COMMENTS ON THE WAR

Editorial from N. S. Highlander

That the Allies have "got" the Huns "going," to use a pugilistic expression, is only too plain from the success of the British and French during the last week. The Germans have lost confidence in their power to win, or, to put it in another way, they have come to fear the armies of Britain and France, the former being now in German eyes no longer French's contemptible little army, but Haig's formidable army that two days ago after a prolonged battle of ten days wrested from the Germans Pozieres on the third line position of the Huns.

Now, the capture of Pozieres, it must be made plain, is the most important single win the British have made since the great offensive smash by them four weeks ago. This is the reason why Pozieres was strongly fortified position right across the high road from Albert to Bapaume; and, as long as the Germans held it firmly, our best work further east in the Bazentin-Longueval sector was seriously hampered and even endangered. The British have been in possession of the town for some days; and now they have captured the eastern half, which—by reason of its higher elevation—might be called the Citadel.

The failure of the Germans to hold this pivotal position, in spite of bringing up reinforcements from Verdun and reserves from Germany, shows that the British are establishing a genuine military superiority on this front. When the British go into a selected and determined battle, it is they who advance—not the Germans, as too often hitherto. At Verdun, for example, it was the Germans who attacked and our Allies who defended. The British victories were merely holding fast—the Germans advanced when they won. This, too, was largely the story of Ypres. We won by not losing. Now the British win by driving the enemy before them and occupying his strongest positions. This fact is worth more than the capture of ten Pozieres.

The fight for Pozieres lasted eleven days—from July 14 to July 25. The place was defended by 200 machine guns, of which all but 30 were destroyed or put out of action by the British artillery. A species of fort in the centre of the village was defended by a company of Bavarian infantry. These troops resisted for twelve hours, and at the end of that time only four men were found alive. In a dugout, close by, a heap of sixty bodies remained unburied. The last defenders of the village were the men of a Bavarian Battalion, who were decimated as they crossed the 300 yards between the village and a cemetery, where they made their last but unsuccessful stand.

No, wonder, then, that Major Moraht, the famous German critic, was at last compelled to say that "Britain saved the allies in their time of need." But better than the capture of Pozieres, and proof of the fact that the British are gradually and persistently taking the stamina, the confidence, out of the Huns is the news that since the capture of Pozieres that the British have so improved their positions northeast of Pozieres and in the vicinity of Longueval and Delville Wood that they were able to by heavy artillery fire finally to take the last.

Hats off to the French! It seems that the German lull in the siege of Verdun is a tacit confession that the fortress stands and the siege is over. The Germans at that point have definitely and finally failed. This impressive defeat is, perhaps, not being weighed as carefully as it might be, because of the tremendous row going on further west; but it is none the less a crushing collapse of the most ambitious German movement of the war in the West since the first invasion of France. Verdun now becomes a synonym for victory in the imperishable annals of the Allies.

The French have also made an advance at the extreme right of their embattled position to the south of the Somme. They are thus slowly strengthening their grip upon this advanced bastion from which they will eventually launch their assault upon Peronne. The two West-ern Allies are co-operating in making very sure their joint foundation before they attempt the capture of so well-defended and naturally well-placed position as Peronne. The Germans all along here are in positions of their own choosing. They have accustomed to take neutral military observers along this line, and boast to them that they (the Germans) had carefully selected the very best available front in the whole district. Now they are being driven out of these selected positions; and the inference inevitably is—that they are being compelled to fall back to inferior positions.

The Russian offensive continued unwearied and unwavering. We now know what happened to the Hindenberg near Riga, where a victory was unofficially reported recently. They were shelled out of their first-line positions by the guns of the Russian Navy operating from the Gulf of Riga, which our Ally has made a tactically land-locked Russian Lake. Again here they lost carefully selected positions, and have been put at a decided disadvantage in the matter of terrain. The Russians also continue to win against Linsingen. Rivers seem to offer no impassable barrier to these intrepid troops. The Hungarians say that their disasters are due to the overwhelming superiority of the Russian artillery which is the reverse of the story of last summer. Mechanical preparedness has at long last come to our side of the game.

Russian troops covered a hundred miles advance on Erzingan within a week. The capture of that city means the virtual completion of the Russian occupation of Turkish Armenia, and gives Russia the benefit of the extremely fertile valley and opens an easy road of communication from Trebizond for the Western and Southern Caucasian armies.

