Hunting Down the Reds.
BARCELONA, Nov. 15.—The police of this city are still actively hunting down Anarchists. LONDON, Nov. 15.—A deputation of 280 Liberal members of the House of Commons today waited on the Lord High Chancellor and asked him to act as speedily as possible to reform the county magistracy.

Anarchists' Wild Talk.
BERLIN, Nov. 15.—The Anarchists of this city celebrated the anniversary of the so-called Chicago martyr by a meeting in a hall in the Grenadier Street. Anarchist Weiss, a locksmith, referring to some of the recent work of the Anarchists, likened Barcelona to Chicago and declared that the people there were rotten bourgeois who deserve no better fate than to be blown up. The superintendent of police intervened and put an end to the meeting. A body of police constables then cleared the hall amid great confusion, the Anarchists shouting "Hoch Die Anarchie."

Harvey was the eldest son of Lord Augustus Harvey, brother of the present Marquis of Bristol.

The Monkey Language.
LIVERPOOL, Nov. 15.—Prof. Garner, who went from America into the interior of West for the purpose of studying the methods of communications between the monkey tribes—in other words, to learn the monkey language—arrived at Liverpool on his return yesterday. He claims to have established beyond a doubt that there is a monkey language and that it can be learned by man. He brought with him from Africa two Kulu-Kamba chimpanzees, with which he is able to communicate. Prof. Garner states that he stayed for 100 days in his cage which he had carried into the heart of the forest, 250 miles inland. This cage was a massive affair that he chained to the trees. Prof. Garner would lock himself in and await the coming of members of the ape family, when he would try to communicate with them by means of sounds he had heard from monkeys in America and elsewhere. He had with him a phonograph with which he kept a record of the sounds made by his visitors. He claims that his visit to Africa was a great success in establishing his theory that the monkey family has a language.

THE GRAND TRUNK EXONERATED.
By the Coroner's Jury at Battle Creek.

Conductor Scott and Engineer Woolley Charged With Criminal Negligence.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Nov. 15.—After four hours of deliberation the coroner's jury in the G. T. R. disaster investigation decided on the following verdict early this morning:

"We find that the said collision was caused by gross disobedience of orders given by the train dispatcher.

"We also find Conductor Bertrand Scott and Engineer Harry Woolley, of train No. 6, east bound, are guilty of criminal neglect in running past their meeting point, at which they had positive orders to stop."

The jury found that the Grand Trunk Company had done all in its power to equip its cars in first-class shape, and release it from all blame.

Conductor Scott's examination for manslaughter will be called before Justice Henry.

A RELIGIOUS UPHEAVAL.
Detroit Deeply Stirred by the Chapman Revival Meetings.

DETROIT, Nov. 15.—The Chapman revival meetings are beginning to tell in practical works, and Detroit is now on the crest of a wave that will sweep the city. Yesterday was a day of prayer in the northern and western sections, in which the meetings have been held. In nearly 100 homes, between 8:30 and 9 o'clock in the morning, a few were gathered together for prayer and communion. At 9:30 a prayer meeting was held in each of the churches, and the interest manifested in all the services was significant of the present awakening.

Rev. Dr. Chapman addressed a great meeting at the Westminster Presbyterian Church at 10:30, and Rev. Ford C. Ottman spoke before a similar one at the same hour at the Scotch Avenue Baptist Church.

Large as the crowd was, Monday afternoon at the First Baptist Church on Monday afternoon made up the audience of yesterday. In the afternoon at the Calvary Presbyterian Church Mr. Ottman addressed a very large meeting.

There was another densely packed house at the First Congregational Church in the evening.

Chapman of the Episcopal Church are beginning to give the meetings public recognition. Last evening Rev. Charles L. Arnold, of St. Peter's Trumbull Avenue Church, was among those who sat on the platform the evening before. Mrs. Chapman was given a seat on the platform.

The meeting at the Eighteenth Street Baptist Church last evening, which Rev. Ford C. Ottman addressed, was packed to the door, without room to admit a single one more. Even on the platform Mr. Ottman had only room to stand up.

BURNED OUT.
Many Regina Business Establishments Ruined—Losses Between $40,000 and $50,000—Other Fires.

REGINA, S. W. T., Nov. 15.—Fire started yesterday morning in Card's photographic gallery, on the east side of Broadway avenue. The flames spread rapidly, and many buildings were burned to the ground before they were checked. The principal losses are: Messrs. Brown Bros., wholesale dealers, building destroyed, loss $20,000, stock $500; Pettigill, druggist, building $1,800, partly insured, stock damaged in removal about $1,500, fully insured; McCarthy, gent's furnishing, building $2,000, fully insured, but damaged $1,200, fully insured; Hugh Armour, butcher, building $1,000, insurance $400, stock removed; George Webb, building $800, no insurance, occupied by a Chinese; restaurant, owned by Channing, and a barber shop by W. C. Kelly, stock removed; Major Montgomery, building $800, insurance $400, occupied by William Williamson, confectioner, and E. R. Read, tinsmith, stock removed; Lunn, building $2,000, insured, occupied by J. N. Chetwin, tailor, and James Jeffrey, stock removed; Charles Howson, wholesale liquor store, building $1,000, insured, stock removed, but damaged.

The fire brigade could do but little. The horse-power engine was out of repair and could not throw water, and the chemical engine was too small to cope with a fire of this size. The thieves that usually attend a fire had a harvest. One German was caught nearly half a mile away with Pettigill's cash register in his arms. Several of the business men, in figuring up the loss, make it at from $40,000 to $50,000.

LONDON, Ark., Nov. 15.—The business portion of this town was wiped out by fire on Tuesday morning. Ed Siderbury was burned to death in a store where he was sleeping.

Barcelona Anarchists Attempt Another Outrage With a Bomb.

But It Was Luckily Discovered in Time—The Fuse Lighted—Still Another.

23 miles southwest of Barcelona, was thrown into a state of panic by an explosion that occurred in the town of Villanueva. Some person last night placed a bomb by the gates of the barracks of the Civic Guard. An explosion followed that caused the greatest excitement and fear, and the men who were in the building rushed pell-mell for the open air. The force of the explosion was very great. The gates of the barracks were blown off their hinges and carried a considerable distance. The walls of the building were cracked, doors were blown off and windows smashed. Nobody was hurt, but everybody was terribly frightened. The police have made a number of arrests on suspicion. It was only a short time ago the police found in this town a complete laboratory for the manufacture of explosives and bombs.

BRUCE IS READY
To Do Good Work for the Promotion of Prohibition.

Large and Influential Convention Held at Paisley.

