TWELFTH YEAR.

ONLY MERCIER'S MAN FRIDAY

PACAUD TOLD ARMSTRONG HE HAD TO ACCOUNT TO THE PREMIER.

Sensational Evidence Before the Quebec Commission With Respect to the Disposition of the $100,000 Paid by Armstrong to Pacaud—The Facts to Be Proved to the Bottom.

QUEBEC, Oct. 15.—When the Royal Commission opened its session this morning Mr. Beique arose and announced that he and his colleague did not appear for the Executive but merely for the ministers. He also announced that they, not knowing what procedure would be followed, had summoned a number of residents from along the road to testify to the good condition of the road and the excellence of the work done there, and as these people were anxious to return to their homes as soon as possible he would ask that if convenient they might be examined at once.

Mr. Hall objected to this, the principal point of his objection being that these people, though in all probability very respectable, were not competent witnesses. Judge Jette, in deciding this point, said that he had already stated the actions of the commission could not be controlled, but while these witnesses were here the commissioners thought it better to examine them, as their testimony might bring out some point or other that would throw light on the subject.

Judge Davidson then gave his decision on Judge Irvine's objection of yesterday afternoon. He pointed out that Mr. Armstrong had admitted the agreement to pay Pacaud $100,000 for his influence with the Government. He (Armstrong) admitted that he was acting on the precedent established between McLaren and Pacaud when the former agreed to pay the latter for his influence as intermediary with the Government. His evidence was of the gravest character, affecting the reputation of the administration at Quebec. The belief of the commission was that the evidence now objected to was of such a grave character that they would insist on the investigation in reference to this point being pressed to the fullest extent.

Mr. Armstrong was thereupon put in the box to tell what he had done with the five checks of $20,000 each when he visited Pacaud's office.

He admitted having endorsed the checks for Mr. Pacaud, and said he had always expected to do so, though it seemed from his evidence before the Senate Committee, quoted by Judge Davidson, that he was not satisfied at having to do so.

Being asked why he was so ready to pay the $100,000, he said he was greatly in fear that the charter of the company would be lost, and then such complications would arise as to effectually prevent anyone from getting anything. He was then asked to give in detail what he expected to do for his $100,000, and why he believed so much in his influence.

Pacaud's Qualifications.

Witness replied that he knew Mr. Pacaud had great influence with the Government. He was a party manager, an intimate friend of the ministers, and besides he had been acting as an agent for the other syndicate.

He was then asked again about the time Mr. Pacaud showed uneasiness at the delay in payment of the claim and said: "One day when I complained to Mr. Pacaud of the delay he replied that he himself was very anxious to have the matter closed up as he had large amounts to pay himself, the total amounting to some $50,000."

After testifying that he had not paid either Mr. Pacaud or anyone else any money in addition to the $100,000, witness was handed over to the tender mercies of the private prosecution.

Mr. Casgrain, taking charge of the examination, made the witness go over the entire story of his several interviews with Mr. Pacaud again without eliciting anything new. Mr. Armstrong was asked if Mr. Pacaud had ever told him that he had to divide this $100,000 with others or had to account to any one.

"Mr. Pacaud never told me he had to divide the money with anyone, but he told me he had to account for it."

Mr. Casgrain: To whom?

Mr. Armstrong: I'd rather not answer that question.

Mercier Got a Share of It.

He was finally compelled to answer, however, and the question was repeated to him.

Then, amid deathly silence, the answer came, "He told me he had to account to Mr. Mercier."

Mr. Casgrain: You understood he referred to the Hon. Mr. Mercier, Prime Minister?

Mr. Armstrong: Yes.

Mr. Pacaud had been employed previously by him in getting Government subsidies paid, and he paid him for his trouble each time.

A Priest Boodles.

At the afternoon session Rev. Father Berube, cure of St. Francos Xavier, was called. Mr. Beique, on behalf of the Government, began to question him with a view to proving the mismanagement of the road under the old regime and the necessity of organizing the new syndicate. Mr. Casgrain objected to this as an attempt to cloud the issue and as irrelevant to the enquiry. The objection was overruled. Witness described the suffering of his flock from the non-payment of claims by the old company and produced a petition from Paspebiac residents asking Mercier to cancel their charter and complete the road.

Senator Riopel, a director of the old company, induced Cure Berube to admit that he had bought claims of some of his Paspebiac parishioners and was thus mercenarily interested in decrying the original syndicate. This priest admitted that in buying the claims from his parishioners he charged 10 per cent. discount on the claims he bougat.

Judge Jette said his accusation might involve another trial, but was not germane to this enquete.

Rev. M. Larive, parish priest, was next examined. He recognized a petition sent to Mr. Mercier by him, in which he condemned the old company and asked the Prime Minister to dissolve the old company and form a new one which would meet the wishes of the people. In answer to Mr. Riopel he sent this petition to Mr. Mercier at the request of his parishioner. He did not start the project himself. It was at the instigation of the Rev. Mr. Thiverge, cure of Bonaventure, that he made the petition. He knew that the Rev. Thiverge was instigated to do so by Hon. Mr. Mercier himself. Dr. Crepeau of Perce was next examined by Mr. Beique. The people who had sold their grounds to the company to make the road and the workingmen were not paid in October, 1889. The people were generally discontented.

Mr. Amyot: In what state are the works now?

The works have been pushed on vigorously since August.

Mr. Francois Dion St. Charles of Caplan was next examined. He has been 18 years mayor of his parish. During the whole existence of the old company there was trouble in and around his parish owing to non-payment of claims. The whole public was crying for a change, but now the work proceeds vigorously and people are satisfied. At a public meeting in Caplan a petition was drawn praying the Government to revoke the company's charter since the company could not carry on the works.

Mr. Amyot: Does the company owe you anything?

Witness (rising): No, thank God! [Laughter.]

The commission adjourned at 4 p.m.

A Half-Witted Cowboy Responsible for the City of Rome Rumors.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Oct. 15.—A despatch to The Colonist from Magistrate Carey at Trepassy says there is no truth whatever in the report that the steamer City of Rome was lost off St. Shotts. The story is a hoax perpetrated by a half-witted cowboy of the steamer Mendego, which was lost at Marine Cove Sept. 15.

The British Tempest.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—With the rising of the sun to-day the storm resumed its awful violence. London is being deluged with rain, swept with fearful wind blasts, shaken by thunder and startled by flashes of lightning. Fearful weather is prevailing in the channel. The Boulogne packet boats are unable to put to sea. All along the coast the beach is strewn with wreckage, and at Dover a large quantity of material, evidently belonging to one or more wrecked ships, has been washed ashore.

A Cardiff coal-laden steamer sank yesterday near Holyhead and the entire crew perished. The weather in the Irish Sea is the most severe experienced in many years.

Many vessels have been seen driven helplessly past Dungeness light flying signals of distress. The life boats were unable to be of any assistance, owing to the speed at which the vessels were being driven down channel by the storm.

An immense scaffolding erected about a building near Hyde Park gate collapsed under the pressure of the hurricane, burying in its ruins a number of persons who had sought shelter beneath it. One person was fatally injured and many women received severe cuts, bruises and other injuries.

The storm at Leicester wrecked a large menagerie, killing many of the animals and severely wounding a number of others.

VALPARAISO, Chili, Oct. 15.—The letter of Balmaceda to his mother, written only a few hours before he committed suicide, has just been made public. The letter in full is as follows:

"DEAR MOTHER,—I go on a long journey. No time remains in which to bid you farewell. My implacable enemies will not now succeed in condemning me. The only thing I recommend is that you maintain your religious faith. Your son, MANUEL."

A Quiet Wedding.

The residence of Mr. A. D. May, 314 Wellington-street, was the scene of a quiet but interesting event Wednesday evening, when Mr. John D. Parker of Messrs. A. C. E. Pattyson of Tonawanda, N.Y. The groom was supported by Messrs. Robert Parker and Frank E. Martin, while Miss Ella Thompson of Cainsville, Miss Nellie Wilson of Markham and Miss Lena Wootten of Toronto acted as bridesmaids. The guests, who were almost exclusively relatives of the contracting parties, included Mr. and Mrs. Parker of Guelph, parents of the groom, Mrs. Henry Wilson and Mrs. Edward Wilson of Markham, the Rev. W. A. V. E. Pattyson and Mrs. Pattyson of Tonawanda, N.Y., Mrs. Graham of Guelph, Miss Lottie Thompson of Cainsville and the following of Toronto: Mrs. Wootten, Mr. Harry May and Mr. C. E. Urquhart. The presents were beautiful and costly. The happy couple left Wednesday night on the 11.15 train for a three months' trip through the Rockies to the Pacific coast.

