THE USURPERS
The Meighen government is an usurper. It had no mandate to carry on the government after the close of the war. It should have appealed to the people, but did not do so, and therefore it deserves public condemnation.

A LABOR LEADER SPEAKS.
Mr. James Murdoch, formerly of the Board of Commerce of Canada, and Vice-President of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, told the Toronto Globe on Saturday that he will actively support the Liberals in the federal election campaign.

Hon. Mr. Ballantyne called a conference of representatives of the railways, steamship companies, harbor commissioners and grain brokers in Montreal yesterday to consider "whether or not a new mammoth grain elevator for the port of Montreal should be constructed without delay in order to prevent any recurrence of the congestion that bothered the port for a month or more."

The Liberal primaries in St. John-Albert are to be held on Oct. 11. It is the duty of every Liberal to attend, and to see to it that delegates are chosen who will name strong candidates. Upon that everything depends.

IN A CONSERVATORY.
These have not known the sting of rain, Nor swept storm waters heavy falling; And they have never felt the pain Of burning sun;

Gray days to them are outer gloom, And never chill like forest glades; Here their warm and fragrant room They bloom content, LIGHTER VEIN.

A somewhat incompetent lawyer was defending a hopeless case. He became more and more nervous as the time for the trial drew near.

ASKED A TRAMP—"Please, ma'am, could you spare a copper?" replied the housewife, offering a nickel. "But don't think I give you this because I think you need it; I do it simply because it pleases me to do so."

HOW "BOB" ROGERS WAS TRICKED
Seldom has anything—particularly in the world of politics—been "put over" on the Hon. Robert Rogers.

"I have heard since that time a story to the effect that my total election expenses in my first contest reached the huge total of $19,000. To the best of my recollection this is fairly accurate."

NOW SHE IS SURE OF SHOES FOR HER WEDDING DAY

New York, Sept. 29.—Celia Knapper like Cinderella, needed a new pair of shoes. So she walked into I. Fastenberg's store and got fitted with a No. 4 triple A. "I tell you that shoe will give you satisfaction," Fastenberg said to her. "Wait a minute and I'll wrap 'em up." Miss Knapper opened the box to show her purchase to an admiring family and found—box for safekeeping. I wouldn't have missed it for a day or so.

"You shouldn't be so careless. If I weren't honest I could have used all of it. I'm going to be married soon." "That's fine," said Mr. Fastenberg, tucking the box under his arm. "Leave your name and address. I'll send you a pair of shoes for a wedding present. You shall wear it in good health. Fine day today, ain't it?" Peerless Lodge, No. 19, celebrated its forty-seventh anniversary at their hall, Simonds street, on Tuesday evening.

YEARN FOR EASY JOBS IN HAWAII

Applicants from Far and Wide Swamp the Mails.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Honolulu, Sept. 1.—The romantic lure of the South Seas has become so potent throughout the world that the Honolulu Chamber of Commerce is faced with an increasingly onerous and embarrassing problem, its officials announced here recently.

For inhabitants of the crass, cold, commercial world of the temperate zone desire—and make their desires known in a pile of mail that is increasing constantly with each steamer—to leave their unromantic atmosphere and come to Hawaii, the land of music and flowers, where tradition has the golden moon always full and where a person's life, according to popular belief, consists of loling on the shaded beach at Waikiki, fanned by the cooling trade winds and reaching up occasionally to pluck enough fruit from the overloaded boughs to afford sustenance.

A unanimous call was extended to Rev. Peter Jackson by the representatives of the congregations of the Presbyterian church at Robesay, Hampton and Hammond River, at a meeting held last night in the Robesay Presbyterian church. Rev. Mr. Jackson is at present minister at Inverness, Quebec, and the call will be placed before a special meeting of the St. John Presbytery to be held shortly.

EX-KAISER CAUSES HOLLAND WORRY

Government Incensed at the Way the Former Emperor Abuses Hospitality.

Amsterdam, Holland, Sept. 29.—Although the reports about the former kaiser being "confined behind wire entanglements" are sensational and far from the truth, it is a fact that Wilhelm is again giving Holland cause for uneasiness. It is clear that the former ruler has not yet broken with the past, and that he remains in close communication with the Monarchist leaders in Berlin.

