

LE AND WEAK
DESPOUDENT PEOPLE
Their Condition to Weak
Waters Blood—How to Regain Strength

Every woman's health is peculiarly dependent upon the condition of her blood, and too many women suffer with headaches, pains in the back, poor appetite, indigestion, palpitation of the heart, constant feeling of weariness, shortness of breath and nervousness. Of these all these symptoms may not be present in any particular case. They are, however, a warning that the blood is out of order, and that it is thin and watery. If you note any of these symptoms in your own case, you should lose no time in taking the proper steps to enrich and purify the blood. Anemia—poverty of blood—is a most insidious disease allowed to run will end in a complete breakdown of the system. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are, beyond doubt, the greatest blood-making tonic offered to the public to-day. For more than a century they have been the remedy of hundreds of thousands of women in all parts of the world. No medicine has ever achieved such a wide popularity, and the reason is plain—his medicine does what is claimed to enrich and purify the blood, bringing new strength to every organ and new nerve in the body. In this Dr. Williams' Pink Pills bring new life to weak despondent people, and many who speak highly of the medicine, is Mrs. Louis D. Larch, of Ontario, who says:—"It would be impossible for me to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills too highly. Some time ago I was very thin and pale; I felt many of the symptoms of anemia; I always felt tired, depressed and I had tried several medicines, but they did not seem to help me. Then I read the advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before I had used half a dozen boxes I was feeling like a new person and I had gained nine pounds in weight. I had taken the pills until I had used a dozen boxes, and from that time I always enjoyed the best of health. I write this letter in hope that women in need as I was, will see to be benefited as I have been."

PRESENT unrest all over Canada is rather disconcerting and difficult to properly label. It would seem as if the whole country has gone money mad and that there is no relief from a ever-widening circle of demands and counter-demands for more money that leave the people no better off, whatever their income, than they used to be.
MAY this year displayed more heat by six degrees than May 1918, as 94 was the maximum on the 31st of last month, while 88 was the highest on May 31, 1918. On May 3 this year, the lowest, 53 degrees, was registered, while on May 11 last year 28 was the lowest mark. Nearly twice the amount of rain fell in May this year, measuring 5.05 inches, as compared with 3.74 inches in May 1918.
THERE will be no excursions this year to the Ontario A. C. in Guelph except by motor. A LAW recently passed by the Ontario Legislature compels the removal of all cut-outs from autos and motorcycles must muffle their machines so that people will no longer be tormented by the unearthly noises that have made life miserable for years. THE funeral of the late Joseph S. Williams, whose death was announced in last issue, was held on Friday afternoon at 2.30 to the Watford cemetery and was largely attended. Service was held at the house by Rev. T. DeCourcy Raynor, pastor of the Congregational church, assisted by Revs. Savers and Tiffin. The pallbearers were John Kingston, John Williamson, John Bryce, J. F. Elliott, W. D. Cameron and David Roche. Besides his immediate family Mr. Williams is survived by two brothers, Mr. John S. Williams of Toronto, Mr. E. F. Williams of Vancouver, and one sister, Mrs. John Baker of Watford.
ON Sunday morning last at the Congregational church, Watford, the regular monthly Sacrament service was held, when five new members were received into the church, including the heads of two families. The pastor conducted the impressive reception ceremony and extended the right hand of fellowship to the new members. The outlook for the church is exceedingly encouraging. Owing to the extreme heat the pastor announced at each service that the men were at liberty to remove their coats to enable them to worship with greater comfort. This privilege will be continued throughout the summer months, so the men will have no excuse for staying away from the services.

THE coming of the young Prince of Wales to Canada in the summer will not be a visit merely of the heir to the throne but the visit of an exceedingly popular officer of the British army in France. The Prince came into contact often with the Canadian forces at the front and will seem like an old friend to many of the officers and men.
THREE more Watford boys returned from overseas during the week, Roy J. Lawrence, H. Murphy and Vern Johnston. The first two enlisted in the 149th batt. in 1915, the last named going over with a Central Ontario regiment. As no notification of their arrival was given, but few were at the station to meet them, but their return home is nevertheless warmly welcomed by all. They have done their part.
CITIZENS are warned to look well after their small change, especially half-dollar pieces. Bad silver is being circulated in Western Ontario and it is only by the closest scrutiny that the bad ones can be detected. The work on the half-dollar piece is almost perfect. The only detection that can be discovered is in the milling around the edge of the coin. It is not as perfect as it is on the Government's money. The die work on the head and wreath of maple leaves is considered an absolute replica of the good money. Where the bad money originated is a mystery.
REV. and Mrs. T. DeCourcy Raynor, Miss Jean McCormick and Miss Alma Morris, are in Hamilton, attending the annual meetings of the Congregational Union of Canada. They return on Saturday. Rev. At the evening service his topic will be "Buying a Miracle," when he will relate the story of a child who tried to "buy a Miracle" for a sick brother and the happy result that followed. You are cordially invited to attend each of these services.
THE REGULAR MEETING of Tecumseh Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. Stapleton, with the Vice-Regent, Mrs. Fitzgerald in the chair. Ten members answered the roll call. The question of a proper national flower for Canada was discussed and a letter Mr. Steer had received on the matter was read. The singing of the national anthem and the serving of luncheon brought a very pleasant meeting to a close.

