CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. and Mrs. Bond of Jersey City. Their new-born daughter has been christened "Buya Bond."

ANY man who is dodging creditors can tell you that it is almost as hard to keep out of the way of a bill as it is to meet it.

MODERN valuations disclose strange discrepancies. A man with a barrel of money does not feel absolutely sure of a scuttle of coal.

"THERE'S an unfortunate woman over there." "You mean that lady who is sneezing so much?" "Yes; she's a grass widow with the hay fever."

CANADIAN VICTORY BONDS bear 1 1/2 per cent. more interest than the U. S. Liberty Bonds, and are almost sure to increase in value after the war.

WE will give a prize to the youngest boy or girl with a Victory Bond in his or her name.—SWIFT'S.

In a number of places in Ontario where churches, theatres and schools were closed owing to the "flu," the epidemic has abated sufficiently to raise the ban.

MR. FRANK DARVOUX, who has been employed in the Pontchartrain barber shop, Detroit, for the past eleven years, has been made manager, at a good salary.

HALLOWE'EN passed very quietly in town and no damage of any account was done by the boys. A few odd articles were misplaced but no pranks of a serious nature were played.

AN exceedingly interesting letter from Pte. J. C. Trenchouth, written at the scene of action in France, is unavoidably left out this week on account of illness of members of the staff.

LADIES—Buy a Victory Bond and your fall coat at SWIFT'S.

EVERY motive that inspires good citizenship calls on Canadians to be lavish in their purchase of Victory Bonds and to insure their country's welfare and their own security against the rainy day.

OWING to scarcity of help and illness of the staff the Parkhill Gazette was not published last week. The publisher has our sympathy. We are in the same predicament ourselves and know all about it.

GUEST (in dining car, angrily)—Waiter, do you call that a war portion of turkey? Waiter (in a whisper)—De company does, boss, but pass'n'ly Ah wouldn't hab de nerve to call it even a famine portion.

MEN—Buy a Victory Bond and your clothing at SWIFT'S.

AMONG the victims of the "flu" in London was Dr. J. L. Stapleton, who died on Friday last. He was a brother of Mrs. George E. McIntosh, who some years ago was on the teaching staff of the Watford public school.

THE many friends of Lieut. Mansell James will be glad to hear that he has been promoted to Captain for valorous deeds and has been transferred to the first line on the Western front. Captain James has certainly gained honor for himself and the town in his chosen profession. He always took deep interest in anything pertaining to aircraft, and no doubt, if opportunity offers, will still gain more honors. As it is he now has many stars and stripes on his uniform received for valorous conduct.

THE PROGRESS BULLETIN of the County of Lambton issued by the Victory Loan Committee shows that up to 6 p.m. Monday night Warwick district, No. 8, had subscribed $39,650 of the $235,000 objective, or 42.40 per cent. Brooke district did somewhat better, the amount reached being $107,650 or 48.93 per cent. of the amount aimed at. The total amount subscribed in the county during the seven days was $1,678,250 or 59.90 per cent. of the total aimed at. There should be no trouble in exceeding the objective before the 16th inst.

If more of our local grocers would let the people know about the prices of their goods through printers' ink, as the travelling grocers and foreign merchants do by flooding the country with price lists, catalogues, etc., there would not be so many duped farmers or complaining merchants. The advertisers who put their goods before the people and keep them there are the ones who sell their goods. They must not say when too late, "I could have duplicated that bill of goods," but they should have let the farmer who sent away and bought advertised goods of a foreign merchant know it before he bought. That's the business of it.

THE BAN still remains on the schools, churches and poolrooms. At a meeting of the Board of Health on Saturday a resolution was passed prohibiting the congregating of people in the postoffice or business places, and ordering all funerals of people dying from influenza to be private. There are quite a number of people ill, but none of the cases in town are supposed to be of a serious nature at time of writing. The influenza scourge seems to be abating all over the province. Business places in town are being fumigated regularly and every precaution taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

SIXTY-FIVE Xmas boxes for soldiers overseas were packed at the home of Mrs. C. Howlett last week by the box committee of Tecumseh Chapter, I.O.D. E. A little over one hundred dollars in money and gifts had been given and to this the Andrews Wire Works generously added fifty dollars. Each box contained handkerchiefs, a pound of homemade Christmas cake, a package of tobacco, cigarettes, package of figs, Reindeer coffee, can salmon, 2 cakes toilet soap, maple sugar, 6 chocolate bars, handkerchief, towel, oxi, gum, notepaper and envelopes and other gifts. Each box was worth $4. Names of donors were put in boxes and seven of the boxes were sent to friendless soldiers. One other nice box already packed was given by a friend. The members of Tecumseh Chapter thank all who so kindly helped with the boxes.

Girls are replacing men in many walks of life. This is more noticeable in the larger centres than in the smaller places, but Wm. Miller, barber, initiated the movement in Amherstburg by adding a female operator to his staff on Saturday. The new barberess was quite popular with the men and Mr. Miller did a rushing day's business.

Ernie Tudor of Parkhill met with a painful accident in London on Monday evening. He stepped backward into an open elevator shaft and fell ten feet, landing on a cement floor. What would a man say to his wife if she were to leave her $50 sewing machine over night in a rainstorm? Well, he would do a plenty if she persisted in leaving it out in the weather. Yet the same lord of creation has left his farm machinery standing in the fence corner. Many of these costly tools will stand out unprotected all winter. What should your wife do to you, Mr. Farmer? She should get a rolling pin after you and make you house them now. You can save a ten dollar bill any day this week by acting on this suggestion.

"Flu" in South Africa

Cape Town, South Africa, Nov. 3.—Some idea of the magnitude of the influenza scourge can be gained from the fact that almost every village has sustained losses. Besides 7,500 victims in Cape Town, 4,500 in Kimberley, the known deaths today total 1,000 in Pretoria, 600 each in Johannesburg and Stellenbosch. Durban escaped with only 47 deaths. Naturally it was the colored population that suffered most, but latterly many whites succumbed to septic pneumonia. Deaths among the British official and military community in Southwest Africa to date have been 125. Up to the present time it has been impossible to estimate the death toll in native territories.

Capt. Fred Taylor Gets D. S. O.

Another Watford man has been awarded the coveted D.S.O. Capt. Fred A. Taylor, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Taylor, of Watford, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Order for valor.