PAISLEY, Ont., Nov. 15.—The prohibition convention held in the town hall here yesterday was the largest and most representative gathering of temperance workers ever held in the county of Bruce, and indicates the interest felt in the coming plebiscite vote.

About 120 accredited delegates were present, besides a large number of visitors. The sessions were of an extremely practical nature, and no time was lost in speech, but solid work seemed to be the real object of the gathering.

Rev. Mr. Johnston, of Paisley, and Rev. M. C. Allister, of Tara, led the opening exercises. The chair was taken by Mr. John Barker, of Kincardine, an abstainer for 58 years. He has attended numerous conventions and had always thought it his duty to identify himself with temperance organizations wherever his lot was cast.

They were here, he said, to see how large a vote can be got for prohibition in Bruce. They had 1,300 or 1,400 majority for the Scott Act, and he hoped it would be still greater for the plebiscite. It depended upon their united efforts. Those who attended conventions were expected to do the work. He believed this convention would be a great one and presage a victory in January next.

Mr. Chambers, of Paisley, explained the meaning of the convention to the following is the list of officers chosen:

President—Mr. George Chambers, Paisley.
First Vice-President—Mr. Joseph Barker, Kincardine.

Secretary—Mr. Angus Martyn, Ripley.
Assistant Secretary—Miss Kate Fisher, Paisley.

Treasurer—Mr. Samuel Steele, Paisley.
Financial Committee—J. Beaton, Chelvey; Jas. Ashcroft, Winton; Wm. Tindal, Walkerton; Rev. John Stuart, Kincardine; Mrs. Scott, Paisley; Mrs. Cross, Chelvey; Mrs. Williams, Winton.

ORGANIZERS.
Tara—Rev. James McAllister and Mr. J. Watt.
Winton—Rev. Mr. McGee.

Southampton—Rev. J. Tolmer and Mr. Jenny.
Port Elgin—Rev. J. Charlton and Mrs. G. Kinsey.

Kincardine—Mr. J. Athers.
Chelvey—Rev. Messrs. Perry and Davey.
Walkerton—Rev. Mr. Watson and Mr. H. Bacon.

Teaswater—Rev. Mr. Reid.
Winton—Mr. Peter McPherson.
Lockport—Mr. J. G. Munk.

Paisley—Messrs. J. Barrie and S. Steele.
The financial committee report to spend $800 on the campaign was adopted. It was agreed to leave the selection of an organizer to the executive.

The evening meeting was largely attended. Mr. Geo. Chambers occupied the chair. Mr. S. Steele delivered an address of welcome, came on behalf of the convention, which was responded to by Rev. J. S. Cook, Rev. Messrs. Tolmer, of Southampton; Livingston, of Kincardine; Bell, of Gilmann, and Mrs. Ashcroft, of Winton, who were the speakers of the evening.

Mrs. Scott, Paisley; Miss Smiley, Miss McIntosh, Pinkerton; Miss Hopper, Edin Grove, and Mrs. McGill and Messrs. Monkman, Hopper and Livingston contributed a musical portion, while Miss Campbell gave an appropriate recitation.

The work will be actively pushed and Bruce county will give a good account of herself on Jan. 4.

INGERSOLL'S HOPE.
The Atheist Not Sure That Death Ends Ills and Woes or a Future Life.

INGERSOLL, Nov. 14.—In reply to an editorial in a local newspaper, stating that Col. Ingersoll believed in immortality, the great atheist lecturer yesterday said:

"I do not say that death ends all, neither do I say that man is immortal. I say that I believe in another, and to hope is still another. I hope for all good, for all joy, for the solid of men."

"All I can say about immortality is this: There was a time when I was not, after that I was, now I am, and it may be that it is no more wonderful that I should continue forever, now that I have a start, than it was that I should begin."

"We love, and these we love die, and we cling to the hope, to the wish, that we may meet again. Love was the first dream of immortality, and as long as we love we shall hope."

The Editor of the Tangier Times Talks About Melilla.

And the Policy of the Spanish Government—Spain the Aggressor in the Trouble With the Riffians.

MONTREAL, Nov. 15.—Budgett Macken, editor of the Tangier (Morocco) Times, who is in Montreal, says of the trouble between the Spaniards and Moors:

"It is no wonder little or nothing is known abroad of the truth of affairs between the Spaniards and the Riff tribes on the Morocco coast, since the only communication between the Spanish settlement of Melilla and Europe is by their own private cable, which they have used to some purpose in presenting their story of affairs."

"The Sultan of Morocco, who is in no way responsible for the disturbance, is on the other side of the Atlas where it will be another fortnight before he hears by courier on foot of what was telegraphed to this country a week ago."

"Spain is unquestionably the aggressor in this matter, and has carefully chosen her opportunity for raising a hue and cry. I have visited Melilla and know the people concerned. Spain is bankrupt, her people are dissatisfied, and something had to be done to raise the wind."

"England and France will forbid her from appropriating Moorish soil, she will have to be content with the return of a few million of her depreciated dollars now in circulation in Morocco."

THE LATE JOHN A. MITCHELL.
His Brother Protests Against His Treatment by the Hospital Authorities.

Why Was He Sent to the Asylum for the Insane.

DELAWARE, OHL., Nov. 13, 1893.
To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

My brother, John A. Mitchell, was sent to the Delaware General Hospital as a non-pay (pauper) patient about four weeks ago. This latter fact I was not aware of till Friday, Oct. 27, 1893. Up to this date I had every confidence in the hospital authorities, and my brother would get every care and attention which a sick and dying man should obtain, money or no money. On that date, the 27th ult., after visiting the hospital, I found that steps were being taken to send him to the Asylum for Insane, where he died Oct. 31, and was buried Nov. 2, 1893, at Woodland.

I will not touch on family and private matters, but come back to hospital affairs, and let the hard-working public—the masses—once protested and did everything lawful to prevent his being removed there. My protest was made in the presence of E. A. Mitchell, Dr. Balfour and McDonald, on the following grounds:

1. He was not insane.
2. He was dying.
3. He was sensible.

In view of my protest and argument, the evening, my brother, Oct. 28, 1893, during the evening, my brother was removed to the Asylum for Insane, where he died Oct. 31, and was buried Nov. 2, 1893, at Woodland.

I will not touch on family and private matters, but come back to hospital affairs, and let the hard-working public—the masses—once protested and did everything lawful to prevent his being removed there. My protest was made in the presence of E. A. Mitchell, Dr. Balfour and McDonald, on the following grounds:

1. He was not properly nursed, as Dr. Hays, the attending physician of my brother, could testify. His orders were not carried out. Dr. Balfour said they could not nurse him and would have him removed. If they could not give proper care and attention, why did they not say so before, or why did they receive him?

