GOOD CITIZENSHIP

Unless his interest extends beyond his own personal affairs and his activities include at least some of the interests of community life no man can be said to be a good citizen. No man liveth unto himself and every individual must take his share of responsibility for the conditions that exist around him. The realization of the very apparent fact, that the community must necessarily far exceed in importance the individual, would make us all better citizens. We "have our day and cease to be" but the community goes on and on after we of to-day are forgotten.

Every young man should early in life get interested in the conduct of public affairs in the locality which he selects for the scene of his energies. Effort invested in the development of his surroundings he will find to return good dividends and in no manner detrimental to his personal prosperity in the long run. In Wolfville we need especially that our young business men should get a better insight into civic and community matters than they now possess and be willing to give a portion at least of their time and ability to the promotion of such enterprises as are calculated to advance town welfare.

PATRONIZE YOUR HOME TOWN

The Galt Reporter has a very timely article upon the above subject and it can be adopted with equal force to Wolfville. It says:

"Have you a dollar bill in your pocket? It might be well to take it out and look at it and think about it. Suppose you spend it; are you ever going to get any part of it back again? Are you spending it in such a way that you get benefit not only from the thing you buy but actually from the use of the bill after it has gone out of your hands? That sounds like a foolish question, but it isn't. There are two ways to spend money. One way is to spend it so that it will benefit you, perhaps directly, perhaps indirectly, after you have passed it over the counter in exchange for what you have bought. Wouldn't you like to have a string attached to all the money you spend, so that you could be sure to get some of it back again?"

Let's take for example a city of 25,000 population. Half of that population spends its money in its home city; the other half spends its money elsewhere to buy what it needs for its own consumption. Then, half of that city is supporting the other half. Half is paying the taxes; half is supporting the schools; half is supporting all the stores, banks, etc.; half is putting all the money that goes into pay envelopes. It is a half-town. Half of its people are but half-citizens. They live in their town and support other towns."

The statement of the Reporter is commendable. The question of loyalty to home town industries and business places is a most important one. The big departmental stores in the larger centers pull a lot of money out of the towns, such as Wolfville. A lot of money is spent elsewhere than in the towns where local business men help in a large measure in paying the taxes, which go to support the schools, fire and police departments, and all of the other accessories and equipments so inseparable from the upkeep and progress of a municipality. The buying at home principle is a sound one.

ARMISTICE DAY

It is to be hoped that the citizens of Wolfville will not allow Armistice Day to pass this year without due observance. Many of the towns of Canada have decided to ignore the official proclamation and to observe the anniversary of the end of the Great War on the proper date, November 11th. They point out that Nov. 11th is a date of sufficient historic importance to be perpetually remembered by the Canadian people and that to shift the celebration to Monday and combine with Thanksgiving Day is a sacrifice on behalf of expediency that is not justified. Thanksgiving Day furnishes a very satisfactory holiday but it is not another holiday that the Canadian people need so much as a proper understanding and appreciation of the national days that are observed. To thousands of Canadians Dominion Day means no more than a day on which there is no work and an opportunity to go fishing, and there is great danger of Armistice Day developing into the same brand of a holiday if the proper date is ignored and Thanksgiving Day used instead. A few years ago Wolfville staged a most fitting observance of Armistice Day and THE ACADIAN would like to see it duplicated or made even better on November 11th.

It is gratifying to note that the management of the D. A. R., which is not given to heaping favors upon this town, has honored Wolfville by naming one of their locomotives for it. The "Wolfville", formerly known as the "President", is not a new engine although one of the best owned by the road. She has recently been repainted and refitted, and presents an appearance creditable to the town whose name she has the honor to bear.

ADVERTISE OUR GOOD ROADS AND MAGNIFICENT SCENERY

(From the Sydney Record)
The task of providing this province with good roads is one that has received considerable attention from the powers that be within the last few years. Silently and regularly the work has been pushed forward with, on the whole, good results, and the Island of Cape Breton, in keeping with the rest of Nova Scotia, has been given improved travelling conditions, which the motorist, if questioned, is not slow to acknowledge and commend. It is rather unfortunate that the work has not been given the publicity that it deserves. Occasionally a compliment is heard or circulated through the columns of the press. Some petty by-lane needs attention and the fact is at once chronicled. But miles of highway are solidly built and little is said about it. This is because we have failed to realize in good roads an asset that the province could very well turn into dollars and cents. We have been content to finance, design, construct and maintain. After that, the roads belong to the public to use at its will. We have overlooked the fact that a country like Cape Breton, blest with all the natural charms that attract the tourist, could capitalize its roads by advertising them so as to let outsiders know that they were, at least, passable.

The plan adopted by some of the States to the south of us might very well be followed here. There, road maps are issued each year, showing all the routes and indicating their conditions by various coloring schemes. In addition, points of historical, scenic and industrial interest, as well as camping sites, are shown. There is a real business return for the state in such a publication as this. Increased highway traffic turns revenue not only into the hotels and shops, but into industries of all kinds.

In this country the development of tourist traffic as a means of paying indirectly for road construction and maintenance has been entirely neglected. "Before leaving home", says a visitor from Maine, writing recently to the press of this city, "I made some enquiries in regard to roads in Nova Scotia and Cape Breton, and many were surprised to know that I should contemplate such a trip at all, as they claimed I would find miles and miles of almost impassable road." He then proceeds to state that the opposite was true, paying our country a gracious, but merited, tribute.