Petrograd, July 29—It is officially announced today that the Russians have captured the important railway junction of Brody, 58 miles northeast of Lemberg, Galicia, and have broken through the entire first line of the Teutonic Allies west of Lusk, and have driven the Austro-German forces from the line of the river Slonevka.

London, July 29—The news that the Serbian Army again is in action raises speculation in London as to whether another phase of the great allied offensive is about to be opened in the Salonki centre. This is the fourth war for the Serbs in four years. Reorganized and re-equipped they are fighting their old enemies the Bulgars, and thus far the battle has gone in favor of England's gallant little Ally.

London, July 29—The General Federation of Trade Unions, representing 1,000,000 British workers have sent congratulations to Sir Douglas Haig, staff and heroic soldiers on the successes they have achieved since July 1st. In reply General Haig says that he realizes that much of the success in this offensive is due "to the patriotism, self-denial and whole-hearted co-operation of our brother-workers at home."

London, July 29—Commenting on the execution of Captain Charles Fryatt by order of the German Court Martial, the London Daily Chronicle says:—"This much has been perpetrated in order to terrorize British merchant sailors, just as one of the anticipated results of the German submarine policy was that allied sailors refuse to be terrorized."

Brilliant Dance at Aldershot

Officers of Nova Scotia Highland Brigade Entertain Officers of American Legion—Notable Event

The spacious Royal School of Infantry building, Military District No. 6, which was formally opened at Camp Aldershot on Monday of this week, was the scene, on the following evening, of a brilliant social event, which was largely attended by the officers in Camp and their ladies, and by prominent citizens and their ladies from Kentville.

The occasion was a dance tendered by the Brigadier, Lt.-Col. A. H. Borden, and the Officers of the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade, C. E. Finlayson, Lt.-Colonel Jolly and Officers of the 97th Battalion, American Legion, also in camp.

The large hall was specially lighted with colored electric bulbs and Chinese lanterns, and beautifully decorated with cut flowers, evergreens, spruce trees, flags and pennants, and over the numbers of the five battalions in camp were wreaths and festoons. Engaging dance music was furnished by the band of the 85th Battalion, and by the Orchestra of the 85th band, the dance programme including waltz, one, two and three steps, fox trots, lancers and Paul Jones.

Among the guests were Col. W. E. Thompson, Camp Commandant and staff.

The chaperones were Mrs. A. H. Borden, Mrs. N. H. Parsons, Mrs. F. Day, Mrs. J. Stanfield and Mrs. M. Roseco.

The dance committee consisted of Capt. J. M. Gillies, Major A. A. Sturley, Lieut. A. T. Croft, Lieut. C. W. Sutherland and Lieut. R. D. Graham. The happy and brilliant function continued from 8:30 p. m. till midnight.

British Artillery Amazes Germans

Admit English are No Longer "Amateur Gunners"—Want Peace

With the British Armies in France, via London, July 28—Quite a number of German prisoners told me that their people were sure this war would be over in August or September. They had been promised that.

"Do you think you are winning?" I asked a man of real intelligence.

"We thought so," he answered, and he raised his hands and shrugged his shoulders, "and now the English are stronger than at first thought."

It seems they did not believe that such defences as those of Fricourt and Montauban could ever be broken. The new power of the British artillery amazed them. They spoke of it with terror. Officers admit they did not imagine "amateurs gunners" could achieve such results. They admit the possibility of their army having to retire to a new line of defence, but I have not found one man to speak of defeat. They are still convinced that the German army can never be beaten to the point of surrender.

On the other hand, German soldiers do not want the war to go on; they have a great craving for peace. They want to see their wives and children again. One strain of thought that creeps out in their talk is the suggestion that they fight not as foemen desiring to fight, but compelled to fight by higher powers, against whom they cannot rebel.

