WILL HARBOR COMMISSION BE ANOTHER CONFEDERATION? To the Editor of the Times—Sir:—A delegation has just returned after interviewing the government on whether they claim what is now the time of confederation which were not carried out—principally, the charges on freight coming and going from the maritime provinces, in least the two months the citizens are to vote on whether they will or will not give the harbor of the City of St. John to the government.

First—If we gave the harbor to the government we have a guarantee that the port charges will be reduced to the same level as the Atlantic seaboard.

Second—Will the government suitably equip the harbor and make it the purpose of carrying out of the increasing trade of the port?

Third—If the harbor receipts under this plan are not sufficient to pay for the commission, interest on bonds, etc., will the government make up such deficiency? Or will the taxpayers of St. John have to provide for same?

Commissioner Jones advises harbor commission, and as one of the city representatives will surely make this plan an issue at the polls.

The taxpayers. Does commission mean the government appoints a board of commissioners who are authorized to issue unlimited bonds for construction purposes, etc., with lots of it, in it, and all amounts expended over and above the amount received to be paid by the taxpayers of the city?

If this is the position in a nut-shell then let St. John with its own citizens build and manage its port, and let the special privilege be taken next April when the majority of council will come before the electors for we elect our representatives for the purpose of studying and deciding upon putting into effect the things that are in the best interest of our city.

This plebiscite would mean about a 35 per cent. vote of the total people to give away a most valuable asset, in fact, the very life of our city and province, and I might say our dominion and our empire, which was proven during the years of war.

Yours, F. L. POTTS.

THE ROTARY CLUB.

An attendance of eighty-nine per cent of the Rotary Club faced Chairman H. S. Calver at luncheon today and was a very interesting address by H. A. Powell, K. C., on the railway situation in Canada today. Mr. Powell referred to the fact that the special tributed the present financial condition to abandoned railways, unnecessary railroads, and to the McAdoo award.

He described the line which needlessly parallels each other, and went into an interesting analysis of the whole situation, concluding with a reference to the labor movement of Great Britain. Mr. Powell was very heartily applauded.

A telegram from F. A. Dykeman and a letter wire from the Edinburgh delegation at the war read by Secretary Hunt.

OUTSIDE MARKETS.

(Moncton Transcript, Saturday) The country market was again overstocked with dairy butter today, 30c a pound being the prevailing price. In Ludlow street church last evening the ordination of the five recently elected deacons took place. The pastor, Rev. Isaac Brindley, spoke to them, telling them that they should not be mindful of criticism, but pursue the path of duty. The new deacons are Edgar W. Christopher, William Fulton, George T. Ring, R. Hunter Parsons and R. J. Anderson.

Miss Ross, police matron, returned on Saturday evening from Dorchester, where she took the two women, Lottie Robichaud and Louise Jackson, who were sentenced to four years in the Maritime Penitentiary, for receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be stolen.

At a meeting in Ludlow street Baptist church, the following members were elected as officers in the Men's Brotherhood Class—George T. Ring, president; Haasen Hamilton, vice-president; John McLean, secretary; M. Mullin, treasurer. Lookout committee—A. McKenna, W. Crawford. Visiting committee—John White, J. Burnett. Entertainment committee—M. Matthews, R. J. Anderson, H. Hamilton.

Five youths, recently convicted and sentenced to terms in the penitentiary for stealing a horse and burglarizing a store at Musquash, were taken to Dorchester on Saturday. Their names are Ronald Owens, Albert Cameron, James Levine, Charles Crawford and Henry Collins. Owens and Cameron

LINOLEUM Made in Canada. Summer Floor Comfort. In summer it is more difficult to keep the house spic and span. Little feet track in the dust and dirt. But thousands of women throughout Canada have solved this problem by covering their floors with Linoleum. They have come to know how easy it is to keep a Linoleum floor bright and clean—an occasional mopping with a damp cloth is all that is required. They have banished tiresome sweeping and heavy washing from their homes by using Linoleum. Linoleum is comfortable and safe to the tread. It is economical, too, costing much less than other types of floor coverings, and it wears for years. There are so many attractive patterns on display at your dealer's now that you will have no difficulty in making a selection. He will gladly show them and quote moderate prices. Look for the strong canvas back when buying, and remember that because Linoleum and Linoleum Rugs are made in Canada they cost you less than imported goods and give better satisfaction. Sold throughout Canada by Dry Goods, Furnishings, Departmental, House Furnishings and General Stores.

JOYFUL TIDINGS.

The Standard has a special despatch from Ottawa in which it is announced that there will be no construction work on the breakwater or the new passenger station in St. John this year. But the port is not without compensation. Mr. Wigmore is to come home in about a fortnight, and he expects to bring with him Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, minister of marine and fisheries, and the citizens may look for an important announcement from the latter in connection with the harbor.

What more could we ask? Announcements about the harbor are not new, but they are always diverting. Another one can do no harm, since the people are accustomed to the process and know that each one is to be followed in due time by still another. Like the rosy dawn of a June morning, they bring gladness for the moment, and who could be so unkind as to turn a cold eye on Mr. Ballantyne and his "important announcement"?

In the meantime it would not be wise to let any member of the city council get away with an effort to stampede the taxpayers in his zeal to get harbor commission. St. John harbor, including the fisheries and shore values, is not a liability, but a valuable asset. The figures prove it. Let us have the figures—and all of them. Not are the wharves tumbling down. When the C. P. R. wants more facilities on the west side it can get them under the tri-parity agreement. What is needed just now is a little clear thinking at city hall and elsewhere. The proposed harbor commission would increase the port charges. That is the view of President Beatty of the C. P. R. and of all who read the harbor commission act as it stands on the statute books.

ST. DUNSTAN'S HOSTEL.

A blind man trained to be a chartered accountant would seem to be an impossibility, and yet there is one in England, who was trained at St. Dunstan's Hostel for blinded soldiers and sailors. There is a very pathetic and yet inspiring interest attached to the annual report of St. Dunstan's, just issued by Sir Arthur Pearson, Bt. G. B. E. chairman. To this hostel have gone 1,772 men who were blinded in the war, and of these more than 1,200 are away and established at work. During the last year 305 completed their training and 106 new ones were received. No less than 23,000 were discharged from the army on account of damaged eyesight, and of these a good many will doubtless eventually suffer complete failure of sight, and so become students at St. Dunstan's. What it means to the blind man to be able to fit himself for a gainful occupation none but himself may accurately measure. Take the case of the blind chartered accountant. In a letter to Sir Arthur Pearson he says:

"For a long time now I have been doing a full pre-war day's work, and the days are often not long enough. I am frequently asked what St. Dunstan's taught me besides Braille, Typewriting, etc., and also how I manage to do my work. Both are difficult questions to answer, but I think the chief thing you taught me was confidence, and also to read out to me, and I memorize the essential points and figures so that I can discuss them with my clients. I have been long enough in the business, of course, to know what things to look out for and to know what questions to ask my clients. Some people think this is all very marvellous; if it is, it is not in any way I who am marvellous, but St. Dunstan's which made it possible."

The report contains many other testimonials from men who have gone out and are organized as well as delighted at their success in a workshop or stenographers, salesmen, or in other lines of business. One who writes has an executive position, in charge of one department of a business. Another is an engineer. Another has resumed his profession in France. Another is a law student and one a barrister. There are massurers, basket makers, teachers, mat-makers, poultry-farmers, joiners, boot-repairers, and men in office work. A number of very expert blinded soldiers remain as teachers at St. Dunstan's, and of the massurers some are engaged in hospitals. Blind teachers of the blind are a reality at St. Dunstan's and their work is very successful. One paragraph of the report says:

"Among the men still in training at St. Dunstan's are fifteen colonials; several who returned to their own countries when they lost their sight have now succeeded in coming here for a course of instruction. Quite a number of colonials have settled permanently in England. The total of those who have gone to the colonies and taken up work there is given as follows:—Canadians, 63; Australians, 70; South Africans, 10; New Zealanders, 20."

