THOS. WILSON FIRM PLACED IN HANDS OF RECEIVER

Former Londoner Fails For Sum in Excess of Seventy-Seven Millions.

WELL KNOWN HERE

Small Amount of Stock Is Reported To Be Held in City.

Associated Press Despatch.
Trenton, N. J., Aug. 25.—Wilson & Co., Inc., one of the large packing establishments in the United States, has been placed in the hands of a receiver, on complaint of Maurice I. Klein, of 970 Broad street, Newark, N. J. It is alleged that the big packing concern is indebted to various banking institutions for nearly $30,000,000, and has a funded debt outstanding of $47,171,000.

Klein contends that in at least two instances where interest fell due on the company's stocks and bonds, the defendant had no cash on hand to pay the stockholders.

Some Stock Held Here.
Wilson & Co. has large packing houses in many parts of the world. Its capital stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange and other leading exchanges throughout the world.

It is reported that nearly $4,000 in stock is held by local citizens.
Thomas E. Wilson, head of the great packing concern which has now been placed in a receiver's hands, is one of this city's most prominent old boys. Born here a little more than 60 years ago his rise from an obscure clerk to president of the third largest meat packing organization in the world is one of the business romances of Western Ontario.

Well-Known in City.
Mr. Wilson was a pupil of the late Nicholas Wilson, beloved school master, in whose memory the London Old Boys' Reunion was formed. At an early age he left London for the United States, and became associated with the Morris Packing Company.

He rose steadily from one position to another, and finally became director of the Morris enterprises. Later he amalgamated the Swiss-American Sultzerbergs Companies, which are today known as Wilson & Co.

Last year Mr. Wilson, with his brothers and sisters, visited London for the Old Boys' Reunion. In an interview with The Advertiser he stated packing conditions in the United States were very satisfactory. Mr. Wilson is a cousin of Mrs. Fred White of this city.

LITTLE MISS MYSTERY.

Above an Advertiser photographer shows the mite of deserted humanity found on the steps of the War Memorial Hospital on Saturday night. Its mother is now being sought by the police, and at present it is receiving the care of hospital officials. At an early hour this afternoon nothing had been uncovered to help clear up the mystery surrounding the little child.

Giants Will Guard Prince

Associated Press Despatch.
Windsor, N. Y., Aug. 25.—Eight hundred and fifty-two pounds of young manhood is to form a bulwark between the Prince of Wales and unruly persons who endeavor to force their attentions upon him. These 852 pounds are divided among four state troopers, whose height totals 24 feet 3 inches.

The men, all residents of White Plains, will meet the prince at the dock when the Berengaria docks about Aug. 29. They will not leave the prince as long as he is in New York, according to Capt. L. F. Tobey of Troop K, who announced the appointments yesterday.

U. S. COUNTERFEITERS TRIM RUM-RUNNER

Man Who Sells Choice Liquors
Gets $7,000 Bogus
Money.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Aug. 25.—Seven thousand dollars of United States counterfeit money is now on its way to New York from Halifax. The bearer is one who sought to break into Rum Row, chartered a British steamer, stocked it with the choicest brands of liquors, made one trip and one trip only, lost $55,000 on the venture, and received $7,000 in counterfeit.

The adventurer, in narrating his story, said that upon taking his position in Rum Row he found business was poor. This he declared was due to the fact that he was not in the ring, and also because he did not carry certain popular brands. He did make one sale, however, receiving in exchange packages of crisp "fifty dollar American bills," totaling in value $7,000.

Examinations later proved the money to be of the bogus type, with the result that a second trip to New York was decided upon, this one not to Rum Row, but for consultation with federal officers relative to the crisp "fifty dollar bills."

MISS RAYSIDE TO SUCCEED AS NURSE SUPERINTENDENT

Canadian Press Despatch.
Hamilton, Aug. 25.—Miss Edith Rayside of the Montreal General Hospital will be recommended to succeed Miss Grace Fairley as superintendent of nurses at the General Hospital here. The appointment will likely be made Wednesday, Miss Rayside was matron-in-chief of the Canadian Military Hospital at home in 1917-1919. She will take up her duties here in September.

BOY KILLED BY TRUCK.

Canadian Press Despatch.

SMUGGLERS ARE COSTING DOMINION MILLIONS

Rum-Running Fraternity Are Working Profitable Game
Both Ways.

SILK MEN PROTEST

Manufacturers Declare Loss to Canada Could Be Prevented.

Special to The Advertiser.
Ottawa, Aug. 25.—That the rum-running fraternity is making serious inroads into the federal revenues is being borne in upon the customs officials here in various ways. In the matter of outward-bound traffic of this kind across the border, Canada has in the past taken but a perfunctory interest, undertaking, however, under a recent treaty, to do all in her power to assist the law officers of the United States and to see to it that the bonding and clearing regulations are properly carried out within the Dominion. There has been a sort of feeling that the matter, after all, particularly affected the United States.

Work Both Ways.
Unfortunately the rum-runners are not satisfied with a one-way cargo, and for some time past have been engaged in a very extensive traffic in smuggled goods back to the Dominion. High-powered motors and motor-boats carry liquor to the United States and silks, textiles, cigarettes and other commodities, against which Canada maintains a high duty, back to the Dominion.

U.S. AIRMAN WILL RADIO WELCOME TO PRINCE

King George May "Listen In"
on America's Greetings.

Associated Press Despatch.
New York, Aug. 24.—King George and Queen Mary of England may listen in on the welcome given the Prince of Wales on his arrival here on the Berengaria if they care to tune in, the Radio Corporation of America announced today. The voice they will hear will be that of Major William Hensley, Jun., commandant of Mitchell field, who will fly his plane over the Berengaria as she enters the harbor.

Major Hensley's plane will be equipped with one of the newest type signal corps radio transmitting sets. On sighting the Berengaria, the major will take the air and circle over the steamer as he speaks. A receiver connected with an amplifier panel at Mitchell field will pick up Major Hensley's words and transmit them over the wire connection between the apparatus and a local station. This is said to be the first time a royal visitor's arrival has been described to the world in such elaborate fashion.

WASHES DINNER DISHES ON WAY TO KITCHEN

Associated Press Despatch.
Gerrards Cross, England, Aug. 25.—Mrs. Mary Bolton has invented a dinner wagon which automatically washes the dishes while they are being wheeled into the kitchen.

ARGENTINE FEDERATION OF SAILORS ON STRIKE

Associated Press Despatch.
Buenos Aires, Aug. 25.—The Maritime Labor Federation, comprising 7,000 members, has declared a general strike, effective today. The action is due to judicial measures decreed in connection with investigations being carried on with reference to the explosion of a bomb in the hold of the Argentine coastwise steamer Asturiano a week ago. The Asturiano was one of several steamers recently placed under boycott by the Maritime Federation.

MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO VIOLATION OF Q. T. A.

Canadian Press Despatch.
St. Catharines, Aug. 25.—Charles Eastman of Hamilton pleaded guilty today to illegally transporting liquor over the highway, and was fined $300 and costs, and his truck and 80 dozen bottles of strong beer ordered seized.

He claimed he did not know to whom the load was consigned, that another man had been sent with him, but had left the truck. Eastman admitted ownership of the truck.

Ten Million In Ontario Loan Sold

Toronto, Aug. 25.—Hon. W. H. Price, provincial treasurer, announced today that he had received advice from New York that 50 per cent, or $10,000,000 of the province's $20,000,000 4 1/2 per cent loan, issued on Friday, had been bought on the New York market.

This means that half the loan was absorbed in two hours. Col. Price states that it shows the standing of the province on the New York financial market.

HERRIOT WIELDS PRUNING KNIFE

French Premier Is Cutting the National Budget Down to Limit.

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, Aug. 25.—Acting on the most explicit instructions from Premier Herriot and Finance Minister Clementel, officials of the ministry are using the pruning knife on the budget as it was never used before, says Le Journal. They are obliging appropriations drastically, and the public will be agreeably surprised at the result when the budget figures are published. The newspaper declares the deficit will be reduced to a much smaller figure than the 2,750,000,000 francs estimated by the official reporter of the Senate finance commission.

London Bridge Falling Down

More Truth Than Poetry Now in Mother Goose Rhyme.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Aug. 25.—The familiar rhyme, "London Bridge is Falling Down," loses its blithe note on the occasion of the bridge's collapse. The structure is bordering on the conditions described in Mother Goose. The river has dropped four feet under the stress of traffic thrown on the structure when the Waterloo Bridge, another of London's eight arteries spanning the Thames, became incapacitated for heavy vehicles.

PASTOR UTILIZES MONKEY TO ILLUSTRATE HIS SERMON

Rev. S. Colin O'Farrell of
Helena, Mont., Uses Novel
Methods.

DISPUTES THEORY
Strongly Protests Darwinian Beliefs on Evolution of Man.

Associated Press Despatch.
Helena, Mont., Aug. 25.—With a monkey tied to a broomstick held by his 12-year-old daughter as she sat beside the pulpit, Rev. S. Colin O'Farrell, of Butte, last night preached to a big congregation at the First Baptist Church while the monkey chattered and chirped. During his sermon the Rev. O'Farrell said that his reason for bringing the monkey to the pulpit was because his daughter returned from school recently and asked him if she came from a monkey.

When asked what prompted the question, she informed him that her teacher so informed her while at school that day.

"The teachings that we are monkey-made instead of God-made must be the coming generation to brutality beyond description. If man believes he came from a brute he will act and live like a brute."