Capt. Taylor went overseas with the 7th C. M. R., as captain, but reverted in rank in order to get to France, where he has been for almost three years.

Awarding of the D. S. O. is a very unusual and high honor for a junior officer and is the first decoration of the kind that has been given to anyone below the rank of Colonel in the regiment to which Capt. Taylor is attached.

Only two of the five men who volunteered for the particular work to be undertaken under Capt. Taylor's leadership came back. They were both decorated, having successfully accomplished the hazardous work required.

Fred's many friends here are pleased to hear of his valorous deeds and are proud to own him as a Watford boy.

A Sad Death From Influenza

A particularly sad death occurred last week, when Mervyn Emory Williamson the only son of Mrs. C. Williamson, Huron street, passed away from pneumonia following Spanish influenza, at the General Hospital, Sault Ste. Marie, on Thursday, Oct. 31st.

The young man was in his seventeenth year and was employed as a sailor on the Northern Navigation Company's steamship Hamonic. He was stricken with influenza on the up trip of the boat and was left at the hospital in the Soo, where he died early Thursday morning. When the boat returned to the Soo on the down trip Mervyn had passed away. The remains were brought down to Sarnia on the boat and then to his home here, the funeral taking place on Saturday afternoon at the Watford cemetery. The Rev. J. C. Forster conducted the funeral service and the bearers were six cousins. Deceased is survived by his mother and two sisters, Stella and Evelyn. A large number of relatives and friends of the family attended the funeral.

Death of Mr. Bert Fulcher

The first death in Watford due to pneumonia following influenza took place on Friday evening about 7 o'clock when Mr. Bert E. Fulcher died after a few days illness. Deceased had undergone an operation last month and had not fully recovered his strength when attacked by the dread plague. On Friday morning he became much worse and the end came that evening. He was in his 31st year. He came to Watford some years ago from Forest and conducted a barber shop here at the time of his death and was well and favorably known. He was private. The Rev. A. C. Tiffin, pastor of the Methodist church, of which deceased was a member, conducted the service. Interment in the Watford cemetery. The pallbearers were S. James, Dr. G. N. Howden, O. Jacklin, W. L. Word was received by Mr. John R. Hastings, of Petrolia, on Wednesday that his son, Pte. Newell Hastings who was wounded on October 11th, died of wounds on October 31st. Pte. Hastings was born in Watford and was only 19 years old. Thus another name is added to those who have made the supreme sacrifice fighting civilization's foes. Pte. Hastings was a nephew of Mr. I. J. Hastings, of Watford.

Death Claims Young Girl

A bright young life passed out on Friday, October 25, with the death of Stella Margaret Alexander, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Alexander, of the 12th line, Enniskillen. Last spring the child showed symptoms of heart trouble. A physician was consulted and although she did not suffer continuously she had a bad spell every two weeks until her death. She was a bright, cheerful child and a favorite with her playmates among whom her death is deeply regretted. She is survived by her parents and her sisters Mrs. Leslie Churchill, Petrolia; Mrs. Victor Biekx, Erie, Pa., and Ilo at home. The funeral was held on Sunday, the remains being conveyed to Watford cemetery by auto for burial. The pallbearers were six of her girl chums: Martha Winder, Etta Braybook, Irene Jones, Velma Babcock, Edith Hendy and Dolly Deacon.—Petrolia Topic-Advertiser.

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night—would lie awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around and in the morning would be all tired out. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZ, 603 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "it seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultz's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

New Church Maybe?

From the London Mail.

"It's a trench padre' for me in the future. He's the only 'parson' I shall have the patience to listen to!" said corporal of my regiment the other day.

His attitude towards ministers of religion in general may be unfair, but it represents the opinion of the majority of men at the front. There is but one standard by which all men are gauged out here. "Is he taking the same risk? Is he making a similar sacrifice?" we ask. The zealous, hard-working pastor of military age who is convinced that his duty lies in his own district, and that he is doing better work there than he could do in the trenches, may have a clear conscience, but he will undoubtedly have great difficulty in persuading the average soldier that his motives are pure.

The "trench padre," we admit, is a bird of another feather. Some of us fight shy of him; a few ridicule him; many do not understand him. But the worst man among us has a sort of sneaking respect for him. Here lies the padre's hope for future service. In this war he has by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrah deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrah deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrah, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surface of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c.

Interesting Prophecy of 14th Century Foretelling the World War

An interesting prophecy made in the sixteenth century predicts war of the kaiser's hosts. An obscure monk wrote that the men of Luther's land would rise to slay and burn under the leadership of the Anti-Christ.

Some time ago there was published in the columns of the London Evening Standard a part of a strange prophecy supposed to have come from the pen of a certain Brother Johannes, who lived in the sixteenth century, in which the present war is predicted and the result foretold. The prophecy created such an impression that many readers of the Standard were anxious to know more about its author, and the paper accordingly published what little was known about the history of the prophecy.

Below is given an extract from the Evening Standard which includes the full text of the prophecy as well as some information about the original Latin writing. In deciphering that, France is represented by a Cock; England by a Leopard; Russia by a White Eagle; Germany by a Black Eagle, and Austria by the "other Eagle," while the Lamb stands for Justice, Mercy and Truth.

TEXT OF PROPHECY

Following is the full text of the prophecy, the first seven paragraphs now being included for the first time:

- Several times has one seemed to recognize him, because all the slayers of the Lamb resemble each other and all the wicked are the purcurors of the Wicked One.
- The veritable anti-Christ will be one of the monarchs of his time, a son of Luther; he will invoke God and call himself His messenger.
- The prince of his will swear by the Bible; he will call himself the arm of the Most High, chastening corrupted people.
- He will only have one arm, but his innumerable armies, who will take as their motto "God be with us," will seem like infernal legions.
- For a long while he will act by ruse and treason; his spies will spread over all the earth, and he will be the master of the secrets of those in power.
- He will have theologians in his pay to certify and prove his celestial mission.
- At war will furnish him with the reason for lifting the mask. It will not be one which he will make against the French monarch, but another which will be easily recognized by the fact that within two weeks' time it will have become universal.
- It will call to arms all Christians, all mohamitans, and even other very distant people. Armies will be formed in the four parts of the world.
- For men's minds will be opened by angels and in the third week they will understand that this is the anti-Christ and that they will all become slaves if they do not trample down this conquering one.

