THE STORE'S GOLDEN JUBILEE ANNIVERSARY

In 50 years there have been great changes in Store-keeping.

Fifty years ago the custom was no fixed prices, no return of purchases and no redress in case of error. Sometimes one was even pestered to buy. Shopping was no child's play. It was a match of wits, so it was usually done only by the Head of the Home.

In contrast to-day even a child may do the purchasing either in person, by Mail Order or Telephone, without any thought of being imposed upon.

This tremendous change though looked upon as modern is not a modern idea in this Store. It is the result of adhering to the principles laid down by my father fifty years ago. His first advertisement announced what was then a startling innovation: "We propose to sell our goods for Cash Only; in selling goods to have only One Price."

Then came his daring guarantee: "Goods satisfactory or money refunded." And with these came the welcome message that "No one is to be importuned to buy." All this soon developed a new spirit of helpfulness and mutual confidence; and shopping became a pleasant pastime, instead of a disagreeable necessity.

Nor was the Public alone considered. It was the custom for people to leave some shopping until Saturday night, and so it was not uncommon to keep stores open until midnight on Saturdays.

My father had experienced in his apprenticeship days the hardship of the last day in the week being the longest. It was therefore a great thing for the staff when he abolished Saturday night shopping by closing every Saturday at six o'clock even during the Christmas season.

In order to shorten the hours on Saturday, the Public had to be induced to do more shopping on Friday. This was accomplished by my father instituting "Friday Bargain Day."

But what a boon it was when during the hot summer months the store began to be closed at one o'clock on Saturdays! On that occasion I remember him saying to me "It will not be in my day, but I hope you will live to see the Store closed all day Saturday. The week's work will be done between Monday morning and Friday evening. Saturday will be a day for play. Sunday will be a day for rest and worship, and people will return to work on Monday morning refreshed in body and in spirit."

On this our Year of Jubilee can any more fitting tribute be paid the memory of the Founder than by making another great stride towards the realization of his dream?

With this intent, the Store will close at one o'clock on Saturdays throughout the year, except during July and August, when the Store and Factories will remain closed all day Saturday.

Such a shortening of the hours for week-end shopping would increase the already heavy pressure on Fridays. Therefore, instead of on Friday, we shall make THURSDAY JUBILEE BARGAIN DAY.

By such means we hope to make the daily task a little easier for our large and loyal staff, and to give still better service to you, the Canadian Buying Public, who have, by your support, helped us to make this a Store that now ranks among the greatest in the world. Our Jubilee Motto will be: "Better Service."

On the first morning that the Store was opened in 1869 it was probably my father himself who unlocked the door. On the first morning of our Golden Jubilee Year the door of 190 Yonge Street is going to be opened by one who keeps his memory ever green. My mother has graciously consented to unlock the door with a Golden Key on the morning of Thursday, January Second, at 8.30 a.m.

Our Jubilee Year is happily also the first year of Peace. May the New Year be for one and all the beginning of a New Era of the best kind of progress -- an Era of Service based on mutual Good-will.

"The Canadians," he said, "set a high standard for themselves and they have worked up to that standard."

Speaking of the Bulgarians he said that they were inferior to the British and French soldiers, but for second rate soldiers, tho they were mostly of the peasant class, and without the sense is place many obstacles. "Sporting Life" is an exciting story of the adventures of a young Englishman, Lord Woodstock, who backs an unknown prize fighter in a ring encounter at the National Sporting Club in London. He also wagers a huge sum of money on his own mare Lady Love to win the race on Derby Day.

This will suitable for the purpose could not be suitable for the purpose could not be authorities and the paymasters' debeen officially given out. This will be on January 4. Until then all official discussion is inadmissible. Among the order is returned men, however, the order is discussed from all angles. It was pointed out yesterday afternoon that many men above 45 or, say 40, were invalided home and discharged before the order was considered. These men believe that they should receive special consideration, and in many cases they were unable to get over to Flanders, therefore not coming at present ders, therefore not coming at present under the dispensations of the order. "I quite agree with the letter to The World," said one grizzly veteran. "I have served in other campaigns, and was invalided home because I was long over age. Do you think for a moment that my chances of earning a living are better than the chap who was lucky enough to get to the trenches. in many cases not even scathed? I know they are not. For two reasons. Firstly, sentiment is such that no matter how genuine my intentions were, people will give the preference to the lucky chap who graduated in France. Secondly, that chap is in most cases much younger than I am, and for that reason alone his chances are better. I am not considering conscripts when I point this