THERE will be no service in the morning at the Presbyterian church on Sabbath next, Rev. Mr. Forster, having gone to Hamilton to attend the General Assembly to which he is a commissioner. ELSEWHERE in this issue will be found a by-law to be voted on by the ratepayers of Watford on the last day of June. Every person entitled to vote on money by-laws should read carefully its contents. It proposes to borrow $50,000 at 3 1/2 per cent for thirty years for the purpose of constructing a water system for the village, including wells, pump house, stand pipe and distributing system. The amount payable necessary to meet the debentures and interest will be $3,577.88. The system is chiefly for fire protection and will cover the entire town. We must confess that at the present time we cannot furnish much information as to the ground to be covered by the system or the revenue to be derived therefrom. However it is a matter that should be carefully considered by all. Communications on the matter will be gladly received for publication in the Guide-Advocate, and those who are posted on the matter should express their views for the benefit of the electors. With this object in view we will suspend our usual rule of insisting upon articles being signed by the writer, and you can use a nom de plume if you wish, but your name must accompany the article as a guarantee of good faith. That better fire protection for the village is most earnestly desired and necessary all admit. The by-law does not furnish much information except as to cost. Let us hear your opinion on the matter.

WATFORD ACE STILL MISSING

Capt. Mansell R. James' Mysterious Disappearance Unexplained
LOST IN FLIGHT BETWEEN BOSTON AND ATLANTIC CITY
Extensive Search Fails to Give Any Trace of Him. Not Seen Since Friday Last.

The entire population of this district, especially those in town, have been spending some very anxious days since Sunday last when it became known that Capt. Mansell R. James, one of the town's deservedly popular young men, had been lost trace of, together with the Sopwith Camel scout plane in which he was returning to Atlantic City from Boston, having made the going trip in record time. About everything James is known regarding the matter will be found in the following despatches.
Toronto, June 1.—No word has yet been received of the fate of Captain Mansell R. James, of Watford, Ontario, formerly of the Royal Air Force, who has been missing since Wednesday when he attempted a flight from Atlantic City to Boston and return in competition for the Pulitzer $5,000 Aviation Trophy. With him is cousin, Lieut. Allan L. Clark, of 309 Keele street, New Toronto, also a former R. A. F. pilot, who was an entrant in the competition for the big prize.
In reply to a telegram from the Pulitzer Company, New York, City information was received that Capt. James is still missing, while at Lieut. Clark's home it was stated that similar information had been received from him yesterday afternoon over long distance telephone.
Captain James is reported to have made an excellent flight from Atlantic City to Boston on Wednesday, using a Sopwith Camel Scout plane, but on the return trip, mistaking the Boston and Albany Railroad for the New Haven, he landed Wednesday night not far from Pittsfield, Mass., where he stayed. About 11 o'clock Friday he started again from Pittsfield for Atlantic City, intending it is understood, to alight at Havelhurst or Mitchell Field, Hampstead, to refuel. He failed to arrive at either field. Since then nothing has been heard of him.
Lieut. Clark intended to start on Saturday for Cleveland, providing Capt. James was ready to accompany him, and to continue from the city to Detroit and back to Toronto. He is at present at Atlantic City anxiously awaiting word as to his cousin's whereabouts. Both young men are cousins of T. C. Robinette, K.C., the well-known Toronto barrister.
Capt. James is an experienced pilot, having served with the Royal Air Force on the Italian front. He has nine enemy planes to his credit. He is 25 years old and is the holder of a Distinguished Flying Cross.
Mineola, N. Y., June 2.—Colonel Archie Miller, commander of Hazelhurst Field, announced to-night that he would start to-morrow morning with two other aviators in an aerial search for Capt. Mansell R. James, Canadian "ace" who disappeared last Thursday in a Sopwith biplane and is believed to be lost in the wilds somewhere between Lee, Mass., and Mineola, N. Y.
Col. Miller said he was making the trip at the request of the British Military Mission, which called in him to-day to help find the missing aviator.
It is expected that the search will centre first over the dense woods near West Cornwall, Conn. P. G. Grant, of Port Washington, N. Y., reported to the Aero Club of America to-day that he had heard an airplane motor running for a moment, apparently in the woods near West Cornwall, and it is thought possible that Capt. James fell or made a forced landing there and was injured.
Col. Miller said that the search would be extended to the entire territory between Lee and Mineola, however, if necessary.
Capt. James made the 350-mile trip from Atlantic City to Boston in four hours and seven minutes, made one stop at Mineola for fuel. On his way back he alighted at Lee, Mass., and rising again there started for Mineola.
Atlantic City, N. J., June 3.—Aero officials here are completely mystified over the disappearance of Capt. Mansell R. James, the Canadian ace. Although they have made inquiry along the route that he would have taken in a flight to the air port here, and enlisted the aid of the city and rural police supplementing the work of the aviators who could be located in those sections, they have been unable to secure the least trace of the lost flyer. It is now believed that he must have been killed in a fall along some lonely section of the Berkshires or perished through failure of help to reach him after a crash that injured him seriously.
The contest committee of the Pan-American aeronautic convention in its report submitted to-day, announced the winners of the various contests staged in connection with the annual convention here throughout the month of May. Among the awards, which will be made June 5, were: Boston Globe trophy, Capt. Mansell R. James, R.F.C., first, $1,000.
Longest flights, Capt. Mansell R. James, R.F.C., 340 miles, Pan-American gold medal.
Pulitzer trophy, valued at $5,000, Capt. M. R. James, Atlantic City to Boston, elapsed time, four hours, one stop of 40 minutes at Mitchell Field, L. I.

