WATER EXTENSION.

Matter Taken Up But Deferred for a few Weeks—Other Business.

The regular monthly meeting of the Newcastle Town Council was held in the Council chamber last Thursday evening.

There were present His Worship Mayor Hennessy, and Aids. Williston, Lawlor, Desmond, Belyea, J. Clark, T. A. Clarke and Allison.

The committee on petitions was given an extension of time to deal with petitions.

Ald. Lawlor from the committee to superintend the placing of poles and work of the Central Telephone Co., reported that with Aids. Williston and Desmond, he had devoted considerable time to this matter and it was the endeavor of the committee to do the best possible for the ratepayers. They obliged the company to move a number of posts and were endeavoring to keep as everything uniform as possible.

Ald. Belyea from the Finance Committee stated that the overdraft in Royal Bank was about $20,000. Estimates had been received for printing of the $40,000 bonds authorized. When these were sold the town would be able to wipe out the overdraft, and allowing $10,000 for shrinkage on bonds, have about $10,000 for extension of the water and light systems.

Ald. J. Clark was sorry the chairman of Public Works was not present as he would like to take up the matter of the extension of the water system up Jane street. This work should be done at once if at all possible.

Ald. Lawlor agreed with Ald. Clark that the work should be done at once, but this street belonged to the government and the town could do nothing until permitted by the government.

Ald. J. Clark moved that work of laying water and sewerage system up Regent street from highway to Lindon's corner be proceeded with at once.

Ald. Williston did not wish to oppose this but it was no use of talking of doing this and making another dead end. This would have to be extended around to Prince William street. He thought it would be best to defer the work for a week or two until we hear from Ottawa and then have all the work done at once.

Ald. Clark's motion was withdrawn.

Ald. Belyea from the Finance Committee recommended the payment of the following bills.

A. A. Davidson, $10.00

Anslow Bros., 36.25

The bills were ordered to be paid.

Ald. Williston from the Water and Light Committee read the following report:—

To His Worship the Mayor and Aldermen, for the Town of Newcastle.

Your Committee on Water and Light beg leave to recommend the payment of the following accounts.

J. Leonard, & Sons, $51.50

Can. General Elec. Co., 4.77

Sumner Co., 17.78

T. McAvity, & Sons, 4.58

Your Committee also recommend that the attached water accounts be written off as upon investigation we find that they are over-charged.

(sgd.) H. WILLISTON, Chairman.

This was received and the bills ordered to be paid.

Ald. J. Clark moved that the Assessors be heard in reference to their bill.

Mr. James Falconer was sorry that Mr. Fish had been called out of town, but he would endeavor to place the matter before the Council.

He asked if the Assessors bill was presented to the Council. He had heard that the Finance Committee had made out the account to suit themselves. According to the warrants issued the Assessors were entitled to the percentage stated and not one per cent, as passed by the Finance Committee.

Ald. Belyea stated that when bill came up in committee it was not filled in with the amounts and they filled in the figures. He claimed that the assessors were entitled to two and one half on the County taxes, two on schools, and one on town taxes, but the other members stated that the new bye-law fixed the rate at one per cent, and passed the bill at that per centage.

Ald. J. Clark required if we had control of rate for school taxes outside the town. Answer—The special act passed authorized the change.

Ald. Williston moved that matter be referred to Finance Committee to be reported on at next meeting. Carried.

The council then adjourned.

Delegates to County Sunday school Convention at Doaktown, on Sept. 4th and 5th should send their names at once to Mr. A. Kelly, Doaktown; also remember that they are entitled to a return ticket free by trying first class ticket to Doaktown and getting with ticket a standard certificate. All schools should send returns at once to THOS. A. CLARKE, Co. Secretary.

AWFUL DESTRUCTION BY EARTHQUAKE

Than at First was Reported.

Valparaiso Disaster More Severe

TWO THOUSAND KILLED

Two Hundred and Fifty Million Dollars Worth of Property Destroyed.

Valparaiso, Aug. 19.—At 7.52 last Thursday evening Valparaiso experienced an earthquake of great severity and during that night 82 shocks were felt. Most of the buildings in the city were either ruined or damaged. The loss will probably reach $250,000,000. Two thousand persons killed is considered a fair estimate. Vina Del Mar, three miles from Valparaiso, with a population of over 100,000, Quirique, 225 miles to the southward with a population of 2,500, Salto Limche, fifteen miles to the north west with a population of 6,500, Quilota, 25 miles to the north west with a population of 10,000, and villages all around were destroyed. Most of the damage was due to fires which started immediately after the first shock. The whole population is sleeping in the hills, parks and streets. Food is very scarce. The railroads are all destroyed. Rain which commenced to fall immediately after the first shock, stopped an hour afterwards. The nights are very cold and windy and the people sleeping in the open air are suffering greatly. The captain of a steamship, which arrived at San Francisco says the situation is worse than that following the San Francisco disaster.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 18.—A despatch received here from La Paz says that reports received there show that earthquake shocks continue to be felt at Valparaiso, where panic prevails.

The fire originated in the Plaza de Orden and is rapidly spreading to the northern portion of the city. The despatch adds that it is officially confirmed from La Serena, Chile, that much damage was done at Valparaiso and that many persons were killed or injured.

tion we find that they are over-charged.

(sgd.) H. WILLISTON, Chairman.

This was received and the bills ordered to be paid.

TELEPHONE COS. STILL AT WAR

Central Telephone Company Rushing Work on Lines at Newcastle.

EXCHANGE SOON.

Solicitors Canvassing for Subscribers Meet With Fair Success Here.

The telephone war is still on and the Central Telephone Co. is making heroic efforts to install a central and get in line to accept business.

On account of the action of the New Brunswick company in cutting off connections with Chatham many of its subscribers here are in favor of the new company, and some have signed contracts for instruments to be put in as soon as the service is ready.

The New Brunswick company has established communication at Chatham but Central subscribers cannot be connected.

The Central Co. has placed phones at the Hotel Miramichi, Waverley and Recording Office, where Chatham subscribers can be communicated with.

The new company is sticking closely to the old rates, but promises a better service and gives practically the whole county free of tolls.

MEN RETURN

FROM PETTAWAWA

Had a Good Trip and Did Fairly Well in Competition.

The contingent of the 12th Field Battery who went to Pettawawa, last week returned Saturday. They report having a fine trip, the weather being cool.

It is expected that the Battery will stand fairly well in the competition. At the target practise they did very well, the first target receiving more hits than placed by any previous battery. In the second they did not do quite so well. In fire discipline, owing to changes in non-commissioned officers, the battery was not up to the usual mark.