ACT THOSE OF A NERO.

- The anti-Christ will be recognizable by several marks; he will chiefly masquerade as a priest, monk, woman, child and old people. He will show no mercy; he will pass along holding a torch like the barbarians, but invoking the name of Christ.
- His fake words will resemble those of Christians, but his acts will be those of Nero and the Roman persecutors; there will be an eagle in his coat-of-arms, and there will be one in that of his confederate, the other wicked monarch.
- But this one is a Christian and he will die cursed by the Pope Benedictus, who will be elected at the beginning of the reign of the anti-Christ.
- Priests and monks will no longer be seen confessing and absolving the combatants because for the first time priests and monks will fight with the other citizens and also because Pope Benedictus having cursed the anti-Christ, it will be proclaimed that all those who wage war against him will be in a state of grace and should they die, will like martyrs, go straight to heaven.
- The peoples "Bull" proclaiming these things will make a great sensation, and will cause the death of the monarch the anti-Christ ally.
- In order to conquer the anti-Christ more men must be killed than Rome has ever held. It will require an effort from all lands, for the Cock, the Leopard, and the White Eagle would not suffice to overcome the Black Eagle if they were not helped by the prayers and devotion of the whole human race.

acquired knowledge born of experience. He has, perhaps, "gone over the top," not only of the parapet, but also of the average soldier's distaste for professional pietists, and he has won through.

Already the men at the front are discussing the formation of a new church, carried on by former padres and Christian men who have experienced the fellowship of suffering and the shadow of death. It may, or may not, boast a paid ministry. But it will cater for spiritual needs; not for intellectual creeds. Its gospel will be that of "Peace on earth; good will towards men." The only "istu"

HUMANITY'S PERIL

16. Never before has humanity been in such peril, for the triumph of the anti-Christ would be that of the demon, in whom he is incarcerated.

17. For it has been said that twenty centuries after the incarnation of the world, the beast in his turn would be incarcerated and would threaten the earth with as many evils as the Divine Incarnation had brought it graces.

18. Near the year 2000 the anti-Christ will appear, his army will surpass in numbers anything heretofore imagined; there will be Christians among his hordes and amongst the defenders of the Lamb there will be Mohammedans and savage tribes.

19. For the first time the Lamb will be entirely red; in the whole of the Christian world there will not be a space that will not be red, and the heavens, the earth, the water, and even the air will be red, for blood will flow in the sphere of the four elements at the same time.

20. The Black Eagle will surprise the Cock; it will throw itself upon the Cock which will lose many of its feathers, but will strike heroically with its spurs. It would soon be annihilated were it not for the help of the Leopard and its claws.

21. The Black Eagle, which will come from the land of Luther, will surprise the Cock from another side and will invade one-half of the land of the Cock.

22. The White Eagle, which will come from the North, will surprise the Black Eagle and the other eagle and will completely invade the land of the anti-Christ from one end to the other.

23. The Black Eagle will be forced to leave the Cock to fight the White Eagle, and the Cock will pursue the Black Eagle into the land of the anti-Christ to help the White Eagle.

BIG BATTLES ABROAD

24. The battles waged until then will be small in comparison to those that will take place in the land of Luther, because the seven eagles will at the same time pour fire from their burners on the impious land (image taken from the Apocalypse) which means that the Lamb will order the extermination of the anti-Christ race.

25. When the Beast sees he is lost he will become furious; during months the beak of the white Eagle the claws of the Leopard and the spurs of the Cock must harass him.

26. Rivers will be crossed over on a bridge of "dead" bodies which in some places will change the course of the waters. Only great noblemen, superior officers and princes will receive burial, for to the carnage caused by firearms will be added those who perished by famine and plague.

27. The anti-Christ will several times ask for peace, but the seven angels who precede the three animals, defenders of the Lamb, have declared that victory shall only be accorded on the condition that the anti-Christ be crushed, like straw on the threshing floor.

28. Executors of the Lamb's justice, their three animals, cannot stop fighting as long as any soldiers remain to the anti-Christ.

29. The reason the sentence of the Lamb is so implacable is that the anti-Christ has pretended to be a Christian and to be acting in His name, so that if he did not perish, the fruit of the Redemption would be lost and the gates of Hell would prevail against the Saviour.

WILL LOSE HIS CROWN?

30. It will be seen that it is not a human combat which will be waged before the anti-Christ forges his arms. The three animals, defenders of the Lamb, will exterminate the anti-Christ's last army; but the battle field will become as an altar of sacrifice, larger than the greatest of cities and the corpses will have changed its shape by raising it in chains of moulds.

31. The anti-Christ will lose his crown and will die deposed. His empire will be divided into twenty-two states, but none will have either royal house, an army or vessels.

32. The White Eagle by Michael's orders, will drive the crescent from Europe, where only Christians will remain; it will occupy Constantinople.

33. Then an era of peace and prosperity will commence for all the universe, and there will be no more war, each nation being governed according to its wish, and living in justice.

34. There will be no more Lutherans or Schismatics. The Lamb will reign and the joys of humanity will commence. Happy they who escaping from the perils of this prodigious time can taste of its fruit; it will be the reign of the Eternal Spirit, and the sanctification of humanity, only to be achieved by the defeat of the anti-Christ.

it will tolerate will be patriotism. And its head will be One who has suffered and bled as we suffer and bleed, for the cause of humanity. This is but a prophesy; but the idea has taken root and is being well watered. And "after the dream comes the business."

Asthma can be Cured. Its suffering is as needless as it is terrible to endure. After its many years of relief of the most stubborn cases no sufferer can doubt the perfect effectiveness of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy. Comfort of body and peace of mind return with its use and nights of sound sleep come back for good. Ask your druggist; he can supply you.

NOTICE TO SOLDIERS ON HARVEST LEAVE.

Attention is directed to a recent announcement published in the Press by the Military Service Branch, Department of Justice, regarding extensions to be granted to men EXEMPTED AS FARMERS.

It is pointed out that this DOES NOT IN ANY WAY AFFECT MEN WHO HAVE BEEN ORDERED BY THE REGISTRAR TO REPORT TO Depot Battalions and who have thereafter received leave of absence from the Military Authorities.

