TOWN COUNCIL HOLD REGULAR MEETING

Geo. St. Pierre Makes Request For Redress—H. A. Carr Appointed Town Solicitor

The last meeting of the Town Council in the present fiscal year was held Tuesday evening. His Worship Mayor Andrew in the chair.

There were present Couns. Goss, Ellsworth, Miller, Patterson, Alexander and McLean.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. A communication from A. F. Chamberlain stating that he could furnish proof that the town had cut lumber off his property, was read and ordered to be placed on file.

A letter was received from George St. Pierre, former manager of the Fraser Navigation Co., in reference to his supplying food and transportation to refugees at the time of the Campbellton fire. This communication stated that the management of the above company had held him personally liable for the goods used on that occasion, and by forcing payment had ruined him financially. He requested the council to assist him by reimbursing him for goods so used.

Coun. McLean thought more information should be obtained before the matter was dealt with. He did not think the town could entertain the claim as it would establish a dangerous precedent. The refugees should pay this amount, and he felt sure many would if the matter was brought to their attention.

On motion, the Clerk was asked to procure additional information. A petition from the Licensed Livery men was read. This asked for protection to their business. It stated that hackmen from St. Anne de Restigouche were allowed to come to Campbellton to do business without paying a license.

A delegation was present in the interests of the livery men, and Mr. H. P. Doyle stated the case for his associates.

Coun. Goss thought that the claim of the livery men was a reasonable one. They should be protected.

Coun. Miller also thought that their claim was a reasonable one. He suggested that the names of all parties doing business contrary to the by-law should be handed to the Clerk and a license exacted.

The matter was referred to the Police and License committee and solicitor to arrange the matter.

COMMITTEE REPORTS
The following reports were read and the accounts in same ordered to be paid.

Coun. Goss, Fire Protection, $115.19
Coun. Ellsworth, Assessment and Appeals;
That the application of Alfred Malcomber be granted, he having paid an assessment of $400 for lot of land which he did not own. Amount to be refunded $58.80.

That the application of Daniel Loubert be not granted.
That the application of Chas. A. Adams and Miss Winnie Adams be not granted.

That the application of Wm. J. LeBouffe for reduction of poll tax for 1914 be granted.

That the application of Trustees of St. Andrew's church be not granted.
That the application of James Devine for reduction of poll tax for the years 1912, 1913 and 1914 be granted, he having reached the age of sixty years in 1911.

Coun. Miller, Finance, 102.20
Coun. Patterson, Public Property and Streets, 71.25
Coun. Alexander, Water and Sewerage, 513.81
Coun. Alexander, Electric Light 78.69
Coun. McLean, Public Charities 109.50

The Mayor and Clerk were authorized to sign the agreement between the L. C. R. and the town in reference to laying water pipes on Sugarloaf street.

On motion of Coun. McLean, Mr. H. A. Carr was appointed town solicitor during the absence of Mr. A. E. G. McKenzie.

Coun. McLean brought up the matter of the Belgium relief. He suggested that it might be advisable for the Mayor to call a public meeting.

Coun. Alexander moved that the Mayor be authorized to call a public meeting for the purpose of organizing a Belgium Relief Committee. This was carried unanimously. The council then adjourned.

ALLIES STILL MAKE PROGRESS IN WEST

Gain of Yards Only After Severe Fighting.—German and French in Some Village

(Special to Graphic)
London, Dec. 31.—It is rumored that the Kaiser has had a relapse and that his condition is serious.

Paris, Dec. 31.—French official statement given out this afternoon relates continuance of artillery exchanges with enemy and further advances of French soldiers measured by yards at various points on line of battle. Counter attacks of enemy were driven back, and in Alsace, a certain village is held half by German and half by French troops. Fighting here has been from house to house and it continues today.

Russians are holding back the Germans and have smashed the Austrian army. Allies continue to gain ground in France, but there has been no decisive fighting.

London, Dec. 30.—The Austrian defeat is the turning point in Battle of Polish river. The chief fighting in the east now taking place on Nida River. Fifteen are killed in German airship attack on Dunkirk. Four aeroplanes took part.

Princess Pats regiment within sound of guns and await orders to go into trenches. They are given a great welcome by the French.