On the 27th ult., I offered to get any extra help to nurse him, but no! So in the face of my protest, that he was dying and that he needed every care and comfort, John A. Mitchell, an old London boy, an old and active member of the Seventh Battalion since its inception, was conveyed dying to the asylum, and worst of all, I am quite certain, he was going on, but could not express himself. I can imagine what thoughts he must have had while passing along his native streets to a madhouse.

Let it my duty to write this letter of facts, and much more if need be, and also, worn to the point of utter exhaustion, worn to money and friends, be more practically treated and nursed, my letter will not have been written in vain. Yours respectfully,

F. H. MINGHAM, M.D., C.M.
P. S.—The immediate cause of my brother's death was capillary bronchitis.

THE LONDON AND PORT STANLEY.

A Manufacturer's Views of the Importance of Lake Connection to London.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:
I have sent the enclosed letter to the Free Press. Please publish it in your widely-circulated journal. Yours,

JOHN MCCLARY.
In your criticism of my letter in your columns of yesterday's date you say first that I was satisfied with the conditions of the former lease of the London and Port Stanley road; that I have not made complaints all these years; that while other citizens agitated and got the Michigan Central connection I held aloof and kept silence. These assertions you are not correct. I was associated with other business men of the city for years endeavoring to promote the London Junction road. We were met at every point by the powerful opposition and influence of the Grand Trunk, opposing legislation and otherwise. At the time of the lease, I, with other business men, opposed it to the best of my ability, taking the view that I now hold, that it was in the interests of the Great Western and the interests of the Great Western and the interests of the Great Western.

While the Government is enlarging our canals for the protection of carriage on our inland waters, it is surprising to find a leading journal in a large inland city advocating the shutting us off from the advantages of navigation. You are given credit for too much intelligence not to understand this, not to understand that the Grand Trunk is in direct opposition to water carriage, and instead of encouraging competition, would in every respect discourage it, and doubtless end in reclosing the Port Stanley harbor.

You say that the oil interest was withdrawn through lack of enterprise in not promoting a pipe line. I have always been led to suppose it was withdrawn for the lack of rates that local refiners now enjoy, after the horse is stolen, or through lack of competition over the Michigan Central if it had reached here at that time. The oil companies are still able to ship their refined oil past our doors east, and tar produced in refining oil, to this market. I should be sorry to charge the Grand Trunk officials with acting dishonestly. It is quite legitimate for railroad companies to get what would not be looked for in other corporations, to take from one community a larger carrying rate than from another, under changed conditions. The Grand Trunk will cross the American boundary and in competition with other roads and water will carry merchandise of the same class for half the charge from this city. What bearing has this on our lake port? It does not take a man of much strength of brain to see. In our past position we could not give security to capital, nor could we induce capital from a distance to invest in an industry, unprotected. The prospective development through the syndicate the past spring, I think gave stimulus to considerable building and other employment, which we have felt the benefit of through the summer. Let us be careful that we do not sink into a deeper ditch than we have yet crossed.

London, Thursday, Nov. 16.

—Only those communications to which the writers are willing to have their names appeared in print will be published in these columns.—Political principles that will not bear
the light of day cannot be good. Meetings that a man is ashamed to be seen attending can surely not be held for a legitimate purpose.—The majority campaign is already red hot in Hamilton. One of the candidates is making a big point against his opponent by proving that he favored the conduct of public business by the agency of secret meetings.—Mr. Stead, editor of the Review of Reviews, maintains that Lord Rosebery will succeed Mr. Gladstone as Liberal leader. The famous editor, in a recent interview, insists that the master of Dalmeny, is a thorough Democrat. He proved that by the good work he did for the toilers as a member of the London County Council.—In the United States corrupt or partisan judges cannot long remain on the bench. When their term is ended, the people have their feeling, and the May-nards are relegated to private life. In Canada, a judge is so hemmed in with anciently-acquired privileges that when a corrupt Government is in power at Ottawa it is even impossible to procure an investigation into the misconduct of favored judges.—In four out of six cases of death
chronicled in our obituary columns to-day,
the deceased are registered as respectively aged 70, 76, 81 and 82. That is a pretty good record. But it is overshadowed by the announcement that within the past two weeks two residents of the adjoining county of Middlesex had died, each aged over 100 years. In this western peninsula the average man or woman who inherits a sound constitution, and takes reasonably good care of it is almost assured of a long and enjoyable life.—Upwards of 12,000,000 bushels of barley were yearly exported to the United States
when the duty was not based on the Mc-Kinley idea. Last year but 4,000,000 bushels of our barley were sent there. This year out a few cargoes have been sent across the ocean, the price paid on this side being so low. The Toronto World, which used to tell us that Great Britain would afford a market for all the trade cut off by the restrictionist policy, says that no shipments have been sent to Britain this year,
and that there is little prospect of doing an export trade with the motherland.—Sir Robert Duff, the new Governor of Australia, has been impressing upon the people of Australia the propriety of removing all tariff barriers between the different divisions of that great country.
Two hundred years ago, he pointed out,
England and Scotland were convinced of the absurdity of maintaining tariff barriers between two countries of similar language and trading propensities and their subsequent prosperity proved the wisdom of the abolition of these tax obstructions. A similar problem must now be solved in Australia, and it will be a happy day for every inhabitant of the country when it is solved right.—The Quebec Legislature Tuesday refused to endorse the motion to abolish the useless and expensive Legislative Council, but only by a small majority. Quebec has no more need for a second, or so-called Upper Chamber, in its Legislature than has the Province of Ontario, which has prospered and been well governed under a one-chamber system. If the Conservative Premier and his colleagues, with one exception, had favored the reform, it would have been carried and the debt-burdened Province would have been relieved of the expense of supporting an anomaly in a free country.
The reform is bound to come if its friends
keep the desirable goal steadily in view.

Preparations for Filling the Vacancy in the Riding.Clumsy Attempt to Split the Liberals and Cause Religious Discontent.Intrigue That Results in a P. P. A.
Nominee Appearing in the Field.The Conservative Leaders Afraid to Put Up a Candidate.

[From a Staff Correspondent of the ADVERTISER.]