The men in the joinery, basketry, boot-repairing and mat-making shops, and one finds it difficult to believe that they can accomplish the work revealed. St. Dunstan's has country annexes at Portland Place, Brighton; St. Leonard-on-Sea, Cheltenham, North Berwick and Ilkley. A notable provision is a Children's Fund to supplement the grant given by the government, and to apply to children born later than during the period covered by that grant.

"Victory over blindness" is the motto of St. Dunstan's, and in the connection the report quotes the Hon. Mr. Lloyd George:—"Out of the night that covers me, Black as the pit from pole to pole, I thank whatever gods may be, For my unconquerable soul."

The Right Hon. William Crooks, the workhouse boy who became a privy councillor, is dead. His career was an illustration of what a bright lad may attain in a democracy, and it is to his everlasting credit that he remained "Will Crooks," throughout his life, the staunch friend of the workers and of the poor.

The Duke of Devonshire has delivered his farewell message to the parliament of Canada, and the people at large will reciprocate the kindly words he has spoken concerning them and their country. On his return to England he will be another powerful friend of Canada, ready to interpret her spirit and her feelings to the people of the mother land.

Before parliament was prorogued Mr. Copp and several other maritime members of parliament took occasion to emphasize the claims regarding freight rates which were presented to the government by the delegation of business men from these provinces. We should soon learn what affect those arguments produced upon the minds of the members of the cabinet.

The announcement that many lumber mills and two large pulp mills in the northern part of the province are resuming operations, though with longer hours and lower wages, is good news at a time when there is so much unemployment.

Those who have read the marriage announcements since the first of June must be impressed by the fact that there are many young people who have faith in themselves and the country, and are not at all worried about the depression in business or the high cost of living.

If the German officer who sank the Llandovery Castle is not guilty because he obeyed orders, what will be done to bring to justice those who gave the orders? Germany should not be permitted to sidestep this question.

A London cable says that Premier Foster on his return to New Brunswick will advocate the re-opening on a larger scale of the N. B. Immigration office in London.

It is now rumored that the British miners and mine-owners may resume direct negotiations. The ultimatum of Lloyd George may have a good effect.

WESTERN CONDITIONS.
Business conditions in western Canada reflect uneasiness on the part of farmers as to the course of prices during the balance of the current year, says the Canadian Bank of Commerce monthly commercial letter for June. Grains, live stock, eggs, butter and wool are now selling on a price basis that is only slightly better than in pre-war days and that still tends to move downward. A year ago the average prices of the same products had reached the apex of an upward movement which started very soon after the outbreak of war, and it was not then anticipated that prices would change materially during the present year. In consequence production was stimulated and farmers freely employed labor at high wages to sow and harvest their crops. Large expenditures were planned and made, and current loans were obtained for this purpose, in the firm belief that not only these, but mortgage, interest, local taxes and other maturing obligations as well, would be liquidated from the sale of produce at a price equal to that prevailing until last October. The producer, however, has had to sell at little better than half the price he expected to obtain, and in consequence he finds himself faced with liabilities which he can pay off only by abstaining from buying anything but essentials, and this policy is being very generally followed. As a result the volume of local trade has decreased, making it difficult to liquidate stocks purchased at prices higher than those now prevailing. While the volume of staple commodities purchased has fallen but slightly, there is an almost entire absence of buying for future requirements. Meanwhile in the Prairie provinces payments are slow, while the demand for mortgages and current loans is abnormally high and is not being fully met.

LIGHTER VEIN.

There are two kinds of men in this world, that is the cruder. There are just two kinds the rich and the poor. "You're wrong," shouted a barber. "There are two kinds; those who shave themselves and those who get shaved!" "You're wrong too," said the manicurist. "There are two kinds; Easy marks and High marks." "You are all wrong," said the optician. "There are two kinds; Myself and others."

Which merely goes to show that anything can be proven from the point of view.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

He Bluffed Too Well
The dealer in antiques was showing an old violin to a probable buyer. "Yes," he said, "that is of historical interest; that is the identical fiddle Nero played while Rome was burning!" "Oh, that is a myth."

But Harry Knew Where.
Visitor—What seems to be the trouble, Harry? Why so sad?
Harry—Papa is going to whip me when he comes home.
Visitor—Indeed? What will you give me to take the whipping of your hands?
Harry—He ain't going to whip me on my hands.

THE STRAWBERRIES ARE NOW RIPE

The Native Berry Picked Up River Yesterday—Some Week-end Notes.

The value of an early morning passenger service along the river was demonstrated this morning when the steamer Dream began her Monday morning runs from the Cedars at the season of 1921. She had a large passenger list more than thirty people getting on board at Public Landing, some while points above and below all contributed their quota to the crowd that more than taxed her seating accommodation. She leaves the Cedars at the past five, and the street car with the first lot of her passengers on board were passing the railway station in St. John this morning as the clock pointed to the hour of eight, daylight time. Those who went up the river for the week-end enjoyed delightful weather.

One cottager at the Landing had an illustration yesterday of how easy it is to start a fire. He threw what he supposed was an extinguished match over the verandah rail into the grass. A few seconds later he was beating out a very promising blaze that wanted to visit the whole neighborhood.

The oaks on the beach at Carter's Point are in full leaf. With a kind of British obstinacy they refuse to don their summer dress as early as the more foppish birches and poplars. At Public Landing yesterday some full blown dahlias were placed in the meadows. The wild cherry and the wild thorn have shed their blossoms, and only the lilacs give a bit of color to the roadside. A few ripe wild strawberries were for sale at the Landing yesterday. The grass in the fields is now tall enough to wave in the wind, and as it waves and the sun shines upon the hillory effect is very charming to the eye.

But there is need of rain. The country side is far too dry for healthy crop growth, and on the uplands the grass blades are as yet too sparse and short to make a good cut. A day's rain would thicken them up in a wonderful way.

They tell of several new summer cottages to be built near the Landing, despite the fact that there is to be no suburban railway service. There will be no vacant cottages along the Reach this summer. The people are going out earlier in the week-end, and in the opinion of a large number of young people gathered at the pavilion at the Landing on Saturday night for an impromptu dance.

Some kind words are being spoken of the provincial department of public works. The Parker hill at the Landing is very steep, and the road has been in an almost impassable condition for more than ten years. A few weeks ago a petition was sent to Hon. Mr. Veniot. The reply was prompt. Supervisor Keating was instructed to report on the subject, and this week he will be there with road-making plant and crew to make the long-needed improvement.

Grates of berry boxes are now being taken up river by steamer, in readiness for the strawberry crop, which should be a good one this year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Kitchen and Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Belding, motored down from Fredericton to Public Landing on Friday for the funeral of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Belding until Sunday afternoon. On Saturday the men visited the Stillwater, below the outlet of one of the lakes a few miles back, and got some fine trout.

Visiting clergymen were heard in support of the city pulpit yesterday. Rev. Frank Baird, of Chipman, was the preacher in St. David's church in the morning and in St. Andrew's church in the afternoon. Dr. Foot, of Korea, conducted the morning service in St. Andrew's church and the evening service in St. David's church. Dr. Foot is a native of Nova Scotia and was ordained in St. David's church about 1898. Following his ordination he went direct to Korea and has been giving devoted service in that mission field ever since. He gave an interesting account of the Korean mission in his sermons yesterday.

Rev. W. H. Baird, of Chipman, delivered the sermon in Trinity church in the morning. Rev. T. George Cracknell, of New York, who is in the city to attend the funeral of his wife, assisted Rev. E. Gabriel in conducting the services in Trinity church. An interchange of pulpits was made in the morning by Rev. E. Styles, of the Carleton street Methodist church, and Rev. Neil MacLachlan, of the Queen square Methodist church.

