge black men, dressed in multi-colored silk gait costumes. Some of them carried immense spears, and all wore swords. Many of them had been decorated with the medals of officers in the Knights of the Legion of Honor for distinguished services on behalf of France during the war.

The chiefs presented a picturesque appearance as they faced batteries of photographers at the Gare de Lyons. Chiefs Baloum Naba, conqueror of Topland, and Adadi Abdoukane of Senegal, who were active in the enlistment of their followers and in the preparations for fitting them out for service in the European war, were most prominent. The chiefs were accompanied by their wives, each having from two to five. All of the men were more than six feet tall, muscular and fine specimens of manhood, especially the younger among them, any of whom seemingly would be qualified pugilistically to become a "black hope." The chiefs ranged from aged white-haired men to youths in their early twenties.

to give all the children the opportunity to secure an education. All of them should have as nearly as possible the same opportunity. The boy or girl living in a sparsely settled or remote rural district obviously cannot enjoy the same advantages as one who is near a well equipped and well staffed school.

INJURING THEMSELVES.

The new United States tariff, if it should become law next month, will cause a still further shrinkage of trade between that country and Canada. The Montreal Gazette submits some figures to show what has happened since the Fordney Emergency tariff was adopted by our neighbor. It says:

PEDAGOGIC PICTURES.

A good deal of interest has been aroused in the United States by a proposal made to the National Educational Association by Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Pictures Producers and Distributors of America.

The Gazette observes that the contention of Senator Lodge that this decline was due to world conditions is mere humbug. The Fordney tariff was designed to cut down imports from Canada, and the new one is designed to do the same.

A curious situation in regard to Russian affairs has developed at The Hague. It is said that those who could speak with authority for the Soviet government are remaining in Moscow, endeavoring to retain control of affairs, and that M. Krassin, who is at The Hague, is unable to speak with full authority.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOLS.

The question of consolidated schools was discussed at the recent sessions of the New Brunswick Teachers' Institute. The value of such schools has been clearly shown. Those that have already been established in this province are serving a most useful purpose.

The Frederickton young lady who went to jail rather than pay taxes will not be regarded as a heroine. Taxes must be levied in the public interest and those who are able to pay are expected to observe the law.

It is announced that a British mission is coming to Canada in the interests of a British Empire Exhibition. Canada should be so well represented at that exhibition as to give the world a comprehensive knowledge of her resources, not only in natural products but in manufactures.

The employment of state troops to prevent violence in the American railroad strike is a warning that the government proposes to dominate the situation. With regard to the coal strike President Harding still awaits a reply to his proposals for arbitration.

As viewed at this distance the celebration of July twelfth in Ulster this year might well have been deferred. It may be, however, that the observance will not be marked by any serious clash between opposing factions.

The United States tariff on hay will be $4.00 a ton if the decision of the Senate stands. That is another clause of the tariff bill aimed at Canada.

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 50. THE TELEPHONE RECEIVER.

After the high frequency oscillations of electric waves, radiated from a transmitting station, have been rectified by a detector into pulsations in one direction, the telephone receiver performs the important function of converting these uni-directional impulses into audible sounds.

The Radio Receiver

The permanent magnet is made of soft iron and the small coils, mounted on the pole pieces, are wound with a great many turns of very fine wire which may be enameled and of No. 40 to 42 S. gauge.

The electric currents carrying the voice or music are radiated from a transmitting station and rectified by the receiving circuit detector into uni-directional pulsations. These pulsations increase and decrease the amount of current flowing through the electromagnets and cause a vibration of the diaphragm.

AUTOMOBILE CONTROL BY RADIO.

An automobile guided entirely by radio waves was recently demonstrated on the stage of a New York theatre. This marvellous device opens a large field for the application of radio dynamics and it is predicted that in the near future many large forms of movable mechanical apparatus will be directed by the electric waves.

"I have fallen arches." "You should see a building inspector at once."

Important Discourse.

"John," said his young wife, "have you any secrets you keep from me?" "Why, no," he replied, wondering what in the world was coming.

PARISHIONERS TAKE OUT INJUNCTION

Vicar Must Remove Socialist Emblems from Church.