EXPECTANT FEMININITY DEEPLY DISAPPOINTED

Young Women Passengers on Board Berengaria Look in Vain For Prince.

DOES DAILY DOZEN

British Heir Avails Himself of Facilities Provided by Gymnasium.

Special to The Advertiser.
Aboard the S.S. Berengaria, Aug. 25.—If appearances count for anything, the Prince of Wales is thoroughly enjoying his voyage to the United States but bitter disappointment fills the hearts of the feminine passengers on the Berengaria.

Since the liner left Southampton yesterday, the prince has spent most of his time in the seclusion of his royal suite. When he appears on deck he usually walks with General Trotter, who is accompanying him on the trip. He sits with him and three other men friends in the dining saloon.

The ballroom was crowded with expectant femininity after the ship had left Cherbourg last night, but the prince merely glanced in before retiring. This morning he attended services, taking a seat in the last row of the choir, with which he sang. He returned to his suite immediately afterwards and was not seen again until shortly before luncheon, when he paced the deck with General Trotter.

The royal party created a sensation last night by appearing in the dining-room without wearing formal evening clothes. Nearly everyone else aboard had put on their best attire in honor of the occasion.

KEEPING IN CONDITION.

Aboard the Berengaria, Aug. 25.—The Prince of Wales en route to a visit to his ranch in Alberta is not going to get out of condition while crossing the Atlantic. This morning he availed himself of the ship's gymnasium, where he spent some time boxing. He then took a Turkish bath and afterwards indulged in a golf swing. He began the day with walking exercises.

It was learned the prince's luncheon with President Coolidge in Washington next Saturday will be a private family affair. The president's invitation was extended through the United States Ambassador Kellogg in London. The Berengaria is the largest liner in which the prince has travelled.

FRANCE EXPERIENCES REAL SEVERE WEATHER

Associated Press Despatch.
Paris, Aug. 25.—France has just passed through one of the worst summer weeks ever recorded by the weather man. Day after day there has been a rapid succession of violent thunderstorms, accompanied in many cases by hail and caused much damage among the vineyard crops and all but put the summer resorts out of business.

The barometer which has fluctuated between high and low, now is steadily mounting, however.

This information was contained in a letter received by Miss Bertha Campbell, a friend in Vancouver, B. C., where Miss Boyd lived for several years after leaving Owen Sound and before going to California. A copy of the letter has been received here by M. R. Duncan, M. P. for North Grey, who has interested himself in the case and has been instrumental in having a very vigorous search prosecuted by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Last Nov. 16 Miss Boyd left her home in Rodondo Beach and disappeared without leaving a trace. There was no known motive for her leaving, friends here believed her dead.

LOCATELLI PICKED UP ON SEA AS PLANE FAILS

Italian Airman Discovered by
U. S. Cruiser Off Cape
Farewell.

DRIFTED 100 MILES

Request To Have His Machine
Destroyed Is Granted.

Associated Press Despatch.
On Board U. S. Cruiser Richmond, East of Cape Farewell, Greenland, Aug. 25.—The United States cruiser Richmond rescued Lieut. Locatelli, missing Italian airman, at 11:35 o'clock last night. He was picked up 125 miles east of Cape Farewell.

The Italian flier and his companions were uninjured, although worn out by fatigue. Motor plane had forced Locatelli to come down on the water during the flight on Thursday from Reykjavik, Iceland. He was unable to bring his plane into the air again and drifted for 100 miles.

Locatelli requested that his aeroplane be destroyed, and his wish was complied with.

Missing Since Thursday.
Lieut. Locatelli had been missing since he hopped off from Reykjavik Thursday morning in company with Erik H. Nelson. He was last seen several hours later, flying along the coast from the Icelandic port to Frederiksdal, Greenland, but he failed to reach the latter place with the United States fliers.

Locatelli's unsuccessful attempt to accompany the United States fliers on the hazardous journey over 825 miles of the North Atlantic followed a successful solitary flight from Reykjavik to Iceland by way of England and Scotland.

The flight was made with the sanction of the Italian government and, in its later stages, particularly from Kirkwall to Hovfjall Hornsford, Iceland, with the aid of the facilities which previously had been used by the United States fliers and which had been put at Locatelli's disposal by the United States authorities.

The Italian originally was to have been one of the pilots on the aerial expedition which Roald Amundsen, Norwegian explorer, planned to make to the North Pole, and which later was postponed indefinitely. Locatelli then decided to make the trip by himself, but postponed his effort until next year, considering that he needed more experience in Arctic flying before attempting to make a feat of reaching the top of the world by air.

He set out from Pisa July 25, and on the aerial expedition which Roald Amundsen, Norwegian explorer, planned to make to the North Pole, and which later was postponed indefinitely. Locatelli then decided to make the trip by himself, but postponed his effort until next year, considering that he needed more experience in Arctic flying before attempting to make a feat of reaching the top of the world by air.

FOUR PEOPLE INJURED IN MOTOR COLLISION

One Other May Die Following
Head-On Crash on Hamilton Highway.

Canadian Press Despatch.
Toronto, Aug. 24.—A head-on collision between two cars on the Hamilton highway tonight resulted in injuries to four people and a fracture, it is expected, to a fifth. A 2-year-old Josephine Sedle, of Rocco Sedle, father of the child, was arrested on a charge of criminal negligence and on a further charge of carrying concealed weapons, a loaded, five-chambered, .38-calibre revolver being found on him.

PULPWOOD FIRE CAUSES LOSS OF QUARTER MILLION

Canadian Press Despatch.
Isle Verte, Temiscouata County, Quebec, Aug. 25.—For the past three days a fire which broke out in two pyramids of pulpwood belonging to the Brown corporation here has been burning. The damage, it is estimated, reaches over $250,000.

The fire broke out at the mill through some defect in the boilers and destroyed the mill completely and then started to creep through the twenty thousand cords of wood piled outside. The losses are said to be covered by insurance.

METCALFE WOMAN HURT IN MOTOR COLLISION

Special to The Advertiser.
Strathroy, Aug. 25.—Mrs. J. J. Brady of Metcalfe was thrown out of a motor car on to the pavement at Front and Canadoc streets and seriously injured when the car driven by her husband was struck by a tourist car on Sunday at noon. Dr. Berdan rendered first aid and the injured woman was later taken to her home.

Air Service Between England and Australia Is Being Seriously Considered

FAMOUS AIRMAN PLANS SERVICE

Sir Keith Smith Would Link England and Australia.

Associated Press Despatch. Sydney, Australia, Aug. 25.—Sir Keith Smith, the noted Australian aviator, who has arrived here from England to undertake the supervision of the Australian activities of Vickers, Limited, the big steel and engineering firm, says he intends to investigate the possibilities of an air service between England and Australia, with a view to laying the foundations for such service.

As to the commercial success of an England-Australia air service, Sir Keith Smith is optimistic, and he says he is confident that the popularity of the proposed service would be so great that it would be impossible to cope with the demand for passenger accommodation on the airships.

Sir Keith emphasizes that he regards as the duty of Australians to support any aviation scheme calculated to assist in the defence of the commonwealth, such as would be part of his aerial service scheme.

Sir Keith McPherson Smith is a native of Adelaide, South Australia, and was born of Scottish parents. He served with distinction in the Royal Flying Corps in the war, and was mentioned in despatches. He is in his 35th year.

Sir Keith Smith accompanied his brother, the late Sir Ross Smith, on the first flight from England to Australia, for which both brothers were decorated with the British Air Cross and knighted by the King. The brothers had planned to fly around the world in the spring of 1922 but Sir Ross Smith was killed on April 13, 1922, when the machine in which the brothers were to attempt a flight around the world crashed to the ground on a trial flight in England. Sir Keith Smith was to have gone up on the trial flight, but arrived at the aerodrome too late. Lieut. J. M. Bennett, who was to have accompanied the Smith brothers on the world flight, was killed at the same time as Sir Ross Smith. The world flight was then abandoned by Sir Keith Smith.

NO NEW TEACHERS ARE ADDED TO STAFF

Constitutes Record for Commencement of Autumn Term in City.

For the first time in history, no new public school teachers are being taken on the staff with the commencement of the autumn term. The staff will be depleted through the resignation of four teachers since last term, but their places are not being filled.

The board of education has on file over 250 applications for positions. Some of these date back several years, but are renewed from time to time. There is no shortage of teachers wishing to join the London staff and many new applications have been received by the school inspectors during the past few months.

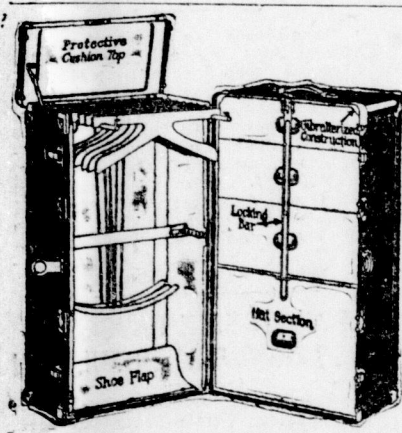

While many teachers are still away from the city on vacation, a re-assembling of the staff is expected within the next few days, so that the schools may open with a complete staff next Tuesday.

BUILDING INSPECTOR WILL GET CAR FOR HIS WORK

A special committee of city hall officials crossed the road this morning from their offices, and after some effort selected a second-hand car for the building inspector. The committee believes that with the front seat moved, even the extremities of the building inspector will fit inside the car.