Mary Haley, the fourteen-year-old daughter of Frank Haley, St. George street, west end, St. John, disappeared from her home Thursday afternoon and since that time no information has been obtained as to her whereabouts.

The flag pole in the square, which was shattered by lightning during last week's electrical storm, had to be taken down to be repaired. The Park and Fire committee secured the services of Mr. Jas. Wright who did the job in a creditable manner.

Minard's Liniment Cures Colds, etc.

At Sussex, Wednesday, the marriage took place of Miss Vera MacLean, daughter of Ald. J. R. MacLean, and Frank R. DeBoo, son of I. DeBoo, of Newcastle. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Rogers. The bride was attired in a Princess dress of cream crepe de chene with trimmings of all-over lace and silk ribbon, and carried a bridal bouquet of carnations and orange blossoms. Mr. and Mrs. DeBoo left by C. P. R. for Fredericton.

Hot, Tired, Thirsty? A drink of Sovereign Lime Juice will cool and refresh you.

The many friends of Mr. Thomas Cassidy will sympathize with him in the death of his wife, which occurred at her residence Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, after a few months' illness which she bore with Christian fortitude. Mrs. Cassidy was formerly Miss Martha Peabody, of Redbank, and was a general favorite with all who knew her. A husband and three of a family, two girls and a boy, the youngest three weeks old, are left to mourn the loss of a loving wife and mother.

A very narrow escape from death occurred near Aroostook Falls last Saturday. Messrs. Dixon and Rideout who are canvassing for the N. B. Telephone Co., were driving to the Falls with one of J. A. Perley's teams. They were driving along the river road where the road was considerably slanted when the carriage suddenly overturned, the carriage and riders going over a 40 feet embankment bringing up in a tree. Mr. Dixon was badly shaken up and bruised and is suffering considerably but it is hoped not seriously injured. Mr. Rideout escaped almost unhurt. The carriage came out uninjured but the horse was quite badly cut up by the fall and stung by a nest of hornets dislodged in the tree which he struck.—Victoria County News.

Minard's Liniment Cures Garget in Cows.

Among the exhibits at the St. John fair that usually secure much public attention is the exhibit of carriages in the more ornamental varieties from the ordinary sulky to the more imposing barouche. This department of the exhibition at the St. John Fair, Sept. 1st to Sept. 8th next, will easily be found. It will be located in the building used ordinarily and known as the "Drill shed". This building is situated at one end of "the Pike," half way between the Main Building and the Agricultural Hall, and therefore of easy access to all who pass through "the Pike," and the mention of "the Pike" implies that every one who attends the exhibition will visit the carriage show as every one will be sure to visit "the Pike" and the many attractions presented there.

BURGLAR SHOT, BUT ESCAPED.

Man Tried to Enter store at Millerton Merchant and got a Surprise—Pursued by J. W. Vanderbeck.

G. R. Vanderbeck, of Millerton, shot and wounded a burglar trying to enter his store early Monday morning. About a month ago some parties tried to break into Mr. Vanderbeck's store, but did not succeed; and ever since then Mr. Vanderbeck has been sleeping over his shop keeping guard. On being aroused by the noise Mr. Vanderbeck dressed himself and went partly down stairs, where in the dim light he could see a man working at the window. The burglar succeeded in getting half through the window, when Mr. Vanderbeck who had his revolver with him, fired at his leg and the man fell out on the ground making his escape across the lot. As the man was climbing the fence Mr. Vanderbeck tried his hand again shooting at his limbs, and the burglar "roared like a lion." This time he bagged a good watch, several pieces of merchandise, which the burglar hastily dropped at the fence as he made off across the country unaccompanied with booty.

Mr. J. W. Vanderbeck on hearing the sounds of shots and the roar of the burglar rushed to his brother's rescue, but the man had escaped. It turned out that the merchandise came from James Robinson's store, which had evidently been entered earlier in the evening.

Mr. J. W. Vanderbeck went in search of the burglar in the woods and discovered on Wednesday on the Nelson side of the river, where some men had been located the previous evening, traces of blood stained rags and other material which went to show that there had been a wound dressed.

There have been several robberies in this vicinity of late, and the warm reception tendered Mr. Vanderbeck's visitor will probably act as a cold blanket on the business.

Especially For Women

FRUIT-A-TIVES are the finest medicine in the world for women.

As a mild and gentle laxative—as a positive and speedy cure for constipation and biliousness—as the only cure for weak and irritated kidneys and especially for “that pain in the back”—as a general tonic to build up and invigorate the whole system—FRUIT-A-TIVES stand supreme.

In cases of irritated Ovaries, Ovarian Pains, Vaginal Catarrh, Excessive and Scanty Menstruation, Ulcerations, Bearing Down Pains—and all those troubles peculiar to women—are the most remarkable effect.

Fruit-a-tives

Ninety-nine cases out of a hundred of Female Troubles are due to neglect. Bowels become constipated—kidneys irregular—skin neglected—and the poisons of the body, which should be carried off by these important organs, are taken up by the blood, carried to the female organs and poison them, thus starting up a train of female troubles.

FRUIT-A-TIVES are made from fruits and by their remarkable action on bowels, kidneys and skin, rid the system of poisons, purify the blood, and restore the delicate organs of generation to new vigor and health.

No woman, who suffers, should ever be without them. 50c. a box—6 for $2.50, at your druggist's or sent postpaid by FRUIT-A-TIVES LIMITED—OTTAWA.

SAD TRAGEDY AT FREDERICTON.

Two Prominent Young Men
Drank Poison for Ice Water.

Fredericton, Aug. 16.—Probably the most terrible tragedy in the history of Fredericton, one which has shocked the entire city, took place last night and resulted in the death of Albert W. Edgecombe and Lemuel A. W. Tibbets, two of the best known residents of the city.

They drank one of the deadliest of poisons, cyanide of potassium, mistaking it for ice water, and expired within a short time, although every effort was put forth to save their lives.

The sad accident occurred about 10.30 p.m. and within an hour Mr. Tibbets died, while Mr. Edgecombe lingered until about 1 a.m.

The two unfortunate men had been together the evening and strolled into the jewelry establishment of Shute & Co., on the invitation of Mr. Shute, one of the proprietors, to view the prizes which had been procured by Mr. Crowe for the Church of England school picnic.

Mr. Crowe found it necessary to go to the front part of the front shop and left his friends sitting in the back shop admiring the presents. During his absence they began to look about for a drink of ice water, and noticing a stone jar, similar to that ice-water is kept at the B. & B. Club, beneath the sink, they each poured out a glass and a moment later they drank the deadly dose.

