WOULD SAVE THE LIVES OF CITY LITTLE ONES

Forty Two "Starved to Death" in City in Half Year

Project for Appointment of Baby Nurses in City—A Statement Growing Out of "Inanition" Reports to Health Board

Do people know that forty-two people starved to death in the city of St. John this year up to this day, and that of this number all were less than one year old?

These figures are taken from the physicians' certificates of deaths, the doctors declaring thereon that the cause of death was inanition.

Did you ever think when admiring your own little one, or that of a friend, "how helpless it is?" And isn't it the truth?

What right have you to say that in the time between now and Christmas there shall starve to death in this city thirty babies under one month old because they cannot help themselves?

You have none whatever. You would not note out that sentence to your cat or your dog, to say nothing of yourself.

The schools of this city are supported by the city and the teachers are paid by the city largely, yet you would not keep your children from receiving an education on the grounds that you would not accept charity, and is not the health and the very life of the babies at least as important as their education?

A nurse employed by the city's money could do more to prevent the deaths. A large enough number of nurses working consistently could prevent them altogether.

"If babies were well born and well cared for, the infant death rate would almost cease to exist," are the words of no less a man than Sir Arthur Newsholme, medical officer of the British government board.

A specially trained "baby" nurse in St. John, who would call on the expecting mothers, offering suggestions on how to care for themselves, who would attend at the birth, if requested, and who would assist with the care of the little stranger for the first few days after his arrival, carrying out the attending physician's orders, would mean that those physicians would not be forced to write on a death certificate, "starved to death."

The Sub-District Board of Health proposes to employ the part time of five such nurses just as soon as they can get the money from the municipality.

ARE ANXIOUS NEVER WORK AT THE STEEL PLANT

Sydney Council, Board of Trade and T. and L. Council

LETTER FROM SUPERINTENDENT

Sets Out Conditions—Joint Action to Have Government Furnish Orders so That the Men May be Employed

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 9.—That the city council act in conjunction with the board of trade and the trades and labor council to bring the matter of the closing down of the steel plant to the attention of the government, who will be urged to furnish orders in order that the men of the city might have work, was a resolution, moved by Alderman A. J. McDonald, and passed by the city council.

The mayor read the following communication from General Supt. Rice of the Steel Company:

"I beg to state that the contract for rails for the Canadian government was completed on July 31st. During the present week we shall finish all the small contracts for rails which are now on our hands. It is the intention to roll 5,000 or 6,000 tons of steel to be converted into billets, and these are intended for shipment in the form of billets, rods and wire products, to apply on orders which we now have, and for stock in case other orders may be received in the near future. The roll mill from present indications will continue to operate for some weeks, as the export demand for wire and nails is showing some improvement, and it is possible that the mills for the production of these products may be operated at an increased capacity during the balance of the year.

"The temporary suspension of operations in the departments will release a large number of men, but a considerable portion of these will be employed in construction work at the plate mill, which will be completed at the earliest possible moment. The officials of the company are making every effort to secure additional business. The mills (turnouts) which were closed at the earliest possible moment as possible and soon as there is sufficient business to warrant a resumption of activities.

ROTHESAY ROAD GAY FOR PRINCE

Something of the Scheme of Decorations at Various Places Along the Way

The work of erecting arches along the road to Rothersey has been at some points. The committees at each suburban resort are said to be vying with each other in a friendly rivalry as to whose tastes are the most artistic and whose decorations will prove the most attractive. The plans for some of the arches call for temporary structures of wood and canvas.

The heads of committees from places along the route are: R. D. Coggin, Glen Falls; H. G. Adams, Brookville; F. J. Nisbett, Renforth; Walter Fleming, Riverside; A. C. Wilson, Fair Vale, and R. B. Paterson, Rothersey.

So far the arrangements of the Brookville people are not complete, but it is possible to see a great arch of evergreens, trimmed appropriately, near the Brookville church. Although nothing definite has been planned yet for the two railway bridges, it is understood that the decoration of these structures is to be taken care of. The residents intend to gather at the arch and give the prince a demonstration as he passes through.

At Renforth. P. J. Nisbett with a committee of Renforth people will be busy next week in the erection of what they plan to make the most magnificent arch along the route to Rothersey under which the prince will pass. It will be of evergreens, ferns, and flowers with a patriotic touch as well and will be erected on the main road almost opposite the clubhouse. The artistic talent of the Renforth residents will be concentrated upon its construction so that a beautiful piece of workmanship may be expected. The houses in the neighborhood will all be decorated.

Fair Vale. The decorations planned by the citizens of Fair Vale for August 15, will be on an elaborate scale, including an arch, trimmed with evergreen, and draped with flags, and having several models which are to be decided upon. The arch which will be twenty feet wide and of sufficient height to allow the prince and his suite to pass beneath it, will be erected near General McLean's residence on the Gondola Point road. Other decorations are planned.

The Riverside arch will be erected in front of the golf club. BRITAIN'S IMPORTS AND EXPORTS SHOW GAIN. London, Aug. 9.—Board of trade returns for July show increases in imports valued at £184,460,000 and exports, £25,315,422. The import increases were mainly in food, drink and tobacco, but the shipments of wood, timber and cotton received were also very heavy. The largest increases in exports were in coal, coke and manufactured fuel.

Austrians Bid For Amelioration of Terms

"Bound to Collapse" If Not Lightened

Summary of Note Presented to Allied Peace Mission—"Expects League of Nations Will Hear Her in Hour of Distress"

Copenhagen, Aug. 9.—(By the Associated Press)—A summary of the Austrian note presented to the Allied peace mission at St. Germain, France, has been received here from Vienna.

"If German-Austrian territorial demands are fulfilled to the minimum extent maintained for in the appendix to the note," says the summary, "German-Austria will make efforts to believe she can live independently and in peace in this territory. She expects the League of Nations will hear her in her hour of distress."

"On the other hand, German-Austria still is firmly convinced that the economic burdens imposed upon her by the peace treaty cannot really be carried out, and that if they are not substantially lightened she is bound to collapse."

Dealing with the economic and financial clauses of the peace treaty, the note continues: "It will be impossible for the next few months to deliver milk in cans and cattle as German-Austrian children are perishing for lack of meat and milk. German-Austria must allow herself to be placed under the Entente Powers' financial control, but she expects the reparations committee will act with the consideration demanded by her desperate position and grant German-Austria the necessary credits to obtain raw materials for foodstuffs."