MERE "CHUCKLE AND CHAFF"

MR. GOSCHEN REPLIES TO SIR VERNON HARCOURT.

The Object of the Gladstonians is to Tinker and Fiddle With the Constitution—Balfour Triumphs Over the Irish Spectre and is Appointed Leader of the Commons—Earthquake in the Mediterranean.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Hon. George J. Goschen spoke to-day at Cambridge. In his address he denied that the bye-elections furnished a forecast of a Liberal majority at the general elections. Sir William Vernon Harcourt's predictions about the matter were "mere chuckle and chaff." The Unionists were not despondent and had no reason for early dissolution. The Newcastle Liberal program, however, bristled with dissolution.

The vast constitutional changes approved by the Liberals would require a second appeal to the country if sincerely voted, but their object was to catch votes. He doubted the success of these radiant bubbles. The destruction of the two churches, Scotch and Welsh, would cost more than their would-be destroyers contemplated. If church disestablishment was to come only after Home Rule had been established were the votes of those in favor of the disestablishment of the Scotch and Welsh churches to be given "on tick?" Those churches would die hard and their fate would be submitted straight to the electorate.

If the House of Lords rejected Home Rule the Gladstonians did not intend to dissolve parliament but rather to try to tinker and fiddle with the constitution. The people ought to have an opportunity of declaring themselves on the subject of Home Rule as a straight issue.

In regard to shorter parliaments, he said the Newcastle system would help shorter parliaments in a perfunctory manner. Responsible Liberal statesmen proposed to deal with the House of Lords without anything to replace them.

They surprised him about the "one man one vote" idea. If it happened it must be accompanied by a redistribution of seats.

He raised a warning voice against the payment of members, they ought to be absolutely "the independent friend and not the servant of the constituencies" With short parliaments and paid members good legislative work would cease.

Rogarding leadership of the House of Commons, he said that Mr. Balfour had triumphed over the Irish spectre. Nothing was more natural than that the most successful Irish Secretary should lead the Unionist host in the House of Commons in their coming battles.

This morning's Daily News says if Mr. Balfour accepts the leadership Mr. Jackson will succeed him as Chief Secretary for Ireland. Mr. Balfour's appointment as First Lord of the Treasury will not render necessary his re-election as a member of parliament.

In an editorial The News says that the rebuff to Mr. Goschen is a severe one. The innate jealousy and distrust of dissident Liberalism which prevails among the Tories was seldom more strongly and strikingly exemplified.

The important statement made by Mr. Goschen in his speech at Cambridge to-day confirming the report in regard to Mr. Balfour and the leadership of the House of Commons was the direct outcome of the active negotiations which have been going on since Lord Salisbury's return to London.

MR. BALFOUR'S SUCCESSOR.

The new Chief Secretary is William Lavies Jackson, Conservative member for North Leeds. At the last general election he received 4301 votes against 3682 for Albert Osliff Rutson, the Gladstonian candidate. The seat, which will be vacated by the acceptance of office, is considered a safe one for the Government.

Mr. Jackson was born in 1840. He is the head of a large business as a tanner and leather merchant. He is also a director of the Great Northern Railway and of the Leeds Stock Exchange. He was Financial Secretary to the Treasury in 1886. He sat for Leeds from April, 1880, to Nov., 1885, having been defeated in Aug., 1876. He has been M.P. for the Northern Division of Leeds since Nov., 1885. He is an able business man and respected by all parties.

Earl Spencer Speaks.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Earl Spencer in a speech at Dunbarton to-night said the Tories having adopted the principle which they formerly denounced of using British credit to buy out Irish landlords, it removed the main block to Home Rule. The cry of religious intolerance against Ireland was quite unjustified, for while Ireland had returned many Protestants to Parliament England and Scotland combined only elected four Catholics.

Bishops Must Remain in Their Dioceses

PARIS, Oct. 15.—The Cabinet to-day considered the protests of the Archbishop of Rheims and the Bishop of Angers against the Government order prohibiting bishops from leaving their dioceses without permission from the government. The order complained of was issued as a result of the recent disorders in the Pantheo at Rome, before the tomb of King Victor Emanuel. The cabinet decided that the order must be enforced by all possible means.

NO CANADIANS NEED APPLY.

Read the United States Regulations and Stay at Home.

BUFFALO, Oct. 15.—The Express says: Complaint has been made to the authorities at Washington that a large number of Canadian boatmen, dock laborers and others have declared their intention to become American citizens for the alleged purpose of securing employment in the United States and so avoid coming in conflict with the Alien Contract Labor law. It is said these boatmen are not in good faith making the United States their residence, being still residents of Canada.

Replying to this complaint Superintendent W. D. Owen of the Immigration Office at Washington has written as follows:

In reply I will say that our law requires not only a declaration of intention of becoming American citizens but it requires five years of continual residence in the United States to complete one's application before he can become an American citizen. A declaration such as you refer to is of no avail to the parties in the matter of securing employment in the United States.

Pursuant to due notice published yesterday Inspector DeBarry at an early hour yesterday morning stationed himself at the Ferry-street landing for the purpose of making note of the names of all Canadians coming over to work in Buffalo. He succeeded in recording the names of eight Canadians, who are said to be employed in different establishments throughout the city. They were subjected to a rigid examination by Mr. DeBarry in the Ferry-street custom house office, where note was made of their names, occupations and places of residence.

Mr. DeBarry says he is resolved to leave no stone unturned to unearth a Canadian who may be violating the Alien Contract Labor law in this city.

TEACHERS IN CONCLAVE.

Topics of Interest Discussed by the South York Teachers Yesterday—A Successful Reunion.

In the County Model School at Toronto Junction yesterday morning were 106 public school teachers, members of the South York Teachers' Institute, who had foregathered to attend the half-yearly meeting.

President David Fotheringham occupied the chair, and in opening proceedings gave expression to the pleasure he felt at witnessing so large an assembly, the largest in the Institute's history.

At the last meeting of the Institute a committee, composed of Messrs. Fotheringham, Young, Wilson, Latter, Leighton and Cowling, was appointed to superintend the purchasing of additional books for the library. Inspector Fotheringham reported that during the year $75 had been expended, with the result that the library was now double its former size.

George Reed, M.A., head master of the Markham High School, read a remarkably able and interesting paper on the "Leading Characteristics of a Successful Teacher." These, he considered, were adaptability, energy, enthusiasm, firmness and confidence. The latter was only acquired by experience and thorough preparation of the instruction to be imparted. Another special qualification was a sympathetic interest of the teacher in his pupils. This could be fostered by frequent conferences with the pupils. Such a method, he thought, was conducive to the establishment of a feeling of interest and confidence in the classes.

The paper throughout was a thoughtful and carefully-prepared exposition of the fundamental principles underlying a teacher's duty and a thorough interpretation of the chief attributes necessary in the make-up of a successful instructor.

Mr. Reed was listened to with close attention, and on resuming his seat a discussion, carried on by Messrs. Merrill and Young, was commenced, dealing with several of the chief points raised in connection with the elucidation of the subject under consideration.

At this juncture Mr. Hooper made a few remarks in reference to the demise of Mr. Joseph Perkins of Victoria-square, and a committee was appointed to draft a resolution of condolence with the deceased's family.

Canadian Trade.

Mr. T. Elliott, B.A., principal of the Weston High School, gave an able address on "Canadian Foreign Trade." In opening up the subject he spoke briefly of the French regime, at which time furs were about the only article exported. Following this he traced the growth of Canadian trade until the Reciprocity Treaty of 1854 came into operation.

Mr. Elliott demonstrated conclusively without precipitating himself into controversial ground the many advantages of such a treaty and traced the trade history of this country from the time in which she was but a succession of disintegrated provinces, lacking mercantile opulence, devoid of martial glory and containing a sparse population, until to-day when, the possessor of these three qualifications in no limited degree, she can challenge competition with the world.

When Mr. Elliott had finished the reading of his masterly paper Mr. R. Q. Harvey of Pine Grove, an enthusiastic Conservative, in the course of a few remarks, objected to the Liberal tone of the paper and deplored its annexation tendencies. His address, however, was received by the teachers with more than perceptible smiles, and was accorded the indulgence it deserved.