IT WAS A RUSSIAN SHIP THAT THREATENED TURKS

Washington, Dec. 29.—Captain Oman, commanding the armored cruiser North Carolina, at Beirut, Syria, informed the Navy Department to-day that it was a Russian cruiser and not an American vessel which recently threatened to bombard the Turks at Tripoli, Syria, when the mobs threatened French, British and other foreigners who were embarking on a steamer after being ordered to leave.

MAIL ORDERS

We solicit out of town orders which receive our personal attention. The length of time taken to fill orders is governed very largely by how busy we are in the department of our factory in which the particular goods are made. While we have exceptional facilities for promptly turning out goods, it is important to place orders as far ahead as possible. Orders are filled by us in the rotation in which they are received, and customers can always depend on our doing everything in reason to give prompt despatch.

CHRISTMAS BUSINESS UP TO STANDARD

Merchants in General Had No Complaint to Make.—Business as Usual

There were merchants in Campbellton, as in other towns, who were positive that this year's Christmas trade would not be up to that of previous years, and who were tempted to curtail expenses, but no doubt having in mind "Business as Usual" decided to go along as in other years.

The Graphic has made enquiries of a number of business men and without exception they all state that this year's business was up to or surpassed previous years.

The crowds of shoppers about last week, even on the coldest days, was evidence that business was good.

Campbellton in a business way has been very fortunate. All its industries are running as usual, and wages are about the same as other years, so that our people have the necessary money to spend and live well. There are very few if any cases of real want here.

FREDERICTON TRAINS

LEAVE FROM NEWCASTLE

Will Be Improvement From Chatham Junction Route.—First Train Jan. 10

On and after January 10th, trains over the Canada Eastern division of the I. C. R. will leave Newcastle instead of Loggieville as heretofore.

By this change passengers, instead of having to spend some hours at Chatham Junction, where there was no hotel or other accommodation, will now be able to make connections at Newcastle. This will be a great improvement for the travelling public, especially those coming up from points on the I. C. R. below Newcastle, who heretofore were obliged to either spend a sleepless night at Chatham Junction or go down to Chatham.

The new order will mean much to Newcastle.

AFRAID SHE WAS DYING

Suffered Terribly Until She Took "Fruit-a-lives"

ST. JEAN DE MATHEA, JAN. 27th, 1914.
"After suffering for a long time with Dyspepsia, I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-lives'. I suffered so much that I would not dare eat for I was afraid of dying. Five years ago, I received samples of 'Fruit-a-lives'. I did not wish to try them for I had little confidence in them but, seeing my husband's anxiety, I decided to do so and at once I felt relief. Then I sent for three boxes and I kept improving until I was cured. While sick, I lost several pounds, but after taking 'Fruit-a-lives', I quickly regained what I had lost. Now I eat, sleep and digest well—in a word, I am completely cured, thanks to 'Fruit-a-lives'."

NEW BLOCK SIGNALS ON INTERCOLONIAL

Newcastle, Dec. 28.—Electrician T. Hay has just finished installing automatic type D, three positions, stop, caution, and go ahead, block signals on the I. C. R. between Nelson Junction and Newcastle, to be in operation when the time table changes January 10th. The signals are union switch and signal.

When the train leaves Nelson Junction she sets the blocks ahead so that she has full protection from all advancing trains, and at the same time she fully protects the rear in a similar manner. This is the fourth set in the Maritime Provinces: Halifax to Windsor Junction, St. John to Hampton, and Moncton to Paines Junction being the others. The latter was done by Derby Junction and Newcastle men.

LETTERS FROM THE FRONT

Salisbury Plains, Dec. 14th, 1914.

Dear Mother,—
I suppose you will get two or three letters in a bunch from me, the mail only goes every week, so I get mine in bunches. I sent you a Christmas card and some pictures, did you receive them?

They split the Battery to-day, made four Gun Batteries instead of six. Quick movement is what they want. We move pretty lively, as it is when we go into action, generally at a gallop. We are not the 8th Battery, but still in the 2nd Brigade. The Campbellton and Newcastle boys are still together, but we have a lot of new officers. I am sending a map of Salisbury Plains, note the 2.

