THE UBQUITOUS PRINCE OF WALES.

[London World.]

At the present moment the Prince of Wales is a wanderer upon the face of the earth. He may be back with us once more in one or two weeks, or two days. Who will venture to predict when he may be ordered off again? When one thinks of his locomotive powers which his Royal Highness is compelled to display, and adaptation of some lines from a popular comic opera, which are now in every one's lips irresistibly suggests itself. Of the Prince of Wales it may truly be said that, of being "A Marlborough House young man, A Pall Mall and Park young man," he is, by hard fate, compelled to be "A car and saloon young man, A cabin and deck young man,
A Calais and Dover-y
All the world over-y Steamboat and train young man."
But that is not all. The Prince of Wales is not only the greatest traveller of his time; he is perpetually condemned to travel on commission. When he goes to Vienna or St. Petersburg, it is as the representative of the great firm at home. He is literally stuffed with trade samples. He appears before the world, not in his capacity as the future monarch of an empire on which the sun never sets, but as Britannia's bagman. All persons have heard of travellers in American "notions," the Prince of Wales is a traveller in English notions.
Now he travels in smiles and now in tears. One week he sets forth to Russian capital to prove to its inhabitants how fine a stock of sympathetic mourning is kept always on hand in these islands; the next he starts off for the gay metropolis of Austria with a choice selection of jocos sayings and a countenance expressive of radiant happiness.
Between the fulfillment of these commissions he has executed several little jobs of an analogous character at home. He has paid his tribute to departed greatness in an English chryard and a day or two later has produced his best specimens of beaming-ly sympathetic gladness on the occasion of a nuptial ceremony in an ancient shrine. But his business and its associations have systematically accompanied him, and whenever he has shown himself he has been forcibly reminded by facts that, whatever he may be in the future, he is at the present travelling agent of the house of Hanover and Guelph.

PAPAL CONSISTORY.

The Pope on Thursday held a consistory at which twenty-one cardinals were present. The Pope referred to the recent disturbance. The Observatore vomano says the Pope declared that the disturbances proved that the Vicar of Christ enjoyed neither liberty nor safety in Rome. He was, however, prepared to confront the dangers of the future,

PIRACY IN THE CHINA SEAS.

(London Times.)
A letter from Hong Kong received at Plymouth furnishes details of the attack by Chinese pirates on a German bark. The "Occident" left Hong Kong on the 28th of April, and after lying in the Ly-ee-moon that night, proceeded on her voyage. Two Chinese junks were seen on the same course as the ship an hour later. One of the junks went quite near the ship to starboard, interfering so much with the course the ship was steering that she was compelled to change it. When requested to get clear from the ship the junk people said they could not in consequence of the wind. Suddenly the junks steered direct to starboard, and stinkpots and firecrackers were thrown on board the ship from the masthead and other parts of the junks A Chinese sailor who was steering was wounded by a bullet in the right shoulder, but not seriously. The captain who boarded the vessel to the number of between twenty and thirty. One of the pirates made a lunge at him with a spear. He was then driven to the fore part of the ship, placed under guard, and threatened with serious consequences in the event of his offering any resistance. The mate, a European, was treated in the same way.
The piratical band then began to search the ship. They took from the captain's cabin a silver watch and gold chain, a telescope and some money. They also took everything that was valuable from the cabins of the mate and boatswain. The latter, also a European, was asleep in his cabin when attacked by the pirates, who threw stinkpots into his cabin, which woke him up. Escaping by the skylight on to the deck, he was at once surrounded and roughly handled, then taken by force to where the captain and mate were, and warned and threatened as they had been. From the Chinese crew on board, the robbers took everything of value.
From the supercargo they took $382 in money and his clothes.
From the ship they took two lanterns and four rolls of canvas.
They finally conducted the captain back to his cabin, and told him to show them where the money on board was. He assured them they had already taken all. They warned him again that he had better be quiet, and went off. On the captain coming on deck, shortly afterward, they were making off.

SITTING BULL INTERVIEWED.

Fort Yates, Dak, Aug 4.—An extended interview has been had with Sitting Bull. He says he was born near old St. George on Willow creek, below the mouth of the Cheyenne river, and believes he is about 44 years old. His father was the famous Indian chief Jumping Bull. He says: "I am chief by inheritance as well as by deeds of bravery." He has with him two wives and nine children, including twins. After himself he regards Four Horns the greatest of living chiefs. When asked why he had surrendered, he denied having done so. He says when he went to Fort Bu-fort he did so with the intention of remaining only a few days and did not understand that he had given himself up. He shall now demand of the Government that it shall set him free. He was asked in what way he considered the Government wronged him, but gave an evasive reply, saying that he had never had either misunderstandings or agreements with the Government, had never made any treaties with the whites, never sold them any lands, and never made war upon the United States. Without ever having committed any depredations upon the white man, or the white

INDIAN WAREFARE.

