

FREDERICTON AND VICINITY.

Record of Current Events About Town.

The Prince William Railway Injunction.

The Pollock Extract Works—Matrimony in Queens.

Saw Mills shut Down.

Mr. Gibson's mill at Margville shut down for the season yesterday.

The letter box for the corner of Brunswick and Westmorland streets, obtained through the exertions of Mr. W. B. Quinn, has arrived from Ottawa, and will be placed in position at once.

The Royal Templars.

A special meeting of the Royal Templars of the Order of the Temple of the Temple will be held in the temple hall this evening.

Exports for October.

There were exports from Fredericton during the month of October, goods to the value of $9,000, compared with $10,000 during the corresponding month of last year.

School Appointments.

The board of school trustees have appointed Miss Isabel Hunter, of the Duke Street school, to the charge of one of the divisions of the primary department of the Charlotte Street school, the appointment to take effect December 1st.

All About a Cow.

A Richibucto despatch of yesterday says: The case of Robert Little vs. John O'Brien, which has been before the court for the past six days, resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff. The action was a replevin for a cow on the Richibucto railway.

The Mayville bridge.

Contractor Simmons has still a force of men at work repairing the Mayville bridge, which was damaged by recent floods. A temporary structure has been in use for some time, but it is expected that the repairs will be completed in a few days.

Will Remains as It Is.

The Queen Street cemetery will be greatly improved by the repairs now being made, but it is not expected that the cemetery will be opened for the purpose of taking off the patches of ground. This, however, is not stipulated in the contract, and will be left to the contractor.

The Normal School.

The result of the first regular examination of the normal school, held on the 28th inst., has been announced as far as concerns the junior class. Five young ladies, who entered on condition, failed to pass, and have turned back. Several others, who barely came up to the mark, have also left the school.

University Monthly.

The publication of the University Monthly has been resumed for the present year, and the first number is a fairly creditable one. The following comprise the editorial staff: F. L. Christie, B. O. Fish, N. W. Brown, G. A. Appleby, Wm. Van Wart, Mr. George A. Higgins, and Mr. W. B. Quinn. The business department is in charge of Mr. R. B. Smith.

Another Record From.

News of another of those interesting events, which have been of frequent occurrence of late, comes from Gagetown. Mr. John R. Dean, principal of the Gagetown school, at that place, and Miss Sarah Abbott, only daughter of Mr. B. J. Abbott, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock on Wednesday.

Promises to be Filled.

Yesterday night a meeting of the city council promises to be a lively one. Among other things, the railway question will be discussed. Mr. W. B. Quinn, who has been appointed to the position of city clerk, will also be present. All the eloquence of the hour will, no doubt, be called forth.

Sanitary Circuit Court.

Mr. John Doe on the death of Mr. John Doe, deceased, was the only case on the Sanitary Circuit Court, which was decided yesterday. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, and Mr. Doe was awarded the sum of $100.

The New West's Better Way.

Mr. Sewell, who is busy on his way out from England to join Mr. W. B. Quinn, will be quite as busy as far as the sale of his new property is concerned. The new property has been sold for $100,000, and the proceeds will be used for the purpose of building a new house.

The Prince William Railway Injunction.

The argument on the application to vary the injunction of Opt. Powys against the John River Valley Railway Co. was begun before Judge Fraser at half past two on Thursday afternoon and continued in the evening. Messrs. Black and White, for the railway, and Messrs. Green and Black, for the plaintiff, were present.

The Pollock Extract Works.

The Pollock Extract Works are to be run day and night under the management of Shaw Bros. This will not only give employment to a double crew, but will be the means of securing a greater quantity of work.

Mr. Alex. McLean, who lives on Carmichael street, will be more cautious in displaying his property. He was known as Margaret Harper met him as he was leaving a shop on that street last evening, and appeared to him for a moment. He drew his wallet out and handed her $1. She snatched the purse, which then contained $30, and made off. He afterwards secured $10 and then called at the police station. Sergeant Watson sent an officer after her and succeeded in recovering $10.35 which she had taken from him while he was in the shop. She was locked up.—Telegraph.