The road proposition is one that has been tackled seriously in Nova Scotia only within the last few years. We have made substantial progress in building. We must follow this by a systematic method of maintenance. Important roads should be kept under patrol, so that slight flaws could be discovered and necessary means to correct them taken promptly. Already however, we have advanced far enough on our programme of intensive road improvement that the tourist need fear no wilderness in coming to Cape Breton. He will find roads that are, to quote once more the visitor above referred to, "far above the average", and, where possibly below that, "they are being fixed up as fast as possible."

Notwithstanding the fact that the total number of all automobiles sold (except Ford) was 40 per cent. less than in 1920, the total aggregate of sales for the Studebaker cars was 20 per cent. greater than in 1920—and in Canada 64 per cent. greater than in 1920.

ADVOCATES HUMAN STOCK BOOK

THE READING HABIT

The hope of the future of Canadian agriculture lies, in a very large measure, in the fact that our farmers as a class are readers of articles, bulletins and reports dealing with matters pertaining to the science and practice of farming. Furthermore, we venture to say they are for the most part readers with open minds, anxious to learn and, as far as circumstances permit to put into practice that which appeals to them as sound teaching. These statements may appear to some as decidedly optimistic but that they are not extravagant nor wide of the mark is the opinion of one who for more than thirty years has had an excellent opportunity of learning at first hand, the thought and aspirations of the Canadian farmer.

If statistics could be obtained, it would most probably be found that as regards the volume of its agricultural literature in active circulation, Canada considering her farming population, stands ahead of all countries. And there would not be this large output if there were not a demand for it. If such be the case we may conclude that apart from economic considerations, our prospects for progress, for more profitable farming are good.

The purpose of these few paragraphs is to stimulate and encourage the reading habit and particularly the reading by the young men and young women on the farm of matters pertaining to the chemistry of agriculture. The facts that chemistry reveal bear directly on foundation problems, such as the maintenance and increase of soil fertility, the economic production of larger yields of farm crops, the nutritive value of forage plants and feeding stuffs, the nature and use of manures and fertilizers, etc. There is scarcely a question in connection with soils, crops and stocks that chemistry does not throw some light upon. The more one reads the more one is impressed with the fact that chemistry offers most valuable information on practically every phase of farming and that this information may be made use of in a very direct way by the man on the land to his profit and advantage.

Our plan therefore is for more reading, careful, thoughtful reading. Acquire the habit of devoting fifteen minutes a day to the bulletins and reports of our agricultural institutions and the more educational articles and papers in the agricultural press. This material, in which this Dominion abounds, can be readily understood by an intelligent person; it does not call for a scientific education to unravel its meaning. Much of it can be obtained for the asking. Its perusal will make farm work more interesting and, if put into practice, more lucrative. Acquire the habit and you will never regret it.

Who is the person who knows what not to say and remembers not to say it; who knows what not to do and remembers not to do it.

Sensible girls say that the patent on patent leather soon expires.

You will not be disappointed if you expect some thing more than the ordinary service from an Exide Battery. And why be content with a battery that lacks vim and endurance?

LITERARY NOTES

"This Freedom", by A. S. M. Hutchinson, is beautifully written. Many a person who cares little for the modern novel might read it with enjoyment for its style alone. The theme one might call hackneyed, but in Mr. Hutchinson's hands no theme could fail of living interest. Moreover, the problem he attacks in this book is pregnant with vital issues in this our age. The heroine, though womanly in the extreme, desires a man's opportunity and a man's career in business. She is roused to great energy and purpose by the reading of Walter Bagehot's "Lombard Street". Opportunities come to her, but just as business success is within her grasp she falls helplessly in love and marries, with the understanding, however, that she pursue her chosen career, and share with her husband the expense of their home. Why such an arrangement should needs result in tragedy it is difficult to comprehend. But tragedy, sordid and terrible, does come. The author seems to find this the natural result of a wife and mother having business interests and an office outside her home; we would seek it rather in the morbid feeling that such conditions bring disaster infecting both husband and children. This wife and mother is a splendid creature, of far nobler essence than her very good husband, and immeasurably superior to her children. Yet they persistently lay the responsibility for their moral well being upon her, ignoring and resisting her efforts to bring them all to her own clean, generous plane of thought and life. "This Freedom" is a fascinating and powerful novel, fully worthy of its notable popularity. It is sold in Canada by McClelland & Stewart, Toronto.

"Indian Legends of Vancouver" is the title of a book by Alfred Carmichael, recently published by The Musson Book Company, Toronto. These stories are wonderfully interesting. There is a wealth of mythological lore among the aboriginals of Canada, doubtless as rich, once it is thoroughly explored, as that of the ancient Greeks. Mr. Carmichael learned all the tales save one from Ka-coop-et, an Indian acquaintance of his. That one, "The Legend of Eut-le-ten", was related to him by Mr. Swartout, a missionary, and is perhaps the most charming of all. It is a great pity that Canadian children are so little instructed in the mythology of our own Indians. They would grow up with a respect for the Indian imagination, and with a juster conception of the Indian character. I commend Mr. Carmichael's delightful book to all readers. I forgot to mention the illustrations, which are most attractive and enlightening.

