These girls will represent their various faculties in the Carnival Queen competition. The days ahead are sure to be busy ones for these girls, as they preside at many carnival functions, from the opening Thursday evening to the finish on Sunday. Judging of the Queens will take place Saturday.

"NEED FOR DEMOCRATIC LEADERS"

Friday evening at seven-thirty in the Students' Centre, eighty-five representatives of various provincial organizations concerned with adult education met together to begin a two day discussion upon 'Adult Education in our Community'. President Mackay welcomed the delegates as visitors to UNB. Mr. Gordon Hawkins, associate director of the Canadian Association for Adult Education, then stated that the aim of the conference was the bringing together of groups concerned with adult education with a view to consolidating ideas into a programme of cooperative action.

The discussion on 'Let's Look at Our Community' was both interesting and lively. The speakers were: Prof. Whalen of UNB, Prof. Campbell of Mt. A., Mr. A. Arsenault, secretary of the New Brunswick Federation of Agriculture, and Rev. R. DeMarch. They spoke upon the economic problems of the Maritimes, foreseeable sociological problems, and present-day problems in rural districts especially as typified by the Nashwaak Valley region.

The Saturday morning programme consisted of a film upon discussion group techniques, as well as a symposium on 'Is Adult Education Making an Effective Contribution?'

The symposium under the chairmanship of Dr. George Flowe, Ontario College of Education, again provided four fine speakers: Dr. H. Cormier, President of Sacred Heart, who represented the colleges, Dr. G. Bennett, Principal of Sussex High School who represented the schools, Mr. O. N. Mann, executive secretary of APEC who represented business, and Dr.

Katherine Connell, Vice-President of the New Brunswick Federation of Home and School Associations who represented independent organization. The speaker expressed the need for democratic leaders and greater coordination and organization on both the local and regional levels.

The delegates were divided into five discussion groups to determine the aims of Adult Education, the formation of these aims and their fulfillment.

A dinner was served in the Oak Room after which Dr. Roby Kidd, director of CAAE, gave a rather general speech on Adult Education. In the afternoon the reports of the five discussion groups were presented.

Though the speakers had been excellent, the reports of the speakers proved the highlight of the conference. One point which they stressed was the need for integration between existing organizations.

MODEL PARLIAMENT ON CAMPUS

Tonight is the joint meeting of all students interested in the formation of a Model Parliament on the campus. Expectations are that there will be a large turnout of supporters of most of the modern-day Canadian political parties, although indications are that the Progressive Conservatives will hold the sway in numbers at least. The meeting is slated for 8:00 p.m. in the Oak Room of the Student's Centre tonight, January 29.

Much has been said and written about the desirability of a Model Parliament here in the last few weeks and it is hoped that the plans of the organizers will be realized. Officials have been approached and the U.N.B. Conservative Club, the sponsors of the scheme, have reported they are ready to present concrete plans to the gathering concerning the acquiring of a Speaker and a Lieutenant Governor, the holding of elections, etc. P.C. Club president, David MacKeen, Arts, said, "We are confident that we will form the government but realize the need for a strong opposition."

VOL. 89 FREDERICTON, N.B. JANUARY 29, 1957

Letter

The Editor,
 The Brunswickan,
 University of New Brunswick
 Sir,

Through the medium of your paper I should like to draw to the attention of the Students that very shortly the elections of next year's SRC will take place. Nominations will be called for on the 30th of January. The Council is only as good as the people you put on it. I would suggest you start looking around your class for people who would really represent you. From time to time, everyone has a beef about the council. Now is the time to make sure that people who will represent your views are elected. As the enrolment increases, it becomes more and more important that conscientious people are elected to your council.

Yours truly,
 James MacDonald,
 President, SRC.

Think . . .

The above letter was printed in the editorial column of this paper because we believe it of paramount importance. Students must realize the tremendous responsibility they place in representatives of the Student Council when they are elected. In as far as student activity at UNB is concerned, the SRC has virtually complete control. Each year, budgets in thousands of dollars are dispensed on your behalf. Are you satisfied with the expenditures? Do you realize why and how these expenditures are put to work on your behalf? Do you know that all representation of the student body to outside agencies is carried out by the SRC.

These and many more questions will have to be considered when the new council slate is up for election the end of February. The only way you, as a student, can know what is happening, is to attend Student Council meetings. A vital interest in the affairs of your university is the only way efficient government here can be assured.