We had a shau battle not long ago. I was put on Brigade scout with two other fellows. Gee, it was great. We were near captured once. We almost run into a troop of the enemy's cavalry. They chased us and we were fired at, with black shells of course, but it was just like the real thing. I have a notion I will be a scout when we go to the front, but don't take that for granted. The riding instructor said I was a good rider, but too hard on my horse, that I would have to learn how much a horse could do.

Was down to London last week with a couple of the boys, we had a high old time. I am sending some cards I got there, send a couple to Daisy if she is not already home.

We have had a lot of route marches lately. George Mason calls them moonlight excursions. They turn us out in the middle of the night, and take us fifteen miles or so. The colonel thinks we are the best Battery, but if he shows his liking by turning us out like that, I wish he didn't like us so well. I am getting enough of these moonlight excursions.

We are all well and in good spirits, having lots of wet weather, in fact, we have had only one storm, and that started when we arrived and is still going on. The country is all right, it is the mud we don't like. Our horse lines have O'Leary street beat to a standstill for mud. When we take our horses to water we have to mount them to get there at all. Say mother, if ever I get my little number seven on Canadian soil again, I will stay there, but just at present I wouldn't go home on a bet, and if I come through this and stay above the ground, they will never get me in Merry England again. When you see an Englishman over there, take him by the hand and give him a hearty welcome to the only country fit to live in.

By the time the second contingent gets here, we will have Germany pushed off the map, then we will go down and clean up the Turks, and be home for the ball game first of July.

Myat ring off for this time, will write again soon. Lovingly

BYRON.

There should be a good business done this winter in shipping wheat from the West to Australia, where the drought has caused something approaching famine conditions.

THE PAST YEAR

In many respects the past year has been a banner one for Campbellton and the Bay Chaleur country. In Campbellton the amount of buildings erected has been greater than the previous year, while business as a whole has been very satisfactory, and but for the unsettled conditions of general trade arising out of the European war, this would have been a most successful year.

Throughout the entire county a marked improvement was felt in general trade. The lumber business was good, the establishing of the new pulp and paper mills at Chandler, Que., and Bathurst, N. B., militated for general progress. The fishing season was very successful, and crops were above the average, while prices reached a high level.

Taken as a whole the past year has been more than a favorable one in the entire district.

THE NEW YEAR

There are some who predict that 1915 will be one in which many industries will "mark time," and that we will see no new work of importance undertaken, because of the state of finances in the large centres.

In the lumber business the outlook is as good, if not a slight improvement over the past years. The lumber cut may not be quite as large, but a considerable quantity of logs is being carried over so that the mills will have enough to keep them busy next season.

It looks as if there will be a good market for our mills output, at as good and possibly better prices than that of the past year.

With regard to new industries, there have been persistent rumors of the establishing of a pulp and paper mill on the Restigouche. With respect to this, we have information from a reliable source that engineers have been at work for some time upon the plans for such an industry here. More than this we are not at liberty to state at the present time, but we hope soon to be able to give our readers further details. These plans are being made for gentlemen who have control of a very large amount of capital and should they decide to proceed, the state of the money market will not affect their plans.

The farmers, taking the advice of the Department of Agriculture, are planning an increased crop acreage for next season, which will mean more produce for the market, consequently more money for the farmer, which in turn will mean more business for our merchants.

In the United States signs of a general and permanent trade improvement are manifest. That is particularly important to Canada, for the commercial interests of these two countries are so closely allied that what affects one, to a great degree affects the other. It is encouraging, therefore, to find Dun's Review sinking up the situation as follows:

"That there is improvement in trade is made clear in the reports from all parts of the country, though the development is slow and irregular, and the gains already attained inspire confidence in further expansion with the advent of the new year. The prevailing optimism is strengthened by easier money and the notable improvement in the financial position; also by the fact that, while the present volume of business is much less than last year, the corner has been turned and the trend is now for better conditions."