Fort Craig, N. M., Aug. 4.— O'Neil, a wounded miner, reports that the Indians ambushed and fired upon nine Americans and twenty-six Mexicans in Colorado Canyon, 35 miles from the Americans and Mexicans for a while were demoralized. The fight lasted from 11 30 till dark. Nine men were wounded, and one killed, and two were missing. The Indians were seen to pack their dead on horses. They captured all the American and Mexican stock, and left them afoot. The commander of the whites was evidently unfamiliar with the Indian methods of fighting. Indian scouts and coloured soldiers went in pursuit of the ambuscaders. Evidently more than one party of Indians are out, and Mescaleros has undoubtedly been reinforced by Nina, the chief of Victoria's remnant. More fighting must take place soon, as the Indians are now surrounded on all sides by scouting parties, while a good sized outfit is on their trail.
They will no doubt try to make back into Mexico.

THE LABOURERS' STRIKE IN IRELAND.

The laborers' strike is everywhere extending. At Queenstown, Malloy, and different centres of labor, men have joined the movement. The strike has merged into general agitation for an increase of wages. In several instances the farmers have agreed to the terms asked. In the great majority of cases, however, the farmers are holding out. The laborers are going through the country in large bodies, visiting the farmer's houses, and inducing the laborers to join their movement. Up to the present no violence has been offered. They are pursuing the agitation quietly but effectively. They were blowing a horn through the country, and the police of Ballincolling, who accompanied them so as to prevent any breach of the peace, requested them to desist from this practice and they did so.
Farm laborers have heretofore been paid six shillings a week, with house or cabin rent free.
They have been in the habit of paying at the rate of £15 an acre for potato ground, and six shillings per quarter for the grass of a sheep. They demand an increase of one shilling per week in their wages, the reduction of the rent for potato ground to £10 an acre, and the grass of a sheep free.

It is stated in London that a deputation of prominent Conservatives is about to go to Ireland, to enquire into and report on the relative condition of laborers living respectively under and working for resident and non-resident landlords and farmers.

The object of the deputation is to form a basis to its report for legislation upon the labor question.

TWO PICTURES.

This is what the great Edmund Burke says of the duty of a Representative. We want Mr. Snowball and his friends to read it:—

MEAN AND UNGENTLEMANLY.

The Newcastle boat was on her way down to Chatham Saturday last near noon, and there were a good many persons on board of her. Some of these came from Newcastle and some from Douglastown, and some were commercial travellers. They talked in groups upon various topics; and Mr. called Hon., Richard Hutchison, "brought down" politics. He was in conversation with a commercial traveller. He said the tariff was ruining everything and that "Tilley the scoundrel" was a "curse to the country."

"I suppose you want an office from Tilley, and that is why you put in your name." "No Sir," said Mr. Vye, "I do not want an office from Mr. Tilley, nor from you; though you had it in your power to give me one. But I hesitate not to rebuke you for your slander, and for so far forgetting yourself as a man."

"I can prove Tilley is a scoundrel," said the old man, "and more than that I can tell you, Peter Mitchell will not dare to show his nose round here again. Ah! don't you forget it!"

"I was only speaking of Sir Leonard Tilley and the unmanly and shameful accusations you have made against him," said Mr. Vye, "as for Hon. Peter Mitchell, he will be here again Sir, and will be elected for this county again Sir, and in spite of you."

The old man foamed, and raged, and swore, but nobody took any further notice of him. The boat landed and Mr. Thomas Vye came to the Star office, and authorized us to use his name in the above connexion.

It is a matter for no regret that the reign of Mr. Hutchison is over for ever. The man who could so outrage the decencies and the proprieties of social life, is better removed from the ways of men. What a man like Mr. Hutchison says against a gentleman like Sir Leonard Tilley is of no account taken by itself, but it is valuable inasmuch as it shows the kind of stuff of which the Liberal party in Northumberland is made.

and uncouth set of subjects, narrow in their sphere as his own soul, and beyond which that questionable tenant of his never travels in the whole cycle of his lifetime. Nor would he for all the deals he has at Douglastown, or all the property he has ever wrangled from weeping widows and orphans, dare to insult Hon. Peter Mitchell to his face. The only reply Mr. Mitchell would give, would be to wring the old man's nose for him, according to the nature of the offense; and in such any other kind of response would be quite beyond the rule of the eternal fitness of things.