In France he was transferred back to the 1st Canadian Brigade Machine Gun Co., and shared in the hard fighting at St. Eloi and Ypres. On July 9th, 1916, he was severely wounded. After recovering he returned to the firing line and fought at The Somme, Vimy Ridge, Arleux, Fresnoy, Lens, Hill 70 and Passchendaele. After returning to Lens he was again wounded and gassed. He remained in a hospital in France until recovered sufficiently to be moved to a hospital in England, where he remained until after the armistice was signed. How Can I Save-- With Profit?

Many wage-earners are asking themselves this question.

They do not want to put a quarter in the bank at a time, and before they know it, it is gone for trifles.

The Government has provided a simple plan to enable you to save that quarter in such a way that it will earn you more money.

Twenty-five cents buys a Thrift Stamp. Sixteen Thrift Stamps become a War Savings Stamp, for which the Government will pay you $5.00 in 1924.

If you lend the Government your savings in this way, you can make your money earn over 4 1/2% compound interest as often as you save $4.00 odd.

War Savings Stamps can be bought wherever this sign is displayed.

This is not only easy and profitable investment, but patriotic investment, because the Government needs money for the heavy financing of the reconstruction period.

Make Your Savings Serve You and Serve Your Country—Invest Them in War Savings Stamps.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Says The Review: "A Kincairdine man says we would not have prohibition now if the hotelkeepers had observed the license as faithfully as they did the food regulations."

Fred. Gardner, a boilermaker, who addressed the industrial relations commission at Fort William the other day, is reported as saying that "increase of wages was of no use. As soon as wages rose, up went the price of grub. The speculators were watching wages, and shoving up prices so that they more than eat up any little increase." There is the beginning of wisdom in that statement. Wages are a large factor in production costs, and when wages are increased the prices of commodities are raised accordingly and the increased wages go no farther than before in purchasing goods. If more attention were given to the discovery of economic "leaks," and to their stoppage, real progress might be made in the problem of making their conditions easier. At present we are all just travelling in a circle.

The Oil for the Athlete.—In rubbing down, the athlete can find nothing finer than Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It renders the muscles and sinews pliable, takes the soreness out of them and strengthens them for strains that may be put upon them. It stands pre-eminent for this purpose, and athletes who for years have been using it can testify to its value as a lubricant.

Schools for Mothers a New Move in England

Under its new educational bill Great Britain is making provision for schools for mothers. The curriculum will include instruction in the management of the home, practical nursing, simple dietetics for babies and children, and kindred subjects. In connection with the schools there are to be established baby clinics and dispensaries. Medical service will be given without charge and in cases of need, food and medicines will be provided. The hope is expressed in England that these schools may become a permanent part of the system of adult education. Certainly nowhere else does help seem to be more greatly needed, for most of the mistakes for which the children are compelled to pay so dearly in after years, are solely the results of ignorance.

Worms in children work havoc. These pests attack the tender lining of the intestines and, if left to pursue their ravages undisturbed, will ultimately perforate the wall, because these worms are of the hook variety that cling to and feed upon interior surfaces. Miller's Worm Powders will not only exterminate these worms, of whatever variety, but will serve to repair the injury they have done.

Real Home Lite.