"The note urges amendment, with a view to investing a commission with plenary powers regarding all economic and financial peace conditions. It then argues at length regarding 'the unjust and unequal division of old Austria's debts among the states which succeeded it and the unjustified shifting of the debts of the old monarchy. Apart from the bank note debt, clauses in the peace treaty show a burden of debt for German-Austria of some forty billion marks. This two-thirds of the entire debt of the Austrian states, without the note debt, is placed on the shoulders of one-third of the former population."

The note concludes with a reference to settling accounts between German-Austria and other states of the former monarchy, declaring that stipulations not capable of fulfillment must be removed and these questions regulated by the reparations commission in order not to prolong the peace negotiations.

"It would be indispensable value for all parties," the note adds, "if the members of the German-Austrian delegation were heard and called upon to give oral explanations before the commission."

The note is accompanied by extensive proposals on territorial and political questions. TRAFFIC LAW MATTERS. A. E. McDonald was reported by Policeman Colwell and charged in the police court this morning with driving his car at a reckless rate in Mill street when passengers were alighting from the street car. W. M. Ryan, counsel for the defendant, said that Mr. McDonald did not own the car reported. The case was postponed until Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Joshua Cowan was charged by Policeman Colwell with failing to obey a signal given by the policeman at a street crossing on Aug. 6. He was fined $10.

T. E. Robinson was charged with damaging the gates at the Mill street crossing on Aug. 6. Gatenman Irvine said that this man drove into the gates, breaking one of them and damaging the lamp, the amount of the damage being about $9.

Policeman Colwell told of an occasion where the gateman had taken Mr. Robinson's number for driving under the gates, although he said he did not see him drive under the gates. Byron Stillwell, who was with the defendant, told of the incident and said he did not see the gates lowered until within a few feet of them.

Mr. Robinson said it was purely accidental and that he would be willing to pay the damages. The case was postponed until next Wednesday morning. Frank Hoffman was reported by Policeman Colwell and charged with allowing his horse to stand on Mill street crossing blocking the traffic. He was fined $10.

GREAT BRITAIN ON HIGH ROAD TO BANKRUPTCY?

Alarming Statement Made in House of Commons

VITAL MATTERS OF THE HOUR

Chorus of Press Comment After Statement by Chancellor of Exchequer—Provisions of Bill to Deal With Profiteering

London, Aug. 9.—Great Britain's financial condition, which J. Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, told the House of Commons shows the country is headed for bankruptcy, was brought forward yesterday by the newspapers as the most vital problem of the hour, even overshadowing labor troubles. The chancellor's statement recently that British expenses are four and one half million pounds daily came as a distinct shock to the country, but was emphasized by the details given by Mr. Chamberlain.

It was remarked by some of the newspapers that this constituted a criticism of the cabinet of which he is a member, but his view was endorsed by Premier Lloyd George.

Virtually every newspaper in London joined a chorus of condemnation of the statement, but the government criticized it for "its rash, wasteful extravagance," the House of Commons, it was remarked, was largely responsible, because it surrendered control of expenditures.

The country is indulging in an orgy of spending, several of the newspapers remarked, and is contributing thereby to the high cost of living. People who temporarily have relatively great wealth, it was said, are willing to pay any price rather than forego gratification of their desires, so that while necessities of life are higher than ever there never was so much money spent on luxuries. All those who deal in automobile, apparel and entertainments of all sorts were said to be doing unprofitable business.

The cry against profiteers was said by the newspapers to be voiced by these reckless spenders as well as by the poor in cases of profiteering from any commodity followed up successfully. In this connection, it was said, the measure being taken in the United States to reduce the cost of living are being watched with much interest.

The government bill providing prosecution and penalties for profiteering, it was said, empowers the Board of Trade to investigate prices, costs and profits and to investigate complaints of unreasonable profits, whether wholesale or retail.

After investigation, the board of trade is authorized to declare what is a reasonable price and require that the article be sold at that price, and the board is empowered to take proceedings against offenders before a court of law, which may impose penalties not exceeding a fine of £200 or six months imprisonment.

The board of trade may require localities to establish local or other committees to whom the board may delegate all its powers, with a regulation to provide right of appeal by devers from any order or decision of the local committees, and may make provision for the prevention of frivolous complaints.

The board of trade may authorize local authorities under prescribed conditions to purchase and sell any article to which the act applies. The act will continue in force for six months, unless parliament directs otherwise.

MORE THAN STRIKE, SAYS JUDGE IN WINNEPEG. Ruling in Winnipeg on Certain Matters of Evidence. Winnipeg, Aug. 9.—"There has been introduced evidence to show that this strike was more than a strike. Perhaps half of the strikers thought it was a strike, but can any reasonable man say that some of the leaders regarded it as an ordinary strike? It is to trifle with the intelligence of the average man when you even argue against it."

In these words Magistrate Noble yesterday ruled in evidence of the riots of June 21 at the trial of the eight labor leaders charged with seditious conspiracy.

A letter from R. B. Russell was read, in which the history of the much discussed exclusive diagram of the Soviet government was revealed. The letter said: "I am in receipt of a diagram from Mrs. Rose Henderson, Montreal, which Daniel Levine drew about some years ago, and which she says Levine has used in planning the Soviet organization."

SEE SETTLEMENT OF BOSTON FISH STRIKE. Boston, Aug. 9.—Settlement of the strike of fishermen in this city and at other Atlantic coast ports which has been in progress since early in July, was forecast yesterday after conferences between vessel owners and union representatives called by Henry J. Skeffington, representing the department of labor. Delegates who attended the conference said that the plan of awarding a minimum price for fish on board ship would be the basis of settlement.

ACTORS STRIKE

Thirteen Theatres Closed Thursday And Only Four of Them Were Able to Open Last Night

New York, Aug. 9.—Only four of thirteen New York theatres which closed on Thursday night after a strike called by the Actors Equity Association went into effect, were able to open their doors last night. In these cases numerous substitutions in the cast were noted.

The calling out of the players followed a strike meeting of the actors' association, 1,400 strong, in the afternoon, and was the reply of the association to the refusal of the managers to treat with it.

KILLS DOCTOR WHO WOULD NOT MARRY HER

Springfield Physician Target For Five Shots From Revolver in Street

Springfield, Mass., Aug. 9.—Dr. Henry Zimmerman was shot to death near his home here on Thursday by Miss Jennie Zimmerman, who fired five shots from a revolver at him, following a violent quarrel in the street. After the shooting Miss Zimmerman, who is not related to the doctor, threw the weapon away and held until the arrival of officers to whom she submitted, they say, that she did the shooting.