We may now, as we are at it, inform our readers that it is this same Mr. Hutchison with his son Mr. Ernest, the local member! who wrote down to the manager of a business house in St. John some months ago saying they learned that the said business house was advertising in the Chatham Star, and if this were so they should cease doing business with the said firm!

THEN AND NOW.

There is a certain man in this community and he does not live a thousand miles away who one time painted the "Youngs" as little less than the angels. At the time of the Caragnet riots his sympathies were for the "Youngs," and his censure for the rioters. All the time that Hon. Wm. Kelly had office and spoils to give, he shadowed him, as does the prairie coyote who scents a feast. He defended all the bad actions of the King-Kelly-Killam Government; and approved of the proclaming of provincial debentures, and the erection of swindle alleys so long as he got his share in the plunder. Mr. Kelly fudging him a pious and unscrupulous tool, and wanting such a person on the spot to maintain his local standing, paid him well for all the assistance he rendered. It was this same man who entered into contract with the Government, upon his own recognizances as a man of honor to perform certain work, — he received the pay, (over $2,000) for work in advance, and from that day to this has not performed his part of the bargain.

Mr. Kelly's downfall soon came, and all the unprincipled swarm that grew into existence out of his reign, had now to fall back upon resources of their own. But in the hour of his adversity they all left him; and those who looked on could not help exclaiming:

But yesterday the word of Caesar might Have stood against the world; now lies he there And none so poor as do him reverence.

This same viper whom he fed, now that he had power to give no more, rose up and stung him. He tried to fasten on to the successors of the Government of which he was the unscrupulous hireling, but they shook him off. Hon. M. Adams would not have him; so now he poses as a purist in politics, as the censor of the Local Government and as an honest man! Sic vultere paras!

"EFFETE TITLES."

Hon. Edward Blake has yet had no offer of a Knighthood, sees no prospect of being offered one, and therefore rails against "Effete titles, that relic of feudalism." It is hardly necessary and besides not to our purpose to point out that these effete titles are not "a relic of feudalism," in any sense of the word, but it would be interesting surely to observe how Sir Albert, and Sir Richard relish the attacks on honors for which they would sacrifice a great deal. But Mr. Blake ought not to forget the sad example of Dr. Johnson who defamed "pension" as "a reward given to a state hireling for treason to his country," and afterwards accepted a pension himself. Mr. Blake is born but he is not buried, and we know not, and he knows not, but before he dies he may be offered an effete title himself—to which he would have about as much repugnance as Mr. Anglin would have to being drawn through the streets by "men degraded to the beasts of burthen."

MORE MEANNESS.

The editor of the Sun learns that a certain Colonel Warren attended the Fenian Convention at Chicago, and then insinuates that perhaps Warren is a cousin of the Hon. T. W. Anglin. This is rather a mean style of warfare, and the editor of the Sun should be the last man to trace the career of people's relatives. If he looked round among his own he might find them in more respectable places than even attending a Fenian Convention. "People who live in glass houses, etc."

A correspondent, some enterprising American no doubt, now says that the Pope has been recommended by his advisers to leave Rome and fix his See in some part of America. We merely publish the rumor to show our readers what folly is sent over the cables and paid for by news agents.

DEATH OF MISS SHARKEY AT FREDERICTON. One day early in last week Miss Susan, daughter of O. Sharkey, Esq., of Fredericton, returned from morning devotions, and the day being very hot bathed her feet in cold water. She immediately took cramps and died on Thursday. The bereaved parents and family, who are highly respected by the community, have the deepest sympathy of all who know them. It is seldom a death like this comes to be recorded. It is seldom one hears of a life so well lived, so pious and so exemplary as was Miss Sharkey's. She has always shunned the world, living in seclusion, in devotional exercises, and performing works of charity. For all this now, we have little doubt but she is reaping her reward. Of the funeral says the Capital:—

"The funeral of Miss Sharkey (who departed this life last Thursday) took place this morning, at 9 o'clock, from her late residence, near the Barker House. The principal mourners were Owen Sharkey, Esq., Mr. James T. Sharkey (the father and brother of the deceased,) and (in a carriage immediately following were the mother and sisters of the deceased. The pall-bearers were T. G. O'Connor, Esq., James Dever, Esq., Thomas Lucy, and Messrs. T. A. Sharkey, Peter Farrell, and J. Owens, Jr. The procession was very long, embracing gentlemen of all denomination and of the highest standing in the community. On the arrival of the cortege at the door of St. Dunstan's Church, it was met by the Rev. Father Precilius and Acolytes, the organ, and while, (under the hands of Miss Dowling) playing the Dead March in "Saul" with great solemnity. As the body was carried into the Church, the Rev. Father Precilius, who was officiating, said in the Mass, that the Rev. Father Precilius, the clear voices of a very efficient choir assisting, all through the Mass, in rendering the case one of unusual impressiveness. The Rev. Father McDevitt was also in attendance, and assisted at the close of the Mass. A very large congregation were present, who exhibited unmistakable evidences of sadness all through the service. The remains were interred in the new Roman Catholic Cemetery. We extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy for them in their sorrow."