London, July 12—Rev. Conrad Noel, vicar of the little village of Texted, will be required to remove Sinn Fein and Bolshevik flags which have long been displayed inside his church, consequent upon the granting of an application of a number of his parishioners by the chancellor of the consistory court of Chelmsford, for a faculty directing the removal of the emblems.

The vicar, Rev. Conrad Noel, professed extreme socialist sympathies and despite the protestations of a large number of parishioners, he persisted in displaying the flags near the chancel.

The parishioners who felt themselves aggrieved, had, indeed, at different times taken severe measures for the removal of the flags, raids having been made upon the church for the purpose.

The vicar, however, was by no means without supporters, and while the anti-socialist element had once or twice succeeded in removing the flags, the success had only been temporary, for the emblems had been restored very quickly to their old places.

Forceful removal of the flags against the wishes of the incumbent, had, of course, no legal authority behind it. The outraged parishioners then appealed to the chancellor of the diocese, a public fund to defray the expenses having been fairly well supported. The case is additionally interesting because there is hardly any precedent of a similar application having been heard in ecclesiastical courts. The Church of England, of course, is state established, and the ruling of the chancellor in such a matter will have the full force of the civil authorities behind it.

A resolution of sympathy to the relatives of the late John Longon, who passed away on June 26, has been formulated by St. John Typographical Union, No. 85. A copy of the resolution was sent to the Typographical Journal, and it was also resolved that the charter of the local be draped in mourning for a period of three months.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Dinsmore-Hieatt.

(Perth, Ont., Expositor)

A pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening, July 5, at St. James church, Perth, Ont., by Rev. Darcy Clayton, when Gladys Edith, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hieatt, of Perth, Ont., and grand daughter of the late Dr. F. R. Marshall, of Halifax, N. S., was married to Kenneth William Dinsmore of St. Stephen, N. B. The bride who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin, draped with georgette, with hat to match. She wore a beautiful string of pearls, the gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of roses and maiden hair fern. She was attended by her sister, Miss Gertrude Hieatt, gowned in maize satin, picture hat to match, and carrying a bouquet of grand-daughters and pansies. The groom was attended by Ernest Wattiers, formerly of St. John, N. B. Little Olive Demers acted as flower girl and looked very dainty in white organdy, carrying a basket of roses. W. R. Spence presided at the organ and the choir sang "The Voice That Breathes 'er Eden" as the bridal party entered the church. After the ceremony the parents of the bride entertained a few friends at their home. The bride and groom then left on the midnight train for a short trip. They will return and, after two weeks' visit at the home of the bride's parents, they will continue their honeymoon to St. Stephen, N. B., stopping at Montreal for a few days. Going away the bride will wear a blue suit with hat to match. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received, among which was a check from the bride's father. The best man was presented with a pair of gold cuff links, the bridesmaid with a pretty pearl pin, and the flower girl with a ring. The happy couple will make their home in St. Stephen, N. B., where the groom is employed with the Clark Drug Co.

INVENTS TALKING MOVIE.

Professor at Illinois University Discovers New Process.

Chicago, July 12—Development in the laboratories of the University of Illinois of talking motion pictures through a process of photographing and reproducing sounds has been announced by W. L. Abbott, president of the board of trustees.

The invention is the work of Professor Joseph Tykocinski-Tykociner of the Physics Department. Mr. Abbott said that Professor Tykocinski's invention belonged to the university, but he had been applied for by the school and the institution would develop the scheme, and if it were successful it would be turned over to the public at a nominal profit.

Professor Tykocinski-Tykociner's apparatus to receive sound consists of an ordinary telephone speech receiver. Fluctuations in electric current caused by the vibration of the transmitter cause variations in a beam of light and these variations are photographed on a strip of film alongside the regular movie negative. By the means of a cell which is sensitive to light and the amplifiers used in radio this sound is reproduced simultaneously with the picture, Mr. Abbott said.

WESTERN COAL SITUATION

Calgary, Alta., July 12—That the suggestion of the minister of labor in a recent telegram to the representative of the department in Calgary do not offer any satisfactory grounds for resumption of work is the opinion of the western Canada Coal Operators' Association. The Knowles finding, they say, would not make it possible for associations of miners to be formed, and consequently would not give the men work. The association reiterates its readiness to pay temporarily the rates in the Drifted and Drifted, and granted an increase of forty per cent. on the day wages and twenty-five per cent. on contract rates of 1915, the permanent adjustment of wages to be determined by the settlement of the dispute in the western Pennsylvania and Ohio fields. This basis, it is said, would permit the association mines to secure business and offer employment to its men.

becoming more important and large quantities of steel rails are now being shipped from Newcastle to Java.