The British Empire and its ideals and responsibilities was the subject of a fine sermon preached by Rev. F. P. McLeod, of Chipman, in the morning in St. Luke's church yesterday. He took for his text the twelfth verse of the thirty-third Psalm, "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord." As his closing message he said that since God had given the greatness of Empire every citizen should remember from whom it came and realize a responsibility to be worthy of the Empire.

The first open air service of the season was held last night in Haymarket Square and was well attended. Rev. G. Dawson was the chairman, and an address was delivered by Rev. A. L. Teedford. Other ministers taking part were Rev. Mr. Henry, Rev. F. J. M. Appleman, Rev. Mr. Howe.

COMMENT ON APPOINTMENT OF LORD BYNG
Manchester Guardian Says Choice Good for Period Preceding Change in Method.

The Service and Savings Which The BARNET Refrigerator

accomplishes makes it an economy and not an expense. Think of the fresh food, think of the invigorating, thirst-killing drinks, think of the freedom from dangerous tainted meats, and the splendid savings by avoiding waste food. It requires no stretching of facts to show that the BARNET Refrigerator does not cost money, but rather that it saves money. The milk alone spoiled by no refrigeration, will, in time, pay for a BARNET. Think of what it means to know that you can keep foods the year round just as inviting and appetizing as when they come from the grocer or butcher shop.

ship, to which the dominions are tending, it says, will no doubt come before long, but meantime is raises awkward constitutional issues that have not yet been solved. Lord Byng is, in the opinion of this newspaper, a good choice to tide over the period of change. He will not in the dry phase of Voltaire, be shot like his famous ancestor, "pour encourager les autres"; he is much more likely to make a useful success of his new job.

DIVORCED 24 YEARS. THEIR LOVE REMAINED
Trenton, N. J., June 6.—After being 24 years divorced Henry Clay Wells, 74, of Trenton, and Mrs. Rachel Davis Wells Ellsworth, 70, have been remarried. "We never ceased to love one another," the aged bridegroom told the license clerk. Several years after the divorce Mrs. Wells married George Ellsworth, who died five years ago. Wells never remarried.

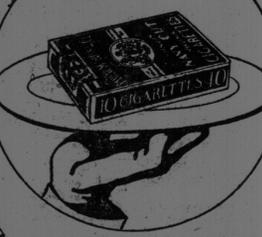

SWING COLLAPSES AND TEN PEOPLE ARE HURT
Hartford, Conn., June 6.—Ten persons were injured, three seriously, when an "airplane swing" collapsed yesterday at Capitol Park, an amusement place here. The police inquiry indicated that a bolt snapped while the apparatus was in motion. The cars of the machine swung on their cables and struck the ground.

RT. HON. WILLIAM CROOKS IS DEAD

(Canadian Press Despatch)
London, June 5.—The Right Hon. William Crooks, who served as Labor member of parliament for nearly twenty years, died today.
Will Crooks, as he was affectionately known, became one of the leaders in the great labor movement and one of the dominant figures in England.
He was born in one of London's slums, Poplar, in 1838, and started work when only nine years of age.
The constant strain of the war shattered his health, as it did that of many another man engaged at home in building the armies and increasing the production for the supply of the armies.
Finally, in 1917, he witnessed the killing of many little children in a school in Poplar by a bomb from a German aircraft, from the shock of which he never recovered.

RECENT DEATHS

The death of Mrs. John Messer, of Tweedside, York county (N. B.), occurred yesterday morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. W. Fred Clifford. Mrs. Messer came to visit her daughter a few days ago to receive medical treatment. The news of her death will come as a great shock to her many friends. She was a native of York county and was fifty-four years of age.

Buy Radio

There is a difference and there is a reason.

THE DIFFERENCE—When compared with other coals, RADIO shows a big percentage less ash; a big percentage less stone and a lot less bother in as much as it burns cleanly.

THE REASON—The quality of Radio, the efficiency with which an order is handled and the prompt and courteous way in which it is delivered.

The body will be taken to Manor Sutton for interment. Besides her husband, Mrs. Messer leaves six sons—Norman and Roy at Coburn, York county; An and Roy at Regina, and George, Leonard and Donald, at home at Tweedside; five daughters—Mrs. Fred W. Clifford, of this city; Mrs. Charles Bell, of Lake George, York county; Mrs. Walter Steed, of Charleau (Ont), and Emma and Doris at home; also four brothers and four sisters.

St. Stephen, June 3.—Mrs. Newnam, wife of Archdeacon Newnam, has received word of the death of a sister, Mrs. W. J. Allen in England. Mrs. Newnam had not seen her sister since she left England forty-five years ago.

The death of James Henry Campbell, formerly of St. John, occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Joseph Harvey, Roxbury, (Mass.) yesterday. Mr. Campbell was a life-long resident of the North End, until recently, when he went to Boston to live with his daughter. He was well-known here, and for many years he was a fireman on boats plying the St. John river. He is survived by two sons, William, of New York, John, of Millidgeville Avenue, and one daughter, Mrs. Joseph Harvey, Roxbury, (Mass.). The body will be brought to St. John for interment.

News has been received of the death of Rev. John Leishman, D.D., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William McGregor, Regina (Sask). He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Carrie Glasgow of Kingston (Ont), two sons and one daughter—Bryson of Kenora (Ont); Dr. Amott of Winnipeg; and Mrs. William McGregor of Regina, also eight grandchildren. The late Dr. Leishman was born in Richibucto seventy-six years ago and ordained in this city in St. John's Presbyterian church fifty years ago. His body was taken to Fleming (Sask) where for many years he was minister of the Presbyterian church, from which he resigned a year ago on account of his health. L. Leishman

Imitated!

It is a familiar fact that no article lacking in outstanding individual merit is ever largely imitated.

It is equally true that widespread imitation is a penalty to which almost every product or principle which does possess distinctive merit must be subjected.

It is the open admission of competing manufacturers that that product or principle is a better one than any they themselves have been able to devise or originate.

If you would measure truly the outstanding superiority of RUBBERSET brushes, forget if possible every good thing you know about them from personal experience and every good thing anyone ever told you about them.

Simply think what this means: The trade name RUBBERSET and the old original RUBBERSET process of gripping bristles everlasting in hard vulcanized rubber is the ONLY brush trade name and the ONLY KNOWN QUALITY WAY of making ever widely imitated brushes in an effort to build markets for "would-be" competing lines!

THINKS MEIGHEN GOOD MAN FOR THE CONFERENCE

London, June 6.—(By Canadian Associated Press)—The Sunday Observer extends a warm welcome to the delegates from the overseas dominions to the imperial conference here this month, mentioning them individually in appreciative terms. Of Premier Meighen it says: "He is visiting us for the first time as Prime Minister of Canada and is certain to play, both in that capacity and because of his exceptional knowledge of the problems of the empire on either side of the Atlantic, a leading part in the imperial deliberations."

The Observers thinks that in this time of pessimism conferences such as this furnish a tonic lesson almost more important than the agenda to be handled, "for with us they give evidence of the reality of empire partnership and the future can hold no possible fears for us."

Ottawa, June 6.—Premier Meighen will leave on the S. S. Empress of Britain this week. Hon. Dr. Tomlin will sail at the same time. Sir George E. Foster will be acting premier.

GETS MUMMY OF QUEEN TI. Emory University Has Relics of an Egyptian King's Wife.

Atlanta, June 2.—The mummy of the historically famous morganatic wife of the Egyptian King, Amenophis III, who died about 1420 B. C., has just been received at the museum of the Emory University here, one of the larger institutions of the dominion.

Queen TI, the name of the bride of Amenophis III, was famous in her time through the fact that the King in marrying her defied the world by choosing a bride for love and thereby disregarding royal traditions.

The records received by Emory include the tablet found by Dr. Shelton beneath the mummy in ancient Babylon, on which a Babylonian King wrote his most famous deeds in order that they might be preserved through the ages.