Mr. William Ward, Agincourt, in the course of a short address demonstrated his methods of teaching elementary lessons on the zones and imaginary lines. By means of colored rubber balls he showed the relation of the sun and moon to the earth, and put questions to the scholars present regarding light, heat and revolutions of the earth around the sun. This address was a practical and instructive effort, and was a valuable contribution to the day's proceedings.

The subject which claimed the attention of Mr. A. L. Campbell of Concord was, "The Educational Power of Draining." He dealt more especially with the study as taught in the public schools, and made an earnest plea for a more extensive cultivation of the art in these institutions. Free hand drawing be considered to be of incalculable practical benefit.

During the day, and interspersed throughout the various papers, were musical selections rendered by the pupils of the Toronto Junction Model School. These reflected great credit upon the young people and showed how well directed have been the efforts of their teacher, Miss Armstrong.

In Praise of Canada.

In St. James' Hall a public entertainment was given, about 500 citizens being present. Mayor Clendenan presided. The program consisted of vocal and instrumental music. The former was supplied by Miss Maud Joy and Miss Alice Joy. The town orchestra, containing 15 musicians, rendered several selections very creditably, while Miss Jessie Tocher, an accomplished violinist, played on exquisite solo on that instrument. Mr. Colin Morrison provided the elocutionary portion of the program.

WESLEYANS V. PRIMITIVES.

Ministers Do Not Like Little Birds in Their Nests Agree.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—At the Methodist Ecumenical Congress to-day Dr. Stephenson suggested the resolutions be reported to be read as follows: First. That the conference recognize with gratitude to God the growing desire for closer union amongst the evangelical churches of Christendom, and especially hails with devout thankfulness the extension of that desire amongst the various Methodist churches.

Second. The conference cannot doubt that concerted action upon many questions would be greatly to the advantage of the kingdom of God. The conference would suggest that such concerted action might be possible and useful in the following great provinces of the Methodist world, namely:

(a) Great Britain, including the affiliated conferences and missions.

(b) The United States, including its missions and mission conferences.

(c) Australasia, with Polynesia and other missions.

(d) Canada, with its missions.

Dr. McLaren and Mr. Warring Kennedy of Canada earnestly advocated the first paragraph of the resolution, and told how union had been reached by the Methodist churches in Canada.

Ministers at Loggerheads.

At the afternoon session the general topic was temperance. Rev. Dr. Mahon of South Memphis urged that temperance could only be served by a total abstinence on the part of the ministry and membership of the church.

Hon. J. J. Rogerson of Newfoundland wanted the church to go forth in the fight and close every liquor store in the world.

Mr. John H. H. Lile of England held that Wesley's rules obliged ministers to be total abstinence men.

Mr. Atkinson, M.P., got the floor for himself and insisted that Mr. Lile misquoted Wesley; that he prohibited only dram drinking. He (Atkinson) was as good a Bible Christian as anybody and he was a Primitive Methodist too. Mr. Atkinson went on to speak of the Primitive Methodist in connection with "impostors" which immediately stirred up the indignation of the delegation from that church. One of them rose to a point of order that the speaker had called the Primitive Methodists impostors and wanted the words retracted.

Mr. Atkinson denied that he had done so and begged the presiding officer to "knock him down," meaning, of course, that he was to rap the interrupter to order This led to great confusion. The Primitive Methodists were all on their feet demanding a retraction and threatening to withdraw from the conference.

Dr. Stephenson and other Wesleyans were beseeching Dr. Atkinson to withdraw his remarks and apologize; but he bluntly refused to do so, asserting that he had nothing to apologize for, that if the delegates would not consume his time he would explain.

As they persevered in the demand for retraction he characterized their "stupidity" in forcible terms, and seeing no chance of restoring harmony the presiding officer, who had exhausted every effort to calm the troubled waters, declared the session adjourned and the delegates passed out of the church after singing the doxology.

Killed the Woman Who Teased Him.

OSHAWA, Oct. 14.—Hannah Short, daughter of John Short, aged 20, was shot last evening by a lad named Willie Coedy, aged 14, at the residence of Mr. Coedy, where she had dropped in to spend a few minutes. CAVAN, Oct. 15.—A convention of the Irish National Federation was held to-day. There were numerous priests among the delegates. Timothy Healy, the member of Parliament for North Longford, presided. In his preliminary address he said the members of the Irish National party are not concerned with eulogies of the dead but the interests of the living. Let the dead past bury its dead. Mr. Parnell had gone to his account, and those honoring his services to the nation thought the best memorial would be to push on the work upon which he was engaged before the clouds intervened between his vision and the best goal of Ireland. Her real sons were not afraid to face the public clamor. Whatever happened he would never apologize for doing what he could against Parnell when he found that the country's interest demanded Parnell to retire from the leadership of the majority. He hoped that dissensions would be interred in his grave. The note for renewed war came from the minority and not from them. The majority continued to be willing to overlook the acts and calumnies of their opponents, because they were not fighting on personal questions but national ones. If Mr. Parnell knew where he was going in opposing the majority these men did not, nor did they know the forces they were unloosing or the consequences of their actions upon the destinies of their country. They said, "We cannot shake hands with you." They never seemed to contemplate the feelings of those offering to shake hands with them. We might be like those starving American trappers, who, you remember, could eat crow, but didn't hanker after it. If the minority felt unable to co-operate with us, let them resign their seats, giving way to men who are open for reunion. Ireland had given them no mandate to perpetuate feud. Their position was degrading, not only as defying the constituencies of Ireland, but in the fact that they had not even the prostitute's shame, because they gloried in their infamy. Their party consisted of knaves and fools, for these men declare that they despised Dillon and O'Brien. So stupendous was their audacity that he really began wondering where they were standing. He hoped that O'Brien would now publish to the world the whole story of the Boulogne negotiations. It the letters and repeated declarations of Redmond and Harrington—now the drill sergeants of dissention—were published he promised such an exposure as probably has never been known in regard to the public men and people of Ireland. He could forgive Parnell, indeed, he believed he had already forgiven him—[cheers]—but these men, pretending to be his political heirs and executors, had not the excuse of Parnell. They were acting solely in the interests of Dublin Castle and the Orange lodges, whom the people hoped to cast out as ulcers on the body politic.

Parnell Hunted to Death.

DUBLIN, Oct. 15.—John Redmond, M.P., who is spoken of as a possible successor to Parnell in the leadership of the Parnellite party, publishes a bitter letter in United Ireland. He says Parnell has been killed by the foulest slander and hunted to death that the virtue of Ireland might be vindicated to the satisfaction of the Pharisees and hypocrites of England. The scandalmongers of Britain should now be satisfied. The English leader who struck the first blow may now be content. Another item has been added to the account Ireland has to settle. Some day, it may be in our time or it may be when we are in our graves, but so surely as the sun sets beyond our heartbroken land, the account will be settled. Ireland will pay the debt long due.

No Union With Gladdy.

DUBLIN, Oct. 15.—United Ireland to-day publishes a cartoon representing Gladstone pleading for the surrender of the Parnellites, and adds to it the following: "No, we cannot be friends with you. We cannot, must not, will not. No, by heaven, will not—not if England struck her flag to us and licked the dust in the presence of our assembled people, would we crawl through the shadows of Liberalism out into the light of our promised freedom."

Mrs. Parnell May Die.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Mrs. Parnell has in no way recovered from the shock she experienced upon the death of her husband. She is in an extremely weak condition.

Ticket Agents in Session.

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—The Canadian Ticket Agent Association held its fourth annual meeting at the St. Lawrence Hall this afternoon. Among others present were Barlow Cumberland, Toronto; G. E. McGlade, Brockville; T. F. Brown, Welland; R. Carson, Kingston; J. A. MacKenzie, Woodstock; James Acton, Toronto; W. Jackson, Clinton; W. E. Rispin, Chatham; J. A. Hackins, Listowel; P. J. Slatter, Toronto; W. H. McCaw, Port Perry; George Curry, Cobourg; F. Crompton, Toronto, and A. J. Taylor, Toronto. It is suggested that there should be an amalgamation with the American Association. Another matter which has been a cause for complaint on the part of the agents is the question of commissions. While the big lines pay commission the agent does not get anything for tickets over the tributaries or branches and they think that is an injustice.

