LONDON, June 8.- The war office has received the following message from Lord Kitchener under today's

Despatches received by the Associatd Press from Pretoria confirm the statements made in Lord Kitchener's communication to the war office, and say that the whole staff of the late Transvaal government, with a body guard of 40 men, surrendered last Sat-

The Boers who are to surrender are assembled and the Boer leader delivers an address to his men urging them to listen to the British officer who has been detailed on this work. The British officer then makes a speech to the men of the commando, in which he in-forms them of the admiration of King Edward and the British nation for the gallant struggle and the bravery of their people, and promises that the British authorities will do their utmost te help them resettle on their farms A meal is then provided for the Boers after which the formal surrenders occur. In many such instances the Boers have cheered King Edward and they have sometimes expressed surprise that no army was sent out to receive their surrenders. The Boers are allow ed to retain their horses and saddles, and the majority of them appear to be all the purpose will be issued upon requiglad that the war is at end, and that they will now be able to join their man.

PRETORIA, June 3.—The service of thanksgiving for the return of peace was held in the principal square of Pretoria. The Archbishop of Cape Town officiated at the service and Lord Kitchener, Gen. Baden-Powell and Lady Methuen and other prominent persons were present. The massed bands of various regiments supplied the music, and the troops and public joined in singing the hymns with wonderful effect. The singing of God Save the King and Kipling's Recessional closed the service. Lord Kitchener then mounted a dais and called so far as known are: S. J. Newell, Carl A. Carlson, Joseph Harrington, Samuel Dalzell, Dr. J. T. Stanton, Geo. A. Ribbick, Hillsdale, Mich.; William Kent, alderman of the fourth ward,

The fire originated in the basement of the building and spread rapidly to the upper stories through the elevator shaft.

The blaze was discovered by James Newell, a grocer, who noticed smoke coming from one of the basement windows and ran into the engine room to discern its cause. Behind the boilers in the centre of the cellar and within a few feet of the elevator shaft, he saw a small flame. The next in stant the flames were caught by the draught in the elevator shaft and carried up with a roar. Newell shouted to several men in the alley to alarm the inmates of the building. Severa hurried to do this, but by the time they reached the first floor of the building the flames had been carried to the roof. As the cry of fire rang through the building patients sprang from their beds, and before they could be pre-vented several had jumped from the windows to the pavement.

The fire department was on the scene within a few minutes, and as the windows were filled with people shricking for help, the firemen devoted their first efforts to save lives. While this was the means of saving a large

Alderman Kent was in a room on the fifth floor with his attendant, A. W. Wattles. The alderman, who has been totally blind for many years, was in a straight jacket, and his hands were manacled to a belt that passed around his waist.

With a the alarm of fire was sounded wattles ran to investigate. He found the elevator shaft a mass of flame, and ran back to help the alderman, who was shouting like an insane person. He had groped his way to the door and by the time the at-tendant had reached him had fallen, tendant had reached him had fallen, overcome with smoke. Wattles tried to drag him down the hall to a place of safety, but Kent had become so crazed that it was almost impossible to do anything with him. Wattles was finally compelled to run for his life, as the flames were already scorching his clothing. He ran to a window, across which were iron bars, managed to tear two of these from their fastenings, and two other men who had followed him, climbed out on the sill. FROM PALACE TO ST.

PAUL'S CATHEDRAL.

London's Streets Densely Thronged to Cheer King Edward and Oueen Alexandra

As They Passed to and From the Impressive Peace Thanksgiving

LONDON, June 8.—The noisy jubil ation with which London has resounded for the last week was succeeded today by more subdued, although not less impressive public denonstrations of thankfulness for the return of peace in South Africa. The thanksgiving services held in London today were typical of the ser-

able historic occasion. The programme of this morning was not intended to be accompanied by special ostentation; King Edward and Queen Alexandra did not pass through the streets even in semi-state, but rode to St. Paul's in an ordinary landau drawn by four horses, accompanied by pos-tillions and putriders clad in scarlet tunics. Only those members of the royal family who reside in Bucking-bam Palace accompanied their ma-jesties, the Prince and Princess of Wales and others proceeded to St. Paul's separately but by the same route. The King and the Queen were joined at the cathedral by the Prince and Princess of Wales and many other distinguished personages.

Although the weather today was chilly and dublous, the streets for the entire distance from the palace to the cathedral were thickly lined with people, who bared their heads and cheer ed as the members of the royal family and other notabilities passed. King Edward, who wore the uniform of a field marshal, was greeted with enthusiasm, and the King, the Prince of Wales and other princes were busily engaged in acknowledging salutations from the crowd. Lord Roberts, who drove with his wife and daughters, was one of the figures most conspicuously greeted with cheers. The royal personages were driven down The Mall to Trafalgar square and through the Strand and Fleet street. At Temple Bar officials of the city of London for the first time since the jubilee of the late Queen Victoria awaited the sovereign in state. The King's carriage paused when it reached the city officials, and the lord mayor of London, Sir Joseph C. Dimsdale, presented the sword of the city to the King and uttered a formal and loyal welcome. The King returned the sword, smiled, bowed and simply remarked: "Thank you very much," The streets leading to St. Paul's cathedral were densely crowded, and a number of persons fainted in the crush. The King and Queen alighted at the west entrance of St. Paul's. Here they were received by the Bishops of Stepney and London and conducted by them to their seats, which were under the dome of the building and directly in front of the pulpit. The seats in the choir stalls were occupied by the members of the present cabinet and by members of former cabinets. These gentlemen, in their dark clothes, formed a sombre group in the great gathering in which the uniforms of officials, the costumes f ladies and white surplices were con-

Members of the house of lords and nembers of the house of commons were seated on opposite sides under the dome. In addition to the presence of many army and navy officials, the military prowess of the empire was represented by detachments of the Royal Fusiliers, the Horse and Foot Guards and other regiments.

Their majesties entered the Cathedral to the accompaniment of the hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers," by the organ and choir, and the throng of worshippers rose and heartily joined in the singing. The Cathedral organ at this morning's service was reinforced with horns and other more martial musical instruments. A notable feature of the musical service was the rendition of a Te Deum composed by

Following the thanksgiving collects and at the request of King Edward, the hymn, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," was sung to the tune of "Old Hundred."

The sermon by the Bishop of Stepney was short and simple, and was preached on the effective text, "The Blessings of Peace." The service was concluded with the singing of the Na-tional Anthem.

The members of the royal family returned from the Cathedral to Buckingham palace by way of Victoria Em-bankment and received ovations all along the route from the crowds.

ACADIA CLOSING The Final Exercises of the Seminary.

An Address By Rev. Dr. G. O. Gates to the Members of the Graduating Class.

Prizes Awarded - The Alumnae Reunion - The University Sports -A Maritime Record Broken.

TED-OJ-WILL WOLFVILLE, June 3.— The year just closing under the wise and efficient management of Principal De Wolf and Vice Principal Miss Patten, has been the most successful in the history of Acadia Seminary. Abou 182 students have been enrolled, 82 pf whom have been in residence. graduating class number 19, fifteen of whom are in the collegiate course and four in the musical course. The standing is high in both departments and has been strictly maintained.

Among the many changes and im-provements for the ensuing year, the most important will be in the musical department. The authorities have decided to place a gentleman of thorough musical training and culture in charge and thus advance the high status already attained.

