Mitchell of the University of Toronto, and R. P. Fairburn, deputy minister of public works.

The committee states that it would be desirable if there was importation that only the best grades be brought. n. Importation in the minds of the ommittee would not be satisfactory inless Alberta coal could be delivered in Toronto at $12.50 a ton as compared with $15.50 for United States anthracite. A ton of Alberta coal will not last as long as the anthracite and it takes 1¼ or 1½ tons to equal a ton of hard coal.

The tests in private houses showed that there was little smoke and that no good coal was found in the ashes and with a few exceptions there was no clinkers or slate. It was agreed by all who tested that the coal gave immense heat and responded quickly to draft. It must be remembered, however, states the report, that the coal was used in comparatively mild weather. About the only difficulty reported was that some had trouble in keeping the fire low until the draft, was properly regulated.

Mr. Ferguson Explains.

Mr. Howard Ferguson has broken the silence. He had a question put to him at Huntsville as to how he would enforce the O. T. A. His reply was that he would "follow the course laid down by the late Sir James Whitney, and that will be to attempt to create a sentiment which will dictate the manner in which liquor legislation is to be enforced, and it will not be to attempt to penalize the people or to compel them to take any particular line of thought."

What nonsense for Mr. Ferguson to go back and try to stand beside Sir James Whitney. He is not in the same class with the former Conservative leader.

This is 1923, and Mr. Ferguson must talk to 1923 people in terms of 1923 conditions.

His explanation is just as plain and clear as a

The Peculiar Case Of Ison.

John Ison, who confessed to having set fire to more buildings than any other criminal in Canada, was sentenced by Magistrate Graydon to ten years in penitentiary.

The magistrate's summing up of the case, and the care he gave it, in view of the fact that Ison was not represented by counsel, cannot but impress one with the justice of the sentence.

There is always a tendency now, when a man is charged with a serious or unusual crime, to resort to the plea of some form of insanity. A man would not thank a person to refer to him as insane or mentally unbalanced before a crime, but afterward it becomes a Alienists find it hard to classify a person who claims to be a pyromaniac. The medical superintendent and doctors of the Ontario Hospital say they have no such classification in all their 1,200 or 1,300 patients.

Ison set his fires cunningly; they were well planned so that the blaze would be a certainty and he would be an absentee. He seemed to be on the lookout for places that would burn well. The fact that he planned his work thoroughly, and carried it out with such secrecy, would lead an alienist to decide that he was not of the insane type, because a person of that type will display insane tendencies regardless of the surroundings. Too much planning, too great secrecy and a careful covering up of tracks are not signs of insanity.

It would not be an easy matter to classify a man of Ison's type. To all outward appearances he is a normal, smart-looking young man; the people with whom he lived in the city liked him, said he was kind and considerate, and very popular with the children. Yet in his short career he destroyed property of many times the value of what he could create in a lifetime. He can hardly be classed as normal, and yet alienists can be filled, hence they display very little worry.

It remains to be seen whether he will be able to set the penitentiary on fire. London feels easier now that he is locked up, and expresses its thanks to all bringing him within the grip of the law.

South Wellington is in for a real stand-up and "may the best man win" fight. Mr. Lincoln Goldie, a worthy citizen from a fine old family, is out for Conservative support; Mr. Mahon, a combination school teacher and farmer of Puslinch, has the U. F. O. banner in his keeping. The last to enter is ex-Mayor Frank Howard of Guelph, a fearless, hard-hitting Liberal.

FEARS FOR AMERICAN HOME.

"A storm of vicious propaganda against the monoamous family life and against the divine element in the marriage relationship is raging almost everywhere," said Dr. Bert E. "The conditions that exist in society," said Dr. Smith, "cast many obstacles in the way of family life. Some of them are inevitable and the home must adjust itself without losing the elements that make it central and supreme.

WHAT YOU CAN DO TO AVOID DANGERS OF MASTOID DISEASE

opens into the middle-ear.

The mastoid cells are of small consequence in health, but when diseased you will find that these little cells are so located and so neighbored that their involvement is serious, even fatal.