In a statement to the police Miss Zimmerman said Dr. Zimmerman had kept company with her about two years until last March, since when he had refused to have anything to do with her. She said she called him by telephone last Monday, but he refused to talk with her. She then bought the revolver. On Thursday afternoon she saw him riding in an automobile and called to him. She asked him if he intended to have anything to do with her, "No, and you can go as far as you like," whereupon she fired five shots at him.

MONTREAL SHIPPERS ARE WORRIED OVER ACTION OF BRITISH GOVERNMENT

Montreal, Aug. 9.—Consternation among local shippers is being caused by the action of the British government in refusing to renew the licenses of some Canadian-owned vessels and in commandeering the space in them for their own requirements.

Canadian manufactured goods booked for shipment from Montreal for European ports are piling on the dock here as the result of the cancellation of the sailings. In addition several thousand head of Canadian cattle were due to leave the port.

According to local shippers in some cases the vessels had already been granted a license for one trip and it was only after they had established the regular trade route that the license for them was cancelled.

Steps are being taken to urge on the dominion government the desirability of getting the British government to release the Canadian vessels for the Canadian trade routes and thus aid exporters and farmers.

REMOVAL

S. Goldfarber has removed his Optical Parlors from 146 Mill Street to 629 Main Street, upstairs in J. Morgan building. 7-28.

When a farm was sold in Maric County, Mo., recently, the transaction took place in the home of the farm's buyers and was strictly cash. After the deal had been closed every member of the family began bringing silver coins from nooks and crannies all over the house where it had been secreted. The seller had to take his money in a flour sack to the bank, where it took the teller and cashier two hours to count it. Most of the money had been earned by the two daughters of the family, who had taken in washings.

ONE YEAR AGO.

It seems hardly credible that it was only one year ago yesterday that the attack which opened the whirlwind offensive of the Allied armies was launched against the German lines near the historic city of Amiens.

August 8, 1918, is a day that will live in the history of Canada and the Canadians. At 4.30 a. m. in a heavy mist, they went over the top near Villers-Bretonneux, with the Australians on their left and the First French Army on the right, and by dark had penetrated the Hun defences to a depth of seven miles, gathering in more than 12,000 prisoners and between 300 and 400 guns of all calibres.

On the Canadian front the attack was delivered by the First, Second and Third Divisions, with the Fourth in support. The Fighting 96th was included among the Second Division troops that won rich honors that momentous day.

The attack was one of the greatest surprise jolts that had been given to the Boche during the war. A few days before, two Canadian battalions were sent to the Belgian front where they carried out a raid and dropped prisoners. The enemy naturally concluded that the Canadian Corps was in the north, and this was strengthened by rumors which had been circulated for weeks before, to the effect that the corps was moving north.

Accordingly, when the intense barrage opened at zero hour on August 8, it completely surprised the unsuspecting enemy, routed his infantry, and so completely crushed his batteries that many of them were unable to come into action. As the battle progressed there were found enemy guns from which the breech and muzzle covers had not been removed; some which had tried to pull out of position and get away from the attackers had had their horses killed while in the very act of removing the guns; in a few cases the entire crews of guns were found dead in the pits, a grim tribute to the work of our artillery.

Those who were in this battle will never forget the panorama which unfolded on that gray-misted morning. Peaceful silence reigned until the hour of attack had come and then, with the first resounding crash of barrage, the whole organization started in motion—the line of the artillery barrage moved and crashed across trenches and fields, wave after wave of infantrymen followed in its wake and passed victoriously from line to line; the big tanks lumbered along in the open, lunging through shell holes and dipping into and floundering out of trenches like great clumsy animals; the cavalry trotted along in twos, ready to gallop forward should a break in the line be made; the whipper tanks, active little pieces of mechanism, scurried forward as though afraid of missing the fun; the engineers, with their posthoes, trench bridges, picks and shovels and what not, the long lines of guns—wheel to wheel they seemed—flashed and barked, sent their missiles over the heads of all on the tall of the retreating foe, or, having finished their task, went forward with their six-horse teams to continue the barrage; the ambulances moved slowly forward on their errand of mercy, and the transport followed with their supplies of food, forage and shell for the victorious hosts somewhere "up ahead."

It was a wonderful and awe-inspiring sight. But it was more; it was the sounding of the death knell of Germany's vicious hopes; it was the forerunner of the victory that came three months later in the total collapse of the enemy.

QUESTION AND ANSWER.

To the Editor of The Times: Sir—Will you kindly tell your many readers the whereabouts of Mr. Hiram Hornbeam? Has he been attending the great Liberal convention? Or, is he at the Settlement, making hay this beautiful weather? Or, perhaps he is making arches at the Settlement to take the shine out of the Rutheby folks. It is rumored that he is having a motor put in his punt, to clip the wings of Commodore Chesley.

Yours, etc., ENQUIRER.

It gives The Times pleasure to make answer to this inquiry, the more so because there have been others of like tenor, and one reply will serve the other anxious correspondents as well as "Enquirer." Mr. Hornbeam, as our friend surmises, has returned to the Settlement, but not to make hay, beautiful as the weather is for haymakers, and strong as must be the appeal of the ringing scythes and the lure of the oatmeal and water put away in a shady place in the fence corner at the end of the swath. Mr. Hornbeam is resting for a time from his labors, refreshing himself by contact with Nature, and adding to the supply of philosophy in his already well-filled mental granary. He watches the haymakers with the eye of an expert, recalling the time when he swung a scythe at the head of the procession, and there was no man in the Settlement with enough brawn and wind to mow within striking distance of the Hornbeam heels. But while he watches the timothy falling, and hears the music of the gray scythes, his sub-consciousness takes in the wind-borne fragrance of the wild flowers, the droning of the honey-laden bees, the tumbling flights of swallows already uneasy because the morning air carries some faint hint of the golden autumn. Thus, while the Hornbeam body is at rest, the Hornbeam mind is making hay, and, depend upon it, the crop will be well cured and well stored, and will be ready in due season for a market higher than almost any in the memory of the Settlement.

But, friend Enquirer, we would not have it hurriedly assumed that Mr. Hornbeam's survey of events is measured by the bounds of his native village. The Evening Times carries to him daily its summary of the activities of the outer world, and thus daily the philosopher assays the sayings and the doings of the city here by the sea; and in his mind's eye he sees us all, and beyond us those far-flung countries and peoples which make up this curious antheap we call the world. By night, when the golden glow lights the hilltops and then is gone, and "the sentinel stars set their watch in the sky" Mr. Hornbeam sits with his pipe on the veranda, studies the stars that winked in the same old way before Adam, ponders the visible and the invisible universe, listens to the harmony of the spheres turning in their appointed places at the bidding of the great Architect, sighs over human vanity and man's short-vision estimate of life, and amuses himself by looking forward to a reunion of all the Settlement folks about one hundred thousand years from now, or a hundred million years (for life is but a moment and time is infinite), at which it may be given to each to look back over wanderings and experiences beside which the story of "Ulysses" would be but as a child's tale at bedtime.