On Tuesday evening the graduation exercises took place in college hall. The platform was elaborately trimmed with apple blossoms and blue and white bunting, the class colors. At 8 o'clock the hall was filled with expectant people to witness the long rocession of pupils and teachers When the processional march pealed forth, played by Miss Mary Davidson of Hantsport and W. L. Wright, & vision of loveliness came into view Nearly 150 white robed girls, rivalling the apple blossoms in grace and beauty, with slow steps, keeping perfect time to the music, marched to their places in front, while the principal and faculty occupied the plat-The following programme was successfully carried out:

The essays were of an exceedingly high order, well thought out, and well delivered. Dr. G. O. Gates being called upon made an excellent and instructive address of some length. Dr. Gates spoke in particular to the members of the graduating class. In the opening of his remarks he congratulated the principal of the seminary and his co-workers of the instructor's staff on the success of the evening's entertainm which, he said, was of so high an order of merit that it reflected credit on both the teachers and the young ladies, who had so well performed their parts. The principal he complimented on reaching the close of his first year of principalship, and on the of the same. He said Mr. De Wolf, you have fully realized the expectations entertained of you when one year ago you were called to fill sition, in importance not s to that of the president of the univer-sity. He expressed the hope that the pal would long continue to fill the position which his special talents and training had so eminently fitted him for, and expressed the hope that in the after days in connection with the seminary his name might be held in the same reverence and devotion as those of Drs. Cramp, Crowley and Sawyer in the university. In respect to the seminary, the speaker said he hoped under the wise leadership of Mr. DeWolf, the time would come when the incubus of debt would be removed-the institution become endowedenlarged, until the dreams of its warmest friends would find their realization in a place of learning for young women on College Hill—so advance in its curriculum, that its graduates would not feel called upon to turn to college or university, all that they longed for of mental equipment being found in the seminary that is to

In addressing the young lady graduates, Dr. Gates congratulated them on the successful termination of their seminary course. He pictured the way through curriculum as the climbing a hill-parts of which were steep but which, though dreaded in the be ginning, they had step by step, by mental effort and persistency on their parts, aided and encouraged by their instructors, at last climbed, and tonight you stand, said he, on its sum mit and look over the long way. He intimated that there must be a special satisfaction now theirs if they had been faithful in their work, and encouraged them to take present equip ment as a starting point for m advanced work. He urged upon the class the continuing some of the courses of study already begun—the viewing the work gone over-not suffering the voice to get out of tune the hand out of practice. He said there is no reason that you should put away the easel, brushes and paint when there are bewitching bits of sce nery waiting for you to transfer them to canvas-apple blossoms in June now delicately, now deeply coloredclusters of ripened fruits in their turn making tenfold numbers of studies. If you can sing, keep your voice in tune the world needs song. If here you have pursued the literary course, do not, said he, degrade your mind by giving up the pursuit of the high, the true, the difficult for the mere passion of the sensational. He said he want ed these young women going back t their homes to go as the friends the seminary. None could do more for this institution than they if they would use the graces and refinements they had received here in the efforts to obtain other students to take their places. WOLFVILLE, N. S., June 3 .- The nnual reunion of the graduates of Acadia Seminary topk place on Monday evening in Alumnae hall, which was arranged as a parlor and artistically decorated with blue and white bunting. The president, Miss Eva Andrews, a graduate of the seminary in '85, and of the college in the class of '97, presided. Miss Grace Reynolds of Annapolis, '95, gave a piano solo, which was much enjoyed. The chronicles of the class of '90, written by Miss Ina Chipman Smith,

'90, of Boston. These are: Mabel E. Archibald, now a missionary in India; Miss Alice Brown, now Mrs. Alfred Brown, Cambridge; Ella Chipman, Berwick, now Mrs. H. N. Shaw, Toronto; Bliss Franklyn, now Mrs Ernest Johnson, Wolfville; Lalia Halfkenny, who died while teaching at Richmond, Virginia; Miss Bessie Nelson, now Dr. Low of New York; and Miss Jennie Walker of Yarmouth. This interesting paper was followed by the annual address of the president, Miss Andrews, On the Avocation Now Open to the Educated Woman. She said that the time was long past when it was necessary to ask if a higher education was essential to the best development of a woman in the point being conceded, how could this education be utilized by those who were distinctly called to go out into the world and make a place and a name for themselves? She aptly said: What shall we attempt? Almost anything. Where shall we enter? Almost anywhere. Nursing and the medical profession were especially recommended as an open door of much usefulness and remuneration. This scholarly address was full of helpful suggestions and was received with much pleasure. A short poem by Miss Crossley of Mabel Wortman. Refreshments were served and ocial reunion took place, after which Principal De Wolf was introduced to the society and made a few remarks welcoming the visitors and giving ome details of the work accomplished during the year.

One of the most interesing features of this gathering now took place—the class responses. It is much to be regretted that so many classes had no representative present.

The society was fortunate this year in having present a member of the second graduating class of Grand Pre Seminary, Mrs. R. H. Philips Fredericton (nee Rosina Bently), who reeponded for the class of 1863, the only other member being Dr. Lyall, a missionary at Swaton, China (nee Sophia A. Norwood.) A number of valuable art books have been added to the seminary library during the year in memory of the late Miss Mary Graves, by her old pupils. This pleasant reunion was

The president, Miss Eva Andrews, in the chair, Aftary, Miss Clara Cohoon, read her report. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $70 on hand. It was voted that this be devoted to the debt on the furnishings of the seminary. The society has altogether paid nearly $1,000 towards this object. The class led by Dr. Kempton was then introduced in Latin to the president, who responded in the same language and delivered to each parchment with a large red seal. They then retired from the room and returned with a hood trimmed with white down and stood to receive the president's address.

He said: "When under similar circumstances I addressed a few words to the graduating class of last year I spoke on the debt of the college graduate to the college. Today I wish to speak for a few moments on the deb of the college graduate to society. It of the greatest moment as you leave college to merge your lives in the great outside world, that you ask yourselves the question: "What am Is it with the thought that society is a debtor to you, or that you are debt ors to society? The true ideal for you out in the world of human life is to count yourselves not beneficiaries with a claim, but debtors with an ob ligation. You owe a debt to society that it will take a lifetime to dis charge." He then spoke at some length on the grounds for the claims of so ciety. For benefits received, for col lege training, for protection to life and property, for maintenance of civil order and religious freedom, and by unnumbered industrial activities. But ligation of the law of benevolence the greatest debt to society is the obwhich is the supreme law of God. He then explained how the debt could be paid, by the contribution of trained intelligence and moral enthusiasm and purpose. In closing, he said: In keeping ideals true, the will firm, and the heart warm, it may help you to look back to your college home. It will help you to take as your example noble types in the past and present who have been the true servants of their generation, but the deepest fellowship will come with Him who came not to be ministered unto but to minister, "who has given the world a new deal of living." The following members of the or class graduated with honors: Gordon Bill, Mathematics; S. J. Cann and Bessie McMillan, English literature: I. M. Baird and Barry W Roscoe, Greek and Latin; Edith Rand atin; W. Kenneth Haley, English. The president announced that the honorary degree of D. D. had been conferred upon the Rev. W. A. ALUMNI BANQUET. Over one hundred members of the ssociated Alumni, with the seniors as guests, partook of a bountiful luncheo ogether on Tuesday afternoon in the college gymnasium, which was elab-orately decorated with the college flags, Canadian flags and college colors Man is a social animal, and this is clearly demonstrated when we notice that, on any possible occasion, men arrange to assemble to partake of a repast together. There is something in the mere act of eating and drinking that promotes sociability, and some o the best speeches are made after a good dinner has been thoroughly dis ussed On this occasion the tual feast which had been enjoyed seemed to enhance the satisfaction of upplying physical demands. After the various good things had been disposed of the president of the society Prof. Frank Haley, Acadia, '84, proposed a toast to the King, which reeived a hearty response. He therewelcomed the old graduates and expressed pleasure at the love and loyity manifested by them for their mater. Dr. B. H. Eaton, Acadia 59, then responded for the board of governors, and made a humorous ech. in which he related incident of early days when he was in college W. F. ALTIMNI BUSINESS MEETING. The Alumni Society of Acadia held its annual business meeting on Tuesday afternoon. Routine business was transacted, the report considered, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: President, W. F. Parker; vice-pres., Rev. G. R. White; sec and treas., W. N. Hutchins: directors Rev. J. H. McDonald, Rev. J. H. Jenner. Rev. W. M. Smallman, Rev. J. W Bancroft, Rev. H. T. DeWolfe, Dr. G. O. Gates, Phillip W. Bill. A vigorous effort will be made to in rease the membership and enlarge the resources of the society. TENNIS TOURNAMENT. The tennis tournament was played on Tuesday afternoon on the college campus. The players from the different classes were arranged as doubles. The final contestants were Messrs Elliott and Keddy of the senior class and Bates and DeWitt of the sophomore class. There was much brillian and skilful playing, eliciting much applause from the spectators. After a close contest the tournament resulted in a victory for the seniors.