I have told you that the mastoid ommunicates with the middle-ear. in its turn, the middle-ear communicates with the nose through the eustachian tube. This relationship he will advise you. If your tonsils leaves the ear susceptible to attack, are diseased, an operation may be You "catch cold." For a few days the nose "runs." The ears feel stopped up. There are occasional twinges of pain in one ear. Then he ear begins to ache and, with intermittent periods of slight relief, couble steadily increases.

A "gathering" forms in the middleear and in a day or two the drum may break, permitting the discharge of a few drops, or of a considerable amount of fluid. Usually the pain ends now, and after a few days discharge stops, the perforation heals and recovery proceeds satisfactorily. In other cases, however, the dis charge stops and the pain returns, but now it is not alone in the ear. but it is felt back of the ear as well. LEAVING CANADA.

May 15, 1923. Editor of The Advertiser: Sir,-Picking up your very valuable paper this evening, my eyes chanced to see what appeared to me a very sad state of affairs, happening here in this wonderful country of ours. Just think of it, 62,000 Canadians have left Canada for the U. S. A. in the last few months. What is the cause of this? Is it the tariff as laid down by the present government? Is the cost of living? Is it the value of the Canadian dollar in comparison to what the U. S. A. dollar will purchase in the U. S. A.? Does the fault rest with the government, who seem to have no control or power to deal with manufacturers, dealers, middlemen that when the government has removed taxes from commodities, these so-called gentry do not reduce the price of goods to the public that have had the taxes removed from the goods that they are handling?

Mr. Editor, I do not know what the grant is for bringing immigrants out to this country, to railroads, shipping companies and others who may be interested in the transportation of immigrants. I do think it is a shame that we should lose 62,000 Canadian people, while we are at the present trying to induce people to settle in Canada. Trusting some Canada. Sir Henry Thornton Expresses Confidence in New York Interview.

Associated Press Despatch.

New York, May 17 .- That he had never been more optimistic regarding the future of the Canadian Na. tional Railways than he was at present; that he had not been hampered by political influence since accept-ing the presidency and that he was confident the huge annual deficit of the lines operated by the Canadian government would ultimately be a surplus was the hopeful outlook expressed to the Associated Press by Sir Henry Thornton, president of the C. N. R., who arrived in New York last night from Montreal for a series of business conferences. Sir Henry, who is leaving tonight for the Niagara district, said that the meetings he will attend here con-cern only minor details of the United States connections of the National Railways. He stated he was not very well acquainted with the southern portion of Ontario, and was visiting it chiefly to familiarize himself with the country and ts transportation facili-ties and requirements.

Yankees and a respectful distance above Philadelphia whose mettle they measure today. Both the Boston-St. Louis and the Philadelphia-Chicago games yesterday were prevented by bad weather.

John McGraw utilized a day off by casting off two pitchers, on one of whom, George Walberg, the lumberjack southpaw, he saved $15,000. McGraw had until vesterday to pay $15,000 from the New York Giants' cash box, or return the pitcher to the Fortland Club of the Pacific Coast League. The other hurler, Fred Johnson, was sent back to the San Antonio club of the Texas League, from which he came. Followers of the team believe McGraw has a string on both, as both showed up well, Johnson once defeating Brooklyn in masterly style. Both need seasoning.

The reinstatement of "Rosey" Bill Ryan made the loss of one of the recruits an easy one and left the Giant manager with only one player above the limit.

A few days ago the Senegalesé was severely bitten by a lion cub which he dragged into a cafe from a nearby menagerie. He was said to have been attempting to force refreshments down the beast's throat. Siki when seen this afternoon was carrying a much swollen arm in a sling. The opinion seems to prevail among the boxing experts in Paris that Siki's career as a nighter is about at an end.

The bout between him and the British middleweight, Moore, which was to have been held May 27 in Marseilles, has been postponed. The promoters of the bout, in announcing the postponement, said the wound in Siki's arm had become infected.

Training On Long Island and Dampness Bothers

Him.

