IN KINGS COUNTY.

Interest in the political situation will centre next week in Kings county. It will be the closing week of a campaign that has been carried on with a good deal of vigor, and Premier Foster and other members of the government will appear before the electors to review the legislation and administration of affairs since they assumed office, and to contrast them with the record of the former government.

lywed by definite action in the interests of the great percentage of young people who need some real training of a vocational character before they leave school, or in part-time or evening classes after they have left the day school.

MARITIME CO-OPERATION.

The Maritime Merchant, in an article reprinted in today's Times, finds in the recent conference of St. John and Halifax Boards of Trade a text for some very timely observations and suggestions. The question of transportation (meaning freight rates) is very important, because without it our industries cannot get a market in the rest of Canada.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING.

Ex-Mayor Hayes, while in Boston a few days ago, had his attention directed to the excellent work in vocational training done by the Westworth Institute, where three hundred and two men received certificates at the graduation exercises this week. This was the largest number of day students ever graduated by the school, and what Mr. Hayes learned about its work made him more than ever convinced of the need of adequate facilities for vocational training in St. John.

The Merchant sees two directions in which the Boards of Trade of St. John and Halifax could give stimulating leadership. One is in marketing our climate, or, in other words, developing tourist traffic. The climate and scenery and in other parts of Canada and in the United States are people with plenty of money who lack the very things we have to offer.

Professor George F. Swain, of Harvard, who delivered the address, told the students that the battle of life is a struggle in which one need fail. The battle will be called upon to fight, he said, is with yourself. The world is not opposed to you, everyone wants you to succeed. But you must fight to cultivate certain qualities and to eradicate certain qualities if you will succeed. You must fight to lead a clean, honest life, to make the most of your selves, to have scrupulous regard for others, and to help others to help themselves as far as you can do it with regard to your duty to yourself and to those dependent upon you.

A young man who really imbues the principles and ideals thus set forth, and who has been trained to be self-supporting by the good work of his hand and brain, will never be a disturber of the community. He will be a good citizen, living a well-ordered life, and contributing to the welfare of others as well as of those immediately dependent upon him. We pay far too little attention to the proper training of the young after they reach the age of fourteen years, and in too many cases before they reach that age, and the vocational survey now to be made in St. John should be fol-

THE BALLAD OF ANNA MAY.

When I was eight, or maybe nine, And lived at Chateaugay, I reverently reared a shrine To one now bent and gray; A little blue-eyed pal of mine Whose name was Anna May.

Such eyes! They promised passions mild And graces to enchant, But Anna May was rude and wild And fiercely militant. Her kindest days called the child A little truant.

Through all her small and greater tears The querulousness grew. She gloried in making scenes And wounding those she knew. I married her, my queen of spleen, When she was twenty-two!

Though she protested that she cared For me not one mean mite, To all who'd listen I declared That love would set things right. Of course it didn't, and I faced Worse than I dare recite!

And then the dark and troubled years Went leaven-footed past. Together we wrooled and fared. And stemmed misfortune's blast. I knew calamity and tears Would sweeten her at last.

I always knew adversity And youth's declining day Would soften with her sorcery Her spirit and her way, And for life's evening give me A chastened Anna May.

Her eyes will surely flame still lit, She watches at the gate, All primed to clapper and twit If I'm a minute late. She hasn't changed a single bit Since 1888!

LIGHTER VEIN.

"Ye-es," Mr. Billings said, reluctantly, in reply to his friend's remark that Mrs. Joyce was "an awfully sweet little woman."

"So cheerful! Always sunny! Always looking on the bright side!" Billings' friend continued enthusiastically. "There's such a thing as overdoing that 'bright side' business," said Billings.

"The other night I was at their place, and Joyce—you know how absent-minded he is—put the lighted end of his cigar in his mouth and lit it. In the middle of it all Mrs. Joyce smiled blandly and said:

"How fortunate you were, dear, to discover it at once!" "It was a sleepy village and its fire company was anything but up to date. One night a fire was announced, and the fire-fighters arrived at the scene of action to find the building wreathed in curling black smoke."

"No flames were visible from the outside. The captain of the company made a careful survey, and then calmly lit a pipe. 'We'd better leave it alone and let it burn up a bit,' he said, 'then we'll be able to see what we are doing.'"

"Did you get that interview with the beautiful movie star?" "Yes," said the reporter. "She told me to be sure to inform the public that she's a great admirer of Shakespeare."

"Did she make her favorite Shakespearean play?" "Well, not exactly. She said she thought 'The Merry Wives of Windsor' was the best thing he ever wrote."

Unnecessary Violence. "Yes, I'm continually breaking into song," said the cheerful one. "H'm! If you'd once get the key you wouldn't be so broken in," replied the dismal one.

Spelling the Fun. The teacher said to her pupils: "Wouldn't this be a great world if people would all love one another and treat each other with kindness?" "Wouldn't you like to see everybody treat everybody else with kindness?" the teacher inquired.

"Then there wouldn't be any more Matt and Jeff pictures."

WESTERN CANADA'S GREAT GROWTH

As an indication of the industrial situation in Canada, the membership figures, which will be presented at the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, held in St. John, N. B., on June 20, are interesting. In spite of business depression, membership experienced an increase, standing at 4,272 at the end of the membership figures for 1921. Particularly significant is the fact that the main increase took place west of the Great Lakes, where 148 new members joined the association. The industrial development of western Canada has become one of the noteworthy factors in Canada's national life, and it is something that the average citizen, particularly in the east, fails to realize. Over 17 per cent of the C. M. A.'s membership is now to be found in the prairie provinces and British Columbia, and this percentage is growing rapidly.

BORN IN YEAR OF WATERLOO.

Mrs. Emma Brown, 88 Oxford street, Hamilton, Ont., celebrated her 107th birthday on Tuesday. When visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Phoebe Johnston, she seemed very bright. "I remember when I was a girl of thirteen, that was about 1829," she said. "There were no trains in those days, and I well remember the coaches that were on all the roads. We lived in England then and came to Canada in 1878. I remember, too, our soldiers going off to the Crimean War, and then to India a few years after."

CANADA'S STATUS IN THE EMPIRE

Discussion Over This in the Senate Yesterday—Speakers Uphold the League of Nations.

(Canadian Press) Ottawa, June 9.—Discussion of the League of Nations changed in the senate yesterday to a debate on Canada's status within the British Empire. Referring to the recent conference recently in Washington, it was questioned whether or not Canada had any legal right to representation there. Hon. L. O. David, while paying a tribute to the work of Hon. G. D. Robertson, former minister of labor, declared that if the labor chiefs in France had had their way, France would have been without any protection when war broke out and the German troops would have been at the gate of Paris in a few months. Russia was an example of the triumph of Socialistic ideas. The question of Canada's status in the League of Nations was a big one and would come up for review before parliament. He endorsed the work of the league. Hon. Thomas Chalmers said there were many historic precedents for the league. The present league was by no means perfect but its effectiveness would increase. He gave his wholehearted support to the project. Senator Beique declared that means must be found to prevent other wars. The only known means for this was the league. Before the war he had believed that such a league was necessary and he rejoiced in its formation. Hon. R. Dandurand, government leader, dealing with Canada's status at Washington, declared that the status had not changed but decisions indicated that Canada had enlarged the scope of her interests. Her true status had remained undefined. The appointment of Sir Robert Borden to the Washington conference was made through Ottawa but had to bear the king's signature through the secretary of state for the colonies.

YOUTH BURNED, FELL FROM POLE

Won Climbing Contest, But Touched Live Wire at 85 Feet.

Montreal, June 10.—Touching a high voltage electric wire and falling from a height of thirty feet, the victim of a fourteen years old boy of 76 Roland avenue, Ville St. Pierre suffered a severely burned left arm and had his arm and hand and severe cuts about the head and knees.

Gaudreau and his brother, Arnell, were climbing the pole to see who could reach the highest point. Young Gaudreau had managed to reach the top of the pole when he accidentally touched one of the wires. He suffered a severe one of the wires. He was picked up by his comrades and Chief of Police Richer was notified. The victim was taken to the home of Dr. R. Vallee, 267 St. James street, Ville St. Pierre, where twenty stitches were required to sew up the cuts on the boy's head and knees. The arm and thigh had been bandaged. Later it was decided to send the patient to the St. Joseph Hospital in Lachine, where it was reported that his condition, though serious, was not critical. Chief Richer last night that the wire was one of those carrying power from the Cedars power house and that the pole was situated in a place where the wire crossed the C. P. R. tracks at that point.

PRESENT OF A CHECK FOR $2,500 TO ROTARY CHIEF

Los Angeles, June 10.—Raymond Havens of Kansas City, Mo., was chosen president of the International Association of Rotary Clubs at the final business session yesterday. Directors elected were Harry Bert Craddock of Minneapolis, Minn.; Ralph Bristol of Ogden, Utah; Herbert J. Wilson of Worcester, Mass.; John Turner of Tampa, Fla.; Robert Patterson of Dayton, Ohio; Alexander Wilkie of Edinburgh, and R. Jeffrey Lydiatt of Calgary.