NOVA SCOTIA'S GOOD RECORD

The Canadian Courier of recent date gives a detailed description of the work that Nova Scotia has accomplished in the line of recruiting. Nearly 19,000 men have enlisted for service overseas comprising the 176th, 25th, 40th, 64th, 85th, 112th, 185th, 193rd and 219th Battalions. In the bargain numerous drafts taken from the Fortieth. Five hundred men enlisted from this Province in the 6th C.M.R. Three or four heavy and light batteries drew further upon the population. The Cycling Corps, Dental Corps, Army Service Corps, Ammunition Parks, Drafts from the Composite and other Home Defence Battalion, etc., etc. In addition three thousand men have enlisted for home defence according to figures compiled over six thousand men have been turned down as physically unfit.

A HABIT

In the midst of battles there are plenty of examples of the English phlegmatic temperament. One gunner, lifted into the air by the concussion of a shell said after he came down: "I wish they had provided cushions."

A corps commandr, after all plans were complete for the attack at 7:30 o'clock in the morning, said before lying down to sleep:

"Wake me at 7.45. The first reports will be in then."

At army headquarters of the different commanders everything seems to be going on as usual, in the quiet business-like fashion, amidst the battle.

Lieutenant General Sir George Goringe, who figures largely in the recent Mesopotamia despatches, is one of the youngest officers of his rank in the British service. At the age of 33 he commanded a column in the Boer War, and at 43 he was a major general.

Every grave at the front is marked by a single cross, with name, regiment and date of burial recorded. Accurate surveys are kept of every burial ground.

IMPORTANCE OF FRUIT INDUSTRY.

(1) Gaspareaux Valley, King's Co. (2) Starr's Point, King's Co., N.S. (3) Packing Room at Hillcrest, N.S.

It is said $140,000,000 has been invested in Canadian fruit production so that this is one of our great national industries. In a year of average production 15,000,000 bushels of Canadian apples are marketed, of which Ontario alone ships on an average 1,300 car-loads into the prairie provinces.

Most famous of all orchard areas is the Annapolis Valley in Nova Scotia nine miles wide and eighty miles long. With the Dominion Atlantic Railway running through the valley the growers have ideal packing and shipping facilities. 60 p.c. of the crop being handled co-operatively by one central association. Plums and pears are also grown here on a commercial scale.

Ontario is the proud possessor of the original McIntosh Red Tree which still stands at Dundela. Large apple orchard districts are found (1) along the lake shore line of the C.P.R. (2) West of Toronto bordering on Lake Erie and Lake Huron. (3) In the Georgian Bay District, and (4) in the Niagara Peninsula which also produces 95 p.c. of the grape crop and at least 75 p.c. of the Ontario peach crop. Plums and pears are grown wherever apples are produced in Ontario.

British Columbia has developed its fruit industry during quite recent years, the number of fruit trees increasing from 650,000 in 1901 to approximately 3,000,000 in 1913; and the production of apples from 210,000 bushels in 1910 to 757,750 bushels in 1915. The principal fruit-producing section of the Province is the Okanagan Valley, where fruit is packed and marketed largely in a co-operative way, similar to that in vogue in Nova Scotia. There is also a large apple section in the Kootenay Lake District and on the Lower Mainland. Pears and plums are also grown very successfully in these sections of the province already mentioned, and peaches have been planted quite extensively in the southern part of the Okanagan Valley.

Between 1,250,000 and 1,500,000 barrels of Canadian apples are consumed outside of Canada every year, and most of these in Great Britain. The growers of Nova Scotia and Ontario cater especially to the Old Country market, though some British Columbia fruit also reaches it. Nova Scotia has been developing, for some years past, a trade in South America and South Africa, with very satisfactory results. British Columbia exports considerable quantities to Australia and has even experimented with China and Japan. Should any pressure of circumstances interfere with the export fruit trade, a very serious situation would present itself, for it would be necessary either to double the consumption of fruit in Canada, or to allow tremendous quantities to waste in the orchards. The severity of the situation would only be lessened by concerted co-operation on the part of the consuming public and those who cater to its demands.

Parliamentary Secretary of Militia Impressed With Habitant of N. S. High-Bridge

CHICAGO BEAT CANADIANS

Chicago, July 28—Chicago carried off the honors in the lacrosse and soccer matches staged in connection with the Canadian Red Cross Fund meet at Comiskey Park. The local lacrosse team downed the Sportsmen's team of Toronto by five goals to four, after a hard battle, while the Chicago District League soccer team defeated the Canadians by 3 to 1. Ernie Woods the English professional champion, defeated Tom Longboat the Canadian Indian star, in a match race of two and one-half miles.