By FAIR PLAY.
Copyright.
New York, May 16.—The weather on Long Island recently has been too reminiscent of the gloom of the trenches to suit Eugene Criqui. The French featherweight, has not been acclimatized as quickly as he could have wished, and his training for the Kilbane fight has been slowed up in consequence. When the writer dropped in on him today at the McConnell Farm at Manhasset, where his training quarters are located he complained bitterly of the dampness. In fact his health was anything but good immediately after his arrival in this country, and while he is coming along all right now, there was a time when he had to go slow on the strenu-

Or after hours, there's many A business desk on which Reposes, in all its splendor of Red and gold, a half pound tin of T & B. (purchased with remarkable foresight, by the Boss the day before.) Now this tin, as all and sundry know, Contains Genuine Virginia Leaf Carefully bought by Tucketts, taken to their Warehouses, and there aged and blended.

Now the Boss, being absent, his supervision Is temporarily withdrawn from the office and ALL THAT IT CONTAINS.

Consequently, it is but natural that some men. Tempted beyond their strength, dip into The aforesaid tin, filling the casual pipe For their own consumption.

But, after all, is it not best that those Who possess the GOOD things of life Should share the same with Their less fortunate brethren?

SUGAR

New York, May 16.—The raw sugar market continued quiet early today, and to sales were reported. Cubas were available at 6½c. cost and freight, equal to 8.03c for centrifugal, and duty-free sugars on the same basis.

The continued poor demand for both taw and refined sugar discouraged holders in the raw sugar futures market, and opening prices this morning showed declines of 7to 10 points under renewed liquidation. There was covering at the decline, and prices closed several points from the lowest, and at midday were 4 to 7 points net lower. The volume of business was light and the undertone was still more or less unsettled, pending the outcome of the government's appeal to the supreme court in connection with the injunction proceedings.

THURSDAY'S OPENING PRICES.
Chicago. May 17.—Commission house buying, said to be based on unfavorable reports from the Southwest, made the wheat market average a little higher in price today during the early dealings. Offerings were light and the market responded quickly to buying orders. Strength in the corn market continued to act as a bullish influence on wheat. After opening at 1/4c decline to 3/4c advance, the wheat market sagged a little and then rose all around to well above yesterday's finish.

Scantiness of receipts, together with adverse weather. lifted the corn market, despite liberal selling to realize profits. The opening, which ranged from 1/4c off to a like advance, was followed by a moderate down turn. moderate down turn.

representing a concession of $2 a ton for some makers.

Chicago, which has long been having the heavlest forward bookings, now reports that railroad car buying and oil storage tank orders have fallen off sharply. As is well known, car works are filled up for months. This accounts for the placing in the week of only 11 locomotives, 75 freight cars and 72 passenger cars, with new inquiries for less than 300 freight cars.

Pending rail inquiries amount to 300,000 tons, and the Southern Railway has bought 30,000 tons.

Three-fourths of the 12,000 tons of fabricated steel lettings (against 13,000 tons in the previous week) were for private enterprises, while of the 16,700 tons of fresh inquiries, 12,200 tons were for subways in New York and only 1,200 tons for private work.

Automobile and parts manufacturers, while still operating at the high rate of recent weeks, are following a cautious policy, and have not bought as yet for the third quarter.

Development has been commenced on two new deep levels on the Wright.

Transmissions and Differentials

En-ar-co Motor Oil Is Real Lubrication

Here's Why—All refiners make lubricants just as cooks make biscuits, yet there is as much difference in oils as there is between the delicious light, flaky biscuits mother makes and heavy, soggy apologies for biscuits some restaurants serve. In each case the raw materials are practically the same, but the "making" is different.

In making En-ar-co Oils we average thousands of tests a year. It is only by this multiplying of tests that perfect products can be made. This thoroughness in our Scientific Refining process is the protection offered to users of our products.

Your motor will run better and last longer if the Lubricating Oil is taken out every 500 miles and fresh oil put in. We do it for you with

A Want Ad Win In One Move

The Want advertiser can be likened to a checker enthusiast, engaged in solving a "problem." On the board, black occupies certain squares, white other squares. "Black to win, in four moves," reads the problem. The checker player, if he is a good one, by close study can determine just how to make black win in four moves.