Members of the committee interviewed this morning stated that they had felt pained lately at the sight of the inspector coming in from a long drive in his car, so cramped that he had to go on all fours to reach his office. They regard this as an insult to a fine figure. The reason, as the inspector says, is that he has no room to stretch his legs, and that they get cramped from being huddled over the engine.

Fiery Irishman's Campaign Results In Many Converts

Sixty-Eight Are Baptized in the Thames on Sunday.

$3,000 COLLECTION

Evangelistic Campaign in London Has Proven Decided Success.

Scores of converts and additional members for the Pentecostal Mission are reported since the commencement of the revival campaign here by Evangelist McConnell, "the Fiery Irishman," and the building of a new church is now contemplated by the mission.

On Sunday a great baptismal ceremony was observed at Thames Park amid picturesque surroundings and with encouragingly large crowds in attendance. Pastor R. E. McAllister baptized no less than 64 converts.

The success of the campaign here by Evangelist McConnell was marked yesterday with the collection of $3,000 for mission work when pentecostal revival services were held. Meetings at the big tent on Dundas street were attended by great crowds and great numbers watched the baptismal immersions at the swimming pool in Thames Park.

For nearly two months the revival meetings of the fiery Irishman have been attracting convert after convert, and each Sunday sees many converts brought to Thames Park for baptism. A week ago, 100 converts were baptized. This was considered a tribute to the fervent appeals of Evangelist McConnell, who will remain in the city for several weeks longer.

ALDERMAN DISAGREES WITH CUT IN WAGES

Frank McKay Declares British Capitalists' Plan Is Wrong Method.

Alderman Frank McKay answers the statements of William L. Hitchens, chairman of Cammell, Laird & Co., the great British engineering firm, that the only solution in the reduction of the price of finished goods is the reduction in the wages of the workmen. This is beginning at the wrong end altogether, and that it is not the real solution.

"What Mr. Hitchens suggests," he says, "is a topsy-turvy way of going about such a serious problem. He begins at the wrong end. The first step in the reduction of the cost of the finished article is to cut down the unnecessary overhead. That is reduction in the wages of the workmen, and that is the first to admit it."

"It is childish to talk about reducing what is at present merely a subsistence sum, for the wage earner, when the overhead in so many large concerns is eating up the profits. Only men blind to the real state of affairs argue about these lines. Big business has long called for the highest efficiency in its management, yet when the same efficiency men tell it to cut out the overhead it refuses to take their advice."

"As far as Mr. Hitchens is concerned it is a matter of German competition with British factories. He believes that unless the wages come down all the factories must close down. The answer lies in two things: Efficient management within the organization itself, and what is complementary to it, an overhead that can carry and still remain in the competitive lines. Big business has long called for the highest efficiency in its management, yet when the same efficiency men tell it to cut out the overhead it refuses to take their advice."

"GOLD RESERVE DECREASES. Ottawa, Aug. 25.—Gold held on July 31 by the minister of finance totalled $100,409,918, or nearly $24,000,000 less than on June 30 last. The gold reserve held on July 31 against savings bank deposits was $3,357,697, or 10 per cent on $33,576,971. Circulation of bank notes increased half a million dollars during July, after a drop in June of six millions."

Recently the textile interests waiting upon the minister of customs and protected strongly against the highly extensive smuggling which was in progress, especially in the matter of silks, which have value, but little bulk, and which can easily be transported. One of the representatives estimated the loss to the Dominion exchequer through this at $20,000,000 a year, and the minister is said to have put the figure even higher.

Take Drastic Action. As a result of the representations made it is stated that the department has consented to the use for patrol work by police and held pending the result of litigation in the courts. The department apparently is seized with a false economy on the matter of providing an efficient preventive service, by which many times the cost of upkeep could be saved through a few seizures.

PASSENGERS IN PANIC AS CONTROLLER BLOWS

Canadian Press Despatch. Thorold, Aug. 25.—A blast of blazes following the blowing out of a controller on a local line car of the Niagara, Cayuga and Toronto Railway last night caused a panic among the passengers, several of them jumping out of the windows. Myrtle Bradley of this town in making the leap broke her right leg and after falling had her shoulder and head bruised by others trampling upon her.

GIRLS ARE REMANDED. Violet Phillips and Margaret Marriott, both of Thorold, were remanded for a week when they appeared in court this morning on a charge of vagrancy.

NEARLY 100 GREAT WORK ON CANAL

Engineer Outlines Giant Project Being Constructed to Raise Ships.

COSTS MILLIONS

W. P. Near, city engineer, who was one of the party of Londoners who motored down to Welland over the week-end and inspected the Welland ship canal now in process of construction, and also visited the Chippawa power plants, gives some interesting and spectacular figures relating to this work, unknown to many Canadians living within easy reach of the canal.

"The magnitude of this work," he said, "can be imagined when one realizes that at Thorold, where the greatest rise has to be overcome, there are six locks, each 800 feet long, 80 feet wide, and 30 feet in depth, all set in one solid piece of concrete."

"These six locks, which are arranged as twin side by side, will when finished, allow a ship to come up and anchor in the canal at the same time. Each of these enormous locks has a lift of 46 feet, making in the whole work a full lift of 132 feet which is found in no other canal in the world."

"Here are some interesting figures of the work I was able to get from the engineer in charge. The total work will call for 52,000,000 cubic yards of dirt excavation, and 7,000,000 cubic yards of rock excavation. Over 3,000,000 cubic yards of concrete will be used in the completed work. It is estimated that it will cost about $125,000,000, and it make take four or five years to finish."

"There is another interesting feature, showing the magnitude of the work. The cement bill for this year, from April 1 to date, is just over the million dollar mark."

"While the locks are being built with a draft of 30 feet, the rest of the canal is only 25 feet deep. It is planned so that, if necessary, it will not be difficult to dredge out the other five feet after the canal is in operation."

Development of Oil in Ontario Outlined

Stanley D. Baby Gives Rotarians Interesting Talk on Product.

Rotarian Stanley D. Baby, London manager for the Imperial Oil Company, Limited, was the feature speaker today at the feature meeting of the London Rotary Club in the Tecumseh House. Rotarian Baby gave an interesting review of the oil industry in Canada, telling of the start of oil refining nearly 50 years ago in Woodstock, of the time when London was the refining center for the Dominion, and of later development around Petrolia and Oil Springs.

"The Indians were the first to make use of petroleum in Canada. They saw oil floating on the surface of rivers in Western Ontario and floated their blankets on the oil-covered water. They then wrung out the blankets and bottled the oily product and used it as a magic medicine, a cure-all for everything from a toothache to rheumatism."

The speaker treated his subject from a standpoint of exploration, development, production, transportation with much interest.

There was a good attendance of Rotarians at today's luncheon and an excellent musical program was arranged.

ANNUAL BIBLE CONFERENCE WILL BE OPENED TONIGHT

The annual Bible conference, which is being held at Harrison's Place, Port Stanley, will be opened tonight, when an address of welcome will be delivered by Rev. J. R. Ebyth of Port Stanley, followed by an opening address by the Right Rev. David Williams, Bishop of Huron.

These conferences have been arranged for the strengthening of the faith and the deepening of the spiritual life, as well as instruction of the truths of the word of God.

The program will comprise a Bible reading and conference each morning, an address each evening with the afternoon free for recreation. These gatherings will provide an interesting rest and change for the clergyman and his wife, as well as for anyone else who cares to attend the meetings.

TWO MOTORISTS CRASH, ALL ESCAPE INJURY

A near tragedy was narrowly averted at the corner of Richmond and Carling streets today noon. A car carrying two motorists, one of whom was driving at a high speed, was struck by a car coming from the opposite direction. The car was badly smashed, the axle, steering gear and fender being crushed.

The other car, occupied by three American tourists, suffered minor damages in the front fenders and bumper. Their number was secured. It appears that when Mr. Wells turned off Richmond onto Queen's avenue, the American car crashed into him, carrying him, sideways from the street car tracks up on to the curb and wedging him against a pole. No one was injured.

GERMAN NATIONALISTS DISAPPROVE PLANS

Associated Press Despatch. Berlin, Aug. 25.—Dr. Herrmann national party leader, today informed the Reichstag that the party disapproved the reparations agreement reached at the London international conference and would oppose all bills designed to put it into effect.

MYSTERIOUS JOE NOT AVAILABLE

Prisoners' Claim of Buying Chickens Fails With the Magistrate.

BOTH ARE FINED

A mysterious Englishman known as Joe was sorely needed by Joe Golin and John Devone, when they appeared in police court this morning to answer a charge of stealing ten chickens from two London South coops. The stranger, however, could not be produced by the defence, and Joe and John were fined $20 each, plus the cost of the chickens amounting in the neighborhood of $15.

P. C. Knight was the first to notice the pair with their boots, according to the evidence. He was at Waterloo and South street, about 2 o'clock Sunday morning when he perceived them with a bag in their possession. Losing the trail for awhile he again picked up the scent in front of 382 Horton street. Golin and Devone were standing in front of the house, the officer said. Later they went inside, and after reinforcements in the persons of Sergeants Tomlin and P. C. Aikin came, Devone was discovered in a bedroom apparently asleep. The chickens were found in a bag at the rear.

The prisoners were unanimous in their assertion that they were proceeding home early Sunday morning when they were accosted by a stranger, offering to sell them some chickens in a bag. Golin was without funds, so Devone produced the needed cash. Both admitted they didn't know how many fowl were in the bag at the time of the alleged purchase.

George Bridge, a bricklayer, of 131 Garfield avenue, testified that about nine Sunday morning he discovered four of his Barred Rocks missing, but only three of the fowls were produced in court. He identified the prisoners as having worked on a sewer in the vicinity of his home that week.