It is our opinion that UNB students are not interested in their own affairs. This belief is based on non-voting participation at SRC meetings. Not more than ten students have ever, with few exceptions, attended Council meetings to see what their representatives are doing on their behalf. In making this generalization, we may be at fault; we hope so.

Student Poll

The following questions are directed to Students at UNB. We believe they are sufficiently important for your consideration. Any interested answers should be directed to the "Letters to the Editor" column.

Letter to the Editor

Editor-in-Chief, The Brunswickan,
 University of New Brunswick.
 Sir,

May I clarify a portion of your article dealing with the SRC meeting of January 16th, 1957. I refer to your account of the proposal that the SRC establish a $100 bursary to be awarded to the winner of the WUSC Seminar Scholarship.

Your article reads that the World University Service solicits a "$100. bursary from the SRC to augment the $500. currently awarded" to the Scholarship winner. I only wish that your figures were accurate!

Depending upon the faculty in which the winner is enrolled, he or she presently receives gifts to the value of from $300. to $400. On the other hand, in order to qualify for the Scholarship, the applicant must be willing to donate $250. of his or her own money towards the programme. Also the recipient must provide an additional minimum of $200. to cover his or her own personal expenses. Of course the student must also be willing to forsake the opportunity of employment throughout the major portion of the summer recess.

In view of these facts, it is plain to see that the winner of the Scholarship foresakes approximately $1,000. of his or her own money. Granted that the experience gained in this venture is an invaluable one; nevertheless, the local committee never ceases to search for ways which will make it more financially feasible for the largest possible number of students to apply.

Since the winner of the Scholarship is in fact the representative of U.N.B. at the International Seminar, the local committee feels that it would be a just action of the SRC to present the winner with a $100. bursary.

Yours very truly,
 Gino Blink, Chairman.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor,
 The Brunswickan.

Sir,
 The first item on the Saturday afternoon programme of the Winter Carnival is described as "Girls Hockey". Sir, this is an abysmal affront and an outrage endangering the future of our Commonwealth of nations. May I point out that this game is to be a battle of the sexes between the Gentlemen of England and the Ladies of the University. We, although we may skate like them, are not females and are willing to prove it at any time.

Sincerely,
 Bob Day, Captain,
 Gentlemen of England.

The Editor,
 The Brunswickan,

Sir,
 It was unfortunate that the leader of a semi-militant campaign against drinking should write such a letter as appeared in the Brunswickan last week. His is, unfortunately, an attitude which is prevalent among certain sections of the community (and is yet another case in which a minority has power over the majority).

Some of Mr. Harris' points are good, for some of the drinking habits among the students can only be termed obnoxious. However because one or two people reach the happy state of inebriation a little too quickly, or with some unnecessary assistance, should we dismiss the habit, as a whole, as corrupting.

It would surely be a more beneficial move by the 'tuxis' if they were to teach their members how to drink (for most people admit that what they drink tastes pleasant). If they were to do this the members of the organization would be presented with far more frequent opportunities to influence their contemporaries. For it is far easier to restrict the quantity of spirits consumed if a majority of people are, to use an innocuous phrase, drinking socially.

Mr. Harris would have created a greater effect had he refrained from writing a letter which will raise antipathy among a majority of the student body. Let Mr. Harris confine his activities to teaching his flock how to drink, instead of leading them on one of the many roads to alcoholism.

Yours Sincerely,
 Ephriam Bedstaff.

THE HARVEY STUDIOS

Fear . . .

By Joanie Young
 Fear is an ugly word. If you tell a man he is afraid he immediately defends himself and tells you that you are no friend if you would say thus. However, lack of student interest and participation in campus affairs stems basically from fear. Man has, what psychologists call an "ego". This is a precious belonging which makes one feel that they are important. Without egotism it would be hard to live. While an individual charts a known course there are only minor events which can shake his equilibrium, but if he embarks on something new he senses the risk of feeling.

There is usually some type of controversy on our campus. It may range from Hungarian students to drinking but it exists and is discussed in lectures and over coffee. But does anyone make public their opinion? Only a few and often under an assumed name. It is not lack of interest, it is fear. If you write a letter stating what you think, you may be criticized and people may say: "You're an idiot or love to hear yourself blabber".