A Delicate Operation.

A young lad named Campbell, belonging to Gibson, met with a serious accident a short time ago, while working in the cotton factory at Margville. He fell off a stand, striking on his side upon a bar and inflicting severe internal injuries. Dr. Sharp, of Margville, was called and attended the injured lad. The injuries were so serious that it was found necessary to remove the kidney, which was so badly injured, in order to save the boy's life. About a fortnight ago, satisfied by Dr. Crockett and Dr. McLean, of this city, Dr. Sharp performed the delicate operation. The lad is progressing very satisfactorily and it is thought that he will soon recover.

BITS OF NEWS.

Entered and Condensed for the Readers of the "Gleaner."

Monday will be Gay Fawkes Day.

The Presidential election on Tuesday, November 3rd will be Thanksgiving day in the States.

Half past nine o'clock is now the hour of opening for the city schools.

There has not been a single case before the police magistrate this week.

The vessel, Ida B., has just arrived with another cargo of coal for Mr. Perkins.

The water is still over the lower wharves to quite a depth, but is now falling again.

K. Shiver, of St. John, has purchased the rotary mill at Campbellton, owned by Wm. Richards.

The rails interfered with the market again this morning, as there were only a few farmers in.

Scarlet fever of a malignant type is very prevalent in Shelburne. The schools are almost deserted.

It is stated that a company are about to erect a large steam saw mill at Red Rapids on the Tobique.

A man named Hall, while intoxicated, fell from the Macken wharf at St. Andrews Thursday night, and was drowned.

No new cases of diphtheria are reported from the Mitchell boom.

The employees are still quartered at the Shelburne boom house.

The Otago of Margville talk of celebrating the two hundredth anniversary of Gay Fawkes day by a supper on Monday evening.

The embankment on the Northern & Western in the rear of Mr. McDonald's residence has been replaced by a solid structure of large timber.

Maritime Bank notes are still slowly coming in to the liquidators of that failed bank of 50 cents. About $20,000 worth of notes are still out.

Shortly after Jackson's appointment as rector of the St. Mary's school, he was informed that a damnable capitalist intended to erect a large steam saw mill on the Macken wharf at St. Andrews.

The approach of the St. Mary's end of the wooden bridge is a disgraceful condition of affairs, and so far from being repaired at once.

There is considerable betting in town on the result of the Presidential election on Tuesday. It is stated that a down-town man has won $300 on Harrison.

Messrs. Gillies and Jackson have been engaged to erect a large steam saw mill on the Macken wharf at St. Andrews.

The twin saw mills owned by John Robinson and Harvey Gage, at Margville, Westmorland, were burned Thursday. Each was insured for a thousand dollars. The loss is $4,000.

Wm. Fowler, of this city, will cut about two millions on Salmon River for the winter. This winter, and he will also have extensive lumber operations on that stream.

There promises to be an unusually large cut of lumber on the Tobique the coming winter. Messrs. Babbitt, Teddie, Haslam, and Fowler, all have large stocks on hand.

An Ottawa despatch says: A customs preventive officer in a New Brunswick port recently collected duty on a casket containing a corpse being brought into Canada from London for burial.

A few cases of measles have broken out in Margville in the last few days.

The publication of the University Monthly has been resumed for the present year, and the first number is a fairly creditable one.

The following comprise the editorial staff: F. L. Christie, B. O. Fish, N. W. Brown, G. A. Appleby, Wm. Van Wart, Mr. George A. Higgins, and Mr. W. B. Quinn.

The business department is in charge of Mr. R. B. Smith.

Another Record From.

News of another of those interesting events, which have been of frequent occurrence of late, comes from Gagetown.

Mr. John R. Dean, principal of the Gagetown school, at that place, and Miss Sarah Abbott, only daughter of Mr. B. J. Abbott, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock on Wednesday.

