COOKING CEREALS.

All cereals should be put into boiling water, stirred until they begin to thicken, and then allowed to cook slowly without stirring, until they are thoroughly done. Oatmeal, rolled wheat, rolled barley, and cereals of this kind are better cooked in a double boiler, while the wheat preparations, as wheatlet, farinose, farina, and materials of this character, should be sprinkled dry into a saucepan of rapidly boiling water and cooked for 10 minutes. Cook Irish or steel-cut oatmeal for at least four hours. It is better to have it cooked over night. Rolled oats require at least, an hour, rolled wheat one hour; rolled barley, one hour; Indian mush, at least two hours; graham mush, one hour, and the wheat preparations, 30 minutes.

DEATHS AND BURIALS.

The funeral of Mrs. Eleanor Harrington took place Saturday morning at 8.30 o'clock from her late residence, Acadia street, to St. Peter's church, where requiem mass was celebrated by the Rev. J. J. Walsh, a nephew of the deceased, who also recited the prayers at the grave, in the new Catholic cemetery, where the interment was made. The deceased is survived by her husband, two sons, James and John. Rev. Sister de Sales, of the M. M. Home, Sydney street, Miss Margaret, at home, Mrs. John C. Lloyd, Douglas Avenue, Mrs. Frank McKenna, Watertown, Mass., and Mrs. Wm. E. Nash, Sydney, C. B., are the daughters.

A telegram to the Globe on Wednesday from St. Andrews said:—Edwin B. Coakley, barrister, aged 84, died this morning after a short illness. He was associated with T. A. Hartt, M. P. P., in the lively business. A widow, one child, his mother, brother and sister survive him.

The death is announced of Mrs. Michael Shannon, aged 76 years, at Fredericton. The deceased who had lived there for many years, was born in Donegal, Ireland, and is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. H. C. McIntosh of Boston, Miss Bridget at home, and four sons, John, Patrick of Idaho, Michael of Montana, and James at home.

Mrs. John Droney, of East Boston, formerly Miss Christina Goldie, daughter of Mr. Edward Goldie, of Fairville, died on Tuesday. The late Mrs. Droney was well known in Fairville and her death will be deeply lamented. Mr. Edward Goldie and Mr. Albert J. Goldie, father and brother of the deceased, left for Boston Wednesday evening to attend the funeral. Mrs. Goldie went on the previous day.

KENT COUNTY.

Richibucto, N. B., Jan. 15.—The remains of the late Geo. V. McInerney arrived here by special train at seven o'clock Tuesday evening from St. John. The funeral took place at ten to-day from the residence of R. O'Leary. The remains were taken to St. Aloysius church. The celebrant of the requiem mass was the Rev. John Wheten, a nephew of the deceased, assisted by Dr. Louis O'Leary as deacon, and Dr. Henry O'Leary as subdeacon, and the Rev. Wm. Duke, master of ceremonies. In the sanctuary were Very Rev. L. C. Guerin, Superior of St. Joseph's College, Rev. P. W. Dixon, Newcastle, Rev. E. Bannion, Barnaby River, and Rev. E. Murdoch, Benou's Bridge. Rev. J. Lapointe, Kingston, Rev. A. Bobichaud, Fox Creek, Rev. P. Belliveau, Grand Digue, Rev. Jos. Ouellet, St. Mary's, and Rev. J. J. McLaughlin, Richibucto. The local choir was assisted by members of the St. Louis Church choir and others of the surrounding parishes. The funeral sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Henry O'Leary. Interment took place at the cemetery in Rexton where the final service for the dead was read by Dr. Louis O'Leary.

SEES MENACE IN FLEET'S CRUISE.

Archbishop Glennon in his sermon at the old cathedral, St. Louis, on Christmas, took as his first text the salutation, "Merry Christmas." In the course of sermon the archbishop spoke of the cruise of the fleet of battle ships to the Pacific. He deprecated the spectacle at this season of the year, the season of "peace on earth to men of good will," and said it was a manoeuvre ostensibly of a peaceful mission, but with a secret note of menace in it, a policy of "carrying the palm of peace in one hand and a sword in the other."

A BISHOP ASKS TWO FAVORS.

There are two favors which we are ashamed in begging—one is prayer for ourselves and the other is that in every Catholic home there is found and read a Catholic newspaper. We do not speak our own words when we say that those who assist in the circulation of Catholic literature do a work provocative of the glory of God and the salvation of souls, but we do speak our own words when we say that in a sparsely peopled region, where the hostility to our Church, its institutions and doctrines rests not on ill-will, but pitiable ignorance and where religious indifference and unbelief are contagious, a Catholic newspaper should be in the home of every Catholic. Not solely because a Catholic newspaper is a good thing for the individual and the family, but—and we emphasize this—for the reason that a Catholic paper makes for the preservation of Christian truth and the morality of the community.

Pope Leo X. at the Council of Lateran proclaimed printing to be invented for the glory of God, for the propagation of our holy faith and for the advancement of knowledge. No stronger or more authoritative language in favor of a clean press is on record.

We say then to our clergy and people, support your Catholic paper, which makes for the unalterable truths of God, the education of the mind and the purity of the family which underlies society itself.—Bishop Scanlan, of Salt Lake City.

THE POPE'S GOLDEN JUBILEE.

According to instructions contained in a circular which Archbishop Duhamel sent out last week to the parish priests of the Diocese, a collection for the Pope will be taken up on May 10th next in all the Catholic Churches of Ottawa and other places in the diocese. This is in honor of the fiftieth anniversary of Pope Pius X's ordination. Contributions will also be taken up amongst the clergy and it is also recommended in the circular that the rosary be recited in the families for the intention of His Holiness. Mention is also made of the 30th anniversary of the apparition of the Blessed Virgin at Lourdes which occurs on Feb. 12th.

ANTIGONISH, N. S.

His Lordship Bishop Cameron received a letter from Rev. Edward H. Brown, S. J., pastor of the Catholic Church, at Juneau, Alaska, dated Dec. 20th, 1907, stating that John MacGillivray had died in St. Ann's Hospital, Juneau, on that day and that he had received the last rites of the Church before his death. He was brought to the Hospital ten days before in a very sick condition. He was to have been buried in the Catholic cemetery there. The deceased was the eldest son of the late William MacGillivray (Alexander's son) Bailey's Brook, Pictou County. He left home thirty years ago and was aged about sixty years. He followed railroading in the State of Washington, U. S. A. Apparently he left that State in the month of April last. He leaves a widowed mother, five brothers and two sisters to mourn his loss. His relatives have written to Father Brown for particulars of his illness and death.

OFFICES MAY BE AMALGAMATED.

In legal circles there is considerable talk today over the probable successor of Mr. George W. Allen as reporter of the Supreme Court. A suggestion quite generally heard is that the government will combine the positions of reporter of the Supreme and Equity Courts and that Mr. Walter Trueman will be appointed to the new position. Mr. Trueman, as reporter of the Equity Court, has given excellent satisfaction to bench and bar.—Globe.

SOME PRESS OPINIONS.

"If Mr. Cameron should never write anything more, this work alone would make him famous. . . . this book embodies all the elements of a great story—high ideals, a graceful style, exquisite bits of word-painting, plenty of local colour, plot, action, incident, pathos, and above all, humor—a humor that is fresh, and rich, and rare; not imported, like the Yankee-humor of Sam Slick, but racy of our own soil, having the good old and well-known Highland Gaelic flavor—in short, if I may say so, the genuine home-spun article." Very Rev. Alexander MacDonald, D. D., V. G., author of "The Symbol of the Apostles," "The Symbol in Sermons," "The Holy Sacrifice of the Mass," "Questions of the Day," etc., etc.

"I heartily commend the book to all. It has none of the trashy modern swash about it, and its perusal will give no suggestion to our young readers other than wholesome, strong and manly mental purity."—Extract from Preface by Hon. D. C. Fraser, LL. D., D. C. L., Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia.

"The characters are well conceived and skillfully drawn. . . . Many of the scenes are graphic, deeply pathetic and richly laden with the half-hidden half-revealed moral purpose that leads its true worth to a story. Some of the adventures are told with a realism that thrills your heart. He holds you on the perilous edge of fearful chasms and delivers you from dangers. The strokes of humor are often delicious. Young Cameron is a genius."—The Presbyterian Witness.