WATFORD, Nov. 15.—I have visited the central portions of this riding, and am impressed to say something that is new in progress in it. The vacancy in the Legislature is caused by the lamented death of Hugh Mackenzie, M.P., who was a warm supporter of Liberal principles, and an admirer and personal friend of Sir Oliver Mowat, the Premier. In the riding are embraced the townships of Bosanquet, Warwick, Brooke and Euphemie, and the villages of Alvinston, Arkona, Theodora, Wyoming, Watford and Forest. I find the electors as intelligent a body of men as are to be found in any county of the Dominion, and as keenly alive to the discussion of public affairs. They are somewhat at a loss to discover what the Opposition leaders in the Legislature mean by their tactics in the present campaign. Visiting and conversing with both Liberals and Conservatives, I was constantly met with the request: "Tell us, if you can, where Mr. W. R. Meredith is? Are we to have no candidate representing the side that he has espoused?" Unknown to nearly every one I met with, and finding a disposition on the part of the average yeoman and townsman to talk freely, I was able to discern the trend of public thought,
which was decidedly uncompromisingly opposed to the course of Mr. Meredith and his lieutenants in the Legislature. The intention, I learn, is to put up no regular Conservative candidate, but to encourage the candidature of P. D. McCallum, reeve of Bosanquet, who says he is a Liberal, and who attended the Liberal convention, but who has been induced by the P. P. A. organization to come out against Dr. Angus Mackinnon, of Alvinston, who was chosen Liberal candidate by the unanimous vote of a convention selected by the Liberals in each section of the riding. In this way, it is hoped by the crafty wirepullers of the Conservative party, to make such dispense and division in the Liberal ranks
that it will be easily possible to elect the Conservative nominee at the general election next year. It is fair to state that there are sensible Conservatives who refuse to be a party to such a subterfuge. They make no secret of their aversion to the deal, and will either refuse to vote or go to the polls and support Dr.
Mackinnon. They fear the reaction which would come from an expedient both clumsy and transparent. Nevertheless, the friends of good government and of equal rights may just as well know that it is the intention of Mr. Meredith and his associates, as far as in their power lies, in the coming general contest to follow a course similar to that mapped out by the Conservatives in this riding, and to divide the people by ill-founded sectarian cries and charges of undue favoritism to the Roman Catholics, made in secret convulsions and whispered into the confiding ears of the impressionable and unthinking to the honorable, above board, mainly discussion of the policy by which Sir Oliver Mowat has ruled the Province.I met Dr. Angus Mackinnon, the Liberal nominee, yesterday. He is a man of fine parts, pleasing address, intelligent, and gentle. He is a native-born Canadian, of Highland-Scottish descent, his grandfather coming from Argyllshire in 1820, and being one of the pioneers in the development of the Province, which his grandson is now called upon to assist in governing. Dr.
Mackinnon is a son of the farm, like many of our leading men occupying a position
and he is as much at home on the farm
as in his dispensary. This is the secret of his popularity in all parts of the riding, and more especially in the laboring districts, where for years he has labored. Dr. Mackinnon is a past master of the Masonic fraternity, and a stalwart Presbyterian. Up till now, Dr. Mackinnon has steadfastly refused to enter public life,
but the earnestness of his friends, and the importance of the situation, tell me that he is the nominee of the Liberal convention. But that is not all. The original intention of bringing him before the people was signed by friends and neighbors in large numbers, irrespective of party leanings. To this fact more than to any other consideration, is attributable his present acceptance of a nomination for the Legislature. Those who know him, and have surveyed the situation, tell me that his election is a foregone conclusion.The way in which Mr. P. D. McCallum was brought out should secure his defeat.
He attended the Liberal convention and was formally nominated, but I am told that when he saw that he could not carry the convention he declined to let his name go to a vote. He, however, had the audacity to say that "the Mowat Government is as pure as any Government since Confederation."
A day or two afterwards the P. P. A.
organization held a meeting in this place,
and resolved to tender him the nomination to represent their views. This is an institution chiefly made up of Conservatives,
and was imported from the United States.
Its avowed purpose is to prevent members of the Catholic Church from obtaining office of any kind, either as municipal or parliamentary representatives, or officeholders in the civil service of the Province
or the Dominion, or in county, township, town or village government. A general boycott of the Catholics, who number two-fifths of the people of Canada, would be the result if the crusade became general.Though several Conservatives met by me avowed themselves members of the P. P. A., and defended the unchristian oath in their platform that binds the taker
to ostracize members of the Catholic Church on every occasion possible, I have been unable to discover any reason for their opposition to Dr. Mackinnon. The doctor is not, as has been pointed out, a Catholic.
The leader of the Government which he supports is, as we all know, a stalwart Protestant and an elder of the Presbyterian Church. He has the confidence and support of the leaders in every Protestant body in the Province. There is not any question before the public with which the Ontario Government can deal that specially concerns the Catholics and, though theyhave been frequently challenged to formulate direct charges in the Legislature,
so that they could be investigated,
the opponents of the Mowat Ministry have not done so. I heard nothing but regret that Mr. McCallum should have consented to become the representative of this P. P. A. organization, and I met with a number of men that have hitherto belonged to it who are truly ashamed that they have not left themselves free agents. They say that when they joined they had an idea it was simply a Protestant benefit society, but that as they find it compels them to break the golden rule in order to respect the oaths taken they cannot aid in sending to the Legislature any man who is its nominee.Among those who support the candidature of Dr. Mackinnon are many leaders of public opinion in Bosanquet, who added to make his opponent receive, but who are strongly opposed to Mr. McCallum becoming the cat's paw of the intrigues who are attempting to foment religious strife in order to secure a party advantage.A friend of mine who was in Forest last night, and who is entirely unprejudiced, tells me that the meeting for ratifying the candidature of Mr. McCallum, held in the town hall there last night, under the auspices of the P. P. A., embraced about 300 men, women and children, and that considerable enthusiasm was displayed.
The chair was occupied by Mr. J. Pickering, of Forest, and speeches were made by Mr. McCallum, Dr. Owens, Parkhill, A. C.
Dewar, Rev. W. Hayhurst, Geo. Thompson,
N. McCahill, E. McGillicuddy, Thos.
Hancock, H. W. Stewart, Toronto, P. P. A.
of London. Most of the speakers acknowledged they were P. P. A.s. They declared, their object was the purification of society,
and "the rescue of both the Ontario and Dominion governments from the clutches of Romanism." The old story of the Ross Bible was re-hashed as a reason why the Mowat Government should be defeated, and the Manitoba Government was praised.The cavillers at Sir Oliver's Scripture Selections did not have the honesty to explain that they were induced by a committee of leading clergymen chosen by the Protestant Churches of the Province, and they would have entirely spoiled their stock contentions if they had told the meeting that the so-called Ross Bible was not only adopted by the Manitoba Government, so highly praised, but ordered to be used in every public school in that Province. I also hear that charges were made, in a general way, by Mayor Essery and others, about public appointments and against the per capita system of grants to public institutions. The meeting was over by 10 p.m.This district is near the home and early triumphs of Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, and the leading supporters of Dr. Mackinnon have requested him to spare a short period to explain the policy of the Government. I understand that Mr. Ross and Mr. Charles Mackenzie,
M.P., brother of the honored Alexander Mackenzie, will address the electors of the district at Forest on Tuesday next, 21st inst., and at Theodora
on 22nd inst., both meetings at 8 p.m.
Other meetings will also be arranged for
in different parts of the riding, and there will be speaking at the nomination, which takes place one week
from next Saturday at Watford.