The board of directors will name vice-presidents and the secretary general. The association also elected the place for the next convention. Among the district governors elected were William J. Cairns, Ottawa; Walter Grant, Charlottetown, P. E. I. The closing session was marked by two enthusiastic addresses given by retiring president Crawford C. McCullough. The resolution committee presented to him a check for $2,500, brought in on a silver platter designed as a symbol of affection and appreciation of Rotarians.

THE ST. VINCENT'S ALUMNAE MEET

At a largely attended meeting of St. Vincent's Alumnae held last night in the society's rooms in Cliff street, arrangements were made for the entertainment of the next convention. The president, Miss Muriel Corkery, was in the chair. The entertainment should take the form of a dinner at the Clifton House on the night of the school closing. Committees were appointed to take charge of the arrangements in connection with the dinner. There was some discussion as to whether the Alumnae would send a delegate to the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae which meets this year in Louisville, Kentucky, on October 26. It was possible that the president might be able to go to the convention to represent the Alumnae but definite decision in this matter was to be made at a later date.

MANY GENEROUS GIFTS FOR THE D.S.C.R. RECREATION HUT

Building for Use of Patients in Lancaster Hospital Practically Completed—Public Health Nurses Tell Red Cross Meeting of Their Experiences—Membership Campaign and Junior Red Cross Work Discussed.

An encouraging generous response in the matter of the erection costs and furnishing of the recreational hut soon to be opened for the patients of the Lancaster D. S. C. R. hospital was reported at the meeting of the New Brunswick division of the Red Cross Society yesterday afternoon, when R. T. Hayes, M.P., the chairman, presided. All of the six public health nurses whom the society maintains in the field were present, and in relating their experiences gave a clear proof of the incalculable value of the work which they have done. The holding of the annual membership campaign and the drawing up of the constitution of the Junior Red Cross for the province were discussed and finally referred to the various committees. It was pointed out that practically all the funds which the division has on hand are allocated to different causes, and that it cannot look to headquarters for any further grants at this time.

C. B. Allan, the treasurer, reported total expenditures during the month as $4,981.01, including $830 for nurses' salaries and $3,000 on account of the recreational hut.

Secretary's Report.
Miss Ethel Hasen Jarvis, in her report as secretary, reviewed the month's activities among the branches and at the depot. Chatham wanted to have a membership campaign; Newcastle had done much relief work; Campbellton sent the good news that the town council had granted $1,000 towards the support of the public health nurse, and the local Red Cross would provide the balance; Jacques River wanted the use of educational lantern slides; Minto had arranged for the future financing of its nurse, and St. John was continuing relief work and had entertained the visitors to the health congress. Miss Jeanne Brown, Junior Red Cross supervisor, and Colonel Nasmith, C.M.G., the chairman of the junior committee, had been welcome visitors in the city. Head office had sent word that $600 was the division's portion of the film library grant. A successful season at the port had come to a close.

Rev. Canon E. B. Hooper sent word that he could not attend the formal opening of the recreational hut, as he had been asked to do, and from Minto came a letter saying the mine operators would contribute towards the salary of the public health nurse in that locality. Head office wrote asking all branches to adopt the calendar year as their financial year.

A letter from Riley Brook asked if the division could give assistance in supervising the nurse there, and in this connection Miss Melville, supervisor of public health nurses, said she understood an endeavor was being made to have the county council make a grant.

Hospital Committee.
Mrs. F. R. Taylor, for the hospital committee, reported fewer patients in hospital since the warmer weather had set in. She appealed for supplies of flowers, told of drives for the patients in the county hospital and of a patriotic visitor looking after a follow-up case.

In Sussex, and gave the statement of expenditure as $34.80 in May. Robesay ladies had announced their intention of sending flowers to East St. John hospital.

Recreation Hut.
Mr. Allan, reporting for the recreation hut committee, said the building was practically finished and had met with general approval. Some alterations in the original plans had been made, but without extra cost, as those doing the work had made the changes without charge. A heating system had been secured for $100, the firm of McClary's making the society the gift of the additional $15 of the cost. He discussed the advisability of purchasing kitchen chairs for the hut to be used at the formal opening or the borrowing of chairs from the depot. The committee has in hand arrangements for the formal opening which, it is expected, will take place next week.

It was announced that William Brodie had made the generous gift of a gramophone and records. Mrs. C. B. Allan said the Royal Standard chapter I. O. O. F. would give $25, and it was said also that the Pundey chapter had given $25 and the Seven Seas' chapter $15 towards the furnishings.

Miss Grace W. Leavitt said the local council of women had held an entertainment and by that means had raised sufficient funds to furnish the kitchen of the hut. The matron had been asked what would be required and everything would be in readiness in the kitchen before the opening ceremonies. Applause greeted this announcement.

Miss Frances Allison gave the report of the sewing committee. Twenty-four garments had been sent out and ninety-seven garments, three sweaters and twenty-six pairs of socks and mitts had been brought in. The made articles had come from Grand Etienne, Middle Sackville, Netherwood and Wianatete schools, Kilburn, Lakeville, Riverside, Knox church and Clifton.

For the Junior Red Cross, Mrs. Harold Lawrence, the supervisor, told of addresses given before the normal school students in Fairbairn and said the supervisors would speak before the teachers' institute. A draft of the constitution had been submitted to Dr. W. S. Carter and approved and had been discussed by Miss Jane Brown and Colonel Nasmith. Miss Jessie Lawson, junior supervisor, then read the constitution and its various clauses were considered. The ways of spending the junior funds were explained and the constitution was referred to the Junior Red Cross committee with power to act.

The debated points were that the fee of twenty-five cents, which must be earned, should be sent to the provincial headquarters, that no money or fees of Junior Red Cross should go to administration purposes and whether a portion, all or any of the extra money raised by the juniors should be made a central fund. It was unanimously agreed that all funds raised by the juniors should go to less fortunate children.

Public Health Nurses Heard.
The public health nurses each in turn gave an account of her experience in the field.

Mrs. George P. Smith on behalf of the St. John Red Cross asked for a further grant of $500 to carry on relief work and this matter was referred to the executive with power to act.

F. B. Ellis brought to the attention of the meeting the fact that Canon Scott's latest book has been published on the understanding that the proceeds of sales should go to the Red Cross society for the aid of tubercular soldiers. Mr. Ellis suggested that it would be well for the New Brunswick division to make an early claim for its share of this sum.

Next cleaning day, after your rugs have been swept, telephone our carpet department for a man to bring out a Hoover—no obligation, of course.

Just let him glide the Hoover over your cleanest rugs, after first showing you that the bag contains no dirt.

You will be appalled at the dirt he will soon empty from the Hoover bag. You will be surprised that such apparently clean rugs could be so unsanitary.

It is impossible to dislodge buried dirt from rugs except by beating, electric sweeping and air suction.

The Hoover is therefore a necessity because it beats out all nap-wearing, germ laden grit; sweeps up the stubbornst litter; eradic crushed nap; freshens color and cleans by air—all in one rapid, dustless operation.

Note—The management of the Royal Hotel of this city has just installed eight Hoovers for use in the building. Ours to date hotels and institutions all over Canada and the United States are using Hoovers and finding them thoroughly satisfactory.

We can recommend the Hoover to our patrons without limit, and we urge them to investigate its superior merits.

Says He Was Weak, Wornout and "All In" as a Result of Nerve Force Exhaustion

How you may quickly help put new nerve force into worn out exhausted nerve cells, and remarkably increase your strength, power and endurance, of feet in a few weeks.

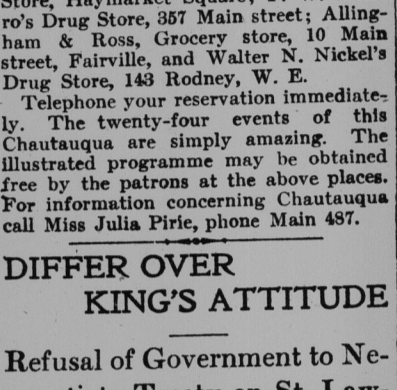

For sometime I had noticed that I was quite nervous and I often annoyed very much by my nerves. When I was in an irritable mood and my wife would occasionally say that I was a sign of age, and this still more, I knew I was under a great deal of nervous strain, but I never thought of it as a physical condition. I became a phlegmatic and very irritable. One day this happened to me, and very suddenly I felt that I was in a very bad way. I had a sharp pain in the lower part of my back, and sometimes a sense of fullness in the front of my head. Often I was restless and could not get to sleep, and I noticed that I would get tired very early in the morning. I had a nervous tremor, and I was very nervous and irritable, and I had given attention to it at the right time. I had a very bad attack of nervous breakdown, and I was very nervous and irritable, and I had given attention to it at the right time. LIBERAL CAMPAIGN COMES TO CLOSE

Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster, premier of the province; Hon. J. Veniot, minister of public works; and Dr. L. M. Curran, M. The closing meeting in the campaign on behalf of the government candidate, A. F. Bentley, FRIGHTENED!