"A labour of love."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

DEATHS AND BURIALS.

The burial of Mrs. Eleanor Harrington, wife of Mr. John Harrington, Acadia Street, took place on Saturday morning in the new Catholic cemetery, after Requiem Mass had been celebrated in Holy Trinity Church by Rev. J. J. Walsh, nephew of the deceased, who also read the prayers at the grave. Relatives were pall-bearers.

Mrs. Mary Connell, who on Christmas day was badly burned in her home 600 Main street, died Friday evening, Jan. 10th. Mrs. Connell is survived by four sons and three daughters. The sons are: John, George, Frederick and Michael, all of St. John; the daughters—Mrs. Charles McCarthy, Misses Mary and Nellie Connell. There are also four brothers—Capt. Patrick Gallagher, James Gallagher and Frank Gallagher, of St. John, and Arthur Gallagher, of Fredericton, and one sister, Mrs. Wm. King, of St. John.

The death of Mr. Geo. V. McInerney, K. C., took place at his residence, King Street East, on Sunday morning. He had been in ill health for some years, and had been critically ill for some weeks. The deceased was a native of Kingston (now Rexton) and was nearing the completion of his fifty-first year. He represented Kent County in the House of Commons from 1892 to 1900. In the societies with which he was connected he held a prominent place. He was Grand Trustee of the C. M. B. A. of Canada, succeeding the late Mr. P. J. O'Keefe; he was Chancellor of St. John Council, Knights of Columbus; for several terms he was president of the Irish Literary and Benevolent Society. In 1882 Mr. McInerney was married to Miss O'Leary daughter of the late Mr. Henry O'Leary, Richibucto, by whom, with eight children, he is survived. Dr. J. P. McInerney, St. John, and Mr. John McInerney, Rexton, are brothers, and Mrs. John Sutton, Moncton, is a sister. The funeral took place on Tuesday morning and was very largely attended. The remains were taken to the Cathedral, and placed in a position in front of the chancel. Prayers for the dead were recited by Rev. Henry O'Leary, D.D., of Bathurst, assisted by Rev. Louis J. O'Leary, D.D., of Chatham; Rev. L. G. Guertin, St. Joseph's University; Rev. A. W. Meahan of the Cathedral; Rev. Fathers Borgman, C. S. S. R., and Holland, C. S. S. R., St. Peters. Then the procession reformed and proceeded to the railway station. Messrs. J. D. Hazen, John Kerr, John Keefe, S. S. deForest, R. F. Quigley, John Kelly, John E. Wilson and Philip Grannan were pall-bearers. The body was taken to Richibucto for interment.

ALPHONSE TURGEON DECLARED ELECTED.

Prince Albert, Sask., Jan. 10.—Alphonse Turgeon, Attorney General of Saskatchewan, was declared elected today by a majority of fifty-four for Prince Albert city. The count of the appealed ballots was held by Judge Johnson in Chambers, with only the representatives of the two candidates present. The election was held on Oct. 12, and 131 votes were appealed to the judge of the court of appeal, but only 39 of those whose right to vote was protested appealed and only 29 of those had their votes allowed. Of this number 20 were disputed by Mr. Turgeon and 9 by Mr. Bradshaw. The count of the ballots showed 20 marked for Mr. Bradshaw and nine for Mr. Turgeon. The Attorney General's former majority was 65, and it is reduced only eleven in the final count. Mr. Turgeon says he appreciates the majority. The present election law will be changed before the general elections.

WELL EARNED RECOGNITION.

Mr. S. S. deForest, who has during the past year been the representative of the London and Lancashire Life in New Brunswick, has given such attention to the duties of his office and has met with such success that he has been appointed provincial manager for the entire Maritime field, with headquarters at heretofore in St. John.

The company is well and favorably known and has a large and rapidly increasing business in the Eastern Provinces.

We congratulate both Mr. deForest and the company upon the completion of the arrangements above referred to.

NEW BANK MANAGER.

Mr. R. E. Smith, who for some time has been the efficient accountant at the Royal Bank, Prince Wm. street, has been appointed manager of the North End branch, Main street, succeeding Mr. Percy G. Hall.

DIPLOMATIC FATHER.

Mother's badly worried; so is Sister Kate; Father he's been gettin' very close of late; Says he has no money when they ask for cash; Tells them that he's lookin' for an awful smash.

Every day he tells them that he's pinched some more; Never was less money in the land before; Mother isn't gettin' any new things made; Father says that ruin's comin', he's afraid.

Sister she's decided how to learn to bake; So she'll come in handy if the banks should break; Mother's makin' over her last winter's hat; And she thinks that may be we'll move in a flat; Every morning father thinks of some new scheme; Awful things will happen in a little while; So we've got to kind of lettin' up on style.

Yesterday, when mother wasn't there; I remarked to father it was kind of queer; Willie Marston's daddy wasn't scared at all; So he winked and whispered to me in the hall.

Gee, but he's a wise one! I won't ever tell; But I have to snicker every little spell; When he's warnin' mother and advisin' Kate; That a smash is comin'—father's simply great.

SMALL BIGOTRY.

Mayor Nathan's fuglemen in the municipality of Rome, Italy, have opened their administration in a characteristic manner by cutting off the allowance of $350 a year hitherto paid to the Capuchins for burying all the dead poor of Rome—accompanying the hearses that go about in the middle of the night to the churches, hospitals and other institutions, collecting the bodies, and riding with them to distant San Lorenzo. Happily, the indignation of the citizens has been both spontaneous and striking. The Corriere d'Italia started a subscription to make up the amount of which the Capuchins have been deprived, and in one day the sum sent in by contributors amounted to four thousand francs.

COST NOTHING.

A good third of our lives is spent in sleep. What a boon is sound, ready, and refreshing slumber! Better than rich fare or costly wines is a normal appetite, which finds pleasure and zest in the simplest food.

Again, how influential is disposition in coloring the skies of life;—a genial and hopeful disposition is a surer guarantee of happiness to its possessor than gold or castles. Friendship is one of the great, good things of life—what a gift it is to be able to win and retain friendships—as some men do.

To be really devout, to feel the Fatherhood of God over us, to derive spiritual strength and consolation by kneeling at the altar, realize the communion of saints and the promise of happiness hereafter, what is a greater grace than Religion thus held and practiced?

Finally, there is good physical health, and capacity for enjoying the things of sight and sound and nature.

All these things cost nothing. They are free for all—poor as well as rich. Yet they are the great boons of life—the great felicities of the earthly probation. The wealth we toil and toil for is never worth a single one of these greater endowments which most men possess.

WESTMORLAND COUNTY.

Many Westmorland county people will hear with interest of the marriage of Miss Ella M. Rehberger of Baltimore, Maryland, to Dr. M. T. Dalton of Sumas, Washington, but formerly of Malden. The marriage took place on December 31st at St. Elizabeth's Roman Catholic church, corner of Baltimore street and Lakewood Avenue, Baltimore, the ceremony being performed by the pastor, Rev. John J. Murray. After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Dalton left for Niagara Falls, Buffalo, and other cities. They will reside in Sumas. —Sackville Tribune.

TWO OF A KIND.

The Wife—I was a fool when I married you.
The Husband—Well, I wasn't such a wise guy myself.

TWENTY THOUSAND ADDED.

Just think what an army of twenty thousand men would mean. Yet that is the number of new subscribers added to the mailing lists of that great paper, the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, during the month of December. The Publishers have an enormous staff day and night and must keep right up to the mark or the enormous volume of subscribers are being constantly warned to renew early. The wonderful value of the Family Herald and Weekly Star is becoming known all over the world. Few Canadian homes will be found without it. It certainly is the best dollars worth to be had today.

THE EDITOR'S ADVICE.

The Times new reporter requested an interview with the editor this morning on a matter of some importance. He had been approached with an offer to give him charge of a newspaper, and desired to learn how to decide what to put in the paper, and what to leave out—if he should accept the position.