Once a man has been ordered to report for duty by the Registrar he leaves the jurisdiction of the Registrar and comes under that of the Department of Militia and Defence, and is to be considered as a soldier. This applies to men of the 20 to 22 Class who have been ordered to report by the Registrar in virtue of the cancellation of exemptions by Order-in-Council of the 20th April last, as well as to those ordered to report in the usual way on refusal of claim for exemption, or on expiration of exemption granted.

All men, accordingly, who have been ordered to report, and are therefore SOLDIERS, and who have subsequently been granted harvest leave by the military authorities, MUST, NOTWITHSTANDING THE NOTICE ABOVE REFERRED TO, REPORT ON THE EXPIRATION OF THAT LEAVE, unless they are notified to the contrary by their Commanding Officer or by general notice published by the Department of Militia and Defence.

DEPARTMENT OF MILITIA AND DEFENCE.

NOTICE Military Service Act, 1917. EMPLOYMENT OF MEN IN DEFAULT UNDER THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT.

The following Regulations, recently approved by the Governor General in Council, impose strict obligations upon every employer TO ASSURE HIMSELF THAT EACH OF HIS EMPLOYEES OF MILITARY AGE AND DESCRIPTION IS IN POSSESSION OF DOCUMENTS PROVING THAT HE IS NOT IN ANY WAY IN DEFAULT UNDER THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT.

An employer who is charged with having a defaulter in his employ must be able to prove THAT THE MILITARY SERVICE PAPERS ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OR MILITARY AUTHORITIES TO THE EMPLOYEE IN QUESTION WERE PRODUCED FOR HIS INSPECTION at the time when the employee was taken into his employment, and that it was reasonably established to his satisfaction that the man was not in default under the Military Service Act. It should be clearly understood that the Canadian Registration Certificates given on June 22, 1918, at the time of general registration, in no way define the status of a man under the Military Service Act.

REGULATIONS.

"106. Every person who employs or retains in his service any man who has deserted or is absent without leave from the Canadian Expeditionary Force, or who is in default in the performance of any obligation or requirement for reporting or for military service, imposed upon him by the Act or Regulations, or any proclamation thereunder, shall be guilty of an offence punishable on summary conviction by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by a penalty of not less than One Hundred Dollars, and of not more than Five Hundred Dollars, or by both such imprisonment and fine, unless such person prove that he made due inquiry and that THE MILITARY SERVICE PAPERS ISSUED BY THE REGISTRAR OR THE MILITARY AUTHORITIES TO THE MAN SO EMPLOYED OR RETAINED IN HIS SERVICE WERE PRODUCED FOR HIS INSPECTION, and that it was reasonably established to his satisfaction by such inquiry and papers that the man was not a deserter or absent from the force without leave, or in default in respect of any of the obligations or requirements aforesaid."

"106A. Every person who HARBOURS OR CONCEALS OR IN ANY WAY ASSISTS ANY MAN WHO IS A DESERTER OR ABSENT WITHOUT LEAVE FROM THE CANADIAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, or who is in default in the performance of any obligation or requirement for reporting or for military service imposed upon him by the Act or Regulations, or any proclamation thereunder, shall be guilty of an offence punishable on summary conviction by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by a penalty of not less than One Hundred Dollars and of not more than Five Hundred Dollars, or by both such imprisonment and fine, unless such person prove that he was not aware and had no reasonable ground to suspect that the man so harboured, concealed, or assisted was a deserter or absent from the force without leave or in default in respect of any of the obligations or requirements aforesaid."

Kettle Point

On the southeastern shore of the great Lake Huron, stretching out miles into the blue waters, is a point of land called Kettle point. It is a point of rock rather than land, layer upon layer of stratified rock, and embedded in this rock are huge, round boulders, called kettles, hence the name of Kettle Point.

These huge rocks are found out in the lake, yards from the main point, which makes one think that probably at an earlier time this point of rock may have extended farther out into the lake, but owing to the ceaseless action of the waves it has been worn down to its present position.

An ideal fishing spot, and with a rare beauty of forest, Kettle Point is a paradise for both the angler and the naturalist. To make it more interesting still a tribe of the Redmen still fish in the waters and hunt in the forest. In 1827 about 2,500 acres of land around the point were set aside for the Indians, and to-day if you would visit this rocky point you might meet the Chief, Jeff Brisette, who lives along the shore. He spends his summers fishing and can spin many a yarn of the fish caught there. One can fancy him fishing and hunting as the redman did of old.

The wonderful beauty of both rock and forest has been preserved in its natural and primeval state, and except for a delightful driveway through the forest and along the shore one would think that no man save the Indian ever found his way to Kettle Point.

Complete in itself, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator does not require the assistance of any other medicine to make it effective. It does not fail to do its work.

Bolsheviki "Free Love" Plan

London, Oct. 31.—Russian maidens under the jurisdiction of certain provincial Bolsheviki Soviets become the "property of the state" when they reach the age of 18 years and are compelled to register at a Government "bureau of free love," according to the official gazette of the Vladimir Soviet of workmen's and soldier's deputies which recently published that Soviet's decree on the subject.

Under the decree a woman having registered, "has the right to choose from among men between 19 and 50 a cohabitant husband." The consent of the man chosen is not necessary. The man chosen has no right to make any protest.

A similar protest of choosing from among the registered women is given every man between 19 and 50, "without the consent of the woman."

This provision is described as "in the interest of the state." Opportunities for choosing husbands and wives are to be presented once each month, the decree states. Children born of such marriages are to become the "property of the state." Stringent rules and penalties are laid down for the protection of girls less than 18. The decree further states that it has been based on the "excellent" example of similar decrees already issued at Luga, Kolpin, and other places. A similar "protect of provisional rights in connection with the socialization of women in the City of Khveninsk and vicinity" has been published in the gazette of the workers' and soldiers' deputies of that city.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

A Presbyterian Peace

New York Times.—An American who has seen Wilson at work in his typewriter corner said to-day: "In my mind's eye I can see the President with his thinking cap on, beating out his reply to Germany. I fancy him in a Presbyterian mood and prescribing a Calvinistic process of conversion for the Germans. There must first be a conviction of sin and wrong. Then there must be contrition, and then confession. There must be practise as well as profession in these processes, which means reparation for the past and guarantee against backsliding in the future. Then, in due order, will come pardon."