Thanks, Mr. Enquirer. The Evening Times, to sum up, would say that Mr. Hornbeam will revisit the city presently, like a giant refreshed, and renew his philosophical relations with the people of our fair city.

In President Wilson's judgment higher prices ruling today are not justified by shortage but in many cases have been created "artificially and deliberately" by "vicious practices." And now he is going after legislation to overcome these conditions in whatever degree is possible, not forgetting a penalty for the producer.

An invention which prevents "listening in" on telephone lines is reported perfected by a clever Frenchman. If this comes into general use, party lines will lose their redeeming feature.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Briefly Speaking: Teacher—Willie! You're not fit to sit beside decent people. Come right up here, and sit beside me.

Lots of Them.

Lady—You say that a love of books brought you here, my poor man? Prisoner—Yes, ma'am; pocketbooks.

Other Men's Crowns.

Weary Willie—"I lost 'arf a crown yesterday." "Fixed Timotheus—"Did yave a 'ole in yer pocket?" Weary Willie—"No; the bloke wot dropped it heard it fall."

Up to Daddy.

"Daddy," asked a mite of eight summers, "God makes us do the good things, doesn't he?" "Yes," replied the father. "And Satan makes us do the naughty things?" Again, yes. "Well, who makes us do all the funny ones?"

The Wrong Disease.

"I don't like your heart action," the doctor said, applying the stethoscope again. "You have had some trouble with angina pectoris." "You're partly right, doctor," said the young man sheepishly; "only that ain't her name."

Sentenced.

"Have some aigs dis mornin', Jedge?" asked the ebony waiter. "Not this mornin', Sam," replied the man of the bench, adjusting his spectacles preparatory to distinguishing the name of some fish on the menu from the fly-specks. "Ever try anny of our fresh boiled aigs, Jedge?" "Yes, indeed, Sam; and found 'em guilty."

Puzzled Him.

The soldier who for twenty minutes had been vainly trying to induce a donkey to go up the ship's gangway stopped and scratched his head. "What sticks me," he muttered, "how in thunder Noah got two of this kind into the ark."

Mrs. Hannah Segge, wife of the late Abram Segge of New Maryland, died at the home of her stepson, Harry Segge, 419 York street, Fredericton, yesterday.

Capt. E. R. Taylor of Bellefonte, Pa., has received a Christmas box sent to him by his wife last October, when he was a prisoner of war in Germany. The package first went to England, thence to France and through Switzerland to Germany, and on to Camp Villingen, where Captain Taylor had been held prisoner; but by the time the box reached there the armistice had been signed. Captain Taylor, released, was returning to France through Switzerland, and the box has been following him ever since.

Glittering Gowns For Evening Wear

Have Arrived Just in Time for the Festivities of the Coming Week

These new creations admit many novel and fascinating interpretations for fall.

THE FLOWER FROCK, developed in maline or other fluffy materials, is fashioned with petal-like sleeves, falling loose from the shoulder, and cleverly shaped tunics draped in artistic ways. The colors are plain flower shades or combination effects of distinction. These beautiful dresses are decidedly youthful and becoming.

BLACK EVENING GOWNS are always in demand, and our present collection will meet with your approval. Georgette or Maline in combination with Satin, embellished with sequins, touches of ostrich, or perhaps glints of silver embroidery will be found in models to suit youthful as well as more matronly figures.

Lovely Afternoon Frocks

Many of These Elaborate Enough for Dinner or Garden Parties

GEORGETTE CREPE, plain or in rich printed patterns, Crepe-de-Chine Net and Satin are among the favored fabrics. Round, square and V-neck styles are all in evidence for fall.

Tunics of various lengths, smart sashes, sometimes wide and sometimes narrow. Cording, beads, tucks and lace are all prominent style points.

Just a glance at these eleven creations will assure you of the correct modes for present and future wearing.

GETTING BACK FROM EUROPE IS THE RUB

Passport Restrictions to Be Partly Lifted Soon—Americans Who Cross Atlantic Face Return Trip Delays

London, Aug. 8—Americans coming to Europe when the passport restrictions are partially removed this fall probably will do so at their risk, so far as returning to the United States is concerned.

At present business men who had hoped to spend a few days in England or on the Continent find themselves held up, in many cases three months, before being able to get passage for home, and conditions in the next few months are expected to be worse.

The American state department has asked the embassy here if there is any good reason why it should not set Oct. 1, instead of Nov. 1, as the date of removal of virtually all passport restrictions for Europe.

John W. Davis, the American ambassador, said that he saw no reason why October was not desirable, but declared that he was disposed to inform the department of conditions here, with the suggestion that anyone obtaining a passport should be definitely informed that he may not expect unusual assistance from the American authorities on this side for getting early passage home.

Scores of irritated Americans are languishing in British hotels awaiting passage home weeks hence. They are confronted with the news that two of the largest liners have been laid up for the last few days, with the British government still taking 80 per cent of space under the agreement arranged soon after the armistice.

There is little hope of a large number of Americans getting home soon and the embassy here is anxious that the number should not be augmented, for the benefit of the Americans themselves.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

They're home again—victorious. And how thankful and happy you are. Of course they're glad to be home. But still—sometimes it must seem a little dull. How to keep them entertained: how to make the home so attractive that it will hold them—that's your problem. And the answer—

They can play the Re-Creations of the songs they sang in the service—the songs that will always mean so much to the boys in khaki and blue.

Show the boys what their return means to you. Give them some concrete evidence. See our display of New Edisons. With the exception of but two models each New Edison is now encased in an authentic period cabinet of exquisite beauty.

THE DOGS OF WAR.

(Christian Science Monitor). And now, during the last four years, the dog has given such a proof of his faithfulness to the best traditions of the dog race that all over the world his praises are being sounded. The story of the war-dog and his doings is gradually being pieced together. From the very beginning of the war, as one writer has expressed it, dogs "had a paw in it." When the Germans invaded Belgium, the harness dogs which up to that time had been used for hauling milk, vegetables, and other products, began to assist the refugees in getting their children and household goods out of the invaded country. Later they hauled light artillery, and carts laden with blankets, bread, and scores of other things for the comfort of the soldiers and their horses. Dogs did sentry duty in the trenches, patrolled No-Man's-Land, carried dispatches through barbed wire entanglements, amid a hail of bullets, and, above all, added to the laurels of their ancestors through the ages by seeking out and helping the wounded very where on the far-flung battlefields of Europe and beyond.