Cyanide of potassium is kept at the store in large quantities and is used in the diluted form for cleaning silverware.

Mr. Crowe heard a choking sound and rushed to the back shop to find out that the men had drank from the contents of the bottle, and realizing the seriousness of the situation had them hurry into Mr. C. Fred Chestnut's drug store nearby. It is supposed that Mr. Tibbets imbibed the larger quantity for he began to suffer from its effects almost immediately.

EMETICS ADMINISTERED

On entering the store Mr. Edgecombe drank some poison. At first the pharmacist thought they were joking, but soon saw Mr. Tibbets turn deadly pale and fall to the floor. Mr. Edgecombe being seized in a similar manner a few minutes afterwards. On learning the true state of affairs, Mr. Chestnut at once telephoned for Dr. Weaver, who responded immediately, and was soon joined by Dr. W. C. Crockett and Dr. A. B. Atherton.

Emetics were administered and stomach pumps were used and every method known to medical science was brought into effect to save the lives of the two men, but all to no avail. They soon lapsed into unconsciousness and it at once became evident that there was no possible hope of their recovery.

After Mr. Tibbets had passed away the physicians applied artificial respiration to Mr. Edgecombe and managed to keep the spark of life alive for more than two hours. He never rallied, however from the effects of the deadly dose and died in convulsions.

In the meantime a large crowd had gathered at the drug store and at one o'clock the sad announcement was made that all was over.

Mr. Fred B. Edgecombe was at his camp at Springhill at the time of the dreadful accident, and was summoned at once, arriving in time to be at his brother's side when he breathed his last.

THE BLOOD IS THE LIFE.

Owing to faulty actions of the kidneys and liver, the blood becomes filled with disease germs that imperil health. The first warning is a headache, dizziness, headache and lack of vital energy. Act quickly if you would avoid the terrible ravages of chronic kidney complaints. Get Dr. Hamilton's Pills to-day; they cure kidney and liver complaint for all time. No medicine relieves so promptly, nothing in the world of medicine cures more thoroughly. For good blood, clear complexion, healthy appetite, the proper treatment is Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box, at all dealers.

HOME RULE ON THE LINE OF THE TRANSVAAL.

Dublin, Aug. 16.—John Dillon, member of parliament for East Mayo, addressing a nationalist meeting last night at Ballaghameehan, claimed for Ireland a measure of home rule on the lines adopted for the Transvaal, and said that in that case the Irishmen would be found practical, reasonable and willing to give concessions where they are necessary.

LEFT THE BABY AT STRANGE DOOR.

Newcastle Family Find a Little Tot Wrapped Up in a Shawl
Early Wednesday Morning.

Early Wednesday morning a woman residing on Mitchell street was awakened by hearing a child crying down stairs. The man was at work and she was the only occupant of the house, besides her children.

The child's cries gave her a fright and on descending found a very pretty female child about three months old with light hair and blue eyes, nicely wrapped in a baby's blue coat. Alongside of the new arrival was a parcel containing its clothing, which was rolled up in a newspaper. (The St. John Sun) bearing the date of August 14th, 1906, and addressed, “Andrew Arsenault.”

The window of the dining room was raised and the child carefully laid on the table, which was close by, and the window left open. Shortly after the woman had discovered the child she looked out over the river and saw a boat containing three men making its way towards Nelson; she naturally came to the belief that it had been left by them. It is generally surmised that the child was brought to Nelson over the Canada Eastern and landed at Newcastle in a boat.

The child has been well provided for and judging from the clothing it came from well-to-do parents.

A note was left Wednesday night at the woman's door saying: “Take good care of the baby; its mother will arrive in a few weeks.”

Diamond Dyes

VERSUS.

Common Imitation Dyes.

The DIAMOND DYES are the only package dyes admitted to the homes of wise and economical women. Why? Because they have quality which true home dye should possess. DIAMOND DYES are, to-day, the only dyes guaranteed to give decided and happy successes. All druggists and general merchants who desire to please their customers, sell only the DIAMOND DYES, for the simple reason that they always give complete satisfaction.

Common and adulterated package dyes put up to imitate the DIAMOND DYES are sold by some merchants because of the extra cash profits they yield. These deceptive dyes are, in every case, worthless as coloring agents. They produce weak and blotchy colors, and invariably ruin good garments and materials. Their use has caused grief and loss of money in many homes.

Always use the reliable and popular DIAMOND DYES and you will make the old and faded things as good as new. Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain St., Montreal, P. Q., for New Direction Book and Diamond Dye Cook Book; all sent free to any address.

STRATHADAM NOTES.

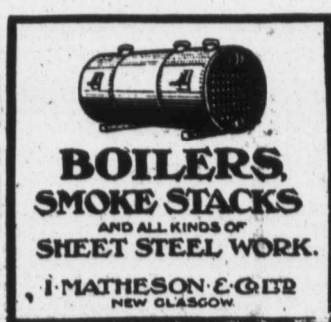

Mr. George McLean had quite a time with a moose on the 2nd. While cutting hay in the field a moose charged on him and only for the kindly aid of his son who upon hearing the noise it might have proved a serious case. The moose are very plentiful in this vicinity, this summer and if any injury is caused by them who pays the damages is the government?

Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Meville P. and Mrs. Whitney in the death of their son Meville Parker Whitney aged five months.

The farmers are pretty well through with their haying which has turned out a more than average crop.

Miss Gertrude Whitney who has been attending school at Doaktown is home spending her vacation.

Mrs. Charles Betts of Doaktown, and family, is visiting at her brother's Mr. Neville P. Whitney.

VALPARAISO RUINED BY EARTHQUAKE.

May be Like San Francisco Disaster of Last Spring.

New York, Aug. 17.—Cable advices report the city of Valparaiso badly damaged by earthquake. Many people were killed.

New York, Aug. 17.—The city of Valparaiso is reported badly damaged by earthquake. One report received here is that the situation in Valparaiso may prove to be as serious as the San Francisco disaster. Practically every building in the city damaged and there are fires in different parts. Many persons are reported killed and injured. The earthquake has interrupted cable facilities to lower South American points and communication is restricted to the route via Lisbon.

Another report from Valparaiso, is that the loss of life has been confirmed. Fires are burning in various parts of the city.

Valparaiso is a fortified seaport of Chile and the most important commercial town of the western coast of South America. It has a population of about 150,000. It is the capital of a province of the same name and is situated on a large bay in the Pacific ocean, 75 miles west northwest of Santiago, with which it is connected.