SCUTTLED 'A SHIP

Charge Against a Captain.DELRID, Minn., Nov. 15.—John A.
Schurman, general manager of the Star

Two Harbors yesterday. He was charged with willfully scuttling the steamship Nevada by opening her sea cock and pumping her full of water when he was captain in November, 1888. He was indicted by the grand jury in Chicago. The owners of the Nevada got $40,000 insurance money, and Schurman is said to have secured $15,000
for the job.

giving his name as R. C. Beaton, of Toronspaper, secured a horse and rig on Saturday

at Beattie Bros. livery—a valuable turnout.
Not returning, the owners traced him to Kippis, where he was tied up and been the same day and to Stratford on Sunday. Yesterday the horse, rig and all was found tied on the street in Stratford by George Oates, but the culprit has not been detected yet, and the police in the west have in the west have notified. The man beat the Brunswick House out of nearly a week's board.

Possessing properties the most extraordi-

to healthy action the various organs, the natural conditions of which are so necessary for health, grapple with and neutralize the impurities, driving them completely out of the system.

RADWAY'S IS A COMPOUND PILL.

One of their ingredients will attack the LIVER, another will rouse up the BOWELS, another will attack the SKIN.
This is the beauty of their effective operation; whilst they have a specific action on the Liver, they have a reflex or reflective action on this same organ by their other specific effects on the other organs of the system; whilst they force with the one hand, they persuade with the other, till
all the organs are brought to harmonious action, and perform their required functions.

RADWAY'S PILLS

Drive out all diseases, from whatever cause they may be making inroads on your system; delay no longer, the remedy is at hand; a dose or two will convince you have the remedy in your own hands. Radway's is a well-known pill, containing the choice of extracts taken from the VEGE-

in the most scientific proportions, which were found by Dr. Radway to be the best adapted to stimulate and restore to healthy action the disordered organs. They con-

nothing poisonous enters into their com-

FRIDAY

DAY.

WHENEVER I see Hood's Sarsaparilla now I want to buy it.

"Thank You"

I was badly affected with Eczema and Scrofula, covering almost the whole of one side of my face, nearly to the top of my head. Running sores discharged from both ears. My eyes were very bad, the eyelids so sore it was painful opening or closing them. For nearly a year I was deaf. I went to the hospital and had an operation performed for the removal of a cataract from one eye. One day my sister brought me Hood's Sarsaparilla which I took, and gradually began to feel better and stronger, and slowly the sores on my eyes and in my ears healed. I can now hear and see as well as ever. Mrs. A. J. A. F. 185, 176 Lander Street, Newburgh, N. Y.

President Robinson denies that the Cleveland Baseball Club has been sold to Detroit.

FOOTBALL.
The gate last Saturday at Rosedale was about $700. Queen's will get about $200 after all expenses are paid.

Butterworth, Yale's full-back created consternation in the dressing-room after Saturday's match when he displayed the bloody outline of one of the University of Pennsylvania player's teeth on his back.

THE SPASMODIC ADVERTISER.

We regret the necessity which moves us to again address a few thoughts to the spasmodic advertiser. Our spasmodic friend advertises—

Because his neighbors do.

Because he wants to keep before the trade.

Because he expects to get an immediate and profitable return.

Because his salesmen requested it.

Because—well, he just thought he'd try it.

Because he had a good line.

Three of the foregoing reasons are valid and sufficient; three are not worth much consideration. The shoe manufacturer who is moved to insert an advertisement simply because his neighbor advertises is prone to direct a discountance when he receives his first advertising bill.

The man who expects to get an immediate and profitable return from his advertisement gets disappointed ninety-nine times in a hundred. If advertising yielded prompt and rich profits it would discount itself.

The man who inserts an advertisement without a definite object—merely because he was suddenly seized by what may be characterized as a "whim"—a temporary spasm—generally "goes out" as suddenly and for as little reason as he "goes into" a trade journal. We have seen the truth of these three statements proven so often that we advance them now as postulates.

We have customers who advertise because they declare they wish to "keep before the trade." That is a natural and altogether justifiable motive. Others advertise to "help their salesmen." Good. They cannot sell their goods without helping their salesmen. A third class of patrons advertise because of their earnest confidence that they "have a good line."

Chief Justice Allen Stricken With Paralysis.

ST. ANDREW, N. B., Nov. 15.—Chief Justice Allen, who is here attending circuit, was stricken with paralysis in his room a little before midnight. Dr. Gove found a paralytic shock had effected his whole right side. He was in a partial stupor during the early morning, but later his voice returned, and signs of recovery manifested themselves. It is thought he will recover.

Among the pains and aches cured with marvelous rapidity with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is eczema. The young are especially subject to it, and the desirability of this Oil as a family remedy is enhanced by the fact that it is admirably adapted not only to the above ailment, but also to the burns, disorders of the bowels, and affections of the throat, to which the young are especially subject.

HAUNTED BY A SCREAM.

A Trolley Motorman Still Hears the Cry of the Child His Car Killed.

New York, Nov. 14.—James McBride, the Myrtle avenue motorman whose trolley car crushed the life of 9-year-old Gusie Sommers on Sept. 28, has been released by Justice Gossling in Brooklyn. McBride's case is a peculiarly sad one. He resigned his position and says that the baby's screams were still ringing in his ears. He was robust and ruddy-faced at the time of the accident. He is now pallid and nervous looking. The evidence showed that the motorman was blameless in the matter. When the little girl passed out from behind the truck the car was close upon her, and nothing short of a miracle could have averted the accident.

"I will never forget that scream," said he, "it is ringing in my ears yet. It has been ringing in them ever since the accident. I have had to give up my business. My nerves are all unstrung, and if there is any trouble on a car I grow faint." Justice Gossling released McBride after hearing his sad story.

THE FOOT RACE FRAUDS.

Investigation of the Charges Against the Quinlan Arrested at Chatham.

SARNIA, Nov. 15.—To-day, before Magistrate Proctor, the men Coyne, Ritchie, Passance, Smith and Boyd, who were arrested in Chatham and brought here on Saturday, were given a hearing on the charge of fraud and theft preferred by the Keep, of Mount Clemens, Mich., in connection with a foot race scheme at Courtwright from time ago. The prosecution was conducted by County Attorney Buck, and the prisoners were defended by J. F. Lister, Q.C.

From the evidence it would appear it was a case of sharpers falling out. After the evidence had been taken the case was enlarged for two weeks, the magistrate allowing the accused to give their own bail for $200 each.

