NO SETTLEMENT YET OF STRIKE.

About 20,000 Lithographers Out of Work.

Weak Opens With Little Prospect of an Early Solution of the Difficult Labor Problem.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—Lithograph work and printing representing thousands of dollars is tied up in this city as a consequence of a strike of lithographers and assistants. At this time of the year much colored calendar work is done for dealers in the city and unless the orders now in hand can be promptly filled the loss to the employers will, it is said, be considerable. The president of one of the largest lithograph concerns in New York last night estimated that the number of strikers in this city at 8,000 and the total out throughout the country at 20,000 or about two thirds of the whole number of men engaged.

The week opens with little prospect of an early settlement of the trouble. The two sides to the controversy give different explanations of the trouble. The strikers insist that they seek only a shorter workday and conditions consistent with the class of unskilled work in which they are engaged. On the other hand a representative employer said last night:

"The length of the work-day is not involved in this dispute. That could easily be adjusted. The real point at issue is the substitution of the open shop for the closed shop. There are not lithographers enough in the country to handle the work during the busy season and there will never be under the system of apprenticeship in vogue in the closed shop. This is because the union will not permit sufficient new men to learn the trade to offset the mortality among the older men. Working eight hours a day we could not possibly fill our orders. What we want is more lithographers but we cannot introduce new men except through the apprenticeship of the union. Now what we propose to do is to establish an open shop. Here experienced men whenever we can and encourage young men to learn the business."

BEGGAR BOYS FIND PRINCESS' LOST GEMS

One Given Ains by Man Hands the "Pretty Little Glass Balls."

ROME, Aug. 4.—A few days ago a notice was posted in the streets of Rome to the effect that one of the pearls would be given as reward to the person who found a pearl necklace. Last night a boy begging on the Corso was driven away rather roughly by a policeman, whereupon a gentleman in a present of some "pretty little glass balls" he had found, and saying this, he took out of his pocket and handed over to the gentleman his pearls.

Questioned as to where he had found the valuable stones he answered that outside the walls of the city. Another boy who was with him when he found the pearls had twenty of them. The pearls belong to a necklace which Princess Falconieri lost some time ago, and for which she offered the $300 reward. It was worth $5,000, and the number of pearls which have been now found—thirty in all—represent only half its value. The children who had luckily found the precious stones were given $120 by Princess Falconieri.

MONCTON SCOTT AGT CASES BEING TRIED TO-DAY

MONCTON, August 6.—Rev. I. N. Ratch, pastor of the Lewisville Baptist church, has resigned for the purpose of taking a college course. At a hearing today before Magistrate McQueen the case of James McCleave is being tried. He is proprietor of the Windsor Hotel here and is charged with Scott Act violation. The case is being defended. The case of Min Armstrong charged with keeping a house of ill fame was also before McQueen. The papers of both these cases were served by provincial constable O. W. Belyea in the course of his piracy crusade.

SECOND EDITION HORRIBLE MURDER NEAR GUELPH, ONT.

In Rage Young Boy Shot Daughter of Farmer For Whom He Worked—Girl's Body Was Terribly Mangled.

(Special to the Star.)
GUELPH, Ont., Aug. 6.—As a result apparently of an unmanageable temper a young lad, named Wylie, is now in the hands of the police charged with causing the death of a 13-year-old girl, named Swackhammer at her father's farm in Erin township. Because the accused could not have his own way in regard to going to Acton, he appears to have taken down a shotgun and fired the contents into the body of the innocent daughter of the house. She died within fifteen minutes.

Peter Wilson, as he was known, was brought to this country three years ago by Rev. Peter Wilson, of Toronto. Less than a year ago he came to Erin township and hired out to Wm. Bingham, before the term expired Wylie became dissatisfied and left his employer, returning to Darius Kennedy, where he was first placed when brought to this vicinity.

A short distance from the Kennedy farm is the Swackhammer homestead, and being neighbors, the two farmers exchanged help. Kennedy was to have helped Swackhammer on Thursday with returning from hatching Mr. Swackhammer told the lad to assist with the chores. He refused to do so, and on going into the shed secured the gun of an old gun. One of Swackhammer's sons was hitching up to drive to Acton and Wylie pointed the stock of the gun with a threat to shoot both the lad and the horse. The rig then started to Acton and Wylie and Berdina, the 13-year-old daughter of the house went as far as the gate with Stanley.