WHY SHOULD I BELONG TO THE W. C. T. U.?

By Julia C. Turnbull

Why? Because the sympathy of every Christian woman is needed in a work having for its object the protection of the home. Why? Because in union there is strength. In union there is power. The most delicate threads when sufficiently multiplied will form the strongest cable. Forces when acting singly, says Salter, are utterly impotent but are, when acting in combination, resistless in their energies, mighty in power. This truth has been established by the forces of the W. C. T. U., the largest organization of women in existence—a society beneficent in purpose, and blessed by God from its commencement.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union was born of prayer and has been based upon Christianity. "Make a chain, saith the Lord, for the land is full of bloody crimes and the city is full of violence." The W. C. T. U. is a woman's chain that is fast encircling the land. Every Union organized is an added link and every member gives additional strength to the chain. By co-operation many things are possible that single individuals cannot bring about, and by it women are being helped socially and intellectually. This women's chain is for the protection of the home, of society, and of all humanity. "For God and home and every land."

"Why should I belong to the W. C. T. U.?" Because you are a woman, and to you is entrusted the moulding of the men and women of the future. The home is woman's kingdom, and the Christian work must begin in the home. Society is composed of households, and a woman reigns in the household. She must therefore mould society. If woman forms society, she must aid in forming society. To do this individual effort is not sufficient. Organization is most effectual. "Every wise woman buldeth her house, but the foolish plucketh it down with her hands." Not only does the wise woman build her house for the present, but for the future. It is not enough to build our own walls, but we must look to the walls of our neighbor.

"The Master is come and calleth for thee." Had I heard aright? Was the call for me? Was it I who was wanted? I listened again, and my heart incredulous filled with pain.

That was keen and bitter and hard to bear. No doubt there were others waiting there to answer the summons—the good, the strong.

And those who had served the Master long yet seemed that to me the message came. For coupled with it I heard my name. "The Master is come and calleth for thee." I felt at last the call was for me, and timidly answered the darkness through "Lord, what wilt thou that I should do."

This is the question for every woman to ask, when she enquires, "Why should I belong to the W. C. T. U.?"

Some folks will stoop pretty low to win a political job—but sometimes it is necessary for them to do so in order to be able to look their opponents in the eye.

"Lots of apples, fewer ills; fewer apples, lots of pills" is one of the slogans being used by English apple dealers in their advertising matter.

A PRAYER FOR LANDLORDS

There was a prayer in the prayer-book of Edward the Sixth, which would appear as suitable in Canadian towns, Wolfville included, at the present juncture. It was found among Sundry Godly Prayers for Divine purpose, and entitled a prayer for Landlords. It was as follows:

We heartily pray Thee to send Thy Holy Spirit into the hearts of them that possess the grounds and pastures of the earth, that they, remembering themselves to be thy tenants, may not rack or stretch out the rent of their houses or land, or yet take unreasonable fines or moneys after the manner of covetous worldlings, but so let them out that the inhabitants thereof may be able to pay the rents, and to live and nourish their families, and remember the poor. Give them grace also to consider that they are but strangers and pilgrims in this world, having no dwelling place but seeking one to come; that they remembering the short continuance of their life may be content with that which is sufficient, and not join house to house and land to land, to the improvement of others, but so behave themselves in letting their tenements, that after this life they may be received into everlasting habitation.

NOVA SCOTIA INDUSTRIES

sumed in towns and country side. Great progress has been made in the improvement of cows for dairy products. Referring to the Canada Year Book again, we find that in the 5 year period 1915-1920 Nova Scotia led in the average yield per acre in wheat, oats, potatoes, turnips, mangles, and hay against all Canada.

The raising of strawberries is another industry that has grown rapidly the last few years. Mrs. Cyrus and Manning Ellis of Port Williams established an industry in the exporting of strawberry plants as well as berries and are now the largest exporter in Canada. Last season they exported 1,650,000 plants. One half a million of these went to the Quebec Experimental Farm. They also exported 24,000 boxes of berries.

Country raising, too has taken rapid strides, poultry shows and exhibition encouraging this productive industry.

Bee culture bids fair to be a large industry, as not only the honey marketed, but the work of the bees in the orchards, make this a paying industry to the farmer.

When Nova Scotia comes into full possession of her industrial powers along the lines of dairying and bee culture, she will be like Canaan of old, "a goodly land, flowing with milk and honey."

Cynthia Stockley's famous story of South Africa

The sordidness of life in the lower strata of Transvaal society was a blow to Lady Vivienne, who came there to find wealth in the lands she owned and happiness in forgetting what had happened in her past. KIDS MAKE FISTS FLY

Good fist fights wherein the villain is knocked cold by the hero are to be seen in many photoplays, but Wesley Barry in his latest screen play, Gus Edwards' "School Days", which comes to the Opera House Nov. 13-14, furnishes a thriller when he encounters an expensively dressed little boy of wealthy parents who calls him a rube.

"Bet I can lick you," he calmly informed the other boy.

In big city amusement the well dressed lad looked Wesley over. "How's crops, Rube?"

"Who's them kids next door?" he asked.

"That's little Dorothy Lee, her servants and her cousin," he was informed.