There can be no doubt as to the meaning of the order, as read in the press," said another veteran. "It is very plain, and its intention is to grant a gratuity to all soldiers discharged on or after November 11, 1918, and to all men who saw active service in the field, no matter when discharged, and no matter whether indischarged, and no matter when discharged, and no matter whether invalided and discharged or discharged otherwise, except, of course, in cases where insubordination or lack of discipline is indicated. As I understand it. if a chap saw service in France and was invalided home as far back as November, 1915. he is entitled to his $600 if married, or $424 if single. The order is clearly defined in this

"What does that coon mean by invalided home and discharged?" asked another man. "I was shot in the leg another man. "I was shot in the leg and was in the hospital seven months. After a while I was shipped over here and discharged last year. Sure to heaven that is being 'invalided home.' isn't it? And I know jolly well that I am one of the bunch included under the O. I. C. What's puzzling that chap?"

Toronto Owes Mayor Church Another Term

Let Toronto pay today her debt to him who, through the strenuous years of war, has administered her affairs. Never was mayor confronted with a larger task than he. The fall of real estate, the reduction of assessment, the debts incurred in other years, and on the top of these the war, created a heavy burden. How well the mayor discharged his trust is evidenced by the proud position of the city in the financial markets of the world. And from the great war conflict she emerges with her head erected high, her name inscribed upon the everlasting scroll of honor. Let Toronto start the New Year well. May it be a happy and prosperous year for all, and especially for the boys overseas.

START IT RIGHT

By Re-Electing T. L. CHURCH MAYOR for 1919

Citizens of Toronto:

MAKE THIS NEW PEACE YEAR

Your Year

During the short time, and in the limited space afforded, I have endeavored to present my views on a few of the salient problems in the municipal situation.

I have referred to the need of caution in undertaking civic improvements during the next few years, so that the city may be financially strong to take over the street railway;

of careful consideration during reconstruction that standards of wages may be maintained and returned soldiers successfully re-established in civilian life;

of continuing a pay-as-you-go policy;

of more and better houses;

of avoiding overdrafts by a proper estimate of expenditure and revenue:

of the elimination of waste;

of avoiding unjustified annexations;

and of inducing new industries to locate in Toronto.

I have also referred to the Municipal Abattoir, which acts as a check on meat prices; the saving effected by Municipal Farms; the possibilities of securing revenue from waste; and Toronto's bright future.

All problems of civic government are of great interest to you. You are taxed directly by the city for all its services which administer to your comfort and health. As a ratepayer it is your duty to see that your representatives worthily and efficiently conduct the business entrusted to them by you.

To-day you are electing your civic government for the ensuing year. A grave responsibility rests with you. Do your full duty as citizens, and let business principles govern your vote.

I wish you, one and all, a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

A New Year's Gift.

One first duty rests on every voter tangles. He is now engaged in this. in Toronto today. It is to go to the What he may mean and probably poils and mark his vote. In 1919 we have about seal with her great seal any league four times the number of people living of nations that does not include all in the city, that we had thirty years of them. ago. It is quite likely that in thirty Which simply means that he does years more, Toronto will have follow- not expect an immediate fulfilment ed the precedent of Chicago and of his hopes in this respect, but none quadrupled itself again. That would the less will he endeavor to bring mean 2,000,000 in 1949. We have long ago predicted 1.000,000 for 1934. the cty's centenary year. These are not idle statements, but fair deductions from the experience of other cities in similar circumstances. We are on one of the crossroads of the world in Toronto, and such places invariably grow to huge proportions.

This is what the voter should think about in connection with his electoral duties. He or she is helping to lay the foundation of a city that will palities to the federal government in

The more immediate problems are too often regarded from the standpoint of expediency, or of personal interest, or some other private determining factor. It is this private point of view that makes the difference between a politician and a statesman. It should not be too much to ask our citizen politicians to look beyond the immediate year of their ambition and to think of all that Toronto means in years to be for Canada, already The more immediate problems are too marked as one of the great nations of the future. If the people do not think of these things it is useless to expect who show vision and public spirit and consideration for the generations to come should be encouraged and voted for, so that others may learn what is worthiest in public service. Too many of our policies are of the penny-wise order. Too many of our undertakings are crippled by the fallacy that they will do our time. The best is no more than we should desire to offer the place we call home, and the first best gift we can give our city is a thoughtful, conscienious and discriminating election on New Year's Day. We cannot expect to receive service if we do not give it.