In the game of business, it sometimes devolves on the Want advertiser to make his advertising win with one moveone insertion. And there are known, established ways to about doing it. The circumstances, say, are about like his. You have come on from the West to settle the estate of a relative, a restaurant proprietor. An urgent wire from your partner summons you home. You must leave on the morrow.

Your restaurant is unsold. You turn to the Want Ads to sell your restaurant for you before you leave. You have time for but one insertion of a Want Ad. Here are suggestions to make that one insertion triumphant. 1. Compose a Want Ad several times as long as you ordinarily would. Spend as much on your Want Ad as you would on several, were you not called home. Tell why the restaurant should make money for the buyer; what the equipment is; the lease; the approximate location, and why favorable. State how long the restaurant has been an established, profitable business. I Explain why the business is being sold; then, being more specific, why it must be sold within a few hours. Declare your willingness to accept a bargain price in order to close the deal before you leave. 3. Say, in conclusion, "This Want Ad will appear but

4. Compose for simultaneous insertion, at other points in the "Business Chances" classification, three or four small messages, referring the reader to your large Want Ad. For the advertiser who has an extremely brief time in which to sell, the foregoing are the methods best calculated to make a Want Ad "win in one move."

Strange Tales of Love Are Unfolded at Benton Harbor.

REVEAL NOTHING Members Refuse To Divulge the Secrets of "King"

Special to The Advertiser. by a Staff Reporter.

Benjamin.

St. Joseph, Mich., May 17.—If Shakespeare were on earth today he might easily be supplied with material enough for his tales of love to run on endlessly through knowledge of some of the romance within the religious cult of the House of David. One of the strangest stories of

One of the strangest stories of faithfulness to another than one's husband or wife, and proof that "everything will come to him who waits," is evidenced in the story surrounding Mrs. Lillian Hanniford and "Benny" Hill, members of the Israelite celony in Benton Harbor, now a subject of state investigation. The pair were members until last Wednesday, when love overcame their belief in "King" Benjamin's teachings and they departed together, though each had a mate within the colony. This week Mrs. Hanniford filed suit for divorce against hep husband, whom she alleges Benjamin forced her to marry. her to marry.

Deserted Colony. "Benny" got rid of his better half years ago, when she deserted the religious colony for other fields.

Mrs. Hanniford, 32 years of age, has been a member of the House of has been a member of the House of David for 19 years. She was one of the hundreds of girls established in Shiloh, "King" Benjamin's home. "Benny" Hill, who has gained countrywide fame as leader of the House of David band, has also been a sub-Shiloh, "King" "Benny" Hill, who has game. The second state of David band, has also been a subject of the leader for many years, Back in 1910 Lillian and Benny fell in love. In those days it did not fare well with one of Berlamin's subjects to love a Shiloh girl, 'So the "king" looked over his supply of single men and picked for Lillian a Mr. Hanniford, many years older than she.

Objected to Marriage.

She objected to the forced marriage, but objections were nothing to riage, but objections were nothing to over such a state of the most of the king was proposed by Miss Kathleen Woodward, and over such a state of the most of the most read over such a state of the most of the most delightful of the mothers and daughter" banquets was the direction of Miss one divention of the direction of Miss of the direction of

After the recent state investigation was started the couple began to see the light of day, laughed at conven-tion, and eloped to Chicago. They are breathlessly awaiting annulment of Lillian's loveless marriage and plan to wed as soon as it is granted. But, despite their sudden departure from the faith, and the happy ending of their romance in sight, both Lillian and Benny have so far refused to divulge to state officials anything of a serious nature against Benjamin which comes within the state's law limitations, which makes it necessary that alleged wrong soing should have been committed within a seven-year period to be of value as evidence,

Special to The Advertiser. Special to The Advertiser.