"Then get me twicet as many servants—but no cousins!"

THE TRAFFIC IN HABIT-FORMING DRUGS

DR. J. G. SHEARER,
Social Service Council of Canada.

Addition to the use of habit-forming drugs such as opium, morphine and cocaine has assumed such large proportions and been so difficult to suppress and makes such terrible havoc, physical, mental and moral of its enslaved victims as to cause grave concern to leaders alike in Church and State. Parliament is always unanimous in making the Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act more effective. The only question raised by members in Commons or Senate is how best to accomplish the end sought.

The present Premier, Right Hon. W. L. MacKenzie King, then Minister of Labor, introduced the Act in 1911. It has been strengthened since under the Right Honourables Sir Robert Borden and Arthur Meighen and last session under the Hon. H. S. Beland, Minister of Health. The penalty was raised to seven years. Whipping was added where drugs are supplied to juveniles, and unnaturalized aliens convicted of offences were ordered deported after serving sentence.

It is interesting to note the distribution of this traffic in the provinces of the Dominion. The very latest figures supplied by the Federal Department of Health, giving the numbers for Federal convictions for the year ending 31st March, 1922 are as follows:—

Total Chinese non-Chinese
P. E. Island	0	0
Nova Scotia	9	1
New Brunswick	14	5
Manitoba	16	0
Ontario	66	52
Saskatchewan	88	73
Alberta	101	59
Quebec	237	133
Br. Columbia	315	300
Total	845	634

We have arranged these figures in ascending scale.

The first fact that stares one in the face is the tremendous proportion of Chinese in this summary of offenders, 634 out of 845. The new law attaching deportation as a penalty will probably in a few years materially alter these figures. It is likely that many, perhaps most of the Chinese offenders are not Canadian citizens and are therefore subject to deportation when convicted. These must either mend their ways or leave Canada.

It is interesting to note that no mention is made of Japanese or East Indians in this statement.

It is sometimes argued by those opposed to prohibition of the traffic in intoxicants that it results in increased addiction to the use of drugs. These official figures effectively knock the props from under this contention. The two provinces not under prohibition show 552 convictions out of 845 for all Canada. If the Chinese are left out the figures are 119 in these two provinces out of 211 in all Canada.

I do not argue that prohibition lessens the use of drugs but that it certainly does not increase it. British Columbia's quota of 15 omitting the Chinese which are more numerous there than in any other part of Canada is not abnormally large, being the same as Manitoba's and Saskatchewan's. But it is singular that in all the Western Provinces, leaving out the Chinese, the convictions are proportionately much larger than in Ontario and the Maritime Provinces.

Manitoba, Saskatchewan and British Columbia have 15 each and Alberta 42; Ontario 14 with a population of half a million more than the four combined. The case of Quebec is also not easily explained. Two hundred and thirty seven, including Chinese, or 104 not including them, is abnormal. This is certainly not to be charged up to the French Canadians. Out of the 237 in that Province only 21 are outside Montreal in an almost solid French population, and of these 21 only 11 are non-Chinese. This is highly creditable to Quebec outside Montreal. Montreal itself is the most perplexing. The Health Department's more complete report gives Montreal 216 including Chinese, or 93 without them in a population of perhaps 750,000. Compare this with the figures for the whole of the Maritime Provinces, 25 including Chinese, or 6 without them, out of a population of 1,000,000. Or compare it again with Ontario convictions—66 including Chinese, or 14 without them, out of a population of not much less than 3,000,000.

This can hardly be explained by the cosmopolitan character of Montreal's population. Winnipeg, Vancouver and other cities are quite as cosmopolitan in proportion to population as Montreal. And there is no finer type of population anywhere than the people of Montreal in general.

Montreal has had for many years an abnormally large and (at least negatively) tolerated colony of criminal, that is, commercialized social vice, as the reports of the Montreal Committee of Sixteen conclusively show.

Bearing in mind that social vice and narcotic drugs are twin evils and boon companions, each the cause and the effect of the other, is the explanation in whole or large part to be found in this fact?

WALL STREET PAYS FINE TRIBUTE TO CAPTAIN WALTERS

New York, Oct. 27.—Bulletins of the International Race were posted in Wall Street, and closely followed by enthusiastic crowds. When the Ford lost her topmast the following tribute to Captain Walters was written out and posted on the board.

"The name of Captain Walters of the Bluenose will go down in red-blooded history of fishing fleets as a true sportsman, for when the Ford lost her topmast the Canadian captain doused his big fisherman's staysail and foretop-sail putting Bluenose under the same handicap as its crippled rival. Walters had every right under rules to sail on under all canvas, but chose to play the game on even terms. When Bluenose's sail came down, old fishermen gasped with admiration for the Nova Scotia skipper."

If a boy earns 10 cents he wants it; he is not willing to trust the richest man alive.

NEW YORK TRIBUTE TO NOVA SCOTIA SPORTSMANSHIP

New York, October 26.—A staff correspondent of the Tribune in a despatch from Gloucester pays tribute to the sportsmanship shown by the Bluenose owners and her skipper and crew.

"In the chatter of controversy which deafened Gloucester during the first day or so," he says, "there arose an occasional tendency on the part of the more rabid partisans to impute unfair motives to the Canadian sailors and their representatives. Some unwise remarks have been made, and some of them have found their way into print.

