It is a melodrama of the better class, and that it is what a large class of theatregoers want was evidenced by the enthusiastic manner in which the two capacity houses received it yester-

He would merely shift or draw back his head a few inches, and instantly counter with a speed that nothing could ever stop. With a man who was not absolutely first-class he would take the most extingordinary liberties. In a six-round bout at Madison Square with Martin Judge I saw him three or four times put down his hands, poke out his chin, and defy Judge to hit him. And with all the will in the world Judge could not do it! Then suddenly, with lightning rapidity, Griff stepped close in, seized poor Judge's face between his two hands, and soundly boxed his ears, whilst a crowd of 6000 spectators yelped with inextinguishable and unconfulable laughter. Players Reinstated By Baseball Moguls At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Jan. 4.—The question whether the American Association and the Eastern League will be put into a special classification among the baseball clubs, was considered by the national baseball commission to-day. Late to-night the commission adjourned until to-morrow, when a decision will probably be rendered. To-day's time was given to hearing testimony for both sides.

The commission transacted a great deal of business before it took up the case of the alleged "bolters." The most prominent case that was decided was the reinstatement of Player Wm Sebring: This was Sebring's third application. He is fined $200 outright and the club which purchases him must pay $600 to the Cincinnati Baseball Club, to whom Sebring is indebted for that amount.

The application of "Doc" Reisling of the Tri-State League for reinstatement was refused.

Tri-State League for reinstatement was refused.

Joseph Ward of the Tri-State League was fined $200.

The commission to-day decided that major league clubs might hereafter purchase players after Dec. 1, instead of after Feb. 1.

Players Freeman, Johnson, Jesse Tannehill and Keeley, all of the Washington Club of the American League, were reinstated and fined $200 each. However, $150 of each sentence was suspended.

Player John Innes, who was under contract to the Philadelphia Americans and drafted by Denver, was awarded to Philadelphia.

A WARNING TO WALL STREET. The Detroit News denounces the New York Stock Exchange as the "greatest and crookedest gambling house in the world." It fears that the Hughes commission will not dare to report the whole truth. The money of the country has been drawn thru banks, trust companies, insurance companies and the like, into this maelstrom of corruption and to expose Wall-street might bring on a most disastrous panic. Nevertheless The News says:

"If it shall prove true that the New York Stock Exchange is the crookedest gambling house in the world; that wash sales are the es-sential life of the Wall-street game; that the great bulk of the transac-tions on the stock exchange are for purposes of deliberate deception; that banks and trust companies are gambling to the limit with the funds of the widowed and the fatherless; in short, that Wall-street is the great rotten spot, as charged, then the sober men of the United States will demand the abolishment of all marginal trading. They will cut out that cancer.

"For it is common knowledge that wash sales are but a device to de-ceive, and that they rank in hon-esty with marked cards and the other tools of unregenerate rascality. There is a vein of cynical humor, coupled with a careless good nature, among the people, which seems to justify this singular judgment. So, if the people of the United States once acquire accurate information to the effect that Wallstreet has things so fixed that a certain percentage of all their money sent to New York has no possible chance to come back to them, the people will conclude the time for action has arrived. They will find some way to stop their bankers from yielding to the en-tigement of Wall-street interest rates, even if they have to raze Wall-street."

In Europe they have not onesixth of the fire losses that we suffer and largely because of wise regulations that induce care and watchfulness.

The widow and Martha were not on the land as claiming ownership, but only as being supported under the will. Defendant is entitled to have the action dismissed, with costs. At the trial defendant by counsel expressed his willingness, notwithstanding the lapse of time, to pay the plaintiff's, Christina McKinnon and Martha Spence, their legacies of $100 each, and this offer I direct him to carry out.

inland revenue department to the mar-ine department in February, 1906. It was a year later before he employed these accountants, and, as he made the contract personally, it is fair to assume that he fixed the $75, $50 and $40 a day compensation. Long before this it was known that grafting was rampant in the marine department. The Arctic expedition and other scandals were thoroly ventilated early in 1906. It was not, however, until the report of the civil service commission in 1908 that Mr. Brodeur either requested or directed any investigation. His expert bookkeepers, it will be remen had been fired in his absence during the summer of 1907 and their work

The Globe in defending Mr. Brodeur deals harshly with the late Mr. Pre fontaine. It says:

"The opposition press, most dishonestly, however, endeavor to create the impression that the fla-grant misdoings which have been revealed took place during Mr. Brodeur's ministry. Many know that almost everything complained of occurred during the incumbency of Mr. Brodeur's immediate predecessor, and that if he were alive and in office he would long ago hav had to hand in his resignation Mr. Brodeur has never sheltered himself under this statement of fact. It would do no good. No atonement can be made now or punishment inflicted."

Why, then, should not Mr. Brodeur be asked for his resignation? Surely The Globe does not mean to impute personal dishonesty to the dead min-ister. He was in office but little longer than Mr. Brodeur has been. If he had dishonest officials, did not Mr. Brodeur retain them?

Much is made of Mr. Brodeur taking a trip to London and Paris, which kept him away from Ottawa for a month or two. This is an incomplete alibi, to say the least. He went to the imperial conference, it is true, which was hardly more or less than a vacation trip, and wihle abroad spent some time in negotiating the stillborn It certainly cost enough, whatever he did.