TO OPPOSE THE PLEBISCITE.

An Organization Formed in Toronto to Antagonize the Prohibition Movement.

TORONTO, Nov. 15.—An organization was formed here to-day, with Mr. Edward Meek as president and Dr. Samuel L. Black as secretary, the object of which will be to fight the approaching plebiscite on prohibition.

HELPFUL WORDS

From One Who Has Been Benefited:

The most valuable testimony for the public is that which is given without solicitation. The proprietors of Harvard bronchial syrup never send out canvassers to gather and pay for testimonials. Good and honest work effected by this kind of cough remedies suggests every man and woman who has been benefited the necessity of doing something for those who suffer. This good work comes to the public in the form of testimony; the following from Mr. J. B. Black, of Toronto, N. S., speaks loudly in favor of Canada's great remedy:

"It has occurred to me that I ought to tell you what an excellent remedy I have found Harvard bronchial syrup to be for hoarseness and sore throat. We have used it in our family during the last two and a half years with good effect, and have recommended it to many friends, who have likewise found its use exceedingly beneficial, in some instances curing hoarseness in an incredibly short space of time."

Barr is the Man.

PEMBROKE, Ont., Nov. 15.—The Renfrew Liberal convention held here to-day for the purpose of selecting a candidate for election to the Legislative Assembly was largely attended, many ladies being present. Mr. Henry Barr, the present member, was unanimously chosen as the candidate.

The Ship Canal Condemned.

TORONTO, Nov. 15.—At a meeting of the Toronto Board of Trade to-day, the proposed ship canal to the Georgian Bay was considered and condemned, as being financially impracticable, and entailing a useless expenditure of money if constructed.

Mr. Hardy on Temperance.

TORONTO, Nov. 15.—It is altogether likely that Mr. A. S. Hardy, Commissioner of Crown Lands, will take an active part in the coming prohibition campaign. Should Mr. Hardy take the prohibition platform, he will make his debut at Brantford at an early date.

Badly Burned.

ST. THOMAS, Nov. 15.—Mrs. John Penwarden, Paverden street, had a startling experience last evening. Her 3-year-old son upset a lamp. The little fellow got on a box to escape the flames and to rescue him Mrs. Penwarden had to pass over the burning oil. Her dress took fire and in extinguishing it her hands were terribly burned.

Murdered by the Hired Man.

ALLIANCE, Ohio, Nov. 15.—Curt Davidson, aged 40 years, worked for C. C. Baugh, near this place. On Tuesday Mr. Baugh left home and Miss Baugh remained up late to let the man in and look up the house. Thursday morning Miss Baugh's dead body was found on the barn floor and Davidson was found lying outside of a barn half a mile distant with his throat cut. He had assaulted and murdered Miss Baugh and then committed suicide. Miss Baugh was a student at Mount Union College, was a popular young lady and very handsome.

Wheat on the Move.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 15.—"It is reported that all the wheat in Minnesota and the Dakotas of this season's crop available for export has already been marketed and forwarded to the seaboard," said a reporter to a C. P. R. official yesterday. "It is very much the same in Manitoba," replied the official. "By the end of this month, when navigation will probably close, we expect to have 8,000,000 bushels of this year's crop out of the country. Up to date we have taken out about 6,500,000 bushels, and during the next fortnight, providing deliveries by farmers continue as they have been, we will have carried out another 1,500,000. Estimating the crop at 15,000,000 bushels, which will likely be near the correct figures, this will leave only 4,000,000 bushels still to be marketed."

Universal testimony

Cannot be disputed, and the case is yet to be heard from in which Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor has failed to perform a perfect cure. This with painless and rapid action and freedom from annoyance during use. The great corn and bunion cure stands unrivaled. Sure, safe, painless. Beware of frauds offered as substitutes for the great corn cure—Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. N. C. Putnam & Co., Kingston, proprietors. Use no other.

Mr. Moody has an invitation to spend this winter in London, signed by 702 ministers. He is compelled to decline. He thinks we are on the eve of the greatest religious awakening of the century.

"No women," said a promenader, "attract more attention in the streets than do the simply but strikingly attired women of the Salvation Army. Though they have been among us now for years they seem to attract as much curious notice as ever."

A HINDOO baby is named when it is 12 days old and usually by the mother. Sometimes the father wishes for another name than that selected by the mother. In that case two lamps are placed over the two names, and the name over which the lamp burns the brightest is the one given to the child.

SENATOR PALMER of Illinois says Abraham Lincoln once said to him: "I have simply tried to do my duty every day, hoping that when to-morrow came I should be equal to it." This is a sentiment worthy to be inscribed prominently on the wall of every schoolroom in the land, that all children be inspired by it.

The Presbytery of Edinburgh have become alarmed at the facilities that are now offered for the contraction of irregular marriages, or marriages by special license, and have publicly denounced these in very strong terms. They declare that there is no such institution in Scotland as marriage by special license, and that all marriages entered into without a religious service are irregular.

At length the Dead Sea is to be navigated, and two sailing boats, one rather large and heavy, for cargo, and the other smaller and neater, for passengers, have just been conveyed from Jaffa to Jerusalem by rail, and thence to the Dead Sea by road. The boats belong to the Sultan, as does also the Dead Sea, which forms part of the crown property, and it is Abdul-Hamid's intention to turn to good account the salt, bitumen and sulphur that abound in its waters and on its shore.

It is reported that a movement is on foot with its headquarters at Pittsburgh, to girdle the earth with a series of religious conventions on the 100th anniversary of the Christian era. A great expedition will start out numbering, it is thought, some 1,000 persons, who will go entirely around the world holding religious services at every important stopping place. The first service will be held in St. Francisco and the last in New York. Bombay, Jerusalem, Rome, and London will be taken in on the way. The services are to be entirely non-sectarian. Several weeks will elapse between each service and it is calculated that the expedition will take a year in making its rounds and that it will cost each of the crusaders about $1,000.

A BARGAIN.

We firmly believe that the ladies of London place entire reliance in our promises from time to time. They are perfectly safe in doing so, for we make it a point never to engage to do that which we do not propose to perform to the very letter. They also believe that we are in a position to buy cheaply. They make no mistake in this, either, because we are in touch with the English and continental markets at all seasons of the year.

This enviable position enables us to announce a genuine bargain for to-day, the like of which has not been seen hereabouts for some time, if ever. It is a shipment of Dress Goods from the old country that we fortunately secured at a great bargain. It is a splendid line of

FRENCH DIAGONAL SUITINGS.