"The record on this matter is clear. Angus Walters has given ground on every issue. The races have three times been postponed at the start to accommodate the Ford and technicalities which might have been claimed in the Lunenburg's favor have been waived.

"The responsible Gloucester citizens are unanimous in their praise of the Nova Scotian attitude throughout and nobody is louder in praise of the Bluenose and her crew than Clayton Morrissey, the Ford's lean skipper."

HARVEY HIRES HELP

Harvey Brown was known for his thrift. All his life he had managed to work his farm without help. Finally the day came when he had to have help or see part of his bumper crop lost. He telephoned the county agent.

"I want a farm hand to milk cows, feed, harness and separate milk until breakfast. Do field work morning and afternoon and chop a feed at noon hour. One who is handy with tools to help me build a new grainery in the evenings, and—"

"Say, mister, ring off!" interrupted a voice. "You're got the wrong number. This ain't Heaven."

He who is good, and not good for something, is no good to himself or anybody else.

Minard's Liniment for Distemper.

LIFE WAS MISERY!

"I was reading the other day about Neurasthenia, about the large number of people who were troubled with this disease. It is just what my wife had. She felt miserable all the time and was constantly depressed. She would waken in the morning and tell me that something dreadful was going to happen that day. Life was nothing short of misery for her. She was so depressed that I expected she would lose her mind and have to go to a sanitarium and I kept wondering how I would get the money to pay for her. She could not eat and had no appetite for food. She was irritable and cranky most of the time. If she was crossed in any way, she would immediately work herself up into a violent temper. This worried me because she had always had a kind and gentle disposition and nothing which was said or done seemed to irritate her. I spoke to our family doctor about her and he said that her trouble was imagination and that if she would try and forget about her depression and look on the bright side of life she would be all right. Of course I didn't dare tell her this because I knew she would get into one of her tempers. When she got over these fits of temper, she was always weak and ill and more depressed than ever. The doctor said a tonic might help her and gave me a prescription but this did not do her any good. She tried all kinds of other tonics with the same result. Carnol was recommended to me and I wish to state that it is the leader of all tonics. Since taking it my wife has changed completely. Now she is always ready for her meals and work is no burden. It is a pleasure for me to recommend Carnol to anyone who is in need of a tonic or a body builder. Excuse me for writing this letter but I want you to accept my thanks for that wonderful tonic known as Carnol." — Mr. J. H., Toronto.

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 7-622

EDITING THE ACADIAN

Getting out this journal is no picnic. If we print jokes, folks say we are silly. If we don't, they say we are too serious. If we publish original matter, they say we lack variety. If we publish things from other papers, we are too lazy to write. If we stay on the job, we should be out rustling advertising. If we rustle for advertising, we are not attending to business in our own department. If we don't print contributions, we don't show proper appreciation. If we do print them, we are accused of filling up with junk. Like as not some fellow will say we swiped this from an exchange. So we did.

FALL PREPARATION FOR THE VEGETABLE GARDEN

Probably no effort is so well repaid as that given to the development of a good vegetable garden. It is wise to make preparations for this in the fall, in order to realize the benefits accruing from the early sowing of many vegetable crops. There is really no good reason why the vegetable garden should not be prepared in the fall, except that the time necessary to do so is usually not given to it. It is assumed that a certain area is set aside for the vegetable garden. If this is not the case, by all means set aside a certain plot now, locating it reasonably near the house so that vegetables may be conveniently gathered with a minimum loss of time to the house wife.

Apply twenty to twenty-five tons of stable manure per acre. Ten pounds to the square yard is equal to twenty-four tons per acre. Plow this six to eight inches deep. If it cannot be plowed, dig it in. The amount of manure to apply will vary according to the way the soil has been previously manured. It is not wise to overfertilize, and if annual applications are made, probably five pounds per square yard will be quite sufficient.

It is desirable that certain areas should be ridged or mounded, to permit of ready drainage and early drying out of the soil. In these, carrots, beets and lettuce for very early use are seeded. Here also cabbage, cauliflower and celery are started for planting out later. There is very often difficulty in getting such plants in the spring. This may be overcome by giving a little thought now to the development of a spot where seed may be sown just as soon as the surface soil is dry to the depth of one or two inches. It is quite often possible to sow seeds outside on such a plot about the middle of April. The only reason why onions are so seldom a success in this country is that the seed is put in the soil the middle of May when they should have been planted a month earlier. For this early spring seeding surface working of the soil is all that is required, if the land has been fall prepared, and this can be done early if good drainage is provided by mounding up strips three to four feet wide as already indicated with a slight surface slope to give drainage.

It will be understood that, for spring growth, in addition to heat a readily available food supply is necessary. In old garden areas this is usually present, but if the garden plot is new, it may be necessary to use a little quick acting fertilizer to give the crops a start. One ounce per square yard of nitrate of soda or other active fertilizer is equal to three hundred pounds per acre; this amount is sufficient for any vegetable crop. If fertilizers are applied, it is wise not to make the mistake, so often made, of applying too large an amount without thoroughly mixing it with the soil. Surface applications of fertilizers like nitrate of soda very often kill the young plant just as it germinates; and for that reason it is much better to depend upon an application of stable manure well worked into the soil the previous fall. Many good prospects have been blighted by not using good judgment in the application of commercial fertilizers to small areas, either through applying too much, or through not thoroughly mixing into the soil, before seeding, that which has been applied.