PRACTICAL PHILANTHROPY. To do good to the utmost limits of our capability is the first duty as it is highest privilege of the Christian, and in no way can more real benefits be conferred upon mankind than in making known far and wide a sure and ertain means of escape from that deadly malady-consumption. Where is the amily that does not reckon among those of its circle who have gone be fore one victim of this direful disease? It chooses the fairest, the brightest, the best, and when a fond parent sees pale consumption stealing into his loved daughter's bosom, flushing her heek, bleaching her skin, and revel ing like a living worm upon her vitals who would not hail as a deliverer sent from Heaven one bearing in his hand a remedy which would save his darling from a yawning grave? The mother anxiously watching the boy of her love, who at the threshold of manhood is seized by the destroyer and dragged with ruthless and unfinishing hand down to the tomb, would bless with all mother's heart the power which could save him. Such a power exists -the Dr. Slocum treatment for consumption, which is an absolute remedy for consumption and all throat, chest and lung diseases, also for loss of fiesh and all conditions of wasting By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have already been perm ently cured. So proof positive is Dr. cum of its power that, to increas its usefulness and make known its great merits, four large samples of the Dr. Slocum Remedies will be sent to every reader of this paper who is afflicted with the terrible disease consumption. All you have to do is to send your name, post office and expres office address to The T. A. Slocus Chemical Co., 179 King street Wes Toronto, when the four Samples of the Slocum remedies will be sent imm ately.

CONSUMPTION NOT INFECTIOUS?

Physician at Tuberculesis Congress Argues It Isn't.

Offers to Swallow Cultures to Prove Them Harmless to a Man in Good Physical Condition — Also Believes Consumption Curable and Opposes Isolation.

(N. Y. Sun. 4th.)

Consideration of tuberculosis and its pathological and bacteriological aspects occupied the morning and afternoon ssion of the American congress of tuberculosis yesterday.

Dr. L. L. Kinyoun, who made the introductory address, expressed the belief that bovine and human tuberculosis were interchangeable, and entered extensively into the history of the disease in all its phases. He said that notwithstanding the long years of pacteriological research, no serum has been discovered which will neutralize the tubercular bacillus, and the disinfection of the patient's surroundings remains the most important precaution. The safeguarding of the public against tuberculosis patients was, therefore, of the highest necessity.

Dr. H. Edwin Lewis read a paper on The Importance of Individual Predisposition in the Development of Tuberculosis, in which he controverted to some extent the views of Dr. Kanyoun, showing how rarely attendants in tuberculosis hospitals contract the disease through infection. He believed that personal resistance to the bacillus was to be strengthened by better habits of living more than by sanitary pre-

Dr. William S. Macgill of the Carnegie laboratory said that the popular belief that bacterial virulence is the chief cause of tuberculosis is an error. The present contradictory state of opinion he laid to the unsatisfactory results of laboratory experiment, which has been directed toward the destruction of the tubercle bacillus, while the cause of the tuberculosis seemed to be a higher form of microorganism

At the afternoon session the subject was The Medical and Surgical Aspects of Tuberculosis. Only five minutes was allowed to each speaker, and in that time it was impossible for many of those who were on the list to get more than started on their subjects. The papers were referred to the committee on publications, and will be printed in the report of the congress. Dr. L. H. Warner, who was to speak on The Latest Scientific Research as to the Etiology and Treatment of Tuberculosis, had barely launched into his subject when he was shut off. He is strongly opposed to the isolation of tuberculosis patients. He said that the estruction of tissue in consequence of the nervous derangement due to segregation would offset the benefits derived from special treatment. He held that perfect metabolism is the secret of mmunity and offered to prove that in his perfect physical condition he could not be infected by swallowing a dozen culture tubes of the bacillus. He said that consumption was not only not infectious, but curable, and there was ample proof of both statements. Dr. G. Lenox Curtis exhibited an electric machine for saturating the tissue with ozone, heat and light, which he said was a most efficacious treatment for consumption. He read a paper upon The Influence of Electric Dzonations Upon Tuberculosis. Dr. Milbran K. Kassabian of Philadelphia showed X-ray photographs of tuberculosis patients. He contends than by an X-ray process it is possible to detect incipient tuberculosis when

Supreme Court Having Refused a New Trial.

His Counsel Will Petition Governor Crane to Commute Death Penalty to Imprisonment for Life.

(From our own correspondent.) BOSTON, June 4.—In a decision handed down by the full bench of the supreme judicial court of the commonwealth, the finding is adverse to John C. Best, the former resident of Sack-ville, who stands convicted of the murder of George E. Bailey of Break Heart Hill Farm, North Saugus, in 1900. The ecision extinguishes the last hope of the condemned man, and it is practically certain that he will be sentenced to die in the electric chair in the state prison at Charlestown. Sentence will probably be passed sometime this month, although the execution may not take place until August, or even

The celebrated case has been before the court of the state in one form or another for nearly two years. The latest decision of the full bench overrules Best's exceptions to the denying by Judges Sherman and Fox for a new trial upon the ground of the alleged disqualification of Charles W. The supreme court says that it is plain that the defendant had no ground for bringing the case to it a second time, as the exceptions raised no question of law, but questions of factwhether the juror could hear-which were within the province of the trial judges to finally decide.

The opinion of the court by Chief Justice Holmes is as follows: "After the exceptions in this case were disposed of, a motion for a new trial was made on the ground that one of the jurors was deaf. Evidence was put in upon the subject before the judges who had taken part in the trial, a portion of the evidence being an exmination of the juror himself. "The motion was denied, the judges stating that they were satisfied that the juror heard substantially all the

"The argument addressed to us is pure argument of fact as to what the proper finding would have been, a question with which we have nothing to do, and upon which the judges considered not merely the testimony re-ported, but what they saw at the trial, as it was proper that they should. Assuming every proposition of law that could be urged in favor of the defendant, there is no ground for exception. "After the first motion had been overruled another motion was made that the hearing be reopened and the defendant allowed to introduce further evidence, cumulative in character, being the testimony of a doctor who had been consulted by the juror a little more than three months before the trial. The judges refused this motion, on the ground that the doctor's state-

BOSTON, June 5.-James H. Sisk, counsel for John C. Best, announced that he will petition Gov. Crane for a commutation of the death penalty sentence to one of life imprisonment for his client. There is no likelihood that the petition will be granted. The condemned man has requested Mr. Sisk to write to his father, Thomas E. Best of Middle Sackville, and inform him that the contest in the courts for a new trial has been hopeless.