There is no greater token of respect and affection than an invitation to enter the real heart and home life of a family. And yet how seldom do we offer ourselves the relaxation and our friends and neighbors the pleasure of such an invitation? Is a guest coming? Straightway we get to work to clean house from garret to cellar; we cook and bake and stew and fuss and sigh and work as though some terrible calamity were about to befall us, instead of that which should be the most delightful anticipation, the visit of a friend. If the house is clean and fair enough for our nearest and dearest, why not for a friend? If dinner is enough for our nearest and dearest, why not for our friend? If dinner is ample for the family, why not for an added guest? And will not the day and the visit be more delightful for both hostess and guest, if the fare is plain and the faces at the table bright and fresh, not wearied and flushed as with an added burden instead of an added pleasure? Can we not learn to offer ourselves sincerely and simply, just as we are, in our everyday clothes and manners, to those who come to us. Let social intercourse be frank and frequent and friendly. Let us be honest and genuine and fine and courteous in our daily lives, so when the friend comes he will find us untroubled and serene, as we always are, ready to receive the good thought, the story, the laugh, and to give him ourselves in return, our best in conversation, and appreciation, and that will make the humblest dinner a feast for kings.

EMBLEM OF THREE COUNTRIES

British "Union Jack" Displays Crosses of England, Scotland and Ireland in Combination.

The term "Union Jack" is applied to the national flag of the British empire. It consists of three crosses combined, on a blue field, viz.: the cross of St. George for England, of St. Andrew for Scotland, and of St. Patrick for Ireland. The original English flag was St. George's cross, red on a white field; the flag of St. Patrick, red on a white field, and the Scottish flag was St. Andrew's cross, white on a blue field. History says that the united crosses of England and Scotland were first used on the flag in 1606 by order of King James, when sovereign of the two countries. By his order the two crosses were united in such a manner as to preserve the distinctive outline of each, also, by means of a white border, the original color of the Scotch flag, on a blue ground. In 1801, on the legislative union with Ireland, the red cross of St. Patrick was added in such a way as to outline and preserve its individuality with that of the others. As now constituted the cross of St. George is much wider than the other two and seems to dominate them, but they are nevertheless distinctive and individual, while the white border of each is a reminder of the original white flag of Scotland. The proper designation of the flag is the great union, or simply the union. Union Jack is a nickname. Technically it is only a Jack when flown on the jack-staff of a ship of war. It is suggested that the name probably came from that of the Stuart king, King Jacques, which King James always signed.

Palestine's Salt Mountain.
Palestine possesses a remarkable salt mountain situated at the south end of the Dead sea. The length of the ridge is six miles, with an average width of three-quarters of a mile, and the height is not far from 600 feet. There are places where the overlying earthy deposits are many feet in thickness, but the mass of the mountain is composed of solid rock salt, some of which is as clear as crystal.

AUTO-INTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Absolutely Pre-vents This Dangerous Condition.

The chief cause of poor health is our neglect of the bowels. Waste matter, instead of passing from the lower intestine regularly every day, is allowed to remain there, generating poisons which are absorbed by the blood.

In other words, a person who is habitually constipated, is poisoning himself. We know now that Auto-intoxication, due to non-action of the bowels, is directly responsible for serious Kidney and Bladder Troubles; that it upsets the Stomach, causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Sleeplessness; that chronic Rheumatism, Gout, Pain In The Back, are relieved as soon as the bowels become regular; and that Pimples, Rash, Eczema and other Skin Affections disappear when "Fruit-a-tives" are taken to correct Constipation.

"Fruit-a-tives" will protect you against Auto-intoxication because this wonderful fruit medicine acts directly on all the eliminating organs. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

FAITH IN DREAMS

Lives Saved by Following Dream Warnings.

The faith of some people in dreams is strikingly illustrated by the story of Mrs. Fry, of Lewes, who, although repeatedly informed by the War Office, the commanding officer, and the chaplain of his company that her son was killed fifteen months ago, steadfastly refused to believe he was dead, simply because she dreamt he was alive.

Constant dreams of her son buoyed up her hopes, and she expressed herself as in no way astonished when at last she heard that he was a prisoner in Germany. Ten days before the Titanic disaster the Hon. J. C. Middleton, vice-president of the Akron-Canton Railway in Ohio, who had booked a passage on the ill-fated liner, dreamt he saw the ship capsize in mid-ocean and a lot of passengers struggling in the water. The following night he dreamt exactly the same thing, and this so impressed him that he decided to cancel his passage.

Mr. Melton Prior, the famous war correspondent, once told the writer how, on two occasions while in Africa, at the time of the Zulu War, he dreamt that he saw himself shot and witnessed his own funeral. Later at Durban, he received a letter from his mother stating that she had had a precisely similar dream, and begging him not to go with a certain expedition. The coincidence so impressed him he obtained a substitute, who was killed with the rest of the members of the expedition.—Tit-Bits.

A Remarkable Record

Wilford G. Oakes of Patten, Me., who returned home after a remarkable record of service in the war as a member of a Canadian artillery regiment, had the experience, near Cambrai, of viewing his own grave, or that which was so designated, with the name inscribed on a rude slab over the last resting place. He took a snapshot of the grave as a souvenir. Oakes was severely wounded several times, and passed through experiences of the most hazardous nature, but returned without apparent disfigurement, owing to surgical operations in British army hospitals. In one battle when he was wounded he lost his identification card and was hustled to a hospital more dead than alive. His jaws were shot away, making it impossible for him to communicate his identity, and as he was missing from his company his death was finally reported. Some soldier was buried under his name. A surgical operation gave to him new jaw bones, his tongue was sewed up and other disfigurements remedied, and to-day one has to examine his face carefully to find the scars.