Arrived there the former demanded to go to Acton but was refused, as he was not in a presentable condition. Some hot words then ensued between them and in a temper Wylie is said to have started back towards the house, Berdina following him. Arrived at the woodshed, where he had secured the stock, the lad got up and reached down a gun, which Mr. Swackhammer left there to shoot foxes which of late have been bothering him. When all unsuspecting, the girl entered the door it was to find herself confronted with the weapon and to receive the full charge in the upper part of her body.

Her left arm was almost torn off, her lungs were riddled, and some of the main arteries severed. At the time this was taking place the mother and father were picking berries in the rear of the house. They heard the report of the gun and upon rushing around were met by Wylie who exclaimed "I have shot Berdina."

Lying in a pool of blood the parents were horrified to see the body of their only daughter. She was carried into the house, but expired in a few minutes. The perpetrator of the deed, in the meantime took no time in making his escape. He walked to Acton and was on the point of boarding a train when his whereabouts were discovered and the police arrested him. Wylie appeared to be entirely unconcerned. He contends the shooting was accidental. That he was taking down the gun when it discharged and that he had no intention of doing harm to the girl.

SYDNEY POLICEMAN KISSED WRONG BOOK

Fixed Up Volume of Criminal Code Instead of the Bible When Being Sworn.
Prescott Anthony, a Sydney policeman, in court this morning armed with legal papers to take charge of young Denney, arrested here Saturday morning. The magistrate read the oath to the visiting policeman, who picked up what he thought was the Bible and kissed it. It was noticed by others in court that the policeman instead of kissing the Bible had kissed a large new volume of the criminal code. The mistake was mentioned to the magistrate and the policeman had to be sworn over again. He leaves tonight or tomorrow for Sydney with his prisoner, who is wanted for stealing brass gun works from the Nova Scotia Steel Company's works.

SHOCKING EVIDENCE IN ASSAULT CASE.

Little Ethel Train, the Victim, and Her Companion May Short Tell Revolting Story of the Affair and Positively Identified Clarke as Their Assailant—A. O. Skinner on the Stand Tells of Sending Girls to Town—Prisoner is Unconcerned.

The preliminary hearing of about the most shocking case that has ever been heard in St. John, was commenced before Magistrate R. J. Ritchie in the police court this morning, when William E. Clarke, aged 26 years, was confronted with the dreadful crime of having snared pretty little Ethel B. Train, aged 13 years, Saturday afternoon in the woods of the Millidgeville Road.

The sentence for such an offence is very severe as is shown by section 47 of the criminal code which reads: "Every one who commits rape is guilty of an indictable offence and is liable to suffer death or to imprisonment for life."

It was the impression of many who heard the case this morning and witnessed the little girl who had been so disgracefully outraged, that the section above quoted is none too severe. Before ten o'clock this morning the court room was crowded with inquisitive people and as Clarke was brought up from the central cells, he was the first of a line of other prisoners. He was instantly recognized by some in court and the word "That's him on the end of the bench," was quickly turned on him. A number stepped to the rail to get a better look and there was very little sympathy shown in the eyes turned in his direction. When eyes turned in his direction, when he sat on the bench and leaned against one of the posts, he then looked about for friends but as he did not even receive a nod of recognition he set his back and faced the judge.

The prisoner is a man about five feet eight inches tall, slightly stooped shoulders, a sandy mustache, prominent nose, and a tanned skin as would be expected from a man employed out of doors. He wore a hard blue hat, blue coat, vest and trousers, white shirt and standing collar, no necktie and canvas shoes with leather straps. A cut about five inches across and down could be distinctly seen. In fact the description given the police on Saturday tallies almost exactly with his appearance this morning.

When a number of prisoners had been disposed of they were ordered down stairs by the magistrate and the court room was cleared of all who had no business in the case. Dr. A. W. Macrae informed the court that he appeared in the interests of the little girl assaulted. When the court case was brought in.

In the company of her father, Louis Train, Ethel, the girl assaulted, came into court, as did her companion May Short. The little Train girl was neatly dressed in a light dress and hat and betwixt her she made her appearance in court she could be heard bitterly crying. Her swollen eyes covered by her hands, she sat beside her father and wept bitterly during the entire session of the court, and when called on to give her evidence, she hesitated, but finally gave, between fits of sobs and tears, a straight forward and convincing testimony against the prisoner, who, sitting on the prisoners' bench, heard every word distinctly and seemed the least concerned nervous and smiled when the two little girls positively identified the culprit and stood up and calmly heard Judge Ritchie read the charges to him.