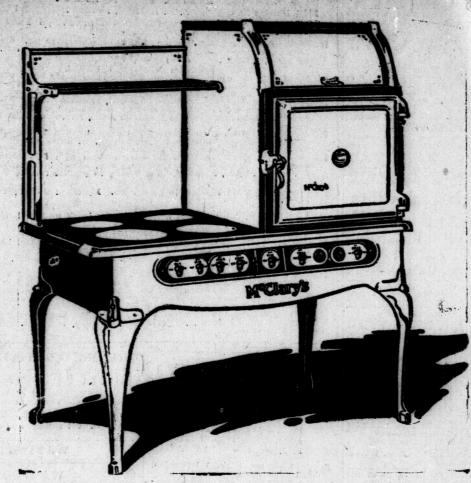

Stratford, May 17. — Stratford's annual spring cleanup, conducted by the board of works and completed yesterday, cost the city approximately $525, about $100 less than the combined spring and fall cleanup campaign of 1922. A total of $10 loads of refuse was removed from the curbs in front of local residences, and this represented $50 cubic yards. In the 1922 spring cleanup 564 cubic yards of refuse were up 564 cubic yards of refuse were

For several years the big event in the school year in an athletic way has been the annual field day in the autumn. This year the ambitious athletes succeeded in having the date changed to the spring term. Their idea was that they would receive the usual plaudits of the girls and would also be in condition to take part in the interest at the collegiate meet at London, so it was arranged to hold the field day is attention.

A PATHETIC INCIDENT.

In a great city what sharp contrasts of wealth and poverty do we see, what a kaleidoscope of jewels and rags, glittering gold and commonest fustian. Standing muffled in his over-coat, reflecting on the unequal dis-tribution of fortune's favors, we witribution of fortune's favors, we witnessed this scene a night or two ago out on Rusk avenue.

A great house brilliantly lighted. From the drawing-rooms there stole upon the frosty air the weird, fantastically sweet strains of a foreign, waltz. Through the windows could be seen passing forms of beautiful white-clad women attended by galwhite-clad women attended by gallant men. All inside was warmth, luxury and happiness. Outside near the gate stood two forms. She was minly clad and shivering with the cold. He stood with a bitter smile upon his face, listening to the music within and holding her hand. Her within and holding her hand. Her face was fair, fairer perhaps than any within those halls of joy and and positively will not die.

plenty, but her lips were drawn with the cold and the thin dress she wore was no protection against the chill north wind that blew.

"Oh, Jack," she whispered, "let us go. I am so cold."

He placed his strong arm about her waist and pressed a kiss upon her cold lips.

"Be it so," he said. "I believe the next dance is ours."

Water

PLENTY of hot water is an absolute necessity in the modern home. For dish washing—for wash days—for baths, a supply of hot water always available, irrespective of the time of year, is essential.

With the Hotpoint Water Heater you can have all the hot water you need by simply turning a switch. The heater itself, may be attached to any domestic tank, and the controlling switch placed in whatever part of the house you desire.

The patented metal-clad element, enables the Hotpoint Water Heater to give you hot water faster and cheaper than any other electric water heater. All the heat goes directly into Hotpoint Water Heaters are made in two styles—the circulation type, as illustrated, which will supply hot water almost as soon as the current is turned on, and the immersion type, which is made for continuous operation.

BETTER HEALTH Through BETTER BREAD

Alfred McCann of New York, the noted writer on foods, claims that-"80% OF THE FOODS CONSUMED BY THE AVERAGE FAMILY ARE DEFICIENT IN MINERAL SALTS."

This is not a "natural" condition, but brought about by so much commercial "processing" of foods.' Some of the valuable food elements largely removed in such "processing" are:

FOOD IRON—

The element which builds and renews the blood—and without a sufficient supply of which rich, red blood cannot be maintained.

FOOD CALCIUM—

The element in foods that builds teeth and bones, and nature's great defender against the dread tubercular.

FOOD PHOSPHORUS—

The element that has so much to do with sound, stable nerves, so much needed in these days.

WITH SUCH A LARGE PROPORTION OF OUR FOODSTUFFS DEFICIENT IN THESE VALUABLE ELEMENTS-AND OTHER EQUALLY IMPORTANT ELEMENTS-HOW INCREASINGLY IMPORTANT THAT BREAD - THE GREAT STAPLE FOOD—BE NOT THUS DEFICIENT!