This fear of venturing carries over into many fields. "Wouldn't you love to discover a new country?" There are many to find. Have you ever wondered what N.F.C.U.S. is for, where the word hypodermic came from, who Mrs. Grundy of literary fame was. Most people are possessed of curiosity but how many try to find out? It is easier to do nothing than to try something new because if you try something new you may fall and every one is afraid of failure.

The adage "Do your best and that is what matters" is wrong. Most people dislike doing their best because if they do not succeed they have no consoling factor. All this leads to is that students do not participate because they are afraid. Laziness, lack of time, disinterest—call it anything you want but think when you say it.

Lack of time? The busiest men in the world have the most time. If you wanted to attack new problems which would stimulate your intellect and make living more enjoyable you could have the time.

"But I'm up here to study, I don't care about extracurricular life!" Don't care or is the shell too warm and safe to come out of? Why should you risk doing something that may be beyond your powers, while it is so much easier to sit back and criticize.

Whether it is fear or something else, the problem is there and everybody knows it. "A few run the campus." Why? Because you don't want to bother. The Ladies' Society, with a hundred and fifty girls could have a powerful voice in student affairs; N.F.C.U.S. could be a power to tie us more strongly to other universities; the Social Committee could stage better dances. There is lots to do but you're afraid to do it!

The pride of the ski club. Within that structure that will take care of you on your way "up". The going "down" depends on your own capabilities.

U.N.B. Ski Club

For all you ski-bunnies and slope dopes who may still not have used your hickories in the Maritimes and for all others who may not be aware of the tremendous development out at "The Hill" this year, we are writing to let you in on the latest achievements, as well as to provide you with a bit of past history.

Though skiing has been done around the campus since as early as the late twenties, it was not until 1947 that the University had an official Ski Club. In that year, spurred to action by several of the more eager skiers, the college leased the present site, eight miles north of town on the Royal Road.

With nothing more than a wooded slope and a strong "bug" to promote skiing, volunteer "work gangs" started in to cut trails and to lug lumber and accessories to the top of the Hill to build a cabin for week-end excursions. From that first season ten years ago, when there was really only one trail, the student body turned the once wooded slope into "one of the best ski-hills east of the Laurentians".

This fall, as students found their way back to the "Halls of Learning", your Ski Club was the proud possessor of a hill to suit all tastes, from beginners to experts. A total of seven trails, varying from the precipitous down-hill to the gently rolling pasture, were there for the choosing. Atop the hill was the homely but comfortable Chalet for those cold January days. Then for the boys who desired to "make like the birds", there was a fifty-foot jump on the hill.

Exceptional as has been the expansion of hill facilities, this expansion has not been unaccompanied by a corresponding growth of the club itself. With the influx, in recent years of many new skiers, the club has grown into one of the most active on the Campus.

Through the fall and early winter months, though the members of the Ski Club were very busy laying plans, improving hill facilities, clearing new trails and generally making ready for the busy winter season, the number of reports on Club activities that have attracted Campus attention have been relatively few. Due to unfavourable trail conditions during the fall, actual ski activities have been negligible. At the same time, the magnitude of the project undertaken by the Club this year, the difficulties of construction, and the many hazards to which they were subject, such as scarcity of materials, annual fall freeze-up, etc., it was felt that it would be unwise to publicise the work until the risk of failure had been eliminated. Hence the dearth of reports on Ski Club activities. As the weeks have passed, the projects, with the application of much time and effort, have weathered crisis after crisis, until it now appears fairly certain that they will be ready for use shortly.

One of the projects this year was the construction, at the U.N.B. Ski Hill at Royal Roads, of a Ski-tow. This is an event that has been looked forward to with eager anticipation by many weary hill-climbers for several seasons, and the '56-57 season was hailed as the time during which a tow, built under University auspices, would materialize. But when, due to devious difficulties, construction appeared to be going to be put off for more years, action by Ski Club President Chris McConnell was both immediate and effective. A week-end trip to Chalet, St. Margaret's Quebec, in the heart of the Laurentians, to secure plans for the tow, was followed by many hours of hard work spent in surveying the hill, digging post-holes, cutting, skidding and placing the poles, and in obtaining a motor to power the apparatus. Barring unforeseen

By the "Jones Boys"

Oh the Jones Boys,
 They live in a clock-tower on the side of The Hill
 And are glad that they aren't footing the bill
 For the million-buck turret that makes us feel ill.