CONSPIRACIES AGAINST THE CZAR.

Despite the watchful precautions that have been taken, it has been again made startlingly certain that the Nihilists are even now close to the person of the Emperor, and are liable to make an attack upon his life at any moment. On Thursday night a letter threatening the Czar's death was found on a table in the Imperial bed-room, a room which was supposed to be strongly guarded, and to which access can be had only by the most thoroughly trusted of the Czar's attendants. The officer who was on guard at the time and four servants of the palace have been arrested. A conspiracy, most wide in its ramifications, has been discovered in St. Petersburg, having for its object the surprise and assassination of the Imperial family at midnight in their residence at Peterhoff. The police arrested a boat which had succeeded in passing the cordon of Russian guardships and a search disclosed papers showing that sixty conspirators some of high rank, were concerned in the plot.

THE ARGENTINE ELECTIONS.

To-day the election will be held in Argentu. Mr. Abbott was unseated there for alleged bribery etc., on the part of his agents; but it is not a little significant that up to the moment of writing we have not heard of any opposition to Mr. Abbott, by Dr. Christie or any of the Friars. Probably it will be an acclamated election—otherwise it will be a brilliant victory for the Government candidate. Who says the opposition are gaining anything is not informed.

DON CARLOS.

Don Carlos has been expelled from France, and has taken up his residence pro tempore in London. It appears he claims he is the only rightful sovereign of Spain, and not only that but being descended of Henry IV and Louis XIV, claims as well to be the heir apparent of the throne of France. It was feared and with some reason he would soon stir up the extreme legitimists in France if he remained there, and embroil both countries; so they sent the prince of rebellion off.

DR. TAMMER.

Dr. Tammer now "wants" to fast ninety-five days. We do not see why anyone ought to object.

On the contrary you will effect your masters case more than you will the Acadians. There is a time not far distant, that we will repay the way you insulted and ridiculed us, when your master comes for support among the Acadians. We will then direct him to seek help from his manager who ridiculed and scoffed at us. I kindly thank you Mr. Editor for your kind assistance in defending the Acadians; and will in future support the party who will not insult us. Yours, etc., ACADEMIAN.

I am informed that our popular Surveyor General has visited the St. Joseph Settlement road last week, and was satisfied with work done there. He has also visited a number of by roads and has visited the bridge on the Robicheaux road leading to Fair Isle, which is much repaired, and I hope he will authorize the bridge to be built immediately. There is another bridge which is most dangerous to the public and I am sorry the Surveyor General was not informed of the fact when he came down, it is the bridge at Mr. Peter Davidson's over Burnt Church River. This bridge was destroyed by the big storm two years ago and was temporarily repaired to cross on until a new bridge would be built. I hope Mr. Adams will take the matter into consideration and with the assistance of our M. P. P. A. Davidson, authorize the bridge to be built. I hope also, that the Surveyor General has examined our Great Road, and have no doubt that he has found said road in very bad repair especially immediately after it being repaired; and I can assure you Mr. Editor, as long as the same supervisor will be left in office our Great Roads will be in a bad condition. Every year the Government placed in the same Supervisor hands a nice round sum to expend in his district and on the day of sale he expends it at Public Auction a very small sum of money and after the sale he has a number of persons under him working on the road under private contract. I can assure you Mr. Editor, that a great deal of money expended by the supervisor is expended by private contract, and the most of the money expended by him is near home. There are bad places where culverts under bridges are never looked at and there are some parts of this Parish it seems to me, that he does not want to expend any money on. I think he has taken his defeat in the election of Counsellors so hard that he is not over it yet. The people of Alwicks have long ago looked for a new supervisor and I hope the Hon. Surveyor General will take the matter into consideration.