Ordinarily these would sell at 60c per yard, and at that price would be considered good value. But we bought them at such a low price that we can afford to and will sell them at 39c per yard. Think of it, not hastily, but calmly. Take our word for it, this is a great bargain. They comprise a splendid range of colorings.

With this shipment we received another lot of those popular Hopsackings. These are in great demand; at any rate, we have sold a big stock of them already. This newly-arrived lot comprises all the popular colors—brown, tan, myrtle, navy, etc., etc.

Again, we have an odd line of Damask Towels—only sixteen dozen—positively good value at 10c each. While they last, you can have them at 8c. All we want is an inspection of what we offer, and we are sure to make a sale.

"No, no," said Lord Neville, hurrying on, and ashamed of displaying his emotion. "It was very pleasant. I suppose Miss de Norvan and you—"

"He was so anxious to learn something about her that he usually called her 'Miss de Norvan'."

"The young fellow shrugged his shoulders. 'A trick he had caught from her, no doubt'—"

"Lord Neville looked surprised, and a spasm of jealousy shot through him. 'Jealousy already!'

"I thought it must be so, as you called her by her Christian name—'

"Oh, ah, yes," he said lightly. "Everybody calls her Zenobia. You'll find yourself calling her so if you see much of her. The other name is so awkward, you see, and Zenobia is so pretty."

"Lord Neville knit his brows. 'Besides, foreigners are not like English, not so still and proud. Anyhow, she doesn't mind it.'"

"What is Miss de Norvan?" asked Lord Neville.

"Again Gerald Moore shrugged his shoulders. 'I don't know. I think I have heard of her name somewhere, but I'm not sure, and I don't know who she is.'"

"I don't know," said Lord Neville. "I don't know. Really, Neville, I don't know. I'll ask her if you like."

"I don't know," said Lord Neville. "I don't know. Really, Neville, I don't know. I'll ask her if you like."

depends upon your remaining!" asked Mr. Forsyth; but Lord Neville put him off.

"I'll tell you all directly—very soon, Forsyth," he said, and that was all he would say.

In due course the ponies and phaeton arrived, and Lord Neville drove them up the lane to the villa.

He was full of dread lest she should decline them, perhaps with haughty indignation.

"See," he said, "I have ventured to bring you a small present, Zenobia—for Gerald Moore's prophecy had been fulfilled, and he called her Zenobia now. Will you accept it?"

At any rate, do not be angry at my presumption," he added, with many simplicity.

But she was not angry in the least; her large eyes grew wide with surprise and delight.

"For me! Ah!" she said, clasping her white hands. "Ah, how good of you! What little beauties! And the carriage! It is all fit for a princess!"

"And if you are not a princess you look like one—like a queen!" he murmured. He would have added, "my queen," but he had not come to that pitch of courage yet.

That same morning Lucerne was astonished and amazed beyond bearing almost by the sight of the beautiful little phaeton bowling along the quay, and the lovely Zenobia holding the white reins, and the handsome "English milord" seated by her side.

Not only was Lucerne, but Mr. Forsyth also, for he met the equipage as it pulled up before a shop door, and stood thunderstruck.

He understood it all in a moment, and as Lord Neville, without a blush, but with a sparkle in his eyes, presented him, he knew that he was dealing with the young man and some excuse for his infatuation.

Dressed to perfection, with a delicate glow of pleasure in her cheeks and a gleam of happiness and gratification in her eyes, Zenobia looked the incarnation of loveliness.

She welcomed the clergyman with noble grace and frankness, and begged that Lord Neville would bring his friend to see her.

Mr. Forsyth went home, after the ponies had dashed down the quay, in a state of bewilderment and perplexity.

It was evident now what was the matter with Lord Neville. The young nobleman had dashed down the quay, in a state of bewilderment and perplexity.

What was to be done? "Well," he said, as Lord Neville came in an hour afterward, came in with flushed face and glittering eyes; just like a man in a fever, "the cat is out of the bag, my young friend. The mystery is explained without any trouble on your part. I can understand now why it was so impossible that we should leave Lucerne!"

"I meant to tell you to-day," he said. "Tell me what?" asked Mr. Forsyth.

"That I intend to ask Miss de Norvan, the lady whom you saw to-day, to be my wife," said Lord Neville calmly, too calmly.

About a year ago I took a very severe cold, had a violent sore on my lips, was bad with dyspepsia, constipation and general debility. I tried almost every remedy, but without outward signs of healing. By the time that bottle was done it had about disappeared and my general health was improving fast. I was always of a very bilious habit and had used quinine and lemon juice with very little effect. But since using three bottles of the VEGETABLE DISCOVERY the biliousness is entirely gone and my general health is excellent. I am 60 years old, and I think it should continue to be for some time after they think they are cured. It is by far the best health restorer I know."

ENGLAND'S RECENT CAT SHOW.

Tables of High Degree, Meowed and Purred for Prizes.

A wonderful cat show, the climax of a quarter of a century of other cat shows, has just been held at the Crystal Palace in London.

A noble 600 of pedigreed tabbies alternately meowed and purred in their hands, cages, or, as they are sometimes called, cattries. It was the time of all times when, in very truth, a cat could look as a king, since the high and mighty of the land dined daily by their cages. Twenty-five years ago, at the original feline competition, the problem was how to get enough cats together to even fill the classes, and it was a still greater task to get people to look at the collection seriously. This is scarcely to be wondered at, since a large number of the animals shown were the every-day mousers, which were kept about the building for use instead of a certain thirty pigeon fancier used to relate with great glee that he borrowed without permission a neighbor's quondam white cat, washed her, very much against her will, and won a prize with her side. Not only was Lucerne, but Mr. Forsyth also, for he met the equipage as it pulled up before a shop door, and stood thunderstruck.

He understood it all in a moment, and as Lord Neville, without a blush, but with a sparkle in his eyes, presented him, he knew that he was dealing with the young man and some excuse for his infatuation.

PROFITABLE PEANUT STAND.

Miss Anderson Wan's Back a Diamond Ring Bought Out of Its Perils.

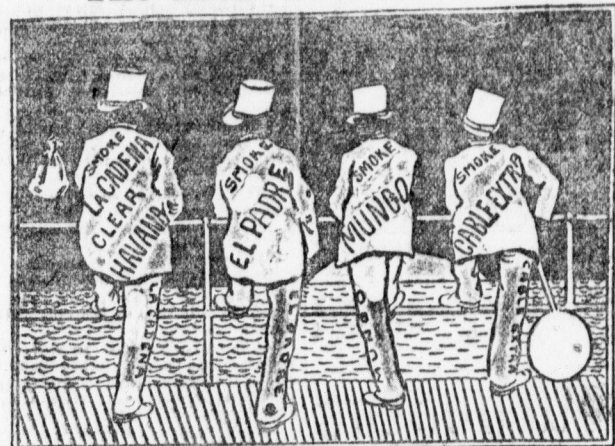

New York, Nov. 15.—Douglas Carroll, of Seventeenth street and Ninth avenue, was before Police Justice Tighe, in the Butler street court, in Brooklyn, yesterday, on the complaint of Miss Olla Anderson, who accused him of having stolen her $200 diamond ring.