The writer is told on competent authority that the attention of the Dutch government has been drawn again to the way in which the ex-kaiser is abusing the privilege of asylum. The government, I am assured, does not intend to ask the exile to leave the country, but it has already made strong representations at Doorn. The cabinet considers that it is high time to away with the nest of German intrigue in the centre of Holland. Stringent watch is kept over the ex-kaiser's movements and the government is decided not to permit the former Duke and Duchess of Brunswick to take up their residence in Doorn next month.

Socialist newspapers are criticizing the weakness of the government, and protesting against the heavy cost of guarding the former emperor whose presence in Holland may some day involve the Dutch government in difficulties. They express indignation because the ex-kaiser still evades taxation on the ground that he is virtually a prisoner and therefore not subject to taxation. The writer understands that legal pressure will be brought to enforce the payment of taxes, the Utrecht provincial council being of the opinion that the emperor voluntarily came to live at Doorn. On the reassembling of the second chamber of the government will be asked to acknowledge its attitude towards the German exile.

GOVERNMENT'S
MANY PROMISES

Election Campaign Brings Tales of Millenium—Eyes of Washington Upon Us.

Ottawa, Sept. 28.—As the Conservative campaign develops sardonic smiles become more frequent on the faces of Dawson cynics who know the game. The old farce is being re-enacted of resting in the ease until an election leaves in light and then promising the millennium if only the government gets back to power. Hon. H. H. Stevens holds out to British Columbia the lure of an Australian preference for lumber and other products although that depends on Australia. In the prairie provinces Premier Lester B. Pearson attempts the farmer with the "dry-pool" suggested by the Saskatchewan government report last May a best experimental method of increasing national effort along this line, and this offer is held out even though George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, ended the Canadian wheat ward with which the west was satisfied, and which the Saskatchewan government report spoke of as "the ideal form of national pools."

In Ontario the spectre of unemployment, which already exists, is held up as a bogey linked up with tariff policies pledged to be Liberal and Farmer but of accepted as such by either. In Quebec the same bogey is displayed, and Hon. C. C. Balfour is telling frontiersmen with one eye on his constitution that another wheat elevator will be erected in the port if he and the government return to power.

illling the Chicks.

In the Maritime provinces the Hon. F.
McCurdy is trying to say, "Here, kick, chick, chick," to stray voters by comparing in vague terms "intelligent centralization" of the Intercolonial and government's eastern lines. Last month an influential maritime delegation, which saw Premier Meighen, was sent away with an answer just as vague.
One surprise expressed here is that "Premier Meighen is still getting off that d stuff about the United States being competitor nation." The general public is better informed, the latest statistics showing that our southern neighbor also "a customer nation" to the extent of $450,011,868, not much less than if of all we sell to the whole world.
Premier Meighen is still in the line of knows also that the United States is source of supplies to our industries, a good percentage of the $683,389,509 paid the year ending August 31 having in for raw materials for our industries. Another thing is that the United States is a neighbor nation and a friend-nation, and quite willing to co-operate along neighboring lines for mutual advantage as shown in the reciprocity pact used unfortunately by Canada in 1911.
Premier Meighen said that he had never believed in "a high protective tariff." It will be curiosity to see whether in on the other side Nigurs falls is depleted. With the falls in operation tonight this will be found a notable attraction. The entire decoration scheme is brilliantly worked out.

eral effect is very artistic. They are so placed as to give ample floor space for patrons to move about and enjoy the pleasant proceedings. The attendance was good for an opening night and the bandstand were well pleased and felt sure of an increasing rally to their support. During the evening a very pleasing programme was played by the band, and dancing was enjoyed. The attractions were well patronized and quite a number took advantage of the opportunity to make sure of tickets for the drawing of the round-the-world prizes, the chief of which is $500. Then come $250, $100, etc., in ascending scale, the total being $1,250. Mr. Connolly said last night that the advance sale was better than ever before. The fair will be in livelier swing this evening and on succeeding nights. The band deserves very substanc-ial patronage, and this it is hoped will be fully given.

Artistic Arrangement of the Patrons of the opening night of the artistically decorated and attractions so good that as the fair progresses they promise to produce a whirl of interest beautifully decorated and has never ap-

BEARS HIS EXILE WITH PATIENCE

German Crown Prince, However, Long in Wieringen for Fatherland—Speaks of Family.

(From Arno Dorsch Fleuret, Special Cable to the Toronto Mail and Empire.)