"Every morning I woke up, I felt that something terrible was going to happen."

Writes Mrs. M. and she goes on to say, "I wonder if any other woman ever had such fits of depression as I had for over a year. I was so utterly despondent that if it had not been for my children, I believe I would have put an end to my life. Every day and every night was a nightmare. I dreaded going to bed because I lay awake most of the night. When I did sleep, I had the most dreadful dreams. I couldn't eat. I was completely run down—nothing interested me, nothing appealed to me. I consulted several doctors. They prescribed different remedies to build me up but these preparations didn't do me any good. Doctors told me I had a time. I felt every day that my strength was gradually leaving me. The doctor's advice was to rest, but I was so thoroughly tired out, I knew I was gradually wasting away. I felt I was going to die after you have tried it. I was so miserable that I did not care whether I lived or not. And then I heard about Carnol and what it had done for other people. I was sure it wouldn't do me any good. I finally I did try it with the most wonderful results. I am well and happy every minute of the day now. I eat heartily and sleep soundly. My friends don't believe that Carnol alone has done this for me. I am never despondent now and every day is a day of joy. What Carnol has done for me it will do for you."

She Married Another—Spiro Pandoff Fails in Suit to Recover Money Advanced for Girl's Passage from Macedonia.

Toronto, June 10.—Judge Widdifield dismissed suit of Spiro Pandoff against James Mitchell, a Macedonian, for failing to pay for the passage of his niece from Macedonia to Toronto, on condition that she married the plaintiff on her arrival. Pandoff alleged that in November 1920, Christoff had approached him, having heard that he wished to get married, and told of his niece, Stravola Petrova, who was in Macedonia. The girl's picture was shown to him, and he was told that she had given any assurance that she would marry the plaintiff or that she would return to him. James Mitchell, inspector of immigration, said that Pandoff had got permission for the girl's admission to Canada by giving a bond that she would marry him on her arrival. When she arrived, he had come to him to see if the girl could not be deported, and she had also got a lawyer to write her threatening her deportation if she did not marry Pandoff.

"CORPSE" CAME TO LIFE

Sensational Experience of an Undertaker. Rochester, Eng., June 10.—Memories of a remarkable case of a "corpse" coming to life are recalled by the death of Albert Heywood, an undertaker, of Edenfield road, Rochdale. In May, 1907, a young commercial traveler who was lodging in Dane street, Rochdale, contracted a chill, and pneumonia developed. About seven a. m. the young man apparently died, and his brother and sister began to make arrangements for the funeral. Three hours after the "death" Mr. Heywood arrived at the house to make the requisite measurements for the coffin. Having measured the body once, he was about to do so again for the purpose of checking the figures when he was startled by seeing a slight movement. He fully able to believe his eyes, he noticed that the closed eyelids twitched a little. Running out of the room, he cried out to the brother and sister, "He is living; he is not dead!" The brother ran for the doctor, and the sister, hurrying to the bedside, dipped the hands of the "corpse" in cold water, whereon the "dead" man said very faintly, "I am well." At this the sister fainted, overcome with joy. Mr. Heywood took what steps he could to revive the "corpse," but the sister's fainting was complete. The extraordinary case caused intense interest. It is supposed that the removal of a pillow from under the young man's head in order to take the measurements caused the blood to circulate more rapidly and so restored vitality.

DID MUCH FOR NAVY LEAGUE

R. E. Armstrong Reports on Dominion Executive Meeting

St. John Delegate and J. A. Irvine Here Today After Attending Sessions in Montreal—S. Harris Succeeds to Presidency.

Two of the delegates in attendance at the sessions of the Dominion Executive of the Navy League in Montreal reached St. John by train this morning. These were J. A. Irvine of Calgary, past president of the Alberta Division, and R. E. Armstrong, president of the N. B. Division of the league. Mr. Irvine, who was a former resident of the maritime provinces, crossed the bay by the Digby boat on his way to Halifax.

Upon being interviewed, Mr. Armstrong stated that the session of the Dominion Executive awakened a great deal of interest on the part of those present, and was one that was calculated to mark a new epoch in the history of the league. Every province in the Dominion, from the Pacific to the Atlantic, was represented, and all participated very closely in the subjects that came up for consideration.

Features of the session were the retirement of Aemilius Jarvis from the presidency of the board, a position he had filled for three years, and the unanimous election of Sam Harris, the president of the Ontario Division, in his place. Following Mr. Jarvis' retirement, Secretary Jackson and Treasurer Payne announced their withdrawal. General regret was expressed at their retirement. The new president was given authority to fill the vacancies.

Mr. Harris is a man who has taken a most enthusiastic interest in Navy League work. He is active in business, and it is the general feeling of all the members that he will make good in his new position.

Interesting reports were submitted by all the provinces as to the character of the work they have been doing. A great deal has been accomplished in sailor relief work, in the strengthening of boys' brigades, in the teaching of navigation, and in the awakening of a spirit of sea consciousness. Further programmes were outlined, some of which will be taken up with the government, as co-operation has been promised by the heads of the departments interested.

General appreciation was expressed over the good work in seamen's relief that has been done by the St. John Seamen's Institute.

The executive was greatly pleased at the interest manifested in the league's undertakings by the representative of the Daughters of the Empire, Mrs. Wise, of Toronto, who attended all the sessions of the board, and who imparted considerable valuable information. The report which she presented was received with great applause, and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Daughter of the Empire for their valuable co-operation.

In discussing the future work of the league it was impressed that it was the duty of the league to take an active interest in all that related to the development and utilization of our port, the expansion of our ocean commerce, and the dissemination of information throughout Canada as to the potentialities of Canadian ports.

The delegates at the league meeting were most hospitably entertained by the Montreal branch, and by the board of harbor commissioner. There was a reception luncheon at the Navy League hall, another on board the harbor commission steamer "St. Hugh Allan" (where the visitors were given an opportunity of seeing the wonderful things that the port was accomplishing) and a most delightful one at the Hurst Club's charming hall.

The only unpleasant incident that occurred was due to the action of one of the Montreal newspapers, which gave prominence to a remark that was hastily dropped by the past president and which when uttered was received in a spirit of laughter. A protest against the newspaper report was expressed by Major Edwards, the Halifax delegate at which all the members present united most sincerely.

FAIRVILLE MAN SUCCUMBS TO HEAT

Charles T. McKinnon Dead in Boston—Was Overseas Under Two Flags.

A Canadian Press despatch yesterday reported the death in Boston on Thursday, due to the excessive heat which has been prevailing there. It is now learned that one of those who died from this cause was Charles T. McKinnon of Fairville.

Mr. McKinnon was thirty-one years old and unmarried. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. McKinnon, and some years ago he left home and had journeyed over the greater portion of the United States. In the Great War he enlisted with the United States forces and was overseas with them. He contracted pneumonia and was invalided home, but on recovery went across again, this time as a member of a battalion recruited in Quebec and he saw the war to a finish. Returning to St. John Mr. McKinnon went to Boston about two years ago.

He was a member of Fairville division A. O. U. M., was a pleasing singer and had taken part in several entertainments given by the St. Rose's Dramatic Society. A popular young man, many will be sorry to learn of his death and will sympathize deeply with those bereaved. He is survived by his parents, three sisters and two brothers. These are Mrs. Hayden J. McCurdy of St. John, Mrs. Spurgeon McBride of the North End, Miss Charlotte McKinnon in the United States and Wilfred and Nell at home. His mother, to whom the sad news of his death came by telegram yesterday afternoon, left for Boston by train last evening. At the time of writing the arrangements for burial had not been completed.

Survey of Line Between Canada and U. S. Cost Today $800 a Mile—A Haven for "Lame Ducks" Says Ben Johnson.

Washington, June 10.—(By Canadian Press.)—Representative Ben Johnson of Kentucky declares that he plans to continue his campaign against the commission to survey the boundary between the United States and Canada. He calls this one of the "live forever" commissions and refers to it as one of the "lame ducks" of both great political parties. Mr. Johnson says that it has cost about $800 a mile to survey the boundary. However, the Kentucky representative admits it will be difficult to get rid of it, for it is alleged to be a convenient body on which to appoint "lame ducks" of both great political parties. Mr. Johnson, discussing a proposed appropriation of $40,000 for the commission in the house recently said: "One hundred and twelve years ago a commission was authorized to survey the boundary between the United States and Canada. Today we are told that if we appropriate $40,000 for the work it will be completed within three years, and we are told, in addition to that, that if we do not continue this large annual appropriation the Lord knows when it will ever be completed. Some twelve or fifteen years ago the commission was stimulated on the plea that it was going to become more active and was going to complete this work within a short time. But twelve or fifteen years have passed and yet we do not see the end of it. Just bear in mind, please, that this commission has been in existence 112 years. It was authorized in 1810, there has been spent on this work more than $8,250,000, and yet the end is not in sight. For the surveying of a mile or two, it has cost more than $800 a mile. Can you find a body of surveyors that cannot go into any field and survey a mile or any number of miles for less than $800 a mile?" Representative Stafford remarked that the surveyors "must be retracing their steps."