A League or an Alliance?

There is still a difference of opinion in many minds concerning the possibility of dissension between France and the United States over the proposed league of nations, as represented by the views of Premler Clemenceau on the one hand and President Wilson on the other. British papers are less expectant of a breach than American ones. In the United States the dread of "entangling alliances" predisposes editorial writers against the idea of a union of Nations.

President Wilson is quoted as having no interest in the peace of Europe. but in the peace of America.

"If the future had nothing for us but a new attempt to keep the world at the right poise by a balance of power, the United States would take no interest in it, because she will join no combination of power which is not a combination of all of us."

This, however, is a counsel of perfection, and if this is what a league of nations means, it is quite safe to say it will not be reached in our generation. The widest league of nations we can conceive of at the present time is unlikely to include much of Germany, much of Russia, and some other parts of the world. President Wilson cannot be so impractical as to suppose some sort of beginning is unnecessary, and that a league of nations will spring into being fully developed by instantaneous consent, like Minerva from the head of Jove.

If we are to have a league of nations it cannot be at its outset any more than Premier Clemenceau proposes. If England, the United States, France and Italy were agreed, as he says, that there should be no war there would be none. If President Wilson refuses to accept the half loaf and prefers no bread, then he is a less practical man than Premier Clemenceau, who wants a league of nations, but is satisfied to begin with what he has, and would be glad to consolidate and solidify it rather than throw its substantial proporthe away for a shadow.

We sincerely hope that a league of nations may be realized, but the desirable is one thing and the possible is another. Is it possible to receive Germany and Russia into such

Why Church Should Not Be Elected. Altho there has been reams of stuff printed saying that the citizens should not fail to elect Tommy Church, yet not once has this most ardent sup-porter made a statement as to why he should be made the mayor of the city for the fifth term. Other, of course, than the fact that this one particular person, and his cortege, desire it. The fact that they were not able to make his advertisements read in a more intelligent and businesslike way is due to the fact that there was nothing which they could enlarge upon. He has done nothing to make him eligible for another whack at a civic

As Man to Man

For over two weeks past I have daily availed myself of the advertising columns of all the city papers to present to my fellow-citizens the civic problems which will confront our municipality during the New Year and during the reconstruction period.

Freely, frankly, fully, honestly, and, I trust, unequivocally, I have stated my own convictions as to the proper way in which to solve these pro-it has been my purpose to make these daily talks with my fellow-citizens clear-spoken, straightforward, man-to-man declarations of my position.

The Evening Telegram subjects me to attack. It tells its readers that "Controller O'Neill's attitude towards the transportation problem has been one of such vacillation that the citizens dare not gamble upon his standing steadfast when the time of crisis comes." It charges that Controller O'Neill has failed to "intimate whether he would take over the Street Railway franchise if elected as Mayor."

As man to man: Is the attack honest? is the charge true?

On December 19—just eleven days previous -the Evening Telegram in its own columns, over my signature, published the following:

"Taking over the Street Railway."

The one great opportunity to secure a public-owned transportation system is presented to the city at the expiration of the Street Railway franchise in 1921. For years the citizens have endured an inadequate, inefficient service, and have waited for the day when they shall take it over.'

"Teronto must own and operate through a Commission, its transportation system to obtain a proper and unified service for all sections of the city."

"This important utility cannot be obtained without determined effort by the people. They will be confronted by hidden and by open opposition. The city and its representatives must needs be alert and ready to foil every attempt, however plausible or iusidious, to obtain a renewal of the franchise."

"Obtained and operated by a Commission free from interference, and not subject to municipal politics, the transportation system will be a valuable asset financially, and an important factor in the upbuilding, progress, and prosperity of our city."