Promises to be Filled.

Yesterday night a meeting of the city council promises to be a lively one.

Among other things, the railway question will be discussed.

Mr. W. B. Quinn, who has been appointed to the position of city clerk, will also be present.

All the eloquence of the hour will, no doubt, be called forth.

Sanitary Circuit Court.

Mr. John Doe on the death of Mr. John Doe, deceased, was the only case on the Sanitary Circuit Court, which was decided yesterday.

The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, and Mr. Doe was awarded the sum of $100.

The New West's Better Way.

Mr. Sewell, who is busy on his way out from England to join Mr. W. B. Quinn, will be quite as busy as far as the sale of his new property is concerned.

The new property has been sold for $100,000, and the proceeds will be used for the purpose of building a new house.

The Prince William Railway Injunction.

The argument on the application to vary the injunction of Opt. Powys against the John River Valley Railway Co. was begun before Judge Fraser at half past two on Thursday afternoon and continued in the evening.

Messrs. Black and White, for the railway, and Messrs. Green and Black, for the plaintiff, were present.

The Pollock Extract Works.

The Pollock Extract Works are to be run day and night under the management of Shaw Bros.

This will not only give employment to a double crew, but will be the means of securing a greater quantity of work.

Mr. Alex. McLean, who lives on Carmichael street, will be more cautious in displaying his property.

He was known as Margaret Harper met him as he was leaving a shop on that street last evening, and appeared to him for a moment.

He drew his wallet out and handed her $1. She snatched the purse, which then contained $30, and made off.

He afterwards secured $10 and then called at the police station.

Sergeant Watson sent an officer after her and succeeded in recovering $10.35 which she had taken from him while he was in the shop.

She was locked up.—Telegraph.

A Delicate Operation.

THE WURTEMBERG SCANDAL.

Complete History of the Eccentric Monarch's Career.

Some Facts Regarding the Conduct of the "Americans."

Donald Hendry, of Fredericton, and Mr. Woodcock of St. John.

STUTTGART, Oct. 30.—The Herald's despatches from Munich, Nice and New York regarding the scandal about the King of Wurtemberg and his American friends have created a great deal of excitement here.

No paper published in the city has, however, dared to say a word upon the subject. The council of ministers has ordered proceedings to be taken against the Munich paper, Neue Nachrichten, for its publication concerning His Majesty's affairs.

If it comes to a trial interesting developments may be looked for. Jackson's appointment in 1881 created a great deal of comment, but was not so accepted, and would never have been revived now but for the Woodcock and Hendry affair.

Jackson returned his American citizenship and became a Wurtemberg subject immediately after leaving the King's service. He was appointed as first vice-president, or reader, and afterwards principal councillor of the King. The king's personal friend, he was a close friend of the king's.

It is stated that a company are about to erect a large steam saw mill at Red Rapids on the Tobique.

A man named Hall, while intoxicated, fell from the Macken wharf at St. Andrews Thursday night, and was drowned.

No new cases of diphtheria are reported from the Mitchell boom.

The employees are still quartered at the Shelburne boom house.

The Otago of Margville talk of celebrating the two hundredth anniversary of Gay Fawkes day by a supper on Monday evening.

The embankment on the Northern & Western in the rear of Mr. McDonald's residence has been replaced by a solid structure of large timber.

Maritime Bank notes are still slowly coming in to the liquidators of that failed bank of 50 cents. About $20,000 worth of notes are still out.

Shortly after Jackson's appointment as rector of the St. Mary's school, he was informed that a damnable capitalist intended to erect a large steam saw mill on the Macken wharf at St. Andrews.

The approach of the St. Mary's end of the wooden bridge is a disgraceful condition of affairs, and so far from being repaired at once.

There is considerable betting in town on the result of the Presidential election on Tuesday. It is stated that a down-town man has won $300 on Harrison.

Messrs. Gillies and Jackson have been engaged to erect a large steam saw mill on the Macken wharf at St. Andrews.