The match race between Longboat and Woods demonstrated that the Indian star is not the runner that he once was. For one mile Longboat ran with his old stride, but after Woods once got the lead Tom tired and was just able to jog across the finish, nearly 500 yards behind the English champion.

FOUR THOUSAND BRITISH OFFICERS

Killed, Wounded and Missing During First Three Weeks of July

London, July 28—The severity of the fighting since the beginning of the present offensive on the western front is indicated by the list of casualties among officers issued by the War Office, showing for the first three weeks of July, 1,108 killed, 2,834 wounded, and 491 missing, a total of 4,433. This makes the aggregate loss since the beginning of the war 33,857, of which 10,105 were killed, 21,290 wounded, and 2,462 missing.

The proportion of killed to wounded is still about two to one, although it was rather less than this during the first fortnight of July.

THE ADVERTISER

KENTVILLE, AUG 1, 1916.

H. G. HARRIS

Editor and Publisher

We find it necessary to ask pardon of our subscribers for delays in issuing both of our papers last week, Tuesday and Friday. Difficulties with our machinery caused the regretted delay.

The expected has happened and the Meredith-Duff commission has passed in its report which exonerates the Government and the Minister of Militia from any neglect or wrong doing. After all the shouting and fuss over terrible revelations and corruption Mr. Kyte has been compelled to admit he made no charges and that the frothings of the Liberal politicians was for momentary political effect and not for the good of the Dominion.

TOWN POLICE COURT

Monday morning saw some unusual excitement in Police Court circles. Since the Militia Camp constables, Chief of Police and N. S. Temperance Act Inspectors have kept the lid on pretty tight and as a consequence little drinking has taken place. But Sunday the lid was lifted and three men were brought into court before Deputy Stipendiary Shaffner and all pleaded that they obtained their liquor from soldiers. Whether true or not they all received a stiff fine.

Charles Wilson of Bear River came to Kentville with an auto to make some money out of the soldiers. All went smoothly until he got tangled up with a telephone post near the Wickwire hill and knocked the post out in the first round. The auto was considerably the worse of the encounter. He was gathered in by our police and was fined $20 which he paid.

Wm. Carroll was accused of being found drunk on the street and the fine meted out to him was $15 or 20 days.

H. Belcher was also gathered in with the others and fined $15 or 20 days. A short time was given for the payment of last two fines.

The atmosphere around Kentville is now very unhealthy for any one who patronizes the choice "mountain dew."

HOLLAND DEFIES

Germany in her threatened reprisal

The Hague, July 27—Holland has defied Germany and the threatened reprisals by the Kaiser's government in refusing the recent demand that she permit canal boats to go from German to Belgian territory through the Dutch canals whatever their cargo. Under international law munitions of war cannot be permitted to pass through neutral territory, but Germany's anxiety to improve her transportation facilities to the Belgian front led her to demand that Holland violates this law.

The Dutch refusal has brought the demand to a crisis, and all here are anxiously awaiting to see whether Germany dare attempt to make good her threats.

LOOKS AS THOUGH BRITAIN EXPECTS WAR WILL END SOON

London, July 27—In new contracts made by the British Government Departments for material concerned with the war there appears a clause providing that such contracts may be canceled at any date after September next.

Amsterdam, July 28—A Berlin official statement says that four German destroyers have captured two British cargo steamers in international waters off Landskriona, Sweden.

BRITISH AND FRENCH STILL ADVANCING

Germans Backing Towards Home

London, July 30—The joint Anglo-French attack was resumed on a seven mile front of Somme this morning, and all along the line from Delville wood to the river the Germans were driven back from a quarter to half a mile.

Desperate German counter attacks were repulsed, all the ground taken was held, and as a result tonight the British are holding lines to the east of the Waterlot farm and the Trones wood, just under the edge of Guillemont, and the French have clearly Hem, the woods and quarry north of it and the Monacu farm and have reached the outskirts of Maurepas.

It was to the French that the bulk of the day's honors fell. Springing from their trenches in the early morning they drove the Germans from a complete system of trenches five miles long and in places a half mile deep.