"Toronto must be through for all time to come with the inconvenience and inadequacy of a privately-owned public utility of such importance as her Street Rail-

Brian Is Pleased That He Has a Son

CHAPTER CXXVI. What Brian had said in his letter about Moilie King made no impression on Ruth—at the time. There was a sinister meaning, to her, in the mes-sage concerning his chum. It was ominous, or seemed so to her, that he should say he had made arrangements for her to know in case he was hurt. Perhaps he had already been wounded, she thought, and the SAUNDERS — At Weston Sanitarium

She smiled as she read again his request for chocolate, and then frowned as she reread the part referring to Mollie King (this time more carefully). Brian surely praised her un stintedly—well, perhaps she deserved it. But down in her heart was the unspoken wish that Brian and Mollie was peace.

He had said he was O. K. and loving her. That part of his letter gave her joy, altho she mistrusted his "O. K." But that he said he was loving her thrilled her, and she pressed her lips to the words, as she murmured her love for him.

Then, after a day or two of anxious waiting, came another letter. The reply to the one she had written telling of her boy-their son: Once more her hands trembled as she opened the envelope in her haste; once more her eyes dimmed as she read; yet this time with happy tears. Brian had written: "Dear Wife: Scarcely yet do I re-

Alone at a time when you perhaps wanted, if you did not need me, more than ever before. When he had so handsome a mother it is a shame to inflict him with a copy of my phiz. Yet I can't help being a little glad that it is so; and that you will have something to constantly remind you of me. Kiss him for me, not once, but as often as you do for yourself. It was very sweet and unselfish to let me go without carrying the anxiety I certainly should have had if I had known of what was to come to you. To think that, even at the last, you kept up so bravely with such a secret."

Ruth laid the letter in her lap for a moment and her eyes took on a retrospective look. She had not been unselfish. Yet, after all, it would do no harm to let Brian think so—it might do good, she thought, as she remembered, with just a touch of bitterness, that Brian had spent that last hour with Mollie King. But she could not long feel bitter with his letter before her—the nearest a love letter he had written since their marriage. The letters she had received when away on her to let be since their marriage. The letters she had received when away on her to led Mollie about the boy, and she was delighted. Really I don't know what I should have done, had I not been able to tell some one—some woman. Defeat Senators, Four Goals to Two, in Thrilling

The Arenas ended the old year right. The local pro club came thru with a real e at the Arena last night and beat Ot awa 4 to 2 in a contest that thrilled from bell to hell. It was the first defeat for the Senators and they fought to the h. The first two periods were hockey and the break didn't the third round. The Toronto ed two goals here and salted made many friends. They Il-drilled team and the improvas especially noticeable. They have enty of speed and their checking aves nothing to be desired. They were little off in the passing at close arters, but in Benedict they have a zard. The Toronto forwards got right side half a dozen times in the first to periods, only to have Benedict make enomenal stops. He kept the Senators the fight for the first two periods. Lindsay, in the local net, made his st appearance before the home crowd. Is work was good at all times. He as not as busy as his opponent, but e local fans are satisfied that he will. A change was made on the Toronto e-up when Noble started back on the fence instead of Randall, it was a od move, and the Collingwood boy ayed a smart game thruout. He ecked strongly and did some valuable k of Cy. Denneny and Lowrey played a smart game thruout. He checked strongly and did some valuable rushing.

For fifty-eight minutes of the game the seering was a Denneny family pact. Corbett of the Arenas had counted three goals, and brother Cy of the visitors ran in two in this time. Corbett was brilliant with his rushes and drew a great hand from the erowd.

Nighbor and Denneny were the dangerous men of the enemy forward line. Nighbor had his checking in form and was slippery when carrying the puck. Denneny packed a wicked shot and was senerally trailing to pick up the puck. Both Cleghorn and Gerard were good rushers, but the Toronto forwards slipped around them several times.

The new penalty system was shown for the first time. Gerard butt-ended Meeking and drew a major. The Senators had to play with five men until Gerard served his time. The centre ice typace was not used much, the players elyding on the old game of rushing.

Meeking was a strong worker until Deghorn bodied him in the final round ind he had to retire. Jack Adams showd a some smooth work close to the net. Randall was not used much, and Skiner again checked well. Corbett Denieny was brilliant. He bumped off the buttawa defence, but also went inside any times and gathered in three goals; ameron opened up three or four good unkness and fitted into a pretty play with benneny to get a goal. He was strong or the defence.