The first witness called in the case was A. O. Skinner, who testified that on Saturday afternoon he was driving towards Millidgeville about 3.30 o'clock and met a little girl running towards the carriage saying "Mister there is a man in the woods killing a girl." Witness took the child in his carriage and near a barn met the other girl. She said that the man had run into the woods, the girl said the man had threatened to kill her if she screamed and had hurt her. After a short search he put the two girls in to take up the matter. Afterwards Detective Killen came out and the matter was referred to him. Witness identified the two little girls in the court as the ones he saw on the road.

May Isabelle Short was the next witness. She said she was 12 years old last January. On Saturday she left home with Ethel Train to pick blueberries on the plains off the Millidgeville road. They each had cans and witness' father said he would call for them. They were walking along the road when a man came along and said "Don't you know where to get the berries? Come back here and I'll show you." "We climbed over the fence," witness continued, "and he helped us to pick some berries. He put some in my can and some in Ethel's. He said to Ethel, 'Will you come back farther and I'll show you where you can get raspberries,' and to witness 'You can stay and pick blueberries.' Ethel told him we were waiting for my father who was coming in a bus and was going to drive us in. He then said 'You come back and I'll show you where to get raspberries, but I said no for if I did I would miss my father, who was coming in the bus. He then said 'Are you afraid?' We didn't answer him, and he said 'Two big girls like you shouldn't be afraid.' He asked us our names and where we lived. He then asked me how much I weighed and then lifted me up. He then asked Ethel, and she said 72 pounds. He lifted her up and told her she did not weigh that much. He then told Ethel to sit down, saying, 'If any of you scream I will fix you both.' When he turned to face Ethel I ran away and saw Mr. Skinner coming along. I told him and he drove back as fast as he could. She said she would know the man who had helped pick the berries, and when confronted with the prisoner she said:

"I will fix you both." When he turned to face Ethel I ran away and saw Mr. Skinner coming along. I told him and he drove back as fast as he could. She said she would know the man who had helped pick the berries, and when confronted with the prisoner she said:

HON. MR. TEMPLEMAN WAS PLEASSED WITH ST. JOHN

Minister of Inland Revenue, Who Spent Sunday Here, Says Government's Policy is to Make St. John Harbor and All the Other Harbors of Canada Absolutely Safe for the Largest Vessels

Hon. W. Templeman, minister of inland revenue, and W. Mackenzie, the well known Ottawa newspaper man, arrived in the city on Saturday evening, coming direct from Montreal on the I. C. R. When met by a representative of the Star, Mr. Templeman said his visit to St. John was for the purpose of government to deepen harbors wherever necessary—not only St. John harbor, but all the important harbors of the country—and he had no doubt that in time the government would be able to satisfy every reasonable demand in that regard. "You know," he said, "the government has spent money freely in great public improvements and it of meeting the officials of his department and informing himself in a general way in regard to the duties and work devolving upon them. Then he wanted to see the city, which he visited only once before, now some thirty years ago. Mr. Templeman is greatly pleased with St. John. He said that his own city of Victoria was undoubtedly one of the finest cities in the world in respect to natural beauty and climatic conditions. But St. John was unquestionably in the same rank, particularly as to situation and its great natural beauty. A drive to Rothesay and across the river surprised him greatly. The magnificent hills, beautiful valleys and fine stretches of water were a revelation to him and as he said he now thought the two extremes—the Atlantic and the Pacific coasts—were the most charming spots in all the broad Dominion. When the question of dredging was suggested Mr. Templeman said that was a matter about which he knew very little and could not express an opinion further than he felt quite sure that the Hon. Mr. Hyman, minister of public works, was fully alive to the importance of the work to be done to ensure a sufficient depth of water and wharf accommodation for all shipping. PLENTY OF ROOM FOR 1,000 SKATERS

The re-opening of Victoria Rink, as a roller skating resort, does, as has already been said, mark another step for the familiar structure. In this matter, as in all other catering to the public, Manager R. J. Armstrong is giving the people the very best. The solid hardwood flooring that is covering up the asphalt circle is as true as spirit level and carpenter's tools can make it, and the immense area will afford plenty of room for a thousand skaters without a suspicion of crowding. It will be possible to hear the Victrola plainly, for the gallery will be backed up with a large sounding board, ice cream rooms, sitting-out nooks and promenades will be added attractions.