We're jealous! Have you seen that inferior replica of our Clock tower which has been plunked on top of the new Chemistry building; and when we say "plunked" we mean it. This odd wooden monstrosity looks like a truncated pyramid with a pagoda on top. Fancy spending over a million dollars on a new "Tool Shed"!

Did you notice "A Challenge" in the back pages of a recent "Brunswickan" hidden among the advertisements and the Hungarians? We did not realize that political thinking in a university under the very shadows of the Provincial Legislative Building was at such a low ebb.

Surely now, the supposedly free-thinking students of U.N.B. don't have to be challenged to take an interest in the workings of their democratic system of government. We're shocked that a Model Parliament is not an annual occurrence, but pleased that finally the initiative has been seized, long-awaited and late as it is.

Another thing—no revision of the liquor laws yet; even after our pleading of last term, the Harrisonians still hold the sway in puritan N.B. Let's open the bars in Fredericton, shock the bootleggers, and short circuit the "power house".

mishaps, the tow will be in operation by the Winter Carnival Week-end.

The other major undertaking this fall was the replacing of the old dilapidated jump by a larger superstructure. Under the supervision of John Torunski, a fifth year forester and one of the live wires of the club the jump was built by Club members from a design submitted by Bob Lawrence, one of the top jumpers in the province, the plans of which were drawn up by ski enthusiast Fred Spinney.

The all-wood structure running back more than one hundred and twenty feet from the "lip" of the run-out and forty feet above, is expected to sail the "snow-birds" up to one hundred feet down the slope.

Financed under a University budget the impressive structure was completed with eighty-three cents to spare.

Like most other clubs your ski club sponsors a ski team, the "Red Falcons". The varsity team has done exceptionally well in past years, from seconds in the National Ski Meets in the late forties, through a long string of Maritime championships. However, we would once again like to stress the point that the Club's primary interest lies with the beginners and novices.

The growth of hill facilities, the introduction of an organized Ski-School and the development of a Maritime section of the Canadian National Ski Patrol for the protection of all skiers are open to one and all. The rest is up to you! Why not come out to ski hill this Sunday and see what your club has to offer.

EngineEars

by Red 'N Black

Well, the cold spell has finally broken so we have come out of hibernation with the realization that the Engineers' Formal is just three weeks away! Better start making plans, boys, you don't want to miss this one. Also, we hear rumours (only rumours, but—) that the Engineering Week Wassail may be introduced this year. Keep your fingers crossed, as this event has always been a study in engineering ingenuity.

Now, a word to the wise. Although it is a compliment to the Engineering Society to know that so many non-engineers like to attend the Engineers' Formal, you must realize that this dance is a private affair sponsored jointly by the U.N.B. Engineering Society and the Fredericton Branch of the Engineering Institute of Canada. Therefore the hard and fast rule will be strictly engineers and their dates only.

At the Monday night meeting of the Engineering Society, last minute details concerning the Winter Carnival and Engineering Week were finalized and then the members washed down tea biscuits with soft drinks while they watched movies on engineering projects. The election of freshmen representatives will be held soon so you freshmen should start looking around for likely candidates.

The typewriter ribbon has just "faded away" so we might as well close while we're ahead. 'Bye for now, see you next week.

DEVILS WIN AT ISLAND

U.N.B. Red Devils scored an impressive 5-2 victory over St. Dunstan's U. in Charlottetown Saturday night, in a rough, wide-open game. The outstanding feature was Claude Brown's work in the nets. Claude handled 35 shots and made excellent saves in spectacular style on several SDU shots that appeared labelled for goals. Bill McDonagh shared the limelight, scoring a hat trick. Bill Stewart picked up three assists for a profitable evening.

The game started fast and rough, but with the Devils playing disorganized hockey. Defenceman Miner MacDonald was serving time in the sin-bin when Bud Pearson scored on a pass from McDonagh. Stewart set the play up. SDU tied the score on a shot by Gaston Roy that deflected off Brown's stick into the net. With UNB shorthanded, McDonagh and Stewart combined on a passing play, with McDonagh finishing off the effort.

McDonagh in his distinctive style, scored a pretty goal to start the second period. He moved down the wing eased around a defenseman, and picked the corner. The second period was livened by a fight between Parent and Hache. Parent was boarded by Hache and he retaliated with his fists. The referees quickly restored order and assessed both combatants with minors for roughing and an extra penalty to Hache for boarding. Parent just out of the penalty box, scored on a beautiful shot that caught the top right-hand corner from an almost impossible angle. McDonagh completed his hat trick by taking a pass from Stewart and sliding the puck under the sprawling goaltender.