All the factors felt to be operating to the expansion of industry and trade and external commerce in the United States should operate to the same end in Canada. Canada's closest business relations have always been with Great Britain and the United States.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

There are some foolish business men who believe in curtailing their advertising because times are depressed, whereas as a matter of fact a dull time is especially the time for brisk advertising. Take the case of the apple crop. The war suddenly demoralized the market. The farmers were not even gathering their apples. The newspaper publishers induced the Dominion Government to undertake advertising the Canadian apples in the interests of the apple growers as an industry. What was the result? The farmers found a sudden demand created and although they may not have made a fortune out of their work yet they got returns instead of a dead loss. This was accomplished within three months. Europe in previous years had taken annually 1,664,165 barrels, as well as 75 per cent of the total production of dried apples. The advertising campaign commenced on October 1st the advertisements setting forth the food value of the Canadian apples containing an intimation that the Department of Trade and Commerce supplied free 209 recipes for using or cooking apples. The officials of that Department commenced to state when the requests for the booklet came in. They had printed 10,000 copies which in their innocence, they thought would satisfy the people of Canada. But no less than 40,000 were directly applied for by the Canadian people. This of course, did not represent the extent of the direct value of the advertising, because thousands of people were influenced by the advertising who did not ask for the recipes and thought they knew all about cooking apples. It gave the Department of Trade and Commerce a jolt however, and pointed out the way to an avenue of usefulness. But this is not all. It may be said, "Oh, that was getting something for nothing." But was the effect upon the consumption of apples? The apple dealers report to the Department that their sales of Canadian apples this season for domestic consumption were in most localities from two to four times greater than in any previous year. One of the leading co-operative apple growers associations in Ontario was unable to supply the orders from its own stock, and had to resort to others. This money was not directly in circulation in Canada among the people growers and the dealers and demonstrated to the government of Canada a neglected field of public usefulness.—Ex.

"SHOO THE KAISER"

"Everybody's Playing It."

This is the first announcement of the sale in the Bay Chaleur of a game that is bound to become most popular during this winter.

The very name will give you an idea of the nature of the game. The pack consists of thirty-two cards, divided into four suits namely England, France and Russia, known the world over as the Triple Entente, and the fourth none other than our common enemy—Germany. Each card is numbered and as in ordinary card games the high card takes the trick. In the suit of England there is one card called the Navy, on which appears a picture of a British Tar. In the suit of Germany is a card called the Kaiser, with his picture on it. The object of the game is to take every trick you can, keep possession of the Navy, and avoid taking the Kaiser. Every time you take a trick with the Kaiser in it you lose three. When you take the Navy you get five.

In addition to being numbered each card is named according to importance, as follows: General, Colonel, Major, Captain, Lieutenant, Sergeant and Corporal, with the remainder blanks. From start to finish the game is a battle of wits to keep possession of the Navy and make your opponent take the Kaiser. In playing there is abundant opportunity for skill and enough chance to add spice to the game.

In each issue of the Graphic will appear a coupon. Fill this in and send it to the Graphic with forty cents and the game will be sent postpaid. Instructions are included in every pack.

During the long, cold evenings of the winter this game will be played in thousands of Canadian homes, and will afford an abundance of enjoyment at parties, socials, lodges, clubs, etc.

Many travellers who patronize dining cars on our through trains scarcely realize as they enter one of these finely equipped coaches and ushered by the uniformed conductor a table spread with snowy linen, a set with the finest of china and silver ware, what an amount of effort and great attention to detail are expended in the desire to give to passengers these material comforts that satiate and exalt the inner man.

The average traveller is apt to get that twenty-five years ago a train furnished no such luxuries. I once accepted the conditions of travel as they were, and rode on the regular day coaches, and ate their meal at the station restaurants at various places along the line. Increasing travel demanded something better. This, so the Buffet Service was introduced on the sleeping and parlor, whereby light meals were served passengers on these coaches. But necessity of serving regular meals while in transit soon became imperative, and so the modern dining car evolved.

The dining car of to-day is a range of elegantly built of the fine materials and finished in the best taste. GROUP OF BRITISH TOMMIES CONVEY THEIR APPRECIATION OF BELGIAN GALLANTRY BY MEANS OF A FLOWER.

How do the British soldiers get on with the French and Belgians when they are thrown together, as they inevitably must be? The question has occurred to many. How is it done? Mr. Neil Munroe tells us very interestingly in the London Daily Chronicle of November 25th.