St. David's Sunday school had a very enjoyable picnic at Westfield Beach on Saturday. Races, boating and games of all kinds furnished the day's pleasure. Mayor Sears was among the visitors to the grounds, and Ald. Willet was also at hand. In fact there was almost a quorum of aldermen at Westfield on Saturday.

WELSHER KICKED TO DEATH AT RACES.

Crowd of Intemperate Gamblers Kill One of Number Who Was a Crook.

MELBOURNE, Aug. 4.—A tremendous sensation was created at Flemington race course yesterday, when an infuriated crowd of gamblers literally kicked to death a "welshe" named Donald Macleod, on the latter seeking to abscond.

The incident has materially strengthened the Jenkins crusade and horrified the entire community. Dr. Clarke, the Anglican Archbishop of Melbourne, has written a powerful letter to the press calling on all Christians to learn the lesson of the tragedy and fight the demon of gambling. References were made in every public in Sydney, Melbourne and Adelaide today.

Mr. Juddins, addressing a large men's meeting at Melbourne tonight, said that the gambling bosses were the real murderers.

A meeting of the ladies' auxiliary of the Seamen's Institute will be held at the Children House this afternoon at half-past three. A large attendance is specially requested.

GORKY'S APPEAL.

Little has been heard of Maxim Gorky during the last few weeks. Since he, disgusted with the treatment he received in New York, retired to the mountains with his wife, the newspapers have not kept him so constantly in the public eye. But Gorky is not the kind of man to remain silent long. He has been thinking a great deal. From away up in the Adirondacks he has issued an address to the people of America, asking them, as Christian citizens who wish to find for themselves the consciousness of their own significance in the world, the proud justification of their own lives, to help Russia. The duty of mankind Gorky says is to help mankind and the duty of the American people is to help the unfortunate Russians to free their country from the parasites which suck its life blood. The czar, he points out, has dispersed the Duma. This small man, trembling on his throne for his life and power like an aspen leaf, has with one stroke of the pen, with a convulsive movement of his hand, destroyed all semblance of law in Russia, and called into life a new series of murders, robberies and outrages. Nothing but a policy of brutal and bestial reprisals can result. Continuing Gorky says:— "The black, bloodsoaked wings of death will flutter over the earth for months. The exhausted earth will swallow thousands of corpses of men whose only crime was the desire to live a human life. "Many women and children will perish from bullets, swords and clubs. Many crying outrages will be perpetrated. "The world will be seized with horror and indignation. "Here and there public meetings will be held at which the speakers will eloquently denounce the czar and his band of savages. "The speakers will be rewarded by applause and the public will leave the meetings in the proud conviction that they have responded to the call of the unfortunate people of a foreign land and thus discharged their duty to humanity. "At the same time the blood of the Russians will flow in wide streams. "Are we civilized or are we not? "I think we are not. We only pretend to be and to abhor criminals. "If my neighbors assault and torture human beings in their house and I hear the groans of the victims, and though I pity them I do not rush to their aid—I am a civilized person? "If I live in a town where countless murders, robberies and outrages occur every day, and I am familiar with those occurrences but do nothing to prevent the robberies and to stamp out the crime—I am a civilized person? "If on the earth on which I live and rear my children such deeds of horror and lawlessness are enacted as in Russia and Turkey, and I while condemning these acts, console myself with the thought that in my country life is easier, safer and better, and thus console myself with a lie—I am a civilized person? "People whose hearts are devoid of the consciousness of the brotherhood of nations are not civilized—they are still savages. "People who live quietly when everything around them is soaked in blood, and who are not civilized—they are simply satiated animals. "People who have children and allow them to grow up amid anarchy and lawlessness and to poison their hearts with the sight of all the corruption which deforms the world—are, such people are not civilized. "The world is for all, and everybody has a right to its joys. "Are there in this country living men, and will they bear me? "One reads of revolting crimes such as were perpetrated near Millidgeville on Saturday with a sort of sickening horror. Parents, especially, grow faint at the thought. No punishment is too severe for such fiendish conduct. "It would seem that there is every need of greater vigilance on the part of the police force, not only in the more secluded streets and alleys, but around the public squares. Magistrate Ritchie has, on more than one occasion, drawn the attention of the police to the fact that night after night scores of young girls are sitting in the squares late at night or walking the streets to their ruin. This disgraceful condition of affairs has long been attracting the attention of private citizens. It is about time for it to attract the attention of the police. "According to recent financial advices from San Francisco, the bank clearances at that city for the week ending July 28, were 9.3 per cent. greater than for the corresponding week a year ago. It looks as if the Pacific Coast Metropolitan has a bright future.