KNOX C. G. I. T. BANQUET. Owing to repairs being made at

Knox Sunday School, it is impossible for the C. G. I. T. group to hold its mother and daughter banquet in the schoolroom. The Wortley Road Bap-tist Church has kindly offered the girls the use of the Sunday school, where the banquet will be held this evening.

BANQUET MOTHERS.

Blue and white decorations were used effectively with spring flowers for the mothers' and daughters' ban-quet held Tuesday evening at Maitland street church by the C. G. I. T. group. The toast list, which formed a large part of the program, was as follows: "The King," proposed by Miss Hazel Bowie, answered by the National Anthem; "Our Country," by Miss Margaret Roe, responded to by "O Canada"; "Our Church," given by Miss Ruth Schussler, was replied to by Rev. A. T. Sowerby; "Our Mothers," proposed by Miss Nellie Norton, was responded to by Mrs. A. Mantle; "Our Girls," proposed by Mrs. J. N. Norton, responded to by Miss Franklin

A helpful and interesting address was given by Dr. A. T. Sowerby, solos by Miss Muriel Coughtrey, a chorus by the girls, and a recitation by Miss Thelma Mantle were enjoyed The arrangements for the banquet were under the supervision of the leader, Mrs. Thomas Roe, and the dinner was arranged by a committee including Misses Pearl Motz, Mar-garet Roe, Thelma Mantle and Edna Barnes. The program committee in-cluded Misses Lillian Franklin, Mary Sawyer and Millie Norton.

CHAPTER XXI. My attorneys gave that witness

The conductor of the street car first to appear on the scene of the tragedy, was next called. He proved o be a "can't remember" witness. He had seen one gun there, had himself picked up a gun and handed it to the sergeant of police; after that he saw his motorman with a gun in his band; did not know whether or not it was the same gun: was not certain as to whom the motorman gave the gun; could not remember whether the gun ooked anything like the one in evidence: he did not know whether the ergeant of police had passed the gun o the motorman, who in turn handed back to one of the policemen, but hought that hardly likely.

On cross-examination his testi nony was equally uncertain. He admitted, however that the motorman could possibly have picked the gun up from the car floor.

Patrolman Robinson called for a brief examination, and non both direct and cross-examination, he swore that the motorman had not given him any gun; that the conductor had picked up a gun and handed it to him, and he in turn had handed it on to the sergeant of police; furthermore, that if the conductor or motorman had either one picked up a gun and handed it to the sergeant of police direct, he (Robinson) had not seen it.

The way matters stood then, ne two of the four had testified the same about the gun or guns. And then the district attorney had the motorman recalled. It was plain to

"I'll Not Swear to a Lie."

'Up From the Death Cell' The Story of a Man Who Won a Figh

"Mr, McDaniel," he began, "have you any particular reason for wanting it to appear before this jury that both the slain men had guns?" "My attorneys objected, but were over-ruled.

"Hi do not," was the answer. "Then why, in face of all the testimony besides your own, do you insist that you saw another gun besides

I've often have laughed—because the looks and attitude of the witness warranted it -but thought it better policy not to. "Nobody wants you to swear falsely," retorted the district attorney. "I'm only trying to keep you from

"Never mind-Hi'll keep from hit demonstration. nall right," was the quick response. And the laugh that followed caused the judge to rap for silence.

In fact, as in the other instance some of them or all swore falsely: perhaps in good faith, yet falsely nevertheless. And while in neither instance there was anything that questions by him led up to that one would have special bearing upon the case except as tending to support or break down my story, I was left wondering that day-and still wonder about it-whether witnesses would swear that loosely or falsely, as the case may have been, in another trial, where such swearing might have all the difference possible. made While I do not believe such swearing is a common thing, the thought occurs to me that for a witness to swear falsely or carelessly where a defendant is on trial for his life is a serious thing, irrespective of the character of the defendant.

My Story Stands Unshaken,

As in the former trial, the prose cuting attorney, assisted by a number of persons who sat near and occasionally consulted with him, tried for hours to tear up my version of the affair. The further he wentthe more that he, rabbit-hound-like, went back again and again and took up the trail in a seemingly confused and circle-reasoning manner-the more certain I became that there was no hope of his causing me to say one word that might be what he wanted.