DROPPED ALL OTHERS.

“I dropped all my ailments but Nervine because I found Nervine the quickest to relieve pain,” writes E. S. Benton of St. John. “If my children are crampy or sick, Nervine cures them. If a case of cramps or stomach ache in us up, Nervine is ever ready. We use Nervine for neuralgia, rheumatism and all kinds of sores and pains; it is as good as any doctor.” The grand Canadian remedy for the past fifty years has been Nelson's Nervine, nothing better made.

MARITIME BOARD.

The session of the Maritime Board of Trade, at Amherst, last week, was very largely attended by delegates from local boards, and many matters of public importance were discussed. Transportation questions were dealt with at considerable length. Mr. Weldon moved a resolution in favor of Government Ownership of Telegraph and Telephone Lines, and it was postponed for a year. Mr. Stewart moved a resolution asking for the restoration of former postal rates on the several classes of postal matter which pay higher rates than formerly, and it passed unanimously. The delegates were driven to the Chignecto coal mine, and to the Experimental Farm at Napapan, and were entertained at the farm by the Amherst board and their wives and daughters. Many of the delegates found time, while in Amherst to visit the great industrial establishments of the Rhodes, Curry Co., Robb Engineering Works, Hewson Woollen Mills, and others. Mr. W. S. Fisher of St. John, was elected President.—World.

SECOND CALL.

FOR HELP.

The Northwest needs more workers to assist in gathering this season's wonderful harvest. From every section comes the cry for men. The thousands who have gone from the Maritime Province and from Upper Canada are now hard at work, and still the demand is for more. There is work for all who can go—work that will last well on to the New Year and that may result, if the visitor wishes it, in opening up for him opportunities of settlement on advantageous terms in the new land. This year's crop promises to be the record crop of the Canadian Northwest, and to harvest it will give employment to a mighty army. The call of the West to save its crops and help in the growth and development of Canada is a call that must be heeded. It is a patriotic duty to our brethren in the West to go to them in their homes in their hour of necessity, and every man who can should lend his assistance. Many of the Northwest farmers are from these Maritime Provinces, and they will make welcome those who go from the home land who go to help them. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company in order to assist the Western farmers, has decided to run a second farm laborer's excursion from the Maritime Provinces, leaving here on Wednesday, September 12. Already there have been a number of inquiries and every indication is that there will be a hearty response to the call of the west. Remember there is work for all who go and a chance to see the Great West land as well.

The Union Advocate

NEWCASTLE, AUGUST 22, 1906.

For reasons of its own the Leader saw fit to publish an unjust attack on Policeman Hill in reference to the arrest of a sailor.

When called to account by the Advocate the Leader replies as follows:

"The report in the Leader concerning the arrest of a sailor made by Policeman Hill some time ago is correct. For the benefit of the Advocate we wish to state that we get our news from sworn testimony, (on such occasions), in the police court. The 'place' where the proprietor of our contemporary has been trying to keep clear of for some days."

As quoted above the paper states "that it got its news from the sworn testimony," but it should have gone a little further and stated that the "sworn testimony" which it so eagerly published for reasons of its own, was not admitted as evidence by the Magistrate who tried the case as the story told was not according to facts as given by other witnesses.

But the evidence given by the sailor was just the material needed by the Leader for an attack on an efficient official.

It is not unknown to the citizens of Newcastle that the owner of that paper has a grudge against the said official, and will lose no opportunity to injure his reputation.

With reference to the last sentence which seems to imply that the proprietor of the Advocate was a fugitive from justice or was in dread of the police court, we cannot grasp the writer's meaning. This we can say, and it is backed up by the past, that during our short business career we have always endeavored to live uprightly and obey the law, and at present have no fear of the police court or any other court of justice.

Although we have not yet risen to the honorable position held by the owner of the Leader, yet we have never been arrested, or threatened with arrest, for creating a disturbance on the public streets. Bearing this in mind the Leader should be careful how it slanders others.

It is with regret that the Advocate is obliged to write of a citizen as above, but under the circumstances we think we are justified. If the owner of the Leader is not responsible for the article published then he should instill in the mind of his henchman the principals of truth and common courtesy to his fellow citizens, qualities he evidently lacks judging from his articles.

The Toronto Mail and Empire is right in saying:—"Canada is gaining in enterprise faster than it is gaining in population. We need more labor, and the conditions afford a reasonable guarantee for the steady employment of more labor. If our immigration agents abroad would specially direct to this country able-bodied young men and women inclined to farm labor, but ready in the use of a pick or shovel it would be a good thing both for Canada and the newcomers. Good farm labor has now prospects in Canada better than it ever had before."

The Grand Trunk Pacific when is a step, as the Ottawa Free Press constructed will shorten the trip from coast to coast by one day. The gain in time will be made as a result of the Company refusing to deviate its main line to enter the largest towns in the West. These towns will be connected with the main line by short branches. This railways held towns up at every says, in advance of the age when opportunity for a bonus.

A new reason for Marconi's failure to establish wireless communication across the Atlantic has been given by Wizard Edison who says that the Italian inventor would have made good his promise ere this had he not gone and "married a wife."

The experts are still guessing at the size of the Western wheat crop. The yield is, undoubtedly, an enormous one, but those who are figuring on a hundred million bushels are probably much too sanguine.

Editor's Mail.

Newcastle, Aug. 20th 1906.
To the Editor of the Union Advocate.

Dear Sir,—It appears the North Shore Leader is still after my scalp and seems disappointed because they did not get it this time. Now Sir, to get down to facts and common sense there was nothing to talk or write about in the first place. The Leader was hard run for some charge to bring against me when they took the thing up. They had no need to misrepresent and falsify the whole matter as they did, for there was every opportunity of learning the truth but it seems the truth would not serve their purpose in this case as well as a falsehood, the end seems to justify the means with some people. The sailor in question was using obscene language on the street and was arrested, tried before the Police Magistrate, convicted and a fine of four dollars imposed on him or ten days in jail which time he served out. In speaking to the captain of the vessel to which the sailor belonged the captain told me he intended to leave him in jail till the vessel was ready to sail as he thought it was the safest place for him. As to being seriously hurt he was not, although some of our people in authority here almost made him believe that he was. I don't see why strangers coming into the town should be allowed to use language that our own boys would be ashamed to use, it might suit the Leader but I am quite confident that the Leader does not voice the sentiments of the best thinking people of the town. The Leader has only been established a short time and it is very soon for it to be throwing itself about looking for a ruction, I suppose it is the nature of the beast and it cannot help it. There is no use in trying to please everybody, if one had no enemies it would be about time to look around and see if there was not something wrong. I was advised to pay no attention to the Leader's article but it is not pleasant to have curs snapping at one's heels all the time. The Leader says I did, I beg to tell the Leader that I don't have to hide, and I venture the prediction that before that comes to pass the North Shore Leader, (as it is now) will have gone out of business and be a thing of the past only to be remembered. And now Mr. Editor that is all I as a sheet that would not tell the truth if a lie suited its purpose best want to say at present, asking for space in your paper for the above few lines, I remain,

Respectfully yours

T. C. HILL.

BISHOP BARRY

AT EELGROUND

Held Confirmation Services There on Sunday—Church Decorated.