G. W. V. A. WANTS A HOUSING SCHEME FOR RETURNED MEN.

The annual convention of the New Brunswick provincial command of the Great War Veterans' Association was held in the city hall, Moncton, on Saturday afternoon when problems in connection with returned soldiers were discussed and several resolutions for the betterment of the condition of returned soldiers were adopted.

The G. W. V. A. is strongly organized in New Brunswick, there being twenty-one branches in the province holding charters over who the provincial command has jurisdiction. As the G. W. V. A. is the only returned soldiers organization in the province of New Brunswick it naturally holds a strong influence and expresses the views of practically all the veterans in the province.

After the credentials of the delegates had been presented, the convention got down to business and spent several hours dealing with problems affecting returned soldiers and their interests. It was decided to divide the province into five zones and appoint a vice-president for each zone in order to secure a more prompt investigation into matters in each district and furnish a quicker channel of communication between the branches and the provincial command.

The report of the secretary-treasurer was read and several recommendations made and adopted. Arrangements were completed for the systematic visitation of the branches and for securing all returned soldiers in New Brunswick to live up with the association.

A resolution advocating a housing scheme to enable returned soldiers who were not able to secure their own homes on easy terms, to be administered by the soldiers' settlement board, was ordered passed to the dominion convention.

A resolution was passed asking that in all contracts given by government and civic authorities a fair wage clause be inserted and also a clause that preference be given to returned soldiers.

A resolution of condolence on the death of Colonel H. F. McLeod, the late representative of New Brunswick on the dominion executive, was passed.

A committee of three was appointed to wait on the local government to take up any matter which has arisen that requires a conference.

A resolution was passed expressing satisfaction over the appointment of General Lord Blyden as late corps commander of Canadians, as governor-general.

The protest of the Nova Scotia command regarding the appointment of the New Brunswick superintendent as maritime superintendent for the soldiers' settlement board was taken up, and the action was taken, as the convention felt that there was no occasion for a change in this office as the present incumbent was doing his duty.

Resolutions of thanks were passed to the Moncton city council for the use of the rooms at city hall and to the proprietor of the Imperial Theatre and the Moncton A. A. for courtesies extended.

The following is the list of officers elected for the ensuing year: president, H. Priestman McAdam; late corps commander, J. D. McBeth, Moncton; second vice-president, C. H. McLean, St. John; executive committee: N. P. McLeod, W. J. Brown and G. E. Logan, St. John; A. E. Barton, M. Steves and S. B. Anderson, Moncton; S. G. Baxter, Hartland; J. Manning, McAdam. These officers will be inaugurated by the election of five vice-presidents by the elected members.

Colonel S. B. Anderson was elected representative on the dominion executive, a subsequent meeting of the executive W. J. Brown, of St. John, was re-elected provincial secretary-treasurer.

It was decided that the next convention would be held in St. John.

AS BOSTON SEES BUSINESS

Liquidation Continues, With Merchants Unwilling to Make Heavy Commitments—Cotton and Wool Stocks a Big Problem.

Boston, June 1.—This is a period of watchful waiting in New England. It has to be, as so many of the factors governing our industrial situation are in a peculiar sense out of our control today.

New England money is heavily invested in railroads, public utilities and industrial propositions in other parts of the country, and New England mills are largely dependent on conditions in the west and south and foreign countries.

At the moment industry here wears a somewhat better appearance, but no one knows for how long. Undoubtedly, however, things are permanently improving in some directions. Labor has lost a good deal of its truculence and is rapidly adjusting itself to the needs of the situation. The strike in the building trades is admittedly a failure, and contractors, provided they can secure jobs, are not troubled by a dearth of workmen.

Labor Accepts Situation. The announcement that railroad wages will be reduced in June has had a good effect here. It has been accepted as the deliberate judgment of the American people as a whole and as a thing that cannot be gainsaid. As a matter of fact, it has not surprised the railroad operatives. "Of course," said one of them the other day, "we have known that our wages would have to come down, but we have made as much noise as possible in order that they should not be cut too much."

The fact of importance is that the most strenuous element among the labor forces has seen the handwriting on the wall and has, it is believed, realized the futility of kicking against the pricks. Thus, it is hoped, the way has at last been prepared for a gradual but certain return to normal industry.

No one is deceiving himself that the return will be speedy, for the problem involves too many other things than labor—namely, decreased purchasing power all over the world, unprecedented accumulation of unsold products, and erratic foreign exchanges.

Our leading New England industries are holding, and in some cases increasing, the activity which they gained earlier in the year, but the decreased and decreasing purchasing power of the masses has, if anything, increased the fear of cancellations. Industry is therefore being conducted on a day-to-day basis. No one has the slightest intention of being caught long of goods.

The most bothersome factor, now that the worst problem seems in a fair way of settlement, is the great stock of unsold products, principally raw material. The situation in this respect is not clearly understood by the ordinary person, but it is fairly well grasped by the manufacturer. He knows, for example, that there are now practically two American wool clips to be marketed in place of the ordinary one, and he suspects that there may even be three.

He knows, too, how great is the accumulation of unsold cotton and the financial strain under which it is being carried by the producers. Nor are his feelings on this score greatly allayed by reports of decreased cotton acreage. Agreements to decrease production have many points of resemblance to the gentleman's agreements among railroad managers thirty or forty years ago, which were chiefly noted for their failure. On the other hand, a restriction in acreage does not always mean a shortened yield.

Future Prices Uncertain. The price outlook, therefore, continues baffling. Take the case of wool. At the recent London auction sale there was a decided upward movement, despite the exceedingly heavy unsold stocks in Australia and the colonial markets. Whether this reflects more speculation or a better demand from final consumers of wool fabrics is not clear, though there is some reason for believing that spot sales in Great Britain have been decided.

Turning, however, to this country, it is unquestionably a fact that wool is still in large supply in the seaboard markets. Practically the whole of the 1921 clip is being consigned rather than sold, and at a low figure. Last year it was reported that the eastern banks were advancing fifteen cents a pound on consigned wool. Today ten cents is said to be about the best that can be obtained. In a recent letter from New York it was stated that consignments were being made at eight cents, and that in the face of an offer to buy a figure ranging between 12 1/2 and 15 1/2 cents would be mentioned. Any one who has followed the wool market in recent years will reject a profound significance in such facts.

It is too early to say how our situation is going to be affected by the German reparations payments. Our most experienced financiers have little to guide them in contemplating that situation. Here their attitude is essentially one of watchful waiting. It will be a good thing for the depopulated nations to receive pay from Germany.

ESBYTERIAN SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Report Submitted to the General Assembly Meeting in Toronto.

Onto, June 6.—(By Canadian Press) A trite and true saying that the men of a church are its hope, as it is said of a nation. At the Presbyterian Church annual general assembly, one of the most important reports dealt with by the six hundred members is that of the board of Sunday schools and young peoples' societies. The importance of the Sunday school as an auxiliary to the church is the fact that the 3,800 Sunday schools of this denomination have an enrollment of more than 900,000, thus making an army of officers, teachers and students. The records of this department show a healthy increase over the modern Sunday school is a far more organization than it was even a ago. It is more and more being ed along pedagogical lines with a system that it, in part, based public school grading. This all for increased efficiency in every The Sunday school of today, according to this Presbyterian report, is a wider institution than its predecessor. REV. DR. GORDON IN DR. CODY'S PULPIT

(Canadian Press Despatch) Toronto, June 5.—Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon, moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly, established a precedent here today, by preaching from the pulpit of St. Paul's Anglican church tonight. It has been customary for the moderator to take the official church of the Presbyterians during the sitting of the general assembly, but Dr. Gordon took the services at St. Paul's in conjunction with Archbishop H. J. Cody, the moderator. Both Dr. Cody and Dr. Gordon showed that they appreciated the significance of the precedent thus established, as both referred to and used it as a means to hold out the olive branch to the other churches and to express the hope that the time was not far distant when the Anglican and Presbyterian churches would be working in closer harmony. Dr. Cody took it as a favorable sign, and Dr. Gordon pointed out that there should be closest co-operation between the two church bodies in their work, which could be carried out apart from meetings, assemblies or synods. He expressed his gratitude that Dr. Cody had not accepted the bishopric of Melbourne, Australia.