Asked about labor condition in Australia, Mr. Sullivan said: "There is a sufficient amount of labor in Newcastle, skilled labor as well as unskilled. Of course, this does not apply to farm labor, but to the needs of a manufacturing city. Wages have been high, but outside competition has forced some reductions. Australia has its immigration problem well solved, so the class of labor there is extremely good."

Dr. D. J. Burt, who comes from Sydney, Australia, was equally enthusiastic about the possibilities of the country. "Our little continent has virtually all climates," he said, "and everything can be raised there. Sydney will shortly reach the one million mark in population and it is growing rapidly. It is a beautiful city with a fine harbor and rich surroundings. Australia is a wonderful country and wants only population and capital for its development. At present it has 6,000,000 inhabitants but population and capital will both come with time. The war has held the country back, owing to the scarcity of capital, particularly of English capital. The country's natural resources mean tremendous riches for the future. Wool and wheat are the two great crops of the country, and it has almost every kind of metal waiting to be mined. The climate corresponds very much to that of the United States, save that in the extreme northern part we are in the tropics so that tropical fruits are flowers thrive. The climate of Tasmania, which is the southern part, is very much like that of San Francisco."

Do You Awake Tired and Weak?

MYSTERIOUS ASSAULT MADE ON FOREIGNER

Italian Found Lying on Street With Severe Wound in Head. Welland, Ont., July 12—Another bloody affair took place at the same spot where Mike Lobozco, the Welland barber, was shot and killed a few months ago, when John Giovanni Fazzolari, an Italian, a cousin of the Morabitos who have been mentioned in several murder cases, was found lying on Crowland street with a deep gash over his left eye and his face covered with blood.

CONY ISLAND THREATENED WITH 'HOT DOG' FAMINE

New York, July 12—Coney Island has just passed through a critical stage in its existence. It was threatened with a "hot dog" strike. Coney Island without a "hot dog" would be as a wilderness to the average patron. The meat workers who make frankfurters recently threatened to strike. However, an agreement was reached between the Bologna Butchers' Union, No. 174, whereby peaceful continuance of their work is guaranteed indefinitely.

MONARCHISTS HIRED HARDEN ATTACKERS

Munich Police Obtain Letters
Directing Attack on Famous Editor.

Was Go-Between Who Procured
Assailants, One of Whom Has Confessed, but Other is Missing.

(Special Cable to the N. Y. Times and Montreal Gazette)

Berlin, July 9—It is now beyond any doubt that the organization in Munich mentioned in yesterday's news from Freudenstadt is responsible for the attack on Maximilian Harden. The society in question is called the Deutsch Voelkische Partei, with headquarters at Munich, and local branches spread throughout Bavaria, especially in country villages.

The society counts among its members nearly all active monarchists in Bavaria and many domiciled in Berlin, Hanover, Hamburg and other northern cities. Escherich, Von Kahr, Ludendorff and nearly all the higher Bavarian officers and officials are said to be members. The society publishes its own illustrated organ, which may be encountered even in remote village inns. In its columns exhibition of Jews, distinguished Republicans and members of the Entente commissions is preached with impartiality.

Such is the society which hired Herbert Weichardt and Walter Ankermann, both of Oldenburg, through the well-known anti-Semitic publisher, Albert Wilhelm Grenz of Oldenburg to kill Maximilian Harden. Weichardt was arrested a few days ago and Grenz yesterday, while Ankermann is still at large. Grenz is president of an anti-Semitic organization in East Friesland.

Discovered at his house by the police, Grenz was arrested and taken to Berlin where he admitted having hired Weichardt and Ankermann at the instigation of Munich anti-Semites. He said that in Munich he received a typewritten letter postmarked Munich, which read:

"You are known to us as an active fighter for the cause and therefore we ask you: Are you prepared to aid us in a certain matter which will benefit the cause? We presume you will. Therefore, let us know if you have two enterprising young men willing to do some political work for their country. Their future would be secured. Answer immediately."