"Young man," said the editor, "you have asked an important question, but one that has never been solved. You will be blessed and cursed daily, no matter what you put in the paper. That has been my experience. It is the experience of all editors. Some people blame the editor for telling too much about an event, and others blame him for saying too little. Some will object because there are advertisements of a certain kind in the paper, although they do not advertise themselves—and perhaps owe for their subscription. A newspaper is a business proposition. Perhaps it is the source from which fifty or sixty or a hundred people obtain the money that supports them and their families. Wages must be paid. The editor and the business manager may be animated by high hopes and pious ambitions. The employees may be good citizens. But if there is no advertising they all must go in search of a grub stake. Some readers find too much sport in a paper, others too much religion, others too many stories of crime, others too much foreign and not enough local news, others too much local and not enough foreign news—and so on. Even if you printed a newspaper and gave it away, you would have people finding fault with its contents. If you will take my advice, you will not be in a hurry to be an editor. First grow a few grey hairs and a monumental nerve. They will be of material assistance—especially the nerve. An editor may be a real nice fellow when you get to know him, but to a whole lot of people he will still be a designing rascal with a suspicion of cloven feet in his shoe leather."

The new reporter thanked the editor and went out in search of nerve. —Monday's Times.

SIXTY-NINE YEARS AGO.

We take the following clipping from Saturday's Globe, under the heading of "Old Times in St. John—1838," by Clarence Ward:—

"Amongst the scholars mentioned at the semi-annual visitation and examination of the St. John Grammar School on July 2nd, 1838, were Masters John Sweeney, John Allen, Lester Peters, Edward Boyle, Thomas Hanford and Richard Simonds. The Master John Sweeney, above mentioned, afterwards became the venerated Roman Catholic Bishop of St. John."

JANITRESS WINS MILLIONAIRE.

Announcement was made last week of the wedding of John McShain, a millionaire builder of Philadelphia, to Miss Katherine R. Mooney, a young woman of that city, who supported herself by assisting her aunt as janitress of the Land and Title Building.

Mr. McShain, who is 46 years old, has been a widower since 1903, and has four children. Miss Mooney, who is 21 years old and a very handsome young woman, who lived with her aunt since the death of her father, twelve years ago. Thrown upon her own resources, the girl was compelled to make her own way in the world. Her pluck won the admiration of the wealthy builder, and he offered her his hand and fortune. Though self-educated, the bride is known to her friends as a woman of a highly cultivated mind and a splendid charm of manner.

TEMPERANCE GROWING IN IRELAND

The growth of the temperance movement in Ireland is marked. A feature of the work of the clergy which is worthy of notice is the appeal which was recently made throughout the country for temperance at the Christmas season. It is well known that this season is always the excuse for a good deal of intemperance in Ireland, as in other countries, and the clergy tried to avoid this by issuing special pledges to cover the Christmas season only. Another feature of the temperance agitation which is working successfully is the argument that in diminishing the consumption of spirits those who do so are diminishing the taxes paid to England by Irishmen. It is a fact that can not be too generally known that the revenue tax on spirits and beer is one of the greatest sources of English revenue, and a blow struck at the consumption of spirits hits John Bull where he feels it most—in his pocket.

The new British "destroyer." Tartar, can travel a land mile in a minute and thirty seconds. She is a turbine, and burns oil.

The Education Committee of the London County Council does not find it in its way to use its powers to feed children reported by teachers as needing meals. The teachers are accused of being too easily cheated by indolent parents.

Charles Spencer Canning Boyle, Earl of Cork and Orrery, fined ten shillings and seven and sixpence costs as drunk and disorderly in Piccadilly, does not seem to be a pretty charge to be displayed at the Marlborough Street Police Court, London, but there it was December 17.

Lima, Peru, intends to entertain Admiral Evan's men with a bull fight. Since football developed, no American is worried by a little thing like a bull fight. Killing a horse or wounding a man who is practising his trade seems a trifle compared with brutally and perhaps fatally assaulting the flower of a university.

The English Board of Trade, finding that it keeps a fine commercial library in the vaults under the Foreign Office, and hires rooms wherein to exhibit its samples, it would really save money and increase its own usefulness by hiring Crosby Hall, is going to do it, if it can, and so a bit of Plantagenet times is to survive.

The English railways ran special trains for Christmas service and added special vans to the express and mail trains, charged less rates for short distances than the parcels post, and sent collecting vans to customers' houses if asked by telephone or by post. Small wonder that the London Post Office can clear its counters at twelve o'clock Christmas eve with such rivals to take part of the work!

THE REAL HERO.

Any lover can act so well that his lady love will frequently remark how good he is to her, but the real hero is the old fellow who has been married 10 or 20 years, and whose wife is his greatest admirer.—Atchison Globe.

THE ZUYDER ZEE TO GIVE PLACE TO LAND.

Holland, with its 5,000,000 people, living safely behind their wave-washed dykes, is about to make a new conquest from the old enemy, the ocean, says The St. Joseph's Gazette. Already Dutch engineers have begun the tremendous task which will result in turning the Zuyder Zee into 1400 square miles of dry land.

Where of old the great Dutch war fleets gathered, where now 4000 fishermen sink their nets, there will rise happy villages, broad pastures, poplar-bordered roads and sleepy canals—new farms and homes for 50,000 Dutchmen.

The task to be undertaken is a tremendous one. It will cost nearly $76,000,000. In return the government expects to secure annual rentals of more than $5,000,000 from those who occupy and till the hard-won ground.

PRISON SURGEON.

North Shore Leader: Dr. E. D. Gaudet, of St. Joseph's College, has been appointed surgeon and physician at the Maritime Penitentiary, to succeed the late Dr. E. P. Doherty.

A GOOD RESOLUTION.

A good resolution—an easy one to keep—and very appropriate one to make at the outset of the new year, is just this:

See that no good influence, which has been with you during the past year is absent from your life during coming year.

Or if you can, add to your surroundings and set at work in your home an additional good influence.

Do so and be blessed by it. The practical lesson is this:

Continue to take this journal, if you now have it, and if you have it, lose no time in subscribing.

The way to heaven is simply a determination to cut off, year by year, evil influences, and to add one good influence after another.

Of special value is an influence which permeates the entire household, banishes bad and frivolous reading and cultivates a taste for good reading.

WHEN TO BE SINCERE.

Sincerity is a good thing—when not carried to extremes. This was the dictum of a woman wise in her generation, whereat several young people present were considerably shocked. But is it not a fact that sincerity can be carried to extremes, as it is possible for the painfully truthful person to make herself obnoxious at times.

"I shall not pretend to be out," you hear a truthful person announce, "when the A's call. I am not out and I shall simply give orders that I am excused." The unlucky A's pay their visit, hear the voices of other visitors within and go home with a prick in their kindly hearts. The people who inflicted the tiny stab are quite glorified in their own estimation, but is truth the only virtue? There is the virtue of good feeling, of consideration, and courtesy, as you will remember, is an injunction that St. Peter enjoined on his disciples as to be exercised "at all times." St. Paul stopped the suicide of the jailer by words which one bent on exercising the fashionable virtue of sincerity would no doubt scorn to utter.

So beware of "sincerity at any cost." If you insist as did Dr. Willie King's wife, made famous by Margaret Deland, in telling people "flatly and frankly" what you think of them and their little habits, you will soon find yourself possessed of a reputation which will make people want to steer clear of you at all times. Frankness ceases to be a virtue when to "say what we think," means hurting the feelings of others. There is a peculiarity about this virtue of frankness that it is only pleasing when we ourselves exercise it.

There is a sage in Rasselas, who is very wise about human misery, its admirable and disciplinary effects upon character, its ennobling influences, but one day his daughter died and we have an end of didactic philosophy. So the individual whose candor we admired when she was exercising it on a common acquaintance, encouraged by our applause, makes one of her "sincere" speeches to us and we shriek with pain and burn with indignation. I count sincerity a virtue when the person on whom we exercise it is one whom sincerity will help, not wound, and when to be sincere is a sorrow and a trial and is exercised, not to save our own souls, which are quite safe with a kind God, but to save the soul of another.

When Distaeli was nearing his end a young disciple said to him: "Master, what is the unpardonable sin? Is it not a lie?" The astute and subtle statesman, in the shadow of the grave, where he saw with the clearer vision, looked at the young man with deep, unfathomable eyes and answered:

"No, a lie is not the unpardonable sin. The unpardonable sin is the cruel lie."