Mr. Sisk called on the prisoner in the Salem jail yesterday and told him that the supreme court had decided against him. He greeted the convicted man in his usual cheerful manner, and Best appeared even more cheerful than did his counsel.

His spirits dropped considerably, however, when Counsel Sisk informed bim of the result of his petition. "I have some bad news for you, John,"
Sisk began. "What," said Best, "have largest schooner ever built in Canada, they turned you down again?" On being informed that they had, Best added: "I am disappointed at this. I Parrsboro Citizen band was lunched don't see how they could maintain the juror was competent." (meaning Juror Mears, who is somewhat deaf).

The prisoner kept his courage and took everything coolly. He requested Mr. Sisk to write to his father, and afterwards talked of future proceedings. He queried his counsel as to the date of sentence, and was informed that sentence would probably be pronounced this week. "All right," said Best, "tell me beforehand so that I can get shaved and make other preparations." Throughout the interview appeared cool and collected. He manifested a little or no anxiety when reminded of the only possible sentence of the court.

QUEEN TURNED THE MUSIC.

LONDON, June 6.—At noon today Queen Alexandra sent word to Anton Hegner, the New York cellist, to come to Buckingham Palace this afternoon and play for her. He did not expect the summons today, could not reach his accompanist and repaired alone to the palace in much distress. There he was received most kindly by the Queen and her daughters, Princess Victoria and Princess Charles of Denmark. When Hegner explained the difficulty Princess Victoria volunteered to accompany him, which she did for a couple of hours, with Queen Alexandra turning the music. The Queen and the princesses were most gracious and complimentary. About ten other ladies were present.

WOLFVILLE, June 6-A very pretty wedding took place in Chipman hall, Wolfville, on Thursday afternoon, June 5th, when Miss Mabel Bishop, second daughter of J. C. Bishop, was united in marriage to Sheldon S. Poole, formerly of Yarmouth. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. R. Hatch, pastor of the Wolfville Bap tist Church, assisted by the Rev. L. A. Palmer, uncle of the bride, of Pittsfield, Mass., and the Rev. George White, Hantsport. The groom is a graduate of Acadia in the class of 1900, and three of his classmates were present-J. A. Glendenning, Fred. B. Starr and Vernon L. Miller. On account of the serious illness of the bride's mother, only the immediate friends were present. Many handsome presents were received both from friends at home and from abroad. The bride looked very pretty in her going away suit of French gray. After hearty congratulations, Mr. and Mrs. Poole left for a brief visit to Dorchester, the old home of the bride, after which they will reside at Sable River,

Shelburne Co., where the groom is pastor of the Baptist Church. Mrs. W. Waring of St. John is the guest of Mrs. A. Hickman. The news of the death of Mrs. Wallace, wife of Chancellor Wallace of McMaster University, Toronto, has reached Wolfville. She was Miss Leonette Crosby of Hebron, a graduate of Acadia Seminary in the class of '83. Many friends here and throughout the provinces will sincerely mourn her early death.

Mrs. Isaac Shaw of Weston died at her home on Wednesday after a brief illness. She is a sister of the Rev. M. P. Freeman, Wolfville, and of the late David Freeman, and aunt of Mrs. (Dr.) Trotter, Rev. Mark B. Shaw, formerly missionary in India, now of California, and the Rev. Avery A. Shaw, pastor of the Brookline Baptist Church, are sons. The governors of Acadia at their recent session voted to refer the matter of college federation to the convention which meets in August at

Yarmouth. The origin of the fire which consumed the college reading room on Wednesday night is causing a good leal of discussion. The town council have taken steps to investigate the matter, as well as the reported interference with the efforts of the firemen to save the building. The governors of the college also propose to institute a rigid enquiry, and the fire companies interested will probably do the same. The building was insured for $500 in a number of companies, which carry varying percentages of the total

PARRSBORO, N. S., June 5.-The annual meeting of the Parrsboro Shore Telephone Co. was held here on Tuesday afternoon, and business of more than usual importance was transacted. A dividend of ten per cent. was declared on the year's work of the Shore line and of five per cent. on the line to River Hebert for the six months it has been operated by the company, Jenks the line recently constructed to led to that amount in shares of the par value of ten dollars. The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: President, A. W. Atkinson; secretary-treasurer, James W. Day; managing director, Capt. Johnson Spicer; directors, Percy L. Spicer, Robert Dewis, Thos. H. Armstrong, R. L. Dewis; lineman, H. C. Jenks. The instruments for the town exchange are being installed this week, and the line will be ready for business in a few lays.

The ladies of Grace Methodist church are making preparations to feed the hungry who may be induced to come to town next Saturday by the com bined attractions of the launching merchants' day and the sports in the driving park. The Baptist ladies will also provide refreshments.

PARRSBORO, N. S., June 7 .- Capt. D. S. Howard's big schr. H. J. Logan vas successfully launched today in the presence of an immense crowd of on board and furnished appropriate music, which was drowned for a time by the screaming of the tug whistles. Merchants' day is proving very successful.

(From Our Own Correspondent.) BOSTON, June 7.-The annual crop of June weddings in Boston and its vicinity is certainly an abundant one. It is said that on Wednesday of the present week more marriage cere-monies were performed in Massachusetts than ever before on a single day. In one of the city churches it is stated there were so many of these events on that day that it was with difficulty that the clergy found time enough to The marriage season is very welcome to many of the clergy in more ways than one, for it goes a long way towards lightening the financial burdens which any extended vacation during the heated term must entail.

The wedding occurred at the home of the bride, Rev. Wm. E. Waterbury, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist Church, Springfield, and Rev. Geo. W. Quick, pastor of the Highland Baptist Church, in the same city, officiating. The King residence was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The Canadian and American flags were appro priately draped together, and the festivities throughout had an international tinge. Among the guests were several Canadians, including Mrs. Mary Lawrence of Petitcodiac, mother of the groom. Mr. Lawrence spent several years in Springfield as student in the Y. S. C. Splitting Headaches Can be Stopped and the Conditions Which Cause Them Cured by Ferrozone.

Poisons accumulate in the blood and spread with it every moment to all parts of the body. The brain becomes conjested, the nerves irritated and the result is that awful headache so well known to the female sex.

Most of these poisons are absorbed into the blood from the waste matter that has accumulated in the intestines resulting from indigestion. Matter which should be promptly passed from the system through natural channels. Ferrozone cleanses the entire intestinal tract, and the liver and kidneys as well. It cures constipation and its many attendant evils. It makes the body strong and the blood pure, duces natural sleep, and enables one to eat and drink anything at any time without risk of headache, nervousne or skin eruptions.

Ferrozone is nature's own remedy for headaches. It is a lasting potent tonic and the greatest health maker the world has ever seen. It master all female derangements, and restores weak, sickly women to a healthy vigorous condition of mind and body.