To Exterminate Stray Dogs

As one result of the case lodged against David Schleibauf and Charles Smeltz of West Lorne, of adopting a cruel method of disposing of a dog, it is altogether likely that a campaign to exterminate stray dogs in the county will be inaugurated. Farmers in all parts of the county have for years been having trouble with dogs worrying their sheep, and this condition has in many cases prevented farmers of Elgin from going more extensively into sheep raising, considered by many one of the most profitable ends of the farming industry.

In Aldborough township alone last year, where the council makes good in full the losses in sheep slaughtered by dogs, the cost to the ratepayers was $1,800. Where a man owns valuable sheep, however, the loss cannot be made good by their cash value alone.

Nature and the Indian

The Indian never liked work but he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible so that she could do the work and let him hunt, therefore he dug papoose root for her, for that was the great remedy for female weaknesses.

Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription" skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective. Women who are worn out, who suffer from pain at regular or irregular intervals who are nervous or dizzy at times, should take that reliable, temperance, herbal tonic which a doctor in active practice prescribed many years ago. Now sold by druggists, in tablets and liquid, as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Send 10c. to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

WOODSTOCK, ONT.—"I cannot say enough in praise of Dr. Pierce's Medicines. I had nervous prostration and was completely 'down and out.' I was so bad the doctors considered mine a hopeless case. I was much discouraged and was ready to give up when I began taking the 'Favorite Prescription' and the Golden Medical Discovery. These medicines put me on my feet again and gave me the only real relief. Being a nurse I have recommended Dr. Pierce's Medicines to many, especially the 'Favorite Prescription.' I know of many a young mother to whom I have recommended 'Favorite Prescription' that has been wonderfully helped."

"I am glad to lend my name in connection with Dr. Pierce's Medicines, knowing how good they are."—Mrs. A. L. MILLER, 212 John Street.

A GRAND MEDICINE

 Mrs. Avila Noel, Haut Lameque, N. B., writes:—"I can highly recommend Baby's Own Tablets as they have worked wonders in the case of my baby. I always keep them in the house and

 Mrs. Noel says concerning Baby's Own Tablets is just what thousands of other mothers say and feel. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and stomach, thereby banishing constipation, colic, indigestion and a host of other minor ailments of little ones. The Tablets are absolutely guaranteed to be free from opiates or narcotics or any of the drugs so harmful to the welfare of the baby. They cannot possibly do harm—they always do good. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The

IS ICE-COLD WATER BAD FOR RHEUMATISM?
A BRITISH SEAMAN'S EXPERIENCE
 This story of Wm. Rogers, a seaman in the Mine Sweeping Branch of the Royal Navy, is absolutely true and can be readily verified.
 At Niagara Camp, in 1914, Rogers contracted Rheumatism. He was sent to the Toronto General Hospital, where for over 19 months he was a patient, finally being discharged as incurable. In despair he took a friend's advice and tried Templeton's Rheumatic Capsules. The results were astounding—in a short time he was able to pass the stiff examination set by the Navy, and became an A.B. in the Mine Sweeping Branch.
 For 17½ months he did service in the Royal Sea. On three occasions he was blown into the sea and remained in the ice-cold water as long as eleven hours at a stretch. Despite these hardships Rogers had no return of his previous trouble. Think about it. If T.R.C.'S did so much for Rogers—will they not do the same for you?

Bedford, Ohio.—"I was in a pitiful condition, weak, nervous and run down so I could not do my housework. I had doctored for years and tried everything under the sun. A friend told me about Vinol. When Money Talks

By BERTHA R. McDONALD

The little music teacher ran up the steps of the boarding house with a fluttering heart, for she had seen the gray coat of the postman disappearing around the corner. The fluttering quickened into a brisk tattoo like the beating of tiny hammers, and by the time she reached the hall table where the letters were always laid it was like the pulsation of a mighty engine.

Yes, there was a letter, but the writing was not familiar. When she reached the sacred precincts of her own room she read it and had just cast it aside with a most contemptuous sniff when there came a timid knock at the door. When she called "Come in" the maid brought another letter which in her haste she had overlooked. Again her hope beat high, but this was a more bitter disappointment than the first.

"Sickening—both of them!" she muttered. "Why must I be made the target for such piffle?"