The crops are very fair down here. The potato bug has made its appearance. The weather is very unfavorable for hay making. Bears are visiting our farmers cattle. Last week they killed a fine heifer belonging to Mr. S. Savoy of Fair Isle and a cow belonging to Mr. John Hamilton of New Jersey, and as different persons have been seen in day time I have no doubt but they will kill more cattle and other animals. Having had occasion to spend an evening in Neguac Bay, I examined the lights of the different stations and can only say they are all very good lights. The light on Hay Island, recently erected, is a great benefit to navigation. There is a schooner loading hemlock bark in Neguac harbor. I am informed the captain had to travel to Chatham, a distance of over 30 miles, to enter and clear his vessel. "As the harbor of Neguac and Burnt Church has no Customs officer, I trust the Dominion Government will take the necessary steps to appoint some person to that office. I have no doubt that our Senator, Hon. Wm. Mainbrace, will take the matter in hand and cause the Government to appoint some person Custom officer for the said harbor. We are fairly entitled to one Custom officer. Hoping the Dominion Government will appoint the officer in question, I remain, Yours, etc., Z.

LETTER FROM "ACADIAN"

To the Editor of the Star.— Sir,—Having the liberty to read a Chatham paper since sometime ago, the two last editions have I see the worst abuse against the French Acadians of this Parish, for what reason I do not know. But Mr. Editor I will inform your readers and the insulter and also his master J. B. Snowball, our M. P. that the immit given by that paper to the French Acadians of this place will not be forgotten. I was a strong supporter of J. B. Snowball since his two elections, but can assure you Mr. Editor that the result of the paper's insulting manner, will oblige me and a great many others (not only in Neguac,) but all over the county, to oppose J. B. Snowball in future. I do not see the reason why the French Acadians cannot enjoy their own privilege without being found fault with. As to the meeting and address referred to by the paper I can only say there was a meeting called for the purpose of appointing a delegation to present an address to Hon. Sir E. L. Langevin at Chatham on behalf of the French Acadians of Alwicks. The meeting was largely attended, notwithstanding the short notice of meeting. The meeting was chiefly of Mr. Snowball's cidevant supporters. The meeting was a non-party one and I can assure you Mr. Editor it gave the meeting a great pleasure to be able to meet for the purpose therein stated. In welcoming the Hon. Sir Langevin we welcomed a gentleman who will compare favourably with those who oppose him and the delegation who was appointed to present the address will also compare with the insulter and those who went round the street of the Town of Chatham to laugh at the French delegates. You can insult us Mr. "Manager" as much as you like; you cannot injure us in the least.

Deals have advanced in the market 10 shillings sterling per ton. This is good news for the lumbermen. Taken care of. The Neif family of Oak Point, afflicted with diphtheria, was removed day to the Hotel Dieu Hospital, Chatham, where they will be attended by the sisters of that benevolent institution.

Sir Hector Langevin will leave on the 18th inst., on a tour of inspection through Ontario, and according to his itinerary which is before us, reach the Capital again on the 31st inst.

Sir Hector L. Langevin spends days at Saguenay, with his family; Leonard Tilley will be at St. Ag. for a week.

A Model Farm. If an admirer of first class hay cultivation would drive to Black Brook, look at the old "Blake farm" he would be delighted. This farm is now managed by Messrs A. & R. Loggie, and is a model farm. It stretches from the old mill pond. In past years were from 8 to 10 tons of hay cut and stacked every week, and over 40 bushels of wheat. This shows intelligence, energy and muscle made on a farm.

Narrow Escape. Messrs T. B. Williston, Luther Williston and Robert Williston on the 14th, were attempting to take a boat about 20 M. H. deals to Bay du Vin, they left late Saturday night, and on one of the Islands near Point of Bay du Vin, and downwards to the of the harbor, when the timely Mr. T. W. Crocker's schooner ran them from their perilous situation, had no boat, no oars, but on without works.

LOBSTERS. During the month of July one from P. E. Island, landed 9,000 (4 doz. each) preserved lobsters, Liverpool, G.B. There also arrived different other ports for distribution, 3,000 cases. These were cut for last winter at 18s. per case, understand most of the lobster ship are made to the home markets, which is a perpetual state of glut. We not our shippers try the American kets? We learn the quotations the $1.30 or 6s. and 6d. per dozen, across the water the price is not 5s.—[Ed.]

Hyeminal. As will be seen by the proper announcement in another column, Frederick lost her most talented readers; indeed may Canada has. We refer to the marriage of Mrs. Jane Billip from the Chatham people, as those in other parts of Canada be pleasure of hearing read her former winters ago. Mrs. Mauger left fiction last winter and has since been in Chicago. The marriage ceremony was performed in the Episcopal church of St. Peter & Paul by the Rev. H. Cleveland, Mr. Will. H. Hugo, the name of the groom. We were newly married pair unbowed fortune, and congratulated above Hugo in his good fortune in securing a worthy a wife.