On the borders of that shadowy land where great things grow and small and little things loom large on the horizon he had come to know that the crime that is not forgiven is the brutal instinct that impels us to wound, to embitter to mortify.

NOT THE ONLY PLACE.

Enterprise, New Glasgow.

People complain of horses being left loose on the street, greatly to the danger of the school children and others who are walking. On Monday of this week a horse, loose, was capering and kicking up his heels near Duncan McDonald's. The horse kicked up his heels, almost grazing the head of a child who was passing. Owners of horses should be careful and not allow them loose on the streets.

CATHOLIC STATISTICS.

The issue of the Catholic Directory for 1908 (Burns and Oates, Ltd) is the seventy-first annual publication. It is needless to say that Bishop Johnson's editing is up to its usual high standard of excellence and that the work is in every respect as perfect as a volume of the kind could be. The statistics are all taken from the most reliable sources, and everything possible has been done to ensure accuracy. The Catholic population of the British Empire, the Directory states, is now estimated as follows: In the United Kingdom 5,500,000 (viz., Great Britain 2,180,000; Ireland 3,320,000); Gibraltar, Malta, and Gozo, 215,000; Asia, 2,085,000; Africa, 350,500; America, 2,310,000; Australasia, 1,082,500 (viz., Australia, 955,500; New Zealand, 107,000; Fiji and other Islands, 30,000; total Catholics in the Empire, 12,053,000. The total number of Archbishops and Episcopal Sees, Vicariates Apostolic, and Prefectures Apostolic in the British Empire is 183. In England and Wales there are the Archbishop of Westminster, with two Bishops Auxiliary and fourteen Bishops of Suffragan Sees (one See, Northampton, being vacant), with a Bishop Auxiliary for Hexham and Newcastle, a Coadjutor for Leeds, and an Auxiliary for Portsmouth. In Scotland there are the Archbishops of St. Andrews and Edinburgh, with four Suffragan Bishops; and the Archbishop of Glasgow. There are also in England two Archbishops and one Bishop who are retired. Of 4,075 priests in Great Britain, 2,654, belong to the diocesan clergy and 1,421 to religious Orders. One hundred and fifty-eight of the diocesan priests are invalided, retired, or unattached, and a few others are abroad. Of the 1,421 priests belonging to religious Orders many are French exiles; and a large number are not engaged in parochial or missionary work. There are 1,273 Catholic churches, chapels, and stations in England and Wales which are certified by the Registrar General as places of worship, and 1,232 which are registered for marriages. Many of the stations in Great Britain have only an occasional not a weekly service. The lists of Catholics titled personages are large and show a considerable increase within recent years. There are twelve Catholic members of the Privy Council of Great Britain and nine of Ireland. The Catholic members of the House of Lords number thirty-four. The Catholic Members of Parliament for England total eight, and Ireland seventy-three. — London paper.

JAKE AND THE APPLE.

It was during an arithmetic class in a country school that Jake Boggs was called upon to solve a problem.

"Now, Jake," began the teacher, "if you had two apples and your little brother took one how many would you have left?"

"I'd just like to see him try taking one," said Jake, shaking his fist.

"Well," said the teacher, "we'll put it this way. Suppose you gave him one."

"Yes; but I wouldn't do it," said Jake.

"Just supposing you did, what would remain?" said the weary teacher.

"A big fool that's what," replied Jake.—Judge's Library.

P. E. ISLAND.

Recently on the forty-sixth anniversary of his ordination Rev. D. M. McDonald, parish priest of Tignish, was presented with a token of the esteem of his parishioners to mark the happy occasion. On Christmas Eve, the curate of the parish, Rev. A. J. McDougall, was presented with an address and a purse of gold as a token of the happy relations existing.

OLD COUPLE MARRIED.

Jeremiah O'Meara, 70 years old, and Helen Naughton, 65 years old, were married at Stanford, Conn., Thursday afternoon after a wait of forty years. They were sweethearts when the civil war broke out and O'Meara enlisted. It was only a short time ago that they found each other, after forty years' waiting.

We are indebted to Mr. W. Alex. Porter for a beautiful calendar for 1908.

THE LONDON TIMES.

The whirligig of time has brought its revenges on The London Times. Pearson and Harmsworth, the Hearst and Pulitzer, respectively, of English journalism, came into the London field and "Americanized" a half dozen of the cheaper newspapers. The Times could not stand the strain. The Walters (in whose family the "Thunderer" has been kept for three generations), had to give it up; and now Pearson owns it.

The Times was always bitterly opposed to the national aspirations of the Irish. It vilified every Irish patriotic movement, from O'Connell to Parnell. This sort of blind hatred over-reached itself in the Pigott episode; and the verdict dealt a lasting blow to the paper's reputation. Long before, Richard Cobden had spoken of The Times as "a moral assassin" for though its splendid news service was universally recognized, the spirit of the paper was never either liberal or charitable. Michael Davitt notes just one bright spot in its Irish record: It could not repress its abomination of the conduct of the Irish landlords at the time of the Irish famine. But, then, who could?

THE DRUCE ROMANCE.

Some day the novelists will take up the material supplied by the Druce trial and give to the world a fine crop of romantic stories as the elder Dumas loved to weave. At any rate, they will not be short of suggestions for strange and sensational situations. These are offered in abundance by the evidence. Nor has mystery been banished by the discovery, the other day, when the coffin was opened, of the body of an aged and bearded man and of an inscription on the coffin plate bearing the name of Thomas Charles Druce. The story as presented in Court is that the fifth Duke of Portland was the same man as T. C. Druce, the owner of the Baker-street Bazaar; that he maintained a dual personality; preserving his individuality as a shopkeeper, and using false beard for the purpose, that whilst in good health he conceived the idea of getting rid of the Druce personality, and to that end decided upon a mock funeral and interment and that the intention was carried out, a coffin being filled with lead, solemnly conveyed to Highgate Cemetery, and consigned to a grave. Upon the strength of this contention the claimant, Mr. George Hollamby Druce, son of George Druce, the eldest son of T. C. Druce by his first wife, is prosecuting Mr. Herbert Druce, a son of T. C. Druce by his second wife, on the charge of perjury, for having stated that he had seen his father's body in the coffin. The plaintiff's lawyers hold that the mere fact of a body being found in the coffin by no means disposes of the case, and whatever the legal view may be, for many readers of the newspapers the mystery has only been deepened.

MODERN VANDALS.

There is no other city in the world where the monuments of the Christian and pre-Christian past stand side by side in such goodly numbers as in Rome. When the splendor of the old Empire was passing away the remains of its glory were treasured during the dominion of the Popes. One after another the Pontiffs encouraged art in every department and diffused throughout the Eternal City that spirit of reverence for antiquity which has saved for modern generations so many priceless relics of former times. But with unbelief has come an inrush of barbarism. Rejoicing in their triumph over the "Clericals," the Blocards, with Syndic Nathan at their head, have displayed contempt for what is dear to antiquarians as well as for the religious feelings of the poor. Between the Porta Pinciana and the Porta Salara they have made four fresh breaches in the city walls, sacred for their antiquity. The walls were pierced some time ago for the formation of three arches, but now the masonry has been entirely cleared away, so that at the four passages not a particle of the ancient structure remains. The object of this exhibition of Vandalism appears to be to raise the prices of house property outside the walls. What has been done cannot now be undone, but the destructive energy of the Blocards in this direction will, doubtless, be checked by the indignation which it has aroused amongst the leading archaeologists of Europe.

AN OLD RESIDENT.

Star, Tuesday.

There lives in the West Side, a woman who was born 104 years ago today. She is Mrs. Anna Holt and she first saw the light of day in a little village in County Sligo, Ireland, in 1804.

Mrs. Holt bears her tremendous burden of years with remarkable ease. She reads with the aid of glasses and frequently knits stockings and mittens. She is quite bright and vivacious and an entertaining conversationalist. One of her peculiarities is that she prefers not to sit in a rocking chair or on an easy chair, choosing always an ordinary straight-backed chair.

Her husband was Jas. T. Holt, for many years a stone mason in this city, but later located in the west. Mr. Holt returned from the west, about fifteen years ago, but while on a business trip to Colorado died rather suddenly.