Angrily she thrust them inside her desk, closed it with a bang and went down to dinner. That evening, after a brisk walk through a little park nearby, the keen October air having soothed her ruffled spirits, she donned a comfortable dressing gown and wrote to her old friend, Mrs. De Voss:

"Dear Mollykins: It rests me just to write your name. It carries me back to the days when you were my sympathetic mother confessor, and, Mollykins, I've got to talk to you now, for you are the only one who will understand. I've worked so hard this past year to build up my class and you've heard how I've succeeded even beyond my wildest dreams. But success isn't everything. Even here I seem destined to be nauseated with impossible things. I've just had two of the most sickening proposals by letter that any girl ever received. Possibly I might have read one or the other a second time had I not been sure that each man is counting on my income to help support him. Peace to the ashes of their unsolicited adoration! I tell you, dear, I shall marry for money. I've seen the folly of not preparing for a rainy day and it has colored everything in the world for me. When I put my head into the matrimonial noose it will be when the future Mr. Bess Courtland is ready to hand me a checkbook on a nice, fat bank account. As it is, epistolary efforts such as reached me today only serve to frazzle my disposition. 'Buckets of slush,' Billy would call them. It is needless for me to tell you where my heart lies, and he has never written me a line in all this long year. I thought, of course, when our crash came and father died that Billy would be the first to come to me, and when he left for Colorado without so much as a good-by I was broken-hearted. Now I've joined the ranks of those who believe that money talks. I can hear you call me flinty of heart, but so will you be, Molly, if ever you come to feel the dull, sickening thud of the fall from the lap of luxury to the cold, stone floor of poverty. I hope you never may. Write me soon—your letters are such comforts. Lovingly,
"BESS."

That night the little music teacher cried herself to sleep and the next morning she said to herself, as she surveyed the pale face which looked at her with weary eyes from her mirror: "Don't you let me catch you weeping again over Billy Dempster. He doesn't care a fig about you and he wouldn't weep over anybody."

By the time she reached the studio she had fully made up her mind that she should ever see fit to write her a letter she would return it to him unopened. It was several days later that a special delivery letter, bearing a Colorado postmark, reached Miss Courtland, and, after the messenger had gone, she stood gazing at the envelope, scarcely able to believe her eyes, while the waiting pupil at the piano wondered what was about to be disclosed.

"Billy's writing!" gasped the teacher. "No—no—I'm getting foolish, of course—it can't be—he doesn't know my address, and yet I—"

"Why don't you open it?" suggested her pupil, and forgetting her late determination to put Billy Dempster out of her life forever, Bess tore open his letter with fingers that trembled as though she might have the palsy.

"Dear Bess," she read. "I wrote to Molly De Voss two weeks ago for your address and just got it today. How are you, anyway? It seems a lifetime since I saw you. What are you doing and how do you like living in Chicago? Molly didn't answer a single question I asked, so I shall wait anxiously to hear direct from you about your work, your earnings—if you have one; in fact, tell me all about everything. As ever, yours,

"BILLY."

Miss Courtland's black eyes snapped and she crushed the letter in her hand. "To write me a letter like that," she gasped, "after waiting a whole year to even ask for my address!"

During the following week she wrote six replies to Dempster's letter and tore each one to bits almost as soon as it was finished. The seventh she thought somewhat tart, but concluding it was better than he deserved anyway, she finally sent it.

"Dear Billy (it ran): I probably need not tell you that your letter was a surprise. When an old friend leaves you at a time of a great crisis in your life, without even a good-by, and for a whole year forgets that you ever existed, a letter from such a one is apt to come as a surprise; don't you think so? Since you are alive and are good enough to feel an interest in knowing that I am too, I don't mind telling you that I am teaching music here in Chicago and like my work very much. I have no husband in sight, and if I ever acquire such a possession, it will be because his pockets are so well lined with gold that it would be folly for me to let him slip through my fingers. At present I am very well and contented. Sincerely,
"BESS COURTLAND."

If Bess could have seen Dempster when he read this letter all idea that he regarded her carelessly or that he was deceived as to her own feeling for him would have vanished as a June frost. As it was, she never knew how she managed to live through the next week until an answer to her letter arrived. Then, one morning, as she was leaving the boarding house for the studio, the postman handed her another envelope bearing the familiar writing, and she almost ran to the little park, where she sat down on a bench to open it.

"Dearest girl," she read. "I am the man you are after—the possession you really ought to acquire. My pockets are so well lined with filthy lucre that I'm bent with the weight of it. It would be worse than folly to let me slip through your fingers and nothing could possibly suit me so well as to lodge in those same fingers forever. Seriously, Bess, don't you still care a little? I'm in a position now to ask you to marry me—will you? You'll never know how I suffered because I was not able to ask this when your father died and left you so little; but a peculiar round of circumstances overtook me just then and left me no alternative. My little sister, who was out here visiting, met with a terrible accident, which necessitated a very difficult operation, and my resources were so taxed to take care of this situation I did not dare assume another obligation. I left without seeing you, and I've remained silent because I did not wish to stand in the way of your comfort elsewhere. Perhaps I did wrong, dear; but my heart was right and I ask to be forgiven. I have never ceased to want you, Bess, and now, the remnant of my savings, happily invested, has brought me returns which permit me to ask you with a clear conscience to share my lot. I'm coming East for my answer and shall probably be with you almost as soon as you read this. Always your lover,
"BILLY."