Six Black Leghorns were claimed by William Day, 418 Emery street, who related that about the same time Sunday morning he discovered his loss.

"You keep chickens, Mr. Day?" the court asked.

"Yes, I did."

"You did?"

"They're all gone now. I went out to feed them Sunday morning, but the whole six had vanished."

Mr. Day also told the court that he had noticed Golin and Devone engaged in district sewer work. He didn't know them by name, but he knew their faces, he said.

TEAMSTER IS ACQUITTED ON CHARGE OF SELLING

Elmer Burch Proves to Court's Satisfaction That He Is Innocent.

Elmer Burch, teamster, of 53 Evergreen avenue, this morning was dismissed on a charge of keeping liquor for sale, when the defence proved to the satisfaction of the court that the two one gallon cans of alcohol had remained undisturbed in Mr. Burch's house for three years ago, and that the second exhibit of evidence, had remained for the past two years without the seal being broken.

Elmer Burch of Talbotville, brother of the accused, testified that when his father had moved to Talbotville, he had taken with him the alcohol with Elmer Burch. The alcohol was owned by a railroadman, Elmer Burch stated, and his father left it in his custody when he moved away from London, as the owner was supposed to use for it at a later date. The whiskey was a present from his father just after he (Elmer Burch) had recovered from an illness two years ago. His father had since died, and he had since kept the two bottles, remaining from the original three.

Cost To Educate London Children Slightly Higher Than Average For Province

INSPECTOR GIVES EDUCATION COST

Figures on Public Schools Are Presented by G. A. Wheable.

FOR YEAR 1921

Public school education in London costs only a few cents more than it does in the wildest and wooliest school sections of the province. According to comparative figures noted by Public School Inspector G. A. Wheable today, the cost per pupil for public school education here is only $12.26 more than the average for the entire province.

Comparative figures are only available up to 1921. In that year it cost $53.85 per pupil for public school education in London. The average per pupil for the entire province at the same time was $52.45. That average included rural schools all over the province. In northern sections, where salaries are low and in many centers where school buildings are not built as modern or fitted as completely as those of this city.

Asked if salaries in London were lower than in other cities, Mr. Wheable believed they came well up to the standard. Two years ago a new salary schedule was adopted, and this provided for an increased maximum and average salary all round. The average cost of education per pupil in London last year was $57.58, the increase being due to increased debenture charges and higher salaries for some teachers. Figures for the provincial average in 1923 are not yet available.

DE VALERA WILLING TO GIVE PARLIAMENT TO ULSTERITES

Republican Chief Is Greeted When He Speaks at Dundalk, Ireland.

RENEWS PROTESTS

Resents Any Attempt To Force Imperialism on His Followers.

Associated Press Despatch. Dundalk, Ireland, Aug. 25.—A large crowd gathered in market square here yesterday to listen to a speech by Eamon De Valera. Mr. De Valera was escorted to Dundalk by volunteer soldiers.

The position of the Republican cabinet, De Valera said, was that it was willing to give Ulster a parliament within the Irish state for its own affairs, and with as much autonomy as was consistent with the national unity. The Republicans also were willing to give parliaments to Connaught, Munster and Leinster.

Personally, he declared, he was a believer in devolution. Mr. De Valera declared that now, as in 1921, he held a feeling of hostility for the people in the British overseas dominions, who were in some measure of Irish stock and proud of Ireland as the motherland of their race.

"Political association with these people," said De Valera, "is in no way repugnant to my feelings, nor to the feelings of my cabinet colleagues and a vast majority of thinking Irishmen. But imperialism every Irish Nationalist detests. We have suffered too much from domination and exploitation to desire to participate in, or accept responsibility for the domination or exploitation of other people, or to become involved in imperialistic wars."

Hangman Tries To End Own Life

Found in Dying Condition in London, Eng., Home.

Associated Press Despatch. London, Aug. 25.—John Ellis, England's famous hangman, who lost his nerve and attempted his own life, was found in a dying condition in his home in London last night after a long illness. Mrs. Edith Thompson, the last woman who suffered the death penalty in Great Britain, was found this morning at her home seriously wounded with a revolver lying beside him. It was said that he had spent a sleepless night prior to the shooting.

Ellis, who isolated himself socially during nearly a quarter of a century he served as public executioner, was said to have brooded over the fact that he had sent 229 miles away condemned murderers than any other man who had ever held the hangman's office. After the execution of Mrs. Thompson he declared that he would never ascend the gallows again.

The machine now is in the hands of experts, being tuned up and overhauled, and will be shipped to the States the middle of next month.

AGED WALKER TO MAKE FURTHER ATTEMPTS

C. H. Peacock Waits For Better Weather To Try Trip To Windsor.

C. H. Peacock of 7 Brighton street has it all over Ponce De Lion in so much as he has apparently found the fountain of perpetual youth. Mr. Peacock, though over 71 years, thinks nothing of walking from head to port Stanley and back, has done so several times this summer.

Though the heat forced him to reluctantly throw up the sponge after reaching Strathroy on his recently attempted walk from Windsor to this city, Mr. Peacock is not beaten, but will try again as soon as the weather is a bit cooler. "Aha! it won't heat me this time," he added with a grin.

"Some of you younger walkers seem to think that a heavy meal supplies the necessary energy for a long walk; in fact, an athlete in Sarnia laughed at me because I intended to walk to London on a shredded wheat and an egg. Well, that is all I ever take before a walk, and I eat very little more after completing it." Such is the diet of one of the healthiest men of his age in the Middlesex County.

I never thought there could be such a difference in walking on gravel and pavement, until Sunday, and then—the heat seemed to rise in waves, and the top of my head like the top of a stove, but I haven't been beaten yet, and I'll not be beaten now. I'm going to try again in September.

INJURED IN BALL GAME.
Special to The Advertiser. Camlachie, Aug. 24.—Miss Ada Wellington is confined to bed as a result of a painful accident, which occurred on Wednesday at Mandam Field Day. During a game of soft ball she was struck on the head and thrown to the ground. Recovering sufficiently to play again she was run into by another player and again knocked down and severely injured.

VESSEL MOVEMENTS.
At Port Dalhousie, Aug. 25.—Up: Veneunt, Glenlinnie, Metcalf, Beaverton.

Down: Edmonton, Inland, Maple Hill, Glenclachie, Glenorris, Vine.

WILL SETTLE QUESTION.
The matter of the two members in the London fire department who are now under suspension following their absence from the city without leave will be settled tonight by the finance committee. Fireman Fred Kerr has resigned his position. The complainant in a charge of assault and his witnesses were asked to be present before the committee tonight.

GIVEN FREEDOM.
John Smith was freed by Magistrate Graydon in police court this morning on a charge of vagrancy when his mother bailed him for a month, during which time he must report to the chief of police weekly.

DOUGLASS VOTED AGAINST LIBRARY

Wenige Charges Finance Chairman's Attitude on Question Not Consistent.

SHOWS MINUTES

Mayor Wenige takes exception to the statement of Alderman Douglass that he will now put forth all his effort to see South Londoners get a room for their branch library.

"It hardly seems consistent," says the mayor, "to talk in that style now. His memory is evidently not as good as it might be. In the council meeting of July 7, when the question of the branch library came up, Alderman Douglass voted against it. That was before the legal side of the question had been considered at all. The minutes of the meeting state that the request of the library board for the issue of debentures for $5,000 on a twenty-year basis for the purchase of equipment for a branch library in South London be granted, subject to the opinion of the city solicitor; the library estimates provide for interest and sinking fund."

"Now there were only two nays recorded on this vote and Alderman Douglass, who is now telling the South Londoners what efforts he is about to make on their behalf, was one of them. It shows that even before the opinion of the city solicitor had been obtained he was opposed to the grant, and it also shows that his present about turn is not in accordance with his vote in the council on the matter."

"This is not playing fair with the public and incidentally it shows the value of keeping records of meetings. An alderman is worth just what his vote on the council stands for on all questions, and it is a good thing once in a while to turn back the old pages of the city council minutes."

Pass Resolution.
At the last meeting of the R.E.O. the following resolution was passed unanimously: "It is brought to our attention that our fellow citizen, Gordon Wright, is again being prosecuted by Plumbing Inspector Young, under the discredited 'plumbers' bylaw, which is now in force. It is unjust both in origin and operation; and we do hereby protest against the extension of any citizen's rights to the administration of civic affairs."

In explanation of their stand, the R.E.O. members stated that the council voted to extend the bylaw, which is now in force, and this is considered evidence that the present action is "simply plumed" persecution served plumed under civic auspices.

"Ignored Abuses."
Dealing with the fact that Wright has not followed the bylaw in regard to the plumbing in his residence, the R. E. O. A. members declared that Mr. Wright merely "ignored" the abuses woven into the bylaw by the plumbers for their own good, and in ignoring such Mr. Wright has secured much better plumbing installation than he could have had if he had followed the bylaw to the letter. It is also pointed out that the action is not taken against Mr. Wright on the ground that his plumbing work is insanitary, but because it does not conform strictly to the bylaw. In fact, public health experts are quoted as saying that the plumbing work which is the cause of the present case against Mr. Wright is fifteen years in advance of the bylaw.

Mayor Wenige says he is powerless to interfere in any way with the operation of the bylaw, which in its code, though over 71 years, thinks nothing of walking from head to port Stanley and back, has done so several times this summer.