Adding an ounce of camphor to each five gallons of gasoline he uses, an English automobilist claims to effect a fuel saving of 20 per cent.

SPANISH INFLUENZA RAGES IN CANADA

Thousands of Cases Reported With Many Deaths.

THOSE WHO ARE MOST SUSCEPTIBLE TO IT

"FRUIT-A-TIVES"—The Wonderful Fruit Medicine—Gives the Power To Resist This Disease.

The epidemic of Spanish Influenza which played such havoc in Europe, has reached this continent. Thousands of cases of the strange malady have appeared and many deaths are already reported; Surgeon-General Blue of the United States Public Health Service having stated that "Spanish Influenza will probably spread all over the country in six weeks".

Practically every ship which touches our shores from abroad, brings those infected with the disease.

Surgeon-General Blue urges that "the individual take all the precautions he can against contracting the disease by care and personal hygiene". Plenty of exercise should be taken; the diet should be regulated, etc.

Spanish Influenza affects most severely elderly persons and others whose powers of resistance are weakened by illness, work or worry, especially those who are "run-down" or "not feeling up to the mark."

GERMANY DESERTED BY HER ALLIES

Austria-Hungary has accepted the terms of the Allied Governments for an armistice. Germany is now alone. Deserted by her allies and hated by the rest of the world, were her crimes less heinous she might almost excite pity. But of pity there will be none. Nothing but execration remains for the bestial nation that has dragged the sister nations through rivers of blood and Gethsemanies of agony. The fear of Germany has forever disappeared. Instead, in the hour of her defeat, even the little nations that have been held in check by her policy of "frightfulness" will no longer hesitate to show their contempt for the Hun. Holland shows this new situation in her notice to Germany that she will allow none of her troops to cross into The Netherlands. There is for Germany only one course open—complete surrender. Whether she quits now or later the result is not in doubt.

"On account of the flu," is competing with "on account of the war" as a standard explanation of the sudden advance in the price on nearly every article that the epidemic has caused a demand for. It is one "uplift" movement that does not require assistance or sympathy.

Victory Loan Sole Topic for Canadians During Next 10 Days

To This All Other Features of the War Must be Completely Subordinated.

The Victory Loan must monopolize the attention of Canadians during the next ten days. There will be lots of time after the campaign to speculate on the prospect of peace. In the meantime the call comes to all—"Carry on." The people in the rural districts especially should realize this.

Canadians at home must take their cue from Poch. When he says "Let up," they may be justified in doing so. But while the men are overseas the need for supplies will continue.

Bear in mind also that Canada's war expense will not cease at the moment when the soldiers lay down their arms. A long time must elapse before the boys overseas can be brought back. Probably 450,000 of them have gone over, and good judges say that they cannot be brought home under 15 months. In the meantime they must be kept.

Be it also remembered that a large proportion of the Victory Loan money will go to finance the sale of Canadian products abroad. The farmer is dependent on it for the sale of his wheat, beef, pork, butter, cheese and eggs to Great Britain. So if the Canadian Army is to be maintained, and the farmers, manufacturers, mechanics and businesspeople generally are to be kept busy the $500,000,000 wanted must be raised.

BUY VICTORY BONDS.

Victory Loan Promotes the Farmers' Interests

The Victory Loan and the Farm go together. Canada's surplus farm products could not be sold without the Victory Loan.

If the surplus could not be sold, prices in the home market would go to pieces.

It is one thing to raise farm products, but it is another thing to sell them for cash.

A large proportion of Canadian farm products could not be sold for cash, if it were not for the Victory Loan.

The farmer who invests in Victory Bonds thus helps to protect his own business.

LEND TO YOUR COUNTRY.

MANY YOUNG FARMERS HAVE GONE OVERSEAS.

From the farms of Canada thousands of young Canadians have gone overseas. These boys have acquitted themselves splendidly. Now when the call comes for $500,000,000 to support the army, and keep the business of the Dominion going on a war basis, the people in the homes from which these boys have gone will not be lacking.

Liberty Loan Set Canadians High Mark

The United States did so well in the recent Fourth Liberty Loan campaign that Canada, in justice to herself, must do unusually well in the present drive, or she will suffer by the contrast.

The Americans started out with $6,000,000,000 as their objective. They actually raised $6,866,000,000. The number of subscribers is placed at 21,000,000, or about one for every five of the population.

To do as well as this Canada must raise over $500,000,000. If she secures the same percentage of subscribers to the population, instead of having 1,000,000, she will have 1,600,000. As can readily be realized Canadians have their work cut out, but they are equal to it.

HAS YOUR COMMUNITY AN HONOR FLAG WITH CROWNS?

See to it that your community gets an Honor Flag, and gets it at once. What is more, see that it gets a few Crowns on it. An Honor Flag is good; but Crowns are better. It is a fine thing to reach the objective set, but it is much better to go away beyond it.

Don't rest until you see that Honor Flag flying in your district. When it is hoisted you will think so much of it that you will insist on a few Crowns being placed there.

The Canadian Government recently fixed a price for creamery butter for export and the Guelph Herald rings the bell when it asks why another step further could not have been taken and the price for the local consumer fixed as well?—Simcoe Reformer.

The cause of the present epidemic promises to be as fruitful a subject of discussion as who was responsible for starting the war. It has been already attributed to war diet, prohibition, German poison germs, and lack of sugar.

It is said that nearly ten thousand lawyers and law students from Chicago have gone to the front. It is hoped that they will not take exceptions, file demurrers or question the constitutionality of any orders issued by their officers.

How dear to my heart is the steady subscriber,
Who pays in advance at the first of each year,
Who sends in his money, and does it quite gladly,
And casts round the office a halo of cheer.
He never says "Stop it, I cannot afford it."
Nor "I'm getting more papers now than I read,"
But always says, "Send it, the family likes it,"
In fact we all find it the thing that we need."
How welcome his letter when'er it comes to us,
How it makes our hearts throb, how it makes our eyes dance,
We outwardly thank him, we inwardly bless him,
The steady subscriber who pays in advance.

The Bridge to the British Market

The Victory Loan is a bridge over which the farmers of Canada drive their hogs, their cattle, their grain and all their surplus crops to the profitable British market.

For, the money raised by the Victory Loan enables Canada to give credit to Great Britain. And only by means of that credit can Great Britain buy the products of Canada's farms.