Mrs. Holt's maiden name was Anna McCann, and she was the daughter of Bartholomew McCann of County Sligo, Ireland. Her mother's maiden name was Mary Caveney, of the same place.

Her parents removed to St. John when the present Mrs. Holt was five or six years of age. Her father went into the junk business and was also largely interested in real estate, being the owner of several on Pond street and in other sections of the city.

Mrs. Holt's memory, for one so old, is exceptionally good. She distinctly recalls the war of 1812, and many other events of national importance which happened early in the last century as well as many local events that happened before the time of most of the oldest inhabitants.

Mrs. Holt is, beyond a doubt, older by several years than any person living in the province, excepting one, and if physical and mental condition may be taken as a sign, she is apt to live for several years to come.

Eleven children, four of whom are dead, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Holt. The seven surviving children are: Mrs. T. Donovan, of the West End, and Mrs. Alois Warner of this city; William of St. Louis, formerly with the A. Christie Woodworking Co., Matthew, at present located at Goldfield, James, an iron moulder, at John E. Wilson's Foundry, Edward, a machinist at Mispick pulp mill, and B. J. Holt formerly a partner in the firm of McLean and Holt.

Mrs. Holt at present boards at Mrs. Perry's, Watson street, West End.

CITY CORNET BAND ENTERTAINMENT.

At the Opera House, on Monday night next, the City Cornet Band will present the beautiful drama, "Hazel Kirke." They will have the assistance of several well-known amateurs. Between the acts there will be first class specialties.

THE NICKEL.

There has been a very large attendance this week at the Nickel. The "Two Orphans" and "Ben Hur" delighted the immense crowds who attended.

AN ENTERTAINING RACE.

Says Lady Randolph Churchill, writing in the Century Magazine: "I can truly say I cannot remember during the three years we lived in Ireland meeting one really dull man. From the Lord Chief Justice to the familiar carman all were entertaining."

Yet these exceptionally bright people are not considered intelligent enough to manage their own political and economic affairs. The country which is the happy hunting ground of dull men feels that it must keep Ireland in a state of vassalage and tutelage. Only a dull-witted people would fail to see the absurdity of this.

THE ROYAL BANK HAS A PROSPEROUS YEAR.

The excellent exhibit of the Royal Bank, as it appears in their statement published in this issue of the Monitor, will gratify the shareholders, customers and friends of the bank. That exhibit is good evidence of wise management of the institution. That the Royal has maintained its exceptionally strong position, and at the same time afforded legitimate credits to its customers, is shown by an increase of nearly $3,000,000 in commercial loans. Deposits have increased over $800,000 and now exceed $33,000,000. Liquid assets, consisting of cash, bonds and balances, due by banks, are equal to 52 per cent. on liability to the public, an exceptional showing. The net profits for the year were the best in the bank's history, $792,034.39—19 per cent. of the capital and an increase of nearly 2 per cent. over 1906—and have enabled the management to make a most substantial reduction of $250,000 in the bank's premises account. The usual addition of $10,000 has been made to the officers' pension fund, and a balance of $156,090.76 has been carried to the credit of profit and loss. The employees have shared in the bank's prosperity, a general bonus of 10 per cent. having been declared by the board. The shareholders of the Royal Bank are to be congratulated. The directors are: Thos. E. Kenny, Halifax, president; H. S. Holt, Montreal, vice-president; Thos. Ritchie, Wiley Smith, H. G. Bauld, Hon. D. MacKeen, Halifax; Jas. Redmond, F. W. Thompson, E. L. Pease, Montreal; G. R. Crowe, D. K. Elliott, Winnipeg, and W. H. Thorne, St. John.

There are two branches of the Royal Bank here. Mr. T. B. Blair is the manager of the one on Prince Wm. street; the North End Branch, Main street, has Mr. R. E. Smith as manager.

Hon. A. R. McClellan, of Riverside, Albert Co., was in town this week.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. Catherine J. McCaffrey, wife of James McCaffrey, died suddenly on Thursday night. Heart trouble, was cause of death. Besides her husband, she leaves two sons, John J., proprietor of Queen Hotel, Fredericton, and Wm. J., General Manager of the New Amsterdam Casualty Co., New York, and one daughter, Katherine L., at home.

GREAT SUBSTITUTE.

It's nice to have a copper mine,
But still the man may pass
In stately triumph down the line
Who has a mine of brass.

REGARDING FURNITURE.

Those of our readers who require furniture of any kind will do well to call at the store of Mr. John White, 93-97 Charlotte street. He is going out of business, and all the stock must be disposed of before March 1st.

Purchasers may have their goods stored by Mr. White until they require them later on.

REQUIEM MASSES.

At St. Peter's church, on Monday morning, at 7.30 o'clock, an anniversary high mass of requiem was celebrated for the repose of the soul of John McMullin.

On Tuesday morning, at 7.30 o'clock, a requiem high mass was celebrated for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Mary Connell.

On Wednesday morning, at 7.30 a high mass of requiem was sung for the repose of the souls of Mary Crozier and relatives.

On Friday morning a requiem high mass was said for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Eleanor Harrington.

CHURCH WORKERS DINED.

The annual supper given by Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Shadbolt to the choir, acolytes, sacristans and all the church workers of the Mission church of St. John Baptist, was given last night and was as usual a very enjoyable function. About fifty sat down at 7 o'clock. Mr. Shadbolt presided.

At the conclusion of the repast, Rev. E. Revington-Jones, priest in charge, proposed the health of Mr. and Mrs. Shadbolt to which Mr. Shadbolt replied. A number of solos were sung by those present. This was followed by recreations and games and the happy gathering broke up about 10 o'clock.—Wednesday's Telegraph.

PROVINCIAL APPOINTED.

St. John—Francis J. Rafferty to be commissioner of sewers for the Great Marsh, in place of Geo. G. Gilbert, deceased; James V. Russell to be a member of board of school trustees; Norman Lawrence McGloan to be a justice of peace.

ALDERMAN THORNE.

Mr. N. Foster Thorne, editor of the Carleton Sentinel, Woodstock, was elected an alderman of that town on Thursday last. The genial editor is also a school trustee.

WEDDING BELLS.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Stanton, daughter of the late Mr. Geo. Stanton, to Mr. William Hayes of Upper Dorchester, was solemnized at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning in St. Peter's church, Rev. F. Holland, C. S. R., officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by a number of the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties. The bride, who wore a hand embroidered gown of pale gray melrose cloth, with filet net and lace trimmings, and hat to match, was attended at the altar by her cousin, Miss Ethel Emery. The bridesmaid's dress was of pale blue crepe de chene. The bride held a white prayer book in her hands during the ceremony, while the bridesmaid carried a beautiful bouquet of pink and white carnations. Mr. Wm. Emery supported the groom. The happy couple left in the afternoon on the C. P. R. express for Dorchester, where they will take up their abode. The bride's going away gown was of Burgundy broadcloth. She also wore a large velvet hat of the same shade. Among the many beautiful presents and remembrances received by the bride was a check from Messrs. D. Magee's Sons, with whom she was employed, and a brass stand with a statue of French bronze from the manufacturing plant and the wholesale and retail departments of the same establishment.

The Church of the Immaculate Conception in Calais was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 5.30 o'clock Tuesday morning, Jan'y 7, in which the principals were William A. Drinon of Calais, and Miss Jennie Reardon of St. George, N. B. The ceremony was performed by Rev. M. J. Horan in the presence of a large number of friends of the bride and groom. The bride looked very dainty and charming in a traveling costume of blue broadcloth with hat to match, and was attended by her sister, Miss Rose Reardon of St. George, who was gowned in green broadcloth with hat to match. Francis S. Drinon, brother of the groom, was best man. Following the ceremony the wedding party drove to the Windsor hotel where a sumptuous wedding breakfast had been prepared, after partaking of which Mr. and Mrs. Drinon left by C. P. R., for a short wedding trip their destination not being given out. The young couple, who have a host of friends throughout the border towns, were the recipients of many beautiful and costly wedding gifts.

THE PALLIUM ARRIVED.

The pallium for the Most Rev. Wm. H. O'Connell, D. D., Archbishop of Boston, has reached that city. It is likely that the bestowal will take place on Wednesday morning, January 29th.