"Tommies," he says, "in the French conception, are the blond, handsome, garcon-forged by Providence for fighting purposes and whetted to the finest edge by long professional training and the experience of colonial wars; a man with a passion for order, and, moreover, a man who is not only a soldier but a hero."

"His almost inhuman sense of duty is indicated in the pleasure he never makes a bayonet charge without a plan in his mind, and never being seen on the march but singing his national anthem. Tip-top."

"French and British alike, declare the Belgian is a hero; in the more generous moods they will swear he is the savior of the situation, and they have made his reputation to his land their favorite result."

With what love the Briton regards the Belgian soldier is shown in the picture selected and captioned by the most heretic."

(Canadian Government Railway Employees Magazine).
Many travellers who patronize the dining cars on our through trains scarcely realize as they enter one of these finely equipped coaches and are ushered by the uniformed conductor to a table spread with snowy linen, and set with the finest of china and silverware, what an amount of effort and great attention to detail are expended in the desire to give to passengers these material comforts that satisfy and exalt the inner man.
The average traveller is apt to forget that twenty-five years ago railways furnished no such luxuries. Patrons accepted the conditions of travel as they were, and rode on the regular day coaches, and ate their meals at the station restaurants at various places along the line. Increasing travel demanded something better than this, so the Buffet Service was introduced on the sleeping and parlor cars, whereby light meals were served to passengers on these coaches. But the necessity of serving regular meals while in transit soon became imperative, and so the modern dining car was evolved.
The dining car of to-day is a carriage of elegance, built of the finest materials and finished in the best of taste. One costs in the vicinity of $25,000 exclusive of furnishings, silverware, etc. Each car has a crew of eight men, viz: The Conductor, The Chef, second and third cooks, three waiters and a pastryman. When one stops to calculate the amount of wages paid, the cost of the food supply, and the unavoidable waste, it will be seen

DALHOUSIE FIRE

COST TWO LIVES

Early Christmas Morn Fire
Brings Sadness to Shire
Town.—Cold Work

Dalhousie, N. B., Dec. 25.—As a result of a fire, shortly after midnight, an aged woman, Miss Ann McDonald, was burned to death in her apartment, and another woman, Mrs. Joseph Winchester, died from shock, while returning from church.
For several hours early Christmas morning the fire threatened to burn the best business portion of the town. A tenement house, owned by Charles Stewart, had as occupant Miss Ann McDonald, an old lady, who lived alone. The fire originated in her department and she perished in the flames.
Mrs. Joseph Winchester, a young woman, who returning from midnight mass, died from the shock when she realized that her home, which was occupied by a sick husband and three small children, was in danger. A building, known as the old Phillips Hotel, is also a total loss.
Several people moved all their belongings to safe quarters.
Assistance received from Campbellton which prevented the fire from spreading. Those who worked at the fire suffered from the cold. There is a small insurance.
The double fatality has cast a gloom over the festive season.
That dining cars are not operated as a source of profit, but to give to the travelling public the accommodation which is demanded by modern conditions.
Our largest diners have seating capacity for 30 persons, from being 5 tables for four on one side of the car, and five tables for two on the other. One-third of every diner is taken up by the kitchen, and to consider how many people are served on days when the travel is good, is to wonder how such excellence and completeness of service can emanate from so small a culinary department. The dining car kitchen is, however, a model of completeness, every inch of space being utilized and the Chef having every utensil within touch. Needless to say it is a marvel of cleanliness, this being a principle rigidly adhered to.
Those who dine in ease and comfort while travelling are not apt to think much about the Chef and his assistants who toil in the scorching heat of this small kitchen. The average patron picks up the neatly printed menu card from his list of the good things of this life, selects a meal with more or less care and deliberation, while a polite waiter stands at attention. It may even possibly occur to the traveller that the prices seem high for certain articles on the Bill of Fare, without stopping to think of the great cost to the Railway of providing food of the very finest quality, preparing it en route and serving it in such an inviting manner as to banish all weariness of a long journey and turn the tediousness of travel into a delight. But few think of these details. They accept the good service as their just thing anything is lacking. Dining cars are luxuries that modern travel conditions and competition have made necessary, and directly the railway benefits, because of the satisfaction given its patrons, while as a medium of advertising, the dining car service properly operated stands high.
But to thoroughly satisfy the public requires a great deal of attention to the finest details. The food purchased by the Commissariat Department must be of the finest quality, and only the best the market can afford is acceptable to the officials who inspect every purchase and reject everything

NEW RICHMOND

The steadily increasing interest and sympathy of the people of Maria and New Richmond in the Patriotic Fund was manifested by the large attendance at the concert in the Blue Ribbon Hall, New Richmond, on the evening of the 17th inst., given in aid of the Fund.