Therefore, when you come forward at your country's call and loyally lend your money that Canada may continue her vigorous prosecution of the war, you are also benefitting yourself and the whole farming community.

It is the duty of every earnest Canadian not only to invest heavily in Victory Bonds 1918, but to work among his neighbors to make the loan a success.

Before the subscription lists close, every man should realize the sterling character of the investment; the good interest return of 5½%; the undoubted security offered in the Bonds of this wealthy nation; and the vital importance to all classes of people, particularly to the farmers, of the Victory Loan 1918.

Earl Worden was not a gypsy. His hair was too near the shade of hemp and the color of his eyes too closely resembled that of the ocean. Again, he had three freckles, one on the left side of his neck, one on his chin and the other near the tip of his nose. They were faint freckles, but they and the hair and the eyes would belie any assumption that he belonged to the tribes of swarthy nomads.

Nevertheless, Earl and gypsies had one pronounced trait in common. It was the wanderlust. He had traveled on five of the seven seas; he had killed crocodiles on the Amazon, kangaroos in Australia and mosquitoes in New Jersey. He had eaten salmon in Portland, Ore., rice in Tokyo, and prunes in France, as well as in Brooklyn. He was a nomad.

After seeing all the sights offered by 14 countries some strange whim of fate guided him to Gempport, a town in the state of Washington that the map makers forgot, and he took a job in the First, Second, Third, and only national or any other kind of bank to be found there. A whole year he spent at the desk, and he actually had begun to have that settled sensation, when along came a letter from Edward Stevens, Alaska, and it had to do with nuggets and a sure-pay venture. If it had been from anyone else, Earl would have been exceedingly skeptical, but Stevens had been his companion in several adventurous rambles into strange climes, and his good intentions and veracity were not to be questioned.

The letter revived the longing to roam. It caused the old call of adventure to echo and re-echo through Earl's mind. It was an irresistible call, which had only been lying dormant during the last year and was not silenced forever as he had come to suppose. So he prepared to respond.

There was only one drawback. The drawback was Elsie Webb, a dimpled, dark-eyed, attractive piece of humanity employed in the bank. Until the receipt of the letter Earl had considered her an inspiration; but now she was in the way to his answering the call of adventure. He was fond of her to such an extent that he had asked her to marry him only two weeks previously—and she had consented; but that was before this letter came offering him riches and red-blooded life in Alaska. It suddenly dawned on him that he had made a mistake. He could see now that he was in no financial condition to be married. The money he had saved was scarcely enough for the proverbial rainy day; while this letter from Stevens offered an opportunity to obtain a fortune and pave the way to luxury.

So he told her his intentions the night after he received the summons from the north. He broached the subject as carefully as possible and with as much consideration for her feelings as he could muster—without saying much. She merely bit her lip and flickered her eyelashes and said:

"All right, Earl. You know best. I would not stand in the way of your success for the world. We will consider the engagement at an end." He left her home in a rather dazed condition. She had taken the matter very sensibly, he told himself, and yet he felt sure that she cared more than she showed. He could have felt pretty downcast himself, only he dared not permit it. The old call was sounding and he must answer.

It was early in the evening and some late workers were just journeying homeward. One of them, a sturdy young man with a healthy face and steadfast eye, carrying a dinner-pail, stopped Earl and asked for a match to light his pipe. "Thanks," said the laborer, as he puffed contentedly after Earl had furnished the article sought. "Nice evening." The laborer waited on vainly. "Hurry home to his family," urged Earl. "It must seem rather nice." But he must not let such thoughts intrude. They might deter him from his chosen course. So he thrust them aside and the next day drew all his savings from the bank and resigned his job.

Two weeks later he stepped on a boat at Sitka and clasped the hand of his old pal, a robust, weather-beaten man of thirty, and in his ragged clothes, Earl was escorted to a hotel, where he was outfitted in appropriate to a journey inland. "It's a regular business—sure thing," said Stevens, as they sat in the lobby discussing the proposed venture. "All we gotta do is to get the coin. There's another young fellow in town that I'd have taken if I couldn't land you. His name is John Pierce, an' he's a regular scout, but of course I'd rather take my old chum; an' two besides myself in the crowd is one unnecessary. It's gotta be a tough trip, too, let me tell you. I've got twelve huskies but I doubt if six of them will live to reach the end of the trip. Real adventure, ol' top, right out of the wilds, an' a new kind to you. Better'n workin' in any little ol' bank, eh, ol' man?"

While they were talking, Earl noticed a tall man carrying a cane and dressed in exceptionally good clothes for this city of non-pretending, rough-going, big-hearted folk. The stranger walked up to the desk and asked the clerk for a key. When he turned around to mount the stairs his face was in plain view, and Earl saw that it was sallow, with a fixed expression of cynicism and lines of dissipation.

"We'll start for the mainland day after tomorrow," announced Stevens, discarding his half-smoked cigar. "An' we've got a whole lot to attend to tomorrow, so we'd better get to bed." They climbed the stairs to their room, which contained two beds. Earl was tired and he lost no time about getting under the covers. There was little conversation, but before settling himself for the night Earl inquired casually:

"Say, who was that peevish, sickly looking person that walked into the hotel and got a key from the clerk while we were talking downstairs?"

Stevens pondered a moment before replying: "Oh, yes, I know who you mean. I didn't recall at first who it was you referred to, but I remember seeing Caldwell Hurst come in during our palaver. Yep, that was Caldwell Hurst an' he's just as prosperous as he looks. But he squanders his cash like it was water, mostly for booze. He's got plenty of it, 'cause he struck it rich three years ago; but they say he lost his girl back in the States while he was hunting gold in the Klondike, an' he's been tryin' to drown his sorrow ever since. He hasn't any home 'cept this hotel and the saloons."

Earl turned over and closed his eyes. Into his mind flashed a picture of a contented laborer, puffing placidly at a pipe, a dinner-pail on his arm, hurrying home to a loving wife and cheerful fireplace. Earl was drifting to sleep when he heard Stevens remark philosophically:

"He'd better have kept the girl and enjoyed peace of mind than to have all the wealth of all the kingdoms of the earth. You can bet if I had a reg'lar girl who cared for me I wouldn't be chasin' nuggets, not me."

"Good night," said Earl. "Good night," Stevens responded, with less emphasis, failing to catch the hidden significance in his companion's expression.