The twin saw mills owned by John Robinson and Harvey Gage, at Margville, Westmorland, were burned Thursday. Each was insured for a thousand dollars. The loss is $4,000.

Wm. Fowler, of this city, will cut about two millions on Salmon River for the winter. This winter, and he will also have extensive lumber operations on that stream.

There promises to be an unusually large cut of lumber on the Tobique the coming winter. Messrs. Babbitt, Teddie, Haslam, and Fowler, all have large stocks on hand.

An Ottawa despatch says: A customs preventive officer in a New Brunswick port recently collected duty on a casket containing a corpse being brought into Canada from London for burial.

A few cases of measles have broken out in Margville in the last few days.

The publication of the University Monthly has been resumed for the present year, and the first number is a fairly creditable one.

The following comprise the editorial staff: F. L. Christie, B. O. Fish, N. W. Brown, G. A. Appleby, Wm. Van Wart, Mr. George A. Higgins, and Mr. W. B. Quinn.

The business department is in charge of Mr. R. B. Smith.

Another Record From.

News of another of those interesting events, which have been of frequent occurrence of late, comes from Gagetown.

Mr. John R. Dean, principal of the Gagetown school, at that place, and Miss Sarah Abbott, only daughter of Mr. B. J. Abbott, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock on Wednesday.

Promises to be Filled.

Yesterday night a meeting of the city council promises to be a lively one.

Among other things, the railway question will be discussed.

Mr. W. B. Quinn, who has been appointed to the position of city clerk, will also be present.

All the eloquence of the hour will, no doubt, be called forth.

Sanitary Circuit Court.

Mr. John Doe on the death of Mr. John Doe, deceased, was the only case on the Sanitary Circuit Court, which was decided yesterday.

The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, and Mr. Doe was awarded the sum of $100.

The New West's Better Way.

Mr. Sewell, who is busy on his way out from England to join Mr. W. B. Quinn, will be quite as busy as far as the sale of his new property is concerned.

The new property has been sold for $100,000, and the proceeds will be used for the purpose of building a new house.

The Prince William Railway Injunction.

The argument on the application to vary the injunction of Opt. Powys against the John River Valley Railway Co. was begun before Judge Fraser at half past two on Thursday afternoon and continued in the evening.

Messrs. Black and White, for the railway, and Messrs. Green and Black, for the plaintiff, were present.

The Pollock Extract Works.

The Pollock Extract Works are to be run day and night under the management of Shaw Bros.

This will not only give employment to a double crew, but will be the means of securing a greater quantity of work.

Mr. Alex. McLean, who lives on Carmichael street, will be more cautious in displaying his property.

He was known as Margaret Harper met him as he was leaving a shop on that street last evening, and appeared to him for a moment.

He drew his wallet out and handed her $1. She snatched the purse, which then contained $30, and made off.

He afterwards secured $10 and then called at the police station.

Sergeant Watson sent an officer after her and succeeded in recovering $10.35 which she had taken from him while he was in the shop.

She was locked up.—Telegraph.

A Delicate Operation.

A young lad named Campbell, belonging to Gibson, met with a serious accident a short time ago, while working in the cotton factory at Margville.

He fell off a stand, striking on his side upon a bar and inflicting severe internal injuries.

Dr. Sharp, of Margville, was called and attended the injured lad. The injuries were so serious that it was found necessary to remove the kidney, which was so badly injured, in order to save the boy's life.

LEVY AT THE CITY HALL.

His Wonderful Performance on the Cornet—A Belated Audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

Levy was, of course, the central attraction, but the performance of the other members of the company were of a really excellent character, and added much to the delight of the audience.

Julia Levy, the world renowned cornetist, and his concert company, were welcomed to their first appearance here last evening, with one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in the city hall.

Very few of the music loving people were absent, and the concert was a great success.

For a four entertainment will seldom again be given in this city.

NEWS OF THE WORLD CONDENSED.