When she had finished reading, tears blinded her and little shivers of shame chased themselves up and down her spine at the thought of her own sordidness; but through the tumult within her, her heart kept singing, "Billy is coming—Billy is coming!" She had only just removed her wraps at the studio when Billy came, and there, from the safe shelter of his arms, she said to him:

"Billy, dear, I'd have jumped at the chance to share your lot any time and any place, if you hadn't had a thing in all this world but a penny with a hole in it!"

Like a Grip at the Throat. For a disease that is not classed as fatal there is probably none which causes more terrible suffering than asthma. Sleep is impossible, the sufferer becomes exhausted and finally, though the attack passes, is left in unceasing dread of its return. Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy is a wonderful curative agent. It immediately relieves the restricted air passages as thousands can testify.

THIS WEAK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I decided to try it. I took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."—Mrs. J. WORTHLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia Pa.

The majority of mothers nowadays spend their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, back-ache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Worthline.

FORAGE CROPS FOR PIGS

Raise All the Dairy Calves You Possibly Can.

We should Strive to Double Our Cow Population in the Next Ten Years—More Immediate, and Larger Cash Returns, Secured by Sale of Milk Than of Cream Where Location Is Favorable.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

FOR the farmer who is raising hogs, one of the greatest problems is summer pasture. A new luxuriant growth of green grass is soon eaten off when the dry hot season comes and it is just at this time when the stockman needs some form of succulent feed for his stock. When the stock are running on pasture they are getting back to nature and there is nothing like good green feed as a conditioner for the animals.

As for forage crops in this country alfalfa and rape seem to give the best results, although anything that will produce a good green growth in a dry season is all right. Whenever alfalfa will grow it gives the best kind of permanent pasture for pigs, as there is no danger from bloat as is the case of sheep and cattle. Alfalfa provides pasture for a greater length of time than any of the grasses and is green and succulent even when red clover has become somewhat dried and woody.

Heavy pasturing of alfalfa is not good for it and consequently the number of animals allowed to pasture on it should be restricted and the plants should be allowed to grow up and be cut two or three times a season. Pigs, fed corn alone on alfalfa pasture, make fairly satisfactory gains since the protein in the alfalfa helps to balance up the deficiencies in corn, although for best results a little of some nitrogenous concentrate should be fed. Red clover in the country gives very excellent results as a pasture for pigs, for the reason that it can be grown in a great many localities where alfalfa cannot be raised at all and consequently it's great value. At one of the Experiment Stations in the States, red clover was inferior only to alfalfa, while at another it was found that it was surpassed only by alfalfa and rape.

As an annual pasture for swine nothing surpasses rape. It can be sown both early and late in the season and as a consequence forage may be provided for at any time. To get the best results from rape, it should be sown in the spring and allowed to obtain a height of twelve to fourteen inches before turning the animals in. Care should be taken not to allow the plants to be eaten off too closely as the young plants do not get a chance to recuperate. To guard against this it would be wise to provide a second plot where the animals could be turned in for a time. Rape is also grown in conjunction with oats or with oats and field peas, and some authorities rank rape and oats next to alfalfa and red clover for pig pasture.

For young pigs in pasture it is not wise to force them to subsist on what they can get. They should be fed a little grain. Pigs that are being pastured for the purpose of fattening latter should have a limited grain ration, as this system of feeding has been found most economical.—J. C. McBeath, B.S.A., O. A. College, Guelph.

Shall I Rear Dairy Calves in 1919?
In brief, raise all the heifer calves for which there is feed, labor, and stable-room. More and better cows are needed in Ontario. The number of milk-cows in the province has remained stationary at about one million, for a good many years. There is no good reason why this number should not be doubled in the next ten years, but it can be done only by rearing or buying. Buying cows is expensive and risky. It is a far better plan to raise cows. This means that all the best heifer calves should be saved for future cows. As it requires from three to four years to change calves into cows, in order to double the cow population in ten years, making allowances for necessary discards, we need to begin right away, in order to attain the desired object.

The average number of cows per 100 acres of farm land in Canada is but two, whereas in Denmark it is fourteen, and in Holland sixteen. We have a long way to go in rearing cows, before we have anywhere near the number which are found in the best European dairy countries. There is but one economical way to attain this result, and that is by raising practically all the heifer calves dropped during the next ten years and as many pure-bred calves of excellent ancestry, as may be required for breeding purposes.