USE OF SUBNORMAL WORKERS IS SHOWN

Mentally Deficient Girls Tried in Test—Some Phases of the Matter.

The possibilities of mental subnormal workers in industry are seriously discussed in a paper published in the current number of Mental Hygiene, a magazine issued by the National Committee for Mental Hygiene, Inc., 50 Union Square, New York. The results of actual experiments with such workers are given. According to the writer, girls whose intelligence is distinctly inferior were employed not long ago by a large rubber manufacturing concern in the east and were able to earn from $5 to $18 a week. They were able to perform "simple, monotonous jobs" with little or no supervision as soon as they were trained. The writer sees in the employment of such persons not only a means of securing workers when labor is scarce, but also a way of enabling the individuals themselves to become self-supporting. One of the girls employed was Carmella D... Carmella was sixteen years old, but her mental age was nine years and eight months. She had done housework, but was discharged for mistaking a dish towel for a handkerchief. Placed in the group of subnormal workers in the rubber factory, over whom a psychologist had control, she was faithful and appeared to enjoy her work. Her production was low at first. When another girl was discharged, Carmella became alarmed. She worked with redoubled energy. In a short time she was earning $17 to $18 a week on joining linings. A change in work caused her to fall back, but later she earned $14 to $16 on another steady job. When the special class was discontinued Carmella was good enough to be transferred to regular work in the factory. Selection of Work Important. The selection of work suitable for employes of this kind is important, says the writer, Elizabeth B. Bigelow, psychologist and former special class teacher in the Boston public schools. The more a job can be sub-divided and handled by bulk, the better it will be suited to subnormal labor. Two groups of workers were included in the experiment, the imbecile or lower grade and the moron or higher-up grade. Says Miss Bigelow: "The imbecile group could do nothing more difficult than picking the paper from certain parts of the rubber shoe and laying the pieces neatly in rows of twenty-four. As some of the girls were unable to count correctly, they were taught to make rows of six and put four together. As soon as more accurate counting was required they were a failure. There is a large amount of this picking to be done, however, and they can be made very useful at it." The moron group could go much further, but still had their limitations.

They work on what is known as 'fitting up jobs.' This work consists in preparing the various parts of the rubber before they are sent to the makers' tables. They were able to do any of these jobs, with the exception of laying and cementing linings, which require too high a degree of skill and too high a standard of workmanship. They can be trained to take pains up to a certain point, but beyond that point they cannot go. They cannot handle a job that has many parts to keep track of or too many steps to be learned. Whether the work of the girls was actually profitable to the company is not clearly stated, but by the regular factory piece rates all of the girls but three were able to earn at least $8 a week, and a number of them more. The experiment was conducted with twenty-three girls and the factory gave its enthusiastic support to it. Such conditions as light, seating, heat, etc., were controlled. One advantage that these girls have over average workers is that the cleanliness or dirtiness of the job is a matter of indifference to them. Compensation for dirtiness has to be paid in setting rates for cementing jobs, says Miss Bigelow, but this is not necessary with subnormals.

A TRAIN WRECKED ON G. T. R. IN ONT.

Buffalo, N. Y., June 5.—A fireman was killed and an engineer badly injured in the wreck of a Grand Trunk passenger train at Churchton (Ont.), just across the border late yesterday. Two coaches left the rails, but remained upright and the fifty passengers escaped injury.

PROBABLY WORTH WHILE

(Montreal Herald.) In order to "stimulate industry" the Bricklayers' and Masons' International Union of Montreal has accepted a wage cut of 10 per cent. Its action will probably turn out to be prompted by good business sense, for it is likely to result in employment for many Montreal bricklayers and masons who have been waiting in vain for work.

FEATHERS ON SHOES

Paris, June 6.—Women's shoes display extraordinary styles this year. Many make a feature of birds. On one pair are the deep blue neck feathers of a peacock with a single eye cut from a tail feather set instead of a buckle. Another pair show the scarlet plumage of a flamingo. Even in leather shoes red is popular for tops. In fact, women's footwear is of all colors this year.

Silky Wool From Australia. No other material was ever used in these famous stockings for children. There have been times when the Australian supply was light. Then, we were unable to produce enough Little Darling and Little Daisy Hosiery to go round. For we would not substitute other wool. We thought it better not to vary the quality of Little Darling and Little Daisy Hosiery. Mothers, we know, expect in these stockings the finest, softest and best knitted wool yarn. They expect unusual wear. It means much to them to clothe their children in such comfortable, healthful—and, at the same time, such economical—material. WOMEN TO RULE MORE DIRECTLY

Sir George Parkin Points to the Part They are Preparing to Play. (Toronto Globe)

An unexpected treat for the great audience in Convention Hall yesterday was a speech by Sir George Parkin, who said he would like as his text the feeling he had received a few moments before from an old friend, "Both of us are a great deal older than when we last met."

"It is a delight," said the veteran educationist, "to us who are about to put our armour off to find that others are putting it on, and when I see sitting there as you present one of the girls who was brought up with my own daughters, I feel wonderfully pleased. I congratulate you on having so young a President, for there is no similarity in human affairs, and just so soon as we have achieved one goal, new horizons, new problems, new passions come up and these are a new generation to cope with them."

To Rule More Directly "Those who rock the cradle know that they are going to rule the world more directly than in the past," continued the administrator of the Rhode Island State Normal, "and the colleges of the Old Land are crammed with women studying so as to be able to fulfill their duty as citizens. They feel that higher duty in the past, the great colleges have turned out leaders of men. Men qualified to serve in Church and State," said the old Ontario Bidding Prayer has it so to-day there must be turned out women fitted also to lead greatly."

After praising highly the educational scheme comprised in the I. O. D. E. memorial, Sir George turned to an international opportunity. The Anglo-Saxon Ideal "I say here to you women of the I. O. D. E.," he said, "that you could do no greater work just now than in cultivating a true sympathy, so far as will be allowed, with the great country south of us. The Anglo-Saxon is still on top in the United States, but he is looking to the race elsewhere to support him in upholding his ideals. It is our duty to use the utmost judgment, patience and consideration toward our brethren in America who are facing many problems."

In thanking Sir George, Miss Arnold took the opportunity of introducing the meeting to his honored guest, Mrs. George Cooke Adams, the President of D. B. E. in the United States. Mrs. Adams was received with a bouquet of flowers.

FUR INDUSTRY IS OF REAL IMPORTANCE

Canada's fur industry occupies an important place as a source of wealth, as shown by a recent report from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The number of pelts of fur-bearing animals taken in Canada in the season of 1919-1920 is shown to be 3,599,174, with a total value of $21,887,005. According to total value, muskrat takes first place, with $5,090,000; mink second with $3,886,067; marten third with $1,867,267; mink fourth with $1,702,382, and silver fox fifth with $957,972. For average value silver fox takes first place with $246; mink second with $155; silver fox third with $84; blue fox fourth with $69, and patch fox fifth with $53. In order of value the production for the Province is as follows:

Table with 3 columns: Province, Total Number, Total Value. Ontario: 804,733, $8,416,830. Quebec: 275,791, $2,871,110. Manitoba: 728,421, $3,130,697. Saskatchewan: 622,485, $2,338,779. New Brunswick: 51,545, $26,571. Yukon Territory: 35,254, $23,467. Totals: 3,600,004, $21,887,005.

PROMINENT MEN HAD THIS HOOTCH

Additional evidence was added to racing at Woodbine Park, Toronto, Friday afternoon when a squad of provincial license inspectors caught the prominent men for "having liquor in other than a private dwelling." Included in the number was one doctor, who is said to have taken a nine-ounce bottle of hooch with him for a "refresher."