Pessimist - "I have only one friend on earth - my dog." Optimist - "Why don't you get another dog?" - Judge

On the wall of the so-called "royal suite" in the old Revere House, Boston, Massachusetts, hangs a decorated shield bearing the names of distinguished guests: Jenny Lind, 1850; Daniel Webster, 1850; Prince of Wales, 1860; Patti, 1860; Perepa, 1865; Christine Nilsson, 1870; Grand Duke Alexis, 1871; King Kalakaua, 1875; and Emperor Don Pedro, 1876. A POPULAR BANK

The number of would-be borrowers is usually larger than can be hospitably welcomed at the banker's office.

Such at least is the information given by an American financial writer, Herbert N. Casson, in the Boston News Bureau.

"The Bank of England," said Mr. Casson, "is a money power that has no enemies. It has never been attacked by agitators, either violently or verbally.

Even the Socialists are proud of it. Its disarms criticism by regarding itself as a trustee of the public good. It refuses to be a profiteer. Recently, for instance, it announced that all its excess profits had been handed over to the government."

Here is a chance for some of our Canadian banks to win glory. An Englishman whose name was not given wrote lately to the Times offering a large part of his private fortune to the government to assist in meeting the war debt. Funny people these English.

K. OF C. WAR ON RADICALISM

Supreme Knight Flaherty's Address at Buffalo Convention

Admiral Benson and Bishops Shahan and Turner Also Speakers—Cross of Legion of Honor Awarded to Supreme Knight

Bolshevism and kindred "isms" were vigorously attacked by half a dozen speakers at the first sessions of the 87th annual convention of the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus in Buffalo.

The reading of the telegram occasioned a great demonstration of applause and cheering. Mayor George S. Buck welcomed the entrance into the struggle against radicalism of so powerful an organization as the Knights of Columbus, especially because it was showing the way in this fight, which, he said, could only result in one thing, the stabilizing of other powerful agencies to support it in a contest that must inevitably be with the benefit of America.

The mayor enthusiastically said Knights of Columbus, during the recent war, had won the hearts and esteem of all people, regardless of religious belief, and now, on the threshold of another battle for good, he knew that all the American people would be with them.

Rev. Bishop Shahan, rector of the Catholic University in Washington, in a sermon at the knights' mass, praised the organization for its proposed work and complimented it upon what it had already done.

"You represent today in the United States the flower of our Catholic unity, whether we consider your great numbers, or the forty-eight states you represent, or the vigor of your manhood, or the sincerity of your faith, or the distinction of your professions, or offices in our American life," he said.

Bishop Shahan touched upon the great plan under construction for the establishment of educational work and said this would be a powerful influence for America and its manhood.

Following the services at St. Joseph's Cathedral, the delegates and visitors went to the Knights of Columbus clubhouse where, after Mayor Buck's welcome, Supreme Knight Flaherty presided.

The delegates and visitors then returned to the Hotel Statler, where at 2 o'clock in the afternoon Supreme Knight Flaherty called the convention to order and submitted his annual report.

Scores Radicalism. He was very pronounced in his remarks relative to radicalism. He said that in holding the peace convention, the Knights of Columbus in Buffalo, had every member of the order realizes that the organization is on the verge of great events. "Since the signing of the armistice hostilities have by no means ceased. But they are not the hostilities of the battlefield—although without careful management, they may assuredly develop into such. They are the clashing between opposite ideas, between the ideal of violent revolution and the ideal of a safe and sane ordered civilization," he said.

End Your CATARRH Today

Catarrh sufferers, meaning those with colds, sore throat, bronchial trouble, etc., can all be cured right at home by inhaling "Catarrhosone."

Use Catarrhosone to prevent—use it to cure your winter ills—it's pleasant, safe and guaranteed in every case.

"The Knights of Columbus always have been and always will be on the side of order. Not that we are without sympathy for righteous unrest that seeks to remedy evil conditions that call for a cure, but we shall fight to the utmost of our strength the forces of extreme radicalism, and the crazy doctrines of false, foreign philosophies, which seek to spread their pernicious propaganda on our free soil.

"We shall fight these evil things with the constructive weapon of education, of enlightenment, just as we have fought them in the past by founding scholarships and by sending expert combatants of extreme Socialism on lecture tours through the country.

"Here in Buffalo, we shall launch the greatest lay educational movement ever known to America."

Bishop Turner and Admiral Benson also spoke. The governments of the United States and France joined hands at the Knights of Columbus convention in Buffalo when, in a dramatic ceremonial, the supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus, James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia was given the distinguished service medal of his own country and the cross of the Legion of Honor. Hon. Joseph C. Pelletier of Boston presided at the ceremony.

The thousands of persons gathered in Lafayette Park sang the American and French national anthems. The representatives of both republics, speaking for their presidents, paid beautiful tributes to the Knights of Columbus, which organization they pointed out, was being rewarded for one of the most masterful pieces of work any organization had ever done in behalf of mankind.

There was equal enthusiasm over the re-election of Mr. Flaherty and Mr. Pelletier, as reported on Friday. Both were chosen unanimously and their nominations were seconded by delegates representing every state in the convention. Delegate Lawrence of Michigan nominated Mr. Pelletier. It was apparent that the supreme knight and the supreme advocate were the two most popular officers of the whole executive board.

Parade to Lafayette Park. Following the elections the delegates adjourned for luncheon and afterward all of the delegates fell into marching platoons, escorting to Lafayette Park Secretary of War Newton D. Baker; Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, and Marcel Knecht of the French High Commission to the United States, as well as other distinguished civilians and ecclesiastics, all of whom rode in autos.

Arriving at the square, the distinguished visitors and guests, as well as state and city officials of Buffalo, assembled. Mr. Pelletier said that the occasion was one of the greatest privileges he had ever enjoyed to present to an American audience the representatives of the executive board of France and America, who would confer distinguished honor upon the head of an organization which, after all, had only tried to do its best. He then introduced Commissioner Knecht, who, in a brief address, spoke of the great work the Knights of Columbus had done and how this had been appreciated by France. To the leader of that organization, the commissioner said, France paid its respects. He was overjoyed to have the honor of conferring upon James A. Flaherty the Cross of a Knight of the Legion of Honor, one of France's most prized decorations.