Corsets Attract a Magnet.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Oct. 15.—The weather observers in the Government building here were amused yesterday to see a modest-looking woman attempting to approach a large magnet in the office. Every time the woman moved toward it the sensitive magnet swung toward her as if trying to shake hands. She grew very uneasy, and at last gave up in despair. She did not know, as was the fact, that the steel in her corsets excited the big needle.

REPORTERS KILLED ON DUTY.

An Attempt to "Write Up" a Railway Trip Ends in Death.

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—The fast vestibule train on the Chicago and Eastern Illinois road which left Nashville, Tenn., last night was wrecked at 10 o'clock this morning at Crete, Ills. The accident was caused by the engine running into an open switch. The round house was struck by the engine and demolished, falling about the train and setting the baggage car on fire. The Engineer, Clark, was killed as were also three Chicago Inter-Ocean reporters who were riding on the engine. Their names are L. W. Washburn, Jas. McCafferty and Fred Henry. They were riding on the engine with the intention of writing up the trip. The fireman jumped and saved his life.

Leonard W. Washburn was the sporting editor of The Inter-Ocean. He was especially well-known in baseball circles. James McCafferty came to Chicago about two weeks ago from St. Louis, where he had been employed in The Post Dispatch. Fred Henry was 37 years old and had been employed on The Inter-Ocean for about two weeks, having come here from Louisville.

SAID SHE WAS A NURSE.

How a Confidence Woman Played Her Game Here Without Much Success.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Dolly Beelye was the name of a young woman who was sentenced to a long term in the Mercer Reformatory at Toronto as a confidence woman. She had ingratiated herself into the graces of some of Brantford's divines, and when opportunity afforded had, under false pretences, secured their cash. Last July she was liberated, and, it appears, did not profit by the lesson her punishment should have taught, as several Toronto people now mourn for the money the wicked Dolly secured from them without giving value therefor.

Last Sunday the police department here were asked to look out for the woman. They learned that she came to South London and called on Rev. Canon Davis, giving her name as Miss Shaw. She represented herself as a sick nurse, trained at Guy's Hospital, in England. She said she had only recently come from the Old Country, and had been engaged in charitable work in Toronto, but had left there owing to a disagreement with Mr. Howland. Rev. Mr. Davis sent the woman to Mrs. Whitehead of Craig-street and she was in turn introduced to many others, each of whom she swindled. $10 was the most obtained from any one individual. She is now believed to be in Detroit; at least she purchased a ticket here to that city.

A CALL TO ST. THOMAS

Given to the Editor of Knox College Monthly.

At a largely-attended meeting of the congregation of Knox Church, St. Thomas, a unanimous call was extended to Rev. James A. McDonald of Toronto. The stipend is $1800 without manse and with four weeks' holiday.

Mr. McDonald has recently preached in St. Thomas with great acceptation. He is a young man of literary ability, a graduate of the University of Toronto. For the past three years Mr. McDonald has been editor of Knox College Monthly, a position which he recently resigned, having decided on pastoral work.

EDUCATIONAL PARLIAMENT.

There Were Several Breezy Discussions Last Night—Petty Personalities.

At last evening's meeting of the Public School Board Mr. Hastings called attention to the statement of the Medical Health Officer that the public school at Kew Beach was badly ventilated. The trustees said that the institution referred to had not been occupied since last June, and he thought it was shameful that a civic official should deliberately attempt to create in the public mind such a false impression in reference to schools.

Trustee Kerr, a member of the Board of Health, said that Dr. Allan, in considering the advisability of closing some of the schools, was not actuated by any prejudice against these institutions, but had so reported for the reason that, in many cases, the surroundings of schools were unfavorable to the development of good health.

The report of the High School Committee was presented by Trustee Baird. Out of the 37 teachers employed in these schools only 10 are not regularly qualified, and Trustee Kent explained the latter are either university graduates or third year men. These, he considered, were more competent to impart night school instruction than regular teachers. It was decided to retain the present staff in its entirety until the expiry of the session.

Trustees Baird and Roden had a lively rhetorical fracas towards the conclusion of the meeting, during the continuance of which they called each other some very uncomplimentary names. Trustee Roden accused Trustee Baird of seeking for and glorying in newspaper notoriety, while the latter accused the former of trying to turn the School Board into a Lime-Kiln Club.

Chairman Whitesides intimated that the gold and silver medals which had been won by Miss Ethel Barker and Miss Emily Smith respectively at the combined examination would be presented to the successful candidates to-day.

The trustees present were Baird, Boxall, Fisher, Hagerman, Hastings, Kent, J. Kerr, W. Kerr, Lee, McCracken, McPherson, McSpadden, Middleton, Mingay, Ogden, Roden, Somers, Whitesides, Williams and Brown.

A Word to House Renters.

Nothing succeeds like success, and the least which can be said about The World's Real Estate Guide is that it is a pronounced success. Some method of placing houses for rent and for sale before the public in a concise and convenient form was a long-felt want, a want which is now filled by The World's Real Estate Guide, as it places the houses which are on the market before the public in the most concise manner possible, at the same time giving the most important particulars, and further, it becomes no longer necessary to pay from 25 to 50 cents per day too keep a house before the public, The World's rate being only 50 cents per week.

It is not necessary for us to state that the people of Toronto appreciate The World's Real Estate Guide; that this is so is proved by the fact that we published more houses, stores, offices, etc., in yesterday's World than were published by any two papers in the city.

Our circulation has also taken a rapid rise since the Real Estate Guide has been introduced, which tends to prove the people of Toronto realize that The World is the paper to buy when they are interested in buying or renting.

We would respectfully ask those who may be interested in real estate to make a note of seeing to-morrow's edition of The World, as it will afford the best means in the city of comparing the improved real estate on the market at the present time.

MRS. JOHN HAGGART TALKS

THE POSTMASTER - GENERAL'S WIFE WANTS NO DIVORCE.

If She Did She Would Get It in Canada—They Have Been Twenty-Nine Years Apart—She Says He Struck Her, Stole Her Son and Preferred the Society of Other Women.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—This morning's Herald says: Over in East New York at No. 18 Stewart-street there is a little two-story wooden cottage, which in spite of its modest appearance is at present the home of the wife of John Haggart, the Postmaster-General of Canada.

Mrs. Haggart is a woman with beautiful hair, white as it is possible for hair to become. Her face still has a youthful look, and in spite of the fact that she is well on toward fifty years of age Mrs. Haggart is still a beautiful woman. Thirty years ago she was Caroline Douglas, the belle of the little inland village of Perth, about 60 miles from Ottawa.

When she left Ottawa a few days ago and it became known that she was coming to New York or Brooklyn it was immediately surmised that the object of her trip was to secure a divorce from her husband, with whom she has not lived for nearly thirty years.

Divorce Not Wanted.

I had hardly broached the subject last night when Mrs. Haggart laughed a little bitterly and said: "Why should I want a divorce from 'Jack' Haggart, I'd like to know? I have got along without one for nearly twenty-nine years, and I think I can do so a little longer."

"Besides, if I wanted a divorce from Haggart I wouldn't come over into the States to get one. I was married in Canada, and I should look for my divorce in Canada, too.

"Besides, what good would a divorce do me anyway? I don't think enough of men to care to marry again, and I have a fine house of my own in Ottawa left by my father to my sister and myself. Then I have money, too, from the estate, and nearly two years ago I began an action against my husband, which never came to trial, as he agreed to pay me $1000 a year. I was satisfied with that, though I could have had $3000 had I pressed the suit.'

In reply to a question as to whether she had a photograph of herself and husband, Mrs. Haggart said vehemently:

Perth People Would Understand.

"No, I have none here; but if I had and you could print mine and put alongside of it a picture of my husband giving me a pair of black eyes the people of Perth could understand and appreciate it. Then print 'Jack' Haggart's photograph alongside that of Miss Jennie Craig, with one hand holding hers and the other in the Government's exchequer. All Canada would appreciate that, for my husband's relations with that young woman were well understood. She was employed in my husband's department, and when she went into temporary retirement for a few months he continued to draw her salary for her from the Government until the affair ended in an investigation.

"When I married 'Jack' Haggart nearly thirty years ago I was only nineteen and could have married about whom I liked in Perth. He owned a grist mill there and other property that made him rich. I went to live with him at his mother's house. It was not very long before I found that other women interested him more than I did and that he preferred hotels and barrooms to his own home.

"It has been said that I used to frequent places of amusement more than I ought after my marriage.