The first period was replete with right spots. Only one goal was scored and the visitors got this. The Arenas and many more chances than the control of the proper in the defence.

Monday all day was soldiers' day at Exhibition Camp. The Canadian Garrison Regiment, commanded by Major G. R. Rodgers, were out in full force to enjoy the sports in the morning, concert in the afternoon, and dance at night. A big dinner was held at 5.30, at which Brigadier-General Gunn, commanding M. D. 2, was present. The general gave the boys a very opportune speech, to which they responded in great style with three cheers and a tiger. He also promised that a big day would be held at least once a month. Great credit must be given Lieut. Blake for the way he arranged everything. He was ably assisted to run the sperts by Harry Freeman, and the concert and dance by Bandmaster Chapelle, the well-known musical director. The results of the sports are as follows:

P-A-Y-E CARS ON COLLEGE ROUTE

Pay-As-You-Enter cars will be put in service on the College line on Monday next.

These cars are of the latest model and the equal in comfort and efficiency to those operated in any of the great American cities.

The P-A-Y-E car is recognized as a permanent feature of street railway operation in large communities, but in order that it may give the maximum of service some co-operation on the part of the public is required.

We therefore respectfully request passengers to have their fares ready when they step aboard, to ask for transfers as they pay their fares, and if for any reason there is to be delay in getting change or for other reasons, to stand aside on the back platform and not block the way for others who are ready to step inside.

The cars can only be entered from the rear door, and therefore it is the natural and expeditious thing for the passengers when entering the car to move to the front. When they are prepared to alight, their path will not be blocked by other passengers entering.

The new cars are designed to give every convenience to the public, and a little good-natured co-operation will make them an immediate success.

WEATHER OUTLOOK SENDS CORN DOWN

Prospect of Much Larger Receipts Has Effect on Chicago Market.

Chicago, Dec. 31.—Prospects of colder weather tonight and of much larger receipts next week tended today to weaken the corn market. Prices closed unsettled, 1%c net lower to %c advance, with January $1.42% to $1.42%, and May $1.35% to $1.36.

The finish in oats was unchanged to 1%c down, and in provisions varying from 50c decline to a rise of 30c.

At first the corn market showed an upward slant, except for December, the longs in which were said to have been officially warned against any attempt at month-end manipulation. Offerings of other deliveries were temporarily scarce, but selling pressure became general after predictions that temperatures would undergo an almost immediate decided fall thruout the main portion of the corn belt. The inference was popular that increased arrivals would soon follow the cold wave. Bearish views were also expressed as to the attorney-general's ruling about price-fixing after Jan 1. Under such circumstances, the only important rally which took place came during the last fifteen minutes, when belated covering by shorts forced December up 5c from the low point of the day to %c above yesterday's final figures.

Speculative selling associated with the visible supply enlargement had a bearish effect on oats.

Provisions averaged lower with corn.

Simpson's Coming of Age

The Verdict of Public Opinion

THIS Store's New Year's Greeting to the public of Toronto and of the Dominion takes on a stronger, heartier ring than ever before because THIS YEAR WE ATTAIN OUR MAJORITY!

Early in 1898 the business was acquired by the present owners from the estate of the late R. Simpson.

The surprising growth and development of Canada and this store's share in the same are emphasized in the fact that seven days' business of our Christmas season just past exceeded in volume the total annual business of twentyone years ago.

For this great record the store expresses hearty thanks to the people of Canada, and congratulates itself and its customers on their continued appreciation of worthy goods at fair prices

Favoring home manufacture wherever possible, this store made its buying slogan during the war years, "Canada First, but not Exclusively." Its policy has been to handle goods made anywhere in the British Empire, and by Britain's Allies. Public opinion has maintained this same between Home industries and those of the Motherland with her Allies. The result has been wonderful growth in volume as well as the maximum of satisfaction to customers.

EVEN BALANCE OF JUSTICE

Wishing all a Happy New Year, we start this, our Coming of Age year, with plans more comprehensive and organization more energetic than ever. Performance interests you more than promises or prophecy, but watch for new developments affecting our staff, our customers, and the public generally.

Our Midwinter Sale Begins To-morrow, Thursday Morning, at 8.30