A. W. G.
"500 Hauptpostamt, Munich."

There was no other signature, but the vehicle cross was drawn in ink. Grenz immediately conferred with Weichardt and Ankermann and then wrote to Munich his men were ready "for any action demanded by their country." After some further correspondence, Grenz was advised to proceed immediately to Frankfurt. At the Post Office there

Grenz found a letter awaiting him, reading:

"Many thanks for your ready response. What we desire is to have done away with the person whose name you find written on separate paper enclosed. To cover expenses we enclose a sum of money from which you will also pay your traveling costs. We leave you the choice of form by which you will pledge those two young men. As soon as they have done their work a much larger amount will be paid them. Besides they may count on an official position in the Bavarian government."

The amount enclosed was 25,000 marks. The name written on the separate paper was "Maximilian Harden."

There was a third paper included, containing the following advice:

"Send no letters and no telegrams. Use autos whenever possible. Do not talk. Any papers referring to the case in question must be immediately destroyed. After the deed is accomplished you men should part in two different directions."

Grenz returned to Oldenburg, pledged Weichardt and Ankermann and called their attention to the fact that they would be treated as Maximilian Harden was intending to be treated should they turn traitors.

As soon as Weichardt and Ankermann got their money they proceeded to Berlin and spent most of it in dance halls and night places, and Grenz had no little difficulty to get them to carry out the attack on Harden, which they did not attempt until penniless.

Weichardt has already confessed, but Ankermann is still missing. The police claim to be on the track of those responsible in Munich.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

Edmund McLaughlin, who was badly injured about his hip on Monday when he was jammed between the frame of the dredge Beacon star, on which he was a deck hand, and the spud well near which he was standing, was reported as doing well at the hospital last night. It was feared at first that his injuries would prove fatal but hopes for his recovery are now held out.

Policeman Walter McNeil was badly injured while pluckily attempting to stop a runaway horse on Dock street yesterday afternoon. The horse became frightened when one of the wheels came off the team he was hauling and he ran away. The policeman, seeing the runaway, ran into the middle of the street in an attempt to stop it but the horse swerved suddenly and knocked him down. He was taken to the hospital where it was found he had been severely bruised and that the ligaments of one leg were strained.

A teamster, who was driving along City road near Brindley street yesterday afternoon, was knocked from his wagon by collision with a street car. He was taken to a drug store and medical aid was summoned before he was taken home.

SPINE FRACTURED, HE EATS AND TALKS

May Come Through an Operation — New York Lad's Foolhardy Dive.

New York, July 12.—Despite a fractured spine, Henry Fisher, aged eighteen, of 321 East 25th street, is able to eat and talk freely as he lies in bed in the Staten Island Hospital.

Fisher had been spending the weekend in the bungalow colony at South Beach, Staten Island. He erected a small raft off the shore to dive from.

There was only two feet of water at the raft, but Fisher attempted a fancy dive. His head struck bottom and he became unconscious.

Soon after arriving there, Fisher regained consciousness. Attendants were amazed to discover that he could talk and eat. He says he suffers little pain.

YEACHERS MUST BUY WIGS. Trustees Object to Bobbed Hair and Schoolma'ams Cannot Grow Long Tresses by September.

Montreal, July 12.—Bobbed-hair teachers in Outremont public schools must either have long tresses by September, when school re-opens, or they will lose their jobs.

This edict has been pronounced by the school board, and the jockless schoolma'ams with the abbreviated coiffure find themselves in a sad plight. They

"We like our teachers and our masters 'au naturel,'" said one member of the board.

"Bobbed hair makes teachers look so young," he objected. "Why, some of them don't look any older than their pupils. You know they go in for teachings so early nowadays anyway."

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in two forms—a colorless, clear liquid (one drop does it) and in extra thin plasters. Use whichever form you prefer, plasters or the liquid—the action is the same.

ONE DEAD, TWO INJURED IN A MOTOR ACCIDENT

Kitchener Man's Injuries Prove Fatal—Son May Recover.

Kitchener, Ont., July 12.—Max Fischmann, manager of the Fischmann Spring Company, Queen street south, died at the Kitchener-Waterloo Hospital from concussion of the brain. His fourteen-year-old son, Samuel, is suffering from a fractured skull, and a Conestogo man named Lederman had his nose broken as the result of a motor accident at the junction of the Waterloo-Bridgeport road.