After the names and addresses of those found with liquor in their possession had been taken by the police, the men were allowed to go. The liquor was seized, and the provincial men had a varied selection of containers. Some carried the lavender silver, leather and plain flasks, while others had it in medicine bottles. The summonses ordering the seven accused to appear in police court Wednesday morning were made out at the Richmond street office of the liquor squad Saturday, and they will be served on Monday.

The police refused to divulge the names until after the summonses have been served. The liquor squad started at 2:30 in the afternoon, and first visited the stables in search of booze. About the fifth race the inspectors walked into the members' bar, and claim to have caught several men pulling small bottles from their hip pockets and mixing it with ginger ale which they purchased over the bar. Others were found in the betting line refreshing themselves in the shelter of the crowd. There was no evidence of any of the liquor having been sold at the course.

MONTREAL FIRE WITH $65,000 ESTIMATED LOSS

Montreal, June 6-Fire on Saturday night destroyed several thousand boxes of paper stock and a large warehouse owned by the Canadian Paper Board Company, Limited, corner of William and Seigneville streets. The loss is estimated at $65,000 for the building and $14,000 for the stock, by David F. Robertson, general manager of the company.

MONTREAL THIEVES MAKE A BIG HAUL

Montreal, June 6-Robbery of ready to wear clothing and goods, valued at between $12,000 and $15,000, from a store at 322 St. Lawrence boulevard, was reported to the police by David Blumer last night.

Canadian Seigneville Revisited.

Montreal, June 6-After 1,600 tons of her cargo had been lighter, the C. G. M. M. freighter Canadian Seigneville, which had been stuck in the mud just outside the harbor since last Wednesday, was successfully refloated last night. It is not thought she suffered much damage.

About People You Know

Sam Gompers Has A Rabbit Charm

A Battered Brown, Cottony Rabbit With Cork Leg and a False Eye His Mascot.

VOLUMES have been written about the heavier side of Sam Gompers, the man and his meaning and message. But there is a lighter side as well to the "king" of American labor. It is his boyish bride, like that of our own famous Mayor Mederic Martin, of Montreal, that he can still roll a good cigar as well as in the old days when he was at the bench and a journeyman at fourteen years of age. If getting married at seventy is not sufficient to prove a sentimental side to the great little man, here is further evidence:

Look at his desk and you will see a battered brown cottony rabbit, with dangling ear, a cork leg and a false eye. These are the scars of many a hard-fought campaign, for Brer Rabbit is Sam Gompers' mascot. He has an international reputation. He is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf. This dilapidated wad of cotton has attended all the Federation conventions for years and brought Sam luck. Mr. Gompers feels the good fortune that his mascot brings is the spirit of loyal and efficient service, transmitted from his private secretary, Miss R. Lee Guard, a little southern lady with heart attuned to Uncle Remus's heart-throbs. Sam Gompers has been called almost everything and likened to nearly everything from a scalded rat to a tomato, but it was Miss Guard who one day saw a likeness of Uncle Remus's Brer Rabbit. It was after he had passed victoriously through a trying ordeal. The play of wit between Brer Rabbit and his enemies attempting to pin him to some unescapable corner, made Miss Guard think of the mental adroitness of Sam Gompers in similar situations, and she found the rabbit—so human-looking, with a glint of knowledge in his eye, an all-pervading air of good-will, an absence of bitterness in his make-up. That is the opinion Sam Gompers' secretary has of him after a quarter of a century through storm and stress—and a private secretary's good opinion is a pretty strong recommendation.

"Here Is My Watch, Give Him Your Shirt"

Brand Passed Lloyd George This Note While German Delegate Was Speaking.

A STORY going the rounds in Paris at the moment professes to give the authentic version of the humorous comment of Mr. Lloyd George on the desperate attempt of Von Simons at the London Conference to justify his counter-proposal. The British premier, so the story goes, began to show symptoms of impatience during the German delegate's long-winded and impudent discourse. He fidgeted with his watch chain, rubbed his nose, fingered nervously the papers before him. Then, seizing his fountain-pen, he scribbled rapidly on a piece of paper: "If he keeps on like this in five minutes he'll be asking us for money," and passed it to M. Briand. The French premier, after reading it, smiled broadly and drew his watch from his pocket. At the end of five minutes he unfastened his chain, placed it with his watch, scribbled a note and passed it, with his watch and chain, to Mr. Lloyd George. On the note was written, "Here are my watch and chain to begin with. All you have to do now is to give him your shirt."

GOOD SCREEN STARS

THAT Mr. Lloyd George would be a huge success on the films, as a kindly father, is the contention of a well-known producer.

Other world-famous celebrities who would make good screen actors are the Prince of Wales, with his cheery smile and unaffected manner; Admiral Beatty, who would make a hero of the strong, silent type; and Mr. Balfour, who might be cast for the part of the genial and generous uncle.

SIR WM. MEREDITH SEEN IN HIS HOME

Chief Justice Courty and Lady Meredith Gracious in Their Beautifully Tasteful House.

By T. H. MATHEWS

IN meeting Sir William Meredith, chief justice of Ontario, one readily gains the impression that he would be infinitely just.

It is said that during his eighteen years of service in the Ontario legislature, where for some time during Sir Oliver Mowat's premiership Sir William was Conservative leader, his opponents never once questioned his absolute equity and honesty of purpose. One of Sir William's interviewers said that "h" popularity was rather that of the man who stooped to be friendly, than of the one who mingled on terms of equality.

Some way this does not seem to fit—although one would never presume with Sir William his dignity and natural reserve being so much a part of himself. One feels instinctively that his big humanity and understanding allow him to meet even the least of his acquaintances on a plane in which the sincerity of his interest makes for equality.

That he has a sense of humor, and possibly of caustic, though never unkindly wit, is evident, and he tells a story, apropos of his own brevity, when questioned, of one of the men connected in some capacity with the goods Hall. It seems that this man was ordained for the ministry, but was in the pulpit but once, at that time he gave his text, one of some length, then hesitating a moment he said: "Well, I could not improve on that if I tried," and he sat down.

The pertinency of this discourse seemed to amuse Sir William, who, by the way, refuses to be interviewed in the usual way; he simply will not help by answering any questions, whereas any action or incident serves to place him in the "limelight" of public approval.

Black Squirrels as Pets

SIR WILLIAM'S love of flowers is characteristic, and well known. People come from all about to see his penions, and his garden, at his home in Rosedale. The ground is terraced at the back of the house to make the most of every foot of space in the growing of the blossoms that he loves; as well as for the effective-ness of the display of his carefully-selected plants and shrubs. The grounds lead in a gentle slope to the beautiful Rosedale ravine, and the view of this natural bit of scenery is had to advantage from the house, especially so in the living room, the windows of which are hinged and swing open from the floor in the French fashion, giving full value to the formal flower beds in the rear, as well.

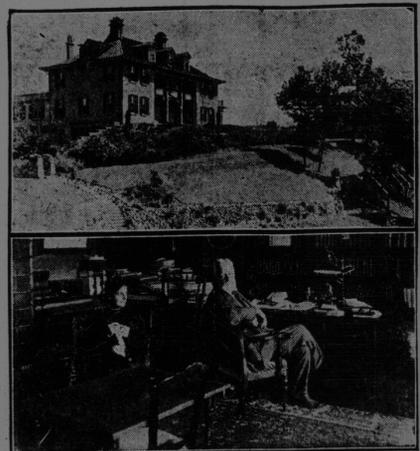

Sir William has lately added pets to his other interests, and at the side of the drive to the right of the house has a cage of black squirrels. Part of this family are allowed their liberty, though they return for dinner at times; and occasionally bring a wild nut from the ravine as a guest.