"The only place I every went to was the skating rink, and then I always went with Mina Haggart, my husband's sister. The tickets he gave us for the rink represented all the money he every spent on us.

Took the Boy from Her.

"One day after my child was born he struck me. Then I left him and went home to my father. Then when my boy was a year and a half old my husband came and tore him from me and hid him. He had the child brought up on an island and educated there by private tutors. He was ten years old when he came home, and although everything had been done to alienate him from me he used to steal away at times to see his mother. He died seven years ago.

"Everything has been done to catch me in some indiscretion, but never has one word been alleged against me either when I have been abroad or at home. Everything that has been said about my having made trouble for my husband or having stood in the way of his advancement is wholly untrue.

"Years ago I saved his property from his creditors by refusing to sign away my right of dower. In fact, the whole story of my life with John Haggart would fill a book; but again I say I do not want divorce."

Mrs. Haggart, however, could give no plausible reason for her presence here in New York just now.

Hanged Himself.

PORT BURWELL, Ont., Oct. 15.—William Wilkins told his wife that he must kill himself, as there were two men after him to arrest him. Two hours later his wife found him hanging in the barn dead.

Dr. Montague is known throughout Ontario as one of the most forcible political speakers on the Conservative side, and both in Ottawa and during the campaigns has he done hard work for his party. What They Call Him in Russia.

[From The Montreal Star.]

The Russian Moskovskaia Viedmosti (Gazette of Moscow) publishes an editorial about the "Persecution of Jews in Canada," and among other things, says: Many a riot has already broken out against the Jews in Montreal and Kingston, where the natives refuse to work with the children of Israel in the same factories. It is no doubt that British officials encourage these riots, and we find a proof of our assertion in the anti-semitic articles of Sir Goldwin Smith, governor of the province of Toronto!"

Professor Goldwin Smith bombarded as "Sir" and Governor of the province of Toronto. That is a bouquet, and the Toronto professor may be grateful to the Russian editor for not having made him Governor of the province of Hochelaga or Prince of Three Rivers.

An Airy Skimmer.

Col. Howard Vincent has seriously disappointed us. He came here to preach a new fiscal creed, skipped across the continent in a few days we might say, spoke to a small audience in a few of the very large cities and now tells the English people that he knows all about Canadian sentiment on trade matters and that we uproariously support his scheme. The truth is the people of Canada never heard of his scheme and do not know anything about it. To be sure he spread it before the gaze of a select audience at the Toronto Board of Trade, at Ottawa, at Montreal and as far west as Vancouver, but not one per cent. of the people heard him speak and not five per cent. ever heard that he exists even or that a United Empire Trade League was ever conceived by man.

We are disappointed in Col. Vincent because he jumps at such outrageous conclusions that he makes ridiculous the cause for which he works. If he returned to England and speaks authoritatively of Canada's unanimous endorsation of his scheme while we know that Canada has formed no opinion, good or bad, upon it, then we may justly join with those who flouted at him for pretending to represent English feeling as favorable to a Trade League. His wish fathered such unwarranted thoughts about Canadian opinion that we may infer he erred equally much as to English opinion.

It would not be unnatural for Canada to strongly favor a scheme for securing preferential trade privileges in the English market. It is evident that if England will grant such favors Canada will vastly profit by them. The difficulty in giving effect to such a proposal does not lie in securing Canadian assent, but English, and if Col. Vincent has jumped at conclusions as to opinion here like an irrational enthusiast, then his enthusiasm made him an unfit authority on English feeling. He stands revealed to the whole empire as one who cannot be taken seriously.

Imperial Federation is popularly regarded as a visionary and idle conception, but many see in the Trade League something practical that may be measured and weighed—containing a doubtful substance that may be analysed. Col. Vincent with his fertile fancy and his superficial tests of public feeling should have adhered to Imperial Federation. His style and disposition was more suited to its nebulous proportions, but he took a fickle departure from its ranks. Dollars and cents are too heavy for so imaginative a man.

The Abolition of Grand Juries.

The Minister of Justice in his proposed codification of the criminal law anticipated some trouble in deciding whether the grand jury system was still of use in criminal proceedings, and he therefore called upon the judges throughout the Dominion for advice. Certain of these judges called upon grand juries for opinions as to their own usefulness. A blue book has just been issued containing all these opinions and it is noticeable how evenly divided the bench is on the question. The juries that were called upon for opinions with two exceptions justified their existence and modestly affirmed the grand jury system to be the bulwark of liberty and the barrier against an onslaught of subtle tyranny. In the arguments against a change the strongest point cropping up everywhere is thus put by Chief Justice Hagarty: "If the grand jury be abolished what is to stand in its place between the person charged before justices and trial at assizes or sessions?" It is generally admitted that some authority must step in here to save a person so accused from expensive trial over nothing. Justices of the peace cannot safely be trusted with larger powers than they now enjoy, for the capacity of many of them is already overtaxed. The County Crown Attorney is suggested. But Chief Justice Galt says: "With all respect for county attorneys, they are not in my opinion persons who should decide on criminal proceedings. They are the persons who conduct prosecutions at the quarter sessions, and as clerks of the peace are brought clearly in contact with the justices of the peace."

The arguments and views of the learned judges meet in stubborn conflict all through the book. The various provincial attorneys-general were asked to express an opinion, and Hon. Oliver Mowat, true to his Provincial Rights instinct, boldly starts off: "I have to say that the Ontario Government claims that the abolition of grand juries is not within the authority of the Dominion Parliament." He says the majority of the members of the Ontario Government are against the abolition of grand juries. He further points out that the Ontario Legislature passed an act in 1879 providing that the dimensions of a grand jury should be reduced from twenty-four to fifteen, which was to become law on a day named by proclamation of the Lieutenant-Governor. It never became law, because the question of authority was never determined. However, the Ontario Government is willing to cooperate with the Dominion Government and reduce the dimensions of grand juries by simultaneous legislation, thus avoiding any question of constitutionality. This seems to be a safe reform containing none of the supposed perils of a complete abolition of the system.

Vienna Medical Prescription Association.

The sole branch of the above association on the American continent is now located at 56 John-street, Toronto. Letters of thanks are pouring in from those who received them, most of whom have for years been taking patent medicines and drugs furnished by advertising quacks. James Watson of Montreal writes: "I have suffered for years from what is called 'secondary stage of consumption,' and have spent nearly a fortune with so-called specialists, and also for patent medicines and kept continually getting worse. I had the prescription you sent me put up by a druggist here at a cost of only fifty cents—have used the medicine only ten days and feel so much better already that I know I will be cured." A circular giving all particulars will be sent free to all applicants who enclose a stamp for reply. Address "The Manager," V.M.P.A., Toronto, Canada.

ALLERTON IS INDEED KING.

HE DEFEATS DELMARCH EASILY IN THREE STRAIGHT HEATS.

Nancy Hanks Sold—Winners at Morris Park, Gloucester and Chicago—Orme Wins at Newmarket—Cary Will Run Again—Orton Commented on—General Sporting News and Gossip.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 15.—The morning broke bright and cool. It was an ideal day and the track had been specially prepared, under the supervision of C. W. Williams of Independence. The great stallion race between Allerton, 2.09¼, and Delmarch, 2.11½, drew thousands of people. The betting on the contest was fast and furious; pools sold Allerton 1000, Delmarch 650.

In the first heat Delmarch led from the start until well into the stretch when Allerton, under a few taps of the whip, drew away and won easily by a length. Time 2.13¼.

Second heat—The odds were 50 to 1 on Allerton and he played with Delmarch all the way. Doble made his drive from the third quarter, that point being reached in 1.43¾. Allerton moved so easily down the stretch that it scarcely seemed impossible that he was going at a 2.05 clip, but the last quarter was made in .31¼. Delmarch was three lengths back. Time 2.15.

Third heat—Betting was even and the track was scraped to let Allerton go a fast mile in case Delmarch could force him; but the latter never headed the stallion king, though he only went the quarter in 35¼, the half in 1.09¼ and the third quarter in 1.44¼. From that point on the clip increased and Allerton again finished in 31¼ seconds, winner of the big purse, with Delmarch laboring two lengths back. The time was 2.15¾.

A $60,000 STAKE.

This is What the American Derby Will Be Worth.