Shall I Sell Milk or Cream?
This will be determined to a large extent by the character of the farming operations. If the need for direct, quick cash in largest amount, is great, then selling milk will best "fill the bill." On the other hand, if the dairy farmer can afford to wait for the slower returns from cream and live-stock, and particularly if he desires to improve or maintain soil fertility, then selling cream is to be recommended.

Neatness to market is another factor. Where the dairyman is near a small town and had the time to "peddle" milk, he can make more money out of his cows than by any other system. At ten to twelve cents a quart, a good cow will return from $250 to $300 per year for her milk. When this is compared with $100 to $150 per cow, where cream is sold, or milk sent to a cheese factory or condensery, we see what a decided money advantage there is in selling milk to customers direct.—Prof. H. H. Dean, O. A. College, Guelph.

A Safe Pill for Suffering Women.—The secluded life of women which permits of little healthful exercise, is a fruitful cause of derangements of the stomach and liver and is accountable for the pains and lassitude that so many of them experience. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will correct irregularities of the digestive organs and restore health and vigor. The most delicate woman can use them with safety because their action, while effective, is mild and soothing.

Extravagant Use of Straw.
The use of at least a limited amount of bedding for beef cattle is advisable, but the extravagant use of straw, coarse hay, etc., for this purpose should be discouraged. All such roughages that are to be used for bedding, either for fattening or breeding animals, should first be offered them in the hay rack and that which is refused used for bedding. If stover is fed the stalks, while somewhat difficult to handle, make satisfactory bedding material and should be used for this purpose rather than burned or otherwise disposed of.

Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will drive worms from the system without injury to the child, because its action while fully effective, is mild.

J. E. Roome, a prominent merchant of Glencoe for many years, died this week. He was a member of the 1919 town council.

Mrs. J. H. Preston

Luella Mary Rowland, beloved wife of James H. Preston, Medicine Hat, died on Thursday, May 8th, after a patient ten years' illness. During that time Mrs. Preston spent several seasons in California, and at the coast and temporarily improved in health, gained encouragement for herself and friends. But though youth and every care and medical skill were hers, the end came quietly in May when all nature is bursting forth into life that never dies. The funeral, in harmony with the tastes, and by request of the deceased, was simple and was held at the family residence, 430 Fourth St., on Saturday, May 10th. Rev. K. Lorne McTavish, her pastor, assisted by Rev. J. W. Morrow, conducted the service. A favorite hymn, "Jesus Saviour, Pilot Me" quoted by Mrs. Preston shortly before her death, was sung, also one chosen by her little daughter, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." Her interment took place at Hillside cemetery.

Though suffering from ill-health for so many years, Mrs. Preston never lost her cheerfulness, and her greeting was always bright. She will be greatly missed among a large circle of friends, especially by the ladies of Fifth Ave. Methodist church, of which she was a faithful and much loved member.

Besides her husband and children, Mrs. Preston leaves a brother, William Rowland at the old home in Watford, Ont., and two sisters, Mrs. M. L. Morrison of Tacoma, Washington, and Mrs. Duncan Fisher, who was with her sister during her last illness, also Miss Jean Fisher, who attended school in the city and made her home with her aunt and uncle. Mr. Preston and his little son and daughter, Rowland and Marion, and the other members of the family circle will have the sympathy of their many friends. The names of the pallbearers were Col. Nelson Spencer, M.P.P.; Richard Dunn, Chas. E. Peasley, R. F. Collins, R. H. Hardy and B. F. Souch.

AFTER EFFECTS OF INFLUENZA

Often as Serious as the Disease Itself—How to Get New Health

There are few homes in Canada that were not touched by the sorrow that trailed in the wake of the Spanish Influenza epidemic. Estimates of the loss of life caused by this epidemic show that it was almost as great as the losses caused by the war, and these take no account of the beneficial after-effects which are sometimes as fatal as the disease itself.

Victims of the disease are generally left with impoverished blood and a weakened system. In this condition they are exposed to many dangers unless precautions are taken to enrich the blood and strengthen the nerves. The debility that invariably follows influenza is not a disease of any organ. It is a general condition of unfitness. It must be met by a remedy whose good results will be quickly felt throughout the entire system. In this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found invaluable. The mission of this medicine is to enrich the blood, and this new, red blood carries renewed health and strength to every part of the body. The case of Mrs. George Londer, Hamilton, Ont., proves the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in cases of this kind. Mrs. Londer says:—"I had a very severe attack of Spanish influenza which left me pale and very weak. My appetite completely failed me and the least noise would startle me and make me cry. I was under a doctor's care, and finally he advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I had not been taking them long before I could tell they were helping me. I used altogether nine or ten boxes and am now feeling as well as ever I did in my life. I believe if it had not been for these pills I would have been a chronic invalid."

Such proof as this must be interesting to everyone who suffered from an attack of influenza, and who still feel in any way weakened as the result of the trouble. It points the way to new health and strength, and if you are one of the sufferers you should avail yourself of this medicine at once. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