Bishop Barry, assisted by four priests held confirmation service at the Eelground chapel, Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

The church and grounds were very gaily decorated with flags and greens, and the seating capacity was overtaxed by the crowd of visitors who attended, to witness the service. A large number of children were confirmed.

After the service Bishop Barry, drove to Redbank.

On the 10th inst. a young Newcastle lady drove up to Eelground and asked for Mrs. G. Barnaby and finding her drove her to town. They returned next day, but this time they had three in the buggy a little white child being added. It was left with Mrs. B. Barnaby, and was christened Simon Barnaby on Sunday last.

Lemie Renous was in Chatham recently and consulted Dr. McCully, in reference to his sight. Dr. McCully gave him no encouragement as to saving the sight of his right eye.

The Eelground school opened Monday.

The death of Miss Eliza Bowser, which took place at the Hotel Dieu Hospital Thursday evening, gave her friends a shock as it was not generally known she was ill, but to those in attendance it was no surprise. Miss Bowser has been in failing health for some time and had become very weak during the last few days. Miss Bowser was well known by the travelling public, having been mistress of the Bowser House for some years, and was much respected for her many sterling qualities. She is survived by one sister, Miss Susie. Funeral took place from the residence of Dr. J. S. Benson last week.—World.

One of the most notable facts connected with a weekly newspaper of today, is the large increase in the amount of advertising of local business houses. The change has taken place gradually, and has been marked especially during the year or so. It is highly significant, and an inquiry as to the cause of it is of great profit not only to those in the newspaper but to every business man and citizen of our town as well. The change, in brief, means that local merchants have found it necessary to call attention to their goods because of the immense competition they face, the most deadly element of which is that from the great stores of the large cities. These great establishments advertise their wares most lavishly, and the metropolitan newspapers which contain their advertisements are distributed over the country, some one paper of which enters nearly every home. The result is that these metropolitan establishments have built up an immense mail trade. In our town, and indeed in most of the towns hereabout, there is no occasion for this out of town buying. The duty of citizens in the matter is plain, and where other things are equal support should be given local dealers.

FOREST FIRES
DOING DAMAGE

Fires Raging Along Line of I. C. R. and Fredericton Branch.

RAIN NEEDED.

Rogersville, Barnaby River, and Harcourt Threatened by Flames

Forest fires are raging in different sections on the North Shore. From Bathurst to Harcourt along the I. C. R. fires are burning through some valuable timber lands and doing an immense amount of damage.

At Barnaby River the fire was very fierce and the village was threatened with destruction. Men and teams were fighting desperately to save their homes.

The whole country for miles around is a mass of flames, and a thick pall of smoke hangs over the Miramichi valley, shutting out the sky and turning the sun into a dun colored disc.

As yet the fire has been mostly in the government lands, but now some of the best timber lands of this section of the country are threatened and the loss to private owners may be a heavy one. Last week the J. B. Snowball Company sent out a gang of men to look after their lands near Barnaby River and to aid the settlers in fighting the flames.

In the Northwest several small fires are burning, but not much damage has yet been done.

Rain is eagerly looked for and if it does not come soon the damage will be greater.

Crops are burning up and altogether things are in a bad state. Campbellton, N. B., Aug. 20—

Forest fires are doing considerable damage in this vicinity and the air is thick with smoke.

It was reported yesterday that the village of Caplan, in the county of Bonaventure, about 70 miles from Campbellton, with another settlement just back of it, had been almost wiped out of existence. Very meagre particulars are to hand but it is said that about seventy buildings have been destroyed and a large number of people are homeless. The damage to crops and timber lands in that vicinity is heavy and the fire is still spreading.

Another fire is raging near Balmoral, but so far as can be learned it has not reached the settlement, though the damage to the lumber lands is considerable.

Still another fire is burning and spreading rapidly just back of Campbellton, near the Sugar Loaf Mountains. The flames can be seen leaping up the side of the mountain in two or three places.

The Adventurers

By H. B. MARRIOTT WATSON

COPYRIGHT, 1906, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

Thrusting the lantern into Sheppard's hands, I sprang at the wall, and with a leap seated myself on the floor of the cupboard.

"The back is wooden," I said. My fingers ran swiftly across the oaken surface and presently stopped. "The lantern," I called to him.

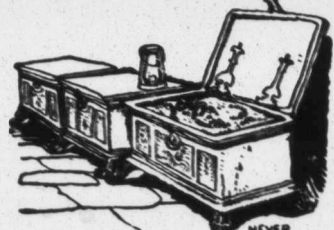

Sheppard let the lantern fall in his excitement, and in a moment we were plunged in darkness. At the same time there arose a sound on the grim silence of the corridor. I drew in my breath, and I think every one did the same. I felt rather than heard Montgomery fumbling with his revolver. Ten, twenty, thirty seconds passed, and then Sheppard struck a match.

"It's the infernal wind," he exclaimed.

The light flared in his face as he relit the lantern, and I noticed that it was wild and burning. With trembling fingers he handed me the lantern, and the light shone on a bit of steel I held under my thumb. I pressed, and with a jerk the oaken screen fell back. I put out a hand and encountered nothing.

"I'm going through," I said in a whisper. "Follow me. I'll leave the lantern here. Heaven knows what we shall find."

I let myself softly down below, and my feet struck the stone of the floor once more. Sheppard and Montgomery followed. We cast the light about us. We were in a dungeon closed with-

The treasure was there before our greedy faces.

In absolutely blank walls. In the corner some rags and paper lay heaped. I pushed them aside, and they crumbled at the touch of my foot.

"It's not here," said Sheppard. "Throw the light this way. Ah, I thought so!"

Ere he had finished he was halfway up a slight stone steps, and we followed pelluc. A door of heavy oak barred the way at the top.