Lady Meredith was as charmingly as her famous husband himself, she is as simply direct as he is, and has the same rare gift of putting one gracious to an invited stranger as his ease at once. Lady Meredith is of the grande dame school, and one feels that her quiet reserve is seldom disturbed. The house is not large, but it has that quality that one associates with English homes, of being subservient to the owners—every inch is "lived in," until it has assumed something of their characteristics.

One would not call Sir William's home pretentious. It is quietly restful and charming, and upon entering one has a glimpse of rare rugs, of odd pieces of teakwood and old mahogany. In the reception hall is a wonderfully carved hope chest, of antique pattern. Possibly it once held the wardrobe of some Venetian beauty. The impression of comfort combined with perfect yet simple taste, of a very courtly gentleman, who has been given fitting worldly honor, and of a very gracious lady, his wife—such is the lasting memory to be brought away from a visit to the home of the chief justice of Ontario.

Bubbles on the Froth of Parliament; Even the Honorables Pun on Occasions

Signs That the Right Hon. Charles J. Doherty Is Reading the Comics—The Reminiscences of H. C. Hocken.

OTTAWA, April 21.

CORRESPONDENTS of the London Observer have recently been discussing the "awful puns" which have from time to time been made in London theatres. Writes one: "We all used to yell at these bad puns, but now we love them." And that is the way with parliament. Even the most casual reader of Hansard will run across these more or less witty remarks of hon. members, quite out of place in the supposedly solemn setting of the House of Commons debates, but in reality a blessed relief from the daily monotony.

Even such a venerable statesman as the Hon. W. S. Fielding indulges in puns. Only the other day, when the French treaty was under discussion, he discovered that the initials T.M.T. were used to denote "minimum tariff." And when Sir George Foster explained that the extra "T" had gotten in "through the printer's press; the devil was in it, I suppose," what did Mr. Fielding say but this: "Important documents should be corrected to a T."

Awful! But it was Mr. P. F. Casgrain who interrupted the minister of marine to tell him he was "at sea." And it was Mr. W. F. Cocksutt who informed Michael Clark that he had started a "lively" argument by raising the question of an embargo on "live" cattle. Referring to an election in which the Conservative party was defeated, Mr. A. R. McMaster remarked that it was then called the Conservative party "without trimmings." "But," said the genial Mr. A. B. Copp, "it was nevertheless well trimmed."

As to whether these are all puns or whether they are some other form of humor (admitting that a pun is humor), the critics may differ. They may also have their own classification for a remark made by Mr. Fielding when the house was discussing expenditure on the National Transcontinental. Hon. C. C. Ballantyne had placed this amount at $200,000,000. Then he accepted Mr. P. E. Casill's correction that it was $168,000,000. And on this no interest had been paid.

Mr. Fielding, sarcastically: "What difference does thirty million make?" Mr. Ballantyne: "The principle remains, nevertheless."

Mr. Fielding: "The principal is there, but the interest is not."

Mr. Ballantyne himself made a rather apt retort when he was asked by Mr. J. H. Sinclair, of Guyboro, why certain life-saving stations had been closed. "Too many of them were just political life-saving stations," explained the minister.

There are parliamentary puns too, of course, which are evidently pre-meditated. Mr. H. C. Hocken, for instance, referred to the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux as "the hon. member for Grassy." It was cruel to say it of Grassy, but some French-Canadian constituencies are currently regarded as desiring from parliament all they can possibly get.

Of course the hon. members occasionally "get a rise" out of each other by resorting to a quite different type of humor. Hon Mr. Ballantyne's reference to the five-hour speech of Mr. William Duff, of Lunenburg, is an example which caused not a few chuckles. Mr. Duff was not content that the minister should quote what he "understood" that he (Mr. Duff) had said:

Mr. Duff: "You must not understand. Read my speech and see what I said."

Mr. Ballantyne: "When I get my summer holidays I shall be glad to read the hon. gentleman's speech."

Sarcasm is indeed a favorite weapon. A minister the other day was discussing certain marine matters, and promised to be thorough. "I happened," he said, "to come across what is known as Cromwell's Navigation Act of 1651. I think hon. members will agree that it is going far enough back." "Yes," interrupted

WINNECKE COMET PROVES BASHFUL

Not to Keep Date With the Earth by Twenty Million Miles.

That the Winnecke comet will probably not be visible to the naked eye at all, was the statement of Prof. Chant, speaking before a meeting of the Astronomical Society in the Physics building, Toronto, on Saturday night.

The earth and the comet are on different planes, different orbits and travelling at different rates of speed, and all three factors would have to conspire to bring about a collision. When the comet descends to the earth's plane and at the same time crosses the earth's orbit, all that keeps the earth from the engagement is its speed—it will be late. The nearest the earth and comet will approach at any time will be when the latter passes the earth at a distance of some 20,000,000 miles, about June 15. From then on, though the plane of the comet will be getting closer to the plane of the earth, the higher speed of the comet will make the greater the distance between the two bodies.

A meteoric display may take place when the earth reaches the point in space where the hasty comet has preceded it and left behind straggling fragments which couldn't stand the pace. This will occur, if at all, about June 29 or 30, and will be seen in the vicinity of the handle of the great dipper.

A Real Bicycle For a Real Boy

"WHY don't you ride your bicycle to school any more, Bill?"

"Well, Dad, everybody laughs at it. The other boys ride rings round me, and call it the old boneshaker."

"Hmm! How long have you had it?"

"Why, it's three years, now."

You got it second-hand, Dad—remember?"

"That's right! What kind of bicycles have the other boys?"

"They're nearly all C.C.M.'s. The best ones are, anyway."

"I see. What make would you like best?"

"Why, of course, a C. C. M., Dad, every time!"

Dad Offers Him One for Passing

"Well, now, look here, Bill. If you'll pitch in at school and pass your exams, I'll get you one of those C. C. M. Bicycles. How does that strike you?"

"Dad, I'd do almost anything for a C. C. M. You just watch me!"

"That's the stuff! I've heard C. C. M. Bicycles well spoken of, and one should be a prize worth winning."

"It sure is. C. C. M.'s look so snappy and ride so easy. Pewee Bowman has one of the new models and it has the C. C. M. Triplex Crank Hanger. He loaned it to me yesterday for five minutes. Gee, it was just like riding on air!"

"Why, what difference does the Triplex Hanger make?"

"Well, there's never any looseness or tightness when you're pedalling. You feel that every single bit of weight you put on the pedals counts for speed."

"And the C. C. M. doesn't tire a fellow out, either, Dad. Why young Mac Reynolds—he's only half as big as me—rides around all day on his C. C. M. It never tires him out."

"And there's a special bike that I won't outgrow, Dad. It's equally good for a lad of nine or a youth of twenty. It's called the C. C. M. 18-inch Curved Bar Model."

"That's a fine idea, Bill. Dig in, now, pass your exams, and that C. C. M. bike is yours."

(Bill Passed All Right.)

THERE are over 1,000 C. C. M. Service Stations in Canada carrying genuine C. C. M. parts and giving C. C. M. service at reasonable cost. Look for the above sign.

THE BIG FIGHT OF JULY; OTHERS OF PAST DAYS

New York, June 6—With a difference in weight of about twenty pounds when they meet in the ring four weeks hence, Dempsey and Carpenter will otherwise appear almost equal in build and stature. If both were to mix in among a few collegiate athletes, football players and oarsmen, probably neither would be picked out as being unusually big or formidable in general make up. Dempsey stands six feet 1 1/2 inches in height, just two inches taller than the French champion, and while Carpenter will fight about 170 pounds in fighting condition, Dempsey expects to enter the ring slightly under 160 pounds. The champion's shoulders are broad, while Carpenter's are sloping in shape, but otherwise the bodily measurements of the pair do not differ to any marked extent.