Notwithstanding that the preparations for the concert were short and hurried, it proved a decided success. Two sons and a daughter of John Guite, Esq., Ex M. P. of Maria took a prominent part in the programme, and contributed largely to the success of the undertaking. The perseverance of these young people, and of Miss Bernice Willett is deserving of special mention, for they crossed the ice to the practices, often at considerable risk.

Mr. James Henderson was chosen chairman, and the following Committees worked with him:

Tableau: Miss Bernice Miller, Mrs. J. P. Henry and Mr. Ernest Harvey.

Dialogue: Misses Cleland, Maude Harvey, and Mr. Weedon Dorrige, assisted by Miss Queenie Crepault.

Music: Mrs. Albert Fallu.

Those taking part in the music were: Misses Eva Guite (in charge of the piano), Flore Arsenau, Yvonne Arsenau, Viola Fallu, Mona Henderson, Rita Crepault, M. Harvey, Tena Campbell, Messrs. J. P. Henry and J. H. Robertson; Messrs. Alphonse and Charles Guite, Harry Campbell, Weedon Dorrige, and Raoul Arsenau.

A very enjoyable part of the proceedings was that performed between the acts by M. Thompson Falow, who played on the violin, accompanied on the piano by his daughter, Miss Lena, to the satisfaction of an appreciative audience.

Messrs. Edgar R. Cyr as stage manager, and Mancer Duthie as general manager deserve the thanks of the community for the efficient manner in which they performed their duties.

After a short, interesting and spirited address by the chairman of the evening, R. H. Montgomery, Esq., the following programme was successfully carried out:

A beautiful and striking tableau—"Britannia and her Allies".

England—Miss Tena Campbell.

France—Miss Flore Arsenau.

Belgium—Miss Mona Henderson.

Russia—Mrs. J. H. Robertson.

Danish—Miss Viola Fallu.

Servia—Miss Yvonne Arsenau.

Duet—"Trompette de Guerre" was excellently rendered by the Misses Queenie and Rita Crepault.

Chorus—"For King and Country" the solo was sung by Mrs. J. P. Henry and Miss Viola Fallu, aided by the other singers. The sentiment and the performance of this song were alike beautiful.

An exceedingly pleasant part of the programme was the dialogue: "Peleg and Patience" Misses Cleland, Rita Crepault and Mr. Harry Campbell presented Uncle John, his wife and daughter; Miss Mona Henderson and Mr. Bertram Robertson the part of the country relatives; Mr. Weston Robertson, the fortune-hunting lover. The very realistic performance secured much delighted applause.

The humorous song, "My Wife's in Europe" by Mr. Charles Guite quite brought down the house.

The song "Les Soirees de Quebec" by the Misses Arsenau, Eva Guite, Viola Fallu, Rita Crepault, and Messrs. Alphonse and Charles Guite and Raoul Arsenau was well sung and received with eager attention.

"Lucetta's Lover"—an entertaining and amusing recitation by Miss Queenie Crepault was exceedingly well performed. Her clear enunciation making it very interesting.

The Duet "La Chasse au Bonheur" by Misses Eva Guite and Flore Arsenau was a pleasure to all. The music was good, was well sung and equally well accompanied.

Miss Flore Arsenau's pretty song, "A little love, a little kiss" was exquisitely sung and much appreciated.

"Calling Central" by Mr. Charles Guite was very amusing. His ludicrous remarks convulsed the audience.

Mr. Alphonse Guite's song, "Judith" reflected much credit to the singer.

The pantomime "Four musical sisters" was very pretty. Four young girls in white, with ribbons—Misses Amy Brash, Flore Burton, Mamie Lynn and Mamie Falow made up this tableau.