Though the heat forced him to reluctantly throw up the sponge after reaching Strathroy on his recently attempted walk from Windsor to this city, Mr. Peacock is not beaten, but will try again as soon as the weather is a bit cooler. "Aha! it won't heat me this time," he added with a grin.

CURRIE WILL UNVEIL MIDDLESEX MEMORIAL

Beautiful Bronze Tablet Will Be Placed in Main Corridor at University.

A bronze memorial commemorating the sacrifices made by Middlesex soldiers during the war will be unveiled at the University of Western Ontario on the afternoon of October 17. General Sir Arthur Currie will unveil the tablet on behalf of the County of Middlesex.

The memorial tablet is of bronze. It will occupy a space of approximately nine feet by four and will be placed in the main corridor just within the main entrance of the university.

There will be 233 names engraved on the tablet. The design will be worked out in seven panels. Above the names will be a suitable inscription. The names will be arranged in a ribbon carrying the names of war-scarred fields now sacred to Canadians. The coat of arms of Middlesex will occupy a prominent place on the memorial.

The memorial service will be held on the second day of the fall ceremony at Western. The second day will be known as Middlesex Day. The service will take the form of prayers, a reading of the scripture and addresses.

It is expected that the London Garrison will parade and that the Middlesex Battalion will be present, together with the Middlesex County Council.

Middlesex people will be specially invited to the University of Western Ontario on that day.

It is hoped that at some future date when funds are available a service roll will be erected to the memory of the members of No. 10 Station Hospital. This hospital was made up of university men and women of Western. It is understood that the service roll will occupy a prominent place in the university halls.

BROTHERS REMANDED ON VAGRANCY CHARGE
John and James Lawrence Will Have Their Records Probed.

John and James Lawrence, brothers, were remanded for a week when they appeared in court today on a charge of vagrancy. In the meantime local police will delve into their past records.

In an effort to impress his good habits on the court, John told of how he worked for four years in a Hamilton factory prior to going overseas, but could not give a suitable account of his endeavors since he returned from Europe in 1919.

He maintained that he had never been in trouble before, and changed his attitude when Chief Birrell produced records that showed he had been convicted for theft in Hamilton. The prisoner offered the excuse that he had been drunk at the time, a fact which he thought absolved him of blame.

UNIVERSITY GROUNDS GREATLY IMPROVED
The grounds about the new buildings of the University of Western Ontario are looking better every day. About fifty men are working with graders, machinery and picks and shovels, and the result will soon be some nice effects in landscape gardening.

A lot of grading has been done in front of the natural science building. This has been leveled off and is practically ready for sodding.

A wide cement walk has been laid from the road to the main building. Every day sees new improvements at the grounds.

STEAMSHIP ARRIVALS.

Three Are Killed In Family Feud

Oklahoma Highway Scene of Tragedy Following Quarrel.

Associated Press Despatch. Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 25.—Three men were killed and one was injured yesterday on a public highway 21 miles east of Tulsa, in a battle which climaxed a family feud starting over an argument between children.

The dead are: Malcolm Young, 19, a county highway officer; J. Clayton Young, 21, Miller's brother; and Homer McMillen, 18, living six miles east of Caloosa.

Charles Young, 45, of Tulsa, father of the Young brothers, was shot in the right leg above the knee. The trouble started about a week ago. Yesterday the Youngs were said to have become involved in a quarrel in front of McMillen's house. McMillen's father is said to have told them to move along, and the shooting started soon after.

Among the arrivals were many British harvesters brought out to assist with last year's crop and since settled in the east.

WHO WON WAR? BRINGS BATTLES

Americans Are Ringleaders in Brawls Seen in Leading European Cities.

GERMANS ANSWER

This is the fifth of a series of articles by Rex-King of the Raribits—following a summer in Europe.

Although the war has been over six years, the burning question in European tourist circles is, who won it? Each man has his own answer to the question and differences of opinion frequently precipitate brawls and bloodshed. The French, Germans, Belgians and English are not particularly interested in the subject themselves, but the Americans apparently think it is worth fighting over.

This peculiar attitude has created more bad feeling than any other question. The poorer class of United States sightseers in Europe has incurred the enmity of almost every country because of his readiness for an argument to determine which of the allied nations won the war to victory. The English, French, Belgians and Italians naturally resent this. And their resentment often takes the form of a physical attack.

A director of the Moulin Rouge, a Brussels dance pavilion, told the writer that an average of two to five fights a week are held in his muds hall over who won the war. Sometimes it is an English Tommy who starts the fracas. More often it is some benighted American tourist. Just the night before, the director said, a pitched battle between Englishmen and a group of American sailors was staged in the Moulin Rouge when one of the sailors accosted an Englishman and remarked: "The hell wouldn't be any British Empire today but for United States intervention."

In a moment the combatants were wrestling on the floor and several shots were fired. Three American sailors were taken to an emergency hospital in bad shape, and two of the Englishmen were arrested for assault. Later they were released when investigation revealed that the sailors were the aggressors.

Similar Incidents.
Similar incidents are occurring every day in Brussels, Paris and London dance halls. About six months ago an American, strolling down the cement pier at Brighton observed a wounded British American tourist. "You boys need our help after all, didn't you?" The Tommy lost control of himself, seized his crutch and hit the American, knocking him to the pier. The latter was drowned, and the Tommy was charged with the murder. He claimed intense provocation for his action, however, as he stated that he had seen the American in the arms of a German girl.

Each nation naturally claims credit for having been the victor in the winning the war, and there is an element of truth in every contention. The only people who are justified in expressing an opinion on the subject are the vanquished Germans. And it was to get that opinion and thus settle in his own mind one of the questions which had grown increasingly obnoxious to him, that the writer made inquiries in Berlin and Hamburg.

The answers to all the same questions were as definite as the other. What caused the downfall of Germany and the triumph of the allies, according to the German point of view, was the British blockade. Germany was literally starved into the surrender. The British blockade, the western front, it is a positive fact that their presence did not actually expedite the end of the war.

Popular View.
This is the popular view of the German people. Skirmishes, manoeuvres, offensives and retreats on the western front, in the final analysis, did not have anything but a superficial bearing on the result of the late conflict.

"So long as the allies kept our troops from the Channel ports and so long as the British navy maintained its blockade, there never was any chance of a German triumph," was the invariable answer submitted by the Germans themselves.

In neutral countries, such as Denmark and Holland, the same opinion prevails. It was not the assault on German front-line trenches, but rather the assault on the German food supply which brought ultimate peace to the world.

VOTE URGED TO SETTLE LONDON SCHOOL PROBLEM
That the fairest way of dealing with the school accommodation problem of the city is to let the ratepayers vote on it is the opinion of Mayor Wenige. "The school situation at this time now known to the school board, I believe, to say if this is the best plan, but to me it seems to be the most satisfactory to all concerned. If a people say definitely that they want a new school, it is their duty to build it. It is not the school board's duty to build it, but rather the front-line trenches, but rather the assault on the German food supply which brought ultimate peace to the world."

THREE ARE FINED $10 ON DISORDERLY CHARGE
Court, After Hearing Evidence, Accepts Version of Constable.

Sunday evening amusements at 261 Bathurst street, which police officers declared were of a highly uproarious nature, resulted in James Reid, owner, and his two friends, William and Charles McCauslin, 128 Maple street, being fined in court this morning to untangle the affair before the magistrate. When the evidence had been sorted, the court decided that the disorderly charge, as preferred by Chief Birrell, was correct and assessed the party $10 each. The constable claimed that all were under the influence of liquor. Andrews unfolded a rather involved tale of phoning the Reid home about some furniture and later going over there himself. He denied that the party had been acting in an uncivil manner, and when P. C. Coulter climbed in the window he claimed that Reid was sitting beside him, asleep, and that McCauslin was also in deep repose over on the couch.

"So I asked the constable what was the comical idea," he related. "No one was doing any swearing. They were all asleep but me."

The court couldn't understand why Andrews was spending the evening in such a quiet manner, as alleged when he was supposed to be at work as a night watch court officer, accepted the officer's version of the scene.

VETERANS' BAND CONCERT DRAWS RECORD CROWD
The G. W. V. A. band concert in Queen's Park last night drew the largest crowd this year. As there were only one more concert, a record crowd is expected again next Sunday.

Make the Survey Practical.

London Board of Education has decided to have the Citizens' Research Institute make a general survey of the city's educational requirements. The cost is expected to be $15,000, of which $500 will be provided by private subscription. The stated purpose of the survey is to discover more efficient and more economical methods.

The decision of the board was unanimous, with the exception of Trustee Udy's objection to cost, and The Advertiser has no wish to wield a wet blanket before the fireworks have a chance to perform. It must be regretted, however, that the board has not a more definite and specific conception of what it wants. It is difficult to secure an answer when one does not even know the question.

London has some very real and very complicated educational troubles. The most pressing is the need for more collegiate accommodation. This year's board have been unable to solve the riddle, and in their attempts it was pretty clearly demonstrated that the investigations which had been made were incomplete and therefore inaccurate. Dr. Grant and his committee failed to satisfy either the city council or the public, largely because the ease with which the supposedly bed-rock building program of $700,000 was whittled down to acknowledged essentials led one to believe that the campaigners had not properly known what they were advocating.

The present boards and future boards have real work to do before the collegiate problem alone is solved. If the proposed survey can be used to give practical assistance in that respect then it may be justified. But if it is to result merely in another neatly-bound manuscript of suggestions regarding organization and book-keeping it appears to be the futile gesture of a man who feels that something ought to be done but doesn't know what.