Pelletier Presents Baker. A bugler sounded a call, and the commissioner presented the beautiful emblem upon Mr. Flaherty's breast. The band played the Marseillaise while the multitude sang.

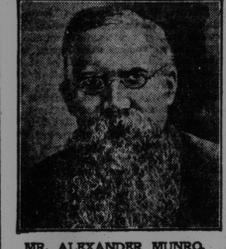

Mr. Pelletier then introduced Mr. Baker, of whom he said, no man had contributed more to the great world war. Secretary Baker said he was proud to be the representative of President Wilson on that occasion. He explained the three medals the American government grants and then continued: "President Wilson takes great pleasure in having the Distinguished Service Medal conferred upon Mr. Flaherty as the representative of the Knights of Columbus."

While the band played The Star Spangled Banner the immense throng sang words and then the exercises concluded and the delegates marched back to the convention hall. Secretary Baker later in the day addressed the delegates at the convention, as did also Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt.

Roosevelt Praises K. of C. Assistant Secretary Roosevelt said in part: "I could cite to you scores of instances in the naval branch of the service alone where commanding officers have reported to the department on the extraordinary value of the war work activities of the Knights of Columbus for the ships and stations under them. "These were voluntary tributes, a proof that they appreciated what had been done for the men. The verdict is not only favorable, it is deeply enthusiastic, it is from the heart. "The war camp work of the Knights of Columbus owes its success to the fact that it was human, that it was run by

Helpless in Bed With Rheumatism Until He Took "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. ALEXANDER MUNRO.

R. R. No. 1, Lorne, Ont. "For over three years I was confined to bed with Rheumatism. During that time I had treatment from a number of doctors, and tried nearly everything I saw advertised to cure Rheumatism, without receiving any benefit.

Finally, I decided to try "Fruit-a-tives." Before I had used half a box, I noticed an improvement; the pain was not so severe, and the swelling started to go down.

I continued taking this fruit medicine, improving all the time, and now I can walk about two miles and do light chores about the place."

men who had a deep human sympathy with their fellow men, that there were no frills and no moralizing, but that service on big, broad lines counted first; service for man, based on good Americanism, clean living, straight thinking and true Christianity.

"Is this great work to end? I hope not. For though in a sense the war is over, yet it has left us with dozens of great war problems to be solved. Today it is undeniable that we face great tasks and that we cannot turn our backs to them. In the solution of them the Knights of Columbus can be of the greatest assistance by bringing to them the same spirit of service that they have shown in the past.

"We happen to face a form of government which has been more successful than any other in the world, and over a longer period of time. It is a form which is elastic enough to change the manner of things to meet the changing conditions. It is above all an orderly form of government. It is based on law and the observance of law. It makes changes, sometimes slowly, to be sure, but without thought, without consideration of the demands of the people as a whole.

Progress by Law and Order. "Today there is unrest in the whole world, more so in other countries than here. This unrest contains the element of things trying to get something for nothing, things who try to rush law and order off its feet, seeking to put into effect new doctrines without consultation, without thought, without consideration of the whole mass of the people.

"Everyone of us would like to see a state of perfection on earth. We would like to put the life of every man, woman and child on the highest possible basis and we are most of us working for that great end. But we know, too, that every great reform takes time and good judgment, and that too great haste often defeats its own end.

"Two things stand out in my mind as vital to keep before us in these days of crises if our form of government is to endure. First, we must continue to progress. Second, our progress must be by and through the channels of law and order. "No person, no organization, no party can put a gun at the heads of the nation and say 'hands up.' "We have the machinery and the will to continue the progress of the country. It is being worked out and will be worked out by cool heads and clear minds. "The Knights of Columbus can mightily help to keep these principles of progress and order before our eyes in the days to come. Education and high principles will win the fight in the long run."

$50,000 for Schools. During the evening session of the convention a resolution was adopted authorizing the appropriation of $50,000 from the general fund for the establishment of a series of supplementary schools for the education of the members of the order and others who desire to use them.

Girls! Have the Long Beautiful Hair that is Rightfully Yours Short, scraggy, unsightly hair is more of a habit than anything else. Hair must have intelligent care. Merely combing and washing will not keep it in a healthy condition, and give you the abundance of hair nature intended you should have.

Newbro's Herpicide should be used at frequent intervals, because it keeps the scalp free from dandruff and harmful matter due to perspiration. Herpicide keeps the scalp in a healthy condition permitting the hair to have its normal growth and sheen.

It is astounding how many men and women will go through life with little or no hair and with what they have in a very unhealthy condition, when at a very small cost, they could get Newbro's Herpicide and save and beautify their hair. NICE PROGRAMME IS NEW BILL AT OPERA HOUSE

Capacity Houses Enjoy Thrilling Serial Episode and Good Vaudeville

Two capacity houses greeted the change of programme in the Opera House last evening. The programme was one of the best that has been put on for some weeks and the large number of patrons evidently heartily enjoyed the performance. Following another episode of "The Tiger's Trail" which was both interesting and thrilling, the Headlines gave a demonstration of jumping and acrobatic feats which was a real treat. The male member without any apparent difficulty leaped into barrels out of them again and then sprang through space, clearing several of them. His feat of coming down a slide on roller skates and jumping into a barrel some distance away was clever and he was given hearty applause. His partner also did some clever tricks which were popular attractions.

Louise Vernon followed with a few nice songs, after which she played taking selections on a violin. She is a popular singer and a very good player, and received repeated and well merited applause.

Goodman and LaMar appeared in the third number on the programme. They have a little bit of chatter, a few songs and a short sketch, all of which were popular and evidently had no terrors for the audience. The Bailey Comedy four were a feature attraction. They are a colored quartette, all very good singers, clever dancers and all brim full of pep. There is something doing from the time they appear on the stage until they disappear behind the wings and they proved to be a popular attraction.

Chief Tenderbos was the last on the programme and proved to be a good choice. It was not his first appearance in this city, but his reception was as good, if not better, than when he was here before. He gave a demonstration of his own strength and proved a particularly good and in addition sang most acceptably. On the whole the programme was good and it proved a big drawing card while it is here.

CHARLES WILSON SAID TO HAVE MANY WIVES

New York, Aug. 8.—The high cost of living, which keeps so many men from matrimony, evidently had no terrors for Charles Wilson, who is under indictment for bigamy and will be placed on trial soon. He is said to have eight wives in Manhattan and dozens more throughout the country.