The faith curist gave him a couple of little white powders, which he took and which, as he expected, had no effect. This, however, was only incidental to the principal treatment. Mr. Mercereau says the doctor put his hands on his face, rubbed the cancer, and allowed him to hope for a speedy cure. He admits that he acted foolishly in ever believing that any good could result from such treatments but he had suffered so long and had not gained any relief, that he was in a NIAGARA FALLS, Ont.) June 5.-The Orange Grand Lodge of British America opened its annual meeting here yesterday afternoon. In his address the grand master, Dr. Sproule, referring to the introduction in the Canadian parliament of resolutions to promote home rule for Ireland depreciated such action on the ground that it was an interference with a purely imperial concern. In this connection Dr. Sproule added: "The visit of Redmond and his associates to America and the treasonable and disloyal speeches made by him on this continent, coupled with the reception given him at Ottawa during his stay, at which the premier of this dominion was present, thereby condoning his offences and honoring him by attending a banquet, fall for the rebuke of every loyal subject of His Majesty as well as the censure of this association. As a privy councillor, the oath which the premier took to guard the crown against all traitorous con-spiracles and disloyal attempts to undermine its authority, one would imagine, should have induced him to refrain from committing this indiscretion. The incident reminds us of the greater need of vigilance on our part to condemn wrong, no matter by whom

They Furnished the Mother Land With an Army Larger Than the British Force at Waterloo.

LONDON, June 6.-Colonial Secretary Chamberlain, at the opening this afternoon of the temporary club erect-ed here for the use of the colonial troops who are to attend the Coronation, paid a hearty tribute to the colonials in connection with the late war in South Africa. He said the Empire owned a great debt to the colonies, for both moral and material assistance, for they had seen with an instinct unsurpassed by the most patriotic Englishman the greatness of the issues at stake and had furnished the motherland with an army larger than the British army which fought at Waterloo. They now knew also from what a great danger they had saved the Empire and how they had strengthened the bonds union between the colonies and the home country.

PREMIER ROSS CONDEMNED. While the courts are determining whether Mr. Ross or Mr. Whitney has a majority of the members elected, it has been made clear that a large ma jority of the electors are with the conservative leader. The Toronto Mail and Empire has prepared a statement which shows that the total of the majorities of the conservative candidates was 21,145. The government majorities aggregate only 13,76%, leaving a ne conservative majority of 7,377. This is we believe, the largest popular majority ever obtained by either party in Ontario in federal or provincial elections since confederation. It will be seen that if the representation were divided in the same proportion as the electorate, Mr. Whitney would have an undisputed majority in the legislature. If there is a curiosity to know why not elected a decided majority in the legislature, the inquirer may profit by a study of the Mowat gerrymander. The liberal press has made so much talk about Sir John Macdonald's al leged gerrymander of Ontario that the public outside of Ontario does not know how much more effective was the instrument provided by the Ontario government. The federal redistribution bas never, so far as we know enabled a minority of the electors to elect a majority of members. In the federal contest of 1891 there was a decided popular majority for the conservatives. So there was in 1896, though the representation in the house was about evenly divided. So again there was in 1900: But the provincial gerrymander has on at least two occasions enabled a minerity of the people to elect a majority of the members. On this third occasion a marked conservative majority of the people has probably no majority in the legislature, and if the government claim is correct, the min-substantial majority of the electors has ority vote has again secured control. To accomplish this plous purpos counties are carved in most ingenious ways. Townships and even school districts are divided and placed in separate ridings. The manipulation is skilful that the declared conservative majorities of 21,145 are gathered into fewer ridings than the liberal majorities of two- thirds that number. The average conservative majorities are placed at 430 and the average government majority at 270. The Mail and Empire shows that if the basis of representation had been such as to equalize the majorities, the house would have stood 60 to 38 in favor of Mr. Whitney, But even if the reprethe total vote Mr. Whitney would have had more than fifty supporters. On the side of Mr. Whitney there is one election by acclamation and three majorities of more than 1,000. Mr. Ross had no returns by acclamation and only two majorities over 1,000. Between 500 and 1,000, counting two majorities of 500 each, declared for Mr. Ross, the government has six majorities and Mr. Whitney fourteen. To

It will be seen that if the recounts fail to give Mr. Whitney a majority in cealed, and more dangerous groups of the legislature it is not because the people at large desired to retain the friendship. It was his task to see government in power. The ministry of Mr. Ross, like that of Sir Wilfrid here and there after an ever vanish-Laurier, has been condemned in a ing and ever returning enemy were most emphatic way by the people of not left without food for themselves Ontario. Fortunately there is yet a and their horses. The wounded and fair chance that the condemnation fever smitten soldiers had to be cared may prove effective to bring about a for. BETTER THAN THE CANADA AT-LANDIC.

The announcement of the Halifax Chrenicle that the government is acquiring running rights over the Canada Atlantic in exchange for a guar antee of the bonds of that road seem to be authoritative. Yet it was only last week that Mr. Tarte's Patrie, in a manner equally authoritative, contradicted the statement that the govnment proposed to buy the railway, and went on to discredit the idea that any arrangement such as that mentioned by the Chronicle could be made. "We would like to know," said "La Patrie, "what the governmen would do with the road, which has 'no winter connections and does not 'yet reach Montreal. The Intercolonial has cost the country dearly enough to prevent us from thinking at present of adding another load just as heavy if not still more bur densome. In order to get traffic for his railway Mr. Booth is obliged to maintain a fleet on the lakes. He is obliged to create for himself the return Boston and New York traffic Mr. Booth feeds his own enterprise with his own commerce. So there can be no question of the government buying the Canada Atlantic which before it has the terminus it needs at Montreal will cost seven or eight millions of dollars." The Canada Atlantic system empraces 400 miles of railway from Coteau to Parry Sound, passing through Ottawa. If the road were extended to Montreal it would connect the Intercolonial with the lake system. The terminus called Depot Harbor at Parry Sound has been provided with grain elevators, and it was from this point that Mr. Blair obtained the small shipment of grain a year and a half ago, which comprises about all the business done as yet/through the Intercolonial grain elevator at this port. It will be remembered that the Intercolonial railway share of the revenue received on that business was hardly enough to pay the St. John elevator charges. The minister of railways may be anxious to try the experiment again under a system which will give him the handling of the freight all the way from the lakes. Already the Canada Atlantic railway has received in subsidies from federal and local governments over $2,250,000. The existing bonded debt is $4,450,000, or over $10,000 per mile. Lord Kitchener, whom the nation has honored for his share in the South African war, has, until now had s thankless task. Following Lord Roberts, whose more definite and simple sentation had been in proportion to work was soon accomplished, he assumed the weary duty of carrying on military operations over a quarter of a continent. He could win no military glory in pursuit of the guerilla commandos. He knew that in his extended operations some of his officers would fall into traps and that there would be a history of ambushes and surprises. He soen learned that he would be charged with cruelty and barbarism if he took the most obvious show how the government majorities precautions to save his men from are scattered where they can do the slaughter by a treacherous foe. While he was Africa he had his enemy almost atways in front of him and his own forces were largely concentrated in Roberts had what his successor had not, the assistance of Lord Kitchener as his chief of staff and manager of the organization. At the end of it all it may be said of Lord Kitchener that he has not made a single important mistake in Africa. He could not keep all his officers on the alert, nor pro tect them from the effects of their own rashness or carelessness. It was necessary for him to report many misadventures which were magnified by hysterical people into disasters. There is no word to show that he ever despaired of success, or that i exasperation he gave orders or caused anything to be done that he should be sorry for. When a Boer officer was caught who had been guilty of a flagrant act of assassination, Lord Kitchener had the nerve to shoot him. He had also the justice to shoot two colonial officers who had slain Boer prisoners in cold blood. HYMN. For the Celebration of Peace. (Composed by Dean Partridge, and sung a June 8th.)