"We wanted out after all," said Sheppard impatiently. Montgomery flung his weight against it, and with a crash it opened.

Montgomery, overbalanced by his effort, staggered and fell upon the threshold, but Sheppard, who was next to him, paid no attention and, turning, looked at me. The light made no way upon the great darkness.

"Do you know where we are?" whispered Sheppard. "This is below the keep. Shall we go in?"

"Certainly," I said, "get Montgomery up." He pulled the lad to his feet, and slowly we shoved back the huge creaking door.

The chamber into which we were now come was small and square and, like that below, barred by solid masonry and unrelieved by window or grating. I found later by calculation that this must be in the very heart of the keep itself and so wholly departed from the rest of the castle that the noise of ordinance would scarce have penetrated its deep and dismal recesses. My eyes were drawn as by a magnet to the farther corner of the barren cell, in which I could perceive some formidable shadows wavering beneath the dull, uncertain light of my lantern.

Sheppard also had descried them and, plunging forward with a cry, flung himself upon his knees. "They are here right enough," he called. And at his words Montgomery and I approached him. I held the light above his head, throwing the faint beams across his shoulder. There were three large oaken cases standing upon legs and simply carved upon the face. The dust lay deep on them, as upon the floor of that interior dungeon. Sheppard brushed the dust away and seized the lock. The hinge fell back to his touch, and slowly he lifted the massive lid.

The light shone still upon dark shadows, but, stooping a little lower, I thrust it into the mouth of the aperture, and our noses hung over the sides of the box together.

The treasure was there for certain. There it lay spread before our greedy faces, the gold and the silver and the precious stones that had been destined to save one king from death and another from exile. I let the pieces slip through my fingers—guineas, moidores, circlets of gold and silver, amulets and all the material gems of the market.

"How much is there?" asked Montgomery.

Sheppard seemed to ponder, measuring rudely with his finger and computing the superficial area of the boxes.

"No one can say offhand," said he. "For there are the jewels, for one thing, among which are rubies. Now, rubies of that size—and he pounced upon one—are worth little short of a thousand pounds."

Montgomery gaped and whistled.

"Let us make a rough shot and put the box at £50,000. Come, I'll take a bet that it's under the mark."

"Then there are the other two," said I. "True," said Sheppard. We all looked at one another.

"Come, boys," I said, rising; "let us get out of this. We know our way, and the treasure cannot take itself wings."

Reluctantly they obeyed, and we retraced our steps through the cupboard into the corridor and thence upward through the courtyard and into the living rooms. The dawn was brightening the eastern skies. I pulled out my watch.

"After 3," I said. "You'd better go to bed. There will be nothing happen now."

"Three o'clock," echoed Sheppard indignantly. "Why, it is the very time for attacks and surprises. No; I'll see it out now."

"Very well," I assented. "We've got to arrange our defense, and as you are all determined not to go to bed, we may as well hold a council of war."

"Agreed," said they, and we sat down to the job without further ado. We were agreed to consider 5 in the morning as the break of day for our purposes, and we were hardly exposed to an assault before 8 in the evening.

The sky was still luminous at that hour. It was therefore plain that we must set a guard upon those intermediate and nocturnal hours. From 8 till 5 was a space of nine hours. That was to determine for us a watch of three. So far we settled the preliminaries of our defenses. But we had now to consider further. The drum towers commanded the slopes of the valley like two tall sentinels, and from the embrasures of the windows a watch might be kept upon the nether parts of the Gwent. But from one so stationed the back of the park and the crown of the hill behind were quite concealed. In this connection it appeared that the keep would best serve us, more particularly as the upper chambers were readily gained from the inhabited wing of the castle, whereas the towers reared their formidable heads in isolation and led only to the corridors of the basement and to the battlements above. It was in the keep, then, that our sentinel must hold his silent watch. The highest chamber in the keep rose immediately above the level of the battlements and was pierced by narrow slits in the masonry. This was a convenient station, or, better still, the roof of the tower, with which a flight of stairs connected the chamber.

We explored the keep thoroughly ere we had settled this point, and by that time it was 4 o'clock.

"Now, you had better go and lie down," said I to the others; "otherwise you will be nodding on your watches tonight. For my part, there is an hour yet to the time of safety, and I take first watch."

Sheppard expostulated with me for what he termed unnecessary precaution, but I held to my point, and presently they left me.

CLIMBER X.

WHEN I descended into the house I had hit upon one line of defense at least, and I at once proceeded to realize it. As I walked from the drawbridge along the moat to the back of the castle I wondered if it was practicable; but, remembering what old Kesteven had said of his predecessor's experiment some forty years before, I had great hopes that the sluices would still work. The brook ran, as you will remember, behind the castle, at a little distance from it, and I found without difficulty the mouth of the conduit which had been formerly used to feed the fosse. I inserted my arm as far as possible, and the space seemed fairly clear, though the earth had crept in and lay along the bottom, grown with grass to the depth of some inches. Still I had no fear that the flow of water would not wash this sediment away, provided always I could get the sluices up. To find these sluices was my next thought. I moved along the turf in the direction in which it seemed that the culvert must run, scrutinizing very carefully every inch of the ground. About three feet from the stream was a noticeable elevation, a grass plot rising in a mound two feet high. Here was obviously what I wanted, and so, taking a spade, I dug with a will and soon had the turf removed and the floor of a stone erection laid bare. It was a good hour's work ere I had cleared the rubbish away sufficiently to free the sluices; then I laid hands on them and pulled vigorously, but fruitlessly. I must plainly have assistance, and accordingly, well enough content with my labors so far, I went back to the house. At breakfast I revealed my scheme, much to the delight of Sheppard, who roundly declared that he would give five years of his life for this adventure. Supported by two enthusiastic assistants, I returned to work, fetching with me a heavy iron bar for use as a lever.

"A little more beef, Montgomery," shouted Sheppard, and himself grew as red as a turkey cock with his efforts. Montgomery flung his heavy body upon the extremity of the bar, and with a crack something came up with a jerk. At the same time I heard below a faint rumbling and rushing as of water.

"We've done it!" I shouted, and ere the words were out of my mouth Sheppard and the other were racing for the moat, whither they presently waved me with wild hands.

The water was pouring from the conduit in a strong stream fully one foot in thickness. That was enough. It would take some hours to fill the moat, but it might take all day so long as we were secured by the fall of night. We left the sluices up and went back.

"The next thing," said I, "is to attack the drawbridge. The portcullis wants oil, but that will do later."