From Our Own Telegraphic Reports and Our Exchanges.

Personal, Political and Religious News of the Day.

Cable, American, Canadian and General Topics.

THE GLEANER, FREDERICTON, N. B., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 3.

PARSONS' PILLS

Make New Rich Blood!

These pills are made of the most powerful and purest of the blood-making ingredients. They will cure all cases of blood-poor, and will give you a new, rich, and healthy blood. They will cure all cases of blood-poor, and will give you a new, rich, and healthy blood. They will cure all cases of blood-poor, and will give you a new, rich, and healthy blood.

S. F. SHUTE,
302 Queen Street.
Sole Agent for the Rockford R.R. Watches!

JACKSON ADAMS,
PRINCIPAL UNDERTAKER.
Coffins and Caskets of all kinds, Sizes and Prices. Robes Shrouds and Funeral Goods of Every Description kept in stock.

EDGECOMBE & SONS,
YORK STREET, FREDERICTON.

Now is the Time to Leave Your Orders for
SLEIGHS & PUNGS
We have on hand, and are finishing up, 200 Double Seated and Single Seated Pungs and Sleighs, which we are determined to sell out at PRICES THAT WILL ANYWHERE DEFY COMPETITION.
Leave Your Orders Early.
EDGECOMBE & SONS.
Fredericton, Oct. 28, 1887.

KEEP YOUR OPTIC ON THIS.
The Fall Goods are arriving daily, and some very Pretty Patterns to Choose Fall Suits and Overcoats from.
Leave your orders early and have them made up in Latest Styles before the great rush commences.
The Latest Fashions Monthly.
Cutting attended to promptly.

W. E. SEERY.
WILMOT AVE.
Fredericton, Sept. 28, 1887.

R. COLWELL,
FREDERICTON, N. B.

Carriages, Wagons, Sleighs and Pungs built to order in the latest and most durable styles. Material and workmanship of the best. Particular attention given to painting, trimming and repairing Carriages, etc. Terms, etc., to give satisfaction.

FACTORY
KING STREET, FREDERICTON.

LAURANCE'S
Spectacles and
Eye-Glasses
AT A BARGAIN.
I have a lot of LAURANCE'S BEST ENGLISH GLASSES, both in Glass and Pebbles, which I will sell at 20 per cent LESS THAN COST. This is a rare chance to secure a first-class article at a LOW PRICE.

GEO. H. DAVIS,
Cor. Queen and Regent Streets, Fredericton, N. B.
Fredericton, Oct. 28, 1887.

THE FISHERMAN OF NAPLES.

BY ALEXANDRE DUMAS.

CHAPTER IX.

Pietro accompanied Massimiliano some distance along the road leading to the place where his men were waiting for him. "Well," said the young fisherman, "since you wish to be useful, take your men with you to the Abbey of Santa Chiara, which I have supplied with fish for two years, and the abbess of which will be glad to receive you. I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

"Divide yourselves into two parts. The first will remain unarmed, under my command, and will proceed to the gate of the Marina, where the men who form it will receive you. Keep your arms as secret as possible, and do not let any of them see you. Wait for the signal, and then enter the city the moment you hear the cannon of the cathedral ring."

"We will obey," cried they all. "I have no doubt," said Pietro, "that you will all carry out your orders."

"I will live my life for you," said Massimiliano, turning to the captain. "I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

THE FISHERMAN OF NAPLES.

BY ALEXANDRE DUMAS.

CHAPTER IX.

Pietro accompanied Massimiliano some distance along the road leading to the place where his men were waiting for him. "Well," said the young fisherman, "since you wish to be useful, take your men with you to the Abbey of Santa Chiara, which I have supplied with fish for two years, and the abbess of which will be glad to receive you. I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

"Divide yourselves into two parts. The first will remain unarmed, under my command, and will proceed to the gate of the Marina, where the men who form it will receive you. Keep your arms as secret as possible, and do not let any of them see you. Wait for the signal, and then enter the city the moment you hear the cannon of the cathedral ring."