Now, while we individually express our love and friendship to our various friends and relation, we as a body, viz.—The members of the Athol Union church have gathered here tonight, to express to you our heartfelt gratitude for your faithful services during the past few years as our organist, also to present you with this as an acknowledgement of the same. Obligations of this nature call for a great deal of time and devotion, and we know you have taken every interest in your task, and have on every occasion made a success. What we offer you tonight is but little to repay you for your help the church work, but bear in mind it carries with it our thanks and appreciation.

(Sgd.) Members of the Athol Union Church.

In the great library of the British Museum is to be seen the largest book in the world. This is an atlas of beautifully engraved ancient Dutch maps, bound in leather and fastened with clasps of solid silver. It is nearly seven feet high, weighs 800 pounds, and was presented to King Charles I. before leaving Holland in the year 1660.

BUSINESS AS USUAL

Of course—says the New York Herald—it may be a sign of lack of "Kultur" on our part, but some way we Americans cannot help feeling that this business of German levies upon the helpless little cities and towns of Belgium smacks mightily of the days of Genghis Khan.

Microbes in Your Scalp

Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Unna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and their theory has been verified by eminent scientists. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become shiny. Then, it is believed, nothing will grow back. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp and hair as Resall "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the causes of falling hair, as discovered by Prof. Unna, Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than any other thing you can use to remove dandruff and agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that.

We will pay for a month's treatment of Resall "93" Hair Tonic used daily, if you can prove to us that it will not grow back. We will not be satisfied until you are thoroughly satisfied. When we are satisfied, you may stop using it at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your hair will grow back. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.

You can buy Resall "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our store:

To the Sheriff of the County of Restigouche, or any Constable within the said County, Greeting:

The following is an extract from a sermon by the Rt. Rev. H. G. C. Moule, Bishop of Durham, England, from the words of Mic. VI. 9.

Yet am I wrong when, all the while, I return to my text, and press upon you this stern deliverance of Micah, this word about the Lord's voice to the city, and the eloquence of His paternal rod?

For though the war has its majestic righteousness, and its moral glory, and its splendour of endurance and achievement, and its sacred pathos of tears, it has its function also, its dread and humbling function, as the rod of chastening. I do not speak of other peoples. I scarcely dare speak of martyred Belgium. I speak of the material and spiritual wounds and groans of Britain, mercifully less grievous than many a sign at first made probable, but to more so yet. And I ask you, men of Christian wisdom, Do you not see the Name written in fire upon the thundercloud? Do you not hear the falling rod vocal with the remembrance of national sins? Do you not feel, in your souls humbled before the Prince of all the Kings, a profound response to His appeal—"As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten; be zealous, therefore, and repent"? I think that England is in some measure genuinely beginning to listen. I think that our materialism has been widely stricken with awe and shame—ever its own gross ideals in face of this terrific memento that "all these things shall be dissolved," and are shaken already to the base. I think that innumerable people are praying as they have never prayed before. I think that the Bible is becoming a new book to multitudes; itself immortally the same, with its infallible messages of God, Christ, sin, redemption, love, duty, eternity, the loss and the salvation of the soul; new to thousands who have half forgotten it so long. I think worship has come into a new life. I think—I know that, in our Dominion parishes, the preacher, in the hour of his sermon, the joy and the salvation of the soul, the crowding and eagerness of attention; I think—I know that in many a place of drill and training there is a new sense of the shame of vile words and deeds, a risk towards better things. The lust of sheer idleness and amusement is rebuked in some sort among us, I believe. A solemn consciousness that life means responsibility is surely coming back to us where it seemed to be dying out of space. But the voice has yet much to say to the city, and the rod in the Father's hand is smiting still.

At last I speak of that momentous cause with which I am charged to-day in this pulpit. Temperance is the announced theme of my sermon, and the claimant of your prayers and gifts. I have not put it off thus by mistake. For my hope is that a review of our national position would of itself anticipate many formal arguments which I otherwise develop, and leave me free to do little more than remind you of a few great facts about a national evil bad enough, I am sure, to call the voice of the Lord down upon the city, and to invite His rod to follow.