Tune-Austria. Tune—Austria.

Heavenly Father, hear our praises,
As we bend before Thy throne;
On this day we lift our anthems,
And Thy tender mercies own;
Heart and voice together blending
In our grateful songs; to Thee,
For the triumphs Thou hast given us,
Laud and glory ever be!

In the hour of doubt and anger.
England raised to Thee her cry;
Now that conquest, by Thy goodness
Crowns our arms with victory,
May we feel that Thou hast saved us,
Thine the might, the issue Thine;
In the strength of Thy salvation

Rest us, and Thy love divine.
Long and bitter raged the conflict
Forced upon us by the foe;
In our Country's hour of trial
Forth our sons to battle go;
Some thou tookest to Thy bosom,
Born again in martyrs' blood,
Firm they stood, and yielding never,
Died for England; sleep with God.

Though our hearts with grief are angui
For our loved ones resting there;
Yet we thank thee for Thy mercy
To the remnant Thou didst spare;
Peace Thou grantest like a river,
Glory like a Flowing stream;
Give us as with mother's fondness Comfort in Jerusalem, Ilsaiah lxvi.,

On the Empire Thou has guarded, Still pour out Thy grace and care; Truth and justice, peace and plenty May our vanquished foeman share Bind with us the conquered nations. In the love of Christ our Lord; Be the name of God our Saviour Everywhere, by all, adored!

"Having had poor health for a great many months and now having it restored makes me feel very grateful to Peruna. I suffered a great deal during my monthly periods, had severe pains, and was generally depressed, but can truthfully say that a few bottles of Peruna has removed all pain and made a new woman of me .--- MISS ALICE COHN.

The coming of what is known as the "new woman" in our country is not greeted by everyone as if she were a great blessing. But there is another new woman whom everybody is glad to see. Every day some invalid woman is exclaiming, "I have been made a new woman by Dr. Hartman's home treatment." It is only necessary to send name, address, symptoms, duration of sickness and treatment already received to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O., and directions for one month's treatment will be promptly forwarded. The medicines can be obtained at the nearest drug store.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

WHY DON'T THEY GO? A Way to Push off the "hang on's."

Perhaps some day you will wake up to the fact that coffee is quickly and surely doing the business for you. You wonder why the symptoms of disease which grow more and more pronounced do not disappear, but hang on in spite of all the medicines you can take. Fixed organic disease may result if you keep up your present course, and yet is is an easy thing to give up coffee and get well. Have your cook make Postum Food Coffee cording to directions, and that is easy. Use enough of it and boil long enough to bring out the taste, then you will find that the famous food drink will satisfy your coffee taste and the old troubles gradually disappear. There are hundreds of thousands of cases in America that prove the truth of this statement. A gentleman from Columbus, Ga., says, "My wife had been an invalid for some time and did not seem to yield to any sort of medicines. She ould not eat anything without distress, and naturally was badly run down in every way. "Finally we concluded that perhaps it was the coffee that hurt her, so she quit it and went on to Postum, also began using Grape-Nuts Breakfast food. She immediately began to improve and kept gaining strength and health, now she can eat heartily of anything she wants, vegetables and mything else, without hurting her. She has gained nearly thirty pounds since she made the change, "I saw such an improvement in her health that I decided to quit coffee myself and you would be surprised to see the change. I have gained in flesh about 25 pounds, and have entirely lost the old, dull headaches that I used to have so much.

"Our two children are very fond of Postum. You can use my name if you like." T. M. Coggin, 1220 10th Ave., Columbus, Ga.

ADDRESS BY BISHOP CASEY On the Conclusion of the War and the Coronation Celebration. As there is no Sunday evening service in the cathedral, his lordship the Bishop of St. John was unable make public reference, on the day th news was received, to the terminatio of the war in South Africa. On Sun day, however, he took advantage of the opportunity to make a few remarks on the subject to a large congregation present at 9 o'clock mass. Everybody, he said, must rejoice at the c of the unhappy war which had been so long carried on between the British empire and the Boers. The terms given the conquered foe were very magnanimous. Patriotism, he declared, is more than mere sentiment; mer must love their country for God's sake. It is their duty to rejoice with her in her joys, and to share her sorrows Therefore, as citizens of the greates empire in the world, the greatest that has ever been, there should be glac-ness at the conclusion of this cruel

His lordship said that Irishmen an their descendants in America would rejoice if the grievances existing with regard to Ireland were removed. The afternoon was free, and the polymorphians would parade in the evening. Rev. Mr. deSoyres stated that hearly all of the Church of England ministers, would hold their services at 9 o'clock, He saked when the military parade took place.

The chairman announced that 11 o'clock was spoken of, and Rev. Mr. deSoyres agreed that this would be most satisfactory.

The chairman announced that 11 c'clock was spoken of, and Rev. Mr. deSoyres agreed that this would be most satisfactory.

The deputy mayor explained that the military celebration would consist of the assembly of the militia at the drill shed. They would march over to the Memerica park to assist at the laying to the polymorphians and socithe corner stone of the soldiers' monu-men. A feu de joie and a royal salute would be fired. Rev. A Frightful Case of Exhausted Nerves and Debilitated System-From a Mere Skeleton Pale, Weak, Trembling and Almost Wild With Pain, Mrs Edwards was Made Strong and " ... Well by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Mrs. R. W. Edwards, 33 McMurray street, Brantford, Ont., describes her ase as follows:

"For five years I have suffered more than words can tell from nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, and exhaus-tion. The pains in my head would at times almost drive me crazy. I could not sleep nights, but would walk the floor in agony until I felt exhausted and unconscious, and my husband would have to carry me back to bed.
"Sometimes I could take no food for four days at a time and experienced terrible gnawing sensations in the stomach, had bad taste in the mouth and coated tongue. I was pale, nervous, irritable, easily exhausted, was reduced to a mere skeleton of skin and bone, and my heart would pal-pitate as though it was about to stop-

For the pea-moth add one pound of Paris green to one hundred gallons of water and add one pound of whale oil soap to every twenty-five gallons of the mixture, and

For the variegated cut-worm, the parent moth of which in England is known as the "pearly underwing," Dr. Fletcher has found either of these remedies successful—the banding of freshly set-out annual plants with either of these remedies successful—the banding of freshly set-out annual plants with rings of paper or tin; or the poisoning of the caterpillars either with traps of fresh vegetation tied in bundles and, after being dipped in a mixture of Paris green and water, or other poison, distributed at short intervals over intested land, when the cut-worms appear. A modification of this remedy which has given the greatest satisfaction in British Columbia during the past season is known as the poisoned bran remedy. This was first used successfully on a large scale some years ago in California as a remedy against grass-hoppers in vineyards, since which time it has come more and more into use, owing to its efficacy and the ease with which it can be prepared and applied. This mixture consists merely of bran, moistened with sweetened water, and Paris green, mixed in the proportion of I pound to 50 pounds of bran. In making this mixture the most convenient method is to dampen a small quantity with the sweetened water, a few ounces of sugar in a pail of water, and then add more dry bran until the whole is almost dry again. If the Paris green is added to the bran without dampening it, it sinks with remarkable rapidity to the bottom, even in this dry mixture, when it is stirred. If it is desired to use the poison as a wet application, more water can be added until it is of about the same consistency as porridge; but if to be used dry, dry bran must be stirred in until the mixture will run through the fingers easily. This poison may then be applied to the land, either around or between plants to be protected, or a row of it may be run close to the drills of crops planted in that manner.