HEAVY BILLS IN IRELAND TO PAY

London, May 24.—(Associated Press By Mail)—The Irish secretary, Sir Hamar Greenwood, has announced that the house of commons a grant of £700,000, as compensation for damages to property in northern Ireland during the disorders of the last three years. During an excited debate which followed he explained that by agreement between the Colonial Secretary Churchill and James Craig, prime minister of the Ulster government, the British government undertakes to pay Ulster £2,000,000 for damages committed up to January 1. This does not cover the amount the national treasury will grant to Ireland by any means.

Sir Hamar Greenwood told the House of Commons that the total amount of another £1,500,000 for relief work for Catholics and Protestants in Northern Ireland as well as a further estimate of £2,000,000 to compensate crown employees, most of whom have lost their positions through the establishment of the new government. The total awarded by the courts in Northern Ireland to persons who have suffered damages amount to £2,000,000, so that with the British government defraying £1,000,000 there will be £3,000,000 for the Ulster government to deal with.

The courts have passed on the claims submitted in the north, which have simplified matters. In the south most of the British courts have been suppressed and where courts have been sitting many claimants were afraid to appear. Accordingly it is now possible only to estimate the claims of Southern Ireland. Sir Hamar Greenwood estimated these at about £1,000,000, but hoped they would ultimately be reduced by half.

Hence the grand total of damages to be paid to individuals by the British government for the civil war, or civic disturbances in Ireland, is about £1,000,000. Of course before the new government of Ulster was launched and the provisional government of the south, Ireland was contributing her share to the taxation of the United Kingdom, from whose funds these bills will be settled.

USE THE WANT AD. WAY

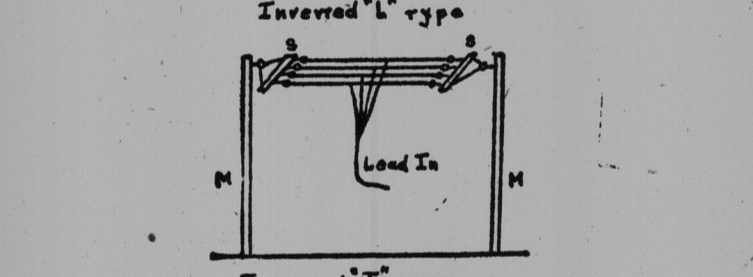

FIFTEEN MINUTES OF RADIO EACH DAY

By Edward N. Davis Formerly Technical Electrical Expert For U. S. Government

Lesson No. 23. THE AERIAL.

The important feature of the aerial, or antenna, is its ability to serve the double purpose of radiating or receiving electromagnetic waves. For purposes of transmission it radiates, in the form of electromagnetic waves, the energy contained in the oscillations of the open antenna circuit. When used for receiving purposes it intercepts the electromagnetic waves radiated from a more or less distant transmitting station and conveys a portion of the energy contained in these waves to the sensitive receiving apparatus, where it is converted into audible signals.

There are various types of aerials in general use, namely, the inverted L type, T type, the vertical fan, the loop, and the umbrella type. Of these types the inverted L type and the T type are very extensively used. Both these types are flat top aerials and consist of two or more parallel wires stretched horizontally between supports, which are in turn supported by masts or by attachment to a high projection. These two types are shown in simple form in the following diagram:

The masts (M) and (M') support the spreader (S) and (S') and between these spreaders the wires are stretched horizontally with insulators inserted as shown. The essential difference in mechanical construction between the inverted L and the T type is that, in the former, the "lead in" or vertical wires are connected to one end of the flat top, whereas in the latter the "lead in" is connected to the centre. It is very important for a transmitting aerial to be thoroughly insulated in order to efficiently radiate the energy of the high voltage oscillations. In marine installations the flat top aerials are usually of four wires, spaced approximately two and one-half feet to three and one-half feet apart, each wire being from 78 to 200 feet in length, the "lead in" wires have a combined cross-sectional area equal to the total cross-sectional area of the horizontal wires and enter the station through an insulator for connection to the transmitting and receiving apparatus. The aerial wires are usually of stranded phosphor bronze, copper, or aluminium.

The aerial has a natural wavelength due to the fact it possesses inductance and capacity in distributed form and the amount of this inductance and capacity depends principally upon its dimensions. An increase in the length of the aerial causes an increase in the inductance and capacity, and consequently an increase in the length of the aerial is not as important as it does not have to withstand the high transmitting voltage. For receiving radiophone messages a single wire approximately one hundred feet long supported high in the air and suitably insulated is in general use. An aerial of this type is very satisfactory in intercepting the electric waves and is simply and easily erected.

V. O. N. MEETING

Ottawa, June 10.—Death from preventable diseases is a disgrace to the community in which it is permitted to occur. One man has gone further and called it murder," said Dr. M. T. MacEachern, director general at the concluding session of the Victorian Order of Nurses here last evening.

Her Excellency Lady Byng of Vimy urged the great value and necessity of co-operation of health organizations in the dominion. She recognized very well, she said, the enormous possibilities of such a health organization as the Victorian Order of Nurses. Her Excellency received a basket of roses and maple leaves, Miss Katherine Cole, R. N., inspector for the order, making the presentation.

Canada was fairly alive to the value of public health she said. The incalculable value of preventive medicine could not be over estimated. It had reduced infant mortality from half to one third, had reduced adult mortality, had practically abolished many plagues, and proven the curability of many diseases. It was more powerful than science or engineers, or machinery in the life of the people.

Dr. MacEachern urged co-operation of all organizations interested in health work. Miss I. McMann, Victorian Order Nurse of Yarmouth, N. S., spoke briefly also Dr. Helen R. Y. Reid of Montreal, who said that the measure of a nation's efficiency was its health.

HON OFFICERS, PROUD ONCE, NOW IN LOWLY STATE.

Some in Menial Occupations to Get Living—Suicide of Prominent One Who Could Not Support Family.

Berlin, April 18.—(Associated Press By Mail).—Fighting for a post-war existence in civilian life has proved more harassing than the fortunes of the battlefield to many of the thousands of German officers who survived the war. They numbered some 800,000 at the time of the armistice. While the majority held only war-time commissions, there were a large number of veterans for whom the lifting smoke of the conflict revealed that they had suddenly been uprooted from their chosen careers and were forced to begin afresh in new fields. It was especially difficult for the aged officers, who were no longer vigorous and adaptable enough to battle effectively in an economic madison already burdened with keen competition.

The German army and navy in peace times included an active officers' corps of 55,760, of whom 20,960 were in the military forces. When the war broke out this list was augmented by 270,000 of those who were retired or on reserve. In addition there was the commissioned staff of the medical branches numbering 83,406. The total loss in the corps amounted to about 55,000 killed and 96,213 wounded.

Since the Treaty of Versailles permitted the retention of but 4,000 officers in the Reichswehr, a vast majority of the war survivors became factors for absorption in civilian pursuits. Today they are to be found in nearly every walk of life, some having even resorted to the positions of water and porter in order to gain a livelihood. Some were connected with trade, labor, or industry through family ties and thus found situations comparatively easy. Others returned to official positions, and a part enlisted in the newly-organized security police.

A considerable section of the ex-officers returned to university calling; particularly could they be seen at judicial and medical lectures and in polytechnic schools. In the first period of transition, some worked in subordinate executive positions as assistants and some at manual labor.

There are none of the larger banking and industrial concerns today in which former officers are not active. In some banks one runs across an occasional general. Former staff officers were in position to receive tempting industrial offers because of their unusual preparation and their knowledge of languages. Already before the war, officers were in demand by the insurance field as inspectors and agents, and this number has been noticeably increased. The automobile industry, too, has attracted many. Detective agencies and warehouses have employed them in divers capacities.

At short, the huge network of Germany's trade, commerce, and industry is fairly dotted with these former heads of companies, battalions, and other units in the old war-time armies. They are in the mines, metal works, machine factories, electric plants, technical offices, quarries, and export houses; some have drifted to the film industry.

The former surgeons-major in the army have condescended to be mere medical men or have become specialists in their profession. Many went into the chemical industry or took places in hospitals. Officers blinded in the war were mostly instructed at the School for Blind at Marburg, where they studied political economy and simultaneously learned typewriting and stenography.