Tiny Fraser provided the fans with quite a kick when he appeared on the ice. One of the referees commented, during the game about the 6 foot 7 inch, 290 lb. defenseman, "I sure hope he doesn't start a fight".

SDU slowed down considerably in the second period but came back strongly in the third, starting off with Gaston Roy's second goal. SDU dominated play in this period, resulting in a greater margin of shots and territorial play.

ATHLETIC QUEEN

Word has just been received from the Alexander Athletic Club's worldwide expedition in search of the perfect queen for the Winter Carnival. The expedition has finally, after a long, hazardous trek, succeeded in finding such a candidate. Due to the difficulties encountered en route, the party will be unable to arrive before Saturday morning. However the Club's spokesman assured us that they will be here in time for the Float Parade. This will give everyone the opportunity to see this beauty from the tropics, an opportunity not to be missed by true connoisseurs of grace and old-world loveliness.

RAIDERS LACKED DRIVE

Friday evening the University of New Brunswick basketball five were handed their second defeat in as many weeks when they fell before the Nashwaaksis Nationals 72-70 in a local exhibition tilt.

The University team, playing with considerably less drive and polish than they displayed last week against Aroostook State Teachers, nevertheless were able to build up a 36-28 half-time lead. Then the Nats, under the capable leadership of former UNB star Don Brannen who netted 24 points in the second stanza, began to roll and quickly surged into a ten-point lead.

With only minutes left the Raiders threw out an all-court press and finally closed the Nats' margin to one point with just ten seconds to play. The Nats were able to control the ball, however, and Brannen added a final foul shot to give the Nashwaaksis squad their two-point victory.

The Scoreboard

For the Nats Brannen was high point man with 35 markers. Other players in double figures were Harry Niles with 14 and centre "Bud" Green with 13. Forward Ron Manzer was tops for the Raiders with 22 points, while UNB's guard duo of Johnny Gorman and Jim Milligan netted 14 and 12 respectively.

Carolyn's Comments

BY CAROLYN SOMERVILLE

This coming week-end will be THE big one for UNB. Carnival time again has rolled around and we are hoping that it will be a bigger success than ever. At the present time the prospects are not too good for snow but by the end of the week we hope to have plenty. The main events in the Carnival will depend on snow and if it should not come we will have to do our best to get along without it. The big attractions in the Carnival this year will again be skiing, swimming, badminton, snowshoe races, and hockey.

Perhaps the most anticipated event is the hockey game against Mount Allison. A short time ago the Red Devils went to Sackville and there defeated the Mount A team, the final score being 6-2. UNB is proud of this year's hockey team and we have put all our confidence in them. It has been said that the only reason Mount A lost the last game was because their team was not in shape and that it was the first game they had played this year. I do not think this is true. We have a much better chance of winning the game on Saturday as we are on home ice and the Red Devils are more determined to win than ever.

Another item of interest during the Winter Carnival will be the game of ice hockey between the English boys and all the co-eds. This should prove to be very interesting. Last year's game was enjoyed by all the spectators when the Town girls and the Residence girls battled to a tie. The game this year will be more interesting than ever. Both teams are practicing vigorously and already there are a few cuts and bruises. We have heard that the English boys are not too good on skates. Is this true?

We will find the answer to this on Saturday. Please be sure to attend. I would like to wish both teams the best of luck and may the best team win.

THE WINTER CARNIVAL

Remarks: Again the age-old beef, organizations are ignoring this department when planning meetings. It has been pointed out, however, that the Men's Residence is a hard place to reach by phone, so perhaps this suggestion will help: just write a note stating when your club plans to hold their meeting and the name and phone number of one of the executive, and drop it in the "C" box in the phone room of the Men's Residence.

THIS IS SPERRY

Part of the Sperry service to Canadian industry is to develop electronic and other systems to meet specific needs. In many cases these problems are unique in their class and must be attacked from new angles of research and experiment.

Especially trained project engineers are assigned to work of this type and are given free hand to devise new methods of meeting the situation. After experimental prototype building and many tests final manufacture and installation is undertaken.

Sperry is a company especially equipped to serve Canada.

Young engineers who seek a career in the field of electronic research or mechanical development, with freedom to think and act along original lines, should contact Sperry.