From The Globe's defence it may be inferred that Mr. Brodeur intends to hang on, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. It will hardly help him in Quebec, however, to have The Globe's editorial extensively circulated.

THE FIGHT IN OWEN SOUND.

First deputy reeve—F. S. Scott (acclamation). called out a vote of over 40 larger than called out a vote of over 40 larger than when it passed three years ago and as great an increase over the vote of last year's municipal election, which was also fought on the local option issue. There was the most intense activity thruout the whole campaign and up to three weeks ago the opponents of the measure were quite sanguine that they would win.

would win.

To-day's result is a bitter disappointment to them. The local optionists have carried the question thru a campaign in which noted speakers in Canada and the United States, including the prohibitionist candidate for the presidency of the Union at the last election. It is estimated that the campaign has cost both sides thousands of dollars.

When Engines Get Weary and Cars Take a Rest

Accidents happen---when rails break---and men fail--on roads not protected by automatic safety devices

A Story of a Broken Rail.

List to the story of the broken rail. It is on one of the biggest railroads in America. The track inspector has just passed, and everything to him is O. K. A heavy train follows. The enormous strain breaks a weak rail, but the heavy train passes in safety, leaving a death trap behind. The Limited Express comes booming by. It strikes the broken rail.

With a bump-thump-and jolt it jumps from the ties and topples over. One thing only prevents the entire train from dropping over an 18-foot embankment—that the framework of the Signal Bridge.

Three men killed, many injured, traffic tied up, rolling stock damaged because of the broken rail.

Accidents like this cannot happen with the Price System for Automatic Stopping and Controlling of Trains, for the broken rail would have actuated the device, and the train would have been stopped in safety.

We can prove this to your absolute satisfaction if you will call at our Exhibition Rooms, 12-14 Wellington St. East, top floor, Norwich Union Building, any day, between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

ENVIRONMENT NOT A FACTOR.

World Office, Monday Evening, Jan. 4.

The Toronto Stock Market had an irregular appearance to-day such as might be produced in endeavoring to circumvent transactions as between trading brokers and inside brokers. The market on the whole was firm, but there was not sufficient outside buying power to cause exceptional advance in the speculative issues. The reaction in New York during the afternoon had an apparent effect on local stocks, but it was difficult to force offerings in the market on the reaction. The close of the market was steady, with a strong undertone such as might indicate an early advance in prices without much difficulty.

lambs, 1500 hogs and 100 calves. Owing to the unfavorable weather for this season of the year for keeping stock, and the big increase in the supply of cattle, the undertone to the market was easy, but prices showed no actual decline as compared with those of a week ago. There was a fair number of ouyers present, including some from Quebec and Ottawa, but as most of our local butchers and jobbers had ample stock on hand, trade was rather slow, and the indications were that some would be carried over for a later market in the week. Cable advices from Liverpool reported trade fair, with prices firm at last week's advance, but this fact did not seem to influence local exporters any, as there was no demand from them. Sales of choice Ontario cattle were made at 5c; choice northwest range at 4%c; good at 4%c to 4%c; fair, 3%c to 4c; common at 2%c to 3%c, and inferior at 1%c to 2%c perpound. Supplies of sheep and lambs were small, and in consequence the undertone to the market was firm, and prices showed no change from a week ago. The demand was fairly good for local consumption, and sales of choice lots of sheep were made at 4%c to 4%c, and culls at 3%c to 3%c, while choice lots of lambs sold at 5%c to 6c, and good at 5%c to 5%c perpound.

A stronger feeling developed in the at 5%c to 6c, and good at 5%c to 5%c per pound.

A stronger feeling developed in the market for hogs, and prices since last Wednesday show an advance of 25 cents per 100 pounds. This is attributed to the small supply that has been coming forward of late, and, as packers were somewhat short of supplies, the demand today was active, and the competition between the buyers keener than usual; therefore a good trade was done, and sales of selected lots were made freely at $6.75, $6.90 and $7 per 100 pounds, weighed off cars.

Temiskaming Section of the Camp Will Usurp the Shipping

Position for 1909. Cobalt's production for 1908 amounts to over 25,000 tons. La Rose contributed over 4700 tons, or almost one-fifth of the camp's entire output.

iskaming section of Cobalt camp.

At the time of the flotation of La Rose Consolidated, some would be critics belittled the Fisher-Epplitt forty acres and others of the La Rose lots in this section. That company's great sources of profits may yet come from this end of the camp.

The tonnage for 1907 amounted to shipments is very considerable.

"The Man on the Spot's" table will be followed by supplementary statements.

December shipments aggregated 2719
tons. The shippers were:

O'Brien Temiskaming Drummond
City of Cobalt
Temiskaming & H. B.
Chambers-Ferland

Total 2719
While there are not as many new shippers in 1908 as might have been expected, and some of the old ones have expected, and some of the old ones have disappeared, the increase in values will prove very remarkable. The new shippers, Temiskaming, Temiskaming & Hudson Bay, King Edward, City of Cobalt, Nova Scotia, Crown Reserve, Nancy Helen and Silver Cliff, are, however, sending as rich ore to the smelters as any of the old smelters.

In the Temiskaming section of Cobalt camp alone there will appear during 1909 more new shippers than have been seen in the entire camp during 1908.