Certain of the officers who, after the close of the war, resolved to begin life anew as settlers in some foreign land, are reported to have had really unhappy experiences. Some died miserably after some privation; while some few others succeeded in getting back to the Fatherland. Only a small minority made real progress abroad. Very few left the country, however, it is said, and the charge that German ex-officers since the war have joined foreign armies and navies is regarded here as unfounded.

Some in Menial Occupations to Get Living—Suicide of Prominent One Who Could Not Support Family.

The marked transformation in mode of living has variously affected the family life of ex-officers, not all of whom can maintain their former social status. For example, there is the case of the well-known First Lieutenant Berg, who in the world war was the commander of the "Appam," taken as a prize ship by the "Overland." He obtained a situation in Hamburg leaving his wife and children in the Danish town of Apenrade, formerly German. With his slender income Berg was unable to meet the cost of his family's upkeep, which became increasingly high due to the Danish standards of valuation. He finally killed himself when the family had been reduced to want.

Individual instances of resourcefulness were of everyday occurrence. One lieutenant used his last resources to buy a taxicab which he and his former orderly drove alternately. Now the taxi belongs to the orderly and the lieutenant can devote to study the humble receipts of his enterprise. Three U-boat officers combined and bought a small sailing cutter, which they ply as a freighter between German and Scandinavian ports. They themselves comprise the crew, loading and discharging all cargoes personally.

Murray Gibson, who has interested himself to wholeheartedly and persistently in the welfare of Canadian authors has been emphasizing the necessity for the Canadian public to recognize that there is abundant Canadian literary talent in their midst and that Canadian writers of fiction and other books are well worthy of support and encouragement.

Canadian character and enterprise, if they are to be kept distinctly Canadian, should be reproduced by Canadian writers who lean sympathetically towards their subjects. Courage and vitality by those responsible for the depiction of Canadian atmosphere in books is needed. The whole course of history is evidence that no well-ordered and stable commonwealth has ever maintained itself without amassing records of the deeds and wisdom of its greatest citizens. Long before there were books there were libraries. In the mounds of Nineveh have been discovered the compositions inscribed upon clay which Assurbanipal had collected, a library of some ten thousand works for the edification of his subjects. From age to age we find that the peace and prosperity of mankind are accurately measured by the growth of libraries. When the countries around the Mediterranean were attaining under the Roman sway an elaborate civilization, the great collections at Alexandria and Pergamum were formed. When the Roman Empire fell and the waves of barbarism surged over Europe, the world suffered a loss of accumulated knowledge and great literature which we still have reason to regret.

The establishment of the Christian civilization of the Middle Ages and the formation of the monastic libraries were inextricably interdependent. The new learning of the Renaissance, the stirring of that opinion of inquiry which has built up the fabric of modern science required for its service more and more libraries. The diffusion of knowledge through libraries is most important. What books should be read is of still more importance. Canada is richly endowed with authors who have given the world many valuable books. Yet still this is an apathy on the part of the public to support these writers which is quite unintelligible. A co-ordination has been very capably begun by Murray Gibson and his associates, and it will be their fault if the public does not become considerably more enlightened. Much progress has been made by Canadian authors and much more can be made by the development of individual and national power to place Canadian literature on the high plane to which its merit entitles it. A doctrine was in existence to put a bar upon fiction by some of the library authorities, but such a course can gain no support from any who believe in the value of literature. A Puritan who would exclude novels

HOME AND CHILD LIFE MATTERS Convention of Women's Institutes of Nova Scotia is Brought to Close.

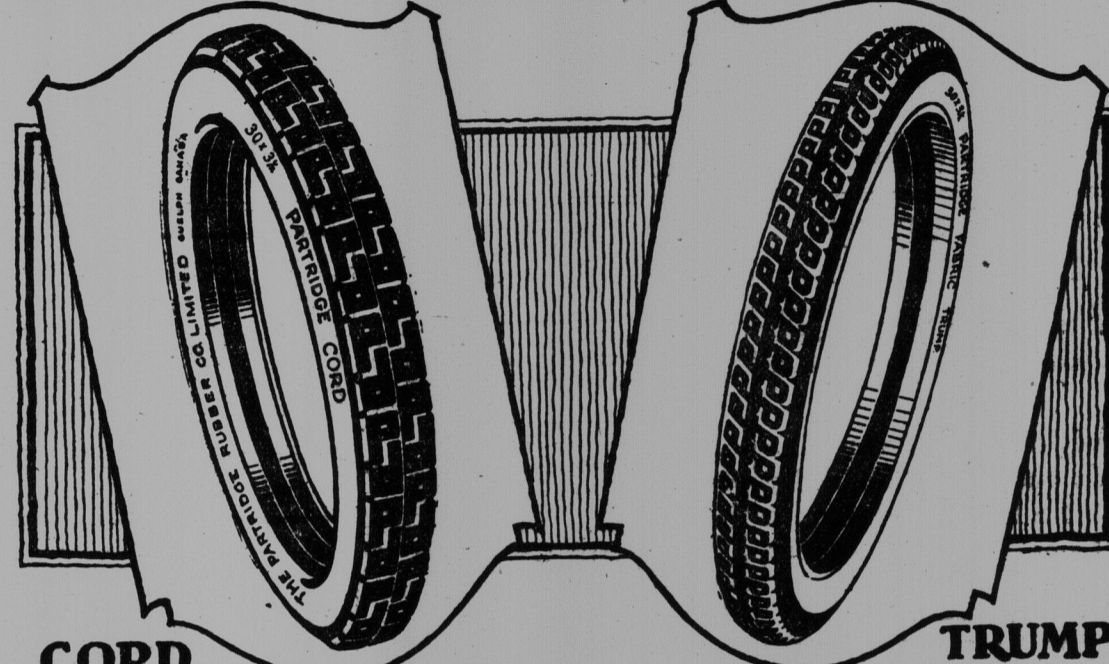

Truro, N. S., June 9.—That home economics were the central interest of the institutes because the home was the fundamental institution of society, was emphasized yesterday by speakers at the convention of women's institutes of Nova Scotia, which closed its two days' sessions here last night.

Discussing compulsory school attendance, speakers expressed it to be a matter of concern to the whole community that a child of good parts might grow up in it without anything like adequate education.

Mrs. H. A. Dickson, M. D., of Onslow, speaking on public health, said that the foundations for public health in the future were in the child life of the present.

A CAREFUL analysis of the construction and complete equipment of the Light-Six will convince you that it has no duplicate in value in the light car class.

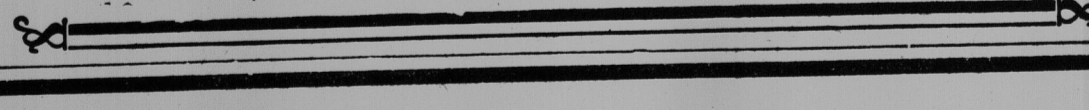

For instance, the machining of the crank shaft and connecting rods on all surfaces is a manufacturing practice that is found only on the costlier cars.

This particular operation is mainly responsible for the fine balance of the Light-Six motor and its remarkable freedom from vibration at all speeds. It also has an important bearing on the wearing quality of the car and on its long-lived, dependable service.

The exceptional values in the Light-Six are possible because practically every part that goes into the car is manufactured complete by Studebaker. Parts-makers' profits are largely eliminated. Important savings through better methods and bigger volume permit greater value to be given the buyer.

From the standpoint of shrewd investment you should find out why the Light-Six offers you so much more for your money in performance, service and economy.

SEE PROSPERITY; EMPLOYMENT GAIN

U. S. Administration Officials
Hold Bureau Report Shows
Period of Depression is Passed.

Washington, June 10.—The report of the United States Employment Service for May, is being accepted by administration officials as striking evidence of their contention that the nation steadily is approaching an era of prosperity. Director Francis I. Jones, in commenting on the data presented, stated that it "clearly emphasizes the fact that business depression is behind us," and added that "June will accentuate the upward movement."

It was asserted by Mr. Jones and administration leaders that the climb had been a steady one since January 1, and that most of the important industries had recorded continuing gains. It is the expectation of Mr. Jones that unemployment will have been reduced to what might be termed "normal" within another thirty to sixty days if the coal strike does not call a halt.

Of sixty-five cities reporting, forty-nine showed employment increases and only sixteen, some of which had been affected by the textile and coal strikes, decreases. In New York state only one city, Rochester, reported a decrease, this being 1.9 per cent. Syracuse reported a six per cent. increase; Niagara Falls, 8.8 per cent.; Albany-Schenectady, 8.8; Buffalo, 2.9; Yonkers, 1.8 and New York, 2.4 per cent. Memphis, Tenn. led with 19.5 per cent. increase. Detroit and Toledo, in the centre of the automobile industry, showed increases of 11.7 and 11.4 per cent.

The statistics on which its computations are based are gathered each month by the department's special agents in sixty-five of the principal industrial centres. In all, 1,628 firms, each usually employing more than 500 workers, or a total of 1,600,000, are comprised in the survey. On May 21, these 1,628 firms had 52,154 more employees on their payrolls than they carried on April 30, an increase of 3.2 per cent.