In order to avoid a car driving toward Kitchener, Fischmann lost control of his car and crashed into a telephone pole. Fischmann and the other occupants of the car were unconscious when assistance arrived and were quickly removed to the hospital. It is likely that Fischmann's son will recover, following the operation.

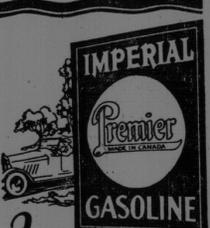

MISSING LEEK IS FOUND. Criticism of Canadian Coat of Arms Found to Be Baseless by Heraldic Experts.

Ottawa, July 12.—The missing Welsh leek has been found.

In the dying hours of session complaint was made in the House that the new Canadian coat of arms contained the rose of England, the thistle of Scotland, and the shamrock of Ireland. But Wales had been forgotten. The coat of arms contained no leek.

Investigation was immediately promised by the government. The coat of arms would be inspected, humorously observed the prime minister, "to see if it didn't contain a leek somewhere."

Inquiry today revealed the fact that Wales had not been forgotten. The designers incorporated a leek in the base, although the emblem of Wales is somewhat hidden among the decorative work. But when the coat of arms is engraved again, an effort will be made to have the leek brought out more clearly.

FAULTY VISION IS PREVALENT

Large Percentage of Accidents Due to This Cause, Says Report.

That a large percentage of automobile accidents are caused by defective vision is one of the important findings of the Accident Committee of the California League for the Conservation of Vision.

A special preliminary report asked for by the directors of the league was prepared by Dr. William M. Ketchum, president of the Los Angeles Medical School and chairman of the General Accident Committee.

"The report on automobile accidents," said Dr. Ketchum, "was based upon the findings of several months of faithful and unceasing compiling of statistics, interviewing and examining the eyes of several hundred victims of automobile accidents. Doing pioneer work it was necessary for the committee to do much studying and preparatory work."

The report shows that "about 25 per cent of automobile accidents are caused by defective machinery, such as defective brakes, loss of control, etc.; and about 23 per cent, can be attributed to speeding and recklessness, and approximately 50 per cent to defective vision."

"Many of the drivers of machines admitted to the committee that they did not see the other car until too late to stop."

"The three defects causing most of the accidents due to faulty vision are astigmatism and restricted field of vision and night blindness. For the quick perception of oncoming traffic, or of cars approaching from either side, a full field of vision is absolutely necessary. The peripheral portions of the retina are the ones stimulated when cars approach from the side or behind. It is, therefore, very nearly normal, otherwise early perception of approaching dangers cannot be had."

"The presence of lowered acuity of vision in dim lights (night blindness), does not prove very dangerous to automobile drivers."

"Other defects of the eyes from which accidents may result are blindness in one eye and diplopia or double vision caused by cross-eyes. A faulty movement of the eyes due to muscular disorders causing double vision or diplopia most certainly might be the cause of serious accidents."

The big United Garage on Duke street are so proud of Sunoco that high posts have been put up at the entrance at their own expense, letting the words know where to get real oil. Every car they fix gets a fill of Sunoco so it will be delivered in tip top shape.

"We took to Sunoco," they said in unison, "because first it is good looking oil and it feels right between your fingers—the body is there. We put it in our own cars and they ran like tops. Dr. Dunlap told us it put new life in his car, and it stopped Mrs. Robertson's car from smoking. There is no oil better than Sunoco and it is a pity some people buy the cheap stuff."

Ended 2 to 2. The Cathedral held the St. Rose's to a tie in a seven-inning game on St. Peter's park last evening, the game ending, 2 to 2. In the first act of the eighth inning, the St. Rose's scored two runs but, the time being up, their turn at bat, the game went back to even innings. The pitching of Dalton, or the St. Rose's, was the feature of the game, as he struck out fourteen of his opponents and allowed only five safe hits.