Dr. Brittain and his associates in the Research Institute can be counted on to do thoroughly the task set in front of them. Their general survey of municipal administration last winter proved it. But the city council lost all its enthusiasm as soon as the probes were over, and the report has now about as much practical application as last year's calendar.

Unless there is to be a repetition of uselessness, the board of education will need to take warning from their aldermanic contemporaries and have a definite plan of inquiry before the survey is made. If an inquiry is to be made it should be directed into practical and constructive questions dealing with the schools themselves, both present and future, and not diverted into theories of administration which are unlikely to be applied.

London has had an epidemic of probes, inquiries, investigations and suspicions during the last two years. Too often these things create only discord and pugnacity, with no off-setting advantages. Too often they peter out in a weariness which weakens the forcefulness of other necessary inquiries. "Wolf, wolf," is a foolish game to play.

He Should Be Silenced.

De Valera's activities since his release from prison prove him to be merely an agitator, with an insatiable craving for adulation. It is little short of a calamity that his reappearance should coincide with negotiations regarding the boundary question. The Irish atmosphere is always somewhat strained, and now more than ever Ireland needs every quietening influence which can be brought to bear.

De Valera has amply demonstrated that he is not a friend of Ireland's. He seeks not a solution of Ireland's trouble, but the renewed flattery of his supporters, whom he stirs to unthinking passions by wild orations of ignorant hatred.

An agitator of the De Valera type can always find listeners, and nowhere more readily than among Irishmen, who grasp at straws in a stormy sea of bewilderment, bitterness and misunderstanding. The minds of Irishmen are fertile soil for seeds of hatred and dissension, and De Valera is a real menace, both to Ireland and to Britain, because of his readiness and ability to take advantage of these circumstances. De Valera is a traitor and a criminal. Liberty of person and of speech is a fundamental right to which the Briton lays claim. But it should not be extended to an alien agitator, who plots dishonor to the flag which shelters him.

Coward and Hero Too.

The life of Major Cecil Cameron of the Royal Field Artillery ended in disgrace when he shot himself in Sheffield Barracks. Yet there are things in this man's history which must be recorded on the other side of the ledger.

Thirteen years ago Cameron and his wife were accused of defrauding an insurance company in the theft of a necklace. The wife alone was guilty, but Cameron refused to give evidence which would clear himself and leave her to take the penalty. Together they went to prison for three years, and Cameron was cashiered from the army in disgrace.

When the war came Cameron volunteered. His services were so gallant and so proved his qualities as a man of high character that he was given back his rank with numerous honors. And now he has committed suicide because of financial disappointments—the act of a coward.

Is one to remember only Cameron the coward and forget Cameron who played a man's part in an hour of trouble and the Cameron who found himself again in the war? Cameron's story is a sad illustration of the fact that if we are justly to judge our fellows we must be tolerant. Human nature is a thing of frail complexities, in which the good and the bad lie closely side by side. Each of us, like Cameron, is to some degree a Dr. Jekyll and a Mr. Hyde.

Cameron's story is a little sermon of actualities. Its text is that old truth which runs: "There is so much good in the worst of us, and so much bad in the best of us, that it ill behooves any of us to talk about the rest of us."

Walk Or Be Sick.

In this age of the ubiquitous automobile it is well that once in a while we should be reminded of the original intention of nature that man should walk.

Stevenson, Trevelyan and Hazlitt wrote about long walks from the aesthetic side of the question. They were concerned only with the charm of the pastoral. They loved the poetry of the out-of-doors, and they walked because they liked it. Now we have a different view of walking from the pen of Dr. Alvah H. Doty, formerly health officer of the port of New York, in "Walking for Health." His aim in this book is purely practical. He seeks health, vigor, strength and vitality, and he finds he can gain all these by the simple expedient of walking. "Walking is the way to a good heart," he says. "No other outdoor recreation can do so much for the vascular system. If you would keep off arteriosclerosis, keep on walking." He insists that his warning is not merely addressed to the men in offices, who are forced to sit on a chair for eight or ten hours a day. He directs his strongest admonitions to the motor-maniacs, "who have become so weak in the legs, or their heads, that they make their cars carry them, even if they are only going round the block."

Walk or be sick is the burden of his complaint, and he concludes by saying that the wise men, however much they may use their cars in business, will make it a point of self-discipline to walk a little every day and to make a practice of fairly long walks, at least once a week.

No More Bills To Pay.

Mayor Wenige has a fertile mind. His newest idea is a full-time city solicitor, who would devote part of each day in free services for the poor. The mayor argues that if we have free hospitals we should also have a free lawyer.

The suggestion does credit to Mr. Wenige's generosity, but not to his foresight. If a free lawyer, why not a free butcher and a free plumber and a free grocer as well? People need butchers and plumbers and grocers more acutely than they need lawyers. Carried out to its ultimate conclusion, why doesn't the mayor make everything free and have London become a modern Utopia where printing tenders are no more.

But, anyway, who in the world ever heard of a free lawyer?

Note and Comment.

Ald. Douglass is talking about being mayor for 1924. But didn't Mr. Wenige suggest the other day that he had pretty well made up his mind to be mayor again himself?

The London Kiwanis Club set an example which might well be followed by other organizations when they passed a resolution urging that Rev. Quintin Warner be retained as judge of the juvenile court.

King George is taking a holiday in Scotland, and is awakened each morning by the skirl of the royal piper. A correspondent is unappreciative enough to suggest that the king must hate to go to bed.

Newly-weds in Georgia are not sure whether they are married or not these days, because of a new legal technicality. The despatch does not state whether this is regarded by the husbands as a blessing or a misfortune.

The latest American fad is the sending of cards announcing one's divorce. An alleged example is as follows:

"Mrs. John Henry Howard is pleased to announce.
Her husband, John Henry, is given the bounce."

The ordinary human being who needs his eight hours sleep each night will probably be encouraged by the report from Vermont that Thomas A. Edison ekes out his six hours in bed by an evening nap before he really turns in. Mr. Edison has always been depressing in this respect, and the revelation is comforting.

Mrs. the London agreement, Charles Matthews, American fiers, the printing tender, split personalities, the liquor vote, limit hands, the cost of living, today's scores, unemployment, one best bet, and even the weather must give place for a while because the Berengaria has sailed from Southampton with the Prince aboard.

MY BOOK ON ETIQUETTE.

How often have you failed to land an heiress because you do not know the etiquette of the dining table? How often has your nose dripped with soup because you never learned to eat with a spoon? How often have you murdered an innocent oyster by chewing it when you should have swallowed the brute whole?

These questions allow but one answer. GET MY BOOK ON ETIQUETTE. It teaches you how to balance a tear on the end of your nose without letting it fall on the tablecloth. It explains how to eat six miles of spaghetti at one gulp without strangling to death. It explains the secret of devouring a consommé without changing into low and with the cut-out off.

My book tells you everything you don't need to know. Here are a few sample hints: When invited to a duke's mansion for dinner do not fill your pipe until after the third course.

Never tilt the soup plate. There is usually a napkin handy to sop up what is left in the bottom of the dish. You can always rinse the napkin out and catch the drops with your tongue.

Remember that all table silverware is the personal property of the host, or hostess, or their neighbors.

Be apt at repartee. If the mallard duck you are carving skids into a lady's lap, cry, "Lame duck!" and thus turn an awkward moment into a rousing laugh.

There is no sense at all in permitting a tooth-brush to show from the upper vest pocket. Keep your coat well buttoned up.

When you get to an afternoon tea, and the butler takes your hat and cane, enter quietly and without ostentation. Don't begin sniffing right away. Just wait your turn and they will no doubt serve you one. It may be that they have run out of cracked ice.

If you happen to be seated by a young lady, don't start talking about the mole on your neck. Talk about the mole on her neck. If she hasn't one, you can talk about her heavily-reinforced eyelashes.

Indulging in personalities will not get you anywhere, and as the tea wears on it may get you a sock on the jaw.

If the afternoon tea stretches out until after midnight and the guests repair to the platinum-lined swimming pool, be respectful toward the lady guests. Never duck their heads under the water unless they are wearing bathing caps. It unfreezes the hair.

Never fill your mouth with more than six pounds of cake at once. If you want more you can always stuff your pockets full.

No breakfast guest should consume more than four cocktails before the morning repast is served. Aside from double vision, it sometimes brings on the Leaping Winnies. And they are annoying.

When they bring in the pie do not try to do the sword-swallowing act. Begin at the point first and gradually work up to the hilt.

When leaving do not whack your hostess too hard on the back. The resultant spray of powder is likely to give you a bad attack of hay fever.

Friendship Between the Sexes

It is the custom to look upon friendship between men and women with suspicion.

The hard-headed wisdom of the world finds it difficult to admit that there is any such thing without the entrance of a baser motive.

At the same time there have been as many enduring friendships between men and women as there have been friendships between men and women. There is no doubt that the play of the sex instinct, in what may be called a secondary or tertiary place, is as stimulating as those of more immediate contact.

There is something in the companionship of men and women that is distinctly stimulating and creative. It is allied to, and germinates to, that creative instinct which enables people to do their best work in the world.

The greatest poetry, if not the greatest prose, has been written under the inspiration of the opposite sex.

There is no doubt but that the companionship is dangerous in a way, but all precious things are dangerous, and this should not induce us to regard with suspicion our friendships. There is something peculiarly stimulating to a man in the friendship of a woman which he does not find in that of a man.

There is such a thing as sex in ideas, and in personality and point of view, as well as more bodily functions; and there is little doubt but what each member of the race is stimulated to do the best work under the influence of the opposite sex.