THE BILLION-DOLLAR BABY.

(John D. Rockefeller, Jr.) The billion-dollar baby wails out its discontent. When colic grips him, just like babies, that haven't got a cent, and all his piles of dollars won't help a bit, forsooth. When through his rosy little gums, appears his first sharp tooth; The billion-dollar baby has not another hair. Upon his shiny little pate, than common babies wear; And all the jeweled brooches, that nurse sticks in his skin, will be as much to him as scratches with the cheapest common pin. The billion-dollar baby will weep at life's alarms. And hide his frightened little face in nurse's sheltering arms. He'll fret, and fume, and spatter, upon his bed of down, Just like the poorest baby, that ever came to town. FANNY L. LEFFORD.

RACIAL HATRED.

"Of course, doctor, German measles are never serious. "I never met but one fatal case. "Fatal?" "Yes, it was Frenchman, and when he discovered it was German measles that he had mortification set in." Philadelphia Ledger.

BOXING THE COMPASS.

Little Jack—"What did papa mean by saying that he was the captain of this ship?" Ma—"Oh! that is only his way of saying that he is the head of the house." Little Jack—"Pa, as captain, then what are you?" Ma—"Well, I suppose I am the pilot." Little Jack—"Oh, yes; and then it must be the compass?" Ma—"The compass? Why the compass?" Little Jack—"Why the captain and pilot are always boxing the compass, you know?"

PRECAUTION.

"Edmund, why do you always take a lamp when you think you hear a burglar downstairs?" "Alice, I wouldn't tell everybody, but the real reason is this—I want to give the burglar a chance to see that I'm not the man to do anything to him if he'll clear out without doing anything to me."

DIFFERENT THINGS.

A Congressman from Illinois tells of the trials of a politician in that State, over. No one was injured. The politician, a somewhat too ardent advocate of women's suffrage. On one occasion, it striking with her husband for her adverse stand in the matter. "Mark my words," exclaimed she, "if I were a man, I would have a law passed that would give women the right to vote." "For mercy's sake don't say that!" retorted the politician, with assumed horror. "I'm satisfied, my dear, if you secure the right to vote!"

FOOD, FOOD, EVERYWHERE.

It seemed a monstrously impossible thing for us two to starve, yet starve we must, and that right presently, unless relief should come. We were even now on our last bootleg. Of the supplies we had laid in, nothing remained but a tin of nutmeg. "Of course we can't eat nutmegs," I muttered, half delirious. Suddenly Paoli leaped to his feet. "Bring me those nutmegs," he cried, "rising me voice." I brought him the tin. He glanced at the names on the label and with a burst of exultation burst from his lips. "They are! They are Connecticut goods. The luckiest! Quick!" he shrieked and trembled like a leaf with excitement. "I began to see. In feverish haste I brought the buckwheat. It was soon over. In less than ten minutes we sat each with a dish of breakfast food before him, and ate, and laughed, and wept hysterically.

PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE.

Marshall P. Wilder tells of a young man in Wilkesbarre who had aspirations to the hands of a daughter of one of the wealthiest men in that place. Recently the hopeful one had an interview with the father for the purpose of laying the matter before him. "Well," growled the old man, "what I most desire to know is, what preparation have you made for the future?" "Oh," exclaimed the suitor, in a confident and obliging tone; "I am a Presbyterian; but, if that denomination doesn't meet with your approval, I am quite willing to change."

MIGHT GO BAD.

The late Dr. Boardman used to relate this on himself. "I preached a funeral sermon at one time, and spoke longer than was my custom. "The undertaker was a man of nervous temperament, and as the afternoon was going, he began to be anxious to be on his way to the cemetery. He finally whispered to one of my members: "Does your minister always preach as long as that at a funeral?" "Yes," said the undertaker, "the sermon is all right, and I believe in the resurrection, but I'm afraid if he does not stop pretty soon, I will not get this man buried in time."

BEASTLY OLD MEN.

A Correspondent Gives Instances of Degradation in the City—Claims the Police Should Interfere—Startling Assertions.