Query: During leap year should ladies give their seats to gentlemen in crowded street cars?

All the artists in Venice, besides the best known and most influential people in society, are up in arms for the defence of Venice's moonlight. This aesthetic campaign is the result of a decision by the Venetian municipality to light the Grand Canal, St. Mark's Basin, and other canals by incandescent gas burners.

"Our Lord never tells us about the Pope, or about the Roman Catholic Church," says the Presbyterian Witness. Neither does He make any mention of Edward the Seventh or the British Empire. Yet Presbyterians believe that when He said Caesar He meant Edward the Seventh. And Catholics believe that when He said Peter He meant Plus the Tenth.—Casket.

Mr. Edward Quinn died Wednesday evening at his home, 5 Pond street. He was forty-nine years of age and is survived by his mother, sister and brother.

BANK OF NEW BRUNSWICK.

The annual statement of this great financial institution—published elsewhere—will no doubt, prove fascinating to a good many readers. The books, etc., have been inspected by chartered accountants. They find (exclusive of the balance a profit and loss, last audit, of $12,258.90) net profits of the year $133,391.38. The sum of $85,055.40 is allotted for dividends (12 per cent. on the capital); the capital is practically increased $30,000 that amount being added to the rest; $5,000 goes to the pension fund; $10,000 is written off bank premiums, and $15,494.88 are carried forward. The rest is now $1,190,442. The net profits of the preceding year were $116,000. This last has proved even better than that.

CALLED TO ARMS.

(Special to Globe.)

Fredericton, Jan. 13.—In St. Dunstan's church on Sunday Rev. F. L. Carney, the pastor, referred to the fact that there were only four marriages in the church last year. He said that something was wrong with the young men, and claimed every young man should be married at twenty-five and girls at twenty. He did not like to see crusty old bachelors around. This was leap year and he hoped the girls would remember that fact.

"LET ME HELP A LITTLE."

That should be your platform as to all the good things going on round about you. As a contributor, of course, it is easy to drop a dollar here and a dollar there—to the established charity, or the poor parish, or the organized good work.

But you can lend your services as well as your money. Your word of commendation counts for something. Your work on the committee boosts the enterprise. Your kindly counsel your prudent suggestion, your hearty expression of good will, are all important. Help all the good things on all occasions and in various ways.

Miss Mary Wetmore, of St. John West, for the past two years organist of St. Dunstan's church, Fredericton, has resigned.

Messrs. J. & T. Jardine have sold their saw mill and all their lumber in Kent county to A. J. Curran of West Branch and Frank Curran of Bathurst.

At the annual meeting of the Commissioners of the Free Public Library on Monday, Mr. Richard O'Brien was re-elected chairman and Dr. James Christie treasurer. Mr. J. B. M. Baxter was elected secretary.

An exceedingly interesting lecture on "Work and Wages," was delivered by Mr. John McGowan before the members of the Young Men's Association of St. Peter's church on Sunday afternoon. A large and appreciative audience greatly enjoyed the literary treat.

The Young Men's Society of St. Joseph has elected: R. E. Fitzgerald, president; William Pyne, vice-president; J. P. Mahoney, R. S.; Wm. Gale, F. S.; W. J. Stanton, assistant F. S.; B. Stafford, treasurer; S. Hughes, sergeant-at-arms; W. O'Neill, librarian; F. Fuller, F. Hamilton, E. Moran, committee of management. Rev. W. J. Holland is spiritual director.

Sunday afternoon a very interesting debate was held by the Young Men's Society of St. John the Baptist church, in their hall, Charlotte street. The subject was, "Resolved, that Ireland should have Home Rule." James B. McGrath and Frederick M. Quinn upheld the affirmative side of the question while Michael O'Leary and Ernest Markey took the negative. Hon. R. J. Ritchie, the judge, decided in favor of the affirmative.

Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, in a letter thanking the City Council for its resolution, expressing thanks to him for his work on behalf of the harbor, says: "I beg to assure the Council that it has afforded me very great pleasure to be able to accomplish what I have in the matter of harbor improvements, and it is gratifying to me to know that the Council, as representing the citizens of St. John, feels that I have not neglected my duty in this very important matter."

PRESENTATIONS.

At a meeting of the Father Mathew Association, on Monday, Jan. 6th, the chaplain, Rev. D. S. O'Keefe, was the recipient of a purse of gold from the members. The presentation was made by Mr. M. Morris, the senior vice president, in a felicitous speech, and the chaplain appropriately replied.

An interesting feature of the Young Men's Society of St. Joseph meeting on Monday night was the presentation of a purse of gold to Rev. J. W. Holland, spiritual director of that body. The offering was made by President R. E. Fitzgerald in a pleasing address. Father Holland made a suitable reply to the kind remembrance.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

Fish needs to be thoroughly seasoned. Twelve minutes to the pound is the rule for baking. When possible rub in coarse salt on both the outside and inside of the fish and allow it to stand for some time, then wash well and bake dry before baking.

It is no economy to purchase cheap tinware; if of good quality it will last for a long time, and is excellent for many purposes. For layer cake, or anything that requires quick cooking, the best results are obtained in tin, but neither tin, iron, nor steel, should be used for acid foods. It is said that peas and beans will not cook soft in enamel ware, but will soften quicker in tin. Never use tin when fruit is to be cooked; porcelain or enamel-lined ware is the proper thing. Aluminum cooking utensils are considered the best, but are expensive.

Some housekeepers when preparing a fowl to roast, rub it inside and out with sugar, stuff it as usual, and when done the meat is said to be much sweeter and juicier than if prepared in the old way.

SELECTED RECIPES.

Nut Candy.—Two cups of brown sugar, one cup of cream, one tablespoonful of butter, cook until done, stirring constantly. Add cup of nuts (any kind or kinds), stir briskly until candy sugars, and pour on marble slab.

Sugar Candy.—One cup of sugar, one tablespoonful of vinegar, small pinch of butter and enough water to cover sugar. Stir until sugar is dissolved, and cook until candy is brittle in water. Pour into buttered dishes and pull.

Chocolate Candy.—One pound of light brown sugar, one-fourth of a cup of chocolate, one cup of sweet milk, one-half tablespoonful of butter. Stir constantly, add butter after mixture has boiled. When done, beat until thick and pour into buttered dishes.

Steamed Brown Bread.—One cup white flour, 2 of graham flour, 2 of Indian meal, one teaspoonful soda, one cup molasses, three and one-half cups of milk, salt. Beat all together, steam or boil 4 hours, leave in the oven 15 minutes to crisp after being turned out. Eat warm.

A FEMININE WEAKNESS.

"Two cents apiece, two for a nickel," said the storekeeper, and the woman customer promptly bought two and paid her nickel. "She never tumbled," continued the storekeeper then. "Really, I didn't intend to fool her; it was merely a slip of the tongue. We get so used to doubling the price in order to make sales that it becomes second nature with us. Would you believe that I tried for two weeks to sell some canned goods at twelve cents a can, but couldn't clean out the lot until I raised them to two for a quarter? Women are always looking for something for nothing—something that looks like a bargain, and we have to accommodate them if we want to stay in business. When we fix prices like two for a quarter we can always make women believe that they get twenty-six cents' worth, though they really pay an extra cent. When we sell something at fifty-nine cents any woman will believe that the price ought to be sixty-two cents instead of fifty-six or fifty-eight, and therefore you will sell more coffee and make more money if you sell two pounds for fifty-nine cents than if you insist on getting twenty-eight cents a pound. It is a trick, but it isn't our fault. The majority of women want it that way."—Philadelphia Record.

LEGAL PROCEDURE.

"It's 11 o'clock, Jane," called the head of the house. "Tell that young lawyer to adjourn court."

DIFFERENT AFTER MARRIAGE.

"Do you ever take your wife a box of candy or a bunch of violets?"

"Nope."

"And why not? Is she not as dear to you as she was before you married her?"

"Yep; but if I were to send her flowers and candy she'd wonder what crime I was trying to cover up."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH WEST.

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.
ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency, for the district in which the land is situated. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of an intending homesteader.

The homesteader is required to perform the homestead duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year for three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother.)