Boys are better trained if they are allowed to associate freely with girls and men acquire a smoothness of manner under the influence of women more than they do by themselves. In fact, the question of educating each sex by itself has found considerable opposition from those who are best acquainted with the fundamentals of human nature.

Whoever made the human race, male and female, created He them, and it is intended for them to best develop their personality and live out their lives by being in constant contact one sex with another. It is pretty well demonstrated that a life can only find its proper stimulus and interest in the presence of the opposite sex.

It is doubtful whether a man has ever attained distinction without the presence of some of those women who are called "femmes

The above was the closing paragraph of a statement which Hon. W. F. Nickle, attorney-general of Ontario, made today when asked if he had anything to say in reply to another letter of W. E. Raney, in which Mr. Raney's name was mentioned, and in which the former attorney-general reiterated that the Ontario government knowingly permitted flagrant breaches of the Ontario temperance act.

Memorial Is Dedicated To Strathroy Soldiers Who Fell In Great War

Unveil Monument Erected in Market Square Park by I. O. D. E.

HUGE CROWD ATTEND

Ceremony One of Most Impressive Ever Held in Community.

Special To The Advertiser.

Strathroy, Aug. 24.—The ceremony in connection with the unveiling and dedication of the Strathroy soldiers' war memorial, which took place this afternoon, was one of the most impressive functions that has ever occurred in this community. The weather was ideal for such an open-air ceremony, and the crowd was huge. So great was the congestion of cars on the main streets and around the market square, where the monument stands, that all traffic was diverted for blocks.

All those taking part gathered at Alexandra Park at 2 o'clock, and from there paraded to the market square, led by the 26th Regiment Band. First came the returned men, about one hundred strong, accompanied by representatives of the veterans of Glencoe, Parkhill and Sarnia. Then followed the members of the Mary Armstrong Chapter, I. O. D. E., to whose untiring efforts, the memorial is due, and then the mayor and town council. The Salvation Army Band, augmented by outside players came next, leading the Sunday Schools of the Methodist, Anglican, Presbyterian and Baptist Churches and their own, each child carrying his tribute of flowers.

Sir Arthur Currie Speaks. Judge Ross acted as chairman, and after the opening hymn, made a brief speech. The flag which draped the monument, and drawn aside by Miss Helen Buchanan, whose father, Sgt. Reginald Buchanan, was one of the fallen. Rev. John Moore offered the prayer, and the Rev. W. B. Lindsay read a portion of the 7th chapter of Revelations.

Sir Arthur Currie, in his address, recalled the heroism of Canada's youth, how they had nobly added to the traditions of their fathers, and stressed the fact that none of Canada's soldiers had gone to fight for any material gain, but for an ideal, and that the sacrifice of those to whom all had gathered to do homage was made for an ideal. This, he believed, was the reason why such an occasion, that ideals always had to be fought for, and were never completely won, that the fight for them in peace time was as severe, as necessary, as in war time, and that the sacrifice of those who had fallen was a trumpet call to carry on in this warfare. The speaker shouldered without thought of east or west, race or religion, as they had done on a foreign soil, with but the single ideal of serving a true Canadian patriotism.

Bugle Call Given. At the conclusion of General Currie's address, the Last Post and Reveille were blown by Bugler F. Grunwell, R. C. R., London, and the monument was decorated with flowers. The singing of "O Canada" completed the program.

Colonel Ware, D.S.O., was present, representing General King, who was unable to attend, and Colonel Ulens of Parkhill on behalf of the 26th Middlesex Regiment.

The monument, which was erected by the I.O.D.E., consists of three large tablets of Imperial Gray Canadian granite standing side by side on a light gray base. The central tablet is inscribed, "Our Glorious Dead" with the sentence, "To live in hearts we leave behind, is not to die." The rest of the space and the side tablets are occupied by the names of the fifty-two soldiers whose memory is thus commemorated.

Columbus Was Twenty Years Late In Landing

By GEORGE WITTE.

Special Cable To The Advertiser and the Chicago Daily News.

Stockholm, Aug. 23.—Columbus was twenty or more years behind the times when he landed in America. As a matter of fact, it was Joao Vaz Corte-Real, a brave Portuguese admiral sent out by the King of Portugal, who landed in "Stockholm" in the neighborhood of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, who was the first traceable discoverer of the American continent.

This statement was made at the Americanists' Congress at Copenhagen by Dr. Sophus Larsen, a Copenhagen scientist, and caused a great sensation. Dr. Larsen declared that there were traditions maps and books dating back to the early part of the sixteenth century which backed up his theory.

LONDONER'S RESIDENCE AT DELAWARE BURNED

Two-Story Brick House, Owned by Dr. Shaw, Is Total Loss.

Special To The Advertiser.

Delaware, Aug. 24.—Fire at 2 o'clock this morning completely destroyed a two-story brick residence owned by Dr. Shaw, of London, on the third concession of Delaware Township, north of Longwoods Road. The house had been advertised for sale and was unoccupied at the time of the fire, which was first discovered by George Wickerson of Kilworth. He immediately notified the neighbors of the blaze, but nothing could be done, excepting to save the other buildings on the farm.

NEW FIRE CHIEF TO BE CONSIDERED

Special Meeting of Finance Committee Called To Discuss Appointment.

LOCAL MEN APPLY

Special To The Advertiser.

St. Thomas, Aug. 24.—Alderman Brinkman, chairman of the fire committee, will call a meeting of number three committee of the city council to reconsider the appointment of a new fire chief for the local department in place of Fire Chief Henderson, who will be assigned to lighter duties. The committee, at a previous meeting of the council, recommended the appointment of a Hamilton fireman. The recommendation failed to meet with the approval of the majority of the council, and Mayor Sloggett referred the matter back to the committee. It is understood that at least three local men have made application for the position since its enlargement.

Two St. Thomas boys appeared before Magistrate Maxwell on Saturday morning charged with breaking and entering into the offices of Marlatt & Marlatt and M. B. Johnson's coal office opening and taking a quantity of coppers, stamps, smokes and pencils from the former. The younger of the two lads has been in trouble before, and was remanded to the children's shelter for a week, while his companion was permitted to return home with his parents.

In the afternoon the league will be played, as well as a game between a picked Middlesex team and an Elgin team.

The contest in judging for the boys is the second of a series to be conducted this season between Middlesex and Elgin for the silver cup. The judges will be Dr. J. Jackson, secretary of the Western Fair, London, H. Duff, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Stratford, and Miss M. C. Guelph O. A. C., will conduct the sport events.

Alma College Appointment.

Mrs. Maud Atkinson, M.A., of Mount Allison University, Nova Scotia, has been appointed to the position of resident nurse at Alma College. Mrs. Atkinson is a sister of Mrs. (Rev.) Wilfred Gaetz, Principal of the college, and has returned from his vacation, reports the college. Mrs. Atkinson is planning to visit the college grounds next Tuesday evening. A special feature of the program is to be a guest tea, at which the friends and acquaintances of Alma College members will be served, the Kiwanians themselves acting as waiters.

Besides the customary booths, fish-pools and games, a special musical program is to be furnished. It is expected that the presentation of medals and certificates of honor and prizes in connection with entrance and matriculation examinations will be made.

OLIVER ELECTED BY BIG MAJORITY

Liberal Leader in British Columbia Defeats Combined Forces of Opponents.

CONTEST SNAPPY

Associated Press Despatch.
Nelson, Aug. 24.—Premier John Oliver was elected Saturday to represent Nelson riding in the provincial legislature, his majority over Harry Houston, independent, the nominee of the citizens' party, being 538. Mr. Oliver polled 1,124 votes, while Mr. Houston received 786. The by-election here was brought about by the resignation of Kenneth Campbell, Liberal, who gave up his seat to provide a riding for the premier, who was defeated in Victoria, in the general elections of June 20. The contest was a short and snappy one. The opposition forces, Conservatives and Provincials, took part in the fight, the leaders of the two parties and their lieutenants supporting Mr. Houston in an effort to defeat Mr. Oliver. They claimed his defeat would mean his retirement to private life.

The result of the by-election will not change the standing of the parties in the House. Premier Oliver simply replacing Mr. Campbell as Liberal member for Nelson. The Liberal party will have 25 seats in the legislature and expectations of receiving the support of several labor and independent members. The House membership is 48.

LONDON MAN SHOT IN DETROIT HOLDUP

Special to The Advertiser.
Detroit, Aug. 24.—A daring hold-up took place early this morning when Alfred Davis, 938 Abbott street, aged 42 years, was held up in his own home and shot through the stomach and head. He lies in a critical condition in the receiving hospital here. One arrest has been made, that of Joseph Ellis, aged 26; the other fellow is known as Weslie Moore. The friends chased Ellis and captured him in an alleyway several blocks away. His wife, Ellen Davis, is trying to locate the injured man's sister, Mrs. Allie Hollier, of London, but so far has been unsuccessful. Alfred Davis is a native of London, Ontario.

FOUR MOTORISTS ESCAPE WHEN HIT BY STREET CAR

Special to The Advertiser.
Windsor, Aug. 24.—Driving into Windsor late tonight on the way home from Harrow, four men escaped serious injury when their auto was hit by an outboard interurban car at the Howard avenue crossing of the W. E. & L. S. Railway, opposite Devonshire race track. The men gave their names as David Smith, 56 years old, 2725 Clinton street; Wm. Alexander, 2135 Macomb street; J. W. Hinton and R. C. Brodie, 242 Macomb street, Detroit. Smith, who was at the wheel of the automobile, gives credit to the motorist of the interurban for stopping his car almost within its own length.