Amsterdam, Sept. 24.—In these fateful days for Germany, when the question is raised persistently whether Germany will remain a republic or revert to monarchy, I paid a visit to the crown prince, exiled for nearly three years now on the Dutch St. Helena, Wieringen. I wanted to know what hopes, what thoughts, even what information might be coming to him from Germany. The pastor's house where the crown prince dwells is more comfortable and gay than on my last visit, as he has succeeded in getting some of his belongings from the imperial palace in Berlin.

The crown prince's mind is filled with his eventual return to Germany, but he does not read his mind by indication, as he naturally does not care just now to express his thoughts too clearly. I opened the interview by expressing surprise that the crown prince had had patience to stick out three years in Wieringen; but I said I could understand how a man trained to rule in the future had been able to submit obediently to circumstances. The crown prince replied: "You confuse two ideas, being influenced and being ruled. I do not allow myself to be ruled by anybody. It is said silence is consent, but this is not always true. I have held my peace, although I sometimes thought I would exult there is no use of talking. Every time I have said something spontaneously my enemies have jumped on me like tigers and have used my words against me, and I will say this much now, however, you can say for me that I am staying here for pecuniary reasons. Naturally I would prefer to live on the continent, but you know what the German mark is worth abroad. For the same pecuniary reasons my wife and I have corresponded regularly. My wife manages her children and devotes herself to our children, who are all learning to earn their own livelihood when they are grown. My oldest son has written me that I ought to come home and manage the house myself, but I intend to stay in Holland until I am sure my return will not disturb anybody in Germany. So far I have met no one who could tell me where I should return to my country as a private citizen.

"As to being influenced by circumstances, I have seen the effect of circumstances upon the honest folk about me. While living among them I have not lost my balance."

Return of Kaiser.

The moment being opportune, I asked the crown prince when there would be a prince again in Germany. The crown prince replied: "To have a kaiser in Germany—it might happen tomorrow. Why should we not be permitted to live in our country? But do not you really mean to ask when will Germany be ruled again by a kaiser? We might talk about that all night without getting anywhere. It is not for me to decide any way. Furthermore, our unfortunate country has before it much more difficult problems than the question of who is to rule it."

The crown prince asked me: "Where you in Berlin when mass meetings were held following Erberger's murder?" I gave the crown prince a word picture of those impressive Republican demonstrations. He listened intently, and when I finished he said slowly and in a low tone, as if half speaking to himself, "Such incidents as the killing of Erberger are grave political mistakes. Nothing is gained by assassinating political enemies. No party in Germany will gain its ends by such means."

As the serious turn the conversation had taken had left the crown prince in a reflective frame of mind, I arose to go. Always the perfect host, he recalled himself sufficiently to press me not to hurry, but to finish the glass of port wine he had ordered earlier for me. After I arose, he still sat a moment, studying his boot toe, and when he arose to bid me good-bye, he said, without smiling, "I envy you the way you can leave Wieringen and return to Germany."

SIR JOHN A. AND BOB ROGERS

Hon. Robert Rogers tells in an article entitled "Breaking Into Politics," which appears in Maclean's Magazine for October 1, how, before he was twenty-one he was sent down to Ottawa and Montreal to interview the premier and the head of the C. P. R. in regard to certain C. P. R. railway extensions which would be of vast benefit to South Western Manitoba. Sir William Van Horne agreed that the C. P. R. would make the extension on two conditions: first, that on young "Bob" Rogers should rest the burden of persuading Sir John A. Macdonald to give the necessary consent; second, that the C. P. R. was not to be bound until the engineers had reported favorably on the feasibility of building a railway through the Pembina Valley.

Mr. Rogers gives the following story of his first public venture in Ottawa, and shows how he managed to fulfil the first of the above two conditions: "When I first presented the proposal to Sir John Macdonald he listened to me patiently but gave me little hope of an affirmative answer, saying: "My boy, I know your section needs better transportation and I am heartily in sympathy with your ambitious plan, but in the present state of public feeling it is worth more than my political life is worth to attempt to adopt any proposal to assist any branch line of the Canadian Pacific Railway."

"Sir John concluded my first interview with him by pointing out that the opposition in parliament was claiming that Canada was ruined as a result of the action of the government at that time in making a loan of $35,000,000 to the main line; for this reason he felt that it would be suicidal to assist a branch line."