(4) The term "vicinity" in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in direct line, exclusive of the width of road allowances crossed in the easement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Six months' notice in writing must be given to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of intention to apply for patent.

GENTLEMEN, RAISE YOUR HATS.

Archbishop Walsh of Dublin takes occasion in his recent pastoral letter to make known to the faithful of his diocese that a marked spiritual favor has been conferred upon them by the Holy Father, as a reward for habitual public manifestation of their devotion to the Blessed Sacrament, and as an encouragement to persevere in it. "On being recently informed by us," said His Grace, "of the edifying practice that has long been widespread among the faithful of the diocese, in both town and country, of piously saluting our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament by some external sign of reverence when passing a church or oratory in which the Blessed Sacrament is reserved, His Holiness felt himself moved to express in some special way the satisfaction with which he had heard of this, and his desire to encourage our people to perseverance in so laudable a practice. He has now done so by issuing an extraordinary faculty authorizing us to grant in his name an indulgence of one hundred days, to be gained by the faithful of this city or diocese each time that, in passing a church or oratory in which the Blessed Sacrament is reserved, they manifest their devotion to our Lord by some external sign of reverence, as it has long been their pious and edifying practice to do."

The pious practice thus warmly approved and indulged by the Sovereign Pontiff is not confined, we are glad to say, to either Dublin or Ireland at large. It prevails in many portions of this country, including our own fair city. The practice, it need not be said, is thoroughly congruous; is indeed, merely a consistent recognition of the Real Presence on the part of those who profess their belief therein.

PLAIN ENGLISH IS BETTER.

"Mrs. Mary Butler (nee Wilson); Mrs. George Brown (nee O'Neil); Mrs. John Jones (nee Robinson)." One is constantly encountering this odious form of letting the public know that the maiden name of the married lady in question is as given in the parentheses. Why not, "born Wilson, or O'Neil, or Robinson." Or, if that sounds strange to the devotees of the absurd foreign expression, why not put the maiden name before the marriage name, as Mrs. Mary Wilson Butler? How much more dignified and beautiful this form! Persons addicted to the use of these cheap foreign terms plead that they are practically anglicised. That may be in the sense that they are generally understood. But an affectation is not thus justified. It is well to remember the sharp word of the fine old teacher: "My friends, you will never have any ideas that the English language is not capable of expressing." Let us abolish "nee."

CANNOT REFORM MEN BY LAW.

Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee, in his favor of the regulation of the liquor traffic, rather than absolute prohibition.

"I do not believe we can reform men by law," said the Archbishop. "Prohibition, according to many observers, actually brings more liquor into the homes of the people than the open sale of intoxicants under proper police supervision. This is because in order to buy liquor under prohibition the people are compelled to purchase in larger quantities than necessary for their immediate needs."

"I think there should be a law which requires early closing, and that law should be very careful as to the character of the saloon keepers. A bad man is doubly bad in a saloon for he has opportunities for exercising his evil influences there which he would not otherwise have."

JOHN MITCHELL, GENTLEMAN.

President Roosevelt is said to have remarked that when he first met John Mitchell he thought he must be "like a prize package with the best of him on top." But he added, "The farther I have got down into him, the better he proves to be." Referring to the strained scene in the White House when he brought the belligerents before him, the President with characteristic frankness roundly declared that "the operators were intolerable and he himself was out of temper, but that John Mitchell was the only gentleman in the room."—Graham Taylor in December Charities and The Commons.

A PRIEST WORKS WONDERS.

What an Italian Pastor Has Accomplished at Roseto, Pa.

Under the title "One Man and His Town" in the current issue of McClure's magazine, Martin Hamilton Carter tells a vividly interesting story of the remarkable work of an Italian priest—Father de Nisco—in building up an Italian colony in Roseto, Pa.

Ruled by Priest.

Of this town, which contains today more than two thousand inhabitants, Father de Nisco is "the de facto mayor," building inspector, health department, and arbiter of all questions relating to social conditions or business undertakings. He is also the chief of the police force, the president of the labor union, the founder of most of the clubs—social, literary, musical, theatrical, benevolent—and the organizer of the famous brass band, the pride of Roseto and envy of the surrounding country, and of the baseball nine, whose husky youths affectionately declare that he can umpire a game better than any one else.

Ten years ago it was a town of less than 50 people—"nameless, lawless, filthy, poverty-pinched"—a collection of ramshackle buildings, with lanes for streets, with force and the knife settling difficulties. A Catholic church was built, but soon went into the sheriff's hands. Such was the condition when Father de Nisco arrived in 1897. Then came a change:

A Wonderful Change.

He immediately bought in the church and surrounding land on the hill-top, and began a comprehensive scheme of public improvement. Twenty-eight lots in front of the church were reserved for a park, or "plaza" (the plaza is still in a rather primitive condition); other lots were set apart for the parochial school that is to come in the future; others back of the church were fenced in for a cemetery. The cemetery had been a rubbishy brier-patch, open to the road, where only the poorest Rosetans had been laid. But he found in it the making of a beautiful park. Taking the pick and shovel into his hands, he went into the brier patch, and one day Bangor discovered that there was a park back of the Catholic church on Brown's Hill—a park which was half lawn, while the other half was laid out in plots with crosses and stone monuments. There were flowers everywhere, and rows of healthy Lombardy poplar, pricking the blue above.

"The idea of the priest with the hoe was new, but one may imagine how it took with the simple-hearted, hard-working quarrymen." He made a da gard'n for da peopl', one man explained to me with an eloquent gesture, and with gestures even more expressive, a wave in the direction of his home and a closing of his hands on an imaginary pick-handle, "I, me myself, made a da gard'n—me myself, —yes!"

Forms Labor Union.

Thus Roseto became a garden spot. The next thing Father Roseto did was to take a stand against Sicilianism. He advised, he pleaded, he urged, the people that the next stabbing affray meant imprisonment. An affray soon followed and the participants each got nine years in the penitentiary. This ended Sicilianism. Next Father de Nisco took up the labor question. The Italians were getting eighty cents a day and compelled to trade at the company stores. They were paid every three months. Thus they were kept in poverty. Father de Nisco took up the matter with the president of the company and got partial relief. To further remedy matters, he organized a labor union, with himself as president, and called out the whole town on a strike. The result was a raise in wages.

The next serious problem to be met was that of the girl wage-earners. Father de Nisco solved it by organizing a stock company and started a shirt factory. A visit to it is thus pictured:

Starts Shirt Factory.

"When I visited it, it seemed more like a girl's club than a factory. Everything is done by piece-work, and the girls may come and go as they please or stop to chat among themselves whenever they feel inclined. The machines are all run by power; nevertheless, when one pretty girl, a daughter of the 'King,' told me she got three cents a dozen for sewing in sleeves, I experienced a shock—till I saw her do 5 shirts in 5 minutes, and learned that she made from six to eight dollars a week at it—which was all she needed in Roseto—and didn't get a bit tired." A married sister sat next her at the long table, putting on collars with lightning rapidity, and another sister was doing cuffs. The 'King' came in presently, bringing his daughter's months-old-baby, to be nursed; and, as its father had accompanied me from the rectory to show me round, there was a family gathering in the corner, and they all talked at me at once while young Lorenzo had his lunch."

The Sunday School.

Of Father Nisco's Sunday School, the writer says:
"But his Sunday School—his 'four hundred'—is his great pride and hope. I visited it in May. I walked up from Bangor nearly two hours early, meaning to go about and take some snapshots; yet already the plaza was swarming with boys of all ages, and in all stages of baseball, waiting for Sunday school. Long before service, the women and girls were in their places, rows of young mothers in the rear pews with their babies. A bell called the boys from their baseball, and the church was filled. One little tot came in, trying to get his bat down his trousers-leg and up his sleeve at the same time. After catechism the children were let out for recess in the plaza and the cemetery. Recess is often an hour and a half long in summer. The priest's flowers were coming to bloom and the place was bright. He warned the children to keep on—not off!—the grass. 'But if you pick any of my flowers that are to look at and enjoy, I shall be mad' and he followed as they trooped out, carrying with him a couple of balls, which he threw for the little ones to catch, beseeching at every step with scores begging him to throw for them."

Umpires Game of Base Ball.