He would occasionally try the oldmelodramatic tactics. fashioned Sometimes I wanted to laugh at im, but of course could not afford it. And after the first hour and a-half of his cross-questioning, I simply settled down comfortably-like range horse with his second wind on a long, cross-country run-and finally ould tell before each question was paper decision that my story concerning the tragedy had not been haken. As much as I had previously cursed the papers for things they had said about me and the case, this time I knew the judgment of the naners was sound. As a matter of fact, we always like newspapers when they say things favorable to our in-

In that trial I was forced to do one thing that had not been a part of the proceedings in my former trial. At one place while I was under cross-examination, the district attorney took from his pocket a clean and neatly-folded handkerchief: then with the other hand picked up my gun from the table and walked towards the witness chair.

"Now, then, Mr. Kane," said he. with suavity that was mingled with cutting calmness; "will you take this gun in your hand, tie the handkerchief over your face just as you had it on the night of the tragedy, and show the jury exactly how you walked into that car?'

A storm of protests broke from my side of the counsel table with the usual expressions of "irrelevant and immaterial," "improper cross-examination," and "clearly with a view to prejudicing the jury," etc. To that the district attorney answered calmly:

The Defence Is Caught. "Your honor, surely it is as maerial to the case for this defendant in his capacity as a witness to show that side of the transaction, as it was for him, at the suggestion of counsel to demonstrate here before the jury, on his direct examination, how the hand-to-hand struggle-as he claims -took place on the car."

I knew that he had us there. My lawyers had had me to step from the witness chair and, with them acting in the place of the men who had been killed, demonstrate as nearly, as I could the position we were in at the time that alleged accidental shot had been fired. Of course, I might have declined-in fact, might have flatly refused to make the latter demonstration-and it would have been ridiculous for the judge to commi me to jail until I answered; but I had an innate sense of fairness and felt that ordinary good sport ethics called for my compliance; and then, as much as it went against the grain, I tied the handkerchief over the lower part of my face, took in my hand that gun which I never had expected to hold again, and stepped down to

The spectators were anxiously awaiting the outcome. The judge failed to say anything right then, and the prosecutor—perhaps feeling that if he could induce me to speak out the young woman's name, that might rebound in some measure against me -again put the question

City Engineer Near reported yesterday that although he had already terday that although he had already served notice upon the company with respect to Stanley, Richmond and Adelaide streets, no reply had been forthcoming as to their intentions. It had been whispered, however, he related, that the company was prepared to wait for a "show-down."

"Well, this is the day for the show-down," declared Mayor Wenige,
"Let's instruct the engineer to start at once and charge them for it. We'll never have a show-down un-less we do something."

Urges Caution. Ald. John Greer was quite favor able toward the proposed pavement, but urged caution before they rushed 'blindfolded" into doubtful litigation. "It the engineer clear on his authority in this?" he questioned.
"I take my instructions from the council," explained the engineer. "They take any legal action that becomes imperative.

"I think that we should consult City Solicitor Meredith and get his opinion as to procedure," persisted "We have had that on several occasions," the mayor reported. "He said in 1921 that we couldn't collect from them, but we did it."

loan from the Bank of Commerce at Forest on October 25, 1921, by making false statements in writing that his assets were $26,106 and his liabilities $2,646.

It is stated that at a meeting of Bright's creditors in the summer of 1922, it was disclosed that his assets amounted to about $20,000 and his liabilities $16,300, and it was subsequently alleged that many of the values which he had given for his holdings were not the real values. An assignment was made on November 22, 1922. A suit to set aside certain mortgages on Bright's properties has also been started.

WOULD AVOID TRAFFIC, Special to The Advertiser.
Stratford, May 17.—In order to avoid the traffic at the noon hour and in order to insure safety the members of the Romeo Home and School Club decided that the board of education would be approached to make the hour of dismissal 11:45 instead of 12 o'clock.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any drugsist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meels with no more fear of indigestion.—Adyt.