"During my three months' sojourn in Ottawa I celebrated my twenty-first birthday. It was while working hard on our project in the capital that I made the acquaintance of Sir Richard Cartwright, who was then one of the foremost figures of the Liberal Opposition. I discussed with Sir Richard the details of my ambition and told him the conditions which had been imposed upon me by Sir William Van Horne. He was deeply interested, particularly because at some time previous he had bought a very large tract of land in the vicinity which the proposed extension would pass.

After I had told Sir Richard what the proposed extension would pass, he said: "You confuse two ideas, being influenced and being ruled. I do not allow myself to be ruled by anybody. It is said silence is consent, but this is not always true. I have held my peace, although I sometimes thought I would exult there is no use of talking. ## Liberal Primaries October 11

The committee appointed at the recent meeting of the Liberal Executive to act with the chairman, J. Fred Byles, in arranging preliminaries to the primaries and convention, and consisting of J. Fraser Gregory, W. E. Scully, M. P. P., F. D. McAvity, George Cunningham, Dr. C. F. Gorham, Dr. J. R. Nugent, Charles A. Owens, J. MacRae, W. A. Johnston, E. J. Henneberry, Joseph O'Brien and J. M. Donovan, of St. John, and Mr. Stevens, Fred Thompson, S. S. Ryan and John Carnworth, of Albert county, met last evening and fixed Tuesday, Oct. 11, as the date of the holding of the primaries. An announcement regarding the date of the holding of the primaries will be made in the near future. Other matters of importance discussed last evening and the feeling of the meeting was most optimistic in regard to the outcome of the election.

COMEDY GALORE AT OPERA HOUSE

Mid-Week Bill Continues to Please Patrons—New Programme Tomorrow Afternoon.

There will be another opportunity today to enjoy the present splendid variety of offerings at the Opera House. Every act is worthy of being classed as a headliner. And for those who enjoy good comedy, they will do well to spend two hours at this popular theatre. The vaudeville programme is as follows: McLaughlin, Brown and Spencer, in a novelty singing and piano offering; Manning and Lee present a comedy skit entitled "After the Matinee;" Fanny Perry, in a sensational cannon ball juggling act. Tomorrow (Friday) there will be a complete change of programme, and patrons are assured of another banner bill which includes the following offerings: Loney Haskell, the celebrated monologue comedian; Daniel Rosch and James McCurdy, in a comedy burlesque offering, "A Touch of Nature;" Florence Nelson and Surprise, in a comedy novelty act; Elvira Sisters, in a classical and acrobatic dancing offering; George Akron, in a comedy slack wire act. The picture programme will include the final chapter of "The Purple Riders" and a two-reel comedy, "Society Dogs," featuring "Brownie," the Century Wonder Dog.

DRUG TRADE HURT BY LIQUOR DEALERS

Demoralized by the Invasion, Convention Hears.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 29.—The wholesale and retail drug business is being demoralized by an invasion of individuals who are establishing drug shops in order to engage in the sale of intoxicating liquors. L. D. Sales said today at the annual convention of the National Wholesale Druggists Association, of which he is president, "We have noticed recently," he said, "the entrance into both wholesale and retail drug business of a large number of individuals having no knowledge of the drug trade or its ethics, the effect of which has been very demoralizing on both wholesale and retail druggists. Many of these houses are offering drug merchandise at little or no profit. "The price concessions and quotations by these newer houses are not made to benefit the public, but solely to enable these houses to build up sales of sufficient volume to qualify for the sale of intoxicating liquors, which they sell in abnormal quantities. "Practically, so far as it relates to the wholesale and retail drug trade, has placed upon us a burden and responsibility which we are willing to accept, but we must demand in return full and adequate protection from the government, that the law may be enforced and the good name of the trade preserved."

Do you know what constitutes a strong constitution?

To have sound, healthy nerves, completely under control, digestive organs that are capable of absorbing a hearty meal, means you have a strong constitution! Your general attitude is one of optimism and energy.