RELIGION OF CHRIST SAME FOREVER, SAYS McCRAE

Declares Teachings of Bible Can Never Be Shaken or Pass Away.

AT UNION SERVICES

Rev. G. Watts States That Common Sorrow Cements a Human Friendship.

At the union service of King Street Presbyterian and Centennial Methodist churches, the preacher, the Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae took both the morning and the evening sermons. The morning text was taken from Hebrews 12-27, "Things Which Cannot Be Shaken."

"This is an age in which many things are being shaken," said Dr. McCrae, "Everything is being questioned and criticized. The greatest and most beneficent institutions seem to be on trial. We need not be surprised that the Christian Faith is being questioned and criticized."

The minister said that because some outward changes are taking place, the humblest believer should not fear for the religion of Christ. The human viewpoint may change. The religion of Christ will remain the same.

Newman has said that religion is ever changing in order that it may remain the same. Mere outward forms, human creeds and theological expressions may change and some of them may pass away. The essential truths of the Christian religion, the God in Christ and his cross cannot be shaken or pass away.

The minister then quoted: "Our little systems have their day. They have their day and cease to be. They are but broken lights to Thee. And Thou, O Lord, art more than they."

"We do not heed irreverent and unbelieving criticisms of the Bible. They shall be as the morning cloud and as the early dew that passeth away. But surely reverent believing and scholarly study of the history and literature of the books of the Bible can never be injurious, but helpful."

The minister made it plain that Christians do not call upon to accept mere man-made theories of the inspiration of the Bible. They were bound to accept, and do heartily accept the inspiration which the Bible claimed for itself.

At the cross roads in life the Bible stands. It says to every bewildered pilgrim, "This is the way, walk ye in it." The Bible has never sent a traveller on the wrong road. "Thy Word is a lamp to my feet and a light to my path."

The awful reality and the guilt of sin, the need of our heavenly Father's forgiveness through Christ and His Cross, the life as God revealed in Christ through the church were dealt with by Dr. McCrae saying that they could not be shaken. Incarnation, redemption, regeneration and atonement; these are not mere catchwords of an age or sect or school. They represent facts that are eternal.

"For 50 years and more I have been making the Bible the main study of my life," said Dr. McCrae, "I humbly believe that I have with the help of God's Holy Spirit that I might have the mind of the Spirit to teach and preach its eternal truths."

"I stand today absolutely convinced that not a single vital truth of the Bible has been shaken."

WELLINGTON STREET.
Taking for his subject, "George Tompkins' Sorrow," the Rev. George Tompkins, pastor of Wellington Street Church, preached from the text Luke 24-32, at the morning service yesterday.

"Did not our hearts burn within us while He spoke with us on the way?"

It is the story of the two disciples on their way to Emmaus, immediately after the resurrection of our Lord. They did not recognize the Master as He appeared to them.

The minister then spoke of the sorrows of the world, saying that a common sorrow cements a human friendship. A sorrowing sorrow often darkens spiritual insight. Jesus is frequently the unrecognized companion in our daily toil and distress. Christ was the sympathetic companion. He was and always is interested in the experiences of those who sorrow, even though the experience is familiar to Him.

Reverend Watts said that Christ became the comforting companion. As he proved the lack of faith of people he unfolded the scriptures and showed the necessity of His death and His resurrection. He made Himself known to his people by the breaking of bread. He is the abiding companion as He reveals Himself to men in their need, saying: "Lo, I am with you always."

He is invisible, yet ever present. He will commune experiences with us and we may bear glad testimony of his presence.

In the evening the minister preached on the subject, "Many Colored Temptations."

FIRST METHODIST.
Bringing out the reason for Christ's adoption of the parable, the Rev. E. W. Jewitt spoke to the congregation of First Methodist Church last evening on the subject of "A Three-Fold Vision."

The minister said that Jesus spoke in parables because He was speaking to the universe; because His teachings would be used in all tongues; because they were a type of story interesting in all times, in all circumstances and under all conditions.

Taking up the parable of the lost sheep, the lost coin and the prodigal son, the minister showed that in the three stories were three distinct types of the dependency of man.

Human Betters Horse In Contest

Fifty-Nine-Year-Old Englishman Wins by Eight Miles.

Associated Press Despatch.
London, Aug. 24.—A six-day running contest at the Crystal Palace between a man and a horse ended last night with a decisive victory for the man. The human contestant was C. W. Hart, 59-year-old runner, and the horse was "Haucy Lassie," ridden by Jockey Arthur Nightingale. Both the horse and the man ran ten hours daily until tonight when the horse was withdrawn and Hart won by eight miles. The total distance run was: Hart 345 miles, horse, 337 miles.

CAR TURNS TURTLE, DRIVER IS KILLED

Leamington Man Is Dead and Two Others Seriously Hurt in Accident.

Special to The Advertiser.
Windsor, Aug. 24.—Racing through the darkness at a speed of between 50 and 60 miles an hour, witnesses assert, a fast touring automobile driven by Sidney Hadley, of Chatham, and carrying as passengers, Edward Link, 25, prominent young Leamington man, son of Wesley Link, building contractor, and L. Wisle, 24, plunged off the end of the narrow bevel line road leading to Point Pelee at 9:30 o'clock last night.

Link was killed outright and his two companions sustained serious condition in Leamington Hospital. The accident apparently was due to the fact that the driver of the automobile either was ignorant of the turning in the road or else overlooked it in the darkness. The car, instead of making a sharp turn westward, continued straight into a deep ditch where it was wrecked. Link and the other two were pinned underneath. When the heavy car was hoisted some time later, Link was breathing his last. Hadley's arm was broken, and he is believed to be injured internally. An inquest will be held at Leamington Monday evening.

Both men were reported late tonight as being much improved.

St. Thomas, Aug. 23.—From New York, where the American Gladiolus Society is holding its big show, comes the word that the St. Thomas Horticultural Society has won the highest award in "Contest No. 32" for the biggest and best display at the show. The exhibit consists of a massed display, 250 feet square, and has proven one of the features of the A. G. S. Society.

SKILL AND COLOR IN SPARKS' CIRCUS

American Press Lavish In Praise of Big Three-Ring Show.

The Sparks Big Three-Ring Circus is coming to London to exhibit for one day only this Wednesday. It will arrive early in the morning, "set up," give a parade through the principal business streets of the city, give a matinee and an evening performance, and late at night will silently move on to its next stand.

It is stated that the Sparks Circus is the most beautiful production of the times under canvas, that it is fine and inspiring, and that it produces a magical effect on tired bodies and worn nerves.

Opening with a superbly presented allegorical display called "An Egyptian Fantasy," the performance of the Sparks Circus is characterized by swift action from start to finish, with comedy acts alternating with sensational acts of skill and daring. Vivid contrasts are presented by the aerial, ground and riding numbers by famous circus performers, and by the display of trained elephants, lions, tigers, polar bears and beautiful thoroughbred horses.

"Skill and grace vied with color," declared the Macon (Ga.) Telegraph in its review of the show, and continuing, declared "The Sparks' Circus has a surprisingly large number of fine and costly animals to begin with, and this department was made complete by the various able trainers and managers. The lion, tiger and bear acts in particular seem to be unsurpassed in the circus world, and the performances of the horses are no less than marvellous."

"The Telegraph highly recommends the show to the people wherever it may go."

The Huntington (W. Va.) Herald-Despatch closed a long commendatory review of the Sparks Circus by stating: "The circus will long be remembered and was one so clean, so complete and so entertaining as to have been well entitled to the distinction of being the first to visit Huntington this year."

Believe Sarnia Man Fell Out of Boat While Alone Fishing.

Special to The Advertiser.
Sarnia, Aug. 24.—Not much light on the disappearance of Carl Manninen, 53, local carpenter, who has been missing since Wednesday night, when he was alone fishing in a row boat, has been cast by the discovery of the boat near Fromfield this morning by searchers. If anything, the circumstances add to the mystery, as Manninen's fishing tackle was found in the boat, but the oars were missing.

Saturday night the crew of a gravel boat reported having seen a boat floating down the river with a man lying in the bottom. Police think it possible that Manninen fell overboard and that later the oars were washed away from the boat, or it is possible that he landed at Port Huron, taking the oars ashore.

The suicide theory is not entertained.

Manninen's relatives here are his wife and 18-year-old daughter.

COUNTY JAIL PRISONER ESCAPES AND RETURNS

Edward Hartel, Serving 30-Day Term, Strays From Hospital.

Edward Hartel, sentenced to thirty days in the county jail on a charge of chicken thefting and Aug. 8, escaped, or rather strayed away, from the hospital quarters provided, and caused considerable flurry and worry among the officials and guards. A search was made in the vicinity of the jail as soon as Edward was found to be among the missing, and just when the jail officials were about to broadcast a description of the prisoner, who should walk in but Edward himself.

No one seems to know where he spent his several leisure hours.

YOUNG AUSTRALIANS ARRIVE FOR TRIP THROUGH CANADA

Canadian Press Despatch.
Quebec, Aug. 24.—Fifty-four young Australians of ages ranging from 18 to 21 arrived here today for a trip through Canada. They are members of the Young Australia League, and their trip forms part of a scheme of education by travel, which has been in vogue in Australia for the past 15 years, under which city boys are transported to the country, and vice versa, but it has never been attempted on a scale such as is here being done. Their tour includes Sarnia.