Leonard Comes Back. (New York Times.) Regarded by many as approaching pugilistic decay, Benny Leonard suddenly has convinced skeptics that he still retains the old power to his blows and the dazzling speed, brilliant cleverness and superb ring generalship which have caused him to be one of the ring's most popular champions. The world's lightweight title-holder accomplished this de-stared result through his knockout victory in eight rounds over Rocky Kansas on Independence Day. In recording this notable victory Leonard battered into a state of utter helplessness a boxer whose greatest boast was his ability to assimilate the punches of an opponent without weakening under fire. Leonard no doubt was spurred to his great effort through the unpleasant reports which followed his loss on a foul to Jack Britton. Critics and veteran followers of fistiana were convinced, after witnessing Leonard's showing in this bout, that the champion was past the stage where progress is recorded and was confronted with that gradual decline which all too quickly produces oblivion. Quite obviously Leonard must be considered far from the class of boxer who has passed the so-called "peak." The champion could not have impressed this more clearly on the minds of those who thought otherwise than by knocking out Kansas.

In that battle it was necessary for Leonard to bring into play every trick of the trade at his command. His wonderful speed of hand and foot, the destructive force of his baffling attack and the cool, calculating, almost mechanical method of assault which marks the finished workman—all these essentials were brought into play in accomplishing the humiliation of Kansas. The consequence was a bout which was one-sided. Kansas never had a chance. Kansas faced a different Leonard from the man who had fallen on three different occasions previously to knock him out.

The victory did more than demonstrate that Leonard still is supreme. It produced a change of attitude with regard to Leonard's approaching title bout with Lew Tindler. From the time this match was made, Leonard's friends have exhibited confidence in the ability of the champion to retain his title against Tindler. These friends now are predicting that Leonard will score a knockout over the challenger. Others have either been skeptical of the result in the approaching bout or favorable to Tindler. The atmosphere of skepticism is disappearing; the ranks of Tindler supporters are thinning. Leonard will enter the ring determined to exert every effort for the crushing defeat of a rival who has been advanced as a prospective successor to the lightweight title.

"BEAT MYSELF," SAYS MRS. MALLORY. Wimbledon, England, July 12.—(Associated Press)—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, who will leave England today for the United States on the steamship Homeric, is not at all satisfied with the outcome of her contest with Suzanne Lenglen for the tennis championship, in which the French champion demonstrated quickly and in no doubtful fashion her superiority over the American champion. Speaking of the match Mrs. Mallory said: "I am sure I did not play one-third as well against Mlle. Lenglen as I played in New York, but she played better against me than I have ever seen her play before. She was heaps better than I against Miss McKane or Miss Ryan. It is when Mlle. Lenglen has the upper hand that she plays so well, it would have been a different story had I won the first two games.

"I do not think, however, that a match of this importance should have been put on at 7 o'clock in the evening, after we had been kept waiting about four hours and were not even expected to have to play on Saturday at all. The light was very bad, the sun was low and in the eyes on one side, and heavy shadows cast by the stands were over parts of the court. I am not satisfied with the score and the verdict, and my chief anxiety now is to play Mlle. Lenglen again at the earliest possible moment.

"My suggestion is that she come over to our national championships in America to play in the hope that we meet again, because now each of us has one victory on a grass court to our credit. "Sitting around waiting hour after hour in the hold was no preparation for the match. I do not consider Saturday a fair test; many others have said so, too. I thought the great crowds of English spectators were perfectly fine. And I hope to come back next year, and then to meet Lenglen again. But as the French Davis Cup players are going to America to play the Australians at Boston in August, why does Mlle. Lenglen not go alone? Then we need not wait a full year for another match. My one wish is that Mlle. Lenglen will take up this expression of my desires as a challenge."

Mlle. Lenglen declared today that she is returning to France immediately after the Wimbledon tournament and will go to Dieppe for a few days' rest. "I had to keep all my strength for this match," she said, "and I played very much better than I did against Miss McKane or Miss Ryan, and so, as I had been careful, I was perfectly well on Saturday and had all my strength. "I was not a bit nervous. Do you think that I looked like it?" She queried with a gay laugh.

"TIED TENNIS" IN ENGLAND. Captive Ball Makes Small Spaces Available—Only Two Play. Tennis, with the ball firmly attached by a string to a rather high pole, is the latest variation of the common court game to be introduced in England. It is called "tied tennis," and the object of the game is to hit the ball until the string to which it is attached becomes completely wound around the pole. Instead of the usual gut strung rackets, small wooden bats are used in the game. Only two can play at a time. Its main advantage is the adaptability to small spaces, for it can be played on small plots much too tiny for a regulation tennis court.