"We will obey," cried they all. "I have no doubt," said Pietro, "that you will all carry out your orders."

"I will live my life for you," said Massimiliano, turning to the captain. "I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

THE FISHERMAN OF NAPLES.

BY ALEXANDRE DUMAS.

CHAPTER IX.

Pietro accompanied Massimiliano some distance along the road leading to the place where his men were waiting for him. "Well," said the young fisherman, "since you wish to be useful, take your men with you to the Abbey of Santa Chiara, which I have supplied with fish for two years, and the abbess of which will be glad to receive you. I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

"Divide yourselves into two parts. The first will remain unarmed, under my command, and will proceed to the gate of the Marina, where the men who form it will receive you. Keep your arms as secret as possible, and do not let any of them see you. Wait for the signal, and then enter the city the moment you hear the cannon of the cathedral ring."

"We will obey," cried they all. "I have no doubt," said Pietro, "that you will all carry out your orders."

"I will live my life for you," said Massimiliano, turning to the captain. "I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

THE FISHERMAN OF NAPLES.

BY ALEXANDRE DUMAS.

CHAPTER IX.

Pietro accompanied Massimiliano some distance along the road leading to the place where his men were waiting for him. "Well," said the young fisherman, "since you wish to be useful, take your men with you to the Abbey of Santa Chiara, which I have supplied with fish for two years, and the abbess of which will be glad to receive you. I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

"Divide yourselves into two parts. The first will remain unarmed, under my command, and will proceed to the gate of the Marina, where the men who form it will receive you. Keep your arms as secret as possible, and do not let any of them see you. Wait for the signal, and then enter the city the moment you hear the cannon of the cathedral ring."

"We will obey," cried they all. "I have no doubt," said Pietro, "that you will all carry out your orders."

"I will live my life for you," said Massimiliano, turning to the captain. "I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

THE FISHERMAN OF NAPLES.

BY ALEXANDRE DUMAS.

CHAPTER IX.

Pietro accompanied Massimiliano some distance along the road leading to the place where his men were waiting for him. "Well," said the young fisherman, "since you wish to be useful, take your men with you to the Abbey of Santa Chiara, which I have supplied with fish for two years, and the abbess of which will be glad to receive you. I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

"Divide yourselves into two parts. The first will remain unarmed, under my command, and will proceed to the gate of the Marina, where the men who form it will receive you. Keep your arms as secret as possible, and do not let any of them see you. Wait for the signal, and then enter the city the moment you hear the cannon of the cathedral ring."

"We will obey," cried they all. "I have no doubt," said Pietro, "that you will all carry out your orders."

"I will live my life for you," said Massimiliano, turning to the captain. "I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

THE FISHERMAN OF NAPLES.

BY ALEXANDRE DUMAS.

CHAPTER IX.

Pietro accompanied Massimiliano some distance along the road leading to the place where his men were waiting for him. "Well," said the young fisherman, "since you wish to be useful, take your men with you to the Abbey of Santa Chiara, which I have supplied with fish for two years, and the abbess of which will be glad to receive you. I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

"Divide yourselves into two parts. The first will remain unarmed, under my command, and will proceed to the gate of the Marina, where the men who form it will receive you. Keep your arms as secret as possible, and do not let any of them see you. Wait for the signal, and then enter the city the moment you hear the cannon of the cathedral ring."

"We will obey," cried they all. "I have no doubt," said Pietro, "that you will all carry out your orders."

"I will live my life for you," said Massimiliano, turning to the captain. "I will be at the gate of the Marina, and keep an eye on Corbelli and his band. I will not let them pass."

"Good," said Pietro, and they started on their way. "Where are they?" he asked on every side. "At the gate of the Marina, hidden in three cart loads of straw, which are under the care of some of Corbelli's men, disguised as peasants."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."

"All right," cried all the conspirators. "And now," continued Massimiliano, "listen to my last orders."