Attention is called to the reports from agents to an actual boom in the building industry in practically all parts of the country. It is the belief of the Employment Service that this will grow and prove a vital factor in industrial recovery. Shortage of farm hands and rising wage scales for farm labor also are reported from a large majority of the agricultural districts.

June to Help Upward Trend.

"The country as a whole is rapidly getting back to an employment basis, with the exception of the coal and cotton textile industries," Director Jones said in his review of the situation. "The broadening out of industry in most all lines of activity for May clearly emphasizes the fact that the business depression is behind us. Confidence is restored, June will accentuate the upward movement. Industry is steadily expanding."

Vehicles for land transportation recorded 11.2 per cent. increase in employment over April; railroad repair shops 4.6 per cent.; iron and steel and their products 4.5 per cent.; stone, clay and glass products 4.5 per cent.; lumber and its manufacture, three per cent.; food and kindred products 2.96 per cent.; metal and metal products 1.8 per cent.; textiles and their products 1.1 per cent.; paper and printing 1.1 per cent.

"Decrease in employment was shown in leather and its finished products in May of 8.9 per cent.; tobacco manufacture 2.9 per cent. and liquor and beverages 2.9 per cent."

"Building construction widened in May over April. A genuine building boom is on throughout the country. A shortage of carpenters, bricklayers and plasterers exists in many of the 24 principal industrial centres. What cutting has started in Texas and large numbers of men will be absorbed in the harvest fields."

The reports from the Middle Atlantic division, which covers New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, are especially encouraging as presented by the agents of the survey. They indicate general industrial advance with pronounced increases in building, steel and iron and the automotive industry.

Situation in New York State.

Commenting on the situation in New York State, the survey has this to say: "The industrial advance providing momentum and showing a decided during the past months is steadily gathering momentum in all lines. Especially in the bituminous coal industry and the cotton textile industry of the New England States was unsatisfactory, because of acute labor troubles, there were employment gains in May over June in all other industries, with the exception of leather and its finished products, tobacco manufacture and liquor and beverages, which showed, respectively, decreases of 8.9, 2.9 and 2.9 per cent.

Industries Showing Gain.

Increases in employment in industrial classifications were presented as follows: Vehicles for land transportation, 11.2 per cent.; railroad repair shops, 4.6; iron and steel and their products, 4.5; stone, clay and glass, 4.5; lumber and its manufacture, three; food and kindred products, 2.96; metal and metal products other than iron and steel, 1.8; textile and their products, 1.1; paper and printing, eight; miscellaneous industries, 4, and chemical and allied products, 2, causing employment gains have been made throughout the state. The great volume of all types of building construction has materially increased operations in almost every line of trade and industry and indicates a return to normal conditions. Building operations in the various cities have absorbed the available supply of building trade mechanics, with an apparent shortage of skilled labor. Marked advances and increased operations in the automobile and accessories industries and further improvement in the iron and steel industries. The railroad industries vary; substantial gains in some lines with reduction of force in others. The shortage of farm help continues throughout the state. Surplus of common labor is apparently exhausted, demands for workers coming from all sections."

In New York city "further advancement with decided gains in employment is noted in many branches of industry," the survey continues. "The situation in the building industry is developing most favorably with erection of large structures. Dwelling and apartments are being constructed at an unprecedented rate. Building trade workers are generally employed. Iron and steel, automotive accessories and repairs continue to show gains."

Buffalo reports that "a marked improvement in building and construction work has absorbed practically all the available supply of skilled and unskilled labor. For the first time in eighteen months an apparent shortage of common labor, especially in heavy construction work, has developed. Increased activity of the steel mills is a feature of the month. Railroad repair shops are operating on slightly less than normal basis. Shortage of farm help almost as acute as during the war period. Unemployment now existing is confined largely to clerical workers and machine shop trades."

Reports of the same general nature were sent in from Rochester, Syracuse, Schenectady and Albany. In the list of industries reporting as to payrolls, Rochester showed a decrease in employment but the general survey would seem to indicate that demand for farm labor, which is not included in the report of industrial payrolls, and building operations have more than overcome any small loss which was faced in the other industries. All of the New York cities, among them Niagara Falls, Yonkers, Troy, Utica and Elmira, as well as those heretofore mentioned, reported increased building activity and gradual improvement in industrial and farm conditions. The survey of New York was the most hopeful that has been presented since January 1.

The general report for New Jersey as presented by the department's agents appears to show a similar trend. It reads: "Industrial and employment conditions show continued improvement. Gains in employment in many of the principal industries are more than offsetting a shortage of experienced single farm hands is evident, with increasing demands for help of this character. Exceptional activity in building industries in all the large communities and in most of the smaller ones. Demand for skilled building trade workers in practically every trade. Slight gains in employment on the railroad and transportation lines at certain points. A shortage of common labor is apparent throughout the state. Iron and steel, metal and machinery, industries show improvement."

In the Pennsylvania district the agents picture another bright spot. The summary of the situation reads, in part: "The outlook in the industrial field shows a gradual and more pronounced improvement during the past month. A marked advance is noted in the general business conditions through the state; especially encouraging is the further increase in the iron and steel industry, with operations nearly normal in many mills and plants. Activities in the building industries in many sections have reached the dimensions of a real revival. A shortage in building trades mechanics is apparent."

Agents in Indiana reported the demand for skilled help in the automobile and accessory line so active that certain classes of workers "can be supplied only with difficulty." From Michigan came the report that "this has been the biggest production month the automotive industry has ever had. The business in sight will keep the plants going at top speed until the middle of July." Detroit reported "practically all plants working full time, some overtime. There are now employed 50,000 more than the peak of 1921."

Our Babies and Theirs

THESE pictures are from life. The Canadian children were photographed in Montreal — the other little soul in the famine district of Russia.

THE FAMINE IS STILL ON. Until August nothing can come from the ground.

We have food aplenty. Our babies are chubby, healthy and happy — and theirs are emaciated, miserable and racked with the agonies of starvation.

In your baby's name do something — let it be a gift from him or her to him or her in Russia. Likely your baby will never know what you have done, nor will the stricken mite in Russia, but God and you will know.

The Russian Relief Fund, Chairman Lord Emmott, with whom is associated Sir Arthur Stanley, Chairman of the British Red Cross; The Friend's Relief Mission and the Save the Children Fund, with Lord Weardale as Chairman, have been united under the Chairmanship of Sir Benjamin Robertson — the greatest living authority on famine conditions. These organizations are feeding 300,000 children in the Saratov area and are helping some of the millions of adults who are in the direst need of food.

Cheques and money orders may be forwarded through your bank, the local committee or sent direct to Sir George Burn, Treasurer, Save the Children Fund, Elgin Building, Ottawa.

EDDY'S everywhere IN THE HOME

Faithful servants of the home, wherever men have built a safe shelter against heat or cold, Eddy's have found their way by right of necessity, comfort, convenience and safety. The first thing in the morning, the last thing at night, in the homes of the rich as well as of the most humble—an Eddy match lights the way.

EDDY'S everywhere IN THE WOODS

Hunters, trappers, coureurs des bois in the great silence, whose very life depends on the match that starts the evening fire, have relied on Eddy's since the days of flint and steel. Eddy's early realized that conservation was more important than re-forestation. The perfection of Eddy match-safety has saved millions to Canada through prevention of fire losses.

EDDY'S everywhere ON THE WATER

"Sure ye got the matches?" is their last question before leaving shore for the vasty deep. Drenched to the skin but for his oil-skins, his sole companion his pipe, how sticky it lights up with the appearance of an Eddy match—sure as a flash of lightning in a stormy sky. They swear by Eddy's on the Banks.

EDDY'S everywhere ON THE TRAIL

In the long marches, in the barren wilds—to the end of the trail with these fearless riders, Eddy's has been their constant companion and friend. Out through the Crow's Nest Pass, in the Hudson Bay Posts, on the icy coasts, they count on Eddy matches. Faithful members of the Light Brigade, Eddy's have been an invaluable ingredient of law and order.

Big Production That Lowers the Cost

Large scale production is one of the chief reasons why Firestone Tires are sold this season at such low prices yet give mileage greater than ever before.

Firestone resources have made possible the most economical buying of raw materials, reduced freight costs and more efficient manufacture.

The advantages are two-fold. Firestone is able to give more in the product—better materials and finer workmanship—and to sell at a closer margin of profit.

Investigate Firestone prices now in effect and ask any user about the mileage he gets from Firestones. That will convince you of the economy of using Firestone Tires exclusively.

BETTER LIVING STAMPING OUT WHITE PLAGUE?

Dr. Allen Krause Says the Death Rate is Gradually Diminishing—Why Children Take It.