Back in Gempport a dark-eyed girl tossed restlessly in bed, her brain racked by a fitful fever that would not permit sleep to come. At last she got out of bed and went to the window, which faced the north. The aurora borealis was glittering phantasmic across the sky, presenting to her mind's eye a picture of icebergs heaving and tossing, surging back and forth, as restless as her own soul.

A cool breeze swept in through the window and enveloped her in a draft, but she did not notice it. Standing there, with her eyes fixed on the arch of oscillating ghost-columns of light, she stretched out her arms to the north and issued a silent, soul-inspired call to the man she loved.

Up where those phantom armies moved, the man heard the call. While he slept his lips formed the name, "Elsie," and a smile wreathed his face. Her picture formed in his mind, but it lingered only a moment. Then his thoughts ran rampant, and a dream fantasy caught him and whisked him about like a chip in a whirlpool. He gripped something, he knew not what, and succeeded in steadying himself. He found that he was in a theater watching a screen play, in which a laborer with a dinner-pail and a tall, expensively-garbed man, carrying a canon on his back, were the leading characters. The play ended when the laborer saddled and bridled Caldwell Hurst and rode the latter toward a deep canyon, applying a whip mercilessly. At the edge of the precipice the laborer suddenly leaped from his mount and steadied himself on the brink, while the spender galloped into space and dropped into the abyss.

Early in the morning Earl and his friend dressed and went down to the lobby. "What'll you smoke?" Stevens suggested, as they stood before a cigar stand after eating a substantial breakfast. "I want to buy a briar pipe and some tobacco," said Earl.

Stevens took an expensive cigar and both lighted from the same match. Earl drew slowly on the pipe, thinking hard.

"Say, Ed," he finally remarked, "is that John Pierce where you can reach him?"

Stevens' teeth wrenched some tobacco from the end of a cigar, and he spat in a cuspidor.

"Why, yes," he replied, arching his eyebrows. "Why?"

"Well, it's this way," said Earl deliberately, "you'd better see him and take him with you. I thought the spirit of adventure was still alive in me, but I was mistaken. I've got enough money to take me back to Washington, and I'm going to be a piper for the first time in my life and get passage on the first boat."

FARMERS' EXPORTS

BEATING THE BOUQE Money Loaned To Government Financing Huge Exports of Food Products

Last year the people of Canada loaned to the Government $419,000,000 to carry on the war. Out of that sum were spent huge sums to finance the purchase of the British Government in Canada for food and munitions. Since the war began the Imperial Munitions Board has awarded contracts in Canada amounting to $1,200,000,000 and about $600,000,000 have been advanced by the Government and banks. Besides that there were heavy advances to assist in the export of Canada's agricultural products.

These sums have been the cause of a tremendous expansion of industry. Farmers as well as manufacturers have been able to sell their surplus products to Great Britain and to get the money at once. They have gone on multiplying their efforts and doing their part in winning the war, for Great Britain had to eat while her soldiers were away fighting. In the past year the Government has advanced $100,000,000 to finance our agricultural and animal products to Great Britain. The bacon output was entirely handled out of Loan funds. And this year there will be some heavy calls out of the 1918 Victory Loan. Canada has a surplus of cheese for export amounting to $40,000,000. Butter, eggs and condensed milk will amount to $10,000,000 more. The Victory Loan will get these to their only market, Great Britain. The exportable wheat crop will be 100,000,000 bushels and the value $225,000,000. Victory Loan money for the most part will finance this.

It is a big story. Perhaps we may better understand the tremendous import of the Victory Loan by comparing the agricultural and animal exports of the last Great year with four years ago. In 1915 Canada exported of these $209,000,000 last year the figures grew to $740,000,000 because the Dominion Government was able to find the money for the handling of these exports. In manufacturing exports the figures increased from $88,000,000 in 1915 to $336,000,000 in the last fiscal year. Many great industries have been built up. The whole country has felt the impulse to greater endeavor. This is the spirit that is winning the war. We must not let it lag. Subscribe to the Victory Loan.

HEALTH TALK

SPANISH INFLUENZA OR GRIP

An old enemy is with us again, and whether we fight a German or a germ, we must put up a good fight, and not be afraid. The influenza runs a very brief course when the patient is careful, and if we keep the system in good condition and throw off the poisons which tend to accumulate within our bodies, we can escape the disease. Remember these three C's—a clean mouth, a clean skin, and clean bowels. To carry off poisons from the system and keep the bowels loose, daily doses of a cathartic should be taken. Such a one is made of May-apple, leaves of aloes, root of Jalap, and called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Hot lemonade should be used freely if attacked by a cold, and the patient should be put to bed after a hot mustard foot-bath.

To prevent the attack of pneumonia or pneumonia and to control the pain, Anuric tablets should be obtained at the drug store, and one given every two hours, with lemonade. The Anuric tablets were first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and, as they flush the bladder and cleanse the kidneys, they carry away much of the poisons and the uric acid.

It is important that broths, milk, buttermilk, ice-cream and simple diet be given regularly to strengthen the system and increase the vital resistance. The lever is diminished by the use of the Anuric tablets. Put in addition, the forehead, arms and hands may be bathed with water (tepid) in which a tablespoonful of salutaris has been dissolved in a quart. After an attack of grip or pneumonia to build up and strengthen the system, obtain at the drug store a good iron tonic, called "Iron-Tonic" Tablets, or that well-known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Agriculture Aided By Victory Loan

Wonderful Trade Expansion Due to Success of Canada's Loan Issues

Since the war started Canadian agriculture has grown in importance as a national industry. More than ever it is a source of strength to the country. The demand by Great Britain for food, not only for her soldiers but for her civilian population, has opened a market of tremendous possibilities. In 1915 our total agricultural exports amounted to $205,000,000. At the end of the fiscal year of 1917-18, the total had jumped to $740,000,000.

This wonderful addition to the National wealth was, to a large extent, due to the Victory Loan of 1917. It was so in this way: Great Britain found that, owing to her vast expenditures on her army and navy, and the necessity of giving monetary aid to some of her stricken Allies, she was no longer able to pay for her purchases of food with ready cash. Rather than see our products lose a sure market the Dominion Government decided to advance such sums out of the proceeds of the Loan issues to pay for a good part of the food that was sent to Great Britain. The farmers had been asked to "produce more food" and they had responded with a will; it was, of course, for the Government to see that the increased production was marketed.