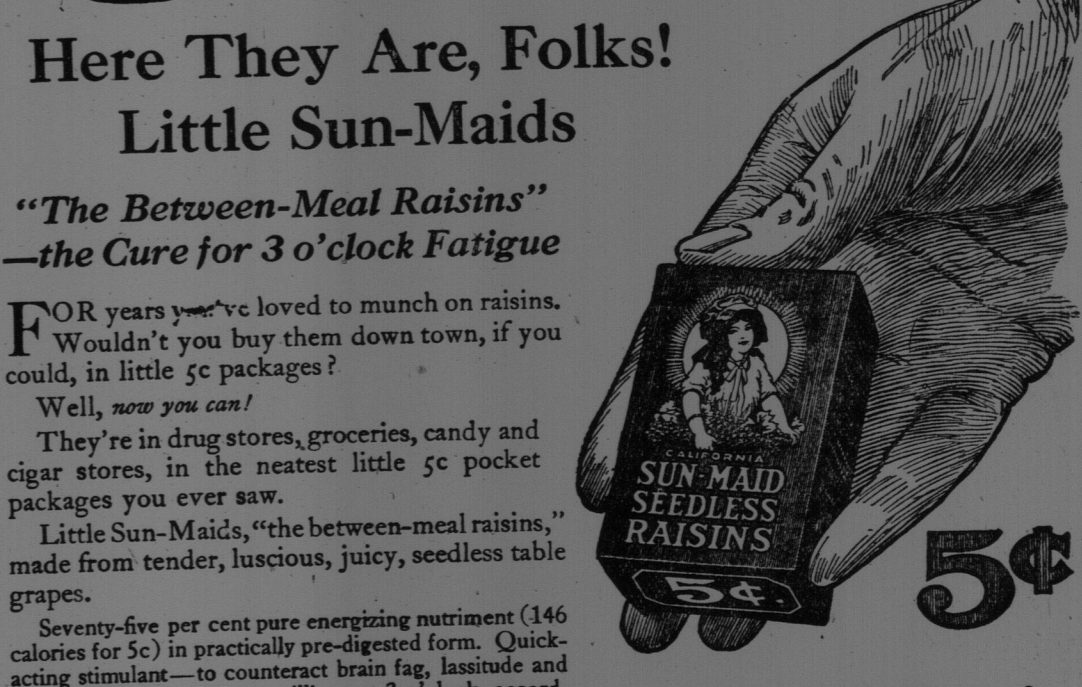

But an irritable disposition, frequent attacks of indigestion, and a languid depression, indicate your system is not in correct working order.

Probably you are not eating the proper food. Probably the nutritious elements are not being supplied to your system in the proper way.

Grape-Nuts is the wholesome, delicious cereal that promotes normal digestion, absorption and elimination, whereby nourishment is accomplished without auto-intoxication. A mixture of energy-giving wheat and malted barley comprise the chief elements of Grape-Nuts. A dish at breakfast or lunch is an excellent, wholesome rule to follow.

You can order Grape-Nuts at any and every hotel, restaurant, and lunch room; on dining cars, on lake boats and steamers; in every good grocery, large and small, in every city, town or village in Canada.

SIR GILBERT PARKER
LAUDS THE MOVIES

Pictures Growing to Play an Immense Part in World's Affairs, He Says—Favors
Use in the Schools.

Sir Gilbert Parker, the novelist, after a year at Hollywood, Cal., in connection with the picturing of some of his novels, expressed his enthusiasm, in an interview, for the motion picture business which has arisen in some quarters against the whole industry during the last few years.

"I have always believed in the motion picture business from the beginning," he said, "and my faith in it has not decreased in ten years—far, after all, it is not more than ten years since the indefinite number of masterpieces in development. In those ten years we have had some superb masterpieces, but of course the number of masterpieces is indefinite compared to the number of films produced. Nevertheless, the whole movement of the film world has been upward during that time.

"The test of success is not necessarily the dollar. D. W. Griffith undoubtedly has the spirit of genius in all that he does in the film. It has been said that he shoots 300,000 feet of screen and that his presentation in the end is 12, 000 feet.

"There are other men who have the same essential spirit of devotion to what they believe is an art and which, after a year's active experience, I am more than ever convinced is an art.
You may tell me that a great many of the so-called 'continuity' or scenario writers do not rank very high intellectually. That is quite true, and that is why there are so many bad films. But men like Mr. Lasky and Mr. Goldwyn and the Metro organization and others are keenly alive to the needs of making the best possible films not only for the money, but because they believe the motion pictures are growing to play an at Charlottetown will doubtless undergo several changes before entering the intercollegiate field. All Mount Allison superstudies have the utmost confidence in "Billy" Godfrey to note the necessary changes which the practice games will bring out, and although the team is play-many practices, they nevertheless are content to trust to "Bill's" good judg-

The tendency on the part of parents to send their children to school before reaching the age of six is stronger this year than in former years. In one class room four children under school age have been sent home. This is not fair to teachers, as the child may be brought and get along well the first year, but in the third year, with longer hours, the tendency will be to lag, and thus keep the whole class back. There is some idea of asking for birth certificates in cases of this kind. Up to Tuesday night 1,286 permits had been issued this year.