For their meeting in 1893, the year of the Columbian Exposition, it is the purpose of the Washington Park Club of Chicago to offer a number of special attractions, the most noteworthy of which, perhaps, will be the increased added money to the American Derby for 3-year-olds. In 1893 the association guaranteed to add enough money to make the value of the stake $60,000. The American Derby has always been a popular event, for the reason that it has been in the past one of the richest 3-year-old stakes of the year. It comes early in the season so that trainers can afford to reserve their crack 3-year-olds for the event. Another special feature of 1893 will be the Queen Isabella stakes for 3-year-old fillies with $10,000 added. It certainly looks as if the Washington Park meeting would prove not the least attractive feature of the World's Fair.

Belle Bird is the fifth of her progeny to get in the list, the others being Hinda Rose, 2.19½; St. Bel, 2.24½; Palo Alto Belle, 2.22½, and Bell Boy, 2.19¾. To intensify the potency of the family Beautiful Belle is a daughter of Minnehaha, who herself has added five to the list.

Larry Corcoran Dead.

Lawrence J. Corcoran died at 9.20 a.m. at his home, No. 24 Cherry-street, Newark. The malady that carried the once famous ball player off was Bright's disease.

"Larry" Corcoran, as he was familiarly known to the baseball fraternity, was one of the greatest pitchers in the profession a few years ago. He joined the Chicago White Stockings in 1880, and soon gained a great reputation as a pitcher. On the same team were Anson, Burns, Pfeffer, Kelly, Flint, Williamson, Dalrymple, Goldsmith and other famous players.

Corcoran was the first pitcher to shut an opposing team out without a base hit. He accomplished this feat against the Buffalo team. His great work in the pitcher's box enabled the Chicagos to win the championship at least one season. He remained with the Chicagos until 1885, when he signed with the New York league club.

He was a member of the New Yorks for two seasons, with the exception of two months when he played in Washington. He also played in Nashville, Tenn.; Indianapolis, California League and with the New-Orleans club.

Reber, the St. Louis record holder, won the broad jump handily at the big games in his native city. The bad field prevented any attempt at record breaking. Reber is a consistent jumper, and cleared over twenty-two feet in all of his jumps but one, which was a foul. He thinks he can clear twenty-four feet at the game.

Downs did not have anything to spare in the quarter mile at St. Louis. Remington came with a rush at the finish, and was beaten between two and three feet. The New Yorker did not set the pace fast enough the first 220 yards, and the hearts of the "winged foot" disciples grew heavy as they saw Remington drive in his last fifty yards.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

Pitou's Stock Company at the Grand—Emma Juch at the Academy—The Boy Singer—Other Attractions.

The following is the cast of the comedy drama "Geoffrey Middleton Gentleman," produced at the Grand Opera House last night:

Mr. Courtnay Middleton	J. W. Shannon
Geoffrey Middleton	Nelson Wheatcroft
Bob Middleton	William Faversham
Thomas Merritt	W. H. Thompson
Thomas Merritt, jr.	Geo. W. Leslie
Herr Von Graiffe	George Backus
Mr. Manorborn	Frederick Perry
Uncle Ben	Gustave Frankel
Servant	Alfred W. Palmer
Mrs. Courtnay Middleton	Ida Vernon
"Harry" Middleton	Jane Stuart
Mrs. Hatchett	Adelaide Stanhope
Frau Von Graiffe	Vida Croly
Margaret Merritt	Minnie Seligman

Augustus Pitou's stock company, which made its first appearance before a Toronto audience at the Grand Opera House last night, was a genuine surprise. It is the most complete and capable dramatic organization ever seen in Toronto. The ensemble is perfect; every individual is an artist of ability. They play together in perfect harmony. Every member of the cast seemed to be striving to perfect the general performance, the consequence being a play artistically and intelligently interpreted in its entirety. Toronto theatre-goers evidently have confidence in Manager Pitou and greeted his company with one of the largest and most fashionable audiences of the season, and were treated to a performance such is rarely seen outside of New York city.

The play selected for the opening was "Geoffrey Middleton, Gentleman," by Martha Morton. It is certainly one of the best society dramas of modern times. The story is tersely and dramatically told. The interest increases from act to act, and holds the audience's closest attention until the final curtain. It is so natural, so well constructed, that one silently wishes there were more plays on the stage to-day like it. "Geoffrey Middleton, Gentleman," has much that appeals to the human heart and that awakens only the most elevating feelings. There is not the slightest trace of the sensational in it, and few dramas breathe such high moral principles. The comedy parts are unusually bright and the dialogue witty and refined.

Miss Seligman impersonates Margaret with rare grace and emotion. She rose to the height of her powers in the second act when parting with her husband, and the call before the curtain was a most deserving one. Nelson Wheatcroft was equally admirable in the role of Geoffrey Middleton. He seldom overdoes and his acting is always intelligent. Mr. W. T. Thompson, the greatest of all character actors, gave a masterly representation of the self-made California millionaire. Jane Stuart's interpretation of Miss "Harry" Middleton was richly spontaneous. Ida Vernon as Mrs. Middleton gave one of her usual finished performances. Adelaide Stanhope was bright and pleasing as Mrs Hatchett, the grass widow. Messrs. Faversham, Backus and Leslie deserve mention for their excellent work. The other parts were filled most acceptably. In fact, it does not take long to discover that each member of the cast is an artist. To-night "A Modern Match" will be presented, when the Pitou company should be greeted by another large audience.

Irish Honor.

The patrons of the Grand will have an opportunity next week of witnessing what is said to be one of the strongest Irish comedy dramas now before the public. The play, which is entitled "Irish Honor," is under the management of Mr. Percival T. Greene and will be presented at the Grand next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Mr. Greene has selected a very strong company for the production of his play and has met with great success. The sale of seats will begin to-morrow morning.

The Devil's Mine.

The Youngstown (Ohio) News says: "A large and well-pleased audience greeted the 'Devil's Mine' Company last night at the opera house. The play is exceedingly well handled by a very competent company, who bring out all the interesting points of the play. Mr. William C. Donaldson (a Torontonian), who assumes the leading part of Jack Hawley, acts and dresses his part in a manner that a great many actors might take a lesson from. Mr. Donaldson certainly sustained his past reputation as a first-class actor. The rest of the company are very good, especially Mr. Neil Scully and Miss de Coursey." This company appears at the Toronto Opera House next week.

Plan Opens This Morning.

As distinguished from mere players of notes the Mendelssohn Quintet Club of Boston are celebrated for their artistic interpretations of the chamber music writings of the great masters. The musicians constituting the club are men whose experience has been gained in the famous schools of æsthetic musical art. Mr. Thomas Ryan, the musical director of the club, presents programs of a cosmopolitan character; of vocal as well as instrumental music, which gratify the connoisseur and also the lay members of an audience. Next Monday night's concert by the Mendelssohn Quintet Club will be one of exceptional merit and deserving a crowded house. The plan, with popular prices, will open at 10 a.m. this morning at the Auditorium Book Store, 26 Queen-street west.

Will-o'-the-Wisp.

This $10,000 production with Edgar Selden, the clever author of "McKenna's Flirtation," and his big New York company, will hold the boards at the Academy of Music, commencing Monday next, for three nights only and Wednesday matinee. There is a car load of special scenery painted by the eminent artists Lafayette W. Seavey, Kettler, Williams and Quinn. The Brooklyn Daily Times says: "A new star has dawned in the Irish dramatic firmament in the person of Edgar Selden, who appeared last night at the Grand Opera House in a wholesome and interesting Irish comedy-drama, entitled 'Will-o'-the-Wisp.' The story is delightfully interesting. Mr. Selden, as the hero, showed himself capable as an Irish comedian, and reminds one not a little of Mr. Scanlan, the favorite actor. He has a pleasing stage presence, an excellent voice and a sound, rich brogue. His witticisms had a real Hibernian flavor and were warmly appreciated. He has an excellent supporting company."

Emma Juch at the Academy.

A large and critical audience, composed chiefly of Toronto's music-loving citizens, greeted the Juch Opera Company last evening at their representation of Pietro Mascagni's operetta, Rustic Chivalry. Before the opera, the garden scene from Gounod's "Faust" was given by a special cast of artists, chief among whom was an old Toronto favorite, Franz Vetta, who sang and acted the part of Mephistopheles to perfection.

"Rustic Chivalry" is a one-act opera with a little plot of love, jealousy and revenge. There is nothing catchy about the music, which, however, is of a high order and very well written, the overture and inter-mezzo being particularly fine, the latter reminding one strongly of Tennyson's last fragment, "To Sleep!"