There had been the usual heavy artillery preparation, and they found little left of the German trenches which they could turn to their own use. But they immediately dug in and when the fierce counter attacks came were ready and held firm. The fighting is reported as desperate, particularly near the Monacu farm, and the German losses were very heavy.

The British were fighting over territory they had won and lost before. This time they were also ready for the counter drives and night found them holding all they had gained. The drive took them to the edge of Guillemont, which they had entered twice before.

The day's successes menaced the German lines in two ways

The allies have driven a wedge in between the Albert ridge and Peronne. The most serious danger lies to the north, where they are passing around as well as over the eastern end of the Albert ridge, and will soon be in the rear of the German lines there. The French threat to Peronne is also grave, since they have straightened and cleared their lines north of the river, in the direction from which their final attack will be launched.

The renewal of the intense bombardment is on a wider front than the Somme attack, and the British raids around Ypres and Loos, forecast a wider offensive than has yet taken place, military experts here believe.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION AT NEW YORK

An explosion took place at Black Tom pier New York on Sunday where a huge amount of explosives for the Allies were awaiting shipment. It seemed to shake the whole city and the loss is heavy. Two men have been placed under arrest charged with manslaughter of four who were killed and about forty others wounded.

About $5,000,000 worth of ammunition was destroyed.

BASEBALL WITH OUR SOLDIERS AT CAMP ALDERSHOT

Baseball fans in camp were treated to a tight edge baseball last Saturday when Capt. Brooks led his Braves of the 85th. to victory over a team composed of the boys of the blue feather regiment under Capt. McDonald to the tune of 11 to 4, making enough runs in the third to win the game.

A large number of spectators gathered for the fray which took place on the 285th. diamond, and a lively interest was centered in the match as was evidenced by the non-lack of support given each team by their respective enthusiasts. Devine as box performer for the 193rd. started well retiring six men out of seven on stakes in the first two innings. In the third inning however the balloon went up when the 85th. sluggers got right after the opposing slab artist with a vengeance. A couple of hits and errors were responsible for six red feather men crossing the plate, thus winning them the game. Further scoring in the fourth, sixth, seventh and ninth innings added five more runs to the number making eleven in all.

With new faces on their line-up, the 85th. played winning consistent ball all the way through, outstarring their opponents in both fielding and batting. They were out to win. Fisher on first showed his ability as a first-class initial sackman in handling the difficult ones. A hair raising fly catch by Boyd, who relayed to second, thus making a double play in the third retired the 193rd. and brought forth a full round of applause from all sides. McIsaac occupying centre garden for the 193rd allowing a swift one to pass through his legs gave Brooks the credit of a home run in the ninth. The 193rd. got their first tally in the third and scored again in the six and eight, making four in all. Devine, although receiving very poor support from his team-mates pitched very good ball but not with his usual steady style as he weakened towards the end. Brownell, as opposing slabinan for the 85th. displayed unusual form and allowed very few bits. Lieut. Andrews, on second for the 193rd., played a snappy game. This was the first appearance of Mr. Andrews in the Brigade League. Formerly he played with the Middleton ballteam, at one time champions of Nova Scotia.

Owing to many of the regular players from both teams absent on having furlough either line-up could hardly be called their best representative strength. This was especially noticeable with the blue feather men, who usually playing snappy ball, failed to land the punch in the pinches when a hit meant a run. This along with costly errors lost them the game.

Following were the players:—
85th. Jackson, c. f.; Boyd, c. f.; McNeill, s. s.; Brooks, 2nd. b.; Brownell, p.; Lieut. Snow, c. Doret 3rd. b.; Fisher, 1st. b.; Johnson, r. f.; 193rd. Civieter, s. s.; McEachern, c. f.; Herbert, r. f.; Lieut. Andrews, 2nd. d.; McIsaac, c. f.; McDonald, c.; McWilliams, 3rd. b.; McEachern, 1st. b.; Devine, p.

CRESCENTS DEFEAT 97th BALL TEAM

In a return baseball match with the Crescents in Halifax, last Saturday, the team representing the 97th. American Legion went down to defeat before the onslaught of the Haligonians on the Wanderer's athletic grounds, the final score being 9-5 Under Capt. Hanlon the 97th. boys left Aldershot with their strongest line-up but were unable to make amends for their defeat recently in Kentville. Heavy batting by both teams featured in the game but with an early lead the Crescents were able to keep just a little ahead of their opponents during the entire match. Many spectators witnessed a good hit and run game.