Torrington CLEANER

BIG BRUSH—POWERFUL SUCTION

How you can save the money for a vacuum cleaner

If in addition to your regular housework, you have a "cleaning woman" come in once a week to help you, a Torrington Electric Vacuum Cleaner would actually pay for itself by saving this added expense.

The Torrington, with its carpet-sweeper brush and powerful suction, will cut in half your need for outside help, and the money you would pay a maid for these one or two days each month would easily take care of the payments on a Torrington.

Let us demonstrate to you that a Torrington Cleaner means cleaner cleaning and less fatigue.

SUMMONS 12 LABOR LEADERS

Case in Court Tomorrow Growing Out of Monday Night's Trouble.

Twelve officials of the Trades and Labor Council have been served with summonses to appear in the police court tomorrow morning in answer to the charge of being members of an unlawful assembly. This is in connection with Monday night's trouble.

Little or no information was available at police headquarters this morning in regard to the alleged charges. Nothing was made public as to the wording of the summonses, all the officials saying that it was time enough for that when the case came to court.

Fred. A. Campbell, president of the Trades and Labor Council, said that he had no definite idea as to who laid the information, but he had his own opinion. In answer to a question he said that the charge was for "being members of an unlawful assembly." The labor council, he said, would hold a special meeting this evening when the whole question would be gone into and the men's case outlined. John A. Barry and another lawyer not definitely engaged yet would represent the men when their case comes to court on Friday.

Those who were served with summonses were: Fred. A. Campbell, James Pitt, James LeLair, Edward Tighe, John Wood, John McDonald, Ruddle Kane, Charles Stephens, Percy Moore, Alexander Northrup, Thomas Mitchell and Felix McMullin.

J. J. Smith, chief of police, said today that he had submitted no report to the police magistrate in regard to the scenes on Monday night. He had, however, supplied the magistrate with the names of the leaders of the parade. The chief would not discuss the charges or the information further.

REMOVAL OF THE D. S. C. R. OFFICES

All Branches Go to the New Suite in Union Street—The Orthopaedic Branch Moved Here from Fredericton.

The removal of the offices of the local branch of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment from the Bank of Montreal building in King street to the new Pacific Dairies building, Union street, is being carried out today. It is expected that the work will be completed tomorrow.

The pensions, administration and training branches will go from the King street office to the orthopaedic branch, which has to do with the making, fitting and repairing of artificial limbs, is being moved from Fredericton.

The dental clinic, which has been in operation since the close of the war, has been done away with, and any remaining work will be attended to by the former officer in charge, Dr. F. A. Godsoe, in his own office. Arrangements for the transfer were made by Lt.-Col. S. S. Wetmore, director of administration for the maritime provinces, who was in the city yesterday.

ALL FOUR FREED IN THEFT CASE

In the case of the King vs. William Dixon, Jack Kashlin, Nick Shiban and William Truffon, who were sent up for trial before the circuit court, for lack of substantial evidence no indictment was preferred by the crown prosecutor against the first three defendants. The indictment against Truffon was considered by the grand jury yesterday, who found "no bill." All four defendants were therefore dismissed.

The case arose out of the alleged theft of an automobile tire and rim in the Golden Grove road. L. A. Conlon appeared for the defendants, and Dr. W. B. Wallace, K. C., for the crown.

Have Your Washing Done at Home

Your clothes are not mingled with the soiled wearing apparel of strangers; they are not exposed to contagion amid insanitary surroundings; nor is there any checking bother, any rough handling, any marking of fine pieces; no clothes disappear; you do not have to wait days for the return of your laundry—when you have the washing done on your premises, under your supervision, by the A. B. C. ELECTRIC LAUNDRESS.

Thoroughly, carefully and rapidly it washes. Repeatedly, all articles are gently lifted and dipped to loosen the grime. With equal frequency they are rocked and tossed to flush out the dirt. This combination of the two leading methods of electric washing, doubly insures clean clothes—without chemicals, without boiling, without injurious rubbing.