A few words of praise are due the excellent and complete orchestra which is along with the company, and which played the intermezzo with such effect as to elicit the applause of the many musical critics present. The chorus was large, full and in splendid tune. This evening "Carmen" is to be played, Miss Emma Juch taking the leading part. The company deserve an overflowing house.

Thus for the excellent performance. Now for the drawback. The audience were kept waiting for the preliminary orchestral performance 50 minutes. The students, a large number of whom were in the gallery, naturally became impatient and, after repeated calls for explanation, sang "We wont go home till morning." This brought the manager on to the stage, who explained that the music of "Faust" had been left in one of the baggage cars and that it was expected every minute. A virtue was made of necessity and the audience held their souls in patience till 9 o'clock, when the overture was played.

The Remenyi Concert.

The plan of the Pavilion opens at Nordheimer's this morning at 10 o'clock. There will be only one concert in Toronto and the demand for seats is expected to be lively.

A Wonderful Boy Singer.

The Auditorium was crowded last evening to hear the boy soprano, Master Albert Stettenbenz, and few were disappointed with him. The little vocalist possesses a powerful voice of rare quality. Though his selections were varied and difficult they were all well rendered. Messrs. Douglas Bird and Fred Warrington were equal to their best effort, and Miss Sara Lord Bailey captivated the audience with her pathetic and humorous readings. On the whole the combination furnishes a pleasing concert. There will be another performance this evening.

The Suit of Turnbull v. Boomer.

Editor World: In this suit I was acting as counsel for Mrs. Turnbull, and your reporter has not reported the matter last Friday according to facts—either in law or in fact. It is made to appear and stated that she married her late husband for money because he was supposed to be wealthy. This is not so, for she knew the contrary—only she understood he was able, from an income he received from interest on a sum loaned, to support himself and render her a moderate support. This (because of the non-receipt of the anticipated interest) he could not and did not do—consequently Mrs. Turnbull was obliged by her personal earnings to support him and the house, paying also interest on a mortgage of his and taxes and insurance money and the mortgage. Then, as to the law, the judge (Judge Rose) ruled that the statute of limitations applied to all her claim, notwithstanding her coverture—(her husband died only a year ago)—when the Statute of James excepts such cases, so far as the husband is concerned—whom she could not sue until his death, and under the facts proved could only sue his administrator. Further, part of her claim was not even favored by this statute of limitations in any event, granting the ruling correct for some hundreds of dollars had been paid by her since, and in 1885—which fact ought to have been left by the judge to the jury—but which he refused to do, although urged by me; so, according to facts as well as law, she should have had a verdict—her whole case being most meritorious. CHARLES DURAND, Barrister.

Toronto, Oct. 12, 1891.

The Grenadiers' Parade.

The grounds of Upper Canada College presented a very lively and martial appearance last evening. The regular weekly drill of the Royal Grenadiers was in progress and the various military manœuvres were executed in a very commendable manner. The muster was good, 422 men being on parade.

Col. Dawson commanded and there was a full attendance of officers. B Company, under Capt. Alfred B. Cameron, had the largest turnout.

The commanding officer has promoted Pte. W. H. Prue to the position of corporal in the ambulance corps.

Companies which intend competing for the Cumberland Challenge Cup must make their entries before next Thursday.

Discourtesy in Jarvis-st. Baptist Church.

Editor World: Two ladies, one a stranger in the city, were treated most discourteously in the above church last Sabbath morning. They were shown into the pew by an obliging usher, but upon the arrival of the owner they were crowded so and spoken to in such a manner that one of the ladies had to find a place elsewhere. It was in marked contrast to the beautiful prayer offered up by the pastor on behalf of strangers.

LIKE CURES LIKE.

First Public Meeting of the Believers in Dr. Samuel Hahnemann's System—Gratifying Results.

The first annual meeting of the supporters of the Toronto Homœopathic Hospital was held at the Association Hall last night, ex-Mayor Howland presiding. The report of the work is most gratifying and highly encouraging to the advocates of homœopathy. Since the hospital opened in January, 1890, 318 patients have been under treatment with only 10 deaths.

The following figures speak very favorably for the modern school of medicines: Death rate per cent. 4.19, percentage cured 55.24, percentage improved 7.69, percentage unimproved 4.19, percentage discharged at own request or removed 7.90, percentage under treatment 20.79.

In the interests of homœopathy and for the benefit of the poor of the city a free dispensary was opened in 1887. But this was not sufficient. Cases were continually presenting themselves requiring hospital treatment, but there were no means of giving hospital care to such patients where they could receive homœopathic treatment. Homœopathic physicians were excluded from visiting or treating patients in the Toronto General Hospital and in all other hospitals in Toronto, and there was no homœopathic institution in existence. So the scope of the work was soon enlarged, His Honor Judge Macdougall taking a foremost part to include a hospital and training school for nurses. This was subsequently incorporated and called the Homœopathic Hospital and Free Dispensary Association. This part of the work was much aided by Mr. J. Ross Robertson, who furnished one of the wards. The building at present contains accommodation for 33 patients, but this is found entirely inadequate. The present household staff consists of the lady superintendent, nine nurses, a ward tender, housekeeper and servants.

The following financial facts of general interest are summarized from the treasurer's report: The receipts during the 21 months since the opening of the hospital in January, 1890, have been: Subscriptions $5069, dispensary grant from city of Toronto for years 1890-91 (including balance handed over by the dispensary on the opening of the hospital), $1130, from patients $1429, nurses' fees $341, from city of Toronto for maintenance of patients $3635, from province of Ontario for year ending Sept. 30, 1890, $850.20; Government aid payable by Province of Ontario and earned for year ending Sept. 30, 1891, $3215. Total receipts (including sum payable by Province of Ontario in 1892), $15,688.

The management for next year will be Messrs. Frank Arnoldi, J. Gordon Brown, James Henderson, Clarkson Jones, W. B. McMurrich, J. D. Nasmith Henry O'Brien, J. W. G. Whitney, F. We have long been anxious to Retire from the Retail Shoe Trade, but from the magnitude of our stock have been unable to come to satisfactory arrangements with any proposed purchaser until the present time. A prominent shoe dealer in Brockville has made us an offer for purchase, conditional that the stock be so reduced that on 1st January it will not exceed $15,000, and that the business shall be as good on that date as at present. We are fully determined to accept this offer, and to do so will be compelled to sacrifice not only our present stock but the Fall Orders that are to arrive before the end of November. This is rather a stupendous undertaking, but it is a chance we will not pass over, knowing that by a supreme effort and huge sacrifices we can accomplish it. And now comes the announcement that will most interest the public, which is to the effect that we will, commencing from to-day, offer the whole stock on hand at 33⅓ per cent. less than cost price, which will be fully 50 per cent. less than prices asked by any other dealer in the city. This may look improbable, but nevertheless it is an actual business fact and we are quite willing to pay the price to get out of the retail trade.

As a starter what will be thought of Ladies' French Dongola Buttoned Boots for $1.25, and our Gents' $4.00 Dongola Bals or Congress for $2.00, but this is only a sample of what the whole stock will be offered at from now until the end of the year and the public will be then asked to bid farewell to the retail firm of 135

ARE YOU IN WANT
Of a good range; if so, buy the Palace or Jubilee, made by James Stewart & Co.? It is much harder to be good or do good if one is always sick. Many men and women, too, are troubled with Dyspepsia because of a poor range, one that will neither burn nor cook properly. It is not necessary that you should go on and suffer in this way when you have a remedy so close at hand. You go down in your pocket or money to buy medicine. Why not go down to 183 King-street east and buy one of the ranges or a popular cook, "Maple Cook," "Art Sultana" or a Franklinite grate? 25

Will Worship in the Town Hall.

The contracts for the improvements in Eglinton Methodist Church, which will aggregate nearly $500, have been awarded. Teagle & Darwent of 340 Clinton-street undertake the mason's work and Mr. T. A. Oderdirk, 274 Church-street, will handle the carpentering. Operations will commence Monday next under the supervision of Mr. C. J. Gibson, who prepared the plans, and in the meantime the congregation will meet for worship in the town hall.

THE CITY'S PROPERTY.

Suggested New Fire Hall—Children and the Police Cells—The Public Halls.

The Property Committee met at City Hall yesterday afternoon.