At present Wilson is in prison at Wauwup, Wis., serving a term for robbing a woman. He has been married three years ago. He is said to have made a living by marrying women with money and getting possession of their property. Detective Stanley Goring, in the charge of the police, said he had seen Wilson when his term expires next Sunday.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

The new Liberal leader, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King in company with Sir Sydney Fisher, yesterday placed a laurel wreath upon the grave of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Ottawa, before going to Sir Robert Borden to discuss with him the matter of bye-elections and questions of the coming session. It is reported that he will seek his election in Glengarry.

The semi-annual convention of the Maritime Wholesale Shoe Association closed yesterday in Amherst, N. S., with an outing at Tignish. President Fleetwood and W. R. Stewart of St. John were among the speakers.

ANOTHER SUGGESTION. To the Editor of The Times: Sir—Through your valuable paper kindly permit me to suggest to those in charge of the military turnout on the 15th that, as the Prince of Wales is to be mounted, why not a body of returned men of the C. F. A. or other mounted units be requested to assemble and act as guard of honor. The authorities could easily obtain horses at very little expense if they wished to do so, in fact the men might make an effort in this respect themselves if they were promised the above honored position, and the city could, or would not, stand the trifling expense.

Yours for a real turnout. AN EX-SOLDIER OF THE C. F. A.

Look for the woman who appears younger than a man of the same age and you will find the exception to that vast majority upon whom anemia—lack of iron in the blood has fastened its grip and is gradually sapping the health, vitality and beauty which most women so long to retain. In most cases men safeguard their health better than women by eating coarser foods, being more out-of-doors and leading more active lives, thereby keeping their blood richer in iron and their bodies in better physical condition. The very moment a woman allows herself to become weak, nervous and run-down she is placing a drain upon her whole system which overtaxes the power of the blood to renew wasted tissue and keep active the natural life forces of the body.

There are thousands of women who are ageing and breaking down at a time when they should be enjoying that perfect bodily health which is the result of iron in the blood, simply because they are not aware of their condition. For want of iron a woman may look and feel bigam and all run-down—while at 50 or 60 with good health and plenty of iron in her blood she may still be young in feeling and so full of life and attractiveness as to defy detection of her real age. But a woman cannot have beautiful rosy cheeks or an abundance of strength and endurance without iron, and physicians below have been asked to explain why they prescribe organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to help supply this deficiency and aid in building a race of stronger, healthier and Iron might readily build up their red corpuscles, increase physical energy, get themselves in a condition to ward off the millions of disease germs that inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. YOUNG LADY WHO GUARDS FORESTS OF STATE OF MAINE

Miss Henderson's Lonely Vigil on the Summit of Mount Kincoo—An Unusual Occupation For Women—Her Fine Record

Miss Alice Henderson of Gardiner, Maine, has the distinction of being the only woman fire warden in the state, a position which is one of the most unusual ever held by a woman in the country. Her work is watching for fires on Mount Kincoo, an elevation of between 800 and 900 feet, situated in Kincoo on Moosehead Lake. Miss Henderson, who is about twenty-three years of age, filled the position most satisfactorily last year and was re-appointed this year by Forest L. Colby, head of the Maine foresters. It is a most unusual life for a young girl to live—that of staying alone on top of a mountain in a small log cabin and spending her days in a steel tower, erected by the foresters during the years 1917 and 1918, which is sixty-four feet in height. There she sits watching for fires and enjoying her work to the fullest extent. When picnic parties climb the mountain all are favorably impressed by her friendly and cordial manner and her willingness to set forth the beauties of the surrounding country.

The view from Kincoo is unsurpassed for scenic beauty and as it is about half way up Moosehead Lake, the entire shore line is visible. A little to the northwest are seen the mountains in Quebec and very plainly, too, as the Kincoo is but twenty-six miles from Canada on a direct line. Southwest is the Dead River region.

The station where Miss Henderson works is supplied with a large map of the surrounding country and with the use of the alidade, one can find quite accurately the location of the fire. When the watchman, who is one of the most important factors in the protection work, sees smoke arising from above the tree tops, it is located by means of the alidade and the chief warden is notified immediately. If the chief cannot be found, a deputy warden is notified or word is sent to some interested person as there must be no delay in notification. Men are at once sent to the fire and it is fought to the best advantage. If the fire is near water which may be used, the flames are thus quenched, but if the fire is in a dense woodland, men attack it in front whenever possible, as the fire travels most rapidly before the wind. In order to control a fire, a strip of land is cleared of all inflammable material. If the fire is in the ground among the dead leaves, a trench is dug so as to prevent it from running along the ground. Surface fire is always fought by using brush or damp burlap, and in this way the fire flames are driven back into the fire area.

Last season Miss Henderson located three fires and so far this year she has located five, the first being at Misery Siding at Indian Pond, which was the largest ever located in the two years. There is one advantage of the lookout station for fires as discovered at once and are immediately reported to the chief and in this way they are prevented from gaining any headway.

Mount Kincoo is a popular place for picnic parties. Hardly a pleasant day passes without someone's climbing the mountain and spending the day with Miss Henderson there. She is thus prevented from feeling lonesome, although this, she says, would not happen anyway as she is in love with her work and is also a lover of the great out of doors. One disadvantage of the mountain is that there is no water there for drinking purposes at the present time, the springs having dried this year earlier than ever before. On account of this Miss Henderson has to take more frequent trips to Kincoo, going there in the morning at 5.30 o'clock and returning at seven o'clock, so in this way her work in the tower is not interfered with. Miss Henderson has many visitors on the mountain, last year showing a total of 685 names on her register and this year she has far over 400. There is a good horse path up the mountain which is frequently used by visitors on horseback.

The length of time a watchman is required to stay on the mountain depends upon the season. If it is dry the lookout is retained until the middle of October, but last fall the season was so rainy that Miss Henderson was dismissed during the middle of September after eighteen weeks of work there. This year Miss Henderson went to the mountain May 5. Having spent five summers at Moosehead Lake, she is quite well acquainted with the conditions there, but each day she says she learns something new and interesting about the country.