W. S. Blair, Superintendent, Experimental Station, Kentville, N. S.

THE PUBLISHER'S RESPONSIBILITY

More and more difficult every day is the choice of good reading—the kind that nourishes the young and refreshes the old. One way to avoid mistakes is to choose the book or periodical that stands for something—that is not everlastingly supplying the sensational and silly. The Youth's Companion has always been published by men who felt a keen responsibility to their readers, and they have held steadfast to one purpose: to familiarize Companion readers with the best things in the world and by means of original articles and stories to illustrate the truth that the practice of the old, homely virtues brings the greatest satisfactions in life. Try it for a year and see.

GROCER IN SUIT AGAINST PAPER.

Canadian Grocer is a consistent advocate of the constant use of the columns of the home paper by Canadian grocers and strongly advocates that its subscribers spend a definite part of their turnover for this purpose, going so far as to suggest effective copy. An editorial in the Grocer of June 23 deals with an interesting incident wherein a newspaper gets into trouble for failing to insert a grocer's advertisement. The editorial is reproduced below:

"The action brought by a retail grocer against the newspaper of a town in the Western States, for failure to print his advertisement, alleging loss of sales to the extent of $1,000, is indicative of the value he placed on advertising as a means of stimulating business.

"In his statement of complaint he declares that he does depend very largely on advertising for business, and on account of the no-appearance of his advertisement his sales were $500 less than they would have been had the advertisement appeared. He asserts that on the Saturday preceding, and on which day a similar advertisement appeared, the sales made by the plaintiff amounted to $650, and that while on the following Saturday, the day on which the advertisement was not run in the paper, the sales were $350. On this day business was generally better, due to Labor Day following on Monday, and on account of the failure to insert the advertisement, the plaintiff claims he was damaged in the sum of $1,000.

"The outcome of the suit is not yet known, but it is interesting to note the definite turnover that this merchant credits as directly due to his advertising. The use of the newspaper space as a means of stimulating sales and keeping the name of a merchant before the public cannot be underestimated, and when coupled with display of the proper sort and effective selling talks, is always productive of results."

Fully sixty million coconut trees are under cultivation in Ceylon.

A CONNOIPTION VARIETY

The customer at the second-hand clothing store was far from being satisfied, but, on the insistence of the proprietor that everything was all right, finally consented to take the suit.

"I'm not at all sure yet that I've a fit," he complained.

"You just go home and take a look at yourself in the glass" rejoined the proprietor, pocketing the money, "and you'll have one all right." —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Doug. and Mary in Canada

(2) Mary and Doug, posed for the camera on arrival at Windsor Station, Montreal. As a souvenir of his trip, Doug, holds a C.P.R. porter's cap.

"I HAVE had a wonderful trip, over the Rockies, I think they are equally as beautiful as the Alps and as for Lake Louise, it was almost too wondrously beautiful to be real. I want to stage a fairy tale there." So said Mary Pickford, the famous moving picture actress, on arrival in Montreal after a trip over the Canadian Pacific Railway from Vancouver.

Mary was accompanied by her husband, Douglas Fairbanks, her mother, and Mr. and Mrs. John Fairbanks. The party stopped off at Lake Louise, Alberta. After spending the morning viewing the beautiful scenery at Lake Louise and climbing the Saddle Back mountain, the party left by motor for Banff, where Doug was especially keen to have a swim in the Banff Springs bathing pool. A few minutes stop was made at Johnston Canyon. The party then proceeded directly on to Montreal, stopping only an hour in Winnipeg.

Both Doug. and Mary expressed themselves as delighted with Canada and "elated" every moment spent in the Canadian Rockies.

"We have always wanted to take this trip through the Canadian Rockies," said Mary, "and it is more beautiful than our expectations. We were perfectly fascinated, too, with Victoria.

"In Vancouver," said John Fairbanks, brother of Doug., "we had a tremendous reception. Doug. had to carry Mary, while my own wife was swept away from me like a chip on the stream. I have been with Mary and Doug., and Charlie Chaplin through many Liberty Loan drives, but we never had a reception like this.

Mrs. Pickford said that it was always her custom in such a rush to hide until the danger was over, so she fled to safety behind a door knowing that as soon as Mary got settled she would send for her.

When questioned as to Canada being a field for the moving picture industry Douglas Fairbanks stated that the mountains would make a marvellous background, but the essential thing was the story. "I would love to make a Canadian picture if I could get the right kind of a story," he said.

PORT WILLIAMS AND VICINITY

The Women's Institute meets on Thursday (2nd). This is the annual business meeting, when the officers for the ensuing year are appointed and a large attendance of the members is hoped for. The roll call will be responded to with favorite quotations, prose or poetry. The annual offering for the Children's Aid Society, whose splendid work Mr. Stairs has so often put before the Institute, will also be taken that day.

Last week the community was quite gay with parties. A dance was held on Monday evening at Mrs. Marriots, on Tuesday at Mrs. (Dr.) Fullertons, on Friday at Miss Laura Hansons, and Saturday at Mrs. (Dr.) Zwicker's.