ST. JOHN, N. B., August 6. Editor Star.—I have been shocked, but not surprised, by the reports in today's papers relative to an assault case out of the Millidgeville Road Saturday, and am of the opinion there are many more human monsters in town who should be ferreted out by the police and summarily dealt with. Magistrate Ritchie's frequent denunciations of street-walking degenerates mere children—are not excited curiosity, but genuine hard sense, and it is a crying shame they should not be more carefully heeded. Have our police officers got to be furnished with conclusive evidence before they approach a case of indecency, or can they not, in their official capacity, risk securing the truth by at least interfering? Surely citizens do not have to come down with plain facts and figures before any action is taken. On this day last week a mere child—a little girl—was seen standing beside an old man, who was seated on a King Square bench in a most conspicuous position. The child was doing young to realize what she was doing, and had evidently been calmed into the seat by the degenerate old man. This was in broad daylight in King Square. Again, over in the North End, in the vicinity of St. Luke's church, another old man has held a rendezvous for some time with a small girl daily at 12 o'clock, the place meeting being a secluded stable owned by a merchant. Neighbors have watched the meeting, but none have had the boldness to inform the police. Yet no action is taken in breaking up their schemes. We never hear of any of these madmen reported for being on the special attractions, for it is their offense under the act. It is revolting to realize that a city like that of St. John contains so much bestial indecency. If a person were to be on the lookout for it lots of it could be found, and right in public places, too. But it is not the duty of citizens to do this; we pay a police force to look after such. Are they doing it? ONE WHO KNOWS.

SYDNEY FLYER RAN OFF TRACK

HALIFAX, N. S., Aug. 6.—The Sydney flyer which left Sydney for Halifax at 2.30 p. m. Saturday ran off the track 17 miles the other side of New Glasgow in the Piedmont valley about 6 o'clock Saturday night, the engine, tender and baggage car leaving the track. The latter went half way down a foot embankment and the engine tipped over the other side. The other cars left the rails, but did not turn over. No one was injured. The train was going about 40 miles an hour at the time, otherwise a great disaster might have occurred. The great speed keeping her from toppling over. The truck was torn up about 100 yards. A relief train from New Glasgow brought the passengers to Halifax, arriving here 2.30 Sunday morning.

NO FAKIRS AT THIS BIG SHOW

When a person sets out to go to a county fair or a big exhibition a certain sum of money is figured upon to spend on the special attractions. The time-honored and leather-junged faker is ostensibly included in this figuring, but he may be cut out of all reckonings when the St. John Exhibition is being considered, for the simple and gladness fact is that he won't be there. It is said of the North American public that the more you gull them, the more they like it, but that's a statement that has gone a long while unchallenged. The St. John Exhibition management will disprove this in toto. Instead of the Pike being taken up with "wild men," human monstrosities, and the like, it will be a thoroughfare of first class side-shows, all have undergone careful inspection before being allowed on the grounds. They will not be tame and uninteresting, either, but full of that Yankee snap and ginger that makes a show of the Exhibition's size a success. Besides the Pike there will be two animal circuses, a Band of Ladies, the Maroon Telegraph, trained Birds, fireworks, etc. A monstrous big, clean, fakeless whirl of unparalleled fun—as far as Lower Canada is concerned, anyway.

HE WON A PRIZE.

An English couple dreamed of a lottery and despite her mother's advice invested her savings in a ticket. A few days later the employer was astonished to see that the ticket had won $100,000. He was a bachelor and she was an old servant. It was impossible to think of parting. He proposed and was accepted, and they were married by special license next morning. As they drove away from the church, he said to her: "Well, Molly, two happy events in one day. You have married, I trust, a good husband. You have something else—first let me ask you about the lottery prize." Thinking her husband meant to scold, she replied, with a sigh of relief: "Don't say no more about it. I thought how it would be, and that I should never hear the last of it, so I sold the ticket to the banker for a guinea profit!"

LAUSANNE, Aug. 5.—A peculiarly heartless crime has been committed at Lecco, on Lake Como, in the name of the "Camorra," the notorious Italian secret society. A young man named Navazio, who formerly lived in his teens, and remained a faithful member until a few months ago, when he married a beautiful Italian girl of 18. Navazio, who was a steady, hard-working young man and a clever cabinet maker, wished to rid himself of his old associates, and sent in his resignation to the Camorra. He received a reply to the effect that he knew too much, and was too useful a member for his resignation to be accepted. He prayed and begged vainly for his release. Lately he was ordered "on a

300 DROWNED IN TERRIBLE WEEK-END OFF SPANISH COAST

Immigrant Steamer With 800 Souls on Board Went Down—Captain Blamed Himself and Suicided.