Living alone does not appeal to many people, but Miss Henderson is heavily armed and has no fear of intruders of any sort. This year the hedgehogs have bothered her considerably, she having killed many of them for their trouble by gnawing into her stores of food. Not long ago the Maine foresters had a most enjoyable outing at Kincoo and all visited the mountain top. On returning to the Lookout for Smoke, Miss Henderson and her vast knowledge of the beautiful country which her work

SACRIFICED TO GODS OF VOODOOS

Outbreak of Practices in Cuba Are Reported—Three Children Among Victims

Havana, Cuba, July 22.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—With the recent sudden outbreak of cannibalistic practices by voodoo worshippers, which have resulted in the deaths of at least three innocent children and a half dozen of the voodoos—the latter by the application of "lynch" law for the first time in this country's history—fathers and mothers are living in constant fear that their little ones may be spirited away by the superstitious negroes to be offered up in sacrifice to "Chango," the god of the "Brujos," as they are called in the Castilian language. The Voodoos are divided into various sects, each with its separate god. The latter include "Babagwey," god of sickness; "Eleeca," god of injury; "Olorun," god of misery, and "Chango," the terrible god, to whom human sacrifices are made.

"Chango," according to the Voodoo belief, was the son of Olorun and Anaragua. He was slain by Eleeca, the "god of injury," and ascended into heaven from a Ceiba, or god-tree, in the month of May. It is in the month of May, therefore, that the "Brujos" observe their holy week when Chango is expected to make a weekly visit to the earth, descending by the Ceiba, his sacred tree, always on Monday. The followers of Eleeca do not directly offer human sacrifices, although their healers sacrifice the lives of some patients by giving them poisonous concoctions, supposedly a mysterious cure for some ailment, in order to restore to health some other patient. Eleeca, being the "God of Injury," his followers be-

NATIONAL MOTOR TRUCKS

A Farm Truck That is Different

Acting upon the well founded belief that the present day farmer needed a dependable motor truck of heavier capacity than the ordinary farm truck, we decided to build a National of suitable size for the Canadian Farmer.

And now, we announce our "National Farm Truck"—Not a made-over pleasure car, but a truck that is especially built to meet farm haulage requirements.

The "National Farm Truck" has all the outstanding features as have the heavier industrial National Trucks, and the years of experience our engineers have acquired has made it superior in every way to the "so-called" farm truck, which really is not suitable for farm haulage.

National Farm Trucks will take their load anywhere a team can pull an empty wagon, and its individuality of design and unmatched performance is already making it the pioneer Farm Truck.

National Farm Trucks are built in Canada by Canadians, especially to meet Canadian Farm Conditions. You can use one to advantage; let us explain how.

LOST A LEG.
Pte. Frank J. O'Brien of North End will leave today for Toronto, where he will be fitted with an artificial limb to replace a leg he lost in last October in the battle of Cambrai. He had his leg blown off by a shell last fall and has just returned home recently.

WAS WITH NAVY.
Lieut. Watler K. Willis and his wife are expected back from overseas this evening, coming via the D. A. R. from Nova Scotia. They arrived at Halifax aboard the S. S. Orduna. Lieutenant Willis is well known here. He was particularly active in athletics a few years ago with the High school and U. N. B., and after graduating from the latter he went to the west. He was married in Seattle and after going to England to enlist in the navy he was later joined by his wife. They will receive a hearty welcome on their arrival this evening.

CHARLES ALBERT GRAVES.
The death of a well-known young man, Charles Albert Graves, aged twenty-seven years, took place yesterday in the St. John County Hospital after an illness of about three months. Friends will extend sympathy to his bereaved family, consisting of his mother, four brothers, Clarence of Manitoba, Harry, Frank and Blair, all of St. John, and two sisters, Mrs. George Scammon of Maine and Florence Graves at home. The funeral was held this morning at St. Martin's with burial service conducted at the grave by Rev. Mr. Wetmore. Interment was in the St. Martin's cemetery.

SOLDIERS WILL NOT KNOW THE ARMORY ON THURSDAY NIGHT

At an enthusiastic meeting in the commercial travelers this morning in the board of trade rooms committees reported that everything was ready for the big reception to all returned soldiers to be held next Thursday night in the armory. The travelers' slogan is "Everything free—everybody happy"—music, dancing, refreshments, nothing will cost the returned man or his lady friends a cent and he will have what promises to be the best time of his life, not even considering Paris, London or other places he may have visited.

The main part of the armory where the reception is to be held is gradually taking on a ball-room appearance. With painters, decorators, carpenters, three platoons of scrubbers and other workmen busy all this week the place has been transformed into a scene of grandeur and it will be difficult for any of the returned men to recognize it when they are swinging gaily round to the blissful strains of some popular dance music furnished by the Imperial orchestra, as the place where they first learned to "form fours."

The ladies' committee from the Y. W. P. A. assisting the travelers will meet on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings to prepare sandwiches for the Thursday function for which Bohemian hours will be the rule, starting with a flourish about 7 o'clock, keeping up in a merry whirl into the early morning hours. The traveling men have spared no pains, time or money in making this one of the most brilliant successes of the whole programme and they want it understood that they are running on the familiar motto "the more the merrier."

ALL NOW WELL IN HAND FOR THE BIG DAYS OF NEXT WEEK

The committees in charge of the celebrations for the 14th and 15th are just about complete with their work except for some of the minor details and all that remains is for St. John to display her well known hospitality and put out the welcome sign to all comers.

Protest to C.N.R. Headquarters—Action Against Farm Laborers' Excursions—Big Gathering of Orchardists

Fredericton, Aug. 9.—The executive of the Fredericton board of trade has forwarded a protest to the C. N. R. headquarters at Toronto against the proposed train service for the St. John & Quebec Railway between St. John and Centreville. The management is told by the executive that nothing less than a daily passenger service will be satisfactory. Woodstock board of trade is asked to co-operate.

A protest of the maritime branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association against farm laborers' excursions this year from maritime points to the west was endorsed. The endorsement will be forwarded to the C. N. R. management. Thursday, Aug. 28, will see a great gathering of orchardists here under the joint auspices of the department of agriculture and the New Brunswick Fruit Growers' Association. If the weather is unfavorable on that day the programme will be taken up on the next day.

The object is to give the orchardists of the province an opportunity of getting together and seeing what is being done in some of the big orchards in this section and also of seeing practical demonstration of modern methods of apple culture.

The details of the field day are to be worked out by A. G. Turvey, provincial horticulturalist, who conferred with the executive of the board of trade last night. Members of that body promised to co-operate and furnish motor cars to take the visitors from one district to another. It is the intention to have the visitors inspect the St. John valley nurseries at Burton and several other orchards in that section during the morning. Lunch will be served at the dominion experimental station here, after which orchards in Kingsclear and Douglas will be visited. It is expected that a considerable number of fruit growers will attend.

Judson F. Hinchey of Parker's Ridge has been nominated as a candidate for the York county council to represent the parish of Stanley. Councillor O. W. Fend, who has represented that district for two years, is to remove to Marysville and has retired from municipal politics.