Dr. Fisher of Fredericton, secretary of the provincial board of health, arrived here last night and has been in consultation with the local board of health, whose resignations have not yet been accepted. The board's action yet been accepted. The board's action in resigning is quite, the subject of discussion, some people contending that they have acted unwisely in view of the somewhat acute situation, and also taking into consideration the fact that the large majority of ratepayers commend their course. At the same time it is conceded that they have here subject to much provession. bject to much provocation. Last evening about 40 of the clerks of the town met in the rooms of the Utopia Club, Edward Clark in the chair, and considered the question of bration on Coronation day. notion by R. Waddleton that in view of the occasion the clerks consider that the stores of the town should be closed on the 26th of June in order that all may take part in the celebration was unanimously carried, and ommittee was appointed, consisting of the chairman, Messrs. Waddleton Carr, Parkins and Ross, to confer with he committee of the board of trade and also find out the mind of the mer chants on the question of closing th hops on Coronation day. The question is a vexed one. Merchants con-tend that country people always seize occasion of a celebration in town to do shopping, and that to expect them to close on that day is to look for On the other hand it is urged that the clerks are just the people to make the celebration a sucess, and that without their assistance the whole affair would fall flat. IN THE WORLD. Engineering, in referring to the new warships ordered, says that the new British class of battleship is of the following dimensions: Length between perpendiculars, 425 ft.; beam, 78 ft. draught, 26 ft. 9 in.; displacement, 16,-350 tons; the largest ship of the Brit-ish or any foreign fleet is 15,200 tons. This increase is accounted for by great er offensive and defensive powers. The new ship, in addition to having two 12in, guns in the forward central bar bette, and two similar weapons in the after ba bette, will have four 9.2 in. guns, each mounted within a harhette located as each of the corners of the this community and he has left a repucitadel, on either side, but a little abaft of the central barbettes, so as to enable them to fire ahead and on the broadside with a considerable de gree of training abaft the beam. In addition, there will be ten 6-in, gums, all well protected; for although the barbettes of the 9.2-in, guns are to be only of 4-in, armor, they will be behind the broadside armor, and effectually shielded, even from armor-piercing, shells. These 9. inch guns are a new featur in the secondary armament of the bat tleships, and as they will be worked like the 12-in. guns, on mountings of the Vickers' design, for loading in any position, the rapidity of fire will be very great. In the new Americ ships eight 8-in. guns are proposed for placement in the same quarters as the four 9.2-in. weapons; but in the case there is the serious objection that the limitation of the space which car be allotted to barbettes where ther are three almost in line athwart the ship, will greatly retard loading operations with two guns mounted within the barbette, so that the rapidity of fire even from two guns cannot com pensate for the increase in power 19,927 lb. from the 250-lb. shot as against the 13,602 lb. from the 250-lb. projectile. In the line-of-battle, too energy will be quite as effective as frequency of fire. As to the improved protection, it may be noted that the principal change is the increase in the lepth of the broadside armour to about 22 ft. instead of 15 ft. in previous ships, while the thickness is 9-in. on the

WASHINGTON, June 5.-Mrs. Harriet Lane Johnson, niece of President Buchanan, and mistress of the White House when the Prince of Wales vis and Mrs. Dykeman drove to the wharf ited America, has not been forgotten by Edward VII., of England. She is now in London, and will witness the Coronation by invitation of the King. Mrs. Johnson lives at Eighteenth and I streets, in the house occupied by

When the Prince of Wales came to America as "Lord Renfrew" he was invited by President Buchanan to be-come his guest in the White House. The president's household at that time who arranged several pleasure trips for the prince. She accompanied the party down the Potomac on the cutter named after her to Mount Vernon, where the prince planted a tree at the tomb of Washington. She stood with he witnessed the fireworks which were displayed in his honor. The prince enjoyed a visit with Miss Lane to a fashionable boarding school for young women, and rolled several games of nine-pins with her and the pupils. These civilities were in small part returned when Miss Lane was a guest in the British legation at dinner with the prince, but the reception and splendid treatment which he received at the hands of the president and his niece were ever remembered by the

USE FOR COAL ASHES.

These are exceedingly valuable to the plant-grower and to the grower for market in particular, says the British Fruit Grower, which expresses the optnion that they should be more freely used by growers generally. All are conversant with their value as a bed upon which to stand plants in the open, as also for a covering to stages for glasshouse work. Four sizes of steves should be used through which the ashes have to pass. A three-quarter inch mesh is used to clear the ashes of cinders, which are returned to the fires after the clinkers have been picked out for paths, etc.

The ashes are next passed through a one-half inch mesh, the part remaining in being used for drainage for pots and boxes. Then a one-quarter inch mesh is used for the portion for covering stages for the plants to stand upon. It has been demonstrated by experiment that coal ashes as we use them will always give off by evaporation much larger quantities of moisture in glass houses than will a body of water covering the same area, and the value of the tanks may be saved by the use of the by-product of combustion. A mesh of one-eighth inch is used for the balance, and this is one of the most valuable parts of a valuable whole. Almost any sort of cuttings can be successfully struck in it. Many things otherwise difficult will in this material strike readily. It can be used instead of sand for many plants in potting.

It is valuable as a means of fixing nitrogen, and canary guano and artificials of all kinds should be always mixed with an equal bulk or more some days before using. A bushel of inne ash, and allowed to lie for several days, is of nearly double value to the grower-by such admixture—that is to say, the ashes have become as valuable as the manure in actual application, for the reason that the nitrogen has been fixed and will be held by the ash for plant use, instead of being washed away by watering or rain in the open. Fine ashes are used for forcing seakale and chicory—to put about the roots. Fine ashes we use for callusing seakale cutt These are exceedingly valuable to the plant-grower and to the grower for market

C. P. R. WORK.

The season's ballasting on the Atlantic division of the C. P. R. is about completed, and on Thursday next the steam shovel which has been working on the branch lines will be brought to Bay Shore to commence operations on the second section of the new yard. It is expected that quite a large number of men will be employed on this and other improvements to be made by the C. P. R. this summer. All the culverts ter's washouts have been replaced by more permanent structures and the line is now in first class condition.

AT GALENA, ILL.

Marriage of Rupert E. Smith of the St. John Branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

And Miss Edith Regula Ridd, Only Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ridd.

The marriage took place at the beautiful residence of Mr. and Mrs. William wedding:

June is the month of roses, and this was a rose wedding, the decorations being pink and white roses. Potted plants and ferns were the back ground him on the White House balcony when of the receiving party. The library west drawing room was an exquisite bower of smilax, ferns and bride rose in which the marriage ceremony was performed. A large central bouquet of pink roses was on the dining table, which was strewn with pink roses and festooned with smilax, while a profusion of pink roses were all about the room. Fruit punch was served in the upper hall. At half-past eight the Lohengrin Bridal Chorus was heard, being beautifully rendered by Mrs. Barrett at the piano, together with a stringed orchestra. Dr. Chas. C. McLean, the officialin ante-bellum days.