Mr. William Davidson on behalf of John Hanlan asked consent to the transfer of Island lot 23 from Fred Stewart to John Hanlan and also consent to a mortgage of $4200 on the property in favor of the Land Security Company. It was further asked that the building restrictions on the lot be removed. As it now is only one house is allowed on the five acres of land. A committee of Ald. Orr, Bailey, Gowanlock and Small were appointed to deal with the matter.

Mr. George Falkner addressed the committee, asking it to purchase certain property in Soho-street on which to erect a fire hall in place of the one now in Queen-street. He urged that the Queen-street property was now too valuable for such purposes. A sub-committee was appointed to consider the matter.

The Police Commissioners asked for a grant of $500 to make provision for children in custody at Police Headquarters. As it now is children are often locked up with hardened criminals. Some discussion took place on the matter. At length it was referred to a sub-committee.

It was decided to advertise for tenants for the halls owned by the city.

The Nationalists' Views.

At the regular meeting last night in Richmond Hall, the President, Mr. Titus, read a paper prepared by the joint committee representing the six Industrial Reform Societies of Toronto; the chief feature of which was a recommendation that the main principles of the Swiss Referendum be advocated by societies named: for the following reasons, that the present system does not represent the will of the people; that the member of parliament is not made answerable to his constituency; that they have an undue control of the spending power of public moneys; that it breeds partisanship and professional politicians, which in its turn breeds corruption and other evils, all of which they think can be reformed by working in the direction named, viz.: by adopting the principle more akin to the Swiss Referendum. On the question of fees to registrars, it was recommended that such should be abolished and salaries substituted. Mr. Gordon moved that the municipal committee be asked to formulate suggestions for reform in the fee system. Mr. Armstrong seconded, recommend ing that they be more equalized.

A Valuable Souvenir.

The employes of Messrs. W. R. Brock & Co. assembled in Mr. Brock's private office last evening to present a splendid picture of themselves and their employers to Mr. Edwin Roach, who has been employed in the establishment for nearly 21 years. Mr. Ross and Mr. Cronyn in neat speeches made the presentation on behalf of their fellow-employes. Mr. Brock also spoke and expressed his appreciation of the services of Mr. Roach, which were always rendered faithfully and cheerfully. Mr. Roach was undoubtedly a favorite in the house, and general regret is expressed that he is about to sever his connection with the establishment.

At the Civil Assizes.

In the suit regarding the United States pension the jury yesterday morning reported their findings in favor of the plaintiff, Mr. Ostrom. This means that, as a matter of fact, the plaintiff's claim is sound, but as a matter of law the case is still undecided.

An interesting case McAlpine vs. Unser, was next taken up. The plaintiffs, Edwin A. and Charles W. McAlphine, sue Gregor Unser, a German, for the possession of a house on Walter-street, which they had bought from the Trusts Corporation of Ontario, to whom the defendant had assigned. After the evidence was all in, court was adjourned till Monday, as Justice Rose had to go to London to try a protested election case.

A Unanimous Vote of Confidence.

The schoolroom of the Church of the Ascension was filled at a special meeting last night to consider the resignation of Rev. H. C. Dixon as teacher of the Bible class. This step Mr. Dixon had announced on Sunday, owing to a prevalent rumor that he wished to supplant Rev. R. A. Bilkey, the curate. Rev. H. G. Baldwin, who presided, read the resolution of the Provincial Synod of 1880, under which professional and business men may be ordained and attached to parishes for special work. Mr. Dixon, a merchant, had been thus ordained and appointed by the bishop assistant curate of the church. On motion of Mr. Kivas Tully, C.E., seconded by Sir Casimir Gzowski, a unanimous vote of confidence in Mr. Dixon was carried. Mr Dixon agreed to withdraw his resignation and will continue his Sunday duties with his class, which have for many years been so successful.

The Devil's Strip Must Not Be Widened.

The Street Railway Committee met at the City Hall yesterday afternoon to consider what action ought to be taken regarding the North Sherbourne-street asphalting. The contractors had only been working on the street for a few days before they were notified to cease operations until the width of the space betweet the car tracks known as the "Devil's strip," had been decided on. The company wished to have it four feet instead of three; but on motion of the Mayor it was decided to have the work continued and the car tracks laid the same as in other parts of the city.

Leaf by leaf the roses fall;
One by one our dear ones die.
O, to keep them with us still!
Loving hearts send up the cry.
Wife and mother, O how dear,
Fading like a mist away.
Father, let us keep them here,
Tearfully to God we pray.

Many a wife and mother, who seems doomed to die because she suffers from diseases peculiar to women, which saps her life away like a vampire, and baffles the skill of the family physician, can be saved by employing the proper remedy. This remedy is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, the greatest boon ever conferred by man on weak, suffering, despairing women. It is a specific for all phases of female weakness, no matter what their name.

Men of Figures.

"Watered Stocks" was the topic under discussion at the meeting of chartered accountants at the Association Hall last night. The subject was ably introduced by Ex-Ald. Moore, who expressed some advanced views, which were not accepted by all present. Mr. William Johnson of the Ontario Business College, Belleville, was present and took part in the discussion. Messrs. J. W. Spence and William Pringle, Belleville, were elected members of the society.

Gossip From Chicago.

Kennett, Hopkins & Co. to R. Cochran: The opening was easier on lower cables, fine weather in Northwest and liberal receipts at primary markets. All day long the market seemed likely to break down, touching 98c for Dec. several times, but about 20 minutes before close the old story of the prohibition by Russia of maize exports was flung into the pit and set on fire, as it has done on several occasions heretofore. There is a prevailing dread of being caught short. Hence even those who ridiculed the rumor were just as anxious to get back their wheat as those who accepted and believed it. We do not credit the report and its frequent repetition without any apparent foundation has worn it threadbare. It will probably continue to do duty while it serves the purposes of its authors. The Government's report on the grain crop of Europe leaves the condition about the same as before, except that yield of rye in Germany and wheat in Austro-Hungary and Bulgaria is turning out better than expected. Clearances at seaboard are quite liberal and a moderate amount of new export business is reported. Stocks in store continue to increase rapidly both here and abroad, and the most experienced and conservative operators are of the opinion that considerably lower prices must result at no distant day.

Counselman & Day to J. J. Dixon & Co.: Wheat opened dull and easy, reflecting tone of cable advices. Beerbohm's estimate of five hundred million bushels short in European rye crop caused recovery to yesterday's closing price and report that the Russian ukase against export of corn, and some late buying in New York on English orders caused a further ½c bulge with shorts active buyers at the close. Corn opened weak and lacking support from shippers declined 2½c Oct. 1½ November. The Russian edict started new speculative buying and caused the closing rally principally on purchases to secure profits on short sales. Provisions were active all day, early cables brought buying orders for lard and ribs, Packers covered recent sales of December and January pork, considerable investment buying of January followed on outside orders and local shorts bid December pork above $9 at close. Short interest in pork is still large and we look for a further recovery in prices during next few days.

Guff from Gotham.

Henry Allen to J. J. Dixon & Co.: The market to-day exhibited about the same features as upon recent prior days. Encouraged by a report that the Bank of England directors had concluded not to change the rate of interest, the bulls took a hand in the game and succeeded in putting prices up a fraction, but later they fell off, and at the closing hour nothing had been gained. In London the rumors of a change in the bank rate had an even more depressing effect, but the fact that the rate was continued at 3 per cent. will unquestionably buoy the market up for another week. Important events seem to be impending calculated to awaken interest or which have a tendency to elevate or depress stock values. Certain causes are at work, it is true, which will work out their own results, but to gauge them is impossible, and with the market fluctuating little from day to day and its direction uncertain there is little to induce outside interest. The railroads are busy making large earnings, but this tells the story that the commercial and agricultural world is also busy, with little time and energy to expend in uncertainty while certain gains are answering its efforts. The banks, too, are responding to the great demands of these interests and have little to loan to the speculative element. It would seem, therefore, that causes explaining the present situation are plainly open to view.

BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

I AM A MAN

"I have been treated by doctors, who had long lists of so-called cured patients, but they could not reach my case, and hope had been murdered in me by fair promises, but on first application of your magical appliance, hope and confidence came flocking in stronger than the combined powers of the four winds. I knew then that you would cure me, and now that I am a man and well again, I cannot thank you sufficiently for the cure. So again I say, use my name as reference whenever you wish. You nor any one else cannot use words too strong to express my sentiments in favor of so wonderful a treatment as that given by you."