In this way Canada's entire exportable surplus of wheat, cheese, bacon and other commodities was financed. This year there will be for export possibly 100,000,000 bushels of wheat valued at $225,000,000. If the proceeds of the Victory Loan meet the expectations of the Finance Minister a great part of this wheat will be financed by the Government. The export of cheese will be over $40,000,000, and of butter, eggs and condensed milk another $10,000,000. Bacon runs into millions. In the past twelve months the Government has advanced nearly $100,000,000 to finance exports of live stock products.

IN FLANDERS' FIELDS.

In Flanders' fields, the poppies grow Between the crosses, row on row, That mark our place; and in the sky The larks, still bravely singing fly, Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead. Short days ago We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow, Loved and were loved; and now we lie In Flanders' fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe. To you, from falling hands we throw The torch. Be yours to lift it high. If ye break faith with us who die, We shall not sleep, though poppies blow In Flanders' fields.

Pills for Nervous Troubles.—The stomach is the centre of the nervous system, and when the stomach suspends healthy action the result is manifest in disturbances of the nerves. If allowed to persist, nervous debility, a dangerous ailment, may ensue. The first consideration is to restore the stomach to proper action, and their is no readier remedy for this than Parmelee's Vegetable Pills. Thousands can attest the virtue of these pills in curing nervous disorders.

SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY AID VICTORY LOAN

As an instance of how science and industry have co-operated to win the war, it is interesting to note that Sir Thomas White, K.C.M.G., Minister of Finance, has made a special "His Master's Voice" Record for the purpose of actually informing the Canadian Public in his own voice concerning the need of the second Victory Loan.

Science has thus made it possible for the voice of the Finance Minister to be heard in thousands of places in every part of the Country at the same time.

The illustration shows Sir Thomas "caught in the act" as he made his special recording at the laboratories of the Berliner Gram-o-phone Company, Limited, Montreal.

to cure a skin disease, ulcer or sore permanently is to get to the "root" of the disease. That's what Zam-Buk does.

Zam-Buk's extraordinary powers of penetration, combined with its germ-destroying properties enable it to reach and destroy all germs in the underlying tissues, where skin troubles have their origin. Canadians at Home
Must Do Their Utmost

It Is For Them to Demonstrate That the Spirit of the Boys Over There Exists at Home.

Canadians at home must do their utmost in the Victory Loan drive, for the boys in France are looking on these brave fellows, the pride of the British Army, who have carried all before them during the last three months, must not be disappointed in the folks at home. It must be demonstrated to them that the spirit exhibited in the front line, is to be found also on the home front.

There is no problem confronting Canada to-day, or likely to confront her in the future, which Canadians cannot solve, if they put their minds to it. There is no task for them too difficult. But, while everybody believes this, there is no use talking about it, unless the Victory Loan is put over. It will be, for it must be.

DOUBLE UP.

The call is now "Double up." Everybody seems to be doing it. Why shouldn't they? The cause is worth doubling up for. Besides, it would be impossible to get a better investment. It's better than the Americans were offered, for their Fourth Liberty bonds bear only 4 1/2 per cent., whereas ours carry 5 1/2. So "doubling up" is the correct thing. It is patriotic and also good business. Double up.

THE CRISIS.

Your country needs your financial help to meet its crisis to-day. You may need financial resources to meet a possible crisis in your affairs later on. There is one safe, sane, sure way to meet either kind of crisis. In taking it you discharge your duty to your country and to yourself. Take it to-day. Buy Victory Bonds. Buy all you can.

Grieve—Fisher

Mr. James M. Grieve, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Grieve, London Road, and Miss Beryl Isobel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch. D. Fisher, of Wyoming, were quietly married at the Presbyterian manse by the pastor, Rev. J. P. McLeod, at 6 p.m., Wednesday, 30th ult., after which a dainty dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. Many useful and costly presents attested to the popularity of the bride. Owing to the prevailing epidemic, only the families of the contracting parties were present, and the proposed wedding trip to London and St. Thomas was cancelled. The happy young couple are comfortably settled on the Grieve homestead farm, London Road.

The color scheme of the dining room decorations were pink and white. The bride looked charming in a gown of nigger brown with a beautiful corsage bouquet of American Beauty roses and sweet peas.

VICTIMS OF LA GRIPPE

Left Weak, Disheartened and an Easy Prey to Other Troubles.

A Nova Scotia Man Tells How He Found New Health and Strength.

If you have had an attack of la grippe or Spanish influenza you are not out of danger until your blood is restored to normal.

Influenza leaves behind it weakened vital powers, thin blood, impaired digestion and over-sensitive nerves. In this condition the system becomes an easy prey to deadly pneumonia, bronchitis, nervous prostration, rheumatism and even consumption. Ask anyone who has had an attack of influenza what their present condition of health is and most of them will answer "Since I had the grippe I have never been really well." This general feeling of weakness will continue until the blood is built up again, and for this purpose nothing can equal a fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. From first to last these pills make new, rich red blood which reaches every organ and nerve in the body, and through this weak, despondent victims of influenza are transformed into cheerful healthy happy men and women.

Among the many victims of la grippe who proclaim the value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mr. Amos Kauback, of Petite Riviere, N.S., who says:—"I was taken down with a severe attack of la grippe or influenza. After a time the early symptoms of the trouble left me, but I did not regain my usual strength, and I had always been a strong man. There were times when I felt I could hardly crawl about, and I was so run down I could scarcely go about my business. I continued taking medicine but it did me no good. Then I found the trouble was affecting my digestion and the disagreeable feeling from this added to my general misery. I was finally advised to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I decided to try them. I had only been talking the pills a few weeks when I found my strength returning, my appetite improved, and still continuing the use of the pills a few weeks more found me restored to my old-time vigor. I can most strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all who have passed through an attack of influenza, as a safe medicine for renewing their strength."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Kingsville youth with an air gun one day recently, shot at a buggy being driven into the town by Hume Augustus. Along with him was his 3-year-old son who was struck in the eye by a grain of shot and as a result he may lose the sight of his eye.

The body of Pte. W. R. Foreman, who died at the Military hospital from pneumonia, was shipped to Inwood, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Foreman reside. Burial services were held at Inwood and interment was made in Alvinston.