Mr. Lew Thompson, who has had charge of the Men's Ready Made Clothing of G. A. Chase's Dry Goods store, left on Saturday to accept a position in Boston. He will be greatly missed in the store where by his genial manner and unflinching courtesy he was a favorite with the customers.

Master Ivan Frazer entertained a number of his school friends on Monday afternoon in honor of his sixth birthday.

Mrs. Arthur Winter, Lake George, Yarmouth county, is the guest of her sister Mrs. Capt. Eldridge. Mr. Winter will join his wife and spend Thanksgiving here.

Miss Gladys Newcombe, who was operated on at Westwood Hospital for appendicitis, is now convalescing at her home.

Mrs. Alice Gillett, who has been the guest of her brother C. A. Campbell for the past three years, left on Thursday to visit her sister Mrs. Newcombe in Walpole, Mass.

Miss Florence Magee has gone to Boston en route to Alberta where she will visit her brother Ernest who is located there.

Capt. Eldridge had the misfortune to fall and break a rib last week. Though still confined to the house he is improving.

Donald Ellis, of Belcher Street, and Robert Chave, of Church Street left on Monday to attend Agricultural College at Truro.

Mr. and Mrs. Ibsen are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Oct. 21st.

Miss Lilian Sutton returned to her work in Boston on Saturday.

Several from here attended the Acadia vs. Mt. Allison football game at Wolfville last Thursday.

Miss Gwendolyn Fullerton entertained a number of friends with dancing on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. A. H. Chipman, of Hampton, N. B., was a guest at the Parsonage last week.

Rev. O. N. Chipman left on Monday to attend the executive meeting at Toronto of the Canadian Foreign Missionary Board.

Mrs. Chipman is visiting her mother at Lawrencetown, N. S.

Mrs. Geo. Starr, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. O. G. Cogswell, Miss Rand, Mrs. Collins and Mrs. L. Woodworth, Jr. attended the Institute meeting in Kentville on Monday, called by Miss MacDougall, of Truro, for the purpose of forming an organization to facilitate the work of the County Institute. Mrs. G. Starr was appointed President; Mrs. Partriquin, of Wolfville, 1st. Vice President; Mrs. Ward, of Canning, 2nd. vice President; Mrs. Sanford, of Coldbrook, Sec-Treas. The Executive Committee is made up of representatives of each Institute.

Amis ice Day is again to be observed as a remembrance of the closing of the World War, on Saturday Nov. 11th. Rev. A. J. Prosser, of Canard, will deliver an address.

The Hallow'en celebrations were carried off very quietly here. The boys and girls wore costumes, calling at seven o'clock, making considerable noise and howling their Jack O' Lanterns, but no damage was done or inconvenience to anyone.

Hon. George P. Graham announced at a memorial dedication in London, Ontario, recently that Canada is negotiating for the purchase of Vimy Ridge, it being the intention of the Government to maintain that famous battle ground as a park to perpetuate the memory of the Canadians who fell in that gallant exploit. This sacred soil of a foreign land would then be in truth, as in imagination, forever Canada.

NOVA SCOTIA INDUSTRIES

(By Lucy Cogswell, prize winning essay at the Port Williams School Exhibition)

The industrial power of Nova Scotia has not yet attained the measure of its possibilities, warranted by the richness and variety of its natural resources.

Lord Grey, in a speech shortly before leaving Canada said, "After three years study of Canada, I am prepared to hold the field against the world on this proposition—that, great as are the resources, advantages, and attractions of the sister provinces, Nova Scotia need not be afraid to put her charms against those of the sister provinces however fair they may be. If the people of Nova Scotia do no reach greatness, they have only themselves to blame."

Thomas Chandler Haliburton, who, during the winter of 1837-38 contributed humorous sketches to the "Nova Scotian", under the nom de plume of "Sam Slick", wrote of Nova Scotia, "I don't know what more you'd ask, almost an island, indented everywhere with harbors, surrounded with fisheries; the key of the St Lawrence, the Bay of Fundy, and the West Indies; prime land above, one vast mineral bed beneath, and a climate over all, temperate, pleasant and healthy. If that ain't enough for one place, its a pity."

Nova Scotia stands third among the provinces of the Dominion in the value of her manufactured products, which increased from $23,592,056 in 1900, to $176,369,025 in 1917. This enormous increase was due to war conditions. In 1920 the Canada Year Book gives the value at $70,860,756. The most important manufactures are fish products, iron and steel, but c-r-works, manufacture of logs and lumber, show figures running from 3 to 6 millions of dollars each.

Apart from these we have the Electric Light and Power, Textiles and Clothes, Hats and Caps, Condensed milk, Chocolates, Biscuits, Paint, Sugar Refining, and many smaller lines of manufactures. The recent development of our water-power promises to contribute materially to manufacturing in our province. It is estimated that there is a dependable supply for hydro-electric purposes of nearly 350,000 horse power.

The tripod on which the iron and steel industry rests is coal, iron and limestone. From it we have the manufacture of Railway materials, mining machinery, guns, armor plates, shafts, anchors, ships, bridges, agricultural implements, autos, boilers and engines.