His voice. Do you realize what the magnitude of our drink habit is? Do you recollect the enormous wealth annually devoted to strong drink, the strong drink which does not make strong men; which in its best consumption is a mere passing pleasure, while in its worst—and that worst means a phenomenon of far-pervading shame and woe—it is the perversion of will, of morale, of truth, of love, of purity, of home? Upon this matter, this thing we spend over $60,000,000 every year; that is to say, more than twice the revenue annually devoted to the British Army and Navy taken together previous to the declaration of war. In itself, as a detached writer in this week's "Spectator" remarks, this huge expenditure is, relatively to any good results, hugely wasteful; and also, as he reminds us, it positively hurts the State, as it puts out of industrial and commercial efficiency tens of thousands of our citizens. I should not be true to my mission for this Society if I preached a teetotal sermon, teetotal though I am. But I may say this at least, if you are disposed to be angry with teetotal bigots, extremists for abstinence—try to be patient. Have you ever watched the drink habit at close quarters? Has it ever invaded your own home circle? Have you ever seen a grave close over a dear body, the body of a beloved friend, once rich in splendid gifts, lovable and loving, admirable and admired, but pulled down and yet down by this execrable temptation, till he sank, a broken life? If you have not, be thankful. But remember that such things do take place. And, oh! be patient if those who have seen them, only too tremulously near it may be, are sometimes less judicious, cool, less largely tolerant, over the question of drink, than your wisdom would approve. Perhaps something of intolerance may have moved the will of the Russian autocrat, when he renounced the other day, at once and for ever, the enormous interest of this treasury in the sale of spirits. But few of us will be severe critics of the Czar. Assuredly the Russian people have seen no unreasonable arbitrariness behind that first usage of temperance.

DEMAND FOR A REMEDY.

But I hasten to the close. A few words only must be spoken upon this question, matter of the relative justice of the war and temperance. The

Everybody Dances
DON'T think of the Edison Phonograph just as a reproducer of topical songs or band selections. Its great value as a home entertainer is its versatility. Take the present popularity of dancing. With an EDISON in your home, you may have a delightful dance as often as you like, with music that a millionaire could not improve. You can have all the latest dances—Waltz Hesitation, One Step, Maxie, Three Step, Boston—played by the finest bands and orchestras, with the tempo set by the masters of dancing so that you get the exact rhythm. Or—if you prefer the regular waltzes and two-steps, you may choose from many when you have the Edison. Or—you may have a night at the opera—a vaudeville or musical comedy evening—and on Sundays, enjoy "the hymns that live" as sung by soul inspiring quartettes. There's a winter's entertainment and a winter's delight in the hop of Croydon told us a few days ago that from many parts of the country evidence comes in that, amidst many hopeful symptoms, a formidable increase of actual drunkenness is reported. Partly this may be due to the criminal folly of "treating" soldiers and recruits. But it is traceable also, he thinks, to the mental and moral strain of the war, to the dark depression brought on by incessant concentration on battle news, bad or good; and then follows the fatal demand for a remedy in drink. Here is a call to each and all of us, for ourselves first, but also for others, to gird up the loins of our mind, and of our will; to discipline our every habit; to sacrifice anything rather than leave a careless stumbling-block in the path of the weak; to remember that temperance, in its largest and its noblest sense, means self-control, all around the man, and all through.

That self-control, so says the Lord by the Apostle, is a vital element in "the fruit of the Spirit," in the character generated by the Holy Ghost in believing man, fearful of himself, strong and steadfast in his God.

Come, then, and let us strengthen one another's souls in Him. Let us humble ourselves under His mighty hand, in penitence and faith. Then He will exalt us in due time. In and on that hand we shall rise up, to stand ourselves, and to be a stay for the steadfastness of our brethren; a power for the virtue and the gladness of our people, for righteous war and Christian peace, in the name of the Lord Jesus and by the Spirit of our God.

On January 10th, the usual winter "change of time" will take place on the I. C. R. The changes of greatest import to North Shore residents is the elimination of the Ocean Limited from the new time card, and the unexpected alterations in the Sunday train service.

The Limited will be taken off with the change of time, and will not resume service until the spring sets in. The Maritime Express will run seven days a week, thus giving a Sunday service.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleaning at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.