Admiral Beatty is described as a handsome, dashing Irishman, with all that race's traditional fondness for a fight. Admiral Beatty is married to a daughter of the late Marshall Field, of Chicago. She has given her private yacht to the British Admiralty to be used as a hospital ship, and has been most active in Red Cross work.

KINGSPOORT ENJOYS UNUSUAL SUNDAY

Capt. MacKinnon Spoke in Church—Corp. Kemp Sang—193rd Band at Pier

The heavy clouds that hung low over the camp all last Sunday, and darkened at times into threatening showers, deterred a great many from the weekly trip to Kingsport. Only one train left, at half-past four carrying with it the band of the 193rd.

But Kingsport, draped in its gray shadows, was as picturesque and charming as ever. The rich green fields, the red cliffs, the soft sands on which the waves lazily broke, the far-stretching vistas melting away in the mists on the horizon, filled the spectator with a sense of quiet restfulness that cleansed and elevated the soul.

Not a few yielded to the temptations of a salt sea bath, and splash after splash was heard from the pier head; others sauntered along the cliff and gazed on Blomidon lifting its broad shoulder to meet the clouds; while others found entertainment in the endless diversity of the sea shore.

In the afternoon and evening the 193rd band played. A service was also held in the Congregational Church where Capt. Clarence MacKinnon of the 219th preached, and Mr. Kemp, a member of the 193rd. band, sang splendidly "Face to Face." It was perhaps a pity that the time arranged for the band to play should be the hour of service, as many were prevented from enjoying both.

The programme of the band—
AFTERNOON
The March of the Mighty.
Waltz—Little Darling.
March—Still Alarm.

EVENING PROGRAM
March—United Musician.
Sacred Selection—Joy to the World. (full band, Bandmaster? Lieut. Jas. White, Soloist.)

God Save the King.
The Ladies of Kingsport entertained the members of the band royally.

WHY SUFFER

Breathe Hyomei and Kill the Loathsome Catarrh Germs

Just as long as you have catarrh your nose will itch, your breath will be foul, you will hawk and spit and you will do other disgusting things because you can't help yourself. The germs of catarrh have got you in their power; they are continually and persistently digging into and irritating the mucous membrane of your nose and throat. They are now making your life miserable; in time they will sap your entire system of its energy, its strength, its vigor and vitality. But there is one remedy that will kill the germs and cure catarrh, and that is Hyomei, the Australian dry air treatment.

Joseph Dural, of Woodstock Street Tavistock, Ont., says: "Catarrh had given me all kinds of suffering for a long time. There was a swelling of the glands under the eyes and adjacent to my nose and the discharge would drop into my throat. I used several remedies, but never got the relief that I did from Booths Hyomei. I have been so pleased with Hyomei results that I highly recommend its use to catarrh sufferers. J. D. Clark, druggist, will guarantee Hyomei to cure catarrh or money back. Don't delay this pleasant antiseptic treatment. Breathe in Hyomei and kill the germs."

J. D. Clark will sell you a complete Hyomei Outfit, including inhaler, for only $1.00. It is also guaranteed to cure bronchitis, asthma, coughs, colds, hay fever and croup.

Paddy Quite Innocent

The prosecutionist had a strong case against Paddy. His hat, which all the inhabitants could identify, had been found on the premises. Paddy, however denied all knowledge of the headgear and swore that he was not within a mile of the place at the time of the outrage, and so well did his witness corroborate his statement that he was able to prove an alibi.

Paddy was found "Not guilty," but seemed reluctant to leave the dock. The Magistrate, thinking he did not understand the verdict, explained: "Well my man, you are discharged, you need not wait."
"If ye please, yer honour," replied Paddy, "I'm waiting for me hat."

BERLIN YIELDS TO KITCHENER

(From the Boston Transcript.) There is more than surface significance in the fact that the city of Berlin, Ontario, has by popular vote changed its name to Kitchener, and that this change has been ratified by the City Council. This thriving, progressive municipality, which is the chief centre of the Canadian Germany, has long been noted for its sense of individual distinction. For years after it had reached the stature of a city it preferred to be known as "the largest town in Canada." All attempts to amalgamate it and the adjoining town of Waterloo have been frustrated because neither place was willing to merge its individuality or lose its name. But the war has changed all that. The Germans in Canada have been for the most part demonstrative in their loyalty to the British Empire. Feeling themselves under suspicion because of their descent and their language, they have made haste to shed their racial peculiarities and to make themselves like their fellow-countrymen of Anglo-Saxon origin.