"We'll have the castle a mediaeval fortress in a twinkling," said Sheppard.

The heavy chains of the drawbridge were intact, but the machinery was in a very bad way, and without more ado we set to work upon it. I called my man Williams into requisition, and I think it took the four of us till 6 or 7 o'clock in the evening ere we pronounced ourselves satisfied. After that we had a rehearsal with both portcullis and drawbridge. By this time the moat was swimming with water, which lapped under the shoulders of the bridge. There must have been fully twelve feet of water in the fosse.

"This won't do. We'll have an inundation," said Montgomery, and he let the sluices down. When all was done we surveyed our handiwork and were content. It was now close upon 8 o'clock.

Dinner had been ready for more than half an hour, so we were informed by Mrs. Main, who must have regarded us as lunatics. The clock in the hall struck 8 as we entered.

"Watch time," said I. "Who goes?" We looked at each other, laughing.

"It's my turn," said Sheppard, with a grimace, but I stopped him.

"No; let Montgomery," I said meaningly.

"Right you are," responded Montgomery cheerfully, and, taking his brace of pistols, he vanished along the corridor.

"How's this?" asked Sheppard. "I think the poor boy has earned his dinner."

"Bless you, he shall have his dinner," I answered. "Only the danger is going to be later, and I'd rather Montgomery were asleep in bed than asleep on the tower."

We had arranged that Williams should stay the night in the castle and, imbuing him with the fear of burglars, had armed him with a shotgun in case the Welshman's brains if he became suspicious, and if his garrulity should bring me the sympathetic assistance of the law I think we could be stupid enough and vague enough to confound his kindly efforts. Mrs. Main was by this time bound to us by iron ties through Sheppard's contrivance, nor do I know to this day exactly how he managed it or in what directions he used his amiable and soothing fictions. The household was Mrs. Main's hireling, and we need scarcely include her in our calculations.

We were now, as I conceived, adequately fortified against a surprise. From 8 o'clock until dawn upon the next morning we should be stretched upon the rack of suspense, but each of us was sturdily resolved to accomplish his duty at all hazards. That an attack would be delivered I had few doubts, but my anxiety lay rather as to the watch in which it would be delivered. I had sent Montgomery to his post early, as it seemed wiser for more responsible heads than his to take the deeper and darker hours of the night. From 8 till 11 his time ran, and yet they might be upon us ere that. He was fed with some sandwiches and cheered with a little wine, while below Sheppard and I waited in a condition of tension.

"Oh, hang it!" exclaimed Sheppard presently, after dinner. "I can't stand this. Let us go and join him."

"You would be much wiser," said I, "to get to an hour's sleep."

Sheppard shrugged his shoulders. "It's my turn next, you say, and I'm not used to be awakened in my beauty sleep. It's bad for me. No; I'll go to bed when you relieve me. But I recommend your own advice to yourself."

"And I will take it," I answered. "See that Montgomery gets his supper and goes to bed like a sensible person. I'll be with you at 2 punctually."

I cannot say that I enjoyed a peaceful sleep. Although I was dog tired, partly from the exertion of the day's work and partly because I had had no rest the previous night, I still slumbered very fitfully. Finally I awoke in a fever and, throwing the hot blankets from me, stepped to the open window. My bedroom faced the north, and the cool air that heralded the dawn was wafted over me, reducing the fume and fire of my nerves. Far away some roistering bird was calling, not in his spring notes, but raucous now with the somber beat of autumn. The curtain of the dawn was lifting. It was time for me to relieve Sheppard. My watch marked a quarter to 2. Having dressed, I went down to the great hall and, thrusting the western windows open, looked out. Trees, like great ghosts, invisible, whispered in the night together. The stars glimmered down below, and I recollected suddenly that I was peering into the water of the fosse. The stillness hung so deep that I was possessed of a sudden with a hundred fears. Was Sheppard murdered? And were the castle and its treasure now in the hands of those abominable assassins? I listened for a cry, but there was none, only the gentle wash of the waters against those ancient foundations and the swishing of the leafage on the neighboring trees. The park lay, as one might have fancied, under the imminent hand of death.

I stole upstairs, clambering with a lantern to the keep. Upon the tower a silent figure turned and a low voice spoke.

"Is that you, Ned?" The sound almost startled me, occurring upon the stillness.

"Any news?" I asked. "Well, I have two things to communicate. Do you see that tree?" I peered into the darkness in the direction he had indicated.

"I hear it," I observed doubtfully. "Well, I've seen it," he retorted. "Your eyes are better than mine, then," I answered.

"Maybe," said Sheppard cheerfully, "maybe not. But I don't profess to see through a wall. That tree is fifty paces away, and it is an oak, very large and umbrageous."

"I believe you are right," I answered. "I think I recollect it." "I didn't," he went on. "But I reckon to see by match light as well as any."

I was puzzled. "Match light?" I queried. "You haven't been?" "Oh, dear, no," he exclaimed. "My tower has been the central patch of

TROUT
Mezzwork

The undersigned have received from Mr. Nash of Maine the agency for New Brunswick for his famous trout mezzwork.
A trout mezz is one half the fish so mounted upon a convex elliptical panel as to stand the fish out in bold relief, giving the effect of an oil painting or while a carved fish, with the real thing to be seen in your process. The process of preserving fish in this artistic way was discovered by Mr. Nash in 1900, and patented by him.

COMMERCIAL MEN
AND THE TRAINS.

They are not Satisfied with the I.
C. R. Services at Campbellton and will ask for Change.

Moncton, Aug. 17.—The train accommodation at Campbellton does not suit the commercial travellers and a movement is now on foot to have some change made. A petition has been largely signed by commercial men and will be forwarded to the secretary of the Commercial Travellers Association who will be asked to confer with the Intercolonial management to see what can be done in the matter. The complaint is that all passenger trains for the east out of of Campbellton leave within a few hours of each other in the morning and after that there is no other train until the following day.

The travellers have asked also the Maritime Board of Trade at Amherst to take up the question of train service on the I. C. R. and see if some arrangement that will better suit commercial interests, cannot be arrived at. There are too many east bound express trains following close together, and at a later period of the day there is no train to be had.

You Can Study With Profit.

How few realize that twenty-five percent of all diseases have their origin in some interference with the function of elimination.
The whole body exerts by reason of the transference of fluids through its component parts.

Up to a certain point the body has power to object to destructive elements, but this power is limited.