(Toronto Globe.) The progress of medical knowledge and the medical conception of tuberculosis during the past century, was the subject of a comprehensive address by Dr. Allen Krause, who is in charge of clinical and research work in tuberculosis at the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, and has written extensively on this disease.

Rests With Physician. He dwelt on the necessity that the doctors should do all in their power to help those who were recovering from tuberculosis on the long hill to health. It needed the touch of man to man and woman to woman more than anything else.

Quoting statistics, Dr. Krause said that there was a continual fall in the death rate noticeable during the past four years, but that it seemed too good to conclude that this would continue, as the death of some 700,000 people from the influenza epidemic had probably eliminated many potential tuberculosis victims.

At the present time experts in tuberculosis would not swear that it was an indoor affection, nor that it was an inherited infection. It had been proved experimentally that tuberculosis by inoculation was possible, but that did not prove the natural means of infection.

Preys on the Poor. Tuberculosis followed wealth inversely, both as to morbidity and mortality. Poor conditions of living were specially conducive to the spread of the disease.

The disease was not peculiar to any one part of the world, and was found in a great many combinations of all types of disease manifestation. It could not be definitely described as either acute or chronic.

He declared that he knew of nothing more romantic than the early history of tuberculosis, and compared it to the romance of early Canadian history. But a century ago the disease was thought of as phthisis.

People were infected by inhaling dry dust, according to the old ideas. Tuberculosis in children was considered a relatively rare disease, and pulmonary tuberculosis was thought to be practically non-existent at the time.

NEW YORK LEADS IN FACTORY OUTPUT

Census Shows City 45 Per Cent Ahead of Chicago, With Philadelphia Third—Value is $5,000,000,000.

New York, June 10—New York is the leading manufacturing city of the country, producing one-twelfth by value of the manufactured products of the country and leading Chicago by 45 per cent.

In that year New York produced manufactured goods worth more than $5,000,000,000. The daily average number of persons employed in manufacture throughout the year was 825,000.

The clothing industry stood first in importance, the value of the women's clothing manufactured being practically double that of men. New York made three times as much women's clothing as the rest of the factories of the country combined.

Printing was the next important manufacture in this city. The total production of the press in New York—news-paper, job and book—was $345,989,264.

Next came millinery and lace goods, with a total value for the year of $102,186,000. Tobacco, cigars and cigarettes followed, with a value of $146,033,207.

In percentage of production, New York stood first in making paper patterns, more than 95 per cent of the output is produced in New York establishments.

Advantage and people who could not afford to dress fairly well were more open to infection on account of their depressed mental condition.

He contended that the sanitarium was the best means of combating the disease, but in six months the sanitarium would send out about 90 per cent of its patients, and the rest of the cure devolved upon the practitioner, unless the number of sanitariums were to increase to a ridiculous degree.

GIRLS HARDEST TO DEAL WITH. Says Calgary Woman Juvenile Court Judge—Notes Decrease in Crime.

Ottawa, June 10—Prohibition and the general financial stringency are reasons given by Mrs. R. R. Jamieson, Calgary's woman juvenile court judge, for a certain decrease in both juvenile and adult crime.

"I do not see a decrease in crime," she said in an interview. "It is difficult to find an exact reason. Prohibition has been a great factor, of course. Then undoubtedly the lack of money has helped. People do not stay in the streets so much when they have no money to spend."

HON. DR. KING IN SUSSEX. (Sussex Record.) Hon. J. H. King of Ottawa, minister of public works, was a visitor in Sussex on Saturday.

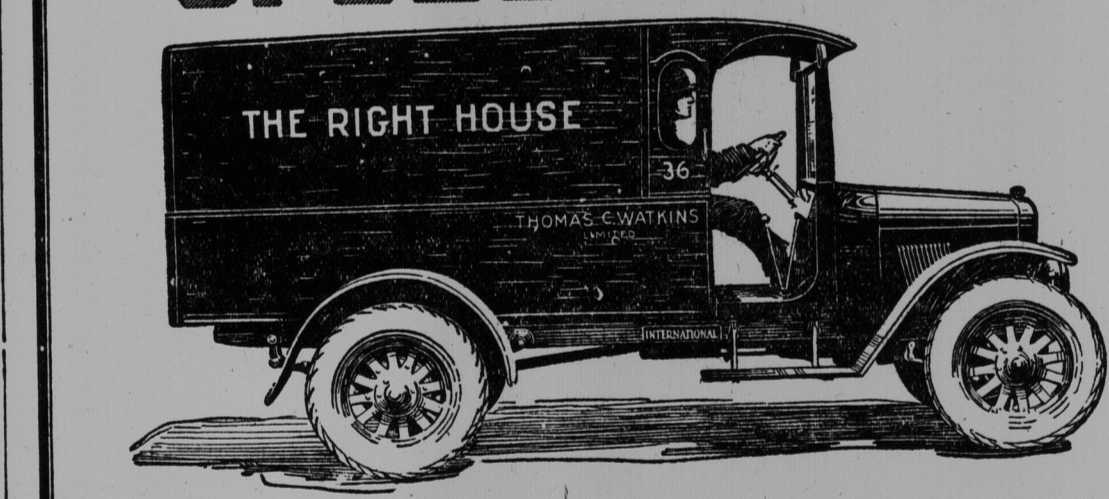

While here Hon. Mr. King, accompanied by Dr. McAllister, inspected the Dominion building and discussed the matter of remodelling the post office.

Hon. Dr. King, the minister of public works, and Dr. D. H. McAllister are old college chums, having been classmates at McGill Medical University and members of the same graduating class.

Games Postponed

Four leagues postponed games scheduled for last evening owing to the activities of the rainmakers. The Commercial and the St. George's were billed for the Queen square diamond in the senior league; the Post Office refused to allow the Water Works team take any advantage of the H-20 in the civic league, and the St. Rose's stayed home in Fairville instead of meeting the Cathedral crew in the St. Peter's house league. In the senior league next week the Queen square diamond will witness three games next week on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday nights. St. George's will meet the Water Works and Commercial, and the last-named teams will hook up together on next Friday night.

Dorchester Today

The Dorchester (Mass.) baseball team will make their final appearance here this afternoon when they clash with the St. John's on the St. Peter's Park at 3 o'clock. The visiting players are determined to capture a game from a city team and they will bend every effort to take this afternoon's contest. The St. John's will present their strongest lineup this afternoon and will prove to be a tough nut for the visitors to crack. It is probable that Parlee will pitch for the St. John's, with Ballou on the mound for the Dorchester team.

New Schedule For Juniors

The Junior St. Rose's and St. George's will play on Queen Square diamond this afternoon at 2:30 and the Canucks and the Rowing Club lines on the Nashwaak diamond at the same hour.

TRAPEZE ARTISTE

SERIOUSLY HURT IN CIRCUS STUNT

Ottawa, June 10—Before the horrified gaze of thousands at the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus in Plouffe Park, Mrs. Louisa Stokes, a trapeze artist, while attempting an aerial stunt, missed the bars and tumbled twenty feet to the earth. There were no nets or mats under the trapeze, and she fell flat on her back. She was given first aid by Dr. Roberts, the show doctor, and was rushed to St. Luke's Hospital, where she was attended by Dr. F. W. McKinstry. She was found to be suffering from spinal injuries. Next morning she was reported to be semi-conscious and resting easily.

Mrs. Stokes is over thirty years old and has been in circus life for the last fifteen years. She has been doing trapeze work for the last five years, previous to which she was an equestrienne. Two years ago she had a similar accident under similar conditions while the circus was touring the Southern States. On this occasion she suffered internal injuries and was laid up for seven weeks in hospital.

According to fellow acrobats, Mrs. Stokes was a very careful and cautious trapeze worker and never took unnecessary chances. She was a general favorite among the employes of the circus and her accident occasioned much anxiety among them.

According to officials of the circus, mats or nets are placed below the aerial artists only when high trapeze work is being performed.

The report of Mrs. H. W. Robertson and Mrs. Frederick W. Nichols returned recently from the sixth general convention of the King's Daughters and Sons in Burlington, Vermont, were received yesterday at a special meeting of the society. The order was founded in Vermont twenty-eight years ago and now has a membership of nearly 65,000. At the conclusion of the giving of reports a vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. Leonard Lindsay and seconded by Mrs. J. S. Flagler. It was carried unanimously.

MOSCOW ACTORS RECEIVING AID

Hundreds Crowd American Relief Office—Valuable Contributions.

London, May 21.—(A. P. by mail.)—Distribution of food packages provided by the recent Chauve Soudis benefit in New York, has begun among Moscow actors, and hundreds of artists, with hand carts or carrying sacks or boxes, are crowding counters of the American Relief Administration food remittance department, located in the once famous Hermitage restaurant of Moscow. Each applicant gets 118 pounds of plain American food.