Miss Anderson kept a peanut stand at Umer Park, Bensonhurst, last summer, and at the end of the season found herself $500 or $600 ahead. She invested most of her savings in jewelry, and it said, gave the diamond ring to Carroll as a token of her affection. When she and Carroll had a falling out she demanded the return of the ring.

He told her that he had given it to another young woman. The explanation did not prove satisfactory to Miss Anderson, and she had him arrested. Carroll acknowledged to Judge Tighe that Miss Anderson had given him the ring at a picnic, and repeated the story that he had given it to another woman. A week was allowed him to restore it to Miss Anderson.

The proprietor of a cigar shop in Philadelphia died of black diphtheria a few days ago, and that the danger of contagion might be avoided his body, in its coffin, was placed in the show window of his store during the funeral services, that his friends might pass by on the outside. All the neighbors flocked to see the somewhat uncanny spectacle.

 —The "Black Hussar" Opera Company gave their second performance at the Grand last evening to a larger audience than on the opening night.  —"Our Party," which opens at the Grand to-morrow night for two nights and matinee, will be presented by a brilliant company, headed by England's vocal comedian, Mr. Arthur Lloyd, who will sing as the composer of more "topical hits" than any other artist in his line. "Our Party" is the very funny comedy which has taken the leading European cities by storm where it has been presented over 1,000 times by the same company. As a musical comedy it is said to rank higher than any seen in years. There are over twenty numbers of musical selections introduced incidentally to the comedy, including Mr. Lloyd's original songs, medleys, also the famous "Our Party" quartet.
 —Must Give Full Measure.
 According to Chairman Fitzgerald of No. 3 committee there has been some under-hand dealing in the delivery of cordwood. He told of one man, at the meeting last night, who had bought a cord of wood, and had received only three-fourths of that amount. Notwithstanding this fact, the load was marked "128 feet." The market clerk, in this instance, had evidently not supervised the delivery at all. He thought that all sellers should be compelled to let the market clerk inspect each load, and that the clerk should supply each driver with tickets, to prevent fraud. The committee approved the suggestion and it will be acted upon. The chief of police will be asked to help enforce the new regulations. In order to get the matter of the purchase of an electric light plant before the people at the municipal election, the date for the reception of tenders was changed to Nov. 28. Acting on the request of the City Council the committee had inspected the working of the Bangor ladder now in the possession of the fire department, and the ladder was found satisfactory in every particular. One of the market bazaar tenants, R. Ackford, has refused to pay his rent. If he does not settle up he will be ejected. C. Smith and E. French, two other tenants in the same place, wanted to close in their stands, but this was objected to by Messrs. Cannon and Harris. The engineer and market clerk will be asked to report upon the matter.

Marie Tavy in Grand Opera.
 If all be true that is being said by the critics about Mme. Marie Tavy and her grand opera company, then lovers of good music—opera in particular—may as well make up their minds to have a real treat next Friday at the Grand. Extraordinary things are written both of Tavy and her associates. The latter are: Mlle Irene Ferry, prima donna (soprano); Royal Opera, Munich; the Baroness Helen Von Doenhoff, prima donna (contralto); Imperial Opera, Berlin; Sofia Romani (soprano); Milan; Sara Carr (contralto); New York; Payne Clarke (prima tenor); London; Charles Bassett, New York; Wm. Stephens, Boston (prima tenor); Emil Steger, Vienna (prima tenor); Arthur Seaton, S. Dudley, New York (prima baritone); Conrad Behrens, Imperial Opera, Stockholm (basso profundo); Thos. Guise, Sig. Mascotte, New York (basso); M. Gelang, Paris (tenor buffe); and Max Gabriel, director.
 The Canada Paint Company.
 The case of the Canada Paint Company vs. Wm. Johnson & Sons, limited, was decided on Saturday by Mr. Justice Tait at Montreal, who delivered judgment on the merits. It will be remembered that in July last at the instance of the Canada Paint Company, an injunction was issued against Wm. Johnson & Sons, limited, restraining them from doing business under their corporate name, and also from using certain labels and trade marks. Mr. Justice Tait, in delivering judgment, gave an exhaustive review of the case. The outcome is the sustaining and perpetuating of the injunction presently operative with the important exception that the company defendants have the power inside the prescribed limits named above to carry on business under their corporate name. Wm. Johnson & Sons, limited. The judge gave damages to the Canada Paint Company for $200 and costs.
 The Indian Post-Reciter.
 A great deal of praise has been bestowed upon Miss E. Pauline Johnson's abilities as an elocutionist. She recites poetical selections of her own composition, and, it is said, is possessed of great histrionic as well as literary ability. Her elocutionary work is forceful, intelligent and full of meaning. Miss Johnson is of Indian descent. Her father, the head chief of the Mohawks, her mother a mother a lady of British blood—Pauline Johnson was born (and still is) under Indian law, on Indian land. Miss Johnson's paternal ancestry is one long line of brave and loyal warrior chiefs. On the other side her mother, Emily S. Howells, a member of an eminent literary family, endows her daughter with the ability to voice her forest songs in pure and forcible English. Miss Johnson's costume is simple, unique and striking. Particularly so is the one she wears while reciting these of her poems that touch on native life and character. It is an Indian dress whose every ornament, from the tallow necklace to the caribou moccasins, has a history. It is fashioned after the most authentic pattern of that worn by Minnehaha and is genuine throughout, being made of Indian animal skins and caribou, and decorated with furs from the Indian reserves. The exceptional beauty of the costume (the fur always worn by a chief's daughter) is due to its being procured in Athabasca and presented to Miss Johnson by the Hudson Bay Company. The brooches which decorate this gown are all of solid silver and of Indian workmanship of great age; those on the bodice being the Johnson family heirlooms worn by Miss Johnson's ancestors before the revolutionary war. Miss Johnson's appearance in Victoria Hall to-night will doubtless be anticipated by a large audience.

 Famous Gold Paint.—Some $50,000 worth of Arustein's Gold Leaf substitute was used in decorating the World's Fair buildings on account of its wonderful durability and brilliancy. If Blundell, Spence & Co.'s celebrated Enamel Paint is used in connection with the above gold paint for decorating chairs, tables, etc., very superior and lasting effects can be produced. The paint can be had cheap at E. N. HUNT'S, 190 Dundas street.