When it happens that the body is loaded with wastes and poisons which it can't eliminate, fermentation, decay, and general run riot through the blood.
Serious illness is the result unless nature is assisted by a cleansing tonic like Dr.
Hamilton's Pills, which are purely vegetable, contain no mercury, no harmful, injurious metallic ingredients of any kind.
Such a medicine is the greatest possible assurance to every man and woman of health, sprightliness and contentment.

Grand results are achieved, and famous cures made every day by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, as this letter proves.
From Newfoundland, Miss Lillian Anthony, of Upper Gulliver, Camp 101 Bay, writes: "In praise of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I must say that I have used them with great success for three years. They never fail to cure me of indigestion or constipation. Formerly my face was full of pimples, but now my complexion is clear and ruddy. In more ways than I care to mention have Dr. Hamilton's Pills helped me; they would be good for every woman to use."

FIRES DESTROY
LUMBER LANDS.

Fires Along I. C. R. Doing Much Damage to Lumber
Lands.

Trainmen report fierce forest fires burning along the I. C. R. between Amherst and Bathurst, but so far the fire has done no damage except the timber lands. Heavy palls of smoke hang over the country for miles, and the spectacle is a desolate one, much timber being destroyed. The forest fires in the vicinity of Moncton, which were extinguished by the recent rain, are springing up again, and a bush fire is burning just west of the city, and the burnt leaves are falling on portions of the streets to-night thickly. The city, however, is not seriously threatened. Along Mc-Laughlin road, where a large crowd of men were engaged for several days last week fighting the fire to save the crops and timber lands, the fire started up again today, and the men are out carrying water, preventing its spread.

PHYSICALLY EXHAUSTED.

Lacking courage—out of joint with everything—scarcely on speaking terms with even fair health. Such low spirits are pitiable. Your brain is fagged, vitality exhausted, your constitution is well nigh ruined. What you need is Ferrozone, that great invigorator and nutritive tonic. It is making flesh and blood, by infusing iron and oxygen into the system that Ferrozone helps; it repairs weak spots, instills new life into worn-out organs—makes you feel like new. Ferrozone lifts you from the old and imparts resilience and buoyancy to the depressed. Be healthy, ruddy-colored, out aside weakness and enter the happy life that comes from using Ferrozone. Fifty cents buys a box in any drug store.

Rojestvensky and General Fock Not Yet Condemned—The Results of Yesterday's Massacre.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 16.—The war of terrorism which the fighting organizations of the social revolutionists declared immediately after parliament was dissolved, seems now to have begun in earnest.
From all parts of the empire the telegraph brings the same story of attacks on police officials of all classes, accompanied in the majority of cases by plunder. The Polish revolutionists are especially active. There is a veritable reign of terror from the Vistula to the German frontier. Almost fifty fifty cases of assassinations were reported early last night. The Novoe Vnemya to-day heads its list of murders and other crimes
"St. Bartholomew's Night in Poland."

The Official Messenger to-day prints a denial of the recent announcement that the Ropp commission had returned indictments against Lieut. General Stossel, the commander of the Russian forces at Port Arthur. Lieut. General
Fock who commanded the Fourth
East Siberian division at Port Arthur and others. The Official Messenger says it is the duty of the commission simply to present the results of its investigation, upon which the indictments will be based.

The denial is more technical than real, as the conclusions of the commission under the regulations necessitate indictments on the lines published.

MUNICIPALITIES MEETING
FAVORS ADVERTISING

Delegates Give Handsome Present
to Mayor of Halifax.

Halifax, Aug. 16.—At this morn-ing's meeting of the Union of Canadian Municipalities, the delegates presented Mayor Macleith, of Halifax, with a grandfather's clock and a bronze statue of Eros.

The chief question discussed was advertising. It was the general feeling that Canada should be more widely advertised than it is at the present time.

Mayor Sharpe, Winnipeg, thought the booklet was the best form of advertising. The best class of books should be used.

Comptroller Ward of Toronto, spoke strongly against unsightly advertising on highways and private property.

A request that the Union meet next year at Banff was referred to the executive.

BEAUTIFUL CASCO BAY.

The popularity of Casco Bay and the resorts on the Maine sea coast is more noticeable this year than ever before, thousands of Canadians having taken accommodation in the hotels and secured cottages at the principal resorts. The opening of the Ottawa House on Cushing's Island is filling a long felt want and all the old patrons of this favorite resort are sojourning there this season, and many families from Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto are among the guests. The house itself has been renovated from top to bottom, modern improvements made, the entire house refurnished in luxurious style, and is now operated by an experienced summer resort manager.

One of the great advantages found here and which in past years was greatly missed is the fresh water spring that has been found by boring an artesian well some 1200 feet deep and which gives an ample supply, not only for the hotel but for the cottages on the island.

HIS HEAD CUT OFF
BY A TRAM CAR.

Terrible Death of Man Sleeping on the Sydney and Glace Bay Line.

Glace Bay, Aug. 16.—Thomas Butler, of New Aberdeen, met with a terrible death last night on the Sydney and Glace Bay tram line near the roost, an electric car severing his head as he lay asleep alongside the track. Last night at 11.30 car 104 in charge of Conductor Ed. Old and Motorman Philip Duncett was running late, the last trip to New Aberdeen, and just before they reached the roost curve Duncett saw a man lying by the track with his head on the rail.
He reversed the power and applied the brakes, but with a wet and greasy track and only forty feet between the man and the car this was of no avail. The car skidded passing over the sleeping man, cutting off his head as he lay on the one eye was found on the track totalling off the head above the ears.
An inquest is now being held.
The deceased was a single man and worked as a timberman in No. 2 colliery.

NORTH SHORE GYPSIES
AS HIGHWAYMEN.

A Party Here are in the Habit of Holding up Persons on the Road.

A large camp of gypsies was stationed near the Southwest highway bridge last week and if reports of their breath escapes and hold ups are true, they need some attention from the authorities. It was claimed that they hold up people who travel by that road, and actually compel them to hand over small sums of money. It is said that two Derby young men had an exciting time there recently while riding to their homes from Chatham. They were stopped and in the usual manner, and asked for money and it was not until one displayed a revolver that they were allowed to proceed.

Kind Lady—"If I should give you a penny do you think it would you reckless?"

Critty George—"I am afraid it would, mum. I would be liable to overspeed me auto in defence of de-police."

There was an unusual amount of drunkenness about town Saturday afternoon and evening.

Of late it has become the custom of some of the boys driving horses to misuse them, especially during the hot weather. The S. P. C. A. should make an example of these.

Another lady setting in the carriage jumped out before the wheel collapsed.

Mr. Smith believes Morse's are the best Teas in the world.