Among them are such distinguished artists as Sombator, Stanislavsky and Lagovskaya, names as well known in Moscow as Barrymore or Sothers in New York. The cablegram received in London by the American Relief Administration conveying this information says further that the price of the $10 package, if it could be put up for sale in Moscow at present, would be $3,000,000 rubles, more than three months' salary of the highest-paid star.

BLIND BEGGAR RECEIVES SIGHT

Operation Enables a Familiar Chicago Character to See Again.

Chicago, June 10—"Old Bill" Babo, a Chicago mendicant whose blindness of many years duration has met with the sympathetic regard of hundreds of Chicagoans, has had his eye sight restored following a delicate and successful operation. With a hand trembling with excitement, the old man slowly lifted the black bandage that covered his eyes.

"I can see, I can see," he almost shouted as he half rose from his bed and began groping outward. "That's a chair over there," pointing with shaking finger. "It is Jim's chair, and and—here's my table. Oh, thank God. The physicians and nurses present did not let him keep the bandage up for more than a moment.

It was pronounced one of the most successful operations in the history of the eye and ear hospital, and it is expected that Babo will soon see as well as anyone.

COURT ACTION OVER PAINTINGS

New York, June 10—Dr. Grandy S. Howard of Marlton Place, Ont., yesterday won his fight in the supreme court to ignore a summons recently served on him in actions brought by David L. Rogow and Wm. Rogow of New York, for $30,000 and the surrender of certain notes, totalling $22,000.

The court sustained a decision that Dr. Howard, who is ninety years of age, had been brought from Bermuda by a cablegram subterfuge and that the service of the summons was therefore invalid.

The action by the Rogows grew out of their purchase of eighty-five paintings for which they paid Dr. Howard $30,000 in cash and gave notes for the balance of the purchase.

Counsel for the Rogows contended that the paintings were reported to be by Rubens, Titian, Raphael, Gainsborough and other noted artists. Some time after the purchase experts said the paintings were only copies and worth about $10 each. Dr. Howard's lawyers denied that any misrepresentation had been resorted to in bringing about the sale.

SMUGGLE LIQUOR INTO NORWAY

Trade Well Organized and Growing—Mostly Done by Germans and Danes.

Stockholm, May 20.—(Associated Press by mail.)—The smuggling of alcohol into Norway has become a well organized and growing trade, and this in spite of the extension of Norway's territorial waters for a distance seawards of ten miles. Over 100 vessels were waiting recently outside the Norwegian fjord for customers to take liquor already purchased. Light wines and beer only are legal in Norway, drinks containing more than fifteen per cent alcohol being barred.

Stromsta, a small place in Sweden, near the Norwegian border, is an important centre for the smuggling flotilla, which are composed mostly of German and Danish vessels. These boats enter port and have their cargoes sealed by the Swedish customs people. The skippers meet their Norwegian customers in the town and arrange for the sale of the liquor, after which they put to sea outside the nationally limit and break the seals. The Norwegian buyers meet at a rendezvous and the transactions are completed.

In this way enormous quantities of liquor are brought into Norway and prices are steadily declining. Also there has been an increase in the number of cases of drunkenness, which in Christiania is reported to be twice as large as in Stockholm.

The Norwegian government derived an annual revenue of about 46,000,000 kroner from liquor before the establishment of prohibition, but today this has been reduced to virtually nothing.

$500,000 GIFT FOR N. Y. HOSPITAL

Banker Adds to Previous Donation, and $750,000 Endowment will be Formed—Deficits will be Offset.

New York, June 10.—A gift of $500,000 to the Society of the New York Hospital by George F. Baker, chairman of the directors of the First National Bank, has been announced by Edward W. Sheldon, president of the society, at a meeting of the board of governors. A week ago public announcement was made that Mr. Baker had donated $1,000,000 to the Metropolitan Museum of Art in the form of an endowment fund.

The board of governors in accepting the gift unanimously adopted a resolution to establish the George F. Baker Endowment Fund of $750,000, consisting of the present endowment of a half million dollars and one of $250,000 made by Mr. Baker to the society in 1912. The preamble and resolutions were as follows:

"The governors of the society of the New York Hospital are profoundly grateful to Mr. George F. Baker for the magnificent gift made by him for the purposes mentioned in his letter of May 29, 1922. This is the second time that he has given the institution most liberal and stimulating aid. To carry out his wish, expressed in that letter, it was thereupon unanimously

"Resolved, That the Society of the New York Hospital gratefully accepts Mr. George F. Baker's gift of $500,000 of United States Victory Loan 3-24 per cent. notes to constitute a part of its endowment fund, the income to be used for the corporate purposes of the society, and was it was further unanimously

"Resolved, That as a permanent memorial to Mr. Baker's able and valuable services as a governor of the society since 1899 this gift be denominated the George F. Baker Endowment Fund, and that there be transferred to it the $250,000 given by Mr. Baker to the society, without restriction, in 1912, and at present invested, to constitute a single fund of $750,000, to be held upon the terms specified in Mr. Baker's letter of May 29, 1922.

The organizations within the Society of the New York Hospital which will benefit by Mr. Baker's liberality are the New York Hospital in West Sixteenth street, the Bloomingdale Hospital for Mental and Nervous Diseases at White Plains and the Campbell Cottages for Convalescent Children, also at White Plains. The society is the second oldest hospital in this country, having been granted its charter by King George III in 1771. Since that time, it was said, the hospital has treated 2,018,000 patients,

RENT MATTER IN THE ELECTIONS

Mexicans Talk of Forming Tenants' Party—Already Organized in Mexico City.

Mexico City, May 25.—(Associated Press, by Mail)—Tired of paying high rentals, tenants of Mexico City have formed a union and are even threatening a general strike of all industries in the capital unless their demands for a 75 per cent. decrease in all rents is not met by the landlords.

The union is recruited from the lower classes, but is being led by well-known labor organizers who have already staged demonstrations and have announced that they will resort to violence if necessary to achieve their end. Street parades are held at least three times a week and several have been so riotous that police reserves were called out.

The newspapers El Universal and Excelsior, which have consistently opposed the union, have been threatened numerous times and several nights ago a rowdy gang of low rent advocates attempted to set fire to the newspaper buildings. Police were necessary to drive them off.

The tenants are not at all modest in their demands. Besides asking that their rents be reduced 75 per cent, they also insist that the landlords be forced to make all sorts of repairs and installations on their properties. The landlords assert that the demand are impossible to meet if present high taxes are maintained by the federal and district governments.

The idea of lower rents is catching hold in other cities of the republic, and there is talk of organizing a Tenants' Party to compete in the national and state elections.

GETTING OIL BOTH NORTH AND SOUTH

Activities in Canada, Peru and Colombia—An Interesting Story.

The June number of the Imperial Oil Review is devoted to the activities of the company in Peru, Colombia and Northern Canada. It is a fascinating story that is told of what the company is doing in developing oil fields in the South American republics, and what it has been and is doing in western and northern Canada, especially in the Fort Norman area. On the front cover is a picture of a Peruvian belle, and on the back cover one of Ronald McKinnon, the dispatch bearer, in his furs and on his snowshoes, who travelled 1,250 miles from the Imperial Oil camp near Fort Norman. In the long list of Canadians in the company's employ in Peru, one notes the name of Miss White, formerly of Centerville, N. B., who is a nurse, and Dr. L. H. Fraser, formerly of Halifax.

Of the company's activities we read: "The deepest hole ever drilled in Canada in the quest of oil at Pincher Creek; the farthest north well at Fort Norman; the deepest hole drilled in the search for oil in South America, near Negrete, Peru; the drilling rigs at work in the tangled jungles of the Magdalena Valley, Colombia; the other drilling operations now going forward in remote sections of our own west—these are a few of the many samples of the pioneering spirit in the Imperial Oil organization."

In its introduction to the contents of its very interesting illustrated stories in its pages the Review says:—"Chance has brought the geographical extremes of Imperial activities into close association in this number. There are tales of romance and adventure in Colombia and Peru, and the thrilling story of Donald McKinnon's lonely tramp up the trail from Fort Norman to civilization. Thus what is being done in far away regions to provide the petroleum as yet lacking in our own country is portrayed in these pages, and the dinky Peruvian belle on the front cover seems naturally to link arms with the north Canadian woodsman on the back."

"Few people outside of the circle of Review readers have any appreciation of the extent of these Canadian ventures in the far north, and below the equator, nor are they aware of the Canadian colonies, Canadian hospitals, Canadian teachers and Canadian schools, and the great engineering works directed and manned by Canadians, which exist in Peru and Colombia. Now do they know much about the drills which are pounding incessantly from the international boundary to the Arctic Circle in the search for a domestic supply of oil—the most costly, the most comprehensive development of a Canadian resource ever undertaken in this country without government assistance. In the forty years since it was founded by Canadians at Petrolia, Imperial Oil Limited has become one of the largest employers of labor, the largest customer of Canadian railroads and of Canadian industry generally, one of the largest payers of taxes, and, with its