The plan of changing the name of Berlin was first mooted at the beginning of the war. But besides offending civic pride it seemed then like a gratuitous and slightly affected gesture of loyalty. More, recently, however, the merchants of the city have begun to feel a loss of trade because of the stigma of the Teutonic name. Something like an informal boycott has taken on the part of outsiders. Therein doubtless lies the real motive for the change, and also the deeper meaning of the episode for the whole problem of trade-reconstruction after the war.

Economists have asserted rather to blibli that commercial relations are unaffected by national alliances or animosities. Sentiment, they say, must inevitably yield to dollars. Taking a long distance view of the matter, this statement is no doubt comparatively correct. Still it does not require anything contradictory to the well-known motives of human nature to believe that for perhaps a generation after the present war there will be a very considerable readjustment of trade entirely independent of commercial treaties or tariff laws. It will be of the personal, voluntary sort, and will be based on sentiment. Most Canadians, for instance, with whom one talks insist quietly but firmly that they will hereafter deal as little as possible with Germans. It is only fair to assume that much of this feeling will linger until the memories of the war grow faint. The pressure which has brought about the metamorphosis of Berlin into Kitchener is another interesting bit of side-evidence that the economic interpretation of history is not all-sufficient.

In Saxony, Baden, and other of the German States, egg cards have been introduced, limiting the purchase of eggs to not more than three a week for each inhabitant.

BRITISH AND GERMAN EMPIRES

Q—What is the population of the British Empire, including the United Kingdom and the Dominion and dependencies beyond the seas? What is the population of the entire German Empire at home and abroad.

A—The population of the British Empire is, roughly and moderately reckoned 420,000,000 souls. Of these above 300,000,000 are in India, with 5,000,000 or 6,000,000 more in the other Asiatic dependencies? Egypt and the Soudan account for more than 14,000,000; 60,000,000 white people inhabit the great Dominions, and the remaining forty or fifty millions are made up of black fellow-subjects in Africa and the West Indies. The subjects of Kaiser Wilhelm at home and overseas numbered at the outside before the war some 80,000,000. The British Empire holds, therefore, more than five times as many people as the German Empire. But the German Empire of two years ago is no more. The German overseas dominions are gone.

WATERVILLE HERO KILLED IN FRANCE

Waterville, July 27—Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Swift, of Waterville, Kings Co., have received official news that their son, Otis, aged twenty, was on July 3rd accidentally killed in France. Otis crossed to Europe with the 6th C. M. R. in the autumn of 1915, and was there in the company under command of Captain Henry H. Pineo. Having just returned from severe fighting in the trenches, and while engaged in despatch service on a bicycle he was overrun by a motor-lorrie and instantly killed. Letters since received from Major Chaplain A. W. Woods and Captain Pineo, speak very highly of Otis as a soldier, and of the excellent service rendered by him. He was buried with military honors on July 4th in the military cemetery to the rear—the general, the colonel, and other officers under whom he served, as well as his own company, being in attendance. It is pleasing to note from the letters received—the regard, honor and care given, where possible, to the bodies of fallen heroes.

FUNERAL OF DR. WILFRID HARRIS

The funeral service of Dr. Wilfred E. Harris was held at his former home at Aylesford on Friday last and was very largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. T. C. Mellor of Kentville, burial at Auburn. The wife of the deceased accompanied the remains here.

Universal regret is expressed at the sudden and painful termination of such a promising career. Dr. Harris was one who lived a worthy and exemplary life and in his career had honored his native county.

The Principal of the School for the Deaf, Halifax, N. S., would be obliged if medical men, clergymen or teachers would let him know of any deaf or partially deaf children in their neighborhood. There are many children throughout the Maritime Provinces whose hearing is so defective that they cannot be successfully taught in the ordinary hearing schools. Such children are eligible for admission to the School for the Deaf at Halifax where their speech will be perfected and lip-reading taught to them.