The coal leg of this tripod is wholly Nova Scotian. It is estimated that at the present rate of consumption of from 5,000,000 to 7,000,000 tons per annum, we have coal-fields enough to last over 1000 years. We possess the only coal measures in America, on the Atlantic Sea-board. This coal mining industry is carried on in Pictou, Inverness, Cumberland and Victoria Counties. The value of the coal industry for 1920 was $34,080,000.

Iron deposits are found in 10 out of 18 counties. The mines opened in Annapolis county yielded 350,000 tons between 1891 and 1913. This mine as well as the one at Londonderry opened in 1849 and worked till 1908 are now idle. Iron can be brought from Wabana, Newfoundland, where there are immense stores, cheaper than to mine it in Nova Scotia.

Limestone, the third necessity in steel manufacture is obtainable in many parts of the province, notably in Cape Breton. The Iron and Steel industries established at Sydney and New Glasgow, have already assumed large proportions and may be extended to an almost unlimited degree. The Dominion Iron and Steel Co. and the Nova Scotia Steel Co. are now merged into the British Empire Steel Corporation.

The normal production of the old companies up to the war period was $10,000,000 and during the war period this was increased to over $15,000,000. When the labor problem again becomes normal and immigration resumed, this production of coal and steel will be largely increased.

The gold-mining industry has been seriously interfered with since the war, on account of scarcity of labor and difficulty in procuring fuel. Gold mines have been operated since 1800 in Halifax, Yarmouth and Guysboro counties. The average yield to 1917 has been 19,130 ounces, the highest record being in 1898, when 31,104 ounces were extracted.

A splendid grade of sandstone is quarried in Cumberland county. It has a greenish-grey color and is used for building purposes. Several public buildings in Amherst, Truro and as far west as Hamilton and Toronto, having been built of it.

Granite is found in Annapolis, Lunenburg, Shelburne, Halifax and Guysboro Counties, and is used for buildings and monument. This is a valuable industry. Pictou shipped 300 tons of granites in 1919. The stone from this quarry is noted for its fineness and durability. Lime is only manufactured by one firm in Nova Scotia. This produced 748,316 tons in 1918, valued at $149,663. Hants county is rich in plaster rock quarries, which shipped almost entirely to New York for manufacture.

The clay-working industry is confined to common red brick made from surface clay. The shale beds of New Glasgow furnish an industry of making sewer pipes, while small quantities of field drawn tile is made at the brick plant in Avonport, Kings County. Excellent stoneware clays are found at Shubenacadie and Middle Musquodoboit, but the manufacture of pottery has not yet been attempted in Nova Scotia, except a small plant at Enfield, Colchester County, where ordinary red-flower pots are made.

The lumber industry, while not as great as some of our sister provinces, is still a vital part in our industry, yielding an annual revenue of nearly $10,000,000. The home consumption in 1918 amounted to 150,000,000 feet, while up to 1917, we exported annually to the United Kingdom, United States and the West Indies, about 100,000,000 feet. The manufacture of furniture, shoe lasts, pegs, cloth pins, and other lines for which both hard and soft woods are essential, has only begun to be utilized and is capable of expansion.

According to the Canada Year Book for 1920, the value of the fisheries of Nova Scotia for 1919 was $ 5 171,929, standing second in the whole Dominion. We have a slice of the largest lobster region in the world and our cod fishing industry is only second in the world. We lease an area of 1250 acres of oyster beds. We have cold storage plants for fish at Mulgrave, Canso, Halifax, Lockport and Port Hawkesbury.

The fishery has been called Nova Scotia's "primal industry", in that the fish are self-propagating every year and the young fish reach a marketable size without care or attention from man, and that there is always a bountiful supply to be caught.

Shipbuilding was once a great industry in Nova Scotia, but steam destroyed the business of modern ships. The war revived the building of ships and small craft again for a few years. Lunenburg has the honor of building the "Buenos" fishing schooner, which beat the American schooner "Elsie" in the International Race at Halifax.

The arming industry I have reserved until the last because it is the greatest. It supports more families and produces more wealth than any other single industry. Its returns for 1920 were valued at $49,456,000. Its advancement in the last twenty years has been great and its possibilities for future achievement is much greater. Out of 13,493,671 acres of land in the province, only about 25 per cent or 3,260,455 acres have yet been cleared and of the remaining 2,102,906 acres a great many are rough pasture land.

We have in the Annapolis valley no superior on the American continent in our apple-growing industry. Climatic conditions are undoubtedly more favorable in many of the fruit growing areas in America but improved methods of fertilizing and spraying have enabled the fruit growers to produce good crops year by year.

In 1880 we exported 30,000 bbls. In 1911 the extraordinary crop of 1,800,000 bbls. was produced and last year over 1 1/2 millions were exported. S. B. Chute of Berwick, is the largest grower of the province, 14,000 bbls. being gathered from his orchards last season. Previous to 1917, we looked to Great Britain as our principal market, but the embargo on shipping apples last year, induced the shippers to look for new markets. Nova Scotia's splendid shipping facilities enable her to take advantage of practically all the markets of the world. Last season apples were sent to Copenhagen, Denmark, and other European countries, as well as South America and South Africa.

Next to fruit growing is the dairy industry, which is now worth from 10 to 15 millions of dollars annually. Notwithstanding the dry season of July and August 1921 the 23 creameries of Nova Scotia produced over 3,000,000 lbs. of butter and to this must be added the home dairy products, of old and