King Edward has seen to it that every social distinction awaks the American woman who made pleasant his visit to the American capital more than a third of a century ago. The Prince of Wales was no stranger to Miss Lane when he came here. While her uncle was minister to England other ends in charge in the hallway. These ladies were gowned in thin white with pink sashes, and were members of a club with Miss Ridd. The attendants came up the aisle in the followwrote more cordial notes to President ing order: Miss Irene Hellman and Buchanan, thanking him for the hosand Dr. Harry Howard, Master War-ren Crawford, a little man in white, bearing the ring on a rose covered white satin cushion, little Miss Maude Elizabeth Stevens, a fairy flower girl in white with gold slippers, strewing white roses in the path of the bride, who followed on the arm of her father. quet of lilies of the valley and maiden hair ferns. The bridemalds were thin white gowns trimmed in exquisite lace and carried Ridd wore black lace and diamonds. The wedding ceremony was impressively performed to the accompaniment of soft music, after which the many friends pressed forward to offer their congratulations to the happy pair. After a delicious wedding supper was served Mr. and Mrs. Smith departed on the midnight train for a tour through the east and thence to their future home at 188 Princess street, St. John, New Brunswick, where they will first be at home to their friends on the fourth Tuesday and Wednesday in June. The going away costume of the bride was of royal blue in style of Louis XIV. Mrs. Smith does not go to St. John as a stranger, having visited there several seasons and made many friends, who will be glad to welcome her. Decorations of American and Canadian colors will greet her in her new home. Miss Ridd has grown to wome thood in Galena, and is graceful in society, a winsome and lovable young lady of many accomplishments, and will be greatly missed. Her education included much of travel in her own country and abroad, and an extensive course in music. She is a fine planist an adept with the harp, and has for the pipe organ of the Methodist Episcopal church, where her loss will be greatly felt.

Mr. Smith is in the St. John branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, and has showed marked ability in this line of business. He has visited Galena sev eral times, and has made many friends

A great many beautiful gifts were received by the young couple here, and many more await them at St. John. Each member of the bridal party was remembered with a beautiful souvenir

Many new and beautiful toiletter were worn on this occasion, and the ssemblage was a brilliant one. Among the guests from out of the city were William G. Smith of St. John: Mrs. Baume of Rockford, Ill. Mr. and Miss Stevens of Philadelphia; Mrs. Leigh Leslie of Omaha, and Edward Green of Philadelphia.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY. The home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J.

Ratcliff, St. Patrick street, was invaded on Friday evening by about fifty of their friends, who called for the purpose of reminding them that they had been twenty years married.

During the evening Mr. Gardner presented the surprised host and hostes with a beautiful sideboard as a remembrance of the occasion. Supper was served about midnight, and the gathering dispersed, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Ratcliff many more years of wedded life.

THE ADVERTISING BUSINESS.

Why Young Men and Young Women

It is omewhat surprising to the average person to be told that the advertising business is the greatest business in the world. That this is a fact is shown by statistics. At nearly as it is possible to esti-mate, there are expended for advertis-ing in the United States about $600,-000,000 a year. This is an immens amount of money—a sum whose mag-nitude can be grasped when it is noted that the entire annual wheat crop of the country is worth but $319,-000,000, the production of pig iron but $91,000,000, and that all the gold produced in the United States in one year amounts to but $210,000,000. It has just liantly profitable occupation for young men and women. The best of it is that the field is not crowded—that there i an actual dearth of people who really understand the advertising business. can be learned quite inexpensively. One of the beauties of it is that you earn while you learn, thus paying expenses as you go along.

The advertising business pays very large salaries, and the work is dignified and pleasant. Even those who do not contemplate going into the busiart, as it has become demonstr that business success is impossible without good advertising and that those who forge to the front and make ed the principles of advertising and how to apply them. Public attention Mr. Charles Austin Bates, the known advertising specialist, Vanderbilt building, New York, who has for-mulated a plan for the thorough and practical teaching of the advertising usiness in all its branches and which plan, he says, will be explained without cost to anybody who is interest

Moncton's Police Magistrate Dismisses the Charge

MONCTON, N. B., June 8.- Charles Sillick, a member of the Church of the-Living God, arrested on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of his wife, which, according tomedical testimony, was due to refusal. to have medical treatment after childbirth, was dismissed by Stipendiary Kay on Saturday afternoon.

His honor Police Magistrate Kay, in giving his decision, said that the point is that the accused had left his work, had stayed by his wife all through he sickness. He had brought a doctor there, paying him in advance, but the deceased absolutely refused to take the doctor's medicine. As to the religious belief of the accused, it made no difference. The question was, was he ne-gligent or had he admitted anything that caused the death of his wife. His honor did not believe he was or had. The evidence showed that he was very weary attentive and kind. As his honor did weary not consider the evidence sufficient to 'am, I send him up for trial, he dismissed the

Operators Say They Can Hold Out

John Mitchell Retorts, "We Can Hold Out Some Time Ourselves "-Gathering Information for President Roosevelt-No Sign of a

NEW YORK, June 9.- President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, arrived here late this afternoon, he having been sent for by Commissioner Carroll D. Wright, who is here investigating the anthracite coal miners' strike. Mr. Mitchell remained in conference with Mr. Wright for two hours. When he left Mr. Mitchell said:

'I have but little to say further than that I have talked with Commissioner Wright and have explained to him the situation from the miners' standpoint and have told him of the causes which led up to the strike."

"Was there any suggestion of a set tlement made during the interview?" President Mitchell was asked. "No. I understood that Commission er Wright was simply seeking information for an official report under the As to West Virginia he said: "Although our reports were incomplete when I left Wilkesbarre this morning, they showed that about 18,000 miners are out, All the mines will be closed there in a little while." "The operators says that they can hold out indefinitely?" was suggested. "We can hold out some time our selves."

Commissioner Wright said tonight "President Mitchell has given me all information I wanted and it will be presented to President Roosevelt. can say that I am now in possession of the facts on the miners' side of the ssue and tomorrow I will see the oper

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., June 9. Quiet reigns tonight in all coalfields in the southern portion of the state. The indications are that fewer miners will be at work tomorrow than today.
Officials of the United Mine Workers are hopeful that the operators will meet them in conference at Bramwell June 11. The operators say they will not be present.

Probably 25,000 miners were idle in West Virginia today.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 9.—President Mitchell received a number of telegrams from the West Virginia strike region today. One of them was from Fairmont, which informed the national leader that 4,000 men struck in that vicinity. He said if this proposition was kept up through all other localities the strike would be almost complete. The other telegrams received, he said, were also favorable.

SCRANTON, Pa., June 9.—Emphatic denial is made by the operators local representatives of the story that the companies will this week pool their available forces and open up a colliery or two. Vice-President Loomis, who is at the head of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western coal department, said index that the cere Laekawanna and Western coal department, said today that the companies would not open up a colliery now if they could, because the time was not ripe. Others made similar assertions. All agree that there is little use in starting up a colliery until there is a sign of wavering in the ranks of the strikers.

is a sign of wavering in the ranks of the strikers.

George Lightall, international president of the stationary engineers, came here today to work with the strikers in trying to call off the engineers still at work.

The police are making a determined effort to break up the practice of hanging efficies. Thomas Mahon and Michael McNamara of West Scranton, who were arrested for being in a crowd which hung an engineer in effigy and pelted the house with stones, were fined $30 each in the police court.

TAMAQUA, Pa., June 9.—At a meeting of delegates from all the local branches of the United Mine Workers in the Panther Creek Valley; it was decided to use every peace-able means to induce all the men still working at the various collieries to join the ranks of the strikers.

Hundreds of strikers were stationed throughout the valley today, and about 50 foreigners who had been operating the pumps were persuaded to desert their positions.

The pumps at No. 6 colliery of the Lehigh

The pumps at No. 6 colliery of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co. were operated to-day after a week's idleness.