Experts who have seen both men are satisfied that they will be well matched and believe that Dempsey will carry by far the heavier weight in his blows. Dexterity and suppleness are claimed as advantages for the Frenchman by his following, but just how hard a punch he can deliver is still a problem. Dempsey showed in his bout with Willard at Toledo that his blows possess enormous punishing power, but his more recent encounters with Bill Brennan at Madison Square Garden did not demonstrate that he still retains the forceful punch necessary successfully to stand off a man of Carpenter's undoubted ability and cleverness. Just how good the challenger is or how hard a blow he can land is problematical to the majority of American athletic patrons, who have seen him in action. His only bout here, that with Levinsky in Jersey City last year, did not afford much of a line on Carpenter's prowess. Levinsky, always a clever boxer, made practically no serious effort to defend himself on that occasion and went down and out an easy victim for the Frenchman in the fourth round. Nearly thirty years have elapsed since Queensberry rules and glove contests were substituted for the London prize ring code governing pugilistic contests for championship titles. In most of the bouts fought for the heavyweight championship since the change took place, there was a decided advantage in stature between the principals, but this did not always carry victory with it. Beginning with the Corbett-Sullivan battle at New Orleans in 1892, the big Boston man was massive in proportion to the lithe, supple and extremely clever

STORY TELLING.
Walter H. Golding was the story teller at the children's hour in the South End boys' club on Saturday morning. Mr. Golding delighted the little ones with the story of Cypar, the English boy, captured by the Indians and his life on the St. John river so very long ago. The story-telling will now be discontinued until the autumn.

NO EXTENSION.
Percy W. Thomson, manager of the New Brunswick Power Co. said today that there was no truth in a rumor that the time limit for the employees of the company to make application for employment under the new agreement had been extended. He said that June 10 was still the last date on which the applications would be considered.

Other employees summoned the ambulance and he was taken to the General Public Hospital where the wound was dressed, four stitches being necessary. Although still weak from loss of blood and shock he was able to return to his home this morning.

CLOSE BOWLING SEASON
The bowling season in this city was practically brought to a close on Saturday when the N. M. C. and Victoria alleys shut down for the summer months. It is conceded to have been one of the most successful seasons since the game was introduced here. The scores on all alleys were consistently good and in many instances exceptionally high. Those in charge of the alleys say that interest in bowling is increasing and they expect before long to have almost as many women participating in the game as men. A feature of the game is that a large number of boys are well well up in years enjoy the pastime and derive benefit from the exercise as well as pleasure from the competition.

CENSUS TROUBLES
Reports from local census enumerators are that they are doing fairly well and with few exceptions are being well received. They say that their greatest handicap is getting the people at home. One said he was refused information in a Chinese laundry so he called upon Census Commissioner W. S. Clawson and was instructed to get a policeman and try again. When the enumerator returned with the policeman the information was given. Some women refused to delay their work long enough to give the enumerators the data required and had to be warned before they finally complied.

CAPT. GEORGE T. PICKFORD DEAD
Friends of Captain George T. Pickford, late of the Head Line steamer "Kensington Head," will regret to learn of his death, which occurred recently at Newport News. Captain Pickford was taken ill on the voyage from New Orleans and the steamer having to go into Newport News for bunkers he was placed in hospital there, but medical assistance was too late and he died the following day.
Captain Pickford was one of the best known shipmasters sailing to the St. Lawrence and to St. John, N. B., having been regularly on this route in command of Head Line steamers for the last twenty years. He was a very popular officer as well as a careful and skillful navigator. During the war he was for two or three years in command of the "Carrigan Head," which was employed as a decoy ship and was responsible for the sinking of several German submarines. He held the rank of commander with the reserve decoration in the Royal Navy Reserve.

PAVING MATTERS BEFORE COUNCIL

Authority to Purchase Materials for Douglas Avenue and Brussels Street—New Sewer Mains Recommended—Enlargement of Fish Hatchery.

Authority to purchase materials for the work of paving Douglas avenue and Brussels street comprised the most of the business transacted at a committee meeting of the common council this morning. The mayor presided and all the commissioners were present.

Commissioner Frink reported that the public works department had been notified that the trustees of the estate of L. V. deBury proposed to convey to the city a piece of land for the extension of Metcalf street free of charge and financial obligation on condition that plans of the proposed street be submitted. On his recommendation it was decided to have the road engineer prepare the necessary plans.

The department of marine and fisheries was asked to extend the fish hatcheries at Little River, and asked for permission to use the land required free of charge. The plan was attached, showing the present site at Little River, and the extra land required. The matter was referred to Commissioner Jones and the city engineer for report.

Regarding the sewer pipes and mains in Marsh road, Commissioner Jones reported that the pipes were in good condition. He said that in the engineer's opinion a conduct was advisable to carry the mains under the tracks where they cross the road. He was asked to bring in an estimate of the cost.

Commissioner Jones asked for authority to extend the sewer in Lancaster street a distance of 375 feet at an estimated cost of $750, to be paid for by bond issue. On motion the authority was granted. He also received authority to lay a 9-inch terra cotta sewer main in Water street, West End, between Ludlow and Watson, at an estimated cost of $800, to be paid for by bond issue. This will be done by day's work.

The by-law regarding the stalls in restaurants was again brought to the attention of the council by Commissioner Thornton. After inserting a clause giving owners twenty days to comply with the requirements, the law was referred to the council for first reading.

Commissioner Jones was authorized to lay a 9-inch terra cotta sewer in German street west, from Lancaster street to City Line, at an estimated cost of $600, to be done by day's work and paid for by bond issue.

Paving Material.
Permission was granted to Commissioner Frink to purchase 20,000 additional blocks for Douglas avenue to be purchased from the same contractor as tendered for the original supply. The price was $106 a thousand.

Replying to the mayor the road engineer said that if Douglas avenue was diverted across an overhead viaduct, the owners of the street would have a dead end which would not require a heavy pavement.

Permission was also granted Commissioner Frink to call for tenders for 137,000 granite blocks, 38,000 special blocks, 400 feet of straight curbing and 282 feet circular curbing for Brussels street, also for 225 tons of asphalt for the same work.

He was also authorized to purchase cement from time to time at a cost not to exceed $40 a barrel. He said that the estimated quantity was 3,500 barrels. He said the price in Toronto was $325 and the Ontario government had appropriated $1,000,000 to manufacture cement themselves, refusing to pay the price demanded.

He was authorized to call for tenders for three dump-body wagons. He said he had private bids of about $380 each. Commissioner Frink said he had a verbal application from the Cornwall & York Mills to carry power from their electric plant at the foot of Clarence street to the Wall street mill. On motion it was decided to reply that an application should be presented, with plans attached, to the council for consideration.

TOWNSHEND-FINLEY.
The marriage of Miss Florence Josephine Finley, daughter of Joseph Finley, 108 Leinster street, to Sydney H. Townshend, C. H. Townshend, 59 Wright street, will take place this afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's father. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. R. Moorhead Legate. The bride, who will be unattended, will be given away by her father. She will wear a suit of gray tulle with hat of gray and a white fur and will carry a bridal bouquet of American beauty roses. After the ceremony the bride and groom will leave on the evening train for a trip to Prince Edward Island and on their return will take up their residence at 59 Wright street. A handsome array of presents bore testimony to the esteem in which they are held by a large circle of friends.

Value That Is Built Clean Through!

THERE IS A CHARM TO EVERETT FURNITURE—a distinctiveness in appearance discernible at a glance. But it is not alone external grace that distinguishes it. Appearance is but an assurance of high grade material and fine workmanship.

We invite your attention to our display of home furnishings embodying ideas that are refreshingly new, and representing the fullest expression of the furniture craftsman's art.

Its value—guaranteed without time-limit—is our obligation to you.

DAILY ARRIVALS OF SUMMER FURNITURE MAKE THE DISPLAY A MOST INTERESTING ONE.

Each day we are receiving new and novel suites as well as individual pieces of attractive reed and old hickory furniture suitable for porch, lawn or sun parlor. Your early selection is earnestly advised, because of the great demand for it at this time of the year. Comparison will show you that our prices are most moderate.