"Nearly three hundred played on the grass, but not a tower" was touched. Father de Nisco disappeared presently. I found him out on the plaza umpiring a base-ball match for the ten-year-olds. But he was soon dragged off by a dozen brawny men who wished to discuss a town matter; then by a mother whose baby was teething—she positively must see him about that."

"It was the same when he was showing me the town. Everywhere children shouted, 'Hello, Hello,' and ran to him; and he answered, 'Hello, Tony-Pasquale-Laura,' when he could remember their names; when he couldn't, he said, 'Hello, dear.' Kerchiefed women darted at him out of doorways; Pasquale had been naughty; Tony would not weed the garden; please speak to them. The young people ran over the rectory and rummaged his stores and seeds and bulbs, even his papers and his books, as though the whole place belonged to them."

CATHOLICS IN CONGRESS.

The meeting of the sixtieth Congress reminds us that in the first Congress one hundred and eighteen years ago there were three Catholics members. The first of these was the famous Charles Carroll of Maryland, who lived to the fine old age of 95, and who made famous his signature to the Declaration of Independence. He laid the corner-stone of the B. & O. R. R. in 1828. The second was Daniel Carroll, a representative to the first Congress from Maryland. He was one of the Commissioners to locate the District of Columbia and died in Washington in 1823. The third was Congressman Adam Burke, who was born in Galway, Ireland, in 1743. He studied for the priesthood at the College of St. Omer in France, but being of an adventurous turn he gave up his studies and drifted to South Carolina, studied law, and was finally made a member of the Supreme Court. In 1789 he was elected representative of the first Congress.

EXHIBITION ASSOCIATION.

At a meeting of the Exhibition Association on Tuesday evening, Mr. Richard O'Brien, first vice-president, in the chair, it was agreed on motion of Mr. C. B. Allan to change the date of the annual meeting to the second Tuesday in November. Dr. G. A. Hetherington seconded the motion, which was carried.

Mr. R. B. Emerson moved that the dates for this year's exhibition, as fixed by the executive, Sept. 12 to 19, be confirmed. Carried.

In answer to a question by Mr. W. W. Hubbard as to what guarantee of financial assistance they had, the chairman said they had the government's promise of the usual amount. The city had not yet been approached, but he had no doubt that they would give the usual grants.

Messrs. E. A. Schofield and W. F. Burdett were, on motion, of Mr. Emerson added to the committee on new grounds and buildings. The other members are Dr. G. A. Hetherington and Mr. T. H. Estabrooks.

The secretary read the report of the executive committee, which was approved and ordered entered on the minutes.

The following were elected directors: A. O. Skinner, R. O'Brien, J. H. McAvity, O. H. Warwick, D. J. McLaughlin, Alex. Macaulay, F. A. Dykeman, Hon. L. P. Farris, George Robertson, E. A. Schofield, R. B. Emerson, T. H. Estabrooks, W. W. Hubbard, C. B. Allan, R. R. Patchell, Dr. G. A. Hetherington, W. F. Burdett, D. J. Purdy, M. P. P., E. Lantallum, M. P. P., W. M. Jarvis and T. H. Bullock.

REGARDING MASSES.

In connection with the subject of Masses it may be well to point out a common mistake in the matter of bequests. People on their death-beds make testamentary provisions for Masses seemingly unconscious of the fact that Probate Courts move very slowly and that many months may elapse before the provisions of the will can be carried into effect. Charity to their own souls ought to dictate that the best time to have Masses said is whilst they are living. It is well to make such bequests, but it is well also to take time by the forelock and arrange to have Masses offered up for their spiritual welfare, whilst they are alive and in the flesh.

ALMANAC FOR 1908.

The New Brunswick Almanac for 1908 is an excellent publication. It contains astronomical and tide tables adapted to this province, also list of light houses in New Brunswick, lights from Eastport to Boston, lights from Passamaquoddy Bay and on the river St. Croix, and lights of the river St. John. Besides, there is a full list of dominion and provincial representatives and officials, the officials of all counties in New Brunswick, list of religious denominations, medical doctors, barristers, societies, clubs, etc. It is published by the H. M. McAlpine Directory Company of this city.

CHARLOTTE COUNTY.

Beacon, St. Andrews.

The Canadian Literature Club met at Mr. R. E. Armstrong's residence on Tuesday, when three new Canadian books—Sir Gilbert Parker's The Weavers, R. E. Knowle's Dawn at Shanty Bay, and Norman Duncan's Cruise of the Shining Light—were discussed. The programme was enlivened by vocal and instrumental music.

Greetings, St. George.

The very prettiest calendar that has reached our office came with the compliments of Connors Bros., the well-known packers of sea loods at Black's Harbor. The picture is a charming home scene entitled 'Home, Sweet Home.' It reproduces an old fashioned, time worn cottage, at East Hampton, L. I., half covered with vines and half hidden in shubbery; resting in the comfortable shade of big old trees, famous because it once inspired the immortal song 'Home Sweet Home.'

MEETING ON MONDAY NIGHT.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H. will hold their regular meeting Monday evening, Jan. 20th, in the A. O. H. hall, King street. As business of importance will come before this meeting a full attendance is requested. Meeting will be called at eight o'clock sharp.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Messrs. Hattie and Elizabeth Colgan and Miss Nellie Driscoll, of Rockland Road, are visiting friends in Boston and vicinity.

Rev. Martin Maloney, C. S. S. R., of St. Peter's Rectory, left on Monday to visit his home in Calais, Maine.

Mr. Leo Howard, a former North End boy, who has been visiting his parents here during the past few weeks, returned last week to Calgary, where he is now located.

Edward F. Carroll, formerly of St. Andrews, is now president of the Winnipeg Amusement Co., which owns the New Gaiety Theatre.

Miss Edith Ramsey, left Saturday night on the I. C. R. for Montreal. While there she will visit her sister, Madame S. Ramsey, of the Convent of the Sacred Heart.

TO KEEP AN IRON SINK CLEAN.

The first step toward keeping an iron sink properly, says the Pictorial Review, is to remove the accumulations of grease and dirt, and also the rust underneath; this is easily done by applying a liberal wash of coal oil or kerosene; put this on with a flannel cloth or the top of a worn flannel stocking, wearing an old glove, rub it well in and then apply more oil and leave it over night. In the morning, wipe off the oil, and with a basin of hot water, to which has been added borax and strong soap powder or soft soap, wash the sink thoroughly, and then wipe it dry, wringing out the moist cloth repeatedly until all the water has disappeared, and then finishing the drying with a perfectly dry flannel cloth. If the rust has not entirely disappeared, repeat this process the second night, although usually one application of oil will suffice to remove the rust and dirt, and, after the sink has been dried, leave the iron black and shining.

MR. ROBERT SEELY, BARITONE, FOR NICKEL.

Mr. Robert Seely, who has been living at Petitcodiac for a few years, but who was a conspicuous figure in St. John musical circles a short time ago, will join the vocal staff of Nickel Theatre next Monday. Mr. Seely is a charming singer, possessing a rich resonant baritone voice, and his participation in the St. John Quartette, various local operatic productions, choir music and individual work on the concert stage for a number of years will be pleasantly remembered. The Nickel Theatre management feels gratified at enlisting so popular a vocalist—popular both musically and socially. Mr. Seely succeeds Mr. Harry Newcombe at the Theatre.

THE ORIGIN OF A CAKE.

A North Philadelphia woman, who is locally famous for her cooking, had some of her neighbors and friends at her home one evening last week to a supper given in honor of her daughter. Everything on the table was admired by her guests. Among the things that was admired most of all was a beautiful cake. "It is so soft," exclaimed one of the guests. "Pray tell us where you got the recipe," from another. "I am very glad you think it is so soft and light," replied the hostess. "I made it out of my own head." — Philadelphia Ledger.

CHARMING GOWN CLOTHS in BLACK

Light Weight and Sheer Weaves.

Suited to the Social Season

THE UNVARYING POPULARITY OF BLACK makes it possible to still enjoy all the novelties in weave and design that colored goods possess. Nothing much that makes the brightly-dyed materials so much sought after is left out of the gauzy, clinging blacks that we are selling for afternoon and evening wear. They are particularly smart and attractive.

Here are a few of the leading lines:—