Fearful Scenes on Wrecked Vessel—Maddened Immigrants Fought With Knives for Life Buoys and Boats—No Regard for Women and Children—Rescuers Drowned—An Archbishop's Heroic Death.

CARTHAGENA, Spain, Aug. 5.—A terrible marine disaster occurred last evening off Cape Palos, when the Italian steamship Sirio, from Genoa for Barcelona, Cadiz, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres with about 800 persons on board, was wrecked off Hormigas Island and 300 emigrants, most of them Italians and Spaniards, were drowned.

The captain of the steamer committed suicide. The bishop of Sao Pedro, Brazil, also was lost, and it is reported that another bishop is among the missing.

CAPTAIN'S RECKLESSNESS TO BLAME.

The steamer was threading a difficult passage through the Hormigas group where the Bajos Hormigas reef is a continual menace to navigation. The vessel began to strike the reef immediately she had struck and a terrible scene of confusion and panic ensued on board.

CONDITION OF SURVIVORS IS DEPLORABLE.

The condition of the survivors is most deplorable. They have lost everything and are without money, food or clothing.

SURVIVORS' FEARFUL STORIES.

Passengers confirm the fearful nature of the calamity. From the broken narratives of the terror-stricken survivors it would appear that it was the intention of the captain of the Sirio after leaving Barcelona, to call at Cadiz before proceeding to Brazil.

An unsuccessful attempt was made on Saturday to raise the crib which had been sunk for six weeks beside the Sand Point wharves, and which Mr. Mayer has complained as interfering with the dredging operations.

Boston, Aug. 5.—The thirteen-year-old daughter of Louis Train of 29 Brussels street, was brutally assaulted Saturday afternoon while picking blueberries outside the Millidgeville road in company with a younger girl, May Short.

It is now quite generally believed that he is the man who attempted an outrage on a little girl several weeks ago within the last two weeks several young girls have been chased in the vicinity of the Millidgeville road, and it has become a matter of talk that he has been seen very frequently in the vicinity of the road.

PREPARING FOR THE ELEPHANTS.

The Great Feature of Amusement Row at Exhibition.

Mr. Barlow Sends Word About the Staging, Which Must be of Extraordinary Strength.

F. G. Spencer announces that on Saturday last he received a letter from Mr. Barlow of Barlow's elephants, in which Mr. Barlow gave instructions with respect to how he wanted the building for the elephants constructed. He also gave some idea of how strong he wanted the stage built, as a stage strong enough to hold the herd of elephants would have to be much stronger than the ordinary stage. Mr. Barlow said that he would leave Conroy Island two weeks before coming to St. John. He will spend one week at Washington, D. C., and from Washington he will come direct to St. John, arriving several days before the opening of the exhibition. For these elephants alone Mr. Spencer is paying almost an incredible price, as this show is the greatest headline for the "Hippodrome" in New York and has been most successful in all its engagements. For instance, after leaving St. John the elephants will go direct to New York, thence to Mexico, where they have an eight weeks engagement. For this engagement they are getting an immense price. They then go back to New York and will again go in the "Hippodrome" to remain there until Vanity Fair, the large new amusement place which is being built by Bunde and Thompson, is completed, and they will then fill a several months' engagement in that show. For shipping these elephants to St. John without the transportation for the trainers, will cost Mr. Spencer $10,000. Mr. Barlow and her lions cost him altogether, and the cost of that amusement was more than the average show would cost at the Opera House for a week.

A communication has also been received from the Manager of Wood's Monkey Theatre, and he states that he will arrive in St. John on Monday, September 3rd. Drury who has been engaged by Mr. Spencer to put up the building for the "Pike" show this morning, he expects to have the work completed in about ten days. The evening operations will be completed, and when completed the "Pike" will have over 1,000 electric lights.

It is reported that the "Hippodrome" will be unable to accommodate all the crowds by only having one show a day, so the management have decided to put on three shows each day; one at 3:30 o'clock in the evening, the second at 7 o'clock p. m., and the third at 9 o'clock in the evening. Between the evening shows the fireworks will be displayed.
